

AMERICA IS ANXIOUS TO KNOW

ABOUT THE TERMS OF PEACE AND WANTS RESULTS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—Apprehension that the United States might be drawn into the war because of the critical situation occupied as a neutral, was one of the reasons for President Wilson's dispatch of notes to the belligerents...

Secretary Lansing's statement upon which the White House refused to comment, was as follows: "It isn't our material interest we had in mind when the note was sent...

"No nation had been sounded. No consideration of the German overtures or the speech of Lloyd-George was taken into account in the formulation of the communication."

"The sending of this note will indicate the possibility of our being forced into war. The possibility ought to serve as a restraining and sobering force safeguarding American rights."

Opportunity

Florida, thou matchless state, Of all thy sons the ready toast, Around thy thousand miles of coast The south seas toss, and toss and wait...

A climate rare, exuding health, A perfect land beyond men's ken, Let not the welcomed stranger, when He cometh, find himself more fit, Nor better train his native wit...

Circus Tomorrow With the coming of Sun Brothers' World's Progressive Shows to Sanford, Dec. 23rd parents are promising their children that they will take them to the show without fail.

The Sun Brothers' Shows are now rounding out a quarter of a century of successful amusement endeavor and for the current season have added many entirely new features and big sensational displays.

Her Supporters "Thorn, in Palm Beach Post: I'm not sure about it, but it runs in my mind that the Winter Haven Chief recently said it was to be hoped the new politician from Montana, Miss Jeanette Rankin, would never lose her supporters!"

Stocks Break Chicago, Dec. 21.—After a wildly exciting opening during which prices broke as much as seven cents as a result of the President's note, wheat rallied, closing strong, one-eighth lower to 2 3/4 higher.

New York, Dec. 21.—Many brokers refused to accept loss on fifty per cent margins. The day's trading probably broke all records. Sales to one stock were probably two million shares.

CHICKENS FEATURE AT THE FAIR

HIGH COST OF EGGS ARE TURNING THE FARMERS TOWARD POULTRY

Fine poultry, fine stock and fine displays of fruits and vegetables and feeds will be the specialty of the Seminole County Fair if General Manager H. C. Lyman gets the proper support from the farmers of this county.

Mr. Lyman is as busy as the proverbial bee in a syrup barrel and his office in the Welborne block on Commercial street is thronged every day with the people from the county who are anxious to make displays and there are also other people who wish to exhibit their manufactured articles, etc.

Howard Lyman says it is a cinch to raise your stuff in Florida if a man will use common sense and study conditions and the Lyman are not altogether theorists for they have the practical demonstration at their place near Forest City and their fine hogs and their corn and other products at the Seminole County Fair will show the people from Missouri.

So get busy, all you people in Seminole who have fine stock and get them all ready for the fair. You will be able to get a prize that will repay you for the extra trouble and there will be plenty of people here who want to buy just the kind of stock that you bring to the fair.

Laying Smaller Eggs Mrs. Osteen brought some small eggs in to The Herald office the other day and announced that since the eggs had gone down to 65 cents per dozen her hens were now economizing and laying smaller eggs.

Merry Christmas A good many men are wondering whether it is best to go into bankruptcy now or wait until after they are trusted for their Christmas presents.

OVIEDO HIGH AWAY ABOVE ORLANDO HIGH

BLACK HAMMOCK DAISIES TOO MUCH FOR ORANGE SUCKERS

Oviedo High School played a return game of basket ball with Orlando High Friday afternoon. The Oviedo girls won by a score of 18 to 14. Owing to the condition of the Orlando outdoor court and the weather the Orlando management requested the visitors to play in the Armory, to which they agreed.

The game was called at 8:45 by Referee Marshall. Oviedo opened the game with a series of plays that were too fast for Orlando and in four minutes Orlando had run up six points while holding their opponents scoreless.

During the halves, much to the disgust of the uninitiated spectators, football coach Hawes gave an exhibition of verbal acrobaticism that would have been out of place on a football field. However, such displays, although less virile had been witnessed in previous games and it in no wise disconcerted the Oviedo players.

Throughout the game Oviedo suffered severely from penalties, 10 of the 14 points scored by her opponents being made on free throws. These throws were not sufficient to overcome the lead the Oviedo forwards maintained by shooting field goals. Oviedo surpassed Orlando in every department of the game except in scoring from free throws.

In this respect Miss Dover of Orlando did brilliant work. The Oviedo players put up an all around game without individual starring. The Orlando team recently met with heavy loss in the resignation of Miss Lillian Smith as coach. Competent observers rate Miss Smith as one of the best coaches in the state.

Among the spectators present were noted an interested group of Cathedral school girls and the Orlando football squad which backed up their coach in splendid shape. From Oviedo Mrs. W. H. Howard, Mrs. H. B. McCall and Mrs. Williams were present. All are enthusiastic followers of the team and they were highly pleased over the outcome.

Oviedo—E. Howard, Capt., r. f.; E. Marshall, l. f.; N. Williams, f. c.; M. Marshall, r. c.; O. Letzette, r. g.; Eula Howard, l. g. Orlando—F. Dover, r. f.; E. Robinson, Capt., l. f.; D. Bruce, l. c.; A. Taylor, r. c.; F. Roek, r. g.; H. Roek, l. g.

Officials: Dr. C. J. Marshall, referee; L. G. Moore, umpire; Mrs. J. Gist, Miss Beck, Cathedral School, linesmen; Gladys Lezette, Pearl Proctor, scorers; T. C. Brannon, timekeeper.

Oviedo, Edith Howard, 3 field goals, 2 free throws; Elsie Marshall, 4 field goals, 2 free throws. Orlando—Miss J. Dover, 10 free throws, 1 field goal; Elizabeth Robinson, 1 field goal.

King a Good Farmer Alfred King who has a nice place on the west side has proved that a hard worker in Sanford soil can grow anything. A few days ago he left at The Herald office a small crate of Irish potatoes and a small crate of sweet potatoes and all of them were just about the finest of the kind that you would want to see.

PEACE DOVE FLUTTERING IN EUROPE

ENGLAND SAYS ENTENTE WILL DICTATE TERMS

Washington, Dec. 21.—Lloyd-George's speech leaves the door open for peace, according to the view of the White House and state department.

This also is the view of the German embassy, where a statement was made tonight that Germany would not be the first to close the door.

With the presentation of the Allies' answer to the German proposals it is believed in official circles actual peace proposals will soon be under way.

"It looks to me as if the matter were not finished and as it there would be at least one more interchange of notes," was the comment of Ambassador Von Bernstorff.

Germany is understood to be ready to discuss all questions broached by Lloyd-George.

The essential point in the premier's statement was that it announced the Allies would wait until they hear what terms and guarantees can be given that are more secure than those which German broke.

Germany was declared tonight to be ready to present those terms, but does not wish public discussion.

London, Dec. 21.—The announcement in the House of Commons today by David Lloyd-George, the new prime minister, that the first act of his administration was the rejection of the proposal of the Central Powers for a peace conference, constituted one of the most momentous scenes which the oldest Parliamentary veterans have ever witnessed.

The new premier declared that before the Allies could give favorable consideration to such an invitation they must know that Germany was prepared to accede to the Allies' terms, giving "complete restitution, full reparation and effectual guarantees" and that to enter a conference upon the invitation of Germany, proclaiming herself victorious, without any knowledge of her proposals, would be "putting our heads into a noose with the end of the rope in Germany's hands."

Mr. Lloyd-George asserted that at the moment Germany was penning the note, assuring her convictions as to the rights of other nations; she was dragging Belgians into slavery. He announced that the note presented through Washington contained no proposals of terms but was a paraphrase of Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg's speech and that the Allies had separately concluded to reject it although they had informally exchanged views and would within a few days present a joint reply.

Like the Christmas Edition The Christmas edition of the Sanford Herald seems to have pleased the people in various states and the following letters are among those received this week:

Chicago, Dec. 18, 1916. Peoples Bank, Sanford, Fla. Gentlemen: Thank you for sending us the copy of the Sanford Herald. From the size and appearance of The Herald one would think it was a Christmas edition of a Chicago paper.

Respectfully yours, Charles N. Crewdson, Outcault Advertising Co. West Liberty, Iowa, Dec. 18. Sanford Herald, Sanford, Fla. Gentlemen:

I have just received the Christmas edition of The Herald and I wish to compliment you on the fine paper you printed in honor of the Christmas season.

Sanford should indeed be proud of such a paper and from the looks of the ads. you are well patronized.

With best wishes for your continued success I am, Yours respectfully, C. A. Nichols, Ass't Cashier, Iowa State Bank & Trust Co.

Some Lettuce Ralph Chapin is the boy who puts the Christmas in the John Russell farm on Beardall and that he is raising some fine lettuce is demonstrated by the large head he left at The Herald office yesterday.

El Paso, Dec. 20.—Sergeant Robert E. Gonzales, of the Second South Carolina regiment, died at Fort Bliss Hospital last night. He was 33 years old. He was the son of W. E. Gonzales, American minister of Cuba. He was widely known as a paragrapher for the Columbia State. He was aged 28.

OUR STATE IN LEAD POPULATION

FLORIDA HAS GROWN FASTER THAN ANY OTHER STATE IN UNION

Washington, Dec. 21.—The population of the United States continues to shift to the cities, according to estimates announced today by the census bureau. The estimates, based on the rate of population increase from 1900 to 1910, disclosed that 40.9 per cent of the country's inhabitants now live in the cities of more than 8,000 as against 38.9 per cent in 1910.

The states have taken census since last federal census in 1910 and seven show population increases. Kansas, South Dakota and Wyoming decreased from 1910 to 1915, the greatest reduction being in Wyoming, 2.9 per cent. The least increase was in Iowa, with a growth of but six per cent. The greatest increase was 22.5 per cent in Florida.

In the past six years the growth in the white population was 10,000,000 and the negro population about three-fourths of a million. The populations of some of the leading cities as estimated today are: New York 5,602,811, Chicago 2,497,722, Philadelphia 1,709,518, St. Louis 757,309, Boston 756,476, Cleveland 674,073, Baltimore 589,621, Pittsburgh 579,090, Detroit 571,784, Buffalo 468,558, San Francisco, 463,516, Milwaukee 436,535, Cincinnati 410,476, Newark 408,894, New Orleans 371,747, Washington 363,980, Minneapolis 363,454, Sattle 348,369, Jersey City 306,345, Kansas City 297,847, Portland 295,463, Indianapolis 271,708, Denver 260,800, Rochester 256,417, Providence 254,460, St. Paul 247,212, Louisville 238,910, Columbus 214,878, Oakland 191,604, Toledo 191,554, Atlanta 191,558, Birmingham 181,762, Omaha 165,476, Worcester 163,314, Worcester 163,314, Richmond 156,687.

Census officials were careful to explain that these estimates do not take into considerations local conditions and that they are based solely on the population increase or decrease in the past.

COMMUNITY XMAS TREE PROGRAM

AFTERNOON OF CHRISTMAS DAY WILL BE MEMORABLE EVENT

Plans are just about completed for the Community celebration and Christmas tree in the central park on Christmas afternoon at five thirty and there is every reason to believe that our first Community event of this kind is going to spell success. The various committees have been untiring in their efforts and although the time has been short in which to plan and prepare a simple, short program indicative of the Christmas spirit has been arranged. The exercises will be brief that all may feel that they can be present.

The idea has been received with such enthusiasm that it is reasonable to suppose there will be a goodly crowd in attendance. The hour has been set for five thirty as this is believed to be an hour that will appeal to all, just between the lights when the significance of the celebration will be most impressive. Parents are earnestly requested to come and bring with them the children of the family. Gifts will not be compulsory, but it is hoped there will be enough to fill the baskets for Sanford's poor. Toys and groceries, clothing, fruits and all good things will be gratefully appreciated. Anyone who knows of a family in need is requested to give the name to Mrs. W. P. Carter, secretary of the Welfare Department, Woman's Club. The names will be known only to the committee on distribution. Mrs. Carter has a telephone and can be easily reached. Pastors, organizations and individuals are urged to report the names of those in need whom they may have on their list and every one is assured there will be no embarrassment for the recipient.

Mrs. C. R. Walker and Mrs. A. D. Smith will receive the gifts at the band stand in the park from five o'clock until after the celebration so that whoever desires to give will either bring or send their donations to the band stand at that hour.

Mrs. J. W. Barnes is chairman of committee on arrangements, with Mrs. H. C. Gerrer and Miss Nellie Elder decorating committee and Mrs. W. W. Abernathy, chairman of the Sunday schools committee with Miss Lettice Caldwell representing the Presbyterian S. S., Miss Claire Walker the Congregational and Mrs. Seogean the Baptist. Mrs. Abernathy representing the Methodist. The children of these Sunday schools must meet the ladies at their respective Sunday schools at five o'clock Monday afternoon. They will enter the park and group at the band stand as follows: Presbyterians at Oak avenue and Fourth street; Baptists, Oak avenue and Fifth street; Methodist, at Park avenue and Fifth street; Congregational at Park avenue and Fourth street. Children of the Catholic and Episcopal churches will fall in line with the other Sunday schools. Children coming in from outlying districts will line up with the Congregational. The program follows:

Music while assembling. Processional, "Joy to the World." Song, "America," Community singing. Invocation—Rev. E. E. Steinmeyer. Carol—Congregational S. S. Carol—Presbyterian S. S. Community Christmas Tree Idea briefly explained by Rev. J. A. Davidson. Carol—Methodist Sunday School. Recessional—Mr. Chas. Polk will lead the singing and it is hoped the Baptist Sunday Orchestra will supply the music instead of a carol. Every child is requested to be prompt for the exercises will be short lasting not more than forty five minutes.

Postoffice Will Open Postmaster Elder announces that the postoffice windows will be open on Sunday, December 24th and on Christmas Day from 9 to 10 a. m., for the convenience of the public. No money order business will be transacted. City carriers will make morning trips on both days. Rural carriers will make regular trips Monday but none on Sunday.

Gloria Stafford after recognizing in Gideon Trask the murderer of her lover, Richard Freneau, and recovering from the swoon, that follows her recognition of Trask, sets out to follow the murderer. She traces him down into an evil part of the city and there is set upon by thugs, from whom she escapes with difficulty. Resuming her pursuit of Trask she follows him into a saloon in a tough district where she is seized by Choey McFadden, who insists upon her dancing with him. Doctor Royce immediately after Gloria left the chambers of Judge Freeman sets out to follow her to protect her from harm. She moves so swiftly from place to place however that Royce is never quite able to catch up to her, and only arrives at the saloon therefore after Gloria has been insulted by McFadden. Royce knocks the burly Bowery character down and then the police are summoned to break up the riot which follows. Gloria, Royce and McFadden are arrested and taken to night court, where Judge Freeman and Pierpont Stafford are astonished to behold Gloria and Royce in the toils of the police. Trask had escaped from the saloon during the melee. Lyric Tonight.

Bushman and Bayne in "In the Diplomatic Service"
Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bane, the foremost stellar combination in motion pictures will be seen on the screen here at the Star Theatre on Tuesday, in "In the Diplomatic Service," a five part Metro wonderplay. Among some of the big and interesting scenes in this production are a state ball given in Washington, D. C., honoring the foreign diplomats, and glimpses of the nation's capitol with the Bushman-Bayne players very much in evidence. The story of "In the Diplomatic Service" is, as the title implies one of romance and teeming with big dramatic movements. There is an unusual love story interwoven throughout, and altogether it is a charming and pleasing feature.

Programme AT THE STAR

Tuesday—Metro presents Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne in "Diplomatic Services."

Wednesday—World presents Robert Warwick and Gail Kane in "The Heart of a Hero", a six part story of the life of Nathan Hale.

Thursday—World presents House Peters in "The Hand of Peril" also "Mishaps of Musty Suffer".

Friday—Marie Doro in Charles Dicken's noted story "Oliver Twist".

First Episode "The Traitor"
Captain Ralph Payne is chosen to convey to the Major General at Panama, a document of vital importance which discloses a weakness in our vital defenses by which a monarchy hitherto overlooked by the United States plots to overcome this nation. The document is secreted beneath his left shoulder strap it first being prepared with invisible ink, made visible only by a secret chemical compressed into thin wafers, hidden in the secret castings of Payne's watch fob. From that time Payne finds himself the victim of a queer being that through a strange medium juggles with his good name and martial standing. At his apartment he finds a letter in handwriting the exact counterpart of his own and in it the startling contents: "The left shoulder strap and the locket reveal the secret—take the tip in time." Bewildered, he consults his chief, Colonel Dare, who instructs him to attend the Embassy Ball that night as though nothing had happened, promising added secret service protection. In the midst of the evening's festivities, Payne and Ralph Dare had a secluded spot in the conservatory. Encouraged by a responsive light in eyes, Payne is about to ask for her "Yes" to the question that means happiness to him, when a messenger orders him to report to Colonel Dare at once. There he is informed that the Grenadian Ambassador has been murdered and in his lifeless hand a message found to Payne thanking him for services rendered Grenada. When Payne is searched the left shoulder strap reveals nothing but a worthless piece of paper. In a daze he hears the orders given to arrest him on a charge of treason.

True Historical Story
"Nathan Hale, a splendid young man conducts a small school in New London, Connecticut, during those trying days just before the Colonists' declaration of war with England."
Nathan Hale? What American is not familiar with that noble figure of our early days. The story of "The Heart of a Hero" is based on his life. Robert Warwick and Gail Kane, assisted by the usual excellent supporting cast found in all World Pictures Brady-Made, will carry you back to those days at the Star Theatre on Wednesday, when this unusual play will be shown.

Dorothy Gish in "Gretchen the Greenhorn"
Gretchen is a typical Dorothy Gish role. Miss Gish interprets the part with characteristic charm and a great wealth of imagination. She is almost irrepresible in the part of the little Dutch girl and will be thoroughly adopted wherever she is seen. This part will make for her a good many more friends and admirers.

Commenting on Coats

The story of coats for this season has reached its closing chapter with the presentation of styles for midwinter and styles for driving. The drift of popular approval was too definite early in the season to encourage any radical new departures.

In coats for midwinter long sweeping lines, ample width, and muffer collars continue to be featured. Wool velour, tweeds, bolivia cloth, plush and fur fabrics are fur-trimmed and made up on the same lines as all-fur coats.

In the same way. Many less expensive coats of velour, or other cloths, are trimmed with bands of fur-fabric, and some of them have collars of it. But the smartest cloth coats have big muffer collars of cloth and huge buttons matching their own color.

The New Old-Fashioned Girls.

In the old-fashion girl Miss Alcott somewhere drew a pretty picture of her heroine in her little homespun blue frock and her tippet of squirrel. Young girls are wearing the same sort of wide skirted blue frocks and the self-same tippets of squirrel this year.

New Departure in Children's Millinery

It doesn't make any difference just how the headwear of tiny girls is fashioned, it is sure to look pretty on its little wearers. For some time its inspiration has been drawn from the millinery of grownups.

Shapes for small ladies are not greatly varied, and follow rather closely a few of those designed for grown people. Besides these there are several types that are staple shapes for children, including the poke bonnet and the "baby" hat, with ruffled brim.

These trimmings are simply made, as the hats in the picture demonstrate. In one of them a band of black velvet ribbon is drawn about a light felt shape and serves as a background for a procession of little chicks and geese, cut from colored felt, which are applied to it.

A dark velour hat sets off flying birds cut from silk or other fabrics. Printed silks furnish many figures of birds, butterflies, bees, and other things that make the work of the milliner simple.

A Successful Afternoon Model

French gray and Russian green in cloth and velvet are used to develop this pretty afternoon frock. The blouse may close in double-breasted or surplice fashion, while the gathered skirt is trimmed with braided pockets.

A frock that has achieved success, not only because of its very new design, but because of its combination of two striking and blending tones is pictured here. French gray and Russian green are the shades used, green satin being used for the foundation, revers and cuffs, and gray cloth for the bodice and overskirt. In medium size the costume requires 4 1/4 yards 54-inch broadcloth, 2 3/4 yards 36-inch satin for foundation skirt and 1 1/4 yards 36-inch lining.

In order to properly cut the dress, note how the various sections of the pattern are placed on both the cloth and the satin. Because there are so many small pieces to the overdress, it is better to place them together on the cloth so that it may be used to best advantage. The flare collars, the back, the large collar, and back and front gores of the skirt are laid on the lengthwise fold of goods.

The outer front of the waist, sleeve, cuff and pocket are placed on the material so that the large "O" perforations rest on a lengthwise thread. The pieces are cut from the cloth remaining at the side of the back and front gores.

After the cloth sections have been cut, the satin foundation may be undertaken. Fold the satin, then place first on the material the back gore, the large "O" perforations resting on a lengthwise thread, and next the front gore, laid on the lengthwise fold. The front and back of the waist lining sections both are laid with the large "O" perforations on a lengthwise thread of material.

The frocks for afternoon wear are particularly pretty this season and show advanced touches for winter resort use. Many of the broadcloths and satins are trimmed with fine gold or silver embroidery which are very rich when done on a background of turquoise or Natier blue or coral.

One of the ways of Capes

Stunning evening cape in blue broadcloth lined with rose satin. The open neck is finished with a broad collar and hood, or the neck may be closed and swathed with a scarf of self-material.

Time was when capes were a sign of advancing years, now they are among into something practical. Pictorial Review Cape No. 6947. Sizes, small, medium and large. Price, 25 cents.

the most youthful of all and Winter fashions. The design pictured here is cut in two pieces and the neck may be finished in open effect with a deep collar, or with high neck and the collar wrapped around in the new Doucin style. There is provided a graceful and serviceable hood which may be used, however, only when the cape is made with open neck. Blue broadcloth is used to make the cape, 4 yards 54 inches wide being required.

The cape is cut on an open width of material, and as this even will not be wide enough, it will be necessary to arrange for the small piecing for the seam as shown in the cutting guide.

The remaining cloth is now folded in half and the hood laid on the lengthwise fold. The pocket is placed on a lengthwise thread, the straight edge being parallel with the selvage of the cloth.

The lining is an important part of the cape and this season the smart dressmakers are using bright silks and satins. Rose or pink would go well with almost any light shade of blue, and this is an exceedingly fashionable combination this season. In addition to the satin, the cape may be interlined with canton flannel for warmth. The scarf, hood and collar may be lined or made of contrasting material.

While broadcloth is perhaps the most practical material for an evening cape, there are lovely models in velvet, velveteen, satin brocade and the heavy corded silks. The advantage of a good, wearable cloth, how-

BEST AGE FOR TENNIS

Man Plays at Topnotch When Thirty-Five Years Old.

Champion Williams Says McLoughlin Not Through Because He is Twenty-Six Years of Age—Will Keep on Playing.

"How long can a man play topnotch tennis?"

R. Norris Williams, II, gave vent to a modest chuckle before answering this query put to him shortly after he had defeated William Johnston, California, in the national lawn tennis championship finals at Forest Hills, N. Y.

"Why, I should say until he is thirty-four or thirty-five. Do you think 'Morrie' McLoughlin is entirely broken simply because he is twenty-six?" the champion asked in reply. "Not a bit of it. It is entirely probable, and I shouldn't in the least be surprised to see him come back to the best he ever played within the next six years and regain the title."

"I have no expectations, but only hopes, as to the length of time I can remain champion or a championship contender. I am twenty-four now."

And a man ought to play the very best tennis of his career around twenty-nine or thirty, for the reason that at that age he is likely to have retained his stamina and to have played long enough to have acquired the experience which is so valuable in big matches. Look at Karl Behr. He is far from broken.

"There may be this, however, to be said about McLoughlin. It is highly possible that his smashing style takes the physical strength out of a man in his younger years, where the game which either William Johnston or I play would conserve it. It is not impossible that a vital difference lies there."

"I expect to keep up with my tennis while in business as much as I did while at Harvard, where I was graduated last June."

Maternal Instincts. As a rule it is the mother of a few children who develops the maternal instinct most fully and most admirably, for she has time to realize and to follow out its manifold bearings. The sorely-pressed mother of a swarm is forced to be content if she can fill their clamorous stomachs, keep decent clothes on their backs and send them out with tolerably clean faces.

Compliment? "J. Fuller Gloom passed a pleasant compliment on my distinguished ancestor, Alfred Tennyson, the other day," confessed Tennyson J. Duff. "When I casually mentioned that I am a descendant of Lord Tennyson he cried out, quite emphatically, 'Good Lord!'"

Mysophobia. The famous dictionary compiler, Dr. Samuel Johnson, was impelled to touch and count all the pallings in fences he passed, and if, he thought he had missed one he would start back and repeat the nonsensical enumeration. Mysophobia is an annoying obsession of this sort and more frequent than supposed, as the patients try to keep their peculiar behavior from notice. It is a fear of uncleanness or of contamination.

Wifely Whimsies. "Married life," says a woman's page writer, "would be infinitely happier if married men would obey the whims of their wives with half the alacrity they displayed when their wives were their sweethearts." Why not make allowance for the fact that a bachelor isn't eternally worn out humoring his sweetheart's whimsical idea that there's a burglar in the house and hunting for him with a flashlight?—Louisville Courier-Journal.

FLORIDA'S CORN CROP

Did you know that the corn crop of the state of Florida this year exceeded in value the citrus crop? Facts and Figures, the official organ of the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association...

Fully half the people of Jacksonville could grow what vegetables they need with one hour's work per day. But if a negro is to work it he will cost as much as the vegetables.

THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

The high price of foodstuffs is simply a tax that the people of the cities are paying for laziness, inefficiency and style. Housewives have gotten in the habit of buying each day for that day's use.

But the telephone is such a tempter. People can speak to their grocer or their market man whenever they please. They order only what they need that day.

Foodstuffs also vary in prices at different stores or markets. If the customer would go in person and select what was wanted the article could be bought where it is cheapest.

People when buying small packages used to carry them home. But gee whiz! That can't be done now. A woman would feel degraded if she were carrying a bundle or two in her hand.

The majority of the people of Jacksonville can keep chickens and feed them almost entirely on the scraps from the table. There may not be any great big money in the poultry business as a regular business but any family that will keep chickens can feed them on one-tenth of the money that the eggs they lay would cost.

DIVIDING THE LAND OF FLOWERS

It appears that the matter of dividing the state of Florida, geographically, is not to be abandoned. The northern and the southern portions of the state find that they have not enough in common to cement them together.

A bill, it is anticipated will be introduced into the legislature this winter with the intention of paying the way for division. But it is no easy matter to bring about the division of a state.

Florida could not divide without the consent of Congress, and Congress would probably ponder the question for a long time before deciding even to vote on it, for this reason, among others, that Florida is a topheavy state, but not the only one in the Union by any means.

DR. HYMAN IN TAMPA

Sanford Minister Demonstrates His Ability as an Organizer. The old legend "I came, I saw, I conquered" could have been appropriately used by Dr. George Hyman in Tampa last Thursday.

The Doctor, who is the pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city was called some time ago to Tampa there to conduct a money raising campaign for the First Baptist Church there.

Dr. Hyman left Sanford for just ten days, and during that time he went to Tampa, organized his working force, got his workers and himself to working and actually raised the total sum of $25,918.00. Therefore we repeat that while just before leaving Tampa George could have said "I came, I saw, I conquered" and the saying would have been in place.

Dr. Hyman has been in Sanford as the pastor of the First Baptist Church for more than three years, and during that time had lent his services and his powerful energy in directing the work here that has made for the Sanford Baptists and for the town one of the most practical houses of worship in the south.

The fact that Dr. Hyman engaged about ten years ago as a cashier of a wholesale establishment, and has climbed to his present altitude in so short a time speaks volumes for his ability.

In speaking of the Tampa campaign and its success the Tampa Times has the following to say: "Dr. Hyman has for a number of years studied this kind of church activity, and he has been successful

In every place he has conducted a campaign.

In his home city he led his people in the erection of a modern three story building. The Sanford Sunday school holds the pentagon as the best in Florida.

Dr. Hyman was for five years engaged in business in middle Georgia, leaving a position as cashier in a large wholesale house to become a pastor. His business education was received from the Georgia Normal College and Business Institute of Douglas, Ga.

Dr. Hyman has served as pastor in Florida at Apalachicola, Brooksville, Marianna and Sanford. For three years he was state Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. secretary.

Tampa was proud to have this man for a few days only and it is only just that we are more proud to only just that we are more than proud that he is a resident of Sanford and has cast his lot among us for a home.

3,000,000 depositors the enormous sum of $100,000,000.00. This money will go mostly to the poorer classes, but people in all walks of life are taking it up, the need for Christmas money being universal, and as this incentive for saving is a permanent one, Christmas Savings Clubs have become permanent departments with progressive banks.

Sanford Girls Won. The Sanford girls' High School Basketball team journeyed over to Osceola county to play the Kissimmee girls, headed by their popular coach, Miss Tribble.

There are a number of classes that a person can join, but the most popular are the two (2c) cent and five (5c) cent classes, the two cent class paying $25.50 and the five cent class paying $63.75 at the end of fifty weeks. As a promoter of thrift, these Christmas Savings Clubs are wonderful, it being estimated that probably one-third of the money paid to club depositors is immediately re-deposited in permanent savings accounts and fully one-fourth of the positions are entirely new material, this being their first banking experience.

Windows in Presbyterian Church. The new art windows in the Presbyterian church are attracting a great deal of very favorable attention. They were designed by an artist for this particular building, that artistic harmony might prevail throughout.

Coach Tribble of the local team has proven a leader in more than one way. Her instructions are invaluable, and the girls seem to realize this and at every instruction which is given the girls all feel that the more information Miss Tribble gives the better they are going to play.

SAFE IS ROBBED

Yegman Breaks Into Safe in Bonita Cafe Sunday Night

A safe cracker broke into the safe of the Bonita Cafe some time Sunday night and extracted about $100 in currency therefrom. The Nicopolis Brothers have always closed and locked the safe but neglected to close the outer door Sunday night and the thief had no trouble in prying the money box out of the compartment and making way with the contents. There are several clues to follow in the case and the police think they can land the gentleman in a few days. Winter season brings the thieves into Florida and extra precautions should be taken by everyone during the winter season to safeguard the money and other valuables that might be safe in the good old summer time.

Congregational Church

There will be special services in the Congregational church Sunday both morning and evening. Special Christmas music and sermons in accord with the season.

The Sunday school and young people will have two rehearsals this week for their Christmas choral service which will be held Monday evening. The rehearsals will come Wednesday at 3 o'clock and Saturday at 2 o'clock. Let every member of the S. S. be present.

The Wednesday evening meeting is held in the parsonage. You are urged to come in for an hour.

Ran Into Open Draw

Jacksonville, Dec. 17.—Mrs. Oscar E. Hartley of this city and her four year old son are dead and other members of an automobile party are badly bruised as the result of an accident this afternoon. The car, driven by Mr. Hartley ran into the open draw at Amelia river and tumbled twenty feet to the water.

Mrs. Hartley and her little son were pinned under the car. Six other members of the party floated and were rescued by the bridge tender and assistants. A four months old baby floated with the current for four hundred yards and was picked up alive and unharmed.

The body of Mrs. Hartley was found under the car but the little boy's body has not yet been recovered. Other members of the party were Newborne Hart, Ulrich Hatchcock, wife and daughter.

Thursday at the Star

The picture that seems certain to arouse the enthusiasm of all patrons of the screen is "The Hand of Peril," the new World Film feature starring House Peters, to be seen at the Star Theatre on Thursday.

It is an adaptation of the widely read detective stories by that brilliant author, Arthur Stringer, and was produced under the personal supervision of one of the most noted directors in the motion picture industry.

Marie Doro in "Oliver Twist"

"I look like a boy!" exclaimed Marie Doro as she emerged from the gloom of the Lasky Company's theatre, where she had just seen herself on the screen in "Oliver Twist," in which she will appear at the Star Friday, when it is the Paramount feature. "I look like a boy and now I am happy"—and there was no doubt about it. The charming Lasky star did look like a ragged little street urchin of nearly a century ago. The battered cap nearly hid her short locks, her coat with the torn sleeve dangling, and worn and torn trousers covered her, while badly scarred shoes encased her dainty feet.

"That was the only thing that worried me," she said, as she walked towards her dressing room—"I was afraid that I wouldn't look like a boy. Now that I have discovered I do, I hope to play boy parts all my life. I really think nature intended me for a boy, because I have always loved to be in boys' clothes."

Musty Softer at the Star Thursday

Morning comes and Willie wakes. He discovers that Musty has been hanging all night from a window only a few feet above the ground. The two of them set out together, but Willie spies a free lunch sign and decamps. Musty spies a beautiful maiden dressing in front of a window. The maiden, who is not so beautiful when she turns her face toward one sees him peeping and hurls a water pitcher which strikes Musty on the head. Musty takes this as a gentle hint to leave, and so resumes his travels. Then business begins to pick up right.

RUINS OF ARRAS SADDEST OF ALL

Little But Shell-Perforated Walls and Cellars of Houses Remain.

WRECKAGE ON EVERY HAND

People Still Cling Tenaciously to Ruins of Homes—Prison Walls Show Names of Englishmen Imprisoned a Century Ago.

British Headquarters in France.—Arras has been called the most poignantly saddening memorial of the present war. I have visited many devastated areas in two trips to the British front this year, during which I have had an opportunity to skirt most of the line held by King George's armies. I have just visited Arras and I acquiesce in the belief that it brings home the cruelties of war more than any town or city which I have heretofore visited.

I have tried to imagine myself an American tourist and Arras as one of the memorials kept as it is for the view of the whole world, writes Joseph W. Grigg in the New York World. "In ten years' time pilgrimages to it would amass to the French enough money to build another Arras," was the comment of one of my companions as we passed through its streets.

Hardly a house in the place but what has suffered from the German bombardments, especially the fierce bombardment of January and February, 1915. Where shells have not done actual damage, concussion has, in the cellars a few families still reside, despite the shells which sitfully are "lobbed over" by the Germans.

Arras might have been fought over yesterday, for pieces of shell and other paraphernalia of war are still in evidence through its thoroughfares. A Century-Old Prison: We went into one building where, only very recently, have been found scribbled on the walls the names of a number of Englishmen who were kept there in prison little more than a century ago. They were: John Ellis, prisoner of war, 1800-1810; William Mill, William Wheatley and Thomas Aldeson, prisoners of war, 1800-1810; John Jenkinson, prisoner of war, August, 1800, and John Jones, prisoner of war, December, 1803.

If battlefields are already being leased for tourist purposes, what a profitable project it would be for some of these forehanded speculators if they could only obtain an option on Arras, grewsome as the thought of such profit-making is when the war is still before its very doors. We walked through streets lined on both sides with ragged structures. Some were only frameworks for gigantic shell holes; others were nibbled here and there by smaller shells or shrapnel. Between the cobblestones in the street the grass was thriving, just as it was on the railroad tracks at the big station. We climbed piles of debris from the cathedral and wound our way through some of the narrow streets until we came to a place where it was possible to enter the deep cheese cellars where, in peace times, thousands of cheeses are stored after being brought in from the country round about. A smiling Frenchwoman who lives at the very entrance of one of these deep cellars took us into one where we walked by candle light to a place where the light from above suddenly came through a shell hole. For three days and nights she and others with a number of children remained in one of these cellars, subsisting on raw potatoes. Her husband was killed by a shell as he stood on the sidewalk in front of their home.

People Still Cling to It. These people, who still tenaciously cling to the ruins of their home, find time for laughter. This woman asked if we were not afraid we would be torpedoed in making the cross-channel trip. It was suggested that the submarines were no such menace as frequent bombardment. She smiled and said the cellars were quite safe during such times and, anyway, they were getting used to it.

On one of the main thoroughfares we stopped to have an open-air luncheon. We sat and chatted in this street, which in ordinary times was one of the most creditable in the city. Our conversation was the only thing to disturb its ghastly solemnity except the rustling of tree leaves and the intermittent shell fire going on within a few hundred yards of the outskirts of the place. Across the road a tin sign was flapping in the breeze, the only reminder of a once prosperous business. The sign was there but the building had practically been demolished.

It was with no sense of regret that we left Arras and gazed once more on open fields, fields dominated by German guns but being worked by old men, women and children.

Rigid Man Puzzles Doctors

Oakland, Cal.—Physicians at the Emergency hospital were puzzled over the ailment of a man who was found by the Alameda police recently, standing on the street in a complete state of rigidity, with the exception of a pair of blinking eyes. The police sent the man to the Emergency hospital. He stood all night perfectly rigid. When picked up with him the man showed no activity.

Unable to Stand Sight of Blood.

Cases of strong men who faint at the sight of a drop of blood are fairly common. An extraordinary case is recorded by a doctor who was called in to attend a man who had a fainting attack as a result of slightly cutting his finger. On inquiring the business of his patient, it transpired that the man was a butcher! Though used to animal bloodshed, he could not bear the sight of human blood, and always worked in strong leather gloves to prevent accidents.

His Discovery.

"I have finally discovered how to have a good deal of fun out of arguing about war, tariff, religion, politics, the gulf toward which we are rapidly and inevitably drifting and the various other subjects over which I used to violently and well-nigh endlessly contend, without arriving anywhere in particular," confessed J. Fuller Bloom. "Nowadays I simply own up that I have no sense, and then walk away. I find that this is the meanest thing I can possibly do."—Kansas City Star.

It Stirred His Bile, Though.

"I've just left Walker. He's laid up in bed. "Billious attack!" "Automobilious. He was knocked down and very badly bruised."

A Disinction.

A woman frequently knows what she wants, but cannot make up her mind what it is.—Judge.

Liable to Be Mad, Anyway.

"A man who gets mad if he can't have his own way," said Uncle Eben. "He liable to be just as mad after he gets it 'cause it didn't work out according to his calculations."

Motorist's Temptation.

After a man has learned to run a motor car, he is tempted to put in the rest of his life studying the traffic regulations all over the country.

Her Waking Up.

"My dear, I am going to get a new spring hat I saw down town marked only $40. It is a dream. "Go alo! darling. I've set the alarm clock."

Unfair.

It is unfair to call woman a timid creature, when it is universally conceded that she is as brave as an elephant.—Judge.

Doesn't Seem Real

We know of few things more unconvincing than a poker game on the stage.

CURBSTONE GLEANINGS

BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. "HE'LL PRENT 'EM"—SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

My old friend, Andrew Carter of the Arcadia Enterprise says that he will be a candidate for Governor four years hence and he is giving some of the planks in his platform from time to time.

Well, we have plenty of time to run and you to remember. As there are only about a dozen candidates in the field, so far, we have felt no need of rushing things until the number is large enough to make it interesting.

In formulating this platform we cast about to discern the country's greatest needs and then to find the best available means of supplying that need; to locate the public wrongs and point out the manner of righting them.

We look over South Florida and see here and there towns that are prospering in the fruit and truck industries, shipping winter vegetables, strawberries, pineapples and citrus fruits to the frozen north by the trainroads.

The Sherman anti-trust law, which has repeatedly stood the test of the supreme court, prohibits railroads from granting a lower rate to one individual or institution than they grant to all other individuals and institutions.

The question, therefore arises is the express company not already an outlaw? How can it stay in business if it does not get better rates from the railroads than the general public gets?

In 1839 a man named Harnden saw a little, black, slimy, nasty, flat snouted, eel shaped sea animal glue his head to the back of a respectable fish and ride the waves with no effort of his own.

This sucker gave Harnden the idea from which he evolved the express company and eventually made suckers of the whole American public. He advertised to transmit money, parcels, etc., from Boston to New York.

Towns and cities. In plain words it can invariably always "come back." This season the show offers many new attractions, notably among them being Herr Klotz's wonderful tango and pantomimic elephants.

HOLLY WINS RACE

Local Boy Pats It All Over The Champion Skater

Before over three hundred people Reginald Holly of Sanford defeated Elwood, champion roller and trick skater of Alabama in a half mile race last Friday night at the skating rink.

This was a decisive victory from every standpoint. Holly not only defeated a good man but he defeated one who has never been defeated before in his racing career.

Elwood has met the champions of the following states and in all of them they were forced to bow before his speed: Fred Muller of Mississippi, Professor Daniels of Tennessee and Bob Lancaster, champion of Gadsden, Ala.

There was no question of a doubt that the best man won, for at no time during the race was the professional able to lead his opponent. After getting a bad start, Holly through skill and determination overcame his more experienced rival and left him two whole laps at the finish.

On the ninth lap Elwood tripped himself after he was left fully a lap in the shade, but whether he had fallen or not the lead which Holly had would never have been taken from him for the longer he went the better he got.

The time in which this race was completed was a remarkable achievement for to skate a half mile in a fraction over two minutes is traveling some. Elwood who is known as the boy wonder over the country has nothing on his opponent, he is of the same age and when the gong sounded that Holly had won PANDEMONIUM REIGNED!

UPSALA AND GRAPEVILLE

Sunday school at 2:30 at the Presbyterian church with Geo. Ballinger leader. Prayer meeting Thursday with Rev. Alfred Ericson leader.

On Tuesday we have the promise of a lecture by Rev. P. E. Green of Birmingham, Alabama at this church. Rev. Albertson has arranged to bring him in his missionary car. Rev. Green has made the study of bringing children to Christ a life work and has been in Florida taking part in the recent Sunday school conventions.

Last Sunday Rev. Swanbom filled his appointment at the Lutheran church very acceptably. While here the reverend gentleman was entertained as usual at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Magnuson.

J. A. Thompson was home-Sunday from DeLand and engaged his brother, Jesse to remove his household effects to the train for him Monday. Mrs. Thompson remained till Tuesday with them. They will be very much missed by the community, especially in the social and church life.

Mrs. Magnuson visited Monday with Mrs. H. G. Lundquist and also called on Mrs. Katie Thompson.

Mrs. J. E. Lundquist was a caller at her daughter's on Monday.

Mrs. Price and Mrs. Krilling of Monroe were pleasant visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lundquist on Tuesday for a spend the day outing.

Mrs. Tyner was a caller at Mrs. J. Vaughn's on Sunday.

Chase & Co. are packing quite a lot of oranges for this district this week. Wagon loads of them go by every day. The oranges from Mrs. Evans' grove, which is under the care of A. F. Westerdyck and from his home grove, also from Mrs. H. L.

DeForest's are among those being shipped. Mr. Theo. Miller is also shipping some of his this week. The recent cold snap will color and sweeten them finely.

Miss Mabel Tyner, who has been visiting in Tampa and Windermere for a couple of months returned home Thursday.

Mr. Abe Derby's brother is here visiting them.

Florida Leads in Good Roads

Probably of all the southern states Florida and Louisiana are showing the greatest road building activity and throughout this state especially, there has been a remarkable awakening to the value of good highways. Florida has at the present time approximately 19,000 miles of improved roads of which some 5,000 are surfaced with some kind of material and the remaining 14,000 are graded and drained and ready for surfacing.

Florida's road development has been rapid. At the beginning of 1915 the state had a total mileage of 17,543, of which 3,656 were graded and drained and were rightly classed as improved roads, making a total of 6,872 miles of improved roads in the state. During the past two years it is estimated that at least 2,000 miles of Florida roads have been surfaced. It is estimated that about 1,500 miles have been graded and drained during the same period.

Florida's state road department has already agreed tentatively, tentatively, upon the main system of roads to be improved with federal funds supplemented by an equal amount from the counties this year and by an equal amount from the state during the following four years. These funds are to be expended on a system of state roads reaching across the state east to west at its widest part and from the northern border to the southern end, passing as near as possible through the middle of the peninsula-portion of the state.—Christian Science Monitor.

Valuable Material Long Ignored.

Many years ago soap boilers used to have great difficulty in getting rid of a thick, evil-smelling liquid which was the chief by-product of their industry. They ran it into streams and sewers. Presently someone began collecting it and refining it. The result was glycerin as it is known today.

Too Big a Job for One Man.

"Who is this gargantua just coming in?" "That's Fatleigh, who is always bragging about being a self-made man." "Gee whiz! He looks more like he was built by a construction company."—Boston Transcript.

Flag Day.

Flag day was first officially recognized by the governor of New York when he ordered flags flown on all public buildings on June 14, 1897. Philadelphia celebrated the same day. Since then the custom has spread over the whole country. The day is the anniversary of the adoption of the American flag, June 14, 1780.

Cautions Against Buying Livestock by Mail

Improved livestock is in great demand in the south and many of our best breeding animals must be imported from the northern states. Because of this demand, a few northern breeders are shipping to southern buyers animals that are poor representatives of the breed. Some of the livestock papers have recently printed reports on this subject and warn northern breeders to ship to the south nothing but high-grade animals.

Louisiana breeders have suffered much loss by receiving stunted and misqualified pigs in northern shipments. C. L. Willoughby, professor of animal industry to the University of Florida, College of Agriculture, mentions a case in Florida where a breeder in another state a pig for which a high price had been paid, and the animal proved to be poorer in conformation and quality than the Florida buyer had on his own farm.

The best plan to use in buying breeding stock is to require a guarantee that the animal must satisfy the buyer or it may be returned and money refunded. Professor Willoughby says that the great majority of northern breeders are ready to send good animals to the south at comparatively low prices for the purpose of introducing the breeds and making future good customers of southern farmers. But a few unscrupulous breeders who send scrabs and culls to the south, thinking the southern farmer is ignorant, are likely to injure the reputation of the breed by the practice.

PEACE IN VOLUSIA

War Stopped and Bloodshed Averted in Sister County

Daytona, Fla.—The prosecution of Editor H. C. Sparkman of the Journal on the charge of criminal libel, instituted by Sheriff E. L. Smith as a result of the recent campaign came to an end yesterday afternoon in criminal court when Sheriff Smith asked County Solicitor Hamlin to dismiss it, Judge Fish immediately entering an order to that effect.

The petition of H. C. Sparkman for writ of prohibition, presented in the supreme court, asking for writ of prohibition to enjoin Judge Fish from trying him, because of his interest therein, has also been dismissed on motion of Mr. Sparkman's attorneys, the case against him in the criminal court having been nolle prossed.

The damage suit for $25,000 against the Journal Printing Company will also be dismissed, according to Sheriff Smith, who stated yesterday that he would have his attorney draw the suit at once.

Thus ends the last vestige of a fight as a result of the recent campaign, which were the bitterest ever waged in Volusia county. In explanation of his action in requesting the dismissal of both the libel and damage suit, Sheriff Smith stated yesterday that he expected to move on his orange grove in Le e county in January, and that in leaving Volusia county he hoped to leave none but friends behind him.

He said, now that the heat of the campaign was past, political differences should be forgotten, and that he hoped all bitterness would disappear—at least he would do his part toward bringing about peace and tranquility in Volusia county politics.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS

Important Matters Regarding Our Progressive City

City council of the city of Sanford met on the above date in regular session. Present, B. W. Herndon, president; C. H. Dingle, W. W. Abernathy, F. L. Miller, Jno. Adams, R. A. Newman and Roy Symes.

Mr. E. A. Douglass came before the council and offered a flat sum of $323.64 for the redemption of paving liens and tax certificates against Lot 8, Block 3, Tier 1, Sanford. Same was taken under consideration.

Communication from Geo. A. DeCottes, giving his opinion as asked for by the council in previous meeting as to the disposition that could be made of the $20,000.00 now in banks received from the county school board was read, said opinion stating that said sum could not be used for any other purpose than a sinking fund.

Communication from Mr. Murchison of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, as to when he could meet the council was read and ordered filed.

Clerk was here instructed to obtain the information as to what amount was due the city of Sanford out of the road and bridge fund of the county.

Finance committee of the city of Sanford was asked to look into the matter of sinking fund and disposition of securities on bulkhead.

On motion carried, street committee was instructed to have city dock repaired.

The bills of Drs. Stevens and Denton were read and same referred back for the approval of city physician.

Moved and seconded that fountain at intersection of Park avenue and First street be moved.

Councilman Abernathy offered the following ordinance and moved its adoption. An ordinance entitled an ordinance providing for sanitary water closet buckets. Upon motion carried said ordinance was placed on its first reading and passed.

Councilman Dingle moved the waiver of the rules and that said ordinance be placed on its second reading by title only, seconded. Vote on the waiver of the rules as follows: B. W. Herndon, C. H. Dingle, W. W. Abernathy, F. L. Miller, Jno. Adams, R. A. Newman, Roy Symes, voting Aye. Nays, none.

Said rules having been waived, said ordinance was placed on its second reading and read by title only and passed. Vote as follows: Aye's, B. W. Herndon, C. H. Dingle, W. W. Abernathy, F. L. Miller, Jno. Adams, R. A. Newman, Roy Symes. Nays, none.

Councilman Dingle moved that the rules be further waived and that said ordinance be placed on its third reading and read in full. Seconded. Said vote of the rules resulted as follows: Ayes, B. W. Herndon, C. H. Dingle, W. W. Abernathy, F. L. Miller, Jno. Adams, R. A. Newman, Roy Symes. Nays, none.

The rules having been waived said ordinance was placed upon its third reading and read in full and passed. Vote as follows: Ayes, B. W. Herndon, C. H. Dingle, W. W. Abernathy, F. L. Miller, Jno. Adams, R. A. Newman, Roy Symes. Nays, none. The president of the council here declared that the city council had by their vote passed an ordinance entitled an ordinance providing for sanitary water closet buckets, and said ordinance ordered certified by the clerk to the mayor for approval.

All bills against the city of Sanford were read, audited and clerk instructed to issue vouchers for same.

Concerning Skating Sets

The golden days of Indian summer might make us forget winter, or cease to believe in it, if it were not for forecasts in the shop windows.

Besides the sets made of fabrics there are practical and handsome ones of yarns. Angora is the coolest looking of these. White bordered with colored stripes and bright colors, trimmed with white, seem to match up best with a winter landscape.

There are costumes among them in which sports cloth reach the apex of luxury and beauty, and there are many unpretentious but captivating skating sets, sometimes of three pieces, and often of two.

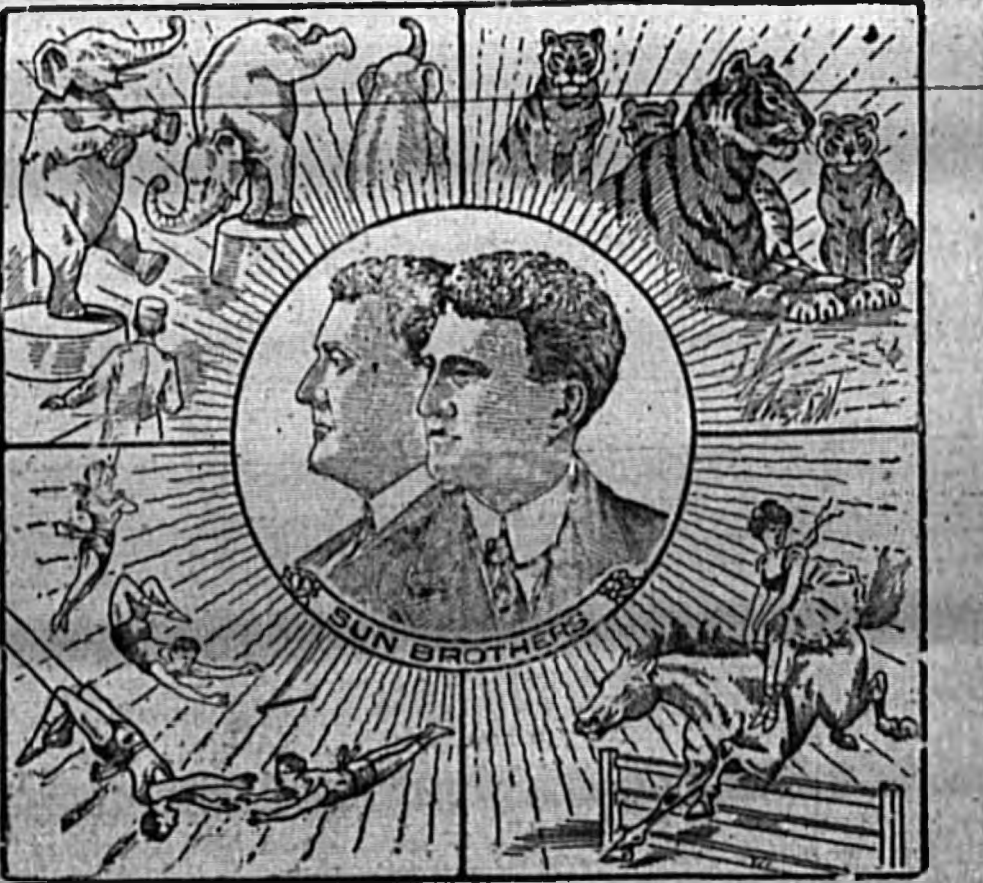

Several of the new materials, as wool velours, Bullfinch cloth, and the lighter fur-fabrics are perfectly adapted to these sets.

The very newest muff to be seen in New York is perfectly round with invisible slits in the sides and it is scarcely larger than a good-sized grape fruit. These snowball affairs are made in ermine, white fox and squirrel.
