

U. S. Navy Band To Give Concert At Homecoming

Holland, Smathers To Participate On Florida U. Program

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 4. (Special)—Pre-homecoming feature of the University of Florida's thirty-ninth annual Homecoming will be a concert Oct. 17, by the famed United States Navy Band, officials of the Lyceum Council, sponsors for the concert have announced.

Musical highlight of the Homecoming week-end, the concert is expected to draw a capacity crowd of students and old grads to the Florida Field stadium. This season marks the first fall tour of the Navy Band since 1941 and more than fifty musicians and seven soloists will make the trip from Washington for the University appearance. Lieutenant Charles Brender will conduct.

The Blue Key sponsored Homecoming program will get under way Oct. 18 at 3:00 P. M. when Senator Spessard L. Holland, a Florida alumnus, will dedicate the Murphree Memorial erected to the honor of Dr. Albert A. Murphree, for 17 years president of the University of Florida.

The program will also include an organ recital by Claude L. Murphy, University organist, at 4:00 P. M. and two conducted tours of the campus and university facilities.

Annual Blue Key banquet with Congressman-elect George Smathers as guest speaker is slated for 7:30 P. M. Oct. 18 in the gymnasium, with the annual Gator Growl following at 8:15 P. M. in Florida Field Stadium.

Saturday's program, highlighted by the Miami-Florida football game, includes numerous intercollegiate parties, a meeting of the University of Florida Alumni Association, the legislators' barbecue and the Homecoming pep club dance.

Exhibits will be set up for the Homecoming week-end by the Agricultural Experiment Station in Engineering and Industrial Experiment Station, the University Library and the School of Architecture and Allied Arts.

Eddie Dyer Had Hard Assignment As Card Manager

Big Trade Deals And Losses To Mexican Hurt Cards Hopes

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4. (AP)—A long time member of the St. Louis Cardinals, Eddie Dyer, has had a hard assignment as card manager for the team this season.

His was a tough assignment. The Cardinals were considered a shoo-in for the pennant.

Owner Sam Breadon put too much faith in his club's press clippings and traded away or sold Johnny Hopp, Ray Sanders, Walter Cooner and Emil Verban, among others.

To add to Dyer's worries, Terry Moore—devoted left trouble, Charley, Red, Barr, U. was unable to regain his winning form of last year, Johnny Beasley disappointed and Dick Slater failed to live up to expectations as a first baseman.

The biggest blow of all, however, was the loss of Max Lanier, Freddie Martin and Lou Klein to the Mexican League.

Despite these losses, the Cards still were rated the team to beat. And there will be no manager-of-the-year award for Dyer, because the Cards were expected to win the National League pennant.

Eligibility Fuss In SEC Is Still Going On Today

Ermal Allen Is In The Middle Of The Football Muddle

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 4. (AP)—The hottest eligibility fuss in southeastern conference football is still going on today and the cause of it all — Ermal Allen of Kentucky University — is sitting on the sidelines.

It appears likely that Allen will sit out Kentucky's games until the situation is cleared up by conference officials. Officials of the school have entered a formal protest against the ineligibility ruling delivered by the conference executive committee, but the head coach of the Wildcats, Paul (Bear) Bryant, said he had instructions to leave Allen on the sidelines until further notice.

Meanwhile, the rest of the coaches in the southeastern loop are putting their charges through final tuneup practices today. The University of Florida Gators and the Tulane Greenies are putting their all into practice as they get ready to face each other Saturday. The Gators will stop over at Pensacola tomorrow for a short practice session before coming on to New Orleans.

The Georgia Bulldogs are already on their way to Philadelphia. They expect to arrive there in time for a practice session under the lights tonight. The Bulldogs play Temple tomorrow night.

Southeastern Grid Teams Primed For Weekend Games

Tulane And Florida Have Their Tilt Well Doped Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The football weekend in the Southeastern Conference is starting a little early for one of the conference powers, the Georgia Bulldogs. Coach Wally Butts' team left Athens last night for an invasion of the east and a Friday night encounter with Temple.

Injury lists through most of the conference appear to be dividing this evening, as the squads get ready for the weekend tilt. For the Bulldogs, however, a coach who has been added to the sick roster, Line Coach J. B. "Ears" Whitworth has been placed under observation for an undisclosed malady at Emory hospital in Atlanta, and he probably will not make the trip to Philadelphia.

The Tulane Green Wave and the Florida Gators seem to have their game pretty well doped out. Coach Henry Frka of Tulane is putting the emphasis on passing, and Coach Ray Wolf of Florida's spring team is on a pass-doping spree. The Gators did pretty well.

At Alabama, Coach Frank Thomas comes up with a frank comment on the Crimson Tide's defense against the South Carolina 17 formation. Thomas labeled the effort "pretty sorry" as receivers gained consistently against the regulars.

There's good news at Auburn, where the Tigers are preparing to entertain Furman. Jack Cornelius, injured right tackle, has come around into playing condition. In Atlanta, the injured list at Georgia Tech looks a little better with ace quarterback Frank Broyles rapidly rounding into shape.

The current dispute in the conference, President John J. Tigert says he has sent a telegram informing the University of Kentucky that star back Ermal Allen has been declared ineligible. Some reports from Kentucky included the wildcats were planning to use Allen on the basis of an earlier decision, which said Allen could play.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

YOU CAN DO WHAT YOU WANT YOU CAN DO. FAITH IS AN AMAZING STRENGTHENER. BELIEVE THAT GOD WILL NOT FAIL. BUT GOD WILL NOT HELP IN EVIL PLANS: I will go in the strength of the Lord—Psalm 71:16.

Calf Swallows Waller; Value up Suddenly—headline. What did the OPA say about this?

Not many people realize the seriousness of National Safety statistics, until they have met with an automobile accident.

There may not be any meat in the markets these days, but the public is certainly being fed plenty of bull.

President Truman says there is not going to be any meat shortage... that is, unless the shortage continues.

Russia and Turkey have fought 12 years for possession of the Dardanelles in the last 25 years. It does not seem likely that Turkey will get them up now without a struggle.

A lot of so-called liberals in this country have been very much concerned of late, since the recent Wisconsin election, about a federal job for Senator LaFollette. Why not let him work for a living?

Of course we are not superstitious enough to believe that lightning could strike three times in the same place but if we were flying from New York to England we would stay clear of Newfoundland.

Newspapermen are begging the OPA to take the price ceilings off newspapers so that they can pay more for their paper. Worse than high prices for newspaper is trying to print a newspaper without newsprint.

The Tampa Chamber of Commerce reports that the tourist rush to Florida is on a month earlier this year... possibly on account of the severe cold weather throughout the north.

Congressman Pat Cannon of Miami does not agree with Senator Pepper on foreign policy. In fact, he told a Miami Herald correspondent the other day that he believed that both Pepper and Henry Wallace have done irreparable damage to the cause of world peace by their recent speeches.

He also predicts a Republican victory in 1948 if Pepper and Wallace continue to make speeches for the Democratic party.

The Tampa Tribune tells the whole story in an interesting front page cartoon. The Russian Bear is saying out of one side of his mouth, "I do not believe in a new war. It is only military and political adventures who are talking war today" while out of the other side of his mouth he is saying, "Turkey must cut the Soviet in for an equal share in control and defense of the Dardanelles, or else" and the cartoon is captioned "Double Talk."

Now that meat is practically impossible to obtain in the market, it is interesting to note an observation of Dr. Esther Plimpton, a U. S. Department of Agriculture nutrition expert, who says that eating meat is only a habit anyway. Coal miners don't need meat to mine coal, she insists. "What they mean is they like meat, they prefer meat, they have the most eating habits. Well, may be so, but it is a habit that is hard to break."

Another full story on the atomic bomb comes from a former agent of the 24th Criminal Investigation Detachment operating in Korea, who says the Japs had developed and tested an atomic bomb just three days before they surrendered.

The scientists who made this bomb, he says, are now prisoners of war of the Americans. The idea of course is to convince the American public that Russia now has the atomic bomb secret and may start dropping them on us at any moment if we don't get out of Europe and China. But what seems so funny to us is that the Japs would have surrendered so readily just three days after they perfected their atomic bomb.

United States Of Europe

It was an eloquent appeal that Winston Churchill made to the nations in his address at the University of Zurich, Switzerland, on "The Tragedy of Europe," and words reminding by Americans at a time when our own fortunes seem to be at so high a level. He said:

"This noble continent, comprising on the whole the fairest and most cultivated regions of the earth, enjoying a temperate and equable climate, is the home of all the great parent races of the Western World. It is the foundation of Christian faith and Christian ethics. It is the origin of most of the culture, art, philosophy and science of both ancient and modern times. If Europe were once united in the sharing of its common inheritance, there would be no limit to the happiness, the prosperity and the glory which its 300 or 400 million people would enjoy. Yet it is from Europe that has sprung the series of frightful and nationalistic morals originated by the Teutonic nations in their rise to power, which we have seen in this twentieth century, and which have for a long time wrecked the peace and marred the prospects of all mankind."

"And what is the plight to which Europe has been reduced? Some of the smaller states have indeed made a good recovery. But over wide areas a vast, quivering mass of tortured, hungry, care-worn and bewildered human beings gaze on the ruins of their cities and scan the dark horizon for the approach of some new peril, tyranny or terror. Among the victors themselves there is a babble of voices, and among the vanquished a sullen silence of despair."

"This is all that the ancient nations and Germanic races have got by tearing each other to pieces and spreading havoc. But for the fact that our own great republic, says Churchill, has finally seen how dangerously its own fate is involved, and has stretched out hands of aid and guidance, the Dark Ages would have returned. Churchill's remedy is to "recreate the European family, or as much of it as we can, and to provide it with a structure under which it can dwell in peace, safety and freedom." He would create a "United States of Europe" with the help of both America and Russia.

Learning To Live

An experiment in education, Romford School, aiming "to equip boys for actual existence," has opened on a wooded campus in Washington, Conn. Here 73 boys, including some foreign-born, will follow conventional studies, but also will associate informally at meals, walks, fireside chats with international leaders in business, science, education and politics.

These "visiting teachers" include Connecticut's governor R. E. Baldwin, Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., Rector of the University of Virginia, Joseph W. Frazer, president of the Kaiser-Frazer Corp., Dr. Vannevar Bush, director of the Office of Scientific Research, members of the U. N., publishers and authors.

The aim of all schools is preparation for living. Many times they fall short. Whatever the orthodox educator thinks of the Romford plan as a whole, there often is much to be learned in such educational departures to vitalize traditional courses of study and to help close the gap between learning and living.

WASHINGTON Whirl

When is an Excellency? And, if So, What Kind? Senator Warren Austin Puzzles Protocol Boys

By AUSTINE CASSINI Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Bob Shirley, Texas lawyer and now much-traveled clerk of the Senate foreign relations committee, recently was consuming his weight in aspirin. He had what's known as an Ambassadorial Headache.

Not that Shirley's going to be made an Excellency... It's just that he has had to decide what kind of an Excellency to make out of Vermont Senator Warren Austin, future UN delegate.

You might think, as Shirley did at first, that it's a snap—just make the man an ambassador and hand him a top hat and spats. But after voluminous research in such weighty treatises as Corwin on the "Office and Power of the American President," the "World Almanac," "The Johns Hopkins Study on American Foreign Relations Customs," et cetera, et cetera, Bob Shirley discovered there are at least half a dozen kinds of ambassadors.

The ordinary common garden-party variety, for example, is usually an envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary. Austin can't be that because he isn't under the state department, but directly under the White House.

Actually, according to the Constitution, public ministers should be nominated by the president and approved by the Senate.

But certain presidents, notably George Washington and President Wilson, started a practice of sending their personal pals on "special" missions, thereby getting around the usual procedure.

Washington appointed Gouverneur Morris to negotiate the peace with the British without consulting anyone.

Wilson had Col. E. M. House, who amused himself by sending letters in code of his own invention to the president, who was usually too busy to decode them and throw them away unread.

The more recent forms of special envoy with the rank of ambassador include our envoy to the Vatican, Myron Taylor. Then there's Edwin Pauley, roving representative with ambassadorial rank.

However, the White House felt that Austin should be special adviser to the president, with the personal title of ambassador.

If Shirley has lost his headache, protocol people at the UN have another one.

"They may refer to Austin as 'Mr. Ambassador,'" "Mr. Representative," "Mr. Adviser," "Mr. Envoy," "Mr. Benignator," "The Gentleman from Vermont,"... Or just plain, "Hey, you there, Austin!"

THE KAISER'S (German, not Kaiser-Frazer) great-granddaughter, Countess Lingen, will soon complete the proper authorities, asking why so much fuss has been made over the stolen Heise jewels when there were so many other cases of fabulous heirlooms lifted in Europe from other families "just as Protetiv royal as those Heises."

The countess, who is the great-great-granddaughter of Queen Victoria, told a young Canadian lieutenant who bragged of his English ancestry, "But, my dear boy, I have more English blood in me than you have."

Winding Up Mexican Claims

By HOWARD DOBSON

WASHINGTON—If the persistent hoarseness of some hard-riding Texas cattlemen are willing, the American-Mexican Claims Commission expects to shut up shop in another six months.

The law creating it expires April 5, and the commission has only 263 claims for about $42,000,000 left to settle. It had 1,201 when it went to work in 1942.

Our claims business with Mexico goes back to cattle raids across the Rio Grande in the 1860s and early 1870s. The Mexican government has paid off approximately $3,500,000 on claims originally totaling $106,000,000.

Two Claims Commissions and Mexico agreed in 1923 to get together on claims by U. S. citizens for property losses.

They appointed a joint international commission to receive general claims going back to 1865, and it eventually considered claims arising as late as the end of 1929. At the same time, a special commission was established to take care of claims connected with Mexican revolutions between 1910 and 1920.

These two commissions functioned until 1932. The two governments revived still unsettled claims in 1935, recreating the general claims commission and establishing a new special commission.

The general commission merely made appraisals on pending claims. It didn't decide on any awards.

Mexico Paid Most However, the new special commission—made up wholly of United States members—settled most of the revolution claims, and made awards totaling $9,000,000. The Mexican government paid 57 percent on them, and the cases were closed.

Those groups were followed in 1939 by a new commission with jurisdiction over claims resulting from expropriation under the Mexican land reform laws passed in 1931.

This commission also made appraisals but left awards to the present commission, established in 1942 by act of Congress.

Three $10,000 Jobs It has three members—Eigar E. Witt of Waco, Tex., Samuel M. Gold of New York City and Charles F. McLaughlin, a former congressman from Omaha, Neb. They are paid $10,000 a year.

It has jurisdiction over almost all but oil claims, which are handled separately.

Mexico had already agreed to pay $40,000,000 to the United States at a rate of $2,500,000 a year to cover claims approved by the commission. On our side, Congress has appropriated $533,000 to

Physicians Can Prevent Diphtheria

By W. V. Bittling Touchton Drug Co. The causes of diphtheria have not disappeared from our environment, it is only through immunization and the necessary Schick test that this dreaded disease has been checked.

The well-meaning parent who neglects to have his child immunized not only exposes his child to the disease, but endangers society and retards the progress of medical science.

A physician is always prepared to immunize, but he must have the cooperation of the parent to make sure that children have this protection.

Working closely with the physician is the skilled pharmacist who supplies the life saving serum.

TERRACE TALK

BY CECELIA TRULUCK

Off to Japan... the packing of suitcases and trunks was the order of the day when MRS. VERNON RULISON (GRACE CLARK) received word to get everything ready for the port call to depart for Seattle and board ship for Japan. She will join her husband MAJOR VERNON RULISON at Zama where he is Adjutant General of the Fourth Replacement Depot.

After following the MAJOR around the states for three years, she should be accustomed to quick notice, but nevertheless has been very excited recently. MAJ. RULISON served seven and one half years in the Army and has been overseas since Oct. 1945.

MRS. RULISON has been living with her mother, MRS. M. CLARK. MAJ. RULISON has cautioned her to bring plenty of both summer and winter clothing as the climate is similar to that of Washington, D. C. She is very happy to know that she has a six room apartment ready to move into upon her arrival and a maid, cook and scrub woman. The MAJ. has a houseboy. A jeep will be her means of traveling after she reaches Zama.

MRS. RULISON is still waiting for word to show off and is taking advantage of the delay to stock up on needed items.

AP News-features Beauty Editor "You don't have to be an equestrienne to wear the new horse-tail hair do."

It's all the rage on campuses all over the country and is making a hit on Fifth Avenue and Main Street.

The important function of this hair coiffure is that it makes you look trim, smooth and burnished as to the man.

All that's necessary is that your hair wags be clean, smooth and long enough to be manageable when it is combed back from your brow.

If you're bored with the same old long page-boy curled up at the edges, parted at the side and secured with a bow and baby pig you can take a fling with the new sleek hair do.

Brush and comb your hair straight back until you are holding all of your locks between your index finger and your thumb. Then take a rubber band and secure the hair. Cover the band with a ribbon or a barette. If you can manage the same effect with the rubber band, so much the better.

An arrangement of this sort, however, demands clean, shiny, lustrous hair. If you don't have to fuss with tin curls and hair curlers, you shouldn't object to spending spare time on the conditioning of your hair and scalp.

Before you shampoo, massage your scalp vigorously. Apply one of the pleasantly fragrant emulsions containing oxyquinoline and sulphurated petrolatum, which is known to be good for the hair and scalp. Make a jelly of a mildly medicated soap which contains one of the ingredients not only as a shampoo.

Repeat this treatment once a week. Wash your hair at least five times a day, and you will soon have the smooth, shining hair that will look beautiful any way you choose to comb it.

There will be a meeting of the South Spine Old Glory Post No. 153 of the American Legion Tuesday at 8:00 o'clock at the Longwood Library.

The Legion Auxiliary will also meet at the same time and place. Plans for the Bingo Party to be held at the Casselberry Community House on Oct. 10 will be completed.

The movie at the Community House next Friday night will be "The Merry Men" starring Peggy Ryan and Donald Crisp.

A large crowd attended the "hot luck" supper held in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Nath Thompson, better known to their friends in this vicinity as "Uncle" Nath and "Miss Sara," at the Community House last Thursday night. "Miss Sara" was introduced by Hubbard Casselberry and presented with a corsage. The members of the board of stewards and various church committees were introduced. "Uncle Nath" was presented with a few words of welcome and he then made a short speech. The meeting was closed with a song "The More We Get Together The Happier We'll Be."

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Watson of Piney Ridge Rd. returned Wednesday from a two weeks vacation in Ohio. They visited relatives in New London and Flynn, S.C. and Mrs. A. B. Johnson.

Storm Center Leaves State This Afternoon

No Major Losses In Huge Citrus Industry Indicated By Commission Report

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
The reportedly vicious tropical hurricane which alarmed the entire state of Florida yesterday apparently turned out to be something of a tempest in a teapot—and a relatively mild tempest at that.

The center of the greatly weakened storm has left the Sunshine state and this afternoon was blowing itself out over south-east Georgia. The latest advisory from the Federal Storm Warning Service said the diminishing disturbance will continue inland through Georgia and South Carolina, and that strong winds are indicated as far north as Atlantic City.

The storm apparently retained all its violence with winds close to 100 miles an hour almost up to the minute it struck across the Florida Gulf coast in the Tampa Bay area at midnight. The howling gales diminished rapidly, however. By the time the storm approached Jacksonville on the east coast, that city recorded gusts only up to 45 miles an hour.

Orlando, in the center of the state, reported 70-mile gusts. The hurricane advisory service reported this morning that the remnants of the hurricane were centered over southeastern Georgia about 40 miles southwest of Savannah. The advisory said the storm was weakened to the point where it no longer is a dangerous hurricane, but will be attended by strong winds up to 40 miles an hour over the coastal areas of Georgia and the Carolinas today.

The secretary-treasurer of the Florida Citrus Commission, R. C. Evans, today said damage to the fabulous citrus crop in the Lakeland area appeared minor. Lakeland is in the heart of the grapefruit and orange belt.

Evans said he had not yet checked with other points, but preliminary reports indicated there probably would not be any major loss for the record-making crop, valued at about $150,000,000.

The state of Florida had prepared for this hurricane as never before. Beach residents were evacuated and thousands took refuge in storm shelters. Elaborate disaster precautions were taken by the Red Cross and other relief agencies.

As yet, however, there have been no reports of heavy damage anywhere in the state, and no reports of injuries to residents.

Apparently the highest winds on the mainland were felt at Fort Myers, on the southwest coast, which the storm missed by some 90 miles while it was still raging at full fury in the Gulf. Fort Myers reported gusts up to 80 miles an hour. As the storm veered inland near the entrance to Tampa Bay, Egmont Key reported winds up to 85 miles an hour. Tampa itself, St. Petersburg and other cities in the populous west coast area, reported only moderate gusts.

53 Handicapped Persons Placed In Jobs By Local Employment Office

Mrs. Betty Mosely, head of the local United States Employment Service office, declared today that 53 handicapped persons, the majority of them veterans of World War II, have been placed in positions by the Sanford office.

Mrs. Mosely made this statement in connection with the National Employment of the Physically Handicapped Week, which is held annually by an Act of Congress and Presidential proclamation.

Mrs. Mosely said that "statistically, the handicapped are getting the attention of industry and business firms to the great untapped reservoir of skills and abilities possessed by handicapped workers."

"We still have 53 handicapped persons in this area in need of placement," Mrs. Mosely stated. She revealed that "the majority of them are veterans and are 1 to 30 percent disabled, some slightly more, but most of them from 10 to 20 percent."

"We have the facilities," she continued, "to conduct, select and refer disabled veterans and other handicapped workers to employers. We can assist both management and labor through referral of qualified workers for jobs and in some cases for accelerated apprenticeship programs."

The employment office head also remarked that "we ask that employers consider the physically handicapped workers in this area, and we urge you to make work possible for them, and to list vacancies in your organization with our office."

Ohio Governor Orders Probe In Meat Situation

State Executive Also Asks Investigation By Federal Officials

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8.—(AP)—An investigation of the meat shortage in Ohio has been requested by Governor Frank J. Lausche. The Governor announced that he is launching immediately an investigation of his own. In telegrams to government officials, however, he asked a separate, federal probe.

The messages were sent to Attorney General Tom Clark, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, and Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson. In the telegrams, the Governor stated:

"I am sure that the available meat supply has been artificially kept from the market. Whether this is true or not I do not know. The people are entitled to know the facts." Then Governor Lausche added:

"I therefore urge that a speedy determination and investigation be made to ascertain the facts and a prompt disclosure be made to the public so that they will know the true situation."

Truman's Message Lauded By Labor Parley Delegates

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—(AP)—A message from President Truman today received loud applause at the American Federation of Labor convention in Chicago.

Mr. Truman told the A. F. of L. delegates in his message that America stands on the threshold of abundance. He stated that the country must have the full cooperation of industry, labor and government.

The President went on to say: "Today, no less than in wartime, our most compelling need is full, sustained production." And he added:

"Our demonstrated capacity holds out the promise of secure abundance for America's wage and salaried workers, as well as for farmers and business and professional people. To reach this goal," said Mr. Truman, "we must use all of our resources in materials, and men, and we shall need the full cooperation of industry, labor and government."

The President's message was read to the convention.

Record Mark For Tax Collections In Seminole Revealed By Jinkins

A high record mark for tax collections in Seminole County of more than 99.9 percent of the entire tax levy of $131,500 for the fiscal year ending on Oct. 31, was today revealed by J. D. Jinkins, county tax collector.

Mr. Jinkins said he was highly pleased with this record collection which tops the former high mark reached last year when 99.84 percent of taxes was collected. "This is a fine demonstration on the part of the property owners of Seminole County," he said, "showing their willingness and ability to pay their taxes as ever before."

He revealed that a total amount of $131,500 of the 1946-47 tax bill had been paid into his office. This amount is $131,500 in excess of the 1945-46 total of $130,000. The tax collector said that the amount of $131,500 was paid into his office in November, December, January and February.

Supreme Court Rules In Wischart's Favor

FALL RIVER, Oct. 8.—(AP)—A four to three decision of the Florida Supreme Court today upheld the right of Marshall A. Wischart of Miami to continue holding his position as judge of the Eleventh Judicial Circuit.

Two Are Killed In Another DC-4 Crash

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 8.—(AP)—A big United Airlines plane, flying from San Francisco to Chicago with 42 passengers, crashed on this morning near Cheyenne, Wyo.

Three passengers were killed and three of them hurt badly enough so that their conditions may be serious. One of those killed has been identified as William Wang of San Francisco.

The United Airlines plane—a DC-4 of the type which was figured in the two recent Newfoundland crashes—was coming in for a regularly scheduled landing at Cheyenne when the accident occurred. Just what happened is not yet known, but the plane came down on the Fort Francis E. Warren military reservation, and according to the local sheriff, it broke in two. The ship was piloted by Capt. L. H. Smith, of San Francisco, who with three other crew members apparently escaped serious injury. All of the passengers have been taken to a hospital.

Pole Says Treaty Provision For Trieste Will Be Cause Of Endless Arguments

PARIS, Oct. 8.—(AP)—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin today told delegates at the Paris Peace Conference that unity was the foundation of the Allied victory and that it must be the foundation of the peace.

Bevin made the latest appeal for unity after Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium criticized the peace treaty drafted for Italy as being too harsh and too costly. He said that it was a "line no longer drawn by a victor over a vanquished enemy, but a line drawn by a victor over a vanquished enemy."

Bevin said that the peace treaty was a "line no longer drawn by a victor over a vanquished enemy, but a line drawn by a victor over a vanquished enemy."
