It is no accident that men, the world over, have built clocks into the steeples of their churches!
 Reduce life to its simplest components and what have you? TIME and GOD.
 Time marks the beginning of life. It measures the growth of our bodies. It provides opportunity for our work and play. It reveals to us our human limitations. And then, one day, Time leaves us behind...
 But God is the origin of life. He measures the growth of our souls. He provides our strength and forgives our weakness. He reveals to us His Unlimited Love. And never desisting to leave us behind, God beckons us on — even beyond the arc of time.
 A parable then: the clock in the steeple!
 Man finds material security and temporal happiness as he learns to respect Time. Man finds spiritual security and eternal happiness as he learns to love God!

Cold Hits Many Parts Of Country

By United Press International
Heavy rains and cold today left a damp chill over the South, but Sunday morning of New England. Eleven persons were still missing and presumed victims of a Texas flood last week.

Large hail fell on Broadway, Mass., Sunday night and caused damage estimated by the mayor at $100,000. In nearby Boston, snow piled five feet deep and caused the American Legion baseball tournament, 7 to 6, to be postponed a second night.

The heavy Midwest snow left a trail of crops in Missouri, Iowa and South Dakota. Thousands of acres were under from two to three feet of water at the drainage systems collapsed from the overload.

South Dakota Gov. Bill A. Clark called for federal disaster aid. The Missouri flood damage estimates topped $1 million, after a flood barrier garment factory found what had ruined $700,000 worth of material. One man drowned as swirling waters trapped his car.

Eleven residents of Henderson, Tex., were still missing as missing from Friday's flood. "The only thing left here," said Sheriff Bill Cooney, "is to pick up our dead and start all over." The flood killed 16 persons, destroyed 400 homes and caused $2.5 million damage. One thousand persons took refuge in a school building. S. Army field kitchen brought 300 miles from Ft. Bliss.

Rain fell also Sunday in the Pacific Northwest. Temperatures fell to the 40s as far south as West Virginia.

U. S. Boosts Citrus Estimates

LANEY (UPI) — The U. S. Agriculture Department today boosted its estimate to up on both oranges and grapefruit, but the industry passed off the report "with a shrug."

The USDA estimate based on the crop up to one million boxes and the grapefruit crop by 100,000 boxes.

The 1964-65 orange crop is estimated at 121,000,000 boxes, and the grapefruit crop at 49,000,000 boxes.

This compares with the 1963-64 production of 118,000,000 boxes of oranges and 54,100,000 boxes of grapefruit.

The estimated production by state for 1964-65 of oranges in California, 82,000,000 boxes; Florida, 38,000,000 boxes; Texas, 900,000 boxes; Arizona, 2,500,000 boxes; and Louisiana, 10,000,000 boxes.

The production by state of grapefruit for the 1964-65 season is estimated as Florida, 21,000,000 boxes; Texas, 2,100,000 boxes; Arizona, 8,700,000 boxes; and California, 2,900,000 boxes.

Florida citrus production is expected to be up 10 percent over the 1963-64 season, according to the USDA estimate on oranges was left unchanged at 12 million boxes, with harvest of both being completed several months ago.

The average crop estimate is the highest given since Dec. 16, 1962, only a few days prior to the disastrous freeze.

On a national basis, the USDA estimate of the 1964-65 orange crop at 121,000,000 boxes, and the grapefruit crop at 49,000,000 boxes.

This compares with the 1963-64 production of 118,000,000 boxes of oranges and 54,100,000 boxes of grapefruit.

The estimated production by state for 1964-65 of oranges in California, 82,000,000 boxes; Florida, 38,000,000 boxes; Texas, 900,000 boxes; Arizona, 2,500,000 boxes; and Louisiana, 10,000,000 boxes.

The production by state of grapefruit for the 1964-65 season is estimated as Florida, 21,000,000 boxes; Texas, 2,100,000 boxes; Arizona, 8,700,000 boxes; and California, 2,900,000 boxes.

Goldwater Asks LBJ Stop 'Playing General'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Barry M. Goldwater, the 1964 Republican presidential nominee, today asked President Lyndon B. Johnson to stop "playing general" and get on with the job of governing.

"I don't know if you could give a specific and concrete answer to that, but we certainly need victory," Goldwater replied.

"I would certainly think it would be to the advantage of the United States and all the free world for us to destroy the Chinese limited atomic capability if China gives us the provocation," he said. "We just can't do it willy-nilly."

Goldwater's criticism of Johnson came when he was asked whether he thought the U.S. objective in South Vietnam should be a negotiated peace with a liberal but non-communist or a military victory that would prevent China's nuclear production if the Chinese Communists came into the Viet Nam war, but he did not think nuclear weapons were necessary in the war "that we are fighting over there."

PTA Honors Lyman Staff

By Jane Connelly

Members of the faculty and staff of Lyman High School were honored at an appreciation luncheon given by the 1964-65 executive board of the Parent-Teacher Association in the school cafeteria.

The festive foods were served buffet style and highlighting the table was half a dozen turkey legs with macaroni balls and other fresh fruits. Also on the menu were baked ham, rice, peas, and potatoes.

The luncheon tables were covered with lovely hybrid day lilies in shades of yellow and orange and carnations.

The executive board members were by James Brown, James Brown, and William Brown.

Soil Conservation Progress Made Here

Substantial progress was made during 1964 in the conservation and development of Seminole County's soil, water and wooded resources, according to Wilbur H. Arp, county office manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service here.

The Agricultural Conservation Program, which is administered by the local ASCS Committee, is a conservation partnership through which the Federal Government shares with farmers and ranchers the cost of carrying out needed conservation practices.

Cost-share is available under the program for up to 50 per cent for completing approved conservation measures. The farmer and rancher participating in the program must bear the remaining 50 per cent. This includes the cost of the work and the purchase of the materials needed for the conservation program.

Conservation projects are being carried out in Seminole County under the program which are estimated to be worth $100,000 for the year ending in 1965.

Bear Lake Methodist Women Observe First Anniversary

First anniversary of the Bear Lake Methodist Church Women's Society of Christian Service was observed at the June meeting at the home of Mrs. Maryann Miles in Forest City.

The meeting of the group also took place in Mrs. Miles' home at which time Mrs. Virginia English was chosen president. Second year president is Mrs. Margaret Brown.

Mrs. Nora Norris was co-hostess for the evening. Members attending were Mrs. Mickey Morgan, Mrs. Ellen Brantner, Mrs. Dorothy E. Emig, Mrs. Catherine Baird, Mrs. Virginia Gibson, Mrs. Ann Lewis, Mrs. Virginia Childers and Mrs. Ruth Powell.

Mrs. Irwin read the devotion entitled "Lord What Will You Have Me Do?" in business with Mrs. Brown presiding. It was reported that the new minister and his wife will move into the home the church has purchased on Lina Lane in Bear Lake this Wednesday. Circle members are to bring assigned dishes to the potluck dinner on June 14 at 6:30 p.m. that day for the supper being provided on this occasion.

It was announced that furnishings for the parsonage are near completion and since furniture for the master bedroom already had been made available, the circle instead will buy a desk for the study.

A get-acquainted covered dish dinner was scheduled for July 11 following the morning service. The A-J members are to bring salad and dessert with the A-J members bringing meat and vegetable.

It was decided that flowers would be placed once

Florida Students Eligible For Jobs

University of Florida students seeking full-time summer employment under the recently approved federal work-study program now may begin making applications to the University's Student Financial Aid Office.

Officials have received notification of a $26,021 grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for stimulating employment of students from low-income families who need money to pursue their education.

The work-study program was created by the Economic Opportunity Act passed by the 89th Congress.

Dean of Student Affairs Lester Hale emphasized that the summer program is guaranteed to students not currently in school but who have been admitted or will be enrolled in September. This includes high school graduates and students enrolled for only the first half of the spring semester.

Most of the jobs created by the grant are in the clerical and maintenance areas, though a limited number of graduate assistantships will be available.

Applicants must meet the University's student employment standards and the low-income family stipulations. These requirements include a $2,000 maximum combined income for a family with one child with $800 allowed for each additional child.

If the student is married, each of the couple's parents "City at the Top" In Greek "ecropolis" means "city at the top" and is the general name in ancient Greek history for cities built on elevated and easily defensible sites.

Students interested in summer jobs should apply in person or in writing to the Student Financial Aid Office, 124 Tigert Hall. Applicants must supply an affidavit of the fall term in September.

The full-time employment classes will include preliminary for the summer period. The University hopes to land a $200,000 work-study grant for the next academic year beginning in September. If approved, the emphasis would revert to part-time employment on campus. Work periods will continue through the interim between the end of the spring semester in early August and the start of the fall term in September.

Students interested in summer jobs should apply in person or in writing to the Student Financial Aid Office, 124 Tigert Hall. Applicants must supply an affidavit of the fall term in September.

Miss Treva Arnette, C. G. Matthews Exchange Vows In Church Ceremony

Miss Treva Elizabeth Arnette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Arnette Jr., of Sanford, and Chester Guy Matthews, son of Mrs. Guy Lewis Matthews, of Wima, Texas, and the late Mr. Matthews, were united in holy matrimony, Saturday, June 12, at 4 p.m., at the Central Baptist Church.

Rev. G. B. Smith officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony with a profusion of potted palms enhancing the altar area, accented with two standard baskets of pom poms and glads and standing beehive candelabra. A beautiful bouquet of pink carnations, white and glads and standing beehive candelabra. A beautiful bouquet of pink carnations, white and glads and standing beehive candelabra.

Attending the bride as bridesmaid was Miss Faye Hayes, who was escorted to the altar by the groom's brother, Mr. Shirley Greene, organist, played traditional nuptial hymns with Miss Joy Howell, soloist, singing "The Lord's Prayer," "O Promise Me" and "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a formal gown of Chantilly lace over tulle. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and pointed sleeves terminating in Chantilly lace. The voluminous nylon net skirt featured three ruffled tiers with Chantilly lace and rhinestone highlighting their edge.

Her shoulder length veil of imported tulle fell to her waist and was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and diamonds.

Countdown List Helps The Bride With Her Plans

NEW YORK (UPI) — On countdown for the wedding day!

One month to go, here's what to do:

—Address and mail invitations; buy gifts for attendants and bridesmaids; and make plans for luncheon for attendants; try to have your friends schedule showers now; finish shopping for lingerie, linens and household furnishings.

—Check on outfits for bridal party and have fittings on the wedding gown. Arrange for photographer to be present at the final fitting.

—Buy bridesmaid's wedding ring; apply for marriage license, and have the necessary pre-marital medical examinations.

—Remind bridesmaid to order bouquets and flowers for wedding party and for the two mothers.

—Consult with caterer about reception menu and cake.

—Just one week before the wedding day, here's what the bride ought to do:

—Send formal announcements to the local papers; check on gowns, trousseau items; make last appointment for wedding hair-do; have bridesmaid's luncheon; put girls on display; pack uncrushables — when she has free time.

The day before the wedding, the list isn't so long. The bride on the eve of the wedding should check the list one more time.

—Then she goes to the hairdresser. Later she takes in the wedding rehearsal and dinner.

—The next day, it's time to check the luggage. If she can, it's a good idea to get off to bed early.

Miss Flynn Bride Of Leo Turner, Jr.

Miss Karen Sue Flynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Flynn, of Abilene, Texas, became the bride of Leo Kenneth Turner, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kenneth Turner Sr., of Sanford, Wednesday morning, June 12.

Dr. H. J. Finders officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church of Waco, Texas.

Given in marriage by her father, the lovely bride chose for her vows a three-piece ensemble of champagne silk linen. Her matching hat featured a modified veil and she wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. James Seals of Waco attended the bride as matron of honor, attired in an American Beauty silk sheath with matching accessories.

Miss French of San Angelo, Texas, served the groom as best man.

Following a wedding trip to St. Petersburg and points of interest in central Florida, the newlyweds are residing in New Orleans.

The bride was graduated from Cooper High School, Abilene, and attended Baylor University, Waco, where she was a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon, social fraternity. She is a 1954 graduate of Baylor University with a B. A. in Business Administration. He is a member of Delta Sigma Pi, professional business fraternity, and is presently affiliated with Procter and Gamble Corporation, New Orleans.

Pilot Club's New Project To Award $300 Scholarship

The Pilot Club of Sanford is sponsoring a project for the coming year to give a $300 scholarship to a deserving high school girl to further her education.

The first business meeting of the year was held in the Caucus room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Building with Miss Doris Fleming, president presiding.

The meeting opened with devotionals by Mrs. Sue Stevenson and the pledge of allegiance to the flag was given. Roll call and minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Kay Gallagher and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Helen Westgate, treasurer.

During the business session the committee chairman discussed work plans for the coming year as follows: community service, Mrs. Nonnie Boone; finance, Mrs. Letha Power; membership, Mrs. Margaret Hodges; publicity, Mrs. Sara King; attendance and fellowship, Mrs. May Rohm; Anchor Club, Mrs. Shirley Secord; and safety, Mrs. Eloise Collins.

The Pilot Club will be represented at the USO by donations of money each month. The amount that was to be spent on refreshments was sent since the USO will not have a regular open house on Thursdays.

Club members were invited to attend a picnic at Mrs. Fowler's home on June 22 in place of the regular dinner meeting.

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for 9 years the most wonderful girl in the world. Bessie is sweet and kind and easy to get along with. My mother-in-law is a great word between us, excepting over this one subject, which is my problem—her mother. Bessie talks to her mother on the telephone at least five times a day, and the second her at least four times a week. We live in the Bronx and Bessie's mother lives in Canarsie, so you know it's no cliché. They are like a pair of Siamese twins. Bessie wouldn't think of leaving her mother. Bessie has three sisters and two brothers but none of them are as close to their mother as Bessie is. My mother-in-law is really a nice person, and she has a husband for company, but she's also in a second place like I am. We have no children, which is probably good because I don't know what to do with them. What can be done in a case like this?

DEAR SECOND: Nothing. Face it, you married a woman's girl. A close mother-daughter relationship is to be admired, but this one is sick. However, sick or not, situation can be changed unless the parties involved want to change it, and apparently your wife and her mother like it this way, so it's up to you to learn to live with it.

DEAR READER: If he were MY husband, I'd take him to a psychiatrist. He sounds more sick than trustworthy.

DEAR ABBY: Why didn't you tell Don's wife? — the woman who was competing with her husband's sports car — to get off her back and ride along in the sports car with Don? Her back hurts. So what? It's going to hurt anyway, so she might as well let it hurt while she's with her husband. How many more years does she figure she has with him? And what kind of selfish fool would she be if she didn't? Since when does a woman need a reason, or a husband, to get into her own car? He says he has a lot of things down there he doesn't want touched. Liza his tools, etc. He keeps everything locked up, including his car, which is in our back yard. He puts in a second car. No matter how 'old' a man is,

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me what to do with a husband who keeps the car door locked all the time? We've been married for 35 years and he's been this way for the past 15 years. Every time I ask him for the key to the car door, he says, "What do you have to go down there for?"

Since when does a woman need a reason, or a husband, to get into her own car? He says he has a lot of things down there he doesn't want touched. Liza his tools, etc. He keeps everything locked up, including his car, which is in our back yard. He puts in a second car. No matter how 'old' a man is,

Jacoby On Bridge

Jon Shuster of Montreal writes, "You frequently write about the luck factor in bridge, but I am sure that this luck factor is far less than in any other form of gambling." "I opened the king of diamonds against the six spade contract in last month's duplicate game. When South ruffed I realized that I was down for a bad score since my bid was based on such that South would surely make his contract and it appeared that few people would be in a similar contract. It seemed that desperate measures were necessary and I decided to risk giving an overtrick.

"South cashed his ace of spades and ace-king of clubs and ruffed his ten of clubs and the deuce of hearts and I played the king! He stopped with dummy's ace and hoped for a lot of thought. Then he led a diamond from dummy, ruffing with his last trump while my partner false-carded with his ace of diamonds, whereupon South decided to play East. I held the jack-nine-eight of hearts. Accordingly South led the four of hearts from his hand with the intention of holding the jack-nine-eight of hearts. Accordingly South led the four of hearts from his hand with the intention of holding the jack-nine-eight of hearts. Accordingly South led the four of hearts from his hand with the intention of holding the jack-nine-eight of hearts.

We The Women:

Are you bringing your children up to be unfriendly, courteous and respectful to adults — all adults?

The reason I ask is that yesterday I happened to be in a small shopping center adjacent to a fine neighborhood school after the nearby elementary school let out. And I was shocked and saddened by the rudeness to clerks of a group of children, not over 10 years of age, whose pockets were filled with spending money.

These brats, young street alleys yelled at, teased and ordered about women clerks old enough to be their mothers.

When they finally left the store one self-respecting clerk shook her head and said, "I scarse me to think of what our world is coming to when driven from so-called good homes below like that."

Do their mothers know they are to adults like that? I wondered. Do YOU know how YOUR children behave to adults? I was bewildered when I saw the children's behavior to clerks of a group of children, not over 10 years of age, whose pockets were filled with spending money.

These brats, young street alleys yelled at, teased and ordered about women clerks old enough to be their mothers.

When they finally left the store one self-respecting clerk shook her head and said, "I scarse me to think of what our world is coming to when driven from so-called good homes below like that."

Beauty after Forty EDYTH THORNTON McLEOD

Out of the Mailing "Dear Edyth Thornton McLeod"

"I like pastels for summer wear and although I am seventy, I'm not overweight and watch my diet very carefully. This year I see so much white hair. Would white be suitable for me? I live a very casual, but active life. Should I, if I get a white outfit, wear white shoes? — Mrs. Kate..."

You can wear white very successfully, but somehow I do not like white shoes. You will find lovely colors in casual shoes for summer, so try for something in a color or even black. You sound wonderful at seventy. I keep telling my readers many red heads that white is grand, but now it is so streaky. I am fifty-nine. Should I try to match the red and have my hair colored or what? I can afford a good hairdresser and have good hair care here — A. C."

No, never try to match red, as it never comes out well. Consult your hairdresser, and take his advice. Ask about frosting; this is very attractive.

"It is necessary to have brown shoes for a brown and white print dress? I was given the dress but have nothing in brown. I have gray hair and am forty-one."

Well, black will certainly spoil the smartness of a brown and white print. White or brown is your answer and your bag should also be one or the other. There are some charming brown and white shoes in the shoe store.

"I have some very old 'olds combs,' as they were called. They are partly in color with small brilliants, and are very attractive."

Playing God Plagues Doctors

"Thou shalt not kill," says the ancient code. "Nor," adds modern man, "shouldst strive officiously to keep alive." This latter-day corollary to the Sixth Commandment is becoming of increasing concern to medical men, whose improving science enables them to prolong the lives of dying patients for greater and greater lengths of time.

Thought For Today

And this is the confidence which we have in him, that if we ask anything according to his will he hears us. John 5:14.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) - With all the bungling and confusion that has marked events in the Dominican Republic, it seems plain enough that President Johnson would make the same basic decision to move life apparently is viewed by many Dominicans as a symbol of anticommunist Americanism.
