Allied Tank Force Rams To Banks Of Frozen Han River

Red Casualties Rise As Confident U. N. Troops Slash Into Main Chinese Line

TOKYO, Feb. 9.—(AP)—American forces swept to the bank of the icy Han River near Seoul today. Allied shells poured into the burned-out old Korean capital. Chinese Red resistance in western Korea seemed shattered.

A lean and lanky westerner, Capt. A. W. Myers of Lander, Mo., sent back word to U. S. Third Division headquarters: "Task Force Myers is now wetting its feet in the Han."

It was a dramatic climax to a Red-hunting offensive that began Jan. 25 some 35 air miles south of the former Korean republic capital.

Taking ground was only of secondary importance. The Allies aimed to hurt the Chinese and Korean Reds and they did—more than 61,000 killed, wounded or captured.

Other armored tank forces were within two miles of Seoul, on the left bank of the Third Division. One rumbled within six miles of Seoul, Yellow Sea port for the capital, and then withdrew to Allied lines.

U. S. and Puerto Rican infantry moved up behind the tanks. The U. S. 25th Division's Task Force Dolvin, punching up the main road to Seoul, sent patrols to within 1 1/2 miles of Yonggong, the ancient city's industrial suburb on the southwest bank of the curving Han.

Only on the right end of the western sector and on the central front were the Reds mulling up a scratch. Early morning counterattacks in those areas were hurried back.

Lt. General Matthew B. Ridgway, U. S. Eighth Army commander, visited the Third Division front and saved on Task Force Myers in its plunge to the Han. Ridgway praised his soldiers of (Continued on Page Two)

Mail Restrictions Are Taken Off As Rail Strike Ends

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The Post Office Department today lifted all restriction on mail service.

An order, effective immediately, directed all post offices to resume normal mail service. Various restrictions had been put into effect during disruption of train service due to the switchmen "sick" strike.

The order gives the nation regular postal service again for the first time in more than a week. A partial ban on bulk mailings, except air mail, was put on Feb. 1 when the walkout of switchmen tied up operations at important terminals.

When the situation worsened, the Post Office Department on last Saturday suspended all non-air mail services except class mail of less than eight ounces, daily newspapers, packages of medical and surgical supplies, and money shipments by banks.

It also put a two-pound limit on air parcel post packages. The general embargo was relaxed two days ago, but this still left the city of St. Louis, and the states of Illinois, Indiana, the northern peninsula) cut off Ohio and Michigan (except for from the rest of the country so far as bulk surface (train) mail was concerned. The postal service also continued to refuse bulk mail which has to cross the Mississippi river in either eastward or westward directions.

Destructive Fire Rages In Michigan Records Building

Damage To State Nerve Center Estimated At Over $4 Million

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 9.—(AP)—A stubborn fire, having in old records in Michigan huge state office building, today burned into its 25th hour, still drying control. Damage to the eight-story structure, housing key state offices, today was estimated at $4,000,000, with an upward revision possible. Part of state government was temporarily paralyzed. Firemen from five cities joined in fighting the treacherous blaze, which broke out shortly after noon yesterday, on the "M" floor, 5th and a half stories up. The firefighters, working through the night, were just plain pinch money even charging their aged parents for lights, water, heat and food.

On the list were judges, officials, corporation executives, politicians, and building contractors. In case "W" Kemper requested financial assistance to his mother because he contributed to the Community Chest and paid taxes. (Continued on Page Eight)

At 8 A. M. it was still out of control. It broke out in the State Office Building at 12:30 P. M. yesterday. A desperate night-long battle failed to subdue it.

Governor G. Mennen Williams who toured the blaze area, said a "large part" of the state government was "temporarily paralyzed" by the damage.

Four firemen and a policeman were overcome by smoke and fumes. Firemen poured water into the building shell at the rate of 9,000 gallons a minute.

The eight-story office building, constructed 28 years ago and housing many state agencies, is about a block from the Capitol. The Capitol was reported in a danger, however, they anticipated a battle at least until midmorning before they could get into the two (Continued on Page Eight)

PHINCEY MISCONDUCT LONDON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Lady Isabel Violet Kathleen Guinness was granted a divorce today on grounds that her airman husband "acted in a French hotel."

Lady Isabel claimed that her husband, group Capt. Thomas Noel Evelyn Bullock Guinness, former member of Parliament for Bath, went to the Trianon Palace Hotel in Versailles with a woman referred to as Princess Gloria Fachiri. The suit was not defended.

Parents Of Rich Found On Old Age Assistance Rolls

Many Wealthy People Refuse To Provide For Aged Parents

ATLANTA, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The state of Georgia today had turned up 31 cases of rich parents receiving public old age assistance.

And, said State Welfare Director Alan Kemper, that was just "sampling" produced when he asked his clerks to "bring me a few cases."

In nearly every instance, low Kemper added, the children felt the meager checks were a form of interest on their high taxes.

Some of these people, he continued, were just plain pinch money even charging their aged parents for lights, water, heat and food.

On the list were judges, officials, corporation executives, politicians, and building contractors. In case "W" Kemper requested financial assistance to his mother because he contributed to the Community Chest and paid taxes. (Continued on Page Eight)

Holland Says Navy Still Coming Here

Negotiations currently being carried on with Naval authorities by the Fernald-Laughlin Hospital Association will not be allowed to interfere with the reactivation of the Sanford Naval Air Station, the Herald was advised this afternoon by Senator Seward Holland.

"Officers of Senator Smathers, Congressman Henlar and myself," Senator Holland telegraphed, "have been assured by the office of the Chief of Naval Operations that hospital negotiations will not hinder the reactivation of the Sanford base. Plans are progressing on schedule for the reopening on May 1."

Condemnation Suit Against J. Crooms Casts $23 Thousand

A statement of the cost of the recent condemnation suit by the County School Board against J. N. Crooms and the Bentley Estate was submitted yesterday by the Board by Fred Wilson, attorney, who revealed that the total cost of the suit, including the outlay for the land as adjudged by the Court was $23,443.

Checks were issued against the capital outlay fund covering these bills, said Supt. T. W. Lawton this morning.

Unless appeal against the decision is made by the owners of the property located near the Crooms Academy, advertisement will be made in the near future for bids for an addition to the Academy, said Mr. Lawton.

The Board has planned expansion of facilities of this Negro high school for more than a year," he stated, "but has been prevented from doing this as the State Department of Education would not authorize any expansion of facilities until the site had been substantially enlarged."

M. C. Hagan, county supervisor, asked the Board for the right to cut a ditch to the west of Crooms Academy, stating that he would use material from the excavation to fill another ditch on the property. He was requested to have the matter submitted by the County Commission in the form of a letter to the School Board.

BOY SCOUTS AN Boy Scouts and Cubs are requested to meet at 10:45 o'clock at McKinley Hall with Scout Commissioner Bob Lippincott and John Pierson in order to attend the ceremony in their honor at 11:00 o'clock at the First Methodist Church. The Rev. J. E. McKinley will deliver the sermon.

Beating Of Labor Man Linked To Contract For Scrap Metals

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The New York Post said today that the Kefauver Crime Investigating Committee has served subpoenas on about 200 New York politicians, gamblers, longshoremen's leaders, known racketeers and others in its probe of underworld activity in the state.

A number of them, the Post said, are alleged lieutenants of Frank Costello, gambling figure, who already has been asked to appear before the committee.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Gambler Frank Costello will testify before the Kefauver Crime Investigating Committee when it resumes its probe into nationwide racketeering here next Tuesday. A committee spokesman said he would be followed by bookmaker Frank Erickson who is serving a jail term for bookmaking and conspiracy.

SUDBURY, Ont., Feb. 9.—(AP)—A Canadian Pacific railway passenger train struck the rear end of a loaded bus at a crossing seven miles east of here today, killing eight men and injuring 22. The crash occurred in 47-below-zero weather and fog shrouded the region, with visibility down to 100 yards or less.

First reports from the scene said the train, out of Montreal, stopped about a half mile from the point of the accident to let some passengers and was not picking up speed when it struck the rear of the bus. The train was running late.

The bus, owned by the Nickel-Nickel Coach Line, was carrying the men to the International Nickel Plant at Coniston. The driver (Continued on Page Two)

Slaughterers Will Be Limited To Proportion Of Meat Equal To Supply Of 1950

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The government slapped strict controls on livestock slaughtering today in an effort to forestall black markets in meat.

The Office of Price Stabilization issued an order bringing all livestock slaughter under a system of "slaughter quotas."

"We are determined to keep meat out of the black market, and to see that steaks, pork chops and roasts continue to be available in all portions of the country at a fair price. We believe this slaughter control order is a big step in that direction."

The order will have the effect of limiting slaughterers to the (Continued on Page Eight)

It was cold again today from the Dakotas to Maine and there wasn't much promise of relief. The cold air hit into parts of the southeastern states. It was freezing in northern Florida again today and there was some snow in Tennessee.

The Midwest, with not much break in cold spells, got the coldest weather again today, with the mercury tumbling to 25 below zero in Wisconsin.

But it also was sub-zero in the New England states and some parts of New York. Augusta, Me., reported a minimum of 3.

The northeastern section reported four deaths attributed to the cold and stormy weather. Rain and snow and strong winds preceded the cold blasts.

Forty domestic plane flights were cancelled at New York's LaGuardia airport yesterday. The "snow" reported the weather bureau at Eastport, Me., causing 25,000 damage and ice and high winds caused power blackouts in some New Jersey cities. Some schools

Allied Tank Force

He expressed pleasure over the Allied drive.
"The relative losses inflicted to those sustained by us is a very very high ratio," he said.
That's what we want.
The ration of Red losses was figured at about 100 to 1 several days ago.
But Task Force Myers had no chance to inflict losses in its punch to the Han. The Chinese had either been killed already or had fled.
The Task Force drove to Karang, a village on the south bank of the stream about five air miles southeast of Seoul.
In the armored column were Puerto Ricans, U. S. Negroes, anti-aircraft units and other attached troops.
The advance was over mine-infested roads but there was little opposition, except for sporadic mortar fire.
To the west of Task Force Dolvin, a column led by Col. William Bartlett of Washington, D. C., showed ahead without opposition.
The weather turned bitterly cold. Snow and thick overcast

Steel Company

000 a year.
O'Connor said the Crime Committee wanted to learn whether there were any "ulterior motives" for awarding the contract to Renda.
Robinson denied that "Briggs does business with hoodlums."
The Senator replied:
"It (the contract) certainly looks absurd."
John L. Hurling, committee counsel put in: "Unhappy I'm one of your stockholders, and if that's the way you do business I intend to put my stock on the market as soon as I get home."
Robinson, son in law of owner Walter O. Briggs of the auto body building firm, declared:
"We never have dealt with racketeers or hoodlums."
A high union official told O'Connor, sitting as a one-man subcommittee, that there may have been a tie-up between the awarding of the lucrative Briggs scrap contract and the beating of several local union officials in the mid-1940s.
Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO-United Auto Workers, testified the Briggs company never did anything about the beatings and said he told officials the details "of our feelings and suspicions" about the Renda contract.
Renda admitted yesterday he virtually ruled out ground-support aerial operations.
The bad weather also prevented General MacArthur from landing at U. S. Eighth Army headquarters on his 10th trip to Korea from Tokyo.
In the rugged mountain country of the central front—a 30-mile battleline extending north-eastward from Kumyangjang in an arc to above Hoengsong and then down to Yaju—U. S. and South Korean troops ran into stiff opposition.
They were forced to shell each hill and then send patrols ahead to make any headway at all.
These forces were about 25 miles south of the 38th Parallel, the old north-south boundary.
Three Allied tank forces fanned out northeast, north and northwest of Hoengsong against light resistance. There were no spectacular gains in this sector, however.
Hoengsong is about 50 air miles east-southeast of Seoul.
One south Korean column Powa, 11 miles northwest of Hoengsong. Four miles northeast of that town another unit engaged a red battalion in a small arms fight.
Five miles southeast of Hoengsong Allied troops ran into some resistance north of Saenam.
On the eastern flank of the central front, U. N. troops advanced unopposed to a point 17 miles north of P'yongchang and just south of the road junction of Changdong.

State Farmers Market

Report No. 78
SANFORD STATE FARMERS MARKET
Sanford, Florida.
The following prices reported by the Dealers on the Sanford State Farmers Market for produce sold had no equipment or experience when he first won the Briggs contract. He said the same company which had held the contract for 18 years before then continued to do all the actual work in hauling scrap out of the Briggs plant.
Mazey said the beatings of unionists began shortly after the contract changed hands.
Hurling attempted to show that Briggs switched its scrap contract after an equally lucrative one was awarded to father-in-law Perrone at the Detroit Michigan Store Co. and "took care of labor problems there."

Marshall Plan

"are in the mill now."
Senators at first suggested that no 18 year olds be called until all men 19 and above had been ordered to duty. Marshall vigorously opposed this, saying the pentagon wanted them "simultaneously" and preferred the 18 year olds to those 24 or 25.
Marshall also was said to have suggested that the Army, Navy and Air Force be permitted to call in 4-Fs for limited duty service to fit their needs.
Marshall reportedly agreed to lower his sights from 27 months service to two years' full service exclusive of leave. Thus, if a serviceman passed up his annual 30-day leave, he could finish his military service in 24 months.
The National guard issue is over whether to continue a provision of the present draft act. It permits deferment of youths of 18 1/2 or under who are National Guardsmen in states where governors proclaim their drafting would reduce the guard below authorized strength. They are subject to service, of course, if their units are called up.
The U.M.T. bill would end these automatic deferments. Marshall contends that building up the regulars should rate ahead of the Guard.

 True spirituality which constantly emanates from God, and which marked the life of Christ Jesus, can transform mankind's daily experiences. This truth is developed in all Christian Science services next Sunday when the subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Spirit."
 This verse from Ezekiel (39:29) supplies the Golden Text: "I have poured out my spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God."
 Bible readings from the King James Version, include the account of Peter's recognition of the Christ as the healing power in Jesus' work; "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God," and Jesus' reply, "And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church" (Matt. 16:16, 17).
 Passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "I was now evident to Peter that divine Life, Truth, and Love, and not a human personality, was the healer of the sick and a rock, a firm foundation in the realm of harmony" (p. 138).

 "Today the need is urgent, not alone for a new world organization, but for a new spirit on which to build it, and that new spirit can start at only one point—with humility and penitence about ourselves."
 "The Great Wall of China was a gigantic structure, costing immense expenditure and labor, and when finished it seemed a superb way to gain security; but within a few years of its building it was breached three times by the enemy. Only note: it was breached, not by breaking down the wall, but by bribing the gate-keepers. It was the human element that failed; what collapsed was character, proving insufficient to make the great structure men had reared really work. A like fate awaits us if, absorbed in political tasks, we forget the spiritual foundations."

Senator Holland was the principal speaker in Bartow Wednesday at the 100th anniversary celebration of that city's founding.

The price of cabbage has reached the highest peak in history, now selling at the Farmers Market for as high as $5.00 a 50 pound bag.

Summerlin Avenue in Mayfair was named after Jacob Summerlin, a pioneer Central Florida cattleman, who served as a leader in rounding up cattle in this section during the Civil War for the Confederate Army.

Dean Matherly of the University of Florida says we can halt the Russian advance toward world domination only if we are willing to pay the price.

Eighty-three people are killed when a New York commuter train plunges over an embankment near a temporary trestle in New Jersey.

We are coming out with our special edition Monday with 64 pages of news and pictures, eight or ten times our normal size.

We were surprised to hear that some Sanford interests are opposing the reactivation of the Sanford Naval Air Station.

When Kemal's subjects were struggling with the reformation which he made in the written language, he himself went into country districts and took a hand in teaching both old and young.

Rail Strike Lesson

There is a hard lesson to be learned in the new wave of railroad strikes which again, at a most unfortunate time, has caused a disastrous paralysis of transportation.

The chain of events in the railroad situation has demonstrated conclusively that the government is not able to prevent strike paralysis, even though it has had direct control of the railroads since last August.

Short of vesting the government with dictatorial power over labor and industry, there appears to be no way out of this situation as long as the strike retains its status as a legitimate, accepted tool of bargaining.

German-French Amity

An encouraging development in Germany is discerned by Leo Lania, author of "Nine Lives of Europe," who has recently returned from the Continent.

A reconciliation would mend the oldest national quarrel in Europe, dating back to the sixth century. Then the Franks, a Germanic tribe, ruled both France and Germany.

If a complete alliance is too much to be hoped for in the near future, the two countries ought to find a way of living in friendship.

Congress In No Hurry

Every year Congress is roundly criticized for slowness in getting at its work, for letting necessary legislation go until the last minute.

This session so far has produced no great flurry of early activity. In the first month the members dropped about three thousand bills into the hopper and filled some eighteen hundred pages in the Congressional Record.

THE WORLD TODAY

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

That was a good comment by the commander of our Turkish Allies in Korea who remarked that his men were enjoying the fighting because they were "up against a tough and stubborn enemy."

Of course this type of courage isn't a new Turkish trait, for it runs back through the centuries. However, it's interesting to find it not only persisting but emphasized—an emphasis imparted to it by the late Mustafa Kemal.

A further token of the temper of the Turks is seen in the announcement that Mustafa Kemal's adopted daughter, Major Sabiha Gökçen, a fighting plane pilot, is going to Korea to get into the shooting.

This new Turkey, which may join the Western Powers as the Balkan flank for their defense line, is truly the product of the amazing Mustafa Kemal. To those who remember his military and political achievements, it isn't strange to find his adopted daughter persisting on the battle-line.

When Kemal's subjects were struggling with the reformation which he made in the written language, he himself went into country districts and took a hand in teaching both old and young.

On the other side we get this amazing incident of which I was told by an informed source: Kemal was having trouble with political elements which were bent on overthrowing his government.

Nothing was too sacred for Kemal. He had no qualms about the matter and so he ordered his men to go to the scene.

Sanford Forum

Editor, Sanford Herald, Sanford, Fla.

Your issue of Feb. 8th reporting on a statement by Mr. W. L. Kirk, made to the Jaycees: "Certain interests oppose Navy coming here."

I am interested to know these groups by name. I doubt if they exist; but if they do, they certainly know who this statement covers, and I believe the public is entitled to know.

It is my belief that virtually everyone in Sanford is interested in the sound progress of the town.

If we know where everyone stands, we can resolve our differences for the common good. If we listen to rumor about mysterious groups, we are shadow-boxing with fear, and often create misunderstandings which cannot be healed, and which never were actually based on fact.

Sincerely, M. L. Cullum

Dear Mr. Dean:

Your editorial February 8th: It was good to see this fine appreciation of a gifted scholar and a genuinely great man.

Nothing else so far produced in the Western Hemisphere can compare in sheer beauty and majesty of expression with his Thanatopsis. Even if this had proved to be his only work it would have assured his claim to premier rank in this field.

Oklahoma Aggies Down Arch Rival Oklahoma 48-45 In Revenge Game

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Only basketball team to whip the Oklahoma Aggies all season in Oklahoma, and the Aggies took care of that last night.

A & M won its 20th game, 48-45, in a battle of the country's two leading defensive lives. The victory avenged a 40-44 upset on Oklahoma's home court last month.

The Aggies jumped into an apparently safe 10-point lead midway of the last half on the shooting of Don Johnson. Then Oklahoma caught fire and pulled to within two points with 21 seconds left before A & M froze the ball and added a free toss after the buzzer.

Johnson led the No. 2 ranking Aggies with 14 points.

Western Kentucky (14-6) ambushed visiting Cincinnati, 76-70, for the Ohioan's second loss of the season. Cincinnati, No. 11 ranking nationally, couldn't quite make it with a late rally. The Bearcats have won 12 games.

Bob Zawoluk scored 30 points in sparking St. John's of Brooklyn to a 66-61 victory over hapless John Carroll. The 6-4 ace dropped in 12 goals and all 12 free throw attempts in the Cleveland arena record held by Charley Share of Bowling Green.

Zawoluk also went one point over a piecewise laceration over the thousand mark for a season and a half of competition. St. John's No. 7 ranking, now has a 7-12 mark.

Brimham Young (19-4) stretched its Skyline Conference lead in drubbing Colorado A & M, 47-42. Long Island University (17-4), back home after four straight road losses, defeated Betan Hall, 79-67.

Bob Barnett set a new four-year school scoring record at his Evansville Aces drubbing Indiana State, 64-45. He tallied 10 points to make his four-year total 1,196, one point more than Gus Doerner.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Also Saperstein freely admits that his Harlem Globetrotters aren't by any means the best basketball team in the world and that they win because the playing rules aren't what they ought to be.

Those may be amazing statements from a guy whose business is the Harlem Globetrotters, but Saperstein is no sap. He's a man noted for doing amazing things and getting away with it.

That helps the Globetrotters because their style is based on skill and team-play and the fans like to see it, but it doesn't help the game in general to have the scores come too easily.

Part of the thrill in watching sports is being able to jump up and cheer for your team. Also argues. "In baseball or football you can stand outside and tell how the game is going by the cheers. You can't do that in an April when one team scores and 18 seconds later they score at the other end of the floor."

Pointless Points
Continuing in a serious vein, Saperstein says: "There's something wrong with the game. There's no premium on skill and finesse. Everything favors the point-getter, the big man, and the referee protects him. There has been a sort of trend toward 'control' basketball, but by only a few teams. Our players have had to develop skill to save their legs, playing a game every night, and that's what the fans come out to see. At a time when most sports and entertainments are cent over last year. And I'll down—and I really mean down—our attendance up about 18 per cent, make a prediction that in April, when we're in conflict with baseball, our tour with the college all-star will do between 95 per cent and capacity."

Short Changes
Saperstein's suggestions, boiled down from several thousand words are: Restore the center jump; widen the foul lanes to give "the ordinary six-footer" a chance against the big man, under the basket; stop calling fouls in the back court, and call them closer under the basket. "Give the defensive player a little leeway under the basket, where body contact is natural, so allow him a little. Then the player would have to de-

Women's Swimming Team Trials Open At Georgia Pool

ATHENS, Ga., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Trials for 16 positions on the United States women's swimming team for the Pan-American game opened here today with most of America's top swimmers competing.

Winners in six events today and tomorrow in the University of Georgia's giant Stageman Hall pool, go to Buenos Aires, Argentina, late this month. The games will be held Feb. 25-March 8.

Events are the 100, 200 and 400-meter free style races; 100-meter backstroke; 200-meter breaststroke, and the three-meter diving.

In addition the girls will swim the 300-meter medley relay and the 400-meter free style relay in Buenos Aires. Winners of events in tryouts here plus several extras will make up the relay teams.

Practically every section of the country was represented among the 50 entries. However, the bulk of the team is expected to be made up of swimmers, most of them national champions, from "strange" teams in Chicago, LaSalle, (Purdue University), Indiana, St. Louis, Los Angeles and New York City.

Dr. Joseph D. Shortell of Boston, who performed the surgery on the Williams' elbow, died in Miami last Saturday and it is likely it was a severe shock to the Red Sox better.

Months ago Dr. Shortell assured Williams, Cronin and Manager Steve O'Neill that the slugger's fractured elbow was as good as ever.

NEW YORK.—Of the six major league managers replacing former pilots in the baseball camps this spring Marty Marion faces the toughest job.

Formerly Mr. Shortstop of the majors, the popular 35-year-old native of Richmond, R. C., is expected by Fred Salgh to get the St. Louis Cardinals back in the first division. When they finished fifth under likeable Eddie Dyer in 1950, it was the first Red Bird trip to the second division in 12 years.

Since Dyer was a brilliant strategist—he won the National League pennant and World Series from the rich Red Sox in 1946—Marion's job appears all the tougher. However, maybe Marty, a smart cookie himself, learned a few tricks about managing from Dyer, now a Houston insurance man, Marion, incidentally, was the chap who worked hardest to get the Players' Pension Plan rolling.

Off what we have heard and seen, the second toughest job for a new pilot appears to have fallen to Paul Richards of the Chicago White Sox.

If Paul, who managed Seattle last year and Buffalo and Atlanta before that can keep White Sox General Manager Frank Lane out of the Comiskey Park clubhouse, Richards' task should be easier. The White Sox went through two managers last year—Jack Onslow and Red Corriden—and at the World Series there was talk that the pale horse players had signed a petition to keep Mr. Lane out of the dressing room. Of course, Lane was trying to get to the bottom of why the Sox finished sixth.

However, it might be different this year. Lane first admired Richards' ability 12 years ago when Paul piloted Atlanta. Lane "became entranced" when Richards led Buffalo and its team of pitchers to the International League flag in '49.

The post-season White Sox turnover has been on the large size. Newcomers include Joe Dolson, Birdie Tebbets, Al Zarilla and Dick Littlefield from the Red Sox. El Stewart from Washington and Harry Dorish, a drafted pitcher who has been up with the Browns and Red Sox.

Steve O'Neill will be on the spot when Boston writers run out of material and because the Red Sox figure to be fighting for the pennant right down to the wire. O'Neill is a popular guy, one who sets his players to go all out. He almost won the flag after replacing Joe McCarthy, finishing only six games back in third place.

Al Lopez figures to be popular in Cleveland though he may never make Indian fans forget how Lou Houderick drove his club to victory in '48. Lopez was one of the great catchers in baseball. Uncle Wilbert Robinson liked "the Spanish kid from Tampa" the first time he saw him.

Jimmie Dykes, the cigar smoker ex-White Sox pilot who once accused Joe McCarthy of being a "pushbutton manager," steps into a weak spot with the Athletics. However, Jimmie, could move the club which slide to cut and how to get around the defensive man. Every goal would mean something.

Say That Again
"I may have a little more imagination than the rest," Abe adds to explain his team's drawing power. That sounds right. During World War II he'd risk having the Trotters playing three games a day to entertain service men; he undertook an Alaskan game in a week he has taken the team to Hawaii, Mexico, Cuba, Europe and North Africa. Last spring he braved predictions of failure to book a flying national tour with the College All-Stars. It was so successful that he paid off all double the promised salaries. This spring he is varying the script by looking a game in the Rose Bowl—just to see if he can't attract a world-record crowd. Don't bet that he won't.

Top Fillies Race For Santa Susana Stakes Tomorrow

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Outstanding fillies campaigning in the three-year-old division in the west vie tomorrow in the $20,000 Santa Susana Stakes at Santa Anita Park.

There'll be no outstanding debutantes in the field, such as a Red O' Roses, Next Move or Special Touch, all of whom are four-year olds, but a lively tussle for the juicy plum is in prospect.

Leading money winner to date and high weight in the group is Catherine Hartwick's Sickle's Image, which has won six out of 12 starts, with two seconds and two thirds, and collected $29,760 in prize money. The brown youngster won the Hollywood Lassie and James H. Connors Memorial Stakes as a two-year-old and will carry 121 pounds over the seven-furlong route.

Chief rivalry for Sickle's Image is expected to come from the old English Rancho's Ruth Lily, who ran second to the Little Sickle in the Hollywood Lassie and has a record of seven firsts in 11 trips to the post worthings of $18,350. Ruth Lily was hand 115 pounds.

William Goetz' Spinaround spar-

As up a notch or two on hustle alone. He is the second manager A's have had in 51 years, Connie Mack having had the post since the turn of the century.

Of the new pilots, possibly the easiest job (and I risk losing a friend on this one) belongs to Charley Dressen, a Larry McPhail man who returns to Brooklyn, a spot he never should have left in the first place. All Charley needs is a nitcher or two (preferably and for relief). He already has a big three in Don Newcombe, Preacher Roe and Krv Falen. And maybe Ralph Branca will be his relief pitcher.

ingly raced since she was bought for $20,000 at a Louis B. Mayer auction a year ago, has two victories in seven starts. She won two races and raced third twice in five efforts at Hollywood Park last fall but hasn't found the winner's circle at Santa Anita thus far.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt has a likely looking prospect in Sweet

Talk, a half sister of the sparkling Red O' Roses. She has won her only start at Santa Anita and scored three wins out of 13 tries last year.

Other probable starters include No Third Chance, racing for Isador Bieler; H. H. Helbush's These Times, Mr. and Mrs. Clement L. Hirsch's Holter and the King brothers' King Reward.

Slaughter Controls

 same proportionate share of animals they killed in 1950.
 New slaughterers are banned from starting operations, unless they can show they are badly needed by the public.

The regulation provides: From now until Apr. 1, no slaughterer may slaughter cattle, calves, sheep and lambs, or swine unless he was engaged in the business of slaughtering that species of livestock in the period from Jan. 1, 1950 up to now.

By Mar. 15, all slaughterers except farm slaughterers must register with the O.P.S. No slaughterer except farm slaughterers may legally slaughter any livestock after Apr. 1 unless he has registered.

Beginning Apr. 1, the volume of slaughter by each registered slaughterer will be regulated by quotas established on the basis of 1950 experience.

New slaughterers will be registered "only upon a definite showing that the proposed new establishment is essential to meet civilian needs which can not be met from any other source, and that operation of the new establishment will promote the national defense by facilitating the production and orderly distribution of meat."

On another food front, DiSalle and Economic Stabilization Chief Eric Johnston were quoted as saying they will not recommend any change in the present parity protection for farmers until after further study.

That word came from Chairman Maybank (D-SC) after a Senate-House watchdog committee on mobilization met in closed session with the price control chiefs.

Under the present law, price ceilings can not be imposed on farm products until they have reached either (1) parity or (2) the pre-Korean war levels, whichever is higher. Parity is a figure calculated to give the farmer a fair return for his products.

DiSalle's associates had said in advance he had decided against recommending changing the parity proviso now despite official estimates that grocery prices of wheat, eggs, citrus fruits and other below-parity foods might go up five percent.

A government report yesterday showed that retail food prices hit an all-time peak in the last half of January, about 8 percent above the level before the Korean war.

Parents Accused

 The Welfare Department told of another case in which a man, his wife, one child and his mother live in a very expensive home and insist that the welfare workers use the servants' entrance while checking on the mother's old age benefit needs.

A corporation executive tried to argue the stat into paying $25 a month board for his mother, Kemper related, and then when the state refused "insisted we at least allow for a share of lights and water in addition to her food and clothing."

The report by Kemper came yesterday as the Georgia Senate passed a resolution asking Congress to permit publication of the names of those receiving public assistance, an act now forbidden by federal law.

Destructive Fire

 top floor and the seat of the blaze. No cause for the fire was known. Governor Williams ordered an immediate investigation.

Firemen broke air hammers trying to cut through reinforced concrete floors of the building. For a time they considered using dynamite.

Neighboring cities sent firemen to aid the Lansing fire department. State and city police also took part.

The building, built at a cost of $3,000,000 in 1923, suffered "at least" $4,000,000 damages, including equipment, according to State Fire Marshall Arnold Renner.

Nerve center of half of state government, the building was left a roofless mass of ice, leaking water at every crevice. Governor Williams who had plowed through the burning building in an old Navy fatigue uniform, ordered an emergency setup to keep the government going as well as it could. Thirteen hundred employees were told to stay home, however.

Even the state's telephone system, embracing the capital and outlying offices, was out of commission. The switchboard was located in the damage area.

Dense, acrid fumes of burning chemicals came from the highway department blue prints and micro-filming division where the fire apparently started.

Capt. Lawrence Meehan, commander of the East Lansing state police district, was stricken with Monoxide poisoning. Lansing fire chief Hugh Fisher suffered a heart attack.
