FLORIDA IS CATTLE STATE OF FUTURELUMBERMAN MAGAZINE
CITES MANY GOOD POINTS OF STATE

Florida is heralded as the future cattle growers' heaven in an article recently published in the American Lumberman of Chicago, from which the following excerpts have been taken:

"Not all sections of the south are suitable for raising the same species of crops and, consequently, lumber companies that have cut over lands to place upon the markets would do well to study local conditions before attempting to place the lands upon the market."

"From indications Florida is likely to prove a veritable cattle growers' heaven in a region that is going to put many acres in the pockets of the owners of cut over lands."

"There has been grown in Florida, since last summer, more than a hundred ears, but they have been raised on roads and open fields literally raising the saddle horses to the point of exhaustion every side of the ravages of the cattle ticks."

"Less than one year ago cattle raising was still a sacrifice, but now it is a business, and the day is not far distant when it will be a paying and lucrative industry. Today a handful of capitalists have more than half a million acres of cut-over lands under fence and are looking immediately to put more to use, which also underlines the importance of the innumerable small ranches that are doing such large work."

"Now we can see the own more than 100,000 acres in the Florida timber country, and the conclusion is that success will come to those who have the most nerve. The author, who has made a study of the timber situation in the state, has made a successful eradication of cattle ticks in Florida, and the most natural addition to cattle raising on the Apalachicola coast and they have a great deal to do with the timber men, and more of their funds can be utilized for this purpose rapidly as the timber is clear."

"The cut-over timber lands of Florida have been totally unproductive and not worth raising, but the cut-over woods in common convenience in a manner so sensational that the story of this development can be like a page from the history of the Yukon gold fields. The American Lumberman representative has made an investigation of the situation in Florida and is able to present some facts concerning the cut-over land development in this state which can but command the attention and serious consideration of landowners everywhere, as these cut-over lands appear destined to remunerate their owners so even a much larger extent than have their first crop, the trees."

"Three things have contributed to the development of the cattle industry of Florida. First, a sudden realization of the peculiar adaptability of Florida's cut-over land to cattle culture; second, the successful inauguration of a state-wide tick eradication campaign, looking to the elimination of the one greatest hazard of cattle culture; third, the assurance of a stable market for Florida cattle by the recent establishment in Jacksonville of a large packing plant, now in successful operation."

"Many great truths owe their discovery to accident, which is true of Florida's present cattle industry, for it was chance that took a few prominent lumbermen and landowners to Tampa last February at the precise moment that Dr. E. M. Nighbert of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry was giving a lecture to a number of cattlemen on the Texas fever tick."

"When Dr. Nighbert had finished his concluding talk, these gentlemen realized that cattle raising in Florida could never be a profitable business until the tick was eradicated."

"From that moment P. L. Sutherland became an apostle of tick eradication. With the assistance of Dr. Nighbert he began to wage a campaign in favor of tick eradication. The fruits of the campaign came in the form of a resolution of the members of the association, the Florida State Bankers' Association. At a meeting held at Daytona, the association adopted a resolution not only pledging such assistance as it was possible to give, but advocating that the next session of the legislature appropriate $100,000 to be used in the campaign for tick eradication. The bankers' association characterized the tick eradication movement as the "most vital business issue before the people of Florida."

This was followed by a similar resolution adopted by the Florida Press Association, which in turn was followed by like action by chambers of commerce, boards of trade, and all manner of civic and commercial associations. Within three days came into being the noteworthy organization known as the Florida Cattle Tick Eradication Committee of the Southern Development Organization, having for its sole object the complete eradication of the cattle tick.

The campaign of this organization consists of three phases, as follows: First, creation of public sentiment in favor of tick eradication. Second, the formulation of legislation, under congressional direction. The third, passage of the eradication laws.

Florida has been known to Florida's best interests for more than a hundred years, but the cattle tick has been a scourge to the state, literally raising the saddle horses to the point of exhaustion every side of the ravages of the cattle ticks.

AMONG THE THEATRES

Chit-Chat of the Play Houses in Sanford

At The Lyric

The Pickert Stock Co. opened a 3 days engagement at the Lyric last night and that they made a hit would be putting it mildly.

A number were heard to say that the show was much better than a lot of shows that they had paid much more to see.

The play last night was "The Broke Butterflies" a comedy drama in 3 acts. The play was very interesting and exceptionally fine, costumes and scenery as good as has been seen here in a long time.

The vaudeville between acts was the best seen with stock company in a long time.

Tonight "A Man's a Man" will be presented. On Saturday night "The Call of the Heart."

Saturday afternoon, Blanche Ring's success, "When Sylvia Smiles."

The Pickert Juvenile Trio will be seen at Saturday matinee only.

"The Little Girl Next Door" is going like wild fire all over the country, and judging from the interest which is being manifested in the various announcements heralding it as coming to this city, the indications point to an unprecedented engagement at the Lyric Theatre, where it will be the chief attraction on Monday. Those who see this unusual film will realize the enormity of the white slave traffic when they reflect that the picturization in "The Little Girl Next Door" is not a fanciful presentation of the old old struggle between virtue and vice, but an actual enactment by professional players of stories told by girls who were witnesses to the Illinois Vice Commission. And, if it shows how leaders and produces draw young girls into their nets it at the same time shows the dangers which must be avoided if young women desire to live proper lives.

It was the sad fate of one little girl next door that caused an Illinois legislator to set on foot the crusade conducted by the Illinois Vice Commission, which not only started the whole country, but which resulted in a crusade against the halls of vice and those who live in them, leading to the closing of some of the most notorious places of vice in Chicago and other large cities, which are shown in their closed and neglected condition. The Easpanay Company, who produced the picture, believes that if it proves to be a means of guiding the footsteps of young women among the right paths and acquaints them with the pitfalls and snare laid for them in the large cities it will have served its purpose. There are clergymen and social workers who declare that "The Little Girl Next Door" will prove to be the most effective agency in fighting the social evil.

METHOD OF SAVING

BETTER TO EVEN THINGS UP THAN EVEN THEM DOWN.

Advice Given Youth Who Had Received Small Legacy & Well Worth Reading by the Man Who Would Win Success

In an article in the American Magazine a writer says:

Which 70 odd uncle of mine had and left me, a little bequest of five hundred and二十四 dollars, having no wife or children, and he had nothing else but a small sum left him by his parents, he had been a successful man and had been for an old friend of my father's, and he had given him the sum of $500.00, and he had given him $100.00, and he

"One thing you could do," replied the old gentleman, "would be to ask your banker to buy a thousand-dollar bond for you, or, rather, to lend you the extra four hundred dollars, keeping the bond as security, and then it wouldn't be long before you would have a thousand dollars, which, for even amounts" is a little better than five hundred.

Then with a penit and paper he showed me carefully just how long it would take.

"Of course you don't have to do it if you don't want to; but I have no need," he went on thoughtfully, "that this business of having a little big you is pretty much a matter of the way your mind works. Some people always want to even things off in money matters, others want to even them out. And once you get started at it, getting up isn't much harder than sitting down. For instance, if I showed you thirteen cents, you might say, 'I'll spend three cents for popcorn and then 10 cents for a pie,' and say, 'Sir, I am 200 cents worth that I'll have fifteen cents.'"

"It's the devilish people, the people who follow the path of least resistance—the people who slice off a little instead of building up a little who never get anywhere in life!"

Leather From Ostrich Skins.

Ostrich skins form the subject of a late news item from Cape Town, South Africa. The truth seems to be that there has been no business man enterprising enough to push this side of the ostrich leather business for the last couple of years, when skins have been procurable at up to $1.00 per square yard.

Now, however, about twice the business is done, and very much stronger, but which unlike leather, is not interwoven but lays in separate layers, which can be scraped off by hand so as to get the thickness required. There is no reason, says the dispatch, why leather goods, slippers and other articles cannot be extensively made from ostrich skins.

One Sport of the Melting Pot.

In a letter from Hawaii it is said, "Where there are so many Japanese and the other races together,

"You repeat Osgood Okuma, and when they come back to Japan they will be considered as the new Japanese. A woman is very much talk to do in the country, and she is now a great favorite.

She is a Japanese woman

WOMEN DOING GREAT WORK

Club Activists Are Now Widespread Throughout the Nation, With Most Beneficial Results.

The federations (National Federation of Women's clubs) of the northern and western states are actively engaged in teaching foreign-born children and their parents the American standards of life, sanitation and the like.

See "Women in the Schools" in the Saturday Evening Post. The National Federation of Rural Clubs, which they are the strongest in need of it. The Indiana women have concentrated upon efforts to brighten the drudgery of farmers' wives. Seven thousand women in Oklahoma are educating teachers. They sent 35 into the schools of that state last year. The Arkansas women have organized 11,000 college girls into an active domestic educational force, devoted to service in rural communities. The Wisconsin clubs specialize upon the health of children, free clinics for babies, and eugenics. Illinois has more women in its clubs than there are soldiers in the regular United States army. Ten thousand of these are giving all their time to social service.

The club women of Louisiana, Georgia and Alabama are working for compulsory education laws. They have camping clubs and teachers of hygiene, the economics and sanitation in rural communities. Twenty thousand club women in Texas are working for good roads. They have built rural club houses, established markets for farm women, offered prizes for the best conducted rural schools. Kentucky, Georgia, North and South Carolina women are conducting and financing "moonlight" schools for illiterates. Kentucky has 1,000 of these schools, and there is a certain club woman in this state who has taught 1,000 men and women how to read and write.

We've gotta find Walker credit. He made the elephant in the circus turn green with envy at his size.

The New York National League club is going to build a new grand stand at its training park in Martha.

Progress in Southeast
Columbus, Ga., Jan. 24.—The Industrial Index says in its issue for this week:

The New York capitalists who will erect the hotel plan to make it one of the finest hotels in the country."

"A theater building to cost $200,000 is to be erected in Birmingham, Ala."

"Additions will be erected to buildings at Albany, Ala., and Meridian, Miss., and a hotel building will be erected at Zolfo, Fla."

"A company will establish sawmills and build a railroad on a tract of 13,000 acres of pine timber land in Chilton county, Ala."

"Twenty-nine corporations have been formed with minimum capital stocks aggregating $417,810."

"Among the items of construction work to be done, as reported this week, are:

"Apartment house, Miami, Fla.; bridge, Troy, Ala.; church buildings, Clarkdale and Sturgess, Miss.; clubhouse, West Palm Beach, Fla.; dock, Tampa, Fla.; gas building, Lake City, Fla.; paving, Birmingham, Ala.; Dalton, Ga.; paving, Birmingham, Ala.; Durham, N. "A company that will establish a meat packing plant at Tifton, Ga., has effected permanent organization and will be in operation by the end of the month."

WILLIAM R. NEARD

New Trust Co. of Jacksonville to Make Deposits Good

The business of the Neard National Bank of Jacksonville will be taken over by a newly organized trust company, according to the Times-Union, which says:

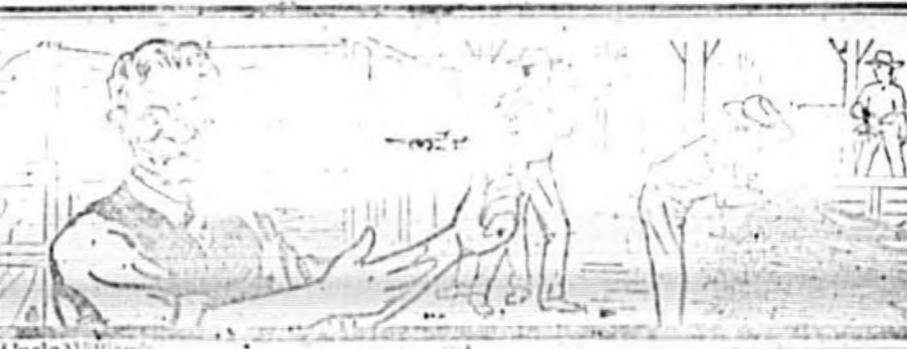

"Within the next few days application will be made for a charter of a new trust company to be located in this city. Yesterday a number of local financiers and several from over the state held a meeting here and decided to form the new company. The name of the company and the names of the officers have not yet been announced. It is understood that the president of the new corporation will be one of the best known South Florida bankers. The capital stock of the new trust company will be $100,000. The company will be known as the Neard National Bank of Jacksonville, and will be located in the same building as the old bank."

On the eve of the meeting, the trust company said last evening that the new concern would take its place in the front ranks of the state's financial institution at once, as it would be backed by some of the wealthiest men in Florida. Rumors have been current since the Heard Bank closed that a trust company would be organized. The leading bankers of this city have declared that such a company would be a great success. They have been predicting that such an organization would be perfected in a short time and all agreed that the city needed just such a concern at this time. It is predicted that as soon as the names of the officers of the company are announced the public will have unbounded confidence in its ability to do business in a big way. Those who took part in the meeting yesterday refused to give out any further details. They admitted that the organization had been formed and that application for the charter was to be made as soon as the proper legal steps could be taken, but they refused to announce the name of the company, the names of the officers or any other details, other than the capital stock would be $500,000 and the new organization would liquidate the Heard National Bank."

SPECIAL FAIR EDITION

Following our usual policy of being on the job at all times The Sanford Herald will issue a Special Seminole County Fair Edition on Tuesday, February 6, the second day of the fair and it will contain much useful information about the county and the fair and also have a special write up of the new Elks Home and other new buildings and enterprises of Sanford and the county. Every business firm in Seminole county should have space in the special edition as there will be several thousand copies handed out during the fair week and many of them will be sent out over the country by the residents of the county and the Board of Trade. This is a grand opportunity for the merchants of Sanford to make a special sales during the fair week and induce the people to come to the fair by advertising their goods and services to the stores and send to their home shopping. As far as we are short we would advise the merchants to get their advertising copy ready as early as known that Orlando passes off on the Saturday, February 6th in order to come here but to begin advertising now so as to get out of the way of the Seminole County Fair Edition. We will publish what the Elks Home and other new buildings and will proceed with the new ones that many was given to the city there by year by year to keep the spirit alive and it never dies out. There are just as good men here just as good boosters, just as liberal people, but we lack the virility of the tourists that comes to each year with new and new ideas and the pushed into the ranks of the dash or dash or dash. We do not give credit to all of that push and bustle. The greater part of it was created on them by the tourists and we need some of that spirit stock built on some of our own stock also and we need those thousands of tourists that are passing us by each day while waiting to stop here if they could get the proper accommodations. You can kid yourself all you please about what Sanford produces, you can April Fool yourself about the basing point and the river transportation and the thousand and one things that we have here and that are good in themselves but without the tourist trade Sanford will be the wide place in the road one hundred years from now that it is at the present date, and you can just bet your last centney that this is the right dope. Not only Orlando but take every other city in Florida that amounts to anything and make the same comparison. Show us the city that has no tourists in this state and we will show you a city that is not getting the proper results and it makes no difference how well that city may be located or what kind of industries back it up.

The tourist crop is the greatest crop in Florida and if Sanford wants to get in the big city class supplement what Nature has provided here with the tourist hotel and you will have a city of TEN THOUSAND PEOPLE IN TWO YEARS.

In 1915, for instance, Florida ranked thirty-eighth in the matter of her contribution to the total value of the nation's farm crops; in 1916 she had climbed one step into the thirty-seventh place, far below where she ought to be, except that showing that the new farmers, the educational work, and the cultivation of new lands in Florida, are beginning to make a showing.

In 1914, Florida produced farm crops valued at $47,329,000—according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

In 1915, Florida produced farm crops valued at only $43,122,000. But in 1916, Florida produced crops valued at $60,495,000.

It is just as well to know though, that while Florida was only producing sixty millions worth of farm crops, Georgia was producing $348,924,000 worth and Texas was producing $684,851,000 worth. And the next lowest southern state to Florida was little Maryland with a crop value of $57,001,000.

Yet Florida has the climate and the soil that can produce marvelous crops, and as we have said before the farmers of the state are awakening to their opportunities; intelligent, energetic farmers from other states are coming into this state in constantly growing numbers; the schools are beginning to make instruction in agriculture a practical, popular part of the school curriculum.

And Florida is to be "The Land of Gardens" it was intended to be—Miami Metropolis.

COMPARISONS

Let us reason together. Comparisons are said to be odious but nevertheless when it becomes necessary to take stock of yourself or of your town comparisons are necessary to find the flaws and weak spots. So we are going to reason together upon the topic that has been vital to Sanford for many years and is vital today, and that is the hotel proposition.

This question is like Banquo's ghost—it will never down. Either Sanford must build that hotel at once or take a back seat with the various other towns in Florida with less chances than we have and that have forged ahead of us in the past few years. And now for comparisons:

We all know what a thriving city is Orlando. We know that there is a great business and bustle and this air that is contagious and where it seems to come. Not from the adjusting rooms and insurance companies and their claim offices and their claim stores and mess and do their claim shopping. As far as we are short we would advise the merchants to get their advertising copy ready as early as known that Orlando passes off on the Saturday, February 6th in order to come here but to begin advertising now so as to get out of the way of the Seminole County Fair Edition. We will publish what the Elks Home and other new buildings and will proceed with the new ones that many was given to the city there by year by year to keep the spirit alive and it never dies out. There are just as good men here just as good boosters, just as liberal people, but we lack the virility of the tourists that comes to each year with new and new ideas and the pushed into the ranks of the dash or dash or dash.

We do not give credit to all of that push and bustle. The greater part of it was created on them by the tourists and we need some of that spirit stock built on some of our own stock also and we need those thousands of tourists that are passing us by each day while waiting to stop here if they could get the proper accommodations. You can kid yourself all you please about what Sanford produces, you can April Fool yourself about the basing point and the river transportation and the thousand and one things that we have here and that are good in themselves but without the tourist trade Sanford will be the wide place in the road one hundred years from now that it is at the present date, and you can just bet your last centney that this is the right dope. Not only Orlando but take every other city in Florida that amounts to anything and make the same comparison. Show us the city that has no tourists in this state and we will show you a city that is not getting the proper results and it makes no difference how well that city may be located or what kind of industries back it up.

The tourist crop is the greatest crop in Florida and if Sanford wants to get in the big city class supplement what Nature has provided here with the tourist hotel and you will have a city of TEN THOUSAND PEOPLE IN TWO YEARS.

The hotel can be built if the proper spirit is shown and you get away from the most grown idea that the hotel is compelled to be located in a certain spot. The hotel can be built anywhere in the central part of the business district and it will prove a bonanza the first year not only in the tourist line but with the commercial trade as well. It is not an experiment but a real money maker, and while making money for the owners will boost the city as nothing else will do. The time is past for either comparisons, lamentations or cogitations.

Build the hotel or close up the shape and go to sleep.

WILSON'S SPEECH AND THE TIMES-UNION'S COMMENTS

"I am proposing, as it were, that the nations should, with one accord, adopt the doctrine of President Monroe as the doctrine of the world; that no nation should seek to extend its policy over any other nation or people, but that every people should be left free to determine its own policy, its own way of development, unhindered, unthreatened, unafraid, the little along with the great and powerful."

"I am proposing that all nations henceforth avoid entangling alliances which would draw them into competitions of power, catch them in a net of intrigue and selfish rivalry and disturb their own affairs with influences intruded from without."

There is no entangling alliance in a concert of power. When all unite to act in the same sense and with the same purpose, all act in the common interest and are free to live their own lives under a common protection.

"I am proposing government by the consent of the governed; that freedom of the seas, which in international conference after conference representatives of the United States have urged with the eloquence of those who are the convinced disciples of liberty; and that moderation of armaments which makes of armies and navies a power for order merely, not an instrument of aggression or of selfish violence."

"These are American principles. We could stand for no others. And they are also the principles and policies of forward looking men and women everywhere of every modern nation, of every enlightened country. They are the principles to mankind and must prevail."

"We believe the people of the United States will be almost unanimous in agreeing with President Wilson in his advocacy of a league of nations to enforce the peace, and will be proud to see this country take the lead in a movement to form such a league. There are differences of opinion as to how far this movement should go, but not as to the need of it or as to the necessity of the adoption of some agency that will put an end to war."

"Washington's address in which he advised the avoidance of entangling alliances was addressed to a small republic at the time too feeble to play such a part. It was also wise as might have been given to Serbia, Bulgaria, Roumania, nations that cannot play a great part in the world, but which nevertheless are important in their rise, their development, their progress."

But we believe President Washington would have given the same advice if the nation to which he was addressing himself had been as powerful then as it is now. At any rate, it was good advice to any nation, great or small.

"But we do not propose President Wilson's advice today as something new, that which Washington gave more than one hundred years ago. He does not propose a league with another nation to oppose the quarrel and stand by it, right or wrong. What he proposes is a league of nations to prevent war and to secure justice, to give to all nations, great or small, security from attack and from outside oppression. This is not a display of mere altruism. The League would give the United States immunity from attack. Of course, we can defend ourselves, but preparations for defense cost hundreds of millions of dollars, and this is money wasted if we can secure the same results in cooperation with others."

"The nations of Europe cannot hurt each other without hurting us to a smaller degree. They cannot suffer without entailing on us suffering which does not equal to theirs but is decided enough to be felt. Selfishness prompts us to help others to put an end to war."

"The advice of an individual to keep out of broils would not mean that he must not combine with others to put an end to broils. The advice to the United States to avoid entangling alliance was never intended to prevent this country from taking part in a movement to put an end to war."

MISSION WELL ATTENDED

Father Huntington Draws Large Crowds to Holy Cross Church

The mission at the Holy Cross church this week has been attracting large crowds, especially at the night services. It is deemed a special privilege for the people of Sanford to have such a celebrated divine in their midst as Fr. Huntington and his meetings are an inspiration to all who attend them.

On the Sundays the services will be at 7:30 and 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. On week days, daily services and preaching by Fr. Huntington will be at 6:15 a.m., 4 and 7:30 p.m. The night meetings will begin with a song service from the special Mission Hymn Book and then the special preaching. Fr. Huntington, who is the Superior of the Order of the Holy Cross, and the other priests associated with him are sought by the largest cities east and west, not only for church preaching, but especially for theatre and street preaching. Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles turn out by the thousands to hear these priests of the order of the Holy Cross. They have their appointments for two and three years in advance. Here we have been waiting patiently for over two years and only for certain permanent positions is it even possible for us even to hope for them coming to Sanford. If Sanford realizes its opportunity, it will turn out a couple of thousand strong to hear and to know America's most spiritual and most eloquent preachers. Remember the hours: Sundays, 7:30 and 11 a.m.; 7 p.m. Week days, 6:15 a.m., 4 and 7:30 p.m. All welcome.

Value of Tetanus Antitoxin

While the tetanus antitoxin does not invariably prevent tetanus it does so in such a vast majority of cases that the Medical Record says all physicians can agree with Keeler in his statement: "I should strongly recommend it and call him to account if a doctor, in treating a relative of mind who had received a wound which was infected with street dirt, did not administer a prophylactic injection of tetanus antitoxin."

Literature Dept. Program to Club

At the Woman's Club on Wednesday afternoon the Literature Department will present its annual program to the General Club. The annual days have not been so well attended this club year as in former years so the members are urged to remember that this is a special day with the club and to put aside other affairs of a social nature to be present upon this occasion. The Literature days are always among the most enjoyable of the club events and should bring out a large percentage of club women. Chairmen and members of each department should remember their own difficulties and disappointments when preparations have been made for many to have only a few present, to say nothing of the expense to the department that entertains. Let the club women unite in a supreme effort for a one hundred attendance on Wednesday afternoon.

WEST GENEVA AVENUE

Mrs. Jack Vaughn has been on the sick list this week with a bad cold.

We were all shocked to hear of the death of Anjalo Sansverino of New York city, the son of Mrs. Nichilo Sansverino.

We are having very warm weather for the time of year and awfully dry, too. We certainly do wish it would rain.

Mrs. Tom Tyler left last Saturday for Wimberly to see her mother and sister and spend a few days with them.

We are now in the second zone, so we see the orange trees are putting out green buds to bloom, but we guess cold weather will come again soon and kill them all out.

OVIDE WINS AGAIN

Swift Team Was Too Much for Titusville Girls

Oviedo rolled up her fourth consecutive victory Saturday, defeating the Titusville High School girls' basketball team 26 to 6. The game was called by Dr. C. J. Marshall, referee, at 2:30. Coach Murphy of the Oviedo team acted as umpire. An outdoor court on the Dixie Hotel grounds was used. The game was played with one division, five and five players to the team. East Coast style. The contest was rather one-sided, the principal interest being in number of points the Oviedo forwards scored.

After the game, the Oviedo team was entertained at a sumptuous supper in honor of the victory, at the Dixie Hotel. Mr. J. M. Osban was the host of the occasion and his generous hospitality was thoroughly appreciated and officers for the coming year elected.

The Social Department of the Woman's Club scored a brilliant success on Monday night and added another magnificent affair to the already long list of beautiful functions for which Sanford society is noted throughout the state, when the third house meeting of the big dining room was the scene of a roomy ballroom affair for the entire membership that was given in aid of the work of the club house extension. The money raised will go to debt free from its beauty and seated were the ladies of the club from foreign shores flirted out in a final success also and has magnificently with red shells and grotesque clowns and the dearest of Little Mary Janes and Dorothy Dimmies of the 1916-1917 slogan for the smiling affable up-to-date woman's Club.

Kaleidoscopic in its ever changing variety of beautiful colors the scene would have tempted the eye of an artist in its fascinating charm and loveliness.
