Heart Ailment Is Fatal To George Dern

War Secretary Dies In Washington Hospital Following Physical Disorder

Harry Woodring To Assume Post Cabinet Member Was Strong Advocate Of U. S. Defenses

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. (AP)—George Henry Dern, secretary of war in the Roosevelt cabinet, died today in Walter Reed hospital here from heart complications resulting from past influenza attack. He was 64 years old.

Dr. Fritz Meyer, noted German heart specialist, had been called here from Boston at the direction of President Roosevelt and was consulting with army doctors when Dern died.

Friends said Dern's death followed a general physical breakdown originating in a severe attack of influenza when he was governor of Utah five years ago and from which he never fully recovered. Dern was twice governor of Utah before he entered the Roosevelt cabinet.

Dern was an advocate of national defense but declined to lead the military corps. He devoted his energy in office to modernizing the army into a small but first class fighting force. He also expanded the war department's food control work.

He represented Roosevelt at the inauguration of the new Commonwealth government of the Philippines.

Before becoming governor of Utah he was a mining man and the inventor of mining apparatus. He was the second Democrat and second non-Mormon to become governor of Utah.

Sanford Assured Of Baseball Team For Next Season

Baseball fans of this city were today assured of an entrant in the Florida State League for 1937 when Secretary James A. Wright of the Sanford Baseball Association announced that plans had been formulated for a team to represent Sanford next spring and summer.

Finances of the local club this season were somewhat improved with the contribution of $500 by the Association by the City, and the contribution of $300 by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

The secretary expressed his thanks to the local fans who had given their support to the team this season, and promised to have another fighting nine on the field next spring.

Chattanooga will come here to trail the last of March, 1937, with the local team to follow them with a short training season. There is a possibility that the Chattanooga organization with Joe Eagle as president will take complete control of the local team and work it as their own.

Pope Of Rome Is Reported In Low Condition

Pain Worries Over Destruction Of Churches, Death In Spanish War

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Prelates disclosed tonight that Pope Pius, the XI has become so weakened from worry over the Spanish situation that he scarcely is able to rise from his throne at the close of audience. Increasing heaviness of limbs, prelates said, might make it necessary for the 79-year-old man to be carried from one part of the apostolic palace to another. His brother, Fermo, suffered from the same malady and a year before his death several years ago was unable to walk.

Disclosure of the Holy Father's condition came after Prelates announced the Pope, assisted by all cardinals, would preside at a ceremony in St. Peter's to expiate for the killing of priests and destruction of churches in Spain.

Junior Legion Riflemen Show Great Improvement In Range Marksmanship

A marked improvement over a performance of one week ago was exhibited last night when the Sanford Sons of the Legion Rifle Team staged its second practice shoot in the National Guard Armory.

Twenty-eight youths were on the firing line. They were divided into two groups, the younger ones using small .22 calibre rifles while the older boys fired regulation .22 calibre army target pieces.

Percy Mero, chairman of the American Legion Boys' Work Committee, said one encouraging development of the Wednesday night practice was the appearance of many parents who have boys on the rifle team.

More than 200 persons yesterday attended the County Home Demonstration Clubs and County 4-H Clubs rally day event staged at Evansdale Park in Lake Mary.

Arranged by Miss Ruth Durbrenger, county home demonstration agent, the throng divided its time equally between business activities and a recreational program.

Principal addresses of the day were delivered by Miss Mary E. Keenan, district home demonstration agent, who outlined the scope of both 4-H Club and the Home Demonstration Unit.

Further, she told of club activities in Puerto Rico and other countries, exhibiting handbooks which were the product of girls in other nations.

Mrs. E. D. Rinchart read reports of the Home Demonstration Council of Brevard, Palm Beach and Seminole counties which was followed by a discussion of suggested club goals.

Miss Frances Avant reported on the 4-H club short course recently in Tallahassee. The organization voted to contribute $10 to a fund by which one former 4-H girl is awarded a state scholarship.

During the day's activities it was brought out that this county has seven 4-H clubs that are standard. The individual ladies resolved themselves to a program by which the same high level might be retained throughout the coming year.

Roosevelt Moves Through Heart Of 1936 Drought Area

ABROAD ROOSEVELT SPECIAL ENROUTE BISMARCK, N. D., Aug. 27.—(AP)—President Roosevelt moved last night toward the heart of the nation's dust bowl, anxious to learn at first hand the plight of thousands of fellow Americans in order that a long range program of drought prevention may be formulated.

His trip, billed as a "non political" inspection, took on the aspects of a campaign tour. Crowds thronged to the stations along the route in Ohio and Indiana. Mr. Roosevelt made platform appearances and brief addresses.

To several hundred persons gathered about the rear of his private car at Garrett, Ind., he talked intimately of crops and compared the corn outlook in Indiana with that of the Hudson Valley. With white-haired Governor Paul V. Mc-Nutt at his side he observed amid laughter that "the governor says I don't have to be introduced to an Indiana crowd."

"I am going out as you know," Mr. Roosevelt told his Garrett listeners, "farther west and up into the northwest to see some of the worst drought conditions. I must say this, as a Hudson River farmer, that I have been looking at corn today in Indiana and I think our corn in the Hudson River is a little better than yours this year, but only this year because generally you raise better corn than we do."

"I am, of course," he continued, "very much disturbed about those parts of the country that have had practically a total crop failure and that is why I am going out to look at it and get information at first hand."

Loyalists Announce Victory; Rebels Prepare Offense

(By The Associated Press)

Spain's Socialist strong man, declaring the "Ethiopia of Europe," today burst out in a bitter denunciation of France and Great Britain.

Indalecio Prieto, who is the leader of the parliamentary Socialist Party in the Madrid government, declared Spain has been deserted by the very countries which should be its allies in the fight against the spread of European Fascism.

A European neutrality pact, he asserted, will hurt Socialist Spain rather than help because, he said, Germany, Italy and Portugal will sign the pact and go on supplying arms to the Fascist Rebels.

Germany, he said, eventually will present its bill of the Hohenlohe and he suggested the possibility that General Francisco Franco, insurgent commander-in-chief, might one day give the Iberian Islands to one of the Fascist powers.

These Mediterranean islands off the eastern coast of Spain might be an important factor in any Mediterranean war.

With Great Britain and France appealing for non-intervention to the countries which have not placed arms embargoes on shipments to Spain, Prieto charged France had broken her word by refusing to fulfill the terms of an arms contract which she herself insisted upon.

Fighting went on in Spain with Loyalists announcing a victorious counter offensive in the north. Rebels said they were about to capture the important southern seaport of Malaga.

County Declines Seminole County Monetary Aid To Young Democrats Tuberculosis Unit To Meet Tonight

Under the operation agreement of the tuberculosis sanitarium, the state is providing a certain sum while each of Florida's 67 counties was requested to assist financially to defray expense of their destitute patients.

The association treasurer said the best method of fighting the lung disease is in institutions where carriers may be segregated from their families and friends to whom tuberculosis may spread.

The pointed out that danger lurks in the employments of a tubercular nursemaid, or other servant. Every "spread" of tuberculosis germs can cause great damage, Mrs. Scott asserted.

Continuing: "The fact is that tuberculosis is preventable and curable and yet approximately 1,000 persons in Florida die from it each year. That indicates the magnitude of the fight which may still be won. It is estimated that there are also active cases for each annual death."

Seminole Commission Asserts Lack Of Financial Sources Body Will Reorganize, Plan Course For '36 Elections

Seminole County's Young Democrats will reorganize tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the office of County Judge James G. Sharon, according to an announcement made today by Alex Sharon, vice-president of the group.

A program will be mapped out for the sale of automobile plates urging the re-election of President Roosevelt. Funds from the sale of the tags will be employed in defraying campaign expenses.

Young Sharon asserted that the Seminole Club also will try plans for a local campaign in support of the President and all Democratic candidates who will appear on the general election ticket in November.

The schedule probably will include several public speaking events, with, perhaps, out-of-county Democratic figures invited to participate.

Among the objectives of the Young Democrats is an increased membership. It has been planned to conduct a membership drive within the next three weeks. About 75 persons are affiliated with the organization at present.

The unit was first instituted here four years ago during the campaign leading up to the last presidential election. It was very active in supporting Democratic candidates.

Young Sharon has invited all persons interested to attend tonight's meeting.

Andrew Curaway is secretary, treasurer of the local body.

A Flood Control Project

It is encouraging for Seminole County citizens to hear from the lips of Frank Wilson that he will continue to represent Seminole County in the Florida Legislature during the first three years of his two terms in Washington. Mr. Wilson has been intimately acquainted with the needs of this county and his constructive work in its behalf is well known.

Not the least of Mr. Wilson's accomplishments was the passage of the Municipal Bankruptcy Act. This was a piece of national legislation of such significance and magnitude as to make it unique among these comparatively few laws which are the work of new members of Congress. While this Act did not go through in its original form, and while it was later thrown out by the Supreme Court, Seminole County citizens feel that progress has been made in the right direction, and that later changes in the measure will not only serve to make it constitutional but also more effective.

But further cementing the friendship which has existed between this section and Mr. Wilson has been his citizenship and his unswerving work for the St. Johns-Seminole River canal. It is safe to say that Mr. Wilson has contributed more to the furtherance of this highly meritorious project than all of Florida's other senators and congressional representatives put together. And he seems to be better posted on the intricate legal, political, and engineering details of this canal than anyone else in the country.

Mr. Wilson not only knows the desirability of the project and the benefits which will accrue to Central Florida and the lower East Coast from its construction but he is also fully conversant with the problems involved in securing approval for it from the powers that be and in obtaining therefor the necessary appropriation. The principal fly in the ointment, aside from the infinite amount of governmental red tape, is, as Mr. Wilson explained yesterday, the difficulty of convincing the authorities of the value of the canal as a flood control project as well as a means of transportation to the Indian River.

Furthermore, until very recently the Board of Engineers, in considering plans for the construction of canals and the improvement of rivers and harbors has confined itself to figures pertaining to freight shipments, disregarding altogether such pleasure craft as might be benefited. While it is true that considerable shipments of freight from Central Florida would move over the proposed canal to the Indian River, its primary importance lies in the fact that it would provide a new route for pleasure craft from the north on their way to or from the lower East Coast. It goes without saying that if this connection were built, all of the yachts which annually winter in Miami and Palm Beach would at some time or other make this trip up the beautiful St. Johns.

So The Herald is glad to learn, though Mr. Wilson feels now that this part of his district has been taken away from him, like the husband who returned from a long ocean voyage to find his wife divorced and married to another man, that he has not lost his enthusiasm for those things which mean so much to Seminole County and that he may continue his efforts in this direction for many years to come.

The Profits Of War

While practically everyone is interested in seeing the profits of war kept to an absolute minimum and particularly in preventing the manufacturers of various munitions and implements of war from waxing rich over the slaughter of human beings, nevertheless there remains some question as to the wisdom of government operation and ownership of factories manufacturing war supplies as has been advocated by Senator Nye and his friends.

It is contended that in the event of war private manufacturers could do a better job of supplying the army and navy than could a government operated plant subject to the pressure of political groups and the inefficiency of political appointees. Furthermore, the cost of government maintenance of munitions plants during peace time on a scale sufficient to supply adequate equipment during times of war would be almost prohibitive.

That this view is not without its competent support is indicated by a recent article published in the "Army Ordnance" and written by no less an authority than Major General William H. Tschopp, who is at present the chief of ordnance of the United States Army. General Tschopp expresses the complete opposition on the part of the War Department to any scheme for the nationalization of munitions manufacture on the grounds that such a socialistic experiment would make this country extremely vulnerable in the event of war.

"The War Department is convinced that in the event of war," General Tschopp writes, "American industry must produce the major portion of the required munitions. Assuming this premise, it follows that so far as a practicable industry should be prepared for its war mission. Therefore, the War Department has consistently favored the participation of American industry in munitions, not only for the United States government but also for export, where such export is not contrary to the policies of the State Department and does not divulge vital military secrets of design.

"This policy has been followed because it is believed that an organization or industry that has produced munitions in peace will be better qualified to produce munitions in war. For these very reasons the War Department does not favor the nationalization of munitions manufacture; that is, the full manufacture in government establishments. Such a policy would fail in war and, therefore, does not appear logical in peace.

"Planning for the defense of the nation is today more vital and more to the point than at any time since the close of the World War. The world today is full of wars and alarms of war. The fundamental reason for this state of affairs is the desire, if not the necessity of certain countries to improve their economic conditions by the acquisition of additional territory and the fixed intention of certain other countries to retain their possessions intact. While I do not believe that this condition will result in a war of world-wide extent in the immediate future, it is serious enough to warrant us in maintaining our plans in a status which will permit of their being put into effect on short notice.

"The success or failure of the armed forces will depend to a large extent upon the adequacy and abundance of our present-day industrial mobilization plans," General Tschopp concludes.

He further points out in his exceedingly interesting article that the most effective way for preventing exorbitant profits in time of war is the excess profits tax.

FASCISM AND COMMUNISM

BY MARK SULLIVAN

Setting qualifications and not attempting questions of definition, which are not possible in a limited space, a rough statement of what is now apparent in the world would seem to follow. It calls for the most serious attention. Americans are capable of giving:

In 1917 a revolution in Russia abolished monarchy. It set up a democratic republic. Much has occurred. This was a familiar type of revolution. It was the same sort of revolution known to democracy which had been going on all over the world for more than a century, sometimes peacefully.

In Russia, however, soon after the first revolution, Trotsky and Lenin arrived. They plotted and carried out a second revolution. This was from democracy to communism. Communism was a form of government and society not known to the world.

Communism, having got a foothold in Russia, began a vigorous campaign to extend itself to the rest of the world. One of the countries in which it made some headway was Italy.

In Italy, while the movement toward communism was under way, in 1922, Mussolini came to the front. He evolved a form of society and government which he called fascism. It will be observed that fascism was derived as a kind of antithesis to communism.

A few years later, another country, Germany, went through a similar experience. Germany, immediately after the war, had had a revolution of the older type, from monarchy to republic. The German republic lasted several years. Then communism began to undermine it. At that point, Hitler brought forward a system called nazism, which was set up in 1932. Nazism essentially is the same as fascism. It will be observed that in Germany as in Italy, fascism arose as a kind of antithesis to communism.

The conflict between communism and fascism went on in several smaller European countries. The next development in an important country was in France a few months ago. What took place in France cannot be called adoption of communism. For France still retains the form of a democratic government and still retains private ownership of property. The development in France was, however, in the communistic direction.

We come now to Spain. In Spain five years ago occurred a revolution of the type long familiar, the same as the first revolutions in Russia and Germany, a revolution from monarchy to a democratic republic. Recently, while remaining a republic, it moved in the direction of communism. Thereupon, in early July, persons holding the Fascist philosophy of society took up arms. As in Italy and Germany, fascism arose as an antithesis to communism. What is now going on in Spain is a fight between fascism and communism.

Thus what has gone on in five of the greatest European nations is a struggle between Communism and Fascism. In one country, Russia, Communism has established itself firmly. In Germany and Italy Fascism has established itself. The result is the opening of markets buying the elegant new stock of military and naval and ready-to-wear materials.

Mr. and Mrs. Dresser, whose store is now located at 312 Standard Avenue have left for New York to do their buying for the fall and winter season. They will return the early part of September with entirely new merchandise.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Parrish have returned from Waycross where Mr. Parrish was taken several weeks ago to have an operation performed. Luckily the physicians were able to relieve him without resorting to the knife and at present he is getting along nicely and is able to take his position with the A. C. L.

Florida Senators Seek Insurance On Citrus Production

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Senators Hill and Lavin of Florida have asked President Roosevelt to insure the citrus industry against a surplus crop this season by authorizing government purchase of fruit in large quantities for distribution to needy persons in western branch areas.

In a letter to the President, the Florida senators said they were asked by the commission by Senators Guffey and Cramer of Florida, they said the danger of a surplus crop is not in itself alone.

The senators stated in another message, but pointed out the situation of several million dollars for the appropriate care for surplus crop production through the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

The senators also stated that approval of their plan would cover the dual purpose of preventing decreased fruit prices because of the surplus, and provide a fund of present-day availability for persons who, because of devastating effects of the drought will not be in a position to purchase them.

They said the loss value of Florida's citrus crop, despite larger production, had decreased from an average of $1,000,000 during the five-year period ending 1929 to $350,000,000 for the last four years. In 1934-35, they wrote, the largest crop in the state's history brought only $38,000,000.

Hill and Lavin said official predictions this year have been for a crop even larger than that in 1934-35.

Add a tablespoon of lemon juice or vinegar to water in which one is to be peeled and the egg will hold its shape better.

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Germans are smoking more than ever, according to official statistics for the fiscal year 1935-36, when 7,800,000,000 cigars and more than 37,000,000,000 cigarettes passed through the tobacco excise department.

In that period German smokers spent 9.1 percent more on tobacco than in the previous year. The homegrown weed is used more and more as a substitute for the foreign product.

London Demands Overhauling Of Tax Structure Declares Government Must Guard, Preserve Income Sources

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Gov. Alf M. Landon called for an "overhauling" of the tax structure last night in an address which said that "wasteful" New Deal spending was "closing the door of opportunity to your children and to my children."

Specifically, the presidential nominee said that if elected he would recommend "immediate repeal" of last session's surplus tax bill—described by the Kansas as "visions" and the "most cockeyed piece of tax legislation ever imposed in a modern country." He added that the tax system, both federal and state, needed revision.

In four points, Landon presented in the final speech of his initial Eastern campaign the "fundamental principles of government finance" which he termed "the same common sense principles" followed in founding "our own family finances." The Republican candidate said that "so long as our government follows these principles our people will prosper. They are:

"The government must guard and preserve its source of income. The government must make sure that it gets a dollar's worth for every dollar it spends. The government must not get in the habit of spending more than it receives. Finally, the government must prepare for a rainy day."

Landon described the record of the Roosevelt Administration as having "piled deficit upon deficit" and increased our public debt until today the total is equal to two-thirds of the annual income for every man, woman and child.

"I created an atmosphere of speed which generally has made it impossible for it (the New Deal) to restore economy in government expenditures" and having "acted as if it were willing to give the whole Treasury away, trying to enrich everybody by impoverishing everybody else."

"The time has come to put an end to these policies," he told an audience drawn largely from President Roosevelt's native state. "We must establish a system of simple, honest bookkeeping. We must return to the principles which we follow in handling of our own finances."

"This will give us a government able to meet every reasonable demand made upon it; a government fully prepared to assume its increasing financial responsibilities; a government that will leave our children a fair chance to solve the problems that arise in their time."

"That is the kind of government that we must have if we are to get rid of unemployment by giving our workers real jobs at good pay. I know that accomplishing all this is not a task to be completed overnight, and I make no such promise. We have huge responsibilities that we must continue to meet. But with the help of a courageous country it is a task that can and will be done. That is my pledge to the American people."

Landon spoke just before boarding his special train to return to Topeka. One by one he took up his four "fundamental principles," beginning with guarding income sources.

"It has always been my belief that the government should raise the major portion of its revenue from direct taxes levied on the net income of individuals and corporations. It is the major portion of the government's income is ob-taind from indirect and hidden taxes—such as such things as food, clothing, gasoline and cigarettes—when the main burden falls upon those of small income and the cost of government is hidden.

"In this case it is the wage earner, the salaried worker, the farmer and the small businessman who has to pay the bill."

"The share of the cost of government falling mainly on those with incomes of $25.00 a week or less has increased 25 percent during the three years of the present Administration. They are paying far more than their rightful share of the cost of government."

"Any business can tell you this because the business knows better than anyone else, how the mounting cost of living is curtailing the comfort of the home. And you cannot fool her long with the pretense that only the rich will pay."

"When we buy a loaf of bread for 10 cents we pay about 8 cents for the bread. The other two cents go to taxes. . . . These hidden taxes—federal, state and local—amount to 20 cents out of every dollar we spend. In the case of the federal government alone they amount to over 25 a month for every family. . . . Every dollar that the government takes from us in taxes means just one dollar less for us to buy things, the production of which would create jobs."

Landon said the surplus tax bill (it scaled corporation income taxes on the basis of income not distributed) made "harder and harder the re-employment of many of those out of work and jeopardized the job of every man and woman who today is working for a business corporation" by preventing the "little fellow from expanding" and "forbidding a restoration of reserves exhausted by the depression."

Government Will Employ AARP Fund In Buying Citrus Surplus Fruit Crop To Be Purchased For Drought Area

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Senators William L. Hill and Scott M. Luffin learned today that the Agricultural Adjustment Administration had obtained permission from the president and the budget bureau to use funds from section 22 of the amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act approved Aug. 24, 1936, to purchase surplus citrus fruit and distribute it to needy persons in the drought area.

Senators Hill and Luffin were joined by Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally of Texas during the past week in petitioning the President for the grant, strongly urging that an allocation of several millions of dollars for the purchase of surplus citrus be made in view of the expected large citrus crop for the coming year, and because of the desirability that the needy in the drought area be supplied with citrus fruit, a commodity which contains very worth while dietary qualities.

It is understood that the money will be made available to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and that it, through its commodities purchase section, will procure surplus citrus fruit, and in co-operation with the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation, distribute it in the drought area.

The government's policy for the purchase of citrus fruit for the drought area during the coming year, will be shaped largely by market conditions. If present indications of the large crop materialize, the purchases will be much greater than they were during the past year.

The distribution of surplus commodities is made only to persons dependent, in part at least, on state, county or municipal relief for subsistence, and who otherwise would not be able to purchase such food. All surplus commodities are distributed to the recipients in addition to the aid they may already be receiving.

Every care is taken to assure that the issuance of surplus commodities in no way interferes with the purchases which would otherwise be made.

Democrats Certain Of 55 Senate Seats

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Dissension and death have raised the uncertainties in the senatorial situation in several important states but Democrats are certain to have a majority next session.

Renomination of Pat Harrison in Mississippi and James F. Byrnes in South Carolina gave them 55 certain seats in the Senate for the January meeting. A majority is 49.

Barring a break in the solid South where most Democratic nominees are not even opposed, the party margin will be larger.

German Aerialist To Span Atlantic In Free Balloon

HAMBURG, Germany, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Dr. K. Zinner's dream is to cross the South Atlantic in a free balloon.

Zinner, a German balloonist, wants to conquer the 3,700 odd miles between Capetown and the mouth of the Amazon by about the only way left in conquest outside of swimming the stretch. The airplane and the dirigible tamed the winds over that span of water long ago.

By utilizing northeast trade winds, he hopes to be the first human to float across. He thinks his hazardous plan is possible and that he can accomplish it in from five to eight days.

He is now trying to raise the $12,000 necessary before the venture can take place. He wants a bag that will hold 5,000 cubic meters of hydrogen. It would have a basket of inflatable rubber so that it would float in case it came down on water and he wants to take radio and meteorological apparatus along.

Dr. Zinner is a veteran at handling balloons. He has made many excursions, the most notable from Germany to England over the North Sea to Sweden.

The German also believes that it is possible to cross the North Atlantic from North America to

Two FSCW Teachers Hear Ramble Of Revolution In War-Torn Spanish Region

VALLABARRE, Aug. 27.—The ret-ist-at of machine gun fire and the anxiety which pervades the persons stranded in a foreign land reached by war have been the experiences of two Florida State College faculty members in Spain this summer.

The faculty members are Dr. Marion Hay and Dr. Margie Burka, associate professors of education and Spanish, respectively, who have been removed by United States destroyers to other countries.

An account of their experiences was received from the two women today by state college officials.

Dr. Hay, with a party of travelers from Florida, now is in Italy where she went after taking refuge at the United States embassy in Madrid, Spain, by the United States cruiser Quincy. Her party has been attending the summer session of Centro de Estudios Historicos, a Spanish school in Madrid, which omitted only two hours of the scheduled summer classes because of the civil war!

Dr. Burka was in New York City at the time she wrote here, having sailed for this country from France where she was taken with 40 other Americans on the battleship Oklahoma. She has been studying at the International University at Santander, Spain. In Paris she was joined by Miss Lucy Lester, associate professor of French at Florida State College, who had been studying at the University of Paris this summer.

Being searched several times for arms by a young girl militia was another experience for Dr. Hay, who adds, however, that "We never really felt in danger or met with the least discourtesy. In Madrid we were relatively safe," Dr. Hay also said.

It was after a "wild rumor" that the rebel troops were due to attack Madrid that Dr. Hay decided to go to the American embassy, she remarked, adding, "We were a wiser procession with our blankets, towels, and small bags, and passed a far from comfortable night on the floor of the grand salon—the lucky ones sleeping two to a single cot mattress." Though there was a heavy bombardment of the barracks one day and desultory firing for a time, near Madrid, it was 15 miles from the city that Dr. Hay heard machine guns and occasional cannon. Business there a complete shutdown only one day while Dr. Hay was in Madrid.

Bombardment by the insurgents had not started at Santander when the Oklahoma arrived to take Dr. Burka and other Americans to France, the language professor said in her letter. "I suffered no particular inconvenience, except anxiety as the city and state of Santander were loyal to the government," she remarked.

"War clouds were hanging all over Europe and the unrest in France especially was distressing," Dr. Burka also wrote here, stating she and Miss Lester took the first available boat for New York. "There is a sinister undercur-

America Steers Around European Entanglements

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—(AP) Behind this government's polite refusal to act as mediator in the Spanish revolution lies a frank recognition that such a job ultimately might entail ironing out dynastic, financial and political troubles that have vexed Europe since the war.

In replying to Uruguay's suggestion that American states offer to mediate in the Spanish affair, William Phillips, acting secretary of state, said the refusal was in conformity with the government's policy of non-interference in the internal affairs of other countries.

Castro back through America's experience promptly discloses two instances of American interference in the internal affairs of other countries notably China and Spain. It was American intervention in Spain's administration of Cuban affairs which brought on the Spanish war. Subsequent intervention in affairs of certain Latin American republics might also be mentioned.

In spite of these slightly exceptional cases, it cannot be doubted that American policy is "hands off" internal affairs of other nations. More recently American intervention even in Latin American internal difficulties has been renounced.

During Germany's "blood purge" and anti-Jewish activities under Hitler, a word or two deploring the situation issued from administration lips, but no note of "friendly concern" crossed the ocean.

The United States has acted as mediator between nations, but perhaps equally as often it has refused, particularly in European instances. Its offers also have been rejected at times, as in the Franco-Prussian War and in the Boer War.

Since rejection of League of Nations and world court adherence the policy may have become emphasized. But it was not mere-

The harmonious meeting was turned into a stormy session, however, when I. Dolphus Short, Milford, and 21 supporters booted the convention after he lost the nomination for governor to Harry I. Cannon.

MIAMI, Aug. 27.—(AP)—James Perez, 24, New York Puerto Rican stricken with appendicitis was removed from a ship 300 miles at sea yesterday by Coast Guard plane.

Lieutenant W. L. Clemmer piloted the mercy amphibian, carrying a physician, to a hazardous landing in whitecapped waves alongside the S. S. Cacique to make the transfer. The Cacique was enroute to Houston, Tex., from a European port.

Lookouts End Season With 11 to 2 Win Over G-Men

Contest Is Featured By Clowning On Both Sides

Locals Mark Up Eight Runs In First Frame, While Hayes, Mote And Clary Hit Fine Ball

By JIMMY CHAPMAN
Drawing down the curtain of the Florida State League official season in handsome style, our Lookouts trounced the Gainesville G-Men to the tune of 11 to 2 here yesterday afternoon.

The final win gave them a decisive hold on fourth place by the margin of two full games since they dropped their game with the Saints. Only one week ago the local machine, been out of the cellar, leaving the Reds holding the bag, during the past three weeks they have displayed a brand of ball which had every team in the league trembling at its sight.

A crowd of some 400 fans witnessed the final encounter until the Chaitanoga Lookouts begin their here next spring, and the crowd was very warm in their praise of the local team even though they knew that fifth place was their destination.

In the first frame the locals countered eight markers on six hits and a couple of errors to take a commanding lead over the men-hunters. One error was added in the second on two hits, and only two were marked up for the remainder of the contest, those coming on two more hits.

Gainesville's two markers came in the third and ninth innings the first time on three hits, and the second on two walks and a hit.

The game was featured by some clownish entertainment from both teams, first when Red Sweeney, former Lookout pitcher went with the G-Men, went to bat with a mask and breast protector on and lined out a fly to deep left, and in the ninth, when shortstop "Breecher" Clary went on the mound to relieve Dazy Mote, who had relieved "Lefty" Hayes in the sixth.

Clary put on an exhibition of plain and fancy pitching such as has never been seen before on the local diamond. Besides those changes Mote went to third and Eddie Davis to left field to receive Overstreet who became the initial sacker. The game finally ended with Davis, a left-hander on shortstop and Hoover on second.

Hitting honors in the final game went to Langston, Torres, Cates and Maltby for the Lookouts, with all of them gathering in two hits each, however, Bob Pitman in four appearances to top the G-Men. Bench also appeared three hits for five appearances, and McNamara, Adair and Guntharp all secured two singles.

So, all in all the season ended perfectly for the home team, and everyone was relieved to know that the Lookouts had emerged definitely from the cellar.

Saints Defeat Reds In Final Game Of Season

Take Contest, 6 To 3, And Prepare For Series Opening Today

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
St. Augustine ended its regular season in the Florida State League here yesterday by slugging out a 6 to 3 victory over the last-place Deland Reds and new terms towards the opening game of the championship series with the G-Men at Gainesville this afternoon.

Saving their big guns for the series opener the saints threw a makeshift lineup on the field yesterday and came from behind with a surprise attack off Jim McGloin which netted 10 hits and six runs in the last three innings. Redstock was called in to start. St. Augustine's winning three run rally in the eighth which was featured by Dave Swinwell's double with the bases loaded. Trailing, 3 to 2, going into the last of the seventh, doubles by Zupanic and Weigel and Letcher's single drove over two runs and knotted the score at 3-3.

The Saints started Dave Swinwell, an outfielder, and off his debut he picked up eight hits and three runs during the first five innings. Bill Butland came to the mound in the sixth and completely silenced the Deland bats. Custer, McGowan and Brown topped the Saints' attack with two hits each. Falcon, with three safe strikes, started at the plate for the visitors.

The Saints plan to start Jeff Emerson on the mound against Gainesville in the series opener. Emerson recently banked the G-Men with one hit.

Islanders Drop Azaleas In Final Tilt Of Season

Brown Gives Up Only Four Hits As Mates Gather Eight Blows

DAYTONA BEACH, Aug. 27.—Walter Brown limited the Azaleas to four scattered singles yesterday and the Islanders defeated Palatka, 7 to 2.

The two clubs met here at 3:30 this afternoon in the first game of the play-off series.

Brown struck out six men and walked only one. His teammates collected eight hits, including homers by Gordon and Hoover, of Lowe and Mout, who batted four innings apiece.

Singles by Krenz and Clement in the second frame gave the Azaleas their first run. In the third, a single by Mingo and Martin, an error by Clement and a homer to left field by Minton.

The Islets scored again in the sixth on a single by Dugan, an error by Krenz, an infield out and a wild pitch. In the seventh, Brown's single, a sacrifice, an infield out and a passed ball accounted for another tally. Minton's homer to center field in the eighth with no one on ended the scoring for the Islanders.

The Azaleas filled the bases with only one out in the first of the ninth on an error, a walk and Gallagher's single, but Brown pitched himself out of the hole with only one man scoring.

Manager Bill Terry of the New York Giants explains Carl Hubbell's winning streak with "Hubb" having a great year because he's more careful. Carl knows that he can't gamble the way he used to.

Lookouts Depart!
Today, the youngsters who performed on the field for our Lookouts during the past baseball season are leaving for their homes with the exception of four of the boys going to Chaitanoga to join the senior Lookouts.

We believe that no other team in the entire circuit can lay claim to such a clean-cut, hard playing bunch of youngsters and therefore wish to extend our congratulations to those youths who performed so brilliantly under the strain of professionalism.

Undoubtedly, the Lookouts had the youngest team in the entire circuit, since only one of our players were over 21 years of age. This spirit of youth coupled with tireless effort on the part of all the players and the manager is the only answer to the question of "what got into our Lookouts."

So as these fine young men leave this city we wish to once more wish them the best of luck, and we hope to see them back again next year, seeking that apple for the "grandest baseball town in the state," one where the fans give the best of support whether or not the team is riding in the cellar or on the top.

Champion!
This department would like to name a few champions of the league among the players and owners:

First and most important we would place that of champion money-raiser, which would go to Henry M. Watson of the local baseball association without a doubt.

Following the financial champion, we would name: Champion griper, the Daytona Beach Islanders; and Manager Arnold Anderson; champion stringer, the Sanford Lookouts; champion fielders, the Gainesville G-Men; champion spotmen, the Sanford Lookouts; and the Palatka Azaleas; the champion losers of games by one run, the San-

Soviet Says Nazi Prepare New Slaughter

Russian Newspapers Charge Hitler Is Ready For 'Provocative Campaign'

Declare Germany Near Starvation

France Offered Concession To Abandon Russo Pact

MOSCOW, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Official organs of the Soviet Government and Communist Party today

issued the simultaneous warning that Adolf Hitler is preparing a new surprise which will bring Europe closer to "slaughter."

Apparently, the government organs, and the Pravda, official party newspaper, professed to see violent anti-Soviet attacks by the German press and said they are "provocative of a campaign of preparation for new Soviet political adventures."

Pravda said Hitler is just a snake screen for Hitler to spring a new surprise which is directed by his venturous program. German Fascism, aimed to the north, is preparing a new slaughter for Europe.

It declared it was now saying Germany and bringing war to the verge of food shortages and eventual starvation.

PARIS, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Germany stands ready to offer

France "important concessions," it was said in some informed circles last night. It was said that the German government was in contact with Soviet Russia.

The report gained circulation on the result of the visit of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, German economic minister, it was said, of meeting Premier Leon Blum of France.

Germany's recent losses in army strength was allowed not at France, but as a definite against Russian communism.

It was apparent in official circles, however, the French determination to reinforce defenses had not been changed by any developments of Schacht's visit.

Financial circles interpreted it as a mission to bring Hitler's proposal for peace at the price of international credit and colonies for Germany.

Thermometer Soars To 85 At 1 O'Clock

Sanford's official government thermometer soared to 85 at 1 P. M. this afternoon and Weatherman G. Newton indicated that he expected the mercury to advance one or more degrees before sunset.

Unofficial readings on business streets of the city many places showed 100 degrees. Slightly lower unofficial marks were noted in the residential districts where trees and shrubbery tended to disperse the heat.

Cloudy weather, with possible showers, are predicted for tomorrow.

Bar Members Table Report On Legislation

Group Wishes No Controversies Before Election Of President In November

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Fourfold, its National Secretary William F. MacCracken said, that the report of its federal legislative committee might "embroil the Association in a controversy in the presidential year," the American Bar Association today voted overwhelmingly to table it.

The majority report, signed among others by Charles R. Taft, II, of Cincinnati, son of the late president, asserted the Roosevelt Administration was "distorting the Constitution" and added "there is no indication that the Administration recognizes any obligations whatever to protect the individual citizen in his constitutional rights."

Frederick Harold Stinchfield, 84, Minneapolis, was elected president of the Association succeeding William L. Ransom, New York. Stinchfield is an active member of the American Liberty League.

The presence of a powerful airplane at the retreat of former King Alfonso in Innsbruck, Austria, gave rise to reports he was planning to fly back to his revolution-torn country to effect an alliance with fascist rebels in hopes of restoring the monarchy. (Associated Press Photo)

Young Democrats Seek To Bolster Club Membership

Re-Elect Roosevelt Tags To Be Placed On Sale In County

Seminole County Young Democrats will inaugurate a campaign to obtain at least 100 members from the 150 eligible young men in the county, the organization voted last night in a session held in Judge James G. Sharon's office in the Court House.

A second endeavor which the group planned is the sale of 200 "Re-Elect Roosevelt" tags for display on automobiles. The plates will retail at 50 cents each, and the collections are to be turned over to a senior Democratic Club to defray presidential expenses.

Alex Sharon, vice-president of the organization, announced that he and Joe O'Connor will canvass the county within the next week in an effort to swell the club's membership.

Features of the evening will be entertainment for members of the organization and their families.

A program has been mapped out for a dance to be held at Longwood probably next Tuesday night. The affair will be for the benefit of the local degree team. An Orlando orchestra is expected to provide the music.

Last night's session was dominated by "Officers' night" and was well attended with a majority of the lodge officials being present.

Electrification Of Rural Areas Is Suggested

Gainesville Organization Offers Local Proposition

A movement was under way to Seminoles County today to stimulate interest in the rural electrification administration.

In bulletins issued by the co-operative extension work in agriculture and home economics bureau from the University of Florida, sketchy outlines of the plan were presented.

There are no single methods of obtaining REA help, the bulletins state, and the administration is willing to work with any person or group of persons interested in extending power lines.

In most cases, the bulletins say, the interested organization will fall in one of the following classifications:

1.—State authorities or agencies, established to promote rural electrification within the state boundaries.

2.—Farmers' co-operatives and other local corporations, profit or non-profit, organized for the specific purpose of building and operating a rural line.

3.—Municipal power plants having authority to make extensions into rural territory.

4.—Public power districts, or other forms of public bodies, or authorized under the laws of a particular state.

5.—Existing public utility companies.

In many ways, it was stated, the co-operative method is ideal for electrical distribution. The development section of the REA will advise co-operatives regarding methods of organization and operation.

Beach Beauty Show Is Bolstered By Three Girls From Sanford

More than 100 entrants, including three girls from Sanford, will vie for the title of queen of "Florida's Cavalcade of Beauty" in Daytona Beach on Labor Day.

This city is the only municipality in the state which will have a trio of young women in the formal beauty pageant. They are Miss Annie Mae Ellis, Miss Louise Johnston and Miss Elizabeth Cameron.

Miss Johnston is "Miss Florida" of 1934. Miss Ellis was crowned "Miss Sanford" at a recent Ritz Theatre beauty pageant, and Miss Cameron was second.

The Cavalcade will be staged both Sunday and Monday evenings, and the contestants will appear in a float parade Monday at 11:30 A. M. Evening approval is in the dress for Sunday and bathing suits have been selected for Monday.

There are 330,000,000 feet of standing timber in the state of Washington.

Annual Stream Of Letters Pours Into Local Chamber

Winter Tourists Ask Information About Living Accommodations Offered In Seminole County

Northerners planning to come to Florida for the winter already have begun the annual stream of letters inquiring about living accommodations, according to the announcements from the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Ralph Bagwell, secretary of the local chamber, daily receives a number of the queries, of which the following is a model:

"Gentlemen: Will you kindly send me some information about small apartments or house-keeping rooms and any other information that will be of interest?"

"I have been through Sanford a number of times and have wintered nine seasons in Florida. This year, Sanford is my choice if rent and conditions are satisfactory. I want to go early this year and I have some friends who are coming down. They think that Orlando is best, but if I can locate them nicely in Sanford they will change their minds."

Chamber of Commerce indications point toward one of the best winter seasons in the history of the city if accommodations are available.

Movements are now under way here designed to influence the construction of apartment houses.

While the city is not offered as many apartments and rooming houses as some other municipalities of similar size, more than the usual building and remodeling activity has been going on here this summer with the point in view of caring for seasonal visitors.

Sanfordites Catch 500 Pounds Of Fish On Ocean Excursion

A party of 14 Sanford residents yesterday landed about 500 pounds of ocean fish during an excursion to the outside snapper banks off Ponce de Leon Inlet near Daytona Beach.

The group left the New Smyrna wharves early in the morning and returned about dusk.

In the catches were red snapper, rock bass, grouper and other sea fish.

George Gray won the party's pool for the largest fish landed, taking the prize on a 40-pound red snapper.

Those who were aboard the fishing smack were E. C. Harper, C. C. Briggs, George Gray, Otto Caldwell, Herbert Reitz, W. G. Workman, Joe Marentette, Basil Moore, R. E. Deas, Charles Wert, "Raw Meat" Bill Rodgers, Arthur Rodgers, Tom Simpson and M. L. Raborn.

City Considers Power Question At Water Plant

Electrical Contract Expires Oct. 1; Two Courses Open

The City government today is considering the problem of power supply for pumps at the water plant used in forcing water from the wells to the reservoirs, Mayor Shindler said.

A contract, now in existence, with the Florida Power and Light Company will expire Oct. 1.

The mayor said two courses are open for the Commission to follow. It may renew the contract with the power company or it may provide a generator so that the water plant may produce its own power.

Tentative negotiations now are under way with the Florida Power and Light organization in relation to a contract renewal, although no definite steps have been taken toward consummation.

Diesel engines are employed in pumping water from the reservoirs to the standpipes.

Haggard Suggests Drawing Force For Northern Tourists

Pointing out that northern people desire the climatic refuge offered by Florida, Ashley P. Haggard, a former Sanford resident and now a Chicago civil engineer, yesterday afternoon advocated more pronounced tourist drawing power for the city.

Conferring with representatives of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and other local businessmen, Mr. Haggard ventured that housing facilities are, perhaps, the greatest hindrance to the advancement of Sanford as a tourist town.

He emphasized that northerners are now building homes in various sections of Florida and stressed that there is no reason why Seminole County could not obtain some of the money being used for these activities.

Among those attending Mr. Haggard's conference yesterday were E. D. Kirchhoff, E. K. Laney, Andrew Carraway, W. S. McCall, Sam Highleyman and David K. McNab.

WPA Labor Situation In Seminole County Is Ideal, Earle Says

Seminole County's public works labor supply generally meets the demand, according to a statement made today by W. S. Earle, WPA work director of these counties in this area.

With approximately 250 men on the payroll, Mr. Earle said there is a constant turnover which makes it possible to keep the "labor balance" from toppling to either extreme, insufficient work or insufficient labor.

At present there are five projects under way in this county, the director said. All are road building and repairing with the exception of the National Guard Armory.

Mr. Earle said today he had received no indications as to when several approved projects for this county will be allocated sufficient funds for opening.

Work Gets Under Way On Repairing Docks

Work was under way today at the Municipal Pier and yacht basin, where men from the county road camp are rebuilding the city docks, which have been in such a bad need of repair for some time.

New piles were being driven and new boards laid across the top to assure sturdy constructed docks, which will accommodate crafts up to 75 or 100 feet long.

James Moughton, superintendent of parks and streets, is supervising the work, and expects to provide good accommodations for persons wintering here who will have small crafts or even larger yachts.
