TESTIMONY IS NOW DISOWNED BY MORTIMER

Grilling Cross-Examination Writings From Chief Witness in Conspiracy Trial Flat Denial of Early Statements

Marks Fourth Day On Witness Stand

Admits Early Testimony Was Influenced by His Hostility Toward Col. Charles Forbes

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—An intense fire of cross-examination by defense counsel Thursday wrung from Elias H. Mortimer, the government's principal witness in the Veterans Bureau conspiracy trial, flat repudiation of portions of Mortimer's story to the senate committee which involved the bureau in 1923.

Mortimer on the stand for the fourth day of cross-examination in the trial of Charles R. Forbes, former director of the Veterans Bureau and J. W. Thompson, building contractor, for conspiracy to defraud the government through hospital contracts, answered affirmatively a question as to whether his testimony before the senate committee out of which eventually came the indictments in the present trial, had been motivated by a "hostility toward Forbes."

"Didn't you say before the senate investigating committee that you would never have made the story public if you could have effected a reconciliation with your wife?" asked Randolph Laughlin, attorney for Thompson.

"That is right," Mortimer replied.

"Would you have denied everything you have told about Colonel Forbes if you had effected such a reconciliation?"

"Yes," said the witness, "but I would not have committed perjury."

"Mrs. Mortimer begged me not to go before the committee to testify against Forbes," Mortimer said at one point in his cross-examination.

He told of an effort by Mrs. Mortimer to bring Forbes and her husband together in the home of Mortimer's father-in-law in Philadelphia shortly before Mortimer appeared before the senate committee in October, 1923.

"If I go into that room only one of us will come out," the witness said he replied to his wife.

He denied he ever had told his father-in-law that he would "get Forbes even at the cost of swearing himself into jail."

Questioned for details of a trip he made with Thompson and the latter's partner, James W. Black, to the site of the Northampton, Continued on page 8.

57 Years of Married Life Have Brought Many Varied Experiences to Couple Here

FEAR FOUL PLAY BACK OF MISSING MAITLAND YOUTH

Cries Heard in Orlando Near Lake Lucerne May Have Been From Frank E. Rice Missing Since Saturday

ORLANDO, Dec. 12.—Reports of the mysterious disappearance of a young man on the shore of Lake Lucerne early Sunday morning, after his cries for assistance had been heard by several prominent residents of Lucerne circle, appear to have been based on facts, as the result of an investigation conducted by the Orlando police department.

Parents of Frank E. Rice, popular young man of Maitland, reported to the Orlando police Thursday that their son had been missing from home since Saturday night. They said that there had been no trouble at home and that their son had left in a happy frame of mind, intending to visit Lakeside Park. They have not seen nor heard from him since, and fear that the cries heard by residents in the vicinity of Lake Lucerne came from their son, who has been the victim of foul play and that his body still rests at the bottom of the lake or he has been murdered and the body carried away. Another supposition is that he may have been kidnapped and has been threatened by his abductors with bodily harm in case he returns home.

The police are inclined to scout the theory that the young man was murdered and his body thrown into Lake Lucerne. They say they dragged the lake and found no body or other evidence of suicide or foul play. The movements of the young man were traced from Lake side Park where he spent Saturday evening to Lake Lucerne, the police say, where he alighted from an automobile, the owner of which had given him a ride into the city.

The problem confronting the police is what happened to Rice following his cries for assistance on the shore of Lake Lucerne, about 1 o'clock Sunday morning. His movements after that are veiled in mystery. If not murdered and his body thrown into the lake was he thrown into an automobile, garaged and carried out of the city, or is he a prisoner of his captors or captors in some secluded house in Orlando?

Following is a description of the young man furnished by his parents and printed on postal cards that have been sent by the Orlando police department to the police in other cities:

"Missing—Frank E. Rice, age 20, went missing about 12:30 p. m., Dec. 11, 1924. He is 5 feet 9 inches; hair dark brown; dark brown eyes. Has two upper front teeth out. Two small scars near the left eyebrow. Wore light tan sweater, dark blue trousers, gray cap, white shirt and black tie, tan shoes and hose. Notify the Orlando Police Department."

Mrs. Edwards' Death Clothed in Mystery

BIRMINGHAM, Dec. 12.—In seemingly perfect health and apparently normal, the actions of Dr. Geo. T. Edwards as admittedly shown by official observation are believed Friday to have shrouded the death of Mrs. Edwards in deeper mystery than that which has baffled the investigators at every turn. The physician was last night transferred back to the branch jail at Bessemer.

YOUNG SHOWS WORKINGS OF DAWES' PLAN

Assistant to Dawes in Drawing Up Plan Declares It Is Non-Military, Non-Political and Designed to Bring Peace

Would Fix Limit Of Burden of Taxation

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Owen D. Young, in his first public speech since his return from Europe on Nov. 20, Thursday gave a version of the Dawes plan at a testimonial dinner rendered him by the business men of New York at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. Mr. Young who was associated with Charles G. Dawes, now vice president-elect, in the convention and drawing up of the Dawes plan of reparations payments for Europe and later an interim agent-general of reparations payments, said the Dawes plan itself was a non-political, non-military plan which sought to fix the limit of the burden of taxation for debt paying purposes which Germany should be asked to impose upon her industries and which would be reasonably commensurate with the taxation which her neighbors had to impose upon their industries and their people in order to pay their war debts.

In this connection Mr. Young quoted Geo. Dawes' letter of transmittal:

"More than this limit could not be expected and less than this would relieve Germany from the common hardship and give her an unfair advantage in the industrial competition of the future."

Mr. Young said that the Dawes committee, some one has to stand up and take the garbage or the garbage. Let me say that when the name Dawes became attached to the committee it looked as if the bonanzas would be all of the backdoor variety."

Mr. Young said great credit should be given to the great banking firms which have aided in the execution of the plan through advances to Germany, both on public and private credits. These advances should continue in such a manner as to be of benefit to the world.

In the meantime, the city engineer is engaged in compiling estimates for the work on the west side.

Taps Sound For Boy Scout Who Dies At Enterprise Doing His Good Turn

ENTERPRISE, Dec. 12.—Taps sounded for Eagle Scout Fred Todd, age 15, at Enterprise, Thursday, the first Scout to die in Central Florida county. He died of a heart attack at Enterprise, Dec. 2, at the age of 15. He was doing his day's good turn by helping to remove a stump of a pine tree which had been cut down when the windless, held by a scout comrade, slipped, the handle striking Todd between the eyes. He was taken to DeLand for treatment, his wound dressed and he was told to stay in bed for a few days. Tuesday evening his condition became alarming and a physician was called, but it was too late—he died early Wednesday morning.

The body was taken to Enterprise where services were held in the new auditorium of the Enterprise Orphanage, the Rev. H. R. Williamson, a visiting Methodist pastor, of New York, officiating. Ceremonies were in charge of the Boy Scouts.

Senator Fletcher May Come With Party to Consider Proposed Canal From Mt. Johns To Indian River

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made of the itinerary of the board of engineers for rivers and harbors for inspection of Florida water transportation projects. Instead of leaving Washington on the night of Jan. 11, the board will leave Jan. 10, it was further announced in a communication received here.

Senator Duncan A. Fletcher will probably accompany the party. He recently visited the points which the board of engineers propose to inspect. Senator Fletcher would also like to have the board visit every other place in Florida interested in the development of water transportation, it is declared, but indications are that the board will not be able to spare the time.

Col. Gilbert Youngberg, district engineer, has been requested to arrange the details of the inspection at each place within the time fixed by the board. They party will leave San Francisco Saturday, Jan. 19.

Similarity in Names Brings Notoriety To Resident of Sanford

Similarity of names coupled with the substitution of a "G" for "B" in the report of the Sanford Credit Association, has brought Charlie Britt no little amount of notoriety to say nothing of feigned embarrassment, during the past few days. The cause of Mr. Britt's mental anguish is described as follows:

There is said to be one of ebony hue, Charles Gritt by name, who was hailed in justice of peace court Wednesday to face a charge of assault and battery. He was fined $30 or in lieu thereof to serve 45 days on the county roads. The credit association report gave the name as Charlie Britt with a "G" partly covering the "B". Immediately upon the issuance of this report, Mr. Britt's troubles began.

Declares Only Way to Raise Postal Pay Is to Increase Postal Rates; Not in Letters

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Postmaster General New will advise Congress that the way to raise enough revenue to meet proposed increase in postal pay is to increase the rates on practically all classes of postal service except letter mail.

Newspaper Rates Would be Raised

Such increases would involve more postage on newspapers and periodicals, a subject of many heated fights in Congress through many administrations, and also would be distributed throughout the fabric of the postal service, so that under the plan, they would be absorbed by the public generally.

At the request of the Senate Post Office Committee, the Postmaster General is about to conduct a survey showing how the additional revenue may be brought in, and this week he will discuss it with President Coolidge. Soon thereafter it probably will find its way to Congress, probably in the form of a proposed bill, for consideration if Congress decides to override President Coolidge's veto of the bill passed at the last session increasing the salaries of postal employees.

In the Senate Thursday, a futile attempt was made to obtain an agreement to postpone until February a vote on re-passing the vetoed bill. It had already been re-passed over the veto in the House.

Senator Edge, Republican, of New Jersey, in charge of the bill, explained that the delay was sought in order to give time for consideration of increasing how the deficit in the postal service is to be met. Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, objected and Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, declared that if he wanted to have the President's veto sustained he would like nothing better than to have the vote connected with a proposal to increase the mailing rates on newspapers.

"You will then have every newspaper in the country, or practically all of them, here fighting the proposition to override the veto," said he.

Senator Edge told the Senate he considered the increase bill "fair and justified," but that every means should be taken to meet a substantial deficit in the postal service, third and fourth class mail. Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, wanted to know how Senator Edge and Curtis would vote on increasing the rates on newspapers. Senator Curtis, the Republican leader, replied he would meet the issue when it came before the Senate. Senator Couzens, objecting to the postponement of action, said he wanted to see the newspaper and periodical rates increased. Senator Reed argued that the proposals should be treated separately.

"We have recently had an example of the highly refractory employees against those who disabuse the wishes of the President," said the Missouri Senator.

Similarity of names coupled with the substitution of a "G" for "B" in the report of the Sanford Credit Association, has brought Charlie Britt no little amount of notoriety to say nothing of feigned embarrassment, during the past few days. The cause of Mr. Britt's mental anguish is described as follows:

He was fined $30 or in lieu thereof to serve 45 days on the county roads. The credit association report gave the name as Charlie Britt with a "G" partly covering the "B". Immediately upon the issuance of this report, Mr. Britt's troubles began.

A reporter, sensing a "big" story, sought an interview with the alleged defendant. Asked about the other party in the assault case, Mr. Britt smilingly referred the newspaperman to the hospital for further information and disclosed the fact that he had decided to accept the judge's invitation to become a member of Seminole county's select laborers.

Surveyors Looking For Metals And Oil Face Many Dangers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.— Details of hazardous expeditions into uncharted wastes of northern Alaska and into western American canyons off beaten trails in quest of oil and mineral deposits, and for mapping purposes, form interesting chapters of the Geological Survey director's annual report, made public today.

Geological surveys were conducted during the year by field workers in 44 states and Alaska, while at the same time 21,000 square miles were covered by topographic surveys in various parts of the United States, Alaska and Hawaii. Other duties performed included compilation of air-route maps of more than 100,000 square miles for the army air service, the classification of many millions acres of land as to their mineral or non-mineral character, and the gauging of 1,700 streams to ascertain their value for power, irrigation and other purposes.

Praise is given the skill and daring of engineers who finished a 12-year task when they completed instrumental surveys of the Colorado River. This Colorado Canyon expedition mapped 253 miles of canyons and examined 22 possible dam sites during the year. The survey is preliminary to perfection of plans for full utilization of natural resources in a region where water gives value to land.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has even been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation. Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

Chinese Farmer Already Taxed To The Limit, Is Called Upon To Bear Expenses of Punative Expedition

PAOTINGFU, Chihli, China, Dec. 12.—That the Chinese farmer, already taxed to the limit of his ability to pay, is to be called upon to bear the burden of the present punitive expedition, is the conclusion reached upon a survey which analyzes the present situation in North China. Glorious schools suggest that educational funds are being diverted from rural schools to being seized, and even tax on food industries being "borrowed" to suit the war coffers, but it is plain to be seen that the farmers, who constitute three-fourths of the population, will be made to provide the bulk of the necessary revenue.

Nor is it true, for example, that the warlords are being forced to contribute, and it is notable that the partition of the private citizen does not prompt him to support the cause of the central government. The warlords are, therefore, driven to invest, and they invest one more atrocity.

It is always by the closing of markets, interruption of communications, and pillaging by soldiers, the farmer is the sufferer. This year his crops have been ruined. He has been hoping for a little relief from the government, perhaps a job on a dyke financed by the flood relief surtaxes. But the taxes go for the war, and the farmer, when he is least able to do so, is called to support it as never before.

The warlord's first move was a greedy one. He proposed to buy crops, but for those he set his own price which was about half the market price. As the crops came in, they were sold to the officials, to produce a certain amount. Military pressure on the official, official pressure on the farmer, and the work was done.

The warlord needed carts, thou-

Englishmen Prefer Bicycles to Autos

LONDON, Dec. 12.—The automobile has not yet replaced bicycles in Great Britain, not by a long shot. There are 6,000,000 of the latter in use in this country, and less than 1,000,000 motor cars. Motor-cycles, which are much more popular than in the United States, number 500,000.

The ministry of transport, in making public these statistics, noted that the British are doing a great export business with bicycles and motor cycles with the American manufacturers, who once led the British in this trade.

In 1922, according to British records, Great Britain exported 7,270 motor cycles while America was sending out 16,000. But the latest figures show 20,000 machines exported from Great Britain and only 9,700 from the United States.

Model Home Will Aid Entrants In Contest

A misunderstanding caused The Herald to publish in Thursday's issue the announcement that a prize of $25 is to be offered for the most appropriate name for Sanford's new model home now under construction. Elton J. Moughton, architect for the model home, in correcting the statement says:

"It has been suggested that inasmuch as the Florida Lumber Dealers Association is giving a prize of $250 for the best name for Florida houses, that watching the development of the design of the Sanford model home might serve as an inspiration to someone for an appropriate name for the small Florida houses. The model home being erected here is in no way connected with the prize given by the Florida Lumber Dealers Association."

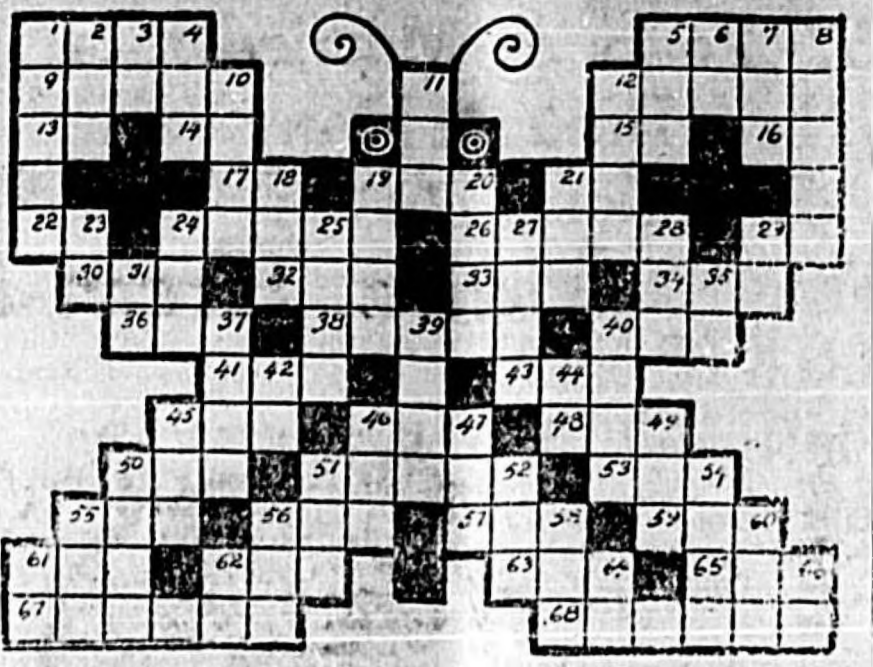

Canadians Doing Well Selling Canned Fruits

WINNIPEG, Dec. 12.—Canada has increased its exports of canned fruit and vegetables nearly four times in volume since 1922, according to a bulletin issued by the federal department of agriculture. Shipments in 1924 have totaled 16,605,115 pounds, valued at $1,197,450, compared with 4,475,497 pounds, worth $321,025, two years ago.

PUDDINGS—HOT AND COLD

By HELEN H. DOWNING

One doesn't mind staying a little longer in the kitchen to prepare some special dishes these days while the weather is cool and we have had a rest from the kitchen during the warm summer days. In fact, unless the heat is on in your home, your children are, without doubt, just like all others—simply starved when they come in from school. Are you really successful in keeping them from spoiling their dinner by eating a lot of sweets? Fruits are so much better to stay that appetite without entirely removing the keen edge which should be held over until the dinner or supper time.

When these little boys and girls are at the table, and when all are served the same foods, and possibly a dear grand-mother or great-aunt who does not eat as heartily as the rest, it is sometimes quite a problem to plan something a little more suitable to their age.

For such weather as we usually have in the Fall and Winter months, puddings, hot and cold, are not only appropriate but adapted to all ages, especially to the favorites. Two really good ones are the old and young, and the custards of various kinds, and the fruit or plain gelatin puddings, and the soups, hot or cold.

There are some people who cannot stand to bake a custard without the addition of water, but the secret of success in making a custard is in the measurements. Custards baked in a shell, a custard pie, or a favorite dessert almost everywhere. A baked custard or chocolate custard pudding, or possibly a plum pudding or date custard, is the best.

It is true, custards seem to be such a stumbling block to many women, but by taking either to a written recipe or by measuring ingredients or too high an oven temperature during baking.

It is true, some have a notion that one should use a cup of milk in the correct proportion to the custard, but this is not the case. Six eggs to one quart of milk are necessary to make a large custard. The other ingredients—the vanilla and flavoring—are a matter of taste and may be used according to preference. Although too much sugar may cause the custard to become watery.

There are several jelly puddings or custard preparations on the market that may be used with great economy in the making of jellies and custards, made of sugar and gelatin, colored and flavored with pure fruit flavors. Some require only boiling water added, while others are unadorned and need to be first soaked with cold water and soaked before the hot water is added, then stirred and sweetening are added. Fruits or nuts may be added to any variety.

For the custards, are old-fashioned rice puddings, made of milk, with raisins and sugar, and slowly and stirred gently, is a very good pudding. A steamed fruit pudding, with a creamy sauce, is popular too, as well as a fresh peach or apple dumpling, when the fruit is in season.

Another the Steamed Chocolate Pudding recipe given below, try it. It is a very good pudding, and the sweet potatoes are now plentiful in the markets, and it makes an excellent main dish at luncheon, or an accompaniment with meat at dinner.

Steamed Chocolate Pudding
1/2 cup sugar; 1/2 level teaspoon salt; 6 tablespoons melted butter; 1/2 cup chocolate; 2 eggs; 1/2 cup

Are Given To Florida Farmers College Agriculture Department

SEVILLE, Fla., Dec. 12.—Florida are receiving brief recommendations from the College of Agriculture of the University of Florida, as suggested by the department.

It is not recommended that a farmer plant corn crop by itself. A library of corn to supply his needs has its legitimate place in a system of farming. Plant corn on well-land and fertilize it well. Between the rows should be cowpeas or velvet beans.

Potatoes: This is a crop not being properly appreciated in the South, nor in the West. With good management, no reason why sweet potatoes should not become a money crop. Certainly farmers are growing sweet potatoes in food and feed crop.

and Velvet Beans: These are profitable crops and especially so in the South. As a hog and cow feed, the bean has a big point. The peanut is possibly the best fattening feed. As soil-improvers these are almost essential to the rotation system in the South.

Gardens: Special attention should be given to the home garden. The land should be prepared and highly fertilized with farm manure. Plant-

Noted Minister Has Praise For Georgia Mount Berry, Ga.

MOUNT BERRY, Ga., Dec. 12.—Dr. Warren H. Wilson, of New York, delegate to the meeting of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, held in Atlanta, has just paid a visit to the Berry Schools.

"I have known of the Berry schools for 15 years," said Dr. Wilson in speaking of the nationally known industrial institution for country boys and girls. "But I am amazed at the extent, investment and elaboration of the plant which I see on visiting them."

"My chief impressions are: First the cleanliness, candor and interest of the boys and girls; second, the cultural perfection of the whole school community, the good manners, beautiful buildings and the dominance of high ideals; third, the schools are character forming. They carry a boy or girl, from early years to early manhood and womanhood. There is, I think, nothing like Berry School in America. They are the poor boy's Grotto school."

Dr. Wilson is superintendent of the Department of Church and Country Life for the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Churches in the United States. He has held pastorates of churches in Brooklyn and other large cities and is a lecturer and writer of international fame.

at Shortage In Russia Constructs Military Road To City Valdikavkaz

VLADIKAVKAZ, Caucasus, Dec. 12.—Soviet engineers have begun important reconstruction work on the great Georgian military highway which runs from Vladikavkaz to Tiflis and connects Russia with the Caucasian states. Begun more than 100 years ago by czarist engineers, the road, which runs a distance of 150 miles through the steep Caucasian Mountains, is now in a bad state of repair and will require millions of dollars for its reconstruction.

As an engineering achievement, the highway probably exceeds any similar project in Europe. It took 30 years to build it and it cost $35,000,000. It has figured conspicuously in all the wars in Russia throughout the last century. Throughout its entire course, the traveler finds an unending panorama of superb mountain scenery, gorges, rivers, lakes, glaciers, ruins, waterfalls, ancient fortresses and castles.

There are several huge glacier fields close to the highway, which from time to time cause dangerous landslides, frequently resulting in the loss of life. Recently a prominent Russian engineer was caught in one of these avalanches and swept to death. His body was never recovered. Soviet contractors are now replacing many of the gigantic wooden, steel and concrete walls and barriers which protect the road from snowslides but which have become rotted from years of use.

And Advertise Sanford Some More

Cocoa is making great preparations for the "Indian River Orange Festival" to be held January 29 and 30. Cordial invitations are extended to all the rest of Florida to come and assist in making the occasion memorable.

And, not to be greedy at all but as a matter of "good business," cannot Sanford secure a booth in Cocoa for the festival days, dress it up to creditably represent the City Substantial, and have competent representatives there to give out information regarding the attractions and the opportunities to be found in Seminole county?

In every town festival and celebration which brings together a crowd of desirable people, Sanford should be "among those present" with invitations for those desirable people to come and see this city and its surrounding country.

Advertising, all kinds of effective advertising, should be devised for Sanford. Now is the time to take advantage of the new interest in Florida. Thousands of people are on their way to Florida to investigate investment opportunities.

But most of these strangers are going to the places that have taken the trouble to furnish information to prospective investors and visitors.

From the fine advertising schedule for Sanford in northern newspapers satisfactory results may be confidently expected. Other Florida cities have derived great benefits from similar advertising.

In Cocoa, and in every Florida city, where crowds are attracted by high class entertainment, Sanford will do well to be on hand to distribute Come-To-Sanford invitations.

"Tale-Bearers" Sometimes Are Heroes

It is quite likely "the better part of discretion," if not "the better part of valor," but don't you rather hate yourself, when under the assumption that it is none of your business, you have let a wrong go uncorrected or watched a gullible fool put confidence in a crook who is waiting to stab him in the back?

"Tale-bearers" are supposed to be despicable. The person who seems to go through life making uncomfortable moments, and often serious trouble, for others by means of the unpleasant gossip he retails is certain to be a craven and a cur.

At the risk of offending a friend so deeply you will lose his friendship forever, do you dare tell him what he ought to know for the sake of his own happiness afterwards? Do you dare repeat to him things you know he will not believe, and for whose telling he will blame you? Or do you always "play safe" so far as your own rating with your friend is concerned, regardless of what dangers may encompass him?

The Herald is thinking of a family that harbors a viper in its bosom. The viper in the guise of a young boy, a decidedly clever boy, too, manufactures lies, some for the mere entertainment of the family, some for the sinister business of breaking down other friendships which may interfere with his purposes.

It has long been a custom to point shame to the boy or girl at school who carries tales. Undoubtedly it is good training for boys and girls to feel the contempt of school-mates for a "tattle-tale," but silence when truth should be told is not always the sign of manliness or womanliness.

THE LURE OF JOURNALISM

There is, perhaps, no profession so perplexing to others as the journalistic profession. The newspaper man is constantly meeting the question: "Why do you remain in the newspaper business?"

And then there is another lure, in no other profession or vocation has one such entree into the most exclusive circles and channels; in no other does one meet the ablest minds and rub shoulders with the door of big things.

CO-OPERATIVE ADVERTISING

Some merchants are as yet skeptical about the value of co-operative advertising. For example—when the last Good Will Tour for Waycross was being promoted there were some who said this type of advertising does no good.

As Brisbane Sees It

His Majesty Speaks. We Work for Each Other. Even the Moon Works. Eastman and Duke Give.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1924)

THE KING of England opens "his" parliament in which he has as little real power as one of the Hopi papooses.

THE WORDS put in the King's mouth tell of England's determination to go ahead with the great naval base at Singapore.

BRITAIN'S KING expresses the British decision of the recent election, saying he will not ask Parliament to consider treaties with Russia.

THAT'S COMMON SENSE. "Whatever else you do, DON'T INTERFERE WITH BUSINESS" is the motto.

ONE DISPATCH tells that James B. Duke, who has made millions in many enterprises, is giving an enormous fortune to education and charity; tens of millions.

THAT "WHOLESALE altruism," fortunately for this nation, increases here every day.

The pioneers that struggled across this continent, seeking out paths over the mountains, fighting for life as they came, thought they were coming here to find gold for themselves.

IF THE MOON thinks at all, as she sails in silver majesty through this dark blue sky of evening, she probably thinks that she travels around the earth for her own delight.

POWERFUL MEN who give money in millions, tens of millions, even hundreds of millions—Eastman, Duke, Carnegie, Rockefeller, Baker—perhaps don't realize that when they give money they make their least important gifts to the people.

WHEN JOHN D. Rockefeller established the fact that competition is wasteful and that organization on a big scale means economy and efficiency, he rendered a greater service to the people than in giving all his hundreds of millions.

When Mr. Eastman educated the traveling world to keep a record of things seen and made it easy and inexpensive for mothers to keep a record of their children's growth, at the same time employing well-paid thousands and

PAPA'S LITTLE MAN IS IN FOR A MESSING UP

DEMOCRACY'S OUTLOOK

It is pleasing to find that so close an observer of politics and one so shrewd in analyzing things political as is John Temple Graves agrees entirely with us as to democracy's outlook and concerning some of the vital needs of the party.

The funeral dirges for the democratic party which were lately sung with touching sentiment and unimpeachable sagacity by the savants of the republican party are done.

Two evidences of this will to live are the courage of the McAdoo and Smith team with 1928 in view and the efforts of certain old-line democrats to read liberalism and democracy out of the party on the theory that conservatism has been proven the talisman for all political success in latter-day America.

In other words, the proof that the democratic party still lives is its present tendency to go wrong. Can a ghost laugh and shake its gaunt sides? Or make animated mistakes? In order to commit suicide it is necessary to be alive for present post-election philosophy and politics of the democratic party a little while in advance at least.

It is my sober opinion that the indications indicate life—and imminent suicide. They must be forsaken or the party itself will be forsaken by the electorate.

In the first place, in all the history of this nation since the Civil War the republican party and not the democratic has been identified with that emphasis on property rights as against human rights that belied in the ability and integrity of the few to govern the many.

A discriminating use of words in our conversation is not generally considered a national trait of Americans. Slung and profanity in all too frequent practice have made us targets for criticism not only among ourselves but in camps and rotors of our neighbor nations.

"Show Down" in Controversy
Between Ban Johnson and Landis Will Take Place at
Meet in Chicago Wednesday;
Change Meeting Place
Because of Many Objections

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The last scene in the 1924 drama centering about baseball's governing forces will be enacted at Chicago next Wednesday when Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis will preside over a joint major league meeting which is expected to produce a final "show down" in his war with Ban Johnson, president of the American league.

The decision to shift the meeting to Chicago was reached Thursday afternoon by major league club owners, who compromised on the date for their adjourned session after National League men had sought to arrange the gathering for this Saturday while majority of American League magnates held out for a postponement until late in January.

National League men it was understood, insisted upon an early date for the meeting with Landis because of a desire to press the advantage conceded to have been gained by commissioner's supporters in obtaining endorsement from both leagues at their annual meetings within the past few days. American Leagues, on the other hand, in an effort to strengthen the hand of Johnson, were said to desire further time to solidify their ranks. Both sides finally consented to next week's date after agreement had been reached by telephone with Landis at Rochester, Minn., where the commissioner has been kept by the illness of his wife.

Credited with a signal victory over Johnson in the outcome of the three days of major league deliberations here, Commissioner Landis was considered to be solidly entrenched for the final action next week, but there were strong indications that club owners, particularly in American league ranks would seek a compromise that would settle the feud between the two warring officials.

The first move in this direction will be made by the special committee appointed by the American league Wednesday to confer with Landis in an attempt to bring about "full harmony." Col. Jacob Ruppert, president of the New York Yankees and spokesman for this committee, announced its members intended to meet Landis early next Wednesday at Chicago in an effort to pave the way for peace at the joint general sessions. E. S. Barnard of Cleveland and Thomas Shibe, of Philadelphia, are the other members of the committee.

Johnson who attended the meeting Thursday, as did President Heydler of the National League, refused to break the silence he had maintained since his arrival. His friends, however, said he had accepted the rebuke of his own club-owners Wednesday without outward show of bitterness. They predicted he would make no move to obstruct the attempts to restore tranquility to major league ranks.

Coveleskie Traded To Washington By Cleveland Indians

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Two important deals, in both of which the world's champion Washington Senators figured, emerged from a maze of negotiations Thursday, marking the final gathering of the baseball clans here.

The Senators obtained Stanley Coveleskie, veteran Cleveland pitcher, and strengthened their infield reserve forces by getting Mike McNally, utility man, traded only Wednesday to Boston by the New York Yankees for Howard Shanks.

Washington gave J. T. Prothro, third baseman, called back last season from Memphis, in exchange for McNally, while Cleveland gets Byron Speweck, submarine ball pitcher, and Caldwell, outfielder, farmed to Memphis last season for Coveleskie.

Prothro, a 300 hitter, will play regularly at third for the Red Sox, according to Bob Quinn, president of the club. McNally will give the Senators an understudy for third base and shortstop, where reinforcements badly were needed during the world's series.

Progress was made by the Yankees in their efforts to obtain Urban Shocker, veteran spitball pitcher, and it was reported two St. Louis and three Yankee players would figure in the deal now Joe Lush or Bob Shawkey going under consideration with either the Browns.

According to Miller Huggins, nothing definite will be done for several days.

Efforts of Cincinnati to obtain Bill Terry, first baseman, from the Giants, were declared off when the Giants refused to take Adolfo.

STETSON SQUAD PICKS LAYTON AS GRID LEADER

Miami Boy Who Has Played
End Position for Two Years to Lead DeLand 1925 Team

DELAND, Dec. 12.—Voting by secret ballots which were opened immediately, members of the varsity squad, who made letters playing with the Stetson University football team this year recorded their choice for the captaincy of the 1925-26 eleven for Stetson, Lloyd Layton of Miami who was chosen for this place by a vote which showed the general respect for his ability.

Layton has been playing the end position for the eleven for two years, making an excellent record in all games. His election to this position on the team for the next season does not come as a surprise for the Stetson students as they confidently expected to see this young man honored with this high place in school athletics.

When the football season opened this year, Layton immediately became one of the most popular boys on the Stetson team and all year played a very consistent and brilliant game. All of the players on the team are well-pleased with the choice of the letter men and are looking forward with much interest to seeing this fellow get back into the game next year and lead Stetson through another successful varsity year.

Layton, besides being one of the best football men on the team, is also one of the most popular boys on the entire campus. He is one of the officers of Pi Kappa Phi social fraternity.

Coach McQuillan and Manager Kerfoot Bryant have announced the letter men for the team. They include Henry Callahan, quarterback who never was out of the game; Bahli and Herardi, fullbacks; Moore, Stuart, Courtney, Covington, half backs; Layton and Freeman, ends; Larkin, Snyder, Martin and Geiger, tackles; Sibly, and Tribble, guards; Captain Cunby, center.

It is thought that almost all of those fellows will return to Stetson next year and with these as a nucleus for a team, Stetson will probably have a great machine next year. All of the fellows named above have played a large part of every game this season. Outside of the backfield, Coach McQuillan did not substitute much during the entire season. He used his best men and let them play the entire game.

AMERICAN GOLF PLAYERS MEET ENGLISH STARS

Hagen and Sarazen To Play
Duncan and Mitchell Saturday at Ancient City

ST. AUGUSTINE, Dec. 12.—The climax to the greatest season in the history of American golf will be capped here Saturday, with the playing of an international 36-hole match between the great professionals in this country and Great Britain. This means that the match will be between the four greatest pros in the world. The principals will be Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen, representing Uncle Sam, and Abe Mitchell and George Duncan, upholding the golf glory of Johnny Bull.

The big match will draw the attention of the entire golf world to St. Augustine, inasmuch as this is the outstanding contest of an outstanding year in the links game. The competitive element in this struggle is heightened by the fact that the American players will be out to avenge a defeat they suffered at the hands of these same Britains two years ago. This country's leading home bred men to avenge that setback, for that was the only time they have ever been beaten as a team.

Hagen is the present British open and American professional champion, while Sarazen, formerly held the U. S. open and professional titles. Duncan was British champion in 1920, while Mitchell has long been regarded as one of England's greatest golfers. He is acknowledged to be the longest driver in the game.

The match will mark the final appearance of the British stars in Florida on their tour of the states, for they leave for California immediately after the match here Saturday. Jacksonville golf followers—and they are legion—will flock to the famous St. Augustine links to see the pitched battle, for that gateway to Florida is only 30 miles from St. Augustine.

The big match will serve to open the winter golf season at this resort, which already has arranged a pretentious golf schedule for the coming months, while golf will be the featured attraction here, swimming and tennis also will play a prominent part in the sports activities here. The national indoor swimming championships for women will be here Feb. 10 to 13, inclusive.

VIRGINIA COLLEGE ADOPTS CODE OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP

Set of Fourteen Rules Drawn As Ideal Creed for Citizen Is Adopted by Students All Classes at Marshall-Wythe

—WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Dec. 12.—Attention has been drawn to a citizenship creed recently adopted by the classes in Virginia government and citizenship of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship of the College of William and Mary. The college authorities say many applications have been received asking for copies of the creed. Here it is:

I. "To acquaint myself with those fundamental principles embodied in our constitutions and laws which experience has shown are essential to the preservation of our liberties and the promotion of good government, and to defend these principles against all attacks."

II. "To inform myself on all public issues, and on the character, record and platform of all candidates for office, and to exert actively my influence in favor of men and measures in which I believe."

III. "To vote in every election, primary and general, never using my vote for personal or private ends, but only for the public good, placing the welfare of my country above that of my party, if the interests of the two should ever conflict."

IV. "To connect myself with the political party which most nearly represents my views on public questions, and to exert my influence within the party to bring about the nomination of good men for office and the enforcement of measures for the public weal."

V. "To have the courage to perform my duties as a citizen regardless of the effect upon me financially or socially, remembering that a cowardly citizen is as useless to his country in time of peace as a cowardly soldier is in time of war."

VI. "To stand for honest election laws impartially administered."

VII. "To obey all laws whether I deem them wise or not, and to uphold the officers in the enforcement of the law."

VIII. "To make full and honest returns of all my property and income for taxation."

IX. "To be ever ready to serve my country in war, air in peace, especially in such inconspicuous capacities as juror and election official."

X. "To acquaint myself with the functions of the various departments of my government and to spread the knowledge of the same among my fellow citizens in order that they may enjoy to the fullest extent the advantages offered by the government, and may more fully realize the government as a means of service to the people."

XI. "To encourage good men to enter public service and remain therein by commending the faithful performance of their duties and by refraining from criticism except such as is founded on a knowledge of facts."

XII. "To seek to promote good feeling between all groups of my fellow citizens and to resist any inimical to public welfare all partisan efforts to excite race, religious, class and sectional prejudice."

XIII. "Not to think alone of what my government can do for me but more about what I can do for it."

XIV. "To inform myself with respect to the problems which confront my country in its foreign relations, and to support policies which safeguard its legitimate interests abroad and which recognize the responsibilities of the United States as a member of international society."

Local Couple Have Been Married For Period Of 57 Years

Refusing to be discouraged and still clinging to the belief that Sanford would yet become a city, Mr. and Mrs. Robbins moved to Sanford and took over the management of the old Sanford House and ran it for several years. But the hotel business was not very lucrative at that time so Mr. Robbins once more took to the farm.

At that time the production of celery was in its infancy. Crude drainage methods were being used. Mr. Robbins, who for years had been engaged in the manufacture of stone and tile materials in Ohio, set about to arrange a tile system which would be adapted to the growth of celery. On a nine-acre tract near what is known at the present day as Rand's Sliding, Mr. Robbins carried on his experiments.

The first year he was able to raise enough celery to pay all expenses, pay back $200 which he had borrowed and had $200 profit besides. Three years later he had what was declared to be the best system of drainage and tilling in Sanford.

So it is with a great deal of pride that Mr. Robbins boasts that the fundamental principles of the tilling and drainage system used in celery farms today in this city are those which he contributed as result of several years experimentation.

Mr. Robbins recalls his first formula for making tile was three parts of sand, one part of cement and two parts of cinders.

After engaging in the production of celery for several years, Mr. Robbins erected on First Street a hotel which he named "Robbins Nest." For several years he and his wife operated this hotel, retiring from the business in 1916 when the building was purchased by other parties who renamed the hotel the "Lincoln House."

At present Mr. Robbins contents himself working his small celery field around his home. Celery, some of the finest that is grown in this section, is being raised in the front yard, in the back yard and

Contradictory Statements. The attorney then read from the renate record Mortimer's testimony that on that day "we stooped about a day and a half checking over the plans and figuring on the job."

The defense also read into the record Mortimer's senate testimony that from Northampton the party motored to Springfield, calling the attention of the jury to his trial testimony that the next stop from the hospital site was Boston.

"If that's in the book it's a mistake," the witness said firmly when the story of a day and a half was mentioned.

Asked where Thompson and Black registered in Washington after their return from Boston, Mortimer said he took them as his guests to the Wardman Park Hotel.

The attorney then read from the senate record Mortimer's previous statement that the contractors stopped at the Shoreham.

Memory Refreshed. "My recollection has been refreshed on that point," the witness answered.

In fact the little home is entirely surrounded by the little acre tract of celery.

"We are just as happy as we can be," declared Mrs. Robbins, who during the interview hardly lifted her gaze from her husband upon whom she flashed a proud look as he spoke of the various things which he had accomplished. "We are both getting old," she added, "but we are in very good health considering our age and we hope to live many more years to come."

There is still one thing in addition to cultivation of his celery patch which Mr. Robbins takes particular interest in and that is politics. He is a staunch Republican and points with pride to the sweeping victory of his party in the recent national election.

YOUNG SHOWS WORKINGS OF DAWES PLAN

(Continued from Page 1) amounts as may be deemed from time to time safe and wise under circumstances then existing, he said.

Healthful Growth. The surest rehabilitation of Germany will be a steady and healthful growth and there should be no encouragement for her to react from this great depression into an unhealthy boom, Mr. Young said, and continued:

"Then, too, the restoration of Germany is not an end in itself, it is only a part of the larger problem of the reconstruction of Europe. It is not German credit and German currency alone which need to be restored in order that financial stability may return to the world. Our low bank rates and our greatly increased gold supply will, if used wisely, enable us not only to aid our neighbors, but to help ourselves. By restoring foreign credits we will increase our export markets particularly for our excess food supplies; by stabilizing foreign currencies we will restore throughout the world the free flow of commodities including gold. When that shall have been done, we shall hear less in this country and rightly so, of the artificial price levels and arbitrary bank rates."

France Won't Discuss Britain's Attitude

PARIS, Dec. 12.—Disinclination in French circles to discuss the British attitude toward settlement of inter-allied debts and disposing of inter-allied assets, was shown in London to take an active interest in the prospective funding of negotiations between France and the United States. Surprises from every source was caused by intimations that the United States cabinet now France more favorable terms than those granted Great Britain. It was recalled that France was neither consulted nor informed when Premier Baldwin went to Washington to negotiate the funding of the British debt.

EVENING SPEAKER AT MEETING OF INSURANCE MEN

Florida, in an address here Friday before a delegation to the convention of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents. Mr. Luning took as his subject "Life Insurance an Essential Feature of the Stability of the State's Citizenship."

The Florida official was of the opinion that action of the state insurance commissioners in banding together in a national organization, meeting and conferring together periodically, for mutual advice and assistance through discussion of problems relating to insurance, had been of inestimable benefit to the business. It tends to establish and maintain public confidence in the proper regulation and control of the companies, he said, and thereby creates one of the greatest of all stabilizing factors: with reference to insurance, on the part of the citizenship of the states.

Life insurance, he said, is an essential feature of the state's citizenship, respects than one. "In other agency, it provides for the dependents after the untimely death of families are distressed, tends to allow them to secure proper education, a large factor invariance tends to stabilize the business. Life insurance guards against want in old age, when the need of the insured is greatest, and it encourages the citizen to save for a competency in his younger years which will assure him against want, contentment and satisfaction in old age, and all important elements of good and stable citizenship."
