

The Woman's Angle

BY ELIZABETH ASHBY

Brigitte Geisler, German exchange student, has just experienced her first Christmas in America. Brigitte is living with the Roy Manns at the present time.

Christmas in America is not so different from Christmas at home in Bochum, Germany, she stated. Americans have many customs that originated in Germany. Children hang up their stockings on St. Nicholas Day which falls on Dec. 6. Christmas is celebrated on Dec. 25 and 26. The country also observes two Easter days. Christmas Eve is the time for unwrapping gifts in Germany. It is a quiet, holy day with more emphasis on religion than presents and Santa Claus. Brigitte is Catholic and attends midnight mass on Christmas Eve.

She enjoyed very much her Christmas in the Mann home. She said that she was a little homesick but Mrs. Mann thoughtfully kept her busy. A large family dinner on Christmas Day was a feature new to Brigitte. At the present time she is impatiently waiting for Christmas boxes from home. Brigitte came to Sanford through the American Field Service. She is sponsored here by the Sanford Kiwanis Club. She is a tall, lovely girl with clear strong features and soft silky hair. She has a bright smile which is much in evidence. It is an experience to speak with Brigitte. She is an excellent conversationalist with a great deal of poise and charm. Her accent is quite appealing. She has an expressive face that occasionally registers bewilderment at the usage of slang and certain "Americanisms".

At home in Germany Brigitte has a father, who owns a coal mine, and a mother who is a housewife. Her older sister works as a photographer in the German town that is the equivalent of our Hollywood. The Geislers have recently acquired a television set that has increased their popularity with the neighbors. The Geislers are Prussians. They feel at home about Bavarians at Southerners feel about Yankees. Brigitte insists that Bavarians spoil the beauty of the German dialect by talking through their noses. Prussians are reserved and have a great deal of natural dignity. They are a serious people, Brigitte says that the extreme cold in that part of Germany affects this. Bavarians live in the warmer part of the country and are a gay friendly race.

Everything about America differs from Germany, Brigitte stated. The people, the customs, the interests—all are different. Perhaps the most noticeable difference is the relaxed life of Americans as contrasted with the strict life led by the German race. They have known two great wars and live in fear of another. Brigitte comes from an industrial section which is very dirty and cold. She loves the sun and the beach here. She acknowledges that her year in our country is quite a holiday and a rest from the hard work that is typical of life in Germany.

Brigitte is a senior at Seminole High School. There her courses are Spanish, Latin, English, American history, gym, and typing. In Germany Brigitte attended a girls' gymnasium of modern languages. This is a high school with grades 8-12. Only a small percentage of German students are allowed to attend high school. Work moves more quickly with a greater amount of material covered. Brigitte was enrolled for 14 subjects, all required. Included were sciences, histories, mathematics, music appreciation, art, Latin, French, German, and English. A great many hours of each day were spent in studying. The last two years of the school are equivalent to college here. Brigitte will have two more years of school after she returns to Germany. She bemoans the fact that the class that she graduates with at SHS will have completed high school while she must return for another two years. After that she hopes to become an air line hostess with a European line.

The fact that she was selected one of ten to come to America from 300 applications shows that she is an outstanding girl. At SHS she is a member of the Latin Club, the Future Teachers Club and the Tennis Club. She loves to play tennis and enjoys all sports. She likes water skiing and says that snow skiing is a big favorite at home. Brigitte was a Celery

Tips On Decorating The Baby's Nursery

An anticipated labor of love for every young mother, and father, too, for that matter, is decorating the new nursery, whether it's baby's own room or just a corner of a bedroom. Sometimes, though, it takes a bit of imagination and ingenuity to keep the cost of nursery furnishings from running away with the pocketbook. For example, there are babyland characters made of easy-to-apply vinyl that can be used to decorate a nursery wall, baby's crib, playpen or high chair. Or dress up a plain lampshade with these picturebook cut-outs that include a whimsical cow, rabbit, bear, goose and kitten. They'll be familiar to baby as they are the same as those that appear on cereal boxes

Bowl princess this year and is very popular with the students at SHS. She is a terrific football fan. She enjoys the lunch periods at school and particularly likes to change classes. In Germany everyone stays in the same classroom. Brigitte is glad of the opportunity to meet different students. She commented that here the teachers are warm and friendly. In Germany students often learn their lessons because they fear the teachers.

Brigitte admires the American custom of boys and girls attending the same public schools. She likes dating in America and pointed out that German parents are far more strict. Until the age of 16 most German girls are not allowed to go out unchaperoned. They do not wear make-up to school and because of the cold they wear blue jeans and other such garments. After becoming a German girl

Couple Entertains

Ledr. and Mrs. E. J. Mills entertained friends with a cocktail party at their home on Grandview Avenue prior to the Interfraternity Dance Thursday night. Holiday decorations were used throughout the room. An unusual Christmas tree was the highlight. The tree was made of palm branches that were fastened to a base and sprayed white. Bulb ornaments and lights trimmed the tree. Quinsettias were used in the living room.

The dining room table was overlaid with an extra linen cloth. An attractive black and gold arrangement was the centerpiece. The table was spread with an array of hors d'oeuvres. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Park Jr., Bob Park and Miss Jeanette Adams, St. Petersburg, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. James Crapps, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Perkins Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Peterson Jr.

Balls Entertain At Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hall and daughter Mrs. Tyler Deftman entertained at an open house from 4-8 p.m. Sunday at the Ball's home in Lake Mary.

The house was gay with Christmas decorations. A silver and red theme was carried out in the living room. Many Christmas candies, made by Mrs. Hall, were placed about the room. Holly sprayed white with silver glitter was used. A red and white theme prevailed in the dining room. The table was covered with a white cut-work linen cloth. The centerpiece was an arrangement of red poinsettias with white magnolia leaves and lighted white tapers in silver candleholders. A large crystal punch bowl held punch. A small antique table that belonged to Mrs. Hall's grandparents held a silver coffee pitcher with stand. This is also a family heirloom. Mrs. Jean Blair presided in the dining room. Guests selected refreshments from an array of candies, Christmas cookies, fancy sandwiches, crackers and dip, and Swedish nuts.

Those attending were the wives of VAH-5 and their guests, members of the Pilot Club and their families, teachers with whom Mrs. Hall was associated, and Lake Mary neighbors.

Try Beef Sandwich For New Year's Eve

Escort the year 1959 in with a bang. New Year's Eve is always a time for fun and frolic and rightfully so. However, if your home is to be chosen stop for the celebration, make sure that the midnight menu plans are simple yet inviting. A home economist well versed in the field of meat and meat cookery, Reba Stages, has this to say, "If you want a sandwich idea for the occasion, try Beef-Rye Sandwich Specialty. If you want to serve something hot, try Beef-Rye Sandwich Specialty.

Here's the idea. Simply combine ground beef with grated cheese, seasonings and thinly sliced onions. Spread rye bread and broil. If using this suggestion, you can also incorporate it into an hors d'oeuvres tray arrangement. Instead of using regular rye, spread the ground beef mixture over thinly sliced party rye and broil.

Beef-Rye Sandwich Specialty
1 pound ground beef
1/2 cup grated American cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons thinly sliced green onions
5 to 7 slices rye bread
Mix ground beef, cheese, salt, pepper and onions. Toast rye bread slices on both sides. Spread meat mixture 1/2 inch thick on rye bread, spreading well over the edges. Broil about 3 inches from heat until browned, about 5 to 7 minutes. Yield: 4 to 7 sandwiches.

wears make-up when she goes out. Parties in Germany are frequent. The young people love to dance. They are served weak wine which is very inexpensive in Germany. Brigitte appreciates classical music and she and John Mann spend hours listening to his collection.

Clothes in America are more comfortable, says Brigitte. She likes Bermuda shorts and the stiff petticoats. In Germany the girls have linen petticoats which must be very heavily starched each time they are worn. Fashions in Germany are more extreme as the country is close to Paris and follows the changes in style. Brigitte wore her first formal when she was a Celery Bowl princess.

Since her arrival in America in August Brigitte has spoken to many civic groups. Among these were the Toastmasters Club, the Kiwanis Club and several Girl Scout troops. Before returning to Germany, Brigitte will spend several weeks with other families. This will include the Earl Higginbothams and the Walter Morgans. Upon her arrival Brigitte lived with Dr. and Mrs. John Wilson.

Brigitte feels much at home in the warm and friendly Mann residence. One can see that when she leaves America she will be missed by the many friends she has made in Sanford.

Garden Gate

Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent, Bulbs of related plants are very desirable for beautifying home grounds and production in the home flower garden, says S. A. Rose, assistant ornamental horticulturist with the University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service. Most of them can be planted soon.

The bulbs, corns, tubers and rhizomes usually are called bulbs, according to Mr. Rose. He points out that lilies, amaryllis and narcissus are true bulbs; gladioli and monobletias are corms; callias and caladiums are tubers; and iris belongs to the rhizome group. "Bulbs may be grown in beds to produce a mass of color or for cut flowers," or "they may be used in the perennial border or along the edge of shrubbery."

He points out that most bulbs thrive in well-drained and in a sunny or partially shaded location. Organic materials such as peat moss, leaf mold or compost spaded into the top 10 inches of soil improves poor soil for bulb production. Fertilize at planting time with one to two pounds per 100 square feet of a complete fertilizer, such as 8-8 or 6-6 and make another application during the growing season after the foliage is well developed.

Narcissus can be planted during October and November for best results. Planting every four weeks till January will give a longer period of bloom. Plant the so-called Polyanthus types, such as Paperwhite, Chinese Sacred Lily, Shoel d'Or, White Pearl, Grand Monarque and Double Roman. Crinums may be planted during the winter months. The Easter lily is planted from late summer through November. From mid-Florida southward, gladioli may be planted any time from September in March. In northern Florida it is best to delay planting until mid-January or February. Callias may be planted through fall and winter and will come back from the roots if frozen. Amaryllis also are planted during the winter.

Tulip flowers may be produced in Florida if the bulbs are stored for 60 to 75 days at 40 degrees Fahrenheit before they are planted. Plant in December or January, immediately after the bulbs are removed from cold storage. Plant new bulbs each year.

Set amaryllis, spider lilies and crinums so the crown or neck extends above ground. Other bulbs can be planted from two to four times as deep as the diameter of the bulb. Planting distances vary with the size of the top growth.

Navy Men Attend Holiday Activities

Enlisted personnel from the Sanford Naval Air Station enjoyed activities at the USO during the Christmas holidays. These activities were planned and supervised by Mrs. Malcolm Higgins, staff aide, and Mrs. Robert Tolle, assistant to the staff aide.

The rooms had been gaily decorated for Christmas by the boys with the assistance of Arnold Hood, a city employe. A huge Christmas tree with multicolored ornaments brushed the ceiling. Other decorations included a Santa, colored lights, a candy cane, and a bell. The Salvation Army sent bags of fruit, candy and nuts.

On Christmas Eve the group enjoyed singing Christmas carols to the accompaniment of a sing-along record. Refreshments were served.

An open house was held at the USO from 4-12 p.m. Christmas Day. The buffet table was overlaid with a red cloth and a Christmas scene formed the centerpiece. Sandwiches, coffee, cakes, nuts, and candy accompanied a delicious baked ham. The Anna Miller Circle contributed cookies to the menu. Miss Carolyn Nichols, a junior hostess, brought all of the ingredients for cinnamon rolls. A group gathered in the kitchen and assisted her in preparing the pastries. Another feature of the evening was dancing.

A birthday party was held Sunday night. This party is a monthly affair that always falls on the last Sunday. Three of the boys present celebrated birthdays during the month of December. Refreshments, including a large birthday cake, were served buffet style.

A quiet New Year's Eve will be observed at the USO. Among the activities planned for January is Christmas holidays with her mother, a dance with orchestra scheduled for Jan. 6.

Smoggy LA Gels Jeers With Tears

DETROIT (UPI)—A proposal by a Los Angeles city official to ban the sale of new cars there unless the automobile industry came up with an anti-smog device, provoked some caustic comment today in the automobile capital.

Major Louis C. Mirani led off by saying, "Los Angeles is going to become a foreign country all by itself if it keeps this up."

"How silly can they get?" he asked. "Banning new car sales would simply mean that there would be more old cars on Los Angeles streets. They would create more of an exhaust problem than the new cars."

Motorist Sterling, chief air pollution inspector for Detroit, called the proposal a grandstand play. "The Los Angeles smog problem was caused by geographical conditions, and suggested that Los Angeles try moving the mountains."

"The way to stop pollution is to stop living or go back to the Stone Age," Sterling said.

Drink And Roam? Officers Willing To Take You Home

"If you drink while you roam let the law take you home," is the slogan of local law enforcement agencies as they embark on a long New Year's weekend.

Seminole County party-goers are invited to call the Sanford Police Department (FA-2411), or Sheriff's Department (FA-2412) for transportation, if they have had too much to drink.

The service is in effect year around, but particularly during this season of celebration. Sheriff J. L. Hobby said this morning, "We would much prefer to take people home safely than arrest them for driving while intoxicated—or taking them to the hospital after an accident."

The man behind the wheel was cautioned more to exercise unusual care during the holidays ahead. Drinking while driving combined with excessive speed, are the major cause of traffic fatalities, according to the protection agencies.

Extra men will be on duty during the entire weekend, according to both departments.

Motorcycle, Auto Involved In Wreck

Joseph E. Shaheen, NAS, was charged with failure to give right of way this morning when he pulled into the path of a motorcycle at the corner of Magnolia Ave. and Second St.

Driver of the motorcycle was Albert D. Wilson, VAH. Damage to Shaheen's 1954 car was estimated at $100, and $75 to the motorcycle. The accident occurred at 10:20 a. m. Nobody was injured according to investigating officer Sgt. Ben Butler.

Boy, 7, Strangled By Peanut Butter

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—Seven-year-old Charles Edward Love strangled to death Tuesday night while eating a peanut butter sandwich.

County officers said two doctors from nearby Cecil Field performed emergency surgery on the boy's throat without success.

Impale Grape On Needle? That's Like 'Direct Hit'

Ever tried to impale a grape on a sewing needle from 100 yards, standing up in a moving wheelbarrow?

Sounds hard? Well this is fairly similar to the problem of a direct hit that is presented to the bombardiers in the jet age of high-altitude bombing.

The problem of dropping a bomb on a pre-designated square inch of target from a height of approximately seven miles, and at a speed approaching that of sound, is vast and complex. To achieve the "direct hit" with the stated ramifications, is a mark of skill and technical training which

Construction Set For Highway Here

The Interstate Highway is knocking on Sanford's door. Already, construction is well under way across the St. Johns River where a four-lane bridge is slowly taking shape.

On Jan. 7, construction of more than two miles of the highway will begin in Seminole County, linking State Road 46 to the river. The project, announced today by the State Road Department, will include 2.25 miles of limited-access highway, four-lane two-bridge and two interchanges.

In Lake Monroe residents are disputing remarks that "Lake Monroe will be swallowed up by the highway." Future construction will come with the four-lane State Road 46, which will take traffic off the limited access expressway to U. S. 17-92. The remaining link between 46 and Lee Road in Winter Park will not be built during the next two years due to lack of funds, officials said.

The project is part of Interstate Route 4, which will run from Daytona Beach, through Orlando to Tampa. One dual bridge and one four-lane bridge are included in the Seminole County construction. Estimated cost of the project is $12,231,608.

White Construction Co. Chief, will handle construction, allowing 360 working days for the completion of the job.

Growth Predicted In County Schools

School construction and more teachers and pupils loom ahead for Seminole County in 1959, according to R. T. Milner, superintendent of county schools.

Bids will be opened Feb. 10 on the sale of $3,000,000 worth of school bonds. Construction on top priority buildings will begin in April, the majority of new and repaired plants will not be completed until the fall of 1960.

Milner anticipates an increase of 1,200 to 1,400 in county school enrollment. Approximately 30 new teachers above those employed this year will join the system. Possibly some schools will be in double session due to the tremendous speed with which the county is growing.

"We think we are having a very good year under the circumstances," Milner said. "We feel that a lot of good work is being done in the classrooms. The children are getting the basic fundamentals of education and the remainder of the school year will be fine."

Industry Reveals Plans To Put Plant In County

Electric outboard motors mechanical generators for spraying exterminators and non-ferrous castings soon will be manufactured in Seminole County, when the Silver Creek Precision Manufacturing Co. and its Metal and Alloys Division move into the area.

The manufacturing plant and foundry, the first in Florida, will be operated under the same roof in Casselberry, according to Lawrence Schmitt, president of the Silver Creek Corp., Buffalo, N. Y.

Schmitt flew here yesterday from New York to examine the site for the factory, which will employ 115 skilled workers with a payroll of $1.7 million annually. Metal and Alloys will employ 100.

The Silver Creek Corp. acquired all the common stock of the North Orlando Co. two weeks ago, including property extending from Seminole Park Roadway, Casselberry, on the south to Lake Jessup on the north.

The plant will be located in this area, which is enhanced by the Sanford-Orlando branch of the A.C. railroad. The huge tract has been undeveloped until recently, when the North Orlando Co. began construction of a new Seminole County city. Homesites have been established and 45 houses are under construction on both sides of the Longwood-Orlando Road, one mile east of 17-92.

Silver Creek, in essence has merged with the North Orlando Co. Raymond Moss and William S. Edgemon, president and vice president of the development corporation, acquired two million shares of Silver Creek stock in the transaction and have become directors of Silver Creek.

Officers and personnel of North Orlando Co. will remain, Schmitt said. Varley P. Young, treasurer of North Orlando, will direct initial stages of the factory move to the Seminole County site.

The electric outboards are manufactured under the Silverbrand brand. Microsil is the name for the mechanical generators. The move will begin immediately, according to Schmitt.

Offices of the North Orlando Co. are situated in Miami. Moss announced the development of the new city several months ago, and held open house recently. A complete shopping center will service the proposed development which is designed for population of 10,000.

Already miles of new roads connect the new urban area to circulation. Local leaders said little about the merger this morning, evidently waiting for a definite moving date for the firm.

If Ants Return, His Voice Sweet

It would take the Christmas spirit to rationalize The Herald's suggestion yesterday that a phone full of ants must have gotten that way because of a "sweet voice."

Turns out the dulcet tones that drew the ants belonged to none other than David McNab, manager of the Central Bureau of Sanford. The phone is now antlerless, McNab can prove his "sweetness" if the insects return to his handset.

Trust Is Broken; Trustees Escape

Sometimes you can't even trust the trustees, the Sanford Police Department discovered last night between 8 and 10 p. m. Thomas David Jones, 18, released Charles E. Hall, Sanford Negro, from his cell, and both escaped into the night.

The prisoners were considered "trustees," and worked at the city jail and the county jail.

Cuban Rebs Claim Sanford Offered Major League Aid

HAVANA (UPI)—Rebel forces claimed today to have blocked a Cuban army convoy attempting to break through to Santa Clara, where a bitter struggle for the strategic central Cuban city raged for the fourth straight day.

A rebel field radio message said the convoy included 400 to 500 trucks and was spearheaded by four tanks and several armored tractors. The message said the reinforcements were trying to reach Santa Clara from Mordano about 35 miles to the west. The message did not indicate how the blockade was accomplished.

The rebels also claimed successes in operations in Camaguey and Oriente provinces and said an all-out attack on the major city of Santiago de Cuba is imminent.

"The battle of Santiago is about to begin," the radio in the Sierra Maestra stronghold of rebel leader Fidel Castro proclaimed.

The broadcast claimed the capture of Maffo, long a Cuban army field operations center in the drive against the Oriente guerrillas, and said 117 troops were captured, including a major and five lieutenants.

"There is not a single enemy force between Bayamo and Santiago," the announcer said. Bayamo is about 80 miles west of Santiago, capital of Oriente province in southeast Cuba.

Castro's radio spokesman said the Cuban army suffered 1,000 casualties, including dead, wounded and prisoners, in 45 days of fighting in Oriente.

New Tags On Sale In County Friday

More than 50 tags already have been reserved for 1959, although they will not be distributed until after Jan. 2. Unless tags have been reserved previously in the sale, they will be sold strictly in sequence when the sale begins.

Psychology Ladled By Syracuse Coach

MIAMI (UPI)—Psychology and the weather played important roles today in final preparations for the Orange Bowl clash between Oklahoma and Syracuse New Year's afternoon.

Syracuse had the edge on the psychology. Oklahoma appeared favored by the weather.

But the post-prayers overlooked these factors and held Oklahoma the 13-point choice to add the Orangemen from New York as the eighth victim on the Sooners' new victory string.

Syracuse hit town with the heavy task of not only stopping the Oklahoma "speed boys" but erasing from the minds of some 60,000 fans who saw the 1953 game, memories of the 61-6 shellacking handed the Orangemen by Alabama.

Judge Frees Man In 'Mercy Killing'

CHICAGO (UPI)—The chief justice of Chicago's Criminal Court Tuesday instructed an elderly man to withdraw a guilty plea in the mercy killing of his arthritic wife. The judge acquitted him.

The defendant, Otto Werner, 60, was near tears when Judge Abraham Marovitz found him "not guilty on the evidence" of manslaughter charges in the suffocation death of Werner's wife, Anna.

Justice Marovitz noted Werner said "I would rather find him not guilty than let him live these last years with the stigma of a conviction."

Marovitz said he did not approve of mercy killing, but said he believed a jury would have acquitted the man anyway had one heard the case.

Witnesses testified that Werner was a devoted husband who cared for his wife constantly during the many months she was painfully crippled by arthritis. They said she had pleaded with him and with her doctor to end her life.

Last Sept. 21, Werner stuffed rags into his wife's mouth and she suffocated. Werner then tried to commit suicide by swallowing an overdose of sleeping pills. Police found him unconscious near his wife's body and rushed him to a hospital where he recovered.

Werner originally was charged with murder, but later was permitted to plead guilty to the lesser charge of manslaughter.

Science Is Beaten, 12-Ounce Tot Dies

CHICAGO (UPI)—The death Tuesday of premature, 12-ounce infant Gloria Hanes marked a loss by medical science to nature's birth regimen. The record now stands at 11.

Only hours before the baby's death in Swedish Covenant Hospital, the only other recorded 12-ounce baby to survive—now a pretty 23-year-old school teacher—comforted Gloria's mother.

Jaqueline Benson, who also was born prematurely in Chicago, was unable to see the infant after traveling from Palestine, Ill. But she assured Mrs. Mabel Hanes, 22, that the doctors were not outclassed in the struggle.

When Mrs. Hanes heard the news of her death, a hospital spokesman said, "She took it calmly. She was somewhat expecting it. I'm sure."

The dark-haired Mrs. Hanes, who had previously said she would rather not have Gloria survive than be denied a normal life had a Protestant minister baptize the baby Tuesday morning.

"Surely the tragic highway toll over the Christmas holiday must have shocked all of us into more sober, thoughtful, considerate behavior," the council said.

"We appeal to everyone to carry the memory of that huge and needless toll into the heavy traffic of the weekend just ahead, and do his part to see that it doesn't happen again."

The 102-hour holiday weekend begins at 6 p. m. New Year's Eve and closes at Sunday midnight.

During last week's Christmas holiday of the same duration, United Press International counted 589 traffic deaths, 21 below the council's pre-holiday estimate.

The council said it expected a lower toll over New Year's because of lighter traffic and because motorists generally are more wary. In addition, December is one of the worst traffic months of the year while January is usually one of the safest.

Sanford Offered Major League Aid

Sanford can return to organized baseball next season if an "angel" with $1,000 can be found before Sunday.

Two full working agreements with major league teams are available, officials of the Florida State League said today. The Pittsburgh Pirates and Washington Senators were described as "interested" in helping Sanford finance a Class D team.

The league will meet in Orlando Sunday. All cities which plan to field teams will be asked to post $1,000 to show that they are ready to operate.

Under a new program for minor leagues, adopted Dec. 6 to Washington, a major league team would put a baseball team in Sanford. The parent team would furnish players, train them and deliver them to Sanford three days prior to the opening of the season, at no cost to Sanford.

The major league team would send 22 active players and a manager. The parent club would furnish $1,500 toward players' salaries, compared to $3,000 in former years. The entire salary of the manager would be paid by the sponsoring major league team.

In addition to these financial aids, a national advertising agency has said that it will put at least $5,000 into the club by buying advertising space on the fence. The agency said another $2,000 might be obtained.

With 70 home games on the schedule, officials said an average of 350 fans per game, at 75 cents each, would assure Sanford of a profitable year.

League officials said Pittsburgh is awaiting an answer from Sanford. They added, "All Sanford needs to do to get back in baseball is to guarantee the league that $1,000 is available when the league meets Sunday."

Officials warned, however, that action must be immediate. Heading the local committee to investigate the matter are John Krider, Chamber of Commerce manager, and Jerry Corington.

Seventeen teams now are set for the 1959 Florida State League season. An eighth member is being sought. Sanford has the inside track on the franchise, if the money guarantee can be posted, officials said.

Sanford once was an active baseball city. The 1939 team, headed by Dale Alexander, Sid Hudson and Early Wynn, is recognized as the greatest in FSL history.

Estimated Toll 390 For Long Holiday

CHICAGO (UPI)—The National Safety Council warned today that as many as 390 persons will be killed in traffic during the New Year's holiday unless celebrants show "sober, thoughtful, considerate behavior."

"Surely the tragic highway toll over the Christmas holiday must have shocked all of us into more sober, thoughtful, considerate behavior behind the wheel," the council said.

"We appeal to everyone to carry the memory of that huge and needless toll into the heavy traffic of the weekend just ahead, and do his part to see that it doesn't happen again."

The 102-hour holiday weekend begins at 6 p. m. New Year's Eve and closes at Sunday midnight.

YUBA CITY, Calif. (UPI)—A would-be burglar who at first didn't succeed doesn't plan to try and try again.

What Will '59 Offer? Old Year Gives Clue

This is the last day of 1958. At midnight, a bright new year will be welcomed.

It always is a joyful occasion, the welcome extended the new, the "singing out" of the old. Tomorrow, resolutions will be in order. Many, no doubt, will be inspired by the New Year's Eve celebration.

Before we bid farewell to '58, it might be well to take a look at the "old" year. Although a new year is only a few hours away, 1958 will have much influence on '59.

What kind of year was 1958? The U. S. had a business recession, from which it recovered completely; '58 always will be known as the true beginning of the Space Age; the cold war between freedom and Communism continued unabated.

The U. S. sent troops to Lebanon, the Chinese Communists threatened to take Formosa, Russia made war talk over Berlin.

In domestic America, civil rights and integration legislation, some of it made by courts, played a big role in the news. The weather, a big story any year, made big news, most of it bad.

What does '59 hold for Americans? Nobody knows. A good guess would be about the same as '58. With a few additions, of course.

Based on statements by President Eisenhower, the motoring public can look forward to an increase in gasoline taxes. If this thought isn't sobering enough, Americans can expect to make the turn into 1959-60 without a tax cut.

The integration struggle will continue. Summer will bring high temperatures around the nation, winter will be too cold.

The U. S. may try to put a man in space; more satellites will zoom around in outer space; business will be better.

And, of course, on another sobering note, all of the women will be one year older. The men will, too, but they admit it, all except Jack Benny.

Thieves Will Take It

It has been said that a thief will steal anything, including the kitchen sink. "Light-fingered" gentlemen have walked off, at one time or another with just about anything that the average person could name.

Each time something more unusual is stolen, everyone says: "Well, this is the living end." It would seem, however, that the end is not in sight.

Many unusual thefts can be listed. But the thief, or thieves, who made off with a bird bath from the home of C. H. Cogburn should rank with the all-time greats.

Why would anyone steal a heavy concrete basin? As in the case of other unusual items, there is no limit to the tastes of a thief.

New Flag Design Still Top Secret

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The design for the 49-star United States flag, with Alaska represented, was still a top-secret today.

But the best educated guess was that the nation's new banner, which will go into general use July 4, will look pretty much like the present Old Glory.

Some flag manufacturers and well-informed congressional and government sources said it's a good bet that the stars will be arranged seven across and seven down.

Inez Robb Says

By INEZ ROBB

Who, on the eve of a new year, can say that this is not the best of all possible worlds? At least, who can say it from experience? So we had better say it while we can, and before the first space travelers return with reports from other worlds.

I look forward to the new year with the greatest pleasure and anticipation. What will Lady Nora Docker, the Knocker, do next? Who, in the bright new year ahead, will get the Junior Trujillo's chincilla coats and foreign cars?

On which beauty will the Little Caesar of Hollywood, Frank Sinatra, shower his flickering favors in '59? What lucky photographer will be the target of his displeasure?

Which will be the first ten syndicates, newspapers and magazines to sign up for yet another shop-

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell was another convert to his belief that it would be wrong to let the FBI loose on labor unions and racketeers who advance the cause of the working man with bombs and other violence.

The convert is Sen. Patrick V. McNamara (D-Mich.). McNamara spoke last week before the criminology symposium of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Mitchell got on record last autumn at the Atlantic City convention of the steelworkers. The steelworkers greeted Mitchell with some boing but warmed up considerably after he had outlined his policies. One of his policies was that there should be no federal legislation in deal with labor unions, open squads and criminal tactics.

"What we do need," Mitchell said, "is a recognition at the community level that these (local) laws (a gain) such violence should be enforced. No one has to wait for Washington to pass a law to check these evils."

Laws Not Enforced

The record of the Senate Labor Rackets Committee presided over by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) is sufficient proof that local laws against labor violence are not properly enforced. Neither Mitchell nor McNamara is likely to argue that enforcement in local areas is adequate. What McNamara said was this:

"Theft, violence and extortion already are crimes in every state. Should Congress single them out for special federal penalties just because the culprit may be found to have a connection with a labor union?"

President George Meany of AFL-CIO gave Mitchell's policy a fast okay shortly after the Atlantic City convention. Meany, as much as McNamara, dislikes the idea of federal cops, probably the FBI, digging into the facts of labor violence. McNamara, like Meany, might be considered to be something less than an impartial witness in the matter.

McNamara is a lower echelon leader of organized labor. At the time of his election to the Senate, in 1954, McNamara was president of the Detroit Pipefitters Local No. 636, A.F.L.

Legal Precedent

The argument that local law should prevail in local matters is a good one but as a precedent it has been shot down and ridiculed by legislative action which has put federal agents on jobs long reserved for local enforcement officers. Moreover, if FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover were invited to testify regarding legislation which would put the FBI actively on the trail of labor racketeers, Hoover probably would oppose it.

There is another factor, however. Building up now among members of Congress is a lot of enthusiasm for a federal law to punish persons who bomb schools or churches. Hoover probably would be against that, too, if the FBI were involved. But many a member of Congress with large racial or religious minorities back home would not dare to vote "no."

If such a law is passed, the question for McNamara and others to answer will be this: If federal protection against racial or religious violence is good and necessary why not against labor violence? There is plenty of local law against bombing schools and churches.

Washington Calling

By Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON, D. C. — In the full before the Congressional storm a lonely band faces an uncertain destiny. The liberal Republicans in the Senate, 12 of them by charitable count, are making valiant pounds of battle.

But the difficulty, as more candid members of this beleaguered company admit in private, is finding a piece of the political terrain on which they can stand. As Eisenhower Republicans they find President Eisenhower dug into a position offering them no comforting shelter whatsoever.

The President is going all out for economy and balancing the budget. If his preliminary statement on the size of the next budget means anything, all expenditures will be deeply cut except armaments, where there will be an increase approaching $2 billion over current defense spending. Even the Development Loan Fund, which was to be expanded to $1 billion a year, is to be held to the present level of $700,000,000.

The stern economy cry out of the White House is reminiscent of the stand taken by Herbert Hoover after the Congressional elections of 1930 went against the Republicans. The enemy in that earlier time was deflation, with a rapidly mounting total of unemployment. As viewed from the White House today, the peril is inflation. But the remedy proposed is like that of 1931 and '32 — cut costs, save money, balance the budget.

As the unhappy Hoover struggled to hold the line and "recreate confidence" the Democratic opposition had a field day. Such wild-eyed radicals as John Nance Garner were proposing staggering sums — as much as $300,000,000 — for relief of the unemployed. The

Choral Group Sets Concert At Church

The Teocoma Falls Bible College choral group, Teocoma Falls, Ga., will present a sacred concert Sunday morning at the Alliance Church.

The morning service at 10:45 will feature 24 voices under the direction of the Rev. John Klinspeter.

Klinspeter recently served on a Youth for Christ team in Europe. Many of the choir members are volunteers for foreign service in Christian missions.

"The varied program should appeal to all who appreciate sacred music," the Rev. David Carney said. On this scheduled concert the choir is presenting ancient, classical and modern hymn arrangements, as well as spirituals. Music critics have commended the group as one of the finest in the Bible College field.

Teocoma Falls Bible College is the oldest one of its kind in the South. The interdenominational school was founded 47 years ago.

Local Briefs

Sen. Spessard Holland was honored recently when a tree was planted as a living memorial to his contributions to the nation's agricultural stability at the Thor Research Center for Better Farm Living in Marietta, Ill.

The tree is marked with a plaque, and borders a newly-constructed lake at the Center.

One of the major complaints in the group is that the President has given them no recognition. Senator Alexander Wiley, ranking member of the Foreign Relations Committee, feels deeply that he has never had his due in appointment to international commissions and delegations. Aiken, ranking member of the Agriculture Committee and a leading authority on farm problems, feels just as strongly that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has ignored him in policy-making.

Regardless of how the contest comes out — and the odds favor Dirksen at the moment — the liberals feel that by making a stand together they are bound to get more recognition. They will have impressed on the country the fact that there are a dozen or more Republicans actively opposed to the standpattism of the majority. And they will always have the issue of civil rights on which they can count for the deep divisions in the Democratic party.

This is not merely an ideological debate with an honorary office as the reward for the winner. Many of the liberals and those in the swing group between conservatives and liberals are up for re-election in 1960. It is a question for them of survival, since the trend that swept so many Democrats into office last November may still be running.

With his military background the President is a firm believer in staying strictly to channels in any and all negotiations. The departure of Sherman Adams has opened the White House door to crack liberal Senators who have talked to the President recently find him no more receptive to their problems and their ideas than in the past. They must stand on their own feet and on the record they are able to make if they are to stand at all.

Adopt Unbreakable Resolutions For Satisfaction In New Year

By GAY PAULEY
 NEW YORK (UPI)—Who said New Year's resolutions are made for breaking? I've just gone through the list of 10 made on this day last year and scored 99 and 44-100 per cent maintenance.

The secret? Make easy to keep resolutions, which play to the weakness of human nature, don't try for self-improvement.

Noted psychologist, Dr. James F. Hendler, says we fail to keep the dog-eared resolutions because "we are imperfect manifestations of God's creation." We go right on making them because "of our sense of guilt, our eagerness to aspire and improve," he added. But I've found keeping the other resolutions is a breeze. Last year, for instance, I resolved to quit giving seats to old ladies on buses and subways; to gossip at every opportunity; never be on time for anything except trains and planes; not worry about the waistline; and go ahead and run up charge accounts.

Drum Up New List
 Having scored such notable success in '58, I've forced a new list for 1959. Join me, if you'd like a resolution kept New Year.

Results:
 —Not to have the exact fare when I board a bus;
 —To back seat drive anytime I so desire;
 —To buy freely and take back or exchange just as freely, so long as the stores will let me get by with same;
 —To go ahead and shove in crowds, resorting to the convincing qualities of pointed toes and needle heels anytime necessary;
 —To nag, nag, nag;
 —To swat my nieces and nephews anytime they cross me; that is, if their parents are out of the room;
 —To ignore friends and relatives (live birthdays); no gifts or cards in '59, for who wants to be reminded of the passing years anyway?
 —To ask for raise
 —Not to worry if I haven't read the newest books, seen the latest movies and plays. Just go ahead and be a conversational bore;
 —Not to laugh at other people's jokes even if they're funny, unless they start laughing at mine even if not funny;
 —To be cantankerous if I wish, although I realize that Webster shows the adjective used to describe an old maid;
 —To go ahead and be disgruntled, as charged;
 —To change my mind at will, may this be a woman's privilege and why fight 'em;
 —To ask the boss for a raise;
 —To ask the boss for a raise;
 —To ask the boss for a raise

A Happy New Year to everyone.

Late Supper Planned

Since New Year's Eve celebrations are apt to begin late and end early, plan an informal buffet supper somewhere between midnight and daybreak. During the festivities, your guests will enjoy beer, the beverage of moderation.

Because of the late hour and maddening preliminary nibbling, pass rich foods in favor of a menu that is light and tasty. Perfect for the occasion is a hot casserole which can be prepared in advance, then reheated without further attention while the salad is tossed and the bread is sliced.

Set the table beforehand, too, and fit a surprise centerpiece by spelling the letters "HAPPY."

Baptist Church Slates Service

The First Baptist Church will observe Watchnight festivities to-night beginning with prayer meeting for everyone in the church auditorium at 7:30.

Other activities will be held in the church social hall beginning with a carol sing led by Cecil Tucker at 8:15. Poem time is at 8:45; Fun in Film at 9 o'clock; Surprise time, 9:15; skit time, 9:30; refreshments, 10 o'clock; adults in charge at 10:30; and songs on tape, 11 o'clock.

The program will return to the church auditorium at 11:15 for a movie, "The Beginning of the Rainbow." Personal testimonies will be heard at 11:45 p.m. The pastor, Dr. W. P. Brooks Jr., will take charge at 11:55 until just past the midnight hour.

The general public is invited to attend for all or part of the evening. Come when you can and leave when you must.

Woman's World

By JOSEPH DIGLES
LAS VEGAS—(UPI)—Joan Crawford thinks a wife, whatever career she may have, owes a good part of her time to her husband's career. And the 50-year-old actress has 125,000 wives of air travel behind her to prove she practices what she preaches.

During a visit to Las Vegas, Miss Crawford stressed that her being career is dictated totally by her responsibilities as Mrs. Alfred Steele, wife of a wealthy bottling executive.

For nearly four years, she has played the role of Mrs. Steele. "And I love every exciting minute of it," she exclaimed. "The reality of it is even more enjoyable than some of the movie parts I've portrayed."

The Academy Award winner married Steele in Las Vegas in 1955 and is beginning to catch her second wind from the globe-trotting ventures necessary for wife of the board chairman of the Pepsi-Cola Co.

"I had made only one airplane trip prior to marrying Alfred," said Miss Crawford.

Last year the Steeles toured 20 foreign countries to publicize the opening of new plants.

"I cut more ribbons than a seamstress," said the star. "Our itinerary read like a script. It was something like acting in a mystery story and not knowing the outcome until the end. I wouldn't trade this life for anything."

She continued: "I plan my pictures so that I can be with Alfred as much as possible during shooting. My work in movies or television comes second to a contention on an extensive business trip."

"There is a husband and wife team. A woman who doesn't become interested in some way in her husband's career is missing part of married life, a very important part."

But for a movie idol who has been a star for more than two decades, there is no complete break with the past. This was evident when Miss Crawford and her husband made a business trip to Lourenco Marques, capital of Mozambique in Africa on the Indian Ocean.

"We stepped off the plane at 7 a. m.," she said. "And there they were 20,000 people, waving pictures of us and shouting for autographs."

Later the Steeles visited the king of Uganda. For more than an hour in the African tribal ruler's jungle home, Miss Crawford listened, amazed, as he "told me more about myself than any person I have met."

Her current acting schedule calls for a few television performances a year, and pictures only when the timing is right and the scripts to her liking.

The lure of nightclub salaries hasn't swayed Joan Crawford. "I'm not a nightclub-type performer," she said, "but I admit there have been offers." One included $10,000 for two hours' work as hostess to a press party.

Bacon Apple Muffins Star Menu Tonight

"Bacon bites in muffins!" "That's right" — and there's applause, too!"

Very little need be said about these Bacon-Apple Muffins. They speak for themselves when given a chance. You couldn't ask for a muffin that is more delicious, tastier, or more filling. They will be worth your time.

One small tip from home economist Reba Stegge. In this recipe, bacon drippings play the role of the shortening. When preparing other types of muffins or any baked product, give lard a chance to prove itself. If you are not already familiar with this product for use as a shortening, you'll be pleasantly surprised. Using lard as the shortening, your baked products are bound to win blue ribbons.

Bacon Apple Muffins
 2 cups sifted enriched flour
 1/2 teaspoon soda
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 6 slices bacon
 4 to 6 tablespoons bacon drippings
 1 egg, beaten
 1 1/2 cup milk
 1/4 cup applesauce
 Grease 12 medium-sized muffin pans. Mix together flour, soda, baking powder, salt and cinnamon. Cook bacon until lightly browned. Cut into small pieces. Mix together egg, milk, applesauce, bacon drippings and pieces of bacon. Add liquid to dry ingredients and stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Fill muffin pans 3/4 full. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 18 to 20 minutes. Yield: 12 muffins.

McCormack Tells How To Fight Overweight During New Year

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
NEW YORK—(UPI)—If you can keep your waistline while all dices during the New Year, as in the old.

You can't resolve to be anti-social and sit in a corner at parties and festive dinners. But every time you open that mouth to talk, seems the hostess insists on popping some calorie-laden thing into it.

How to brake the habit? Stick by good eating principles. It's better to be careful now than plump later.

Play down foods which add inches at a gallop. Substitute others with fewer calories. Many munch counts in this waistline war.

For the main course, avoid fatty meats — pork, duck, goose or ham. Choose roast beef, turkey or chicken — sans sweet and fattening sauces.

Leave the drum sticks for children. While meat is lower in calories than dark.

There's less to be "gained" from seasonal dishes such as fresh cranberry sauce and chestnuts than from candied yams — dripping in calories.

Fresh green salads are always good, if you shy from the rich dressings and sauces. Vote for oil, vinegar, tomato or similar slim toppings.

Radishes, celery, carrot sticks, pickles and relish are more slimming than olives.

Stand by the clear soups. Use blenders where creamy ones are concerned.

Cocktail hour and between meal nibbling can be calorie cheap and delicious. Feast on boiled shrimp and lobster, crab meat or oysters.

You can conserve calories by switching to artificial sweeteners for coffee and tea. Maybe the hostess will serve ice-cream desserts, too, to help you along.

Hunger lurks in the dinner party that's way past the usual eating time. Hard-to-control hunger nangs may drag you — weak and helpless — to the refrigerator before it's time to start for the party.

To reinforce calorie control, check with a doctor about the use of appetite suppressants. A new one (Levonor) does not stimulate the central nervous system. Medical reports indicate it can be taken at night and does not disturb sleeping later on.

On the drinking side, remember that most cocktails run over with calories. Dry red or white wine, mixed with soda water as a "spritzer" will last a long sipping time without supplying too many calories.

Rowells Entertain

Cdr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rowell entertained at their Lake Mary home with a cocktail party Saturday from 6-8 p.m.

Holiday decorations were used in the rooms. Guests selected hors d'oeuvres from an array placed on the buffet table on the Florida porch. On the buffet was an attractive arrangement using a cornucopia filled with pine cones and Christmas balls and New Year and Christmas candies. A Christmas tree graced one corner of the room.

Approximately 65 people attended the party. Several couples brought with them out-of-town relatives. Among the out-of-town guests were Cdr. Rowell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wellman Rowell, Vermont; and his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Stanforth, Montreal.

Nuptials Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hebbum Jr. of Mount Dora, announced Friday the engagement of their daughter, Mary Kathleen, to Charles E. Wareing, Mount Dora and Washington, D. C.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Martin of Apopka. The Martins have many friends in Sanford.

Miss Hebbum is a graduate of the Mount Dora High School. She served as president of the local chapter of the National Honor Society and was editor of the school paper, Hi Points. She was awarded the Halbour medal for journalism and the American Legion award of honor at the end of her senior year. At the present time she is studying for a BA at the University of Virginia in Fredericksburg.

Mr. Wareing is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley Wareing. He was salutatorian of his class and president of the student council at the Mount Dora High School. He helped to found the local chapter of the National Honor Society and was its first president.

He attended the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va., and is furthering his studies for a BS in electrical engineering at George Washington University in Washington.

Recipes For Youth Appeal At Lunch

Your youngsters come home for lunch? It's so important to have a nutritious meal ready for them. Egg noodles and cheese are pleasant partners in any luncheon table and may be combined to make all sorts of flavorful dishes youngsters truly like.

We suggest baking the egg noodles in individual casseroles as children find the idea of having their very own little casserole in tempting.

Home For Lunch Noodles
 (Makes 4 servings)
 1 tablespoon salt
 3 quarts boiling water
 8 ounces medium egg noodles (about 4 cups)
 1 cup sour cream
 1 cup grated Swiss cheese (about 1/2 pound)
 1/2 cup finely chopped parsley
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 Pepper to taste

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring or occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Combine noodles and remaining ingredients; mix thoroughly. Pour into greased individual casseroles. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 15-20 minutes, or until thoroughly heated. Garnish with pimiento and parsley, as desired.

Dress up cooked celery with mushrooms and sliced almonds.

Bowl Games To Be One-Sided

By JOE SARGIS
United Press International
More than 300,000 fans on five different football fronts will take themselves out to the "bowl" game Thursday despite a pointed warning from odds-makers that most of the contests should wind up in one-sided fashion.

Nearly 100,000, the biggest crowd of the day, is expected at Pasadena, Calif., where Iowa is a whopping 18-point choice to trounce California in the Rose Bowl.

Randy Duncan, All-America quarterback, heads a Hawkeye team which compiled a 7-1 record this season while his opposite number is Joe Kapp, who directed the Golden Bears to a 13-3 campaign. Generally regarded the "grand-daddy" of all New Year's Day classics, the Rose Bowl game will be aired by NBC-TV and radio starting at 4:45 p.m. e.s.t.

Olmedo Gets U. S. Davis Cup Victory

By ERIC RIEL
BRISBANE, Australia (UPI)—Alex (The Chief) Olmedo, a Peruvian on loan to the United States Davis Cup team, shipped Australia's tennis monopolists almost single-handedly and the Yanks reclaimed the famed mug today by winning the challenge round, three matches to two.

Olmedo clinched the best-of-five series for the U. S. by outclassing Australia's top player, Neale Anderson, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 8-6. Then, with the Cup already in American hands, more than 18,000 groaning fans watched Mal Anderson turn back Harry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio, 7-5, 13-11, 11-9 in a "who cares" final match.

The Yank's stunning victory will go down as one of the greatest upsets in the 58-year history of the challenge round. The odds were stacked high against them when the matches began Monday, for Australia had won the Cup seven times in the last eight years and had kept it "down under" since 1955.

Ankle Improving, White Will Play

BRONX, Miss. (UPI)—Clemson spokesman say the Tigers' first string quarterback, under orders to stay in bed here today with a "slight ankle injury," will be able to play in the Sugar Bowl game.

Miami Nips 'Canes For Tourney Title

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Sophomore guard Dave Zeller hit for six points in overtime late Tuesday to give Miami University of Ohio a 29-27 victory over the University of Miami, Fla., for the championship of the first Hurricane Basketball Tournament.

Louisiana's tricky winged "T" attack is headed by Billy Cannon, the UPI's "Player of the Year," John Robinson and quarterback Warren Rabb. Clemson, which uses an unbalanced "T" formation and compiled an 8-2 record this season, relies heaviest on Harvey White for its ground gaining. The game will be carried on

Colts And Giants Dominate All-Star

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Baltimore Colts and New York Giants, who played the National Football League's first "sudden death" overtime game last Sunday, today won 10 berths on

Campy All Ready For 'Great Year'

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (UPI)—Campy's going south again with the Dodgers and, man, he thinks this is "the greatest New Year ever."

Although still confined to a wheelchair, Roy Campanella couldn't keep the excitement out of his voice as he talked about "my new job with the Dodgers" at his home here today.

"It's the kind of thing I wanted to do all my life," said the former Dodger catcher, "and now I'll be able to be right back with all the fellas again."

Cincinnati Beaten In Dixie Tourney

United Press International
The downfall of top-ranked Cincinnati from the unbeaten ranks and the one-point narrow escapes of Kentucky and Kansas State stole the basketball limelight today from the crowning of six new major tournament champions.

Vaides Champion? D'Amato Chortles

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cus D'Amato, manager of heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, today laughed off a proclamation by the New York Boxing Managers' Association that big Nino Valdes of Cuba is world champion.

'Pat Summerall Day' At Lake City

LAKE CITY (UPI)—Mayor Murray E. Hagen proclaimed Jan. 8 as "Pat Summerall Day" in honor of the place-kicker for the New York Giants football team.

NBC-TV and radio, beginning at 1:45 p.m. e.s.t. The men who make the odds claim the Orange Bowl game at Miami, Fla., should be one-sided too, with Oklahoma (19) a 13-point choice over Syracuse (8-2) Syracuse Coach Ben Schwartzwalder summed up the Sooners perfectly.

Oklahoma does things so well," he said. "And they do them so fast. And so many people do it."

Names Same Lineup
Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson named virtually the same starting team as he did all season. The only exception was sophomore Bob Cornell, who will start at quarterback in place of David Baker, dropped for failure to meet academic standards. CBS will carry the game on TV and radio at 1:45 p.m. e.s.t.

Texas Christian and the U. S. Air Force Academy are matched in the closest game of the day at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Tex. Texas Christian (8-2) is "only" an eight-point favorite over the Air Force (9-0) although a recent snow could make the field soggy and throw the quoted odds out of kilter.

A crowd of 75,000 can look for a duel between speedy Jack Spikes of TCU and hard-charging Steve Gallos of the Air Force. Those who can't make it to Dallas Thursday can catch the game on CBS-TV or radio at approximately 3:30 p.m. e.s.t.

Special Features Set For Dog Track

A special New Year's Eve program featuring the 1959 Tangerine Bowl touring champion is slated tonight at Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

The new champion, chosen from about 150 entrants from 11 states, will highlight a 10-race program designed to end in time for New Year's Eve parties and other festivities.

For the past three years, racing fans have been treated by sensational writing following the annual Orlando tournament.

Tomorrow, 20 more races will welcome 1959 for the parimutuel enthusiast. A 10-event mainline will get underway at 2 p. m., followed by night competition at 8:10.

Tonight's big ninth race features the best dog in the South, possibly in the world. The great Indurral drew the seventh post position, from which he won his last race by four and one-half lengths.

Striving for an upset will be Frank Best, Hapless, Run Happy, Elaine Nug, Rebel Midnight, Rocky MacGinty and Simla.

Ex-Giant Pitcher Succumbs At 53

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (UPI)—Glenn Spencer, former pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Giants, died Tuesday at the age of 53.

Spencer, a native of Corning, N.Y., was with the Pirates from 1924 through 1932 during which time he won 23 games and lost 29. Spencer served as a relief pitcher with the world champion 1933 Giants, turning in a 0-2 record that season.

Wilson Holds Record

4 Family Members At Same College
HATTISBURG, Miss., (UPI)—Merwin F. Bennett, his wife and two children are all students at Mississippi Southern College. They call it togetherness.
 Bennett explained that he and his wife cut short their education to raise a family. They operated a dairy farm until the children, a son and daughter, were old enough to enter college. Mother and Dad then saw their chance and signed up.
 Bennett and son Merwin are juniors, daughter Virginia is a sophomore and Mrs. Bennett is a freshman.

Careful Customer
NEW YORK (UPI)—Like a fussy customer, a man walked among the display racks of a wholesale fur house and carefully selected about 120 mink stoles worth approximately $25,000.
 Before that, though, he and his companion had carefully bound up the proprietor, his wife, son and accountant.

Six Months' Work
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—"Foxy and Bess" has been completed as far as the main part of the photography is concerned, and the next six months will be devoted to technical work on the 2 1/2-hour long film.
 Producer Samuel Goldwyn expects to have his American premiere in New York in July.

In Wrong Family
BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI)—The mink so really isn't an ox at all, according to research by the University of Vermont. The zoology department said blood samples showed that the mink is so closer to sheep and goats than to cattle.
