

Concrete Blocks For Pool Not O. K. Says R. G. Lubinski

In a recent report on swimming pool construction to the City Commission by City Engineer Ralph Lubinski, following a trip to the lower east coast, he reported that engineers and designers of pools with whom he had conferred had expressed unfavorable opinions as to concrete block type of pool construction.

He quoted a Mr. Oxer who had designed the swimming pool at Falmouth as follows: "His candid opinion of concrete block construction for a pool is that it is entirely inadequate to hold the enormous pressure at the deep end."

"On Aug. 16," he wrote, "I contacted Sensabaugh-Raine and Associates at Coral Gables. Mr. Sensabaugh was out of town but Mr. Raine brought in Mr. Harvey Baxter. Mr. Baxter does all their pool and building design and has built six or seven pools in and around Miami. He said a few years ago someone in Miami built a concrete block pool. The water was turned into the pool but never reached the half full mark before the sides blew out."

"Among some of the pools I visited while there was the Venetian Garden Pool of Coral Gables. This is a beautiful pool in a natural setting. It is a fill and empty pool, being emptied each day. Outflow pipe being 24 inches. It is filled from a 10 inch deep well the water of which is fresh and entirely free from sulphur. This is below the ground pool, having been cut out of coral rock."

"A six inch concrete floor was placed in the bottom and the sides were gunited with a 3 inch layer of concrete to make it water tight. This may be where someone of our citizens conceived the idea of building a below ground pool in Sanford using wire lath and gunite to seal the sides. Such construction in this area is impractical for even though the pool were water tight when full, when emptied the force at the bottom would be great enough to collapse the sides, due to the fact that we have a sand formation here and not solid rock."

Mr. Lubinski reported that he had visited the Falmouth Pool now under construction, and was informed that cash outlay for the 35 by 75 foot above the ground type of pool would be $25,000, but due to co-operation of high school boys, the Lions Club and citizens who donated time and labor and hauling of materials the cost had been kept down. It was estimated there that if let under contract it would cost $40,000 to $45,000 today.

There was some hope that cool air masses from the Canadian northwest would move across the border over the weekend and bring a drop in temperatures to some sections. But forecasters said the cool air was "moving very slowly."

The North Atlantic and New England states got some of the high temperatures yesterday. Hartford, Conn., sizzled as the mercury zoomed to 105. In Huntington, W. Va., thermometers registered as even 100, the same hot mark reported at Alpena, Mich.

New York and Boston got a scorching 96 reading while Philadelphia felt no cooler with a mark of 95. Chicago's 95 was the hottest Aug. 25 in the Weather Bureau's history and the fourth consecutive day of 90 or above.

Detroit's high was 98 and Cincinnati wilted under the same torrid temperature. Cleveland was in the same condition with a high of 97.

There were a few cool spots. San Francisco's 66 was the country's lowest reading and most of the Pacific coast enjoyed temperatures slightly below normal.

In Detroit, more than 20,000 auto workers were made idle directly or indirectly by "heat strikes." After 9,500 workers at the Briggs Manufacturing Company left their jobs 2,000 employees at Chrysler Corporation's Plymouth plant were laid off. An additional 700 workers walked out in Chrysler's Dodge truck and Chrysler division plants and forced the layoff of 8,000 other workers.

Reds Again Invade Berlin's City Hall Demanding Control

Demonstrations May Force Work Stoppage And Abandonment Of Building

BERLIN Aug. 27 (AP)—For the second straight day, intelligent Communist-led demonstrations forced their way into Berlin's city hall today, less than a week after the city council had immediately tried to substitute a hand-picked regime of their own.

They demanded that a special committee, composed of members of Communist-dominated labor unions in the Soviet zone of the city, be appointed to replace the council. A spokesman denied that it was to be a "union committee" such as took over Czechoslovakia.

Outside, millions of people unable to get into the hall yelled, when told of the cancellation of a scheduled city council meeting: "We will come back again and again."

This apparently indicates that the Communist strategy is to keep our "union" demonstrations intended to stop all work of the city government, force it to abandon city hall and then set up a communist front government for the double-headed city.

This meeting, crowd, which numbered only 200 at the beginning of the demonstration, swelled to more than 2,000 before it ended. There were broadcast re-

Teen Talk

By VIVIAN BROWN

HIGH SCHOOL and college students are on the upswing as well as books, board and back-to-school clothes. These are hard facts for kids whose families operate on a modest income.

While the summer presents a great opportunity to work and save toward college fees, money earned during that short period usually are just a drop in the bucket.

If kids must educate themselves, they will have to look forward to a long hard winter, a not-too-gay social life, and few, if any, luxuries. Any spare time and energy will have to be devoted to studies and making money.

Waiting on table isn't difficult work and sometimes you can manage to make a tidy sum that way. Part-time work often can be obtained to fill in gaps of time for waiters and waitresses. These jobs usually are to be found in the library or at the co-op newspaper, magazine shop.

If you don't live on the campus you might make an arrangement with a family to give you bed and board for taking care of the children. This usually is a workable arrangement as the children's parents are cooperative enough in college towns to keep the kids out of your hair during the summer season. One simple way to study in a household of kids is suggested by a girl who passed all her college grades with flying colors, despite the fact that she had a handful of kids in care for every semester.

After school each day while the children still are playing outdoors or napping, she would take a nap for an hour or two. Then after she had had the youngsters in bed, she would study in the quiet of the evening.

Tutoring children is another way to scoop up a few extra pesos. A good French student always can find work teaching elementary French to youngsters. Some students even have managed to tutor older town folks in the art of the dance. You'd be surprised how many people like to learn how to dance but never seem to have the time to attend a school of dance. However, when someone will come to your home, the rumba or samba can be digested quickly.

Boys, especially, have found that housecleaning can be a lucrative business. Householders are only too glad to have a crew of young people take over the task of vacuuming a big house, waxing floors, cleaning out brush, washing windows and even painting the house.

Girls often are hired to serve and help cook family dinners, to do laundry and mending.

In some colleges, students have organized a laundry service. One person is delegated to pick-up, others help with the washing, others iron. Sometimes this business comes such a prosperous business that the laundry can be farmed out to outside people and a profit still can be made.

Of course the best solution, perhaps, is to pick a college near home. Then you can eat, live, and perhaps arrange to cuff lodging. But this isn't always a satisfactory arrangement, if you want to broaden your life, meet new faces, visit new places. The time to do it is while you are young. If you don't you may regret being stuck in the same town all your life, and never make a break for the great outside, where opportunity may be waiting.

ATTACKS MACARTHUR

TOKYO, Aug. 27 (AP)—Maj. General A. P. Kisenko, Soviet member of the Allied Council for the Far East, today demanded a special council meeting to consider General MacArthur's labor policies.

Kisenko based his request on the fact he had not received an answer to his protest early this month against the Japanese government's ban of strikes by government workers. The government forbade such strikes after MacArthur said they should not be tolerated.

all of 1947. A total of 31,544 in this category in 1946, being the total disbursed up to 514.

In commenting on increased disqualifications, Smith said that more extensive investigations are now possible by the checking of wage credits earned in private employment against claims drawn by veterans for the same calendar quarter.

These investigations pertain to past pay roll periods as there is necessarily a delay before wage records are posted and available for inspection. Therefore, those veterans who have drawn benefits illegally in any period will eventually be caught through this procedure.

While the number of veterans who have been convicted in federal and state courts for illegally drawing claims has been only 4 of the total 514, Smith pointed out that the denial of further benefits and the required repayment of benefits drawn illegally is in itself a severe punishment.

When, for example, a veteran recently disbursed because he drew benefits while working part time but failed to report earnings, not only became ineligible for future benefits but had to repay all allowances received since the first week in which he failed to report earnings amounting to approximately $200.

80 Colored Vets Attend Institute In Basic Subjects

More than 80 colored veterans are now attending the Seminole County Institute at Crooms Academy to complete their education in basic academic subjects, and to learn typing, it was announced yesterday by Norman R. Wood, terminal contact representative of the Veterans Administration.

Mr. Wood visits Sanford every Thursday and may be contacted by veterans between the hours of 9:00 A.M. and 4:00 P.M. in the Sheriff's office at the Court House.

Termining the educational program for colored veterans here as outstanding in the state, he said that the fine showing of the program is due to the direct supervision of Supt. T. W. Lawton, and the fine co-operation of Commander Walter Holly of the Colored Legion Post.

"Mr. Lawton has gone out of his way to see that this school is one of the best of its kind in the state," said Mr. Wood.

The school, which is financed by the Veterans Administration, is now operating for the second year. The full time day school started July 6 and will continue until Oct. 5. The night school which started at the same time will end for the term on Nov. 23. Another term will probably be started at the beginning of the year, Mr. Wood revealed.

Basic education in the three R's is concentrated upon. Reading and writing is necessary for many kinds of manual work such as carpentering which requires the reading of blue prints, he pointed out. Prof. J. N. Crooms, principal of the Crooms Academy, is assisting in the teaching. The other instructors are Edna Burton and Herman L. Refoe. All of these teachers, Supt. Lawton said, are college graduates and have Florida teachers' certificates. Six more typewriters were recently secured in addition to six formerly in use.

During the initial term, 75 colored veterans signed up at various times and of these 41 graduated. The balance, who entered late, are taking the present term. Plans for night classes for white veterans at Seminole County schools will be announced in mid-Fall, according to Mr. Wood.

Many sick veterans are applying for out-patient treatment, and a few are seeking hospitalization, he revealed.

Communism that took place in Prague during the Sokol Festival. Well, we were right there. We were on the cubicles and even though not understanding Czech we recognized Truman's name in one of their cheers. That one was not heard by the reporter who covered the situation for our papers because I've watched for mention of it but have not seen it yet.

"There were many cheers for America and Americans and most we heard were for Benes and Masaryk. It was quite a moving spectacle and we knew we were in the center of something very big internationally. We saw Gottwald, the Communist president, on his reviewing stand and he was almost completely ignored. Not one cheer for him did we hear. The demonstration ended shortly after lunch and the Czech people with whom we talked told us confidentially that the felt Gottwald had prematurely halted the parade because ordinarily in other years it went on for many more hours. They felt that he had called it off because of the way it was going.

"Everyone is afraid to invite the suspicion of the Communists because people are losing their jobs and being jailed right down a systematic list. They are rather desperate about the whole thing and when we say, 'Why don't you do something,' they come back with 'Like what?'

Reporting on those who had voted "No" against the present communistic regime she wrote: "There was someone watching as they deposited their ballots and all those who turned in the 'No' ballots were listed by name. We were told that they are still going down that list of names gathered from the election that took place four months ago and all those listed have already served or are going to serve a prison sentence.

Trying to get back to Frankfurt, it looked as though the Czech baggage inspection would cause the girls to miss their plane. Wrote Miss Temple, "Three American Pan-Am pilots who had flown the plane in passed us, knowing she was already late in departure and that she was waiting only for the pilots, I turned around and said (a little desperately I think) Oh wait for us PLEASE.

They looked us over, saw that we were Americans, grinned and one of them said, 'O.K., but hurry up.' Sure enough, when we raced out to the plane she was waiting to take off, the pilots were standing alongside just waiting for us and they climbed aboard with a bang of the door after we tumbled ourselves in. We had kept Pan American lines waiting.

"You can't imagine our sense of importance in having that huge plane go through all that maneuvering to land and discharge us three at Frankfurt. No one else disembarked there nor did anyone get on at Frankfurt."

She described the trip to Prague as by far the most exciting, adventurous trip I've ever taken in my life, bar none. "We felt as though we are in the middle of a movie thriller the whole length of the trip," she stated. She revealed how the girls joked about the possibility of being trailed by communist secret agents. "We wouldn't admit out loud or otherwise that we were the least bit nervous but we did manage, through a lot of pretense about games to get our door at the hotel well barricaded."

contrasting characteristics of hybrids through a series of generations and found that the characteristics appear in a definite mathematical ratio which can be predicted accurately. This is called Mendel's Law).

Lysenko demanded at the time that all the energy of Soviet biological researchers and plant breeders be devoted to research along the lines of the theory of acquired characteristics which he, himself, embraced.

The academy's letter to Stalin said the Prime Minister was responsible for the best attainments of Soviet science. "The expanded session of the presidium of the Academy of Sciences of the U.S.S.R., dedicated to consideration of the state and problems of biological sciences in the Academy of Sciences, turns to you, our beloved leader and teacher, with heart felt Bolshevik greetings and gratitude which you, every day, are giving to Soviet scientists," it said.

"Soviet science is obliged to you for its best attainments. You always directed the development of science in the interests of the people. You always helped and now help us conquer teachings reactionary and inimical to the people and have advanced Soviet science from the danger of separation from the people."

(Chambers) bought the farm himself but did not believe Hiss knew about the purchase. At the time, Stripling said, Hiss knew Chambers as Carl, according to Chambers.

The committee also questioned five other witnesses secretly today in an effort to trace the automobile sold by Hiss in 1936. This car, an old Ford, was said by Chambers to have been intended for some other Communist worker when Hiss disposed of it.

The witnesses were Leon Cherrier, Henry Cherner, Floyd Sawyer, Samuel M. Bialek, and Robert Bialek, all of Washington.

Rep. McDowell (R-Pa) said "we got practically nothing out of them."

The committee members hope by tracing the car to get some help in determining who lied when Hiss and Chambers told contradictory stories about their past relationship.

The Baltimore News-Post said it had discovered a "Jay Chambers" bought a run-down farm near Westminster, Md. which Alger Hiss and his wife earlier had purchased and abandoned.

The News-Post printed photostatic copies of sale agreements signed by Alger and Priscilla Hiss and "Easter Chambers per Jay Chambers."

The Hiss contract was dated Apr. 13, 1936, and the Chambers contract Mar. 12, 1937.

The News-Post said it obtained them from Edward W. Case, a Westminster real estate dealer, along with a May 28, 1936, letter signed by Hiss saying he was no longer interested in the "Shirley place."

The owner of the place died after the first sale contract and a question arose about validity of the deal. The estate asked more than the $750 which Hiss had agreed to pay and Hiss advised he wished to terminate the negotiations.

The News-Post said Mrs. Hiss first wrote to Westminster on Nov. 5, 1935, inquiring about a real estate ad in a Baltimore newspaper.

Case told the News-Post he got a letter from "J. W. Chambers" on Feb. 3, 1936, asking if he had a small piece of rural property for between $600 and $750. The letter gave no address for Chambers but asked that a reply be sent to a New York attorney.

About the same time, Case said, Hiss said $20 down and on Apr. 13 paid another $100.

On Feb. 27, 1937, Case had a letter from Chambers saying he was coming to look at some properties. A man showed up on Mar. 12 and was escorted to the Shirley place by Case and Calvin Zapp, an antique dealer. He made a $40 deposit.

"It was one of the oddest deals I've ever had," the News-Post quoted Case.

"The house was run down. It was five miles off a paved road. Yet, here were two important men, both apparently anxious to buy it."

ports that shops in the vicinity of city hall were being closed to get results.

The demonstration broke up after an hour and a half.

Ferdinand Friedensburg, the city's acting mayor—a Christian Democrat, later charged that Soviet-controlled German police not only refused the city's parliament protection "but actually backed the demonstrators."

He said the demonstrators had been let into city hall by the back door, which was opened, he said, by a member of the Communist-dominated Socialist Unity Party (SED) after the front door had been locked and the key hidden.

He said a Soviet army major demanded that he be let out by the front door after it was locked. This, the mayor said, apparently was to let demonstrators in.

"It is now questionable whether the city parliament will stay here under a situation where the police refuse to grant it protection against the constant danger of being disturbed by a small minority pressure group," Friedensburg continued.

He added, however, that the city government's administrative offices would stay in city hall no matter what the council itself does.

"We will stay as long as possible," he added.

There may be a decision later today about a future meeting place for the council. There have been suggestions that it move into the American zone under the protection of the western half of the Berlin police force.

That probably would mean a Communist split on city officials left in the Soviet zone. The Russians already have arrested the head of the coal distribution section of the city administration.

Western Allied liaison officers at the city hall said non-Communist Maj. General Alexander Kotikov, a demand that he say whether he will provide police protection to insure an orderly

The Socialist speaker, Otto Suhr, was directed to ask Kotikov to grant a personal interview with a parliamentary delegation. It is understood that if the Russian commandant ignores these requests, the parliamentary majority probably will decide to move to the American sector.

Socialist officials say the police under a Russian-supported Police Chief Paul Markgraf not only failed to stop the invaders of city hall, but actually aided them.

Army Requests 10,000 Men In November Call

Navy And Air Force Do Not Expect To Need Draftees During Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30—(AP)—The Army today asked for 10,000 draftees for induction sometime during November.

The new peacetime draft call went to the Selective Service System from the Munitions Board.

All of the inductees will be taken into the Army since no request was made for men by the Navy or the Air Force.

The announcement made by Secretary of Defense Forrestal said that the Navy and the Air Force do not expect to need any draftees during the fiscal year (July, 1948—through June, 1949).

Announcement of the first draft call was made public also in St. Louis by Army Chief of Staff General Omar Bradley.

All draft calls made by the military departments for manpower are being funneled through the Munitions Board.

The call for 10,000 Army inductees will be broken down into state quotas by Selective Service national headquarters and transmitted to state headquarters which in turn will give the various local boards their quotas.

News of the first call came as men 19 through 25 years of age began registering.

Calls for induction will be made in the order of birthdates beginning with the oldest men.

Each state and territory is given credit for persons already in the military service in setting up the quotas of men to be inducted.

The military departments are now preparing these figures, but in the meantime the Selective Service will estimate the number.

Registration For Selective Service Is Light In County

Registration for peace time selective service of men between the ages of 18 and 25 years of age was light this morning. Only a few more than 30 had been registered at Seminole High School up till noon. The estimated total of registrants in Seminole County is 2,100.

In order to complete the registration as soon as possible, all men in the age group are requested by E. C. Harper, Selective Service Board chairman, to register as quickly as they can, regardless of what age group they belong to. In Seminole County, he explained, it is not necessary to register according to age with 18 year olds first.

Teachers in various schools were co-operating this morning in recording the registrants. On duty at Seminole High School were Mrs. W. B. Wray, Mrs. F. J. Lynch, Miss Ethel Riser, Mrs. M. B. Smith and Miss Laura Chittenden.

Registration at the Sanford Grammar School this morning was 15, according to E. C. Stoebe, Principal. R. E. True at the Junior High School also reported 15. The West Side Primary had three and South Side Primary had one this morning. At the latter school teachers were instructed in recording procedure by E. B. Carter, selective service clerk.

Lines of men were reported at the Orléans School. Crowds of colored students had light registration with 25 reported up to noon.

Any youth who will be 18 years of age by Sept. 18 may register. Arrangements may be made at any school this week between 8:00 A. M. and 8:00 P. M.

Raymond Ball, Jr. Tells Rotarians Of Iranian Nation

Finds United States Best Of All Countries He Has Visited

Raymond Ball, Jr., communications adviser to the Civil Aeronautics Division of the Iranian government, told the Rotarians today that of all the countries he has visited during the past five years, the one he likes best of all is the United States of America. And he was supported in this by his Iranian born wife, a native of Tabriz, who said that everybody appreciates the United States and that "it is the best place to be."

Mr. Ball said that Iran is a large country about the size of the eastern half of the United States. It is a mountainous country with the highest ranges reaching to 18,600 feet, and an average altitude of some 4,000 feet. In the south is a large desert country where it gets extremely hot and where a temperature of 193 degrees was once recorded.

The principal industry of the country is agriculture, he said.

Rep. Nixon Says He Should Be Cited For Refusing To Answer Affiliation Questions

NEW YORK, Aug. 30 (AP)—J. Peters, a witness congressional investigators had counted on to fill gaps in their story of Red spying refused today to tell what he knew about Communist activities. He was threatened with a charge of contempt of Congress.

At a hearing in the Federal building here, Chambers pointed out Peters as the man he was talking about. Peters is a native Czech who lives in New York and is also known by the name of Alexander Stevens.

Put on the witness stand, Peters said he was standing on his constitutional rights and would not answer questions about Communist activities.

Ware Will Place Drivers' Licenses On Sale Sept. 7

Judge R. W. Ware, assisted by Mrs. Letha Fowler, in checking the drivers' licenses which will go on sale at the Court House on Tuesday, Sept. 7, today predicted that sales this year will approach the 11,000 mark. Last year more than 10,500 Seminole County licenses were sold.

As in past years, Judge Ware will see to it that enough clerical assistance is available in issuing the licenses so that it will not be necessary to stand in line for a long period at the same time, he cautioned drivers to apply for licenses early in the month to avoid standing in line later. The licenses will be on sale in the Court House hall outside the Judge's office.

Public Safety, has issued the following information to motorists in connection with the licenses:

"If you are a resident of Florida and hold a 1948 Florida license you may secure your 1949 license by presenting your 1948 license at your County Judge's office or other authorized license agency. Catholics Ask Reds To Respect Church

PRAGUE, Aug. 30—(AP)—The Roman Catholic Church has appealed to the Czechoslovakian government to respect promises that freedom of religious activity will not be interfered with.

In an episcopal letter issued by Mgr. Joseph Beran, archbishop of Prague, it was sent to the government and read from pulpits in the Prague diocese yesterday. Responsible church officials refused to release copies to the foreign press, however.

Persons who attended church services said the letter was an appeal to the Communist Czech government to respect its promises to the church. The letter said the church is willing to abide by the laws of the state but asked that the state in return respect the laws of the church.

Friction between the Catholic Church and the state—along the familiar lines of such friction in Communist countries—has been developing since the Reds took over the government last February.

Greensboro, N.C. Greets Wallace With Rotten Eggs

Town Of Burlington Also Showers Candidate At Speech

GREENSBORO, N. C., Aug. 30 (AP)—A shower of rotten eggs and tomatoes greeted Henry Wallace when he arrived in Greensboro today.

An emergency squad of Greensboro police was called out when a boisterous crowd mobbed the eggs and tomatoes at the presidential candidate. A short time earlier, Wallace had received a similar greeting at Burlington, N. C.

As Wallace stepped from his egg-plattered car in Greensboro, he was greeted with thunderous horns. Then came the avalanche of eggs and tomatoes. One negro was seen tossing eggs.

A patrol wagon screamed up and one man was hurled away. Wallace tried to speak but each time he tried, bass and denunciations drowned him out.

Amid the yells from the crowd, which police estimated at more than 1,000, could be heard: "Go on back to Russia, Henry," and "We can handle our own problems, Henry."

Wallace tried for about five minutes to speak. He was trying to talk on southern resources and the South's economic structure but at one time he said, "I am sure that I must meet the real voters of the South. I will meet with a real welcome."

Burlington, Wallace, standing before a crowd of 2,500, had just uttered the words "I'd like to take this opportunity" when the shower of eggs and tomatoes fell about him. The crowd boomed lustily.

Surrounded by police, Wallace stepped into his waiting automobile in which two negro women sat and headed for Greensboro where he met with a similar reception.
