Deputies Say He Struck Potential Witness

Inmate On Trial For Rape Faces More Charges

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A Seminole County jail inmate on trial for the 1985 rape of another inmate faces additional charges of battery and witness tampering after allegedly hitting another inmate who could be called to testify in the sex trial.

Steven William Bradley, 32, of Taft, accused of the jailhouse rape on Jan. 25, 1985, of another inmate who is now 24, allegedly attacked inmate Bill Reed, 21, of Daytona Beach, at about 6:45 p.m. Wednesday, when Bradley was returned to the jail following a day in court for trial on the sexual battery charge.

In court Wednesday morning Assistant State Attorney Robert Fisher had said he planned to call Reed and another inmate to testify that Bradley had made threats of sexual assaults against them inside the jail. So far Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor has refused to permit that testimony.

When Bradley returned to the jail from the courthouse Wednesday and handcuffs were removed from him he reportedly attacked Reed from behind as Reed used a telephone in a lobby of a secured area of the jail, Seminole County Sheriff's Capt. Roy Hughey said today.

Guards subdued Bradley, and Reed, who is jailed on grand theft charges, has said he wants to press charges against Bradley for the alleged attack. Hughey said those charges will likely be battery and witness tampering.

Bradley was initially jailed in Seminole County on Nov. 29, 1984, on charges in connection with the burglary of a Casselberry policeman's home. In addition to the in-jail sexual battery charges, Bradley has, while in jail, been charged with battery on a corrections officer and in connection with allegedly having homemade weapons in the jail.

He has already been sentenced to serve 15 years on the burglary charge and four more on an unrelated Orange County charge.

The sexual battery trial began Wednesday in Sanford and Bradley remains an inmate in the Seminole County jail, while the investigation into the latest allegations against him continued today.

Planning and Zoning board chairman John Morris holds court Thursday night with a stuffed kangaroo, symbolic mocking of a reference to comments Sanford architect Gerald Gross made earlier this month when he called the panel a "kangaroo court." The P&Z Thursday rejected Gross and his partner's plans for a retail area at the marina, citing parking and other problems.

Thumbs Down Again For Marina Project Next Step: City Commission

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

With a stuffed pink kangaroo perched on the commissioners' dais, the Sanford Planning and Zoning board refused for a second time Thursday night to approve the site plan John Smith and architect Gerald Gross submitted for development of Lake Monroe marina property.

Gross, who called the P&Z a kangaroo court earlier this month, said he and Smith will ask the Sanford City Commission to override the P&Z's 5-3 denial.

"This is definitely not the end," Smith concurred after being told his 12,000 square foot retail proposal failed to meet P&Z development regulations.

In taking his case to the city commission, Smith is turning to the same body that awarded him the lease for the marina property in November and based its decision on the site plan he later presented twice to the P&Z.

Smith and Gross teamed up last fall to compete against Holiday Inn owner Ed Welch for the city lease. Based on site plans submitted, the commission selected the Smith-Gross project.

City commission approval, however, did not preclude Smith's coming before the P&Z for site plan review in order to

Star Of Sanford To Leave

The $2 million Star of Sanford cruise ship will no longer be plying the waters of the St. Johns River.

The Michigan-based Starline Corp., which has been operating the cruise ship out of Sanford since 1982, announced Thursday it had suspended operations here and is pulling up anchor and heading for Charlevoix, Mich. on April 1.

Not all of the 52 passengers booked for Thursday's cruise had been notified of the cancellation and some showed up only to be disappointed.

The Star of Sanford has been plagued with problems during the past year and competition from the Romance, a rival cruise ship, over the past eight months. The Romance is owned by American River Cruises. But according to Jim Wilmouth, director of marketing for Starline, the Star of Sanford was not losing money, but it was a business decision to move because they could do better

Housing Board To Pay Legal Firm One-Fifth Of Bill

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Following the recommendation of their staff attorney, the Sanford Housing Authority opted on a 2-1 vote Thursday to pay about one-fifth of a bill submitted by a legal agency that threatened to sue the authority.

Central Florida Legal Services of Sanford submitted a bill of $3,596.68 saying it was entitled to the attorney's fees since it prevailed in a squabble with the authority about free legal clinics on authority property.

The motion to pay the agency $750 passed with board chairman Alexander

Wynn III voting no. Wynn earlier said he didn't think the agency had permission to offer the clinics on housing property and after the authority tried to ban them and lost the battle he was "still not in favor" of the clinics.

The decision was made at the authority's regular meeting at the Castle Brewer Court Community Center in Sanford. Members present were Wynn, vice chairman Robert Frazier, and Velma Williams. William Long Jr. was absent and a fifth seat on the board is vacant following the resignation of A.A. McClanahan who disagreed with board members over various policies. That position is to be filled by the Sanford City Commission.

Authority attorney Ned Julian recommended the authority pay the $750, just a little more than the agency said it paid on documentation in the case. The rest of the money was in lawyer labor, 85 hours at $5 and hour.

Julian said there was no courtroom time involved and that a lot of work the agency did could have been done after they filed their suit, not before.

"In my opinion, I would offer $750 and if that is not acceptable let a judge decide," he said elaborating that he did not think a judge would award much more than that if the agency did contest the amount.

A representative of the agency was not present at the meeting nor could a spokesman be contacted earlier Thursday.

The payment issue grew out of a confrontation between the housing authority and the legal aid agency after the authority told the agency it could not hold free legal clinics on housing property.

The agency filed suit against the authority but withdrew their suit after the authority backed down on Julian's

Longwood Calls Special Meeting

A special meeting is scheduled for 4 p.m. today at Longwood City Hall for Longwood City Commissioners to choose a substitute for the applicant for the job of city administrator who withdrew his name on Thursday.

The commissioners plan to interview three finalists for the job. Contender William J. McGill of North Miami Beach dropped out of the contest Thursday because he took another job.

For now, Longwood Police Chief Greg Manning is also serving as City Administrator, although a state Attorney General's opinion recently said the dual role was illegal.

The city expects to name the new administrator by the first week in March.

NASA 'Bullied' Booster Rocket Builder, Mayor Says

BRIGHAM CITY, Utah (UPI) — NASA officials may have "bullied" four top shuttle rocket managers for Morton Thiokol Inc. into overruling company engineers and recommending launching the space shuttle Challenger, says the mayor of this company town. Mayor Peter Knudson said in an interview Thursday that, based on his discussions with several Thiokol employees who objected to the launch for fear of a catastrophe, it appeared "there was an initial rush to judgment" about launching the shuttle. "The concern here was that our people were bullied by NASA into going along with something," said Knudson. "If that's the case, it's unfortunate." Chief Thiokol spokesman Thomas Russell acknowledged that "there was not universal agreement among our engineers" on the recommendation for a launch because of concerns that unusually cold weather would affect the performance of crucial rubber seals in the rocket booster.

But he said the firm, which builds the solid fuel boosters, is "very comfortable" with the decision-making process by senior managers who "unanimously" gave the "go" for the Jan. 28 flight that exploded 73

Court OKs Roadblocks In Drunk Driver Search Even Though Privacy Violated

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Law enforcement officers can set up roadblocks and check drivers for sobriety without violating their constitutional rights, the Florida Supreme Court says.

Police roadblocks are an intrusion into a driver's privacy, the court noted in its order Thursday, but the need to keep drunks off the roads supercedes the inconvenience suffered by motorists. It ruled officers can use temporary roadblocks, provided they take steps to keep intrusion into drivers' lives to a minimum.

"The public must keep in mind that the privilege of driving an automobile over public highways does not amount to an absolute organic right," Judge Joseph Boyd wrote in the court's unanimous decision. "The state's compelling interest in protecting the public from drunk drivers outweighs any minimal intrusion into their privacy which a proper roadblock procedure might cause."

The court issued the ruling in response to an appeal by Ronald Dean Jones, who was charged with driving under the influence after he was stopped at a Tampa roadblock early in the morning on July 4, 1982. The court upheld the 2nd District Court of Appeal's decision to overturn Jones' lower court conviction because Tampa police violated his constitutional protection from unwarranted search and seizure.

Tampa police failed to pass a "balancing test" of public need versus private rights in Jones' case, the court said, but that does not mean all roadblock searches are automatically unconstitutional. Law enforcement officers can use roadblocks, the court ruled, if they:

- conduct searches according to a plan prepared in advance, and not at the whim of on-the-scene officers. Such a plan could call for stopping every car that comes along, or for stopping every other car, every third car, and so on.
- provide for the safety of stopped cars through adequate lighting.

Dream Auction A Winner

The dream of being a winning racehorse owner for a day spurred the top bids at Seminole Community College's scholarship fund-raising auction Thursday night.

A consortium of Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith and SCC dean Russell Moncrief were top bidders on feature prize offered in SCC's "Dream Auction '86". Their bid was $3,500. For that they'll get a chance at at least a $5,000 purse should their horse win.

Final tabulations on the total amount of money raised during the auction were not completed Friday morning, but SCC President Dr. Earl Weldon said, "There is every indication that this year's auction equalled and perhaps even surpassed last year's highly successful inaugural auction." Last year $100,000 was raised and it was the goal last night to meet or surpass that figure.

A sell-out crowd of 500 was on hand for the affair. State Representative Art Grindle, (R), Altamonte Springs served as auctioneer. The event was held at the Sheraton Malland hotel.

Horse owner Ron Worswick, CEO of Certified Slings in Casselberry, donated the race-winnings prize for the second consecutive year. Worswick has reportedly guaranteed the winning prize money to be $5,000 if his horse, "owned" for the day by Mrs. Smith and Moncrief, posts the win. The race will be at Tampa Downs, Feb. 27. Dr. James Sawyer said a contingent of 18 college representatives will

House Subcommittee Nixes All Aid To Philippines

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional support is rapidly mounting to cut off all U.S. aid to the embattled regime of Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos in spite of the administration's repeated urgings to proceed with caution.

A House Foreign Affairs subcommittee — including bitter critics of Marcos and veteran defenders of U.S. interests in the Philippines — voted unanimously Thursday to deny military and economic aid to Manila in response to charges that Marcos rigged the Feb. 7 presidential election.

Paul Wolfowitz, the State Department's senior official who deals with the Philippines, and Richard Armitage, an assistant secretary of defense, told the subcommittee that Congress and the administration must act cautiously on the issue — but in unity.

"We want to act in a way that moves things forward, not in a way that leads to violence and chaos," Wolfowitz said.

Rep. Stephen Solarz, D-N.Y., said the United States "is being played for a sucker" by Marcos because he is not enacting political, economic and military reforms but continues to accept some $230 million in aid each year.

"If ever there were an issue on which the United States should speak with one voice, it is the Philippines," Solarz said.

AIDS Risk Higher Than Thought

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The number of people likely to develop AIDS after being infected by the deadly virus appears much higher than previously estimated, leading one top researcher to warn against underestimating the disease.

A National Cancer Institute team revised its estimate upward after another year of monitoring the health of 276 homosexual men, hemophiliacs and drug users it has studied since 1982, said Dr. James Goedert, principal author of the study in the journal Science.

The chance of developing acquired immune deficiency syndrome among people infected with the HTLV-3 virus in those risk groups "is higher than previously thought," with rates ranging from 8 percent to as high as 34 percent, Goedert said in an interview Thursday.

The risk rate for most groups, he added, is 15 percent or higher.

Meanwhile in Kokomo, Ind., a teenage AIDS victim says he is eager to return to school today despite the protests of parents and fearful classmates who "might say 'hi'" — but nothing else — to the hemophiliac boy.

Parents have organized and taken legal action to block Ryan's presence at school.

Raging River Bursts Levee

LINDA, Calif. (UPI) — The raging Yuba River, swollen by rains that dealt $270 million in flood devastation to Northern California, smashed a 40-foot hole through an earthen levee, driving 19,000 shocked residents from their homes. The sudden break in the barrier at nightfall Thursday caught the farming communities of Linda and Olivehurst off guard. By midnight, the breach had widened to 100 feet, allowing tons of water a minute to race into residential areas.

Flu Epidemic In All States

ATLANTA (UPI) — Federal health officials say the worst flu epidemic since 1981 has now spread to all 50 states and claimed 830 lives last week.

The National Centers for Disease Control reported Thursday that flu and pneumonia deaths in 121 major U.S. cities for the week ending Feb. 15 represented the seventh straight week of increased mortality from those two respiratory ailments.

Teenagers Arrested In Murder Taped By Police Over 911

MIAMI (UPI) — A teenage girl and two boys have been charged with strangling her stepmother while a tape recorder on the city's emergency telephone line recorded the dying victim's screams for help.

Police Thursday said the murder plot was developed last month because Estelle Arwood's parents, who hit a Las Vegas slot machine for $250,000 in 1982, objected to her interracial romance with one of the suspects. They planned to kill both parents and run away together, using the girl's inheritance for support, said Homicide Sgt. Karl Robbins.

Vaughn Mitchell Robinson, 48, called the 911 emergency number, which automatically tape records all conversations, Wednesday morning.

"Help me," she gasped. "Go away, boy. You have no right in here. Get out."

"You could hear the woman choking and gasping for breath. Then there was silence," said police spokesman Reginald Roundtree.

Police rushed to the victim's home and found Robinson dead. There was no sign of the suspects.

Early Thursday, police arrested Robinson's stepdaughter, Estelle Arwood, 18, a high school student, and two unidentified 15-year-old boys.

MIA Wife Has Sleepless Night

PENSACOLA, Fla. (UPI) — A woman who refused to accept remains from Laos that the Army claimed belonged to her missing husband said she had a sleepless night after hearing a report he may be alive in Southeast Asia.

"I'm trying not to overreact," said Anne Hart, 43, who got several calls from people who read the United Press International story from Washington. "I am inclined to believe right now that there has been some confusion somewhere."

The story said Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas Hart was one of at least seven Americans that have been seen alive in Southeast Asia in the past dozen years. Hart's name came up in a hearing last month before the Senate Veteran Affairs Committee.

Deacon Goes Into A Dumpster

WEST PALM BEACH (UPI) — A deacon known as "Brother Joe" plans to live inside a trash dumpster until sundown Sunday to raise money to feed the impoverished people of the tropical island nation Haiti.

Joe Ranieri climbed into the empty gray dumpster at 7 a.m. Thursday and says he will climb out of the dumpster only to shower, change clothes or use the toilet.

Moslems Release Spanish Official

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — A Spanish Embassy security official left Beirut today, returning home after 32 days in captivity as Moslem fundamentalists claimed they killed a Lebanese Jewish hostage.

Officials said Spanish anti-terrorist police officer Pedro Sanchez was flown by helicopter to Cyprus with two Spanish envoys who mediated his release and that of Embassy Chancellor Asaad Abdo and Vice-Chancellor Gaspar Abdo — both Lebanese.

The Cyprus stop was the first leg of Sanchez's journey to Madrid.

Their release Wednesday coincided with the Moslem extremist Organization of the Oppressed on the Earth saying in a statement that it killed hostage Elie Hallak in revenge for an Israeli search in southern Lebanon.

The group, which has already killed three Jewish hostages, said it would not hand over Hallak's body until Israeli forces withdrew. Hallak, 52, was a doctor and vice-president of the Supreme Jewish Community Council in Lebanon.

The statement said Hallak, who was kidnapped on Feb. 21, 1985, was a "spy and Mossad agent."

The Mossad is Israel's external intelligence agency.

The three other dead Jews were found shortly after their killings were announced — the last on Saturday. The group claims to have another four Jewish hostages, while two more are also missing and believed kidnapped.

In another development, a caller claiming to speak for the Islamic Resistance movement said it killed Wednesday one of two Israeli soldiers seized Monday because the Israeli sweep had not stopped.

Sanchez and the two Abdos were handed to Spanish officials at the west Beirut home of Shiite Moslem Amal militia leader Nabih Berri.

Relatives of two Lebanese Shiite Moslems jailed in Spain for the attempted murder of a Libyan diplomat, Mohammad Rahal and Mustafa Khalil, kidnapped the men Jan. 17 and held the ambassador for a few hours in October 1984.

"We agreed to work out a way to study the cases of the two Lebanese jailed in Spain once the three are released," said Spanish Foreign Ministry spokesman Inocencio Arias. The Lebanese are serving 23-year jail terms.

"I do not discount that an agreement might be reached for them to serve their sentences in Lebanon," Arias said — as suggested by Berri. Arrangements for a possible transfer would take "more than a matter of a few weeks," Arias said.

In Beirut Wednesday, bank workers staged a one-day strike to protest the abduction of 11 bank employees Aug. 19. Some 2,300 Lebanese have been kidnapped during the 10-year civil war but most are feared dead.

Six Americans, four Frenchmen, a South Korean, an Italian and a Briton are also missing in Lebanon, having been abducted by gunmen.

Stockbroker Charged With Grand Theft And Forgery

A stockbroker who allegedly forged a client's name and took $10,400 from that man's account and deposited it into his own bank account has been arrested by Altamonte Springs police.

The victim, John Huggins, told police when he began doing business with the suspect the man was a representative of Dean Witter of Orlando, but in Sept. 1984 moved Huggins' account to his own newly formed company, Creative Investments, Inc., of Maitland, police reported.

The alleged theft was discovered in April 1985, police said.

Edmund C. Leavenworth, 47, of Orlando, was charged with grand theft and uttering a forgery at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, at 2528 Thicket Ridge Court, Longwood. He has been released on $1,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in court March 5.

Mary Doney was arrested Tuesday for allegedly trying to smuggle marijuana into the jail to inmate Raymond Bennett, 42, also of the same address, according to sheriff's reports. The car is valued at $2,000.

Gwendolyn Steele, 30 of 1825 Coolidge Ave., Sanford, told sheriff's deputies that as she was walking west on that street at about 10:40 p.m. Wednesday two youths approached from behind on bicycles. One distracted her by saying, "Hi," while the other grabbed her purse containing $203. Both suspects fled and Ms. Steele has given deputies the name of one suspect, a sheriff's report said.

A Sanford youngster was knocked unconscious Tuesday when he fell onto concrete at the Sanford Early Childhood Center at 801 E. 25th Street, according to a Sanford fire report. Firemen said the four year old was conscious when they arrived at the center, but that the youngster "had difficulty answering easy questions" they posed to him. The boy received a bump on his head from the fall, firemen said.

They reported that his mother was called to the center and said she would take the youngster to a doctor.

Eastern Pilots Take Strike Vote

MIAMI (UPI) — Eastern Airlines and its 4,500-member pilots union returned the bargaining table with a federal mediator today in hopes of averting a strike a company spokesman said would be "utter madness."

The talks resumed in a Miami hotel at 10 a.m. EST, a company spokesman said.

The pilots union, meanwhile, confirmed the union is counting authorization ballots in Washington for a possible strike that could come as early as midnight Tuesday.

Earlier, investment banker Eugene Kellen, an ALPA adviser, said the talks have reached a point where a wrong move "could be very dangerous."

Kellen, speaking to an AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting in nearby Bal Harbour

Wednesday, put the chances of a strike against Eastern at "50-50."

"I think there's still a fair amount of hope that it can be settled," Kellen said, "but as people have been saying for some time, it's easy to make a misstep ... and that misstep could be very dangerous."

But ALPA spokesman Don Sklados said Wednesday, "I think everybody's optimistic."

Eastern spokesman Jerry Cosley said the company had not decided whether it would attempt to fly a limited schedule, as United Airlines did last spring, if the pilots strike.

"The concept of a strike is utter madness," said Cosley. "We cannot believe they have any intention of striking."

A federally mandated "cooling off" period expires at midnight Tuesday and if no agreement is reached by then, the pilots are free to strike.

Eastern also faces a Feb. 28 deadline imposed by its creditor banks to trim labor costs or face technical default on its loans.

Cosley confirmed that Eastern has hired bankruptcy lawyers in case the company cannot meet its obligations and is forced to file Chapter 11 bankruptcy.

"We cannot ignore the fact Chapter 11 may be thrust on us in the future as a last resort," he said.

Eastern pilots staged informational picketing Wednesday outside terminals in 11 cities and Sklados said the union would take out newspaper ads in Atlanta and Miami rebutting an Eastern and blaming the company's financial problems on management.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: A California river overflowing with a record runoff from a weeklong deluge punched a hole in a levee and roared through the town of Linda, forcing nearly 20,000 people to seek shelter today in schools, campgrounds, Sikh temples and a military base. Rescue helicopters equipped with spotlights ranged over the flooded area early today and plucked some stranded residents from rooftops as crews worked to plug the 100-foot hole in the levee along the Yuba River with huge rocks. The 10,000 residents of Linda were ordered evacuated. The 9,000 residents of neighboring Olivehurst also were ordered to leave as a precaution, even though the town was free of floods as of late Thursday, state officials said. A flood warning was in effect to the south, in the farmlands of Yuba County. The raging water slammed through the levee Thursday night near a shopping mall, and much of the town of Linda was quickly under 4 feet of water, witnesses said. The initial opening was 14-feet wide, then grew to 100 feet. "People ran through the mall yelling, 'We had a break,'" said Paul Moore, who was at the Peach Tree Mall. "By the time I got out of there, water was lapping at the doors, and cars were half submerged in the parking lot." Hospitals reported treating only about a dozen people for minor injuries. Evacuated residents were taken to shelters set up in Yuba City, Beale Air Force Base and Wheatland. Area residents also reported flood refugees seeking shelter in other locations, including campgrounds and Sikh temples in Yuba City, Terra Buena and Live Oak. Some families became separated. "We got people looking for their folks," said Principal Daniel Barton of Britton Elementary School where a shelter was set up. One mother was heard screaming hysterically for her children in Linda before officials forced her to leave.

First Soviet Step Needs Repeating

The Soviet Union's release of Jewish dissident and human rights activist Anatoly Shcharansky increases both hope and concern regarding the thousands of his fellow Jews still being held captive by the Kremlin. Mr. Shcharansky — who spent nine years in Soviet prisons and labor camps on trumped-up charges that he was spying for the United States — may have been released as part of Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev's efforts to improve relations with Israel.

Moscow has been courting Israel — with whom it has not had formal diplomatic relations since the 1967 Middle East war — as a practical step toward increasing its influence in the Middle East. The Kremlin, however, at best gets mixed public relations value by allowing individual Jewish citizens to emigrate only when it feels it has something specific to gain.

Using human beings as political poker chips does not enhance Russia's human rights image with most citizens of the Free World.

Mr. Shcharansky — who was known as the "prisoner of Zion" — had become a symbol of those Jews not allowed to leave the Soviet Union. His tumultuous welcome in Israel, however, underscored the fact that many Soviets whose only crime is trying to emigrate are still being persecuted.

It was announced that one of Mr. Shcharansky's first orders of business now that he has escaped the Soviet Union will be to seek the release of other Jews.

Mr. Gorbachev could score a true public relations coup by allowing all Soviet Jews who wish to do so to emigrate. The Kremlin might be embarrassed by the exodus of Jews from its territory, but probably no more so than by the constant publicity over the years given to dissidents such as Mr. Shcharansky.

Mr. Shcharansky's wife, Avital, conducted a world-wide campaign for his release. The Soviet Union could have spared itself Mrs. Shcharansky's constant reminder that it discriminates against its Jewish citizens by releasing her husband years ago.

Mr. Shcharansky described Soviet authorities as "modern-day Pharaohs" and pledged that "on this happiest day of my life, I am not going to forget those whom I left in the camps, in prisons, who are still in exile or who still continue their struggle for the right to emigrate and for their human rights."

Israel Prime Minister Shimon Peres, who embraced Mr. Shcharansky as he arrived in Israel, pledged "an uncompromising struggle" to free more Soviet Jews.

The prime minister also joined the Shcharanskys in making a "thank-you" telephone call to President Reagan. "We thanked him for his tireless efforts out of a deep feeling for the Jewish people and an inner conviction that the Jewish people deserve to leave the Soviet Union," Mr. Peres said.

It's hard to imagine worse publicity for the Soviet Union, which should seriously consider letting all of its Jewish dissidents go.

Millions Go Hungry As Surpluses Grow

Farm surpluses side by side with world hunger have been a recurring paradox in recent years. Here at home, 25 million Americans go hungry while surpluses drive farm prices down, adding to the current economic problems of our farmers. Abroad, an estimated half-billion people suffer from hunger.

At the beginning of his administration in 1961, President John Kennedy was confronted with huge American farm surpluses that were depressing farm prices and costing the government a million dollars a day to store. At the same time, the new president had on his mind the faces of hungry Americans he had met in depressed West Virginia and other states during his primary election bid. He also worried about widespread hunger in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

The result of those concerns was two presidential executive orders in the opening hours of the Kennedy administration. The first called for a greater use of surplus American farm produce to feed the hungry at home. The companion second order created a new White House office called "Food for Peace," which I was asked to head with instructions to carry out a "maximum effort to narrow the gap between food abundance at home and near starvation abroad."

Armed with presidential authority, within a year we dramatically expanded the distribution of food to hungry Americans and were moving $2 billion in surplus produce to areas of hunger abroad.

That kind of effort is needed again now, and President Reagan should order it into effect after consultation with Congress. It is outrageous that one out of 10 Americans is hungry in a land where farmers are hurt by their own great productivity being piled up in unmarketable surpluses. It is equally outrageous that the United States and other food surplus nations are not pooling their surplus production more effectively to end world hunger.

More than a decade ago as a delegate to the World Food Congress in Rome, I proposed that the nations of the world reduce their military budgets by 10 percent and use the savings to end hunger through food assistance and improving agricultural methods in the developing world. Curiously enough, the pope and the Russian delegation made similar proposals, although there had been no advance discussion of the matter.

The idea was a good one a decade ago; it is an even better idea today as military budgets have escalated and world hunger remains.

I have just returned from a lecture tour in Italy — the country that hosts the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization in Rome. Officials I know there believe that the World Food Program that they direct could be greatly strengthened by the above formula.

If each nation cut its military spending by the same 10 percent, no country would be relatively weaker and, indeed, the cause of peace might be strengthened. If the billions in savings could then be used to purchase and distribute farm surpluses and to help improve agricultural methods in the developing world, our farmers would benefit from badly needed additional income and strengthened market prices while other farmers improved their capabilities. Our shipping and food handling industries would also benefit. And most important of all: We could end hunger at home and abroad.

This is an idea whose time is overdue.

Budget Debate Center

WASHINGTON (NEA) — To slash the deficit, President Reagan has proposed major cuts in scores of civilian programs in fiscal 1987 — but he would boost military and defense spending over the next five years.

Reagan's budget must cut the deficit to no more than $144 billion to prevent the automatic triggering of cuts required by the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings law. His proposal would save $25.6 billion next year by slashing, freezing and eliminating many civilian programs, but it would increase spending by 15.9 percent for defense and 37.8 percent for the military over the next five years.

Reagan has proposed a $320 billion military budget that would dramatically increase space and defense spending and would keep virtually every other major weapons program intact. The plan includes a boost of nearly 6.2 percent in actual outlays for the Defense Department (to $274.3 billion). It also contains a $311.6 billion budget-authority request, which includes long-term funds to buy ships, planes and missiles — an increase of 11.9 percent.

This means that almost all of this year's budget debate will center on the defense budget. It will be an acrimonious debate, and charges and countercharges already are flying between the Pentagon and its critics.

The administration's point man in the Pentagon budget battle is Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger. Weinberger is making an emotional pitch: He says that the trillion-plus-dollar defense modernization that Reagan began five years ago is still far from complete. If the Pentagon gets 1 cent less than it has asked for, he says, the nation will be virtually defenseless in the face of the massively growing communist threat. Weinberger has explicitly stated that any congressman who votes for less is a wimp, a Soviet dupe, or both, and that such a vote will be welcomed with glee by Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev and his general staff.

Most on Capitol Hill aren't amused to have the issue debated in these terms, nor are they happy with some of Weinberger's statements and budget projections, which critics say are flat-out fabrications.

Wealthy Friends Rush To Laxalt's Defense

By Jack Anderson
And Joseph Spear

WASHINGTON — Sen. Paul Laxalt, R-Nev., is financing a libel suit against the Sacramento Bee with the help of a star-studded group of contributors, ranging from a cosmetics queen and a former secretary of state to Barbara Walters' fiancé.

In response to a fund-raising appeal by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., last year, 94 donors kicked in a total of $263,300 to Laxalt's "Legal Expense Trust Fund." By law, the maximum contribution was $5,000.

Laxalt, who is President Reagan's closest friend on Capitol Hill, sued the Bee for $250 million after it ran a story in 1983 charging that "substantial sums of money were illegally skimmed" from a Carson City casino Laxalt owned before he was elected to the Senate in 1974. The story, by Pulitzer Prize-winning reporter Denny Walsh, quoted unidentified Internal Revenue Service sources as saying they "did not know whether Laxalt himself knew of the scheme."

Entrepreneurial Spree

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The brouhaha over the leadership of the campaign to restore the Statue of Liberty illustrates the dark side of allowing the "private sector" to perform functions that are properly the government's responsibility.

There is no justification for allowing the renovation of one of the country's premiere patriotic symbols to be controlled by insensitive entrepreneurs seeking to commercialize the venture to produce a profit for themselves and their corporations.

But that is precisely what has occurred. In great measure because the federal government under President Reagan's leadership has promoted the myth that it cannot be as efficient or as economical as non-government entities.

Thus, the Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation, Inc. was to provide an outstanding example of the "volunteerism" the president espouses by collecting all of the money for the restoration without any federal financing.

Both the propriety and legitimacy of that arrangement are dubious at best. The Statue of Liberty is a national treasure that for decades has been entrusted to the National Park Service, a component of the Interior Department that has faithfully fulfilled its protective mission.

The initial estimates of the cost of the renovation ranged from $15 million to $20 million — hardly a heavy burden for the department to bear, even during a period of fiscal restraint.

Instead, the fund-raising task was assigned to the foundation, headed by Lee Iacocca, the irrepresible board chairman of the Chrysler. Iacocca also was selected to lead the Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Centennial Commission, a federal advisory commission, until he was removed from the post by Interior Secretary Donald P. Hodel.

Iacocca transformed a modest rehabilitation project into a commercial extravaganza. The cost of the work on Liberty Island increased to $85 million, while an ambitious restoration program on nearby Ellis Island was added to the foundation's responsibilities. The overall cost rose to more than $230 million.

That total included $45 million for fund-raising, management and administrative expenses — including salaries for a bloated staff of more than 100 people and generous payments to a variety of consultants.

Most notable in that latter category was $50,000 per month paid to a Connecticut marketing firm whose specialties in the Reagan administration include lining up corporate sponsors for two annual events on the White House lawn, the Easter egg roll and the Independence Day celebration.

The key to the foundation's commitment to Reagan's ideals of "private sector initiatives" and "volunteerism" was Iacocca's formal pledge that "there will be no government funding contribution."

But only a few days before he was dismissed by Hodel, Iacocca came to Washington to receive from Treasury Secretary James A. Baker III a government check for $24 million payable to the foundation.

Promotional materials distributed in connection with that public ceremony described the check as constituting the "largest single source of funds contributed to the foundation."

Computer Detects Diabetes

By United Press International
College women
and contraception

More than 66 percent of today's college women say they are sexually active, yet many are uninformed about contraception, according to results from a national Gallup survey.

While most of the students surveyed use the pill, the most effective means of birth control available, they still believe many age-old myths about methods of contraception and sometimes take risks, the survey states.

Almost 32 percent believe early withdrawal is an effective means of birth control, over 20 percent believe it is dangerous to have sex during menstruation and nearly half think incorrectly that condoms come in different sizes.

According to the survey, 75 percent of the college women who have had sex had their first sexual encounter while still in high school. Of those active, 59 percent use the pill.

Detecting diabetes

A new computerized test can identify people at risk for diabetes long before the disease develops.

The technique, designed by scientists at the University of Southern California School of Medicine, uses a computer to simulate the body's metabolism.

USC researchers say tests of the method indicate the computer model can detect indications of the pre-diabetic state that are too subtle for standard diagnostic methods.

Biophysicist Richard Bergman, who headed the research team that developed the computer program, says early detection opens new possibilities for treatment aimed at forestalling or preventing diabetes.

Prior to the computer program, telltale signs of the pre-diabetic condition could be obtained only by using complicated laboratory techniques.

The computer model is ideal for people at high risk for adult-onset, or Type II diabetes. Bergman describes potential victims as obese or some women on birth control pills which for some unknown reason exacerbates pre-diabetic conditions in certain people.

fund, Laxalt benefited from a favorable interpretation of a Senate Ethics Committee regulation. It allows establishment of such a fund "to defray the costs of legal proceedings of any nature ... provided that such proceedings relate to or arise by virtue of the service of the member in or to the Senate."

The skimming allegation reported by the Bee occurred before Laxalt was a senator, but the Ethics Committee thought it significant that the newspaper story was published after he took office. The committee also reasoned that the story wouldn't have been printed if he hadn't been a senator.

Laxalt's daughter Michelle sent out a fund-raising letter over Goldwater's signature early last year to "about 100 very close friends" of her father, she told our associate Tony Capacelo. She stressed that despite her father's prior positions as head of the Reagan-Bush re-election campaign and general chairman of the Republican Party, the fund raisers did not seek access to either organization's mailing lists.

Federal Election Commission records for the 1983-84 campaign period show the following donors to Laxalt's libel lawsuit fund:

- Estee Lauder, the cosmetics tycoon, $500
- Ex-Secretary of State Alexander Haig, $1,000 (his only political contribution in 1983-84).
- Merv Adelson, chairman of LORIMAR Telepictures and fiancé of ABC News star Barbara Walters, $5,000. (Adelson and another $5,000 donor, Las Vegas developer Irwin A. Molasky, have good reason to appreciate the cost of bringing a libel action. As developers of Rancho La Costa Country Club, they and co-owner Morris "Mo" Dallitz spent 10 years and thousands of dollars in a suit against Penthouse magazine, which had alleged links between their posh Southern California resort and organized crime.)
- Delbert W. Coleman, $5,000. He was described in the Bee article as "a freewheeling Chicago financier (who) had been identified as a mob associate." Laxalt has said Coleman introduced him to financing sources for his casino.

- Officers of the Valley Bank in Las Vegas, $15,000. (The bank provided some early financing for Laxalt's casino.)
- Dallas developer Trammel Crow, $5,000.
- Beer baron Joseph Coors and his wife, $5,000.
- Roy M. Cohn, New York attorney and former chief counsel to the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, $5,000.

- George Klein of Park Tower Realty, New York City, $5,000.
  - Investment banker Ivan F. Boesky and his wife, $5,000.
  - Textile manufacturer Roger S. Milliken of Spartanburg, S.C., $5,000.
  - New York real estate man Lewis Rudin, $1,000.
  - Houston oilman Robert Mosbacher, $1,000.
  - Real estate magnate and New Jersey Generals owner Donald Trump, $1,000.
- Footnote: For several of the donors, the money they gave to Laxalt represented only a modest part of their 1983-84 contributions to various political causes.

Graham Proposed $15.99 Billion State Budget

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham proposed a $15.99 billion state budget for the 1986-1987 fiscal year Thursday that includes $46.8 million in new taxes and fees.

The spending plan asks the Legislature for new initiatives to fight terrorism and AIDS; build more prisons and replace a troubled prison hospital; set a statewide minimum for teacher pay of $18,000 per year and create a career ladder system; and rank the state university system salaries among the 12 best systems in the United States.

The budget would also provide staff to respond within 24 hours to the 115,000 child abuse complaints expected during the fiscal year; help senior citizens maintain their independence; increase the number of state-assisted day care slots; and improve nutrition and medical care for pregnant mothers.

The budget proposal also includes a $140 million "rainy day" fund — an amount equal to 2 percent of the proposed general revenue fund.

In a cover letter to lawmakers, Graham said the budget is a response to the growth of Florida's population by some 290,000 people over the past 12 months plus similar increases anticipated next year. He said the influx will increase demands on Florida's police, prisons, roads, schools, social service programs and environment.

Graham said the plan does not take into account the as yet unknown effects of the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings plan to balance the federal budget. He said he will submit revisions to the plan before the Legislature convenes April 8.

Graham's tax requests include a reprise of the 8-cent cigarette tax hike that he suggested last year contingent on a proposal to cut the federal tax by a like amount. Graham said Florida should go ahead with the increase regardless of what the federal government does, to raise an estimated $101.7 million.

Graham also suggested taxing cigarettes sold on Indian reservations to non-Indians, to raise $7.5 million.

To raise money for education, Graham proposed a two-tenths mill property tax increase. He said the increase will amount to $10 per year for owners of $75,000 homes that qualify for the $25,000 homestead exemption.

Local school boards already have the option of imposing the tax. Graham would impose the increase state wide and allow the school boards to authorize additional local option increases of the same amount.

Graham also proposed raising the fee for reinstating a suspended or revoked driver's licenses from $15 to as much as $125. He called for improvements in tax collection and enforcement that he said would raise $21.5 million.

Graham's proposals for spending the extra cash include:

- $2 million for a super SWAT team to fight terrorism, intercede in hostage dramas, and help local police track organized crime and drug smuggling.
- $3.8 million to oil the wheels at the state's driver's license offices.
- $7.8 million for automated systems to track criminals, investigate crimes and aid local lawmen.
- $14 million for new prisons, including $6.6 million to replace the main prison hospital at Lake Butler, where investigators from a federal court say inmates have died from neglect.

- $205.5 million to improve teacher pay, including $11.6 million to provide state base teacher salaries of $18,000; and $34.9 million to expand the master teacher program into a five-rung career ladder system.
- $8 million to fight acquired immune deficiency syndrome, including $5.8 million for a model AIDS treatment center at Miami's Jackson Memorial Hospital.
- $18.2 million in services to Florida's elderly, including $1.8 million to help senior citizens maintain their independence.

Jail Time For Leaving Accident

An Oviedo man who pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of an accident involving property damage and resisting arrest without violence was sentenced to 50 days in jail and fined $750.

John Henry Scanlon, 33, of 1080 Laurel Oaks Court, was also ordered by Circuit Judge Kenneth M. Lefler to serve a year of probation, complete 50 hours of community service, pay court costs. Lefler also suspended Scanlon's driver license for 6 months. In addition to the guilty pleas, Scanlon pleaded no contest to driving under the influence.

According to court records, Casselberry police caught Scanlon after he fled from the scene of an accident in which he was involved on U.S. Highway 17-92 in Casselberry Oct. 12.

Police reported witnesses at the accident scene described the suspect's vehicle and police spotted and pursued the car from Lakeview Avenue, to 17-92, to State Road 436 and back to 17-92 where police forced the vehicle, which at times was driven without headlights on, to stop.

In other court action: —John Homer McCaw, 19, of no permanent address but lives in Altamonte Springs, was sentenced to a year in the Seminole County jail and a year of probation for slugging a former classmate at a party. Circuit Judge Robert McGregor also ordered McCaw to pay $645 in restitution to Thomas Perkins, the man he bashed while at a party at 206 Marin St., Altamonte Springs. The incident occurred in August. According to witnesses, Perkins greeted McCaw by saying "Hi" and McCaw responded by punching Perkins in the mouth twice. McCaw was pulled off Perkins by Michael Sawyer of 632 Sherwood Drive, Altamonte Springs, and McCaw turned on him before running away. He was arrested a short time later at Cumberland Farms, on State Road 434, in the same city. He pleaded guilty in October.

—William Daniel Huggins, 29, of 103 Christina Drive, Apopka, arrested in November, has pleaded guilty to grand theft. He entered the plea before Lefler who set March 21 for sentencing. According to court records, Huggins was charged with the grand theft Nov. 14 of a $771 lawnmower from a fenced compound at Deep South Inc., of Forest City. Huggins was named as a possible suspect by employees of the business. Huggins could receive up a year in the county jail when sentenced.

—Ronald Dean Bell, 18, of Denver Col., was sentenced to a year in the county jail and 5 years of probation for grand theft. He was sentenced by Lefler. The judge also ordered Bell to pay a $1,000 fine, restitution, and gave him credit for 122 days served. Bell was arrested in October after Altamonte Springs police stopped him behind a closed business in that city. The motor of the car he was in was running but there was no key in the ignition. Bell claimed he borrowed the car and that the owner had turned it on, then taken the key. After checking his story, the police learned the car was missing from the home of Judy Prince, of 514 Orange Drive, Altamonte Springs. In searching the vehicle, police discovered the car had been hot wired and contained burglary tools.

—Charles Dexter Willis II, 28, of 2100 Howell Branch Road, Winter Park, arrested in November on a charge of possession of cocaine. He has pleaded guilty to possession of a controlled substance and could receive up to a year in the county jail when he is sentenced by Lefler April 10. According to court records, a Seminole County sheriff's deputy who saw a hitchhiker staggering along State Road 436 in Casselberry in November and stopped when he noticed the man drop something. The deputy retrieved the bag from the ground and determined it contained cocaine whereupon Willis was arrested.

—Patricia Ann Graffius, 23, of 803 Richbee Drive, Altamonte Springs, arrested in December on charges of resisting arrest without violence, battery to a police officer and DUI. She pleaded guilty to DUI and was sentenced to 1 year probation, 100 hours of community service, DUI education classes, and had her driver license suspended for 6 months. She was arrested after reportedly running a red light on Lake Mary Boulevard. She reportedly cursed and fought with police and after arriving at the jail threw a glass of water on a policeman and slapped his face.

—Gerald Dion Moye, 22, of 840 Bay Ave., Sanford, arrested in November charged with possession of cocaine and possession with intent to distribute. He pleaded guilty to possession of a controlled substance and could receive up to a year in the county jail when sentenced by Lefler March 18. He was arrested after causing a disturbance at a gas station over paying for $29 worth of gas. While police were there, they noticed seeing what they believed was contraband in the man's glove box while he was looking for identification. They saw a prescription drug bottle and several small foil packets. He reportedly passed one of the packets to an officer who opened it. It held cocaine. —Deane Jordan

U.S. District Judge Alcee L. Hastings tells those that filled the Allen Chapel AME Church in Sanford Sunday the black community has made impressive strides in the professional field and must continue to strive for excellence. Hastings pointed to the political, medical and legal fields to illustrate his point and told young people a college education is the first step toward following these examples. He also said successful Sanford natives who have left the city should consider returning to serve as role models for local youth. Hastings was at the Olive Avenue Church for a special observation of Black History month. # WORLD IN BRIEF

Senior Officer Says Philippines Military Situation Unstable

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — The newly named head of the armed forces asked President Ferdinand Marcos to freeze last-minute promotions to key military positions, warning that the situation was "very unstable."

Lt. Gen. Fidel Ramos issued the warning as Corazon Aquino, accusing Marcos of stealing the Feb. 7 presidential election from her, asked envoys of 14 European nations and Japan to snub his inauguration next week.

Aquino's vice presidential running mate, Salvador Laurel, urged Philippine soldiers today to disobey "immoral and illicit orders of a dying regime."

Meanwhile, a senior trade negotiator with a rank equivalent to that of deputy minister has resigned over the conduct of the Feb. 7 presidential election, trade ministry sources said today.

Jaime C. Gonzalez, president of the government's Philippine International Trading Corp., is the first senior technocrat to resign since President Ferdinand Marcos' disputed re-election.

"The events during the past week have led me to conclude that the values represented by the present administration are incompatible and irreconcilable with those that my family and I hold sacred," Gonzalez said in a letter to the Minister of Trade and Industry.

"I regret in conscience I can no longer discharge my duties," he said.

Korea Defection Sparks Warning

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI) — A Chinese air force pilot defected to South Korea today in a Chinese-built MIG-19 jet fighter, sparking an air raid warning in Seoul.

Defense Ministry spokesman Lee Hung-sik said two North Korean jets tried to intervene when the Chinese aircraft defected but were turned back immediately by South Korean military jets.

The one-seat Chinese aircraft, Lee said, entered South Korea's western air space at 2:26 p.m. local time and the pilot signaled he wanted to defect by waving the wings of the aircraft, authorities said.

South Korean air force jets that intercepted the plane escorted it to a military base where it landed 15 minutes later, Lee said.

Lee disclosed no other details but one government source said the Chinese plane landed at Suwon Airbase, 30 miles south of Seoul.

During the defection, two North Korean jets were spotted moving southward south of the port of Haegu, in North Korea 75 miles northwest of Seoul. But Lee said the two planes turned around when the South Korean fighters "took swift counter-measures," Lee said.

Reagan Reconquers Grenada

ST. GEORGE'S, Grenada (UPI) — President Reagan swept across the tiny island of Grenada like a conquering hero in the second U.S. invasion in three years, this time a peaceful one.

During his four and a half hour visit Thursday to the 133 square-mile island, Reagan saw cheering crowds eager to thank him for the Oct. 25, 1983 U.S. military action that ousted a Marxist regime in the throes of a bloody power struggle.

In an ironic twist, Reagan dedicated a plaque for the brand new Point Salines airport. Cuban President Fidel Castro probably would have had the honor if not for the U.S. invasion.

Cuban workers were instrumental in building most of the airport, which the United States completed, using some Cuban equipment left behind. Cuban-trained workers and another $20 million.

Resistance To Israelis Builds

BEIRUT (UPI) — Advancing Israeli armored troops and helicopter gunships poured rocket and shell fire on a southern Lebanese village to counter the stiffest resistance yet to their search mission for two captured comrades.

At least one Israeli soldier and eight guerrillas were killed Thursday as Israel pressed the search for a fourth day despite Moslem fundamentalist claims they already "executed" one of the captives.

Elsewhere in Lebanon, six people were killed and 14 others wounded as pro-Syrian gunners pounded Christian areas with shells and rockets Thursday and attacked troops loyal to President Amin Gemayel.

Iran Says Iraq Killed Civilians

BAGHDAD, Iraq (UPI) — Iran accused Iraq of shooting down an Iranian airliner, killing at least 40 people — including eight members of Parliament and a top aide to the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

Iraq denied it downed any Iranian civilian planes. But the Paris-based Iranian exile group Mojahedin Khalq — which has sources among Iranian military officers — described the downed plane as a military transport and said it took off from the Doshan Tappeh air base in Tehran.

Willie Sings To Prince Of Wales

AUSTIN, Texas (UPI) — Country-western singer Willie Nelson, in jeans and a red bandana, sang "Whiskey River" to the Prince of Wales whom he described as a nice guy with a terrible job.

"He strikes me as a very, very nice guy," said Nelson after the prince stopped to speak and shake hands before a special concert program Thursday night. "But he has an awful job. I don't envy it, all that socializing and everything."

seconds after blastoff, killing a crew of seven.

"I don't think that NASA brought any pressure to bear," Russell said.

"Anything they said did not affect our decision-making process."

One top Thiokol engineer, Allan MacDonald, refused to sign off on the launch at the Kennedy Space Center in Cape Canaveral, Fla., and Russell said it was senior managers who gave the approval in a tense meeting on the night of Jan. 27.

Knudson's comments and a report by National Public Radio heightened the speculation that National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials may have pressured the managers to overrule their own engineers worried about the O-ring seals.

Knudson said the company's data showed the seals, required to keep hot gas and flame from escaping through the joints, would not perform if temperatures were below 42 degrees. The temperature at launch time was 38 degrees.

NPR quoted an unidentified Thiokol engineer as saying he was so worried about the performance of the O-rings that, on the eve of the launch, "I kept having fantasies ... that at the moment of ignition, the shuttle would blow up instantly."

Meanwhile, faced with evidence that Challenger was wrongly cleared for flight, the new head of the space shuttle program promises to ensure NASA's launch decision procedures work properly before a shuttle flies again.

"This tragic accident is going to cause a review — and if nobody else does it, I will — to make sure that the organization and the process that NASA has is proper," Rear Adm. Richard Truly said in Washington.

"If there are appropriate changes to be made to that process, we will all consider them and put them into effect."

Truly, who left the National Aeronautics and Space Administration 2 1/2 years ago to head the Naval Space Command, took over the NASA shuttle program Thursday vowing to find and correct the cause of Challenger's explosion Jan. 28.

Truly, 48, commanded

Challenger during an August 1983 flight.

NASA's acting administrator, William Graham, also promised that any flaws would be remedied.

"Undoubtedly something was not right in this process or in this launch, perhaps technically, perhaps procedurally, perhaps somewhere else," Graham said.

elsewhere.

The Star of Sanford only recently moved its executive offices, ticket sales and a gift shop to a new $150,000 building at the Port of Sanford. Prior to that the operations were housed at a small temporary building near the new 4,000 square-foot building.

It was forced to move to the Hidden Harbour Marina at the Port of Sanford in May 1985 from Monroe Harbour Marina where it had been docked for two years before being evicted for failing to give written notice that it wanted to renew its lease. The operator of the Marina had charge the ship with damaging facilities.

The Star of Sanford's firm had to pay $5,000 in November to the State Department of Environmental Regulation in a settlement over dumping raw sewage into the river.

obtain a building permit, according to Planning and Engineering Director Bill Simmons.

Earlier this month, the P&Z tabled the site plan that Smith and Gross proposed for development of the 1.3 acre property. Their project calls for five to seven shops to be housed within a 12,000 square foot glass enclosed building.

The P&Z, however, said on Feb. 6 it would not consider approval until city staff could determine the project's impact on the already heavily utilized marina lot.

Gross followed up the ruling by calling the P&Z, among other things, a kangaroo court and its vice-chairman Brent Carlil an egotist. P&Z Chairman John Morris began Thursday night's meeting by placing the stuffed kangaroo on the dais.

Carlil, who bore the brunt of Gross' earlier criticism, spent almost 45 minutes questioning the project. His queries ranged from whether boat trailers would be able to maneuver in the municipal lot in front of the Smith project to where Smith intended to locate a dumpster and whether he planned "to ask tenants to walk 440 yards to throw their garbage in it."

According to Morris, the major reason for the refusal was the project's "obviously adding to problems in an already congested area."

The P&Z also questioned Smith's having planned development for shorefront property not included in his lease.

When asked about the inclusion, Smith said he had "made a commitment to the city commission to improve the area."

He said the city property would be developed as a public area for swimming and boat launching once the retail shops had been completed.

Carlil, however, said he had "difficulty accepting a private developer using public land."

The P&Z acknowledged that Gross had been able to improve the entire lot's parking by upping its spaces to 196 from 158. The figure is higher than the 162 city staff had come up to comply with the P&Z's traffic study request.

However, according to P&Z member Jay Malone, "You could draw lines all day long, but in reality you'll never have enough to handle the overcrowding that's already there."

"If we approve this, we'll have a problem we won't be able to solve," Carlil added.

The P&Z's motion on the project was provided by member Sheila Roberts. She sided with the plan on the grounds that it "has already been approved in concept by the city commission and will benefit the City of Sanford and its citizens."

The motion was seconded by Eddie Keith and supported by Darrell Grieme when put to a vote.

Morris, Carlil, Malone, Gary Davidson and John Long voted in opposition.

After the meeting Smith said the city commission "went with the plan because they felt it would be a nice positive step for the community."

"I still feel it is and I'm not giving up," he said.

advice and allowed the agency to continue the clinics.

Julian told the board at that time that he thought a judge would side with the agency and allow the clinics.

After the resolution, the agency withdrew the suit but submitted a bill to the authority for costs it said it incurred during the short-lived litigation.

Julian said that under federal statute the prevailing party in an action can receive attorney's fees and he thought the authority was under some obligation to pay the agency for some expenses.

In other action, the authority voted to write off $1,827.63 in uncollectible unpaid rent by former tenants, increase the salaries of a maintenance clerk and a modernization coordinator by $1,500 each, and have Julian investigate various ways of lowering the authorities landlord insurance.

Last year the authority paid $16,729 for insurance coverage and the policy is due to expire in April.

The new premium is $28,825. "How come that make such a big jump without any claims," asked vice chairman Frazier.

Housing Authority executive director Elliott Smith said insurance premiums were rising for all housing authorities.

Julian said the insurance companies have been losing money with governmental customers and have jacked up the premium prices.

Julian is to review the insurance policy to determine if the authority can make a partial payment and change companies should it find a better deal. He is also to advise Smith on self-insurance options, an insurance method now used by the Seminole County School Board.

The authority postponed approve of its physical 1987 operating budget because of needed discussion about salary structure for authority employees.

Smith told the members that the salary system should be reviewed because some employees were going to be at the maximum salary allowable within two years.

Also to be discussed is budgeted travel expense of board members.

Wynn said the $5,000 allotted was not enough if the members go to two scheduled meetings, one in Kentucky and the other in Chicago. Smith said there should be no problem in rearranging budget monies to accommodate such costs.

The budget involves $764,100.

It is tentatively set to be discussed during a workshop meeting of the authority Wednesday.

The authority was also invited to attend a banquet in honor of John Cooks who made Eagle Scout. The banquet is March 2, at Goldsboro Elementary School at 5 p.m.

Authority members are scheduled to attend a joint Sanford City Commission and housing authority meeting March 3 at 7 p.m.

travel to the track for the event.

The seven-day, eight-night dream trip to Hawaii, valued at $3,500, went to highest bidders June and Harry Reynolds of Altamonte Springs. Their bid was $2,700. The prize, donated by Petros Lake Mary Travel, includes round trip air fare from Orlando to Waikiki and lodging at the Sheraton Princess Waukailani.

"We can't thank this community enough," Weldon said after the auction. "Central Florida demonstrated a level of generosity and warmth to Seminole Community College which will never be forgotten."

"We wish to thank the hundreds of individuals and businesses who demonstrated their support by donating in larger numbers than ever before. Their unprecedented efforts have assured that our scholarship fund will continue to serve the deserving students of our community. We are all grateful and very proud."

Summers' FTs Cut Short SCC Miracle

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Seminole Community College's Raiders needed a miracle Thursday night. They got the first six letters but Santa Fe's Mike Summers wasn't about to let go of the seventh.

Trailing Santa Fe's Saints by 17 points with 4:10 to play, the Raiders unleashed a furious 18-2 spurt which pulled them within 79-78 with just 50 seconds to play.

At that juncture, however, Summers emerged from the chaos. He was the glue that held together Santa Fe's rattled attack. It was a glue built on determination more than anything. Summers said he wanted to win just as badly as the five young men who engineered the near-miracle comeback of three minutes prior.

With the game on the line, Summers got the ball on the left wing and took it to the hoop. SCC's Carl Poellnitz tried for the charge but was called for a blocking foul. Summers went to the line for a one-plus-one with 250 screaming Raider fans trying to rearrange his composure.

"I knew we needed them and I tried to be cool," Summers said.

True to his word, he was too cool for the Raiders. Summer dropped both free throws for a three-point lead with 44 seconds to go and two fast breaks later Santa Fe celebrated an 85-78 victory over Seminole in the Division II Playoff Championship game Thursday night at the SCC Health Center.

Santa Fe, 23-8, will begin state-tournament play next Thursday at DeLand's Stetson University. The Saints join Mid-Florida Conference champion Florida Junior as the two Division II representatives.

"You better be a whole lot better than him if you're going to beat him. He wants to win just that much."

The Raiders, who had beaten the Saints twice in close games during the regular season, weren't better Thursday. Playing without power forward Greg "Slim" Johnson (injured knee), SCC couldn't match up inside with 6-10 John Yonge, 6-5 Rodney Rush and the springy 6-2 Summers. The trio combined for 64 points and 27 rebounds. Summer had a game-high 25 while Rush tossed in 20 Yonge added 19.

The Raiders had three players in double figures, too, but Vance Hall's 18, Tony Roberts' 14 and Darris Gallagher's 10 didn't compare to the Saints' frontline.

SCC hit just 33 of 81 field-goal attempts for 41 percent. They made all 12 free throws but didn't

Maryland Surprises Tar Heels

United Press International
Big victories often elicit extravagant statements, and following Maryland's 77-72 overtime upset of No. 1 North Carolina, Terrapins coach Lefty Driessel gushed praise for Len Bias.

"He's the best player in the nation, not one of the best, but the best," Driessel said. "He proved that tonight."

"It's the greatest performance I've ever seen. I've had players score 50 points for me, but I've never seen an exhibition like that. He did everything."

Bias scored 35 points, including the game-winning basket, and blocked the Tar Heels' final shot with 15 seconds remaining.

"They're a good team and we're a good team," Bias said. "Don't take anything away from us. We're a good team too, and people are going to have to stop underrating us now."

Bias gave Maryland, 15-11 overall and 4-7 in the ACC, a 73-72 lead in overtime. With less than a minute remaining, North Carolina's Brad Daugherty intercepted an inbound pass, but Bias rejected a driving shot by Kenny Smith on North Carolina's final possession.

Keith Galtin hit 2 free throws with seven seconds left, then scored the game's final baskets with six seconds remaining.

"Bias made some tough shots," Tar Heels coach Dean Smith said. "There's no defense when he's on the free-throw line."

Brad Daugherty led the Tar Heels, 25-2 and 9-2, with 23 points and Kenny Smith added 12.

In overtime, Joe Wolf, who scored 15 points for North Carolina, hit the front of a 1-and-1, but missed the second shot. Tom Jones sank a jumper to put the Terrapins up 71-70, their first lead since the first half.

With North Carolina leading 69-67, Smith missed the front of a 1-and-1 and Maryland's Jeff Baxter, who finished with 10 points, connected on a jumper with four seconds left in regulation to force overtime at 69-69.

Galtin had 10 points and Derrick Lewis added 10 points and 10 rebounds for the Terrapins.

The Tar Heels led 68-59 with 2:58 to go in regulation when Bias scored on a dunk, then stole the ball from Daugherty for a second dunk.

"We had a 9-point lead, then they scored to cut it to 7. They stole the inbound pass, which I thought was the key," Dean Smith said.

Bias hit a jumper with 48 seconds left to cut the lead to 69-67. Baxter followed with a 20-foot jumper for the tie.

"The ball club played with poise," Driessel said. "I've never seen our kids so happy."

"I'm proud of our team in many ways," Smith said. "I don't think the layoff had an effect on us."

The last time North Carolina played was Feb. 12, at Clemson.

Elsewhere in the Top 20, No. 8 Michigan lost to Michigan State 74-59. No. 12 Bradley downed Drake 88-79 and No. 14 Indiana nipped Illinois 61-60.

At Ann Arbor, Mich., Darryl Johnson scored 16 of his 26 points in the second half to help Michigan State upset Michigan for the second time this season. The Spartans improved to 18-6 and 9-5 in Big Ten. Michigan dropped to 22-4 and 10-4.

At Champaign Ill., Steve Alford scored 24 points to help Indiana move into the lead in the Big Ten. Indiana went scoreless in the first four and last five minutes. The Hoosiers improved to 18-5 and 10-3.

At Peoria, Ill., Mike Williams registered 26 points and 9 rebounds to enable Bradley to claim the Missouri Valley Conference regular-season crown. Bradley, which tied a school record by winning its 18th consecutive game, raised its overall record to 27-1 and its MVC record to 14-0. Drake fell to 17-7 and 9-4.

In other games, it was: Temple 72, St. Bonaventure 63; Louisiana State 74, Vanderbilt 68; Old Dominion 58, William & Mary 47; West Virginia 68, Massachusetts 40; Purdue 85, Ohio State 79; Arkansas State 82, Lamar 76; Houston 77, Baylor 70; Northern Arizona 86, Weber State 64; and Texas-EI Paso 64, Colorado State 61.

Streetman, Hutchins Build Success On Discipline

Just the discipline alone in a sport is enough to make an athlete a better competitor and a better all-around person.

The Lake Brantley Patriots and the Lake Howell Silver Hawks' wrestling squads have one of those few gifted personalities on their team. Coincidentally, they are both team captains and team leaders. The Pats have 136-pound Dan Streetman and the Hawks have 116-pound Roger Hutchins.

Streetman, who is a senior at Lake Brantley, claims a 19-4 season record and is always there with crucial points and takedowns when the Pats need them. Not only is Streetman a gifted athlete, he is also a very talented student.

"School means a lot to me," Streetman, who has already been accepted at West Point, said. "I think wrestling helps my school work because it makes me a more disciplined student."

Streetman, who is in the top five percent of his class and has maintained a 3.9 grade point average through four years, is more than determined to take his place on the state squad, hopefully with a couple of others from his team.

"I'm going up there with one thing on my mind and that's winning," Streetman said. "I have a lot of potential. It's just if I can wrestle up to it or not that will determine if I go on (to state)." The top four finishers this weekend qualify for the state meet at Lyman High School next week.

Lake Brantley coach Kevin Carpenger said Streetman has learned a few things about wrestling and life that have made him more determined in his quest for a state finish.

Chuck Burgess

"I used to play football and basketball and wouldn't come out of the game until halftime," Streetman said recollecting his junior high days. "I thought to myself that six minutes on a mat with another guy wouldn't be that tough, so I tried wrestling."

"When I got on the mat and the match was over, I had a new perspective on things. I saw wrestling as a challenge and went after it. I really like it now and I can even go six minutes without getting too tired."

Streetman is a team leader by position, but he doesn't throw his rank around like a Jim McMahon or a Muhammad Ali. He's more of the silent leader that is always there to get the job done.

"He leads by example and is also active in suggestions and things we do in practice," Carpenger said. "They (Streetman's teammates) realize that he is dedicated and has a drive that won't stop and they respect him for it."

Drive, determination and discipline are the keys for this Lake Brantley senior class president. Streetman thinks that this year's training and a not so tough district may push him over the top and finally break into the winner's circle at this weekend's Region 1 Wrestling Championships in Jacksonville.

"All year long I liked to try and push myself and the team just that one inch farther than we've gone before," Streetman said. "We have this joke that after practice we all say 'no water, no water.' Then we all help roll up the mats and go home. It seems to work us harder."

On the other side of the county, Hutchins stands alone on the mat wondering what his capabilities really are. Coach Joe Corso thinks that Hutchins may not be a shoo-in, but he has just a good shot of making the state team than anyone else.

"I don't think that he'll just make it. I think he's going to win

Mary Controls Boards, Ousts Howell, 64-47

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

LAKE MARY — Lake Mary's Lady Rams could have gift wrapped the backboards Thursday night and presented them to coach Bill Moore on his 43rd birthday.

Although there would have been a problem with the boys game to follow, it would have been an appropriate gift because the Lady Rams owned the boards in a 64-47 victory over Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks in the first round of the 4A-9 District Tournament before 201 fans at Lake Mary High.

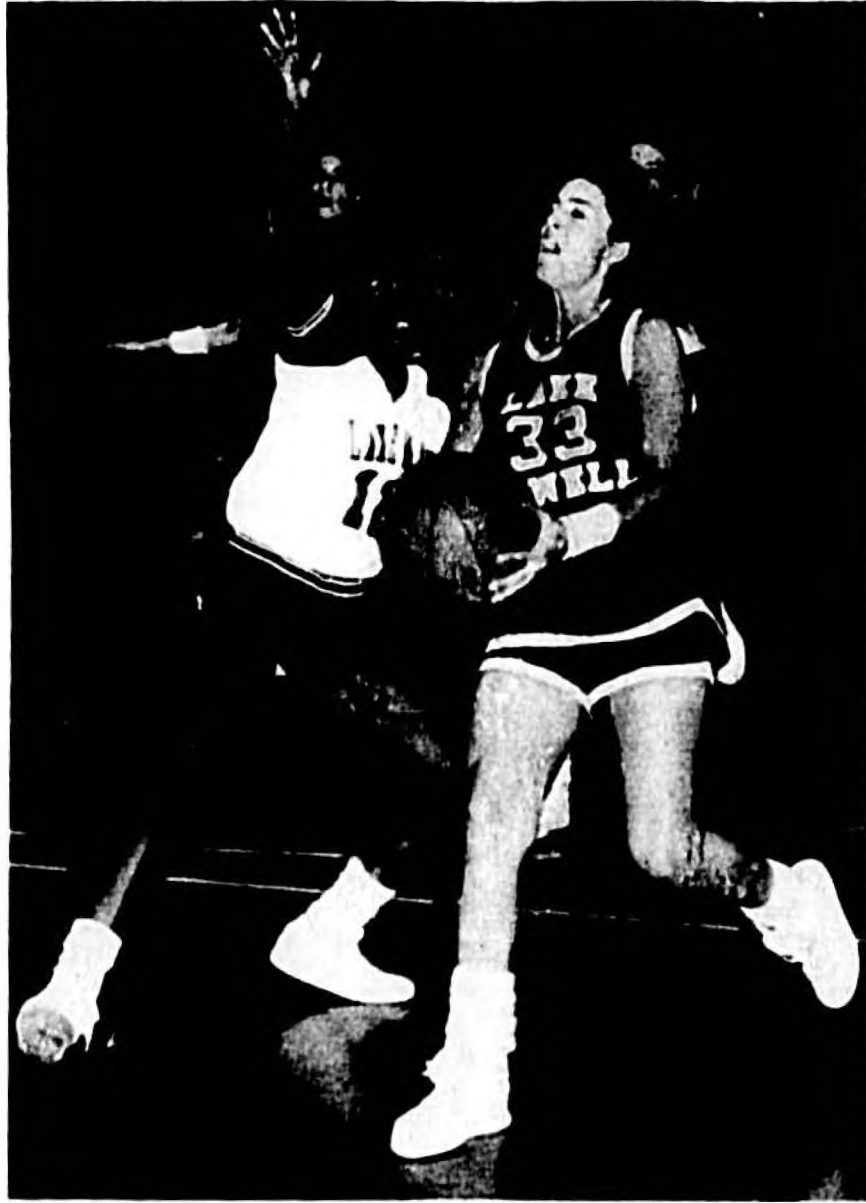

The scene shifts to Daytona Beach tonight as Lake Mary advances to the second semifinal game (tipoff at 8) against Lyman's Lady Greyhounds at Mainland High School. Lyman advanced with a not-too-impressive 47-42 victory over Daytona Beach Mainland.

The Lady Rams hit the boards hard Thursday as they outrebounded Lake Howell, 59-44. Teri Whyte, a 6-4 sophomore, hauled down 18 rebounds while junior forward Cynthia Patterson ripped down 13 to go with her game-high 19 points. The guards even got on the boards as senior Heather Leckie grabbed eight caroms and senior Karen DeShetler seven.

"All the kids did a good job on the boards," Moore said. "Teri (Whyte) did the job the first half and had plenty of help the second half."

Behind Patterson's 19 points for the Lady Rams, Whyte and junior guard Tonya Lawson tossed in 12 apiece while Leckie and senior point guard Anquetette Whack contributed six each.

Lake Howell, which had a terrible night shooting from the floor, was led by Tammy Lewis' 15 points. Jolee Johnson added 10 points and seven rebounds but junior guard Erin Hankins was held to just six points, eight below her average.

"Our zone defense had its best movement of the season," Moore said. "Lake Howell had very few easy shots and the girls held them to one shot most of the night."

Much of the way in the first, that first shot by Lake Howell was off the mark. The Lady Hawks made just 7 of 37 shots from the field (19 percent) in the half while Lake Mary hit on 14 of 27 (52 percent).

Lake Mary connected on six of its first seven shots of the game to take an early 12-4 lead. The Lady Rams led by 10, 24-14, after one quarter.

Lewis hit the first five points of the second quarter to pull the Lady Hawks within 24-19, but Lake Mary came back with eight straight for a 32-19 lead midway through the period. The Lady Rams went on to build a 13-point lead, 38-25, at halftime.

Johnson had the hot hand for Lake Howell with eight points in the third quarter, but the Lady Hawks could come no closer

Seminole Turns Back DeLand; Faces Creek

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Seminole High's Lady Seminoles had a lot going against them Thursday night. The Lady Tribe, which should have played at home for its first-round game, was forced to play on the road because of a boys' game at Seminole. And it wasn't just another road game — it was DeLand.

The last time Seminole went to DeLand it turned in one of its worst efforts of the season. But the Lady Noles proved once again Thursday night that when the entire team comes to play, they are very hard to beat.

Yolanda Robinson and Temika Alexander combined for 27 points, and Kim "Big Wheel" Johnson hit 3 of 4 free throws in the late going as Seminole eliminated the Lady Bulldogs, 52-45, in 4A-9 District Tournament play at DeLand High.

Creek's Lady Hawks who pulled off the only upset of the first round with a 76-68 victory over third-seeded Lake Brantley. In that game, Spruce Creek's Kim Hill pumped in 45 points. Tonight's games will be played at Daytona Beach Mainland High School.

"We're going to have to throw a fence around her (Hill)," Seminole coach Charles Steele said. "She scored 25 the last time we played them so we have to keep the ball out of her hands as much as possible."

Robinson, a junior center who has been rather silent for Seminole the past few weeks, led the Lady Seminoles Thursday night with 14 points on 6 of 9 shooting from the floor and she also pulled down 10 rebounds. Alexander, a senior point guard

Oviedo Rips Bishop Moore

Six players scored six or more points Thursday night as Oviedo's Lady Lions soundly thrashed Bishop Moore's Lady Hornets, 59-15, in the first round of the 3A-6 District Tournament at Leesburg.

The Lady Lions advance to the semifinals where they will take on Orlando Jones tonight at 8. In the first semifinal game, St. Cloud battles Leesburg at 6:15.

Oviedo, which shot 28 of 49 (57 percent) from the floor, was led by Michelle Eck with a game-high 12 points while Stephanie Nelson and Jodie Switzer tossed in 10 apiece. Bobbie Kelly added eight and Julie Umphenour and Suzanne Hughes contributed six each.

"It was our best night shooting the ball," Oviedo coach John Thomas said. "And that was good news since we'd been down in the 20's and 30's for so long. I hope we can do it again in the semifinals against Jones."

Leading the Lions underneath Thursday was Kelly with eight rebounds. Umphenour had a good all-around game with seven boards and four assists while Nelson added six rebounds and four assists.

Lyman Girls Have 'Old Score' To Settle

By Chris Pieter
Herald Sports Writer

Lyman's Lady Greyhounds have accomplished everything possible the past two seasons. They've won a state title and compiled an incredible win streak of 46 in a row to name a few.

You might think getting fired up after game is pretty hard for the Lady Greyhounds. But a second consecutive state championship is fueling the Lyman fire and the Lady Greyhounds will have an added incentive tonight when they open play in the State Girls Soccer Tournament at Coconut Creek.

Lyman, 22-0 this season, was last beaten in the state finals in 1984 by Coconut Creek, at Coconut Creek.

"The girls kind of have an old score to settle," Lyman coach Tom Barnes said. "Most of them played on that team two years ago and remember the loss to Coconut Creek. First though, we have a tough semifinal game and the girls are not looking past that."

Lyman goes up against South Plantation, the team that the Lady Greyhounds beat in last year's semifinals, tonight at 6 while the other semifinal game has host Coconut Creek battling Largo.

Lyman is coming off an impressive 5-1 victory over Gainesville Buchholz in Monday's Section 1 playoff. Senior forward Dawn Boyesen, who has been on fire in the playoffs, scored two goals in Monday's victory while senior forward Sheila Mandy, senior midfielder Alyson Barnes and sophomore forward Randi Huddleston also scored.

While the scorers know what to do when they're in position to score, the people who set up the offensive threats are also doing excellent work for Lyman. Senior midfielder Nancy VanVoorhis and sophomore midfielder Bonni Steeves don't score a lot because they do most of the setting up.

"You don't hear a lot about them (VanVoorhis and Steeves) but they are very important to our game," Barnes said. "Nancy (VanVoorhis) has been consistent all season and Bonni (Steeves) has played exceptionally well since the district tournament."

Defensively, junior sweeperback Karen Abernethy is the nucleus. Abernethy's booming kicks also add to the offensive attack as she had three assists in the district win over Lake Brantley. Barnes said anytime Abernethy pushes past midfield, she is a threat to score.

Junior Diana Boyesen has also been instrumental for the Lady Greyhounds on defense this season, particularly the past few games with Stacey Roy out with an injury. Laura Russell and Maye Belle Bryant are also solid defensive performers.

Anchoring the defense at goalkeeper is senior Lisa Chatman who is playing her third game tonight coming off a broken hand. Chatman played well in the game against Buchholz especially in coming out of the goal to take away scoring threats.

With Chatman in the cage, Lyman has also been able to move Kim Mitchell back to her forward spot, making the offense even more dangerous.

ALL-STATE SELECTIONS — The 1985-86 All State Girls Soccer team was selected Thursday and three Seminole County players were honored. Lyman seniors Sheila Mandy and Alyson Barnes and Lake Brantley sophomore Reenie Deaver were the first-team selections. Lake Mary junior Kelley Broen was selected first alternate while Lake Brantley sophomore Julie DeRusso was second alternate. Only an All-State First Team was selected.

SPORTS

IN BRIEF

'Noles To Honor Senior Parents In Regular Season Final Tonight

Seminole High's boys' basketball team will close its regular season tonight by honoring its parents in a home game against the Oviedo Lions. Tipoff for the junior varsity game is 6:15 p.m.

Jerry 'Stick' Parker

Coach Bill Klein said the parents will get in free and sit as a group. The mothers of the two Seminole seniors — Mike Wright and Rod Fossitt — will receive flowers.

"It should be a nice way to close the regular season," Klein said. "We'd like to get another win before beginning the district tournament."

Seminole, 15-8, wrapped up the Seminole Athletic Conference last week. The Tribe will be without starting guard Jerry "Stick" Parker, who has a lower tract infection. Klein said it's a "possibility" Parker could return next week.

Wright will start in his place along with guard Andre Whitney, forwards Fossitt and Rod Henderson and Craig Walker. Oviedo counters with high-scoring Al Unroe, Robb Hughes, Mark Stewart, Terry Campbell and either Garth Bolton or James Walker.

In one other SAC game tonight, Lake Brantley travels to Lake Howell.

Lake Mary Shuts Out Colonial

Lake Mary's Rams ran their record to 5-1 Thursday with a 7-0 rout of Colonial's Grenadiers in prep tennis action at Lake Mary High.

Shea Whigham got the match rolling with an 8-3 victory over Colonial's Chris Brown at number one singles and Trey Seibold won by the same score over David Burr at number two. The Rams then took three straight by the score of 8-1 as Mike Renaud downed Paul Allum, Steve Hopwood, Charlie Larson and Tom Boyesen thrashed Rayce Robinson.

Lake Mary also swept both doubles matches as Whigham-Seibold upended Brown-Allum, 8-1 and Renaud and H.T. Bennett blanked Burr-Robinson, 8-0.

In additional matches Thursday, Lake Mary won four more times as, in singles, Dave Sheridan thumped Erik Isaac, 8-2, Brian Harris routed Larry Cutcher, 8-0. In extra doubles, Ho-Boysen defeated Isaac-Larson, 8-1, and Sheridan-Harris whitewashed Cutcher-Cutcher, 8-0.

Lady Rams Net Fourth Victory

Lake Mary's Lady Rams rolled to their fourth win in five outings Thursday with a 7-0 victory over Colonial in prep tennis at Colonial High School in Orlando.

In singles, Susie Stewart topped Amy Barlow, 8-1, Lori Crayton squashed Cindy Alligood, 8-1, Erin Higgins ripped Ann Robbins, 8-0, Heather Bennett blanked Kristi Rowley, 8-0, and D'Ann Haynes destroyed Adina Gelnowski, 8-1.

In doubles, Stewart-Crayton hammered Alligood-Shelly Camline, 8-0, and Higgins-Bennett routed Robbins-Rowley, 8-0.

Coach Susan Wheelchel's girls trek to Edgewater Tuesday.

Lloyd Wins Marathon, Match

BOCA RATON (UPI) — Chris Evert Lloyd and Kathy Rinaldi, southern Floridians with similar baseline styles, locked in a 42-stroke tie-breaker point that helped decide the first set and probably the match.

Evert Lloyd, the top seed, won the marathon point with a backhand and then coasted in the second set Thursday en route to a 7-6 (8-6), 6-1 victory in the semifinals of the $1.8 million Lipton International Players Championships.

Steffi Graf advanced to a final showdown with Evert Lloyd by using pinpoint passing shots from the baseline to frustrate Helena Sukova's aggressive net game in a 6-2, 6-1 semifinal triumph.

PGA: Trixler, Delsing In Front

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Dennis Trixler has earned $959 in 1986, slightly more than the value of a set of golf clubs used by many of the PGA Tour's best players.

Luckily for Trixler, many of the Tour's best players and their clubs are absent from the $450,000 Los Angeles Open.

"It's a nice feeling, but I know it's a 72-hole tournament," Trixler said Thursday after shooting a 5-under-par 66 to tie Jay Delsing for the lead after the first round of the 60th Los Angeles Open.

LPGA: Inkster's 67 Leads Classic

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Juli Inkster, who claims patience is not one of her virtues, showed signs steps taken to correct that flaw are working.

Inkster overcame a three-putt bogey midway through her round Thursday to shoot a 5-under-par 67 and grab the first-round lead of the $250,000 Turquoise Classic.

Renaud-Bennett Won Doubles Match

In Tuesday's doubles competition of the Lake Mary and Trinity Prep boys' tennis match, the team of Mike Renaud and H.T. Bennett defeated Trinity Prep's Golomb-Golomb, not the team of Renaud-Ho as was reported to the Herald.

Hitters Ahead Of Hurlers?

Tuttle Amused But Pantelias, McCullough Sing Blues

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

The hitters are supposed to be ahead of the pitchers when baseball first breaks in the spring. Oops, that's winter in Florida. That theory won't get any argument from coaches Jack Pantelias, Allen Tuttle and Bob McCullough.

All three have watched touchdowns, field goals and extra points light up their scoreboards during the past two weeks. Lake Mary's Tuttle has been watching with a smile while Pantelias and McCullough haven't been as amused.

The trend continued Thursday as Lake Mary pounded Leesburg, 23-0, while SCC fell to Brevard, 12-5, and Lyman dropped its third in a row, 11-5, to Boone.

"We missed an extra point but we did kick a couple of field goals," Tuttle joked.

The victory was the eighth consecutive for Lake Mary. The Rams will go after their ninth tonight at 7:30 against Lyman. The game concludes Lyman's Preseason Invitational Tournament.

Sean Flaherty handcuffed Leesburg on three hits while struffing out four and walking two during his 4 1/2 inning stint. Lake Mary scored seven in the first, eight in the second, six in the third and two in the fourth as the game was stopped due to the 10-run rule.

Mike Pinckes was the big RBI man for Lake Mary, driving in six runs with a homer and a single. Mike Schmit drilled his second homer of the year and also chased home three runs. Brett Molle hammered his second homer and plated four runs. Mike Smith rapped a solo homer.

Shane Letterio and Billy Jenkins drove in two runs while Anthony Laszalc and Neal

Baseball Roundup

Harris each had one ribbie. Harris and Jenkins each rapped a pair of singles. Lake Mary benefited from 13 walks, too.

Pantelias' Raiders, who travel to Miami for games with Dade South Friday and Saturday, continued to get strong offensive support from sophomore Mike Songini but the pitching staff continued to run for cover.

Songini hammered a double and his third homer while driving in three runs. Leonard Thigpen also singled in two runs and Eric Given drilled a two-run later.

All went for naught, however, when Brevard, 8-3, broke a 4-4 tie in the fifth on Pat Harding's homer and then wrapped up the win with a five-run ninth inning. SCC fell to 3-5.

"We worked with out hitters and fielding," Pantelias said. "Now, we'll have to start working with the pitchers."

Pantelias has done his homework with Songini. The red-shot shortstop has 15 hits in 30 at-bats. "Half of them must be for extra bases," Pantelias said. "Now, if we can just get some pitching."

Lyman, meanwhile, is looking for some mound support, too. The 'Hounds led Boone, 2-0, before the Braves erupted for seven runs in the fourth inning against loser Kevin Oswald and reliever Byron Overstreet. The Braves tacked on four more in the fifth to put the game out of reach. Four Lyman errors aided the demise.

Lyman coach Bob McCullough is looking for some mound support. Mark Whittington, left, gets the call tonight's 7:30 contest at home against powerful Lake Mary.

and one in the fifth. Freshman Chris Radcliff and Chris Brock singled to set the table for Darren Boyesen in the third. Boyesen rifled a double to right center to chase home both runs.

In the fifth, Brock, who had a homer and two singles, clubbed a solo roundtripper to deep center. Boyesen and Overstreet followed with singles and John Burton came up with a base hit to right to score Boyesen.

McCullough said Mark Whittington will try to check the powerful Lake Mary bats tonight.

Maiolini Likes Numbers — Are Rams For Real?

By Chuck Burgess
Special to the Herald

The 4A Region 1 Wrestling Championships hit the mat today with a large number of the competitors being from this area. As a matter of fact, there are 41 matmen that will be representing Seminole County.

"I'm glad to see so many people from this area getting a chance to compete in a meet like the regionals," Seminole grappling coach Glenn Maiolini said. "It's going to help wrestling in Seminole County immensely and it will be good for every team."

The first round begins at 2 p.m. and the second round is at 6 p.m. The top four finishers this week qualify for next week's state meet at Lyman High School.

The Seminoles are only taking a handful, plus one, to the tournament but two familiar names lead the way. Troy and Tracy Turner will head the Seminole roster and will step onto the region mat in a not-so-freshman-like way. Troy finished second last year while Tracy was fifth in the state meet. "They've both been there before and they know what's going on," Maiolini said. "Troy will probably be the one to beat at 159 and Tracy needs to get things together upstairs (mentally) if he's going to be a major threat. I think they'll both wrestle like Turners should wrestle — great."

The remaining lineup for the 'Noles includes Sheraton Mays (109), Cecil Scarbrough (130), Randy Bryant (224) and Derrick Butler (UNL). Scarbrough gets the most respect of any Seminole wrestler, according to Ram coach Doug Peters.

Scarbrough took on the undefeated Matt Broberg at the district meet and gave the more dominant Ram the match of the season.

The Rams have stuck with the wrestling this year and have wiped up the mat with anyone and everyone in their way. To their credit they have a 13-1 dual meet record, a Seminole Athletic Conference title and a district title.

The big question concerning the Rams is are they for real?

Last year the Rams went along much the same way they have this year and ran into a big goose egg on the scoreboard at the state meet. And all of this came from an undefeated team that took 11 guys to the state tournament.

Wrestling

This year, Peters would like a strong showing in the region to carry over to the state meet and erase last year's embarrassment.

"I think last year with our undefeated season we had to get some experience from the state meet," Peters said. "It's tough to go all that way and wind up with nothing. But now we've got 12 guys going and most of them have been there. So, the experience and the will power are both there for a state championship."

The Rams are the favorites once again in the region. They ended the regular season ranked fifth in the state and have only lost to the Colonial Grendallers by three points two weeks ago.

"It's tough going to the state meet undefeated," Peters said. "We've had our loss and it left a bitter taste in our mouths. We didn't care for the taste too much and we're not going back for a second bite."

Fielding the most wrestlers from the county, the Rams will have Jeff

Johnson (102), Craig Johnson (109), Enrique Carbia (116), Rob Richards (123), Matt Broberg (130), Tom Olson (136), Bill Richards (142), Scott Ross (149), Tony Lavelle (159), Brad Goeb (171), Au-Bronce Martin (HVY) and 400-pound Troy Jackson (UNL) qualified.

For the Lyman Greyhounds, it has been a year of seconds. Second in the conference and second in the district have been the 'Hounds' only setback this year.

However, the Greyhounds have a pair of undefeated grapplers who haven't even been challenged this year. Chad Dubin (116) and Pat Perkins (224) have both waltzed through the season with unblemished marks at 22-0.

The rest of the field for Lyman consists of Kevin Garrett (102), Eddie Campbell (123), Anthony Carullo (142), Victor Navarro (149), Chris Waxler (159), Benny Glenn (171), Greg Hartman (189) and Jimbo Smith (HVY).

The Lake Brantley Patriots follow the suit of third place. The Pats finished behind the Rams and the 'Hounds in both the SAC tournament and the district tournament.

Dan Streetman is the best chance of a regional win for the Pats. Streetman has a 19-4 record this year and is the team captain of the Patriots.

The Patriots have a tough 102-pounder in Dan Roth and 109 Kevin Greenstein should do well. Troy Lewis will be seeded well after his district win at 189 and the Patriots will travel to Jacksonville with eight bags packed.

Others hoping to advance to next week's state finals at Lyman High School are Chris Hall (130), Jay Stainer (142), Jeff Petersen (224) and Eugene DeVaney (HVY).

The smallest, but one of the deadliest teams to trek to the next step to the state meet will be the Lake Howell Silver Hawks. The Hawks' nest of five will compete in a more close-knit environment.

Roger Hutchins, the Hawk captain who lost one of the closest matches of the season a week ago, will lead the Silver Hawks, but Chris Cina at 123 and David Figler at 130 are two county standouts to watch out for in the regions.

The two other Howell matmen who round off the small band are Nat Hoskins (130) and Bill Innanen (142).

who scored just two points the last time the two teams met, pumped in 13.

Senior forward Catherine "Kitty" Anderson was held to a season-low nine points but she had a good all-around game with 10 rebounds, five assists and five steals. Johnson, a senior forward, contributed eight points and 11 boards while freshman guard Adrian Hillsman added six points, five assists and five steals.

C.C. Hayden led DeLand with a game-high 20 points and Shawn Lane added 14 but no other Lady Bulldog scored more than four.

"DeLand came out fired up tonight and played us a good game all the way through," Steele said. "But my girls played better as a team tonight than they have in a long time."

The Lady Seminoles jumped out to a 12-9 lead after one quarter but DeLand came back to outscore the Tribe, 16-11, in the second quarter for a 25-23 halftime lead.

Seminole came back to take a 35-32 lead after three quarters and Steele said the entire fourth quarter was back and forth. "We didn't pull away until 40 seconds left when Kim (Johnson) hit a couple of big free throws," Steele said. "It was anybody's game up until then."

HILL BURNS BRANTLEY

Spruce Creek's Kim Hill was a player possessed Thursday night and no matter who Lake Brantley's Patriots put on her, they could not exercise the heady-shooting demon. Hill scored 31 of her career-high 45 points in the second half as the Creek upended third-seeded Lake Brantley, 76-68, at Lake Brantley High.

"We're going to have to throw a fence around her (Hill). She scored 25 the last time we played them."

— Charles Steele

"She (Hill) couldn't miss anything," Lake Brantley coach Cindy Frank said. "I put different people on her but she kept hitting nothing but net all night. She had to shoot around 80 percent and almost all of it was from the outside."

Although Hill was burning up the nets, the Lady Patriots were still in the game in the fourth quarter. Brantley, down by 11 after three quarters, had pulled within six with three minutes left to play when senior leader Sherry "Ice" Asplen went down with an injured ankle. The Lady Patriots could not pull themselves back together after losing their leader in scoring, assists and steals.

At first, Frank said it looked as if Asplen's foot may have been broken but she was taken to the hospital for X-rays which showed she had a sprained ankle. Asplen missed out on the semifinals of the district tournament last season with a sprained ankle.

"After we lost Sherry (Asplen) I tried to get the kids to foul because they weren't shooting that well from the line," Frank said. "But the kids who had fouls to give didn't do it soon enough."

For the Lady Patriots, Ashley Thomas was high with 17 points while Asplen tossed in 14 and Laurie Rivers and Kim Wain added 11 apiece.

Timeko Harris added 14 points for the Creek and Sabrina Williams hit 11.

Tribe Trips 'Crabs; Lyman Routs Rams

By Chuck Burgess
Special to the Herald

Coach Bill Klein's Fighting Seminoles played their best defense of the year Thursday night as they handed the Seabreeze Sand Crabs a 49-40 setback in prep basketball action at the Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium.

"It was the best game of the year," Nole coach Bill Klein said. "Not because of the score, but because of our defense."

The Seminoles, after being behind for most of the first half, the Seminoles caught up when the score reached 40 apiece. Then Klein's defense came to town. With 2:00 left in the game, Craig Walker took over.

Walker, who poured in a team-high 11 points and crashed the boards for a game-high 12 rebounds, blocked five shots in the last two minutes as the 'Noles ran off nine straight points to sew up the win.

"Walker was really something on defense tonight," assistant coach John McNamara said. "He was swatting everything that got near him."

To start the nine-point spurt, Andre Whitney hit a jumper from 18-feet. Walker made two free throws with 1:30 remaining to give the Slammin' Seminoles a four-point lead and Whitney ripped in another jumper from the top of the key.

Ending the last minute scoring frenzy, Rod Henderson and Joe Holden each had a field goal. Henderson, who pumped in eight points of his own, sank his jumper at the buzzer.

"It was a very slow game the whole way," McNamara said.

PHILPOTT SPARKS 'HOUNDS

In other prep basketball action on Thursday, the Lyman Greyhounds used 20-point plus games from T.J. Scaletta, Vince Florence and Ralph Philpott to destroy the Lake Mary Rams, 87-77, at Lake Mary.

Philpott, who poured in 23 points and crashed the glass for a game-high 18 rebounds, was the story on the night, according to Greyhound coach Tom Lawrence.

"He was something out there tonight," Lawrence said of the senior center Philpott. "He made some spectacular plays under the glass and some shots fell for him that were just unbelievable."

The Greyhounds fell behind early as the Rams Ray Hartsfield hit 15 of his game-high 25 points in the first half to help the Rams to a 41-37 halftime lead. Hartsfield not only scored for the Rams, but he dished out eight assists and played a little defense with six steals.

After the first two periods, the Greyhounds went strictly to a man-on-man defense that put the Rams in the whole, according to Ram assistant coach Mac Blythe.

"We played well early," Blythe said. "But they went to that man-to-man fullcourt pressure and we got into severe foul trouble. (Oscar) Merthie and Eric (Czernejewski) got into early foul trouble and we were playing a lot of patch-up people."

LYMAN (87) — Moulton 4, Thomas 4, Scaletta 20, Florence 25, Marshall 7, Radzick 6, Philpott 23, Newton 1. Totals: 31-21-34-87.

LYMAN UPENDS MAINLAND LONGWOOD

— LaTanya Johnson hit 6 of 7 free throws in the late going Thursday night as

"We looked horrible. If we don't play any better against Lake Mary than we did tonight, we'll get beat by 50."

— Dick Copeland

Lyman's Lady Greyhounds avoided the clutches of upset-minded Mainland for a 47-42 victory.

"We didn't play to our capabilities at all," Lyman coach Dick Copeland said. "We looked horrible. If we don't play any better against Lake Mary than we did tonight, we'll get beat by 50."

Johnson was high for Lyman with 16 points followed by senior Kim Forsyth with 15. Denise Stevens and Kim Boyle contributed six each.

Kacie Kemmer poured in a game-high 17 points and Lisa Welch pumped in 14 to keep the Lady Bucs close throughout.

Mainland actually led through three quarters, taking a 22-20 halftime lead and 30-29 after the third period.

it," Corso said of Hutchins' chances at the regional meet. "He's been improving with each match and he's starting to really look good. He has a good shot at taking it all."

Hutchins, like Streetman, is a dedicated team leader. Also the captain of his squad, Hutchins took a great match at the district meet and almost beat Lyman's undefeated Chad Dubin. Hutchins lost 4-2 in a somewhat controversial match.

"He had one takedown that the refs didn't give to him," Corso said. "I don't know why, but he's had three close matches all year long. He's only been beaten badly one time and lost three matches by less than four points."

Hutchins, who holds a 22-4 record this year, hasn't decided what college he'll be attending after he graduates from Lake Howell. However, all of that is in the future and the region meet is what he's concentrating on right now.

"He's got all of the skills he needs to win the region meet," Corso said. "He's a good team leader and a great individual. He sat out after his freshman year, but he's wrestling like he never left the mat now."

Hutchins isn't one of those bulky, strong-looking wrestlers, but he has all of the weapons that a great grappler needs, according to Corso.

"He's really not that strong," Corso said. "But he makes up for it in other areas. He's got real good technique for a small guy and he really relies on his speed and technique."

After all of the smoke clears from the region meet, one thing is certain. Dan Streetman and Roger Hutchins will stand above the rest. Not just their athletic achievements, but their leadership on the mat.

get enough foul-line opportunities to offset Santa Fe's 21 of 30 accuracy. The Saints also shot well from the field, 32-63 for 51 percent.

"Summers hit the big free throws and he had seven offensive rebounds the first half," SCC coach Bill Payne said. "I'm sure he had that many the second half. We missed 'Slim's' 11 rebounds (per game average) tonight."

Seminole finished with a fine 26-7 record. "It's been a long time since anyone has won 26 games around here," Payne said. "It's a shame for this group of kids to lose. It's the nicest group of kids I've ever coached. They just want to win so bad."

Thursday's frustration was the fourth near miss in as many years for Payne. In 1983, the Raiders lost in the title game to Florida Junior. In 1984, they were upset in the final by Valencia. Last year, they lost a one-pointer to Central Florida in the semifinals.

"State is just another place. We had a helluva year," he said. "We just can't get that final step. But the kids are a lot tougher than the coach. They'll bounce back."

They bounced back with gusto with a little over four minutes to play. After a Summers' steal and two free throws gave the Saints a 77-60 edge with 4:10 to go, SCC ran off eight consecutive points on buckets by David Gallagher, Mike Landell, James Morris and Poelintz to pare the deficit to 77-68 with 2:35 to play.

Drost called a timeout but it didn't matter. Santa Fe threw the inbound pass to SCC's Darris Gallagher but when he tried to find wide-open Efram Brooks underneath, he fired it out of bounds.

Roberts then fouled Rush and he cooperated by missing the free throw. Landell then fired in a jumper from the corner and Roberts drew a charging foul to retrieve possession with 2:07 left.

Landell connected again from long range to cut the lead to 77-72. Sama Fe's John Graham then threw the ball away and Morris tipped in a missed shot with 1:32 to play for a 77-74 count.

Summers, however, lessened the momentum when he converted two free throws with 1:21 to play for a 79-74 lead.

David Gallagher, though, connected on a twisting jumper and when Steve Edelson traveled, the Raiders had possession with 59 seconds left. David Gallagher immediately lofted a pass to Morris who snatched it and laid it home to cut the lead to 79-78 with 50 seconds left.

Summers, though, made his biggest contribution six seconds later when he dropped his pressure free throws to put the game out of reach with 44 seconds left. SCC forced two shots on consecutive possessions and Santa Fe converted each into a fast-break layup for the final seven-point margin.

"We had lost to them by one point twice," Summers said. "I was just trying to be a leader. I figure anytime I go to the free throw line that's two points they're giving me."

Yonge, a sophomore product from Gainesville's P.K. Yonge High School, got the Saints off to a roaring start in the early going. He scored eight points as the Saints took a 14-4 lead.

Payne then inserted David Gallagher and Jeff

Day and the Raiders ran off a 12-2 blitz in the next four minutes. Summers and Rush, though, teamed up for a 15-8 barrage as the Saints reassumed control, 31-24, with 6:07 left in the first half.

After a Payne timeout, the Raiders came charging back. Darris Gallagher tossed in six points while Roberts and Hall each added four as SCC took a 40-37 edge into intermission.

Yonge had 12 first-half points while Summers added 10 and Rush nine. Hall led SCC with 12 while Darris Gallagher and Roberts chipped in 10 apiece.

The lead changed hands several times in the second half until David Gallagher reinjured his ankle at the 15:38 mark and Hall picked up his fourth foul with 13:11 to play.

The Raiders trailed, 50-49, at the time but Santa Fe then put it together, outscoring SCC, 24-7, to zoom to a 74-56 bulge with just 5:22 to play.

"I never thought we'd get that big of a lead," Drost said. "But then, I never thought they'd come back like that."

Gardening

Be Choosy When Selecting Plants And Picking Spots For Them

Whether you have a beautiful landscape or a jungle depends on the plants you select and the spots where you plant them. Before setting out new plants, you must consider amount of sun or shade, exposure to winds, water drainage, and your type of soil.

Let's begin with the amount of light available in your planting site. Is it full sun? Half-day full sun? Indirect light? Broken Shade? Full shade? Or maybe something in between? You can select plants which will grow in almost any sun or shade level around your home.

The amount of light a plant receives affects its rate of food production, water loss, degree of sun scald, and its ability to tolerate dry soils and winds. Most plants growing in shade require less watering than plants grown in full sun.

Plants protected by trees are less subject to cold injury than those in exposed spots because the tree canopy reduces the radiant heat loss from these plants. In the winter, shade during the early morning slows the rate of thaw after a freeze and can reduce the amount of cold damage.

Poor soil drainage, such as in mucky soils, may cause the roots of some plants to rot while other plants adapt to wet areas. But, keep in mind that plants recommended for wet areas, which are grown in well-drained nursery soil, may not be able to adapt to a sudden change in soil textures. The best solution is to correct the drainage problem by changing the surface or sub-surface drainage with tiles, or changing the grade of the land.

Have a soil test performed before you select landscape plants. This way, you can choose plants adapted to your existing soil type and pH level rather than amend or change soil conditions to suit a particular plant.

Good landscape design requires that the plants you choose serve a definite function. Plants should improve the appearance or usefulness of your home grounds. Some folks often select plants with unusual characteristics. A limited number of plants with unusual colors or growth habits can be used effectively, but their location must be skillfully planned.

Some nurseries and garden centers have plants tagged according to grades and standards as established by the Florida Division of Plant Industry. A plant graded as Florida Fancy is a healthy and vigorous one that is very well shaped, heavily branched, and densely foliated.

A Florida No. 1 grade is a healthy, vigorous plant that is well-shaped, well-branched, and well-foliated. The Florida No. 2 grade is healthy, vigorous, fairly well-shaped, and has fair branching and fair foliage. Any plant not meeting these standards is a Florida No. 3. The lower the grade when a plant is purchased, the less chance the plant has of being a good one at maturity.

Plants not tagged as to grade should be inspected carefully. Avoid plants with an unhealthy appearance or with weak, poorly formed, scarred, cracked or peeling trunks or branches. Poorly distributed branches usually lead to "leggy" plants and should be avoided too. Excessively yellow or abnormally sized leaves are good indications of plant health problems. Be sure you inspect all plants for insects, diseases, or mechanical damage. Avoid buying any such affected plants.

The root system of a container-grown plant should be well-established. However, the plant should not be heavily root-bound in the pot. Roots should be distributed throughout the soil and not protruding outside the container or growing into the ground.

You can afford to be choosy when shopping for plants. Remember, it's your money! High-quality plants suited to your particular site will be easier to maintain and will provide you with beauty and enjoyment for years to come.

Happy gardening!

Sorority Celebrates 78th Birthday

February is a special month for sorors throughout the United States, celebrating the first national black female Greek sorority. Sorors representing chapters Kappa Sigma Omega, Sanford; Nu IOTA Omega, Maitland; and Delta Omicron Omega, Orlando joined in sisterly love to celebrate this occasion on February 8 at the Mercado on International Drive, Orlando. The event marked the sorority's 78th birthday. The evening began with Soror Alvane Forrest's welcome, followed by meditation by Soror Vickie J. Brooks and an address by Soror Lurleen Sweeting. Music was provided by NU IOTA Omega Chapter, who sang "The Twenty Pearls." Soror Margaret Oliver, Founders Day Chairwoman for Kappa Sigma Omega chapter, made presentations to Soror Melissa Roberts for her outstanding participation in the fund-raising drives. Soror Brenda Ford gained recognition for conducting Project Excel, a four-week youth workshop on improving reading and math skills. Basileus Marian Johnson was honored for dedicated service in 1985, past Basileus Mary Whitehurst for continued support of Chapter activities, and soror Rebecca Sweet for founding Kappa Sigma Omega Sorority. All sorors joined in a rededication ceremony. Spouses and guests joined sorors for a delicious four-course Louisiana dinner served with southern hospitality. The group was serenaded by the Dixieland Jazz Band and Musical Revue. The guests and their spouses enjoyed a most entertaining evening.

The Silhouettes, a Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity auxiliary, delighted in sharing tokens of fruit and cheer with residents at the Good Samaritan Home during Valentine month. They said this was one "small way to say" we love you always.

The young people of Allen Chapel AME Church will observe the History of Black Americans at 11 a.m. February 23. They invite the community to share this significant observance. The Junior Usher Board thanks you for your support. Rev. J.H. Woodard, Pastor.

U.S. Image Of Northern Friend Chills Canadian

AR ABBY: I am writing to you in the hope that this might appear in your column and educate some of your readers about Canada. I live in New Liskeard, Ontario, and every time I go to the United States, I get fed up with some of the people who think there is snow falling up here 365 days a year — that Canadians live in igloos, travel by dogsled and dress like lumberjacks. I met a girl in Alabama who thought Canada was one of the states in the United States!

We have beautiful summer weather when the snow disappears and is replaced by temperatures in the 80s or 90s. I don't know anybody up here who has ever traveled by dogsled. We dress like most Americans, and live in houses just like you do.

Why are you people so ignorant of us? The farther south I travel, the more ignorant the people are. Canadian schoolchildren learn about your country in school. Why don't your schools teach your children about us?

ROBERTS, ANNOYED CANADIAN

DEAR ROBERT: Obviously the ignoramuses you've met in the United States are confusing Alaska with Canada. We do teach our children about Canada — but apparently we're not doing a very good job of it. I hope this inspires some of our schoolteachers to familiarize their students with our good neighbors to the north. They have long been our best friends.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old girl who has babysat since I was 14 to earn money for college. I am reliable and really like children. Some places where I baby-sit I am expected to clean up the kitchen, do the laundry and even the ironing. I am never told that I have to do these extras — the lady just says, "After the kids are asleep, maybe you could do this or that?"

I never get paid extra for doing these things, but I always end up doing them anyway. I rarely watch television; I either do my homework or read because I want to be able to hear the kids if they wake up and need me.

If you print this, maybe it will help other sitters who have the same problem. Thank you for a whole lot of sitters.

ANYTOWN, U.S.A.

DEAR ANYTOWN: Cleaning up the kitchen and doing the laundry are domestic duties that no sitter should be expected to perform without extra pay. Sitters, stand up for your rights! When you accept a job, it should be clearly spelled out what your duties will be.

Sitting In A Breeze Can Cause Stiffness

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — My grandma and grandpa say you can get a stiff neck from sitting in a breeze. Is that true?

DEAR READER — Your grandparents have a lot more experience than I do, so you better pay attention to what they say. I would be presumptuous to tell them they cannot get stiff necks in the breeze if, in fact, they do.

Some people's muscles seem to be extremely sensitive to changes in temperature. Sitting by an open window, driving in the car with the window down or being exposed to a stiff, chilling breeze can cause neck cramps in susceptible individuals.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Some of my friends and I have had colon surgery. In some cases, the checkup consisted of using the colonoscope. In my case, they are using a sigmoid proctoscope with barium enema and X-rays. Why the difference in checkup?

DEAR READER — The difference in approach has to do with many factors, one of which is the personal preference of the doctor.

Colonoscopy is a useful method of looking at all, or almost all, of the large intestine. The specialist inserts a long, flexible fiberoptic tube, which he or she maneuvers through the rectum and into the large bowel. The patient must be sedated, because the procedure can be very uncomfortable.

The barium enema is a type of X-ray examination of the large bowel. It may be preceded by a sigmoidoscopy exam (with a shorter fiberoptic tube) of the lower tract. No anesthesia is required.

Each approach has its advantages and disadvantages. Factors to be considered are accuracy, cost, comfort, radiation exposure, risks, type of information to be gained and availability of special instruments.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have two terrible bunions and hammertoes that can be corrected, but this would require two separate operations and being in a cast for two weeks. The orthopedic surgeon does not guarantee two perfect feet, considering the condition they are in. He does feel there will be a large improvement. I prefer of-fee surgery. Do you think I should have the full-scale operation, or should I live forever with two left feet?

DEAR READER — That, I believe, is your decision and

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Rixi Markus, who has retired from world championship play, has long been regarded as England's leading woman player and unquestionably remains Europe's leading woman bridge writer. Her aggressive bidding style is augmented by genuine flair for precise card play, as evidenced by today's deal played some years ago.

Two diamonds was an ACOL two-bid, not completely forcing to game but showing great strength. North raised. Rixi cue-bid the heart ace, perhaps to dissuade West from leading that suit, bid four spades next and then carried on to slam over her partner's five-diamond bid.

In the play she left nothing to chance. After winning the opening trump lead, she immediately ducked a heart, which East won. East continued diamonds, Rixi winning in her hand. She played to dummy's spade queen and tried a low club. (Sometimes a suspicious East with the club ace and no queen will immediately rise.)

When East played the club jack, she ruffed and now played out three more rounds of high spades. Unlucky East had to follow as declarer shed a heart from dummy. The ace of hearts and a heart ruff completed her plan, and she now had 12 tricks and her slam contract.

Wish you were here...

Story and Pictures by Susan Loden
Herald Feature Writer

Bill Toevs, Jr.

"Having a wonderful time. Wish you were here."

An uninspired message written over the decades by thousands of wanderers to the homebound. The message refuses to die but the cards it and other notes have been scribbled on have taken on an even more vital life of their own.

Postcards, with colorful views of far-away places, your hometown or just about any subject that might enter the imagination, have a pull on collectors who have organized into clubs and love to swap and shop for these bits of paper.

There's also a less colorful variety of postcards: Philatelic postcards issued by postal departments which attract more austere collectors.

Collectors shield their cache of cards in plastic sleeves and through these images of cities, trains, planes, holidays, people, advertisements and other topics gaze nostalgically at the past.

A past that is represented in picture postcards on grand scale dates from the 1880s in America. And not to be overlooked on a postcard find is the vintage postage stamp it may carry, or a message written by a literary traveler.

Postcards cross national boundaries but many collectors, like Sanford's Bill Toevs Jr., build a collection on cards showing the skyline of their hometowns.

In Toevs' collection of 8,000 to 10,000 colorful bits of paper featuring the New York City skyline, early American firefighting gear, American railroad scenes, and his birthplace of Tulsa, Okla., are many views of Sanford, including about 17 scenes of First Street, showing that it "hasn't changed that much over the years," he said.

Life for those hooked on postcards isn't as simple as it might seem. 48-year-old Toevs, who moved to Sanford in 1956, said. A large collection has to be separated into categories and cataloged. If you ever expect to see singular cards again.

Postcards also call for research. Toevs said. Through his interest in collecting skyline postcards, Toevs has done extensive research on the explosive growth of New York City, so he can pinpoint specific additions in his postcard chronicle of the changing American scene, he said.

In his never ending quest for cards Toevs seeks scenes showing Sanford in the 1920s. Specifically he's searching for cards of the Millane Theater, the Brumley Puelston Building, the McLander Arcade, the Meriwether Building, the Meisch Building, the Welborne block and the Sanford and Everglades Railroad, he said.

Thana Kulash, who works to restore old Sanford homes to help maintain a touch of original "skyline" and character of the city, is also hooked on collecting postcards of Sanford scenes.

And when she goes into a Sanford neighborhood to restore a home she takes along her albums of postcards to share with residents of that area a look at what their part of the city looked like in its early days, she said.

Sanfordites who see Ms. Kulash's cards are often able to identify the location of a home or building shown, which she hadn't been able to single out on today's scene. They also pass along bits of history of the homes to her when her cards jog memories and strike a nostalgic nerve, she said.

As with all collectibles, condition is important, but Toevs said a damaged card may be salvagable to photograph and use as an illustration in a book on postcards.

Value varies, and good buys can be had from owners who don't realize what they have. Among the most valued cards are those featuring sports scenes, Toevs said. But value and desirability are really in the eye of the collector.

Prices for picture postcards, according to pricing guides, range from $1 to about $25.

These throw-aways to some are treasures to others and older cards, those that would have survived several decades, are valued for their rarity, although newer cards may carry a subject of collectible interest.

Postcards rank third, after coins and stamps as the favorite of collectors, who, because of the quantities of cards they amass, also become, if not sellers, at least swappers of cards.

"It might be a full-time job," Toevs said, between the collecting and the research that postcard fanatics fall into.

Involvement with postcards, he said, goes far beyond the card itself, taking the collector to faraway places, into the past, or on a trip through the development of a mode of transportation or another segment of culture.

For about 30 years postcards have fascinated Toevs, who can't stop looking at and through those tiny windows into our history.

Family Viewing Time Until 9

Sunday: Love, Lust, Leather And Disney

By Mark Schwed

NEW YORK (UPI) — You just have to love the guys in the back rooms of television land who come up with schedules like the one offered Sunday — a dash of Disney, plus a lot of love, lust and leather.

Family viewing time lasts from 7-9 p.m. EST when Disney presents "The Girl Who Spelled Freedom," a true drama about a girl's travels from war-torn Cambodia to Chattanooga, Tenn. Precisely at 9 p.m., bored adults can tuck the kids in bed, turn down the lights and take in a dose of the aforementioned love, lust and leather.

Two new epic mini-series debut Sunday night — ABC's three-part, six-hour "Crossings" and the two-part, four-hour "Blood and Orchids" on CBS.

Both are taken from novels, both feature mini-series regulars, both are set in the 1930s and both are about, well, you know, the same old mini-series stuff.

"Crossings" (9-11 p.m. EST Sunday through Tuesday) is a dramatization of the best seller by Danielle Steel, America's soap opera novelist. The ABC epic, which dates from 1939 through World War II, stars Cheryl Ladd, Lee Horsley, Joan Fontaine and Horst Buhholz, with special guest appearances by Christopher Plummer and mini-series veteran Jane Seymour.

"Crossings" begins in 1939 when steel magnate Nick Burnham (Horsley), his promiscuous wife Hilary (Seymour) and their young son set off on a transatlantic voyage. On board, Burnham is irresistibly drawn to Liane DeVilliers (Ladd), the striking wife of French Ambassador Armand DeVilliers (Plummer), who has been summoned home due to the rising threat Nazi Germany poses to the French government.

"Blood and Orchids" (9-11 p.m. Sunday and Monday), a dramatization of the best-selling novel by Norman Katkov, stars Kris Kristofferson, Jane Alexander (another mini-series veteran) and Jose Ferrer in a story of prejudice, corruption and false rape charges set in Hawaii in the 1930s.

Rape! Corruption! Murder! All will be found when Kris Kristofferson and Sean Young star in "Blood & Orchids," airing Sunday and Monday on CBS-WCPX-TV, Channel 6.

Freedom: The Hard Way

By Mark Schwed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Disney has done it again. The story of Linn Yann, the Cambodian refugee who knocked the socks off America, is a beauty.

The fifth edition of the reincarnated Disney Sunday Movie is "The Girl Who Spelled Freedom." (ABC, Feb. 23, 7 p.m. EST). And true to Disney form, the two-hour drama has all the right stuff for the family: a moving tale of a family struggling for freedom and attaining the American dream. It is told through the eyes of young Linn Yann, a round-faced, bright-eyed and pony-tailed child who learned to spell freedom the hard way.

Linn, her mother, and five brothers and sisters were held in a refugee work camp in war-torn Cambodia for years. They escaped after a torturous, 100-mile freedom trek, and found refuge in Thailand. A relief agency brought them to the United States, where they settled in Chattanooga, Tenn., and excelled.

As soon as she entered school, Yann became an exceptional student, especially in spelling. Yann was so good that she entered spelling bees and eventually won the Chattanooga city finals, good enough to earn a trip to the nationals in Washington. Not many girls get phone calls from President Reagan wishing them luck.

Today, Linn Yann is 15 years old, in the eighth grade, running cross-country for the track team, living with her family in their own castle and enjoying being a teenager in America. She even has a Tennessee twang, with a dash of teen-speak (lots of "you know's" and "like, you know's.") Not a trace of Cambodia, except deep in her eyes.

In the movie, Wayne Rogers (M-A-S-H) and Mary Kay Place (The Big Chill) play George and Prissy Thrash, the couple who sponsored Yann's family, and Jade Chinn plays Linn Yann. Chinn, a Canadian who speaks French, English, and Chinese, had little trouble picking up the Cambodian dialect.

Yann thought about playing herself but it wouldn't have worked.

"I'm a little big for my part," she said in a telephone interview from Chattanooga. "I'm older now and I'm a lot taller. I'm not really tall. It's just that when I came here I was short, because of malnutrition and all that. Now I'm 5-1 and a quarter. I like hamburgers."

Yann thought the movie was "great," even though some memories produce tears. She recalls being afraid and hungry and drinking muddy water during the journey.

"I cried and it was very sad in parts. When we escaped from Cambodia to Thailand, we didn't have any food or water; we were all sick. We didn't know where we were going. We were lost. There were millions of people as bad off as we were back then."

"In another way I'm happy and all because now we are here in America in Tennessee. We don't have to worry or suffer, my family and I."

Yann spent the meat of her childhood — 5 to 9 years old — in a work camp, digging ditches, hauling fertilizer, soaking in muddy rice paddies — providing labor for the Khmer Rouge soldiers.

"They were so mean to us all. We didn't have enough food. We had to eat roots, wild berries," Yann said. "I went to Hollywood last week to see Disney Land. There's a part that reminds me of Cambodia, the trees. We used to dig under the ground of bamboo trees to get some kind of vegetable, you know."

She arrived in America in 1979 and still remembers landing at Lovell Field and noticing the beauty of the clean floor.

"We went to the sponsors' house and I thought it was a castle because it was so pretty. We stayed with them for four months until we got our own house. My mom found a job."

Yann, her three sisters, two brothers and mother live in their own home in Chattanooga. Call it a castle.

"My oldest sister, Kiev, she likes to draw. The second oldest is Ylent, a cheerleader at Red Bank High School. She takes track and plays basketball for our church, Red Bank United Methodist. Patty, my youngest sister, is an artist, and she plays the clarinet in the school band. David is in the boys choir and plays football and soccer. Peter, he's in fourth grade and he plays football and soccer, too. We all do well in school."

"My mother, Fay Phoen Chov, she's proud of us and we're proud of her. She kept us together. She brought us to Thailand and to America."

Yann said she will not compete in any more spelling bees. There's not enough time now that serious studying is on the agenda.

"It's all over now. I made it to Washington and that's all I wanted to do. I got to see the president and that was great. I would like to go to college. I'd like to study medicine and become a doctor. I just like to help people, you know. I think that would be neat if I could do that."

- Berle back HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Milton Berle will be one of the stars of NBC-TV's three-hour special celebrating the network's 60th anni-versary to be broadcast in May. Alexander H. Cohen, executive producer of the extravaganza, promises viewers more than 100 stars, past and present, in the show from the network's New York headquarters in Rockefeller Center. Berle was NBC's first major star when he hit the air June 8, 1948, with his hour-long comedy-variety show "Texaco Star Theater" and immediately became "Mr. Televi-sion" and, later, "Uncle Miltie."

Saturday Night Live Or Dead?

NEW YORK (UPI) — The critics cannot be stifled any longer: Kill Saturday Night Live. Kill it dead. Pull the plug. Flush it, trash it, kiss it goodbye. Get the idea that Saturday Night Live is taking some heavy flak? Controversy has been something of a warm feeling for Saturday Night Live since it came alive at 11:30 p.m., Oct. 11, 1975 in NBC's Studio 8H in New York. Just a flicker of time passed before Chevy Chase, Dan Aykroyd, John Belushi, Gilda Radner, Laraine Newman and Garrett Morris were collectively revered by a generation as the modern day equivalents of Milton Berle or George Burns. They were master peddlers of humor and the show clicked time and again. Battles between network censors, producers, cast members and guest hosts just added to the legend. Over the years, through the cast changes, and even Belushi's death, Saturday Night Live still sizzled with creativity and originality. It was the "IN" show to watch on any network, much like the David Letterman Show is the "IN" show today. But as the show evolved from renegade outlaw series to comedy institution, something was lost. It has never been more apparent than this season, with a new cast and an old producer, Lorne Michaels, riding shotgun over a dead horse.

How Many Different Trappers Are There?

Dear Dick — As a regular "M A S H" and "Trapper John, M.D." watcher, I have noticed that each program has a character called Trapper John McIntyre. Is this just a coincidence or are they supposed to be the same person? — K.R., Oak Lawn, Ill.

How many Trapper John McIntyres, who are doctors, do you imagine there can be? The whole purpose of the "Trapper John, M.D." program was to show what had happened to him in the years since his service in the Army during the Korean War. It is, most definitely, the same person.

Dear Dick — Years ago, I saw a movie with Shirley Temple in it and haven't seen it since. The plot was this: A man and woman married and he was sent to jail. When he got out he found his wife working in a bar and the little girl he didn't know he had (Shirley) singing and dancing on the bar. He took her to his mountain cabin to take her away from that environment. At the end, he and this woman got back together again. What was the name of the movie, so I can watch for it? — Mrs. B.H., Ralston, Pa.

I have been through Robert Windeler's book, "The Films of Shirley Temple," from cover to cover and cannot find a plot that resembles the one you describe. In "Baby Take a Bow" (1934) and "Now and Forever" (also 1934) Shirley was involved with criminals — good-hearted, of course — but that's the closest I can come. Maybe Windeler missed one, or your memory has changed the plot so that I cannot find it.

Dear Dick — After watching "Rescue From Gilligan's Island," I noticed this woman playing the part of Ginger is not the real Ginger that I loved so much. What has happened to the extremely talented Tina Louise? Is she dead? Has she gotten too old to play a glamor girl? Or has she gone off to write a physical fitness book and video? Please find out. — D.V., Houston, Texas.

You will be happy to know that Tina is still the tall, exciting lady she has always been. And she is still very active, having recently appeared in an episode of "Blacke's Magic." She just didn't choose to play Ginger any more. She felt she'd done it enough.

Dear Dick — Could you please tell me what has happened to Duncan Rinaldo and Leo Carillo, who played Cisco and Pancho on the old Cisco Kid series. — Mrs. E.R., Saginaw, Mich.

Death has happened to them — Carillo died in 1961 and Rinaldo in 1980.

Dear Dick — One of the stars of "Charlie & Company" looks very familiar to me but I can't remember where I've seen him before. Has Ray Girardin played on a TV series before? If so, when? And what was his character? — C.C., Marlow, Ohio.

Girardin's only other series credit was a soap opera — "General Hospital." He played somebody named Howie Dawson on the show for six years. And you also may have seen him in some of the dozens of episodic shows on which he was a guest star.

Dear Dick — My husband and I were discussing the show "Isis" that aired as a cartoon on Saturday mornings a few years back. We want to know if it also aired as a non-animated series. — C., Nebern, Tenn.

According to my information, "The Secrets of Isis" was always a live-action program, and never a cartoon. In fact, the lovely Joanne Cameron, who played Isis, would be dismayed to think you thought she was a cartoon.
