Col. George A. Nugent of the army inspector general's office at Washington has been ordered to San Antonio to get a statement from Col. Billy Mitchell relative to his latest aviation charges. It is expected that court-martial proceedings will be based on Nugent's report.

ARRESTS CAUSES MARCOS LAND ROW TO BE RENEWED

Second "Invasion" Is Tried After Two Leaders of the Opposing Factions Are Arrested by Sheriff Maynard

MARCO, Fla., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Bitter feeling between settlers of Barron G. Collier and settlers of Marco Island over disputed land claims has reappeared on the surface with the arrest by officers of the two leaders of the settlers' faction and two of their followers on charges of being fugitives from justice and resisting an officer.

W. G. Williams and his brother, Harry Williams, leaders of the settlers' claims for land, alleged to be open for homestead on the island, were arrested Saturday. W. G. Williams was charged with resisting an officer and the other three were held without bail to serve sentence of six months each or pay fines of $50, imposed last June for alleged trespassing. They were fined $50 and were released on bond, giving them three months in which to pay the penalty. They were arrested on the island for alleged trespassing and for carrying a gun.

The three were arrested on the veranda of the Island Hotel by deputy Sheriff Love who told them they were fugitives from justice. The settlers demanded to see warrants but were told to "come along and see the sheriff." They were directed to the deputy's car, it was said, and given toward Caxambas where Sheriff W. R. Maynard maintains headquarters.

Resisting Arrest Charged

W. G. Williams returning to the hotel and hearing of the arrests followed. He overtook the sheriff's car, it was said, and asked to see the warrants, but was informed the officer had none. Williams asked the deputy to wait until the sheriff arrived before putting the settlers in jail at Everglade, and when Sheriff Maynard ordered Will to get out of the car, he was charged with interfering with an officer.

Two other settlers were dispatched to Fort Myers to confer with the attorney for the settlers' faction, and they declared "plans are being laid to fight the case to the Supreme Court if necessary."

After a conference with their attorney they declared the arrests were illegal because the trio of settlers who were held furnished bonds to pay fines within three months. The only recourse open to the county in the event of unpaid fines, they said, is civil action on the signer of the bonds.

The settlers, it is reported, are preparing to reopen their cases before Governor Martin and ask for the removal of Sheriff Maynard and his deputies from the county. They plan to put into affidavit form some of the charges they say can be made against the officers.

Frisco To Celebrate Return Of Aviators

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Plans are under way to celebrate when Commander John Rodgers and his four heroic companions set foot on the Mainland here Sept. 24. While honors present and past were being heaped upon them, Commander Rodgers and his crew in Honolulu were exhibiting modesty of true heroes. The cruise from Honolulu to San Francisco will be made on the U. S. S. Idaho.

NATION'S EYES CENTERED ON NEW YORK RACE

One of Most Sensational Primary Campaigns in History of Gotham Ends Monday Night Before Election Today

Over 1,500,000 Voters Qualified

Smith-Hylan-Waterman Fight Watched With Interest By People All Over Country

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The storm-tossed political waters of the metropolis became comparatively calm last night as one of the most sensational primary campaigns in the history of New York came to a close.

Today, nearly a million and a half voters will be eligible to go to polls and cast their ballots for democratic, republican and socialist majority candidates for the city election, Nov. 3. The polls open at 3 p. m., daylight saving time and close at 9 p. m.

Old timers racked their brains to recall a campaign, so far as the democrats are concerned to match the one just ended for bitterness, constant mudslinging, and the unprecedented indulgence in personalities. The real issues have nearly been submerged, leaving the voters in a maze of charges and counter charges.

Both dominant parties have red hot contests on their hands, but the democratic row has been far more spectacular. The Tammany Hall designee is State Senator James J. Walker, backed personally by Governor Alfred E. Smith, head of the state democracy. Opposed to him is Mayor John F. Hylan, stormy petrel of municipal politics backed by the democratic leaders in three of the city's five boroughs, and William Randolph Hearst, the publisher. The mayor has been in office two terms of four years each, with Tammany support, but a third nomination was denied him.

The regular republican designee is Frank D. Waterman, fountain pen manufacturer. He is opposed by William M. Bennett and John Lyons, a former secretary of state, who in past years has been a popular vote getter. Mr. Bennett, who claims Mr. Waterman was hand-picked by a group of millionaires once defeated the late Mayor John Purroy Mitchell in the primaries.

The socialist candidate, who is unopposed, is Rev. Norman Thomas, socialist candidate for governor last Autumn.

Underneath the democratic imbroglio has been raging another battle which many observers agree is a contest for control of the Democratic party in the Empire state between Gov. Smith and Mr. Hearst. The governor and the publisher have indulged in heated controversy in which the he was passed, and Hylan, who is referred to as the party's "soothsayer" professes to see that if Senator Walker is beaten, it will mean the setting of the governor's political sun. On the other hand, these soothsayers argue, if Hylan is beaten, it will place the governor in a more favorable light than ever as a national figure in the party.

Tammany Has Bad Dreams

New City Cemetery Is Formally Opened By Commissioners

The Evergreen Municipal Cemetery, under construction for some time, has been thrown open to the public, according to an announcement made this morning by City Manager W. B. Williams.

This project was started some time ago to provide additional burial facilities for the city, by the City Commissioners, who paid $5,000 for 10 acres of ground about three miles from town on General Avenue, it is stated. Since then half the tract has been cleared, and the plot laid out by the city engineer as an attractive cemetery, Mr. Williams states, saying that the location is particularly adapted to the use which he made of it.

The first division of the tract has been laid out in seven blocks, and provision is made for 285 lots, which average in size 20x16 feet. 24 and 30 foot drives have been provided, it is declared.

According to the statement of the city manager this morning the commission expects to dispose of these lots to local citizens at a price very slightly in excess of the cost to them for the development. It is intended, he states, to provide for Sanford additional cemeteries. Provision for the maintenance of the cemetery is made in the 1926 budget, it is learned, in which $2,370 has been allotted for this purpose.

It is the plan of the commission to keep this project on a co-operative basis, and to establish what is hoped will be one of the most attractive cemeteries in point of natural beauty, in this section of the state.

Woman Confederate Spy Dies a Pauper In Greenwich Village

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(AP)—A dare devil Confederate spy when a lovely girl in her teens, Miss Virginia B. Moon, 81, died here friendless and alone in her dark Greenwich Village apartment. Her death was brought to light by W. J. Baer, an old-time friend of her, who read the death notice, describing her as a veteran actress.

His investigation revealed that Miss Moon was found dead last Friday by Miss Martha Sawyers of Texas, stained glass designer who lived on the first floor. The body was cremated Sunday and friends will send the ashes to her home in Memphis, Tenn. Miss Sawyers said she knew the woman, who was known to half the Southland as "Miss Giner," an actress, who had no fear of death, smoked innumerable cigarettes and boasted of the 14 bonafide proposals she had spurned when a Southern bell and Confederate spy.

"She died as much a rebel as ever," said Oliver Jones, husband of Miss Moon's niece. He showed letters from Jefferson Davis commending Miss Moon for extraordinary heroism in behalf of Confederate soldiers.

MARTIN CHARGES PHYSICIAN WITH SOLICITING BRIBE

Dr. W. J. Buck of Jacksonville Is Ordered to Appear Before Chief Executive To Answer Preferred Charges

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Governor Martin Monday issued copies of a letter he has written Dr. W. J. Buck, of Jacksonville, chairman of the board of medical examiners, in which he charges the doctor with soliciting a bribe of $1,000 for issuing a license to a doctor to practice medicine.

The governor's letter was sent after receipt of a sworn affidavit signed by Dr. M. F. Carson, of Miami, which stated that on Aug. 21 he visited the office of Dr. Buck and that he was told there that if he paid $1,000 to practice medicine in this state, Dr. Buck would "control the state board of medical examiners and have them issue the undersigned a license to practice medicine in this state."

The affidavit, according to the copy sent the governor, was sworn to by Dr. Buck and sent to the period of Dr. Buck, notary public of Leon county.

The papers, with the affidavit attached, were forwarded here for the governor's inspection. They also included a number of telegrams purported to have been signed by Dr. Buck and sent to Dr. Carson, in which the former refers to a certain letter, and one of which specifies the payment of a sum of money.

Governor's Letter Follows

Governor Martin's letter follows: "I have an affidavit made as of this date by Dr. M. F. Carson, of Miami, Fla. The said affidavit states that you, as a member of the state board of Medical Examiners, offered to attempt to corrupt the State Board of Medical Examiners for the price of $1,000 in order to obtain a license to practice medicine in this state from Dr. M. F. Carson the affiant. The said affidavit is also corroborated by two letters to which your name is signed thereto, and on your stationery, and five telegrams from you to him, urging him to practice medicine in this state for this sum of money for this infamously purpose.

In keeping with my policy of granting a hearing before removing any one from office, you are hereby advised if you desire to be heard on the charges herein stated before the Board of Medical Examiners of this state and also soliciting a bribe of $1,000 for issuing a license to a doctor to practice medicine, I shall hear you not later than Thursday noon of this week."

G.O.P. SUPPORT WILL BE DENIED LA FOLLETTE

National Committee Decree Would Bar Aid of Organization to Son of Late Wisconsin Stormy Petrel

Primary Fight Hot for Senatorial Nomination

Foreign Relations Stand of Bruce Creates Dissension Among Democratic Ranks

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Support of the Republican of the national committee will be withheld from Robert M. La Follette, Jr., in the special senate election in Wisconsin if he is nominated in the Republican primary today.

This decree Monday by Chairman Butler of the national committee. Whether some other Republican candidate will be supported by the national organization, he said, is a matter for the Republican senatorial campaign.

Roy P. Wilcox of Eau Claire, who is opposing Mr. La Follette as a "Coolidge Republican" candidate, already has given notice that in the event of his defeat in the primary, he would run in the general election.

Chairman Butler said that while Mr. La Follette had availed himself of the regular Republican machinery in seeking the senatorial nomination to succeed his father, he could not be regarded as a Republican in view of his position as chief lieutenant to his father in the campaign the latter conducted last fall on a platform opposed to that adopted by the Republican convention at Cleveland.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Candidates for nomination on the Republican ticket for United States senator for the unexpired term left vacant by the death of Robert M. La Follette closed their campaigns Monday.

After an intensive tour of the campaign, Robert M. La Follette, Jr., Roy P. Wilcox and Francis E. McGovern pulled up for the balloting today which will decide who shall enter the lists in the final election September 29, as the Republican candidate. Daniel Woodward of Oakshoek, another Republican, has campaigned a "front porch" campaign.

On the democratic side there is considerable interest—the direct result of a rupture in the party in Wisconsin over the stand of Wm. G. Bruce, state convention choice, in opposing the drought relief bill.

Mr. Bruce did not favor the world court and a faction of his party, in a meeting last week, passed resolutions calling voters of the state to write in the name of Judge Charles B. Rogers, of Chicago, as the democratic candidate.

Although the campaign by Republican candidates has been heated, there are indications that enough warmth has been developed to bring out a heavy vote.

La Follette's campaign has been official backing of Communist representative state administration known as the right wing of the Republican party. Gov. J. J. Blaine, Heerman Ekern, attorney general and Senator Burton E. Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, have stamped their disapproval on the campaign.

Mr. Holder's statement was issued upon his return from Washington where, with the aid of Governor La Follette he began.

The campaign of Wilcox has the official backing of Communist representative state administration known as the right wing of the Republican party. Gov. J. J. Blaine, Heerman Ekern, attorney general and Senator Burton E. Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, have stamped their disapproval on the campaign.

He was the unanimous choice of the convention at which McGovern's name was placed in nomination. McGovern continued his campaign despite the nomination of Wilcox as a middle ground candidate, "Free from radical taint, or compromising alliances."

McGovern has announced he will not run at the final special election September 29, if defeated today. This does not hold true, however, for La Follette and Wilcox. Should they be defeated through the wording of the Wisconsin primary law they may become independent.

Jardine Dismisses Complaint Against Big Packing Merger

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The merger of the Armour and Morris packing companies was declared legal Monday by Secretary Jardine, who dismissed the complaint initiated in 1923 by the late Secretary Wallace.

Announcement of the opinion was preceded by a conference at the White House in which the secretary discussed the case in detail with the president.

The complaint charged that the merger violated the packers and stockyards act by creating a monopoly in restraint of trade to control prices and cause unfair competition. A mass of evidence was taken in hearings throughout the country and arguments were heard in Washington by the secretary of agriculture.

Mr. Jardine rules that the merger in itself did not constitute a violation of the act but asserted that if a violation should result from the consolidation of the two packing houses, he had "ample power and authority to take appropriate and effective action."

Neither the purpose nor the effect of the merger, he held, involved price fixing monopoly or unreasonable restraint of commerce.

On the contrary, he said, the evidence showed that the transaction was designed to reduce overhead expenses, and to increase the sales of finished products.

The evidence, he found disclosed that Armour and Company since the merger had controlled less than 25 per cent of the federal inspection. (Continued On Page 6.)

PEOPLE OF DIXIE AGAIN PRAY FOR DROUGHT RELIEF

Scattering Showers During Week End Gave Temporary Relief; Proclamations Are Issued for Prayer Meetings

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Encouraged by light showers, which have fallen like balms upon the parched fields of Southern states, the people of Dixie today renewed their prayers for more rain. While scattering moisture from the skies Sunday night and early yesterday gave temporary relief to suffering humanity, withering crops, much more rain is needed. Reports yesterday from Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, Kentucky, and Louisiana indicated that temperatures had dropped slightly as a result of the showers, but continuing drought will not be relieved, say farmers, until there is a general rain fall. Despite a fair weather forecast by the United States Weather Bureau at Washington people of the drought stricken sections of Georgia were hopeful tonight that Justice Plavins would upset all indications and visit the country in which he has for so long been a stranger.

Praying for rain was the order of the day in churches of the South Sunday. In response to gubernatorial proclamations, many pastors led their flocks in supplications for rain from the drought. Showers in the afternoon strengthened the belief that continued prayer would bring about the result so ardently hoped for.

John N. Holder, chairman of the Georgia State Highway Commission has issued an appeal to county authorities in the drought area of Georgia to co-operate with state and federal governments in providing employment for needy farmers during the fall and winter.

Mr. Holder's statement was issued upon his return from Washington where, with the aid of Governor La Follette he began.

Patrolman Resigns As Aftermath Of Recent Liquor Raid

Walker Turns In His Shield When Case Against Local Bootlegger Is Squelched

Nabbed Man And Booze Saturday

Cop Says He Was Told Not To Make Statement About Arrest

T. C. Smith, steward of the Sanford Elks Club was arrested Saturday evening, by patrolman David E. Walker, while in the act of unloading liquor at the rear of the Elks Club building on Oak Avenue, according to information received this morning. Smith was taken at once to police station where, it is alleged, the charge preferred against him was the illegal possession of spirituous, vinous and malt liquors. Upon posting $200 security for his appearance at police court Monday morning, Smith was released, it is said. In failing to appear at court yesterday Smith forfeited his bond, and the case was entered in the police docket, bracketed with the usual week-end run of police news in the public record.

When asked for details concerning the affair yesterday, local police would give no definite information other than that a quantity of alleged beer was seized in a raid Saturday night, and no information could be ascertained as to the locality of the raid from them. Later investigation disclosed details then lacking.

To Resign From Force

Night Patrolman Walker, who made the arrest, in a signed statement this morning, gave The Sanford Herald a detailed story of the occurrence, stating that he was doing so against explicit orders to the contrary from his superiors, and that he will turn his badge and cap in at his regular reporting hour this evening.

In his detailed account of the arrest, Officer Walker declared that acting upon information received, he hid in the alley-way in the rear of the Elks Club about 9:30 o'clock Saturday night, when Smith drove up in a Dodge Sedan, was met by a negro attendant, and taking packages out of the car they started up the rear stairway. Investigation of the contents of the car while they were in the building disclosed to Walker the nature of the packages, he stated, and when the men returned from the club rooms, he arrested Smith. The negro attendant was released.

Threats of political interference proved unavailing to Smith and he was summarily taken to the police station, where charges were lodged against him.

Told to Keep Silent

The officer was told to resume his beat, he declared and told to make no statement pending further investigation. He stated that search at the police station revealed at least 12 quarts of rye whiskey and six cases of alleged beer.

Because of alleged interference in the performance of his sworn duty, and through a feeling that he cannot fulfill the duties of his office under present conditions, Officer Walker declared he will resign from the force today.

The Walker has been a resident of Sanford for some time, and has been a member of the police department for four months, all of which time has been served at night he stated. Previous to his present position, he is said to have won deputy sheriff of Putnam county. Officer Walker stated that he will resume his trade, carpentry, at once.

Found Liquor in Car

Walker's statement follows in part: "I had missed Smith on several earlier occasions, but was informed of his movements Saturday night. I had hidden myself in the alley behind the Elks Clubhouse, when he drove up shortly after 9 o'clock in a Dodge Sedan. A negro, whom I first thought to be a woman, met him and they removed bundles from the car and started up the stairs together. While they were gone I got in the car and found that the packages contained liquor, as I suspected." (Continued On Page 6.)

Relentless War Upon Bootleggers Planned

TAMPA, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Relentless warfare on bootleggers and rum runners off Florida will begin as soon as new prohibition administrator of state Col. Benjamin T. Simmons can organize his staff, he announced today. With the long shore line of ocean and gulf and close proximity to foreign liquor supplies, Col. Simmons said the state this winter would likely be the fighting ground, with liquor in high demand by thousands of winter visitors.

NEW FIRE TRUCK IS PURCHASED BY CITY COMMISSION

Twelve Thousand Dollar Fire Fighting Machine Will Be Received Soon; Real Estate License Tax to Be Boosted

Acquisition by the city of a new triple combination pumper, chemical and hose car, to augment and to replace antiquated apparatus now in service, was assured yesterday afternoon, when the City Commission, during its regular session, signed and delivered contract for the truck to a representative of the American LaFrance Fire Engine Co. Inc., of Elmira, N. Y., from whom the engine will be purchased.

The new truck, known as a standard type, triple combination pumping, chemical and hose car, is identical with the pumper now in service at the fire station. Euniting at full speed the pumper is capable of throwing a hose stream at the rate of 750 gallons a minute, according to the specifications submitted to the commission. This will bring the capacity of the fire department to a total of 1,500 gallons per minute, it is shown.

The purchase price, as contracted at $12,750, it is announced. Provision is made for the disposition of one of the trucks now in service, which will be accepted by the LaFrance Company as part payment, in trade, it is announced. According to the terms of the contract, delivery will be made within 90 working days after signature of the contract. It is stated this morning that the new truck will likely be placed in service about the first of the year.

The equipment selected was recommended to the Commission by Fire Chief M. N. Cleveland, who stated a long time ago that the machine with the exception of a few minor changes, is the same as the LaFrance pumper now in service.

To Boost Realty Licenses

J. D. Chasens, president of the Sanford Realty Board appeared before the commissioners with a proposal to increase the yearly license fee imposed upon real estate brokers and agents to $100, and that the cost of license of real estate salesmen be advanced to $25 a year. The commissioners approved the proposal, and instructed George A. DeCottes, city attorney, to draw up an ordinance immediately to cover this matter.

Paving Equipment Ordered

The commission authorized City Manager W. B. Williams to purchase paving, and other equipment for use of the city, as needed. Ten ordinances authorizing sidewalk paving were passed at the session it is announced.

The commission yesterday approved a bill rendered by J. E. Craig, consulting engineer, for services connected with the extension of the local water service, and instructed George A. DeCottes to draw up an ordinance limiting parking on First Street, between Oak and Park Avenues.

The commissioners met at 2:30 o'clock in City Hall, with Mayor Forrest Lake, as the presiding officer. C. J. Marshall and S. O. Chase present. City Manager W. B. Williams, City Clerk, L. R. Phillips, M. N. Cleveland and Roy G. Williams, heads of the fire and police departments were also in attendance.

Income Tax Publicity

The publication of income tax returns, as ordained by Congress, has come to be viewed in the same light as many of the acts of Congress which have preceded it. It is a failure, complete and abysmal, in the sense of its initial purpose; an example of the legislature that has called forth the ridicule of this and other nations.

Originally planned to expose the profiteering tax-dodger, who would readily commit perjury rather than surrender to the Government its share of his yearly income, its purpose has been defeated by the modified form to which it was reduced before passage. The bill providing for the publication of yearly tax statements met heavy opposition in the house, which succeeded in limiting the publicity feature to the mere name, residence and amount of tax paid by the individual named. The loophole was a gateway, and the wealthy immediately transferred their investments to non-taxable securities, at a slight loss, generally, of interest accruing. Thus the measure became another of the seemingly useless wastes of verbosity that have long decorated the shelves in the Congressional Library.

But, it seems that the publication of the income tax returns has revealed to the public eye a condition more deplorable than its own uselessness, and at greater interest to the well known Common People, since the effects are felt by none other than themselves.

Analysis of the lists made public by the government show that the greater bulk of the revenue derived from this source comes, not from the so called wealthier class, as was the basic intention of the levy, but from the moderately salaried, financially speaking, middle class.

The Atlanta Georgian points out that the federal income tax, as now interpreted and enforced, is not an income tax, but a capital tax on persons whose incomes are an assured sum, namely, salary and wage earners. Citing an instance, the Georgian calls attention to a movie actor of prominence who paid an income tax last year much larger than that of an internationally known oil operator.

The Georgian further states:

"It is obvious, however, that earned incomes are taxed too high. A salary is capital as well as income. Salary is not interest on money, or income from property, like ordinary income that goes on as long as the property exists. It is an earning limited to a period—some times a short period, as in the case of a singer or a motion picture star."

Hence the publication of federal income tax lists is seen as a revealing medium, and it may be that, though its superfluity is unquestioned, and its present use is only to provide the meddlesome with a means of satisfying his curiosity as to his neighbor's business, in the end it will have served a purpose far more beneficial to the nation. An early repeal of the measure is almost certain. Its effective span has been brief, but that brevity has been long enough to furnish the public with an insight to the injustice of the federal income tax, as it now seems to be applied.

Suspicious of "Ye"

Frank Parker Stockbridge has just completed a tour of Florida as the guest of the Florida Development Board. His trip lasted about a month, the noted writer visited many sections, and, according to many interviews that were published in the newspapers, he was greatly impressed with the growth and development of the state.

However, Mr. Stockbridge has a bit of criticism which The Herald believes to be well founded. After passing through Tavares and Maitland, Mr. Stockbridge is reported as having said, "If they get Florida all 'yeed' up I'm off it for life."

His remark was prompted when he saw an artistic sign on the highway notifying motorists that they were entering "Ye Towne of Tavares." He had just passed through "Ye Towne of Maitland" and had been informed of it by a half dozen signs to that effect painted in gold letters on a black background.

Mr. Stockbridge went on to say, according to the St. Augustine Record:

"The 'ye' stuff not only is out of date but it is really primitive," said Mr. Stockbridge. "They've 'yeed' parts of New England and Long Island to death already and now people with old fashioned ideas and possessing what they believe to be artistic temperament, are trying to do the same thing to Florida."

"Everything on Cape Cod from Buzzard's Bay to Provincetown is 'yeed' and 'shopped' to the limit. At Easthampton, Long Island, they have actually plastered a sign on the postoffice informing the world that it is 'Ye United States Postoffice.' Small business establishments or shops, are 'shoppes.' I have seen over the door of an automobile accessory place at Harwichport, on Cape Cod, a sign stating that it was 'Ye Tyre Shoppe.'"

"In a plain everyday shop one purchases merchandise at reasonable prices. In a 'shoppe' the price is sky high. That extra 'pe' on a sign signifies 'prices excessive.'"

"I am not a Floridian, yet, and my opinion of things Floridian may not carry much weight, but I do hope the people of this state will not 'ye' it to death or 'shoppe' one out of every dollar he possesses. Frankly, I'm suspicious of 'ye' towns and 'shoppes.'"

Laughter

Here's to laughter, the sunshine of the soul, the happiness of the heart, the heaven of youth, the privilege of purity, the echo of innocence, the treasure of the humble, the wealth of the poor, the head of the cup of pleasure, it dispels depression, banishes blues, and mangles the melancholy; for it's the foe of woe and the destroyer of depression, the enemy of grief; it is what kings envy in the poor, the guilty envy in the innocent; it's the shen on the silver of smiles, the ripple on the water's delight, the glint of the gold of gladness; without it humor would be dumb, wit would wither, dimples would disappear and smiles would shrivel, for it's the glow of the clean conscience, the voice of a pure soul, the birth-cry of mirth, the swansong of sadness—laughter! —Fort Meade Leader.

AS A MORTAL, thou must nourish each of two forebodings—that tomorrow's sunlight will be the last thou shalt see; and that for thirty years thou wilt live out thy life in ample wealth.—Baechylides.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. CORBI

The town drunkard of a small Scotch community went on an especially vehement tear. The village authorities locked him up until he had entirely recovered. On the second day of his captivity, as he sat in his cell, thirty beyond words, the minister who was of a full habit of life, came to give him consolation and good advice. They say down side by side and the dominie read the parable of the Prodigal Son. The prisoner seemed to hang on the words. He nudged his lips and plover, bending forward until his face was almost in the minister's face and listened. "Please read it over once more," he said when the dominie had finished the chapter and started to close the Good Book. Touched by this further sign of penitence, the minister read it again. "Tell me, poor man," he said when he was done, "what was it held you so close the while I was reading—was it the lesson of the Scripture or was it the words?" "Nay, nay," said the tippler—"was your grand breath!"

As Brisbane Sees It

Referred to Coolidge. The Able, Plucky Welsh. Trouble Enough, Thanks. Obeying the Prophet.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1925)

WASHINGTON announces that army authorities "will take full charge and responsibility" in the Mitchell case, and "won't shift that case to the President."

THIS ANNOUNCEMENT means exactly nothing. The public has ALREADY referred the Mitchell case to the President, for the reason that it has confidence in the President, and not in the War Department.

The President is head of the army and navy, and the secretaries are his subordinates, removable at his pleasure. The responsibility, as the people well know, is President Coolidge's responsibility, and he will not ask subordinates to relieve him of it.

THE PEOPLE will thank Colonel Mitchell for his courage, whatever the War Department may say or do.

His "lack of discipline" is no worse than that of Lord Nelson, who looked through the spyglass with his blind eye at the order to cease firing, AND THEN WENT ON FIGHTING.

It is thanks to Colonel Mitchell that incompetence at the top is now dragged before the bar of public opinion. The people will not forget his courage.

INDIGNANT WELSH men and women in London mobbed the author of a play, "Taffy," belittling and ridiculing the Welsh race. They might well have allowed the play to be produced without interference. The record of the Welsh race is a sufficient answer to foolish lampooning.

IN PROPORTION to their numbers the Welsh have probably produced more men great in intellect than any other nationality of modern times.

And as for courage, no race excels it. Inferior in numbers, the Welsh fought the English for centuries, with no sea to protect them from England's invasion. And when their young men were killed off they waited to raise a new crop; then started fighting again.

GERMAN AUTHORITIES arrest two American accused of introducing the Ku Klux Klan into German territory, and announce that any other gentlemen of the Klan, active in Germany, will also be arrested.

WHAT, WITH reparations, France and her flying machines on one side, Russia and her Bolshevik propaganda on the other, and her internal troubles, Kaiserism, Communism, etc., the Germans feel they do not need any fresh troubles borrowed from America.

ARABS IN PALESTINE, outnumbering Jews ten to one, are determined to drive Zionism out of Palestine. Many Arabs, led by their chief men, believe that Zionism has come upon them because they disobeyed the Prophet who forbade smoking.

They will now give up tobacco, establish a "Smoke Bank," deposit in it money saved from the smoke. And with that money they expect to "save Palestine from the Jews."

MEN HAVE accomplished a good deal by giving up tobacco. The late George M. Pullman did this writer that he gave up smoking five cent cigars to help accumulate money needed to build his first sleeping car. As a result he gives blessed sleep to millions.

THE ARABS will have to give up a good deal of tobacco to drive the Jews from Palestine. The young Jews there are well armed, well drilled and don't propose to be driven out. And in addition there is the British army, pledged to uphold the Balfour policy.

THOMAS HARDY, who wrote "Tess" many years ago, is still working, and now at eighty-five issues a new volume of poems, "Human Shows, Far Fantasies, Songs and Trifles."

Hardy holds the age record among English poets. Tennyson was eighty-three, when his last volume was published, Browning, seventy-seven; Shakespeare, as everybody knows retired at an age when his best work should have been done.

The Latins surpass Anglo-Saxons in the intellectual strength of old age, a fact that may puzzle Nordic enthusiasts. Titian was painting admirably at ninety, when the plague killed him. Michael Angelo, long past eighty, produced such work in art as no man except Shakespeare has ever equaled.

The Latins are temperate eaters, drinking light wine instead of beer or spirits, and therefore their brains remain young.

Mrs. Eva Herndon Is Bride of Ben Small In Quiet Wedding

A wedding that came as a surprise to the many friends of both parties, was that of Saturday evening when Mrs. Eva Herndon became the bride of Ben C. Small, of Miami. The ceremony was performed in Orlando, with Rev. Blanton J. Belk, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by only a few of the most intimate friends of the couple.

Mrs. Small had made Sanford her home until two years ago, when she moved to New York City, later going to Miami to reside. She is a sister of Mrs. Frank Miller of this city and has many friends here.

The groom is a former Pennsylvania resident, but at present is associated with a group of prominent business men in one of the largest developments in South Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Small will make their home in Miami, where they have recently purchased a handsome new home.

Their many friends here and elsewhere join in wishing them every future happiness.

Little Miss Margaret Cogburn Given Party In Honor of Birthday

Mrs. J. B. Cogburn entertained Saturday afternoon at her home, on Oak Avenue, with a party, honoring her daughter, Majorie, who celebrated her fifth birthday.

After enjoying a number of games on the spacious lawn, the little guests were invited into the dining room to cut the beautiful birthday cake that held five lighted candles. The cutting of the cake caused much amusement.

The hostess served ice cream and cake and each guest was presented with little baskets of candies and caps with doll faces on them.

The guests of honor was the recipient of many gifts. About twenty little boys and girls enjoyed this lovely party.

Fortune For Maker Of Paris-New York Flight

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(AP)—While there are several trophies in America offered for outstanding events in aircraft performance, officials of the National Association here know of only one cash prize now to competition. This is the $25,000 prize, offered by Raymond Orteig of New York, and open to aviators crossing the Atlantic between Paris and the shores of France and New York on a non-stop flight, in either direction.

The money is now on deposit in an American bank and has been available since 1919. Recently two groups of aviators, one in France and one in the United States, have started plans to capture it. Mr. Orteig formally extended the time for the prize award until June 1, 1930.

Should a non-stop trans-Atlantic flight begin in New York, officials of the National Aeronautic Association would have charge of the official inspection. The Aero Club of France would handle the inspection at Paris.

Carl F. Schory, official timer of the National Aeronautic Association, explains that in non-stop flights, such as the Orteig prize contemplates, the gasoline tanks of the aircraft are sealed to prevent refueling. Officials are also able to keep tabs on the movements of the non-stop aircraft through use of a sealed barograph. This instrument which looks like a small box, contains a recording pen which works in harmony with the pressure of the barometer and registers on a revolving cylinder the height at which a plane flies and the time it remains in the air.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES F. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—"For looking upside. And I found I couldn't let go. 'Physically, my fingers wouldn't unhook.' 'Bingo! The instructor hit me on the knuckles with a little mallet.' 'It broke my hold. 'Whoosh! I shot down, maybe a hundred feet. Up went my vitals into my throat, just as your insides do when an elevation sinks from under you too fast—only a thousand times worse. I gave the ring a yank.

"When the United States entered the war I was cast for an artillery observer. After a little preliminary training they strapped a parachute on my back, looking and feeling as little like anything that would let me down easy as any other little package from a dry goods store.

"They showed me how to pull the ring that opened it, and then they bundled me into the basket with the instructor. Up shot the balloon. 'I was scared' to begin with.

"The balloon's motion upset my stomach, too. I felt deathly sick. 'About a mile high, it seemed to me. 'Over you go,' said the instructor.

"Carefully I lowered myself, gripping the basket edge with my fingers. I didn't dare to look down. 'Leggo,' shouted the instructor,

Bull Emerges Victor In Conflict With Airplane

SOIGNIES, Belgium, Sept. 15.—(AP)—An infuriated bull vented its ire upon a disabled airplane recently and when the animal concluded that its job had been done the machine was beyond repair. The airplane carrying eight passengers from Paris to Brussels was forced down by a defective motor and landed in a pasture 15 miles from Brussels.

The bull, aroused by the chugging of the motor, made straight for it, while the pilot and passengers jumped and made their escape in a mad rush across the field. The animal charged the machine again and again and kept at his work of destruction until the passengers got out of the danger zone.

Liverpool Would Bar American Cured Pork

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Trade in bacon and ham between this town and North America is said to be in grave danger from the regulations issued by the ministry of health prohibiting the use of borax preservative in food, says the Daily Post.

Members of the Liverpool Produce Exchange declare that without the use of borax, all the supplies of bacon and ham from America, and the greater part of Canadian supplies which together form 48 percent of the total consumption of Great Britain, will be stopped. The only alternative to borax is the hard salt cure, which is not popular with the British people.

SAINTS DEFEATED IN SERIES FINAL; TAMPA WINS FLAG

State Loop Bunting Goes To Smokers When Foley Gives Up But Seven Scattered Hits, Defeating Saints 3-1

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Tampa won the 1925 Florida State League pennant by defeating St. Petersburg, 3 to 1, in the decisive contest of a seven game series concluded here Monday. Each team had won three and lost three games previously.

Hewitt held the Smokers to six hits but three of these, including a pair of triples, were grouped in the seventh when Tampa counted twice. Foley, Tampa ace, allowed seven hits but no two of these came in the same inning. The Saints' only run was counted in the seventh when Cox hit his second triple of the day and came home on Weik's error. Tampa added another in the ninth on a single by Hicks, a hit batsman, an infield out and Lopez' sacrifice fly.

Jones Is In Form; Holds The Athletics To Two Lone Hits

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Sam Jones was in rare form yesterday and held the Athletics to two hits while New York won the final game of the series, 3 to 1. Red Holt, late of the Jersey City International League team, made the only honest blow off Jones, a single in the seventh. Jones' failure to cover first in the sixth allowed Cochrane to receive credit for a safe hit.

As the result of the victory, the Yanks split even in the six-game series with the Mackmen.

PIRATES DEFEAT BROOKLYN AFTER LOSING 4 GAMES

Vic Aldridge Holds Dodgers And Wins Seventh Straight; Bucs Increase Lead Over N. Y. to Six and Half Games

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Pittsburgh topped Brooklyn yesterday, 9 to 4 in the opener of a series snapping a losing streak of four games which tagged the Pirates' disastrous western trip. The victory extended the Corsairs lead over the New York Giants to six and one half games.

Control was taken out of the box in the second inning and was succeeded by Ehrhardt, whose wildness permitted the Pirates to sew up the game in the fifth with a two run advantage. Five hits in the eighth gave Pittsburgh three more runs. Aldridge turned in his seventh consecutive victory.

Baseball Analysis

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—(AP)—After a lapse of aggression which had reached four successive games, the Pittsburgh Pirates Monday resumed the stride which permitted them to outdistance the New York Giants in the chase for the National League pennant by subduing Brooklyn, 9 to 4.
The return to winning habits permitted the Pirates to increase to 6 1-2 games the lead which the Smiths had whittled down to six games during the recent Pittsburgh reverse.
The standing:
Pittsburgh: 85 54 .612
New York: 78 60 .565
The world's champion Senators, though idle profited to the extent from the dazzling two hit pitching performance turned in by "Sad Sam" Jones against the Athletics. The Yankees got six hits and won 3 to 1. The Senators hold an eight game lead.
The standing:
Washington: 87 48 .644
Philadelphia: 79 56 .585
