Every aged man said the outstanding characteristic of life is its brevity. Do not put off any good work till it is too late.
My days are shorter than a weaver's shuttle.—John 7:26

Congratulations to Willie W.
Liams for his vote on anti-monopoly race track bill.

We see where a dentist out in Chicago has perfected a set of false teeth for a three year old baby. Well, now that's mighty fine, but don't tell the British about it or at least as three more of their divisions.

The Florida Senate has voted to ask the state of South Carolina to return the bones of poor old Oceola who was captured by American troops under a flag of truce and confined to a dark dank cell at Fort Moultrie until he died.
That apology is made 100 years too late.

American arms now being sent to General Chiang Kai-Shek on Formosa are for defensive purposes only, says Secretary of State Acheson. Chinese Nationalists will not be allowed to go to the aid of land pressed American troops in Formosa. The best way to win a battle, according to a traditional American cavalry leader, is to "get that 'stet with the most."

Another said: "Attack, attack, attack."—And another: "The best defense is a good offense." But traditional Americans are not running this show.

In our opinion Seminole County is one of the cleanest counties in the state when it comes to lawlessness, illegal gambling, graft, and corruption. It is therefore difficult to understand why two of our three legislators voted against the bill to limit dog-track ownership to two, a bill aimed directly at the Capone mobster who contributed $100,000 to Governor Warren's campaign fund. Sanford Jay-ces have logically requested them to change their position with respect to this bill. It would be foolish to give the impression of being allied with criminal elements if it is not actually so.

Selective Service complaints that high school and college boys are not responding with sufficient alacrity in applying for intelligence tests which might exempt them from the draft. In view of all they have heard recently about lowering the draft age to 18, about not lowering the draft to 18, about calling up college students, about not calling up college students, about increasing the size of the army, about lowering the draft calls for June, about sending troops to Korea, perhaps the high school and college boys are wondering whether it is not the government bureaucrats to whom the intelligence tests should be given.

Dr. Hamilton Holt, who raised $4,000,000 for Rollins College during his 24 years of service to the institution, passes on in his sleep at a Woodstock, Conn. hospital at the age of 78. Father of a "conference plan", the small retirement with close association between student and teacher, Dr.
Holt had made Rollins a model campus of national reputation.
Plans in this day of burning bombs, large lecture halls, and lecturers, the youth who want of personal attention and guidance could not find in his plan. Commemoration Address in 1949 Dr. Holt said to Rollins: "If you love the freedom feeling on the campus that you have, let it be a reality. If you are not, let it be a reality."

College Peace Research

Three of the most distinguished American colleges have recently instituted research projects in the field of international understanding and relations among nations.
At Yale a fund has been established which will be used to further "basic research in all fields of learning significant to world peace and to all fundamental problems underlying the cause of war." The fund will be known as the Henry L. Stimson Fund For Research in World Affairs.

A similar fund for research and analysis in foreign policy has been announced at Princeton, and a department to study Russian civilization has been established at Dartmouth College. The announcement of these new endeavors by American colleges and universities in the field of human relationships is a sign of an increased interest on the part of educational institutions in the field of world affairs. Colleges are no longer content with teaching only the arts and sciences which have been the mainstay of their traditional curricula, but feel an obligation to make knowledge available on how men can meet the ever-changing problems which the world presents.

The kind of program promised by these institutions seems to be one which will integrate knowledge of the past with conditions as they exist today. Someone once said that a true university is an exchange of ideas. This can prove to be true of the new line of research which these three propose to undertake. If colleges can discover new methods to help men to live together in peace, or if they can reveal old methods that are still good, then the new endeavor will be one of the great services rendered by education.

Fences And Neighbors

"Good fences make good neighbors." The line quoted is probably one of the more familiar lines in American poetry, taken from "Mending Wall" by Robert Frost. Out of context, the line would seem to be an argument for strong fences between neighbors. Actually Frost had a different idea.

In this poem Frost, with the beauty of language and image that has made him great, tells how he and his neighbor walk the length of the great stone fence which separates their New England properties, one each year.
As they walk, each on his own side of the fence, they replace the stones which have fallen during the winter. It is Frost's neighbor who makes the statement that his father had made before him, "Good fences make good neighbors."

The poet would like to question this statement, but refrains. He would like to tell his neighbor that there is no need for a fence in many places since there are no cattle to keep in check and since there is little danger of his trees invading the property of his neighbor.

Frost has a wisdom almost equal to the beauty of his poetry. In certain areas of life a man must have his solitude protected. There are things which should be fenced out, and things which should be fenced in. But fences of stone, or of the spirit, should be put up only where they are needed.

The Horse Police

The old days of the horse police have long since vanished but an institution designed to stop horse stealing still functions, although it is now little more than an honorary organization. The group is chartered in two states as the Pennsylvania State Police of Erie and Crawford Counties and the Ohio Home Guard. Members have the power to make arrests in counties where they are chartered.

The members seldom make arrests any more. They do hold social meetings, and during World War II they patrol-ed highways during blackouts. The group is a survivor of an era when people had to protect their own property by their own methods. Now and more efficient police methods have made the "horse police" obsolete, but they remain as a reminder of days more colorful and less secure.

AP Correspondent

Embassy officials said this apparently referred to four Czech employees of the AP Prague bureau who vanished mysteriously in the past month. Like Oatis, they are believed held in Pankrac Prison.

Here is an unofficial translation of the Czech Foreign Ministry note, as received by telephone from Prague:

"The Ministry of Foreign Affairs presents its compliments to the Embassy of the United States of America and has the honor to advise that the head of the press agency 'Associated Press', W. N.
Oatis, has been detained by the Czechoslovak security organs for having carried out anti-state activities.

Mr. W. N. Oatis, according to the testimony of witnesses, entrusted the former employees of the Prague office of the agency with the task of securing and verifying certain secret reports besides that the above-named gained and secured illegal press material insulting the Czechoslovak Republic and its order, and used Czechoslovak citizens employed at the Prague office of the Associated Press for similar purposes.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs avails itself of this opportunity to renew to the Embassy of the United States of America the assurance of its high consideration."

In New York yesterday Frank J. Starke, general manager of the AP, said Oatis reported only that he had full confidence in his loyalty to a new man, and knows no basis for the action against him.

The Foreign Ministry's note to the embassy was dated Wednesday, but was received today.
Thompson, the Embassy counsellor, said he wanted to visit Oatis to note how he is being treated and to determine what can be done for his defense. He said the Communist regime puts him on trial, which seems fairly new. The Czech government's claim it had witnessed arrested Oatis indicated that it is the best police organization, and would be the best police organization in the world.

Union Official

one week ago—will be staged at the main plant of Dan River mill in nearby Schofield. The village of Schofield permits parades without special permission.

But here in Danville marchers need a permit from the police.
Mayor Curtis Bishop banned demonstrations because a "parade might intensify feelings and possibly lead to violence."

The action was immediately termed unconstitutional by Emanuel Boggs, Danville area WUA director. Boggs compared it with the ban on parades of Mayor Frank Hague, of Jersey City, N.
J., in the thirties, when the CIO was attempting to organize plant in New Jersey. The court overruled Hague.

The latest dynamite in the four-week-old strike which has killed some 48,000 Southern Textile Workers in seven states occurred here last night.

Police said a stick or half a stick of dynamite was tossed into the home of Herbert C. White, a maintenance worker at Dan River.
No one was injured but the back porch floor of White's home was ripped up and windows blown out.

Wages are the main issue at Dan River—customarily the necessary in Southern textile—where the union is seeking a 13 cent an hour hike for next 12,000 employees, plus fringe benefits.

The company says present wages—which range at $1.25 including the fringe benefits—are the highest in the industry.

Churchill Thinks
Churchill thought that "events developed in the last few days of the strike at Dan River" were "a very good example of the kind of thing which can be done by a government which wishes to avoid being set of the country at such a critical time."

Man And Woman
Found Dead In Car

ORLANDO, Apr. 27—(AP)—The bodies of a 47-year-old Ocoee citrus worker and his 46-year-old woman companion were discovered in a parked automobile near here today.

Orange county Sheriff Dave Starr said it was apparently a case of murder and suicide.
Starr said the bodies of Harvath C. Bennett and Mrs. Lona Robinson were found near the Tilleville school by an unidentified woman who was taking her children to the school.

Bennett was shot in the head with a .410 gauge shotgun found clutched in his left hand; the woman had two shot wounds in the chest, the Sheriff said.

Starr said Mrs. Robinson died several hours before Bennett. He theorized that Bennett shot the woman, drove around in the auto several hours, then turned the gun on himself.

The woman's body was found on the back seat of the car; Bennett's on the front seat, Starr said.

Both were employed at an Orange county citrus packing house.

Starr said Mrs. Robinson was the widow of Neva Robinson, who was slain in a tavern brawl near Rock Springs two years ago.

Bennett's wife said she and her husband had separated about a week ago.

An inquest will be held.

Jaycee Meeting

The station will not be a training center as in World War II.
The station will be operated by 1,000 men, Comdr. Blouin said.
They will be divided into one carrier group which will be supported by an aircraft service squadron. The carrier group will comprise two jet squadrons and three conventional squadrons.

Comdr. Blouin said that the present 6,000 foot runways are adequate for the operation of jet planes and no expansion is contemplated.

Rollins College

Then were Winston Bancroft, Jacksonville, chairman; Mrs. Hugh McKean, New York and Winter Park; Robert Stephens, New York; Reginald T. Clougherty, York; Thomas E.
Johnson, Hillsborough; Dr. Huber Staw, Hartford, Conn.; Mrs.
Reinhold Silverberg, Greenwald, Conn.; M. George Garrison, Jacksonville; Milton Walker, Miami; Oleott Damron, Washington; C. and Eldredge, Haynes, New York.

Carson was chairman, and Walker and Garrison were members. The meeting was held in the Rollins College building.
The meeting was held in the Rollins College building.

When Dr. Walker assumed the presidency of the college in 1945 at the age of 27, he was the youngest college president in the United States.

The trustees' adjourned for lunch at 1:45 P. M. Dr. Alfred H. Raines, Division chief, who said there was no definite conclusion that a decision would be reached today. He said it was possible the group would meet here over the weekend.

MacArthur Return

"We, I am sorry, I cannot speak.
We are behind schedule."
There was time both at Kenosha and at the airport for MacArthur to receive bouquets and plaques.

The city which gave him up to the service of his country more than 40 years ago, welcomed him, if only for a few hours.

Prize early signs, he will be greeted by some 700,000 persons—some what more than Milwaukee's population—before nightfall.

The city was filled with delegations from all over Wisconsin, headed in by special trains, buses and private cars.

Some 500 veterans of the 15th Rainbow Division, which MacArthur commanded at the end of World War I, and survivors of the famed Janeville tanks which fought for him at the start of World War II, lined the parade route.
Mostly, though, those along the 16-mile parade route came to accord a hero's welcome to a man whose position as a favorite son was almost legendary.

MacArthur himself never has given up Milwaukee as his home town. It is 53 years since he attended west division high school, preparing for West Point. It is 33 years since he made his last visit, for the funeral of his father. Lt. General Arthur Mac-Arthur, who died at a reunion of a Wisconsin G.A.R. Regiment in 1914.

Thus there is little reaping of old acquaintances in this homecoming. And the parade route winding across the metropolitan area was laid out to show the General how the streets of home have changed.

However, the motorcade will turn from his route at one point for a brief stop at his father's grave. The General's party will be headed up for today's celebration.

MacArthur will receive an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Marquette University at brief ceremonies in the University auditorium. The General of the Army and his party then are scheduled to make a brief stop at his home in Milwaukee before they return flight to New York.

Senate Warned

would be willing to supply them.
"Such warships and planes as may be necessary," replied Taft, who earlier had said "I would not send an American soldier to the mainland of China."

Taft said the nation has only three courses open for dealing with Communist aggression in Korea.

Taft told his colleagues he thinks they can be "wholly justified in the suspicion that Acheson may try to end this war (in Korea) by appeasement of the Chinese Communists."

Senator Jenner (R-Ind) asked if John Foster Dulles, Republican State Department adviser, had not told a Capitol Hill lunch-noon group that "the pro-Communist influence in the State Department prevailed up to the Korean war." The date of the luncheon was not given.

Taft said that was the "general impression" of Dulles' talk.
Jenner said there hadn't been a "single change that has erased this pro-Communist influence."

McMahon challenged Taft's conclusion that the State Department had "tampered" the supplying of arms to the Chinese Nationalists before they were pushed out of China by the Communists.

McMahon said that enough arms to equip 30 divisions had been given to Chiang Kai Shek.
"No, not after World War II war," Taft said.

"Yes they were," McMahon replied.

Taft said that William Renning-ton, who he said was "revivified as a Communist," had blocked shipments of oil and other supplies to the Nationalists from his position in the Commerce Department. (Rennington, former Department economist, was considered of falsely swearing that he had never been a Communist.)

Taft blamed the Secretary of Defense, Marshall, then a special ambassador to China, for cutting off arms to the Nationalists.

Meanwhile, Mariner S. Eelce, a Federal Reserve Board governor, said the Reconstruction Finance Corporation "should be abolished without further delay."

Eelce testified before the Senate Banking Committee at general hearings on what to do about the future of the big government lending agency. He said: "There is no real place in a private enterprise economy for direct government lending to private economy any more than there is a place for direct government participation in the ship of the means of production."

He said that the government either is Socialist in nature and will, if continued and expanded, weaken and ultimately destroy the private free enterprise system.

A number of bills dealing with the RFC are before the Banking Committee.

Korean War

Five Red divisions hammered toward the South Korean capital from the north. Some were only 11 miles away, near Uijongne.

In some sectors the Reds had advanced 40 miles since they launched their spring offensive Sunday.
But they paid a terrific price in lives for each mile gained. The U. N. command estimated 35,000 Reds were killed in four and a half days.

"They're spending people like we spend ammunition," one of the U. N. command officials said.

Leadership Need Is Emphasized By Sikes

PENSACOLA, Apr. 27—(AP)— Congressman Bob Sikes (D-Fla.) warned today that America can't bungle her way out of the present international crisis.

Speaking to the Florida State Underwriters Association, Sikes said: "We've got to have leadership.
If you are not convinced you have it now, do something about it."

"The nation needs today the strongest government that can be assembled from whatever party or rank or state."

"We are faced with our great crisis in history with half of the world allied against us, and dependent more than ever on our own resources for security."

He called for a coalition government in which the party in power invites the help of the nation's ablest minds in both parties.

which will be supported by an air service squad of from 200 to 300, or approximately 230 men and 23 officers, it was announced by Comdr. C. A. Blouin.

He spent some time at the station during World War II and has been here for several weeks during its rehabilitation.

State Legislature

that's up to the House," he said.

$49,882,250 mostly in construction programs. The committee directed the AEC to use "care and simplifi-city" in designing its new buildings and to cut out the fancy trimmings.

For the Veterans' Administration, the allotment was $8,971, 944,145, a budget cut of $482, 278,455. Heavy reductions were in funds for readjustment benefits and pensions, due mainly to a shifting off in the education program for veterans.

For other major agencies in the bill, here's what the committee recommended, and the amount cut from the budget:

Tennessee Valley Authority; $26,139,400, a cut of $12,428,400;
in addition, the TVA gets an estimated $106,207,000 from pp rating revenues.

Executive office of the President; $19,501,215, a cut of $12, 810,000, mostly in emergency funds.

Civil Service Commission; $31,005,000, a cut of $2,400,500; this allotment includes $300,000-000 for civil service retirement and disability payments.

Displaced Persons Commission; $4,195,000, a cut of $2,068,000.
Federal Communications Commission; $6,875,000, a $275,000

Approved in committee and sent to the floor for debate was a proposal to create a State tax commission to supervise and equalize county tax assessments, and one to permit the Utilities Commission to tap telephone wires to see if they are being used to transmit gambling information.

A judiciary committee rejected a bill that would revise the laws regulating the barber business.

The Republican Pinellas county delegation introduced a bill to prohibit any of the money brought in by the State's wine and liquor taxes from being spent in dry counties.

Their measure would require beverage taxes to be spent on old age assistance. Any money left over would be paid into county schools funds. None of the money would be spent in counties which prohibit liquor sales. The same sort of bill has been introduced in several past sessions, but never has gone far.

The Salt Water Fisheries Committee introduced a bill to forbid commercial taking of crawfish weighing more than three pounds.

Rep. Papy of Monroe, committee chairman, said fish over that weight were too tough to eat and would be left as breeding stock.

A companion bill by the committee would prohibit sale of crawfish tails alone. The entire crawfish would have to be marketed.

Another central purchasing bill came in from the House Commission on Governmental Reorganization. The House has received several others setting up various purchasing plans for the state but has acted on one so far.

The Committee bill would "set up a central purchasing council with members from most state institutions and the larger agencies.
A test vote in the Senate indicated the House-backed bill to regulate private electric power and gas companies should pass with ease.

By a 21-12 roll call vote the Senate rejected an amendment to the House bill which would have removed the enforcement feature that utilities must show "willful" violation before they could be considered to have violated the law.

Florida citizens would have to be able to read and write before being eligible to vote under a proposed constitutional amendment offered today.

Senator Gautier of New Smyrna Beach proposed the amendment in the Senate. Rep. Sweeney of Vanhousen county offered it in the House.

Similar proposals in the last two sessions failed to pass.

The Lamplighter

By TOM DOYLE

It won't be long now until "The Lemon Drop Kid" will be played to a Sanford audience. This picture is an adaptation from a Damon Runyon story about a fabulous character who hangs around the race tracks with an air of illegality about him and perfunctorily sucks on Lemon drops. However, as good as the picture will be, (it stars Bob Hope), the full flavor of this master story teller, sometimes described as "The modern O. Henry", cannot possibly be captured on celluloid. Of all the Runyon stories used by Hollywood, the only one which seemed Runyonesque was "Rutch Minds the Baby".

Runyon is different to screen. The charm of his style is something exclusively reserved for the reader and something a movie cannot capture. A fairly good verisimilitude to his characters can be done, however, Runyon, in his stories, never uses any tense except the present. No matter when something happens to the readers get it as the present. And another thing in reading him: His eyes are our eyes. We watch the strange, fantastic exploits of his characters through his eyes. We see them as Runyon wants us to. A movie can't give a story the Runyonesque treatment. In any other hands but his, you can only get a good yarn.

Be that as it may, "The Lemon Drop Kid" promises to be comedy at its funniest and we can think of no one better than Hope to play the part of this bizarre denizen of the race track.

Soon to appear
A much discussed picture, "The Glass Menagerie" is billed for Sanford in a week or so. This one is from the plays written by Tennessee Williams dealing with a girl living in her own private ivory tower, and her descent to reality effected through a few deft lessons handed down by Kirk Douglas.

Sunday-Monday
"Bird of Paradise" will be here Sunday and Monday, starring Jeff Chandler and Debra Paget. This was once some years ago a fabulously successful Broadway stage show which played nightly at the Hippodrome to throngs of entertainment seekers. Now it has been filmed and captures all of the magic scenery of the Hawaiians, erupting volcanoes and what have you. A spectacle!

Preservation Of Health Discussed At Church Meet

Members of the staff of the Florida Sanitarium, Orlando, talked on various ways and means of preserving health in a program at the Seventh Day Adventist Church here last night. The speakers were introduced by Miss Bertha Fern Parker, supervising instructor at the Sanitarium.

Ed Mathis, an attendant, spoke on the necessity of healthful recreation as a means of preserving health, stressing the value of outdoor sports such as boating, golfing, tennis and picnicing. Unless the physical powers are kept active, mental powers lag, he warned.

Arne Dahlsten, a sanitarium attending in China, told of adverse effects of the use of caffeine stimulants such as coffee, tea and cold drinks. Stimulants are like a whip to vital energy, and use up vital reserve energy that the body cells have stored up, he said. What seems strength is only nervous excitement, often followed by headache, wakefulness and indigestion, he said.

Mrs. F. E. Cornwell, nurse, stated that although tuberculosis had dropped from first to seventh place as a fatal disease in this country, no other disease makes such inroads on young people. She told how the disease is spread by coughing and sneezing, and stated that rest is one of the most important factors in recovery. Citrus juices have much virtue as a part of the diet of patients, she said.

The Ambassadors Quartette sang several numbers, including "The Old Village Choir." These included Carol Hadley, Don Holland, Olin Stewart and Robert Jensen. Elder J. M. Cox delivered a short sermon.

Coleman Discloses Starting Of New Power Extension

A new electric extension nearly ten miles in length has just been started to serve the territory between Osteen and Lake Ashby. H. Coleman, division manager for Florida Power & Light Company, said yesterday.

"Continued increase in construction in this area is indicated by figures on new electric services connected," Mr. Coleman said. "In March of last year there were 20 new services connected while in March this year 27 new customers were added, an increase of 35 percent. The number of new electric services connected is considered a reliable index to the number of new buildings completed."

"The fact that we've made more new electric service connections in March than in any other month in the past year is a reflection of the fact that we've made ready for occupancy here. These figures reflect favorably on our community. Despite material shortages and other handicaps caused by defense mobilization, Sanford and its surrounding area is continuing to expand."

Mr. Coleman said most of the new electric service connections were for new living accommodations.

To provide electricity for the continued growth of its service area, Mr. Coleman said Florida Power & Light Company is spending $108,000,000 in its postwar building program. With eight big generators already installed since V-J Day, the utility will begin test operation of a new 35,000 kw plant at Palatka this summer.

Next year, at its Collier plant, it will add the largest single unit, a 75,000 kw generator, ever installed in Florida. A third generator, of 75,000 kw, is on order for installation in 1953 at a point to be determined by Florida's population growth.

"Here is a man who was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in an obscure village. He worked in a carpenter shop until he was thirty, and then for three years he was an itinerant teacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office. He never owned a home. He never had a family. He never went to college. He never traveled two hundred miles from the place where he was born. He never did one of the things that usually accompany greatness. He had no credentials but himself. He had nothing to do with this world except the power of His Divine word. While still a young man, the tide of popular opinion turned against Him. His friends ran away. One of them denied Him. He was turned over to his enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed upon a cross between two thieves. His executioners gambled for the only piece of property he had on earth while he was dying—his coat. When he was dead he was taken down and laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend. Nineteen wide centuries have come and gone; today he is the center-piece of the human race and the Leader of the column of progress. I am far within the mark when I say that all the armies that ever marched, and all the navies that ever were built, and all the parliaments that ever sat, and all the kings that ever reigned, put together have not affected the life of a man upon earth as powerfully as has that ONE SOLITARY LIFE—James A. Francis."

Theme of the Christian Science services next Sunday will be the continuing and eternal nature of life. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Probation After Death."
Two verses from Proverbs (21: 15, 21) supply the Golden Text: "The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead... He that followeth after righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness, and honour."
Among the selections contained in the Lesson-Sermon are these: From the Bible: "I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord" (Ps. 118: 17). From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is deathless. Life is the origin and ultimate of man, never attainable through death, but gained by walking in the pathway of Truth both before and after that which is called death" (p. 487: 3-6).

House Insists On Outlawing Contributions

Bill Praising General Douglas MacArthur Voted Down 62-14; Vetoes Are Upheld

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 30—(AP)—The House, continued to insist today that all campaign contributions be outlawed.

It refused to agree with the Senate in barring only contributions by race track interests.

It voted 51 to 31 to stand by its own amendment to the original Senate Crime Commission bill forbidding racing contributions. The House amendment, backed on its surprise move, prohibits any candidate from accepting contributions from any source.

The House, apparently in a contrary mood, also refused to accept a Senate amendment to the utilities bill exempting liquefied petroleum gas companies from state regulation along with other private gas and electric companies.

Hoover Calls For RFC Liquidation In Senate Hearing

Loan Agency Accused Of Making Useless Loans, Corruption

WASHINGTON, Apr. 30—(AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover called today for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) to be liquidated, largely because its original purpose has become "submerged in support of risky business."

He said "favoritism and corruption" have been demonstrated in its operation.

Hoover, who recently urged that the RFC be abolished, appeared before the Senate Banking Committee to tell the reasons behind his view.

In a statement before the committee, he said the RFC should be liquidated.

"I believe some facilities for loans in the small business field should be continued under other organizations," Hoover said.

Small business loans, the former President said, should be taken over by the Federal Reserve banks.

Hoover is one of a number of witnesses called by the committee in its study of the RFC.

The RFC was created by Congress on Jan. 22, 1932, during Hoover's Administration, "to provide emergency financing facilities for financial institutions, to charge 23 faculty members and drop intercollegiate athletics.

He has contended that his policies were aimed at saving the institution from bankruptcy.

The members of the special committee were Mrs. Jeanette McKean, Winter Park; Olcott Deming, Redding, Conn.; Robert Stephens, and Edridge Haynes, of New York, and Reginald Clough, of Riverside, Conn.

Vogeler And Family Fly To U. S.; Americans Told Of Red Danger

VIENNA, Austria, Apr. 30—(AP)—Robert A. Vogeler and his family left Vienna by plane today for the United States.

The 39-year-old American businessman, released last Saturday after 17 months in a Communist jail in Hungary, was taken to the airport with his family by Ambassador Walter J. Donnelly, U. S. High Commissioner in Austria.

With his handsome Belgian-born wife Lucille, her sister Pa, and the Vogeler's two sons, Bob, 11, and Billy, 9, Vogeler boarded a Pan American Airways plane at Tulln Airport, in Austria, where he was met by his wife and two children. The plane took off at 8 P. M. for New York. The first stop is Frankfurt, Germany.

Vogeler mustered his shattered strength to deliver what he called "a message" to the American people yesterday before a television camera and microphone. He broke down once but insisted on continuing.

"I am convinced," he said, "that my incident far exceeded the United States as a spy and saboteur. It is just one of a series of planned attacks on Democracy.

"The American people must be made aware of what has happened. For that every individual American should realize that what happened to me can happen to them if we don't all band together to destroy these enemies of individual freedom."

Vogeler was so weak and nervous after that effort that he was forbidden to talk by telephone last night with his father, Willy R. Vogeler, in New York. His wife substituted for him on the telephone while he was put to bed with sedatives.

Today, however, after "a good night's sleep," he was reported improved.

"He is beginning to collect his life again," Williams said. "He is starting to straighten up some of his long neglected business and personal affairs."

"But it has been so long since he was able to make decisions for himself that he has almost lost temporarily the ability to make decisions."

The family began packing out the furniture and personal effects to be taken home to the United States. Workmen were on hand to start the crating and packing. (NBC announced that Vogeler's (Continued on Page Six)

MacArthur Visits Wife's Hometown Of Murfreesboro

Thousands Turn Out To Cheer For Hero Of World War Two

MURFREESBORO, Tenn., Apr. 30—(AP)—Jean Faircloth MacArthur, pulling rank on her general's husband, brought her famed family home today for a triumphant return in which she held the commanding role.

They arrived at Seawall Air Force Base for a five-hour homecoming celebration and drove the 12 miles to Murfreesboro, where thousands lined with cheering throngs. The general's four-engine Constellation, the "Hataan," set down at 10:58 A. M.

A 16-man Air Force "salutation" party greeted the MacArthurs. The Air Force explained this was equivalent to a 17-gun salute, adding that it flies air planes and doesn't shoot cannons.

Then a civilian welcoming delegation took the party in hand for an all-stops-pulled banquet that had this picturesque little city in a tumult.

Governor Gordon Browning greeted the family at the air base. Military honors were in the brief 10-minute air base ceremony, the party moved to the nearby town where the general placed a wreath on a memorial to World War II dead.

Then came the entry into the festive home town itself. Lemonade stands dotted lawns of churches and private homes. Jean MacArthur knew well before she left 14 years ago.

In today's flag-waving crowd the Stars and Bars of the Confederacy were far more in evidence than the Stars and Stripes. The confederate flag, however, is not permitted.

President Asks $60 Billion For Preparedness

Russian Rulers Are Accused Of Pushing America To Brink Of 3rd World War

WASHINGTON, Apr. 30—(AP)—President Truman today sent Congress a $60,679,414,690 defense budget and said Russia's rulers have pushed the world "to the brink of a general war."

The huge requested appropriation is for the United States' own military costs and to help arm its Allies.

The message broke down in more detail the military estimates included in Mr. Truman's budget, sent to Congress in January, for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

In a letter to House Speaker Rayburn, accompanying today's estimates, Mr. Truman said: "If the Soviet Union chooses to unleash a general war, the first blow must be in a position to stop the attack and strike back decisively and at once at the very heart of Soviet power."

"We believe that the best path to peace is through building combined defenses for the free world sufficiently powerful to insure disaster for the aggressor if they launch a new world war."

The overall figure was broken down into these subtotals: $11,421,039,700 to pay for various projects Congress already has authorized; $58,179,414,990 of "new obligations" authority "meeting for direct expenditures and for letting of contracts for future payment."

The revised estimate of expenditures for 1951 (the fiscal year ending next June 30) is $54 billion dollars, compared to $50 billion in the January budget. For fiscal year 1952, expenditures are estimated at $40 billion, compared to $30 billion in the January budget.

The $60,679,414,690 asked Congress to authorize or to appropriate has been enacted or recommended for the current fiscal year.

It includes broadly the planned expenditures for 1951.

Senator Boyle Denies He Voted Against Measure

WASHINGTON, Apr. 30—(AP)—Senator Lloyd E. Boyle today denied voting against the rate track control bill as charged in a talk by Judge Douglas Stenstrom before the Sanford Jaycees last week and said that he intends to vote in favor of it if it comes to the floor of the Senate.

In a letter to the Herald Senator Boyle said, "I have never voted against this particular bill and do not intend to do so if and when the House companion bill passes that body and comes to a vote in the Senate. It and the other bills of the series of so-called 'crime bills' are good bills and, in my opinion, prevent a recurrence of the attempt by unscrupulous individuals to control law enforcement which has resulted in such unfavorable publicity for Florida."

And the same time Senator Boyle released the following letter which he has written to Judge Stenstrom:

April 28, 1951
Hon. Douglas Stenstrom
Sanford
Florida
Dear Judge:

"Upon my return from Tallahassee last night my attention was called to a talk you gave before the Sanford Jaycees Thursday and wherein you severely criticized me for my action on the rate track bill which resulted in my receiving a telegram requesting that I reverse my position on the same. From your statements the implication seems to be that I opposed the bill.

"From the article it appears you incorrectly stated that I voted against bringing the bill out of the committee. This is not true as I was not a member of the committee which considered it.

"The bill was voted out favorably and the only time I have voted against the motion to override the action of the committee, I believe in the committee system under which both the House and the Senate operate. The bill had fully considered the bill I did not feel as though I should question their judgment when at the time I was not familiar with the merits of the bill.

"In my opinion THE bill of major importance in the series of (Continued on Page Six)

Dr. Ruprecht And Ratigan Report On Rotary Meet

Talks Made By Holland And Edmunds Termed Excellent

Jack Ratigan and Dr. R. W. Ruprecht reported on the district conference held last week in Orlando by Florida Rotarians (clubs at the regular weekly luncheon of the Sanford Rotary Club at the Yacht Club today.

Mr. Ruprecht summarized the talks made by Senator Special Holland and Dr. Ollie Edmunds of Stetson University, characterizing them both as excellent and mentioned briefly talks made by E. M. Rhodes and other speakers at the meeting. Dr. Ruprecht reported on the business sessions at the conference.

Senator Holland spoke on the Truman-McArthur controversy. Mr. Ratigan said, and gave as his opinion that General MacArthur is a superb military leader, but cautioned calmness and deliberation among the people in reaching a decision on the issue.

Declaring that the military situation has not deteriorated during the past few years, Senator Holland was quoted as pointing out the strengthening of Turkey, the elimination of Communism in Greece, the defense of Yugoslavia from Russian domination, and the success of the Marshall Plan in Europe where he said production now exceeds the highest peak of the pre-war level.

Mr. Ratigan also said that Senator Holland regarded the handling of General MacArthur as definitely brought about by him in order to raise a clear issue on the Far Eastern question and to get a clear statement of U. S. policy understandable to all nations of the world.

Dr. Edmunds said the MacArthur controversy pointed up the importance of determining the best way to fight Communism. He said that the importance of American leadership in what they are fighting for "is not enough to be against Communism." Dr. Edmunds said, "we must be for something."

"If we are fighting for anything," he was quoted as saying, "we are fighting for the freedom of the individual in order to make democracy work. And if this is so, we cannot afford to march one step farther on the road to totalitarianism. We must be for something, not just a step short of Communism. Our salvation lies in the dynamic faith of our own spiritual heritage."

The meeting was presided over by President Gethella Tilly Brown who pointed out the tributes conference and called attention to the Sanford club's 30th anniversary which will be observed at the Mayfair next Monday noon.

Twenty Thousand Red Shock Troops Mass For Attack On Former Korean Capital

United Nations Forces Arrived Before Seoul Today in the Path of a Gathering Red Army Unit on Seizing the Old South Korean Capital as a May Day Prize.

TOKYO, Apr. 30—(AP)—Allied artillery had an explosive claim of fire before Seoul today in the path of a gathering Red Army unit on seizing the old South Korean capital as a May Day prize.

United Nations forces arrived before the city was shattered city fired 45,700 rounds of artillery Sunday.

The booming echo of massed artillery implemented the announcement of Lt. General James A. Van Fleet, Allied ground commander, that Seoul would be defended.

Chinese Communists poured down from the north for a mass assault. Airmen spotted 3,365 Red vehicles moving along the Western front. Twenty thousand Communists were reported gathered as shock troops for the assault.

Only probing attacks were reported in the early hours Monday.

On Sunday Van Fleet announced his bold decision to defend Seoul. He plans a defense north of the city, not home-to-home street fighting.

General MacArthur and Lt. General Matthew B. Ridgway had made an attempt to hold the city against the Chinese offensive earlier in the year. They said it was of no military importance.

But Van Fleet said Seoul has prestige as Korea's historic capital. He described the Seoul area and the line of the Han River which flows south of the city as "vital and strategic."

U. S. forces, he said, "welcome the opportunity to destroy the Communist army north of the Han."

AP General Executive Frank H. King reported after Van Fleet's press conference that "United Nations forces will not be sacrificed unnecessarily" to hold Seoul.

One of Van Fleet's corps commanders said the final decision on whether his men hold the Han depends on what is shown at the front.

That comment came from Maj. General William M. Hoge of the (Continued on Page Two)
