Women Find This Is Better Than Colomel

Many Mothers and Wives Have Learned that Dodson's Liver Tone is a Fine Remedy for Constipation

L. R. Philips & Co. will tell you that it takes the women to realize the merits of a new remedy for constipation and biliousness quickly and surely, whether it is for themselves or for some one else in their families.

There are today a great number of households in which Dodson's Liver Tone has come to take the place of dangerous colomel as well as all other remedies for such ailments and where an atmosphere of health and happiness now prevails.

Dodson's Liver Tone is unconditionally guaranteed by L. R. Philips & Co to be a safe liver regulator and remedy, absolutely harmless and with no bad after effects such as are liable with colomel.

Dodson's is a pleasant tasting vegetable liquid and clears the aching head and suffering body with no pain or gripes. So perfect a remedy has Dodson's Liver Tone proved to be that your druggist will refund the purchase price (50c) instantly without question, if you are not thoroughly satisfied. They are authorized to do so by Dodson, who does not want your money unless his remedy can benefit you. Under such conditions a trial would seem the part of wisdom.

DOUBLE FUNERAL AT SORRENTO

Mrs. Budgen and Mrs. Miller Both Die Last Friday

Seldom is a community called upon to mourn the loss in one day, and within a few hours of two long time resident and much beloved ladies, as are we of Sorrento today.

At 4 a. m. Tuesday, Mar. 19th Mrs. Ellen Budgen, well beloved wife of Edward Budgen, passed away at the Budgen residence, 11 1/2 miles east of town. The cause of death was fatty degeneration of the heart. Her age was 71.

At 7:30 the same morning Mrs. Margaret Miller died at her home in the village at the age of 77, of pneumonia.

Mrs. Budgen was born at Crowhurst, county Surrey, England in 1843, married Edward Budgen in 1863 and in 1849 the Budgens sailed from their native island to a foreign shore and settled in New York state. A few years later they came to Florida. Mr. Budgen filed on land under the homestead law, three miles south of this place. After several years there Mr. Budgen moved the family to another tract 1 1/2 miles east of town. Here he erected a fine dwelling and met with success as farmer and gardener.

Ten children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Budgen, five of whom survive. These are Ellen, now Mrs. A. Woodcock, of Atlantic Ave., who became the wife of S. E. Cam, Waterbury, Conn.; Ida, Mrs. G. H. Marden, Methuen, Mass.; Herbert L., of Daytona Beach and Chas. E., who with his wife has recently come here from a New England state.

The daughter, Mrs. Woodcock, and Chas. E. and wife were present at the funeral. The two last named will remain with the father on the farm.

It is only a few months since Mr. and Mrs. Budgen suffered a sore bereavement in the death of a son, Arthur, at Daytona Beach.

Mary Adams Pierson was born at Lebanon, Ohio, in 1836. In 1860 she became the wife of T. M. Miller. After the war Mr. Miller engaged in trade in Mississippi. In the 80's the Millers came to Sorrento, where they established a dairy farm. Mr. Miller passed away about the year 1890. There was no issue to the marriage. Since the death of her husband Mrs. Miller has resided in this village. She was interested in citrus groves with her sister, Mrs. Lockwood, also a widow.

The bodies were prepared for shipment by Embalmer Cowles of Eustis and Undertaker Hackett of Mt. Dora. Wednesday morning the obsequies for both were held at the residence of Mrs. Miller. Rev. C. H. Foland of the Presbyterian church conducted the service.

Mr. Foland has recently been called to this charge from Summerfield, Fla. He comes to the pulpit made vacant by the death of our lamented pastor, Rev. L. R. Sutherland, who had been leader of the Presbyterian society for the past eight years, and is deep in the hearts of all, regardless of religious affiliations.

The train going east at 11 a. m. Wednesday bore far from us all that is mortal of these two dear old ladies, who had been our company and comfort so many years.

Mr. Budgen accompanied the remains of his wife to Daytona Beach. Mr. Henry Lockwood, young nephew of Mrs. Miller went with the body of his aunt to Lebanon, Ohio, the place of her birth.

TRANSPORTATION LINE

Auto Trucks Will Operate Between Sanford and Orlando

Beginning Monday an auto truck line will be operated between Orlando and Sanford, making two round trips daily and having a capacity of four thousand pounds of freight on each trip.

Freight rates will be cut below the railroad rates five cents a hundred on all classes of freight, with the additional advantage that freight will be delivered by the truck to the door of the patrons, thus saving cost of drayage besides the five cents a hundred.

It is likely that the new line will be well patronized from the beginning. Freight rates between Sanford and Orlando are burdensome, and the people will welcome relief. A regular schedule will be maintained.

Store door delivery at a saving of five cents a hundred below the rail freights will amount to many thousands of dollars a year to the merchants of Orlando.

The truck which has been purchased and which arrived yesterday is a Selden two ton truck. No attempt will be made to build up a passenger business, though occasional passengers may be carried.

Besides the regular run between the two towns a general trucking business within the city will be done. All of this cannot be done with one truck, and others will be purchased as the demand arises.

Mr. A. L. Weatherbee will be in active charge of the business. Associated with him will be Messrs. W. D. Rogers and L. B. Fort. The latter will be in charge of the office and mechanical end of the business, being managers of the San Juan garage, which will be headquarters for the company, to be known as the L. & S. Transfer Co.

Mr. Weatherbee has been a traveling salesman for the past ten years, having been identified for the greater part of that time with the International Harvester Company. He is well acquainted with the needs of the proposed line and with the demands of the traffic business generally, and with his well recognized ability and energy will undoubtedly make a success of the venture, which starts with the well wishes of all who know about it, with the possible exception of the railroad company.

When it is considered that the freights from Jacksonville to Sanford by water are cheap in comparison to their rail rates

It is obvious that Orlando stands in need of a cheap and rapid transportation line to connect with the docks at Sanford, in order to get the benefit of the cheap water rates. An electric or truck line will fill the long felt need.—Orlando Sentinel.

L. Engle Has More Bills

Washington, Mar. 12.—Congressman L. Engle today introduced two bills in the house. The first of these is to equalize freight rates over transportation lines in interstate commerce so that hereafter charges shall be no higher for commodities moving in one direction than in the other. Where there is a difference in rates between the same points for the same commodities going in different directions the lower rate would prevail.

The other bill would deny admission to the mails as second class matter to certain newspapers and periodicals owned either wholly or in part by any steam or electric railroad, express company, steamship company, etc., where such public service corporations have been convicted of a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The postmaster general would be given authority to determine whether such facts exist as to justify such exclusion.

GENEVA ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Tarbel visited Orlando last week. Messrs. Greer and Mozelle Taylor were visitors in Sanford last Tuesday. Mrs. L. D. Mercer continues quite sick at the home of her daughter, Mrs. K. M. Sieg. Mr. Whitecomb has purchased the Dexter house on Lake Geneva and is remodeling it for the immediate use of some northern friends. A. H. Spier has leased the new dwelling now being erected by Mr. Patterson and will move his family to Geneva as soon as the house is ready for occupancy. Mrs. Spindler, who has been the pleasant visitor of Mrs. C. A. Raulerson for several weeks, left last week for her home in Canton, O. While here Mrs. Spindler made many friends who will welcome her to Geneva at any time. The packing houses of Geneva opened up again for business last week. There is quite a good deal of fruit yet to be shipped from this section. Recent a drill team of the W. O. W. has been organized and the boys are working faithfully to be in readiness for a dress parade at an early date. There is nothing more beneficial to our young men than military training and they should receive the encouragement of every one. Geneva is remembered as being on the minds of the many candidates now in the city hall races and cigars are given alike to the banker and the working man. There is much demand for dwelling houses in Geneva. It seems it would be a paying business for some one to invest a few hundreds in comfortable, neat houses to rent. Misses Emma and Ruth Proctor spent the week end in Chuluota. S. P. Smith has gone to Lake Pickett, where he is employed as overseer on a turpentine farm. Rev. Wm. Stone of Oviedo filled his pulpit in Geneva at the Baptist church Sunday. He was accompanied by his wife and both were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Patterson while here. The W. O. W. Circle gave an enjoyable oyster supper at the hall last Friday night in compliment to the Woodmen. A very pleasant time was spent, the drill team being in public for the first time. There will be a box supper at the hall Friday night, March 20th, to which everybody is invited. Come, boys, and who eats supper with your best girl. Mr. and Mrs. Engler of DeLand, O., who are spending the winter in traveling and who are now in Daytona, are expected in Geneva Tuesday as guests of Mrs. C. A. Raulerson.

pears plays and who recently lost over $5,000 trying to revive interest in the immortal William and his dramas of ancient vintage will also seek the popular movies later on and these finished dramatists will be lost to us in person but preserved for many years in Canned Drama. Speaking to them yesterday about the future of the show business the representative of The Herald learned that the moving picture business is gradually getting the better of the legitimate drama and in the opinion of the older actors the show business will eventually resolve itself into two composite parts, the movies and the high priced drama or comedy drama. The film companies are procuring all the best actors and actresses paying good salaries and those among the profession who see the handwriting on the wall are climbing into the movie band wagon for if they make good they are assured of a lifetime job at a good salary and eliminating the hated one night stands at tank towns with the attendant discomforts of bad hotels, slow trains and other worries that carry the Thespians to an early grave. Exit the legions. Enter the movies.

The young need to be taught that although there is sometimes a pleasure of the senses in committing sin, it is inevitably followed by remorse and punishment. Crime, remorse, punishment form an inseparable trio. On the other hand, while it is often hard to do right, the sense of satisfaction, self-respect and self-control that follows right action is worth all the effort made.

LITTLE FOR DOCTORS TO DO

Accounts seem to show that disease is soon to become a thing of the past. After reading the speeches and the papers at the Medical Congress one gets the impression that the outlook for the medical profession is gloomy indeed, says London Truth. One deadly disease after another has been tackled and overthrown. Discovery follows discovery, each more brilliant than the last and fraught with greater benefit to mankind. It takes a whole week of reading and talking to describe the wonderful things that doctors have been doing in all parts of the world merely within the last 12 months. Obviously, there must soon be no more worlds to conquer. Every one will have been cured and no more doctors will be wanted. It is pathetic to see the crowded ranks of the new generation of Bob Sawyers, and to reflect that in a few years their occupation will be gone. Would it not be well if somebody were to get up a congress of patients? It is just possible that we might then hear another side of these astonishing scientific achievements. As a matter of fact, every congress of medicals that I can remember has been conducted with the same strain; but disease has continued to exist, doctors have continued to multiply, and the one thing that is perfectly certain is each generation proclaims its new knowledge is that the preceding generation knew nothing at all. In order to get at the real value of all the achievements that we have heard about during the past week we must wait until the next international congress is held in London.

But they are going out of the legitimate drama and big movies will get them if they don't watch out. Kith and Kin. A merry smile flattered over the features of Andrew Carnegie at a recent banquet when one of the guests referred to his family as kith and kin. He explained that it recalled an incident that happened in a western town. At breakfast one morning, so related Mr. Carnegie, a fond father glanced at his pretty eighteen-year-old daughter and began to playfully question her about the visit of a young man the evening before. "By the way, Edith," smilingly queried papa, "what were you and that young Mr. Cross talking about so interestingly in the parlor last night?" "I forget now," blushfully answered the pretty young girl. "Oh, yes. We were talking about kith and kin." "That's right, papa," butted in Edith's little six-year-old sister Marie, who lisped, "I heard them." "You don't really mean it, Marie?" jokingly returned papa. "Yeth, thir," was the positive rejoinder of Marie. "Miththah Croth thayth 'can I kith you?' and thithth thayth 'you kip.'"

FUR IMPROVED POTATOES.

We Should Develop Better Varieties, Says the Department of Agriculture. American progress in the development of improved varieties of potatoes has not been satisfactory as compared with the progress of leading European countries in the statement of the bureau of plant industry of the department of agriculture.

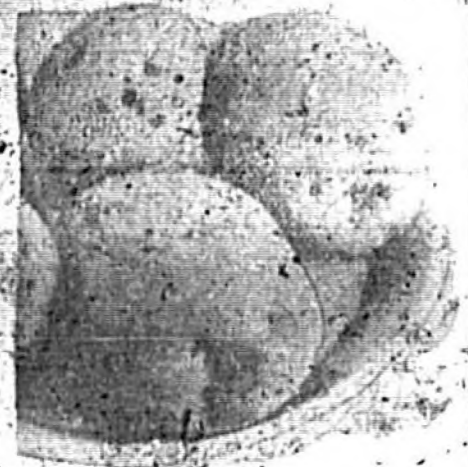

The best European varieties possess a better flavor, color and texture, particularly for boiling and frying, but these do not succeed when introduced into the United States. If private growers would engage in this work as they have in Great Britain, Germany and Austria, they would find it a fascinating industry and would undoubtedly make notable achievements.

In America we have much to accomplish in breeding a potato with a greater starch content. Our potatoes are very heavy in the German varieties from 1 to 2 per cent.

Our climatic conditions in America are so diverse that we need varieties of potatoes adapted to special localities. Particularly do we need a heat resistant strain that can more successfully withstand the high summer temperatures. Disease resistance is another quality that has been bred into certain foreign sorts, but is so lacking in ours that we have to quarantine absolutely certain foreign types that might bring disease with them.

The breeding of potatoes for different kinds of cooking might even be found profitable. A variety specially suited for baking is needed, another for frying and close textured tuber is in some demand for salads. The housewife today finds it necessary to purchase much material in preparing her potatoes for the table, particularly the irregular, deep-eyed sorts.

The use of chemical fertilizers universal in Germany is unknown in our western potato districts. Certain of our districts in Maine, New York and the Atlantic trucking belt have already found it to their profit to use more fertilizer, and potato growing is most prosperous in these sections. This should become more universal. Crop rotation is of fundamental importance to the potato crop in controlling diseases and maintaining production, but in the United States only the beginning of an ordered system has been made. Germany has a rotation of from three to seven years between potato crops. Nor has the importance of crop manuring yet been fully appreciated in this country.

The problem of securing disease free seed has been met in Germany by an official inspection, which results in certificates being issued only to owners of disease free crops. Such a plan for the United States would be better if carried out by the co-operation of potato growers' associations, the state experiment stations and the United States department of agriculture rather than through legal enactment.

SAVAGE DOG IS DRUGGED.

Syringe Shoots Chloroform Through Keyhole at Mad Canine.

St. Louis.—After Mrs. Charles Speck, who is prominent in society, had escaped from her bulldog, which attacked her, the animal was chloroformed through a keyhole by a doctor called to attend Mrs. Speck, who had been bitten severely upon the thigh and arm.

Dr. Francis E. Chase, asked to kill the animal, attempted to enter the bathroom of the home of Mrs. Speck, where the animal had been bred, but was driven back.

The doctor filled a syringe with chloroform and shot it through the keyhole. After ten ounces of the poisonous liquid had been sent into the room he entered and, saturating a handkerchief, completed the work. The bulldog was stupor-stricken when he entered and did not attack him. Mrs. Speck's pet attacked her when she stepped on its tail.

HURT, MAKES CRUTCHES.

With Leg Broken Is Thus Able to Reach His Home.

Loup City, Neb.—Despite the fact that his left leg was broken between the knee and knee, Stanley Krokolski, a Polish farmer, dragged himself 100 feet to a thicket by a creek. There he cut two crutches with his knife and upon those managed to drag himself half a mile to the home of his brother, where he received medical treatment. To add to the discomfort a blizzard was raging at the time and the net, entry was a slow one.

The farmer had been in town and was on his way home when his leg ran away and threw him out of his wagon.

Hens Getting Up Steam.

W. D. Hens, Mrs. Annie Speck, on Sunday, without a single report that she has the record production lays for cold weather. From thirteen hens she received 149 eggs in sixteen days. Mrs. H. E. Van Gundy of Wellington challenges the record with five hens that laid forty-eight eggs in sixteen days.

CLASHES WITH PANTHER.

Hunter Wins, but Gets Pretty Well Clawed in the Fight.

Ukiah, Cal.—Albert Jensen, a rancher of the Anderson valley section, is nursing bruises received in a hand to hand fight with a panther. The animal sprang upon him while he was bending over the body of a note that he had just shot and it was only after a desperate struggle that he managed to break the hold of the beast and to shoot it.

Jensen caught the first panther in a trap and shot the animal. It measured nine feet five inches from tip to tip. The second, with which Jensen had the fight, was only a trifle larger than six feet long.

Steadfastness Key to Success.

Many a man falls in life not because he lacks ability or enthusiasm, or a general desire to get on in the world, but because he lacks steadfastness of purpose.

Slowing Down.

The train that comes into Tickville every week will soon begin to run late, as the holly berry vines along the right-of-way are showing signs of a large crop.

HUGE TRIUMPHAL ARCH AT THE WORLD'S GREATEST EXPOSITION. A WONDERFUL SIGHT.

Copyright, 1911, by Panama Pacific International Exposition. The Arch of the Rising Sun at the Panama Pacific International Exposition will be crowned by a wonderful group of statues. The Nations of the East. The howdah upon the elephant will be 188 feet above the floors of the court. The group itself will be 42 feet in height. This huge arch, breathing the spirit of the Orient, will be upon the east side of the great Central Court. The Court of the Sun and Stars. Upon the west side of the court will be an arch typifying Occidental civilization.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Apple Straggles, a daughter of Fort Worth, Tex., has just married her second.

Mrs. E. J. Gordon of Brooklyn is a lawyer, wife and also a mother of five children, housekeeper and church worker.

Probably the cleverest girl in the world is Miss Marie Heron, 18 years old, who can read 100 words of the alphabet in 10 seconds.

Mrs. W. S. Vauhallant, Jr., has a sheep dog trained so that it will be a lady's maid. It is going through a school course that teaches it all that a patrician would have to know to keep her about the house and will take further lessons as to the work that will be required of it as a lady's maid.

Mrs. Philip Snowdon has created a new record in England. In eight years she has addressed more than 1,500 political meetings—mainly on women's suffrage—with a total attendance of well over 1,500,000. There is probably no other speaker, man or woman, in England who can approach these figures.

It was the subject of "The Indian" was in progress. "Now, children," beamed the teacher, "who can remember what the Indian woman is called?" There was an interval of profound silence, then an eager voice piped up: "I know, teacher, squab."

Worth Knowing. Opinions that are over-riding in flavor may be rendered less by adding them to a colander and pouring boiling water over them. After this change into ice water and let remain for half an hour. This will leave them sweet and crisp.

"The Kind He Liked." I overheard the following conversation between my little brother and his playmate Jack. Jack remarked: "You said you had a bad cold; did you ever have a good one, Herbert?" Herbert answered: "Sure. Once I had one that kept the home from school."

Needed a Compass. "My dear, I wish you wouldn't make me any more trougers out of father's old 'uns!" "Why, what's the matter with 'em?" "Why, they're so big I can't know 'em." "Why, the 'uns' to school or 'goin' 'ome again!"

COLD IN THE GLADES

Since the latest cold snap struck the state of Florida and set aside all previous precedents in the position of the frost line the question arises about the drainage of the Everglades and whether it is for the best protection of the growers in that section of the state to have all the water drained off or not.

It is a certain fact that large bodies of water in Florida are a protection. This is proven each year here in the celery delta our crops being protected and the temperature being considerably higher than that of our neighbors farther south.

The new canals seem to be neither a source of drainage from high lands, irrigation in low water or a protection from killing frosts.

OUR LITTLE PRESS CLUB

Like the live wire that he is, Editor Triplett has taken hold of the idea of a five county press association and in the latest issue of his paper says of the following:

The Valley Gazette, Editor Holly's motto, as we heard every paper named in the counties named will do, and will certainly be present to speak our little piece on the 26th at any place that is selected for the meet, but we want to place Kimmis in nomination as the place of meeting.

And regarding these things, we feel that Kimmis should be unanimous vote be declared the place of meeting, and Hon. R. J. Holly, the Sanford booster, authorized to at once issue notices to that effect.

To which we add that no dissenting voices being raised the nominations be closed and every son of a gun in Osceola, Orange, Seminole, Lake and Volusia counties should be there on the date to be named later.

Deland is spending between $8,000 and $9,000 a year at present on its shell roads; a bond issue of $110,000 for road purposes would pay the city's one third part of about fourteen miles of brick or concrete roads—and the interest on $110,000 at 6 per cent would amount to $6,600 per year.

Perhaps you have children and are planning to educate them; perhaps you wish to take a place in some place of interest next year; perhaps you wish to establish a reserve against loss of work, or old age. There are many other reasons why you should start and maintain a savings account.

court, explained that it had expressed no contempt for the court, but, on the contrary, had carefully concealed his feelings. If the people for whom this time they should blame the law, not the newspapers—Punta Gorda Herald.

A Dakota editor comes to the conclusion that those desiring profits in his paper must pay for them, and has established the following schedule of prices: For telling the public that a man is a successful citizen, when everybody knows that he is as lazy as a government mule, $2.75; referring to the deceased citizen as one who is mourned by the entire community, when we know he will be missed by the poker circles, $10.13; referring to some gallinging female as an estimable lady who it is a pleasure to meet when every business man in town would rather see Satan coming, $8.18; calling an ordinary pulpit pounder an eminent divine, sixty cents; sending naughty sinners to heaven, $5.00.—Exchange.

It is estimated that Sanford will ship 1,200 cars of celery this season with the crop unusually fine. They used to be boards all along the railroad, with the words, 'Lucky Sanford.' The tourists could not see the significance of them and we could not then. But now we know, and those lines are to tell all who, like we, did not understand.—Reporter-Star.

And each car will average about $350, which figured up will mean about $700,000 coming into Sanford this season for celery alone. Added to that is the lettuce which will be that much more and then watch Sanford grow.

SAFEGUARDING MONEY

Before you get taken into partnership and give a chance to spend the funds of the firm, you must see evidence that you know how to care for your own. The world is full of the unscrupulous, the always needy, never get ahead—and at the bank they are unknown. Even a small bank account makes an impression on your character.—Eibert Hubert.

Men who make money fast often lose it as quickly. They run risks and take chances. They are under a nervous strain continually and are never sure just how they are coming out.

In the long run, the gain is greater if you do not try to get rich quick, but systematically save a portion of your income and regularly deposit it in a reliable bank where it will be safely at work for you.

Ready money burns holes in the pocket of the man who has it. To make spare money safe put it into the bank. Besides being secure there and always handy to get at when you really need it, it will not be easy to obtain when the money comes to spend it foolishly.

One of the principal functions of the bank to safeguard the money of the depositor, and many times it thus protects money, even from the owner himself.

Another way the bank helps is in educating its depositors as to the saving power of money. It is not the desire of any banker to have public money lie dormant. Those who deal with banks and study their methods soon learn that the success of the banker in getting money at work is no more than the individual may attain proportionally in handling his own finances through the bank.

When you deposit in the bank, you will find many factors of security for your savings. For one thing, bank officers and directors are men of demonstrated business success. Their combined or collective ability, experience and integrity work for your benefit when you are a depositor in the bank.

Probably you have certain fixed payments to make. Most persons have life insurance premiums to pay at stated times. Many, right after making one payment, begin to prepare for the next. Every week or every month a little money is deposited in the bank and when the premium again comes due, the money is there to meet it—and along with it a little interest.

Some persons have loans on which interest is due or payments must be made every year or every six months, and in order to be sure of meeting those payments they deposit a little money when the pay envelope comes in and use the payments become due the money is on deposit to meet them.

Perhaps you have children and are planning to educate them; perhaps you wish to take a place in some place of interest next year; perhaps you wish to establish a reserve against loss of work, or old age. There are many other reasons why you should start and maintain a savings account. Your own needs or desires will suggest them to you; but whatever your needs, whatever your occupation or responsibilities, it is a good thing to put money into the bank regularly.

There's Another Remedy

I have just received from a Chicago firm that promises to do great things for the benefit of the home merchant an offer to give me, for thirty dollars, a series of articles advocating the elimination of the mail order business and the building up of the home merchant.

That's all right as far as it goes; but it strikes me that the home merchant should do a bit of work along that line himself. I'm willing to do my share—but why should I devote a half column of space each week and pay a firm thirty dollars—count them, thirty—to telling the merchants that they should combat the mail order houses by a good line of advertising of the goods they are handling.

Why, I can go right out and in ten minutes I can put that spiel up to several merchants—and make good at it, too. The task would not be a difficult one—for those merchants already know it. By perusing the columns of the Post our readers may see that a number of these merchants are taking advantage of the means offered them to combat what promises to be very harmful in the years to come.

It is estimated that in 1913 the mail order houses of this country did a business amounting to more than two billion dollars. Hardly to be believed, is it? And I'm not vouching for the accuracy of those figures, either; but it is safe to say that a lot of money was sent from the almost countless little communities as well as from the larger places. Some of this was kept because the buying public didn't know the same goods could be bought for about the same price at home as abroad.

The real remedy against the practice of sending away for goods is to handle goods at a price as low as may be consistent with the quality of the goods handled—AND LET THE PEOPLE KNOW IT THROUGH THE COLUMNS OF THE LOCAL NEWS-PAPER. There is the thing in a nutshell—and it didn't cost thirty dollars, either. Now go to it.—Palm Beach Post.

Florida

Thou can't not boast One of Jacob's thousand hills Upon which his cattle grazed; And great to fathers, But upon the low The herds of all the world Might find food and life.

No mighty fivers, falling From the frowning brows Of great, upheaved mountains, Turb its torrents loose

To waste thy wealth In washed out earth. But thy placid streams, And limpid lakes have room Upon their peaceful bosoms To every microbe.

The complete of the world. No mighty army of the unfed Unhoused people, tramps along Clanging, cluttered streets; But mars thy peaceful beauty; And in all the marts Where busy people come and go They come in peace.

And pass with identy, And within thy gates The gaunt, wandering form of want Is never to be seen.

VISITORS LIKE SANFORD

Think Florida is the Place to Live and Enjoy Their Visit

Mr. R. J. Holly, Sanford, Fla.: Dear Sir—We have returned home from our visit to various cities in Florida and as I look out on the night this evening it seems as though our trip was all a dream, as the change in scene was so entirely different from what we are accustomed to seeing here at this time of the year.

After leaving Sanford we went to Orlando, Kissimmee, Lakeland, Plant City, Tampa and St. Petersburg. We liked all the cities. They all seem to have a good healthy growth.

We attended the fair at Orlando and had good times of what your country is producing. This was quite a surprise to us as we had no idea that so many varieties of fruits and vegetables were grown there.

We were much interested in the strawberry growing and shipping at Plant City.

We arrived at Tampa just in time for the Gasparilla celebration. They had fine parades, fireworks and water-paint. The celebration was well attended and rooms were scarce and hard to find.

While we were in St. Petersburg watching the bathers and getting sunburned, the folks at home were enjoying (?) the worst blizzard we have had here for several years.

We like Sanford. Your city surely has a great future, with your good transportation facilities north both by rail and water. We would like to have spent more time among the lettuce and celery growers, but our time was very

UNDER THE SANFORD CELERY TREE

The Sanford growers have come into their own and established an i. o. b. market. The celery will bring over a half million dollars into the Sanford section and lettuce fully as much. Growing winter vegetables at Sanford has ceased to be an experiment, and is now a business proposition. "The Greatest Vegetable Section of the World" is our claim, that is substantiated by facts and figures.

HERE'S THE POINT We want you to consider the accumulative effect of regular deposits in the Peoples Bank of Sanford. It's not what you make, but what you save that puts you well along the road to financial independence. Your account is invited. Four Per Cent. limited. Think you have a good motto for your paper. In Sanford life is worth living. Would like to live there myself.

We wish to keep in touch with Sanford for a time at least, and therefore enclose money order for subscription to Sanford Herald.

Should you hear of any of your neighboring business men wishing to employ a first class bookkeeper, will be pleased to have you pass along the information.

We started home just in time to see the big snow storm in Georgia, and have seen plenty of snow ever since.

We are now Florida boosters and expect some time to make Florida our home.

Yours truly, C. H. ARCHBLD, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

FAVORS NEW ROUTE Tourist Thinks We Should Have More Attractions Like Stone Island Promises To the Editor of Herald: I have just returned from a trip of several weeks to the south and while there was in Sanford several hours on Tuesday, the 17th of February. In your paper of the week before (Feb. 11) you had an article in regard to a new road by Stone Island from Sanford to Enterprise and to a tourist it certainly would give the strangers who come by boat from Jacksonville every day some place to go to, something to see, for Lake Monroe is a beautiful lake but as it is there are no regular trips on it no place in fact for tourists to put in their time. Even the interurban cars that used to go out every hour or two are not running, only a couple of times a day. You cannot expect to hold the tourists, who flock to Florida and come by the way of the St. Johns river to Sanford every day unless you give them something in the way of attractions.

Reports, etc. I stopped over a few hours at Enterprise, and was very glad to see my old friends who were with me out through the celery district by the electric car which used to run, but soon found that was not as it used to be, so we got out of Sanford by the first train.

It certainly seems to a tourist that Sanford is located fine to draw a large per cent of the people who take the boat from Jacksonville by the St. Johns river boats to Sanford, but you must have some resorts, etc. The road you speak of strikes me as a move in the right direction.

P. A. BROWN, Richmond, Indiana.

Mrs. Scholey is spending a few weeks in Orlando, the guest of Connecticut friends and is delighted with Florida. She is the wife of Edgar Scholey of the Guilford Times who has been here several times and is a Sanford booster, having written several articles descriptive of Sanford and the celery delta.

F. A. Schuppert is in the city for a few days, the guest of his daughter, Miss Bessie and incidentally, the guest of the whole city for "Pa." Schuppert is loved by every one for his good fellowship and hearty feeling and his large circle of friends has decided to death to see him again. He is demonstrative for the southern states in agricultural topics and at present is making headquarters in Alabama. Being thoroughly versed in the crops grown in the southern states Mr. Schuppert is a valuable aid to the farmers and he is in constant demand at different points to make lectures and demonstrations in farm work.

The Fernalds are Home
It gives us pleasure to announce that Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Fernald have returned home after several months in the north where Mr. Fernald was desperately ill for some time and his friends here were greatly worried over the reports that came from his bedside. Mrs. Fernald too was ill and greatly worried about Mr. Fernald, until reassured by the physicians that his condition was greatly improved. Both of them return in much better health and their many friends here are rejoicing over their arrival. Being in the forefront of every movement for the betterment of Sanford Mr. Fernald has been greatly missed at the many meetings of the Commercial Club and other organizations, and Mrs. Fernald occupies the same position in the ladies clubs, consequently there is much rejoicing today over their return.

Sunday School Attendance
The Sunday school attendance for Mar 8 was as follows:
Baptist 152
Congregational 81
Methodist 180
Presbyterian 120

Cooked Food Sale
The ladies of the Congregational church will hold a cooked food sale Saturday afternoon and evening in the DeForest building on First street. Home baked beans, brown bread, white bread, cakes, pies, jellies and other delicacies on sale.

Delicious Supper
The young ladies of the Baptist Sunday school will serve regular supper at the old Duckworth stand Saturday evening. They promise the public something above the average in both quality and variety.

"Seeing Mexico Now in the City"
Seeing Mexico is the title of an exhibit car containing a complete line of the products, resources and modes of life in the war torn republic of Old Mexico, which is now in Sanford and will be on exhibit here on the A. C. L. track near the fold depot until Wednesday night. Hours of admission to the car are daily from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m.

A small admission fee of five cents for school classes in charge of teachers and ten cents general admission, is made to help defray transportation and other expenses of the trip, the deficit being made up from a fund set aside by the educational society.

The car will be one of the attractions at the San Francisco World's Fair. Stuart Perkins has arranged for the public school pupils to visit the car by classes, with teachers in charge.

Horace Williams an Orator
The following from the Lunkin (Ga.) Gazette will be of interest to the friends of Master Horace Williams, formerly of this city.

The auditorium was well filled on last Friday evening by those interested in the school and were thoroughly entertained.

We were all proud of the ability and talent shown by those taking part in the program. All did well. One boy only spoke about half of his part and was doing wonderfully well when his glance fell upon some one in the audience and for some reason, you will have to ask him, he could not remember the rest.

It would be impossible to mention and give due appreciation to each participant in our limited space.

The judges decided that Horace Williams should represent the boys and Miss Cora Wood the girls at the contest to be held at Ashburn in April by the High School Association of the Third Congressional District. Miss Nellie H. Hays was selected to represent the girls.

The teachers received many congratulations up on the success of the entertainment.

Sanford Crop Notes
The celery and lettuce growers in the Sanford section are jubilant over the prices that are prevailing and the prospects for realizing large sums on their crops this season. Fine crops have never been produced, and the bulk of the celery is being shipped at the present time, about 75 per cent having been marketed. One hundred and fifty cars went forward last week.

C. C. Gabbett sold his entire crop of about eight acres in the field for $1.50 per crate. The celery is of such fine quality that it is cutting from one hundred to one thousand crates to the acre. Some of the other growers that are shipping are Fish & Fish, Roy Symes, A. S. Fitts, Jr., while J. E. Pate, for the last two or three weeks has been loading from two to three cars per day, and is continuing to do so. The price at the present time is $1.75 f. o. b., and buyers are snapping it up at this price.

C. M. Perry has some fine spring or late lettuce grown under glass for which he expects to receive $5.00 per crate, while some specially fancy lettuce has sold as high as $7.00 per crate.

W. P. Akers first crop of lettuce was marketed sixty days ago, and he is just beginning to cut his second crop, which was raised on the same ground. He has a large acreage of fine stuff, and will no doubt realize handsome returns for the same. The weather has been ideal for raising the crops, and also for holding the same for a profitable market, and the Sanford district will have been benefited to the extent of many thousand of dollars this season, as a result of those favorable conditions.

Early Spring Weather
Washington, March 16.—Fair, early spring weather in nearly all parts of the country this week was promised tonight by the weather bureau.

The weather will be unsettled Monday, however, said the weekly bulletin, along the northern border from the Great Lakes east.

IN SOCIETY

Mrs. Hines very pleasantly entertained a number of her friends Friday afternoon at her home on Sixth street. An interesting advertisement was enjoyed. Mrs. G. W. Spencer guessing the largest number correct. Much enjoyment was realized when the hostess entered bearing a large tray heaped with attractive looking packages tied with red ribbons, each guest being requested to select a package. The surprise favors were small kitchen articles, such as egg openers, egg whips, hamper and the like. The refreshments consisted of pressed chicken, beaten biscuits, potato chips, wafers, olives and coffee, and were both delicious and dainty, and the hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. C. Herndon.

Mrs. George Hoy was the hostess of the bridge club which met at the home of Mrs. W. P. Carter Thursday afternoon. After several interesting games of auction, scores were counted and Mrs. Deane Turner having made highest score was awarded the club prize. The refreshments consisted of delicious fruit punch and cake. Mrs. Hoy's guests were Mrs. Mary Symes, Mrs. Roy Symes, Mrs. Diane Turner, Mrs. R. E. Tolbr, Mrs. Annie Hawkins, Mrs. W. P. Carter and Mrs. C. Bennett.

Good Attractions This Week
The Perlick Gypene Co., at the Imperial this week are playing to good houses and will continue to the same business all week for the people here know that this company will give them something good. Besides Mr. Perlick and Mabel Gypene, who are always up to the standard, the company is further strengthened by Edward D. Dize and Mrs. D. Oze who are too well known in Sanford to need any introduction, and also Ed Lawrence, the Silver King, who has been a favorite here for many years. The balance of the players are all good and will place in the hearts of the people here right in the opening bill. The White Star, one of the strongest plays that has been shown here this season.

To be held by The Doves, and all week some one can be assured of something new in the amusement line at popular prices of admission.

Bowers-Ward
A wedding occurred Sunday that was a great success to the many friends of both the groom who although this winter had been successfully kept in the city and who all over the district.

The wedding was of Miss A. Ward and Mr. Bowers, a son of Mr. Bowers, both of whom were present at the home of the bride's parents on Second street at three o'clock. Dr. Brown, pastor of the First Presbyterian church performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate family.

And even the family friends of the contracting parties were present at the wedding, and after it had been performed.

As soon as the happy words had been spoken and the bride pronounced and hearty congratulations had been showered upon the happy couple, they climbed into an automobile and started off for the east coast city, but the bride had spread and several of their friends called after them, determined to show them with rice and old shoes, but Mr. and Mrs. Bowers had the lead and beat them all to the ferry where they waved a fond farewell from the other side of the turbulent St. Johns.

They will visit several points of interest on the coast, are returning to Sanford to make some more home.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ward of this city and has been a resident of Sanford for several years, since removing here from their Indiana home and has many friends among the younger set, being an accomplished musician and vocal soloist.

The groom is among Sanford's rising business men, having resided here for the past two years, formerly in charge of the pharmaceutical department of the store of L. R. Phillips & Co., but later embarking in the real business for himself in which he has built up a large and profitable business by his individual efforts to please his patrons. He has a large number of friends here who regret that they could not shower him with rice but promise him a very cordial reception upon his return.

The young people have the best wishes of everyone in the journey along life's pathway in which The Herald joins.

Moved
I have moved my office from the First National Bank building with Mr. A. P. Connelly and can be found at Capt. Marks' old stand. Am closing up my real estate business in order to give my entire time to the Little Vacuum Washer, for which I have a selling contract.

I have the best business proposition on the road for any lady or gentleman who wants to make money. If you need or want money let me tell you about it.

Woman's Club
Notes From All Departments Of The Sanford Woman's Club
The Music Department of the Woman's Club held their meeting in the Club rooms Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Geo. L. Hoy, vice chairman presiding.
The program for the day was devoted to Negro and Indian Music. Leader, Mrs. M. Martin. Negro Music and Its Sources, articles and discussion by Miss Chandler. Telling up the Indian part of the program a delightful article from the Outlook (kindness of Mrs. C. E. Walker) on Indian Music as an Art, read by Mrs. Martin. An Indian Mite was played by Mrs. Butt two Indian love songs—a War Dance and a Tobacco Dance. Mrs. Hoy pleased us with two of Cadman's beautiful Indian songs, In Sky Blue Waters. The White Dawn is Stealing America, resulted in decision that we had none.

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. "HE'LL PRENT 'EM"—SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

I sure despise the knocker and have time and again called attention to them in Sanford for this city, like every other city in the world has them. The other day while sitting in a certain place of business here I heard a stranger ask about Sanford celery and what it was bringing and the prospects of the farmers and was greatly surprised to hear the home person remark that he had lost money on his crop and that there was nothing doing in crops, plumb here. I afterward asked this knocker what he meant by such a statement and he said that he had lost money last year but this season would retrieve his loss and make money besides. He did not mention the fact to the stranger, however, and the knocker's taste left in his mouth is probably there yet, unless he went out through the farm himself and investigated the prices this year. Of course every grower here does not always make a fortune but there are less failures in the vegetable growing business than in any other here and while a man may fall down on one crop will make good on another and challenge any grower here to prove that he has lost money or will lose money this season taking his crops from last fall until June of this year. If a man consistently farms here, starting in with lettuce in the fall, follows with a few acres of celery or more lettuce, then comes along with his spring crops followed by corn and soy, he cannot make a total failure unless he just naturally a failure in life himself and there are some people who could not make good with Rockefeller's millions.

Such knocking though should be discontinued. The situation here is better than ever before and the prices obtained this season would make any other part of the country sit up and take notice. The perpetual knocker should be jailed or flung out of the country because he is no good to either himself or to the community and Lee that some sections of Florida have taken steps to eliminate him according to law, as Dade City expects to do. The following from the Ft. Pierce Tribune is worthy of notice and the example could be followed by other cities:

Dade City may not be classed among South Florida metropolises, but certainly is more up to date in some matters than any other city in this blooming commonwealth. There is a pent abroad in Florida that has and is doing more to retard the state's development, than all the white flies, tomato bugs and potato late could do in a thousand years. We allude to that parasite known as the knocker, and every place has its full quota. He never sleeps, and all times is on the job, collecting all manner of matters, guff to roll around his tongue and spray out at any and every person senseless enough to listen. He lives and prospers on the work of others; a menace to the interests of this town, a barnacle on the body politic and an incubus to society.

But Dade City council has put a spoke in their wheel, to prohibit them plying their trade by framing the following ordinance:

That whoever, within the corporate limits of Dade City maliciously or with intent to profit thereby shall murder the title of any person to any property in Dade City, or to any property in Pasco county which at the time belongs to any citizen of Dade City, or which at the time is held for sale with any duly licensed real estate agent or dealer in such property; or is the agent of the owner of such property;

Or whoever within the said corporate limits maliciously or with intent to profit thereby falsely sells or conveys the value, fertility, quality or healthfulness of such property, shall be deemed guilty of an offense against the city of Dade City, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the city jail for a term of not less than fifteen days nor more than sixty days, or by both such fine and such imprisonment, in the discretion of the mayor.

Other cities in Florida are seeing the advantage of having a wagon shed constructed for the benefit of the farmers coming to town to trade. Sanford woke up to this fact some time ago and the building erected at the corner of Palmetto Avenue and Second Street has more than paid for itself in the increased business accruing to the merchants. Mulberry seems to have realized the need of such protection and The Herald has the following to say regarding it:

Why wouldn't it be a good idea for our merchants to get together and build a public shed for the use of country people who come to our city to trade? Teams of people coming here have no place of shelter, and in case of rain their wagons and stock must take the weather. This is not good for the stock, not good for the wagon and not good for Mulberry, because if we fail to furnish this slight accommodation a large number of the farmers will stop coming to Mulberry and go to other towns that are willing to furnish sheds for their use.

We have known of merchants who considered their wagon shed their greatest drawing card for business. We want everybody we can get to come to Mulberry to trade, and if there is one thing more than another that will draw country people to a town to trade, it is to show that you appreciate their trade and are willing to show them some accommodation to get it.

Let's have a public wagon shed in Mulberry and let a advertise it and let the people know it is here and that they are welcome to use it and we believe it will be a great help for the town's business.

Judge Shackelford once opposed the movement for federal aid to good roads. Now he is in support in congress for the Shackelford bill which appropriates $25,000,000 for road building in the different states. The fact has led to criticism, those who are opposed to the principle of treating it as the latest form of the pork barrel and visiting the idea with ridicule.

Judge Shackelford himself, speaking in Kentucky has told the people here that something will be done for the benefit of rural districts even if there has to be reduction in appropriations for rivers and harbors.

It seems to be thought that rivers and harbors are the whole thing in the way of transportation, while highways in the farming sections of the nation are of small consequence. That is an utter mistake. Rivers and harbors have their use, but a principal use is a means of transportation of goods to and from the rural sections.

The great cities are on water routes mainly and it is comparatively easy to get to them and to get away from them.

It is far more difficult to reach the farms and to bring products off the farms to market.

It is a surprising thing that anyone should hold that the good roads movement is less important in any sense than the improvement of rivers and harbors. We spend about $250,000,000 on army and navy and about $200,000,000 on pensions and $40,000,000 to $60,000,000 on rivers and harbors. Yet $25,000,000 for good roads annually for the benefit of the entire nation is objected to in many quarters, though there is nothing but approval for the huge sums voted for other projects, none of them really more important than good roads.

Those people who are becoming impatient because the Commercial Club is not locating a new factory here every day are reminded that we are not looking for industries of the lame duck variety. We want prosperous, substantial factories or none at all. The committee in charge of this branch of the work, has numerous propositions under consideration. It is looking into the minds of those who are seeking inducements and it will not recognize any factory that would not prove of real advantage to this community. It receives requests for terms from industries that are manifestly out to gain selfish advantages only and these are promptly disposed of. It is no easy matter to go out and secure just the kind of an industry you would like to have located here and while the committee is working with energy and doing all within its power, it may be some time before any definite announcement can be made. There will be a story to tell some of these things and when the same is given to the public, those who are disgruntled now will be heartily ashamed of themselves.

An army of the unknown rich has been marauding in Chicago at the income tax window at the federal building with the Arnouers, Swifts, Rosenwalds and Buffers, revealing hundreds of fortunes not previously known except to Dun and Bradstreet, or to the more intimate knowledge of Hill's mercantile agency. It was not uncommon to see a man of fifty years or so, wearing shabby clothes, whose hands were heavy and gnarled and who had a three-days growth of beard, step up to the counter and file a schedule showing an income of $10,000, $15,000, $20,000, even $50,000. Many of the filers of these schedules give strange foreign names and, in their place of residence, frets that the fashionable and known rich of the city probably never heard of.

Read the following from the News-Smyrna News regarding the city manager:

I have heard considerable discussion in New Smyrna lately about the plan of hiring a business manager to look after the municipal affairs, and the idea appeals to me as being worth considering. The plan is being discussed and adopted in a number of towns and cities throughout the country, and it seems to be working out satisfactorily. The idea is to have one man handle the business of the city and conduct the municipal affairs just as if he was hired to manage any business corporation, the citizens being the stockholders of the corporation. I have taken the trouble to make a little investigation along this line, and find that the idea of a business manager for city affairs comes from Germany, where most of the towns and small cities have such officials. These managers are not chosen for any political reasons, but for their ability to conduct all affairs of the town or city in a business-like manner. Already a number of cities and towns in this country have adopted this business method and one of the latest towns to decide on this plan is Glencoe, Ill., a suburb of Chicago. Glencoe is a beautiful suburb, whose residents are mostly men well up in the business circles of the big city, and it is only natural that they should prefer to have the business manager plan for the conduct of the business affairs of the town. The Glencoe village trustees advertised for a business manager and no less than 150 applicants were received. Mr. Giff, chairman of the village board, in outlining the duties of the new manager, compared the city governed by a manager to any big business firm—its citizens as stockholders and its trustees as directors. It is apparent that the idea of a business manager to conduct municipal affairs is one that will grow in popularity. When the business men of a town come to the conclusion that the affairs of the municipality should be conducted in a business way they are considering one of the most important phases of community development. When a town is improved in its government it is improved as a place in which to trade. On the other hand, the town that does get the trade of its own people and community is likely to be the best town in government and in everything else.

Some Things of Interest to Children. Robbing the Parson's Henroost. A Jolly Game—Why Four Little Lads Were Late at School.

It is very much better to be an American boy with a grand pair of legs and good health than to be half the Russian throne with illness of a serious nature. It is said that the Grand Duke Alexis is afflicted with a lameness that may be permanent. His left leg has to be supported by a metal frame, so the story goes. The czar-vitch is very fond of the sea and spends much time in summer on board the Imperial yacht. The little czar-vitch dresses as a bluejacket. He wears the uniform of the sailors of the Imperial guard, a peaked body of men. Last summer he spent some time at Apatoria, the Crimean cure station on the Black sea. There he was given a bath in the hope that his physical condition would be improved. The czar-vitch has just entered his tenth year, and age when all boys like to romp and play, but that is forbidden him because of his weakness. So it will appear that it is not worth while to envy him his high station. It is much more fun and satisfaction to be just a plain healthy American boy.

Robbing the Parson's Henroost.

To play this game every one except the questioner, must choose a word and use it for every answer he gives. The leader asks questions of each in turn, each must use his word in his answer. If he forgets or says "yes" or "no" he must take the questioner's place.

For example, suppose the players A, B and C have chosen the words "elephant," "keyhole" and "thinkable." The questioner begins by saying, "The parson's henroost was robbed last night—what did you take?"

A.—An elephant.
Q.—How did you get in the henroost?
B.—Through the keyhole.
Q.—Where did you put what you stole?
C.—In a thinkable.

And so on around the circle till all have answered.

Riddles.

My first implies equality, my second the title of a foreign nobleman and my whole is naked and given a hundred times a day with equal indifference and yet is of so much importance that it has saved the lives of thousands.

Why might merit be only half cooked? Because what is done cannot be helped.

Who had the first entrance into a theater? Joseph, when he was taken from the family circle and put into the pit.

When is a clock on the stairs dangerous? When it runs down and strikes one.

What do we often catch, yet never see? A passing remark.

Quite Right Too.

Oh, Jeremy, Jonathan, Joseph and James were four little lads who delighted in games. Each morning they started with books and a slate. To first off to school, but they always were late. Because on the road, I am sorry to say, they stopped here and there "just a minute" to play.

One morning when running from lessons, a lack, they met a policeman, who ordered them back.

And Jeremy, Jonathan, Joseph and James, the four little lads who delighted in games, went quickly to school with book and slate. And ever since then they have never been late.

THE BIG FEST NEXT TUESDAY AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH AUDITORIUM

RESPLENDENT AND CAPTIVATING MUSICAL EVENT

GRACE, BEAUTY, HARMONY

GREAT EXPECTATIONS FROM OUR BRILLIANT HOME TALENT AND A CRUSH TO HEAR SAME

The Big Musical Fest next Tuesday night promises to tax the capacity of the Congregational church auditorium, where it is to be given. The grand organ, choir and orchestra, with a strong chorus of fifty voices will be heard in the most delightful of choral compositions, including selections from the operas, "Carmen" and "Rigoletto" and such composers as Verdi, Auber, Fauré, Sullivan, Elsbach, Keller and others. Not only will there be great music, but beauty will also grace the festive occasion. The ladies will appear in the handsome costumes for which Sanford gentler sex have a charming reputation and the chorus setting will be a delight to the eye, as well as the renditions a rapture to the ear. On either side, the balconies will be towers of loveliness, graced with floral profusion, the center of which will be ten of the city's fairest rosebuds. The names may be read elsewhere. The gentlemen who form the male contingent peel out a powerful volume of tenor and basso profundo. Soprano and contralto are superb, and the fleet of grand organ, piano, orchestra and voices, is grandeur and sweetness equally equaled in places much larger than Sanford.

The seating capacity of the auditorium in which the event takes place is not large and only as many tickets will be sold as will seat, unless there should be those who desire to stand, which is not pleasant for either the listener or performer, so it is hoped that the extra sitting will accommodate all, and not necessitate purchasing standing room at the door after or while program is in progress.

Let all kindly come early, thus being seated and ready for the initial number, which begins at 8 o'clock.

New Novelties Works

Messrs. W. S. Price and V. C. Collier, two well known carpenters of this city will open a novelty works in the course of a few weeks in the building which was built by the Carter Lumber Co. a few years ago for that purpose.

The new company will be known as the Sanford Novelty Works, although a general line of contracting and building will be done. They expect to be able to build anything that may come up in this section in the way of building, nothing being too large and nothing too small for their attention.

These gentlemen have had years of experience in their line. Mr. Price has been a resident of Sanford and vicinity for a number of years and had charge of the novelty works of the Carter Lumber Co. while it was in operation and has since been doing a general line of contracting work. Mr. Collier was here several years ago and did a considerable amount of work on different houses in the city then under construction. Both are good mechanics and are out for business in the building line in Sanford and they will help us to build a greater Sanford.

Surprise Party

The Eagles Club greatly surprised Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hynes of French avenue last Monday evening, it being her birthday. She is a special favorite of the club and was remembered with a set of silver knives and forks and several other articles. Music and cards furnished entertainment and at a late hour the most perfect refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Houghan, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fernandez, Mr. and Mrs. G. Smith, Mrs. and Miss Hodges of South Carolina, Mr. and Miss Jackson of South Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Noel, Mrs. Gertrude Blackelder, Geo. Caratus and Robt. Rickenbecker. All voted Mr. and Mrs. Hynes the loveliest people to surprise and wished Mrs. Hynes had a birthday quite often.

Dancing School Re-Opens

Those who have enjoyed the new dancing as taught by Miss Florence Frank will be pleased to learn that she will again open her school of modern dances at the city hall Monday evening, March 23rd at 7:30 p. m. Many of the new steps, other than those taught by her former classes will be introduced. Miss Frank will also have a class in waltz and two-step, opening Wednesday evening, March 25th at 7:30 p. m.

REDMEN'S CONVENTION

State Lodge Will Hold Annual Convention here in 1915

Word was received here yesterday that the next annual meeting of the Order of Redmen of the state will hold their next annual convention in Sanford. This convention will occur on the third Tuesday in March or March 16th.

This will mean much to Sanford. Every lodge in the state will be represented by from one to three men and this will mean that special arrangements will be necessary to accommodate the crowds during the convention.

The bringing of this convention to Sanford is largely due to the efforts of H. J. Reeder, local manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co. here. Mr. Reeder holds the position of Chief Wampum of the state organization of Redmen.

East Coast President Named

With the election of W. H. Beardsley of New York, for many years associated with the late Henry M. Flagler as the latter's New York financial agent, as president of the Florida East Coast Railway and the Florida East Coast Hotel Company, the interest manifested recently as to the probable successor of the late J. R. Parrott, who succeeded Mr. Flagler as head of the great Flagler interests, is removed. At the annual meeting of the Florida East Coast Railway Company and the Florida East Coast Hotel Company held in the convocation offices Tuesday, directors and officers to serve during the ensuing year were named.

William R. Kenan, Jr., a brother of Mrs. Henry M. Flagler, one of the trustees of the Flagler estate, was named as one of the vice presidents.

The following were named directors of the Florida East Coast Railway: W. H. Beardsley, William R. Kenan, Jr., J. P. Beekwith, J. C. Salter, L. C. Haines, George W. Perkins, Dr. Andrew Anderson, J. E. Ingraham and R. W. Parsons. Officers to serve the F. E. C. Railway were named by the directors as follows: W. H. Beardsley, president; J. P. Beekwith, vice president in charge of operation; J. R. Ingraham, vice president in charge of lands and industrial enterprises; William R. Kenan, Jr., vice president; J. C. Salter, secretary; L. C. Haines, treasurer; H. S. Jenison, assistant secretary; R. W. Parsons, assistant treasurer; W. H. Chambers, comptroller.

Dr. Swartz Dead

Dr. Swartz, widely known in this life as a Lutheran theologian and a Congregational clergyman, died at Baltimore Tuesday. He was born near Strasburg, Va., and was 80 years old. Dr. Swartz was chairman of the committee which prepared the general Lutheran synod's book of worship. He affiliated with the Congregational church twenty years ago.

Wesleyan Brotherhood Class

The business men class at the Methodist Sunday school continues to increase in numbers and interest. Last Sunday morning it was an inspiring sight when thirty-five men took their places in this class and at the conclusion of the service one of the number applied for membership in the church. The laymen's missionary movement has been started in this church and will soon be thoroughly organized and working, looking towards local evangelism.

TOURISTS SHOULD ORGANIZE AGAINST SLANDERS OF TOURISTS

LAKELAND TELEGRAM HAS RIGHT DOPE ON MATTER

SOREHEADS MALIGNANT

OTHER NEWS OF THE STATE OF SUNSHINE AND SORROWS: WHERE THE BIRDS SING AND PEOPLE KICK

There ought to be an organization of the tourists in the various tourist centers of Florida so that in the case of truth and decency and their own personal interests as well they might give our formal and authoritative contradiction of the malicious and wanton falsehoods which sometimes find their way into the northern press purporting to come from respectable tourists who have been winter visitors to Florida. These fellows, nursing a ground following, personal disappointment for which Florida is in no wise responsible, go back north and relay their feelings by deliberate defamation of the state and its people; or possibly they are paid to tell lies in the interest of some rival section seeking immigration and winter visitors. There is no way to prevent degenerates from flooding the atmosphere in their immediate neighborhood with falsehoods and slanders, but when they take their lies into the public prints where they are spread broadcast and can do real damage, the anti-dote can be supplied by contradiction from reputable sources. It may seem like contradiction but it is more effective than through local town orations, and in some parts of the state we believe they have them. Here is a paragraph from the Worcester Mass. Telegram of recent date which indicates the use of such an agency as we have suggested. It was the oldest which had Florida ever had. Orange trees are named and the natives expect the orange crop will be small. It is reported on many of the sheets of water about the state, said Major J. E. Peardon, Norris house, when he arrived at the office of the Telegram yesterday afternoon direct from Florida, after a visit of three months.

Lakeland Telegram. Five thousand acres of land in the fertile Apopka section, changed, owned by W. H. Swartz, says the Orlando Sentinel the sellers being Ed. Thomas and Anton Starbird, and the purchasers being J. W. Jackson, M. M. Smith, J. H. and others. The transaction is being carried through the real estate agency of S. S. Curtis.

This is probably one of the largest deals to be consummated in this section in a long while. An interesting feature is the fact that the purchasers are all home men, and have exhibited their confidence in the future of this section by investing a trust heavily.

The land lies north of Forest City about the Clay Springs and Rock Springs sections and goes west to the Seaboard Air Line railway. It is regarded as the best of any land, and for general farming it can be extended according to the statement of those in position to know. The best of staple crops have been grown on the land, and those who eventually come into possession will be taking no chances on the adaptability of the soil.

The new owners expect to close the entire tract out in one lot, and allow others to sell it for development purposes. With this end in view the price they have made on it is one which will encourage this object.

The practical judgment of the purchasers is well known, and this adds significance to the character of the transaction. It is said that this is the largest single body of land remaining undeveloped in this section, and it is likely that there will be an instant demand for it.

The case of Wilson W. Hyles, the young man from Ocala, whose auto killed Ronald Mozo, the 5-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mozo, on Lackawanna avenue, Jacksonville last Sunday, is to be taken up at a preliminary hearing before Justice E. E. Willard at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Friends of the bereaved family say that the child was knocked about forty feet after striking the boy. The driver lost control of the machine, and it crashed into a pole. Hyles, who seems to regret the sad affair exceedingly, says he was driving at a rate of speed of between fifteen and twenty miles an hour, and that the child ran directly in front of his automobile from behind the rear of a street car from which the child had just alighted.

District No. 1 Convention

The District No. 1 Convention of the Commercial Club of Florida, this convention will meet in Sanford on April 9th and 10th. About 100 of the leading business men of this section are expected to attend. The convention will be held at the Hotel Sanford.

And This Is The Truth

Towns don't have to be built. People don't pick out the place as a residence because it is the place, but because there is something in the town, or its people which appealed to them. Towns are all built on the same plan, streets and alleys, buildings, stores. The difference is in the people. Towns are made. A self-made town is like a self-made man; it reflects the character of a lot of responsibility.

If you would have a moral town you must have moral people; if the town is to be healthful the sanitary department must be efficient; if your children are to be educated there must be a school. If you are to have a live town you must have live men. So towns are greater than its people. No more truthful words were ever written. Where in the city, which has not been built on this principle, except perhaps some few places which were specially endowed by nature in the form of natural resources such as gold, oil or coal. Let us ever remember that "Tidies make perfection, but perfection is no trifle."

MEXICO IS NOW WILLING TO TREAT WITH AMERICA

FOREIGN MINISTER ON HIS WAY TO NEGOTIATE

NOT QUITE SO CHESTY

OTHER NEWS OF THE WORLD-AT-LARGE-JAMMED TOGETHER RATHER HURRIEDLY

Washington, Mar. 20.—Officials today awaited official advices regarding the report that the Mexican foreign minister had gone to Vera Cruz to reopen negotiations with the United States through John Lind. It was understood that this government was willing to listen to any further proposals for peaceful settlement. The outcome of the fighting about Torreón is expected to have an important bearing on the situation. In the event of rebel reverses it was rumored that Carranza and Huerta would be willing to accept a compromise candidate for the presidency. There is no official confirmation of this. The Seventeenth infantry from Atlix, and four companies of the Ninth infantry from Little Rock left to join the border patrol today. Two more battalions of the Ninth infantry will leave for Fort Thomas, Ky., late today.

Forced by the increased seriousness of the financial situation in Mexico, President Huerta at last appears ready to resume negotiations with John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative which were broken off last October. Reports in the capital are true. Justo Portillo y Rojas, minister of foreign affairs has been directed to reopen the usual diplomatic exchanges with Mr. Lind, and for that purpose went to Vera Cruz yesterday, where he will meet Mr. Lind, it is thought. Every effort has been made to keep the matter a secret, and should it take place, the government could repeat the explanation already made that the Minister is taking the trip to celebrate Santa Fe day. President Huerta summoned to the National Palace six of the wealthiest Mexicans in the capital and intimated that direct financial support would be highly agreeable. They were reminded that the government had several months ago calling on owners of haciendas to equip and maintain the man for purposes of defense, never has been completed. Such compliance would mean according to the official figures, the making of 200,000,000 pesos. It is estimated that there are 52,000 haciendas, and a larger number within Federal jurisdiction.

Preliminary skirmishes on the Panama toll controversy will occupy the senate today as the result of an effort made yesterday by Senator Jones of Washington to have passed his resolution ending upon President Wilson for the restoration of the Panama toll. The resolution has been passed by the senate.

President Lugo called the Commercial Club together last night with less than fifty present and on account of very important meeting to come before the club regarding entertainment of the Moving Picture Men of Florida, a new effort was made to discuss the election of officers was postponed until the first Tuesday in April which will be the 7th of that month. At this time there will be a big rally, amok and general get-together meeting, and some vital questions affecting the city will be discussed.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETS

And Please Big Things for Monster Meeting in April. President Lugo called the Commercial Club together last night with less than fifty present and on account of very important meeting to come before the club regarding entertainment of the Moving Picture Men of Florida, a new effort was made to discuss the election of officers was postponed until the first Tuesday in April which will be the 7th of that month. At this time there will be a big rally, amok and general get-together meeting, and some vital questions affecting the city will be discussed.

A committee was appointed by the president as an entertainment committee to look after the Florida Association of Moving Picture Men that will meet here in April and several other matters were discussed before adjournment.

The big meeting in April will be well attended and every member is urged to bring another one with him, for Sanford has been beset by opposition so much as to the time. There is more money coming in from the crops than ever before and the time to make improvement is right now and it is hoped that all of the growers of the valley will be present at the meeting in April, as well as the townspeople, for the Commercial Club is for the people of the whole county.

The Fest orchestra is fine. Be sure to hear it.

Steele, George F. Baker and George F. Baer. By virtue of its monopoly, the complaint declares, the Lehigh has prevented the building of any new railroad into the anthracite region served by it and has kept the independent producers under the disadvantage of having to ship over a railroad also engaged in the coal business.

Child a Party

On Tuesday afternoon, Miss Rebecca Stevens, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Stevens entertained delightfully a large number of children at a St. Patrick's Day party, given in honor of her cousin, Millicent and Anne Ringdorf, who have spent two months here and are about to leave for their northern home.

The house was beautifully decorated, the whole color scheme being faithfully carried out in green and white down to the last detail. Green flags were used for the room decorations, while fragrant flowers were everywhere, including bouquets of orange blossoms. The dining room was profusely decorated with small green flags. The dining table had as its centerpiece a huge bowl of fragrant white lilies and green leaves. At each end was a large green flag decorated with the golden harp of Ireland, and the favors for the children, at each place carried out the same idea. A white package of candy with a small green flag standing upright. This table was surrounded by happy, eager children, all dressed in pretty summer dresses and bright gay ribbons and a beautiful sight, and resembled nothing so much as a garden of flowers. The menu consisted of such good things as potato chips, rolled sandwiches tied with green various cakes and candies, all in green and white, and lemon sherbet.

The smaller children were amused with games and stories, while among the older ones remained quiet games were given, as well as games. A spelling match resulted in victory for Miss Anne Mason, who won first prize. Those present were: Ethel Henry, Florence Henry, Ruth Henry, Elizabeth Steinmeyer, Corinne Steinmeyer, Beryl Steinmeyer, Mildred and May Holly, Mary Elizabeth and Camilla Puleston, Serita and Maud Laid, Margaret Neal, Norma Hayden, Millicent and Anne Ringdorf, Julia Laid, Helen Peck, Charlotte Strayer, Helen Keimig, Jean Maxwell, Clifford-Louise Shinnover, Dorothy Ray, Dorothy Burgh, Gladys Wilson, Gladys Ingold, Anna Mason, Rebecca Stevens.

Those who assisted Mrs. Stevens in receiving, entertaining and serving her young guests were Mrs. Neal, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Moses, Mrs. Lilia and Mrs. Ringdorf. The children went home with many pleasant words of thanks to their hostess for the delightful afternoon they had enjoyed.
