By JACK TRIM
There used to be some things you could depend on, like ducks flying south for the winter.
Now, you can't be sure. The world is getting so mixed up that nature's creatures are beginning to act like people—confused, that is. I don't get around much in the world, but when an example comes to the St. Johns River, that's my territory. Latest indication that things ain't what they used to be was brought to light by a duck hunter, Mel Stevens, who spent two days last week getting opinions on the denominations of three ducks which were foreigners to these parts. Experts like Jim Crowe and Mort Haines helped pin down one as a fulvous tree duck — the other two still are being guessed at.
These two were oddballs any way you look at 'em — they had wings like geese and bills like muscovy ducks from the barnyard and, whatever they are, they're way out of their territory here.

overnight feathered tourists and some Florida barnyard dwellers?)
The identified victim of Stevens' shotgun was a reddish-brown duck, with a white streak on its sides and a white tail base. It was about the size of a mallard, with a hook on the end of its bill.
The hook says its range is in far flung areas from California to central Mexico, north sections of South America, East Africa and India — but not Florida.
The Cuban crisis has been blamed for putting a scare in the human tourists from up north this winter, and the Indian-Chinese battle probably didn't help Tibetan tourism either, but wonder why the ducks got excited?
Were they heading north for the winter? Were they heading for Africa from California? Were they escaping the Chinese Reds along the Indian border?
Or do they know something we don't know?

A wingspread of 46 inches on the two strangers was the subject of much conversation as that is just about as big as a goose wing span. Their coloring also geared up the guesswork.
They were of a blackish cover, with greenish hues on the back, wide white ring around the neck and white edging on speculum and greater wing coverts. They had yellow feet and legs, but bills very similar to the ring neck or muscovy duck.
(I wouldn't want to inject a confidential style element, but do you suppose these critters are the offspring of some seasonal hanky-panky between

While discussing the vagaries of the duck world, I found out that the first roe shad of the season has been landed.
A three pounder with a small roe was brought into Crowe's Camp Saturday and Jim said he may revise his calculations on the arrival of the first big run.
Several other shad have been caught and people actually are fishing for them now. Crowe said if the cool weather and water level remain the same, there possibly may be a good run on the first full moon in December — that's not long.

Grid Giants Nearing Chance To Wrap Up Eastern Title

By United Press International
Y. A. Tittle and Del Shofner, New York's "TD twins," take the high-scoring Giants' serial circus to Chicago next Sunday with a chance to wrap up the National Football League's Eastern Division title against an ancient and often dangerous foe.
The Giants once again demonstrated—this time to capacity crowd of 66,219 in Washington D. C. Stadium—that an accurate pass and a sure-handed receiver are the shortest route to a score in the NFL. With Tittle piling and Shofner catching, the Giants steam-rolled the Washington Redskins, 42-34, Sunday and now need only one more victory in three remaining games to nail down their second straight Eastern title.
However, the task may not be as easy as all that, for the first roadblock is the Chicago Bears, who, alternately good and bad this season, put on a high-scoring show of their own only 23 miles away in Baltimore Sunday with a pulverizing, 57-0, rout of the Colts.
Of course, if they don't get by the Bears, then the Giants will have a chance to wrap up the title against the Cleveland Browns—another time-honored opponent—the following Sunday or against the Dallas Cowboys in the finale on Dec. 18. The Browns, written off only two weeks ago, rebounded back into the Eastern race by whipping the Pittsburgh Steelers, 35-14, while the Philadelphia Eagles defeated the Cowboys, 28-14; the San Francisco Forty Niners downed the St. Louis Cardinals, 24-17, and the Los Angeles Rams and Minnesota Vikings battled to a 24-24 tie.

The defending champion Green Bay Packers, beaten by the Detroit Lions on Thanksgiving Day for their first loss of the season, were idle Sunday along with the Lions. Both resume action this Sunday with the Packers hosting the Rams in Milwaukee and the Lions entertaining the Colts. Only a game separates Detroit and Green Bay in their race for the Western title.
The Giants opened their assault on the crippled Redskins with a score on the opening kickoff. Rookie Johnny Coons ran it back 90 yards and the avalanche was on with a momentary interruption for a field goal by Bob Kneyat in the first period and a 15-yard TD loss from Norm Head to Bobby Mitchell just before the half.

Tittle, who set a new club record of 25 TD tosses in a season, ripped off scoring passes of 20, 10 and 44 yards to Shofner and running backs Phil King and Alex Webster smashed over on short runs to make it 42-10. Then, with the game out of reach, Washington reserve quarterback Galeo Hall connected on scoring passes of 18 and 48 yards to Dick James. Shofner's three TD receptions tied him with Mitchell for the NFL lead, each with 10.
The Bears had an even easier time with the Colts, who suffered the worst beating in their history.

Abner Haynes Becomes Big Man In Pro Circuit Wars
By United Press International
L'I Abner Haynes is a big man in Texas and the pro football world, too, today—ranking alongside Steve Van Buren and Jimmy Brown in the record book as he helped the Dallas Texans clinch a tie for the Western Division title in the American Football League.
Haynes, a 6-foot, 180-pounder, scored his 17th and 18th touchdowns of the season to lead the Texans over the winless Oakland Raiders, 35-7 Sunday on runs of 33 and 19 yards. The pro football record of 18 touchdowns was set by Van Buren of the National Football League's Philadelphia Eagles in 1945, matched by Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns in 1958 and tied by the Houston Oilers' Bill Groman last season.

Van Buren set his mark during a 10-game season, Brown in 12 games and Groman in 14 games. Haynes has three more games in which to surpass the trio.
In the AFL's only other action Sunday, Houston took over sole possession of first place in the Eastern Division with a 33-27 victory over the San Diego Chargers. The Oilers, with an 8-3 record, hold a half-game lead over the Boston Patriots, 7-3-1.

Storm Lashes Coastal Area

WILMINGTON, N. C. (UPI) — An Atlantic storm lashed the Eastern Seaboard with strong winds and high tides today and the Weather Bureau warned of possible extensive flooding and beach erosion.

Some residents in low-lying areas along the Virginia coast leave their homes. Heavy seas on the dredge "Virginia" in the Chesapeake Bay and washed it aground at Ocean View Beach, Va., Monday and the 48-foot ketch Avalin sank off Charleston, S. C.

No casualties were reported as a result of the storm. Gale warnings were displayed from Charleston to Cape May, N. J., and small craft warnings from Cape May to Provincetown, Mass., and from Charleston to Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The Washington Weather Bureau in its latest advisory located the center of the storm about 200 miles southeast of Wilmington, moving very slowly southward. Gusts of 53 miles per hour were reported at Norfolk, Va., Monday, the Cherry Point, N. C., said it received winds up to 60 m.p.h. "Wind reports in excess of 65 m.p.h. have been received from ships offshore," the advisory said.

The Weather Bureau said Monday night that tides were running two to three feet above normal from Cape May to Cape Hatteras, N. C., and were expected to rise another foot.

A Navy helicopter rescued nine of the 15 crewmen aboard the Virginia Monday night.

Draft Increased
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Draft calls will be "slightly" increased over the next six months so that the Army can expand its total strength. The Defense Department said Monday the expansion to a force of 980,000 would be temporary and could be achieved through "slightly increased" draft calls.

Charges Fly
LAS VEGAS (UPI) — Producer Sid Luft has answered divorce proceedings filed by his estranged wife, Judy Garland, with charges that the singer-actress has concealed $2 million in community property. Luft also charged Miss Garland "is presently suffering from mental illness as a result, in part, of her use of barbiturates."

Aged Home Set
JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The Florida Gerontology Foundation announced plans Monday for a $1 million nursing home for aged persons in the middle and lower income groups. Dr. George W. Karlas said the home will be built at Newberry and financed by donations and funds from the Federal Housing Administration.

Mix Plans Hit
JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — An NAACP attorney told Federal Judge Bryan Simpson here Monday that school desegregation plans filed by three major Florida counties would "build a continuation of segregation." Attorney Constance B. Motley told Simpson the desegregation plans offered by Duval, Hillsborough and Volusia counties would place the burden of desegregation on Negro parents and children.

The committee recommended that the commission make application to the Federal Aviation Agency for reinstatement on the basis of daylight use only, with no extra facilities; provision for closing the field at regular intervals; and adequate official notice for non-aviation uses.

The committee feels there should be definite provisions and arrangements made for use of the field by the Municipal Timing Assn., various sports club activities, parachute meets, model airplane demonstrations and other suitable uses as determined either by the commission or a field manager.

Recommendations were also made for signs to be erected outlining the field regulations, closed areas and traffic directions and that weed killer be applied to the runways.

Other recommendations by the committee concerned zoning the area for airfield use by the zoning board and that the various county organizations promote the use of parts of the airport acreage for industrial uses.

Legislature Can't Agree On Anything

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A House-Senate conference committee failed today to come up with a solution to Florida's reapportionment stalemate and Miami Sen. W. C. Herrill pleaded with the lawmakers to give up and go home.

The Florida Senate apparently smoothed out a compromise reapportionment plan within the existing framework of 25 districts at a 90 minute executive session today, paving the way for a showdown that may break a 19-day-old stalemate over legislative redistricting.

Other legislators however refused to throw in the sponge. Herrill, who has been accused of deserting the growing big county bloc in the Senate, said the special session has resorted to name-calling and retaliation "worse than I have ever seen."

Taking the floor for an unsuccessful attempt to ram through a sine die adjournment resolution, Herrill said "I am convinced we are hopelessly deadlocked." He said the House is going to refuse to pass even a plan as good as the 46-senator, 135-representative formula turned down at the polls Nov. 6.

"Bad blood is being generated in this Legislature that will carry over into the next session and whatever is passed here now is going to be changed in the courts," he argued that a court-writ

Flight crews from Heavy Attack Wing One led the Navy Wing of aircraft Monday in a flyover air parade for President Kennedy who was making an inspection of Florida military bases. Heavy Attack Squadron Three participated with A3B Skywarriors and Heavy Attack Squadron Seven took part with their supersonic A4A Vigilantes.

The formation of 24 Navy aircraft led by Cdr. Roy E. Farmer, commanding officer of VAH-3, included F8U Crusaders from Fighting Squadron 174 and A4D Skyhawks from Attack Squadron 44 and Marine Attack Squadron 121.

The display of airpower took place at Homestead Air Force Base.

Feeder Type Field At Osceola Urged

The Osceola Airport Committee topped a list of five recommendations with the suggestion that the field be reinstated as a feeder type airfield, handling tonnage up to 30,000 pounds and aircraft up to DC-3 size.

John Alexander, chairman of the group, read the report to the county commission today.

The committee recommended that the commission make application to the Federal Aviation Agency for reinstatement on the basis of daylight use only, with no extra facilities; provision for closing the field at regular intervals; and adequate official notice for non-aviation uses.

The committee feels there should be definite provisions and arrangements made for use of the field by the Municipal Timing Assn., various sports club activities, parachute meets, model airplane demonstrations and other suitable uses as determined either by the commission or a field manager.

Jet Fuel Storage Unit Set On Lakefront Site

The Southern Standard Corp. of Houston, Tex., will start construction on a quarter of a million dollar jet fuel storage facility on the Sanford lakefront within the next 45 days, The Herald learned today.

The company has been awarded a permanent contract by the Navy department to supply jet fuel to the Sanford Naval Air Station and two million gallons of fuel are expected to be piped from the lakefront through Mellonville and onto the base on a monthly basis.

The company is currently negotiating for two choice locations on the lakefront to put up the storage facility. Chamber of Commerce Manager John Krider said this morning the locations are near the Standard Oil Co. pier.

Krider explained that it will be the biggest haul of fuel now on the St. Johns. The company plans to bring the fuel into Jacksonville and barge it down the river to Sanford.

"It surely justifies the completion of the Sanford-Titusville Canal now," Krider added.

Company engineers are in town now making a survey of Mellonville Ave. along which the fuel pipes will run.

The City Commission had approved the routing of the fuel on a public right-of-way.

City Buys Time On Building

The City Commission agreed Monday to take over the post office to utilize as a future library site. However, all five board members agreed they would rather have the facility put up for public bid.

"If we don't take it now, the school board or any federal agency will get the building. I'd rather see us get control of it than the government," Commissioner Earl Higginbotham said.

City Attorney Bill Hutchison and City Manager W. E. Knowles emphasized that the city would "just be buying time" by saying it would use the building as a library site.

"Meanwhile, you could always tell the General Service Administration a library is not feasible and perhaps you could negotiate a sale for it and put it on the tax roll," Hutchison explained.

Hutchison said the board had until Wednesday to either claim the facility or let some federal agency put in a claim for it. "You could always put some books in the lobby until you decide what you want to do," Hutchison declared.

Knowles explained "it is now a case of either the city or the school board getting the site. If both the city and school board reject it, the property is then up for county, state and federal option of use."

"Only after these are through will it go up for public bidding," the city manager emphasized.

Francis Roumillat Jr., chairman of the Postal Site Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, declared that the merchants division was 100 percent favoring public bids on the property.

Chamber of Commerce Manager John Krider suggested a meeting with federal agencies to see whether they would withdraw any claims to the facility, but Knowles said that time was running out and some decision must be made by Wednesday.

Knowles suggested a multi-agency meeting to see just who wants the facility while commissioners said they felt it would be better if the board took it over "to stop any other governmental agency from grabbing it."

Higginbotham said he didn't want the school board to have it while Krider declared that he was given assurances by school officials they would withdraw their request for the facility.

The board agreed to adopt the resolution asking for the building and see if any possible negotiations could be made to put it on the tax roll.

Mayor J. H. Cragge said all efforts would be made to contact members of Congress to "see if the facility could be negotiated."

Contract Care Program Urged

The courthouse committee's report to the commission has recommended that nursing and home care for aged citizens be contracted for with privately operated facilities.

The present county home facility cannot be economically rehabilitated in the opinion of the committee, and it recommended the home be vacated as soon as provision is made for the present occupants. The group also suggested that the present structure be assigned to other use, but that the citrus grove and Potters Field be maintained.

The cooperation of the Welfare Department, the Chamber of Commerce, the Sanford-Seminole Development Co. and the HHFA was urged. Building of a new county home should be considered only after all hope of private care had been exhausted, the committee report stated. In such case, the building of a 60-bed unit, with 20 beds reserved for county patients, was recommended. The running of the institution and the use of the other 40 beds would be the option of the private operator to whom the facility would be leased.

The committee listed the Volusia Nursing Home in DeLand as a good example of a county-owned, privately-operated facility.

Recommendations were based on the fact that in the United States only six percent of all nursing and aged homes are sponsored by local governments, because it appears to be more economical and feasible to operate larger homes with many more beds and few present facilities meet stringent and rigid state regulations.

Cost and care per patient has risen from $800 to $1,200 annually in Seminole County in the past five years the committee found, and they estimate that facilities and services commensurate with state regulations would boost the cost to $1,800 per annum.

Interstate Road Access Urged

Douglas Stenstrom, chairman of the Long Range Planning Committee appeared before the County Commission today asking the board to request a feasibility study of the road planning project for an access point to Interstate 4 at Lake Mary Blvd.

The commission approved a motion by Commissioner James P. Avery to have attorney Harold Johnson draw up a resolution requesting such a feasibility report from the State Road Dept.

Stenstrom pointed out that many citizens and a number of the industrial firms in the county, in addition to a large number of the county's agriculturists, had requested the Long Range Road Planning Committee to see if something could be done to provide an access road somewhere between First St. and SR 434, which crosses the I-4 right of way just west of Sandalio Springs.

As the present plans are set, Stenstrom said, there is not one point in that nine mile stretch where the new highway can be approached. The contracts have been let now, he said, for the completion of the Seminole County stretch of the Interstate, and it is essential that within a year or two some access point be constructed, preferably at the Lake Mary Blvd. intersection.

Secretary Made New Millionaire

MIAMI (UPI) — The late Arthur Vining Davis made his secretary a millionaire, established lifetime incomes for 12 persons and left the bulk of his $400 million estate to charity, educational and religious work, it was disclosed today.

The will left by the developer of the Aluminum Company of America was probated by Dade County Judge Frank Blanton.

Davis died at his mansion here on Nov. 17 at the age of 95. His closest relatives were several nephews and a niece. Besides receiving $1 million, Miss Evelyn Mitchell, Davis' longtime secretary inherited the entire 42-acre home, "Journey's End," and a lifetime income from one-tenth of the estate remaining after certain bequests and taxes.

The bulk of the fortune remaining after individual bequests was divided into 100 shares.

Fifth shares will go into a trust to be held by the First National Bank of Miami, and 25 shares will go into a trust held by the Mellon National Bank and Trust Co. of Pittsburgh.

City Purchases Total $18,000

The City Commission Monday night awarded a series of bids totaling some $18,000 for an assortment of equipment ranging from police cars to half-ton trucks.

The Strickland-Morrison Co. was awarded the low bid on the police cars for $4,367. The Sanford firm was also low on two half-ton pickups for $2,991.40.

GMC was awarded the low bid of $1,850 for a half-ton truck and the board voted to readvertise for bids on two long wheel base dumps budgeted for $7,072.

Two consultants were awarded to the Florida Oxygen Service at a bid of $660; while Robson Sporting Goods was awarded the low bid for one motor scooter for $1,002.50.

In other business, the commission approved salary reclassification for fire department officers J. T. Bennett and H. D. Faint Jr., giving both of them a raise from $4,500 to $4,615.

Delayed action thanking the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad for their action to deed an eight-inch water line and easement from 13th St. to Lake Jennie until the deed was in the hands of the city; Okayed a request of St. Ann's Guild of DeBarry for an exempt license to hold a rummage sale;

Tabbed action on a request to require all commercial vehicles hauling trash to be covered; Reconfirmed their stand that all further water and sewer extensions to the Hunt Co. site would have to be paid for by the company.

Dear Abby: I have a question about my father's hobby. I know it's a hobby, but I can't seem to understand it. I don't know what it is, but I know it's a hobby. I don't know what it is, but I know it's a hobby. I don't know what it is, but I know it's a hobby.

DEAR NO: I could send you a letter, but I wouldn't. You need to be more specific. Writing to me was the first step. Now you are angry with yourself. The hobby you are talking about is not a hobby. It is a waste of time. I don't know what it is, but I know it's a waste of time.

DEAR ABBY: Is there a way to tell a dear friend, without hurting her, that I DO NOT wish to talk to her about the telephone? I would like to tell her that, but I don't want to hurt her. I would like to tell her that, but I don't want to hurt her. I would like to tell her that, but I don't want to hurt her.

DEAR READER: If you value her friendship — say nothing. The child will not be a child forever, and a good friend is hard to find. DEAR ABBY: My wife's aunt came to spend a few days with us. She used the guest room which we

DEAR MR. E. S.: It is indeed possible. It is called "psychosomatic" — or, more simply, "mind-body." DEAR ABBY: A relative of mine gave me a letter for my birthday and I have never seen an uncle since. He has every color of the rainbow in it and doesn't go with anything I own. Every time this relative sees me she asks how come I am not wearing that blouse. What should I say? CONSERVATIVE

DEAR CONSERVATIVE: Tell her you are saving it for a "special occasion." (True — you never know when you'll be invited to a Halloween party.) What's on your mind? For a personal reply send a self-addressed stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3368, Beverly Hills, Calif. For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3368, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Jacoby On Bridge

The play of today's hand was short, sweet and either led or underbroke depending on how charitable you are. East won the spade opening with the ace and returned to the ten. South won and led a diamond. West jumped up with the ace, then led his last spade. South cashed his diamonds and tried the heart finesse whereupon East took his king of hearts and three spade tricks to set the hand (tw).

Incidentally, if East had been able to figure out everyone's exact holding he could have beaten the hand by playing a low spade on trick one. There would be several possible lines of play from that point, which you read or can figure out.

We The Women

Some women who are putting off doing all the things they really want to do until they have "a little time for themselves" could find that time right now if they would —

Gator Bowl Gets Coach's Praise
UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — Coach Rip Engle said today that he was "pleased with the opportunity" to have his Penn State Nittany Lions, the top team in the east, appear for the second consecutive year in the Gator Bowl Dec. 28.

Lakers Finally Get Cage Lead
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Lakers finally held the National Basketball Association's Western Division lead today on the strength of what Coach Fred Schaus termed "the toughest 22-point victory of all time."

Stanford Fires Coach Curtice
STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — Stanford University Coach "Cactus Jack" Curtice whose team finished this year with a mediocre 4-8 record was fired Monday.

Villanova Chosen In Liberty Bowl
PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — An announcement was expected today or Wednesday on the selection of an opponent for Villanova University in the fourth annual Liberty Bowl football game here Dec. 15.

APPELLANT - Rolande Callier appealed a ruling by an election committee which deprived her of her title of "Miss Marseilles" and awarded it to another girl. Unable to resist her appeal, the committee allowed her to keep her title, in Marseilles, France.

Drop out of an organization to which they are giving nothing and which is giving nothing to them.

Learn to say "No" to many of the outside demands on their time and energy.

Stop doing things for their children that the children should be doing for themselves.

Stop trying to do more than you can do. Sometimes put their own needs first instead of last when they are deciding what they have time for and what they can't manage.

Get a little rest, perhaps, one day a week to do with as they please. (This can mean always be managed once the youngest child is in school.)

Do just as much as they want to socially, and so more.

Have some respect for their own time, even if nobody else seems to, simply because they are housewives.

Bear Lake Youngster Celebrates Third Birthday With Friends

By Shirley Westworth
Little Miss Cheryl Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Duncan, 1244 South Bear Lake Road, invited a group of neighborhood friends to help celebrate her seventh birthday, with a party at her home.

The youngsters played games and helped the honoree open her gifts. Refreshments were served from a festive table decorated with a party tablecloth and matching accessories.

Candy filled, tiny umbrella cups were beside each plate and party favors of gay hats were given to the guests. The pink, green and white birthday cake, which was the center of attraction, was served with ice cream and colorful punch.

Joining in the celebration with the honoree were Wanita Knight, Janice Miller, Susan Kenaki, Janis Johnson, Martha and Cheryl Baker, Kathy and Kay Bruce and Marilyn Weiner.

Blakemores Host For VAH-7 Party

The Lake Mary home of Lt. and Mrs. W. T. Blakemore was transformed into a South Pacific scene for a Material Division party recently for VAH-7 men and their wives.

The lawn was illuminated with torches and banyans and decorated with banana leaves. A variety of Philippine dishes were served including "Litchon" (roast pig). The pig was roasted in the traditional Philippine manner by Eugenio Deas, C. Garrido and Ray Amado.

Mrs. Deas prepared several of her native dishes and the other wives contributed salads and casseroles to the buffet supper. Fresh fruit and punch was also served.

Guitar music was provided throughout the evening by J. Hetherington and dancing was enjoyed by the group. A limbo contest was also held. Cdr. E. Kingsbury and John Suggs served as master of ceremonies for the party.

MRS. MORRIS FORGUSON, left ticket chairman for the Holiday-Times dance at the Mayfair Inn, Wednesday night and Mrs. David Gatchel, general chairman check the advance ticket sales. They may still be obtained from the Florida State Bank, Touchtons, Roumillat and Andersons or at the door. Music for dancing will be provided by Tommy Allen's New York Orchestra. (Herald Photo)

Third Birthday Celebrated At Party With Playmates

Jeff Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Powell, celebrated his third birthday with a party at the home of his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Allyn Cavanaugh, 1401 Wynwood Drive.

After plans for the party were all completed and it was almost time for the guests to arrive, Mrs. Cavanaugh was unexpectedly taken ill and admitted to the hospital. Jeff's great aunt, Mrs. D. D. Horne, his dad and Miss Janice Lancaster, of Orlando, came to the rescue and the party proceeded as planned.

A clown theme was used in decorations, napkins, plates and cups and a six inch circus clown and other animals were on top of the large birthday cake.

Guests invited to share in the festivities with Jeff were Nicky and Jeanne Mergo,

Local Events

WEDNESDAY
Social Department of the Sanford Woman's Club meets at 1 p.m. for afternoon of bridge and canasta, with Mrs. J. E. Baker and her committee in charge of arrangements.

NATURAL LOOK
Don't forget to apply foundation make-up beyond the chin and jawline to complete the natural look. Make-up should be blended into your natural skin tone slightly below the jawline and under the ears.

ORIGINAL PRESENT
It may not look like much but it will be colorful and Grandmother will surely love it. It is a finger painting done by the youngest artist in the family. Finger paint is inexpensive, too, and easy to make at home out of corn starch and food colors.

Keeping a husband waiting every time you go out shows poor management, manners.

Miller - Pope Wedding Is Planned

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Miller, 3454 Fitch St., Jacksonville, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jane Laird, to Lt. Fred W. Pope Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Pope Sr., Crippin Road, Sanford.

Miss Miller is in her senior year at the University of Florida where she is a member of the Kappa Delta sorority.

Lt. Pope attended Sanford schools and graduated from Seminole High School. While there he was captain of the band, president of the senior class and a member of the Key Club.

He is also a graduate of the University of Florida where he was a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity, Kappa Kappa Psi and Florida

Blue Key, honorary fraternity. He was a member of the ROTC the four years he attended college and when he received his degree, in August this year, he also received his commission of Lieutenant in the Army. He is presently attending Army Intelligence School in Baltimore, Md.

The wedding will be an event of Dec. 27 in Jacksonville.

WON'T HIDE UP
Petticoats, the modern version of the pantalette, are perfect for wear under slim suit skirts. Won't bunch or ride up. Try and see.

How to travel in luxury without really flying

The new '63 Chevrolet has captured the silence and effortless ease of jet flight and translated it to highway travel. Every new Chevrolet, whether it's a luxury Impala, a low-priced Bel Air or a Biacayne, now has self-adjusting brakes, a Delcotron generator to extend battery life, and the ingenious new flush-and-dry system that takes air and rain water from the cowl and rinses corrosive elements out of the rocker panels where rust usually begins. A test drive will amaze you. The suspension, with coil springs at all four wheels, treats back roads, car tracks, gravel as though they were billiard-table smooth. The engine whisks you away from traffic lights or steps safely out to pass slower cars without once intruding on your privacy. When you're driving a Chevrolet, you don't take a back seat to anyone!

Aid To Libraries?

An enthusiastic public opinion poll in Seminole County has shown that 10 Florida counties are receiving such service to improve library service. The poll asked why Seminole County didn't get in for such aid as long as it is being denied.

We do sympathize with the lady's concern over the quality of our libraries, which ought to be supported by everyone. We can't agree, however, that Seminole County deserves or should ask, state financial aid.

First of all, it should be remembered that Seminole County has no central library. Some of our cities and towns maintain separate facilities, many of them quite good.

Our population is so scattered that a county library system wouldn't be practical.

County officials, for that reason, have no business whatever in the library field. Those counties which did obtain aid from the Florida Library Board (based on requirements set up by the state plan for further extension of library service approved by the U. S. Office of Education) are Citrus, Levy, Clay, Hillsborough, Volusia, Indian River, Alachua, Bradford, Union and Santa Rosa. The financial grants range from $1,244 for Bradford to $18,210 for Hillsborough. Each of these counties has an existing county library system. That simply isn't the case here in Seminole County.

Straws In Wind

Indonesians may be thinking of renouncing its UN-sponsored treaty with the Netherlands regarding West New Guinea.

A committee of the Indonesian parliament has recommended that control of the territory go to Indonesia this year, not next May as agreed upon. It also proposes to cancel a plebiscite scheduled for 1960, in which the natives are to choose either independence or permanent union with Indonesia.

Since the committee — indeed, may be taken as testing to see which the entire parliament — is under the thumb of President Sukarno, this may be the wind of world opinion is blowing.

If these suggestions are translated into official government action, Indonesia probably will get away with it, just as she did before by threatening war against the outnumbered Dutch.

The situation is not the first of its kind. It is reminiscent of India's takeover of Goa and Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal.

This is not to say there was no justification for any of these acts.

Undoubtedly a good case could be made against British bulldozing (combined with American shortsightedness), Portuguese arrogance, Dutch pride. It could be argued that they are only imitating the practices of the European imperialists of the last century.

But this is not the 19th century. The objection is not what these nations have done, but their manner of doing it.

The sad thing is that these countries, among the largest and most powerful of the so-called neutrals, senior members of the postwar nations club, outspoken critics of the West, have not scrupled to use force (when safe), to ignore the United Nations charter, to grab when the grabbing was good — to be, in a word, sneaky.

As former colonies, they can do so wrong in the eyes of the multitude of other former colonies. Their behavior is admired. It is always popular to throw rocks at one-time masters, but it is a poor basis on which to build a world of law — and that is the only kind of world the small nations can be safe in.

No Change In Objective

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Wives, it is easier to prevent alcoholism than to try to cure it. Terry's wife was able to banish the underlying cause of his chronic drunkenness by the advice below. All clever wives should also read for the booklet mentioned today and insure their marital happiness by remedying the "bedroom" cause of alcoholism.

CASE N-492: Terry T., aged 42, is the sales manager who was about to lose his job because of whiskey.

"How can I help him break the liquor habit?" inquired his fearful wife.

"Dr. Crane, I'd do anything to save Terry, for he has been such a wonderful husband and father, at least till the past three years.

Well, in handling a chronic drinker past the age of 40, you can generally start out with the premise that he is using whiskey to divert his wife's attention from his platonic nature.

"If I come home half drunk," Terry later confessed to me, "when my wife will not wonder why I no longer kiss her or show interest in physical affection."

"Dr. Crane, I figure I am just no good, so I stay liquor up to divert her attention."

"And when I am drunk, I can't think about my sexual decline so I do get a little relief from this haunting fear that I am all through."

"Actually, I believe I'd commit suicide if I didn't have access to the bottle all the time. For I can't stand this humiliation to my sex pride."

You readers can see that if we doctors simply nauseated Terry with reference to the smell and taste of liquor, we'd still not have remedied his underlying problem.

It would be like prescribing aspirin for a headache due to astigmatism.

The real cure is that eye problem would be properly fitted glasses that would eliminate the painful eyestrain.

And so it is with alcoholics. Their addiction to whiskey is usually a symptom of an underlying emotional "fear" that burns their pride and causes constant social pain.

Since Terry's wife was attractive and sincerely devoted to her husband, I simply warned her:

"Whenever a husband passes the age of forty, his wife should step up her seductive aggressiveness in the bedroom.

"For men usually react worse at the menopause than do women, contrary to the popular notion.

"Men have more to terrify them than women do, for women are naturally passive partners so they can still remain passive as long as they live.

"But men are originally the active, aggressive sex so when they begin to wane, it produces a more evident and shocking effect.

"And the resulting terror can quickly de-sex a male so he cannot function as an ardent husband. But a wife's menopausal worries still do not preclude her widely passive role in marriage.

"Thus, every smart wife should consciously develop a more aggressive role to help thwart her husband's haunting fear of a platonic marriage.

Peter Edson Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — While it is generally agreed that extreme right-wing political movements obtained very little influence—and in some cases got completely snuffed out—during the recent congressional elections, one conservative action committee claims greatly increased support and a successful campaign record.

This is Americans for Constitutional Action—ACA. Organized in 1960 after the Republicans lost 49 seats in the 1958 mid-term congressional elections, ACA has stood to one objective. This has been to elect more congressmen who are said to believe in "constitutional government."

As it did in 1960, ACA this year compiled careful voting records on all congressmen. Of the 427 representatives and 100 senators, ACA found that only 184, or a little over one-third of the total had voted two-thirds of the time "for legislation upholding the Constitution and opposing socialization of the American economy."

Only five senators and 16 representatives received a 100 per cent ACA rating for the last Congress, 17 being Republicans and four Democrats.

Since some of the congressmen with "constitutional" voting records retired, resigned or were defeated in primaries, ACA found 184 candidates for the House and 19 candidates for the Senate for a total of 175 it could endorse this year.

Of this number 128 representatives and seven senators were elected for a total of 135 or a 77 per cent batting average. Only 11 of these elected were Democrats mostly from the southern states. Two races are still in doubt.

Only 46 of the 128 winners openly accepted the ACA endorsement and ran with its financial or staff assistance. Of these, 25 were elected and 19 were defeated for a 64 per cent batting average.

These percentage figures are a little deceptive, however. The 128 ACA-endorsed representatives who were elected are only 27 per cent of the House. The seven ACA-endorsed senators who were elected are only 7 per cent of the Senate.

ACA executive director Charles A. McManus says its total campaign expenses will run about $125,000.

None of the ACA trustees takes any salary or expense money for political activities. All contributions go to research, reports, writing speeches and direct staff aid to candidates by field workers.

Encouraged by what it considers its success in the 1962 campaign and elections, ACA may broaden its activities for 1964. The matter will be considered by the ACA trustees at a meeting to be held in Washington during the winter.

Among the trustees are Admiral Ben Moreell, chairman; Brig. Gen. Benson Puller, vice chairman; ex-President Herbert Hoover, ex-Gov. Charles Edson of New Jersey, treasurer; Edgar Eisenhower of Baltimore, Allen B. Kline of Illinois and Lloyd Wright of California.

Says Moreell, wartime commander of the Navy Seabees: "If we should support a presidential candidate, he would be a man who comes closest to our principles. If he is a legislator, we can get a good reading on him by his voting record. If he is not a legislator, but a governor or other prominent citizen, we can judge him on the basis of his public statements on leading issues."

Moreell classifies President Kennedy as a "modern liberal." He defines the basic tenets of this credo as a belief that all power—political, economic, social and, in some cases, moral power—should be concentrated in Washington, with the states as satellites of the central government.

In the 1960 presidential elections, ACA refused to join with any of the other conservative groups to support either Vice President Nixon, Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus who headed a national States Rights ticket, or even Virginia Sen. Harry Byrd, who got scattered votes.

Inability of the right-wing groups to unite behind one candidate on one program is what holds them back.

Kidding The TV Sponsors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There is a deeply rooted suspicion in the television industry that viewers do not always give the commercials the rapt attention they so richly deserve.

Some of the more advanced thinkers believe that certain members of the audience will invariably allow their minds to veer and yaw, and thus will miss part of the sponsor's message.

To combat any such negligence on the part of the public, they have adopted a policy of repeating key words and phrases often enough to stick in the brains of even the most abstracted auditors, including those who have fallen asleep.

Some time ago, an enterprising group of interlopers, seeking to take advantage of this protracted commercial pattern, drafted a plan to market a line of products called "Brand X."

They reasoned that the constant mention of "brand X" on television was bound to have created a subconscious demand for it, even though the mention was always unflattering.

Some time later, another group of poachers, with similar motivation, toyed with the notion of producing a product called "Alternasie."

Their idea was to cash in on the free advertising they would receive from television announcers who keep saying "and now a word from our alternate sponsor."

As far as I know, neither of these projects came to fruition, and I think I know the reason why. They were too vague. "Brand X" and "Alternasie" are not linked in the public mind with a specific type of product.

I am convinced, however, that the basic formula was sound. Using it as a springboard, I have been working on a revised prospectus which I believe will meet with instant success.

Consider, for example, the numerous assurances given by medicinal-type sponsors that their products do not cause harmful "side effects."

My first product would be a compound called "Side Effects" and I would advertise it thusly: "Comes in liquid, tablet or capsule form. Won't cure anything but gives you the wildest feeling."

The second product I have in mind would be a hair tonic called "Kid Stuff"—"for the discriminating few who like greasy hair."

My third product would be better. Only I would label it "high price spread"—"guaranteed to cost more than margarine or your money back."

The fourth product would take advantage of the sponsor who claims that users of his toothpaste had "21 per cent fewer cavities than users of regular toothpaste."

My brand would, of course, be "Regular"—"for those of you who hate to be different."

Letters To The Editor

In Gratitude To a Wonderful Physician — Dr. Sidney Katz

What a noble lot our ungrateful doctors are. Of the 24 hours allotted to each of us in a day very few of us spend as much time giving words of hope and encouragement to our fellow-men as do our doctors.

The best way, and place in Seminole County to get really acquainted with these men is to be a patient in the emergency room of Seminole Memorial Hospital at 11:00 P. M.

As he labors to relieve the awful pain of a serious eye injury only a great heart, and compassion for suffering are indicated in his patient smile, softly spoken words of hope and the kindly touch of his skilled, well trained hands.

We in Sanford are indeed fortunate to have an eye specialist of Dr. Katz caliber.

Thank you Dr. Katz. Sincerely, Mrs. J. L. Horton Sr.

Dear Editor: With the campaign and the election over, I want to take this opportunity to thank you for your endorsement of my re-election to the U.S. Senate.

Needless to say the results of the November 6th election were very gratifying to me and I deeply appreciate the support your fine newspaper gave me. I hope that in the next six years I will continue to merit your approval.

Again, please accept my thanks, and with kindest regards, I remain Sincerely, George A. Smathers USS

Phil Newsom Says... One Hope For Nehru

While Indian Premier Jawaharlal Nehru clings wistfully to the hope that somehow the Soviet Union will get the Red Chinese off his back, he also is being forced to the more unpleasant view that his struggle with the Chinese most likely will continue for years.

In the fiscal year ending June 30, India received $777 million in U. S. aid for an over-all total of around $4 billion.

Even with massive aid from the United States and elsewhere, it was estimated it would be at least 10 more years before India could become self-sufficient.

As a nation of 400 million attempting a leap from a backward agricultural economy to full industrialization, even the normal difficulties made India's problem a huge one. But with each step forward also came new difficulties.

New, expensive factories ran below capacity because of shortages of electric power, railway cars and coal.

Government operations supposed to turn in a profit to finance new projects failed to return a profit.

Training of new managers and technicians lagged behind the economic development.

Just how much the Red China conflict further will delay Indian self-sufficiency is a matter still to be determined, but it must be measured in years.

If there is a bright side, it is this: The Indian population is reported to be growing at a never before rate.

The struggle will relieve Nehru from heading the peace of politicians for district pork barrels. Greater attention will be paid to development of such industries as coal, steel, transportation and electric power.

For Nehru it was a tremendous break with the past when he was forced to ask the United States for military aid.

It was an admission that India could not defend itself alone and that the attempt to balance herself between the great powers had failed.

Even as Nehru has thanked the United States for understanding his continuing efforts toward non-alignment, his eyes have been upon the Soviet Union and upon theoretical Soviet aid rather than aid already received.

Having already been deceived by Red China, he appears not to take into consideration the possibility that the Soviet Union could deceive him, too.

Enterprise PTC Discusses Civil Defense

By Helen Goodgrass

Members of the Enterprise Parent-Teacher Council met last Tuesday evening at the school to discuss three areas of civil defense preparedness action with Mrs. Ruth Ryan, president, leading the discussion.

Although no concrete plans were formulated, programs discussed included immediate action to be taken, time allowance before danger and complete evacuation of the school.

In other business of the meeting, announcement was made that the Halloween Carnival grossed a total of $374.11.

William Farmer, representative of Mackie Co.'s "Deltona" and guest speaker for the program, told of plans for the new residential development and led a question and answer period following his talk.

Room count was won by Mrs. Wise Hardin's second grade and room visitation was scheduled for the January meeting.

Area Invited To Hear Noted Speaker

Dr. G. Roy Lockwood, one of America's foremost Christian patriots, will speak at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at a special meeting to be held in the American Legion Hall in Orlando at Lake Ivanhoe and Legion Place.

His subject will be entitled "The Plot to Destroy Christian Civilization."

Dr. Lockwood is executor of "Patriotic Evangelical News Service," a religious and educational, non-profit organization with international headquarters at Sioux City, Iowa. Purpose of the service is to inform and awaken the American people relative to the dangers of international communism in America.

Supper And Square Dance Planned By Lake Monroe PTO

By Mrs. E. L. Johnson

Plans were made at last Tuesday's meeting of the Monroe School PTO to sponsor a supper and square dance at the school this Friday night.

The supper, in charge of Mrs. Georgia Redd, will begin at 6:30 p. m. and will be served in the school lunchroom. The dances will take place on the basketball court with music by the Boyd String Band, a local group.

In addition there will be games of interest for all ages and movies will be shown for the children in the auditorium beginning at 7:30 p. m. A small admission will be requested.

In other business of the meeting, presided over by Mrs. Morris Metts, president, the group voted to discontinue its plans for organizing a volunteer fire department for the area and to turn over all information secured to date to a volunteer firemen's group if one materializes.

Plans also were made for the PTO sponsored school float in Wednesday's Christmas Parade with Tommy Thompson named to head this committee; to furnish candy for all rooms at Christmas and to allot Miss Arie Mann a sum of $15 towards beautification of the school grounds.

The next PTO meeting was announced for Dec. 18.

Mr. A. B. Doane Dies Monday

Mr. Arthur B. Doane, 83, died at 9:35 a. m. Monday in an Orlando hospital following a lingering illness.

Born Feb. 19, 1879 in Baraboo, Wis., he was a pioneer resident of Geneva having lived there for the past 74 years. He was a retired farmer and meat cutter and was a member of the Geneva Baptist Church.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Florence Doane of Geneva; two daughters, Miss Ellen Doane of Orlando and Mrs. Orie Mathieux of Williamson, N. Y.; four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Wednesday at Brison Funeral Home in Sanford with Rev. Jack Stewart of the Geneva Baptist Church officiating. Burial will be in the Geneva Cemetery.

Church Gives Overseas Aid

By Jane Casselberry

In response to a special appeal from the Methodist Committee on Overseas Relief, the Casselberry Community Methodist Church has raised enough money through special offerings at the Thanksgiving Service and on Sunday morning to buy 8 blankets for Methodists in Algeria.

DeBarry Groups To Present Musical Concert At Church

By Mrs. Adam Muller

A Community Mixed Chorus will be featured in a concert to be presented at 7:30 p. m. today in the DeBarry Community Methodist Church.

Sponsored by the University of Florida Extension Service and local music groups, the program will contain familiar and sacred songs and Christmas music. The Community chorus will be composed entirely of DeBarry music lovers.

Groups participating will include the DeBarry Chorists directed by Laura Platt Brown, the DeBarry Glee Club directed by Mrs. H. Whitaker, The First Presbyterian Church Choir directed by Mrs. Charles Bertuch, the First Baptist Church Choir directed by Frank Stockwell, the Sanford Male Chorus with Harold Barry as DeBarry representative and the DeBarry Community Methodist Choir directed by Miss Barbara Bedient. Delbert E. Starrath will direct the Mixed Chorus from the University Extension Service. Miss Adelaide deConte of DeBarry will be organist.

The concert is being presented as part of a program series for retired people of Florida sponsored by the University. Purpose of the program is to present the possibilities of similar cooperative music organizations and to bring each community an awareness of services available at the state universities.

In each area selected, the program is sponsored locally by churches, ministerial associations and other community organizations.

Dallas Cassel Named Tangelo Bowl Queen

By Jane Casselberry

Miss Dallas Cassel of Lyman High School was crowned Tangelo Bowl Queen in Eastie last Wednesday night taking some of the sting out of the Greyhounds' 14-13 defeat by the Tavares Bulldogs.

The attractive Lyman junior also was on the court of the Homecoming Queen for her school last month.

In addition to ceremonies naming Miss Cassel as queen, the halftime featured the Lyman Band presenting its spectacular Spanish Bullfight Show and the Tavares High School Band in a program of musical visits to various countries through its presentation of "Around the World in 90 Days."

A large group of Greyhound supporters formed a caravan of cars and chartered buses which was escorted to the game by the Sheriff's Dept.

Church Group To Attend Conference

By Jane Casselberry

The Casselberry Community Methodist Church will be represented at the Orlando District Conference to be held Wednesday from 2 p. m. until 9 p. m. at the Apopka Methodist Church.

Attending will be Rev. Delmas Copeland, minister of the church, and Rev. E. F. Richards, Marvin McClain, Mrs. Leota Putman, Miss Jill Forsyth, Mrs. Dorothy Ferrell, Mr. Marjorie Bryant, Henry Duncan, Carl Swafford and Finney Haynes.

New Troop

Mrs. Jack Alexander and Mrs. J. C. Williams, co-leaders, have announced the formation of a new second and third grade Brownie troop in Lake Mary. The group will meet on Fridays after school and has room for 10 more girls.

Magic Show At Grammar School Friday

Mr. Magic along with Grumpy and Jimmy the bunny rabbits, with Billy and Grace the doves, will present an hour and a half show of magic, mystery, confusion and illusion on the stage of the Sanford Grammar School Auditorium on Friday at 7:30 p. m.

Good clean family fun is promised by the Grammar School PTO which is bringing the show here to benefit their general fund.

This is a new show being presented by Mr. Magic, entirely different from last year's presentation.

The Stocks of Zanzibar, Enchanted Chinese Cylinder, The Miser's Dream (where in Mr. Magic finds money every where) and the Oriental Pagoda, are just a few of the effects he will present.

Driver Killed In Accident

A 41-year-old retired Air Force sergeant was crushed to death under the wheels of a semi-trailer truck Tuesday afternoon after he was thrown from his vehicle on Big Tree Road.

The victim was identified as James Forest Gay of Fern Park.

Highway Patrol Trooper J. L. Sikes said that Gay apparently ran a stop sign going toward Hwy. 17-92 and hit the truck operated by Wilber Smith of Sanford.

Sikes reported that Gay was thrown from the car and was crushed to death while pinned under the truck.

No charges were filed. Damage to both vehicles was estimated at $3,600.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Thursday at Brison Funeral Home with Rev. Gail Smith of the Central Baptist Church officiating.

Burial will be in Oaklawn Memorial Park with personnel of the Orlando AFB giving full military honors at graveside.

Gay, who is survived by his wife, Iva, of Fern Park, was born in Pelham, Ga., June 8, 1921, but had made his home in Fern Park since July. He was a retired Air Force staff sergeant and a veteran of the Korean War.

Florida Coast Flying Storm Warnings

MIAMI (UPI)—A severe Atlantic storm pounded Florida beaches with wave-capped high tides today and the weather bureau said more bad weather was in sight for the peninsula.

A new low pressure system was moving toward Florida from the central Gulf of Mexico, the weather bureau said.

"Temperatures are expected to remain below normal with cloudiness above normal and with precipitation likely to increase as the gulf low approaches," a report said.

Gale warnings are flying for the Atlantic Coast from the Virginia Capes to the north central Florida coast with gale force winds and heavy rain.

A report from the Miami weather station today.

There was considerable erosion of beaches, undermining of oceanfront roads and some flooding of low areas along the coast from Jacksonville Beach to Miami Beach. But damage appeared to be spotted at the lowest areas always subject to flooding by storm conditions.

Tides were mostly one to two feet above normal. Most damage was created by the rampaging waves kicked up by the storm's 60 mile an hour winds at sea.

Reds May Ease Cuba Demands

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy's meeting Thursday with Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan may provide some clue as to the possibility of lowering East-West tensions now that the perilous phase of the Cuban crisis has passed. Officials said today the President would be willing to discuss Soviet-American relations and other critical issues in general terms but had no intention of doing any "negotiating" with Premier Nikita Khrushchev's number one trouble shooter.

The White House announced Tuesday that Kennedy would receive Mikoyan at 4:30 p. m. Thursday and indicated that the main purpose of the meeting was to talk about remaining issues in the Cuban crisis.

Russia was reported today to have dropped Fidel Castro's five-point demands for a Cuban crisis settlement, including withdrawal from the Guantanamo naval base by the United States.

But Mikoyan was said by reliable sources to back Castro's refusal of on-site inspection of offensive weapons systems in Cuba unless the United States agrees to reciprocal inspection of "invasion" bases in Florida and elsewhere in the Western Hemisphere.

Mikoyan arranged a meeting today with Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and other top U. S. and Soviet crisis negotiators.

Looks Like Court To Get Apportionment

Former state legislator

Frederick said to federal courts about say re now as it legislators have reached a stalemate.

Frederick blamed the Senate for the impasse, declaring "they have failed time and time again to resolve the issue." Frederick said the House has developed an attitude that the "responsibility for the apportionment failure lies within the Senate, which has not come up with any kind of formula.

The former legislator also said he felt confident that the courts will have a more "thorny" issue than they anticipated to come up with a fair reapportionment that could please both the little and big counties.

The Senate, fighting to keep Florida's reapportionment middle out of the courts, set up a multi-faction committee of senators today in a last desperate attempt to work out a compromise before the special session expires at midnight.

When the lawmakers reconvened for the final day of the so far futile 30-day session.

Fire Damages Lake Mary Home

Overhead lighting fixtures placed too near the ceiling resulted in a mid-afternoon fire Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mesbath in Lake Mary.

Members of the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Dept., who responded to the call shortly after 2 p. m., reported that damages were slight.

Parade Funds Will Go Into Santa's Sock

The gaily colored balloons which will be sold before and during the annual Christmas Parade today by members of the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees will benefit the children of the Lutheran Home in Slavia.

Each year the Jaycees use the proceeds of the balloon sales to take the children on a shopping tour in Sanford to buy Christmas gifts.

Hot dogs and soft drinks also will be sold to the more than 25,000 parade watchers young and old, who are expected to gather all along the route to see more than 120 units march by, each section

Art Association Adds New Touch Of Christmas

There's something new in downtown Sanford these days—thanks to the Sanford Art Assn. and its members' artistic

It's just Christmas cards that arrived greeting to everyone as they hang, swaying gently from their brackets on downtown lampposts.

There are 12 of the two foot by three foot handpainted "cards" (they are really painted on boards donated by Gregory Lumber Company) and they depict all the usual Christmas and holiday greetings found on regular cards.

There is a shepherd with a lamb, a holly wreath, gay little mischievous angels, choirboys, Christmas candles, the wise men, old-fashioned lanterns, a scroll of Christmas carols, the Star of Bethlehem and the Shepherds, a snow man, and several Santas, depicted in various expressions.

All the cards were done by members of the art association with the help of some of the members of their families.

George Dodson, Chester Scott and Robert Birkhimer made the brackets which were used to secure the cards to the street light poles. Members of the City of Sanford city maintenance crews, helped put them up with the cooperation of the Police Department and the Sheriff's Department who directed traffic while the electricity was cut off in the street lights.

"We have a policy that anybody can submit a column for the Flambeau if it's not libelous, is in good taste and if it deals in issues and not personalities," said Ben C. Sharp of Orlando, Flambeau editor.

The column, called to the attention of the legislature yesterday, was written by John Thomas Riggins, head of the young socialists.

Student Article Urges Socialism

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The editor of the student newspaper at Florida State University said today that a column in Tuesday's issue advocating socialism was written by the president of the "young socialists" on campus.

"We have a policy that anybody can submit a column for the Flambeau if it's not libelous, is in good taste and if it deals in issues and not personalities," said Ben C. Sharp of Orlando, Flambeau editor.

The column, called to the attention of the legislature yesterday, was written by John Thomas Riggins, head of the young socialists.

Directors Selected For C of C Duties

Forty-two Chamber of Commerce directors were named today, the official canvass of an election-by-mail revealed.

The directors will serve one, two and three year terms coming and represent the five county commission districts.

A meeting will be held soon to name the new chamber president. Indications are it will be Francis Roumillat Jr.

New directors serving from District 1, 2 and 5 for three year terms are Scott Burns, Andrew Cawray, Randall Chase, Mack Cleveland Jr., Richard Dean, E. C. Harper Jr., Bill Hemphill, M. L. Rabin Jr., Douglas Stenstrom and George Touhy.

Directors for two-year terms: John Alexander, Arthur Beckwith Jr., J. H. (Jimmy) Crapps, Bob Crumley, S. J. Davis Jr., Walter Gielow, Earl Higginbotham, Howard Hudges, Clifford McKibbin and W. A. Patrick.

Directors to serve for one-year terms are: John Fitzpatrick, Harold Kastner, Sonny Powell, B. L. Perkins, Robert Bassener, J. C. Hutchison, John Ivey, T. E. Tucker, F. E. Roumillat Jr., Gordon Frederick.

Directors from District 3 for three year terms are R. T. Milwe and Al Lormann; two year terms, Frank Evans and Raymond Ball; one year term, Earl Toney and Chester Muse.

Directors from District 4 for three year terms, B. F. Wheeler and C. R. Clontz; two year terms, George Means and Earl J. Baugan; one year term, J. H. Best and Mary Earle Walker.

The meeting, to be held in the courtroom of the courthouses, will take up the problem of community and county promotion of the recommendations—the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and the Seminole County Development Co. for Dec. 3 at 7:30 p. m. to consider the problem of implementing the recommendations of the Van Hoy Committee for the County Home.

The problem is "very urgent" and "hours count". If the commission is to state off any action by the State Board of Health in closing the facility, Avery said.

As indicated by the committee, the two homes for the aged in the county operated by private enterprise, the Serapta Home and the Good Samaritan Home for Negroes, are receptive to accepting the county's indigent aged if they can get financial assistance for improvements and expansion.

These funds, according to the committee, are available from the Home and Housing Finance Administration, but it will take total community and county backing to assure any action by that agency.

The meeting will consider the various aspects of the use of Ocoosa Air Field and explore the possibilities of reactivating the field as a county airport.

Gift certificates for a total of $100 will be given away again Friday to three downtown Sanford shoppers when the lucky ticket holders are given the call.

Doubly lucky will be those who take advantage of all the sale items, bargains and weekend specials advertised in The Herald Thursday.

This marks the second week in the pre-Christmas promotion sales being offered by downtown Sanford merchants, emphasizing "shop at home and save."

Shoppers will be given free tickets by merchants which will be good for the drawing to be held shortly after stores close Friday night. Closing time is 9 p. m. Winning numbers will be drawn from the big wire basket at the broadcasting stand which will be located at the corner of First St. and Magnolia Ave.

First prize will be gift certificates in the amount of $45, with $35 as the second prize and $20 for the third place winner.

Pilot Escapes Crash

A Navy Board of Inquiry was investigating today the crash of an

ASA Vigilante jet heavy attack bomber at Sanford Naval Air Station Tuesday.

A spokesman said the plane crashed on takeoff but the pilot, Lt. W. L. Goodman, was not injured.

The plane was destroyed by fire after crashing near the end of the east-west runway. The plane normally carries a two-man crew, but Goodman was alone Tuesday. The plane was attached to VAH-3.

Fire equipment and personnel of the Naval Air Station arrived at the crash location almost immediately and put out the fire, with little or no damage to surrounding property.

Meeting Called On County Home

County Commissioner James P. Avery Tuesday afternoon issued a call for a meeting of the county's civic organizations—the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and the Seminole County Development Co. for Dec. 3 at 7:30 p. m. to consider the problem of implementing the recommendations of the Van Hoy Committee for the County Home.

The problem is "very urgent" and "hours count". If the commission is to state off any action by the State Board of Health in closing the facility, Avery said.
