Palestine Fight

received no answer.

Abdullah, as commander in chief of all Arab regular and irregular forces in Palestine, agreed to a truce in Jerusalem last Friday on condition that the Jews stay on their positions and attempt no further advances. But by the time the U.N. representative, Dr. Pablo Azcarate, and the chairman of the Security Council Jean Niewenhuys, who had acted as intermediaries, got back to Jerusalem, Hazranah was already overrunning the town.
Three times that day -- at noon, 1:30 P. M. and 5 P. M. -- the truce commission tried to get a cease fire so they could meet with the Jews and Arabs, but each attempt failed. At 5 P. M. the firing died down, but Arabs were still being still unable to reach the French consulate.
Consuls Niewenhuys of Belgium, Thomas C. Wasson of the United States and Rene Neuville of France then agreed that Red Cross representative Jacques de Reynier should approach both sides in an effort to get an agreement to his scheme.
The Jewish Agency, after a long over the same ground with the Truce Commission, asked that if the truce was concluded it be

A trucker from North Carolina, said Mr. Lehman, who said that he was dozing in the cab of his truck all night, and although but 70 feet from the south exit of the Williams stall did not hear or note anything unusual.
Mr. Lehman pointed out a sign about his office entrance which reads: "This market is not responsible for the loss of merchandise due to fire, theft, hurricane or other reasons beyond control."
Meanwhile, all local police and the State Highway patrol have been alerted to discover possible clues to the thefts.

poses," said the governor.
"I want to be where the negotiations are taking place. I will tell the negotiators that the people of Minnesota who are not parties to the dispute are rowing in and demanding that the dispute be settled in the interests of the public."

CHICAGO, May 17, (AP)—Signs of a break in the nationwide CIO meat strike grew today.
Outwardly there was little change in the situation. United Packinghouse Union pickets still patrolled the struck plants. They asserted that after two months the strike remained 100 per cent effective. The companies on the other hand, insisted their operations are virtually normal.
But on both sides there was the expressed feeling that some new action could be expected. A union committee yesterday reviewed the strike situation and ordered wage talks resumed "immediately."
There was no indication that the union had prepared an offer to replace its 29-cent wage demand. But a spokesman said, "it wouldn't be much use in just reviewing ground we've been over time and time again." He declined to confirm or deny the existence of a new wage proposal.

Two main points of discussion remain the following:
1. The road to Jerusalem (from Tel Aviv), how convoys would be supervised, what they would contain, and whether all roads used by Jews and Arabs would be subject to the same rules.
2. Demilitarization, whether it means the exit of fighting forces or merely disarming.

DETROIT, May 17, (AP)—Special squads of state police were rushed into suburban Highland Park today to cope with an outbreak of picket line violence around one of 16 strikebound Chrysler Corp. plants.

They were dispatched into the Detroit area by Governor Kia Sigler at the request of Highland Park Mayor Norman Patterson. Patterson said local police were unable to quell a disturbance started by CIO United Auto Workers "goon squads." Two policemen were reported hospitalized by the outbreak of fist fighting and rock throwing. Sigler also disclosed he was preparing to alert the National Guard if necessary.

WHY DID HICKSON RESIGN?
Soon after the appointment of P. A. Mero as sheriff of Seminole County on Feb. 25, 1947, Robert J. (Jack) Hickson resigned as chief deputy sheriff after holding this office for a number of years. Why?
SANFORD HERALD March 16, 1947
Hickson Resigns As Deputy Sheriff
Robert J. Hickson, a deputy sheriff of Seminole County for the past 20 years, today announced that due to the fact that "he is unable to subscribe to the present policies of the sheriff's office, he is resigning from his position."
Deputy Hickson, who has worked in hundreds of cases as a law enforcement officer today declared: "As a law enforcement officer my record stands up to itself in the Court House. I have had wonderful cooperation from the citizens of Seminole County and from members of the Sanford Police Department, and have enjoyed working with and for them."
"I have no immediate plans to announce now, but in the future I may have an announcement of interest," he said.
SANFORD HERALD March 15, 1947
Slots Disappear As Lid Is Clamped On In Seminole
The sudden and almost miraculous disappearance of slot machines, punchboards and other gambling devices in the downtown area of Sanford was noted by local residents this morning as reports came in from other parts of the county that the lid is on everywhere else.
The cleanup follows closely on the heels of a grand jury presentment hitting wholesale gambling throughout the county, and the recent appointment by Governor Millard Caldwell of Percy Mero as sheriff.
What can be done when law enforcement officers want to enforce the laws is shown by the sudden and mysterious disappearance of slot machines and punchboards all over Sanford. The City of Sanford finds itself in a somewhat embarrassing position as it had previously licensed punchboards although they are contrary to state law and it is the sheriff's duty to seize them wherever he finds them. Of course, there is a lot of money back of this gambling in Seminole County and the fraternity is not likely to take it lying down. Eventually they may find a way to bring them back, and in the meantime it will be interesting to see what happens.

Truman Speeches

 South's most outspoken critics of Mr. Truman's Civil Rights Program.
 Iowa's Democrats endorsed President Truman at their state convention in which they selected 22 delegates with 30 votes for the national convention. The delegates were not specifically instructed to vote for the President.
 Utah's Democrats endorsed the Administration's foreign policy. They did not raise the question of instructing delegates to the national convention. Twenty delegates with 12 votes were chosen.

 Supporters of Governor Thomas E. Dewey claimed 16 or 17 of the 19 delegates named to the GOP National convention by the party's Washington state convention. Backers of Harold E. Stassen and Senator Robert A. Taft disputed this. Stassen and Taft men each claimed four delegates for their candidates.
 Henry A. Wallace, the Third Party presidential candidate, told a Mexican-American gathering in Los Angeles that the monopoly system—not Communism—poses the real crisis for the American people.

Inventor Davis

 "Car" are used only in the case of engine failure aloft, and in normal flight will remain folded down along the sides.
 "Davis' revolutionary plane-car will be propelled in flight by application of a brand new principle of aerodynamics. Representing several years of experimentation, the present design has two air foils over which lift is created by the drawing force of the thrust engine in the cone at the rear.
 "Actually, the entire body is designed to supply a maximum of lifting surface, with the fuselage shaped as an air foil section.
 "The 'Air-O-Car,' though barely out of the initial design stage, appears to be superior to every other type of combination car and plane so far announced, for several very good reasons. It does not present the problem of detaching and stowing the wings while in use as a car; does not have a propeller located forward where it would be a hazard in traffic; and does not have the long tail-section which would make it unadaptable to road use.
 "With the 'Air-O-Car' it would be possible to fly into any airport and continue from there into a nearby city without any delay or inconvenience. If the weather closed in at the time, the pilot had planned to fly back, he would not be forced to 'lay over' waiting for blue skies, but could start motoring, at least until he skirted the bad weather area.
 "The truly unique feature of Davis' invention, however, is its stability in the air, as already demonstrated by test models. The 'Air-O-Car' will remain leveled constantly while aloft, even when changing altitude or course, when conventional aircraft have to bank and inevitably slip. Counter-manipulation of the two air-foils will enable the pilot to keep the craft consistently in a horizontal plane, even with unbalanced loads being carried. The two retracted wings, used only in an emergency, will serve as stabilizers, helping make this feature possible.
 "Young Davis has been interested in design of aircraft ever since childhood. He recalls today the large model-plane he made. His first conceived the idea of a combination plane and auto while serving in the Army Air Force and had completed many of the initial drawings of it before his discharge in November of 1945. His patent on the 'Air-O-Car' is dated Aug. 12, 1946, though it now embraces all of the numerous changes which he has made since that time. He has been working constantly in his spare time from his job as inspector at Fairchild Aircraft on his present scale model (22 inches, 1 foot.)
 "About sale or production of the 'Air-O-Car,' Davis says that he hasn't done anything in that direction yet—just thought he'd wait and let things develop.
 "Some of the nation's private aircraft companies will probably see to it that things do 'develop.'
 "Johnny Davis is a Hagerstonian by adoption, his home originally being in Florida. He has been here since 1929 when he first signed with Fairchild Aircraft, is married to the former Miss Wanda Rider of this city, and has a son five years old."

 ing at St. Augustine and at the Jacksonville beaches during the afternoon. He planned a rally in Jacksonville, Warren's home town, tonight.
 Warren was to speak in Green Cove Springs, Palatka, Hastings, St. Augustine, Dunell and close the day with a night speech in Daytona Beach.
 The two candidates for attorney general, L. Grady Burton and Richard W. Ervin, also stepped up their campaigns, although neither announced speaking schedules.
 The special supreme court election, which will be held at the same time as the regular second primary received a shot in the arm with the entrance into the contest of Attorney General Tom Watson, who was defeated for governor in the first primary.
 Justice T. Frank Hobson, who is now filling the vacancy caused by the retirement of Justice Rivers H. Buford, and Circuit Judge W. May Walker of Tallahassee carried their campaigns for the judgeship into the southern part of the state. Watson announced he will not make any personal appearances in the campaign.
 If a runoff is necessary in the court contest, it will be held June 4.

SUSPECTED SABOTAGE

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—(AP)—Officials of radio station WFIL said today the main cable linking its downtown studio with a suburban transmitter was cut last night in what they described as "a deliberate case of sabotage."
 Both WFIL and station KYW were cut off the air at 8 P. M. KYW was able to resume normal operations in less than two minutes by means of a spare cable.

 out for special missions. Sullivan did not explain what type of "missions" the submarines would undertake.
 The ships on which the Navy wants to stop work are the battleship Kentucky, the cruiser Hawaii, seven destroyers, two destroyer escorts and two submarines.
 Almost $200,000,000 already has been spent on their construction, but all of it will not be wasted, the Navy said. The larger ships will be converted to carry guided missiles, and the smaller ships will be "pickled" so construction could be resumed later if an emergency arises.

Next on the defense program, urged by President Truman May 17, will be action on the draft bill.
 The Senate is expected to start debate late this week. The House War Committee is scheduled to hold a hearing tomorrow on the draft bill approved by the House Armed Services Committee.

BIBLE VERSE TODAY

So many great heathen empires have perished that it is high time that all men should learn that might is might! It is might in your life too! Thou has rebuked the heathen and thou hast destroyed the might of them; thou put out their name forever and ever.—Ps. 9:6

Barton Turnbull, president of Rockefeller Center, Inc. of New York, died the other day at the age of 58. He was a native of Florida, born in Monticello.

Out in Portland, Ore., a baby girl only 1 pound 4 1/2 ounces in weight, was born on Apr. 7. And that is where they boast of doing everything in such a big way.

President Truman has proposed that future farm surpluses be fed to the poor to assure farmers prosperity and improve the national health. That certainly bears plowing 'em under.

As a result of the exchange of notes with Russia last week, we are beginning to wonder whether the Reds are getting ready to conduct a peace offensive, or merely want an offensive peace.

In the excitement of the gubernatorial race, and the sheriff's office, we should not forget that we also have to vote for attorney general on May 25th. There Grady Hutton and Dick Ervin are running it off.

We believe in freedom as much as anybody, but there is too much freedom in this country, we are afraid, for those who would destroy freedom for everyone else. Democracy must have some way of protecting itself against those who would abolish it.

According to a recent Gallup Poll, Harold Stassen now holds 56 percent of the popular vote for President, and Truman has only 33 percent. Even in the South, the Republican is running neck and neck with the Democratic party leader. Here it is 42 percent for Stassen, 41 percent for Truman.

The current argument over the 70 group air force reveals that we are perfectly willing to spend billions for defense. Money is cheap. Where the men will come from to fly the planes is another question. It is not easy to raise a large standing army in this country during peace times. Yet one wonders what good is a 70 group air force without men.

What kind of news does the public prefer to read? We could fill our paper full of nothing but crime, divorce, and juvenile delinquency. We could fill it full of accidents, fires, airplanes crashes, and similar mishaps. Enough news pours daily from the halls of congress and the various administration buildings in Washington to publish the New York Times every day. But sometimes we think the public is more interested in the discovery of some new method for controlling mumps, such as we published in last Friday's Herald, or in the efforts being made to combat heart disease, particularly among those who may be threatened with this ailment.

"History in the Making" might well be the title for the chapter covering today's developments in the Middle East. Not for over two thousand years have the Jews had a nation they could call their own until Friday of last week when the state of Israel was created out of the torn and bloody parts of Palestine. America was the first to recognize this new born nation and may be the first to offer it aid in the coming struggle against the Arab world. Most of us had hoped that this cleavage in the Middle East could be closed without a struggle. Now we can only hope that a nation born in strife may yet live to enjoy a thousand years of peace.

A Woman Makes Trouble

Beautiful Queen Nefertete charmed the Germans as much as she did the Egyptians over whom she ruled in the 14th century B. C. So when German archaeologists unearthed her statue in 1912, they smuggled it out of Egypt and took it to Berlin.

When bombing threatened Nefertete's safety in World War II, she was moved to the small museum of Wiesbaden, near the Rhine, in what is now the American zone. The Egyptians heard of her new home, and begged Uncle Sam to return her to her native Egypt, saying that archaeological treasures belonged to the country where they were found, and not to the nation which dug them up.

Our government has just refused this request, on the ground that we are not concerned with the acts of the German government before 1933. If the Egyptians want redress and Nefertete, they will have to apply to the German government when this is established.

As this has not yet been done and no one knows when it will be, Queen Nefertete will remain indefinitely far from her beloved Nile, on the banks of what she would have considered the bleak and barbarous Rhine.

Italian President

The first president of the Republic of Italy, Luigi Einaudi, is a man whose political history shows that he was on the side of democracy over a period when it was personally dangerous to have such beliefs.

In pre-war Italy he was a member of the Liberal party, which opposed the Fascist regime of Mussolini, and from 1919 served that party as a senator. After Italy entered the war Einaudi found his opposition to Mussolini becoming too dangerous, and finally he fled the country in 1942. After the surrender of Italy and the death of Mussolini, Einaudi returned and became governor of the Bank of Italy. He became director of the budget and then vice-premier under de Gasperi.

His Liberal party label is from the days when liberalism was something opposed to Fascism. By profession he is a banker and economically he is conservative. He is credited with helping to stabilize the Italian currency after the war, by resisting the trend toward heavy government spending and liberal credit.

His name should lend confidence and prestige to a middle-of-the-road government in Italy.

Twenty Years Ago Today

Commencement exercises for the graduating class of the Lake Mary School were held last night in the school auditorium with John D. Jenkins, county tax collector, making the commencement address. T. W. Lawton, superintendent of public instruction, awarded the diplomas.

The school auditorium was filled with relatives and friends of the members of the graduating class. The program opened with a song, "Commencement Day" by the Junior High Department. The song was followed by a prayer by C. C. Priest, remarks by P. D. Anderson, awarding of diplomas to ninth grade pupils, a farewell song, the denunciation, by the Rev. J. M. Thompson, and the valedictory, by Dessie Mae Singletary.

Following the valedictory, Miss Redfern, in behalf of the lunch-room committee, thanked those who had assisted in that work during the year and made awards to each. The members of the graduating class are: William Otto Hutchinson, Heba Eugenia Touchstone, Charles T. Whitaker, Dessie Mae Singletary, and Birger Sven Wester. The ninth grade students are: Noble Ferguson, Donald Anderson and Nita Smith.

Miss Nora Powell, young daughter of Mrs. L. W. Powell, entertained a number of her friends most delightfully Saturday afternoon at a swimming party and picnic at Silver Lake.

The afternoon was merely spent with swimming, games and other pleasant forms of diversion and at dusk a bounteous picnic supper was served. The chaperons for the affair were: Miss Margaret E. Young, Mrs. E. J. Routh, Miss Velma Shipp, and Miss Mary Finell. The guests were Virginia Lawton, Lucy Marshall, Dorothy Marshall, Doris Eastern, Rebecca Wilson, Eloise Winn, Billy Crouch, Braxton Perkins, Jr., Harold Hamk, Gilmer Steele, Jack Russell, Jack Tucker, and Dick Holtzclaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins Connelly announce the birth of a daughter, Daphne, on Tuesday, May 15 at the Fernald Loughton Hospital.

Oleo Bill

(Continued From Page One) sold to him when he asks for butter. He told the committee that Pure Food and Drug Administration is able to prevent such frauds.

After two days of hearings, the committee will decide whether (1) to pigeon-hole a House-passed bill repealing the 62-year-old tax, or (2) to send the bill to the Senate with a recommendation that the Senate pass it.

Senate sentiment apparently favors repeal. When the bill came from the House, there was a Senate dispute over whether it should go to the Finance Committee or the Agriculture Committee. Opponents of the bill led by senators from big dairy states wanted the Agriculture Committee to have it. They thought there was a better chance it would be pigeon-holed there. They lost 47 to 30 when the Senate voted on which committee should handle it. Senator Wiley (R-Wis) has

What Your Child Needs Most

By W. V. BITTING Touchton Drug Co. Parents are always desirous of giving their child the one elusive thing which will bring success and happiness. Some parents feel that it is an education, others save to give their child a start in business or a profession.

Actually what your child needs most is good health. For with it all things are possible for your child to attain himself.

To a great degree, parents can guarantee the health of their child by affording him every precaution medical science offers against disease. And by taking him to the doctor at regular intervals for examinations.

A child should be given only medicine which is prescribed by a doctor and compounded by a reliable pharmacist.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The royal family, more than ever before, is making itself a part of the every-day life of the country. Of course this Democratic tendency isn't new to the present occupants of the throne and their children, for recent generations of sovereignty have displayed it. But it is more pronounced.

There are several reasons for this striking change. One natural cause is the hard times for England's economic crisis is grave. However, I believe the cause lies mainly in the politico-social upheaval which has swept wide reaches of our globe, including the British Isles.

Britain's Socialist government is leaving its stamp on John Bull's island. Even if times were easier economically, lavish display would be outside the code of socialism—certainly no time for royalty to blind the eyes of its subjects with the blaze of the Kohinoor and Cullinan diamonds. And it's only fair to add that the kindly folk who make up the present royal family have never shown the slightest disposition to throw their weight about.

The change in the times is registered clearly by the nature of the two royal courts which have just been held at Buckingham Palace. They were the first since 1939, and they were shorn of much of the extreme formality and glitter of pre-war days. They were afternoon "parties" rather than the austere evening courts of the past.

No longer do the ambassadors have to appear in black silken knee-breeches with long silk stockings—always a nightmare to Yankee representatives (especially those with bad legs) in the "good old days." Other regulations for dress of both men and women have been relaxed to an extreme which even permits the mere male to appear in a lounge suit, if he so desires.

Women don't have to make the full curtsy—an acrobatic feat to which English ladies were reared but which always has been a trial and a tribulation to Americans. It's easy to be awkward in making the curtsy, and if the avoridpious lady well distributed a gal very easily can fall. Backing away from the presence of royalty—achieved by a side-and-a-half movement like an old side-wheel steamer getting into its berth—also has been a horror in the past.

In pre-war days these courts always were a period of torture for the American embassy because of the flood of applications from American women to be "presented." Comparatively few could be chosen, and those left out cried their disappointment to high heaven, and into influential ears back home. The selected few then had to be schooled in the curtsy and other court ways, and near hysteria wasn't uncommon among the trainees.

Those were the days, too, when an American ambassador spent about $100,000 to $125,000 dollars a year out of his own pocket to maintain his position. I once heard former Vice President Charles Dawes wisecrack when he was ambassador to the court of St. James that if he got through his tenure with a personal expenditure of $125,000 a year he would be making money.

Another of America's most brilliant diplomats, who had served as ambassador in lesser capitals, told me: "If the ambassadorship to England were offered me on a silver platter I couldn't accept it. I just haven't the money to swing it. I have gone as far as I can."

Happily that situation has been changed. These days American ambassadors don't have to foot any such expenses. Also, the costly entertainment and display are a thing of the past.

Mrs. Roxas Leaves Presidential Palace

MANILA, May 17 (AP)—Mrs. Trinidad de Leon Roxas said her farewells at Malacanang Palace today as the period of national mourning ended for her late husband, President Manuel Roxas.

The widow, her eyes brimming with tears, told newsmen how the president may have had a premonition of his fatal heart attack last month. She said he insisted his physician, Dr. Jose Ojeda, go along with him on his last trip and "would not leave without him."

The Roxas family is leaving the palace tomorrow. It will stay temporarily with Dr. Florentino Herrera, family physician, and later take over the Dewey Blvd. home of President Elpidio Quirino.

In 1929 Capt. Lee went to Washington where he was on active duty in the Navy Department until he retired because of ill health in 1945. At the time of retirement, he was the personnel assistant to the Director of Naval Communications. In recent years, he lived at the Chevy Chase Club and had a summer home at Camden, Me. He is survived by nine children and six grandchildren, his mother, Mrs. Mary Justice Chase of Winter Park, a sister, Mrs. R. C. Lasbury, Jr. of East Windsor Hill, Conn., and a brother Phillip L. Lee of Rosemont, Pa.

Capt. Lee was a brother of Ena Benjamin Lee for whom Lee Field at Green Cove Springs was named.

KNIFE ATTACK

TAMPA, May 17—(AP)—Deputy Sheriff Neil Keen said today a Hillsborough county farmer was charged with murdering a neighbor with a knife. The accused man said he found his wife in the arms of the man he killed.

Keen said Marvin G. Heister, 40, was fatally wounded Saturday by slashes from a knife in the hands of Henry Joseph Cook, 38. After the knife attack, Heister ran from a wash house at the Cook residence and collapsed. He died enroute to a hospital. Cook, said Keen, related he returned from work to find his wife with Heister. He explained he became enraged and didn't recall any details of the slaying.

SEEDMEN'S MEET

MIAMI BEACH, May 17 (AP)—Dr. F. S. Jamison of the University of Florida told the Florida Seedmen's Association here today the university is experimenting with 120 varieties of tomatoes in an effort to find a more marketable variety.

Already, Dr. Jamison said one variety has produced 73 per cent of marketable tomatoes while the average is less than 50 per cent for some commercial strains. The convention opened today with David Hughes of Miami, president, presiding.

PET OFFER

TAMPA, May 17—(AP)—A Tampa woman has a brand new pet dog again, but she could have had 150. A. D. Faggitt lost her dog "Kippie" in a recent fire which destroyed her home.

She appealed to the Tampa Times Saturday for a dog to replace Kippie. Some 150 persons telephoned Mrs. Faggitt during the weekend to offer dogs. Her new pet's name is "Kippie."

3,500 Rotarians From All Parts Of World Attend 39th Convention

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, May 17—(Special)—With an attendance of more than 3,500 Rotarians and members of their families from Europe, Asia, Africa, the Islands of the Pacific, and South and Central America, the 39th annual convention of Rotary International convened here yesterday.
 Two chartered steamships and many special airplanes brought thousands of Rotarians to Rio from the U. S. A. in what was perhaps the greatest mass civilian movement ever made from North America to Brazil.
 In opening the convention program at the huge Fluminense football stadium, his Excellency General Eurico Gaspar Dutra, president of the United States of Brazil, paid tribute to the world-wide activities of rotary clubs in promoting international understanding, good will and peace.
 A highlight of the evening's entertainment program was a concert by the symphony orchestra of the Federal District Municipal Theatre, conducted by Augusto Signone, and a colorful pageant of the history of Brazil.
 Keynote of this five day gathering of business and professional executives representing 6,500 Rotary Clubs in 80 countries, is the internationality of the Rotary organization and its program of service by the individual Rotarian to his local community, his nation, and to the family of nations.
 Presiding over the convention is the President of Rotary International, S. Kendrick Guernsey of Jacksonville, Florida, U. S. A., who has recently made an extended tour of Rotary Clubs in Australia, New Zealand, China, and Great Britain.
 The Rotary convention program includes addresses and discussion forums keyed to the current international situation, the enactment of legislation and the election of international officers.
 Among the outstanding speakers scheduled to address the convention, in addition to the President of Brazil who spoke this evening, are Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, former Foreign Minister of Brazil who recently was president of the General Assembly of the United Nations; the Honorable Lewis R. Macgregor, Australian Minister to Brazil; and General Angelo Mendes de Moraes, Mayor of Rio de Janeiro.
 Principal convention addresses also will be delivered by Rotarians from Australia, Brazil, England, Norway, Peru, Portugal and the U. S. A.
 Included in the colorful entertainment program which the Brazilians have arranged for their Rotary guests from the four corners of the world are a spectacular

Principal Aim Of Education Is To Teach Peace, Unity

By HELEN G. HINES
 Written Exclusively for AP Newsfeatures
 No one denies that the principal aim of education should be to teach people to live together in peace and harmony. The problem is how and when to do this. There are three great institutions available for teaching our youth—home, school, and church—and if each functioned properly and conditions were ideal the results would be wonderful.
 There has been a growing tendency to leave the job to the school and the church. But 25 hours a week in the one and two at most in the other are not going to accomplish the job. Presumably the other 78 waking hours belong to the home. Few mothers are capable of, or have the time for, teaching our youth—home, school, and church—and if each functioned properly and conditions were ideal the results would be wonderful.

of the Communists is their lack of race prejudice, and they make much of our intolerant attitude in this country. Children have no prejudice, racial or religious. Children take people for what they are. It is only as they absorb the ideas of their elders that they begin to make these distinctions and to assume a superiority over minority groups. Here again the pre-school training in the home can set the pace for all their after life.
 There seems to be a decided trend in education to make things "easy and enjoyable" for our children, rather than a matter of honest-to-goodness hard work in mastering an academic subject. I contend that that is not preparation for life. Life isn't easy, and hard work never hurt anyone. We are doing our children an injustice if we let them believe that anything worthwhile can be accomplished without hard work.
 Last and not least I believe very strongly that the children of parents who have strong religious convictions and are loyal to and active in the church of their faith have a much better chance for happiness than those from homes where spiritual things have little value. To that end I believe profoundly in regular attendance upon divine worship. Regular church attendance alone on our part will not of course insure our children's future well being and success in life, but it presupposes a belief in God, an acknowledgment of our dependence upon Him and an interest in things of the spirit—all of which are essential for the mother who would influence the lives of her children for noble adulthood.
 A five-pound dressed stewing chicken will yield about three pounds of chicken meat, including giblets. This will make three to four cups of cubed meat for a creamed dish or a salad.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADIS

WASHINGTON—Over-crowded Washington has a new $2,000,000 apartment hotel—already filled, though it opened just the other day. It's the Congressional Hotel on Capitol Hill, started Jan. 1, 1947.
 Murals of seven cartoons by Clifford K. Berryman, now in his 42nd year as a cartoonist for the "Washington Evening Star", highlight the new hotel's decorations. There is also a mural of a page from the "Star", printed more than 50 years ago.
 The Berryman cartoons were selected from more than 4,000 in the artist's collection. All selected deal with situations arising as a result of Senate filibusters over a period of many years. The page from the "Star" is dated October 12, 1893, and contains a report of a filibuster of that time.
 The murals are in the Filibuster Room. Other public rooms are the Veto Room, the Caucus Room and the Committee Room.
 Incidentally, local hotel men report that business this year is heavier than it was during the push year. During April and May, 56 conventions were scheduled. During the year, 225 conventions will attract visitors. The right-seeing business, which booked an all-time record of $1,250,000 last year, is doing right well this year too. Last year, when about 500,000 persons saw the Capital through bus windows, the business was 100 per cent better than in 1946.
 Afghanistan's Independence Day rolls around again May 27, and there will be a colorful reception at the Legation here, with toasts in a fascinating native drink called "dough". It's made of sour milk, mint and rose water—and is without "spirits".
