Lightning rods stolen from school roof

From Staff Reports

GENEVA — Police are searching for whoever stole twenty lightning rods off the roof of Geneva Elementary School.

The school's head custodian, Lisa McLaughlin, told Seminole County deputy sheriffs that 20 lightning rods had been removed from the roof of the school over the weekend. McLaughlin told deputies that on Monday when she returned to school from the weekend she noticed two broken lightning rods on the ground near the rear of the school. She then called the Sheriff's Office, and an inspection crew was sent out.

The crew found 20 lightning rods removed from the roof of the school.

Kathy Phillips, principal of Geneva Elementary School, said that she has no idea who stole the lightning rods. Because the rods are made of brass and copper, they may have been stolen for the resale value.

"I suppose it's possible that someone stole the lightning rods to make money," Phillips said. "That's as good an explanation as any I can think of."

The school still has many other lightning rods left on the roof. Phillips does not believe computer systems or other sensitive electrical equipment will be jeopardized by the loss.

Deputies search for mail thieves

Sheriff warns residents about crooks looking for tax refund checks

LONGWOOD — The Seminole County Sheriff's Office is investigating mail stolen in the Sabal Point and Sweetwater area.

Richard Lyburn, 43, called the Sheriff's Office Wednesday to report that he had found a 17 pieces of mail in a traffic island across from his home on Timbercove Circle at about 4:30 p.m. Some of the mail had been opened.

The mail was addressed to five different people at four different addresses in the Sabal and Sweetwater areas, according to the incident report.

"Bear in mind that it's tax time," said Steve Olson, spokesman for the Sheriff's Office. "This is the time of year when people are waiting for refunds. There is always a possibility that people could be going after the mail at this time of year."

Deputies went to the homes listed on the mail. During the inquiries, residents mentioned seeing a suspicious looking, green van, which appeared to be a recently made Dodge or Plymouth.

Residents reported seeing a green van in the Spring Valley subdivision, driving down the street, turning around in the end of the road, and driving off quickly.

The theft of mail is not a new problem in Central Florida. Deputy sheriffs found missing mail on Christmas Day in two different Seminole County neighborhoods, one south of Oviedo, and the other, south of Chuluota.

"It's difficult to say if this mail theft is related at all to mail thefts in December," Olson said.

In Woodland Estates, south of Oviedo, mail belonging to at least eight different residents was found on the roadways.

Sock-it to Lake Jesup

Pre-school students at Santalito Christian School fill up cotton socks with sand for the Sock-it to Lake Jesup program. The socks are then used to be around the base of plants that will be planted along the shoreline on Saturday. The socks add weight that ensures the plants stay in place until their roots become established. Anyone interested in helping plant should go to Lake Jesup Park Saturday between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. The park is located at the end of Sanford Avenue in Sanford.

Three principals honored for accomplishments

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

The elementary, middle and high school Principals of the Year in Seminole County share a common commitment to their schools.

Ron Nathan, the principal of Goldsboro Elementary School, has seen a great deal of change at the school. In 1998, Goldsboro became Seminole County's first elementary magnet school for math, science and technology.

The implementation of the magnet school curriculum was accompanied by the construction of a two-story classroom building, three fully equipped math and science labs, and a multi-media Technology Center having four computer labs with Internet access.

The most unique project just completed on Goldsboro's campus is the Kids Space Center, which includes a mission control room, space shuttle area, and planet scape, all designed to simulate activities in space.

"Through the space lab, it's a lot easier for students to learn reading skills when it has meaning for them and it is interesting," Nathan said when the labs opened in February. "It makes more sense than learning reading by itself, in isolation. The same thing goes for learning math skills."

Meanwhile, Principal Richard Mossman has been active in starting a remedial reading program for students at all grade at South Seminole Middle School.

Students reading two or more years below grade level are placed in the remedial reading program for at least one semester. Results have been encouraging, as three out of four students improve their reading comprehension by one or more grade levels.

Volunteers needed at theater

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Volunteers are needed to help prepare for the May opening of the Helen Stairs Theater.

On Saturday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., a volunteer work day will be held at the newly renovated theater. Grand opening ceremonies for the former Ritz Community Theatre, located at 203 Magnolia Avenue, are set for May 6.

"We need to get dirt off of chairs and mop the floors," said Ron Rose, executive director of the Sanford Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. "We also need to paint the fireplaces. We're just looking for people that can volunteer some of their time. The more people that come, the quicker this will get done."

A reception will be held at the former Ritz Community Theatre May 6, kicking off a mini-season featuring a play and two concerts.

The main season will begin in September, and last through April, 2001. The season will include three plays and three concerts.

Nearly $2 million in public and private funds have been used toward the renovation of the theater, located at 203 Magnolia Avenue.

Members of the non-profit Ritz Community Theatre Inc. have gathered $978,000 in public grants and $900,000 in private funds to renovate the theater.

The theater, also previously known as the Milane Theater, was constructed in 1921. It housed a state-of-the-art theater with a 30-by-60 foot stage.

The downstairs area will have a total of 331 chairs when the theater opens. Another 641 padded, folding bleachers will be placed in the upstairs balcony area until additional theater chairs are purchased.

Programming at the theater will include touring stage productions, children's theater, film series, music performances, meetings and training sessions for businesses, and community events.

Mac is Sanford's salt of the earth

When A.A. "Mac" McClanahan was 11, he saved his money from doing chores to buy a bicycle. He lost his wallet, however. Extremely disappointed, the boy braced himself to start all over again.

A Kiwanis Club member in his hometown Minnesota showed up a day or two later with a surprise that taught McClanahan to be hopeful even in the darkest hours.

"He brought me a bike," Mac said Thursday. "And it's something I'll never forget."

Today, we do not have a bicycle or a car or a truck for Mac McClanahan. All we can offer is our gratitude for countless good deeds and service to the community that he has called home for 50 years. Sanford without its Mighty Mac would be no place at all.

To begin with, hundreds of youngsters may never had had their own bikes if it hadn't been for the man who remembered his Kiwanis Club gift. As soon as he joined the Sanford Kiwanis, McClanahan helped start a Christmas bike program for the needy.

When I think of Mac, whom I have known for five years, I see him smiling over bikes at the Sanford Fire House — working with the firefighters to repair those donated or discarded. I also see him in his Navy dress uniform on Veteran's Day. Mac served in World War II and retired as a Lt. Commander. And, I see Mac at Sanford City Commission meetings. He missed only five in 16 years — and deeply regrets being absent at the last four. Mayor Larry Dale has opened each of the four meetings with a prayer that Mac be back soon.

Mac's having another dark hour, as those close to him know so well.

Candice McClanahan, his wife of 33 years, agonizes over her Mac's failing health and the accompanying ailments. "He's just been playing with our five-year-old granddaughter," she said. "This was good for him — good for both of us."

"When he got sick, I started praying," said Pastor Mary Smith of the Sanford Christian Worship Center. "He's been like my daddy, my right hand. All through the years, if you needed help, Mr. Mac was there to help."

Longtime Sanford resident Ned Yancey recalled when his wife, Martha, ran and lost to McClanahan in a city commission race.

"She scared the heck out of him," Yancey said. "He didn't know if he was going to win or not. He told that to Martha. 'You scared the heck out of me.' That's Mac. Feisty, opinionated, saying whatever is on his mind. He's a good individual. I hate to see him not physically able. We're all getting older."

Sanford Commissioner Velma Williams said that McClanahan lends "invaluable wisdom" to the city commission.

"As I've become more familiar with Mac, the more I've grown to respect him and to like him," Williams said.

One of McClanahan's recent contributions to the city was serving on the special committee to reorganize the Sanford Police Department. If there was one constant at the meetings it was Mighty Mac pleading not to disband the SPD — not to turn it over to the Sheriff's Office. Every SPD cop who can count to three ought to be grateful.

McClanahan's failing health prevented him from being at the city commission meeting that delayed a definitive motion on the Fourth Street soup kitchen. Truly, the anchor man for the commission, Mac McClanahan is eager to help solve the dilemma.

"I'd like everyone to make this work," he said.

How long will it take for Mac to be back?

"Pray with me that it won't be too long," he requested.

Father Hughes celebrates 25 years in the priesthood

By Russ White
Staff Writer

CASSELBERRY — Dempsey and Bowser are going to have the St. Augustine Church rectory to themselves next Wednesday. Father Michael Hughes, the church pastor, is going to be in downtown Orlando to celebrate his 25th anniversary in the priesthood. Dempsey and Bowser are Father Hughes' pet boxers — blessed pals.

Father Hughes recently came back to St. Augustine after serving as principal of St. John Neumann High School in Naples and as pastor of the Church of the Resurrection of Our Lord in Dania Beach.

On the occasion of his 25th anniversary as a priest, 58-year-old Hughes and ten other priests in the Diocese of Orlando will renew their vows at St. James Cathedral. They do this at what is known as a Chrism Mass, where sacred oils are blessed and consecrated for use during the following year.

Hughes, a native of Philadelphia, was ordained on May 24, 1975, by Bishop F. Joseph Gorman at Our Mother of Consolation Church in Chestnut Hill, Pa.

"That's awhile ago," said Father Jack Flynn, the Associate Pastor at St. Augustine. "Father Hughes has been a good priest, serving wherever he has been called."

Father Flynn said Father Hughes was a member of the Augustinian order, one of the earliest in the church. "The Jesuits," Father Flynn said, "call themselves the Society of Jesus. But the Augustinians were before them."

This is Father Hughes' second call to St. Augustine Church. He served there as an associate pastor upon his arrival in Florida 20 years ago after being the principal at St. Nicholas of Tolentine High School in the Bronx. He returned to St. Augustine last year.

"I'm especially glad that Father Hughes is back," Father Flynn said Thursday. "He's a good cook, especially at barbecues."

St. Augustine became a parish in 1969 and now serves 1,800 families. Two former pastors — Father Dennis Harten (11 years) and Father Joseph Gerito (5 years) are returning for a number of celebrations at the church for Father Hughes.

Good economy doesn't mean people are happy

Are we kidding ourselves when we — and the politicians — speak of the good times in which we are living? True, more people have jobs than ever before, but are we really happy?

We have more luxuries than our parents and grandparents ever dreamed of, but we are coming to appreciate what that person meant who said, "Until you have a new house, a new car or a new refrigerator, you can't possibly imagine how little they are going to mean to you."

Jesus was hinting at the same idea when he said, "What doth it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" Could this be happening to us?

A headline in the newspaper the other day read, "Pessimism growing in U.S." We are coming to realize that having things and being happy are not the same things. The other day, I heard a young mother say that her family's next house is not going to have an electric dishwasher because her children are "missing the wonderful experience of doing dishes."

George Piagenz

While children are likely to consider it a chore and grumble about it, doing dishes with someone else can be fun and enjoyable. The conversation is easy and relaxed, and in some ways it is better at bringing two people closer together than sitting at the dinner table.

Prosperity has also deprived us of the virtue of thrift. We have not learned that the satisfaction that comes from self-denial cannot be matched by self-indulgence.

"You would think that economy would be one of the easiest habits in the world to break, but it isn't," said Norman Vincent Peale, in relating an incident when he chose to lug three suitcases off a train even though he was surrounded by redcaps.

Before he had left home, his wife had told him explicitly, "Norman, be sure to get a redcap to carry your bags." He said he would. So why didn't he?

"Some faint voice from the past," said Peale, "some echo of the rigid economy taught to me in childhood, spoke up sternly in the back of my mind, asking if it were really right to pay for a service you could perform just as well yourself."

Ah, yes — a voice from the past. I know exactly what Peale meant.

I recall getting a shoeshine once downtown. My father walked by, and I remember being just a little afraid he might look in and see me.

I was 30 at the time, a grown man earning my own living, but still I could imagine my father saying, "What are you doing having someone else shine your shoes? We have plenty of polish at home under the basement stairs."

Radio helped keep people's spirits up during the Depression in the 1930s. Eddie Cantor sang "Happy Days are Here Again" and Ben Jymie began his weekly program by asking, "Is ev-er-ee-body happy?"

Well, a lot of them must have been happy, because when they look back on those lean years (speaking Wall Street parlance), a wave of nostalgia washes over them. They can explain it in only one way: "We had everything but money."

Nobody wants to say, "What this country needs is another Depression," but it is ironic that more people are suffering from depression in these "good times" than they did when we spelled the word with a capital D.

There's Nothing That God Can't Do

It is such a consolation to know that there is nothing that our God cannot do. When unpleasant things happen to us, we should know that "in all things God works for the good with those who love Him, those whom he has called according to His purpose," (Romans 8:28). It is easy to thank our Lord when good things are bestowed upon us, and when we recognize His gentleness and loving ways. It is yet another thing to praise and thank Him whenever we are beset by trials and tribulations; however, keeping in mind that nothing is impossible with God, we should realize that God loves us more than we love ourselves. Parents have a special love for their children and want only what is good and best for them; likewise, our Father in Heaven wants only what is good and best for all His children. The Lord is good and is a refuge in times of trouble. He cares for those who trust in Him.

"What is impossible with men is possible with God."

Be Happy Your Life

If I could impart one bit of advice to anyone, it would be to be happy with where you are and with what you are doing. Life is so fleeting, and it does not make us any older. It is not a race to come to the total realization of what is truly important in one's life, and to be genuinely happy. However, we should all live each day knowing that this is the best time of our existence; not yesterday nor tomorrow, but right now. And, I don't mean to say that we should not look forward to tomorrow, or that we did not learn from yesterday, but we should get up each day and realize that this is the day that the Lord has made. Today is our day, and it is up to each of us to make the best of it! And although we should not mind help from those around us to make our lives more pleasant and content, we should not depend on others to make us happy in lieu of our own outlook. Life is not always easy, but it is always better. If we have a good day, we should be grateful. If we have a bad day, it is not always our fault, but we should be able to blame for that as well.

The Lord has done great things for us, and we are glad to praise him.

Taste of Oviedo

The Taste of Oviedo Art Committee has announced the names of the judges who will select artists for more than $3,000 to be awarded at the May 6 show. The sixth annual Taste of Oviedo, a celebration of May, will be held Saturday, May 6, on Alexandria Boulevard in Oviedo. The festival will include fine arts and crafts, musicians, local restaurants and businesses. Easter foods need proper handling

From ancient times, "the egg, which carries new life, has been a symbol of hope and renewal." Decorating eggs for spring, then, echoes the new life nature is presenting.

"Easter and Passover are marked by the eating of foods rich in tradition and symbolism."

The ceremonial foods in the Jewish Seder or Passover celebration mark milestones in the Hebrew escape from Egypt more than 3,000 years ago.

Based on herd-raising patterns, spring lamb was the traditional centerpiece of Easter meals for people in the Mediterranean, as it still is for many Americans of Mediterranean descent today.

The lack of refrigeration probably determined that ham for Easter became traditional for many of us. When most Americans lived on farms, hogs were butchered in the fall so the meat could be safely cured over the cold winter months. The first hams, ready by early spring, were a logical choice for Easter dinner.

That's a very quick history of some of our more common spring foods. "It's the sensory aspects of spring foods — the colored Easter eggs, the smell of brisket roasting in the oven, the smoky flavor of ham — that we like to savor. But what we need to remember is that these special foods also need proper handling."

Food Safety For Spring Foods
Since perishable foods like meat, poultry and eggs can be the source of bacteria that cause foodborne illness, they must be carefully handled. Follow these tips for safe handling.

Buying Ham Or Lamb
There are a variety of hams on the market today, so it is important to read the label to know how to handle and cook whatever you buy. For example, some canned hams are shelf-stable meaning they do not need to be refrigerated, but some canned hams do need to be refrigerated. Most lamb purchased for Easter is labeled "spring lamb" or "genuine spring lamb." The term "spring" does not necessarily refer to the season the lamb was born, but to its age (less than a year old) at the time it is sent to market.

When purchased, lamb is covered with a papery whitish membrane called the fell, which should be removed before cooking as it tends to make the flavor of the meat strong.

Cooking Ham, Lamb and Brisket

All meat and poultry should be cooked in an oven set at no lower than 325 degrees. Lower temperatures may not kill bacteria present in the food.

Barbara Hughes

Another important factor in keeping food safe is thorough cooking. All perishable foods must reach an internal temperature high enough to kill bacteria.

Handling Leftovers

All perishable foods should be refrigerated as soon as your meal is over, but no longer than two hours after removal from the refrigerator or oven.

For ham and lamb, carve the remaining meat off the bone and store it in small shallow containers in the refrigerator or freezer for later use.

The Egg Issue

Raw eggs like raw meat and poultry may be contaminated with foodborne bacteria. Salmonella enteritis is of particular concern.

Consumers should avoid eating raw eggs or foods containing them. Raw and cooked eggs should remain refrigerated at all times. How does this affect your Easter celebration?

Eggs For An Easter Egg Hunt

Hard-cooked eggs for an egg hunt must be prepared with care to prevent cracking the shells. If the shells are cracked, bacteria from your hands could seep through the shells, contaminating the inside. The eggs should be hidden in places that are protected from dirt, pets and other sources of bacteria. The total time for hiding and hunting eggs should not exceed two hours. The "found" eggs must be refrigerated until they are eaten.

Raw Egg Frosting For A "Bunny Cake"

Many recipes for bunny-shaped cakes call for using a raw egg white in the frosting. But any time raw egg whites are eaten, there is the risk of salmonella food poisoning.

It's probably wise to find a frosting recipe that uses hot syrup and egg white. If the egg white mixture reaches 160 degrees on a thermometer, it should be safe.

You may also be able to use a pasteurized powdered meringue available where cake decorating supplies are sold.

Wife wants to cut off chapters from tales

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine complains that her husband, who's in his 80s, talks for too much in social settings. She says his ramblings and storytelling threaten to ruin their social life, which consists of small, private dinners and the occasional cocktail reception. She says if she doesn't shut him up, their friends will shun them because they've heard all his stories before. However, he has either forgotten this — or relishes so much in the telling that he repeats them anyway.

Dear Abby

To fit this, she's preparing a written list of subjects — family, job, etc. — that he's absolutely forbidden to discuss when they're socializing. Some who know about this think it's a good idea and the only way for her to avoid more embarrassment and discomfort. Others feel it's an insult to her husband, and the real risk is not the couple's social standing, but her own marriage.

Who's right?
CURIOUS IN KENTUCKY

DEAR CURIOUS: I wish you had given me more information in your letter. Was the husband always this way? Could it be that he's become forgetful, or has had some small stroke? Or is he just a chatterbox who loves the sound of his own voice? At the very least, he needs a complete physical and mental status examination.

It's unrealistic to believe this man will carry his wife's list with him at all times and consult it before opening his mouth. Besides, true friends will reflect upon his positive traits and the friendship he has bestowed upon them in the past if his stories are repetitive or boring. And there is no law that says topics that have been discussed before can't be discussed again.

Whether the marriage will withstand her criticism depends upon the extent of his tolerance for her criticism. But he's a little old to trade her in.

DEAR ABBY: I started calling my in-laws "Mom" and "Dad." When my mother found out, she became very upset. She stated that it was an insult to her because "they were not the people who brought me up or raised me."

I did not mean to insult my mother. I just meant it as a term of endearment for my in-laws. I'm curious as to what other couples call their in-laws. Do they call them "Mom" and "Dad" or by their first names? I need to know the proper etiquette.
TROUBLED IN CONNECTICUT

DEAR TROUBLED: It's sad that your mother is so insecure that your gesture of love and respect for your in-laws was perceived as threatening. Many people address their in-laws as "Mom" and "Dad." Others use their first names. Occasionally people invent pet names to call their in-laws. The most inventive I can recall was "MIL" and "FIL" — for mother-in-law and father-in-law.

Phyllis Conklin named Habitat's Volunteer of the Month

Phyllis Conklin is a Sanford resident and respected and honored lady of the community for many years. This gal is a "rankee transplant" that Sanford folks have been blessed to have in their midst for 35 years, but who's counting? Maybe her husband, Bristol, better known as Cal, is counting 25 years since he brought Phyllis and their family from Illinois to the sleepy agricultural town of Sanford.

Phyllis has always done a lot of good, but she had done it subtly and without getting credit for most of it. That's the kind of lady she is, which explains why she tries to give most of the credit to Cal.

Phyllis has been active in Habitat since the second week Habitat was chartered in Seminole County, that was early in 1991. Both she and Cal did whatever needed to be done with construction. Phyllis really enjoyed "pounding nails" but any continued to build until her health would not give her that joy any longer. Today you can find Phyllis volunteering every Friday afternoon as a cashier in Habitat's Thrift Store.

Phyllis also delivered Meals on Wheels and when she saw a house that was unsafe for a senior citizen, she would tell Cal and he would make the needed repairs. She still makes her regular dinner deliveries, and has been doing this for more than 25 years, longer than anyone in the county. Her sweet and caring manner has endeared her to many folks over the 26 years of delivering meals to shut-ins.

She is an active member of Markham Woods Presbyterian Church, and was awarded the Presbyterian Woman's Lifetime Award. Phyllis was also honored by the Salvation Army for service, and received the Roberta Catch Award from the Sanford's Woman's Club, and the Dr. Perez Humanitarian Award by the Chamber of Commerce. Currently, she is the vice president of the Board of the Good Samaritan Home, an assisted living facility in Sanford.

Sometime in the '80s, both she and Cal were awarded the Brotherhood Award from the Martin Luther King Celebration Committee for their work with the black churches in the area.

It must be obvious to you by now that Phyllis Conklin has touched many lives in her beloved Sanford community.

And Sanford was blessed by God when He led the Conklin family here. We salute her, respect her, and ask God to continue to bless her.

Please Join Us Family Day

Spend a day at the Zoo and take a tour of our Sanford Power Plant to see how we're "repowering"!

Saturday, April 15 • 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.
Central Florida Zoological Park
3755 N.W. Highway 17-92 at I-4 (exit 52) in Sanford.

Admission is Free

Florida Power & Light Company and its employees are celebrating the beginning of our project to "repower" the Sanford plant to meet the future energy needs of customers in Central Florida. Repowering means replacing 1970's technology with new, state-of-the-art technology that will double the output of the plant and use natural gas instead of oil.

Together we have an opportunity to make our community an even better place to live. At Family Day, there will be displays showing how we plan to provide cleaner, more reliable power using an existing site rather than building new power plants.

With construction just getting underway, we want to assure you we'll work hard to keep inconveniences to a minimum and listen to suggestions on how we can continue to support our communities.

So come and join us! Our partners at the Central Florida Zoological Park are hosting Family Day and admission to the zoo is free! We'll be offering mini-bus tours back-and-forth to the plant, plus lots of other interesting and educational exhibits, and refreshments.

For a truly dazzling science demonstration, don't miss FPL's Electrifying Experience™ show – headed by renowned former geologist and instructor Robert Krampf – at 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

For directions, visit www.centralfloridazoo.org and go to "Facts & Tickets," or call Bob Coleman at (904) 254-2350.

Tampa writer is keynote speaker for conference in Deland

Julie Elizabeth Leto will be one of the keynote speakers at the fourth annual Carol Quinto Spring mini-conference, which will be held April 22 in Deland, Fla.

Born and raised in Tampa, Julie continues to live there with her husband, Tim, and two-year-old daughter, Alyssa Rose. "A native Floridian. Very rare, indeed," Julie said.

When Julie was in the sixth grade, she wrote three novels, yet never considered writing as a career.

"Don't ask me why. I guess I never realized that people made money having this much fun!" Julie said she became serious about writing while attending college, where she majored in creative writing as well as speech communication.

"I submitted my first finished novel in 1988 and I sold my fourth completed novel in 1997—just short of my 10-year plan," she said. "But hey, I'm flexible."

After graduating from college, Julie taught school for five years in Tampa and two years in Atlanta where her husband and she relocated for her husband's job. She retired from her teaching profession in 1996.

"When we came back to Florida, I had the opportunity to go to work for my family's manufacturing business," Julie said. "The job was basically secretarial, but I loved being with my family (mom, dad and three brothers) all day and having more 'brain' left at the end of the day to write."

Julie suggests that if your child has a favorite teacher, send "him or her a note telling them how much you appreciate them." Julie says that she has a note like that from a former student that she still keeps next to her desk. "Teaching is a wonderful profession, but it's emotionally draining."

Writing for Harlequin Temptation under the "Blaze" series, Julie says that she writes sizzling romances because that's what she likes to read.

"I also have been told that I have a particular flair with erotic love scenes, so since we should write what we do best—voilà!"

When she starts a new novel, she likes to choose her heroine first and simply chooses women that she likes—"women I'd like to be or character-types I like to read about." Then she finds the hero to match her.

"My men are usually Gamma-right between Alpha and Beta," she says. "A little rough, a little sensitive in varying degrees."

When asked what she's had to give up since she was first published, she says it's the "luxury of writing at my own pace." Now she's under deadline and says, "The pressure to write well and write quickly is a definite challenge. Fact is, in category, you have to get as many books out as you can to build your name. Which means writing and selling as fast as you can," Julie says. "I have to write a book, first draft, in about three months so I can polish for a few weeks before I send it out. That may not sound too hard since I stay home—but remember, I stay home with a two-year-old toddler. She's my first priority. I only write when she's asleep."

Julie's next novel, due out in May, is titled Good Girls Do!

"I finally got to keep a title," Julie says. She said that this book says it all—Miranda Carpenter is a professor of anatomy and sex education.

She's a bit of a mix between Dr. Ruth and Dr. Laura. But she's thrown into a tizzy when she's nominated as the most Virtuous Woman on Campus, a contest she's not sure she wants to win. Especially since the man who nominated her, sexy psychology professor, Noah Yeager, insists on helping her win. "Win? With this man, she wants to lose, lose, lose."

Her work in progress will be out in January of 2001 and will launch a Temptation series with Cheryl Anne Porter and Jill Shalvis, tentatively called The Chance Brothers. Her hero is Brandon Chance and he's a bodyguard in New Orleans who's been hired to protect his childhood best friend, Serena Devreau. Serena is the French Quarter personified—flighty, sultry, unpredictable—exactly what Brandon doesn't need in his life. There's a thread of intrigue in this story—and some very hot Southern nights.

Julie's workshop for the mini-conference is titled "From Fizzing to Sizzling." She says that love scenes don't work when other elements of your story—characterization, motivation, and conflict—don't work. She'll review ways to evaluate your manuscript and find the weak spots to strengthen the passion and sexual tension—as well as the love scenes themselves.

Thieves

The thefts apparently occurred the day before Christmas, investigators said.

In Pickett Downs, south of Ocala, mail from several mailboxes was found scattered in wooded areas and side streets. Investigators believe that these thefts also occurred on Christmas Eve. Some of the mail had been opened.

Previously, on Dec. 21, three additional mail thefts were reported in the Bear Lake area of Seminole County.

In two of the cases, the victims said their outgoing mail was taken before the postal carrier was able to pick it up.

One of the victims stated two checks were included in the stolen mail.

The third victim said his mail was stolen during the weekend, and a neighbor found some of the Christmas cards he mailed strewn across a yard.

There were mail thefts reported periodically throughout the month of December in the Bear Lake, Pickett Downs and Longwood areas of unincorporated Seminole County. Orange County has also reported mail thefts.

Investigators in December identified at least one suspect they believe was involved in the outbreak of stolen mail. The suspect's name has not been released since no arrest has been made, authorities said.

Federal authorities and the U.S. Attorney are investigating the mail thefts.

The thefts were first reported Dec. 5 in Seminole and Orange counties. The Bear Lake, Chulusta and Longwood areas were also hit by thieves, who take outgoing mail from residents' mailboxes.

Cards and letters that have no value to the thieves were discarded in the road, investigators said.

Principals

Students at South Seminole Middle School this year placed first in the Regional South Eastern Consortium of Principals in Engineering competition.

Mossman is the Middle School Principal of the Year for Seminole County.

"It's certainly a very nice honor," Mossman said. "I'm kind of overwhelmed by it. A lot of great things are happening at South Seminole. We have a great group of kids."

At Lake Howell High School, students have made significant progress on the High School Competency Test Scores. Improved from 77 percent passing in Communications in 1997-98 to 92 percent in 1998-99 math on the HSC, the passing rate improved from 76 percent to 86 percent during the same period.

Lake Howell Principal Don Smith is the county's high school principal of the year. "It's really a tribute to the school," Smith said. "The teachers, students and staff are working so hard. I have the easy job."

In Communications, Lake Howell scored the highest in the school district and second highest in the district in math. Participation in Advanced Placement courses has grown from 199 candidates in 1995-96 to 399 candidates for this school year. For the 2000-2001 school year, 231 students have requested 411 AP courses.

In addition, Lake Howell has focused on a comprehensive alternative education program. Lake Howell is the only high school in the school district to initiate the concept of a ninth grade counselor who works exclusively with freshmen students. This counselor holds orientations for students in small groups and seminars in such areas as time management, study skills, and stress management.

Nathan, Mossman and Smith will represent the school district in the Florida Principal of the Year Program.

HOROSCOPES

Your Birthday

SATURDAY, April 15, 2000

The coming year will provide a more favorable year for you to do many things you were unable to accomplish in the past. Build upon foundations you've already got going.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Any financial matters you deal with will have longevity to them, so if you've been working on a deal involving money, try to get at least a handshake on it now. Trying to push up a broken number! The AstroGraph Matchmaker can help you understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2.75 to Matchmaker, c/o the newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10116.

TALIBUS (April 20-May 20) Try to get out of the office to have today and spend some quality time on a pleasurable pursuit. The good time you have now will refresh you and set some time to come.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Give of yourself generously today because it will grant you more satisfaction than anything anybody could give you. This holds especially true when doing for your family.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you are an unattached Cancer, today could turn out to be very interesting for you. Get out and mingle; there is an advance on three areas to get to know you better.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) There are a couple of opportunities hovering about you today that could be exceptionally meaningful to you if properly explained. They have something to do with your work or career.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This could be a very enjoyable day spent socializing with the many different people you will meet. You might even make a new friend whose philosophy matches with yours.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) To be truly happy today, let your heart rule your head, even when dealing with financial affairs. The real value in life are not likely to consist of profit or commerce at this time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) Your pleasant disposition will make you rather generous with your compliments to others today, but you're apt to get many more in return because of how nicely you treat others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It's a good day to arrive for activities for the day. You're thoughtful, but you're difficult to achieve because challenges will awaken your resolve to overcome — whatever it takes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Take charge of the activities for this day instead of waiting on others to instigate something. Your leadership abilities qualify you for this role.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Someone who has a legitimate obligation to you might take care of this situation today. She or he is as eager as you are to clear up the matter once and for all.

PISCIS (Feb. 20-March 20) Be imaginative and even prepared to play several fields today if it will further a collective effort. Teamwork is essential in all things at this time.

In the other game, Tony Smith blasted a grand slam and Craig Merkerson tipped two two-run home runs as Sunrise

SARA Late Models hit Orlando tonight

By Dave Westerman
SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

BITHLO - Remember that old mystery movie line "The Butler did it"....well, add an "s" to that old saying and you have the T.B.A.R.A. Sprint results last Friday night at Orlando Speedway as the Butlers did it to the rest of a very competitive sprint car field.

Tonight, the Country USA 93.1 SARA/Coca Cola Late Model 100 will be run along with features only races in Modified, Sportsman, Mini-Stock and Super Stock, and Strictly Stock classes.

Gates open a 6 p.m. and racing begins at 8 p.m. every Friday night at the track located 17 miles east of Orlando between Orlando and Titusville on Highway 50 at the 520 Cocoa Cutoff.

The Butlers in question are Keith and Shane, sons of veteran driver Stan Butler. After Todd Schmidt took heat race #1, Keith Butler dominated heat #2 while younger brother Shane Butler ran off with heat #3.

Shane Butler had the pole for the 25-lap feature and jumped out to a healthy lead as Bobby Rose was lending off an angry pack of cars for second. Keith Butler started ninth and was picking his way through the field taking fifth spot just as Kevin Cahill stalled in turn two to bring out the races only caution flag.

Once green flew again, Keith Butler wasted little time picking off his competitors, finally catching his younger brother, Shane. Shane was able to fend off Keith for three laps but Keith's Riverview Paving Equipment special was on rails and he blasted by and ran off to victory. Shane Butler held on for second making it the first time the two siblings finished one-two in a T.B.A.R.A. race.

Father Stan Butler was both proud and impressed by his sons' performances only wishing he could have been in the field too, but a crash the previous week at Ocala sidelined his car.

What made Keith Butler's run even more impressive was that he was driving a former dirt sprinter that was given to him after it had been wrecked during 1999 Speedweeks. Butler clipped the front of the car himself making it into an asphalt sprinter. The car's dirt heritage was still there as Keith said it hooked up better when he drove through the sand on the edge of the race track cutting the corners.

Ho Hartley, another second generation racer, made a late pass on Todd Schmidt to put his Stephens International Shipping 3X into the show position. Schmidt held on for fourth with veteran Jim Chidlers taking fifth spot in the Jim Riddle Herbalife machine after starting 12th.

Point leader Wayne Reuttmann took the Heckman Motorsports/Eagle Jet International/Race against Drugs sprinter to a sixth place finish a head of 17-year old Shaun Farr who drove a steady race to seventh. Bobby Rose, Dave Fletcher and former Supermod and NASCAR Star Doug Heveron rounded out the top 10.

The Late Models were gearing up for the SARA/Late Model 100 but it was rookie "Tall" Tim Laurent who took the measure of the field in his Seanco Trucking sponsored machine. Only Kenny Crites' spin with two laps to go slowed Laurent as he took an Veteran Seminole Community College baseball coach Jack Pantelias will end a 28-year reign as head man of the Raiders next week. Pantelias and his charges are scheduled to play their final home game of the season this Saturday when they host Lake-Sumter Community College in a doubleheader starting at 1 p.m.

End of an era at SCC

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - Seminole Community College will mark the end of an era on Saturday as veteran head baseball coach Jack Pantelias will coach his final home games at Raider Field.

Pantelias announced last fall that this would be his final season as head coach of the Raiders, ending a reign of 28 years at the local junior college.

SCC, which has struggled overall this season, but has some big victories over Mid-Florida Conference heavyweights, will host Lake-Sumter Community College from Leesburg in a conference doubleheader starting at 1 p.m.

The Raiders then conclude the regular season schedule with conference road games at Florida Community College at Jacksonville (Tuesday, April 18th, 3 p.m.) and Central Florida Community College in Ocala (Thursday, April 20th, 3 p.m.).

Pantelias is only the second baseball coach in SCC history, having moved over from Florida Technical University (now the University of Central Florida) where he started that school's baseball program in the fall of 1972.

He replaced Jay Bergman, who started the SCC program in 1965, after Bergman left to go to the University of Central Florida. See SCC, Page 2B easy victory over Eddie King, Dallas Ward, Chris Fontaine and Mike Murphy. Laurent and King were heat race winners.

It looked like Jason Boyd was going to make it three wins in a row in the modifieds despite heavy pressure from second heat winner John Grimm. However a lapped car spun in front of the leaders with three laps to go. Boyd backed off thinking the caution was coming out—it didn't—and Grimm drove around Boyd and raced to the win in his RedDun Fire Sprinklers Camaro.
Boyd was second trailed by Chuck Burkhalter, first heat winner Frank Polly and "Hot Rod" and who, ironically, is the current head coach at UCF.

Pantelias is one of the winningest coaches in junior college history with well over 800 victories.
Over the years Pantelias has had players go on to the major leagues, like current Philadelphia Phillies outfielder Rob Ducey and all-time single-season saves leader Bobby Thigpen, and has gone out of his way to try to get all of his former players into college somewhere, no matter how little that player got to play at SCC.

He has also sent several former players and assistant coaches on to successful coaching careers, like Mike Ferrell at Lake Brantley High School (formerly at Lake Howell, Seminole and Oviedo), Alan Tuttle at Lake Mary High School, Howard Mable at Edgewater High School (formerly at Oviedo and Valencia Community College) and current assistant Rich Eckstein (University of Florida).
He also has a former player, Steve Zurhulien, who was a aportacaster for Channel 6 back in the 80's and is big in the movie industry today, having appeared in the baseball movie "Long Gone" and in several Steve Martin films and several commercials for Mobil and Chrysler (did you recognize the race car driver who says "ah's a real fire-cracker" in the Chrysler 300 ads?).

All baseball games are free of charge to the public at the field located on the SCC campus behind the Continuing Education Building.

chipped in with two goals and an assist as the Lions bounced back from a 3-2 halftime deficit to outscore the Hornets 6-2 in the final half.
The junior variety made it a perfect night for Oviedo as the junior Lions claimed a 7-3 triumph.
Bishop Moore, which leads its district race and is 13-3 on the season, scored two goals in the second period to break a 1-1 tie and lead at the intermission.
But Oviedo, which is now 6-7 on the season under head coach Eddie Norton, came out of the break on a mission, scoring three goals in each of the final two quarters.
In addition to Von Dohlen and Liljenquist, also contributing offensively for the Lions were Brian Jones (one goal, one assist), Jason McDonald (one goal) and Mark Wright and Scott Ramey (two assists each).
Bo Kazmarek and Ryan Zipperly scored two goals each for the Hornets, with Freddie Harrison adding the other score.
Oviedo will close out the regular season tonight when it hosts backyard rival Winter Springs in an important game for district seeding starting at 7 p.m. at John Courier Field.
The junior variety squads will open the evening's action at 5:30 p.m.
