Expert Confronts Deportation Order Back To Red China

LOS ANGELES (AP)—One of the world's foremost rocket experts, Dr. Hsue-shen Tsien, head of the nonmilitary jet propulsion center at California Institute of Technology, will leave for Red China Friday under a deportation order.

Immigration officials said the order alleged that Dr. Tsien was a member of the Communist party before he entered the United States in 1936. He was granted a permanent residence permit in 1947.

Robert Robinson, acting officer in charge of the Immigration Service here, said yesterday that in leaving the United States, Dr. Tsien would, in effect, be deporting himself.

Friends of the Chinese said, however, that he was bitter against the United States for first ordering his deportation and later refusing him permission to leave the country for five years. The ban on his leaving was lifted last Aug. 4 and Dr. Tsien resigned from Caltech shortly thereafter.

A. E. Ericson Dies In Winter Park After Long Illness

Alfred E. Ericson, 77, died in the Winter Park Memorial Hospital at 8:10 p. m. Sunday after being in the hospital for three weeks. He had been in ill health for two years.

Born in Sweden, July 14, 1878, he was a retired citrus grower. He came to the Upsilon section of Sanford with his parents in 1880 and pioneer that section.

He was a member of the new Upsilon Presbyterian Church, a Spanish American War Veteran, a former commander, and was the chaplain of the post.

Survivors include his widow, Jennie Marie Ericson of Sanford, three daughters, Mrs. Charles W. Pusey, Miami; Mrs. Dan Tener, Miami; and Mrs. S. G. Buscher, Orlando; two sons, Alfred E. Ericson, Winter Park and Clarence Gilbert Ericson, Sanford, six grandchildren; one brother, Dr. Carl J. Ericson, Miami; and one sister, Mrs. Augusta Lindgren, Miami.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Brisson Funeral Home with the Rev. C. C. White officiating. Burial will be in the veterans plot of Evergreen Cemetery. Members of the Spanish American War Veterans will serve as honorary pallbearers.

Nearly 100 Seminole County citizens, most of them residents along 17-92, met this morning at 7:30 for breakfast at the Glass Fountain in Casselberry, prior to contacting property holders along the highway relative to contributing property for the right-of-ways.

J. Bralley Odham, chairman of the Citizens Committee and of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Long Range Highway Planning Committee, headed the group and began discussion and planning for the day's work even before breakfast was served.

Conferring with Odham relative to the highway property and about work already accomplished, were Herman L. Joyce, Byron L. Kimball, John E. Fox, Forrest Breckenridge, Hibbard Casselberry, and the committee's secretary, Mrs. Vera M. Tolle.

Commenting on the possibilities of the proposed four-laning project, Representative Velle A. Williams Jr. said, "Looking out the window, I can envision acres of wonderful pastureland where 17-92 used to be, if this project doesn't go through and be completed." Williams also told the group later in the morning, as he explained a point in question that "The people who don't go along with this four-laning and widening proposal are holding an umbrella over them to protect themselves from a shower of diamonds."

Vets May Consult Tom B. Deen Here

Veterans of this area who need assistance in obtaining benefits provided by law may receive guidance from Tom B. Deen, Assistant State Service Officer, Veterans, or their dependents may consult Deen while he is in this area and may receive assistance in filing applications for filing hospitalization, compensation, pensions, insurance problems, loan benefits, educational training, burial benefits and miscellaneous subjects, where legal entitlement is involved.

Deen has been invited to this area as a special consultant by Karlisle Housholder, County Service Officer, Brimley-Pluiston Bldg., and may be contacted as follows: Sept. 14, 3 p. m. Oviedo at the Post Office; Sept. 15, 8:30 p. m. Sanford at the County Service Office.

All Souls School Plans Kindergarten

A nursery school and kindergarten, under the direction of Miss Leone Zambouris, has been established at the All Souls Catholic School in Sanford at the corner of Oak Ave. and Ninth St. Pupils of all faiths are welcome at the new addition to the local parochial school which is conducted from 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

Children attending the nursery school and kindergarten may use the school bus taking them to school but other transportation must be arranged for the noon hour.

Additional details concerning the school may be obtained by calling 254-M or 226-J.

Congratulatory Letter Is Sent To Red Cross

The Rev. Milton H. Wyatt, chairman of the Seminole County Chapter of the American Red Cross, has received a letter from John W. Gates, Director of Field Service, Atlanta, Ga., congratulating the local chapter on the successful solicitation for flood relief funds for six stricken Northeastern States.

The total amount contributed in Seminole County is $1,091.52. The chapter chairman extends his appreciation to all those, who by their efforts and contributions, were instrumental in bringing the drive to a more than successful conclusion.

Special mention, said the Rev. Wyatt, is made of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank and the Florida State Bank for handling the contributions. Recognition is given, he said, to The Sanford Herald, Radio Station WTRR, the Orlando Sentinel, Ritz Theatre, the Pilot Club of Sanford, the churches, clubs and other organizations throughout Seminole County who cooperated in the special fund drive.

The Rev. Wyatt had particular praise for the officers and personnel of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station who organized a special drive for a total of $549.50.

All of the money collected for flood relief has been forwarded to the National Red Cross for specific use in alleviating distress and help rehabilitate individuals and families in the affected area, said the Rev. Wyatt.

Alvin O. Wright Enrolls At GMA

Among the more than 500 students enrolling this year at Georgia Military Academy, Milledgeville, Ga., was Alvin O. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Job H. Wright, 2661 Magnolia Ave., Sanford.

GMA began its 60th year last week with cadets from the Southeastern States, Central America, and Cuba registering. There were 35 students from Cuba and 60 from the state of Florida.

Twenty-six Florida towns were represented in the student body. Major John Abbott, Dean of the school reported that, "This is the largest enrollment since World War II days."

Rattlesnake Killed At Magnolia, 25th

A rattlesnake, five feet eight inches long, was killed late yesterday afternoon, on Magnolia Ave. just off 25th St.

The huge reptile had 11 rattles when he was killed shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday. It was crawling through underbrush behind the home of Roy Hawkins.

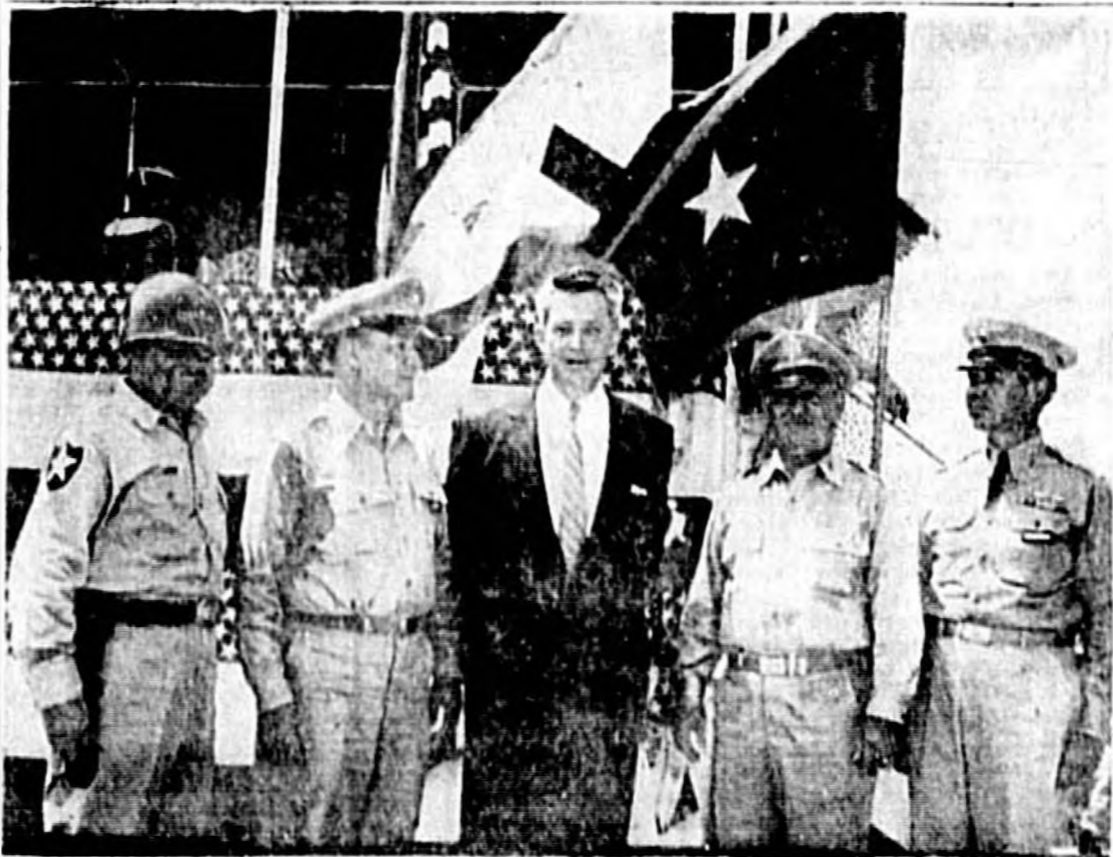

Hawkins shot the snake with a .22 rifle. The rattler was later brought downtown on First St. where it attracted much attention.

Sowder To Address Medical Society

Dr. Wilson T. Sowder, State Health Officer, of Jacksonville, will speak to the Seminole County Medical Society tonight, at its regular meeting.

Dr. Sowder is expected to address the members of the local medical organization on the "bill adopted in the last legislature which appropriated $500,000 to the hospitalization of indigents."

Rhode Island Fire Leaves 5 Buildings Completely Ruined

CUMBERLAND, R. I. (AP)—Five big industrial buildings on the banks of the Blackstone River were destroyed last night by flames that roared uncontrolled "until there was nothing left."

Loss was estimated unofficially at five million dollars.

Nearly 600 employees fled from burning structures unharmed. One fire fighter was injured and required hospitalization.

Two of the buildings were occupied by the Royal Electric Co. A third was used as a storage warehouse by the Owens Corning Fiberglass Corp. The others were occupied by the Atlantic Wool Combing Co. and the Allen Wool Waste Co.

The plants suffered heavy damage in last month's flood and only recently resumed operations. An estimated 2,000 persons will be idle.

Therm-O-Tane Door Is Broken

A glass door at Term-O-Tane Gas and Appliance Company, 209 Magnolia Ave., was broken sometime over the weekend, according to a report at the Sanford Police Department.

The small glass at the bottom of the entrance door was smashed and a money box taken. However, C. D. Robinson, manager of the gas company, said that only about $20 was missing.

Smathers To Receive Golden Key To City

Senator George Smathers will arrive in Sanford by plane Thursday, at 12 noon, to speak to a joint meeting of the Sanford Civic Clubs under the auspices of the Seminole Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The luncheon honoring Senator Smathers, will be held at the Parish House of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church, corner Fourth St. and Magnolia Ave., beginning at noon.

Tommy Stringer, Chairman of the committee in charge of the event, said that reservations had been accepted right up to the last hour in which arrangements could be made. At the close of 200 that will hear Senator Smathers.

Arrangements have been completed to present Senator Smathers with a key to the city. Mayor Denver Cordell is expected to present the gold key and the resolution by the Board of Sanford City Commissioners welcoming him to Sanford.

Cragg Equipment Hits Water Main

A two inch water main was broken Saturday at 7:12 p. m. when equipment of Cragg Construction Company smashed into the line.

According to the report, received at the Sanford Police Department, the two inch pipe was located at 15th and French.

Collection Fee Ok'd By Leaders New Lights Set For French Ave.

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night approved the proposed 1956 city budget without drastic change but did set millage increases at six mills for debt service and 7 1/2 mills for general government operation. The total millage for the forthcoming fiscal year would be the same as the three previous years.

In order to meet the income necessary to adapt the budget and to provide the city of Sanford with capital improvements, the Board of Commissioners unanimously approved a refuse collection fee that will be added to the monthly bill received from the city.

The refuse collection fee, which will affect 2,000 Sanford water users, will be an extra $1 a month to be added to the proposed and adopted "city service bill." Services appearing on the new bill will be water, sewer service charge, and refuse collection fee.

Also affected by the new refuse collection fee will be 100 multiple family dwellings designated as "residence apartments." (Continued On Page Two)

Ground, Air Search Resumed For Group

LAKEPOLE, Calif. (AP)—Ground and air search was to resume today for four young persons whose plane disappeared Sunday over mountains in forests about 120 miles north of San Francisco.

Air Force and Civil Air Patrol planes searched all day yesterday while rangers of the U.S. Forest Service covered on foot the area where the plane was believed to have gone down.

Adult Swimming Lessons To Start

Adult swimming lessons for Navy wives will begin Wednesday morning, Sept. 14, at 10 o'clock at the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station Swimming pool.

Mrs. F. D. Scott will be the instructor for the first class of the season.

Those wishing to attend the classes and enroll for the swimming lessons are asked to call Mrs. D. W. Linker at 2305.

Naval Exercises Set For Thursday

A series of routine night searchlight exercises by Naval aircraft will be held at the Lake George bombing target area on Sept. 15 from 7 through 10 p. m., the Navy announced today.

The Lake George target area is north of Sanford. As a safety precaution all persons, boats, and civilian aircraft are advised by the Navy to stay away from this area.

dence-rooms" and "duplex". The charge in each instance will be $1.50.

Others affected will be various types of businesses, quarters, schools, tourist courts, trailer parks, hotels and hospitals, when charges will be $3 in each instance. A charge to each apartment, in the City of Sanford will be 50c. The new ordinance making the "refuse collection fee" a part of the city's governing structure will bring a net revenue to the city estimated at $51,831.45. The gross revenue to the city would come to $56,014.00 with a dead-weight deduction of $4,302.55.

The motion making the refuse collection fee a part of the city's ordinance was adopted unanimously. Commissioner John Kridler noted, at the close of the meeting when the entire budget was adopted, that it was the first vote, unanimously in favor of the budget, in three years.

Prior to the adopting of the budget and the creating of the new refuse collection fee, the commission authorized the installation of a lighting system for French Ave., which will be installed by the Florida Power and Light Company. The lighting system, modern in every respect, as reported to the Board of Commissioners by City Manager Warren E. Knowles, will consist of wood poles, steel arms, and mercury vapor lamps of 20-thousand lumens of light. The lights will be similar to those now installed at First St. and Park Ave. at a cost in the city of 900 per light per year.

A move, with motion from Commissioner Jack Ratigan, was made to double the water rates to users outside of the Sanford city limits. However, the approach to the problem of double rate in this instance, was entirely different from previous attempts. The motion incorporated within its structure that the "excess in excess of the revenue fund from that source be placed in a special fund to be used for extension, replacement, and improvement of water facilities."

However, the motion did not want of a second with Kridler stating, "If we can justify the increase we can do it." Commissioner Ratigan later withdrew his motion until an additional study could be made.

Appointments were made to the Board of Adjustment and the Zoning and Planning Commission. A. L. Wilson, president-elect of the Sanford Kiwanis Club and furniture store owner, was appointed in the dual capacity of membership on the Board of Adjustment. Wilson is now a member of the Zoning and Planning Commission. William Phillips, Sanford dry cleaning establishment operator, was appointed to the Board of Adjustment, bringing the board up to full capacity in membership. Clifford McKibbin, Sanford insurance man and a former city manager was appointed to the Zoning and Planning Commission.

The commissioners approved a move to allow a study of truck loading zones and parking spaces by the Sanford Traffic and Safety Commission, jointly with Police Chief Roy Williams, City Manager Warren E. Knowles, and an appointed representative from the Sanford Merchants Association. A result of the study will be reported to the Board of Commissioners.

Three lots on the north section of French Ave. were placed on the open market following an offer to purchase the three lots by a local firm. The commission set $18,000 as a minimum price on the section of highway property.

A representative of the Sanford Police Department will attend a 12-week police school in Miami beginning Sept. 25. Cost of the tuition and expense of the school will be defrayed by the city. The representative will conduct a similar

Embattled Ruler Issues Statement

PARIS (AP) — The French government was believed taking steps today to ease Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafat off the Moroccan throne. The embattled ruler issued another statement saying God would help him to remove him.

Premier Edgar Faure's plan for giving Morocco a measure of self-rule was approved unanimously by the French Cabinet last night. It reportedly calls for removal of Moulay Arafat and establishment of a three-man regency. A spokesman said the program would be put into effect immediately.

Morocco was generally quiet. Moderate nationalist leaders urged their followers to be patient, saying at least a partial victory was at hand. Terrorists had called for a general strike but response was slight.

school for the entire membership of the Sanford Police Department on his return on Dec. 17. The local Police Department representative in the school was not named last night by Chief Williams.

Two contracts, one for the exclusive franchise to operate a pleasure boat from the Sanford City Pier and another for an option to construct a restaurant on the Sanford city pier, were approved last night by the Board of City Commissioners. The contracts are to be presented to Richard Rodere and W. R. Kemp for final signature and approval. Knowles advised the commission that the restaurant would be completely re-planned and re-erected at once.

Despite a protest from Chase and Company, through attorney Fred R. Wilson, a section of farm land within the city limits was re-evaluated by City Clerk and Tax Assessor H. N. Sayer by order of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners. Value on the land was raised from $9,040 to $27,130. Wilson, in protesting the increased valuation on land within the city said, "I don't believe the city has a right to say that is subdivision property when they want to use it for something else."

Sayer, told the commissioners that the property is zoned residential, and is valued in accordance with the value of property that surround it.

Vollie A. Williams Sr., appeared before the Board of Commissioners to report that the $20,000 for four years being set aside for the payment of sewer bonds, will be invested in Government Bonds. Williams said, "I can't see the wisdom of letting this money lay idle when we can take the interest accruing from these bonds and buy old city bonds as fast as we can."

Williams, as a member of the Board of Bond Trustees, also told the commissioners, "I think the trustees should be conferred with relative to the adopting of a city budget. Bonded indebtedness is due in 1977, he said, and somebody's got to pay it."

Wilson, also a member of the Board of Bond Trustees, and chairman of the group said, "I know what a struggle you gentlemen are having in balancing the budget. Nobody would like to see our streets repaired or resurfaced as much as I would. However, we've put up with them in this condition for 30 years and I don't see why we can't use them the way they are for a few more years."

Prior to the discussion of budget items, and other business, the commissioners heard from a group of five citizens from the fringe area of Sanford and from the proposed area to be annexed. T. V. Brown, one of the members of the committee, advised the group, "If you will come out and talk to the people in the area on annexation some of the problems could be solved." However, Brown told the commission that he could not see why citizens in the proposed area for annexation should pay more for their water than the present rate.

The committee was given a list of proposals, made by City Manager Knowles to the Board of City Commissioners relative to annexation and what could be looked forward to in the way of utilities and improvements. The commission said that they would study the recommendations and advise the city when a meeting could be held.

100 County

ter breakfast, told the group, "This wonderful turnout demonstrates to some degree, something that has been lacking in our county, an interest by the citizens."

Calling for a show of hands, 14 citizens announced that they owned property along the highway. Five of the 14 had contributed property for the right-of-way or had indicated their willingness to do so. Signing deeds at the meeting for 400 feet of highway property for the right-of-way was Thomas A. May of Orlando.

Bob Williams, an owner of property along the highway, indicated his willingness to contribute 500 feet for the right-of-way.

Reports from citizens who had been working week-long on the project were heard. W. Pitt Varn told the group of the number he had called on and said, "I found the people open minded and willing to cooperate — some are willing to wait until appraisal is made."

Byron L. Kimball of Altamonte Springs reported to the committee. "Generally speaking, the picture is very good." Odham said that "Every bit of information we can get will help us chart a course on the 20th."

Hubbard Casselberry reported to the committee that "universally, one question comes up, how am I going to get to the other side of the road?"

C. A. Benedict, Assistant District Engineer for the State Road Department, told the group, "Crossover problem is one of the biggest. It is a matter of design, and in many instances when four lane highways are built, some will be left without a crossover." Benedict said, "When four-lane highways are built there should be enough traffic on either side of the road for any established business without a crossover."

"The department has adopted a policy," Benedict told the group, "which locates crossovers at dedicated roads or public roads that are in use. In developed areas where no public roads exist, crossovers are located one thousand feet apart. In undeveloped areas the crossovers are located a half mile apart. In the final analysis, no one can be more than a quarter of a mile from a crossover. The crossover problem has been large for each one is a hazard."

Rep. Williams told the group of citizens making themselves ready to call on prospective contributors to the right-of-way that "All of the people all over the county are interested in 17-82 because they want to see the county grow. In answer to a question relative to the amount of money to be spent for right-of-ways, if it requires $600,000 to be fair to the people that will be built, I think the Seminole County Board of Commissioners will furnish it. But, if it takes $500,000 to pay a bunch of greedy people, then I don't say that the county commissioners will provide the money."

Odham, speaking to the group, asked that statements be secured from each contact that is made. "If we have selfish people among us, he said, then everybody should know what they say."

Prior to beginning the day's work and contacting as many property owners as possible along the highway, Odham reminded the group that if the right-of-way is provided, Road Board Member William Dial promised that "a contract will be let for the project even if it has to be on Christmas Day."

At 1 p. m. today it was reported that 43 property holders on 17-82 had been contacted with 13 expressing willingness to donate right-of-ways. The report is un- complete since several teams were still out.

INVITATION ACCEPTED

NEW YORK (AP) — Genevieve de Galarud Terraube, the French nurse who was feted across the country last year for her valor at Dien Bien Phu, has returned here to study rehabilitation of wounded veterans. She will study at the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, a part of New York University-Bellevue Medical Center.

She said she accepted an invitation to study at the institute, issued during her tour last year, "so that I can return in France to help disabled veterans there."

Later in the morning the fourth session of the Soviet-West German talks began. The conference is expected to wind up today, with Adenauer and his delegation heading home tomorrow.

The Chancellor had a long talk with Bulgarian and Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev last night at a glittering banquet given by the Russians.

Uprising By Union Smashed By Police At Japanese Town

SUNAKAWA VILLAGE, Japan (AP) — Nearly 2,000 tough but well-disciplined Japanese police today smashed a leftist union demonstration against American air base expansion. MOSCOW (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer sent to the Kremlin today for what appeared to be an 11th-hour attempt to break the stalemate in his negotiations with the Soviet government.

A German spokesman declined to disclose details of Adenauer's visit but it was believed he had conferred with Soviet Premier Bulganin.

Dock Strikes Creep Along East Coast

By JOHN BAUSMAN
NEW YORK (AP) — Dock strikes spread along the East Coast today as the result of a bid by top union officials here to tie up shipping from Canada to the Mexican border.

To back up its week-old strike in New York, the Independent International Longshoremen's Assn. ordered 70,000 longshoremen in East and Gulf Coast ports to leave their jobs.

The order was a desperate bid to interest the federal government in the union's long-standing feud with the waterfront Commission of New York harbor.

In some ports longshoremen went along with the order readily, in others they hesitated.

During the night, strikes were called in Philadelphia; Wilmington, Del.; Boston; and Jacksonville, Fla.

They waded barehanded into chanting, yelling lines of 4,000 angry Sunskawa villagers and union supporters from nearby Tokyo.

At least 74 were injured on both sides in a series of jarring clashes. The police held almost complete possession of the field.

The incident was touched off by the Japanese government's latest attempt to start surveying Sunskawa farmland for extension of jet runways for the huge American air base at adjoining Tachikawa.

Forward Speed Is Gained By Hilda

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Hilda, a small but growing tropical storm, picked up forward speed over the Atlantic today and is due to deliver a head-on blow to Great Inagua, third largest of the Bahamas Islands, about noon.

Hilda offered a potential threat to both Cuba and the Florida east coast as she churned along a bearing course toward Great Inagua, southernmost island of the British-crowned Bahamas.

Great Inagua, about 650 miles southeast of Miami, is the site of a big plant where coarse salt is extracted from sea water and shipped to countries around the world. The island's population of about 2,500 is mostly native.

Unfinished Crime

Helen McCloy

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

IN THE street, Ballast said, a little hesitantly, "Perhaps this time you'll let me get you a taxi?"

"Of course," Sara laughed.

"Coming with us, Clive?" said Ballast.

"My home is only a step, both between Fifth and Madison."

"Get in. We'll drop you at the corner."

She got in, and presently Clive got out. Ballast took Clive's place beside Sara.

"I'm glad you're a neurologist instead of a psychiatrist," she said. "A psychiatrist would make something horrible out of my shying away from you on the street this evening."

Ballast laughed. "Any other symptoms? Fear of heights? Phobias for television comedians?"

"No, only automatic elevators."

"What do you mean?"

She told him, "I've been so ashamed of it, I never told anyone else except Gerry Hone."

"More people are bothered by automatic elevators than you might think," he reassured her. "Perfectly normal people. Yet it is an abnormal reaction because it's completely irrational."

"Is it? Suppose the elevator got stuck when you were alone and you couldn't get out? In time you'd suffocate, wouldn't you?"

"Of course not. There are always air grilles in the penthouse at the top of an elevator shaft and in the roof of an elevator itself. And there is quite an air seepage through the doors of the shaft and the doors of the elevator. Reeling as how you are so afraid, let me take you up in the elevator tonight."

The cab was swinging into the curb in front of Judith Jenkins' shop. All the windows in the building were dark now.

"Oh, please don't bother!" It was then she knew that, in spite of everything, she still disliked the man. She would have welcomed the companionship of anyone else tonight.

He seemed unaware of her recoil. "No bother at all!" He was on his good behavior, courteous and smiling. Yet even now there was something enigmatic in the flinty eyes.

As the doors of the elevator moved and locked them in together, Sara realized that there was one thing worse than being entirely alone in such an elevator and that was being alone in it with someone you distrusted.

The elevator stopped. The doors slid apart. She forced herself to be cordial. "Won't you come in for a night cap?"

"You know I told that cab driver to wait!" He laughed as if he saw through her cordiality. "I'll take a rain check. Good-night."

She heard the whir of the elevator descending as she turned her key in the lock.

Light from the street lamp at the corner filtered through the wide, uncurtained windows, pale as moonlight. Sara's hand was on the wall switch when one of the shadows moved.

A scream died on her lips for want of breath. Dim as the light was, she could see quite clearly the slender fingers, the light, tan skin, the dark almond nails and the wrist, latticed with the image of a rat.

"Walk into the center of the room, please."

Slowly she obeyed.

He crossed the room silently as a shadow, pulled down the venetian blinds and drew the curtains. Softly she took a step away from the spot where he had last seen her. Overhead light blazed, stripping away the sheltering darkness, pinning her to the spot, exposed and vulnerable.

"Don't be afraid. I only want to talk to you. Don't try to call for help. Don't go near the telephone. I should have to stop you and it would be unpleasant."

She was still collecting her wits and her nerve. Then: "You've been here before."

"No. Why do you think so?"

"How else could you find your way across the room in darkness?"

"Training," he answered. "Memory. I took one good look at the room before you came in. Now it is in my mind forever, like a photograph on film."

"How did you get in?"

"A piece of wire and fingertips that have been working on locks for years."

Sara sank into the nearest chair. "You look tired. May I pour you a glass of your own sherry?"

"No, thank you."

"I think you know what I want," he said.

"I don't."

He sat opposite, no longer smiling. "I want the Fire of India. The great ruby that was stolen by Peter Moron."

"It was a real ruby, after all?"

"Was?" His tone sharpened. "Where is it now?"

"I don't know."

"You and your friend Gerry had it in the Automat this afternoon?"

"Gerry had only the box. It was I who had the ruby. I took it out of the box while Gerry was getting change."

"And then?"

"I lost it."

"Oh?" He was sceptical. "Just how did it happen?"

Her lips parted, then closed. Aunt Caroline must not be dragged into this.

"I was dining with two men. They asked to see my pendant. I took it off and passed it around the table. We were talking and I didn't keep my eye on it all the time. After a while I asked for it again, and— we couldn't find it. Each man denied having it."

"Who are the men? Where did you dine?"

"I dined with a man named Gregory Ballast at his apartment."

"And the other man?"

She couldn't think of anything but the truth. Dickson Clive. He's old. And he has money. He wouldn't steal. Neither would Gregory Ballast.

"Did you show the ruby to anyone but these two men?"

The name Judith Jenkins rose to her lips automatically. She forced it back. "No one else. Just Dr. Ballast and Mr. Clive."

"Then one of those two men must have it now?"

"Not Clive."

"Why not?"

"It couldn't be."

"Then you think it's Ballast?"

"I don't think either of them look it."

"A servant, perhaps?"

"There was no servant in the room when they were looking at the ruby."

"And you simply walked off and left a jewel of such value? I don't believe that, Miss Dacre."

"But it's true!" she insisted. "I had no idea of its value then. I didn't even suspect it was a ruby."

"I had no idea you were so ignorant of jewels. I was sure you must have recognized the ruby's value the moment you held it in your hand."

"How could I, in the circumstances? You won't believe this either, but I bought it at the 10-cent store for 20 cents this afternoon."

"Oh, I believe that." Again the poisonous smile. "I saw you."

"I didn't see you there."

"It would be a slur on my skill if you had. I was in the crowd, but I blended myself with my background, like an animal in the bush. As you say in your language, 'I made myself small.'"

Sara made a swift deduction. "So no one noticed you in the crowd when Moron died?"

"I wasn't there. I saw Moron palm the jewel and slip it into the bin of fake jewels. Why should I follow him back to the street? I didn't want Moron. I wanted the ruby. But I was 10 yards away and the crowd was thick. Before I could force my way through, you picked up the ruby. A moment later you called out to a man, 'Why, Gerry, what are you doing here?' He halted, surprised. Then he saw the ruby in your hand. I could tell by the way he looked at it he knew what it was."

"He couldn't have known!" protested Sara.

"Are you sure?" He paused to let the words sink in. "It was after he saw the ruby that he smiled and came to your side. He urged you to buy the ruby and it was he who put the box containing the ruby in his pocket after you bought it. Didn't he leave you in the Automat believing he still had the ruby in his pocket?"

Sara answered with another question. "Have you ever heard the name Gerry Hone in connection with this ruby before? Did he know Peter Moron?"

"No. And that's one of the most puzzling things about the whole business. For it's obvious to me that Gerry Hone knew what the ruby was worth and tried to make off with it. What's more, I had a feeling that Moron recognized Gerry Hone in the 10-cent store just before he dropped the real ruby among the imitations."

Sara gasped. "Gerry was in the 10-cent store before I saw him?"

"Yes. He came in the side door while you were at the trunket counter. Moron had just come in the front door. He saw Gerry and swerved away. I'm sure they recognized each other. Maxon passed the trunket counter within a few feet of you, paused a moment to drop the ruby and then went out the front door where he had come in just a moment before, seconds later Moron died."

"And Gerry?"

"I saw Gerry when you spoke to him. I was looking at you because you were holding the ruby in your hand."

Applications Taken For Qualified Men

Applications can now be accepted from qualified men for direct assignment to the Army's elite Airborne Corps, according to Lt. Sgt. Herbert M. Welty, the local Army recruiter. Assignments can actually be made here in Sanford and a guarantee furnished, Lt. Sgt. Welty said.

Sgt. Welty explained that the qualifications required of troopers are: 17 to 34 years of age; single; American citizen; free of any criminal records; pass the mental examination; and meet the high physical standards. Each man accepted for the Airborne travels to Jacksonville where he is enlisted.

From Jacksonville the new trooper travels to Fort Jackson, (Columbia), S. C., where he receives his new Army uniform and takes his basic training with the famed 101st Airborne Division. Upon completion of basic he is given a short leave and then reports back to either Fort Benning, Ga., or Fort Campbell, Ky., for advanced training and jump school.

Jump training lasts three weeks and includes much rigorous physical training. Here the trooper receives instruction from veteran

INQUISITIVE FELLOW HAS CLOSE CALL
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Four-year-old Saul Rodriguez, being an inquisitive little fellow, opened a second-story window yesterday a few minutes after his mother had left to take her daughter to school. Saul leaned out, lost his balance, fell and wound up hanging from the window sill by his fingertips, 20 feet above a concrete walk. Just then a police car came by. Officer Robert Lea ran to the spot

The final phase of jump training comes at the 250 foot tower and gives the trooper the feel of an actual jump. Here he gets the chance to use everything he has learned in training.

The final week of training is climaxed by jumps from an airplane. In order to graduate and receive his coveted paratrooper wings the trooper makes five jumps. Graduation ceremony and the pinning of the silver wings in the life of an Army paratrooper is a day he never forgets.

Qualified troopers receive an allowance of $50 per month in addition to their normal pay. They enjoy the pleasure of serving with top-notch men in an outfit that's second to none. The esprit-de-corps a trooper has in his outfit can be seen immediately in the way he carries himself, his posture, in his boots that gleam like mirrors and in his steady, self-confident manner.

"This is truly the sharpest outfit that a young man can join, if he wants top physical training and association with high caliber men," the recruiter said, and added, "I can guarantee assignments to this outfit and can enlist 'buddy groups' of two or more men and assure that they will remain together through their training."

Interested men who feel they can meet the requirements to become a member of the Airborne are invited to stop by the Army recruiting station at Post Office, Sanford, each Monday and Wednesday or call Sgt. Welty at 2-6124 in Orlando.

Parking Meter Violations Snouia Sent In Right Away

Have you had your parking ticket yet? According to the usually quoted "law of averages" you'll probably receive one of the yellow envelopes, slipped under the windshield wiper, notifying you that you've parked overtime.

Don't lay that envelope aside. Put a quarter in it, add your name and address on the tab, and fold over. The container automatically seals itself.

Drop the envelope then, in one of the convenient courtesy boxes, painted yellow and attached to a parking meter stand at frequent intervals. Or perhaps you'd rather mail the envelope that requires no postage. If more convenient to you, drop it by the Sanford Police Station just off North Park Ave. behind City Hall.

Sanford's meter violation fine is just a quarter, in comparison to other cities with fines of $1 or more. However, in delaying the payment of your quarter you are obligating yourself to pay a $2 fine.

That's what all the rucous is about these days. Many of the parking meter violators have ignored the yellow tickets and have accumulated as many as 11 of the warnings issued by patrolmen on duty in the downtown area.

Sanford policemen are not looking for a car to put a meter violation notice on. They're primarily interested in keeping traffic on the move in the downtown area. They have been instructed to make room for shoppers who are constantly looking for a place to park.

Every courtesy possible is extended by Sanford policemen. Cognizant of the fact

HAL BOYLE

Eisenhower, Bulganin Sent Letter

NEW YORK (A)—The Pavement Flat writes an open letter to President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Bulganin:

Both you gentlemen would like to end the worldwide arms race. Well, I've figured out a new and disarmingly simple way to achieve disarmament.

You let Russia disarm the United States, and the United States disarm Russia.

Wait now! don't throw away this letter unread. The idea isn't quite as weird as it sounds.

Let me illustrate my disarmament theory with a story:

Once upon a time a poor Texas oil man, who had sent his air-conditioned Cadillac into town to have a denied gold fender replaced, sought to buy a horse on which he could carry his day's earnings from his ranch to the nearest bank.

As prosperity had caused the elderly Texas to lose his boyhood skill in the saddle, he wanted the safest, thickest slowest horse he could find.

Two Indians, Bearhead and Eaglefoot, showed up with mounts for sale. Each swore by the Great White Father that his horse was the slowest thing since Pegasus was plucked.

Now which Indian was telling the truth? The wily old man, trusting neither, thought and thought, finally said:

"The only way to find the slowest horse is to have a race, boys. But if you ride your own horses you'll both be trying to lose, and a frog's leg put you back. To keep every-that Sanford is a tourist town as well as a growing industrial area, law enforcement officers take every opportunity to advise our visitors of the local regulations. It is when the regulations are ignored by citizens who know better that the police department cracks down.

Don't let the yellow parking meter violation notice go unheeded.

This is your insurance that parking places are made available for shoppers and business people who fill the coffers of the Sanford stores.

Cooperation Is Good

We've read a lot about the new president of the American Bar Association, E. Smythe Gambrell of Atlanta, Ga.

And just as often we have read his inaugural address in which he said, "We cannot hope to secure popular respect for law or its administration when the lights of litigation frequently are determined by sensational newspaper trials of, or during trials by, constituted authority."

The yellow journalist exists, we admit. Here and there one will read of the sensational coverage of a trial, not because of the trial itself, but more frequently because of the nature of the crime.

What we would like Mr. Gambrell to know, especially, is the fact that petty politicians who are driving our governments into multi-lawed conglomerations of ordinances, acts, resolutions, bills, long drawn-out show-type exhibitions of sensational conlivity, are mostly members of the bar.

Why our governments should be controlled by members of the bar is a mystery to us. The layman says that he "cannot afford to run for office because of the time taken away from his business," which is all well and good. But doesn't the lawyer have to take time away from his business to be a politician? And yet, he happens to be making a pretty good record for himself—financially.

There must be something behind the curtain that could be explained... perhaps by ABA president Gambrell. Why doesn't the well-known attorney support a layman for office? Or is this just the beginning of an effort to place everything behind a band of censorship and keep from the people all but the unimportant.

We don't think that E. Smythe Gambrell speaks for the entire membership of ABA because there are too many attorneys, lawyers, political aspirants, and some statesmen who want, and insist, that the American public know every detail about newbreaking incidents.

Mr. Gambrell should come to Sanford and Central Florida first, before making statements that can be misconstrued.

The wonderful cooperation the press receives here should certainly not be swayed by ABA policies.

body honest, suppose you boys just ride each other's horse."

Naturally Bearhead, wanting his own horse as hard as he could, And Eaglefoot, to prove his horse was slower, had the problem of whipping Bearhead's horse across the finish line first.

They say it was the darndest race ever held in Texas. But the old man had no problem. The lagging horse was the slower one. He bought him and rode him to the bank without even pausing to get him air-conditioned.

How does this tale apply to the international arms race?

Easy. Instead of fighting around seeking a formula by which each nation can be trusted to disarm itself, why not simply agree to let all the suspicious nations disarm each other at the same time?

You, Premier Bulganin, pick your top military leaders and 1,000 trusted muscled Communist commissars armed with crowbars, and send them to Washington. You, President Eisenhower, pick your top military chieftains and 1,000 crow-bar carrying muscular Republican officeholders — including maybe a scattering of loyal Democrats to keep it bipartisan — and send them to Moscow.

The other allied countries and nations in the Soviet would similarly exchange wrecking crews.

At a given signal these thousands of crowbars would go to work. Each crew would file out across the potential enemy's countryside trying to destroy its military strength as fast as it could — beating up jet planes, tanks, gun stores, arsenals, atom bomb dumps, and purely defense factories.

What a disarmament race! Daily progress reports on the extent of destruction would fly between the capitals, with each leader urging his crew in the other country to wheel harder with no crowbar and raise his bosscore.

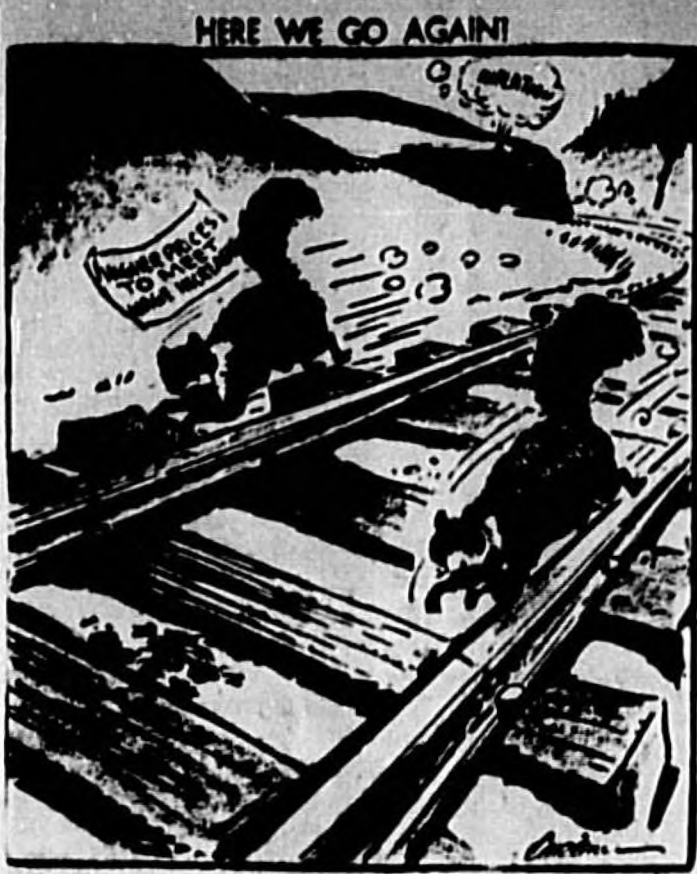

Would this program work? Never mind the cannon, gentlemen, in six months, East or West, there wouldn't be a cog pistol left in being condition.

The only remaining problem would be the disarm the wrecking crews. That wouldn't be hard. They'd be glad to lose away their crowbars.

Peace would reign, for a while at least, in a world disarmed. We could turn the Moscow War Office into a vodka bar and the Pentagon into the world's largest hot dog stand.

Shall we give it a try? Sincerely,
 The Pavement Flat

No Comment

By WALTER CHAMBLIN JR. WASHINGTON—There is one thing that most politicians are concerned about night and day, summer and winter, spring and autumn. It is how to get more votes than the opposition.

This being the case, it is nothing more than normal that a major political battle is now being waged to determine whether the Republicans or the Democrats get most credit from the voters for next year's prospective tax cut.

As everyone knows, taxpayers are made very happy when they are allowed to keep more of their money and to use it as they wish. So, naturally, they are inclined to favor the political party responsible for lightening the tax load.

But which party can convince the voters that it is entitled to a preponderant amount of credit? That's what all the verbal fireworks are about.

The Republicans are in charge of the Executive Department and, through President Eisenhower, would recommend tax cuts to Congress. Would this make the Republicans primarily responsible for any tax relief that resulted?

The Democrats are in control of Congress, which would vote any tax cuts allowed. Would this entitle the Democrats to the major share of credit?

All this, of course, assumes that there will be tax relief recommended to the next session of Congress by the Eisenhower administration. Even if it should not be recommended, determined efforts will be made by individual Senators and Representatives along this line.

But practically everyone in Washington expects the administration to recommend lower taxes, barring, of course, development of a serious emergency not now foreseen.

So, if things turn out this way, the Republicans will argue that the tax reduction will have been recommended by Mr. Eisenhower only after the budget had been brought into balance... or a balance was in sight.

They contend that earlier action... while the budget was out of balance... would have tended to bring back the inflation that under the fiscal policies of the New Deal destroyed much of the purchasing power of the dollar.

The Democrats would retort that at the last session of Congress they tried to get 99¢ out for each taxpayer and dependent. Therefore, they argue, Mr. Eisenhower will be a Johnny-come-lately and would not be given political credit for an idea appreciated from the Democrats.

The Republicans reply that the Democratic tax proposal, if it had been approved, would have thrown an already unbalanced budget further out of balance by $2,500,000,000 annually and that this would have been fighting with fiscal disaster.

Then the Republicans add what they hope will be a clinching argument. It is this: The budget at last is being brought into balance only because Eisenhower's Administration policies have produced such prosperity that tax money is flowing into the Federal Treasury far beyond expectations.

Everything, they proclaim, is booming but the guns.

This easy fiscal situation is responsible for politicians of both parties already giving serious thought to who gets the relief. Working out these details is not going to be a simple matter.

For example, some members of Congress are firmly convinced that lower taxes for corporations are essential to encourage industrial expansion essential to meet the nation's future needs.

There are others who contend, perhaps because corporations can't vote, that they should be gauged to the limit. These Congressmen ignore the fact that taxes necessarily are added to the price paid by the consumer for the products corporations manufacture.

You will find no disagreement among members of Congress that some, a good many say all, of the 'tax relief' should be applied to individual income taxes. But there are sharply conflicting views as to the amount of reduction in the higher brackets.

It is certain that Congress, particularly in an election year, will give first consideration to

Seoul Still Living Under Curfew

SEOUL, The little boy with the runny nose corners the waiting American. "Shoes! Shoes!" he says. The American turns away, only to be accosted by an elderly woman with a baby strapped to her back. Pleadingly, with hands outstretched, she asks, "Money, money..." in a barely audible voice.

Encounters like this used to take place in front of Seoul's I-X, or the Victorian Central Station where GIs rode the "Euzak Express" between Seoul and Pusan. Since the war, only the locale has changed.

Now they occur daily in front of the plush Bando Hotel, mecca for foreign businessmen and the new social center of town.

This is Seoul—war ravaged, dirty, odor filled and alive with humanity. It hasn't changed much since the day the Marines first marched back through its smoke filled streets in September 1950, to recapture it from the Communists.

The shoeless boy and the old woman perhaps are not representative of Seoul or Korea itself. But they do capture the one impression that is inescapable, even for old time foreign residents here: Seoul is depressing.

Trying to find hope for better things in Seoul is almost a hopeless task. Just existing is the preoccupation of most Koreans. The war took away many things and trying to replace them has been the big job.

Americans helped put Seoul back on its feet transportation wise. Old streetcars were contributed by Atlanta and St. Louis. Grayhound buses were turned over by the

Gladiolus Bulbs Being Planted Now In Florida

BRADENTON (A)—Planting of gladiolus bulbs has started in Florida and soon 11,000 acres will be under cultivation to produce more than 15 million dozen glads expected to be shipped to flower markets this winter.

The first glads will be cut in the northern growing areas about the first of October.

Planting began in the northern sections of the state, largely in the Leesburg, Hastings and Marianna areas, the first week in August. Manatee and Hillsborough county growers followed a little later.

Flower growers in Lee and Charlotte counties and East Coast regions will put out their bulbs this week. Plantings continue through Feb. 22 and will be so staggered that bulbs are planted each week during the period.

Cutting of the glads will begin in the Manatee area about Nov. 15, with the peak harvest time beginning about the first of December. Cuttings will be done seven days a week through the first week in June.

Many millions of dollars are needed each year to modernize or expand established businesses and to create new business. A $12,500 investment is required to provide a job for each youth starting to work in a factory No $12,500, "no job. It's that simple."

So, it is obvious that the legislators in relieving the tax burden, have vital questions to decide. Tax policies that will keep the nation's industry in peak condition are essential so that the present prosperity can continue and even be surpassed.

Author Takes Walk Into Lake, Drowns

LOS ANGELES (A)— Stuart Engstrand, author of the once best-selling novel "The Sling and the Arrow," walked into the lake at MacArthur Park and drowned, police reported Friday.

After lying at the coroners' office from Thursday afternoon until early this morning, the body was identified by Engstrand's brother-in-law Melvin H. Simon of nearby Van Nuys.

Engstrand, 51, lived in Beverly Hills, where police said that his wife Sophia reported at 2 p. m. Thursday that he had been missing since 10 a. m. Lt. Donald Barnes said the reported he had been dependent and in a state of mental depression for a long time and had shown "suicidal tendencies."

BARK WORSE THAN BITE NORFOLK, Va. &—Harvey Robinson says there's no truth in the old saying that possum and dogs are born enemies.

Robinson, retiring after 30 years as a postman, was about his experience with dogs at an impromptu gathering of friends on his route. He said he liked dogs, was bitten only once in his long career.

large flower acreage. The industry sprang from a hobby started in Manatee County in the 1820s.

Clinical Studies Test Enriched Bread's Value

By VERA H. WILSON, R.N. THE old maxim that bread is the staff of life might well be modernized to "enriched bread is the staff of life."

It was back in 1941 that commercial white bread was first enriched on a nation-wide basis.

For both economic and nutritional reasons, it is believed that enriched bread may supply as much as 60 per cent of the total number of calories in the national diet. That's a lot of bread.

The Bulletin of the Biological Sciences Foundation, Ltd., in Washington, D. C., suggests that American families might well consume even larger amounts of enriched bread "for best well-being and greatest efficiency of work."

The bulletin also contains excellent arguments in favor of this recommendation. Tests conducted among 100 German orphans indicate that diets containing unusually large amounts of enriched bread can promote good growth and a high order of nutritional health.

At the beginning of the year-long test, the children, aged 6 to 12, averaged 76 per cent below

American standards in weight and eight per cent below in height. Although they were not up to American standards at the close of the study, they gained more in both height and weight than is expected in normal children of comparable ages in a one-year period. Their bones also developed at a better than normal rate.

The diets derived 76 per cent of their calories from bread in any of the forms customarily served from wheat. Vegetables furnished only 21 per cent of the calories and only eight grams of protein were supplied daily by animal sources.

By our standards, this would be considered a poor diet. Yet, the studies indicate that it supplied these children with enough nutrients for a high rate of growth and development.

It just goes to show how important bread is to our daily diet.

Can a mother have any effect on the unborn child?

Answer: An ample mother, that is, one in whom there is excessive nourishment from the thyroid gland, may have an adverse effect on the unborn child. You should be under the care of your physician.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CIRT

ONE OF THOSE babes who pose for "cheesecake" publicity stills in a Hollywood studio was named honorary police chief — just for laughs — of a very swanky suburb. She was mighty happy about the whole thing, explaining delightedly, "Now I'll be able to get even with those nasty old producers. I'll pinch them!"

A Brazilian coffee dealer noticed a gathering that drinking twenty to thirty cups of a day cured malaria. "I know it cured me," he concluded.

"It did," corroborated his American wife. "Now he never smokes any more. He just parasites."

Father Williams confessed, "Before we were married, my husband was continually whispering sweet nothings in my ear." Her husband added, "And don't think it was easy under water!"

Sandy McSwirt has sworn off smoking a pipe. When he begins to smoke it's too expensive, and when he borrows any, it's packed too tight.

YOU'RE TELLING ME!

By MARY KING, General Press Writer

IF COLEMAN told John Foster Dulles he has a license to carry a gun, it may be a cold war, but you don't catch the secretary of State off guard.

Secretary Dulles has had his pistol for 20 years. It must be a diplomatic addition to prove shooting is obsolete.

You can't blame Dulles for wanting protection. After all, he worked in Washington a long time when it was full of Communists.

The annual fingerprinting for a gun license doesn't bother the secretary at all. He probably feels a lot better knowing there's a way to keep track of him.

Dulles says he's never used the gun. So don't blame him for any diplomatic killings.

The UN disarmament committee has been looking for a place to meet. They're having a hard time.

Warren's diplomats don't bother with guns. They carry a whole gang.

USO

Forrest Breckenridge, chamber of commerce manager, introduced Saturday night at the USO Miss Mildred Awalt, Mrs. Robert Berg and Miss Mary Ann Michels as the first three "Girls of the Month", a project which was undertaken sometime ago.

Every month an outstanding girl is chosen to represent the month and a 11" x 14" picture is made of her and hung over the fireplace.

Miss Awalt and Mrs. Berg represented February and Miss Michels March. Miss Awalt was applauded for the work she put forth on the mimeographing of all the programs; Mrs. Berg for "willingness to do things graciously at any time"; and Miss Michels for "being efficient, reliable and trustworthy... no USO without her".

Those representing the other months are: Miss Peggy Best, April; Miss Ruby Stenstrom, May; Miss Pat Casube, June; Miss Susie McLaughlin, July; Miss Betty Michels, August; and Miss Margaret Von Herbulis, September.

Mr. Breckenridge reminded the service men during a short speech that "a lot of hard work is done by these girls." He also stated that more goes on than just the outward appearance to make a USO click. It takes work and labor from such things as planning programs and parties to washing dishes and fixing refreshments.

After the highlight of the evening a "Hurricane Dance" was held. The room was appropriately decorated and music was furnished by the juke. Refreshments were served.

Senior hostess was Mrs. Jan Bramlett representing the Presbyterian Women. Junior hostess was Ruby Stenstrom.

Picnic Is Enjoyed

The employees of the A & P Supermarket and their families enjoyed a picnic at Blue Springs Sunday. Making the trip on the 40-foot "puller", "Huckleberry Finn" skippered by Willie A. Williams Sr., the picnickers spent a delightful day swimming, eating, relaxing and "wishing we could do this more often", according to the comment of store manager, Harvey Hale.

Softball Play In Final First Round Of Match

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Miami Tamps today in the final first round game of the Southeastern Men's softball tournament. The Florida rivals have their work cut out to put on any more stirring ball than was seen in yesterday's games, each decided by one run. Tuscaloosa, Ala., edged Columbus, Ga., 2-1. Mobile won over Chilton on a 3-2 victory over Atlanta in eight innings, one over the regular distance. Robert Dewberry scored both Tuscaloosa runs on fine base running, once after walking and once after beating out a bunt. Jim Rooney started in Mobile's victory, driving in both runs with a double and single. There were two home runs, by Lloyd Hall of Columbus and Ben Holmes of Clearwater, both in losing causes. Other games today in the double elimination tournament are: Mobile vs. Canton, N.C.; Chattanooga vs. Haverhill, Ala.; Tuscaloosa vs. Columbia, S.C.; Clearwater vs. Columbus, Ala. and Atlanta vs. the loser of the Miami-Tampa game.

Gene Fullmer Seeks Rated Opponent

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—Gene Fullmer was looking for a rated opponent today after slugging his way to a unanimous 10-round decision over Al Andrews of Superior, Wis. Fullmer, fifth-ranked middleweight from West Jordan, Utah, is aiming for a little bout with champion Bobo Olson—as soon as he can get a few more victories under his belt. Cyclone Gene, weighing 139½ to Andrews' 160, swarmed over Andrews from the opening bell and won at least eight rounds. The referee scored it 9 for Fullmer and 1 even. One judge had it 8-2 and the other 8-1-1. It was Fullmer's 32nd victory in 33 professional fights. His only loss was to Gil Turner in Brooklyn last winter, but he beat the Philadelphia in a return match. There were no knockdowns, but both fighters were shaken up and both were bleeding.

CAPTAIN'S DELIGHT

NEW YORK (AP)—Light heavyweight champ Archie Moore is a confident fellow these days as he prepares for his fight with middleweight Rocky Marciano for the heavyweight crown. At the formal contract-signing ceremonies here he wore a satchel cap when asked what his hat signified, Archie replied: "This is my captain's hat." "Captain of what?" he was asked. "Captain of all I survey," quickly retorted the challenger looking directly at Marciano.

Deep Impression Made By Victors

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Two winners whose names never will appear on the scoreboard already have made a deep impression on the upset-riddled National Amateur Golf Championship. They are Connie and Diane, a couple of hurricanes that dumped tons of water on the Country Club of Virginia's James River course last month and left the greens an enigma to the 200 competitors in the amateur which began yesterday. Form went out the window. Ex-champions Charley Coe and Dick Chapman, crowd-pleasing Billy Joe Patton and a whole flock of other players who figured to do well wound up on the sidelines. Most of them—even the winners—blamed the greens. In an effort to bring them around after heavy rains, they had been clipped, rolled and given a top-dressing just before the tournament. They were slick and hard for the first round. "You couldn't put a shot up there and have it stick anywhere near the pin," said Jimmy McHale, one of the few favorites who came through. Walker Cup Captain Bill Campbell, another winner, noted the greens on the back nine were faster than those on the front side, and others complained of their inconsistency. The biggest sufferer probably was Patton, the colorful, talkative North Carolinian who scrambled his way to prominence last year. Erratic always, Billy Joe three-putted his way out of the tournament in an extra-hole match after saving himself on the 11th and 18th. Patton's conqueror was George McCallister, 45-year-old ex-pro from Los Angeles, whose best previous performance was going to the final of the 1944 North and South Amateur Championship. He won out with an ordinary par 4 on the 23rd hole, where Billy Joe three-putted for the second successive time. In addition to Patton, Coe and Chapman, the first round saw the last of such players as Don Binghamhoff, the big Florida kid who went to the quarter-finals of the British Amateur and the finals of the French Amateur last spring; Dr. Ted Lenczyk, a semifinalist last year; and ex-college ace Jimmy Vickers and Eddie Merrins. There were a couple of notable victories, of course, and one helped set up what looks like the No. 1 event in today's 64 second-round matches. Siander, Grayson Bob Sweeney, runner-up to Arnold Palmer in last year's championship and winner of the British Amateur in 1953, played even par golf to close out Tom Pritchard of Washington 7 and 6. He was one of the few who came close to James River's par of 35-37. Today Sweeney tackles Willie Turmea, the 1934 and 1948 champion, in a fourth quarter headliner. Turmea drew one of 36 first-round byes.

DeMarco, Vejar May Be Fighting For Possible Title

BOSTON (AP)—Welterweights Tony DeMarco and Chico Vejar will be fighting for a possible title bout with champion Carmen Basilio in their 10-rounder at Boston Garden tomorrow night. The fight is booked for national television (ABC, 9 p.m. EST) with New England blacked out. The bout will be broadcast (ABC) with no restrictions. DeMarco, the ex-champ, is a 2-1 favorite. Tough Tony is making his first appearance since he lost the crown to Basilio last June 10 at Syracuse. Vejar has been working out in secret under orders of manager Steve Ellis with no newsmen allowed into the "blackout" sessions. Both camps report they are finished with the training, however. The winner of the fight will qualify as a top contender and naturally place himself in line for a tentative meeting with the champion. ONE BIG HIT ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—St. Louis Cardinals made the most of their opportunities in a game against the Chicago Cubs here. The Cards scored four runs on only one hit in the sixth inning and won the game 4-2. After a walk, a safe fielders' choice and an error, Stan Musial hit a grand slam homer.

Yanks Wondering About Pitcher Given Starting Role By Harris

NEW YORK (AP)—When a 20-year-old Bob Miller was announced as the Detroit Tigers' pitcher for today, most of the New York Yankees looked at each other and wondered, "Who's he?" Tiger Manager Bucky Harris, clean out of capable starters, nominated the 20-year-old left-hander to open the two-game series that could make or break the Yanks' dreams of the American League pennant. "They're a game and a half out with only 12 games to play. They've only broken even in 20 games with the fifth-place Bengals, so they don't face a push-over. "We're not giving anything away," said Harris when eyebrows were raised at the thought of sending a boy on what looks like a man's errand. "If I find Miller doesn't have it, there'll be a full bullpen ready to pitch. I won't waste any time getting him out of here. "Since he rejoined us last week from August (Class A Sally League), he has looked very good loosening up. He is a better pitcher than he was when we sent him down in June. He has improved his curve ball considerably and that's what he needs." "I remember him," muttered Casey Stengel of the Yank said though he had more important things on his mind which he does. "He pitched a couple of innings of relief against us early in the season. He had good control for a kid. Looked like a prospect." Steve Gromek would have "blown the starting assignment for the Tigers, but Harris apparently has given up on him. He hasn't pitched a complete game since June and has been battered out 12 times in a row. Stengel, still shaking his head over the split with the first-place Cleveland Indians Sunday, opened with Bob Turley on the mound. He said he would go with Don Larsen in the second game.

Franchise Switch On Pacific Coast Awaits Formality

SEATTLE (AP)—A switch of the Pacific Coast League's Oakland franchise to Vancouver, B.C., appeared today to be only a formal announcement away. Side talk during an emergency session of PCL directors here yesterday indicated that only three minor items were left to be resolved before the league gives its official blessing to the move. Brick Laws, president of the Oaks, and PCL President Claire Goodwin were en route to British Columbia today for a meeting with the Vancouver city council to hammer out the final details. At the directors' meeting yesterday, the San Francisco Seals Inc. was given until Sept. 23 to settle its financial problems. The organization is $281,000 in the red, including $30,000 owed the league. Goodwin said the league drew some 1,800,000 paying fans during the 1955 season. The club, he said, was unofficial. Seattle topped the league in attendance, Goodwin said, with a paid attendance of 342,000.

Suggs Says Thru For Year's Action

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Louise Suggs says she's "through for this year" on the tournament golf circuit after her victory in the $5,000 St. Louis Women's Open, which brought her winnings for the year to $12,321. The 32-year-old Bea Island, Ga., pro shot four successive sub-par rounds on the par 18 course at Norwood Hills Country Club to finish with 289, or 11-under-par, on rounds of 71-72-74-72. She received first prize money of $600. It was her fifth tournament victory in 24 meets this year. Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., had a 74 yesterday for a 295 total, six strokes back in second place, worth $630. It was the fifth time this year she's finished runner-up, but as she put it, "It's not a bad habit." Patsy Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., the first day leader with a 62, had a 76 for a total of 298 and third money of $340. In fourth place was Betty Jamison of San Antonio, Tex., with 328 and earnings of $450. Tech (Cotton Bowl) on Oct. 29, and Navy (Sugar Bowl) on Nov. 5.

Boudreau Receives Contract For 1956

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Lou Boudreau, who has skipped the former Philadelphia Athletics' sixth place in their first season at Kansas City, has another year's contract in his pocket today. Salary terms, as is customary, were not disclosed, but Arnold Johnson, owner of the Kansas City American League club, said Boudreau deserved "a great deal of credit for what has been accomplished." A lot of experts figured the transplanted A's would wind up in exactly the same spot as they did while still languishing in Philadelphia—last.

Can Cleveland Survive Old Washington Jinx?

Slightly Injured Returning

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The slightly injured returned to action in drives at Southeastern Conference football training fields today, but a stomach ulcer removed an Alabama first stringer. Tommy Tillman, senior end, was lost to Alabama. He underwent abdominal surgery after tests revealed the ulcer. Tillman was the second line regular declared out for the season at Tuscaloosa, Ala. back injury earlier sidelined Fred Sington Jr. Coach J. B. Whitworth moved tackle Paul Donaldson, a former end back to the flank in replacement. Whitworth also shifted John Poole from left end to right end and moved Louis Veazy from guard to tackle. Among the front-liners back in action after being slowed by injuries were quarterback Wade Mitchell and halfback Jimmy Thompson at Georgia Tech, guard Tony Sardisco and halfbacks Willie Hof and Tom Warner at Tulane, quarterback Bill Stanton at Mississippi State, and center Steve Delatorre and end Weldon Lockhart at Florida. A pulled leg muscle sidelined Bobby Hoppe, Auburn sophomore halfback star, but the Plainsmen don't open the season until Sept. 24 so the absence of the speedster was not considered immediately serious. Coach Darrell Royal of Mississippi State cheered the return of Stanton, who is counted on to do most of the Maroon quarterbacking. Royal said no further contact work would be done before Saturday's season opener with Florida. Delatorre and Lockhart, who mean much to Florida's defense, should be in near top form for the Mississippi State game. Gator coaches believe Coach Bob Woodruff and his staff are expected to devote considerable time for the remainder of this week devising a defense against Art Davis, state halfback, who last year was voted the SEC's most valuable player. Louisiana State, slated to open the season Saturday against Kentucky, continued to emphasize offense in yesterday's workout. Paul Dietzel, new coach of the Bengals, said he is still far from satisfied with his team's attack. Kentucky eased the pace of its practice routine and put the emphasis on defense. Coach Blanton Collier, who said his first team was "shaping up well," announced an end to two-day practices. Mississippi worked on passer and punter protection from the Rebel opener against Georgia in Atlanta Saturday night. Coach John Vaught scrimmaged his tackles and guards against each other but gave the others no rough work. Georgia pranced through a rugged passing drill and Coach Wally

Trabert Takes Seat To Rule Aateur

By ED WILKS The Associated Press Can Cleveland's 1½-game lead survive the Washington jinx? That's the next question in the American League pennant quiz—and the flag may be riding on the answer. The Indians look as if they may have packed away the pennant when they came from behind to earn a double-header split Sunday against the second-place New York Yankees, but Tribe Manager Al Lopez remains cautious. He's not predicting a thing "until after tonight's two games at Washington." "If we get by Washington," says Lopez, "we ought to be in an excellent position, although it still won't be a cinch. I still think it will be real tough all the way." It's a crazy race that puts the spotlight on a three-game set between the leaders and the seventh-place club. But that's the way the race has been since the All-Star game break—just plain crazy. The Senators, a whopping 36 games behind, somehow have managed to take five straight from the Indians while whipping them in 12 of 19 games so far. No other club has an edge over the Tribe this season. Oddly enough, another second-division club, fifth-place Detroit, also threatens the Indians, who have lost one game less than the Yankees with 11 games to play. Detroit fills up six of the remaining dates. The Tigers also could raise a fuss with the Yanks as they wind up the '55 series against New York with a two-game set starting this afternoon. Third-place Chicago, still hopeful though 3½ games back, has a tonight and a day double-header tomorrow. And fourth-place Boston, reduced to a spoiler's role with seven games remaining against New York plays an afternoon double-header against Kansas City. Lopez again is throwing his best against Washington, choosing Bob Lemon (17-8) and Mike Garcia (10-12) tonight. Maury McDermott (9-9) teams with Bob Porterfield (10-8) for the Senators. The Yankees, who with Chicago have 12 games remaining, go behind Bob Turley (15-13) today against Detroit's Bob Miller, a 29-year-old bonus guy just back from the minors. Chicago has Jack Harshman (10-7) and Virgil Trucks (13-7) ready for the last-place Orioles. They'll face Ray Moore (7-10) and Erv Palica (5-11). Only one game was scheduled in the majors yesterday and Pittsburgh won it 9-3 at St. Louis. Dale Long broke it up with a three-run homer in the fourth. Stan Musial had two of the six hits off winner Lino Donato—a pair of homers that gave him 100 or more runs batted in for the eighth time in his career.

Super-Clinic Seen By Dr. Goldsmith

By FRANK CAREY AP Science Reporter PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A "super-clinic of the future"—linking doctors of the world by television was envisioned Monday by a New York electronics and TV consultant.

Dr. Alfred N. Goldsmith said he foresaw the possibility—perhaps "within five to 15 years"—of televising a medical problem, such as symptoms of a rare disease, around the world in a tenth of a second, thus marshaling the talents of many experts for quick advice to the part of the world affected.

He told a reporter this in amplifying on remarks prepared for the opening session of the 20th annual congress of the American and Canadian sections of the International College of Surgeons.

Goldsmith told the doctors: "Television symposia provide new means for living together, by interconnection, widely separated hospitals and thus combining them into the superclinic of the future. The most expert knowledge of each will be available to all."

Goldsmith said TV relay circuits "could be engineered" to carry medical television sessions over any distance on earth.

As an example of how the system would be of aid to doctors, he told a reporter: "Say you had an outbreak of a rare tropical disease in New Orleans. Doctors could visualize a case of the disease on the worldwide network, explain the symptoms, and perhaps get advice very promptly from an expert in Singapore who was familiar with the malady."

He said the system conceivably could operate either on a closed-circuit basis or be tied in with commercial TV—with the medical program being televised "on an emergency basis" in the latter instance.

Solution Won't Be Found In Code

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Americans who are seeking a solution to the prisoner of war problem won't find it in the Pentagon's new code of six commandments for POW's.

In effect, the government has told U. S. servicemen who have the misfortune of being captured by a Communist enemy:

"Be a good American and don't let the Communists break you. If you do crack, you're on your own. If you can prove you were brainwashed, chances are you won't go to jail."

There is nothing really new in the code and some, including Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), have attacked it as meaningless.

The 10 men who framed the code, all Pentagon officials or top ranking retired officers, observed that "one should not generalize about POW's," emphasizing the Pentagon view that it is difficult, if not impossible, to lay down a definitive policy for dealing with men sometime called "collaborators."

Perhaps it was for this reason that the code framers did not give a definition of brainwashing. As a matter of fact, one expert argues that "brainwashing is a myth."

The code framers not only had to set forth a unified program for all the services but had to preserve the traditional codes of military discipline and at the same time study the profound moral, legal and educational questions involved.

The solution which they offered was a compromise between the school of thought that says throw the book at the turncoat POW's and the school that says let them off without punishment.

Yet the six point code, ordered into force by President Eisenhower last month, gives little comfort to the future POW. It tells him to trust in God and the United States and be prepared to die defending the American way of life. This means resisting Communist pressures every inch of the way.

But Gen. John E. Hull, one of the code's authors, stressed that the 10-man committee recognizes that "any man can be broken if enough pressure is put on him."

Still, Hull said, the committee believes that "no matter what the pressure, there are certain things that a man cannot do, such as deny his country."

Critics of the code maintain that such a position straddles, rather than resolves, the issue. They contend that it amounts to telling the captured serviceman "We know you can be broken. But don't be broken."

A popular explanation for the defections was "brainwashing"—a term which the authors of the code discussed but did not define. It was also an explanation which they did not generally accept.

"Most of the prisoners were not subjected to brainwashings," the committee wrote, "but were given a high powered indoctrination for propaganda purposes."

"The committee also learned that the POW's were not drugged. Other methods such as denial of food or sleep were equally effective and more practical."

Dr. Henry A. Segal, who headed the psychiatric team which examined the freed prisoners in Korea two years ago, described brainwashing as a process of physical and mental torture that so undermines the subject's sense of values that he changes his own moral and intellectual precepts.

"There is practically no evidence of physical torture among the prisoners," said Segal. "Those who became 'progressives' did so largely to make life easier for themselves. Any man who believes in his country can withstand the kind of so-called mental torture which the Communists used."

Segal and nearly all other authorities, agreed however, that the most powerful factor in the defections was ignorance.

"Ignorance lay behind much of this trouble. A great many servicemen were teenagers. At home they had thought of politics as dry editorials or uninteresting speeches, dull as ditchwater."

Segal also called for a broad program to educate the nation's youth to be proud of their country, their military services and their cause.

FLAMES OF A BRUSH and timber fire, spreading over nearly 70,000 acres in Northern California, loom above a summer cabin in the coast range near San Jose. More than 3,000 Federal and State firefighters battled the fire. At least 1,000 men were on the lines in the Sequoia National Forest area fighting to save redwood trees believed to have been alive before the birth of Christ. (International)

Prisoner Breaks Life Of Silence

MCALISTER, Okla. (AP)—From that moment in 1954 when John A. Cane pointed to the spot where he buried his slain family, he vowed a life of silence. For 18 long years as a convict at Oklahoma State Penitentiary, he kept his vow.

The incredible story of the prisoner who wouldn't talk was revealed last week. He decided to talk in hopes of winning a parole.

It was told by reporters for the Tulsa Tribune, which said it agreed to keep the secret learned in June 1952.

From that moment on, he re-said Cane was arrested a few days after his wife and three children disappeared from their home. After questioning, he broke down and admitted killing them and burying their bodies in shallow graves. He took officers to the spot.

From that moment on, he refused to say another word.

The 41-year-old convict said in an interview that "I made up my mind I'd never say another word and decided I'd play I couldn't hear."

The vow of silence was broken after Cane was told at a mental hospital where he was taken for a sanity hearing that he would not get a parole if he did not talk. He also was warned he would reach a stage where he wouldn't be able to talk.

When he was returned to prison, other inmates were told he had undergone surgery to restore his speech and hearing.

It was feared that Cane, considered a "dummy" by the other prisoners, might be in danger if prisoners discovered he had been able to hear things they had said in his presence. But Cane, who consented to the interview, apparently was unworried on that score.

American, Russian Trade Relations Said Possible

MOSCOW (AP)—Sen. Young (R-ND) said today Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev told a group of visiting senators U. S. Soviet trade relations are "not only possible but desirable."

Khrushchev made his statement at an unprecedented reception for the American legislators at the Kremlin, where he and Premier Nikolai Bulganin were their hosts.

The senators who met with the Soviet leaders were Kefauver (D-Tenn), Dvorshak (R-Idaho), Frear (D-Del), Malone (R-Nev) and Young.

The five Monday were permitted to see the new Soviet atomic power station near Moscow.

Kefauver said "They have built a good reactor. It's a modern plant. I have seen the installations at Oak Ridge and this compares favorably. The hardware is not as modern as ours, but it is all there."

DEMOS DINNER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman won't be able to be present, but southern California Democrats are going ahead with their 1955-56 state convention on the Tuesday night. Gov. George Miller's Tuesday night dinner will be the highlight of the convention and will be held at the Sheraton Hotel. The dinner president Truman called the trip to California an order of his desire to curtail his activities.
