3 CONFESSIONS AID AGENTS IN ROBBERY CASE

CHICAGO, June 20.—Federal agents prepared Thursday to go before the grand jury immediately with evidence in connection with the hold-up of a week ago of a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul mail train near Chicago by bandits who obtained more than $2,000,000 in cash and securities.

It was asserted by postal inspectors that confessions have been obtained from three of four men charged with actual participation in the train robbery. These four are Willie, Willie and Johnny Newton, brothers, and Carlo Fontano.

Others in custody include Walter McComb and his wife, in whose flat the Newton brothers were arrested, and James Murray, former Chicago politician, alleged to have been an accessory to the robbery.

Federal warrants for the arrest of the eight believed to have participated in the robbery and for McComb were issued yesterday and their bonds were set at $100,000 each.

Sanford Chamber of Commerce Discusses Plans and Appoints Committee To Inaugurate Community Chest Drive

Beginning of a movement to organize a community chest not only for Sanford but for Seminole county, was started at the weekly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce at the Montezuma Hotel Friday.

The committee was announced, would have a meeting sometime during the coming week and will have a report ready at next Friday's luncheon. The idea of a community chest, discussed at various times during the past two years, when there are few other things to handle.

Mr. Holly also pointed out the fact that the community chest has met with great success elsewhere and that it will be greatly needed here during the winter months.

Supporting Mr. Holly in his contention that now is the time to concentrate on the community chest, A. P. Connelly stated that there has come to his attention several cases where people were in need of food and proper surroundings.

The discussion was brought up by a report made by Maj. Thomas Paine, representing the home at Jacksonville of the Veterans of America. Major Paine stated that the invitation of officials in this county and Orange with several others had just made an investigation of the conditions at the home near DeLand and maintained by the American Rescue Workers under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Wiley.

On the investigation trip, the party found that there are 25 inmates of the home, 23 of which are either children or adults who do their own collecting of funds. For each of the remaining three, the home receives $25 per month from the county of Volusia.

Major Paine declared that he asked what was being done to aid the unfortunate people to help themselves. He was told that they had been placed on the stand, where he remained for half an hour, rambling through the details of his life's history.

Testimony Is Finished Thursday; Lawyers Close Arguments

CLEARWATER, June 20.—A verdict of guilty with recommendation of mercy was returned by the jury in the case of Frank McDowell, tried here this week for the murder of his mother on the night of Feb. 19, at St. Petersburg.

The jury had the case in its hands for a few minutes more than two hours. McDowell was in the court room when the jury filed in. He sat nervously with a slight smile playing over his face.

E. P. Wilson, state attorney, began his closing argument in the trial shortly after 11 o'clock. He said his speech would be brief, after which the case was given to the jury.

Testimony in his trial here on the specific charge of murdering his mother, was completed late Thursday, the jury charged and argument of one member of counsel for the state had been heard before court recessed until 9 o'clock this morning.

A verdict of guilty as charged carries the death penalty. If he is acquitted on the grounds of insanity, he will be sent to the state hospital for the insane.

Following a day in which the pallid youth had listened to himself described by state's witness as one who feigned insanity in an attempt to cover up the slaying of his parents, and by an alienist appearing in his behalf as being in such condition that he could live but for years, McDowell stepped into the court room, after having been jumped in his feet, and he told the court that his lawyer did not know anything about the case and that he had no authority to tell his own story to the jury.

Judge McMullan, presiding over the trial, at that was not inclined to permit the boy to take the stand and proceeded with his charge to the jury. As soon as he had finished that, however, McDowell again arose and pleaded that he be permitted to take the stand, and following a conference among counsel and the judge, the court stated to the jury that the procedure was somewhat unusual, but he had decided to let McDowell tell his story. He was accordingly sworn in and placed upon the stand, where he remained for half an hour, rambling through the details of his life's history.

Treasury Head Is To Be Witness in Gaston Means Trial

NEW YORK, June 18.—Subpoenas were issued Friday requiring the presence of Secretary Mellon and his secretary, Arthur Sixsmith, at the trial of Gaston B. Means and Elmer W. Jarneske in federal court here next Tuesday on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

Protection against government interference and permits for the withdrawal of liquor were sought from Means, former department of justice agent, because he had asserted that he had the "department of justice and the White House in his pocket." Isadore Padov of Chicago testified Thursday.

Padov said he had paid $8,000 to Elmer Jarneske, co-defendant with Means, for whiskey for Valdeona Drug Company, a patent medicine firm of Chicago, which was to be taken from the Thompson Distillery warehouse at Brownsville, Pa. He never saw the whiskey and the money was not returned, he said.

The witness added that Means had taken him to the office of former Judge T. T. Ashberry, at one time representative in congress from Ohio, and enlisted his aid to obtain the withdrawal. He said he had brought the secretary of the United Brewers to see Means and had heard Means ask him to whom he was paying money for protection, but could not remember the reply.

Postoffice Box Rents To Increase on July 1

Effective July 1 there will be a raise in the rate of postoffice box rentals due to the fact that the local office assumes a first-class rating on that date, announced Postmaster J. P. Hall, in a communication received here today.

The business of the office for the past year warrants its rating as a first-class postoffice.

The new system of rates effective July 1 is given out by Mr. Hall, as: An increase in the quarterly rent of a small box from 60c to 75c; medium, 75c to $1; large, $1 to $1.50; extra large, $1.50 to $2.

In addition to this change Mr. Hall announces that the financial division, including the postal savings, registry, money order and C. O. D. departments, will open at 8 a. m. and will close to the public at 5 p. m.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR NEW CANAL ACROSS STATE

Organize Temporarily To Get Accurate Estimate of Mid-State Pleasure and Commercial Waterway.

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, Fla., June 19.—A decision has been reached by the committee working for the project to form a temporary organization for the purpose of securing funds for a complete initial investigation and an estimate accurately compiled of the cost of a completed mid-state waterway for pleasure and commerce.

The decision was reached at a meeting here attended by Col. H. T. Fisher, Maj. Pendleton, Capt. Joe Bassett, Major W. S. McClelland, O. D. Elson, O. K. Cole and L. A. Whit, Easton; A. P. Avery, St. Petersburg banker; R. K. Thompson, Sarasota; W. P. Franklin, Bard Hendry, Ft. Myers; Col. D. B. McKay and C. W. Green, Tampa; W. D. Sanderson, Kissimmee; J. Wade Tucker, Loughman; W. A. McKenize, G. G. Ware, Leesburg; L. D. Edge, Groveland; J. P. Donnelly, Ft. Pierce; Lorenzo Wilson and Gilbert B. Stockton, Jacksonville; Albert W. Gilchrist, Punta Gorda; Capt. J. F. Jaudon, Miami; and M. O. Overstreet, Orlando.

It was Mr. Elson's opinion that $1,000 would be sufficient to finance the survey and complete the estimates for canals and deepening of certain portions of the present channel, making it possible for pleasure craft, as well as small freight vessels, to traverse the entire route. Only two routes will be considered, it is stated, one from Lake Harris via Palatka, Lakes Minneola, Minnehaha, Beale, Louisa, The Green Swamp and Davenport Creek to the Kissimmee river. The other via Lake Harris, a four-mile canal connecting with Lake Apopka, thence through a five-mile canal into Lake Butler, thence down Shingle Creek to Davenport Creek and the Kissimmee river.

The estimate will include the cost of adequate locks and the construction of at least a six-foot channel. A temporary organization was formed composed of the following officers: G. G. Ware, Leesburg, president; Gilbert B. Stockton, Jacksonville, A. P. Avery, St. Petersburg, C. W. Green, Tampa, vice-presidents; W. S. McClelland, Easton, treasurer; Kent Pendleton, Easton, secretary. In addition, the following were named as members of the executive committee: J. Wade Tucker, Loughman; W. A. McKenize, Leesburg; L. D. Edge, Groveland; H. T. Fisher, Easton. The secretary has been instructed to have stationery printed and to send out a general appeal to those interested in the project to make a voluntary subscription for the first thousand dollars, after which the meeting adjourned subject to be called again.

SAYS ROTARY IS TO ESTABLISH SERVICE IDEAL

World Fellowship is Primary Aim of Rotary, says Gaudaker at Opening of International Convention.

TORONTO, June 19.—"Rotary's destiny is the establishment of a world fellowship of business and professional men, united in the Rotary idea of service," said President Guy Gaudaker opening the 16th annual Rotary convention here today.

"A world fellowship, while necessarily contingent on the extent and successful establishment of Rotary in all the nations of the world, is likewise contingent on the correctness of the standards of business practice of the men privileged to enter that fellowship," he continued.

"Until men meet on the common ground of correct business methods, there can be no world fellowship of business men. The major future will be increasing and unceasing activity for better business methods and their standardization in codes of ethics. In countries where crafts are organized with great national associations, the greatest opportunity for achievement will be found in Rotary's campaign for written codes of correct standards of business practice.

"In my opinion, Rotary's most lasting contribution to the world will be found in the realm of business. In the making of a happier, more contented, more kindly, more co-operative, and more honorable business world. In the achievement of a more honorable business world, you have the solution for all the other betterments sought.

"With an honorable business world, happiness, contentment, kindness and co-operation must and will prevail.

"With correct business methods, world-wide, the business men of all nations, meeting on this common ground, will establish great international friendships and good-will—friendships which will bring everlasting peace.

"One of the ultimate objects of written codes is to standardize conduct so that all fellow-craftsmen in any line of business can compete with one another on an equality of opportunity. Where men compete on different business standards, there is no equality of opportunity.

bolt of other division of the convention was contemplated. Foster told the delegates his party had no intention of capturing the convention. Mahoney said his faction would stick to the finish unless outright communistic control developed.

Further evidence of the ironing out of the differences which for a time threatened the life of the gathering was furnished by an over-night agreement to dissolve the delegations from the workers' party and the federated farmer-party of which C. E. Ruthenberg was leader. The members of these delegations were distributed among their respective home states.

Call of States With this ending of the representation of political organizations as such, went the delegations from the World War Veterans, Amalgamated Clothing Workers and Junior Workers' League. The roll called at Wednesday's session were therefore confined to a call of states.

Committees on platforms and resolutions and on nominations were also named and while waiting for these bodies to get through their work the convention listened to oratory. Immediately launching of a new craft to sail the political seas was the burden of all these and cheers of approval greeted each reference to this as the real purpose of the convention.

used as a cafe when Playa Del Rey was a beach resort. It was of wooden construction.

Due to its isolated position, several miles from the nearest fire station, it was impossible to save the structure. The fire was sighted by an automobile party who sounded the alarm and then rushed to the burning school in an effort to rescue the inmates. All the doors and windows were locked and barred, but by breaking through one of the windows and with the help of several residents nearly 30 of the girls were saved. Twenty-four others lost their lives and six firemen were seriously injured.

Jap Discrimination Believed To Exist In The Philippine Islands

MANILA, June 19.—Race prejudice arising from competition between Japanese and Filipino laborers, artisans and chauffeurs in the province of Davao may result in serious trouble, according to a report made by H. Crub, director of the bureau of labor, to the secretary of commerce and communications.

The trait of "protectionism" practiced by Japanese nationals, Director Cruz declared, is largely responsible for the threatened trouble, as in virtually every industrial activity in Davao, of which a great portion is in the hands of the Japanese, the Japanese laborers are given preference over Filipinos. Nearly one-half of the Japanese in the Philippine Islands live in the province of Davao.

Among other complaints received was one from the chauffeurs' union of the city of Davao which alleged that Japanese residents refuse to use automobiles driven by Filipinos.

Lamb of Houlston, Wash., Chicago, Cleveland and Rio de Janeiro, are the leading cities bidding for the next convention.

conference. Willis Newton later went to Kansas City, where he met and enlisted the aid of his brothers.

The bandits gathered here on the day of the robbery, meeting at noon at the northwestern station.

Got Two Autos. During the afternoon they obtained two automobiles, both stolen, and according to the inspectors, all but Willis Newton and Grant proceeded in these two cars to the scene of the robbery at Rondout, Ill., 32 miles north of Chicago.

Willis Newton and Grant donned overalls and boarded the St. Paul mail train, riding between the tender and first mail car. They were forced to chase out two tramps, inspectors said, before they could take possession and later two other transients tried to board the mail train with them. These they frightened away by ordering them to "clear out, for we are the law."

Just before they reached Rondout they crawled into the engine cab and pointing pistols at the engineer and fireman, ordered the engineer to stop the train when he approached a wide cement road. It was at this point that their confederates were waiting.

"Crew Didn't Resist." The train crew offered no resistance, according to the postal inspectors, but agreed to stop if the train was stopped. Willis Newton and Grant forced the fireman and engineer to walk back the length of the train while their companions swarmed about the mail cars. One of the train crew pointed out that it was dangerous to allow the train to stand without putting

Dade Is To Open Bids For Portion Of Roads

MIAMI, June 20.—New bids under changed specifications for the construction of Dade county's portion of the Kay Largo road, from Florida City to Card Sound, will be opened on July 9. The change was made necessary because of the extensive advertising recently done, and that was greatly in excess of the $99,000 available to pay for the 13 miles of work. The road is to run largely over swampy ground and partly across water.

Legion Posts Are To Help Ex-Service Men

At the conference of the executive offices, post commanders, post adjutants and adjutant general of the Florida department of the American Legion here last Monday a resolution was passed to the effect that each post of this department aid ex-service men in their vicinity in filling out adjusted compensation request blanks.

It was stated that due to technicalities and the probable complexity of which the blanks will be made up, members of the legion will inform themselves on this matter so that they may be in position to instruct and help in the filling out of the blanks.

According to members of the local post, the legion will aid all ex-service men, whether members of the legion or whether they are white or colored.

United States Note to Japanese Given Out by Government

(Continued from page 1.) ing (the gentleman's agreement) or of the negotiations it has conducted in the past with the Japanese government, it has in any sense lost or impaired the full liberty of action which it would otherwise have in this matter. On the contrary, the freedom with respect to the control of immigration, which is an essential element of sovereignty and entirely compatible with the friendly sentiments which animate our international relations, this government in the course of these negotiations always fully reserved.

The note then quotes the clause from article 11 of the commercial treaty of 1854 with Japan which stipulates specifically the reservation of the right to control "the immigration of laborers" by law. It adds that when the new commercial treaty of 1911 was under negotiation this clause was eliminated at the instance of the Japanese government because of the existence of the gentleman's agreement of 1907-8 by which Japan undertook, on her own motion, to restrict such immigration to the United States.

Reference also is made to memoranda exchanged between the Japanese embassy and the state department dated October 19, 1910, and January 23, 1911, in which the state department acquiesced in the Japanese suggestion for elimination of the clause under discussion but with the stipulation that "the government of the United States does so with all necessary reserves and without prejudice to the inherent sovereign right of either country to limit and control immigration to its own domains or possessions."

Collector of Internal Revenue Gives Advice About Tax Reduction

D. T. Gerow, collector of internal revenue, advises that in instances where people who have already paid three-fourths of their income tax for the year 1923 are remitting the other fourth. Owing to the recent tax reduction, this constitutes an over-payment, that is, the three-fourths originally remitted by this class of taxpayers covers all that they are due for the year 1923 and immediately upon receipt of such remittances, the office will return them to sender. It is hoped, however, that those persons who have paid 75 per cent. or three-fourths of the amount of tax reported by them as being due, will make no further remittances.

There should be no confusion about the amounts to be paid by individual taxpayers. A person who has paid one-half of the amount due by him will have nothing to pay on June 15 and it is only those persons who paid one-fourth of the tax on March 15 who are now required to make further payment on or before June 15, although any individual may pay the full amount if he so desires.

Another thing which the collector desires to bring to the attention of taxpayers is that there is no change in the tax on corporations, same being 12 1/2 per cent as heretofore, and corporations are therefore not permitted to take a credit any reduction in tax for the payment due June 15, or any subsequent installment date. The credit of 25 per cent is limited to individuals and fiduciaries who are required to file returns on Forms 1040 or 1040-A.

New Governor Of Tsingtao Dismisses 147 Old Officials

COLUMBUS, O., June 19.—Judge R. M. Wainmaker, associate justice of the Ohio supreme court, who had attained widespread notice for his advocacy of legal reform, jumped from the fourth story window of a local hospital Wednesday, meeting instant death. He has been suffering from a nervous breakdown.

TSINGTAO, China, June 20.—Governor Kao Kuo-hung's "big stick" regime, which began recently with the dismissal of 147 department officials and advisers, gives promise of further interesting days in Tsingtao's usually placid existence. Having pacified the police, who were on the verge of mutiny because of three months arrears of pay, the new governor and his staff are on the alert for threatened counter attacks by the ousted ones.

The historic administration building, over which the flags of Germany, Japan and China have floated, never witnessed a more exciting day than that of the recent political house-cleaning. Governor Kao began operations at 8 a. m., an unheard-of thing, and the dismissed employees left swearing all sorts of vengeance. The erstwhile director of general affairs, who was the ringleader in the sallies upon the public treasury, admitted to the new administration that there was not a copper to turn over and refused to surrender his records and files. He succeeded in slipping out of the city after having once been stopped by the police.

After the police had been paid their arrears of salary, the governor was astounded to receive word that the police chief had resigned, investigation showing that he had been bribed by a wealthy Chinese, who had made a fortune in illicit opium trade, and who wanted to block any inquiry. The governor gave both men a limited time in which to remove themselves from his jurisdiction.

The sole survivor of the former administration is D. T. Lin, director of forestry and agriculture, an American trained specialist in his department.

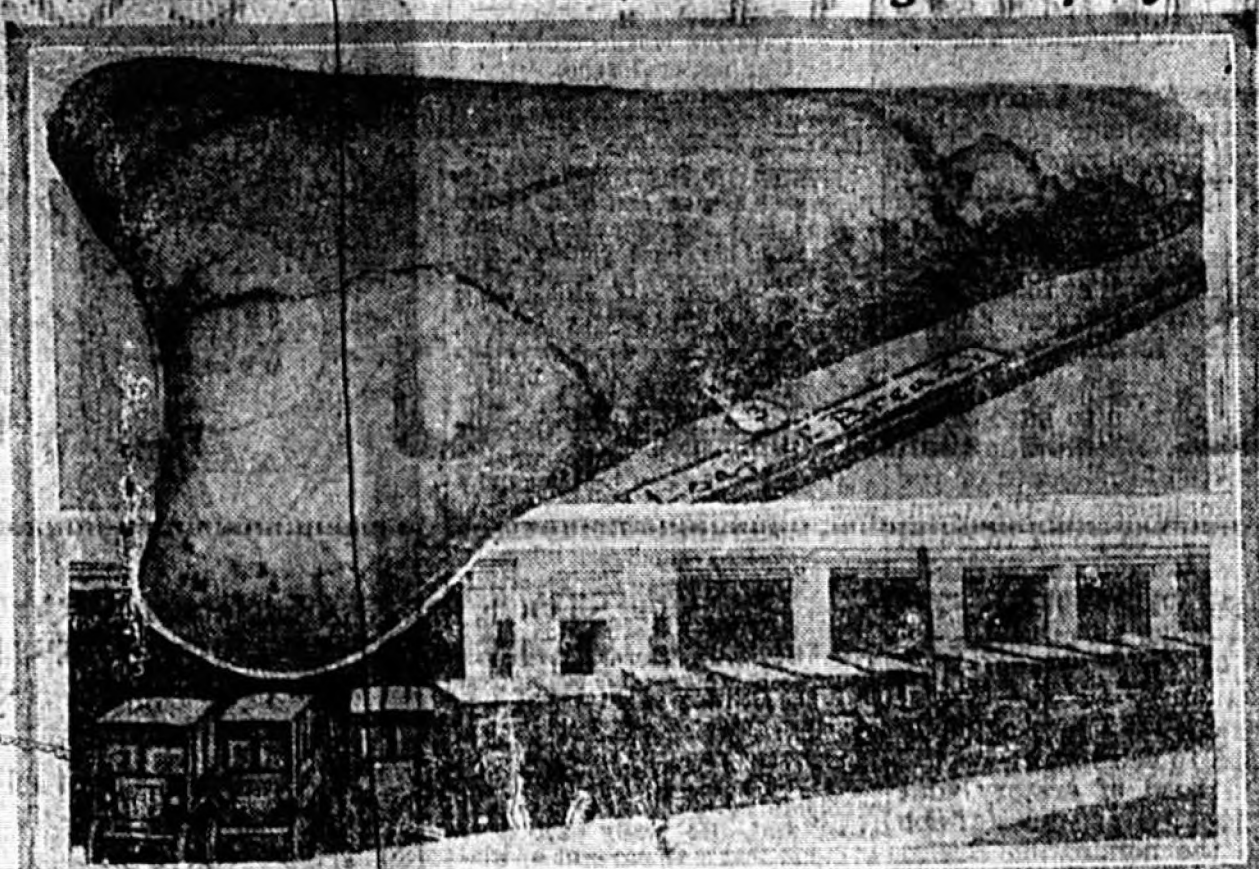

BATHERS TO GET RADIO
 WARNEMUNDE, Germany, June 18.—The whole North Sea and Baltic coast is to be supplied with radio service from Berlin during the bathing season, according to plans perfected recently. For this purpose the radio station at Swinemunde, which thus far maintained merely a service for ocean vessels, will be reconstructed so as to make possible the broadcasting of the Berlin programs to the guests of the Baltic seaside resorts, while the Hamburg station can without difficulty serve the North Sea watering place.

Modern Loaf Stands Small Chance of Reaching Antiquity

The oldest loaf of bread in existence is said to be one discovered by an Egyptian explorer on the banks of the Nile in 1905, and now on exhibition at the British Museum. This loaf, which was baked in the year 2500 B. C. and is therefore over 4000 years old.

The modern loaf of bread stands a small chance of reaching antiquity, according to William H. Ward, the great baker. The life of the modern loaf of bread is only 24 hours; after that time it is not sold or called for by the baking company. So future generations will not be able to judge our modern civilization by our bread as in the case of other "modern" finds.

In the insert is shown a portion of the feet of mud and span motor vehicle which start out each day from the great modern bakeries delivering fresh bread and calling for unsold loaves.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

HOW TO OVERCOME EVIL: Be kindly affectionate one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another; recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men. Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good. Romans 12:10, 17, 21.

MY SILKS AND FINE ARRAY

My silks and fine array, My smiles and languid air, My love are driven away, And mournful tears despair. Bring me now to deck my grave; Soothe my true lovers' care.

His face is as fair as heaven, When springing buds unfold; O, why to him wasn't given, Whose heart is wintry cold? His breath is love's all-worshipped tomb, Where all love's pilgrims come.

Bring me an axe and spade, Bring me a winding sheet; When my grave have made, Let winds and tempests beat! Then love'll lie as cold as clay; True love doth pass away.

—William Blake.

Collidge has been compared to Mussolini. Which one has been complimented?

If you haven't paid all your bills, do so tomorrow the last day of "Pay-Up Week."

Things to worry about: Eight thousand misers in this country are hoarding forty-four million dollars, according to the latest statistics.

In days of long ago a young man would take a young lady's handkerchief as a remembrance of her. Now he takes samples of her favorite lip-stick.

Miami doctors declare that bobbing a girl's hair will affect her temperamentally. The most important "fact" though, is that it will affect her looks.

"Chilean Pays Four Thousand for One Polo Game," says a headline. That isn't anything. Larger sums than that have been paid for one little poker game.

The little girl down the street wanted to know whether all of the current talk about a dark hour was references to Black Beauty of fiction.

No longer will the waiters of a Berlin hotel be scolded by that name but instead will respond to the name "Gump." Wonder if that will make any difference in the scale of tips.

The East and West are suffering from a heat wave while this city is enjoying excellent weather. Another good reason why Sanford is a good place to live.

Reports received from the Sanford Credit Association give the names of those persons issuing worthless checks. There are some names which are missed when not on this list.

Who has the dollar bill that was placed in circulation last Monday? Has it been busy paying bills all during the week or has some person stuck it away in his safe for safe keeping?

A clue has been offered in the mystery of the missing dollar bill. Instead of going through a score of hands in an effort to square accounts, it must have gone to Sears, Roebuck & Company.

Lowly youth committed suicide when his parents offered to buy him a Ford. Always knew that a Ford would drive a man insane but didn't know that it would drive one to death.

Fatty Arbuckle is attempting a comeback. The former film comedian insists that he was persecuted instead of prosecuted, which, if true, would mean at least that he wouldn't be going to perform before the camera again.

A Sanford man tells his baby "State" because it breaks in on him with disturbing visions at all hours of the night. Orlando reports that, no, he isn't taking his first lesson in boating and is proclaiming to the world what wonderful nights we have in this city.

The Department of Commerce announces that the size of bananas is gradually getting smaller each year. Which means that the "Yes, We Have No Bananas" song will be truly applicable in a hundred years from now.

The Baltimore Sun in an editorial points out reasons why a foreigner shouldn't locate in different parts of the country and then concludes that Maryland is the only state free from any objections. Against Florida the Sun offers the reason that William Jennings Bryan resides here. Which is the reason of the many reasons why this state is the best one in the country in which to live.

He Smelleth The Battle Afar Off

"He saith among the trumpets ha, ha; and he smelleth the battle afar off, the thunder of the captains, and the shouting."

That's William Jennings Bryan as Arthur Brisbane reports him just before the Democratic national convention. No one else but Brisbane would have been clever enough to find that bit of scripture to apply. No one but Brisbane would have thought to say:

Bryan will be heard from now, as of yore. "He rejoiceth in his strength." And also "he mocketh at fear, and is not affrighted." Bryan, best advertisement that Florida ever had, except her climate, fertility and fine people, will be heard from.

It would have been ridiculous for Florida to have failed to name Bryan as a delegate to the convention. The great vote given him was a compliment to the intelligence of the people of this state as well as a compliment to the Commander. But the probabilities of what he is going to do in that convention is worrying the Special Interstate that acutely. They'd like to see him develop a combination of laryngitis, amaurosis, supility and neuritis fixing him so he could not speak, see, hear, nor write until after the convention is safely over.

Brisbane expects Bryan to be a central figure again in New York. He wouldn't be surprised to see him carry the delegates into the full current of a flood of oratory that would engulf and drown the wets themselves. If McAdoo fails to secure enough votes to win the nomination Bryan may be trusted to have another worthy candidate ready to pit against the Al Smith-Underwood-Cox element and what it stands for.

That Democratic convention will be anything but tame. And Florida's delegate will furnish the dynamite.

Choose the Right Tags For Florida

The State Highway Commission, or the Comptroller, or whoever it is responsible for the selection of the colors and designs for the state's automobile license tags, can do a service for Florida by making a study of the most effective tags used in other states before making a choice for the 1925 tag. The tag carrying a map of Florida was an unusually pretty one; and it was one of the best for recognition on a swiftly moving car. But this year's design blurs. The colors are not in sharp enough contrast, and too long numbers are used to insure the best effects.

Naturally Florida likes to show the large number it has of registered automobiles, and it wants to fix the license tags so that the 1925 design is easily differentiated from the one used in 1924. But it is of still greater importance to have automobile tags that can be caught with a glimpse and remembered.

Yellow, especially orange yellow, on a black or dark green background makes an effective color combination. And Florida should consider that orange and green belong to her. The green, of course, must be very dark or the contrast will be ruined. A forest-green almost black for a background with an outline of Florida traced by a white ribbon, and the numerals done in vivid orange would make a startling, and beautiful, license tag.

Also the numerals should be kept down to as few digits as can be arranged for through the use of letters or other symbols. The letter A followed by a series beginning at "1" and ending at "500," then the letter "B" followed by the series "1" to "500," then the letter "C" followed by the same series; and on through the alphabet—this would provide for the license tags of 130,000 cars, with no tag having more than three numerals to remember. After the alphabet is used, other single symbols could be devised, and tags provided that would be greatly appreciated by automobile owners.

As a protection against theft and as a means of identification in auto accidents, the license tag is really of much importance. A careful study of the subject by the authorities at Tallahassee would be well worth while.

LIFE CREATES THE form of each man in the fashion of his thought. One becomes predominantly what his prevailing thought dictates; he determines the mold within himself that life shall fill. With his mentality wide open to the One Life, and increasingly receptive to the divine inflow, his thoughts are in harmony with the Universal Mind and he manifests ease.—Eugene Del Mar.

IT IS THE lifted face that feels the shining of the sun.—Browning.

THE VACATION

BALTIMORE SUN

Almost vacation time and no definite plans yet. Of course mother and the girls know about a place they would enjoy, but Dad's pocket-book wouldn't stand the strain, and anyway the girls haven't a thing fit to wear at a place like that.

There are less desirable resorts in abundance, and all of these have many shabby boarding houses run by middle-aged women. There seems to be a law that boarding houses of this type shall be presided over by thin, old women who go about swatting flies. There will be a few rotting boards on the front porch; the men never will change, and you will think it necessary to scald the bathtub with great vigor.

Where is the country, of course, where the birds sing all day and the mosquitoes sing all night. The window screens in your room will be patched and full of holes, and you will lie awake to defend yourself against many varieties of insects. The bed will be hard, with its lumps placed in the most inconvenient places, and you will quit it early when the roosters begin to crow, the ducks to quack and the geese to bawl. There will be no electric fan to call upon when the heat becomes insupportable, and the butter will be served in a liquid state.

As a last resort you may camp out. But unless you are an old hand at the business, the first storm will prove your tent inadequate and soak your belongings; no fish over three inches long will swim in the creek you have selected, and an ugly creature with warning rattles will inhabit the rocks near your spring, and insects will chew upon you night and day.

Vacation time is almost here. God bless our home.

HOME WEEK

TAMPA TRIBUNE

This week is being observed throughout the country, at least in spots, as Better Homes' Week. Of course weeks do not mean much any more, since the various agencies of propaganda have put a couple of hundred in the year, instead of the accustomed fifty-two, but this is a good week for some special attention.

With the modern trend toward the city there has come a decided change in the home. In a closely built city the separate house, with its surroundings of wide lawns and its gardens, is more or less impossible. The apartment is necessary. There is not room for anything else.

It is desirable that so far as possible this trend should be resisted. At its best the apartment is an inadequate substitute for the home, especially where there are any children in the family, as they should be in every family where it is possible.

There are too many fine things associated with the idea of home to allow the whole institution in the interest of a so-called efficiency.

As Brisbane Sees It

Self Confidence helps Give the British credit Our national pride. Old nature beats theory. Copyright, 1925

THERE IS NOTHING like believing that you can win. When Caesar told the frightened boatman that his boat couldn't sink with him (Caesar) in it, and when Napoleon really believed that his "star" would take care of him, those famous gentlemen had the best possible start in any fight—SELF-CONFIDENCE.

McAdoo, hurrying from Chicago, sticks his head out of the window and says: "We can beat 'em, any way."

He looked as confident as Caesar and Napoleon combined when he said it, according to the reporters.

OF COURSE, nothing is quite sure. Unknown Caesars have sunk with the boatman after telling him the boat couldn't sink and many an unknown Napoleon's "star" has turned out to be only a firefly.

However, McAdoo is the leading candidate now. There is no doubt about that. He really expects to win, and that's 49 per cent of winning.

You've heard of England's patriotic exhibition at Wembley, planned to boom the British empire and arouse British patriotism.

The best imperial exhibit shows a map of the world of gigantic size with the oceans, seas and bigger lakes made of real water.

Britishers walking around the map see all parts of the earth's surface owned by them lighted up by red lights from below. They see thousands of British ships moving along through the water on the great world's trade routes.

Signs tell them that the British flag flies over one-quarter of all the land on earth.

WHEN THE VISITOR from Canada, Australia and South Africa sees that he says to himself, "Partnership in the British empire is a pretty good thing."

And other sections, including ours, are bound to give the British credit for governing ability. You saw the other day a statement by the British Labor Prime Minister MacDonald that the whole army of the British empire is smaller than the army of Holland or Spain. That means good management.

THE GREAT EVERETT Cotton Mills, of Lawrence, Mass., have closed. "No demand for colored cotton goods." And England is shipping millions of yards of colored cotton clothes into this country. The stores discover that goods sell more easily when labeled "Made in England."

IT WOULDN'T BE a bad idea to have at Washington, and in every big city, a patriotic map showing what the United States amounts to. We don't own one-quarter of the earth's surface. But we have got a couple of oceans, some big lakes, the Mississippi, Niagara Falls, the Rockies, more than half of all the gold in the world, and one hundred and twelve millions of pretty intelligent American human beings. It ought to be possible in some way to interest Americans to buy goods made in their own country.

IN ENGLAND, if you buy goods NOT British made, you are looked upon with contempt. Here, if you insist on buying goods NOT American made, you are considered fashionable.

SOCIALIST PRIME minister or LABOR prime minister, you find little change in policy when national feelings are concerned. Post-cards are kicked out, not because he occupied the Ruhr, but because the franc started on its way to a one-cent price. Herriot, radical Socialist, is prime minister and says he "will stick" in the Ruhr.

ENGLAND CHOOSES MacDonald as labor prime minister. During the war MacDonald was a pacifist. If he had talked in the United States as he talked in England during the war he would be in jail now.

But in spite of his pacifism, when the Mexicans ordered the English representative out of Mexico and shut off food supplies, they got a message from MacDonald not at all pacifist in tone.

A labor pacifist will fight if the nation wants fighting. And a Socialist prime minister with his heart wide open to the oppressed German working man, will close his heart with a bang if any German gold is in sight. Old nature is stronger than new theory.

THE EAST AND other sections of the country have been "enjoying" all sorts of weather except the right kind. Rain without end, sunshine only a few hours a week—then a scientific announcement that the sun seems to be splitting in two, perhaps ready to form a double sun, one-half revolving around the other.

REASSURE YOURSELF that point. The sun seems to lack its usual energy, due, perhaps to violent storms on the sun's surface, or trouble with solar radio activity. But it is not breaking up.

The breaking might be disturbing. Such a thing could easily change the temperature of this earth by several hundred degrees one way or the other. And one hundred degrees would be more than enough to end of us.

THAT, OR SOMETHING like it, has undoubtedly happened millions of times in the history of the universe. Individual planets or entire solar systems being wiped out like an anthill in the garden path.

There would be one comfort, however: every living thing on earth from Coolidge and Dawes to the smallest microbe, would all go together. That would make it easy to bear.

NOW FOR THE FINISHING TOUCH

THE FIGHT ON M'ADOO

MIAMI HERALD

It becomes readily apparent, as the date for the Democratic convention draws near, that the fight made in the desperate attempt to prevent the nomination of William G. McAdoo is prompted and engineered by the big financial interests, which naturally fear his nomination.

These interests, centered in Wall Street, know that McAdoo has the best chance of any of the Democratic possibilities of defeating their ticket, Coolidge and Dawes. They realize that McAdoo is the choice of a strong majority of the delegates in the approaching convention and they are now devoting every item of strength and influence at their command to prevent that majority growing to a two-thirds vote.

The candidacy of Al Smith, inasmuch as it is next strongest in delegates to that of McAdoo, has been seized upon by these interests as a weapon for the defeat of the former secretary of the treasury. Smith has a large personal following composed of men who are in rich in the prohibition question and of the staunch supporters of Tammany Hall. It was made plain a few days ago in New York that Thomas F. Ryan is the power behind the Smith candidacy—and Ryan represents Wall Street. So Al Smith is to be used by Wall Street in a determined effort to prevent the nomination of McAdoo and thus make more probable the election of the Republican ticket, which is primarily the Wall Street ticket.

Al Smith will not be nominated for president by the New York convention. This is a certainty. While The Tribune takes little stock in the religious objection urged by his candidacy, it is a powerful and insuperable objection. In addition to those who make Governor Smith's religious faith an irremovable obstacle to his nomination, are those who will never consent to the nomination of a man who favors modification of the prohibition laws. An avowedly "wet" man can not be nominated. His own backers realize this. They do not hope for his nomination. But the Smith strength, which will amount to probably between 200 and 300 votes in the convention, will, if it can be kept intact, be sufficient to prevent McAdoo from gaining the additional votes necessary to two-thirds and victory.

And this is the present purpose of the financial powers who fear McAdoo because they can not control him. However, the belief is growing in well-informed circles that the Smith forces will not remain solid. When it is seen that there is no further hope, it is likely that they will disintegrate. There is little likelihood of the McAdoo line breaking at any early stage. Most of his delegations are positively instructed and will vote under the unit rule. They will not quit his standard until all hope has fled. A candidate who enters a convention with a majority of the votes or who acquires a majority on the early ballots usually wins. The exception was Champ Clark, who had the solid delegations of 25 states to start with and gained steadily until he had a majority. But the Champ Clark candidacy had to meet the inspirational and compelling personality of Woodrow Wilson and the resourceful and determined man who led his cause at Baltimore, together with the dominant influence of Bryan. There is no such personality, no such leadership, among the opponents of McAdoo—and Bryan, who "put over" Wilson, is instructed for McAdoo and is also personally for him.

The party must nominate a man influence; who can not be controlled by the interests which dominate the Republican party and the Republican administration and which are supporting Coolidge; who can command the support of the progressive people of the country; who can get the votes of the farmers; who has a record of achievement and service. It must name a man of whom the independent, discerning voter will be able to say, when he goes to the polls: "This man is different from Coolidge and is free from the influences which control Coolidge. He is progressive and he is for the people. He will rescue the government from the evils that have beset it, some of them deliberately crooked, others acquiesced by self-interest. He gets my vote."

That man is William G. McAdoo—and, unless the alliance of Wall Street, the "wets" and the reactionaries is successful in the combination now being formed, he will be the nominee in the convention and the next president.

IMPROVING THE ST. JOHNS RIVER

FLORIDA TIMES-UNION

Probably a great many people who look upon the broad, beautiful stretch of waters of the St. Johns, at Jacksonville, will wonder how such a stream could be "improved." The reference is to its commercial possibilities. The river has now a deep and easily navigable channel to the sea, and from Jacksonville southward there is apparently plenty of water and sea room.

But the great body of water is sometimes shifting channels, and this does not agree with the ideas of those engaged in shipping. The channel found and followed is usually sufficient at first and later improved to suit the increasing business that develops.

The St. Johns has been improved in the past years, and the district engineer, for the United States, has recently given information regarding further improvements.

During the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1925, nearly twenty thousand dollars will be available for increasing the depth of water between Jacksonville and Palatka. There will be some work besides the dredging in straightening the channel, and the result will be a safer and better water way for vessels plying up and down the river between the points mentioned. It is particularly interesting to know that in the report of Colonel Youngberg, of the engineers, in charge of this district, a steady and excellent increase has been made in the commerce between these points. During the year of 1922 the amount of freight handled between Jacksonville and Palatka, on the St. Johns, was over half a million tons, with value of seven and a quarter million dollars.

Increase has been noted especially in the lumber business, and with the improvements contemplated and under way schooners will be able to make the decks along the route where express and pine lumber is being offered. A large part of shipments have been made by raft, but this is probably not as satisfactory as loading the schooner directly at the water's edge for faraway ports. The distance between Jacksonville and Palatka, by water, is fifty-five miles, and the appropriation available for improvement in the river channel, while apparently small, is understood to be sufficient for excellent work and reasonable accomplishment of the project.
