WASHINGTON, July 31.—Above the little brick building mourning relatives gathered today to their last farewell to William Jennings Bryan, flags draped at half staff from great government buildings to mark the nation's tribute to the Coming colors spoke of the he had given to the flag, statesman and legislator in church and at the in Arlington this afternoon to recount his valorous in public and private of the gospel of truth and towards men.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Close to the brief years of his life in Washington, William Jennings Bryan lay last night in the calm dignity of the step into which he slipped at the close of his last in far away Dayton.

FOUNDATIONS OF YACHT CLUB ARE FINISHED TODAY

Specifications and Blueprints
Are in Hands of Local Contractors; Construction of Clubhouse to Begin Soon

In an appeal today Major J. R. Emory of the Sanford Yacht Club asked that those persons who have signed their intention of becoming members of the organization, send in their initiation fees at once because more funds are needed to complete final work on the clubhouse proper.

Major Emory said that the foundation work which consists mainly of pilings capped and bolted together by 40 inch stringers was completed today so that work on the club rooms may begin at once.

Specifications and blueprints are now in the hands of several Sanford contractors, he said and bids on the building will be submitted by them during the next few days. Conditions are such that construction of the building will begin within 10 days, he believes.

For this reason Mr. Emory, as the head of the organization, is especially anxious to have all membership fees turned over to Secretary W. E. White at once. Already a large percentage of the funds for the erection of the clubhouse had been collected and the remaining part is now being sought.

It was learned from Mr. Emory that he has recently received word from several boat contractors and builders to the effect they will visit Sanford in the near future to confer with him in regard to the building and purchasing of boats of various types by residents of this city as well as non-resident members.

The Sanford Yacht Club has already become well known throughout Florida and is rapidly becoming known in many different parts of the entire union, he said. The ordering of a number of boats of the various members of the club will give an additional amount of publicity to Sanford which will be very valuable, he believes.

ANDREWS PICKS MORE CUSTOMS MEN FOR NORTH

More Than Hundred Added
By Andrews in Effort To Stop Activity of Rummers
On The Canadian Border

Government Losing
Heavily, He Asserts

Dry Enforcement Head Goes
About Task With Renewed
Determination of Winning

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury Thursday began repatriating the fences against smugglers along the northern border of the United States. As a first step he authorized the appointment of more than 100 additional customs inspectors to be assigned between the Atlantic seaboard and Western line of North Dakota.

Continued that the federal government is losing from ten to fifteen million dollars annually in revenue as a result of customs evasion, the assistant secretary has set about the development of a program with which he hopes to combat the smugglers of merchandise, live stock, dairy and other farm products as well as liquor, narcotics and aliens. Orders authorizing the increase in personnel went out tonight and many of the men will be put to work before Monday.

Declines to Comment.
Further than to disclose the number of men to be added to the border patrol, Mr. Andrews declined to talk about details of the operation.

"Do not get the idea," he said, "that this job of guarding against smuggling is concerned only with liquor. That would be a wrong impression, for while the controls will presumably strengthen our efforts to curb liquor smuggling they will pay their cost several times over in forcing payment of tariff duties on many shipments across the border that now pay nothing."

It is the present plan to take up within a week the inspection along the Montana and Washington frontier where the customs inspectors heretofore have been singly stationed and the smuggling of cattle and supplies for ranchmen is admitted to be serious. Attention also will be given the Mexican border as soon as Mr. Andrews and his advisers can solve the problems to be met there.

Report Sent Andrews.
Report of conditions in detail, has been sent to Mr. Andrews at his request, by all of the customs collectors. He also has made a personal inspection of conditions wherever it could. The needs were observed and the collectors' recommendations considered together with a view to building a border patrol that would divert it from the organized inland prohibition enforcement to machine.

It was said also today that a budget improvement committee had examined customs conditions on the border and had recommended additional personnel, but budget officials declined to discuss their investigation. Some officials, however, are convinced that revenue from smuggling were greater than the estimate because of lack of appropriations for the customs service.

Game Between Tampa And Sanford Thrown Out When Manager Moore Protests

Local Club Leader Declares
Tampa Is Using Ineligible
Players and Acting President Upholds His Protest

Yesterday's Game
To Be Played Again

Sanford Pilot Also Plans To Protest Games With Lakeland and St. Petersburg

TAMPA, July 31.—Unholding the protest of Manager Moore, of the Sanford team, Ray Parney, acting president of the Florida State League last night declared the game played Thursday afternoon between Tampa and Sanford off and it will be played over.

When Pitcher Foley went to the mound in the fifth inning Manager Moore, of the Sanford team, then notified the official scorer that he filed a protest on the game and would continue to play under that protest. The Sanford manager is not using their right names and that they also are class men. He also charged that Allen, Hodge and Cobb were using their right names, but have played in a Class C league or higher.

Rules Game Out.
When notification of the protest was made by the scorer to Mr. Parney, the league head immediately made his ruling and threw out the game. He said that he had investigated the records of the four men first mentioned and that he had found they were sent to Tampa under other than a Class B team and that they were playing under assumed names. He also said that he had found that Cobb had also played in a Class B league, but was using his right name. Allen and Hodge have been with the team since the first of the season and their status has not been denied.

The new rules adopted at a meeting of the directors of the league in Lakeland two weeks ago allow a team to carry five class men, but the charge as upheld by Mr. Parney is that Tampa has seven. No investigation was deemed necessary by Mr. Parney as he had evidence enough to back up a protest against both the Lakeland and St. Petersburg clubs and that he would play the next game scheduled with either of them under protest. Claude Henley, president of the Lakeland Club, was not reached last night but he had stated that he had already notified the club would live up to the rules for the rest of the season. President Clarke Seivator, of St. Petersburg, made the statement over the telephone last night that his club was living up to the rules in every respect.

Should the protest be sustained, the commission from Tampa to the state plan to retail gasoline. Inasmuch as the proceedings will be an original action, under a state law, it is necessary to present the case to a full bench of the Supreme Court. Two justices are now out of the city.

Should the Supreme Court refuse to receive the case, members of the law firm said it then would be turned over to the oil company's representatives in Sioux Falls, with instructions to file the injunction given it circulation.

Merre, S. D., July 31.—Council for the White Eagle Oil Company, decided Thursday to file injunction proceedings against the State Gasoline Commission in South Dakota as a full bench is present. The proceedings will seek to restrain the commission from spending public money in furtherance of the state's plan to retail gasoline.

CIVIC CHAMBER HEARS REPORT OF MCFARLAND

Director of Campaign Tells Of Progress Thus Far In
'Great Forward Movement';
Urges Support of Everyone

Teams Practically
Completed Today

Trade Body Hears Discussion
On Income Tax For Deferred
Real Estate Payments

Members of the Chamber of Commerce and their guests looked on with much interest at the weekly luncheon at the Seminole Cafe today to a number of talks and reports relative to the outlook and prospects of the big membership campaign now in progress.

As the first speaker, D. H. McFarland, director of the campaign for the trade body and vice-president of the American City Bureau, gave a detailed report of the organization that is being perfected for the active part of the campaign which will begin next Tuesday morning.

He declared that so far as he could see the work accomplished thus far indicated that Sanford will go over the top in "big fashion" next week. With the three weeks of preparatory work practically completed and the teams for active work almost complete, he said, prospects are very bright for this city to set a mark which will arouse the jealousy of many many Florida cities which have been successful in similar campaigns.

Mr. McFarland urged that every citizen get behind the movement and back it to his utmost, even if it becomes necessary for him to neglect his business for a short time each day during the week. The campaign is the biggest thing Sanford has ever attempted, he asserted, and on its success depends the effort that each and every individual citizen of this community puts into it with the co-operation of all.

Judge E. E. Housholder, chairman of the executive committee for the campaign, also spoke in behalf of the great "forward movement" that is now under way and urged that every citizen of Sanford and especially the members of the Chamber of Commerce give all that is in them toward the success of the campaign.

P. P. Forster, president of the First National Bank was also called upon for a short talk. He further urged that the members of the trade body get behind the campaign and do their best to help in making it the most successful of any movement of the kind every staged here.

Dr. Alexander Karr, educational director of the campaign, in his turn did not make an address but said: "Turn all of the enthusiasm and hot air that has been around and prompted by the movement during the past three weeks into solid cash and put the thing over for Sanford."

R. G. Duxey, whom has just returned to Sanford after several weeks spent in northern and eastern states, told of the interest he found shown in Florida in the people of other states. If a person from the north wants to be sure of a hearing anywhere, he declared, all he has to do is to reveal that (Continued on Page Three)

Large Number New Homes Being Built; Permits Show Gain

July Permits Increase
$67,020 or Approximately 159 Per Cent
Over July of 1924

Construction in Sanford during the first seven months of this year totals $872,823 as compared with $314,807 for the same period in 1924. This is a gain of $558,021 or over 177 per cent, according to the compilation.

The large volume of mid-summer construction is pointed out by many as a certain indication of the city's rapid growth and development. With a large part of the total of permits issued being for the erection of residences it is declared that the growth of Sanford is becoming more substantial than ever.

July permits were $67,018 greater than the total for the preceding month. This is an increase for the 30-day period of approximately 159 per cent. It is expected that permits will be issued during August for the erection of a $150,000 arcade building, a $150,000 apartment house and Seminole county's new $75,000 jail, which will add to the total for the first eight months of the year past the million mark and probably eclipse the highest mark of this year thus far which was $459,130 during April when the permit was issued for the construction of the Hotel Forrest Lake.

Tabulated figures for the first seven months of 1924 and 1925 follow:

Month	1924	1925
Jan.	$10,777	$ 75,275
Feb.	9,765	41,140
March	35,347	70,039
April	25,811	450,130
May	58,755	95,535
June	78,205	42,020
July	62,120	109,038
Totals	$314,807	$872,823

There were 72 permits in all issued in July the largest of which was $14,000 for the constructing of a residence for Harry T. Bodwell in Dreamland and one was for $25 for repairs. The larger permits issued for the construction of residences were: J. O. Laing, $3,500; Fred Ball $4,500; W. C. Mead $4,500; R. W. Otter $2,000; S. O. Shubolter $4,000; Volie Williams $4,000; Mrs. Hestha Handed $5,000; C. Cobb $5,333; E. C. Harper $4,000; Mrs. M. K. Whittle $3,500; and H. B. McCall $10,000.

Seaboard's Bond Issue Of 25 Million Raised

NEW YORK, July 31.—Approximately $25,000,000 for the expansion of the Seaboard Air Line Railway in Florida was raised today through the sale of 16-year first mortgage, six per cent bonds of the Seaboard All Florida Railway, a new subsidiary which will control 468 miles of road operating through the Seminole State under plans announced today by S. Davies Warfield, president of the road.

The new lines, including extensions to Miami and Fort Myers, will be leased to the parent company for 60 years, beginning August 1, at an annual rental of not less than $1,500,000.

Construction of the Miami and Fort Myers lines will complete an ambitious expansion program started by the Seaboard last year with the building of its Cross Florida Railway—the Florida Western and Northern—which gave the road direct through line access to Palm Beach and other points on the East Coast.

Knights Templar Will Help College Students

SEATTLE, Wash., July 31.—The Thirty-sixth annual convolve of the Knights Templar, today voted to continue an educational program by which boys and girls are loaned money to aid them through college regardless of relationship to members of the order. The majority of the knights attended a reception last night for Joseph K. Orr, newly elected grand command the convention which closed yesterday after the selection of Detroit as the 1926 convolve city.

English Coal Strike Averted By Operators

LONDON, July 31.—The owners of local mines today withdrew for a fortnight their notice of the expiration of the present working agreement and thus a strike of more than 1,000,000 miners set for midnight tonight has been averted. The owners' decision will permit discussion of methods of financial assistance to the industry, which the government has offered.

Significant Provisions Of Free Text Book Law Being Mailed To Patrons

TALLAHASSEE, July 30.—The office of the State Superintendent is mailing out a circular for the information of school teachers, officers and patrons, in which a number of the most significant provisions of the new Free Text Book Law, made effective by the legislature of 1925, are outlined.

First: All books adopted for use in the first six grades of the public free schools of the State shall be furnished by the State at the expense of the State for the use of the pupils of such public free schools in such grades, whose parents or guardians are residents or taxpayers of the State.

Second: On or before the first day of May each year thereafter each county superintendent shall prepare a list giving the names of all books and the number of each necessary for the pupils of the first six grades of the free public schools of the county and shall file such lists on or before the first day of June 1926, and the first day of June of each and every year thereafter.

Third: On or before the first day of May 1926, each county superintendent shall ascertain from the principal of each school in the county the number of books owned and used by each pupil in the first six grades during the school year 1925-1926 that may be used by such pupil in the grade in which such pupil may be enrolled for the school year 1926-1927. Each principal shall record such data in blanks to be furnished by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Two copies of this report of the principal shall be filed with the county superintendent.

It will be necessary, the circular points out, that the matter of securing the necessary data from each school must receive attention before the close of this year's term of that school.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Aviation will get a lot of Congress attention next winter. There'll be a fight over it, too.

The House committee, which investigated the subject last session, only finished its work just at adjournment. Its report is still coming out, a volume at a time. Soon it will be available in full, all ready to be taken up directly by the lawmakers are on hand.

No particular conclusions are reached, but the adherence of the committee's witnesses speaks for itself. Some of it is peppered with probably has been generally realized, its bulk having served to make it discouraging to go through in search of jazzy details.

These will be brought out, however, in debate, which certainly won't progress far without letting the country in on the fact that experts aren't at all satisfied with the flying industry's development in America, especially considering that it started here.

failure to keep up with the times that a row may be expected to break out. The feeling between military men like Col. "Billy" Mitchell and others he accuses of old fogysm for not admitting the plane's now the whole thing in war—that feeling's bad enough.

But it isn't a circumstance to the feeling of flying pioneers such as Capt. James V. Martin toward what they call the "aviation trust."

Martin's testimony in the congressional aviation committee's report attributes the country's aerial deficiencies entirely to "trust" machinations—a man effort to prevent any planes from being used any improvements by independent inventors except on its own terms.

That, Martin says, is the whole purpose of the Winslow bill, for aviation regulation, which Congress will be asked to pass in December.

Obviously it's to prescribe rules for the flying public's safety. In reality, according to Martin, it seeks to outlaw all machines but the "trust's."

$250 REWARD

It isn't that America hasn't good aviators. On the contrary, the report emphasizes their ability. It's of American aviation's backwardness as an institution, military and commercial, that critics complain. There seems to be almost complete unanimity in this. Many army and navy officers do, indeed, dispute some of the more enthusiastic aviators' claims, but all recognize the plane's importance as a weapon, ashore and afloat.

And this country is under-equipped with it—that's widely agreed. As for commercial aviation—outside the airmail, there practically isn't any in the United States, whereas in Europe it's about as well established as ships at sea.

It's when Congress gets down to a discussion of American aviation's

TALLAHASSEE, July 30.—Governor John W. Martin has offered a reward of $250 for the capture of Dr. R. E. Watts who murdered J. W. Price near Wildwood last May.

In offering this reward the Governor is sponsoring an effort on the part of authorities to locate Dr. Watts, whom officials have searched for since May 28, 1925, when the crime was committed.

Breezy Weather Reports Are Made By Woman Clerk

BUXTON, Eng., July 30.—The only woman weather clerk in England, Miss E. W. Pilkington, has grown tired of the official language of daily weather bulletins issued from headquarters, and has instituted a new departure which, while pleasing the populace of the district, does not exactly meet with official approval. Miss Pilkington favors an up-to-date style in forecasting the weather, one of her latest readings:

"Temperature: There's an acute shortage of thermis in the district. Winds: Still of an oriental character. Pressure: A steady, reliable worker. Local trends: Overflows with happiness. Inference: We are qualifying for the final of the weather championship."

Another was worded: "Temperature: Every day in every way it grows warmer and warmer. Inference: All the weather factors are decked out in their finest gear.

The spectre at the feast is too shadowy to worry us."

AIR LINES EXTENDED

MALONE, Sweden, July 30.—A daily aerial passenger service has been established between Malone and Copenhagen, Berlin, Amsterdam, Paris and London.

Last year's daily service between Stockholm and Helsingfors, the capital of Finland, has also been resumed for mail, passenger and light freight while every second day a hydroplane makes the trip between Stockholm and Danzig.

Population Census Taken in Florida This Year Is Seventh Instead Fifth

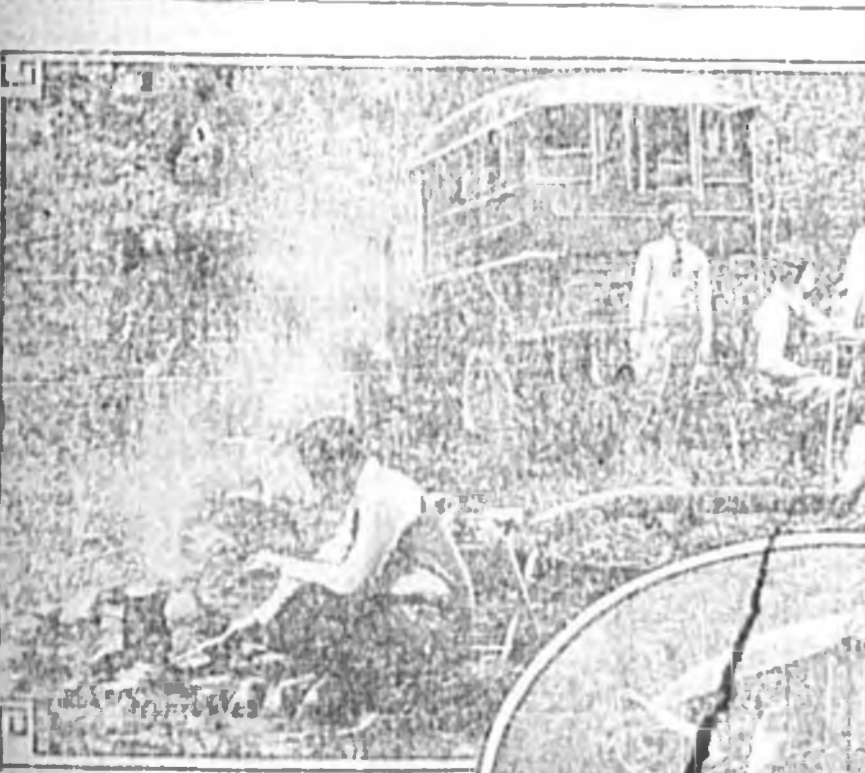

TALLAHASSEE, July 31.—The population census taken in Florida this year is not the fifth census, as commonly supposed, but the seventh. R. M. Harper, geographer and statistician, who had charge of the census work during the spring and who is now with the Geological Survey again, has discovered a chance discovery a few days ago, in the home of one of the oldest citizens of Tallahassee of the manuscript returns of the census of 1845 and 1855 for Leon county, said to have been rescued from a trash pile nearly twenty years ago, led him to investigate further and he soon found some dusty old legal volumes, the laws providing for those two censuses, and the published returns also.

The census of 1845 was taken in the first year of statehood, and in Florida in 1875 has been found, and it was hardly expected that such a discovery would be made in such a remote place. In those troubled times, but beginning with 1865 there has been a census every tenth year.

Lippert, director of the Progressive Farmer, Birmingham, Ala.; Dr. J. F. Guggar, formerly director of the Alabama Experiment Station, Auburn; J. M. Patterson, president of the National Pecan Growers' Association, and others.

Working Girls A-Gypsying Go

Now that summer is here there is a great recrudescence of the wanderlust among late and vivacious vacationists of the Western Electric Works at Kearny, N. J. Motoring is one of the most enjoyable as well as economical ways to voyage into vacation land and groups of the girls have made history by proving that anyone may be a gypsy even under conditions of present-day life.

something about Florida. The proceeding of Sanford being a process of automobile were seen coming to Florida. A few years ago, Mr. Davey, very few tourists to Florida in their automobiles and they came with the of returning in a short time, he said, the bulk of the procession is coming to Florida to live. They mostly a deserving class of people.

McFarland again referred to the advertising of Sanford being by the Hulick Brothers. He said the Hulick Brothers, at Allenhurst, N. J., is indeed fortunate to search competent and reliable take charge of the Hotel Lake which is fast nearing completion in this city.

Decided by the trade send a telegram to the Hulick Brothers and thank them for their splendid advertising giving pictures of the hotel. A number of Sanford views were published. Shubler brought up a question of the income or inheritance tax which must be paid on the earnings in regard to the tax on the estate. It was stated that in some instances, according to a ruling, that the tax must be paid on all deferred payments and other collateral in addition to the payment of the cash profits. In a discussion by various members of the chamber which followed, it was said that United States Senator Park Trammell is fighting this ruling and effort to have it repealed. It was stated that the effort of its unjustness in the payment of deferred payments. It was voted by the body to have a resolution sent to Senator Trammell recognition of his fight against this ruling of the treasury department. The secretary of the chamber was further instructed to the treasury department for a copy of the ruling.

what grounds he would base any protest against these two teams, but it has been noted that Lakeland has had fifteen men in the game within the last week.

Will Remove Two Men.
In discussing the situation Dr. H. E. Opre, owner of the Tampa club, issued a formal statement which is reproduced below. It speaks for itself. Dr. Opre was faced with a situation that had to be solved before the game is played this afternoon or that one would be thrown out also. In order that the team can play on until an expected investigation is made, two of the Tampa players in question. If they were not, then Manager Moore could file the same protest today and be upheld in it again.

Mr. Parmely said last night that he was sending a wire to President Sexton of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, requesting him to come here and make a thorough investigation of the Florida State League and every team in it. Mr. Sexton is expected within the next few days when several other matters are expected to be brought up.

There is nothing new in the present situation as something of this nature has come up nearly every year that the Florida State League has been in existence and the sooner an investigation is made by the proper authorities the better it will be for organized baseball in this state.

The Sanford team is the only one of the four that has had no charges brought against it and it has been said that their standing in the league shows the reason why. President Douglass of that club said yesterday afternoon that they had only two class men on the roster. McQue and Moore, and that they had seven men in their regular line-up who have never played in organized baseball before.

The change in plan which gave the military a place in the ceremonies was due to the feeling that up to the time that the casket was lowered into the grave, the funeral will be simply that of a plain American who held no office or appointment of state at the time of his death, who claimed no special distinction save such tribute as his fellow citizens cared to render him.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY: CURSING OR BLESSING? Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose hope the Lord is.—Jeremiah 17: 5-7.

IN A VESSEL OF EARTH: In a vessel of earth it came, A spirit with beauty aflame; Her laughter and her song and her mirth, All held in a vessel of earth, A jar which was fragile, but oh, We cherished and loved it so!

But our treasure was not of the clay, For the vessel has broken today, And mute is the voice, and the eyes Light no delight and surprise, And no mortal hand can replace That spirit of beauty and grace.

There are numberless vessels of earth, Still holding life's music and mirth, Still glow with the spirit, and yet There was one we shall never forget. One which held in its beautiful mold Something never another could hold.

Others carry sweet music and mirth Others come with delights to the earth, But we know now that fragrance we miss, That sound of her voice and her kiss, That life which we loved was her soul, And not the mere clay of the bowl.

And we know what we loved cannot die, Though broken its vessel may lie; And we know why the clay was so fair, 'Twas because she was teared in there; We have learned 'twas her beautiful soul Which really made lovely the bowl.

There's no time like the present, meaning that now is the time for you to subscribe to the Chamber of Commerce Greater Sanford movement.

These foreign nations are having a lot of fun building confidence and trying to figure out how they can take care of their debts with nothing to pay them with.

A Substantial Endorsement

Announcement that the three banks of Sanford have pledged five thousand dollars to the Chamber of Commerce has resulted in a great wave of enthusiasm spreading throughout the city as the great civic campaign for a greater Sanford gets under way.

Purchasing two hundred memberships, the bankers have spoken for almost as many as there used to be in the entire commercial body for about a week ago there were only two hundred and twenty-five members who were showing their interest in civic matters by working in and with the Chamber of Commerce.

With such a marvelous beginning, nothing can keep Sanford from making a great record before the end of the campaign next week.

Sanford has fully made up its mind to take its place along with other progressive Florida communities. It is going to show that it is on the map and must be considered in the rapid development of the state.

The eyes of many are on Sanford. Investors are wondering just what the city substantial will do. Depending on the results of the present campaign rests the investment of many thousands of dollars in Sanford real estate.

Speaking of Misers

People who have a wholesome contempt for the money-miser might find it profitable to examine their own propensities for hoarding valuables. It is sometimes found that the "meanest miser" in town is really a much self-respecting individual who has no idea that he could possibly be justly listed in the miser class.

Perhaps by this, you have glanced at your book shelves and felt a guilty flush at the remembrance of how you use your books to the good of the community. You keep them, perhaps, for show. Or you keep them as an indication of your culture or your knowledge.

Offer a book passed on and on until it is read to rags can do a thousand times more good than the price of that book in dollars could do. Often a book can do good that no amount of money could pay for.

From the hoarding of books, it is only a step, of course, to the miserly love of other possessions. People keep their attics full of articles that are doing nobody any good.

The money-miser is usually a bit cracked in his head. His hoarding is often a sort of dementia. But he really does not keep from his fellow-man the values that the book-miser keeps.

EVERYTHING IN THE world may be endured except only a succession of prosperous days.—Goethe. IT SHOWS A weak mind not to hear prosperity as well as adversity with moderations.—Cicero.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

This one has at least one merit—I can vouch for its truthfulness. In a southwestern city is stationed a bishop of the Episcopal church. He is a scholarly gentleman and one of the kindest men on earth.

On a Sunday morning the reverend gentleman sat in his study reviewing the sermon he had prepared for the forenoon service. His granddaughter entered.

HOW DO THEY GET AWAY? TAMPA TRIBUNE. An astounding statement is attributed to Nathan Mayo, head of the Prison Commission, in an Associated Press dispatch published yesterday.

Under the present situation, there is no use of arresting a criminal, if he is a man confesses to a crime, he might as well be discharged with, perhaps, a reprimand, and allowed to continue to murder, as some have continued.

When everything else fails to appeal, this one can be tried on your favorite saxophone: A duel was lately fought by Alexander Shott and John S. Nett. Nett was shot and Shott was not. In this case it was better to be Shott than Nett.

Some folks think, however, that the shot Shott shot at Nett was not shot, or that Nett was shot notwithstanding.

It may be made to appear on trial that the shot Shott shot shot Nett, or, as accidents with firearms are frequent, it may be possible that the shot Shott shot shot Shott himself when the whole affair would resolve itself into its original element and Shott would be shot and Nett would not.

Can you tell who was shot?—Bykas Broadside.

THE FRENCH worry about the increasing population of Germany and fear another day of revenge. But if Germany had a population of three hundred millions instead of sixty millions, she could do nothing against France, provided France had the greater air power.

With France ruling the air, a declaration of war or any warlike act by Germany would mean within twenty-four hours destruction of every important city and all industrial centers in Germany.

A RACE as wise as the Germans would stage war seriously under such conditions. The hope is that war will be killed off by science.

Because of the amazing influx of new residents into Florida it is no longer possible to make estimates upon a "percentage of population" basis. When you undertake to base figures of your kind upon tomorrow's numbers of today's population, you are dealing so directly with an unknown quantity, no alchemical skill ever known could give you the correct answer.

Douglas MacLean's Latest Film Taken In The Swiss Alps

"It isn't the highest mountain in the Alps, but it's the craziest," said an Alpine guide to the young American who wanted to be a hero. "In 'Introduce Me,' which comes to the Milano Theater Monday and Tuesday, the star sets out to scale the most rugged mountain in all Switzerland. He had never climbed anything higher than the old garden wall. It made him dizzy to climb a cherry tree. But he met a girl on his first trip to Europe and she just adored mountain climbers, and the hero had to show his bravery and skill. He must be an Alpine hero.

"The situation becomes interesting and more laughable every time the hero scrambled a few feet further up the slippery heights. He thought an Alpine stick was to die holes and the mountaineers' rope was a clothes line. The high-wire act had ever been up in the air was the time he rode in the ferris wheel at Coney Island.

"But he got to the top of that peak and planted the American flag on the summit before his rival climber was out of the foothills. How did he do it?—That would be giving away the whole story. "This is a story told of one of the many comedies in which MacLean has starred.

1,500 Fish Are On Steamer Bound For Pennsylvania City

KEY WEST, Fla., July 31.—The Steamer Moore-McCormick left here Wednesday with 1,500 fish aboard, under the care of Dr. Robert Van Dusen, for Philadelphia, where they will be placed in the aquarium at Fairmount Park. Dr. Van Dusen, who is one of the foremost aquarists in the United States, stated that in the future he would make regular visits to this city to secure fish stock from the key waters for the Fairmount aquarium.

For many years the Philadelphia aquarium secured its species of Southern Florida fish from the New York aquarium. Dr. Van Dusen said, and that in shipping them from New York to Philadelphia in tanks placed on trucks, many of them died in the ten hour ride, because of the severe jolting that they received over the roads. The method of shipping them direct to Philadelphia by boat will relieve this trouble, it was explained, as special constructed tanks with a constant flow of water will be used. When the ship reaches Cape Hatteras the water will be cut off because the water that point falls to a much colder temperature. A supply of air of the proper temperature will be flooded into the tank to keep alive the fish that are accustomed to warm southern water.

Mary Hall, a 13-year-old Missouri girl, is the champion run-away of the whole country. OAKLAND, Calif., July 31.—There's a land where humans have tails and birds know chemistry and build their own incubators. And H. A. Snow, curator of the Oakland Museum and world famous as a big game hunter and wild life movie producer, is preparing an expedition to that region, to stalk both in their natural habitat and, through movies, tell the world about them.

Snow's big game hunt through Africa, where he successfully shot with guns and camera, is still attracting attention as a cinema thriller. Stamping elephant herds and chasing giraffes in flivvers were some of the high spots.

Thrills in the Arctic

The trip of Snow and his son, Sydney, through the arctic regions, replete with discovery of bodies of long lost explorers, with hand-to-hand fights with polar bears and with frail boats battling whales is also holding attention through the movieized diary being shown.

But neither of these thrilling expeditions is just up to the standard of accomplishment that Snow and his son hope to set.

"Every couple of years, there comes word of ape-tailed men from the South Seas," says Snow. "To date, though, nothing corroborative has been brought out by the several expeditions going in search of these tribes.

Seek Whole Tribe

"With the evolution question now almost a national issue, there is more than usual interest in tail-bearing humans. We have been gathering information for years, and believe we shall find not mere individuals possessed of caudal appendages, but an entire tribe so distinguished or marked."

And the birds that build their own incubators?

It is the turkey or mound-builder, a rare variety of the megapod species that is scattered through the Pacific island districts," explains the curator-explorer.

"They are the size of turkeys and somewhat of the same order. They live in colonies, and even build a community incubator to hatch their young.

"With their powerful feet, the females build huge mounds of mud and vegetable matter—mounds 60 feet in diameter and five or six feet high. The top of these heaps are hollowed, so they will catch rainfall.

How Heat Is Supplied

"The eggs are carefully placed in holes dug under the mound. Rain starts decay of the vegetable matter in the mound, and the resulting fermentation generates heat to hatch the eggs.

"Sanitation is also known to these birds. Each night they return to the mound, dig out the eggs for a short airing, then carefully replace and cover them, always with the air channels most.

"In this manner, the incubation process is completed. When the young emerge, shell and clamor out of them are well fledged and fly a little."

These are but two of the things the Snows seek to tag or camera during their expedition. But the ape-tailed and the bird who knows are sure to be the most whole collection.

FATHER'S DAY

Sanford, Fla. June 14, 1925.
 Care Seminae Hudson-Hess Co. Sanford, Fla.
 Dear Ed:
 Sometime in the recent past nobody knows just exactly when there was a day which was set aside to be observed as Father's Day. I do not know while I indulge in a few laughs right up my sleeve. They had a day for everything and for everybody and there there was one day left on the calendar that had not been assigned. Why work in Shakespeare's time. Every dog had his day, so they found a great deal of difficulty in assigning the 26th day that nobody had claimed.
 That's how Father's Day happened to be. If I remember correctly Father's Day is the fifth day of the week of Father's Month. Father's Day is immediately preceded by Pickle Day and comes just ahead of Good Day.
 That's about as close as I can come to telling you when Father's Day is.
 And how thankful the Father's of America are that the day is not generally observed. The inspiration for Father's Day came out of the abundant mind of some natural born merchant. He was killed in his psychology test at college. Because Father's Day has failed to take. The idea was for the other members of the family to take some of Father's money and buy him some nice presents on Father's Day.
 Of course, there were a few cities who gave the other families some nice nice presents, and there were a few daughters who remembered father with some of these nice Japanese umbrellas, and there were a few sons who gave their fathers some socks that the old man would not wear to a dog fight and that promptly came back to them. It consists of those I want to ask all fathers who were remembered on Father's Day to stand on their right side and not let me get all the presents for me to get their pictures for the Sunday supplements.
 We give Father any more days than he already has. Every first of the month is a father's day and if it comes any other day, there would not be any fathers.
 Fathers don't want any days. All they want is a change.
 Well, there is one other thing except father wants and that is an Essex automobile. And the father who has that ought not to have any kick coming, no matter what else he happens not to have.
 Yours,
 BILL.
