Earle Attacks Corporate Tax

State Representative Lewis Earle (R-Sem-Orange) an opponent of the now-passed State Corporate Tax believes Governor Askew owes an apology to the people of Florida.

Earle based his charges on the statement of this past weekend wherein Jesse Yarborough, public service commissioner indicated that he would allow rate increases of $12 million dollars as proposed by the large electric and telephone companies.

"When I campaigned against the Governor's corporate Tax," said Earle, "I predicted this is exactly what would happen. It's going to be passed on to the consumer."

The legislator went on that Askew indicated it would apply only to multi-state corporations. Those included in the proposed $12 million increase are located in and do business exclusively in Florida: $4.6 million F.P.L., Tampa Electric $914 thousand; General Telephone $1.2 million; Southern Bell $4.4 million; Florida Telephone $133,000, and Florida Power Corporation has requested an increase of 18.6 per cent.

Earle further illustrated that the state did not need the additional revenues from the Corporate Tax when $25 million was removed from the 72-73 budget for the construction of the capital building. "All of this taken from this year's budget when in fact it'll take more than five years to construct. They went ahead and raised the tax, and then thought up ways of spending the money."

"I hold no personal animosity with the large utilities. They've been assessed with the tax and now must pass it on to their customers."

HEADLINES Inside The Herald

Got some complaints about the way the customers were treated this past Friday at the Orlando Sports Stadium for the Isaac Hayes Show. Was supposed to start at 8... didn't until an hour later... and Black Moses wasn't on stage until 10:30.

It was hot... and jammed... and tempers were at the breaking point... all of the ingredients for a nasty evening.

FLASH! According to Supervisor of Elections Camilla Bruce, there has been a decided increase in voter registrations. Probably more significant, according to Cami, is the number of Democrats switching over to the Republican side.

I just can't understand it... here comes a man with a political machine which can be matched only by the Kennedy family (and I'm not too certain that it really isn't the Kennedy's, under the McGovern cover)... and yet the party faithful are deserting the ship.

Why? Between now and the election, you have the Republicans who must change their convention; and we all know how rapidly the public opinions have changed within that same time period... look at Muskie.

Finally... McGovern will whittle away at some of his former statements, that comes the November election, you will have all forgotten what was said in the heat of those primaries... and vote him into the presidency anyhow. Nobody gave him a chance back in April, too, remember?

Tip For You... One of those running for a state position is about to get himself in election laws trouble for posting his campaign signs on state rights-of-ways. (And running for the State Attorney job, too. Must not have read the regulations on same, eh?)

PURELY PERSONAL... to that family which moved from Sunland Estates to Lake Mary... don't know how you could have forgotten two of your pets, but you did; and the neighbors are trying their best to keep the two dogs from starving.

NO PARKING... and the cars didn't, cause the water was over a foot deep at Randolph and Mellonville Avenues in Sanford, following the heavy downpour over the weekend. Didn't bother the kids that the cars couldn't pass... they used the old innertube to get them where they wanted to go... round-and-round and splash in their "temporary" swimmin' hole.

45-15 School Plan Is Delayed?

School Board Chairman Keeth: "Would not be economically feasible for us to go on 45-15 on the date established."

By BILL SCOTT

Amid speculation that the so-called 45-15 extended year school plan, set to be implemented county-wide starting July 1973, may be delayed still another year due to insufficient funds, the Seminole County School Board Friday afternoon adopted a $25.5 million 1972-73 school budget and reduced by one mill the school tax levy.

A public hearing and final approval of the budget has been scheduled for 1 p.m. July 31, at the board's Commercial Street office.

Breaking it down, the school board is allowed to levy 10 mills, which is expected to bring in nearly $5 million in local funds, plus the additional $4.8 million in state aid.

Balance of the "tight" budget will come from state and federal sources.

Faced with a zero contingency account early last week, it was disclosed by Walter Teague, school finance officer, that additional funds were "found" which would enable a contingency account of $59,053.39 to start the year, with $100,000 cash carry-over.

However, the contingency is usually much higher at about $250,000.

Board got themselves into a financial problem when they voted a teacher pay increase on a sliding scale starting with beginners from $6,400 to $6,600 before they knew for certain how much funding would be available. Then to keep the pay increase, the budget trimmers went to work and slashed operating expenses from the lone down to the marrow. This action eliminated such "extras" as school bus courtesy riders for students living under the two-mile limit from an assigned school.

After the tentative approval of the 1973 school budget, Superintendent Joseph Wright held a quiet session to a roundabout session when he recommended that board action on the 45-15 school plan be postponed to "later than July 1973," date set for implementation of the revolutionary new concept.

"We just can't swing it by July 1973," he advised.

Robbery Suspect Arrested

By BILL SCOTT

A suspect has been arrested in the July 8 robbery of the L-1 Champ convenience store in which two men escaped. A combined Sanford police-Seminole County force after wrecking their get-away car in a chase that started in Sanford and ended in Altamonte Springs.

Sgt. Johnny Wright today disclosed that Sgt. A. J. Calagero and he had charged Gerald T. McCloud, 38, of Titusville with the armed robbery of Joyce Elser, clerk at the Country Club Road store.

Sgt. Wright stated McCloud was arrested in Titusville after an intensive investigation that started with the checking of the owner of the 1967 Chevrolet, which was wrecked after a hot pursuit ended with the car in a ditch and the two fugitives escaping on foot while lawmen scoured the area near North Street, just off SR 427 at Altamonte.

McCloud is accused of being one of the pair that forced the convenience store clerk to hand over $200 in cash. The detective said the McCloud arrest came after several leads were checked out.

Platform Proposal Is Made

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Burton Thornal, who is seeking the Democratic nomination to Congress in the 10th district, proposed today that Florida Democrats write their own platform to divorce their candidates from the national platform.

"It is time to serve notice on those who drafted a pattern for defeat that we are not afraid to strike out on our own," Thornal told a news conference.

He said he had mailed to Democratic candidates, mainly those seeking legislative posts, a proposal for a state platform convention to be held late in August. He said he had favorable response from 13 to 20 candidates he had discussed the matter with but declined to name any.

Thornal, 53, of Arcadia, is seeking the nomination in the new south central Florida district. He resigned last year as director of the Division of General Regulation in the Department of Business Regulation.

Bruce J. Scott of North Ft. Myers qualified for the congressional post last week.

Land Development Planned Near Osteen

OSTEEN — Plans and final proposals will be presented today to the Dist. 3 Zoning Commission in New Smyrna Beach by American Heritage Outdoor Resort for a 593 acre development east of Osteen on the Maytown Road.

The property was purchased in March for $25,000 by Lewis P. and William D. Rogers, brothers and partners in AHOR. They are also general partners in St. Johns River Associates, Ltd., developer of the tract. Previous owners were Samuel L. Grimes, New York, and Charles C. Baker, associated with First Continental Development Corp. of Orlando, New York and Texas.

The property fronts on the St. Johns River and Deep Creek Diversion Canal runs through the site, which is dotted by lakes. Development plans call for preserving the natural beauty of the area by adhering to strict ecological specifications and leaving more than half the area in open spaces.

Phase One of the development calls for 400 large condominium campgrounds sites and 80 rustic cabins for rental purposes dispersed in the woods and along the riverfront. Buildings are designed to blend in with the surroundings.

Among the recreational facilities planned to serve the resort are a par 3 golf course, stables and riding trails, game courts and sports fields, boating, and canoeing. A boat basin will be built on the St. Johns.

Longwood Man Held In Child Molest

By BILL SCOTT

A Longwood man has been jailed on a morals charge involving a three-year-old girl.

Seminole County Det. Sgt. George Ably said today he had arrested Richard Alton Moss, 32, of 1413 13th Avenue, after the parents of the girl took a warrant charging the caretaker with unlawfully and feloniously fondling and making an assault upon a female child in a lewd, indecent manner.

Moss is lodged in the county jail in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Det. Ably also disclosed the arrest of three juveniles ages 14-15 and the solving of seven burglaries and thefts in the Eastbrook subdivision in South Seminole. Det. Ably said two rifles were recovered in the solution of the crimes which involved the sons of Eastbrook residents.

Det. William Hogan arrested three juveniles, ages 15-16 in the entry of Dittmer Inc., of Longwood, an aluminum recycling plant on Shepherd Road. The trio is charged with taking an undisclosed amount of money, soft drinks and furnishings.

Det. Hogan said he is probing the early Saturday morning burglary of Scotty's Lumber Supply, located on SR 436 in Altamonte. Hogan stated the thief entered the firm by cutting a hole in the roof, but was apparently scared-off before taking anything, since there was nothing reported missing.

Deputy Robert Kunkler also arrested two juveniles, ages 15-16, for the burglary of Fred's Car Imports, located on 17-92 in Longwood. The two boys reside in Longwood and Sunland Estates. All juveniles arrested were turned over to county juvenile authorities for further prosecution.

By Bombers, Naval Force N. Vietnamese Blasted

SAIGON (AP) — Nearly 100 U.S. B52 bombers and a naval task force of more than a dozen cruisers and destroyers blasted North Vietnamese positions on both sides of the demilitarized zone today in some of the heaviest bombardments of the war. The raids were in support of a 20,000-man South Vietnamese counter-offensive on the northern front. They had the two-fold objective of destroying North Vietnamese troops and supplies already on the battlefield and cutting off reinforcements and war materials reportedly moving south.

The Saigon command reported light fighting on the edges of Quang Tri, the provincial capital which fell to the North Vietnamese May 1. It said South Vietnamese paratroopers driving from the East had inched their way to within 200 to 300 yards of the Citadel, the 19th century fortress in the heart of the city.

A dozen B52s struck north of the port city of Dong Hoi against elements of two North Vietnamese divisions. U.S. military sources said the troops were on the move southward, presumably to join two badly battered divisions in Quang Tri province.

More than 80 giant Stratofortresses struck to the North, West, South and Southwest of Quang Tri city, dropping about 2,500 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese positions.

The U.S. Navy said the destroyer Shelton destroyed nearly 30 North Vietnamese emplacements and triggered secondary explosions in bombardment near Quang Tri city. Other ships of the 13-vessel task force firing from offshore included the guided missile cruiser Oklahoma City, the flagship of the 7th Fleet, and the destroyer escort Heppburn.

School Design Plan Accepted For Exhibit

Architect Eoghan N. Kelley of Sanford has received word that the new Lake Brantley High School, presently under construction, has been reviewed and accepted for exhibition in the 1972 Festival of Planning.

The Theatre of Planning is part of the 49th Annual CEFP (Council of Educational Facility Planners) International Conference, scheduled for St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 1-4.

Lake Brantley was one of only three schools in the state honored by the selection to the exhibit. The other two are Rummel Elementary and Flaclier County High.

James E. Klepper, Communications Director of CEFP, made the announcement, inviting Kelley to attend the conference to see the exhibit and to participate in the four-day program examining "Variations in Planning" for educational facilities.

In a letter to Superintendent of Schools John G. Angel, with copies to all school board members, Kelley also commented that the new facility, at a cost on a per pupil basis, was lower than any other public secondary school constructed in the state since the 1967-68 school year, as published by the State Department of Education's Bureau of School Facilities.

The new school, located in the Forest City area adjacent to both sand Lake Elementary and Teague Middle School, is scheduled to open following the Christmas holidays this year.

Students at the school will be just ninth and 10th graders this year. Next year it will have ninth, 10th and 11th graders and will carry all four grades.

Students will begin the school year at the old Lyman High facility, which was renamed Milver Middle School when the high school moved to its new location. That school was called Lyman South with just ninth graders there this year. After the Lake Brantley students move to their new facility over the Christmas holidays, the campus will once again be Milver Middle School.

Six Seek Zoning Board's Approval

By MARION BETHEA
Six public hearings for special exceptions are scheduled for tonight's meeting of the county Board of Adjustment at 7 p.m. in the County Commission chambers of the Courthouse.

Included in the hearings is a request by entrepreneur Glenn Turner to permit installation of a helicopter pad on the site of his "castle" in South Seminole County. The exception is in an A-1 agriculture zone located west and south of Bear Gulch Lake. The State property is located on Cherry Hill Circle.

Planning and Zoning Board last month the Bear Gulch Lake Association presented a petition objecting to the request. The people are opposed to Turner's "Dare To Be Great" meetings which bring people to the site in a helicopter pad on the site.

Other hearings include Carl Majecki, requesting an exception in a R-1A residential zone to build a 24 foot wide, eight foot long dock into Lake Brantley canal. The property is located on Cherry Hill Circle.

Now "A Platform Of Citizen Rights"

With one party platform nailed together and another due to be hammered and built next month, the appearance of a third one is not only timely. It is stimulating.

This is not one that comes out of the reform dominated Democratic convention which did its thing last week in Miami Beach. Nor can it be suggestive of the Republican one on which President Nixon must stand for re-election.

It is entitled "A Platform of Citizen Rights" and is erected by the 200,000 member Common Cause organization with members in every state of the union.

There are four main planks: 1. End the corrupting influences of money in politics; 2. Assure the citizen full and equal access to party nominating procedures and the ballot box; 3. Make Congress the people's representative, responsive and accountable; 4. Conduct the public's business publicly.

Are these blue sky goals? Does the present state of practical politics make them impossible? Should such suggestions be aired in the increasingly emotional and heated atmosphere of the '72 presidential election?

They may have a blue sky tinge. Practical politicians may shrug them off. Indeed the timeliness of such planks has already been indicated by what had gone on during the primaries and at the Democratic convention.

"Common Cause" states that "a total overhaul of the present system of financing elections is a national necessity. Candidates need no longer be dependent on large contributions seeking special access or favors."

Especially there exist a crying necessity for laws which will call for full disclosure of the financial interests of members of Congress, officials of the executive branch and independent agencies.

Conflict of interest should be easily defined and enforceable. In this respect there has been at least one case where newspaper disclosures have brought about resignation from a law firm where such conflict seemed to exist.

Planks 2 and 3 are so basic, logical and strong that our endorsement is automatic. Responsiveness and accountability are two requirements that the new spirit of politics is injecting with more and more vigor into all elections at every level.

Make the office being filled at the polls such that the voter can personally judge the responsibility of the candidate in office and his responsiveness to the needs of his constituents and a great boost will be given voter turnout.

It is the fourth plank which demands for the nation what Florida already enjoys — "conduct the public's business publicly"—that is most welcome.

This, in a few words, describes Florida's "government in sunshine law" which has proved its worth in so many cases that opposition to its observance is self-revealing and self-destructive to those who so misunderstand the public's interest to attempt to circumvent its simple meaning.

We believe that this "platform of Citizen Rights" should be more than a high goal to be read and agreed with and then forgotten. It can be and should be a very practical guide for those citizens who would have their rights observed and preserved!

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the problems of a mother is that on rainy days she has to think up something for the children to do to prevent them from going stir crazy.

One of the troubles with being a group is that when you feel you are going stir crazy on a rainy day your mother usually isn't around to tell you what to do.

And despite the opinion of self-centered youth to the contrary, it rains just as often when you are older as when you are young. Probably often, for some rain manages to fall every day.

So, if it should be raining wherever you are today and your imagination fails you, here are a few things you might consider doing just to pass the time until your weather is better.

Try to remember the names of the Bobbsey Twins, the Rover Boys and the Three Musketeers. Go through your wallet and throw away the old losing lottery tickets and expired credit cards.

See how long your congressman will listen to you if you ring him on a collect call.

Pretend you live in Philadelphia, and that every day in your life is pretty much like this.

Trim a corn. If you don't have corns, ask a neighbor's wife if you can trim one of her and his responsiveness to the needs of his constituents and a great boost will be given voter turnout.

Global View

O.K. in Moscow, Not So Elsewhere

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Despite published reports to the contrary, internally at least, Leonid Brezhnev seems to be running against no important opposition on the strategic arms limitation agreements negotiated with President Nixon.

From all that can be gathered in information reaching the U.S. government to date, within the U.S.S.R. the agreements are popular in the highest echelons of the party, government and military, where the power lies.

Kremlinologists this reporter has talked to say that while there was a great deal of hard bargaining during the negotiations, once agreement was reached the Soviet establishment seemed to be convinced that the arrangements were very good indeed.

There is, apparently, a great deal of confusion at the lower party levels, primarily, it is believed here, because the Herold's Chairman of the lower party bureaucracy had heard the details on strategic arms and the problems at issue.

Men who watch Soviet newspapers carefully say the press stresses repeatedly and endlessly that these agreements are good, that they represent the party line and are attempting to convince people who were not at all clear on what the agreements are all about or who might have some nagging doubts after all these years of hate-ful U.S. propaganda.

Not so at points in the international Communist world. Strong complaints are already in from Red groups in Italy, the Netherlands, Burma, New Zealand, North Korea, Australia, Peru, Guatemala and North Vietnam.

Castro was especially loud in Warsaw and in Bucharest in eastern Europe.

In parties and factions mentioned above, the Soviet Union is accused of betraying the Communist cause in its own interests.

The strength of the opposition shows up clearly in the vehemence of Moscow's defensive arguments which claim in essence, as one U.S. government Soviet analyst put it, "What's good for the Soviet Union is good for World Communism."

But Brezhnev is finding it difficult to sell that concept in some places in the Red world.

The Soviet radio and Soviet officials and diplomats have been busy telling Castro and other Communists worldwide that the Nixon visit and the arms agreements do not represent a retreat—that what the Soviet Union will continue to be supported heavily by the Soviet Union and that the fight for a Communist worldwide victory will continue.

There is rather convincing evidence the spotty furor is being sparked primarily by Peking and by pro-Mao Communist parties and factions in Asia, Latin America and Western Europe.

The guessing here is, therefore, that Mao Tse-tung and his people are using these arms agreements to weaken further Moscow's hold on international Communism—and thereby set the stage for Chinese gain.

"About Those Letters..." Drummond Explains Stand

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI

In an exclusive interview with The Herold, Chairman of the Seminole County Commission, Greg Drummond offered some comments in rebuttal to letters sent to the Editors regarding "lake snail" comments made at a county commission meeting during public hearings.

"Greater thought and understanding will have to be applied by the local government and by the citizenry to this problem. This Board has not applied a sufficient amount of park sites to acquisition of bathing parks to date."

"At the same time, my fellow property owners who have proposed to lakes should realize that the lakes are not necessarily property of those residents, but should be available to the residents in the immediate areas abutting the lakes where easements are provided."

Board Not Sure Of When To Use 'Extended' Plan

Architect Eoghan Kelley had indicated to Board that $1.8 million would be needed for the conditions, plus operational cost of $470,000 for all utilities. Present utility cost is $320,000 for a nine month school year.

A. P. Keeth, board chairman, advised Angel he had felt for sometime it would not be economically feasible for "us to go on 45-15 on the date established." Keeth hastened to add the concept of year-round schools was a good thing and "we should continue to work toward it and set back our time schedule by 12 months."

He forecast year-round schools are coming to this county sometime, but by postponing the action at least a year, "we will be much better positioned to have a millage election passing." Keeth said the November millage election was now clouded by the 45-15 action.

John Bryant, vice chairman and foremost exponent of 45-15, asked the obvious question "where do we put the students in the meantime?"

Her question was answered by Keeth and Ray Slaton, board member, in unison, "double sessions." Mrs. Bryant replied she could not "go for double sessions."

Dr. Stuart Culpeper, board member, advised "to get people to vote for the four mills in the election they must approve what the money will be spent for." He added the 45-15 plan would hamper the millage from being passed.

Mrs. Bryant persisted, "45-15 is feasible, operational and it will take three years, if the millage election is passed, before doors to a new school are opened for classes." She added double sessions also cost more money. Keeth favored moving into the air-conditioning program as soon as possible, but said it would take an extra $200,000 just to "throw the switch."

Supt. Angel advised news media was right in its assumption that the schools were "just twiddling their thumbs over implementation." "We need firm direction and there are a few people in the school system that feel the board is not fully behind 45-15," Angel added.

Mrs. Bryant replied those people should either do as they are told by the board or "get out."

Culpeper commented, "we'll have a new election soon and there will be new members on the board." (Ray Slaton and A. P. Blue, Jr., both Democrats incumbents terms are up this year.)

Slaton brought the commentary to a howling finish when he quipped "you Republicans remind me of the Democratic convention." With that the board adjourned without taking action on Angel's recommendation.

House Speaker Points Need To Change The Law

By JOHN VAN GIESON

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The legislator who fathered Florida's presidential primary law says the fact that Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace could capture 75 of 81 delegates with 42 per cent of the popular vote points out the need to change the law.

Another Gangland 'Rubout'

NEW YORK (AP) — Sifting theories and evidence, police experts today sought to figure the slaying of top Mafia figure Thomas "Tommy Byrnes" Eliot into the complex pattern of a continuing gangland war.

Eliot, 61, was found sprawled on a sidewalk early Sunday in the quiet Crown Heights section of Brooklyn, far from his usual haunts in New Jersey and Manhattan. There were five bullet holes in his face and neck.

The killing was at least the 15th gangland slaying since the June 28, 1971 wounding of Joseph A. Colombo Sr., identified by authorities as the head of the Profaci Cosa Nostra family in Brooklyn.

Included in that string of killings was the Little Italy can bar rubout of Joseph "Crazy Joe" Gallo last April.

Witnesses told police they heard shots and saw flashes near a truck that went by at the time. The truck, apparently stolen, was found about a block away abandoned with its engine running.

Police also found a stolen car with an m-3 machine gun in its rear seat. The gun had not been fired and detectives theorized that it had been a backup weapon.

The car Eliot had been in was one when police arrived and they broadcast an alarm for the vehicle. In the right hand pocket of Eliot's jacket was more than $2,000 in cash, mostly in $100 bills.

Despite the strong indications that Eliot had been "hit" by mob gunmen, detectives said there was no evidence that he had been feuding lately with fellow members of his Genovese underworld family.

"Most of the time when these fellows get in trouble with each other, it's because they're starting to get greedy—and there was no sign that Tommy was doing that," said one official.

Federal authorities have identified Eliot as an underboss in the Genovese family while the late Vito Genovese himself, known as the "Boss of Bosses," was in prison for bankrolling a narcotics smuggling operation.

After Genovese's death in prison in 1969, Eliot's poor health prevented him from gaining the top spot and reportedly saved the family's traditional territory was siphoned off by other families.

The Black Vote

Dilemma Fragments Unity-Strength

By EDWARD NEILAN
Copley News Service

WASHINGTON — Black power will play a big role in the making of the president in November.

There is increasing black clout but diminishing black cohesion as the campaign pace quickens, according to political analysts.

Black Americans who had high hopes of realizing their full political potential in the 1972 presidential campaign now perceive that the performance is unlikely to live up to the promise.

Predictably, the 7.5 million votes cast by blacks will exert a considerable impact on the election and will be decisive in some key cities and states.

But no longer is there talk among black political figures of a national black political strategy or an independent black political candidate, as there was less than a year ago.

Black political leadership remains splintered.

Efforts to achieve a national black cohesion, such as the first National Black Political Convention in Gary, Ind., last March, have fallen short of their goals.

Dom Bonafede, who compiled a study on the black vote recently for the Washington-based National Research Organization, said, "Proposals for the creation of a truly operative national persuasion could rally, is still hovering in a visionary stage."

The effects of these developments are viewed differently by black leaders and serve to underline the divergence in their ranks about how to mobilize their political strength nationally.

"I think it is fair to say we are fragmented," said Georgia state Rep. Julian D. Bond. "There are five or six different strategies and five or six different people pushing different strategies within those strategies."

Bond said blacks are not in a very good bargaining position.

"If I say to the Democratic Party, 'If you don't do what I want, I'm going to vote Republican,' they know that's foolishness. There's no way in the world I could or would do that. Or I say, 'I'm going to tell black people not to vote at all,' that's the same thing in effect. The Democrats know they have us where they want us."

Bond said blacks are caught between two dilemmas.

On the one hand, "we want to politically eliminate Richard Nixon. On the other hand, we don't want to continue to be taken for granted by the Democrats. If you choose to defeat Nixon you've got to go strong for the Democrats. If you choose to be independent of the Democrats, then you may assume a Nixon victory. I'd much rather beat Nixon than be independent in 1972."

Money Matters

U.S. To Restore Ties With Gold?

By CARL W. RITTER
Copley News Service

The possibility of the United States permitting the dollar to be convertible into gold again is not nearly so preposterous as many Americans have been led to believe.

Gold, often referred to as "that barbaric relic" by those who fail to fully comprehend the role it has played in the enforcement of monetary honesty down through history, is newsworthy today almost everywhere.

There is, for example, the newly issued annual report of the Bank for International Settlements. It warns that the role it is likely to be split into monetary blocs unless convertibility of the dollar into gold is restored.

The big Mexican bank, Banco Nacional de Comercio Exterior, S.A., comments rather despairingly: "Dollar inconvertibility and the obscure, fairly distant perspective of its returning to convertibility constitute one of the principal stumbling blocks in the international monetary crisis.

"Under present circumstances, it is not reasonable to suppose that the United States will return the dollar to convertibility or that the other financial powers will agree to go on accumulating huge inconvertible dollar surpluses, or that the monetary system will be able to function in terms of logic, order or efficiency.

"An impasse seems to have been reached."

The chief economist for Moody's Investor's Service, Inc., Bobban J. Kekiah, recently returned from participating in the Geneva International Monetary Conference and meeting with monetary authorities in Zurich and London.

He said the mood is "largely one of uncertainty and uneasiness."

He predicted the dollar's role as a reserve currency will diminish and gold will have a place in new monetary arrangements.

"Bankers in this country generally do not favor an important role for gold in the monetary system, but Cleveland Trust Co., one of the Midwest's leading banks, is moved, in commenting on inflation in its current business bulletin, to say "government cannot control inflation by edict any more that it can the value of gold by wishing it out of existence."

A rather startling commentary on gold's possible place in a future scheme of things appears in the current issue of Dr. Harry Schultz's investment advisory letter published in London. He sees a relationship between the dollar and gold — at a considerably higher price than $38 an ounce — being reestablished, with Russia part of the deal.

Russia, with its huge gold resources, might agree to sell a percentage of its gold output to the United States exclusively at a new high official price, for a period coinciding with the length of possible dollar credits granted to the USSR. He points out:

"The advantage to the USSR would be appreciable, since it is likely that for every dollar of gold it sells to the United States, it would receive at least $2 of long-term credits, allowing it to leverage its hand-currency resources and thus speed up domestic economic development.

"The U.S. advantages would be (1) a big new customer, (2) oil and gas desperately needed by this country, and (3) long-term protection for a new, convertible dollar."

Schultz, who has important contacts in the world's leading money centers, believes South Africa will not develop into a major supplier of monetary gold to the United States.

"They (the South Africans) will keep feeding the free (gold) market and European central banks, but will not supply the U.S. Treasury," he predicts.

One Man's Opinion

Uncle S. Has Odd Money Problems

By DON GRAFF

Sometimes it's possible to do a job too well.

Take the government, which has always put great effort into making U.S. currency something very special in the physical sense, using the sturdiest paper and most indestructible ink to guarantee durability and discourage counterfeiting.

The result is a currency uniquely resistant to wear and tear—something very special indeed, as any traveler who has had the self-destruct bills of many other nations crumble in his hands knows from personal experience.

Still, even the super-tough greenbacks eventually wear out. Worn-out bills return whence they came, to the Federal Reserve, which in the past has disposed of them by the simple and efficient method of burning.

Simple, that is, until the environmental movement began to have an effect on public policies. With the widespread adoption of antipollution ordinances banning large-scale burning, the government is turning to other methods of disposing of its old money—currently about 2,500 tons a year with a face value of some $12 billion.

The Federal Reserve would like to join the current trend toward recycling, chopping up the lattered bills for reuse. Which raises a difficult question: What use?

After going through the shredders, the fluff that once was money is still green since removing that super-indelible ink would be a very difficult and expensive process. And turning it into paper again—not good enough for new bills, but suitable for top-quality stationery—is ruled out as too tempting and convenient for counterfeiters.

The government is looking into various industrial and construction possibilities, packing and other purposes, so far the market can absorb only a fraction of the supply.

So, as it stands, the government faces a real and growing problem of how to dispose of money.

Considering how budgets and deficits tend to run, who would ever have believed it possible?

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Notice how Danny served as his family's psychiatrist at the age of only 2 1/2 years! For kiddies can sense the silent tension and certainly detect the verbal feedback between their parents. But children likewise quarrel every day, so they grow caloused to it!

Case U-557: Danny Landness, aged 2 1/2, is the only child of Carolyn and Conrad. His parents realized they often got irritable and might scold Danny unduly. So they made a rule that when Daddy came home from the office, tired and short-tempered, then Mamma would play with Danny and talk to him.

But if Mamma were tense and irate from her heavy day's work, then Daddy would take over. But one night both Daddy and Mamma were unduly irritable. So Danny picked up his little 5-legged stool, took it over to Mamma's chair and placed it at her feet.

What's your problem? He asked her. "Oh, he's just in one of those moods," replied the mother. "Tomorrow he'll be all right again!" A Chicago Domestic Relations Court Judge once asked me what I thought about delaying a divorce where both parents were feuding and quarreling.

"Dr. Crane," he inquired, "does it do more harm to the youngsters to let them live in such a home than to grant a divorce to the parents?" "Oh, he's just in one of those moods," replied the mother. "Tomorrow he'll be all right again!"

YOUTH BEAT

The National Report on What's Happening

Elvis Presley And the Finisher

By ERNESTINE JUGLELMO

On stage in a white-sleeved jumpsuit and a gleaming cape with a red satin lining, Elvis Presley with his ageless good looks, seemed miraculously transported from the '50s to the '70s.

And perfectly at ease at his press conference, Elvis Presley with the latest trace of his arrogant grin answered questions, like why he outstayed all his competitors with a flip "I take a lot of Vitamin E." He was still real smooth. "I'll be in L.A. to keep my political views."

The psychedella of the '60s shouted out that silence with slogans like "Right on." "Do your own thing!" and other vague exclamations that made people feel closer to each other.

Elvis Presley stopped touring and spent his intermission time at home with his wife Priscilla Beaulieu, while the Beatles and Rolling Stones took center stage. The elched slogans turned into political action as more and more groups began to come out for specific causes.

But Elvis Presley has survived all those changes, and despite his lack of political expression, he managed to capture an audience with his imperishable theatrical magic.

When Elvis Presley walks on a stage amid a blinding succession of flashing bulbs and screaming voices, 16 years dissolve as though nothing had changed. As though Elvis Presley had never been gone.

Two Sanford teams swing into action tonight as the District IV Florida Little League baseball tournament moves into its second night of competition. Four games are on tap tonight, with three in Sanford and one in Ocala.

The Sanford National League all-stars meet Crawford in the 6 p.m. game at Ft. Mellon Park. In the 8 p.m. game at Ft. Mellon, the Ocala Highland Nationals take on the Leesburg Americans. The Sanford Continental League stars battle the Kissimmee Americans in an 8 p.m. tilt at Westside Field. Ocala, W.O.W. and the Ocala Americans play each other in an 8 p.m. game in Ocala.

Four games are on tap each night this week until Friday. The tournament runs through Saturday. Tomorrow night's schedule will see Clermont meeting the Leesburg Nationals at 6 p.m. at Ft. Mellon, the Ormond Americans taking on Ocala Fischer at 8 p.m. at Ft. Mellon, a two-run double. Billy Whitley was the winning pitcher with relief from Billy Roush.

Gregg Allen, the losing pitcher, led Ocala Citrus with two hits in three trips to the plate. The Ocala team started the game with only nine players, due to a mix up in the game time. Several of their key players didn't arrive until after the game had started. Kissimmee jumped ahead 3-0 in the top of the first, while Ocala got one in the bottom of the frame. Kissimmee scored one in the top of the fourth, but Ocala came within one run with two in the bottom of the fourth. But Kissimmee scored two in the fifth and one in the sixth, while Ocala scored only one in the fifth.

There is no admission charge for the games. Ft. Mellon Park is located on East First Street and Westside Field is located on Parkman Avenue off West First Street.

The winner of the tournament will advance to the state tournament, slated to be held in Panama City this year. The Sanford Americans are the defending champions.

OCALA CITRUS first baseman Doug Weaver snags a foul pop-up while second baseman Doug Kuhn waits to back him up. The Ocala team lost to the Kissimmee Nationals 7-4 Friday night in the opening game of the District IV Florida Little League baseball tournament. In the other opening night tilt, the Ormond Beach Americans topped Tavares 9-3.

Seminole, Oviedo Meet In All-Star Tourney

A head-on collision of two Area Little League All-Star teams is slated tonight at the Seminole Little League park on SR 419 near Five Points.

Seminole's defending District 2 Champions are pitted against the Oviedo Little League All-Stars in a quarterfinal game in the Area 2 All-Star tournament. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Seminole's representatives, who won the district and went on to St. Pete last year, will again be managed by Jerry McCalvin and coached by Jim Mathis. McCalvin and Mathis directed the Jack Prosser sponsored Lake Mary team to the team title in the Seminole Little League and added more laurels by taking the Area 2 team tournament in Orlando.

The Seminole All-Stars will be led by several members of that Jack Prosser outfit who were on the all-star team last year. Mainly it was Tim Raines, Robbie Robinson and Jay Johnson who contributed a great deal, not only to the Jack Prosser team this year but the all-star effort of last season.

That trio made the team last year as 11-year-olds and should figure heavily in any success the Seminole outfit might enjoy this year.

Also from Prosser Ford comes Mike Wallstedt and Kevin Bedsole, a pair of pitchers who did a great deal to produce the success of the Lake Mary nine in the team tournament.

Wallstedt hurled a no-hitter at the Oviedo team champions, the Twins, and off that and his other mound efforts, figures to get an early opportunity on the hill. He may even get the starting nod against the Oviedo entry in tonight's game.

Among the power hitters on the Seminole team are Tony Schefstadi from Suburban Prosser in Altamonte, Jim Withrow from Scottie's in Casselberry and Mike Anderson from Panning Lumber in Longwood. Schefstadi is the big power hitter with a dozen circuit clouts this past season. Withrow and Anderson each socked eight during the season. Lake Potter Dodge in Altamonte put the trio of Steve McKenzie, David Hill and Bob Fite on the team. From Solak's in Altamonte comes Bruce Brewer with Schefstadi being the fifth Altamonte player on the team.

Mike Oliver from Longwood and Mike Cusack from Casselberry round out the Seminole All-Star. Alternates chosen were Jamie Barty of Altamonte and Mitch Lyles of Forest City.

Oviedo's entry, managed by Harry Cosh and coached by Tom England, has four members of last year's team returning.

Of the four returnees Mike Henson is perhaps the key figure. Henson has been the top pitcher in the Oviedo League for two years running. He allowed only three hits in his last three outings during the season and averages around 13 whiffs for every six innings on the mound.

The other returnees are Mike Cox, Don Jacobs and Brew Duda. Only Duda saw action in last year's tournament. He was the starting centerfielder for the Oviedo team last year and should be in the same spot this year. He's from the Cardinal team.

From the Twins, winners of the Oviedo loop, comes Kip Grant, William Carter and Chuck Starrett along with Cox. Henson and Jacobs of the Orioles are joined by mates Victor Blair, Calvin Ward and Lovanzo Vinson.

Pirates named to the team include Clayton Beasley, Sam Jackson, Ned Golden and Alvin Vinson. Alternates are Dennis Allell and John Wilson.

Grant led the Oviedo league in hitting with his .316 average which included a 15 game hitting streak.

Other top stickers were Blair at .467, Lovanzo Vinson at .460, Starrett at .471, Henson at .466, Jackson at .413 and Duda at .400.

Winner of tonight's game continues into the tourney tomorrow night at the same field against the winner of the Matfield-East Winter Park game.

Seminole AL Pony 'Stars' Play Tonight

Seminole Baseball League's National All-Stars will be on the sidelines observing the competition tonight while their American League counterparts will be in action elsewhere as Area Pony League tournament play gets underway.

The American League All-Stars will be at Audouin Park in Orlando for a 7:30 p.m. contest. Floyd Perry will manage the American League stars while Earl Leftwich will serve as his coach. Daniel Peeler is the business manager of the team. Chosen to represent the American League are Cory Goughenour, Jeff Welker, George Mahoney, Lonnie Peeler, Jeff Hodges, Keith Belout, Stephen D'Ercole, Andy Weaver, David Stealey, Bruce Hill, Donnie Andriano, John Larner, Bill Murdock and Phillip Leftwich.

The National League entry is the host team in a three-team, double elimination affair which gets underway at the Seminole Pony League Field on SR 419 near Five Points.

Tonight's game, a 7:30 p.m. clash, has College Park going up against Matfield's Pony Stars. The winner of tonight's game will meet the Seminole Nationals tomorrow night in a 6:30 p.m. tilt.

The losers of the first two games will meet on Thursday evening with the winner advancing against Tuesday's winner on Friday night. A fifth game, if needed, is set for 6 p.m. on Saturday.

Tom Storey is the manager of the Seminole Pony National All-Stars and has at his disposal the top hurler in the Seminole Pony league this past season, Mike Simmons, who posted a 12-0 record for unbeaten Zayre's this season, figures to be most in demand watching the opening game tonight since he'll more than likely get the starting nod tomorrow evening.

Also from Zayre's are

Henry Brown, Scott Michael, Kurt Storey and Gene Bowman. Lake Mary also had five players on the team with Bill Price, Mike Russell, Ned Raines, Wade Botts and Jim Leep named from that area.

Manpower of Orlando put Tony Cacciopoli, Steve Lang and Bob Bartlett on the team while Mike Laws and Jim Baird of Highland Memorial Gardens round out the team.

TOD BAIRD slides into second with a double for the Kissimmee Nationals. Baird collected three hits in his team's 7-4 win over Ocala Citrus Friday night. Four games are on tap tonight, including three in Sanford. Both the Sanford Nationals and the Sanford Continentals play tonight.

Tams Need Imagination According To 'Baron'

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Former University of Kentucky

HARRY SMITH (left to right) of the Sanford Recreation Department presents the first place trophy in the men's softball league to Roy Lisk and Ray Hodges of B and D Roofing and the second place trophy to Don Harvey of Lake Monroe Inn. The men's league completed play last week and these two teams will represent Sanford in the sub-district tournament beginning Aug. 1 in Leesburg.

baseball coach Adolph Rupp, the new president of the Memphis Tams of the American Basketball Association, says all the franchise needs is development by people with imagination.

Rupp said he would be responsible only to Finley "and that will be only if I should make a flop of the thing."

Finley said from Chicago that Rupp had accepted a three-year contract, but declined to disclose terms.

Finley, who also owns four hockey and baseball franchises, took an instant dislike to the old name of his Memphis property, the Pros, and conducted a $2,500 contest to rename the club.

It will now be the "TAMS," with the initials standing for Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi.

The winners of the contest was Bill Barrett of West Point, Miss., who had urged in his entry that the franchise assume a regional aspect in its operations. Memphis abuts the Mis-issippi and Arkansas state lines.

Finley said that Rupp will now be charged with naming such personnel as a general manager.

Rupp had been at Kentucky since 1930 and led his squads to a fantastic 979-190 record during his tenure.

Designer Does About-Face

By ALISON LERRICK
PARIS (AP) — In New York, Arnold Scaasi makes only made-to-order clothes. But in an unusual turnabout, he came to Paris, home of the haute couture, to turn his hand to ready-to-wear.

"I thought it was a crazy idea at first. Why would anyone need another designer in Paris? It doesn't make sense," says Scaasi, all affluter over his maiden collection of 22 evening dresses for next winter.

Designed in America, the dresses are produced under the label of Maria Mouset, a chic boutique on the Faubourg Saint Honoré. "It's a very economical situation because I only use French fabrics anyway," explained Scaasi.

Eight years ago, Scaasi — the proud possessor of the Coty Award, the Neiman Marcus Award and three Gold Coast Fashion Awards — resounded ready-to-wear, but the urge to return to it has been plaguing him for the past 18 months.

"It's a part of modern living," shrugs Scaasi, spotless in his navy blazer, sweater vest and gold tie.

French — thanks to a childhood in Montreal and fashion studies in Paris — so he settled down at the Ritz to work out the details. "I love the French," he admits. "I forgot that I know so many of them." But whether it's nationality or pricing, a Scaasi is a Scaasi. "My kind

Sutherland, Diahann Carroll and Barbra Streisand, whose costumes Scaasi also created for "On a Clear Day You Can See Forever."

"Of course," says Scaasi, "there will always be women who want made-to-order dresses. If you can afford them, there are certain advantages. They fit you."

As of next fall, the French — or the ones who don't care to cross the Atlantic for a couture dress — can snatch their own Scaasi off the rack. So can Americans, at stores including Marshal Fields and Saks Fifth Avenue, for $200 — $300, complete with that famous French workmanship.

"Take my little black sequin dress, for example. It's totally embroidered by hand and absolutely adorable. What a great shape!"

Everything in his collection is black, white or pink, or mutations thereof, because "I had to make a statement, so I thought I might as well do it by color."

The pink — which he dabbled with in his earlier palette — is a compromise between shocking and mauve.

There are no pants. "There's nothing wrong with them. It's just that you can camouflage things better with a dress. Liberation is a state of mind, not a pair of pants and an old shirt," says Scaasi. "It's certainly no coup for women's lib to have a lot of unattractive women running around."

Even men — including himself — "are sick of sweaters and casual clothes," he says. "I have a feeling people want to look a little better than they've been looking for a while. What they want is 'to dress up.'" of woman is over 25, sophisticated and wants to look more attractive than she is. She can afford to go home from the office, take a bath and change. She's not a kid who dashes out to a bistro in blue jeans... or whatever she wears to the office," he says.

ARNOLD SCAASI believes in reversing the usual order of things. Shown here with two of his models, this designer makes only made-to-order clothes in New York City, but in Paris, home of the haute couture, he makes clothes ready-to-wear.

Among the women who have popped, at one time or another, into his "salon" on East 56th Street in New York City — as couture as they come in beige, diaphanous and silver swam — for a fitting or two are Sophia Loren, Dina Merrill, Ariane Francis, Polly Bergen, Joan

Americans Returning To Their Feet How To Pick It, Pack It, Cook It

By AP Newfeatures
Americans have rediscovered their feet. More and more families are abandoning the luxuries of civilization and substituting legs for wheels, muscles for motors and pine needles for spring mattresses.

"Almost overnight, walking has become a national sport," says Rich Boggs, national sales manager, Himalayan backpacks. "Ten years ago, only a few thousand people had tried backpacking. By the end of this summer, nearly 20 million Americans will have put a pack on their backs and walked back into wooded terrain for a day or a weekend."

If you're ready to try it with your family, here are some tips from Boggs on how to get ready for the trip.

First, remember you will be carrying your complete kitchen on your back. Therefore, everything you take along must be calculated to the last ounce.

Manufacturers have already done a lot of the work. A wide selection of pre-packed, dehydrated and freeze-dried food is available and, on the trail, you simply add water.

If you'd rather plan your own menus, packaged soups, instant potatoes, powdered breakfast cereals, spaghetti, dehydrated vegetables and dried fruits make good camping fare. Fig bars and chocolate carry well for snacks.

When all your food is purchased, remove it from the cans and boxes, and determine how many times each food will be served on the trip. Then, make up a small plastic sand bag containing the amount of each food you need for one meal. Put seasonings and flavoring together. For instance, put sugar and powdered cream in with coffee. Knot each plastic bag low, close the food.

SUBSTITUTING LEGS FOR WHEELS, this family is all set for a backpacking vacation.

Decorator Says Colors Reveal Personality

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newfeatures Writer
Your home may reveal your true personality, according to interior design expert Virginia Frankel of New York. For instance, she says, color may reveal a lot about one's character. The designer had always decorated her own homes in white, but says that when she moved to her present apartment she began using brilliant colors. "I decided that I had become a happier person," she explained, discussing her recently published book "What Your House Tells About You."

Other facts Mrs. Frankel says ones house may reveal about ones personality are:

People who like bright, hot or acid colors — oranges, reds, strong purples, greens — are often bold, adventurous, with it, generally happy people. Blues and greens in the middle range speak of coolness and caution. Beiges, grays and muddy pastels may be used by a person who stays close to the safety line in behavior and taste.

Fifteen Docketed For Trial

By MARION BETHA

Fifteen defendants are docketed for trial the week of July 17 before Circuit Judge Tom Waddell Jr. The cases run the gamut from first degree murder and manslaughter to rape, attempted rape, lewd and lascivious assault and incest. Albert Evans faces first degree murder charges in the April 15 death of Damon Jones, who was shot in the chest twice with slugs from a .22 caliber pistol. The affray allegedly took place as a result of an altercation between the two men over a woman.

James Drake, 27-year-old Casselberry resident, is charged with attempted rape and assault with intent to commit rape upon a 24-year-old Orlando woman in May.

The woman reported to sheriff's deputies she was assaulted at the county dumping station on SR 419. Drake was charged with assaulting the woman in a car.

Roosevelt Barkley is charged with manslaughter in the Oct. 31, 1971 death of Charles Lambert, when he is alleged to have operated his car in a culpable and negligent manner effecting the death of Lambert. The incident took place on SR 526, Oviedo.

Carl Courtney is charged with attempted rape and assault with intent to commit rape in an April 1 incident.

Roger Maxwell is charged with lewd and lascivious assault upon a female child. (The Herald omits the name of the defendant in the incest case to avoid embarrassment to his family.)

Other defendants docketed for trial and their charges include: Steve McCummins, charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny; Carl Courtney, aggravated assault; Leslie Martin, grand larceny; Webster Ott, possession of a barbiturate; Michael Oviatt, possession of a barbiturate; Eugene Lester, buying, receiving, concealing stolen property; Albert King, breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny and Jack Yandell, breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny.

The state has dropped charges of breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor against James Hedwin.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By John A. Spolaki

Pardon the chuckle, folks... The day is gone when any one individual can guarantee a number of votes for this candidate or that one.

For all of those exhortations to "become involved," I do believe that many people are doing precisely that. AND MAKING UP THEIR OWN MINDS TOO!

Endorsed Scoop Jackson... (sorry 'bout that, Scoop.) The Mafia has their own kind of death. Mine is equally effective.

Don't invite me anywhere on July 31, please. Already committed to greet Flight 133 at McCoy AFB. Thanks to Lee Barnard of the Club Jaana... I do believe that many people are doing precisely that. AND MAKING UP THEIR OWN MINDS TOO!

PROCLAMATION naming this Sunday "Fight Drug Abuse Day" in Seminole County is presented by County Commissioner John Kimbrough (left) to Tim Rannick of the Seminole Drug Abuse Council. Proclamation is in conjunction with the Family Fund Airshow at Herndon Airport in Orlando Sunday which will raise funds to fight drug abuse in Orange and Seminole Counties.

sky-Diving Team Aids Drug Fight

Confirmation has been received from the U.S. Department of Defense in Washington for the appearance of the precision U.S. Army Paratroop Team, The Golden Knights, at the Family Fund Airshow at Herndon, Sunday, July 23.

The appearance of this 14-man sky-diving team in mid-afternoon will highlight this fund raising event in behalf of the fight against drug abuse in Seminole and Orange County. The Golden Knights program consists of several difficult maneuvers including the four-man formation. Four paratroopers bail out at 14,000 feet, and join hands during their free-fall. Another Golden Knight dives out, free falls, opens his chute, cuts it away, free falls again, then opens his reserve chute. Another Golden Knight features two divers out at 10,000 feet, 2 miles apart; they attempt to cross-cue one another path.

In addition to The Golden Knights, Sunday will feature penny-a-pound (dollar minimum) airplane rides, plus helicopter rides over the city, gliders, Dr. Steve Schalk in Johnny Boltons P-51 doing aerobatics, a K-9 of Orlando dog demonstration, a man-carrying kite from Cypress Gardens, U.S. Army reserve Medi-Vac's remote control aircraft, clowns and live music.

The event, is receiving the support of many civic clubs, concerned individuals and businesses and area armed forces units. Funds raised will be used to fight drug abuse in Orange and Seminole Counties, and Orlando Mayor Carl Langford has proclaimed the day as "FIGHT DRUG ABUSE DAY."

Entrance to Herndon for the Underhill Road on the south side of the field. Admission will be one dollar with children under twelve free in the company of adults. Many stores throughout the area are selling advance tickets for 74 cents. Nearly 4,000 tickets have been sold so far.

England Fights Proposed Hike

By TOM RAUM

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Reubin Askew's consumer adviser, Arthur England, said today he will petition the Public Service Commission (PSC) to suspend its June 30 approval of the rate hike while the corporate tax issue is being decided.

He said the move would be a follow up to Askew's request Monday that the PSC reconsider its decision to allow utilities to use the tax as justification for a rate hike.

The sponsor of the 5 per cent corporate tax that took effect last Jan. 1, Askew told the PSC that letting utilities pass the tax on to consumers put the tax burden back on those the tax legislation had sought to help.

The Gulf Power increase, which formally goes into effect today, was the first rate hike granted by the PSC in which the state corporate taxes were tallied as a cost of doing business in the rate-making formula. "I don't know exactly how we will get the Public Service Commission to suspend the Gulf Power increase," said England, "but I have all day to figure out a way."

In putting England on the case, Askew is making his first major use of the consumer adviser's post created by the 1971 Legislature and taking effect July 1.

England conceded that it would be unusual for the PSC to hold up a rate hike it had already awarded, but said the regulatory body was "wrong in allowing Gulf Power to consider a profits tax in the same way it considers sales taxes or other taxes associated with doing business."

Meanwhile, state Sen. Gerald Lewis, D-Miami, today filed qualification papers with the secretary of state's office, taking on Public Service Commission Chairman Jess Varbrugh for the Democratic nomination.

Request For Building Causes Confusion

By KATHY NIBLACK

CASSELBERRY — A hearing before the city's Board of Adjustment seems to be the only way to solve the problems and confusion which have arisen from a request to build a Masonic Temple — courthouse annex on Lake Triplet Drive.

The question came up last week when a contingent of members from the South Seminole Masonic Lodge No. 364 came before the city council to feel out the city's position on the proposed court house annex being located in the Masonic Temple. The council at that time asked for more information on the proposed building, especially in the area of parking, Francis P. Odo, Worshipful Master for the Lodge, presented this information to the council last night.

The proposed building, according to Odo, will provide 87 parking spaces. This is above the requirements of Casselberry ordinances, which call for 54 spaces. The proposed two level building, estimated at costing $120,000, will be used for Lodge meetings (lower level) and it had been hoped that the Board of County Commissioners would rent the upper level for use as a court house annex. After last night's discussion, this may not be possible.

The problems arose in the matter following a report by City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh, who revealed that the biggest problem is with zoning. The property was zoned in April, 1970 from RMA to C-1, but minutes of a council meeting at which this was determined if any commitments were made in this respect by the petitioners for rezoning (Masons) at that time. McIntosh also reported that the question must be taken before the city Board of Adjustment, regardless of whether the property is used for a Masonic Temple or professional offices, because neither is allowed under C-1 zoning anyway.

Former councilman Louis Kirby and Richard Wirtz were present at last night's meeting, and both disputed the idea that it had been the council's intention to limit the usage of this property. The minutes of the meeting in 1970 show that Wirtz made the original motion to rezone this "for a Masonic Lodge."

This cannot be definitely proven, however, since a Clark County Commission meeting cannot be found. City Clerk Mary Hawthorne is attempting to find the tape in order to prove without a doubt what the intentions were at that time.

Councilmen Edith Dwyer and Thomas Dwyer, who were also sitting on the council in 1970, both expressed their feelings that the council had intended to restrict usage of this property. Mayor Curtis Bellow also expressed this feeling. Bellow said that photographs of the proposed building were shown to the council at that time, and these photos did not indicate a two level, part commercial building.

Council voted to refer the matter to the Board of Adjustment for a hearing. The property owners must obtain a conditional use variance before they can build either a Masonic Temple or office space for a court house annex. The delay created by the hearing may rule out a commitment from the County Commission, since they are expected to make a final decision on this matter in the near future.

Jury Deliberates Murder Trial

By BILL SCOTT

Jury deliberations on the guilt or innocence of Albert Evans, 35-year-old Sanford man, charged with second degree murder in the shooting death of Damon Jones, also of Sanford, started just before noon today as closing arguments for the state and defense ended at about 11:30 a.m.

Evans is being tried in the April 15 death of Jones, in an incident of passion that resulted when both men vied for the affections of Deshae Mae Jones, no relation to the deceased, but according to testimony Monday elicited in the trial of Evans, a "friend" of both sisters.

With assistance state attorney William Bill Eaton, handling the prosecution for the state and attorney Hulan Ray, defendant's attorney, the following information poured forth before Circuit Court Judge Tom Waddell Jr.

Mrs. Jones, widow, said she and Evans were sitting on the front porch of her 13th Street home on the evening of April 15, when Damon Jones came by in his truck and asked her to come into the house to talk with her about the presence of Evans.

After a conversation between Jones and herself, Mrs. Jones Park Avenue apartment rented to Eddie E. Selway and Loraine Michele Selway, both 18 years of age.

Husband and wife were charged with possession of narcotic paraphernalia and jailed in lieu of $5,000 total bonds each.

Also arrested in the same foray on the apartment were Jose Raul Marti, 19, of Orlando, charged with possession of less than five grams of marijuana and possession of alcoholic beverages. Agents reported Marti had a match box filled with marijuana. His bond was set at total $502.

Earl Faircloth, 17, of 1405 South Locust Avenue, Sanford, was booked in lieu of $500 bond on a possession of marijuana charge of less than five grams.

Douglas Maddux, 18, also of Sanford, was charged with possession of more than five grams of marijuana and possession of narcotic paraphernalia after a wooden smoking pipe and two bags of "grass" were taken from the youth, an agent said. His bond was placed at $1,500.

Jeno Paulucci Nearly Drowns In Waterfall

Millionaire industrialist Jeno Paulucci, who shares his home between Deluth, Minnesota and Sanford, narrowly escaped drowning. The Herald learned today the incident occurred on Lake Terrille in Canada Friday.

Paulucci and his fishing partner, Frank Befera, president of WJBO Television, were on the lake, about 200 feet upstream from a waterfall when the outdoor motor on their small fishing boat stopped suddenly.

Paulucci attempted to restart the motor, while Befera tried to row to shore against the strong current. Both efforts failed and the boat plunged over the falls into white water and swamped.

Befera said he first swam to shore, but was then returning to help Paulucci, who still clung to the boat as he twisted down the rapids.

Befera had to untangle a fishing line wrapped around Paulucci's legs and then pull the boat to shore. The two men had to row some three miles back to their airplane.

Quiz Draws Response

Members of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce legislative and national affairs committee have replied to a questionnaire sent out by the National Chamber of Commerce requesting reaction to a number of questions relative to welfare, taxes, wage and price controls and labor unions.

On the subject of controls, eight members of the Chamber committee expressed the view that present controls over prices and wages should be tightened while three said controls ought to be lifted entirely and two polled wanted a status quo on the matter.

On taxes, 10 out of 13 polled felt there should be further tax incentives to spur research and development. Two voted no and one had no opinion.
