Parole Caseload Up In Seminole

By BILL SCOTT

Caseload of the State Parole and Probation Commission's office in Seminole County increased from 154 at the beginning of the fiscal year by an additional 236 for a total 390 cases by the year's end.

This was disclosed today by James Lee of the county office, who further stated that during the year his office conducted 374 investigations for the courts, Parole Commission, Pardon Board, Division of Corrections and co-operating interstate agencies.

Of those under supervision of the Seminole County office, some 5.3 per cent failed to fulfill their obligations to the courts or to the Parole Commission.

Lee relates that in the process of supervision and investigation, some 15,552 contacts were made with the individual probationers or parolees and others pertinent to the case. The number of investigations for fiscal 1970 increased by 38 per cent, Lee added.

Citing examples of positive contributions to those under supervision locally, Lee revealed $615,896 total earnings for the year.

During this same period supervised persons paid $6,592 in court costs; provided $17,651 for support of children living outside their households and paid restitution in the amount of $4,880 to the victims of the offenses which brought them into conflict with the law.

Persons under supervision in Seminole County increased by 31.7 per cent over fiscal 1969 figures, Lee added.

The World Ready To Greet 1971

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

From throwing out the crockery in Rome to counting on the year in New York, the familiar New Year's Eve rituals were set to begin today buoyed by champagne, noise-makers and the strains of "Auld Lang Syne."

Casting aside the cares of inflation, Europeans registered heavier bookings at Continental restaurants and night clubs despite generally higher charges than last year.

But in the United States, the economic squeeze was blamed for a reduction in advance reservations at night spots in several major cities. Some places lowered prices and a handful canceled celebrations.

The West Coast was the major exception of the U.S. business slump, with Los Angeles and San Francisco reporting reservations going well and even some sell-outs.

Reports from Boston, Dallas and Seattle, Wash., showed clubs reducing per person prices for New Year's Eve by as much as $10 compared to last year.

The Pump Room in Chicago pared its prices from $29 to $33 per person for the evening "to encourage celebrants in a conservative spending economy" and to start the year off with a bow to the budget minded.

Prices were not cut at the Grand Ballroom in New York's Waldorf-Astoria hotel neither were they raised. Guy Lombardo will do his "Auld Lang Syne" thing from the hotel in a television broadcast on 145 stations.

Elsewhere in New York, the traditional lighted ball will drop in the Times Square countdown and the city will host its third annual New Year's Eve party in Central Park, with bell ringing, music and fireworks.

Fireworks are much the order of the mid-night hour also in Rome and Naples where Italians are prepared to end 1970 with a bang.

Court House Top Story

By MARION BETHEA

In the year that was, probably the most important news story emanating from the county was the beginning of construction on the long awaited, long-delayed, new court house.

On Sept. 23, County Commission Chairman John Alexander executed a contract with Green Construction Company, Pensacola, in the amount of $3,910,000 for the construction of the court house. This was the first of five facilities totaling bond issues of $2,727,500, which over a period of 20 years would have required an average annual debt service of $297,547 or $49 mills. These facilities included the Juvenile Detention Facility ($250,000); Mental Health and Incompetency Facility ($725,000); Agricultural Center ($170,000); branch office of the courthouse ($291,000); and land acquisition for park and recreation purposes ($1,680,750). Voters subsequently approved only three of the bond issues, that of the Juvenile Detention Facility, Mental Incompetency Facility and park acquisition.

During the year the county acquired more "breathing room" in court house facilities with the addition of court room B which is located at Band Mail. Trials are designated as either in courtroom A in the fourth present landfill will be utilized

It Was Also Year of the BUG

By JANE CASSELBERRY

This was a year for insects in the news. First there was the "Battle of the Flies" when ex-mayor of North Orlando Irene Van Epeol took on Seminole Turf Club, the County Health Department, and the County Commission to have something done about the flies coming from the track. Climax of the situation came when she released flies in the commission chamber and they proceeded to bite those present.

We were really "bugged" in August and September when those nasty little Love Bugs invaded Central Florida by the billions smearing windshields and cars and doing what comes naturally in flight and in public. It had bad news for Casselberry mosquitoes last summer as the city launched an all-out campaign against the pests by purchasing fogging equipment which they mounted on the back of a truck driven around the city each night.

Escapee Free Only Two Hours

A Seminole County jail escapee remained at large for two hours late Wednesday before he was recaptured by Deputy Ronnie Miller at an Altamonte Springs residence where he had taken refuge.

Richard Lee Phillips, 24 of 228 Bradshaw Drive, and another unidentified prisoner had been taken from the county jail to the Altamonte Springs office of Justice of the Peace Thomas Lovett for arraignment on three worthless check charges, when Phillips ran away from deputies and jumped a fence near Lovett's office to make his escape into a wooded area.

Accompanied by Deputy W. A. Vinton, Deputy Miller began a search for the man. Acting on a tip, Miller and Vinton finally located Phillips at the Katherine Norman home at 129 Leonard Street, Altamonte Springs.

Mrs. Norman quoted Phillips as saying to her and four children he was not going to harm anyone and asked that she not call police. However, a nearby resident reportedly saw Phillips enter the woman's house and called authorities.

Sanford Police early today captured four juveniles, ages 14-15, after the quartet had burglarized a Goldsboro area beer garden.

Lt. Charles Fagan and Patrolman Lester P. Whitley reported they found the door to Cut Rate Beer Garden, 1114 West 10th Street, open and observed the store's cigarette machine had been broken open and several cigarette packs scattered along the floor.

A hospital nurse this morning reported the child is in "good" condition.

39 Ky. Coal Miners Killed In Explosion

HYDEN, Ky. (UPI)—An explosion ripped through two shafts of a soft coal mine Wednesday, killing 39 trapped miners, killing 39 trapped miners and sewing a pillar of coal dust like a tornado high above a bleak Appalachian mountainside. "Oh, Lord, be with my boy! Oh, Lord, be with my boy!" the mother of one of the trapped miners wailed, over and over. One man, working just inside the mine mouth, survived. H. T. Collins, who was only a few feet from the opening, died when he heard the blast. Officials said if he had been any deeper in the shaft he would have died. State mining officials, who rushed to the Appalachian hamlet of 400 persons in southeastern Kentucky, said the victims died instantly. They speculated a faulty dynamite charge or an electrical failure triggered the blast. Gov. Louie B. Nunn flew here

Distaff Professor Hits Law Schools For 'Hoax'

By F. RICHARD CIGCONE, Associated Press Writer CHICAGO (AP) — Law schools which encourage women students but refuse to act against prospective employers practicing sex discrimination are perpetrating a "crude hoax," says a woman law professor. Mrs. Frederica K. Lombard, who teaches at Wayne State Law School, expressed this view after the Association of American Law Schools took what she regarded as a weak stand on the issue Wednesday. The association, representing 122 law schools, amended its charter to prohibit discrimination against women in legal education but adopted a clause on placement practices which Mrs. Lombard described as "watered down." The association's Committee on Equality of Opportunity for Women had proposed that law schools "assist" that employers who recruit on campuses not discriminate against women. The AALS-approved recommendation said only that member schools should state their "firm expectations" that employers will not discriminate. Mrs. Lombard is the 1971 chairman of the AALS committee on women, which has issued a report showing that nearly twice as many girls entered law schools in 1970 compared to 1967 but that discrimination in hiring continues. "The study," Mrs. Lombard said in an interview, "is significant because it shows the percentage of women students is increased, which means that law schools are encouraging women to attend. Yet the failure of the AALS of taking a strong stand on placement practices makes them part of a cruel hoax." Mrs. Lombard said there was little if any discrimination against women by law schools considering admissions. "The real serious problem for women is in placement," she said. Approximately 37 per cent of the participating schools have a written policy prohibiting sex discrimination by employers recruiting on campus but Mrs. Lombard said AALS members must impose sanctions on violators or the problem will not be remedied.

Highway Safety Rests In Drivers' Hands

This wind-up editorial comment for 1970 has but a single purpose — To Save Lives! Slaughter on our highways must stop!

But the operator alone knows this BEFORE the accident and that is when the alarm must be heeded and auto-driving avoided until senses are calm and judgment returns.

Others will speak about the erratic and selfish "speed demon" who tries to jump cut after car and then ends up by doing nothing but creating dangerous traffic hazards and has gained little if anything in the time used in going from one point to another.

Every automobile in motion should have a defensive cushion of air around it. The faster the speed the larger the area. For this is the only practical solution to the control of the high-speed, powerful cars and the smaller autos whose maneuverability often tempt their drivers into spots from which there is no escape except by collision.

Two-Way Street

Now that the trade bill, which would have placed a limit on imports of textiles, shoes, and certain other products, is considered a dead issue in the current Congress, there is a fresh opportunity for a more constructive approach to international trade problems between the United States of America and some of its neighbors.

To the extent that the bill was protectionist in nature and could have launched a global war, it was wrong. However, we are left with the very real problem of how to deal with cheap imports that endanger American jobs and industries.

Since last January, 118,000 American textile workers have been thrown out of work and 400 U.S. firms have closed down — a situation traced directly to a flood of foreign goods, mostly from Japan, competing with U.S. goods in our domestic marketplace.

The Comeback

An old style in men's jackets is coming back: the belt in the back and bi-wing shoulders, with patch pockets in front. Now men, don't you wish you'd bought those circa 1966 gabardine suits? If that is, you could still fit into the trousers? — Charles E. (S.C.) News and Courier

Adams Decries $100,000 Deficit

Kirk's Spending Brings Squabble

By RICH OPPEL
Associated Press Writer
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Claude Kirk's fiscal aide claims that Gov.-elect Reubin Askew's administration will "not necessarily" be deprived of $100,000 in 1971 funds spent by Kirk as Lt. Gov.-elect Tom Adams has charged.

"We understand this is the traditional way it has been paid in the past," he said. "The new administration had traditionally gone in and gotten reimbursed for that expense."

Adams, also a Democrat, charged in an interview Wednesday that Kirk has overpenned state funds by $100,000 and his staff "doesn't know what they're doing."

Askew Appoints Woman To Little Cabinet

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov.-elect Reubin Askew, stressing plans "to make the Department of Community Affairs an active force in the betterment of our human resources," has picked a black woman to lead the department.

Three cheers for The Ring Magazine. The Ring, for many years the "Bible" of boxing, came out in their January, 1971 issue, blasting the issuance of a license to Cassius Clay.

The Ring blamed the commission for not appealing the decision of Mansfield. The commission's lawyer, James Fucina, issued the following statement, which appeared in The Ring.

"Judge Mansfield's decision ordering us to give a license to Cassius Clay does not affect the jurisdiction of the New York State Commission. Judge Mansfield's action affects only one case, that of Cassius Clay.

"Clay went to the Federal Court with the charge that he had not been treated equally. His lawyers went through 2,400 cases with criminal backgrounds. They cited a case in which a boxer who is listed among our former champions of the world who had obtained a license in spite of an AWOL charge by the Army.

"Of the 2,000 cases examined, only two per cent received licenses. Judge Mansfield held that it did not matter whether a boxer had served his time in jail or had served no time.

"From my experience I may say that there is no Federal Court which would reverse the Mansfield decision. "Despite the last judgements of some writers, Judge Mansfield did not impair the powers of the New York Commission.

"The Clay case cited the case of boxer Merritt, who had served a jail sentence. The warden of the state penitentiary of Kansas wrote us advising us to give Merritt a license. In the interest of rehabilitation.

"If Cassius Clay is sent to jail by the Supreme Court, serves out his time, and then asks for a license, he will get one."

Clean Sweep For MAC Ohio U. Takes Tangerine Tourney

By LARRY NEELY Herald Sports Staff WINTER PARK — Frank Cortes pumped in 31 points to pace the underdog Seton Hall Pirates but it wasn't enough as Ohio University made it a clean sweep for Mid-America Conference teams in Tangerine Bowl events in the Bobcats' home at the Indiana 84-82.

Lalich glowed in the final two minutes as he paced the efforts of his teammates to overcome the first-up Pirates effort.

Ohio quiet held the winning margin, 84-82. Seton Hall jumped to an early lead in the game and did so in the second half but Ohio had the advantage from the free throw line as they converted 20 of 28 opportunities while the Pirates hit only 10 of 14 charity chances.

Referee Julius Steed assessed the sixth technical foul of the tournament in the consolation efforts of the Tars with 15 points with teammates Tim Shea and Larry Martinez adding 15 and 14 points respectively. Only Scott and Shea were up on the boards with any consistency, grabbing 12 and 10 rebounds.

Seton Hall's 6-foot-1 guard Frank Cortes was awarded the tournament's Most Valuable Player Trophy for his efforts. Named to the all-tournament team in addition to Cortes were Ken Kowall and Craig Love of victorious Ohio U., Denny Scott of Rollins, Fred Ross of Seton.

Football Dominates Television

By BEN THOMAS NEW YORK (AP) — The men around the television set are going to monopolize the television for the next four hours.

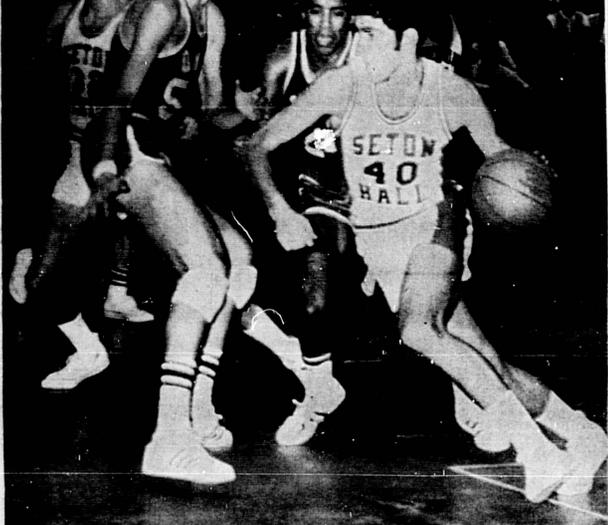

Nine football games—that's about 25 hours—will be nationally televised between tonight and Sunday. Included on the television menu are Sunday's conference championship games in the National Football League.

On New Year's Day—Friday—the affluence have to use the second television set at 2 p.m. EST. If they want to watch both the Sugar and Cotton bowls.

The Cotton Bowl, pitting conference champions No. 4 Texas against No. 2 Oklahoma, will be on CBS. An hour earlier the Sugar Bowl—with No. 4 Tennessee leading the game—will be on ABC.

Looking down the road on the eight teams you see such names as Perez, Roseberry, Parker, Rape, and Roberts. Seven doctors in all since both M. and Mrs. Perez are doctors.

Seems kind funny. Bob works at the Sanford Atlantic National Bank. What team do you think he coaches? Sanford Atlantic? No. First Federal. Seems Bob wanted a team and Recreation Director Jim Jernigan already laid claim to the Sanford Atlantic squad. Aw well, you can't win them all.

Officials Blasted Jacksonville's Giants Upset In Tourney

By HUBERT MIZELL Associated Press Sports Writer WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Wake Forest's basketball team hoped for joy over at upstart the Demon Deacons' coach said he was "ashamed to accept."

Ninth-ranked Jacksonville had been split 78-77 Wednesday night in the finals of the Gulf Coast Classic. Wake Forest's three-time losers had pulled out of the young basketball season's major shockers.

Stall, Coach Jack McCloskey departed with a frown. "I hate to win under such conditions," he said. "The four referees who worked this tournament had to be at least one of the world's worst."

The feeling was unanimous. Winning Coach McCloskey losing coach Tom Wadkin and the head men of also rans Georgetown and Creighton couldn't find a kind word for the officials.

These are four high school officials from Miami. "I hate to be the favored team in this game," said Maj. Gen. William A. Knowlton after Navy upset Army 11-7 in their annual football game.

"It's just that kind of a game year after year the favored team has the trouble." The general is superintendent at the U.S. Military Academy.

Jacksonville's Greg Nelson hit two free throws with 0:40 on the clock to give the Dolphins a 75-76 lead.

Creighton pulled his heroics, dropping the basket that the game was not over.

Wadkin claimed one official called a jump ball following the Wakeking shot. The official never calling something—but decides it was a foul on Jacksonville.

The clock was changed from 6:00 back to 0:34 and Wake Forest's Pat Kelly went to the free throw line.

Kelly missed. 7-foot-9 Artis Gilmore grabbed the rebound and Jacksonville called a time out at 0:01 on the resumed clock.

Jacksonville tried a full court press aiming for a Gilmore tip-in attempt, but the heave was blocked and Wake Forest scored.

Forest was a winner—again. McCloskey sought out Wadkin long after the crowds roar had died out at West Palm Beach Auditorium and apologized for "winning under these absolutely unbelievable conditions."

The officials were gone by then. Wake Forest's thin man, Charlie Davis, scored 33 points for the second straight night and was named the most valuable player. Joining the 6-foot-1 senior on the all-tournament squad were Gilmore and Harold Fox of Jacksonville. Art White and Tim Merrier of Georgetown and Cyril Baptiste of Creighton, Gilmore could hardly speak after the crushing defeat. The gigantic Dolphin entered the tournament with a 34 point average and was held to totals of 15 and 13.

The Jacksonville star was called for goaltending eight times against Wake Forest. "It became a sickening sight," said Wadkin. "I see them take away Gilmore's defensive power. We funnel the opposition toward Artis so he can block the shots. Everytime he cleanly handed away a shot tonight, it was called goal tending."

Gilmore said he had never experienced such trouble and claimed the shots were legally blocked on every occasion. "I wasn't blocking them clean," he said. "I wouldn't be blocking them at all."

Former Boxing Star Attends Local Bouts

By GARY TAYLOR Herald Sports Editor Sal Difini never misses fights held anywhere near his home in Manassas, N. Y.

While visiting his brother-in-law, Joe Zaccarillo, who along with Sam Hodges operates H&W Before in Casselberry, Sal decided to visit the boxing matches in Sanford, held Tuesday night.

But Sal isn't the normal everyday boxing spectator. He knows the game from the inside... first hand experience as a boxer, and a good one.

For Sal, 1942 was the year to shine. This was the Florida State Championship, the Florida Golden Gloves Championship and the First Army Championship in Bristol, England. All the titles were won as a Walter Weight.

As the Golden Gloves Champion and Florida State Champion, Sal earned the right to compete in the AAU Nationals at the Madison Square Garden. He came close, very close, to gaining the highest honor awarded an amateur boxer. He lost in the finals to Willie Bussles on a split decision of the judges. It was a fight that could have gone either way.

He also was at the Garden to compete in the Tournament of Champions, losing out in the semi-finals, fighting among the best competition in the United States.

Sal got his start back when he was 14, and he owes it all to ER Alford, who at the time was his neighbor and held the New York Golden Gloves. He started Sal out boxing, and one year later Sal was the public school champion... his first title. At the age of 18 he obtained his amateur license, and shortly afterward entered the Diamond Belt Tournament. At the time he was stationed at Camp Blanding, Florida. He won the first three bouts handsily, but then suffered an injury and was forced to drop out of contention. Sal's entire career in the ring was as an amateur. He exhibited and worked out with the likes of Tommy Tucker and Tommy Gomez.

Now Sal has a different role to play in boxing. He has been asked to help in promoting amateur fighting for the young boys of his home county of Westchester, New York.

It will be a neighborhood program, run much along the line as the boxing promoted in Sanford by R. G. Kondrinski.

Two Jews Escape Death Hijackers Sentences Cut

By MICHAEL JOHNSON Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — The Supreme Court of the Russian Republic today commuted the death sentences of two Jews convicted of treason on Christmas Eve in the Leningrad hijack case. The court reduced the sentences of Edward Kametov and Mark Dymshits, 45, to 15 years in a labor camp. It also reduced the labor camp terms given in Leningrad to three other defendants but upheld the other six sentences. The trial and sentencing of the Jews set off a storm of protests in Western Europe, Israel and the United States, and a number of foreign governments and leaders appealed to the Soviet government for clemency. The appeal court reversed the death sentences less than 24 hours after Generalissimo Franco, the Spanish chief of state, commuted the death sentences of six Basque nationalists and Russians sympathetic to the Leningrad defendants. The Russian court undoubtedly was influenced by Franco's action. The 11 defendants — nine Jews and two Gentiles — were arrested in June as they prepared to board a small Soviet airplane in Leningrad for Finland. At the trial, which began Dec. 15 and ended Christmas Eve, the Jews admitted planning to hijack the plane because the Soviet government refused to let them emigrate to Israel. They were charged with treason. "In considering their appeals," the Soviet news agency Tass reported, the Supreme Court proceeded from the fact that the hijack attempt was averted in time and that under the Soviet law the death penalty is an exceptional measure of punishment. The court acted after a hearing that lasted a day and a half. It was reported that a half hour before the court's decision, supporters of the defendants stood outside the building in the rain and snow as the arguments went on inside.

Allyes Open New Year's Cease-Fire

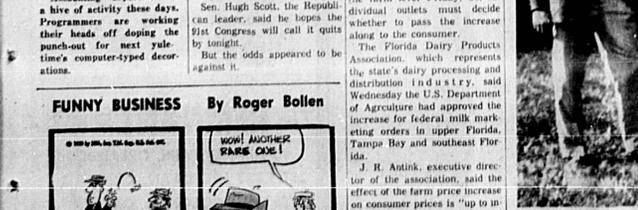

By RICHARD PYLE Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese forces began observing a 24-hour New Year's cease-fire tonight as the allied commands announced sharp increases in their casualties last week despite the Christmas truce. The U.S. Command said 41 Americans were killed in action, 18 more than the week before. While South Vietnamese combat dead increased from 268 to 301 last week, enemy casualties dropped, however, with 1,250 reported killed last week compared with 1,433 a week earlier. An American spokesman said there was no major upsurge in battlefield action to account for the increases but there were numerous small contacts. He said the American total also probably was increased by some "spillover" deaths the previous week that had not been included in that total, which was the lowest in more than five years. Another 141 Americans were reported wounded last week, 26 less than the week before. The U.S. Command said a total of 4,208 Americans now have been killed in action in the Vietnam war and 293,224 have been wounded, according to the U.S. Command. With the start of the New Year's truce, allied forces were instructed to cease all combat operations except in self-defense until 6 p.m. Friday — 5 a.m. EST. The Viet Cong proclaimed a 7-hour cease-fire beginning 17 hours before the allied truce, but the Saigon government reported that the enemy broke the cease-fire 20 minutes after it started with a lightning attack that killed 19 persons at a hamlet 24 miles northwest of Saigon.

Hugh Scott, the Republican leader, said he hopes the bill Congress will call it quite tonight. But the odds appeared to be against it.

Increase In City Service Costs Assured For Sanford Residents

By BILL SCOTT
The new year will bring additional charges for city services. This was confirmed this morning by City Manager W. E. Knowles, who disclosed that a probable $1 to $1.25 per month increase in water rates will be necessary to fund the projected $1.2 million cost for the second stage to add to the city's sanitary sewage treatment plant. Knowles quoted Loomis Leedy Sanford's fiscal agent, in advising the increase would be necessary to pay off the 30-year city indebtedness, which will be incurred after bonds are sold to raise money to conform with federal anti-pollution guidelines. These guidelines, which were updated a year or so ago, now require an additional sewage treatment stage to remove 90 per cent of the impurities being let into Lake Monroe from the city's sewer system, which now limits about 40 per cent of the pollution. "Everything has not been finalized yet," Knowles said but indicated all details should be completed within 30 days. The city manager added he had approached Clark, Deitz and Associates, engineers, to study the utilities (water and sewers) and come up with suggestions for setting rates. Still another service rate increase is expected if the city residents want to continue rear yard refuse collections. Knowles revealed that a deficit now exists in the city's refuse operation, partly because of the approximately 20 cents an hour salary increase given to garbage "toemen" as an incentive to keep the trash collectors from quitting their jobs rather than carry huge containers to retrieve garbage in the backyard. The City Commission earlier this year eliminated the tote men and required city residents to carry their trash to street curbs, to keep refuse crews from leaving city's employ but because of the complaints, the commissioners raised salaries and went back to "back yard collections until tomorrow."

sanitary conditions at the club were causing the problem, and singled out County Health Director Dr. Frank Leone as the object of her vituperation. Mrs. Van Espoel's allegations proved well founded, and corrective measures were employed by the track to eliminate the problem. Subsequently Dr. Leone resigned his position in the county to enter private practice. The needy in the county received recognition through implementation of a food stamp program, currently in effect. Another forward step was taken by the county, largely through the persevering efforts of Commissioner Greg Drummond, in enacting a movie rating law on Aug. 4. This law makes it mandatory for theater managers to display upon the marquee the rating of previews as well as features when such fall into the "X" rated category. This was welcome news to parents who took their children to a "G" rated movie, only to be subjected to salient previews of a lurid comic attraction. A radical note was injected into the county meetings when members of the Seminole County Intergovernmental Ministerial Alliance petitioned the commission to "take immediate and deliberate steps to bring an immediate and irrevocable end to the commission's traditional, discriminatory exclusion of negroes from almost all decision making positions on county boards." Their complaints were noted, and the county told the delegation that anyone applying for a position in the county is considered regardless of race. Bringing the county to the attention of the nation and the world, was also approval of a proposal submitted by the county publicity advisory committee in the amount of $29,700 designed to attract industry, business and investment to the county. Services of Anderson-Bourne Advertising Agency are being utilized for submission of ads in such national media as Wall Street Journal and McGraw-Hill's 34 business publications. "Eaton talked with newsmen Monday after an interview with Allende lasting about an hour. Another "great step" was the city to buy a new garbage pucker, hire a three-man crew and remove the deficit now in the refuse department. Thus, it can be assumed that city residents will be asked for at least $2 more a month starting in 1971 in rate hikes for using city utilities. Knowles advised today if the city remains as it is now, it will require an increase in garbage fees, possibly from 75 cents to $1 a month additional to the $1 monthly charge now paid. This increase would enable the city to pay a new garbage pucker, hire a three-man crew and remove the deficit now in the refuse department. There Is Good News Today In This World Of Turmoil

By FRANK MACOMBER
Copley News Service

As the New Year approaches it may appear that much of the world just doesn't care any more. But a lot of the folks who still do. These are some of their stories, many of them lost in the shuffle of the big, bad events that seem to shake the globe almost daily.

The other day Mrs. Carl Nurkala of rural Jackson, Wis., was cleaning an antique cinnamon jar when it fell and broke. It made her so angry she kicked the fragment of paper that had been in the bottle.

It turned out to be a $1,000 bond, purchased by a Joseph Parino McMurry on Aug. 5, 1945. Today it is worth $1,546.40 and the interest still is mounting.

Mrs. Nurkala attempted to locate McMurry through an old San Francisco address, but no luck. Nobody there by that name.

Now Mrs. Nurkala will hold on to the bond until McMurry or one of his heirs comes to claim it. She was cleaning up the old cinnamon jar for a rummage sale. She had bought it years earlier at an auction.

"Some day maybe someone will claim the bond," she says. "I hope so."

In Chillicothe, Ohio, the telephone company gave each of the 1,200 inmates of the Chillicothe Correctional Institution a free phone call to someone on its approved mailing or visiting list.

In Detroit, critics predicted nearly a year ago it simply wouldn't work. But it has.

The town council of Madison Heights, a Detroit suburb, passed an ordinance making parents responsible for crimes committed by their offspring. The doubters said it couldn't be done.

Yet so far no mom or dad has been prosecuted under the ordinance. Police have sent about 35 first-time warnings to parents of young offenders. Not one of these youngsters has been in trouble since, says Lt. Frank Butcher of the Madison Heights Youth Bureau.

"We use it for psychological effect," he explains. "The parents seem to be making a real effort to keep their kids in line."

The female Lib Movement, no hand-wringing evolution of its last overtones, broke through change clad in blue smocks.

This is not a first, for girls were hired as pages during and right after World War II. Otherwise, however, the exchange has employed only boys during its 178-year history to carry messages between brokers.

There are a lot of good tidings connected with a penny postage card which arrived in Brush, Colo., with the notation of no postage due.

First of all, it arrived 20 years after it was mailed. Even so, better late than never.

But even better news is that the postal system which spanned the 20-year delay is about to be overhauled under a new system which will hand the Post Office Department over to a government corporation and take it out of political patronage.

Another fortunate footnote is the fact that if there had been postage due it would have been considerable, for postage rates have climbed 200 per cent since 1941, when the card was mailed.

The card was mailed from New York to Mrs. Charles Gale Sr., who died in 1942. It was received by her widow, now 83. Included with the card was a note from the post office explaining that it was being in — of all places — an Ohio post office which was being dismantled.

And to top off this resume of the good things that can happen to people, wind swept a sheaf of checks and currency totaling 745 away from Mrs. Helen Steight in Bloomington, Ill. But people who saw all the paper blowing away spent two hours helping to pick it up. She recovered all but $30.

SMOG-BOUND city dwellers may have to resort to a gadget like this British-made device to provide oxygen-enriched air instead of the polluted variety.

Antique Show To Benefit Special Children Group

The Winter Park Sertoma Club's second annual antique show and sale will be held at Exposition Park, Orlando, Jan. 8-10. The proceeds from the show go to the Florida Foundation for Special Children. The main purpose of the antique show is to raise funds for a mentally retarded children's campsite for the Foundation.

Exhibiting dealers from across the United States will be showing the finest in antiques. Selected dealers from Indiana, Connecticut, Ohio, Missouri, Oklahoma, Michigan and New York will bring fine oriental, pre-Columbian glass, silver, clocks, jewelry and other antiques.

Mayor Dan Hunter, of Winter Park, and Mayor Carl Langford, of Orlando, have proclaimed this as "Florida Antiques Week for the Benefit of the Mentally Retarded."

ed Children, to fill the very large gap in the presently available programs and facilities operating in the State of Florida, to help the mentally retarded make the most of their capacities, wherever they may be. The Foundation is attempting to do for the mentally retarded child what the Florida Easter Seal Camp is doing for the physically handicapped child with its Camp Challenge.

Whelchel Manager Of 'Lui'

New co-owner and manager of the Lui Club is Johnny Whelchel, a native of Sanford. He is the son of the co-owner of Mary Esther's dress shop and the late Hugh Whelchel. He is married to the former Susan Slade and they have a daughter, 6. He was graduated from Seminole High School in 1941 and from Florida State University in 1945.

After a brief tour in the Army, he joined the Burroughs Corporation at Jacksonville. For the last six months he has campaigned for his brother-in-law, Tom Slade, at Miami.

An manager of the Lui Club he plans to offer top flight entertainment aimed for the young and the young-at-heart. He also plans to expand the luncheon menu for the business men and women.

Troubles
EVERGREEN, Colo. (AP) — Most fire departments can go month in month out with nothing happening to their equipment. But in this mountain town the pump on the pumper truck exploded and a week later another truck was stolen from in front of the fire house.
