

Amanas To Vote On Renewal Of Corporate Life Based On Communism

By JACK ERICKSON
AMANA, Ia. — A 20-year venture into capitalism has restored the financial health of the Amanas Society after communism brought it to the brink of ruin.

On schedule in the old meeting house here today was a session of the 761 voting stockholders of the 98-year-old Amanas Society.

It was a foregone conclusion they would vote a 20-year renewal of the corporate life of the hard-pressed society set up on a trial basis in 1932.

The switch to capitalism marked the end of America's most ambitious experiment in pure communism. Beginning in 1854, the seven villages of the Amanas operated as a religious communal for nearly 19 1/2 years.

Inspired by spiritual zeal, the society flourished in the early years. But as one generation succeeded another, murmurs of discontent grew louder. Productivity declined steadily.

Then came the great Depression. The communal plan had left the society without funds or goods to weather the storm.

In May, 1932, a two million dollar corporation was formed. It was given title to all the society's assets, including 26,000 acres of land, a wooden mill, a furniture factory and meat and cheese plants.

The rules which the elders laid down for the 800 original colonists in 1854 was that each should bear "with a willing heart" his allotted share of labors, cares and burdens.

It was not a political communism — Soviet Communism. It was a religious communism. But the Amanas communal practice was pure and absolute. Members were given free clothing, free shelter,

Retiring At 65 Is Becoming Question For All To Study

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — When is the right time to retire? That problem is becoming of great concern to social workers who see America becoming a land of long living graybeards. And more and more they question the wisdom of automatically turning out to uneasy pasture at 65 men who are still vigorous and healthy.

It seems to me that people who have the least immediate likelihood of being able to retire are the ones who are loudest in saying they want to. And it might also be true that the less anybody knows about life the more he wants to retire.

Fritz Ambrose, pianist at the Bamboo Room at the Mayfair Inn, revealed last night that he is the co-author of a new musical comedy, two act play, "Comin' which is now being considered by Anthony Farrell in New York for production on Broadway.

Mr. Ambrose wrote 16 songs and a ballet number for the play. The book and lyrics of which were written by Marianne Waters who lived in the Florida Keys when the scene of the play is laid. The story includes something of the life of the Seminole Indians.

Appearing in support of Ethel Merman, in the musical comedy, "Something for the Boys" in New York, Mr. Ambrose also was with Joan Blondell in the same show on the road.

He has appeared as pianist, host of the Cubana Club in Columbus, Ohio, at Leightons in Arlington-on-the-Potomac and for summers at the Wyandotte Hotel in Helleport, L. I. Before coming to Sanford he conducted an engagement at Tom's Caprice in New York.

Rating Committee Studying Samples For School Books

TALLAHASSEE (Special)—A rating committee of seven Florida school teachers and principals today started studying a big stack of publishers' samples to determine which should be recommended as official textbooks for 10 public school subjects.

The teachers, whose identities were secret until they started their deliberations, have 20 days to complete the job and recommend their first, second and third choices to the State Cabinet.

The cabinet, sitting as a textbook purchasing commission, then will award contracts for the book purchase.

Texts will be selected for reading, spelling, science and mathematics for elementary schools; and for French, mathematics, business practice, drive education and civics for high schools. A new official dictionary also is being sought for junior and senior high schools.

Members of the textbook rating committee are Mrs. Marjorie Bunting, primary teacher at Sidney Lanier Elementary School, Gainesville; Eldridge R. Collins, supervising principal of St. Cloud schools; Mrs. Virginia Cromarlie, mathematics teacher at Ocala Junior High; Mrs. Edna K. Jackobs, principal of West Side Elementary School at Fort Lauderdale; Mrs. Helen Roberts, intermediate teacher at Jessie Miller Elementary School, Bradenton; Mrs. Kaye Smith, primary teacher at Kaley Elementary School and Mrs. Julia Smook, Polk County supervisor of instruction, Bartow.

Korean War

gations will meet in Panmunjom at 10 a. m. Wednesday (8 p. m. EST Tuesday) to open negotiations on agenda items—recommendations to governments.

It will be the first plenary session since Dec. 4. Subcommittees and staff officers have been in session daily.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy proposed Jan. 31 that negotiations on three sections of the truce be conducted simultaneously to speed agreement on an armistice.

In accepting his suggestion the Reds agreed to provide a detailed working draft. They are expected to propose withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea—a pet Communist project—and a high level political conference to settle the whole Korean question.

U. N. headquarters in Tokyo said no recommendations will be made to governments involved in the Korean war unless the truce negotiators agree on what to recommend.

The disclosure killed off speculation that two separate sets of recommendations would be made. Staff officers working on truce supervision and the prisoner exchange subcommittee will meet as usual at 11 a. m. Tuesday (9 p. m. EST Monday).

Admiral Libby Monday gave newsmen the most optimistic report of the prisoner exchange subcommittee's 53 meetings.

"We may be ready to go to the staff officer level in a day or two. I may be completely wrong, but I think we are beginning to make progress," he said.

At the same time, Libby emphasized that negotiators still are "180 degrees apart" on the major issues—voluntary repatriation and safeguards to insure return of displaced civilians.

The Allies dropped their demand for participation of the International Committee of the Red Cross on committees to handle details of prisoner exchange and civilian repatriation. Instead, Libby proposed that national Red Cross organizations of both sides be represented.

The Communists said they would consider this plan.

Libby devoted considerable time to detailing the Allied position on the nine-point prisoner exchange plan offered by the Reds Sunday.

In reply to questions, the Communists explained the parole ac-

U. S. Is Lashed By Storms From Keys To New England

MIAMI (Special)—A cyclonic storm raced up the Atlantic today after brushing the Southeast Florida Coast early Sunday.

The storm, which boiled up from the western tip of Cuba late Saturday, raked Key West, the Florida Keys and Miami with winds of 60 miles an hour or more.

Some plate glass windows were smashed and awnings ripped off in the Miami area. Power and communication lines were blown down in some spots when the wind ripped up the coast before moving north, southeastward, to the open Atlantic.

Downtown Miami had winds Saturday night of 60 miles an hour with gusts up to 65, while at Key West the wind, the coldest yet reached 60 miles per hour. The winds subsided early Sunday as the storm continued its north-northeastward movement.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Three storms which brought the country a wide variety of weather over the week end converged to bring, today, high winds and rain to New England.

One had whipped up a blizzard in the Central Rockies Saturday that took three lives, and blanketed the center of the continent with rain, light snow and freezing drizzle as it moved east.

A second sucked dust thousands of feet into the air over much of Texas before settling it with rain and moved on over Arkansas into Tennessee.

A third, with winds ranging up to 75 miles an hour, lashed the Atlantic Coast and drove a 2,600-ton freighter around off Cape Hatteras, N. C., as it took a northward course paralleling the seaboard.

The result was rain over the Middle Mississippi and Ohio Valleys, Southern and Eastern Great Lakes region, and most of the Middle and North Atlantic States.

The blizzard from the Rockies Saturday stalled more than a dozen automobiles and when highway crews reached them Sunday, three occupants of one buried car were dead of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Great clouds of red dirt, swept up from drought-stricken plains of Western Texas, blotted out the sun Sunday. The dust cut visibility to three-quarters of a mile in eastern parts of the state before rain washed it away.

Twenty-six crewmen of the stranded Panamanian freighter Miguel abandoned her in lifeboats after the ship ran onto a sandbar nearly a mile from nearest land off Cape Hatteras. They reached Portsmouth Island safely.

The Coast Guard fought a losing battle throughout the night in an attempt to reach the Miguel.

Rains brought the threat of more flooding along the Ohio River in Kentucky and Ohio. The Weather Bureau at Cincinnati said the river level stationary over night, may rise six inches. It already was 2.8 feet above flood stage, but 2.3 feet below last week's crest.

The situation was similar at Louisville. The river stage was 4.8 feet above flood stage and another 7 rise was predicted. But this would still be about one and a half feet below the danger point.

Temperatures remained generally above normal over the nation today. The cold spots were Aberdeen, S. D., 12, and Caribou, Me., 13.

It also rained in the Pacific Northwest. The Northern Rockies had snow.

Harold Ickes

little campaigns were his special province.

He once referred to Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential candidate of 1944 and 1948, as "the candidate in sneakers." He called Wendell L. Willkie, the GOP candidate in 1940, "the simple, barefoot Wall Street lawyer."

Of himself, Ickes once remarked: "I've known for a long time that I'm not laced with the fervor to which I'm entitled. If a man worked hard at it he couldn't get a bigger list of enemies than I."

The origin of the word "curmudgeon" is unknown. According to Webster, it means "an avicious, grasping fellow; a miser, niggard; a churl."

But even so deprecating a self-appraisal drew Mr. Reclamation Commissioner Michael W. Straus, who served under Ickes in many capacities, said in a biographical sketch written for the Associated Press.

"No real curmudgeon, even self-labeled, could survive to serve in the Cabinet of the President of the United States longer than any other living mortal."

"A rare combination of distant vision and immediate shrewdness, daring and doggedness, wrapped in a brilliant gruffness used as a protective shroud for basic understanding, brought that privilege to Harold I. Ickes."

Straus said that Ickes, as World War II petroleum administrator, carried out conservation to the extreme, typical of his reputation as "Honest Ick."

He jotted down Ickes' numbers of speeding cars and turned them in to police.

While his staff came to expect a howling dressing-down for misdeeds, he added, they sometimes were perplexed to find Ickes blistering all outsiders who dared criticize his personnel.

"If I'm a bum, I'm Ickes' bum and he won't share me," said one.

When Ickes resigned from President Truman's Cabinet, he said he could no longer stay and "retain my self respect." Crux of the dispute was the President's nomination of Edwin W. Pauley, an oil man, to be Under Secretary of the Navy. Vigorously opposed by Ickes, the nomination was later dropped at Pauley's request.

After his resignation, Ickes authored a syndicated column and a magazine series. His name continued to be linked with public issues, although in recent years he grew comparatively quiet.

Ickes was born March 15, 1878, near Hollidaysburg in Blair County, Pa. He was graduated from the University of Chicago with a bachelor's degree and entered newspaper work. Later, he took a law course and began practice in 1907.

The interior secretaryship was his first public office.

Other survivors are two sons and a daughter. The first Mrs. Ickes, the former Anna Wilmarth Thompson, died in 1923. Ickes remarried three years later.

No Frost Damage Is Reported By Market Director

WINTER HAVEN (Special)—Despite the cold wave which settled over most of Florida last week very little frost damage accrued to vegetable and fruit crops, states William L. Wilson, Director of State Markets, in his weekly news report.

"The Starke area probably was the hardest hit, although the rain following low temperatures Wednesday and Thursday mornings saved strawberries and root crops from heavy loss. Very small damage was reported to root crops and estimated damage to strawberries was 25 to 30 percent to green fruit, 35 to 40 percent open bloom. From Jan. 24 through the 30, 1,011 crates or 55,396 pints of berries were sold at the Starke Market, with average prices per crate of $7.06, or 19 1/2¢ per pint. At Plant City, biggest strawberry center in the state, the berries escaped damage, but tender young crops in low areas were slightly affected by the cold. The Plant City Farmers Market sold 335,664 pints of strawberries last week for $78,588.38, at a price range of 20¢ to 1 1/4¢ per pint. In addition, English peas, collards and turnips moved, 2,411 packages in all, and bringing the growers $2,820.45.

"On the lower East Coast and the Lake Okechobee section, especially in and around Pompano Beach and Pahokee crops were affected adversely by strong winds preceding the cold wave. Young cucumbers in the Fort Pierce section suffered minor wind damage, and crops in the Immokalee territory a slight set back in maturity.

"On the West Coast, there was scattered light frost in the Fort Myers-Palmetto Areas, but no appreciable damage resulted. The Sanford area escaped frost damage, but tender vegetation in the nearby Zellwood section was not so fortunate. Wechsula also reported very slight, if any damage.

"Cucumbers and Yellow Crook-neck squash led in volume at the Immokalee State Market, 1,600 bu. Field crates cucumbers brought $10,457.44, and Yellow Crook-neck squash $10,233.90. Celery came in second with 12,000 crates selling for $35,497.05.

"A good volume of produce likewise continues to move through the Fort Myers State Market, however, Ralph Alvarez, Market Manager, reports weaker prices on most commodities and diminishing volume of tomatoes. A total of 10,072 packages sold last week. Pepper volume is at peak now. Eggplant will hold in good volume through February. Price range on cucumbers was $4.00 to $5.00 per bushel; eggplant, $1.25 to $1.50; pepper, $2.25 to $2.50; squash, Yellow Straight Neck, $2.00 average per 1/2 bushel; green, $1.50.

"Tomatoes continue to increase in volume at the Florida City Market which sold approximately 50,000 bushels last week at a gross price of around $110,530.00. The high price for the five-day period was $4.40; low $1.97.

"The Pompano Market reports a good movement of excellent pepper, good quality beans, eggplant, cucumbers, corn and squash, and light supply of good okra.

"Ira E. Baird, manager of the Palmetto Market reports continued selling of good cabbage and cauliflower, with no damage to crops as the result of last week's cold spell."

TALLAHASSEE (Special)—More than 16,000 4-H Club girls between 10 and 20 years of age in communities all over Florida completed more than 84,000 living and growing demonstrations in 1951, Miss Anna Mae Sikes, State home demonstration agent, said today.

Food production, conservation, selection, and preparation, home improvement and management, poultry, dairying, health, child care, clothing, home industries and crafts are some of the subjects in which the girls carried demonstrations.

The 4-H Club girls made use of 885 "achievement days" or fairs and festivals to demonstrate the results of the year's experience in learning improved

Shipping Controls Ordered By Mutual To Increase Prices

LAKELAND (Special)—A program of limiting shipments of oranges and grapefruit was put into effect today by Florida Citrus Mutual as a price lifting measure.

Mutual set 550,000 boxes of oranges and 350,000 boxes of grapefruit as the maximum to be moved into fresh fruit channels this week.

It was allotted among shippers affiliated with Mutual according to their normal share of the business. This is the first time the usually voluntary quota system has been adopted on a compulsory basis.

Mutual said 50 percent of the state's shippers are tied to it by contracts allowing them to handle Mutual growers' fruit. The other eight per cent have been asked to cooperate.

The super-cooperative keeps the leased supplies will build up competition and force prices higher.

Orange prices on Northern auction markets were more encouraging last week after slipping steadily for a month, but they are still far below those of a year ago.

Oranges from Interior Florida averaged $2.00 a box, up 24 cents over the week before, but a year ago they brought $4.54.

Indian River oranges showed a weekly gain of 19 cents to a $3.50 average, as against $3.14 a year ago.

Other citrus averages last week, compared with the week before, included: tangerines, up 22 cents a half box to $3.00; Temple oranges, down four cents a half box to $1.90; Interior white seedless grapefruit, down 16 cents to $2.65; Indian River white seedless, down 20 cents to $3.00.

practices both in agriculture and in home economics. Attendance at these achievement events totaled more than 40,000.

In addition to their definite program covering the production of fern and home products, Florida 4-H Club girls took advantage of the personal and social development offered by the 4-H program. Over 8,000 of their number served as Junior leaders in their 4-H Clubs.

More than 1,000 adult 4-H Club leaders volunteered their services, helping 4-H Club members to develop desirable ideals and standards of farming, homemaking, community life, and citizenship, and a sense of responsibility for their attainment.

Warren Withdraws Green's Appointment

TALLAHASSEE (Special)—Appointment of R. A. (Lax) Green as assistant state attorney for the Eighth Judicial Circuit was recalled today by Gov. Fuller Warren.

Without giving any reasons, the governor advised Secretary of State R. A. Gray he was cancelling the appointment and suggested the return of Green's commission fee.

The veteran former congressman's appointment was sent to the secretary of state Friday, the same day Green qualified as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Congressman for the new Eighth District.

The governor's action leaves Joe Hill Williams of Lake Butler in office as assistant state attorney. Williams' term expired July 31, 1951, but the law provides for him to stay in office until a successor is duly appointed and commissioned.

U.N. Command Warns Against Truce Hopes

Red Tactics Viewed As Delaying Action; U. S. Airmen Hit Ammunition Depots

TOKYO (AP)—The U. N. Command today cautioned against expecting an agreement on a Korean truce.

Tokyo headquarters described Communist truce tactics as "Opportunistic." They have had another session at Panmunjom, the U. N. Command said, but "the Communist see-saw of progress." They don't necessarily involve any change in their "program of bargaining in truce."

The command pointed out Red negotiators "have agreed to none of the really major points of dispute. They have instead conceded points of theory or in instances where their concessions actually cost them nothing."

The U. N. views were expressed in "unofficial information bulletin" containing material selected from "Voice of the United Nations Command" broadcasts to Korea.

The bulletin was released after Tuesday's negotiating sessions at Panmunjom adjourned. So little progress was made that Allied spokesmen indicated there was no need for the customary briefing session to the press.

It came on the eve of the first full meeting of the 5-man truce delegations in two months. They will hold a plenary session Wednesday to begin discussing the final terms of the armistice agenda—recommendations to belligerent governments.

Key points of exchanging prisoners and supervising an armistice remain to be settled. Tuesday's session would open the way for arguing over all three points at once.

Allied truce headquarters in Munsan, near Adm. R. E. Lippy said "We had another session of prisoners but remained 180 degrees—exactly opposed—on the key question of voluntary repatriation."

U. N. command headquarters in Munsan said the Red truce negotiators agreed to consider (1) permitting joint Red-Cross teams to visit POW camps after an armistice and (2) addition of other prisoner exchange points beside Panmunjom.

A committee of staff officers working on truce supervision agreed to observe teams to police the demilitarized zone. Allies said they had two major points still to settle—troop rotation and ports of entry for supplies and troops during an armistice.

Staff officers are not considering the key question—whether Reds may rebuild airfields after a truce is signed.

City Board Splits 3 To 2 On Hiring Engineering Firm

Contract With Angus And Associates Is Approved By Group

The City Commission, by a three to two vote, approved last night the execution of a contract with Angus and Associates, Inc. to furnish engineering services for major projects proposed by the city, including sewer and water extensions and paving.

Commissioner Andrew Carraway opposed the action, pointing out that in 1948 the engineering firm of Smith and Gillespie had made an engineering survey of Sanford at a cost of $25,000 and under the Federal government, which included data on a proposed sewage disposal plant.

Mr. Carraway pointed out that the City Commission had approved the contract with Angus and Associates, Inc. on the condition that the City pay the government if the plan were used.

Mr. Carraway also pointed out that the Angus firm should use the Smith and Gillespie plans, the former firm would credit to the City up to 75 per cent of the cost of the plans.

Mr. Carraway also pointed out that the City might work out its sewage disposal problems without having to build a sewage disposal plant and therefore would not have to use or pay for the Smith and Gillespie plans.

Mr. Kader quoted an engineer's opinion to the effect that an extension of sewer lines to the middle of Lake Monitor might solve the problem, and as he put it, "get the State Board of Health off our neck."

Mayor W. H. Steiner stated that in his opinion both of the Jacksonville engineering firms are capable, but expressed the opinion that it would be cheaper in the long run to patronize the Angus firm, which he said "is not trying to sell the City on a big deal."

The Attorney Edwin Shinholler outlined the contract with the Angus firm, pointing out that it had agreed to assist in filing applications for Federal aid under the proposed projects under the Defense Housing and Community Facilities and Services Act of 1951.

He pointed out that if or whether the City uses the Smith and Gillespie plans, it is expected to pay the cost to the federal government, but expressed the opinion that the City would not be obligated financially if the plans were not used.

Commenting today on the Commission's action, Mayor Steiner pointed out that the Angus firm had agreed to use any and all engineering plans applying to the present conditions. He declared that he felt that improved sewage disposal is one of Sanford's most urgent needs, and stated that (Continued on Page Two)

UN Announces 306,070 Soldiers Have Died In Korea

By PRESTON GROVER

PARIS (AP)—The United Nations announced today that 306,070 men in U. N. forces had been killed, wounded and captured or missing in Korea from the beginning of the war to Dec. 31.

The figure was substantially less than that compiled unofficially two weeks ago by The Associated Press which showed total casualties of 414,945 reported by the various nations which had contributed troops to defend South Korea.

The discrepancy came largely in the South Korean figures. A U. N. spokesman said its casualty figure for the Republic of South Korea (192,960) was lower probably because it came from the unified command. The AP figures 301,864 casualties, was obtained, direct from the Korean government which lists persons not carried on the command's rolls.

U. S. casualties were listed by the U. N. as 104,739.

The U. S. Defense Department last week reported the latest figures on American casualties as 105,001, including 10,270 killed in action, 74,118 wounded and 12,619 missing.

The breakdown of U. N. figures showed 47,138 killed, 183,273 wounded and 76,659 missing or captured. Here is the breakdown by countries (killed, wounded, missing and total casualties listed in that order):

- Republic of Korea 27,690 dead, 103,887 wounded, 61,383 missing—192,960 total casualties.
- United States 17,754, 74,392, 12,593—104,739.
- Britain 427, 1,440, 1,156—3,033.
- Turkey 456, 1,352, 49—2,212.
- Australia 12, 542, 14, 702.
- Belgium and Luxembourg 22, 125, 2—159.
- Canada 127, 514, 5—646.
- Colombia 32, 90—131.
- Ethiopia 37, 139, 0—176.
- France (Dec 15) 153, 700, 14—867.
- Greece 28, 265, 1—354.
- Netherlands 31, 248, 3—313.
- New Zealand 17, 41, 1—59.
- Philippines 49, 197, 58—304.
- South Africa 7, 2, 21—30.
- Thailand (Nov. 4) 40, 304, 4—348.

An announcement said the figures were furnished to the secretary general by the delegations to the United Nations of the member states concerned. The figure under dead includes persons killed in action, dead of wounds, accidents or disease.

NEW BRIDGES

TAMPA (AP)—An engineering survey has shown need for five new bridges in Manatee County, including a big one over the Manatee River.

T. O. Landreaux, junior at the school since 1933, stated in Chief Williams that at 7:15 o'clock this morning he found the safe missing from his corner position near the windows, and a metal filing cabinet which had been on top of the safe lay upside down on the floor nearby. A small radio, which had been on top of the filing cabinet, had been moved.

Marks on the window ledge indicated that the window had been opened from the inside, dislodging the screws in the window lock.

After discovering the robbery, Mr. Landreaux telephoned Mrs. Mitchell and the police department. The missing money was school lunch room funds, Mrs. Mitchell declared this morning.

When Mr. Landreaux opened the school, all doors and windows were closed, he declared.

KLAN RALLY

"Come out and hear the truth about the Klan, and corruption in the politics of this (Florida) state." The meeting, the handbill says, will be held across from the Air base, on Highway 50.

Supreme Court Okays Naming Of G.O.P. Delegates

State Committee Retains Power To Make Own Decisions

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Republican State Executive Committee has full authority under the law to select Florida delegates to the GOP National Convention in any manner it sees fit, the State Supreme Court ruled today.

The exercise of the Executive Committee's discretion in choosing delegates "is beyond the control or regulation of the courts," the Supreme Court said in an opinion written by Justice John E. Matthews.

The court instructed the State Council not to demand the suit brought by a group of Miami Republican Party members to permit rank and file party members to vote on convention delegates, and National Committee members in a primary.

"National committee and delegates to a National Convention are party and not state officers. Unless controlled or regulated by statute, the selection or election of such officers is a party matter," the Supreme Court said.

In recent years, the Republican convention delegates have been selected by the Executive Committee.

The court's decision will permit it to follow the same procedure this year, or it may call a convention of a primary to select delegates. Democrats are required by law to select their delegates in a primary election.

Safe, Cash Is Stolen From School Office

A small safe containing about $400 in cash was stolen last night from the office of Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, principal, at the South Side Primary School.

Police Chief Roy G. Williams said the robbery and theft of the safe and its contents was a "small-scale" robbery.

T. O. Landreaux, junior at the school since 1933, stated in Chief Williams that at 7:15 o'clock this morning he found the safe missing from his corner position near the windows, and a metal filing cabinet which had been on top of the safe lay upside down on the floor nearby. Latvian Refugee Fights Way Out Of Red Embassy

25 Year Old Lumberman Uses Knife To Escape Russians

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A 25-year-old Latvian refugee fought his way out of the Soviet Embassy in Stockholm today after being attacked by six Russians.

The 25-year-old refugee, a lumberman who has spent eight years in Siberia, was held by the embassy by an Estonian whom he had befriended. The Estonian took him prisoner and attempted to force him to work and threatened to fly him out of the country.

Admiral Orders U. S. Flier Not To Take Chances On His Life Again

WHEELER ISLAND, TOKELAU ISLANDS (AP)—Sally Ryan, Miss John Perry, commanding the U. S. Navy's Task Force 77 off the east coast of Korea, decided that the Bald Eagle of the Fleet had done enough. And he had jumped.

No man in the task force is required to risk his life more than four times in a row. Perry ordered Monday afternoon.

The task force was ordered to stop the bravest man in the Navy from flying any more low level missions over the Chinese Communist coast.

This fellow has been shot down twice over the coast of Korea. He has floated in six waters where other men have frozen to death. He has brought an almost perfect plane into an emergency landing field. And he has jumped back to the carrier on a plane containing 20 holes through the wings and body. From now on he is to be a paper work.

The Bald Eagle referred to is a 35-year-old combat pilot, Paul N. Gray of St. John, Kans. squadron leader of Fighter Squadron 51, and it is a brave American fighter pilot in Korea today. He told the Navy about it.

Gray is completely bald, very handsome and apparently without fear. He flies the Navy's heavy AD fighter bomber, and when he takes off the carrier deck it is as heavily loaded as a B-29. Gray is a North Korean bridge or railroad engineer. He has been in Korea for the past month. He has flown nearly a hundred low level missions over the North Korean coast.

Gray said he was shot down the first time he went into the Korean coast, where he reported a man in a hole less than 20 minutes after a run on Hwachon. Gray was shot down and he was floating in the sea. He was picked up by a landing craft and taken to the carrier. He was shot down the second time he went into the Korean coast, where he reported a man in a hole less than 20 minutes after a run on Hwachon. Gray was shot down and he was floating in the sea. He was picked up by a landing craft and taken to the carrier.

President Moves To Protect Small Defense Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today issued a sharp reversal of tactics today agreed to a popularity contest with Sen. Estes Kefauver in the New Hampshire presidential primary March 11.

Only last Thursday Mr. Truman had called such primaries eye-wash. But today in a letter to the New Hampshire secretary of state, the President said he had changed his mind and "I shall not ask you to take my name off the list" of those entered for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Both his name and that of the crime-hunting Tennessee senator were entered there last week.

The primary is not binding on the delegation New Hampshire will send to the Democratic convention and Mr. Truman did not say he would be in the race when the convention takes place in August.

Mr. Truman said he had been "let by name stand after urging from Democratic National Chairman Frank McKinney and many good Democrats in New Hampshire."

McKinney disclosed last Saturday he would urge Mr. Truman to stay in the New Hampshire contest. In calling the state primary a "popularity contest," the President said they don't mean a thing when convention time rolls around. He said then his name would be removed, but that this would be a "popularity contest" for re-election if he decided to do so.

McKinney said Saturday he would ask Mr. Truman to stay in, because if he withdrew, "a very strong statement could develop in New Hampshire."

McKinney said Democratic leaders in the state had entered the primary as a convention delegate candidates pledged to support Mr. Truman, and added:

"For the President to withdraw would be to take them out of the race. They couldn't even participate in the national convention."

While the result of the presidential contest is not binding on convention delegates, those running for a candid in the state primary must give the candidates' consent.

Mr. Truman's letter to New Hampshire Secretary of State Kenneth D. Fuller, said:

"Thank you very much for your letter concerning the presidential preference primary in New Hampshire. I am most grateful to you for the information you have given me regarding the petitions in my behalf."

"It is my understanding that, in your state, the presidential preference primary is purely advisory and has no relationship to the selection of delegates. My statement at my press conference last week was intended to explain that such primaries do not bind the delegates. Not only do I not object to such primaries, but I have long favored a nationwide presidential primary so that the voters could really choose their own candidates."

"However, I had thought it would be better for my name not to appear on my ballot at this time as a candidate for President until I am ready to make an announcement as to whether I shall seek re-election. But the chairman of the Democratic National Committee and many good Democrats in New Hampshire have urged me to stay in."

Agency Established To Assist Plants In Getting Contracts

Small Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today issued an executive order establishing the Small Business Administration (SBA) as the government's spokesman and guardian for small business during the mobilization period.

The SBA, headed by Telford Taylor, was to be created by the transfer of funds, personnel and functions of the Office of Small Business in the National Defense Administration (NDA), which operated under the Commerce Department.

The NDA, small business agency was created by Congress last fall with executive authority in many respects and a token appropriation. Secretary of Commerce Sawyer opposed the transfer of powers from NDA.

This inter-agency dispute was settled last month after the Senate Small Business Committee rebuked Sawyer for what it called a "pre-emptive" move to take over the SBA's activities. His proposals, the committee said, would have reduced Taylor to the role of "moderator of a debating society."

Mr. Truman's new order gives Taylor the following authority which previously belonged to NDA:

In addition to the making of direct loans and other direct assistance in line with the 1945 legislation, control of all aid to small business in obtaining government contracts.

Establishing small companies in the establishment of production plants, in which several small manufacturers pool their equipment to handle government jobs.

Establishing small businesses according to size. This question is important since it determines which companies are entitled to the government's special aid.

Establishing advisory and informational committees to advise the government on matters concerning government financial aid.

Power to take orders from the armed forces as a prime contractor and farm out the work to small companies as subcontractors. No funds so far have been provided for this purpose, however.
