City Bans Park Parking; Equipment Is Purchased

City Commissioners last night talked "sign language," packed away a parking lot, and bought some equipment for the city.

Authority was delegated to the Sanford Police Department on an ordinance removing small signs from parkways. Commissioners ruled that the signs may remain as long as they are not a hazard to traffic or pedestrians.

The sign problem arose from an ordinance which was called "discriminatory" by service station owners. All signs must be okayed by permit.

Commissioners rescinded action on the Fourth St. park after reading a letter published in The Sanford Herald by the Ministerial Association. Angle parking around the churches also was refused.

David Galcher, who originated the plan for a parking lot in the park, led condemnation of the plan.

Low bids were accepted on two police cars, a station wagon, and a crawler tractor, with bulletins. Commissioners approved the installation of a blinker light at the corner of Mellonville and 30th St. A request to vacate the alley between Grandview and 24th St. was denied.

City Attorney Bill Hutchison spoke favorably about the proposed franchise with the gas company. After much discussion the board decided to purchase four used mobile radio units, a base station and a tower for the use of public works and utility vehicles.

The radio will ease time lost between city employees and manager Warren E. Knowles, who also is performing the duties of city engineer and city utility superintendent. The equipment will be purchased from Miller Radio and Appliance Co.

In other action, Commissioners requested figures on cost of curb, gutter and street for Mangouline Ave. in Goldboro. The figures will be given to Herbert Cherry to present to property owners.

An annual lease with a 30-day notice was granted the VFW. James G. explained the new rules the VFW has established for use of the Legion Hut.

Elephant Crushes Man To Death; Act Called Deliberate

GROVES, Tex. (UPI)—A murderous female elephant that knocked down a circus man and deliberately crushed him to death was manacled in heavy chains today while authorities pondered her fate.

In the most recent of several attacks on humans, Dorothy, a regular performer with the Hagen Brothers Circus, reached out with her trunk Monday and knocked down Donald Lloyd, 28, as he and another circus worker walked by.

Although the elephant was chained by one leg at the time, the big animal managed to hold Lloyd with her head and then deliberately stood on her head on top of the prostrate man. Lloyd's head and chest were crushed by the weight of the animal and he died within an hour.

Deputy Sheriff Martin Carey said the circus employee told him Dorothy was not provoked into the attack and that the elephant had attacked other persons on several occasions.

He said the animal had an act in which she stood on her head beside a circus performer.

Shortly after the attack on Lloyd of 1340 Dayton St., South Bend, Ind., Dorothy was taken behind the circus and heavy chains were manacled to three of her legs.

There she remains, stalked to the ground. Carey said an order from County Judge James Kirkland would be necessary before any action could be taken.

Wife Can't Testify Against Husband

JAMES CLIFFON HAWKINS was convicted in Tulsa, Okla., on charges of transporting 17-year-old Lola Faye Moody from Dogpatch, Ark., to Tulsa in 1955 for immoral purposes. Lola Faye had been working in a tavern near a dance hall owned by Hawkins.

Testimony in the case showed Hawkins' wife, from whom he was separated but not divorced, instructed Lola Faye in how to get dates.

Turns State's Evidence

Unfortunately for the erstwhile husband, the wife turned state's evidence and testified against him. Among other things she confessed she herself was a prostitute both before and after their marriage.

Hawkins was convicted of violating the Mann Act which forbids transportation of women across state lines for immoral purposes. But the Supreme Court nullified his conviction Monday on grounds a wife cannot testify against her husband. He now goes free.

The court's opinion, written by Justice Hugo L. Black, noted that the rule against testimony by a spouse in a criminal case "sprang from common law based on the persistent instincts of several centuries."

Foster Family Peace

Black said this rule might be modified some day if reason and experience dictate but he said "it would not disturb it now."

He pointed out that a husband or wife now may testify for each other, already a modification of the old rule. Then he added:

"The basic reason the law has refused to pit wife against husband or husband against wife in a trial where life or liberty is at stake is a belief that such a policy is necessary to foster family peace, not only for the benefit of husband, wife and children, but for the benefit of the public as well."

Such a belief has never been unreasonable and is not now."

Con Slashes Guard In Escape Attempt

RAIFORD (UPI)—A state prison guard was slashed in the throat with a pocket knife by a prisoner who tried to escape. Prison officials reported today.

Guard Lt. K. D. Conner was taken to Bradford County Hospital at nearby Starke after a ruinous fight with Robert Kubat, 21, of Chicago.

Asst. Supt. L. J. Swann said Kubat attacked Conner while the guard was driving him to the main prison Monday. Swann said Kubat feigned illness at the prison and Conner was sent to pick up the convict.

While handcuffed in the rear of the car, Kubat allegedly drew a knife and stabbed Conner and then jumped from the car and ran. Kubat, serving some 42 years for armed robbery and escape, was caught a few minutes later.

Southern Leaders Hoping For Breather In 'Mixing'

ATLANTA (UPI)—Most Southern leaders expressed hope today that Supreme Court approval of the way Alabama worded its pupil placement law has given the doctrine of states' rights a new lease on life.

Alabama Atty. Gen. John Patterson, who will be sworn in as governor early in 1959, commented:

"I hope the decision reflects a trend toward letting us handle our own domestic affairs without outside interference, which is the only way things can be handled without chaos and disorder."

Attempts To Block Soviet Threat On Control Transfer

BERLIN (UPI)—The U. S. Army moved quickly today to forestall threatened Communist East German attempts to regulate Allied traffic to Berlin. It ordered American drivers to turn back rather than submit to such control.

The order was issued to make it impossible for the East German command to send an unsuspecting American into allowing an East German, rather than a Soviet officer, to handle his travel orders or other documents.

Spokesmen for the Berlin command said the order was an old one, but that it was being re-published now. This move was taken after a command conference here and in view of announced Soviet plans to transfer control of Allied traffic to and from isolated Berlin in the East German regime.

The United States, Britain and France do not recognize East Germany as a sovereign state, and refuse to admit that the East Germans have any right to interfere with official Allied traffic to free Berlin.

The Army order was believed to have been passed on as part of the standing orders to American commanding checkpoints at the edge of West Berlin and just inside East Germany.

Under this arrangement, Americans traveling with orders issued by the U. S. Army are warned by American military policemen that they must have their papers stamped by a Soviet officer. They are told that under no circumstances should they have any dealings with East German police.

In announcing the completion of the latest project, and the arrival of the brochures, the president and board of directors of the Longwood Area Chamber said:

"At this time we wish to express our appreciation to the merchants, businessmen and friends who, since our organization, have contributed their time, interest and money in aiding us in all our projects which we have undertaken."

Five Airmen Dead In Crash Of Plane

LORING AIR FORCE BASE, Maine (UPI)—Five airmen were killed today when a jet Stratoliner crashed and burned at this airbase while practicing "touch and go" landings. Two men survived.

It was the second such mishap at this northern Maine airfield within four days. A B-47 crashed on takeoff Saturday, killing four crewmen from a base at Orlando, Fla.

The air force said that Capt. Herman J. Dosenbach, 35, and T. Sgt. Charles A. Holclaw, 31, survived today's crash.

The three million dollar KC135 had taken off at 4:45 a. m. and had been practicing touch-and-go landings and takeoffs. It crashed at 7:27 a. m. at approximately the same place as Saturday's jet bomber.

Lot Of 'Influence'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman James R. Duffree of the Civil Aeronautics Board said today the board received a total of "four volumes" of letters attempting to influence its decision in the 1956 New York - Miami gold coast route case.

Cars Collide; Boys On Bicycle Are Hit

Twentieth St. is in the news again, but the location has changed to Sanford Ave.

An accident at 8 o'clock last night caused considerable damage to two cars, but no injuries to the drivers.

Clarence Noble, Sanford Negro, was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control and driving while intoxicated. Officers said his car, headed west on 20th, struck one driven by John W. Slaughter, traveling north on Sanford Ave.

Two boys delivering newspapers were hit by a car this morning as they rode double on a bicycle on Magnolia Ave. No charges were brought against the driver, William C. Lake Mary Fire Engine Assured Of New Building

The firehouse at Lake Mary will go up. At a victory meeting yesterday afternoon, Mrs. W. E. Gray, chairman of the fund drive, announced that contributions toward the building totaled $1,197.32.

Richard Ivers, chairman of the building committee, said at the meeting that the building will be erected with these contributions. Additional funds will be required to finish the interior and furnish the kitchen and lavatories.

Business establishments in Sanford and Lake Mary have donated materials toward the building. Labor has been furnished by volunteers. Already the foundation, floor, rough plumbing and 25 percent of the block walls have been built. The building committee hopes to enclose the firehouse by the end of the year.

Officers of the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department congratulated the chairman of the fund drive and all the members of the committee who worked for its success. Mrs. Alice Ivers, secretary, said that it would be impossible to personally thank all contributors, but their names have been entered in the minutes.

A social evening is planned upon completion of the building—the fire engine will be rolled out, and those who helped in any way will come to inspect its new home.

William E. Gray, president of the Department, thanked The Sanford Herald for its coverage of the fund drive. "The solicitors found that everyone was familiar with the purpose of the drive as they made their rounds," he said.

Science May Win Battle Over Hated Cockroaches

NEW YORK (UPI)—There is a new possibility of science winning a total victory over certain insects, including that prime and seemingly unconquerable pest, the cockroach.

The new weapon seems to kill insects by physical rather than chemical means. If that is so, insects won't be able to learn to live with it as many have learned to live with DDT and other poisonous insecticides. It also means people won't accidentally poison themselves while exterminating insects.

The new weapon is a kind of sand. Add two oxygen atoms to the molecule of silicon, which is one of the most abundant of the elements, and you have silica. Nature frequently makes the addition; silica is everywhere, in sands and rocks. Now, toy with silica in technically easy ways, and you have an extremely fine powder which is aggressively greedy for moisture.

Draws Body Moisture

An insect walks over a sprinkling of that powder and very soon thereafter it is dead. Science doesn't yet know positively why, but the best theory is that the powder draws moisture out of its body. That's as physical a way of killing as swatting, but it's infinitely easier.

DDT and the other organic insecticides kill by adding ingredients to an insect's body chemistry which the chemistry can't handle. Unhappily insect chemistry adapts to the added ingredients and eventually lines of insects emerge which are immune to what used to kill them, but meanwhile people, birds, fish, and other creatures are endangered.

Silica in any form is notably non-poisonous. The silica powder has been in use for a long time as a filler or diluting substance for resins and other materials. Dr. Walter Ebeling of the University of California discovered by accident that it was an insect killer.

Countries Paying Lend-Lease Debts

In his 39th report to Congress on the lend-lease operations, the President disclosed Monday that as of Dec. 31, 1952, the foreign governments had repaid the United States $445,348,673 of their total $1,577,370,735 obligations.

De Gaulle Emerges As Balance Wheel

PARIS (UPI)—Premier Charles de Gaulle emerged today as the main balance wheel of a new National Assembly expected to be overwhelmingly right-wing.

Sunday and experts predicted the UNR would have around 130 seats in the new assembly after next Sunday's second round of voting.

With the support of the 71 deputies from Algeria—almost all of whom are expected to be far right wingers—the UNR will form by far the largest parliamentary bloc.

UN Opens Debate Brundage Favors Terms Of 6 Years

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI)—Former U. S. Budget Director Percival F. Brundage recommended Monday night that the elective terms of the president, vice president and congressmen be extended to six years to relieve political pressure in government.

Brundage said if this method were adopted, "we would really have a donnybrook every five years, but during the inter-terms I think we might get more attention to business and less influence exerted by pressure groups and politicians."

Runs In The Family

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The four-year-old son of Dinah Shore and George Montgomery has applied for a work permit to join his celebrated family in show business.

Young John Montgomery will make his debut on his father's TV series, "Cimarron City," to be shown Dec. 20. His 10-year-old sister, Melissa, recently made her debut on the Danny Thomas TV show.

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI)—Former U. S. Budget Director Percival F. Brundage recommended Monday night that the elective terms of the president, vice president and congressmen be extended to six years to relieve political pressure in government.

Brundage said if this method were adopted, "we would really have a donnybrook every five years, but during the inter-terms I think we might get more attention to business and less influence exerted by pressure groups and politicians."

Brundage made the comment in a prepared speech before the 28th annual meeting of the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association here.

True Thanksgiving

BY REV. R. H. SPEAR JR.

Church of the Nazarene
THINK AND THANK

In the old Anglo-Saxon thankfulness and thankfulness mean the same thing. The two words differing only in one vowel, have the same derivation. If we think, we cannot but thank. Therefore every day ought to be a day of thanksgiving for the common mercies of life.

We should not need to see a blind man led by his faithful dog before we begin to think of what a grand thing it is to have eyesight. We should not need to see someone afflicted with St. Vitus's dance before we are ready to thank God for the control of our physical energies. We should not need to see some wounded man hobbling on his crutch, or one with an empty coat-sleeve pinned up, before we learn to think of what a grand thing God does for us when he allows us healthy use of our limbs. We should never be "insensitive to our blessings" but only the scenes of other's misfortunes can rouse us to think and thank.

As the ox grazes in the pasture up to its eyes in clover, yet never thinking who made the clover, and as the bird picks up the worm from the furrow, not knowing that it is God who makes everything, from the animal-cul in the soil to the seraph on the throne, so we sometimes go on eating, drinking, and enjoying, without thinking and thanking.

I have compared our indifference to the brute; but perhaps I have wronged the brute. I do not know but that, among its other instincts, it may have an instinct by which it recognizes the divine hand that feeds it. The cow that stands under the water by the water-course, chewing its cud, looks very thankful; and who can tell how much the bird means by its song?

The aroma of the flowers smells

Cabinet Meeting On Labor Trouble

ROME (UPI)—Premier Amintore Fanfani called a cabinet meeting today to examine a wave of strikes and labor union demands that threatened to paralyze the nation's entire economy.

At the moment Italy is faced with nationwide strikes by railway, post office, telephone, telegraph, shipping, dock, and state employees, including gasoline refinery workers, and newspaper reporters. All demand higher wages to match the increase in the cost of living.

Typhoon Threatens U. S.-Held Island

TOKYO (UPI)—Typhoon Nancy packing dangerous 150 miles per hour center winds moved closer today to the U. S. island bastion of Okinawa.

The storm, which left at least 15 dead in the Philippines was located today by U. S. Air Force weathermen about 480 miles south southwest of Okinawa.

The weathermen said the typhoon was moving northeast at 14 miles per hour and that the storm's center was expected to be 480 miles east southeast of Okinawa early Wednesday.

Salad Tips Given At HD Club Meet

By MARIAN R. JONES

The Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Charles Lee on Lak Charm Friday morning (Nov. 21) at 9:30 a.m. with Mrs. Lynn Mosier, president, in charge.

A demonstration of salad making was given by Mrs. W. W. Dietrick and Mrs. Robert Lee on dessert salads and main dish salads. Both Mrs. Dietrick and Mrs. Robert Lee recently attended a salad making demonstration conducted by a state consultant.

Six members of the Oviedo Home Demonstration Club last week attended a workshop in Sanford at the Home Demonstration Bldg., where the making of aluminum trays, pictures using dried materials and picture made from fabric as well as the making of copper pictures was featured. The six attending included Mrs. W. P. Carter, Mrs. Robert Lee, Mrs. W. W. Dietrick, Mrs. Howard Hunt, Mrs. Bob Cameron and Mrs. E. G. Cross.

The members, who brought sandwiches for lunch, enjoyed these with salads prepared at the meeting and coffee served by Mrs. Charles Lee.

Mrs. Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent, of Sanford, was a guest at the meeting.

Those attending, in addition to the ones demonstrating salads and the hostess were: Mrs. F. W. McCall, Mrs. Lynn Mosier, Mrs. W. P. Carter, Mrs. E. G. Cross, Mrs. Howard Hunt and Mrs. Jim Lee, as well as Mrs. Wilson.

Cub Scouts Awards

The home of Mrs. and Mrs. Rex Clontz was the scene of the November Cub Scout meet for the Oviedo Cub Scouts, Troop No. 243. Cubmaster John Evans presided over the meeting, which was opened with a flag salute.

After announcing the theme for December, the Cubmaster announced that the December meeting will be combined with a Christmas party on December 18.

Evans then cited highlights from the life of Theodore Roosevelt, who was born one hundred years ago and who is famous for being a great outdoorsman as well as a courageous president. The group was reminded that it

True Southerners; 'Mush' To 'Grits'

DECATUR, Ga. (UPI)—Fred Copeland's Alaskan malemites have become true Southerners.

The dogs pull their master's children in a wagon, responding to a cry of "grit, grits," instead of the "mush, mush" to which their ancestors were accustomed.

The new member, Gilbert Voigt, was welcomed into the Pack in a novel induction ceremony by the Cubmaster. Three stakes and a rope illustrated the part that the boy and both his parents play in the Cub Scout program. Bill Wolcott gave the welcoming handshake to Gilbert Voigt, who was also presented with a Bobcat pin.

A game, "The Old Which Is Dead" was played by the boys.

To typify the theme for the next month, each of the boys were asked to give everyone a big smile and to be happy.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Clontz, assisted by Janet and Rex Clontz, following the meeting.

Lunchbox Treat
To vary the sameness of lunch boxes packed for the school or work contingent, add a surprise food occasionally.

Dried figs or prunes, almond stuffed dates, a peanut butter filled Clark bar or a caramel apple make nourishing dessert treats. And they require little or no effort to prepare.

When packing lunches, be sure to wrap these foods separately and fit them compactly into containers.

Local Chapter Of Eastern Star Has Memorial Service Thursday

Seminole Chapter No. 2, O. E. S., held a memorial service on Thursday evening for those members who have died.

Chapter Room decorations were in keeping with the solemn occasion, having in the West a pedestal banked with tall white gladioli and holding a large open bible.

At the foot of the dais in the East stood a styrofoam cross decorated with one pink rose in the center and green fern at the foot.

The lights were dimmed as the officers marched in to form a heart in the West. The altar was draped and a green wreath placed around the bible. As the secretary, standing at the altar, read the scroll of the departed, the Conductress and Associate Conductress placed a satin rose for each name in a large styrofoam heart.

"Beyond the Sunset" was sung by Mrs. Eloise Pfeiffau and the officers resumed their places in the heart formation. The Worthy Matron and Associate Matron approached the altar to place lighted candles on each side of the bible and reverently recited John 11:1-3. Their place was taken by the Chaplain, who after speaking briefly, knelt at the altar while Mrs. Pfeiffau sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Forty six members and visitors attended the meeting. Three first time visitors from other states were introduced and welcomed by the Worthy Patron.

The birthday guests of the month were Mrs. Emma Youst, Mrs. Lucy Courier, Mrs. Beulah Moyer, and the Worthy Patron, L. T. Sheppard.

The Worthy Matron, Mrs. Mae Sheppard, announced plans for the Thanksgiving gift for the Masonic Home. It was voted also to join with other Florida Chapters in sending to the Masonic Home gaily wrapped gifts to be presented from a big tree on Christmas morning.

The Thanksgiving motif of turkeys, autumn leaves and overflowing cornucopias set the theme in the dining room, where pumpkin pie and coffee was served after the meeting.

Election of officers and initiation will be held at the next meeting, December 4.

Double Holiday Fare

Two golden brown birds on the table double the fun of holiday dinner. For the price of one large bird, two succulent young roast chickens provide double the number of drumsticks in half the cooking time. As an added attraction, each chicken can be stuffed with a different kind of dressing.

No longer does the cook have to rise with the dawn to get a half-day dinner started or leave the merrymaking every half hour to baste the bird in the oven. Thrifty broiler fryers or chickens for roasting are so juicy that no basting is required. Simply brush with butter at the start.

Roast Stuffed Chicken
2 young roasting chickens
1 teaspoon salt, divided
2 tablespoons softened butter, shortening or salad oil

Wash chickens in cold, running water, pat dry inside and out with paper toweling. Sprinkle each cavity with 1/2 teaspoon of the salt. Fill neck cavity lightly with favorite stuffing. Hook wing tip into back to hold neck skin. If skin is short, fasten with skewer.

Fill body cavity with stuffing; tie legs together with string, then tie legs and tail together. Rub entire body of each chicken with 1/2 teaspoon softened butter or shortening, or brush with salad oil. Place chickens on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast in a moderate oven (375 degree F.) Allow 30 minutes per pound. Baste with butter for a four-pound roasting chicken.

Ben Wiggins Speaks At Rose Circle Meet
Ben Wiggins, U. S. Soil Conservation Service, addressed the Rose Circle of the Sanford Garden Club on conservation at its meeting Friday.

He outlined the objectives of the Conservation Service and explained how the individual farmer may benefit from these services. Wiggins stressed the importance of future planning, and stated that studies are now being made estimating the condition of the soil in 1975, the probable population at that time, and the amount of food that will be required.

Other points he covered were that the present surplus of five per cent in agricultural produce will not go far in feeding the estimated population increase of 50 per cent in 1975. Also, industrial sites, developments, and modern roads are taking up a great deal of productive agricultural land. Therefore, every acre must be put in use to its greatest productive capability.

After a business meeting, the group enjoyed a covered dish luncheon. Mrs. Henry A. Simpson's home in Geneva was the scene of the meeting.

Gravy With Zest
When you are preparing gravy from roast turkey drippings, add two or three drops of soy sauce to it just before removing gravy from heat, advises Lacyho home economists. It adds an agreeably exotic flavor.

If the gravy looks a little pale in color, add a dash of the popular Chinese brown gravy sauce. It will perk up the gravy immediately.

Seminole High New Orange Belt Champ

The Seminole High School football team has won the Orange Belt Conference championship. This is a fitting climax, a well-deserved honor for the 1958 edition of the Sanford Seminoles.

With one game to go, it is impossible for the team to achieve the success, in the won-lost column, that the 1957 team had. The Orange Belt title, however, escaped the 1957 team, best in the history of the school on a number-of-games-won basis.

The record of last year's team made this a doubly difficult year for Seminole High coaches. A "fair" team is fine, as long as they are about the same each year. Fans don't necessarily like a team which loses a few, but they don't "grape" too much. After one spectacular season, however, things change a great deal. Fans think the team should win them all.

Winning becomes a habit, in all sports. Witness the number of football coaches, baseball team managers and others who "get the axe" because the team isn't on top.

Coaches Jim Pigott and Dave Laude faced a difficult task at the beginning of the season. Two early-season losses, to Daytona Seabreeze and Ketterlinus, chilled the most ardent fan. To the credit of Pigott, Laude and every member of the team, the Seminoles bounced back.

Except for a tie with Apopka on a rain-swept night, the Sanford team cut down its remaining foes. Only DeLand is left. The Seminoles enter the homecoming game here Wednesday night with five victories in succession.

Following the DeLand game, the Seminoles will take part in the Celery Bowl, scheduled here Dec. 5. Apopka will furnish the opposition. This will be the first post-season game in Sanford. It is fitting, too, that the 1958 team will inaugurate this event. The 1957 team played in the Brahma Bowl in Orlando.

Local fans have only two more opportunities to pay tribute to one of the finest teams in the school's history. The team has demonstrated that it has a "lot of bounce." The losses to Seabreeze and Ketterlinus would have stopped many teams, taken away their vitality. But the Seminoles came back to win the conference title. This was no easy feat; it is an honor of which all Seminole County can be proud.

Cure For TB Coming

A group of North Carolina scientists believe that they have developed a safe and effective vaccine to prevent tuberculosis.

The final decision on this vaccine, however, will be delayed a few years. Scientists want to be sure the vaccine is safe for general use. It works on animals, and has been effective in a few cases on humans.

If the vaccine proves successful, another dread disease will have been brought under control. Science is making great progress in combating many of the more dangerous diseases. Soon, we hope, there will be a vaccine for cancer. Bk vaccine, taken properly, protects against polio.

Work is under way on preventive medicine for many other types of ailments. Rapid strides have been made in the battle against disease in the past 50 years. Typhoid, diphtheria, malaria, smallpox and others have been conquered.

Science often is chided about its failure to find a cure for the common cold. If science can find a cure for the killing maladies, we will be happy to "suffer along" with the cold, be it ever so discomforting.

ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION

Washington Calling

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—While no one in the Eisenhower Administration has any reason to dance in the streets at the prospect of the new Congress with its overwhelmingly Democratic majorities, the shadow cast by the future is darkest and most uncertain for Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy.

The reason is simple. He carries a fearful burden of responsibility and yet he is without the authority to make the fundamental decisions to carry out that responsibility.

This is an impossible prescription for an administrator with vast nominal power who is at the same time denied control over the factors essential to his success. Even for so staunch and on the whole so admirable a figure as McElroy it spells double trouble.

The word widely accepted in the Pentagon is:

1. McElroy has been told by the President that the 1959 defense budget will be $42 billion. This figure cannot under any circumstances short of war be exceeded. Therefore, the cutbacks and the holdbacks which the Secretary of Defense projected at his most recent press conference.

2. He has been told that the allocations made out of the $42 billion must be roughly the same as in the current fiscal year. That is to say, that no important changes are to be made in the way in which the pie is divided among the various branches of industry, nor are the contractual arrangements of the great contractors in the aircraft and other industries to be interfered with.

This has the look of a strait jacket made to McElroy's measurements. But Congress will be determined to force the Administration to yield on many of the projected cutbacks. The pressures will come not alone from proponents of the Army and the Marine Corps, which are due for reductions in the year ahead.

Defense is too sure-fire an issue for a half-dozen Presidential candidates who will have their eyes firmly fixed on 1960. To demand more national defense, to denounce those who seem to be shearing away America's security makes for big headlines. But it does little or nothing to promote the country's military strength.

There are too many Senators, including some who have been the most vocal critics, with a stake in protecting his aircraft or missile contracts. This is something rarely talked about but it has been widely recognized. These contracts mean employment and prosperity back home. To interfere with them would cause serious economic and political dislocation.

The question some objective observers are now asking is whether in the next two critical years the nation can afford a repetition of the past—the Congress adding on more defense billions, the Administration rejecting it and hanging onto the familiar pattern of the past two or three years. Down this confused and quarrelsome road the United States can definitely, and perhaps even finally, lose the lead to the Soviet Union.

A year ago with the shock of the Sputniks still vivid Senator Lyndon Johnson, the Majority Leader of the Senate, began an inquiry into the nation's defenses and the whole complex structure of defense spending. Senators who came to Washington for the investigation expressed their dismay and even despair at the way in which Russia had outstriped this country. The inquiry got a tremendous billing.

But in the light of what has happened subsequently it must be judged a failure. As a master strategist Johnson produced a report which all the members of the committee could sign; a small triumph of bipartisanship. While the report was full of stern language—reproof for the past, both the Democratic and the Republican past, and promises for the future, it stopped short of calling out the real defects in the defense program. To have done that would have been to threaten too many political economic domains.

The proof of the failure is, of course, in the fact that nothing has been altered in the months that have followed. It was, in essence, a political report. It is possible to take the nation's defense out of politics—party politics, military politics—by some such device as a national commission of inquiry? Anyone looking realistically at the current scene would say no. Yet, the prospect of more of the same for the next two years is grim, indeed.

Fred Othman Says

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

CANEEL BAY PLANTATION, St. John, V. I.—When we checked into this almost-unbelievable seaside resort, Manager Leslie Moore and his beautiful wife, Betty, sent down to our cottage by special courier in an electric cart a hibiscus cup.

This consisted of rum, fruit juices, ice and mysterious other ingredients, whipped into what looked like lemon sherbet in a glass bowl. Stuck in the top of it was a red hibiscus blossom and two straws, one for lulls and one for me.

To sip a hibiscus cup a traveler and his lady must rub noses and under these circumstances they find it difficult to get into a family argument. That was Moore's idea in the first place; put the customers in a happy mood and keep 'em that way.

Since then the days have merged into an expanse of swimming in water the color of turquoise, exploring the ever numerous islands bareabout, sleeping, sailing in an assortment of sloops, yaws, and motor cruisers, sleeping, shopping across the water at St. Thomas, and sleeping.

My bride looks like a Carib Indian princess, except for her eyes, which have remained blue. I'm jobster-colored, but not dangerously so; I do most of my swimming at dawn and dusk, when the tropical sun can't raise blisters on my tender hide. Only bad moment I had was when I caught one of those horrid tropical germs (almost as bad as microbes back in Washington) and came down with a throat so sore it even hurt to breathe. This island's drug supplies consisted of aspirin, Listerine and milk of magnesia. I bought a jug of each and took as directed, but the throat got worse. Came then a fellow guest, a doctor from Indiana.

He said he had in his bag an antibiotic so new that doctors still were experimenting with it and did I care to be a guinea pig? I was so near death by then that I grabbed his offer, took at intervals a handful of two-toned red and yellow capsules, fell into bed, slept for 12 hours and woke up feeling as good as new. No throat. I thanked the Hoosier medico for his miracle, but he said the thanks should go to Eli Lilly Co., of Indianapolis, Ind. Eli, old pal, consider this an expression of heartfelt gratitude.

Another of my new friends here is George O. Niddrie, vice-president of Liebhmann Breweries, Inc. of Brooklyn, N. Y., and one of the fortunate gentlemen in charge annually of balloting for Miss Rhenalgold. This is nice work. So there was George rounding up a couple or three other gents to join him for a day of deep-sea fishing. They engaged a boat, a captain and a crew of two and when George tried to wake his pals for an early start, they said go away and let them sleep. So he trooled the waters, which are supposed to contain more fish than anywhere else, and late that afternoon he came in with his catch: one king fish; weight, six pounds.

This he had the chef broil and serve on a large platter, garnished with slices of lime. He produced a piece of it for lulls and me and he said to please eat it slowly, savoring each bite. He said that at $18 a pound, it was one of the costliest fishes ever eaten in the Caribbean.

Boat rental and crew hire came to $80 and George divided that by six to arrive at the price of his fish; for his own time and pleasure will be charged nothing. This island long has been surrounded by deep-blue water, with hardly a drop to drink. Manager Moore catches as much rain water as he can from a two-acre hillside paved in concrete, but during the dry seasons the last few years he's had to import water by barge from Puerto Rico at a cost of a cent and a half per gallon. Sometimes, according to what the barge had been carrying the previous voyage, the water tasted of fuel oil and sometimes of molasses.

Moore calculated that every-time a guest took a shower, the water bill was about 20 cents. So the management plunked down more than $200,000 this year for a pulsating dingbat that distills sea water under vacuum and produces 30,000 gallons of fresh water a day. The engineers now making final tests are proud of the water they make; it is so pure its only taste is wet. Should cut down the cost of shower bath at Caneel Bay.

Seminole Ready For DeLand

By Jerry Covington
The Orange Belt Conference champion Sanford Seminoles will go against the DeLand Bulldogs here tomorrow night in the annual homecoming event for 1936. Friday night, the Seminoles won their sixth game of the season and also took OBC honors in a very impressive win over Lakeview of Winter Garden. Coach Jim Pigott's youngsters have really poured it on in the last few contests and they are a good bet to take the Bulldogs here tomorrow night.

The Sanford-DeLand contest is one of the oldest rivalries in Central Florida and if DeLand can get fired up, it could be a fine contest. The Bulldogs have had their troubles this year but no matter how bad the standings are, they are always ready to give the Seminoles a fight.
This homecoming event will have many treats in store for everyone. The band will be on hand to supply a fine halftime show and the homecoming queens will be introduced to the public. Many of the past captains have been invited to attend the contest. They also will be introduced to the public. A big parade will begin the activities tomorrow afternoon in downtown Sanford. This promises to be one of the best homecomings in the history of the school.

The Seminoles offense sports good balance for this contest with quarterback Cecil Dandridge call-

Southeastern Teams Set For Big State Rivalries

United Press International
Nine Southeastern Conference squads opened their final practice week with light sessions Monday and planned to step up the action today.
For two of the others, Tulane and Kentucky, it's all over until next fall. But for Louisiana State, there is the not unwelcome job of getting ready for the Sugar Bowl.
The five games this weekend are time-honored intrastate rivalries in which the odds books nor-

Robinson Is Named Week's Top Back; Fugler Also Cited

ATLANTA (UPI)—Known chiefly as "the other halfback" in the backfield of top-ranked Louisiana State, Johnny Robinson came into his own Saturday with a four-touchdown performance against Tulane to win the United Press International title of Southeastern Conference back of the week.
Robinson, a 185-pound junior from Baton Rouge, La., has been playing great ball all season but has been overshadowed by teammate Billy Cannon.

Gator Bowl Drops 9, Adds Alabama

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—Rebuilding Alabama was added and nine other teams were dropped today as possible participants in the Gator Bowl football classic Dec. 27.
Sam Wolfson, chairman of the selection committee, said the two teams finally chosen would be announced Saturday night.
The Gator Bowl Committee agreed Monday to add Alabama to its list of tentative candidates, but the selection probably will depend on the outcome of this week's clashes. Alabama ends its season in a traditional battle with high-ranked Auburn. Rebuilding this year under new Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant, Alabama has piled up a respected record of five wins, three defeats, and one tie.
Other teams being considered by Gator Bowl officials include Mississippi (7-3), Florida (3-3-1), Vanderbilt (3-3-1), Georgia Tech (5-3-1), Pittsburgh (5-3-1), Texas (6-3), and South Carolina (6-3).
The committee said the teams dropped as possible Gator Bowl participants included Louisiana State, Texas Christian, Air Force Academy, Clemson, North Carolina, Mississippi Southern, Florida State, Boston College, and Syracuse.

It took a tremendous showing Saturday to finally get the edge on Cannon. The two halfbacks ran wild as Louisiana State completed a perfect season by routing Tulane 22-0. Robinson scored his second-half touchdowns. He had two 34-yard scoring runs from scrimmage, a 23-yard pass-interception tally, and he scored on a 5-yard pass catch.
Cannon scored three touchdowns and four conversion points in the pair of games, totaling seven touchdowns and 46 points.
Louisiana State won both back and line honors this week as center Max Fugler, a 198-pound junior from Ferriday, La., chalked up his second lineman of the week award.
Robinson and Cannon pretty well dominated the back of the week nominations but there were a few others mentioned. These included quarterback Bobby Jackson who was responsible for all of Alabama's scoring in a 14-0 win over Memphis State; sophomore quarterback Francis Tarkenton who scored twice and passed for two more touchdowns in Georgia's 78-8 runaway over The Citadel; and quarterback Jimmy Dunn who scored twice in Florida's 21-7 win over Florida State.

Jimmy Dunn Voted Week's Top Back By State Writers

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—Light weight Quarterback Jimmy Dunn was named "back of the week" for the fourth time by the Florida Sports Writers Assn.
The 142-pound Florida signal-caller was cited for his outstanding job against Florida State.
Dunn scored two of Florida's touchdowns in the 21-7 victory, both scores coming in the same quarter on nine and 12 yard runs.
Monday, the sports writers selected Florida End Dave Hudson as "lineman of the week" for his part in the Gator triumph.
Hudson, 220-pound junior from Pensacola, gave Florida its first touchdown when he blocked an FSU punt and carried the ball across the goal.

Curci May Be Out For Florida Game

CORAL GABLES (UPI)—The battered Miami football squad may be minus the services of Quarterback Fran Curci Saturday when the Hurricanes meet Florida in Jacksonville.
Curci left the Houston game with a twisted ankle and was placed on the doubtful list at Monday's practice.

Coach trainer Dave Wile said several other injured players may return to the lineup, including Quarterback Bonnie Yarbrough, Fullback Frank Bouffard, and Tackles Frank Nodoline and Gary Greaves.
Coach Andy Gustafson said all contact work has been called off this week to avoid the risk of more injuries. However, several dummy and skeleton drills were on tap.

Florida Cautioned About Hurricanes

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—Florida Coach Bob Woodruff warned his charges today against underestimating the strength of unbeaten Miami.
"You can throw comparative scores out the window when Florida and Miami play," the coach cautioned. "We look for a wide open football game."
"I just hope the Gators are ready for it."
The teams meet Saturday in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville. Florida planned regular scrimmage sessions today and Wednesday, leaving for training quarters at Ponte Vedra Beach on Friday. Halfbacks Billy Newbern and Don Deal were slightly injured last week when Florida defeated Florida State, but both are expected to be ready by weekend.

Dave Ragan, Dubsdread, 'Real Comer,' Pros Say

Few tournament players made as much progress as young Dave Ragan did in 1936.
In 1937, this blond stylist from Daytona Beach, won about $1,000. In the first 10 months of 1938, despite a limited schedule on the summer tour, Dave won $8,400. Dave played only six tournaments between mid-May and Nov. 5, 1938, because his wife Joan gave birth to twin sons, Dan and Mike.
Ragan's improvement was most evident during the 1938 winter tour, during which he was in the top 10 five times. His best finish was a tie for fourth at Houston, where he won $1,323.4, his biggest check so far on the tour.
Dave's other top 1938 efforts were a tie for sixth at Tijuana and a tie for seventh at the Los Angeles, Pensacola and Western Opens.
The former University of Florida golf star, born Aug. 7, 1923, attributes most of his improvement to a better short game.
"From within 100 yards of the green," says Dave, "I've improved from 50 to 75 per cent. This has bolstered my confidence."
Golf authorities maintain it's just a matter of time before Dave crashes through with his first win.
Dave feels one of the major factors behind his rise is just plain old-fashioned sleep. Ragan tries to get about 19 hours sleep a night.
The former Florida PGA and open champion compiled a brilliant links record at the University of Florida. Highlight of his college golf career was his victory in the 1936 Southern Intercollegiate Tournament.
This 5-11, 175-pound Daytona Beach product represents his father-in-law's course, Dubsdread in Orlando, on the tour.
Competitively, 1937 was the worst year I've had in the last seven," smiles Dave, "but I think I learned more than in any I ever did before."

Dave's top competitive effort in 1937 was a first place tie in the Waterloo, Ia., Open. He also tied for third place in the 1937 Stamford, Conn., Open.
As a high school senior, Dave won the Florida intercollegiate golf championship but this was one distinction in which he had to take a back seat to his wife, who won the Florida girl's championship as a high school junior.
Joan comes by her golfing talents naturally because her dad, Carl Dunn, not only owns the Dubsdread course but has won the Florida Amateur championship a half dozen times.
Joan attended the University of Florida with Dave, but golf had brought them together previously. They were married in November, 1936.
When it comes to playing golf, Joan is one of the most proficient "golf widows" on the tour. She gets plenty of competition, though, from Mrs. Ed Furgol, Mrs. Frank Stranahan and Mrs. Bert Weaver.
At the University of Florida, Dave was a teammate of two outstanding young professionals, big Pat Schwab of Dayton, Ohio, and short-throwing Doug Sanders, 1936 Canadian and 1938 Western Open champion.
Don Hishpinghoff, one of the nation's top amateur swingers, was also a college teammate of Dave's.
Some of the more experienced players on the tour are impressed with Ragan. Paul Harney says, "Dave reminds me of Hogan when he hits the ball. He's going to be very good."

Eastern League Set
NEW YORK (UPI)—The Eastern League announced Sunday it will operate in 1939 with the same eight clubs as in 1938—Albany, Allentown, Pa., Binghamton, Lancaster, Pa., Reading, Pa., Springfield, Mass., Williamsport, Pa., and York, Pa.

Mrs. Ott's Chance Of Recovery Good

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Doctors said today Mrs. Mildred Ott's chances for recovery were good, following a two-hour operation for multiple injuries she received in an automobile accident that claimed the lives of her husband, all-time baseball great Mel Ott, and another man.
The operation was delayed because Mrs. Ott suffered a severe head injury in the collision near Bay St. Louis, Miss., Nov. 14. She was unconscious five days and doctors waited until her mental condition improved before operating.
Mrs. Ott also suffered a crushed chest cavity, multiple fractures to her left arm and elbow, two broken legs and internal injuries.
Doctors wired Mrs. Ott's ribs into place and set broken bones in her left arm and right leg. Metal pins and wires were used to tie the many fractures together.
"The operation went very good," a surgeon said, " barring any complications. Mrs. Ott should come through this all right."

Sets New Grid Mark

RENO, Nevada (UPI)—The University of Nevada set the all-time college record for most yards rushing and passing per game by averaging 487 yards per game in 1938.

LSU Retains Grid Lead; Gators 15th

NEW YORK (UPI)—Louisiana State, which has ended its regular season with a perfect record and a Sugar Bowl berth, led the United Press International college football ratings today by a wide margin and awaited next week's final balloting to decide the national championship.
Coach Paul Dietzel's Tigers were the No. 1 choice of 30 members of the 35-man UPI Board of Coaches this week. And their point-total of 233 out of a possible 350 was the highest received by any team since early in the 1937 season.
In the two most noteworthy changes in the top 10 group, Iowa's Rose Bowl entry moved into a tie for second place with Army, and Orange Bowl-bound Syracuse joined the select group for the first time this season, in 10th place.
Next week's balloting by the coaches will select the nation's No. 1 team. Five teams in this week's top 10 still have games to be played. These are Army, fourth-ranked Auburn, fifth-ranked Oklahoma, and ninth-ranked Air Force Academy, all active Saturday, and seventh-ranked Texas Christian, which plays Thursday.
Wisconsin, in sixth place, and Ohio State, ranked No. 8, were the two other teams in the top 10. Purdue, seventh last week, dropped back to 11th place. Following the Bollersmakers in the second 10 group were Clemson, Rose Bowl-bound California, Notre Dame, Florida, Mississippi, Oklahoma State, Georgia Tech and Pittsburgh. These were the only other teams that received votes this week.

Syracuse Is Hoping To Erase 'Infamy' Of 'Bama Defeat

By ANDY PURCHELL
SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI)—Syracuse elected to play Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl, Jan. 1, in order to "erase the infamy" of the worst blot on the university's modern football record.
The words in quotes are those used by Syracuse Chancellor William P. Tillery Saturday when he telephoned Athletic Director Lew Andress to advise him Syracuse had been extended an invitation by the Orange Bowl Committee.
"Can we erase the infamy of the 1933 game if we go this time?" asked Tillery referring to the 61-4 loss to Alabama in the 1933 Orange Bowl game. So pitiful was Syracuse's performance in that game that Syracuse officials feared they might never be invited back to the Orange Bowl.
"We think the boys will do okay," replied Andress. "The boys voted on which bowl they'd most like to go to and they voted unanimously for the chance to go back to Miami and play in the Orange Bowl. They want to wipe that awful 61-4 game out of Miami's memory."
The invitation was extended just after Syracuse completed its season with a 15-2 victory over West Virginia at Morgantown, W.Va. Syracuse lost its only game to Holy Cross, 14-12, but beat Boston College, 24-14, Cornell, 55-0, Nebraska, 33-0, Penn State, 14-6, Pittsburgh, 16-13, Boston University, 42-0, and Colgate, 67-0, in addition to Saturday's win over West Virginia.

SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 313

PLANNING ALREADY—W. Scott Burns, newly-elected chairman of the Committee of 100, and George Touhy, vice-chairman, make plans for the success of the new industrial committee in Seminole County. (Herald Staff Photo)

Campaign Set By Committee

W. Scott Burns, manager of the Florida Power and Light Co., was elected chairman of the Seminole County Committee of 100 last night. Elected to serve as vice-chairman was George Touhy, executive vice-president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

The slate offered by a nominating committee appointed at a previous meeting was unanimously accepted by the group. Mack Cleveland Jr., temporary chairman, congratulated the new officers, and turned the chair briefly over to Burns, who said, "I believe the people of Seminole County are behind this committee. I can be called 24 hours a day, and if any of you have any suggestions as to how we may run this committee, I will be glad to hear from you."

Committee Of 100 Announces Slate

After election of officers last night by the Committee of 100, Mack Cleveland Jr. said that the executive committee would act as a guiding and counseling force. It is composed of W. Scott Burns, George Touhy, T. E. Tucker, Francis Roumillat Jr. and another member to be appointed by the chairman.

Other committees accepted from the slate presented by Gen. J. C. Hutchison were finance, T. E. Tucker; chairman, B. J. Nauman; John Fitzpatrick, Jack Greene, George Touhy.

Membership, Francis Roumillat Jr., chairman, Robert Carnie, Richard Deas, George Morgan, Earl Toney; advertising, Marion Harman, chairman, Walter Gielow, A. B. Peterson Jr., Myron A. Reick.

Local industries, Clifford McKibbin Jr., chairman, Ralph Cowan, Herman Jacobson, Sam Lawson, Bob Shelden; target industries, Bratley Odham, chairman, Mack Cleveland Jr., Bob Crumley, Sam Levy, Dr. D. H. Mathers, Tom McDonald, W. A. Patrick.

The management board will be appointed by the Chamber of Commerce president for staggered terms of 5, 4, 3, 2, and 1-year terms. The chairman and vice chairman will act as ex-officio members of all committees.

Southern Bell Pays County, City Tax

Taxpayers can save four percent by paying their taxes before Dec. 1. This can be an important figure when taxes reach big proportions.

Taking advantage of the savings is the Southern Bell Telephone Co. This morning, manager Bob Shelden presented County Tax Collector John Calloway with a check for $58,470.08 and City Tax Collector Ellen Row with $16,349.22.

Filing the tax coffers were funds derived from equipment and buildings owned by the telephone company in Sanford and Seminole County.

Seminole Approved For $45,000 Grant

Seminole County has been approved for a $45,000 grant for a health center. The money will be available to the county if it is matched by the county.

John Krider, county commission chairman, today said he had been notified of the Hill-Burton grant, but that no appropriation had been made by the county. He added that he thought it "to early for discussion," preferring to wait for the new county commission to take action in January.

Committee Picks 4 Local Growers

New committee appointments for the 1958-59 season, announced by Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association president Roy Vandegriff, Jr., Palatka, include four local growers.

From this area appointed were Randall Chase, Sydney O. Chase Jr., M. L. Cullum and Harold Kastner, all of Sanford.

Dulles Says U. S. To Use All Means To Stay In Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the United States will use all means, including force if necessary, to keep open the road, rail and air communications to Communist-encircled West Berlin.

Dulles was asked at a news conference whether the Western Big Three had ruled out the use of force if the Russians or East Germans tried to blockade the city. He said the Allies have not ruled out any of their rights at all.

He declared, however, that he thinks the question is still academic because, according to his interpretation, the Russians and East German Communists have not threatened Allied access to the city.

Dulles said the only issue raised by the Reds so far, as he sees it, is whether the Soviet Union can turn East Berlin over to the German Communists and wiggle out of its responsibilities and obligations to the Allies.

Dulles said, in fact, that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may be having some second thoughts on the wisdom of his declaration earlier this month that Russia was ready to turn its Berlin sector over to the German Communists.

He said the Russian leader obviously spoke without consulting his legal advisers and may be reviewing the situation now that he has found his legal position unimpaired.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hargett announced in Augusta, Ga., that Dulles will visit there with President Eisenhower Sunday on the Berlin situation and other foreign policy matters.

The East German radio announced that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko has met with East German leaders in Berlin to discuss current political questions.

Staubitz was introduced by John Krider, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. In introducing Staubitz, Krider said that "it is a known fact that 40 to 60 per cent of our money goes to stores in Orlando. Mr. Staubitz has some excellent ideas about combating that problem."

Staubitz pointed out that working on the committee would take more energy than money. "Each of you has his own responsibility in making more new business," he said. "It isn't industry that you bring in from outside that makes your town. You cannot succeed if you leave the work to children."

The merchandising expert outlined reasons for the loss of buyers, stressing that the same would apply to almost any town. He said "the presentation of your town is a very important factor in selection by new industry; independent businessmen have no one to check up on them. If he hasn't washed his windows since he moved in, if his store needs paint, or if his parking lot is disorderly, it is a reflection on the whole town."

Staubitz stressed the need for adequate stock supplies to stop the flow to another city. "You need a city-wide population effort from school children on up to improve the looks of Sanford," Staubitz continued. "When everyone becomes conscious of working together, then things who do check up on them will feel guilty. Take your time, pick your people. If you wish instead of want, you never will be doing anything but improvement."
