Churchill and Logan Confer On U. S. Claims

Cost of Army of Occupation Together With War Damages Question Subjects Discussed in Thursday's Meet

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The fixing of a lump sum and the joining together of the costs of the American army of occupation and the claims of the United States for war damages were the subject of two conversations between James A. Logan, Jr., the American observer, and Winston Churchill, British chancellor of the exchequer, Thursday and it is this which is delaying the announcement that an agreement on the Anglo-American viewpoints, which was reached in principle last night had definitely settled as to details.

AMERICA SLOW PREPARING TO PAY DEBT TO U.S.

Government Takes Matter Up With Rumanian Foreign Office
 Amounts of the Debts

BUCHAREST, Jan. 7.—Among several matters which Minister of Foreign Affairs has taken up with the Rumanian Foreign Office, has been the war debt of the Rumanian government to the government of the United States.

Under instructions received from the department of state, Mr. Jay is understood to have pointed out that the time has arrived for Rumania, if not to conclude a definite funding arrangement, at least to send a commission to the United States properly supplied with all the necessary data so that an agreement can be reached as to the precise amount of the debt.

The Rumanian government has sent a commission to the United States about two years ago, but its records in such a confused and incomplete condition that it was quite impossible to arrive at even an approximate basis of understanding. It is believed that a compromise has been given that an agreement will leave Bucharest for Washington early in 1928 with the hope of arriving at a complete understanding.

In this connection it is pertinent to set down a statement made a few days ago by Vintila Bratianu, minister of finance, to the representative of The Associated Press. Asked what arrangements the Rumanian government might have under consideration in regard to interest on Allied and American war debts, the minister replied that Rumania could not even think of making budget provision for interest and amortization on war debts until she knows just where she stands on the matter of reparations.

"We are being asked to conclude arrangements for the settlement of our war debts," Mr. Bratianu added, "and the reparations commission has not yet even decided upon the amounts due us from Austria and Hungary."

FOUR MILLION RIDE CARS

American Governor Bans Samoan Title

APIA, Samoa, Jan. 8.—The title of "Tuimaniua" of the Manua district of American Samoa has been prohibited by the governor, Capt. Edward S. Kellogg, U. S. N. Manuans who claim the right to bestow the title are aggrieved.

The governor explained that he would not allow the title to be held for the reason that it was equivalent to a kingship, and under the American government there could be no king.

A large number of Samoan titles are designated as "Tui." The word is Tongan, introduced into the Samoan language. A dictionary of the Samoan language defines it as "high chief" or "king." But the Samoan word for king is "Tupu." A Tuimaniua does not exercise any political power, but his person is considered sacred and he commands the highest respect.

OIL PRODUCTION IN PERSIA CAN BE MUCH INCREASED

Official of Anglo-Persian Oil Company Can Increase Output 100 Per Cent by Working Wells Already Drilled

LONDON, Jan. 8.—At the recent annual meeting of the Anglo-Persian Oil Company, the chairman, Sir Charles Greenway, told the shareholders that the company's production in 1927-28 was 3,714,216 tons and in the current financial year would probably exceed 4,250,000 tons.

"I may add," the speaker said, "that were we to tap all the wells already opened up, we could at once bring our production up to 10,000,000 tons yearly or more, and that by drilling in the well which have already been carried down to the cap rock we could still further largely augment our production within a few months."

Regarding market prospects, Sir Charles remarked: "Last year it looked as if consumption were overtaking production. This would have happened had it not been for the bringing in of some new fields in the United States, and for the reckless system of drilling obtaining in that country. The combined effect of these causes was temporarily only.

"On the other hand there has been an enormous increase all over the world in the consumption of petroleum products, almost sufficient to counterbalance the increased production, and now that the production of crude has again begun to decline there is every reason for believing that, subject to no prolific new fields being discovered in the near future, the barometer of oil prices has reached its lowest point, and that any changes will be in the upward direction."

Berlin Flocks to See Late Radio Exhibits

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—Berlin is having a radio exposition, and on Sundays the visiting crowd has reached 40,000. Visitors to the new form of entertainment are accruing in large numbers.

Some 250 firms exhibit sets and accessories, and not a few advertise that with their instruments one can hear the musical programs broadcast in the United States. Privately the salesman will whisper, however, that one must arise early to hear the western hemisphere, since the evening programs of New York are given between 2 and 6

Poland Pays Honor To Unknown Soldier

WARSAW, Jan. 7.—Poland recently achieved a monument to "The Unknown Soldier" in such a mysterious manner that neither the press nor the public knows whence it came. One morning at dawn a motor lorry appeared at the base of the Poniatowski statue, a great sandstone block bearing the inscription "To the Unknown Soldier."

The public immediately began laying wreaths of flowers before the inscribed stone and it has become an accepted monument in spite of the ignorance as to the origin of the gift.

Idea of Rotor Ship Will Work on Land

KIEL, Jan. 8.—The Flettner rotorship and the statement of its inventor that the principle of cylindrical towers to secure power from the air will also be used in harnessing the wind on land, continue to be discussed here.

Herr Flettner is reticent about his plans to utilize wind power on land, saying that within a year he hopes to exhibit plants, factories and municipalities to take power directly from the wind through the use of the discoveries he has worked out in his study of air currents and their effect upon revolving towers. Towers for use on land will be high, as the constant winds are far above the earth's surface. Herr Flettner is confident that eventually there will be a great saving of fuel through the use of air currents.

The inventor declares also that small sailboats of all kinds, including pleasure craft, can be fitted with one rotating tower that will propel them successfully on rivers, bays and lakes.

Greece Picks Yankee To Train Athletes

OLONICA, Greece, Jan. 8.—Greece, the birth-place of athletics and the cradle of the Olympic games, has turned to the United States for guidance in the training and conditioning of her athletes by engaging Lew Rieas of Philadelphia as national physical director.

Rieas will divide his time between Solonica and Athens. The Greek Athletic Federation is announcing his engagement, said: "Mr. Rieas will invite our athletes to regular meetings in the stadium giving them all the necessary instructions and supervising their training with characteristic American zeal and the noble desire to help in the development of sports."

Rieas has been a physical director and athletic coach since 1908, first at Washington, Va., later at Baltimore, Md., and with the University of Virginia from 1917. From 1919 to 1927 he was physical director of the American Army of the Rhine, based at Coblenz.

Lovers of Sanford Are Given Musical Program

Probably a number of people who attended the recital given last night by Miss Elizabeth Spencer and Miss Lucille Collette at the High School auditorium were at first puzzled and disappointed when they discovered a phonograph cabinet occupying the center of the stage.

Miss Collette appeared and in a few moments her address told the birth of the phonograph. A brief history of the development of the phonograph followed Miss Collette pointing out the fact that Mr. Edison's ambition to perfect an instrument which would re-create music so perfectly that the re-creation would be indistinguishable from the original performance.

Miss Spencer was introduced and took her position beside the new Edison. Both artist and phonograph started the selection, but suddenly Miss Spencer paused and the new Edison carried on the melody so perfectly that it was impossible to distinguish one from the other without watching the artist closely.

In the course of the evening similar tests were made with the same results. It was only by watching the singer's lips, the violinist's bow, or piano keys that one could be sure when they sang or played and when they did not.

This proof was convincing. If it were not, another proof was offered. After Miss Spencer had commenced to sing one number, the lights were turned out—definitely so that the audience could not watch the singer's lips. It did not seem difficult to determine in the dark when the singer sang and when she did not.

The program follows:

"Baby," from Jocelyn, Goodell and "I Hear You Calling Me," Laxhall, by Miss Spencer.

"Waltz in C Sharp Minor," Chopin, and "Sous Bois," (In the mode), Staub, by Miss Collette at the piano.

"My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," Link-Saens, and "Money Don't Buy Alstynne," Miss Spencer.

"Meditation," from Thal's, Massenet, Miss Collette, violin.

"Love's Old Sweet Song," Moly and "Happy Days," Streleki, Miss Spencer.

"The World is Waiting for Sunrise," Seitz, and "Hejere Kati," Hubay.

Reading, "An Old Sweetheart of Mine," Riley, Miss Spencer.

"My Solilo," Miss Collette.

"The Bitterness of Love," James and "Summer and You," Malanna Corby, Miss Spencer.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Sarah E. Melson Held This Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah E. Melson, 65, one of Sanford's winter residents, whose death occurred early Thursday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Stella Melson, on Highland Avenue, were conducted from the home at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Following the services the body was sent to Dagsboro, Del., for interment.

Mrs. Melson was a member of the Methodist Church. She was taken ill suddenly and died within 12 hours after being stricken. She was married at an early age soon would have celebrated her Golden Wedding Anniversary.

Besides her husband, George B. Melson, she is survived by two sons, Ira W. Melson, Bordertown, Del., and Charles B. Melson, Goldsboro, N. C.; four daughters, Mrs. C. E. Ebbelway Philadelphia, Penn.; Mrs. Viola Carey, Dagsboro, Del.; Mrs. H. L. Lingie and a brother, Irving Hudson, and a sister, Mrs. Elwood Rodney.

Chicago's a great town. The guns make so much noise that even those not getting shot must have a hard time sleeping.

Yowell Company Will End Sale of Week On Next Saturday Night

With a final slash at prices the Yowell Company will end Saturday the annual January clearance sale which has been in progress since the beginning of the week. Throughout the sale special opportunities have been placed before the shoppers but the bargains to be laid on counters Saturday are to eclipse all offerings of the days preceding, it is declared.

The Yowell Company, the oldest department in Sanford, is pointed out. Those intimately associated with the establishment regard the January sale, which is now in progress, as one of the high spots in the store's long record. No department of the store is exempt from the cuts in prices. Articles for men, women and children are found in both quantity and quality. Piece goods also are placed on the block and are going fast at the reduced prices.

Officials of the store, through the sale, are making room for a complete stock of spring and summer goods which soon will be arriving in Sanford.

Times do change. Not long ago they had signs, "Women's Hair Cut Here" and "Men's Hair Cut Here."

How That Advertising "Paid"

It is still customary to think of advertising as something that "makes business" for the advertiser. The first benefits of advertising, the average person believes, go to the individual or the concern advertised.

The Herald agrees with "the average person" that this is often the case, but we have just heard of one of the many cases in which the first benefits from some thoughtful advertising went direct to the folks who read the newspaper "ad".

A building firm in a Florida city suggested the buying of a home as a family Christmas present. So well put were the arguments, "no rent to pay, your own property to improve, the pride of ownership, the permanent home idea for the children etc." that a man took money which he had set aside for investment in a business concern, and bought a little home for his wife and children.

That family maintained that they were the happiest people in Florida Christmas Day. And they had the surprisingly good grace to write a letter to the building firm, of whom, by the way they did NOT buy the house, expressing their gratitude for the good advertisement which set them to thinking of that "home for Christmas."

In this day when the advertising sections of the newspapers are read with keen interest, countless ideas are acquired by people who are not idea-hunting at all. Readers of the newspapers pick up "bargains", they collect information regarding the best places to get this and that and the other thing. And innumerable times they pass on this information to neighbors and friends. The consequence is that readers of advertisements derive values of which advertisers know nothing.

The family who were persuaded to buy a home of their own for Christmas can find no words good enough to express their thanks for the advertisement that persuaded them to make the purchase. In the ten years of their married life, that man and woman never owned a home. They had rented the houses or the apartments they lived in. They had "moved" often. Their three children had acquired no special love for "home", and were learning nothing of the responsibility of home-making, and home-beautifying, which should come so early into the understanding of a child.

Thanks to that bit of advertising, that drifting family has settled down in prideful possession of their own home, in a good neighborhood, on a pleasant street.

And this is only one little happening among thousands of similar ones, out of which memorials could be dedicated to the power of a wellwritten "ad".

"Advertising pays" from many angles.

But It Was "A Fine Shot"

The mocking bird was balancing on a twig amazingly small for a sensible bird to select as a perch. There was a brisk breeze, too, and the soft gray feathers on the bird's wings were ruffled up right rowdily. Sort of tipsy from the joy of life, the bird seemed to be trying some new-fangled dance with the time set by some merry song running through his mind.

He cocked his head on one side and turned a bright eye toward the boy in the orange grove. And the boy being a daring hunter took steady aim with his bright new Christmas gun and shot the teetering bird. It was a "fine shot" for a novice. The bird was almost on the wing, so far as its movements were concerned, and it dropped as "neatly" as ever a bird fell from its flight across a field.

The mocking bird did not die for an hour or two. It just lay there in the grass underneath the orange tree, without fluttering much. "The boy had no use for that kind of game. He was just out shooting with his beautiful new gun. He was feeling so "manly" as he stalked his prey, took aim and fired. All the sunny day he was out in the open. He made a number of "fine shots" similar to the skillful one that brought the mocking bird down. And that night with his eyes shining at the memory of the great day, he recounted his adventures to his admiring parents. Their pride in their "manly" boy was written all over their own beaming faces.

Little old mocking bird, you just didn't know the game. You had the foolish idea that in exchange for the bugs you kill in the orange groves that you can be safe and happy there. You fancy that human beings are civilized creatures who never ruthlessly give pain. You thought that shining thing in the boy's hands was something typical of the Christmas Day that brought it. Foolish little mocking bird to believe that all the world is kind.

SANCTITY OF THE PARK AUTO PRINTER'S INK

Advertising ceases to be either ethical or of value to an advertiser when it invades the privacy of the individual. When the attention of the public is forced rather than attracted the returns approach the negligible.

This is one of the reasons why Printers' Ink, more than a year ago, classed radio as a questionable advertising medium. It is also the chief reason for condemning the tossing of handbills into automobiles or fastening tags and tickets to various parts of parked cars. The practice, especially in the smaller cities, has grown so obnoxious that an owner, returning to his automobile after an hour's interval, frequently must spend several minutes picking up the litter of papers and detaching various odds and ends.

Tickets, such as those which fasten on the steering wheel and which advise the owner to "Drive over to the Blank Service Station for Free inspection of electrical equipment," or the tag which describes some labor of fuel saving device, might plead their case with reason. At one time such tags might have led to a sale, but so overworked has the idea become that advertising returns from them at the present time must be practically nothing.

Handbills, of the sort described, are the least of the litter. Handbills of cheap shoe shine and hat cleaning establishments, the "press-your-pants-while-you-wait" valets, the cheapest tailors, price-cutting grocers, and inefficient garage men—this is the company in which an advertiser's literature hobbles. It is one of the cheapest forms of advertising and therefore attracts the cheapest-minded business men. It is at the same time as wasteful a practice as any penny-wise advertiser ever conceived. From the latter view-point it is not low cost advertising. But it is after all the unethical basis of the practice—the violation of an individual's privacy and his property rights—which foredooms it to disfavor.

The Hampton-Tuskegee Endowment ASHEVILLE CITIZEN

It is a fine thing for the future of Negro citizenship that American philanthropists remembered the colored people in giving millions for education and for general social welfare activities among the American people. That they are permitted to share in the benefactions made by such men as Mr. Duke and Mr. Eastman, not only provides the Negroes with badly needed facilities for racial improvement but it impresses upon them that in the fundamentals of citizenship, they are recognized, as they should be, as a part of all that goes into the making of what we call American life.

As Brisbane Sees It

Aged 105 and That's All. $7,000,000 Per Plane. The Drop Did Not Come. Mummy Fingerprints.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1924)

AN OLD gentleman celebrates his 105th birthday, not unusual in these days of long living, and newspapers distribute his views.

"Never give any advice," says he, "and don't worry. I have always done what I wanted to do and have never worried."

Never worry and you will live long. Worry poisons the mind and kills in the end.

BUT THE gentleman aged 105 is aged 105, and that's all you can say about him. To do what you don't want to do and to worry may mean shorter life. It also may mean doing something worth while.

To be a Harriman or a Hill, open up great territories, conquer a Saltion Sea, make a short cut across Salt Lake, help create the great Northwest and die too young, is better than never worrying and living to 105.

THE REGULARLY established air-plane service between London and Berlin makes the 600 mile trip in four hours. Those machines, headed this way, would cross the Atlantic in 20 hours.

That is something to interest this nation which talks and spends, but makes no airplane progress.

AT SPENDING we are very efficient. On airplane service, since the war, this nation has spent more than four hundred million dollars. How much of that went in waste and graft, do you think? For our $400,000,000 spent since the war, and about one thousand millions spent during the war, we have, according to official testimony, just twenty airplanes fit to be of service in war.

THAT MAKES our good machines average us about seventy million dollars each, which is not cheap. They build them in Europe for $1,500. If the country spends $400,000,000 more you may be sure that Calvin Coolidge will get some flying machines for the money. Why not buy, for a start, 1,000 machines abroad, where they know how to make the kind that fly?

THAT PREDICTED 1925 drop did not visit the stock market yesterday. Almost everything went up, railroads leading cotton and wheat following. Call money used in speculation dropped to 3 per cent, and all was serene.

The lambs have not gained full headway yet. They are thinking, fear little things. Once they get really started there will be busy menaces for stray bears.

ELMER SCHLESINGER, part of the inside works of Chamberlains, Stancifield and Levy, lawyers with clients of the big kind, says, "This is going to be such a boom year as nobody living has ever seen." He is a cool, not excitable young man. And he is probably right. Whatever else you do, be careful not to sell short. "That way mad,ness lies." But don't gamble.

When the lawyer writes, "Here to I get my hand and seal," he refers to ancient custom, as old as Egypt, of sealing documents with the print of the thumb.

Three thousand years before Christ finger prints and thumb prints were used for identification. The Chinese use finger prints to identify a trail of laborers as they are paid off.

MR. BOGREN, expert of the navy, has been making finger prints of mummies, and says that in all the thousands of years no two human beings have had finger prints alike.

What's more important, no two have had brains alike, and that accounts for change and progress.

SUGAR COMPANIES, oil and railroad companies are organizing great mergers, bigger and bigger industrial units are coming. In the end, perhaps, single units will include entire industries. The big steel company could probably control the nation's steel business tomorrow except that Judge Gary is conservative.

NO NEED to worry about it. The bigger the better, if the public gets its share of the savings. If the public is not intelligent enough to watch and regulate one big concern, it won't be able to watch and control the secret inside deals of a dozen little concerns.

VERY EXPENSIVE is the overhead in wasteful enterprises and the public pays the entire bill all ways. If ten companies send five milk wagons and five baker wagons to your block, you and others on the block would pay for the eight unnecessary wagons.

HENRY FORD loaded 5,000 automobiles on his ship Onchid in New York harbor yesterday, and sent the lot down to Jacksonville, New Orleans and Houston. Ford is a business man. Factories, mines, forests, water power, ships and money enough to buy Morgan & Company, that once imagined it could buy him. When will the first all-metal Ford airplane appear?

WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION HOLDS INTERESTING MEET

The first regular meeting of the reorganized W. C. T. U. was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hoghey on Fifth Street, with the president, Mrs. McRae, in the chair, and many plans for the extension of the work were discussed.

On the evening of Jan. 16 at 8 o'clock an open meeting will be held at one of the churches in celebration of the 18th Amendment victory, when a special program will be given. It was decided to hold the regular meeting on the first and third Fridays of each month at a place to be decided upon later.

During the afternoon Mrs. J. W. Barnes spoke briefly of the work of the woman's National committee for Law Enforcement and closed by reading several articles from "The Battle of the Ballot," edited by the committee, excerpts from which are as follows: "We have adopted as our public policy national prohibition. We have a lawless element reaping rich return from defiance to it. Refuse to believe that Congress has passed or will ever pass, law that cannot be enforced. . . . A good old fashioned revival of devotion to the Constitution is needed now. Whole communities have civic 'sleeping sickness.' Women dodge endorsements and decisions on public questions of fear dissention will rupture their social group and they will be accused of being 'political.' They're dodging a clear duty if organized group of women cannot stand for something positive and definite in civic life, cannot face differences of opinions fearlessly and tolerantly and still maintain the clubs, then indeed are women unfit for full participation in citizenship."

Corruption in high places is revolting, but the condition that will prove fatal to this country is lethargy in local government, deterioration and graft in the police force of your city; leniency and political pull in state and county courts." Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general of the United States.

The women of America can cooperate with the Federal Government in a great campaign of preaching and living law observance, of promptly assuming the responsibilities of citizenship, and inspiring in young and old proper appraisal of the fundamentals of Americanism, a campaign of active participation in citizenship problems, for bad men are elected by good women who stay away from the polls on election day."—Roy A. Haynes.

The Judicial section of the American Bar Association, venturing to speak for all the judges, wishes to express this warning to the American people:

"Reverence and enforcement of law depend mainly upon the ideals and customs of those who occupy the vantage ground of life in business and society. The people of the United States in solemn constitutional enactment, have undertaken to suppress the age-long evil of the liquor traffic.

"When for the gratification of their appetites or the promotion of their interests, lawyers, bankers, great merchants and manufacturers, and social leaders, both men and women, disobey and scoff at this law, or any other law, they are aiding the cause of anarchy and promoting mob violence, robbery and homicide; they are sowing dragon's teeth, and they need not be surprised when they find that no judicial or police authority can save our country or humanity from reaping the harvest."

Secretary of State, Charles Evans Hughes, says: "All citizens respect the laws they like. The test of devotion to our institutions is respect for the law itself, that is, devotion to the principle that we are a government of laws and not of men; that it is only through a government of laws that we may avoid the despotism of a government of unrestrained official discretion, of arbitrary action and caprice. Respect for law is quite apart from approval of particular laws. It is respect for organized society, and in a Republic, for the rule of the people thru representative government. Disrespect for law is faithfulness to the Democratic principle which cannot be applied except through laws expressing the will of the people."

TO ENTERTAIN DEACONS Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Henry are entertaining the deacons of the Presbyterian Church Friday evening with supper followed by the usual monthly meeting.

Those invited are the Rev. E. D. Brownlee, N. H. Garner, H. R. Stevens, W. M. McKinnon, A. T. Rossiter, A. K. Rossitter, L. A. Brumley, I. I. Frazier, C. L. Goodhue, H. J. Lehmen and H. C. DuBose.

Parent-Teachers Body Enjoys Meeting

The East Side Parent-Teachers Association met at the East Side Primary School Thursday afternoon at 8 o'clock. Mrs. E. F. Housholder, the president of the association, presided.

After the reading of the minutes the reports of various committees were made. Satisfactory reports were given concerning the heating of the building and further plans were made for beautifying the school grounds.

With Mrs. B. L. Perkins and Mrs. Fred Daiger as hostesses a pleasant social hour followed at which time a salad course was served.

The third grade again won the pennet for representation as it has done each month through this year. At the next meeting Mrs. R. C. Bowers and Mrs. F. E. Housholder will be hostess.

Mrs. Martin Is Hostess At Luncheon Thursday

Mrs. Ira D. Martin was the gracious hostess at luncheon Thursday at her home on Park Avenue, honoring Mrs. Bessie G. Baxter of Virginia and Saratoga Springs, N. Y., who is a guest of Chulouota Inn for the winter.

Sweet peas, narcissus and ferns were used delightfully in decorating the rooms. The place cards were also spring flowers. A delicious luncheon was served at 1 o'clock. At 4 o'clock the party attended the Princess Theatre.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Martin, Mrs. Bessie G. Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Brumley, Miss Consuelo Brumley, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Snyder.

Dinner Is Given For Mr. and Mrs. Erickson

A charming courtesy of Thursday evening was the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Baker, honoring Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Erickson whose marriage was an event of the past week.

The table was centered with a beautiful silver bowl filled with roses and ferns. The place cards were also red roses. A sumptuous course dinner was served at 7:00 o'clock.

Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Went and R. S. Went.

G. I. A. Meets at Home Of Mrs. Alfred Lilja

The G. I. A. ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. Alfred Lilja, Thursday for a real "get-together" time and enjoyed a "pot-luck" lunch.

The day was very pleasantly and profitably spent in piecing quilts, social chats and in the afternoon Mrs. R. H. Walthour favored the ladies with a number of choice piano selections.

Mrs. Robert Howell and Mrs. Fannie Conald won the prize for making the highest number of squares for the quilt, it was a pound of stick candy, which was generously shared.

Those present were Mrs. Fannie McConnell, Mrs. Robert Howell, Mrs. R. H. Walthour, Mrs. Robert Jenkins, Mrs. Frank Crossby, Mrs. W. H. Singletary, Mrs. M. E. Moye, Mrs. Tapp, Mrs. Sievekling, Mrs. A. J. Metcalf, Mrs. Sassa, Mrs. J. B. Crawford, Mrs. J. M. Moye, Mrs. D. E. Brubaker, Mrs. M. Minerick, Mrs. Gunter, Mrs. L. M. Telford.

Mrs. R. E. Seale of Sarasota is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wight have as their guest Mrs. Lucius McLeod of Tampa.

Mrs. Chester Partin and Mrs. Enoch Partin of Oviedo spent Thursday afternoon in Sanford.

Thomas A. Edison Triumphs Again!

BIG AUDIENCE AT HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM HEARS ELIZABETH SPENCER IN EDISON TONE--TEST

In a test of direct comparison, made yesterday at High School Auditorium, before a large audience, Thomas A. Edison's new phonograph scored a complete and convincing triumph.

Elizabeth Spencer, the famous soprano, sang in direct comparison with the Edison Records of her voice on the New Edison. To every ear there was no difference between her living voice and her Re-Created voice.

This is the most drastic phonograph test know. No other phonograph has even sustained it. No other phonograph has even attempted it.

The New Edison's marvelous performance of yesterday vindicates everything that has been said or claimed for its perfect realism.

Elizabeth Spencer stood on the stage next to a shapely Chippendale cabinet. She began to sing. Her golden voice soared over the auditorium, bringing all under its magic spell.

Halfway through her song, she suddenly stopped singing. The New Edison, at her side, took up her song,—and continued it alone. Singer and phonograph thus alternated, throughout the song.

The only way the audience could be sure which was singing, was by watching Elizabeth Spencer's lips—so exactly like the living voice was the Re-Created voice.

Lucile Collette made the same test of comparison with Edison Records of her piano selections. Always the same result—there was no difference between the Re-Created performance and the living performance.

Proof was piled upon proof! Evidence was massed on evidence! The end of the concert found the audience absolutely and completely convinced, through its own personal experience, that there is no difference between an artist's living performance and its Re-Creation by the New Edison—that listening to the New Edison is, in literal truth, the same as listening to the living artists.

The NEW EDISON PHONOGRAPH

Only one question can still bother your mind. This question we now answer.

The instrument used in yesterday's tests was not a special model. It was an Official Laboratory Model, loaned by Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Gibbs of Union Ave. Every Official Laboratory Model in our stock is guaranteed to sustain the same test of direct comparison with living artists.

You can have an Official Laboratory Model in your home. You can own an instrument which will do everything done yesterday in the test. Come in. Hear the wonderful Official Laboratory Model for yourself. Learn about our Budget Plan, which puts our Official Laboratory Model into your home for no more than you would "pay down" for a talking machine.

Million Dollar Hotel Now Assured City Substantial

It is a happy fact and not a dream that has been in the past. What will mean to the growth and expansion of Sanford cannot be described in words but every citizen will admit its value. The members of this corporation join me in so-berly the active co-operation of every citizen in this undertaking.

The hotel is the culmination of the efforts on the part of every member to give Sanford a big drawing card for winter visitors. Our untiring efforts have been rewarded and the beginning of work on the new hotel, which will be within a short time, will mark the beginning of a new era for Sanford which will spell the steady advancement and growth of the city until it becomes the greatest inland city in the state.

Regarding the new hotel, Mr. Bodwell said:

"Sanford's greatest need today is a modern tourist hotel. With the bulkheading of the lakefront and with our golf links and good streets and roads we only need the proper facilities for taking care of the tourist to become one of the largest cities in inland Florida.

"Our greatest drawback in the past has been the lack of hotels that appeal to the average tourist who comes to our state. We have the location, climate and every thing else to make this a tourist center."

Mr. Bodwell sounded a very optimistic note in his statements regarding the hotel when he said:

"Sanford is most fortunate in obtaining such a personnel as has been secured to further the realization of its much needed tourist hotel. In securing the co-operation of these bankers and business men, the success of the enterprise is beyond question.

"We cannot have a real city and that means to every citizen without a real tourist hotel. The plan proposed is ideal. The proposed location with a 450 foot frontage on the Lakefront Boulevard and First Street is perfect. The financial plan held by this company neither holds nor operates the hotel, but insures its profit and access. The resale of all the surrounding land makes the project absolutely sound.

"The extension of First Street business property and a hotel will be the key to a new and better Sanford.

"From my acquaintance and contact with the citizens of Sanford we have absolute confidence that with sound and profitable plan proposed, the co-operation of everyone beyond question."

That the hotel is by far the biggest and greatest project yet held in Sanford is the declaration of Mr. DeCades, who gave the following statement:

"It has been my privilege to participate in the many preliminary conferences, lasting over a period of six weeks, resulting in the formation and organization of the Sanford Hotel-Realty Co., a corporation.

"In my opinion, this project is the biggest and greatest yet initiated in Sanford, and one which immediately assures continued development and increased prosperity and progress in the upbuilding of the city.

"Every feature of the organization and personnel of the corporation has been carefully considered, and every angle of the organization thought out and planned along conservative lines, and I may say, the announcement of the organization of the Sanford Hotel-Realty Co., is the result and culmination of many hours of concentrated, unselfish effort on the part of prominent business men and financial interests, who primarily have at heart the future growth and continued expansion and development of this city.

"Our greatest need today is a large, modern, up-to-date tourist hotel, complete in every detail. We must have a tourist hotel equally as good as those of modern construction to be found in other parts of the state. With the co-operation and assistance of the citizens of Sanford same may easily be attained.

In the organization of the Sanford Hotel-Realty Co., the public may rest assured that the construction of a commodious, modern tourist hotel in Sanford, comparable with other recently constructed tourist hotels in Florida, is no longer a mere figment of the imagination.

The tourist hotel is an absolute necessity and in its erection is an opportunity for citizens of this city to reap the benefits that will accrue from the great improvements and developments that have been made in Sanford, is the opinion of Mr. Higgins, who declared:

"This is an opportunity for the citizens of Sanford to cash in on the improvements and streets, sewers, etc., that they have made in the past few years and which they will continue to make in the future.

"A tourist hotel is not a luxury, but an absolute necessity to the future development of Sanford. This corporation will contribute a site and sufficient money to guarantee a hotel, these items will come out of the profits of the land sale. We will have a hotel, with-

Sanford must keep pace with other progressive cities of the state and in the erection of the hotel, the city will be taking a big step forward, declared Mr. Kez, who said:

"After carefully considering the needs of Sanford, I have associated myself with the Sanford Hotel-Realty Company because I saw in it the quickest and surest way of obtaining a tourist hotel, when in my opinion is the one thing we need.

"I feel it is absolutely necessary that a tourist hotel be erected in Sanford in order that we might keep pace with our sister cities."

Coach Kenneth Hait declared that the system is working well, bringing out unexpected talent on both teams. Some of the players are somewhat inexperienced at the game, the coach pointed out but under the two team system this difficulty is expected to be remedied shortly and good practice games are promised.
