An outline of the setup necessary for maintaining proper supplies of blood and plasma for use in this country in event of emergencies was outlined today to members of the Lions Club, sponsors of the Seminole County Blood Bank by Mrs. Ed Rand, secretary of the Central Florida Blood Bank, Orlando, and F. A. Bradlee, member of the Board of Directors.

Mrs. Rand stressed the need of having an active committee, preferably including a doctor, and a telephone tree to contact prospective donors and make definite appointments for days when blood bank clinics are to be held. Such clinics can be held on Tuesday and Thursday, starting in September, she said.

In order to have an adequate supply of reserve to the credit of the County Blood Bank, it is necessary to take in more blood than is sent out, she stated. In case of atomic bombing, greatly increased supplies would be needed.

Mrs. Bradlee compared the blood bank accounts with those of a financial institution or bank, stressed the need of "keeping up accounts" and stated that a good committee can handle this program in a very efficient manner. He pointed out that Lions International has done much in the line of maintaining blood banks throughout the country.

King Line Harry Robinson announced that Lion directors would meet Friday night at the home of Henry Witte, one of the topics to be discussed will be the holding of a night meeting.

Plans were announced for having a blood bank clinic in the near future.

French Fears

tain also should agree, now, to send five more of its own divisions to Germany or Northern France.

The crisis in Korea has brought the American position in France to a low point. The first blush of gratification at American intervention in Korea has been succeeded by a wave of dismay at U. S. reverses.

The French long have expected the strength of American arms—especially the atom bomb—to give them time to get well from the last war, and to rearm.

American newly arrived on this side of the Atlantic report that the defeats in Korea have hardened American determination to rearm and, if necessary, to be ready for a showdown with Russia.

There has been no such reaction in France. Top French government officials are facing the problem to a degree that generally is peculiar to American observers. But a sampling of sentiment among the French population, brings no such responses.

The lack of a "will to fight," such as resulted in the French collapse of 1940, is in evidence again. Many Frenchmen solemnly weigh these alternatives:

Would another war be worse than simply to sit down and wait to be occupied by the Russians?

Or would it be better to try to take a neutral course in the hope that Russia would not march into France?

It staggers Americans to hear Frenchmen they have known for a long time seriously weigh such considerations.

It is even more staggering to hear so many Frenchmen give answers which, to Americans, sound like capitulation. The philosophy of "sit and wait" is widespread in France.

The French appear to have lost confidence in aerial bombardment—even with the atom bomb—as a means of stopping ground forces. The Korean experience has helped bring that, and the French continue in wondering how long it took the United States to get into the last two wars.

French officials have told their American colleagues that the defeatist atmosphere in France will change if at least five U. S. divisions are added to the defense force in Western Germany. They also want an equal allotment of British troops.

Although such troops may not be available immediately in America, U. S. officials here are advising Washington that a promise to send those troops at the earliest possible moment would buoy the French.

These troops would not be expected to stem any Russian attack. They would be intended instead to stem the wave of pessimism which is felt, perhaps most heavily in France.

Coupled with this demand for troops, American officials are urging that a chain of command be established at once, with an overall commander, to get production and the rearmament of the Western nations rolling.

Americans feel that a centralized command would help solve another knotty problem—the use of German industry in the rearmament program. The French Socialists oppose this.

However, American officials believe that if a top-ranking commander pointed out that German steel production must be increased and get to building up Western armaments, the French Socialists would be forced to agree.

It is clear that the French Socialists are not so convinced.

Himalayans Possible Site Of Earthquake

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some scientists agreed today that yesterday's earthquake—one of the greatest ever measured by man—may have occurred near the wild fastness of the Himalayan mountains.

Whether the big quake shook the earth in Tibet, Eastern India or northern Burma was uncertain in the opinion of these seismologists.

Dr. Rev. Daniel Linchan, S.J., head of the Boston College Seismograph Station in Weston, Mass., said it was not surprising that no word had been received from the vicinity of the quake.

He said his opinion was "better than a guess" that it probably occurred in the wild Himalayas of eastern India.

British experts located the giant tremor took place in Tibet, or perhaps Burma. One New Observatory official placed it between the Himalayas and Burma.

In Germany, the Geographical Institute of the University of Göttingen supported the view it might have originated in Burma or Tibet. It was described as the strongest in the Institute's 50-year history and more violent than the one which flattened Messina, Italy, in 1908, killing more than 80,000 persons.

Jackie Robinson

Robinson, first Negro in the big leagues in modern times, is playing his fourth season for the Dodgers. Last year he was selected to be MVP of the National League and was league batting champion with an average of .342. Although now in a slump his present average is .316—a drop of 26 points in three weeks.

Robinson denied there was any serious dispute with Manager Bert Shotton of the Dodgers.

"We've always gotten along fine," he said. "He's a good manager. He's always treated me well."

Ginos wrote in the New York Post:

"No one man or thing can be blamed for the 500 pace the Dodgers have set with the past 12 weeks of baseball while the ship has been wrecked from their hands by the Phillies, who have become the aggressors of the National League while the Dodgers have retreated to the role of satisfied champs among with each other's mannerisms and manners."

"Shotton, Rickey, and the Dodger players, acting in concert, are to blame. There is a rumormongering around town that Gil Hodges took a poke at Don Newcombe one recent day. I know this is untrue, but I also know that everybody doesn't like everybody in the Dodger dressing room."

Reynolds' body was lowered by rope to the 11,500 foot level last night and will be brought out by pack train today.

The bodies of both boys, who worked at the nearby Cerro Gordo silver mine this summer and planned to enter Harvard this fall, were pulled first through binoculars by Harold Gates, veteran mountaineer, who directed rescuers to them.

Experienced climbers, the lads shot to death in the dangerous east side of Mt. Whitney—ordinarily an eight-hour scramble for experts.

Alpinists pointed out that a pile of fire is the minimum for safety. A chunk of granite—rotten in some sections of the east face—could have crumbled under the weight of hand or foot and sent pair plunging.

A fall of miles, by one could have jerked the other from an insecure perch.

the day because a high pressure area moving through the Atlantic from the north still was blocking a turn to a more northerly direction.

"It may be," Norton added, "that the high pressure area will break up sufficiently to allow a northern curvature—I hope so, anyway."

"We're going to have to keep a pretty close watch on this storm," Norton said. "It's now a severe hurricane with plenty of wind."

The last advisory, issued at 4:40 A. M. (EST) had estimated highest winds at about 100 miles per hour. Thus the storm's intensity had jumped from 100 to nearly 130 miles per hour in a little more than four hours.

produce or fruit are open up to eight feet wide and if two of these trucks try to pass on the present Geneva Road leading into Sanford, they will have to go out on the narrow and soft shoulders, said Mr. Gray.

He attributed the present condition of this road to the failure of the State Road Department to determine whether to extend and improve the highway into Sanford on its present route or to branch off on the lakefront project.

"In view of the heavy truck traffic expected from the vegetable and fruit growing regions of the lower East Coast to the Sanford State Market and other outlets, I would personally recommend that both routes be used," said Mr. Gray. He suggested that trucks be routed over the Geneva Avenue highway, and passenger cars over the shore line route.

The curing of the concrete on the new bridge will be finished by Sunday, but the bridge cannot be opened until the approaches are paved. Plans are pending to retain portions of the old bridge for use of fishermen.

Asked if any action had been taken lately on the proposed lake front route, Mr. Gray stated that the matter is now wholly up to the State Road Department. L. P. Hagan has completed surveys of the route as requested of the County by the Road Department, he said.

The Racing Commission is conducting an investigation into the "true" ownership of the State's 18 pari-mutuel plants and attempting to find out if any of the tracks, or officials, made illegal contributions to political candidates.

"I'm going to warn them they're in grave danger of having someone file a suit to compel them to reveal Donn's permit," Clifford said.

Most of the evidence in his possession has been available to the Racing Commission for more than a year, Clifford said.

"They're called. Now maybe they're on a spot where they will have to act. They called this public hearing themselves—something I have been demanding."

The itemized list submitted by Clifford also shows payments of $1,000, $500 and $300 to Donn for travel expenses and $500 and $200 payments to John Burwell, State legislator from Port Lauderdale.

NAZIES FREED

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 16.—Eight former Nazi officials, convicted as war criminals, will be released shortly from prison under new good conduct regulations, United States authorities announced today.

They include Friedrich Fleck, former German industrialist, Richard Darré, one-time food and agriculture minister who was convicted for his part in the "racial scheme" to unlawfully deprive Jews and Poles of their land and reduce them to serfdom and to settle their lands with Germans, Otto Dietrich, Hitler's press chief whom the court found guilty of a persistent campaign to arouse the hatred of the Germans against the Jews, and former Lt. General Rudolph Lehmann, judge advocate of the German army, who was accused of collaborating in the drafting of execution orders.

Stars And Stripes Published In Korea

SOUTHWEST KOREAN FRONT, Aug. 16.—Stars and Stripes, American GI newspaper of two World Wars, is opening shop here in Korea.

One officer and six enlisted men arrived today to set up the South Korean edition. They will carry on a tradition of frontline reporting built by some of the best-known names in American journalism.

The late Heywood Brown and Alexander Woolcott and Harold Ross, editor of the New Yorker magazine, set the pace in World War I days. Cartoonist Bill Mauldin, Jack Folse and others sparred the second war editions published over the world wherever GIs were concentrated.

Arriving on the Allied Korean beachhead to put out the paper are Capt. Thomas L. Baird, Hastings, Mich., a veteran of the European edition; Sgt. Earl Z. Smith, Spokane, Wash.; Sgt. Allen S. Waters, 68 Park Place, San Cliff, N. Y.; Sgt. Francis Donahue, 68 Tamworth Rd., Norwood, Mass.; Pfc. Leonard W. Turner, Fort Fairfield, Me., and Pvt. Hal B. Hamble, 947 Bush Street, San Francisco.

One San-D-S correspondent, Cpl. Ernie Peeler of San Bernardino, Calif., was killed covering the Korean war in its earliest stages. Since then the paper had not had frontline correspondents reporting to the San-D-S editions being published for occupation troops in Japan and Germany.

Tokyo editions were flown to Korea but usually reached frontline troops days late.

ing motors, checking machineguns, inspecting the bomb loads.

Suddenly it was time to go aboard—just about 6:30 A. M.

Our plane, commanded by Capt. Jack R. Packwood, Chehalis, Wash., was in the first squadron, led by Col. Claude E. Putnam, Jacksonville, Fla.

Our big plane roared and lumbered down the runway. Its engines straining to pull the 10-ton bomb load into the air. This was what Packwood called "the dangerous time" but all 99 Superforts cleared safely.

We joined the other planes in the squadron over an island 80 miles southwest of the field, flew due west and then north right up the middle of Korea.

The squadron flew right along the Nakdong River line—sometimes west, sometimes east of that meandering muddy stream. There was one big worry in the minds of all—no one wanted to drop bombs by accident on American troops east of the river.

O'Donnell had gone ahead over the target area to make sure that none of the attack planes got over friendly territory on its bomb run. O'Donnell personally directed the squadrons as they came over.

His voice boomed over the earphones: "If you can't see clearly to drop your bombs on the first run go back again and drop 'em."

Fortunately the weather over the target rectangle made that unnecessary. I moved back and looked out through the bomb-bay.

Through occasional patches of clouds I could see—from 10,000 feet—the patch of wooded hills and an occasional tiny farm village in the valley where the Reds were reported massed in force.

I saw no movement of troops or vehicles, nothing that would indicate an enemy army was below in force. It was 10:50 A. M.

Then suddenly the bombs began to fall away, one by one. I heard the bombardier say "fire!" over the interphone. Then the bombs in the rear bay—or most of them—dropped together in a salvo.

The plan had been to space the bombs so they would hit about 150 feet apart. But when the bombardier saw smoke in our B-29 he hit the salvo switch and dropped the remainder of the load at once.

It turned out the "fire" smoke came from a short circuit that was easily fixed.

The bombs threw up showers of dust and dirty black and brown smoke. I saw no explosions other than those of the bombs themselves. The enemy threw nothing at us in the way of anti-aircraft—or if they did it didn't come close.

In minutes the target area was obscured.

We continued north. Following squadrons moved into drop their loads over what quickly became a corridor of noise, dust and—we hoped—death for the enemy.

We turned east, flew out over

Senate Group Approves Big Tax Increase

$5 Billion For Korean War Is Passed; Committees Favor GI Family Support

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The Senate Judiciary Committee approved, 9 to 3, an anti-Communist bill sponsored by Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.). It would require the registration of Communists and Communist-front organizations, and would outlaw conspiracies to overthrow the government by force. In those respects, it is similar to a bill sponsored by Republican Senators Mundt (SD) and Ferguson (Mich.). The administration does not like either measure.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The Senate today approved and sent to the White House a bill bringing 10,000,000 additional persons under Social Security coverage and boosting benefits for 3,000,000 retired workers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The Senate Finance Committee today unanimously approved President Truman's first installment $5,000,000,000 tax boost to help finance the Korean war and to stem America against Communist aggression.

The legislation, which may go to the President's desk by Sept. 1, puts the nation's tax laws virtually on a wartime footing.

It boosts individual income taxes by about $3,000,000,000 meaning increases of up to 20 percent for the 50,000,000-plus taxpayers. Corporations will pay $1,500,000,000 more a year.

The measure provides a full tax exemption on the service pay of GIs fighting in Korea. It gives tax incentives to quicker industrial production for the production of the goods of the armed forces.

Major Crops Get Federal Support At Maximum Level

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The government will support a higher price for major crops in 1951 at maximum levels permitted by law.

The level is 90 percent of parity. Parity, a standard for measuring farm prices, is declared by law to be equally fair to producers and those who buy their products.

The government could drop the supports to 85 percent of parity next year.

But the international situation being what it is, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has decided to keep supports high to encourage big crops.

Final announcement of the 1951 support program may come within a few days for wheat.

The winter wheat portion of this grain crop will be needed in the fall hence, the department will announce the program as soon as possible.

Registration Books Open Till Oct. 7

All those who have not yet registered and who expect to vote in the General Election on Nov. 7, are urged to visit the Supervisor's office in the Court House and register before the deadline on Oct. 7.

The law requires all persons who have changed their place of residence or their names or have had any other change in their registration status since re-registering in the Spring to report to the office (in person) and have the change properly recorded upon the Registration Books.

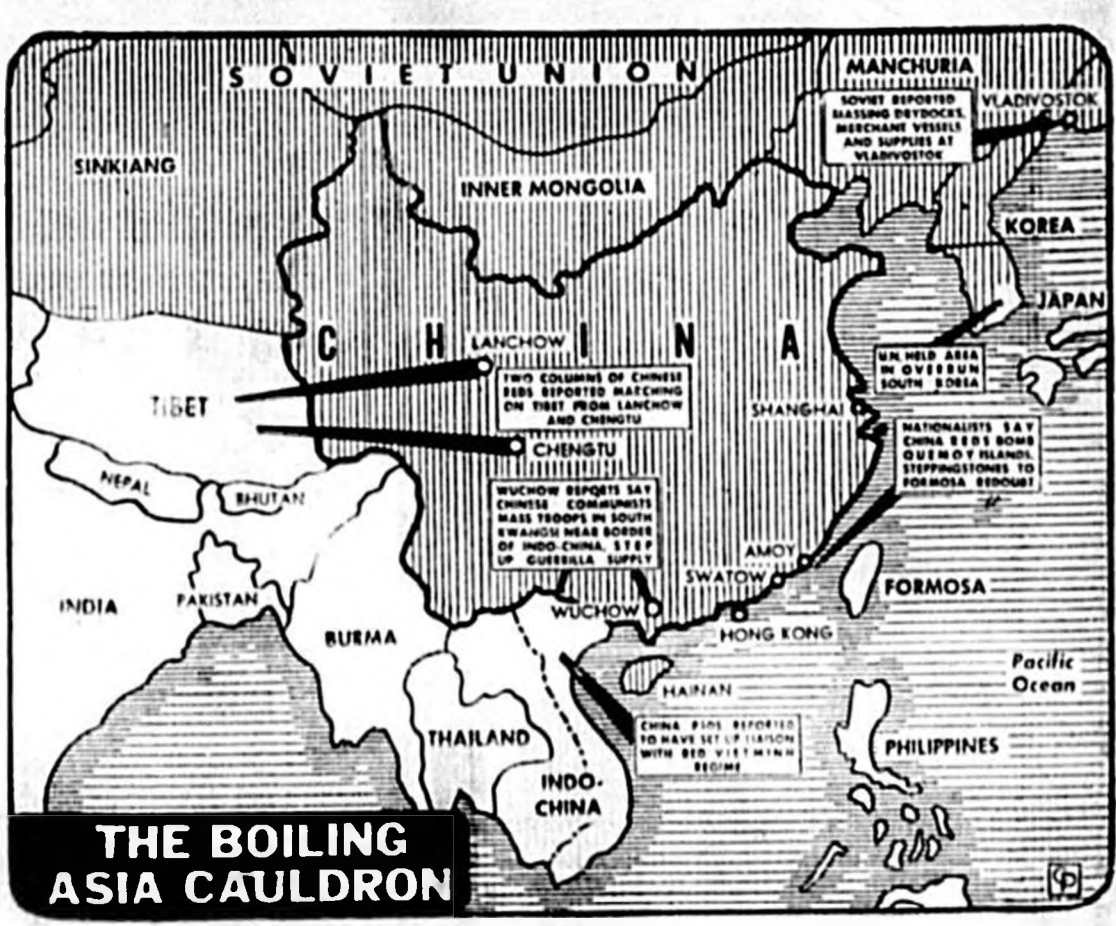

This applies to those who either bought property or sold their property in order to establish whether or not they are freeholders. Only freeholders or those who pay a personal property tax can vote in a school trustee election and the registration books will not be open again between Oct. 7 and the date the school trustee election is held.

RAIL STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The trainmen and conductors today called strikes on two short line railroads beginning Tuesday, in last night's midnight Saturday, Aug. 16.

The walkouts were ordered on the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railroad, with headquarters in Chicago, and the Pittsburgh and Erie Railroad, Pittsburgh. Efforts at C. A. N. (Food News) Aug. 22.

A spokesman for the unions said the strike will involve 1,500 men workers, and will indirectly idle perhaps 50,000.

U. S. Asks Other UN Nations For Greater Speed

No Troops Yet Sent To Korean Front Except American

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—John Foster Dulles said today President Truman has asked him to be a delegate in Assembly and that he will not be a candidate for the Senate in New York. After a talk with the President, Dulles read a brief statement announcing his acceptance of the U.N. appointment at the President's request. He said he will continue as a Republican foreign policy consultant to Secretary of State Acheson.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The United Nations Security Council failed at a closed-door meeting today to break its deadlock in inviting Korean representatives to take part in U.N. debates. This information came from usually well-informed diplomatic quarters at the end of a 90-minute meeting called by Russia's Jakob A. Malik, August president of the 11-nation Council. The delegates immediately went into their previously scheduled public meeting and continued their general statements on the Korean problem.

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 17.—The United States called upon other United Nations members today for more speed in sending ground forces to the Korean battle zone.

In its second report to the Security Council on operations under General Douglas MacArthur's unified command, the United States also urged that more attention should be given to military units already in existence rather than to recruiting and training special units for Korea.

The report was the first submitted since Russia's Jakob A. Malik became president of the Council Aug. 1. The previous report was submitted July 25. While the new report covers operations only up to July 31, informed quarters said the report would be more detailed.

Colored Boy Scout Drowned In Lake

The body of a 15 year old Negro Boy Scout was recovered at 10:45 o'clock this morning from Lake Martham, 15 feet offshore in six feet of water and near Camp William E. Howard.

He is Leroy Farrell of Troop No. 91, Boy Scouts, whose home was at 806 Orange Avenue. The body was located by Hayward Cleveland, Negro of Winter Park. Deputy Sheriff Charles Beck and W. E. Watson, justice of the peace, investigated the drowning. The youth was last seen swimming in the lake yesterday afternoon.

NOT FOR RUNNIA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Three top diplomats of the Polish embassy in Washington have broken with their Communist government, quit their jobs and fled for the right to stay in the United States.

The government is investigating their case in the absence of any evidence that any of them has been a Communist, officials speculated that all three probably will be granted asylum.

Truman Denounces Senate Boost Of Funds For Roads

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—President Truman today denounced a Senate move to boost his proposal for federal aid to highways as "inconsistent with the effort to hold down non-defense spending."

He expressed his views in a letter to Chairman Charles McNichols of the Senate Public Works Committee, which approved a bill calling for $120,000,000 more a year for highways than Mr. Truman recommended.

The legislation, on which the Senate expected to start work soon, would authorize $620,000,000 for highway aid in each of the 1952 and 1953 fiscal years. A House-approved bill authorized only $570,000,000 for each year.

Mr. Truman said it is "essential" that the amount be cut at least to the $500,000,000 he originally recommended in his budget message.

"In addition," he added, "I believe that federal-aid funds should be limited to the federal-aid system rather than used for local or county roads which are not a part of that system."

The president said that "in light of the international situation" (Continued on Page Two)

Aid Of Kiwanians On Museum Asked By Mrs. Russell

Co-operation of the Kiwanis Club in the building of a museum to house valuable antique furniture and books loaned to the Salfie Harrison Chapter of the D. A. R. by Mrs. Sanford Dow, daughter of late General Sanford, founder of Sanford, was urged yesterday by Mrs. Miriam Russell in a talk to Kiwanians.

As an alternative she suggested the setting aside of a room in the proposed Civic Club Building to house the collection, which she said has been valued by Dr. Fred Hanna of Rollins College at more than one million dollars.

Unless a suitable building is found to house the collection, it may be bequeathed by Mrs. Dow to a college in Connecticut, said Mrs. Russell.

The collection, which includes sixteenth century Italian furniture, chandeliers, and book cases containing a valuable library, was stored for 10 years in the Sanford Atlantic National Bank Building, through the courtesy of J. J. Fogley, she declared. When this room was no longer available, the Sanford Women's Club offered to store the collection in the building of the D.A.R. the use of the building of the Club House.

This collection is being put in good condition for an exhibit which will be shown at a gathering of the Kiwanis Club, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, at the home of Mrs. Russell.

She pointed out that County Clerk O. P. Herndon has a "valuable" collection of old pictures and relics that might be displayed in a museum, and stated that most of these are in the section right off the historical treasures.

Mrs. Russell paid tribute to the vision of General Sanford in laying out this city of broad streets as compared with the narrow streets of some other Florida municipalities. She also called attention to the alley system which by Sanford citizens are not permitted to have garbage and trash piled up in front of homes.

30,000 Red Koreans Launch Powerful Drive On Taegu; Marines Attack Obongri Ridge

Bloody Battle Rages To Contain Commie Bridgehead Across River At Changyong

By DON WHITEHEAD WITH U. S. MARINES, Korea, Aug. 17.—(AP) The Marines were fighting their bloodiest battle of the Korean war today against Reds desperately trying to spread their bridgehead across the winding Nakdong River.

Under a scorching sun the leathernecks advanced behind a hail of fire but it was a slow and costly advance—this battle of the Obongri ridge.

The fighting was close-in and savage. The Marines hit the North Koreans with everything they have except flame throwers.

The Marines first went into action last week on the southern flank of the American attack toward Chinn. They pushed deep into Red territory in that drive. But then they were pulled back and ordered to this sector to help the 24th Infantry Division wipe out the Red penetration across the Nakdong on the central sector of the front.

Early yesterday the Marines camped beside the broad cool river where they could swim and relax. Their tents were pitched in the shade of a pine grove.

Maine units got their marching orders late yesterday. Last night they were on the move into the line, their convoys growing across dusty roads under a sky that sparkled with stars.

At 110 A. M. the second Battalion was in the line ready to attack with "D" and "E" companies in the spearhead. Their objective was Obongri Ridge—a steep away-back hill covered with scrub brush and rock.

Their move had been swift. Shortly after dawn the attack began. Artillery and Marine Corps anti-aircraft planes plastered the enemy ridge with explosives and machinegun fire. But when the leathernecks started up Obongri ridge the enemy cut loose with mortars, machineguns and small arms fire. They even lobbed grenades down the ridge into the faces of the Marines.

The attack had just begun to push up when it climaxed in a push of the latter force which lay across a narrow valley. Machinegun and rifle fire crackled along the ridge. Grey plumes of smoke mushroomed up where fire was bursting.

Capt. Lewis B. Sheen of Honolulu, an infantry officer, sat on the ridge looking at the battle. He passed his field glasses over and then the battle was pulled into close view.

Superforts Hit Communist Cities

Thirty-Two American Prisoners Shot By Retreating Red Koreans

WITH U. S. FIRST CAVALRY, Korea, Aug. 17.—(AP) Thirty-two American prisoners with hands tied behind their backs were shot dead today by Red Koreans on a hill west of Wonsay just before a U. S. patrol reached the spot.

The Red tried to kill 37 prisoners on all but five levels to tell the story they said the Communists had massacred. The prisoners were found in a shallow gulch near the road.

The execution of the prisoners was on hill 303, which was captured by the Red this morning. Their bodies were found in a shallow gulch near the road. The American prisoners were killed only two hours before troops reached the ridge.

The Americans seized the ridge at 6:30 P. M. (G.M.T. A. M. Eastern Standard Time) and had been fought over for three days. The 37 Americans were mowed down by machinegun fire.

Corporal Ridd, member of an 81 mm mortar company, told the story like this:

"We were captured on the morning of the 15th, two days ago. The Reds came through in tanks and a lot more were following us in about an hour under a Lieutenant Tak.

"A little later we saw some Koreans. We called out, 'Lieutenant Tak.' An officer answered us. 'Some of them had South Korean markings on them. There were about 15 or 20 of them. We fired a few rounds and they stopped. We still were confused as the officers had identified himself by the name of the leader of the (Continued on Page Five)

BERLIN, Aug. 17.—(AP) The Western Allies are considering a sharp protest to the Russians over interference with Berlin mail at the Helmsdorf interzonal border, Maj. General Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. commander, said in an interview today.

Soviet and East German Communist guards have been setting and opening packages mail on trains between West Germany and Berlin for the past week. The Russians contend West Berliners are smuggling textiles and finished goods through the mails. Berliners insist they have the right to ship anything they wish by parcel cars which are only in transit through the Soviet zone. General Taylor backed up this view.

HIGHWAY ACCIDENT ORLANDO, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Henry R. Blank, of Gainesville, was involved in a two-car collision two miles south of Kissimmee last night, was reported in good condition this morning by hospital attendants here.

Communists Pour Out Of Waegwan-Kunwi Area Devastated By U. S. Superforts

TOKYO, Sunday, Aug. 18.—(AP) Thirty thousand North Koreans opened a massive drive on Taegu on the central Korean waterfront Thursday.

The Reds poured through steep mountain passes 15 miles north of the South Korean emergency capital. They were east of the Nakdong River.

Only two South Korean divisions stood between them and Taegu. South Koreans controlled the mountain pass roads.

The Communists poured out of the B-29 bomber area west of the river. They jumped off from an area between Waegwan and Kunwi.

Their attack started a few hours after U. S. Marines and the 24th Infantry Division struck a new Allied blow at the 12,000-man Red bridgehead on the east bank of the Nakdong river near Changyong, 23 miles southwest of Taegu.

The Marines had been pulled out of the south coastal area where they had made advances on Chinn. They ordered back 20 odd miles to the east and then, shunted northwest for the Changyong attack.

The U. S. 25th Infantry Division took the Marines' places in the coastal line just west of Masan southern port which is 27 airline miles east of Pusan.

It was on the north central front, north of Taegu, that the Reds were making their most dangerous thrust, however.

The sudden thrust was described by U. S. 8th Army Headquarters as the "most serious one to the United Nations in Korea."

It followed a measured bombing attack by B-29 Superforts Wednesday which was aimed to slow the Red offensive.

AP Correspondent Leaf Erickson at 8th Army Headquarters in Korea said the North Koreans were attacking with between 25,000 and 30,000 troops.

In the path of the invaders were two South Korean divisions. The soldiers outlived to the north developed after U. S. Marines and the U. S. 24th Infantry Division jumped off with a counter-attack in the Red's Changyong river-crossing bridge in a bloody effort to drive the enemy back across the Nakdong.

The Marine-Army attack roared up a steep hill near Changyong, 23 miles southwest of Taegu. The Changyong fighting was (Continued on Page Five)

Teen Talk

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Features Writer

Smart young moderns who haven't played all summer will go back to school even better informed than when they left. Many students take advantage of summer school courses, internships and job opportunities which better equip them for the future.

One group of students is rounding out a two-month trip to India which they've been participating in an Inter-University Round Table sponsored by the World Student Service Fund. They were selected or voted by their various colleges and universities to represent them.

Betty Paine of Mills College, Denver, one of the fortunate students of the trip, before boarding her plane to India, said:

Naturally, the visit is going to be thrilling. But I've got a job to do. I'll have to give a complete report of my visit when I get back to school. My plans include studying the role of the university in India, visiting university centers and observing other forms of student government at work. There will be study tours to South, Northwest India and Pakistan.

Miss Doris Anderson To Wed Mr. Gormly

Plans are being announced today by Miss Doris Anderson for her marriage to Charles Gormly III. The wedding will take place on Aug. 20 at 8:00 P. M. at the First Methodist Church with Rev. J. E. McKinley officiating.

Mrs. Max Mosler of West Palm Beach, sister of the bride, will serve as matron of honor. James Lee will act as best man.

The ushers will be John Brumley and Robert Bealy. A program of nuptial music will be rendered by Mrs. J. L. McEwan, organist and Mrs. Bernard Harley, soloist.

Following the wedding there will be a reception at McKinley Hall at the church. No formal invitations are being issued but all friends of the couple are invited to attend.

pattern, addressing itself to a series of problems in higher education under the general title of the "Rule of the University in Social Development." The round table consists of 60 persons including 10 Europeans and representatives from most of the South-east Asian countries, in addition to India and Pakistan, Burma, Indonesia, Thailand, Vietnam, New Zealand and Australia.

Since 1937 the World Student Fund has acted as an agency to relieve the plight of students and professors in war devastated areas of the world. During this period more than three million dollars has been contributed by American students and faculty members for the aid of fellow students.

Lots of young people write that the end of summer is the saddest part of the year. It is when they must say goodbye to pleasant vacation acquaintances and twinge to that boy who is going back to school. Sometimes it is the girl who is going away to school and must say goodbye to neighborhood friends, and a person in particular, here are some points to remember if you wish to keep a long distance romance on a friendly basis until you meet again.

1. Plan to write to the boy and tell him so. But don't try to put him down to a letter every day. Let him make up his mind that he'd like to write—and how often.

2. Don't send him your picture until he asks for it, and don't ask for his photograph unless he's already asked for yours.

3. Pledges taken not to date other people when you are going to be miles apart for months are pretty silly unless you are engaged.

4. If you still care about each other at vacation time—such as Christmas—you can see each other, then. But don't ask him to decide now to spend his or your first holiday together. It'll be awkward if either of you changes his mind.

5. Don't turn down interesting dates because you can't forget your summer romance. You can be sure that boy, like any other, will not waste time if an opportunity arises to have fun.

6. Give him an inexpensive farewell present if you like—perhaps something cute rather than a personal or sentimental

UN Contact Inside Russia Is Noted As Being Very Slight

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 15.—Russia has charged that United Nations' attempts to halt the North Korean aggression lowered U. N. prestige in the Soviet Union but it is hard to find out how popular the U. N. has been there.

IN THE PRESENCE of diplomats and envoys of 53 nations, Dr. Lauriano...

These fragmentary reports reveal only that the U. N. message has never been carried to Russia's millions on the same large scale as it is done in the United States...

A recent U. N. document, entitled "Teaching about the United Nations and the Disarmament Agreements," carries 75 pages of reports how the U. N. is brought home to the people of the western countries...

There are 16 such U. N. information centers in the world. Most of these centers and all eight headed by U. N. appointees who are not nationals of the country where they are stationed.

The head of the Moscow U. N. information center is a Russian, Michael S. Vavilov, who used to be head of the Russian Embassy information section in Washington.

Senate Group Cuts Big Sum From Road Aid

Highway Bill Reduced By 120 Millions; Loans For Public Housing Approved

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The Senate Public Works Committee acting in accord with President Truman's request today cut $120,000,000 from a Federal highway aid bill.

Chairman Chavez (D-NM) announced that the group had trimmed the measure from $620,000,000 to $500,000,000.

"The reductions," Chavez told reporters, "were made in view of the changed international situation brought about by the Korean situation and in view of increased military expenditures."

The bill, as revised, would authorize $500,000,000 of Federal highway expenditures in each of the two years ending June 30, 1952 and June 30, 1953.

President Truman said today he does not look with favor on a move to direct the Post Office Department to resume twice-daily mail deliveries in cities.

The President, at his news conference yesterday, avoided answering directly a question as to whether he would veto such legislation.

Dawson Advocates County Election On Fire Control

Landowners throughout Seminole County are urged by County Agent C. R. Dawson to sign petition at his office to request the County Commission to hold a referendum to determine if a County Fire Control Unit should be established in the county.

In order that the referendum be held it is necessary that owners of more than half of forest land, 480 acres, or 102,721 acres be represented in the petition, he said.

It is planned to hold the referendum at the same time as the general election in November.

To date owners of more than 11,000 acres of land have signed the petition in Mr. Dawson's office.

Handall Chase, who with E. L. Molpus of the State Forestry Department, appeared before the County Commission at its recent meeting to urge control of forest fires in the county, said today that he has petitions signed by owners of more than 5,000 acres of property.

Although the primary purpose of a County Fire Control Unit is in fighting forest fires, it will be of benefit to the county.

Entering the Regular Army were Harold Grantham, Jr., and Clarence F. Kinstner.

Proclamation

WHERE I, Our Maker, have placed us on this earth and permitted this nation through His divine wisdom, to achieve a high station among men as to freedom of the individual and rights of the individual, and

WHEREAS the people of Sanford are morally, spiritually and politically allied with those forces and people which we believe represent a proper way of life, and

WHEREAS opposing forces are attempting with some success to impose by violence an atheistic rule over all people of the earth, and

WHEREAS those forces seem to respect only armed might, but prayer has always been the first and last resort for those who believe in God in understanding His will and imploring His mercy,

THEREFORE, I, Andrew Carraway, Mayor of Sanford, Florida, do hereby proclaim that several minutes at noon of each day should be set aside by each citizen of Sanford for meditation and prayer, and urge that each one call upon God in his own way for guidance for himself, our nation and our world.

ANDREW CARRAWAY, Mayor, City of Sanford.

Panic Seizes Taegu Population As City Is Ordered Evacuated

TAEJU, Korea, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Fear that had shadowed a half million hearts here exploded in panic today as a mass exodus began from this besieged city.

For several hours chaos ruled the streets of this refugee-swollen provisional capital of South Korea.

The civilian populace was swept by hysteria. The scene on the ground was utter confusion. From the air the exits leading south looked like clogged lanes of frightened white ants.

The story of this flight of an entire city can best be told by telling what happened to one household.

This family lives beneath the windows of a mission school where foreign war correspondents have been billeted more than one month. Its home was in a jammed corridor that looked like the shanty communities that spring up around American city dumps.

Except the beds are covered with picturesque old tile roofs. As the Red army slashed closer down the Seoul-Taegu-Taegu unsteady line, the city has 39 Presbyterian churches—two also have more native Communist than any other South Korean cities spread that the Communists had been secretly arming would have up in a riot.

Reports spread that the Communist would have up in a riot.

Last night truckloads of grunting South Korean recruits rushed toward the city.

Woods and pillage against Republican sympathizers wherever the Red troops reached the outskirts. A prisoner of war, had boasted that Taegu would fall by "liberation day"—last Tuesday, 14th anniversary of V-J Day.

Two weeks ago the young father of the family beneath our window dug a deep pit in his backyard and buried all the household's most precious belongings in it. Thousands of other fathers must be doing the same thing, and in better place to put their simple treasures than in a hole in the ground.

But the young mother each night lit a fire and cooked some vegetables for her children and the grandparents and the uncles and the cousins that swarm in most small Korean homes. And each morning they took turns scrubbing each other with water hauled up by buckets from the backyard well.

Last night truckloads of grunting South Korean recruits rushed toward the city.

Sobell is formally charged with conspiracy to violate the 1916 espionage act. He made no plea at today's hearing.

It is planned to hold the referendum at the same time as the general election in November.

To date owners of more than 11,000 acres of land have signed the petition in Mr. Dawson's office.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Senator Wiley (D-Miss.) said today Senate crime investigators are going to look into reports of tie-ups between "national politicians" including members of Congress and racketeers.

PORT LAUDERDALE, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Water Clark, ex-sheriff of Broward county, and his brother and chief deputy, Robert Clark, were indicted by a grand jury and surrendered last night on charges of operating a lottery and possession of slot machines.

TOKYO, Saturday Aug. 19.—(AP)—Allied troops, tanks, artillery and bombs turned two Red Korean thrusts 42,000 men—away from threatened Taegu city Friday.

South of Taegu a crack Red Korean division took what an American general called a "hell of a licking" at the hands of U.S. Marines and infantrymen.

The city itself was turned into a steel-walled fortress by an Allied evacuation order sending more than a half million civilians trekking away as refugees.

The South Korean government also was sent away to establish its new refugee capital somewhere.

The war-swollen populace was removed mainly so it would not get under foot in military operations and to reduce the possibility of opening a "infiltrated Communists among the refugees."

A thrust by 30,000 North Korean troops was repulsed.

Ship Battles Gale And Fire As Storm Turns Out To Sea

MIAMI, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The 2,247-ton steamship Russell R. Ford caught fire today while battling a gale and turning away from the Louisiana-Texas border.

Florida was given the all-clear signal after being on the alert for a possible 140-mile an hour gale. The storm turned southward but left light after making for a week toward the Florida coast.

A 10:30 A.M. gale from the Mexico Weather Bureau placed the South's storm a severe one in the alert and said the hurricane's center should pass east of Cape Hatteras late Saturday or Sunday night.

The center at that time was about 400 miles east and slightly south of Miami, Fla.

There is no further danger to Florida, said Gerald Norton, chief of the Miami office.

The weary men of this regiment have cried with honor the colors that flew through the Indian wars and up San Juan Hill in Cuba.

They have been in line 35 consecutive days. They attacked three times and captured Yeosu in July when towns captured by Americans in Korea were few and far between.

They attacked for three days and on the fourth captured a mountain position called "Little Cassin" on the southern front. One company was down to 12 men in this attack.

The 24th, like most units in Korea, has lacked replacements for casualties, but the first big batch arrived Wednesday night.

Dr. Nance Blames People For Conditions

PENNSACOLA, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Dr. E. Wood C. Nance, president of the University of Tampa, today said:

In an address prepared for the University before the Executive Council of the Florida Association of Teachers today.

"We, teachers and teachers should stop day-time baby sitting with our youth and returning our adult responsibilities and tell them the stark, alarming truth about this world in which we live."

Among other things they should be told that the waste, inefficiency and inadequate leadership which they now have in government is a reflection of their own selfishness, apathy and moral decadence—and that most of them deserve what they now have, and that condition won't improve until they themselves improve."

HUNTING RULES

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission will meet Monday to discuss federal hunting regulations for migratory birds.

State rules cannot exceed those set by the federal government, but can be more restrictive.

Commission officials said they also understand a delegation will appear to protect the every-day hunting rule. The commission voted in June to permit hunting every day of the week this season.

Last year hunting was prohibited on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Fridays.

Negro Regiment In Korea Is Reported Gathering Laurds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The 8888th Central Postal Directory, U.S. Army, is reported to be gathering laurels in Korea.

The 8888th is fighting probably the best and providing the best of the best of the American Negro foot soldier.

Men in combat with the Negro 8888th Division in Italy and with the 8888th Division in the Pacific are in this regiment above both.

That does not mean it is the best regiment in Korea. Experts rank it somewhere in the middle.

It entered the 8888th Division in Italy as an Army combat correspondent in World War II.

A white colonel who was there in 1945, the 24th Regimental fights often than any Negro outfit in history, including the 8888th.

A Pittsburgh correspondent, Frank Whitson, of Detroit, Mich., who won a combat commission as a first lieutenant with the 8888th, said: "The Korean fighting is more bitter than any I have ever seen."

The weary men of this regiment have cried with honor the colors that flew through the Indian wars and up San Juan Hill in Cuba.
