PAOLA POINTS

Another very pleasant evening was spent at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bridge on New Year's Eve. The rooms were still artistically decorated with the Christmas holly and mistletoe. About 8 o'clock the guests assembled, there being about twenty present, and mirth provoking games were immediately inaugurated and continued throughout the evening, interrupted only by the serving of delicious refreshments. Shortly after midnight a grand march was formed, and the new year ushered in with the noise of tin pans well beaten can make. Mr. McGuinn, one of Paola's jolliest, leading the van in the way of music (?) Mr. and Mrs. Bridge were ably assisted by their house guest, Miss Goldstein, all being experts in the art of entertaining. Flora and Frances Pearson were the prize winners in the contests. Oscar Pearson and Ross Kearns added to the fun by their amusing capers, and everybody did all they could to make it the merriest of parties. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Patton, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Bona Brown, Mr. Marks, Mr. Smith and Mr. Kearns.

C. D. Pearson spent New Year's day in Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Pearson took dinner on New Year's day with their brother and sisters at "Pearson Hall."

Dr. Bishop, Mrs. Smith, Miss Manhart, Mr. McGuinn and Mr. and Mrs. Patton spent New Year's day in calling upon friends in the vicinity, having their post-dinner on the palm trees of the old Wilcox place at Twin Lakes. A new experience for some of the party was to go to the "southland."

Mrs. John C. Vance of Chattanooga, Tenn., a childhood friend of Miss Faber, arrived at Twin Lakes Plantation New Year's day, and spent the week end going on to Miami Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan made a trip to Jacksonville, via the St. Johns river boat, the first of the week.

Mr. Call of Steubenville, Ohio has bought the Francis property, and moved his family in.

Wallace Works has joined his chum, Ross Kearns and is now making his home at Twin Lakes Plantation.

The Bishop fruit is being rapidly harvested under the supervision of Manager McGuinn and "Field Boss" Patton. Wallace Works at the sizer and Oscar Pearson, George Smith and Ben James as chief packers, with Mr. Priel to nail up, keep an efficient packing gang busy, and the packed boxes are loaded into the cars in short order.

The ten-hour packing house at Twin Lakes is also running again, but not rushing at present.

MOORE'S STATION

Rev. A. S. Peck much regrets being unable to be here this Sunday, being called to Miami for the annual meeting of this diocese.

C. C. Worthington is here from Tampa looking after his property.

Miss Mildred Clark of Port Tampa was a guest at the Chorpene home a portion of last week and also a guest at the Laing home in town.

Mrs. Sparline of Illinois City, Ill., who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Birch in Cameron city has now gone to Daytona to visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Walker of Topeka, Kans., were to arrive here the first of the week from Kansas City, Missouri, where they spent the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Long of Richmond avenue are entertaining another daughter, who arrived from New Martinsburg, Va., this week.

Mrs. G. A. Moore is in the southern part of the state visiting relatives just now at Wauchula.

Miss Lad Brooks was here from Macon, Ga., for a ten days' visit during the holidays, visiting at the home of her uncles Joe and A. B. Cameron.

Mrs. R. R. Gormly of Jacksonville was a guest of Mrs. G. C. Chamberlain last Thursday.

Joe Cameron sold another bunch of fat cattle to Mr. Tucker of Orlando this week.

The driver of the school car has orders not to leave the highway, and the pupils from Cameron Villa road and Richmond avenue and all east of Beardall avenue are pretty mad to have to walk such distances. The school car got in a bad place on Cameron avenue before vacation and nearly turned over full of children. That road is frightfully bad.

Seminole Farms Co. are shipping several solid cars of cauliflower. Many others are shipping lettuce and romaine. Some very nice stuff.

Florida Gardens, Inc., have cut 2076 hampers of A. No. 1 lettuce from a 5 acre field and still have two cars or more to cut from the same field.

James Hixon succeeded himself as secretary and treasurer of the Moore's Station Sunday School society, after serving about ever since the society began.

THE NEW YEAR IS CELEBRATED IN SANFORD

By the the securing of a 125 room hotel, which is the result of the activities of the men who have taken over the Holden estate, and this is only one of the many good things which 1915 has in store for your Central City of Florida.

In giving you the opportunity to take part in the Great Sanford Boom by calling on you to invest in the valuable offerings of more than 1200 City Lots which are at your disposal, you will not only share in the booming of your city, but in the profits of that Boom, because the average price of lots in Sanford is now very low in comparison with such Florida towns as Orlando and Lakeland. There is no reason for this, with all the NATURAL ADVANTAGES we possess here, we should far out-strip any town in Central Florida, and we are going to do it.

We will announce to you through the columns of this paper from week to week the many good things we have in store for Sanford, so be sure and call on us on the second floor of the Bishop Block and place your name upon the Golden Roll Call of those who stand in the front rank of opportunity.

Sanford will realize $5,000 worth of free advertising about the fair and yet there were a few people who were not in favor of holding a fair here.

The Daytona Morning Journal is out and it is a good paper consisting of eight pages, six columns well edited and well printed stuff.

The Sanford Boosters' excursion will make Geneva, Chuluota and Oviedo on next Monday and Longwood and Altamonte on Tuesday.

Chris. Codrington is out with his DeLand Daily and it is a hummer, purely local, and Chris. states that it will have no editorial page.

The land sharks who floated bogus schemes in the Florida Everglades have been given prison sentences. Too bad all the land sharks who have operated in Florida in the past few years could not be sent up at the same time.

The amenities of Prokewick journalism in Florida are illustrated by the endearing terms in which Powell of the Clearwater Sun and Bob Holly of the Sanford Herald speak of each other.

A SEMINOLE FEATURE
A feature of the Seminole County Fair, to be held at Sanford during the first week of February will be a gathering of live stock raisers of this state, in answer to a call for organizing an association of cattle, sheep and hog raisers.

and within a few years the country will surely be looking towards the state and admitting its especial facilities and peculiar advantages as a stock raising section. Times-Union.

It will be necessary to occupy all of the habitable rooms in the community and the decision to appeal to the people is a wise one.

Nothing leaves such bitter feelings against a city as that of being mulcted by those who have invited the guests to sojourn among them. We must avoid this.

Hurting over the heavy steel rails, the first through train over the Kissimmee Valley division of the Florida East Coast Railway is today piercing what was but a few months ago a wilderness.

The wonderful Chuluota country with its rolling high lands, its deep clear lakes, its unsurpassed stock ranges and its productive soil where thrive the orange and the field and truck crop alike, had already been opened to the world and has attracted great attention with the result that settlers are constantly pouring in there.

But down the new division of the Flagler system there are vast acres extending to Lake Okeechobee awaiting but the touch of the plow to add untold agricultural wealth to Florida's total.

Okeechobee will be Florida's inland port. Boats will bring there for shipment the crops from the farms about the shores of the big lake, and the fishing industry will here find an outlet.

Taken altogether, it is a notable event in Florida's history this inaugurating of a regular schedule over the newly completed division reaching through the heart of the Kissimmee Valley and through the northern Everglades to the lake.

The Land and Industrial Department of the Florida East Coast Railway has just issued a handsome little booklet entitled "The Call of Florida," the text of which was written by Richard H. Edmonds, editor of the Manufacturers Record, Baltimore.

The matter in the booklet sets forth the call of Florida in a manner that will appeal so strongly to residents of other states who read it that we would be glad to reprint it in full in the News and Star, but space forbids.

1912, while the deposits in other banking institutions rose to $3,714,000 in 1900 to $28,683,000 in 1912.

From 1900 to 1910 Florida's population increased 42.4 per cent and farm land values during the same period increased 203 per cent; the value of farm buildings increased 144 per cent; farm machinery, 126 per cent; the value of Florida's 12 leading crops, not including citrus, increased 126 per cent.

Mr. Edmonds also says that Florida is preeminently the citrus fruit center so far as the quality of the fruit is concerned, that it is the market garden of the country, and after reciting a number of its vast and varied industries and strategic location for foreign commerce, says, "And yet, notwithstanding the fact that all of these things be true, Florida's greatest asset is its climate."

Florida is drawing to itself thousands of the better class of American citizens, men and women of education and character, the very cream of population from nearly all states in the Union. Star.

Now for some ancient history. The executive committee of the Florida Press Association is composed of several prominent gentlemen, among them might be mentioned Col. Wallace F. Stovall of the Tampa Tribune who started several years ago in Tampa with just ten cents and now after years of labor he has eleven cents and a bum liver that keeps him taking Hostetter's Bitters much of the time.

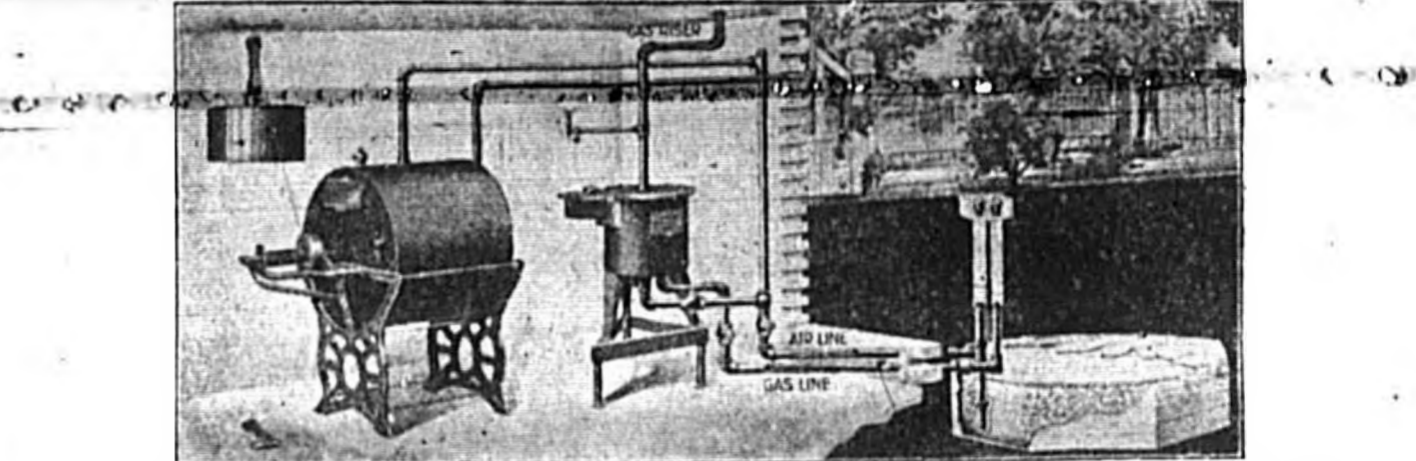

Claude Johnson is a Kentuckian. This would be sufficient for his entrance into the clubs of Sanford and we hope that no one in Sanford will offer to give Claude a boat ride on the water for water always makes him dizzy.

Clarence Woods is also a Kentuckian, in fact so many Kentuckians made moonshine up there that the stills were crowded and many of them were forced to refugee to Florida.

Oscar Conkling is a very young man, in fact like all the other fruits of Florida he was pulled too early and has never matured.

OUR STATE UNIVERSITY

IT SHOULD BE PUT TO USEFUL AS WELL AS ORNAMENTAL PURPOSES

FROM THE OCALA STAR

Looking at the picture we are bound to say our university at Gainesville is ornamental. Judging by the reports accomplished we strongly suspect that it is useful as well. We are glad that we can say this for we have a large amount of money tied up in the university plant and will have to furnish a large amount more as the years go by, to keep the present plant up to its greatest efficiency, without which all our university money is wasted.

No matter what individual opinions may be, the majority of sentiment is that the state shall provide opportunity for higher education without cost to its children. As we have the university with us, too firmly established for any change in the system of public education to uproot it in a generation or two, anything that can be done to popularize it, and increase the area of the distribution of its benefits will help the university and help the people too.

The only argument advanced against the state having a university maintained out of the public pocket is that too much of the people's money is spent for the benefit of a few of the people. This has some virtue, but it is always difficult to find a place to cut off the supply of public money for special purposes of restricted scope. Who will say that the state board of health shall not spend money to kill rats in seacoast towns open to bubonic plague infection because the inland towns with healthy rats receive no benefit? We have to look at these things broadly. It may cost a thousand dollars to graduate a boy at the university, but if that boy should discover a way to get rid of cattle tick at minimum cost and trouble, the benefit would be shared by all in proportion a thousandfold the cost of the university. France was paid back all the money spent on universities when Pasteur, a graduate, discovered a cheap way to kill the microbe that soured all the wine.

But if we must have a university let us do all we can to make it universal. If we can't make it universal by bringing all the people to the university, why not do it by taking the university to all the people?

We claim no kin with Jack Horner, and do not present this idea as a plan of our exploring thumb. We simply call attention to a plan now being followed by other universities, notably the University of Chicago and the University of Wisconsin. So believe they call it "Extra Rural Work," or extension work.

There is no reason why our university should not go outside its walls; in fact, it has already done so. Farmers' institutes long ago broke through the campus fence and are now being held everywhere a crowd can be gathered, as far as the funds will permit. Great work for agriculture has been done by the outside work of the university. Very well, let us make the university work for those unlucky persons who heeded not the call of the soil, but who are worth improving even if they are not so much to start with.

As it is now, a man can write to the university and find out what is making his hogs die. Let's fix it so another man can write to the same place and find out what is making his children die. The university can now tell you all about the citrus canker evil, the potato bug pest, the foot rot, with plans and specifications for getting rid of them. Let's fix it so the university can go the same route with the legislative evil, the corner loafer pest and the community dry rot.

To this end—making the university universal—we suggest that the extension work already being done by the university be extended to include:

- A department of general information and public welfare, which shall include:
  - A division of publicity.
  - A division of legislative aid.
  - A division of emigration.
  - A division of employment.
  - A division of opportunities.
  - A division of distribution.

In this way the university may collect information on everything that concerns the people, have it prepared for presentation in concise and compact shape for distribution. The university could work out problems in legislation, in municipal government, in county management and submit them with full information to those in charge of the people's business. In the divisions of emigration and employment, the opportunities in different sections of the state could be carried to the unemployed of this state and to the ambitious workers of other states. The division of distribution would act as a public commission merchant without fees.

This may be considered by some as too big a field to cultivate without a too great drain on the public treasury. It can be done with very little extra money placed to the credit of the university. The work that may be done in emigration and publicity alone would bring back the money tenfold.

Universities come high but we must have them. Let's make ours do our work.

Don't Mix Up

Here's a paragraph that's worth thinking over: "It's all very well to have your own opinion about the war in Europe, but don't go around forcing your opinion on persons to whom you know it is disagreeable. It is just that lack of consideration for others that produced the war." That is good advice as to good opinions on any subject and the disposition to force them upon others. Some folks seem never so happy as when forcing their opinions on other people, and they even go about asking people what they think of this and that and then get busy arguing with them and forcing their own opinions on them. They make it their business when the opinions of others may hold upon a subject after all none of their business. A man is never hopelessly and eternally wrong if he holds an opinion contrary to that of these positive folks who essay to regulate opinion generally.

Letter From Mr. Thigpen

There appears to have been some mistake as to the real facts in the real estate deal wherein the holdings of the Holden Real Estate Co. were purchased by B. Drew and the following letter from Mr. Thigpen will explain the deal:

Mr. R. J. Holly, Sanford, Fla.:
Dear Sir—For the benefit of the Sanford people who keep inquiring about the sale of the properties of the Holden Real Estate Company will say I sold this property to B. Drew of Orlando, Florida, on November 19th, 1914. R. D. Waring and associates have since purchased the same property from B. Drew and will continue the business with offices in the Bishop block. Seven years ago Mr. W. D. Holden and myself went into the real estate business and subsequently bought the Drew holdings with the understanding that we would each have one-half interest in the same. This is the property resold B. Drew with additional lands in Volusia and Lake counties.

As to the hotel property will state, have only sold my interest in same which amounts to 89 shares.

I am still in the real estate business and will continue to write fire insurance for there is no other town like Sanford to me.

Yours truly,
W. J. THIGPEN

Congregational Supper
The annual business meeting of the Congregational church on Wednesday night was preceded by a delightfully informal gathering of members and friends to partake of the delicious and appetizing supper prepared by the ladies of the church.

Reports from the various departments of the church showed splendid progress for the year just ended and an encouraging outlook for the new church year. At the annual election of officers all of the incumbents were re-elected, except the treasurer, Mr. C. R. Walker, resigned. It was with many regrets that Mr. Walker's resignation was accepted for he has been so closely identified with the various interests of the organization and has been such a loyal, faithful officer for so many years it seemed almost impossible to accept his resignation.

Miss Jodie Coughman and Miss Cecil Kaufman of Jacksonville are the attractive guests of Mrs. R. E. Tolar.

Music Dept. Concert

Wednesday evening at the Imperial Theatre the Music Department of the Woman's Club gave a very delightful and enjoyable concert for the benefit of the club piano fund. Although the weather was so inclement a fine audience greeted the performance. That it was enthusiastic and received the various numbers with pleasure was testified by the rounds of applause that would only be satisfied with an encore, to which those taking part on the program generously responded.

Miss Lucille Aspinwall won new laurels for herself in her clever costume recitals. It would be difficult to judge in which group of songs she excelled for Japanese and Indian were beautifully rendered. As a Japanese maiden she was charming, as an Indian maid she was irresistible. She was accompanied by Miss Francis Aspinwall, also in costume, who is one of the best accompanists in the city.

Miss Margery Boor, violinist of Stetson University, gave unalloyed pleasure with her beautiful execution and wonderful talent. Miss Boor's name on any program insures its success.

Mrs. R. E. Tolar, piano soloist, is a special favorite in Sanford and is always greeted with hearty applause. Her numbers are always among the best. She is a musician of unusual ability and reflects great credit upon the city.

Misses Jodie Coughman and Miss Cecil Kaufman, of Miss Jacob's School of Art, Jacksonville, gave several dancing numbers that were much enjoyed. Their interpretation of the new modern dances was a graceful exhibition of art. In the dance of the Temple Bells, accompanied by Miss Lucille Aspinwall soloist, Miss Cecil Kaufman was especially attractive. The entire program was thoroughly good and well received by the audience. It reflects much credit upon the department and especially the committee in charge.

Congregational Church

For this month a helpful series on the general subject "Growth" is being considered at the evening services, 7 o'clock; the second one of the series will be given next Sunday night, and good music is always provided.

The musical prelude last Sunday night was enjoyed by a goodly number; Earl Paxton on the violin, Miss Frances Aspinwall on the organ and Miss Lucille Aspinwall with her charming voice, each contributed to a very inspirational half hour.

Our morning services, both the Sunday school and the 11 o'clock service are growing in interest and numbers. Were you among the one thousand who were wanted at the S. S. hour last Sunday? If not, take a new start next Sunday.

Next Sunday morning the special theme for consideration will be, "An Optimistic Outlook for 1916."

Last Wednesday night, despite the storm of the evening, a good number of members and friends gathered for the annual business meeting. The faithful, Marthas provided a very sumptuous banquet for all present, which was appreciated to the fullest extent. The regular business of the church was done, reports which showed the church in good condition and the election of officers. An important piece of business was the adoption of a statement of "Marks of an Efficient Church" - towards which our churches as an order are moving.

The annual convention of the Sanford Library Association will be held in the library on next Thursday, January 14, at 2:00 p. m.

Fish Die When Drawn From Depths
In the great depths of the ocean the temperature is so low that no matter what it may be at the surface. When the fish are drawn to the surface containing specimens of animals and fish, including the smallest of the creatures are dead. In fact, all those from the deeper places are killed by removing them from waters of great hydrostatic pressure to continuously decreasing pressures.

WELCOME TO OUR CITY

LABOR HOSTS CAPTURE SANFORD TODAY AND HOLD FOR THREE DAYS—MANY ROMINENT MEN OF FLORIDA ARE HERE ATTENDING THE ANNUAL CONVENTION

The citizens of Sanford will act as host to a real live convention of working people who meet annually, this being the fifteenth annual convention of the Florida State Federation of Labor.

North, east, south and west in the great state of Florida delegates are arriving to convene in session today, Wednesday and Thursday. These delegates represent over ten thousand skilled artisans of some thirty different crafts, a large contingent arrived yesterday as an advance guard from Jacksonville, among them being the secretary of the Federation, Mr. W. E. Terry.

The convention will hold its session at the commodious Eagles Hall and the parliamentary, businesslike manner that these representatives of the working man carry on during the proceedings would astonish the average legislative representative.

Also, the delegates are busily engaged in formulating each phase for political strategy is part of the massing of all conventions and the booths from the cities of Florida that will attend the next convention of 1916 are on the job for their particular constituency.

The delegates are expected to spend the next few days in the city of Sanford, and it is of interest to the working man and the prominent parties that will attend the convention in the next few days.

the history of the State Federation of Labor will be held in Sanford from January 12 to January 16, according to the expectation of the state president, C. E. Shepard, editor of the Miami Labor Journal. Mr. Shepard leaves tomorrow to

ent upon the convening of the State Federation at Sanford on the 12th instant, and it being impossible for me to be in attendance on account of my official duties being so taxing at the present time, I am going to ask that you kindly represent me at this convention.

You may assure the convention of my hearty sympathy in their righteous efforts for the betterment and general welfare of the laboring people of our state. I sincerely hope that the convention will be one fraught with great success.

Another local man who has a prominent place on the program of this convention is Arthur Keep, who was a delegate to the convention of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Keep will deliver his report to the meeting.

Among the other features on the program will be the address of Mr. W. E. Terry, secretary of the Federation, and the report of the Executive Committee.

The program will be carried out in accordance with the program adopted at the convention of the American Federation of Labor.

The delay in the delivery of the river glades will be the subject of discussion by the laboring men at the convention, and some action will be taken that will spur the trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund to fulfill their trust and continue the work which has been placed in their hands.

The Sanford Board of Trade has taken over the matter of entertainment of delegates, and Mr. Shepard has been informed that a elaborate program of social events has been prepared. The women will be given special attention.

Mr. Shepard is further informed that there have been a large number of new locals formed throughout the state during the past twelve months. The membership of the unions has increased 15 per cent and the finances of the state organization are in splendid shape.

The fifteenth annual convention of the State Federation of Labor convened at 9 o'clock this morning. Among the features of this meeting will be an address by Mrs. R. C. Cooley, president of the Florida Equal Franchise League, on Woman's Suffrage. Robert McNamee, also of Jacksonville, who is the federation's legal advisor will deliver his annual report and Lou L. Farris will deliver an address on "The Need of a Constitutional Convention."

J. C. Privett, state labor inspector will deliver the address on behalf of the state upon request of Governor Park Trammell, who sets forth his reasons in the following letter to Mr. Privett: "Having been invited to be present upon the convening of the State Federation at Sanford on the 12th instant, and it being impossible for me to be in attendance on account of my official duties being so taxing at the present time, I am going to ask that you kindly represent me at this convention.

You may assure the convention of my hearty sympathy in their righteous efforts for the betterment and general welfare of the laboring people of our state. I sincerely hope that the convention will be one fraught with great success.

Another local man who has a prominent place on the program of this convention is Arthur Keep, who was a delegate to the convention of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Keep will deliver his report to the meeting.

Among the other features on the program will be the address of Mr. W. E. Terry, secretary of the Federation, and the report of the Executive Committee.

The program will be carried out in accordance with the program adopted at the convention of the American Federation of Labor.

secretary treasurer for the current year ending December 31st, 1914:

In making this my first report will say that I took up the duties of this office on Jan. 2nd, 1914, and in the eleven months that have elapsed, compared with the same time last year you will find by close study of figures in the financial report that the State Federation of Labor has made splendid gains, notwithstanding the year just closed has been rather a dull year, industrially speaking.

Organization Work. During the past year I have organized the following unions in the city of Jacksonville: Stationary Engineers, Butcher Workmen, Brewery Workers and a Federal Labor Union at Plant City, a union of Structural Workers, and a labor organization at Fort Pierce by one of our own.

New Affiliations. We have organized 20 new locals during the past year. Among them are: Wood Workers, Shipyard Workers and Machine Workers, and a union of Painters, Bricklayers, and Plumbers.

We have also organized a union of other workers, and we are working for the organization of many more.

No doubt many of our affiliated unions are doing well, and we are working for the betterment of all.

At the meeting this morning the following resolutions were adopted: Resolved, that the Executive Committee be authorized to forward copies to each union a had been done in connection with the annual report of your former year. A list was compiled

Meeting of the Press Associations Last Friday Was a Big Success. The newspaper men of south Florida met in Sanford on Friday, the occasion being the meetings of the South Florida Press Association, the Lake Region Press Association and the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Florida Press Association. On account of missing train connections many of the members did not arrive until late in the afternoon and they were immediately taken in automobiles for a trip over the trolley fields. Upon their return the South Florida Press Association was called to order by President Humphries in the Sanford House and many matters of importance discussed. It was decided to have the Lake Region members become a part of the South Florida Association if they wished to do so and this matter will be placed before each member, as all of them were not present at the meeting.

The Executive Committee, composed of President R. J. Holly, Harry Brown of the St. Augustine Record, Oscar Conkling of the Miami Record, Claude Johnson of the Kissimmee Journal, Clarence Woods of the Eustis Lake Region and Clyde Glenn proxy for W. F. Stovall of the Tampa Tribune met several times during the interim and accomplished much in the way of arranging a program for the meeting in Miami. It was definitely decided to hold the next meeting of the Florida Press Association on March 25th, 26th and 27th and the program that will be given to the public later is one that will appeal to the association. It will be a business meeting and the joy rides will not be allowed to interfere with the business sessions. The Executive Committee was very enthusiastic over the prospect of a meeting in Miami. Mr. Conkling assures them that his city will give the boys the time of their lives. The East Coast Railway will also arrange a special train for the occasion and many side trips will be planned.

The editors in Sanford were a busy lot and held meetings right up to the time arranged for the banquet. This was a surprise to the visitors who had not expected so much in the way of entertainment. Promptly at 7:30 the doors of the dining room at the Sanford House were thrown open and the tables represented Sanford in every way. The editors were in the Celery City and they were reminded of it by the large pyramid of celery that was banked in the centre of the tables and large dishes of celery were scattered over the tables. Roses and ferns and flowers of all kinds were among the table decorations.

President Lake of the Commercial Club asked Rev. Waldron to invoke the divine blessing upon the assemblage, after which they sat down and did justice to the following menu: Celery Lettuce, Chicken Soup with Rice, Roast Young Turkey, Chestnut Dressing, Cranberry Marmalade, French Peas, Mashed Potatoes, American Cheese, Water Biscuits, Hot Mince Pie, Cafe Noir, Sanford Cigars.

President Lake then called upon the following gentlemen for responses to the toasts: Address of welcome, Mayor D. L. Contined on Page 8 him of the needs of each union, a copy of which I have for your inspection and approval.

I believe it has been proven by your study of a doubt that it has been had practice to give out the publication of the state magazine.

future own their own home. We believe a similar move has been made in this direction in the Magic City of Miami.

Ladies' Auxiliary. Shortly after the Miami convention last year, the ladies who attended that convention from Jacksonville, in company with their husbands who were delegates were so imbued with the work of the trade union movement that on the following month they called a meeting of the ladies in Jacksonville and organized a Ladies' Auxiliary of the Central Trades & Labor Council, starting with just a few members. They now have a membership of 90 and one of the liveliest organizations we have in the local movement. To say they have proved a valuable asset to our movement would be putting it mild. No move for the betterment of the Jacksonville trade union movement without the assistance of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Their work of education along the lines of pure trade unionism, the protection of our men and women in other parts of the country is indeed a noble one.

The Ladies' Auxiliary has three representatives in the personage of Mrs. J. R. Boyle, Mrs. J. H. Mackey and Mrs. I. R. Hovington. These ladies will make a strenuous effort to maintain the Ladies' Auxiliary in connection with the Sanford Trades Council.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Central Trades & Labor Council is a little band of women composed of the wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of the union men of Jacksonville for the purpose of trying to help the human race, physically, morally, mentally and financially; in other words, we stand for justice and equality to all mankind.

Any lady who is related to a working man affiliated with the American Federation of Labor has entered into this organization. The prospects from advanced reports show that these ladies will leave on adjournment of the convention a live Ladies' Auxiliary in Sanford.

The following is from the Miami Metropolis: One of the largest conventions in the history of the State Federation of Labor will be held in Sanford from January 12 to January 16, according to the expectation of the state president, C. E. Shepard, editor of the Miami Labor Journal. Mr. Shepard leaves tomorrow to ent upon the convening of the State Federation at Sanford on the 12th instant, and it being impossible for me to be in attendance on account of my official duties being so taxing at the present time, I am going to ask that you kindly represent me at this convention.

You may assure the convention of my hearty sympathy in their righteous efforts for the betterment and general welfare of the laboring people of our state. I sincerely hope that the convention will be one fraught with great success.

The program will be carried out in accordance with the program adopted at the convention of the American Federation of Labor.

The delay in the delivery of the river glades will be the subject of discussion by the laboring men at the convention, and some action will be taken that will spur the trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund to fulfill their trust and continue the work which has been placed in their hands.

The Sanford Board of Trade has taken over the matter of entertainment of delegates, and Mr. Shepard has been informed that a elaborate program of social events has been prepared. The women will be given special attention.
