 SANFORD

Old Junior High To Be Demolished

A crumbling monument to the early 1900's will be torn down next week.

The former Sanford Junior High School on 9th and Palmetto will be demolished. The two-story building in the rear will be saved and renovated to make a new home for the Vocational School.

Sealed bids were opened yesterday for the demolition of the school. An optimistic school board had hoped that some of the material could be salvaged; and had even ventured that maybe a contractor would pay the board to wreck the place.

As the bids revealed, this was not the case. The lowest bidder was Henry McAllister, Sanford, who bid $3,650 to demolish and remove the building. The highest bidder was an Orlando firm with bid $10,995.

Representatives of the companies submitting bids told the board the building was in such poor condition that very little salvage could be obtained from it. Whole walls will have to be knocked over after the roof is removed. An engineering firm last year told the school board that fire escapes could not be fastened to the walls, for fear of pulling them out.

The firm also stated that a concentrated movement in the building might cause it to start away and collapse.

The school was built in the early part of the century. It was first considered unfit for occupancy in 1947. Last year children were attending classes there.

The newer section, built in the late '20s, will be made into six classrooms and offices for the Seminole County Vocational School. The playground will become a parking lot, there is adequate room for expansion in the future.

Seminole Realtors Told Of Services They Can Perform

Seminole realtors were told last night that their services go "far beyond that of making a deal," that they should, as a service to customers and to community, take a buyer around to show them where they can find utilities, markets, businesses and other places needed to be known to a newcomer.

Mrs. Betty Jane Boone Risinger, vice president of the Florida Association of Realtors, and guest speaker at the realtors meeting, stressed many points that they should know and do besides just selling a customer a house.

A highlight of the meeting was the installation of officers. William Stempert was re-elected president. Neil Farmer was named vice-president. Gladys Dawson, secretary-treasurer, Geraldine Waller, corresponding secretary, and Wally Dietrich, director.

Among the guests were Sanford Mayor Al Wilson and County Commissioner Chairman John Krider.

Mrs. Risinger said that a realtor "must know architecture, advertising and many little things, so that the customer can get all of the facts."

"A deal is like a parachute; you only get one chance," she said.

Mrs. Risinger gave four reasons why people buy: (1) for comfort, (2) the opposite sex, (3) to avoid embarrassment, (4) to protect reputation.

A motion for a committee to inform the Welcome Wagon of newcomers to the Sanford area will be looked into and brought up at the next meeting.

The dinner meeting at Jim Spencers was ended by singing Happy Birthday to one of the members, J. W. Hall.

U. S. Unveils Atomic Generator

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House today unveiled a five-pound atomic generator which experts of the Atomic Energy Commission hailed as a "significant breakthrough" in producing electric power from heat.

The new device was presented to President Eisenhower for a demonstration on his office desk by John A. McCone, chairman of the AEC.

The generator, according to the AEC, has an efficiency 20 times greater than any known before in the translation of heat into electric power. Its first immediate application was expected to be as the power source for broadcasting units and instruments fired into space aboard American satellites.

The device opens the way for use of millions of gallons of radioactive atomic waste material now stored in underground vats in the West.

The device produces five watts of electric energy. It can operate indefinitely.

Over a period of 276 days, the government scientists said a total of 1,450 pounds of batteries would be needed to produce the same amount of energy which the new generator could turn out. The satellite which broadcast the President's voice from space shortly before Christmas carried 20 pounds of batteries which lasted for 18 days.

Officials said the new atomic generator could have kept the small broadcasting station in the satellite going through next Christmas.

School Board Lets Several Contracts

An insurance committee was appointed by the Seminole County School Board yesterday morning.

The committee will advise the board on an insurance program for county schools, which are on the brink of a $3 million construction program. Appointed to the board were H. James Gut, Robert Korus and Andrew Carraway.

Bids were rejected on an inter-communication system for Crooms Academy. The board felt that a low bid of $4,807 and a high of $6,534 were "completely out of line."

Contracts were signed with John Burton, architect, for the renovation of Oviedo High School and the addition to Oviedo Elementary School, R. T. Milner, superintendent of county schools, told the board that the additions would be completed before the next school year.

Enrollment in Oviedo schools has increased by 31 percent in the last four months of this school year. The school board adopted a resolution requesting the city of Oviedo to close the road immediately in front of Oviedo High School. The board will pay Oviedo $500 toward the paving of a street skirting the present home reconstruction building and the proposed cafeteria.

Preliminary plans were approved for the Rosenwald and Midway Schools.

'Red Pepper' Papa Now 100, Plans To 'Live Little Slow'

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Luis Carrizales, 100, "red hot pepper" father of six children in the last 14 years, says he plans on "living slow."

The part-Cherokee Indian, whose wife was 21 when they were married in 1915, and on his 100th birthday Thursday he didn't plan to have any more children.

But he said, he had never been "sorry about our marriage."

"Living slow" didn't mean idleness, though, he said, celebrating the turn of his own century by walking a mile to the county courthouse for a new gun permit.

The lusty oldest, who daily skipped rope until he broke his foot at 85, still walks four or five miles a day.

After three marriages and 13 children, ranging from 7 to 80, Carrizales wasn't likely to consider 100 old. His mother, he said, lived to be 118.

He met his present wife, Mary, at a tire and rubber plant here where they helped produce war-time B29 bullet-proof tanks. He switched to painting in his later years.

"Carrizales' wife said he used to take "peppers in his lunch" every day to work. A foreman said he was "as strong and tough as any of our men." He retired from work in 1953.

George Barr Given Keys To Longwood

LONGWOOD—Opening ceremonies were held here yesterday for the George Barr Empire School.

The program was highlighted by Barr's talk to the 25 young men that constitute this year's student body. The ebullient Barr told the men about the great need for arbiters in organized baseball today, and urged them to develop judgment and self-confidence so they will be able to master every situation that arises on the field.

The men attending the school this year come from coast-to-coast, one from Puerto Rico.

Barr introduced Harry Brown, a graduate of the school, now umpiring in the Western League. Brown will be his chief aide. National League Umpire Lon Burkhardt, who came to Barr's school in 1951, fresh from the pitching mound of the St. Louis Cardinals, will also be an instructor.

Another highlight of the afternoon was the introduction of Mrs. John J. McGraw, wife of the legendary manager of the New York Giants. She was accompanied by Mrs. Christy Walsh, whose late husband was business manager for the great Babe Ruth.

Master of ceremonies for the occasion was Charlie Morrison of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. The Rev. Robert Stewart, Sanford Nazarene Church, gave the invocation. The evening was closed with a prayer by Chaplain Nilus Hubble, Catholic chaplain at the Sanford Naval Air base.

The key to the city of Longwood was presented to Barr by Mayor Al Lormann, vice president of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Recovery Chances Of Marshall Good

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (UPI)—Gen. George C. Marshall awoke from a comfortable night in "good spirits" today and the doctor said his chances for complete recovery are good unless he suffers another stroke.

The chief of medicine at Wackamack General Hospital here, Col. George W. Powell, said Marshall had recovered from the "immediate effects" of the mild stroke he suffered early Thursday at his winter home in nearby Pinehurst.

"The treatment consists chiefly of sedation to control any irritability in the brain," said Powell. "He had a comfortable night and appeared in good spirits this morning."

"He is talking and alert" but is allowed no visitors other than Mrs. Marshall, who is lodged in a room across the hall, said Powell.

The doctor said Mrs. Marshall was resting well and "bearing up as well as could be expected under the strain."

Powell said Marshall's chances for complete recovery are "good unless he suffers another stroke." He said it was difficult to estimate how long Marshall will be in the hospital here but "my guess would be about a month or six weeks."

2 Doctors Attend Surgery Seminar

Dr. Tom Lergen and Dr. Ed Lindsey are attending a "Seminar in Surgery" at the University of Florida.

The two Sanford doctors are learning of new developments in medical specialties which apply to patient care.

Main topics of the seminar include "Surgery of the Alimentary Tract" and "Thoracic Surgery." The series is conducted by Gen. James H. Doolittle, Florida State Board of Health and the Florida Medical Association.

The three-day seminar ends tomorrow.

Jaycees Request Courtesy Letters

Courtesy Week Chairman Dave Thrasher today appealed for letters citing courteous acts that are made daily by Sanford residents.

"Courtesy Week will have a twofold meaning if we recognize the unconscious deeds performed every day by housewives and other residents," he said. Letters should be addressed to the Editor, The Sanford Herald, and signed. Signatures will be withheld on request.

Courtesy Week will be held officially in Seminole County, Jan. 26-31. The campaign is sponsored by the Jaycees and the Senior Chamber of Commerce.

Teachers Attend 2-Day Workshop

Two Seminole County teachers are attending a two-day workshop at the University of Florida.

Ernest Cowley, Seminole High School, and Miss Frances Cobb, Lyman High School, are in Gainesville for the second in a series of four workshops in the 10th Annual Classroom Teachers' Workshop Conference.

More than 300 elementary and secondary teachers from nearly every county in the state are attending the workshop today and tomorrow. The conference theme is "Professional Improvement for a Changing World."

Bishop John Branscomb Dies; Funeral Saturday

ORLANDO (UPI)—Bishop John W. Branscomb, Methodist bishop for Florida and Cuba, died today. He was 33.

Bishop Branscomb had been hospitalized here since Jan. 6 with a heart condition. Doctors said he appeared to be on the way to recovery when he apparently suffered another seizure shortly before midnight.

He had been bishop of Florida and Cuba since 1952.

Funeral services were scheduled at 11 a.m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church of Orlando where he served as pastor immediately prior to being elected bishop. Burial will be at 3 p.m. Sunday in Union Springs, Ala., where he was born.

The family requested that no flowers be sent and that any such expression of sympathy be made to missions in Cuba.

The bishop apparently suffered a heart attack in his home in Jacksonville Jan. 5 but was unaware of the seriousness of his condition. He drove to Ocala the next day to preach at an evangelical rally and again complained of chest pains.

After the rally he called his doctor in Orlando who ordered him to go to the hospital here for a checkup.

He had been reported in fair condition since the attack although no visitors were permitted to see him.

Bishop Branscomb was named the "Methodist of the Year" in 1951 by the World Outlook, a missionary periodical of the church.

One Person Hurt; 3 Wrecks Listed

Ray Edward Connor, 80, Lake Mary, drove his car into another at 3:30 p. m. yesterday at French and 23rd St.

According to Sgt. Ben Butler, Sanford Police, Connor crossed French Ave. and did not see an automobile driven by Howard Lane, Atlanta, until he struck it broadside. Butler said Connor would be taken to a driver's license.

Another Lake Mary man, James A. Straker, 66, made a right turn into the path of a semi-trailer truck this morning. Mrs. Pansy Straker, 63, fell out of the car onto the pavement. She was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital suffering of shock, and lacerations of the scalp and elbow.

The accident occurred at Five Points on 17th St. Tompser Olin Garrett reported considerable damage to the Straker's automobile. Driver of the truck was Frank R. Covington, Lantana, Fla., S. C.

Mrs. Vivian Crosby Welsh, Sanford, also tangled with a trailer-truck this morning, when she struck Carlton L. Banks, Bridgeville, Del. Mrs. Welsh was charged with failure to yield right of way by Sgt. Butler, who said she did not heed the stop sign at Orlando Drive and French Ave. There were no injuries.

Tot Drank Quart, But He's Improving

LEWISBURG, Tenn. (UPI)—A doctor pronounced a 3-year-old child, found in a drunken stupor Thursday, out of danger today at a hospital here.

Dr. N. J. Phelps said Jimmy Lee Davis, "should be all right," but recommended that "the child be taken from his parents."

The boy's condition had been listed as critical Thursday, a victim of acute alcoholism.

"The boy's parents," Mr. and Mrs. Scott Davis, are in jail here charged with public drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The mother said Jimmy Lee drank about a quart of whisky while she, her husband, and her brother drank about two gallons of "moonshine," starting Saturday morning.

"Scott gave whisky to my young 'un. I don't do it myself. He gives it to them and I can't help it," she said.

Davis said he didn't "remember a thing about it."

The couple and Mrs. Davis' brother, Robert Shirley, were arrested Thursday by the state highway patrol and the child was taken to the hospital.

Phelps said the boy could not have lived much longer had he not received medical aid.

FSU Coach Gets Okay From Board

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The state Board of Control today approved Perry Jones as football coach at Florida State University with a three-year contract at a salary of $14,000 a year.

FSU President Robert Strozier recommended the three-year contract to give Moss "security and a sufficient time to prove himself."

The approval of Moss' contract to succeed Tom Nugent at FSU was the main item of business today for the board.

The board went along with Strozier's recommendation unanimously, pointing out that its policy against contracts for coaches did not apply to new men.

Moss was backfield coach at the University of Wisconsin. Nugent was hired away from FSU by the University of Maryland.

Blackberry Picker Finds $2 Million In Gold Bars?

CORSICANA, Tex. (UPI)—D. K. Jones, who says he found an estimated $2,000,000 worth of gold bars in a blackberry patch, is expecting the last today from Secret Service men.

He and his lawyer, Tom Pollard Jr., are offering to help the government in "every way." In the meantime, Jones refused to say what he has done with the 95 bars of gold.

"I never said I buried it again, like some pieces in the newspapers said," Jones said. "But I have it in a safe place."

He said he found the gold last May 17 while picking berries east of Alto, Tex. Jones said it was June before he knew what he really had.

He laughed at reports that some persons would get the gold money have been hidden by Cuban revolutionaries who brought it into the United States to buy guns.

Blackberry Picker Finds $2 Million In Gold Bars?

"That gold has been there a long time," he said. "I know that particular area had not been disturbed in 50 years. I have talked to other persons who were pretty old and they told me they don't think that area has been disturbed for about 100 years."

Jones said he thinks the gold was either buried in a box or cowhide.

"I found some peculiar looking objects that could have been decayed wood or cowhide," he said. "But whatever it was, it was all rotted away when I found it."

Jones said he did not ask the government what to do about it, but U.S. Atty. William Steger asked Secret Service agents to inquire into the case.

Jones, the father of eight children, works 12 hours daily in a service station. He has no plans to give up his job until he finds out how much gold he can keep.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SKILLED FINGERS

As the skillful fingers of the surgeon, work, prayers are on the lips of loved ones. Although there is faith in the knowledge and skill of the surgeon, all realize God's help is needed.

Eventually most men realize that skill and science are not enough. Even those of us who haven't been to church services for a long, long time find ourselves instinctively saying, "Please, God, when we face a crisis.

Why wait until then? God's providential help is needed by everyone—in time of crisis and in making the constant decisions of everyday life. The doors of the Church are wide open. Won't you come in?

says that the well water will be fit to drink and the sewage adequate for the area? These questions can be answered by two men: Val Robbins and Jim Leigon, sanitarians for the County Health Department. The pair covers the entire county with unflinching regularity.

Among their duties are the inspection of restaurants, trailer parks and tourist courts. They examine the fire hazards around nursing homes. Certain standards must be met, or the place is closed.

Closely related to sewage disposal, is the regular testing of waters in public lakes. Private lakes are tested on request. All swimming pools must be given the okay before opening, and regular testing follows.

The sanitarians are also responsible for rabies control in the county. Suspected cases are isolated for 14 days. All bites are reported to the Health Department by the doctor treating the case. The files hold records of a wild boar biting a county resident. Wild animal bites are not infrequent.

Fish and meat markets, milk suppliers and water companies require constant checking. Garbage and its disposal add one more unappetizing task to the already heavy burden carried by the two men.

In spite of their crowded schedule, the Department of Sanitation sponsored the first organized civil defense effort in Seminole County—the mass feeding course, where school lunchroom personnel (lunchrooms are another responsibility) learned to prepare and feed disaster victims.

As the department now stands, Val Robbins and Jim Leigon are serving a population of nearly 50,000. The state recommends a ratio of one sanitarian to every 4,000. This means that dreams of an education program in the schools must be limited to inspecting rest rooms and lunchrooms. It also means that building permits are held up, map files are not up to date and some acreage in the county has not been checked.

With the planning of a Seminole County Health Center, the sanitary department hopes to get additional help and better equipment. Top on the list is an X-ray unit which will seek out those who might spread disease to innocent victims. Robbins is quick to say, though, that present workers in restaurants and lunchrooms are required to have an X-ray every six months. But they have to pay dearly for it.

"Public health is improving," he added. "And we have the utmost praise for the way city, county and state officials have always cooperated with us on our requests."

"I can show you restaurants that were filthy little a year or so back. We kept insisting on improvements, one at a time, and now they shine. That's our reward for plugging away."

Officers Charge Doodling On Gum Sly Bookmaking

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Lamar Robinson, 37, says writing on dry sticks of chewing gum were just a nervous habit with him.

Some people like to doodle on paper, he says, but he prefers using chewing gum sticks. It's that simple, he says.

But police don't agree. They say those so-called doodles on two sticks of chewing gum were hot notations on horse races.

Robinson, who made a fortune off the evidence when the police arrested him on the opening day of racing at Santa Anita Park, Dec. 26, faces arraignment on bookmaking charges Jan. 29.

Smathers Seeks Better Justices

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI)—Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) says congress should lighten the qualifications for appointment to the Supreme Court.

He believes this would be preferable to trying to limit the court's authority.

Smathers has proposed a bill to require a Supreme Court appointee to have had at least five years of experience on a lower federal bench or state supreme court.

Smathers said if the bill were passed the court would not act like a third House of Congress. He said the current court has tried to legislate its own opinions into law.

Smathers spoke before the American Whig-Clamophilic Society a political and debating group, here Thursday night.

Borge Will Present 'Comedy In Music'

Victor Borge will present his unpredictable "Comedy in Music" Jan. 31 in the Sanford Civic Center.

The performance will benefit the Seminole County Heart Fund. The famous Dane will start the show at 8:30, when it will end, nobody knows.

All seats in the auditorium will be served, and the price of tickets is deductible. Mrs. Leonard Munson, chairman of the fund, said, "Patrons tickets will sell for $10 (other seats will be $5 and $2.50). We are hoping that all of Seminole County will turn out for the Heart Fund and Mr. Borge's concert, which is bound to be superb."

Jaycee and Jaycee Wives are assisting the Heart Fund with promotion and arrangements.

Small Fly Causes Big Tree Problem

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—The Florida Board of Forestry meets here today with a big problem over a small insect.

The sawfly has damaged 200,000 acres of pine trees in Dixie and Taylor counties, reported Frank Parker, board director. State Forester C. H. Coalter will report on the problem of control and measures to be taken against the sawfly when the insects resume normal activity in the spring.

The boy now can just distinguish between light and dark. Hugh is a victim of glaucoma, a disease that destroys sight through pressure inside the eyeball. He lost his right eye four years ago during one of the 10 operations he has undergone since he was an infant.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Thornhill, informed that the disease had progressed too far and could not be halted, had made arrangements for Hugh to enter a hospital to have his remaining eye removed.

Shortly before the child was to enter the hospital, the Thornhills were told about a telegram sent from a man named C. Shreve in Utah to the mayor of Natchez, Troy Watkins.

The telegram stated that Shreve had read of the Hugh's plight and he suggested that the Thornhills make one final effort to save the boy from total blindness.

Recommends Specialist. Shreve told them to take Hugh to Dr. Ferguson, a California eye specialist located in San Francisco. He said Ferguson had saved the sight of his grandson who suffered from the same disease few months.

The guitar is the second most popular instrument among amateur musicians in the U. S. The piano is first.

New York City is the terminus for seven major railroads; it is also the world's largest and busiest seaport.

The trip seemed impossible until the people of Natchez got together and collected a special fund to send Hugh to the specialist.

Thursday their efforts bore fruit. After a thorough examination Ferguson said he didn't believe surgery was necessary. He prescribed a course of medication and indicated Hugh's sight might improve slightly during the next

Red Cross Will Aid Lagging United Fund

The Seminole Chapter of the American Red Cross has decided to give up its annual membership drive to help the United Fund.

Executive Committee members, expressing a "sincere belief in the United Fund," agreed, unanimously, to devote their energies in an effort to put new life into the UF, now down $11,000 short of its announced goal.

This is a commendable decision on the part of the Red Cross. It is only through this type of cooperation and support that the United Fund can continue to exist.

Interest in the United Fund apparently has dwindled to the lowest possible point. Solicitation for funds, if any is in progress, is quiet and scattered.

Once a drive has died on its feet, it is very hard to revive. However, many civic-minded persons in Seminole County have brought up the subject after taking a look at the UF thermometer. Why not revive the drive?

The seven agencies which depend upon United Fund money still need it. They will attempt, in some way, to operate this year. These agencies deserve public support just as much in 1959 as they did in former years, if not more so now.

Sanford is making progress on all fronts. People are working to make this a better city and a better county in which to live. The "welcome mat" always is out for retiring citizens, tourists, new industry and business.

Much of this "selling effort" will go down the drain, however, if the United Fund becomes an admitted failure.

Success of the UF means much more than just funds for participating agencies. It means acceptance of a challenge by the community; it means the community recognizes its responsibilities to welfare, charity and youth groups.

Failure of the UF is an admission that Sanford and Seminole County do not care. If the county is unwilling to take care of its own, how can it expect to offer the outside world the benefits of a progressive area?

Your Kind Of Town?

Is Sanford the kind of city you would like it to be? Does it offer you what you think it should? What would you like to have added?

If Sanford is not the type city desired by the majority of its citizens, it can become so.

Sanford merchants have started a campaign which could, with citizen support, make this a better city. In their campaign, the merchants are "sticking their necks out," collectively and individually.

They have invited citizens to write letters to the Editor to The Herald to express themselves. They want to know how they might serve Seminole County better.

This is an opportunity for all of the people to work together in an effort to make our city and county more progressive. All helpful suggestions are welcomed.

Constructive criticism is a powerful force. Let's help the merchants to help us and themselves. Your suggestions could help bring about the changes you desire.

Granger Reports Jewelry Stolen

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The theft of $6,000 in jewelry has been reported from the penthouse apartment of actor Stewart Granger and his wife Jean Simmons.

An insurance adjuster filed the report with police Wednesday, stating that Granger and his actress-wife first noticed the jewelry missing Dec. 22 when they returned to their apartment here after a four-month absence.

Alaska's population, which is now about 211,000, reached an all-time high of 233,000 in 1943, due to the large number of military personnel in the Territory during World War II.

Inez Robb Says

BY INEZ ROBB
 There are horrendous things before which the mind boggles today, dark deeds too horrible to contemplate, and one of these is a frankfurter made of tuna fish.

An authoritative food and marketing column in one of the newspapers I read says that such a gastronomic blight is now ready for distribution in the nation's food emporiums. I submit that this delicacy may be a fish-furter, but a frankfurter it ain't!

Now before the whole tuna fish industry lights the fire under the tar pot and writes my employer, demanding that he liquidate me forthwith, let me say that I have nothing against tuna fish, per se. Indeed, I like the stuff, especially in sandwiches and salads. I am mighty partial to that delicacy so often served as an appetizer along the Mediterranean in hot weather. Salad Nicoise, in which tuna fish plays a leading role.

In fact, I have a kind of neat hand with a Nicoise in my own kitchen.

So, now that I have established the fact that I am pro tuna and anti-Communist, let me say — and this is not original — that there is a time and a place for everything, but there is no time and no place into which a tuna fishburger could possibly fit.

Let me warn the nation that if this trifling with the frankfurter is not stopped at once, its fate this and a dot of that, you've got Boeuf Vignerone or gourmet grub. Once you catch on, it's as simple as A.B.C.

And now the tuna-furter is making a debut in the gourmet circle, to be served doubtless with tartar sauce and a ladle of cold slaw on the side.

Well, if the next time you stop to buy a "Red hot, hot, red HOT," buy your "franks here" and the whole thing has a fishy taste, don't say I didn't warn you.

Of course, the real trouble is basic: nothing is sacred any more.

Washington Calling

BY WILLIAM S. WITTE
 WASHINGTON — The basic weakness of the advanced, or professional, liberals is being shown so repeatedly that their power in the new Congress may turn out actually to be less than in the old.

This is a seemingly incredible situation. For on the basis of the November elections, the ultra-conservatives should have their lowest influence in two decades.

And it is bad news, too, for a rational, or effective, liberalism as well as for this emotional, or ineffective, liberalism. What is this profound weakness of the advanced liberals? Their ideas academically are far stronger than their ability to put them into action. They lack proportion and a grasp upon reality.

They are daily alienating the practical liberals, with whom useful common causes could be made — if only the professional liberals were not alone so almost religiously right on every possible occasion. The result will be that an undue and unearned power will fall by default to the ultra-conservatives. Already, indeed, exactly this has happened among the Senate Republicans.

At least three times already the advanced liberals have demonstrated their odd ineffectuality:

1. The ineptness of their defeated campaign to unseat some of the Old Guard Republican leadership in the Senate has only consolidated that leadership. And they have gone out of their way to make the country suppose that liberal Republican ideas took a beating.

What actually took a beating, instead, was a widely unrealistic leadership slate offered by the liberals against part of the Old Guard regency headed by Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

In putting Senator John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky up to oppose Senator Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois for the GOP floor leader's post, the professional liberals made every possible mistake. Senator Cooper has true intellectual distinction and rare courage and integrity. He is, however, a shy man, far removed from the company commander type that makes a good floor leader.

The sensible alternatives to pressing Mr. Cooper — who is not himself a professional liberal — would have been quite plain: (A.) Not to challenge the Old Guard at all if humiliating defeat could be the only possible reward. (B.) Or, at least to make the challenge with a rival candidate known to have practical operating skill.

Finally, the professional liberals prepared their case, characteristically, by issuing manifestos. The Old Guardists simply lay low — and gathered up the required votes.

2. Again, many of the advanced liberals — who tend to suppose that any change must be good — rushed into happy embrace with some of the most right-wing Republicans in the House. The consequence here was to replace the old GOP leader, Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, with Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana. Martin, of course, is no liberal. But Halleck is a tough, able, typical Midwest Republican. He is likely to give the time of day to the professional liberals even less frequently than Martin did.

Thus, the top official GOP leadership in both houses has passed to men from the Middle West, a region that for 20 years has fought all liberalizing movements within that party.

3. The advanced liberals in both parties have got off to a very poor start in trying to change the Senate filibuster rule. (The filibuster, of course, is deliberate time-killing to prevent a vote on a bill.) Naturally, they set out, under the leadership of Senators Paul H. Douglas (D., Ill.) and Jacob K. Javits (R., N. Y.), with impossible rather than attainable demands. They wish to have the Senate agree that a filibuster can be halted hereafter by a bare majority, or a margin of one vote.

Douglas Will Push Integration Act

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) said today he is going to push for a federal law to advance school integration this year despite President Eisenhower's doubts about the advisability of such action.

Douglas said that he and a bipartisan group of co-sponsors would not be deterred by Eisenhower's statement that a guarantee of voting rights is the first step toward solving the racial problem.

The President, answering questions at a National Press Club lunch, called for Congress to extend and give more clear-cut power to the Federal Civil Rights Commission, which is scheduled to go out of existence next fall.

But he said "we must be very careful" about enacting any laws dealing directly with school integration and said "we are not going to get too far just by laws that operate specifically upon a state-supported activity."

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.) and four Republican co-sponsors are planning to introduce legislation next week to extend the commission's life until January 1961.

The fate of this, the Douglas bill and other civil rights legislation will depend initially on what is done—or not done—with them by the Senate Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.).

The obvious reality is that most of the Senate, including many authentic liberals, knows this to be indefensible extremism. But the advanced liberals have been busier in proclaiming their fighting intentions than in rounding up votes.

Theoretically, all things are conceivable. So it is perhaps even conceivable that the professional liberals can have their way here. But, if they do, it will be the authentic miracle of this calendar year.

After the meeting adjourned, the hostess served coffee and doughnuts to the 11 members present.

Working Girl Can Be Pretty

Almost every day can be a beautiful one for the working girl if she'll allow a few extra minutes each morning for sound make-up care.

In the present-day scramble to save time, we are apt to be a bit negligent of our health and appearance.

It is well to spend more time patching than it takes to keep up. The following basic beauty tips should help you look and feel fit if followed regularly:

Protect your face from direct contact with dirt and grime. Give your make-up a sound base by applying a foundation in the morning. Then use a touch of rouge, dry for oily skins, cream for dry skins. Next press on face powder lightly over the entire face with even strokes.

Brush off brows and lashes and finally apply lipstick. Treatment such as this will anchor your make-up firmly so it will last almost the entire working day.

Protect your hair from dirt and grime also by covering it with a turban fashioned from a scarf or a hat or prescribed cap if you are working in a plant. A snail-hair-do is more practical for women workers since it requires less care, give your hair and scalp a vigorous brushing each night.

Keep the following necessities in your desk drawer or locker for quick repairs: cold cream, lipstick, powder, Kleenex tissues and hand lotion. If you have room, include rouge, nail polish and foundation.

Basis for a good complexion and good health is eight hours sleep each night, at least half an hour of outdoor exercise and a well-balanced diet including two glasses of milk and eight glasses of water each day, as well as vegetables and fruits.

"Eat a good breakfast, too. That also will help you 'face' the day with a smile."

The dinner meeting of the club will be held at the Civic Center on Tuesday, January 27, at 6:30 p. m.

Lois Housholder Will Serve As Teller At Pilot Club Convention

Mrs. Lois Housholder was elected to act as the teller at the Spring Convention of Pilot Clubs in District Four. The convention will be held in Jacksonville on May 1, 2, and 3.

Mrs. Walter Carter, president of Sanford Pilot, announced the club responded 100 per cent in donating a dollar to be sent to the mental patients in Chattahoochee for Christmas.

The regular business meeting of the club was held Tuesday evening at the office of Raymond Ball, treasurer. Mrs. Carter presided during the meeting. She welcomed two new members into the club: Mrs. Winifred Hunter, Hunt Mercury Company; Miss Dorothy Cooper, office manager of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Beauty Contestant Successful Actress

By RICK DU BROW HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—They told Lurline Howell it couldn't be done—that beauty contest winners never wind up with movie contracts.

But the blonde Louisiana beauty, who is the current Miss U. S. A. comes from strong Confederate stock and is a determined young woman.

After proving her worth on several television programs—"Maverick," "77 Sunset Strip" and "The Bob Hope Show"—she has been signed to a seven-year contract with Warner Bros.

"I start at $300 a week," the business-minded 19-year-old said at a lunch in a fashionable restaurant here. "I get a raise in six months to $325."

Mrs. Howell, who is strikingly reminiscent of Grace Kelly, is in select company at Warner's. The only other women under contract to the studio are Natalie Wood and Carroll Baker.

Nevertheless, Miss Howell has her problems. Mainly, getting rid of her sugary Southern drawl.

"I'm going to work on it immediately," she said. "It's kind of an understood thing that it's got to go. All the producers kid me about it."

Meanwhile, Warner's has already started to mold Miss Howell into a more salable product. Her first name has tentatively been changed to Aylene after a series of trials with the likes of Arlene, Eulene and Arlyne.

Although she's a newcomer to the business, Miss Howell has her own ideas about what makes a star.

"Everybody has something different," she said. "With Grace Kelly, it was her smile. With Grace Kelly, it was her smile. With Grace Kelly, it was her smile."

Shoe Style For Teens

DENVER (UPI)—Modern shoe styles can lead to foot troubles, especially for teenage girls, says an orthopedic surgeon.

To keep flats on their feet, teenage girls wear shoes too short, Dr. Irvin Hendryson said.

The result—bunions that in some cases need surgery, he added.

The father of five children, Dr. Hendryson said he has as many misgivings about cowboy boots for boys. But he found a solution.

"When the kids watched TV and then demanded cowboy boots, I bought them, all right—and I made them wear them till their feet hurt so much that they were glad to get rid of them. I bought them a little bit shorter, by the way."

If a child's feet are a little flat, but he suffers no pain, let him alone, said the surgeon.

Parents worry more about flat feet than do doctors who saw 50,000 pairs of feet in their Army days and realize that most feet are flat by old standards. Dr. Hendryson said.

More Wives Become Partners In Finance

Wives are taking on the role of financial partner with their husbands to a greater degree than ever before, it is noted in financial circles.

Husbands ordinarily continue to take the lead in major spending and investing decisions, but today's wives are likely to be better informed on financial whys and wherefores than women were even a few years ago.

The thinking of two heads can help the family live smoothly within realistic budget limits and at the same time plan constructively to spend and invest to the best satisfaction of the whole family.

One area in which the wife's new role in family finances is noted is the buying of an automobile.

Women today want to know how it drives and parks, not just how it looks. They also are interested in the price and the monthly payments.

Women want to help find a place for the car payments in the family budget, the finance companies observe, and they are increasingly aware of the various phases of dealer's financing service, such as insurance against damage and coverage on the husband's life.

Besides current advantages the wife's familiarity with money matters such as this is also a form of "insurance" for her and the children. If she is left a widow, she knows something about how to manage the family's business.

To remove dents from furniture, put a moist blotter over the spot and apply heat from an iron. The heat and moisture will cause the wood to swell.

Football Is 'Show Business' To Nugent

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Most coaches may think the football season is too long as it is. But Maryland's new head coach, Tom Nugent, wouldn't blink at a schedule of 30 or 40 games a year.

This would give him more time to entertain the fans.

Nugent, a talkative, red-headed 45-year-old Irishman from New England, has a flair for football innovation, and his aim is to keep the fans entertained.

"Football is show business," he said. Nugent believes the ticket-buying public should get as much for its money at a football game as it does at the opera or ballet.

He goes about his goal with a wide-open offense which includes his own "I" formation, the regular "T," the split "T," the spread and two or three other formations he may dream up on the spur of the moment.

So far, his theory has paid off. In six years at Florida State University, he lifted it from the girls school class to right near the top.

To keep fans from losing interest in his favorite sport during the summer, he fished an annual coaches-player clinic here.

The quarterback of one of the teams FSU played last season said he couldn't understand how the FSU players remembered all the plays Nugent used.

The hard-working Nugent comes by his colorful approach to football naturally. He once toyed with the idea of being a song and dance man or a revue producer.

In five years with the Air Force, Nugent wrote, directed, produced, staged, sang and danced in several musical productions. He even did the choreography and designed the sets and costumes.

Sports writers call him the "Mike Todd" of football.

He worked his way through the college by singing with a band in a local restaurant to supplement a $3 a year football scholarship.

The saddest fan in Florida when Nugent departed Thursday for College Park, Md., was his milkman. The Nugents have nine kids and want as many as time permits.

Everything Nugent does, he does in a big way, with psychology and the big gamble his best weapons.

FSU's three practice fields are elevated at three-foot levels and only the cream of the crop ever sets foot on the highest level. Nugent felt this caused the players practicing on the lower fields to try harder.

His blackboard sessions are just as apt to turn out to be an hour or two of listening to a Dixieland jazz band as chalk talk. He used this stunt once to snap his players out of the doldrums after three tough games in a row.

A meticulous dresser, the Lawrence, Mass., native expects his players to be neat too, and makes them wear coats and ties on trips.

He uses a rotating color jersey system in practice so players have clean jerseys daily.

One of his biggest gambles at FSU was taking on teams far tougher than his light weight squad in the hope that a win or two would help recruiting.

His early teams took some bad lickings but in his last season, FSU beat Tennessee, Miami and Wake Forest handsily, made creditable showings against Georgia, Georgia Tech and Florida and played in the Blue Grass inaugural at Louisville, Ky.

His 10-year college coaching record is 53 wins, 41 losses and three ties.

Harris Takes Aim On Yankees' Perch

BOSTON (UPI)—Bucky Harris, onetime "boy wonder" of baseball, took aim on the New York Yankees today and intimated he intended to knock the perennial American League pennant winners off their perch.

The 62-year-old Harris was named general manager of the Boston Red Sox Thursday by owner Tom Hawkey. Harris succeeds Joe Cronin, who will be formally named American League president in New York Jan. 31.

Harris, whose teams won three pennants and two world championships in his managing days, said the position was "the high spot of my career. It's the best job I've ever had."

Harris explained that the first great thrill in his career was winning the pennant and World Series with Washington in 1921—his first year as manager—second base man and at the tender age of 27.

He led the Senators to their second straight pennant the following year but lost the series to the Pittsburgh Pirates. His second world championship came 22 years later, in 1917, when he managed the New York Yankees to a seven-game series win over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"A bigger high spot could happen here with Boston," was all that Harris would say cryptically.

But the remark carried a warning to the Yankees to look to their laurels.

It was only one year after the 1947 World Series triumph that New York cut Harris loose. Bucky was slated to move into the general management of the Yanks when Larry MacPhail sold his interest in the club in 1944 and George Weiss was brought in. Weiss promptly fired Harris, who had led the Yankees to their only league or second time before landing with the Senators again in 1930.

Glen Colson Seen As Track Longshot

Dog racing fans are wondering if a certain feet-footed stepper from the B ranks can step into tonight's featured ninth race and scoot to his second straight triumph at Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

In his last start, Glen Colson, a 65-pound fawn brindle dog, led a fast Grade B pack by seven and one-half lengths, posting an impressive 31.55-second time over the 5-16ths mile distance. He paid a delectable $31.40 for a $2 win ticket.

This is his first chance in the "major leagues" but the rookie beat Society Sister, a popular stepper, in his big win. In Glen's only two other races, he finished sixth and seventh. He'll be rated a longshot tonight, but fans will be watching him.

Many fans will favor Gasco, a 60-pound black and white dog who finished in the big three in four of his five season starts.

Also in the feature will be Mr. Figgstaff, Detergent, I'm Golden, Villanova 101 Brandeis 75 Buffalo 70 Buffalo Tchr. 62

It's Big Tourney, So Julius Boros Fighting For Lead

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Julius Boros, has won only seven major golf tournaments in his life.

But he plays his best when there is big money at stake. So it's not surprising to find him tied for the leadership as the second round gets underway today in the $50,000 Big Crosby national pro-amateur golf tournament, richest event of the winter tour.

Boros, in the past, has won such events as the National Open, the rich world championship (twice), and the Ardmore Open.

First prize here is worth $1,000, in the pro division, $2,000 in the pro-amateur division.

Thursday, Julie and Billy Maxwell, the former National Amateur king from Odessa, Tex., each posted 35-32-67.

Right on the heels of the leaders are John McMullin and National open champion Tommy Bolt, each with 68.

The pro-amateur division is led by Maxwell and Dr. Bob Knutson, a San Francisco dentist. They have a best-ball of 11 under par. Trailing are Bolt and singer Don Cherry of Wichita Falls, Tex., and pro Mike Souchak and merchant Bob Goldwater of Phoenix, Ariz., each with 62.

Some of the celebrities came through to add the pros in good fashion. Actor Jim Garner of Maverick, the television show, paired with pro George Bayer for a 63. At the same score came pro Lionel Hebert and ex-baseball star Jerry Priddy.

Tied at 69 in the pro division were nine shotmakers: PGA champion Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla.; Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio; Masters champion Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa.; Doug Sanders, Miami Beach, Fla.; Art Wall, Pocomo Manor, Ill.; Howie Johnson, Glenwood, Ill.; Bob Guality, Belleville, Ill.; Paul O'Leary, Bellflower, Calif., and Bo Winger, Odessa, Tex.

Faulk, Cornelius In Lead At Tampa

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Mary Lena Faulk and Kathy Cornelius led a star-studded field into the second round of the $7,500 Tampa Women's Open golf tournament today with rain and cold winds threatening on the horizon.

Miss Faulk of Thomsville, Ga., and Miss Cornelius, from Lake Worth, Fla., topped Thursday's first round shooting with even par 72's.

Patty Berger of St. Andrews, Ill., a former winner in this 13-year-old tournament, was one stroke back at 73. Three tied at 74—Louise Suga, Sea Island, Ga.; Julian Prentice, Birmingham, Ala., and Ruthie Jensen, Seattle.

Boxing Group Told Champs To Defend

NEW YORK (UPI)—Executive committee of the National Boxing Association left for their home towns today, after having received assurances that champions Floyd Patterson, Sugar Ray Robinson and Alphonse Halimi will defend their titles.

Cus D'Amato, manager of heavyweight champion Patterson, assured the committee meeting Thursday that Floyd would make not only one, but two defenses in 1939—the first to be signed "within a reasonable time."

Robinson, middleweight ruler, promised a defense before June. Ex-champion Carmen Basilio was mentioned among the contenders.

The committee issued a warning that Halimi of France must defend his bantamweight title within three months or the NBA would withdraw his championship recognition.

Almost simultaneously with that warning, came an announcement from Milan, Italy, that Halimi had agreed to defend—between March 20 and April 3—at Los Angeles or San Francisco for promoter George Parnassos, against the winner of a Joe Beccerra-Marino D'Agata bout at the Los Angeles Olympic Arena, Feb. 5.

Aaron Is Unhappy At Braves' Offer

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Henry Aaron, Milwaukee Braves slugging outfielder, today became the first member of the National League champs to publicly express dissatisfaction with his 1939 playing contract.

"The offer wasn't what I wanted," Aaron was reported as saying.

According to Milwaukee Sentinel sportswriter Lou Chapman, Aaron refused to disclose the terms of the new deal, but he indicated his concern about the pact by delaying a scheduled trip with his family to Mobile, Ala.

Contrasting Aaron's dissatisfaction, shortstop Johnny Logan said today that he was "happy" he got his contract. However, Logan too declined to divulge the terms, or if he would sign the agreement.

Pirates Need Lefty, Catcher

EDITORS NOTE: This is the fifth of 16 dispatches by the major league managers giving a mid-winter appraisal of their teams.

By DANNY MURTAUGH
Manager, Pittsburgh Pirates
Written for UPI
WOODLYN, Pa. (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Pirates made me the National League Manager of the Year in 1938.

Of the season I shudder, however, to recall that Milwaukee played .642 ball at the same time!

For pitchers, we have Bob Friend, a 22-game winner last year, the league's leading right-hander and the winningest Pirate in 30 years and rookie George Witt who couldn't get anyone out at the start of the year—and then came back for a 9-2 record and a 1.61 earned run average. Vern Law won 14, Curt Raydon had an 8-4 first year record. Ronnie Kline should have won at least 16, instead of the 13 he did win. Roy Face saved 26 games—tops in the majors in 1938.

I have a big hope that Folter will hit better next year. If he can approach the 1937 batting, we're set. He's one of the better defensive catchers in the league.

Strong infield

Ted Kluszewski, slugging Dick Stuart and Rocky Nelson give us plenty of offense at first base—and Bill Mazeroski and Dick Groat give us all we need at second and short. It's often said—and not by me alone—these two do more to win a ball game both offensively and defensively than any other combination in the league.

Frank Thomas at third is our big power man—35 homers and 109 RBIs last year. And our outfield compared with the best defensively—they all can run fast.

John Quinn Starts Beef-Up Of Phils

NEW YORK (UPI)—John Quinn did it with the Braves and they're all betting today he'll do it again with the Phillies—using the identical methods he did in Milwaukee.

Quinn, who helped lead the Braves to a world championship in 1957 and the National League pennant last year, officially takes over his new job as general manager of the last-place Phils today.

He has been given "complete free reign" by owner Bob Carpenter plus a five-year contract, which represents the first one he actually ever has worked under. His "contracts" always were oral ones in the past.

Quinn's first two moves will deal with the Braves and they're all betting today he'll do it again with the Phillies—using the identical methods he did in Milwaukee.

Conlin Gets Hot, Syracuse Triumphs

United Press International
Ed Conlin needed just nine minutes Thursday night to give Syracuse its seventh win in eight starts.

Conlin scored 15 points in a second period spree to give the Nationals an 11-106 victory over Springfield and save Syracuse to within two games of New York in the Eastern Division race.

Philadelphia edged the Knickerbockers, 95-91, in the opener of a National Basketball Association doubleheader at Syracuse.

The Nats and Lakers were tied 22-21 early in the second quarter when Conlin staged his spurt to give Syracuse a 32-42 margin in the last minute, but three charity tosses by the Nats decided the issue. Ralph Schayes and Hal Greer led Syracuse with 21 points each. Conlin had 17. Egan Baylor topped the Lakers with 19.

Paul Arizin, pressing Bob Pettit for NBA scoring honors, dropped in 30 points as the Warriors whipped New York for the fifth time in eight games.

Philadelphia, leading 86-82 with eight minutes to go, held the Knicks to only one basket. A jump shot by Woodie Saalhuber with a minute to go gave the Warriors the 95-91 edge and the game. Ken Byrns paced New York with 17 points.

Advertising Plan Could Aid Minors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Minor league baseball officials hope to give their treasuries a million dollar shot in the arm with a new promotion plan announced Thursday.

Minor league president George M. Trautman said the nine triple-A, 14 double-A, 11 single-A, 18 class B, 21 class C and 39 class D cities have endorsed the plan, first presented at the annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues last Dec. 1 in Washington.

The program offers national advertisers a package deal that includes 40-foot segments of advertising space on the inside of enclosing ball park fences, 30-second commercials each game on public time address systems, one sponsor's night each season when the public will be the guests of the advertiser.

The advertiser will pay each triple-A club participating $5,000 for class-A, a double-A club, $3,500 for class-A, and $2,000 for classes B, C, and D.

Plan, Inc. of New York, professional leagues advertising network, will sell the program to national advertisers, but minor league officials will perform research in the program and carry out the financial disbursement to the clubs.

Plan is a corporation specially organized by Trautman and Robert M. Feinster an executive of the Wall Street Journal, for the purpose of aiding minor league baseball.

Florida Upsets Miami, 85 To 70

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—The Florida Gators upset the University of Miami 85-70 Thursday night before a surprised crowd of 1,500.

Florida took an early lead and never relinquished it. The half-time score was 43-27.

The Hurricanes, the highest scoring team in the country, fought back in the second half and narrowed the margin to six points. But their rally was cut short when Dick Hickox, star guard, was thrown out of the game for quarreling with a referee.

Florida took charge once more and built up their lead once more. Bobby Sherwood, Florida center, was high scorer with 22 points. Hickox was high for Miami with 17.

Florida now has a 7-7 record compared with 8-3 for Miami.

Golf Tourney Set

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—The Baltimore Orioles have hired former major league catcher Mickey Owen as a scout. Owen, 41, will seek Baltimore talent in a mid-west area that includes Oklahoma, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Arkansas and Missouri.

and all are good defensive fielders.

Bob Skinner is left is capable of leading the league in hitting one of these days—Billy Virdon in center is rated by most managers as second only to Willie Mays in the field and Roberto Clemente a power guy to have around.

Rookies Coming Up

We won't have Clemente until a couple of weeks after the season opens. He went in to the Marines last October and is due back April 4. It probably will take a week or two for him to come around. But we have Jim McDaniel, who hit better than 30 home runs at Salt Lake last year, coming up.

We're digging into the minors hunting that left handed starter who can win. We're bringing up Alvin Jackson, a young Negro who pitched well in Lincoln. Fred Green, another big lefty who came out of the Army last year looked better than his so-so record at Salt Lake. He seems a real, good prospect.

Another thing, look for right hander Benny Daniels this year. He could stick with the club. He had a good record at Columbus in 1938, and unless someone produces, Benny will be in their pitching. He looks just about ready.

Color Photographs Lead To Murder Case Arrest

By DOROTHY FIANDERR
ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Color photographs taken at a sorority party shortly before the mutilation slaying of a young mother have resulted in a warrant charging her husband with murder.

Police said Thursday night the photographs showed Mrs. Ruth Ann Montague, 32, was wearing gold-colored, dome-shaped earrings later found in the possession of her student laboratory technician husband. The earrings were not on her body when it was found Jan. 8, the day after the party.

Mrs. Montague had been strangled, sexually molested, and her mutilated body abandoned in a car in front of the home where Phi Mu Sorority held its party on the night of Jan. 7.

In Court Pocket
Chief of detectives James Chapman said the earrings, encased in a form of plastic wax, were found in Charles E. Montague's coat pocket Tuesday night.

Montague, 34, the father of two children and a former mental patient still under treatment for alcoholism, was remanded Thursday to Malcolm Bliss Hospital here.

Montague, who has been alternately hospitalized and subject to police questioning for more than a week, told authorities he last saw his wife when she left home on the night of Jan. 7. He said he did not know where she was going, but remained home baby-sitting, dozed off, and later became alarmed when he discovered she had not come home.

Find Sorority List
Police, however, said they found a list of sorority meeting places tacked to the kitchen wall. They also quoted neighbors of the Montagues as saying they heard the sound of running water at 2.15 a. m. Jan. 8 and that the door of the apartment house was propped open by a chair similar to one in the Montague's kitchen.

The apparent "killer" was the discarded coat of the earrings in Montague's pocket Tuesday night, but Chapman said "we have more evidence that is just as damaging."

'Geisha Boy' Set For Ritz Theatre

Sunday is the day that will bring to movie fans the special kind of fun and laughter they haven't enjoyed since the last Jerry Lewis picture, "Rock-a-Bye Baby." It is the day that Jerry's new Paramount production, "The Geisha Boy," in Technicolor and VistaVision, opens at the Ritz Theatre, with Marie ("The Body") McDonald and Sessue Hayakawa co-starring.

"The Geisha Boy" gives Jerry new fields of activity—this time he carries on in Japan and Korea—and word has it that he makes the most of them, as only he can. The comedian will be seen in the role of an inept magician with a U. S. O. unit, whose rabbit (Harry Hare, according to the billing) is a lot cleverer than he is. Jerry meets a beautiful Japanese girl (Nobu Atsumi McCarthy) and her cute little nephew (Robert Kazuyoshi Hirano), who attaches himself to the entertainer in a way that complicates Jerry's life hilariously.

Marie McDonald has the fitting role of a screen and television glamour star of the U. S. O. troupe that includes Jerry, much to her regret, for he makes her life miserable (always accidentally, of course) from the moment they take off for the Orient. Hayakawa, by an odd coincidence, plays a Japanese bridge-builder, stern father of Nobu, who figures in a riotous spoof of "The Bridge of the River Kwai," one of the comedy highlights of the picture.

Realism Wanted, Brando 'Gets' It

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Marlon Brando wanted more "realism" in a movie fight Thursday and ended up with a deep gash over his right eye.

Brando, directing and starring in "The Eye of the Tiger," told character actor Slim Pickens to make a fight scene involving a jail break look like the real thing.

Pickens, portraying a deputy sheriff, flailed away with a rifle and accidentally caught escaping bandit Brando over the eye with the butt of the rifle. Brando had the wound stitched up, received a U. S. O. unit, whose rabbit (Harry Hare, according to the billing) is a lot cleverer than he is. Jerry meets a beautiful Japanese girl (Nobu Atsumi McCarthy) and her cute little nephew (Robert Kazuyoshi Hirano), who attaches himself to the entertainer in a way that complicates Jerry's life hilariously.

Syria Says Israel Opened Fire Again

DAMASCUS, Syria (UPI) — A Syrian army spokesman said an Israeli boat opened fire on Arab villages on the east shore of Lake Tiberius Thursday night and that one Arab was wounded.

He said the shooting was the "second unprovoked Israeli aggression this week" and that a complaint had been filed with the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission.

In Jerusalem, an Israeli army official said Syrian troops opened heavy machinegun fire on an Israeli fishing boat in Lake Tiberius and that an accompanying Israeli police launch returned the fire. He said neither boat was hit and that the fishing was resumed when the shooting stopped.

Cold Wave Brings Snow, Winds, Rain

United Press International
A cold wave, which brought seven-inch snows in Texas and high winds in Mississippi and Georgia, drove deep into Dixie today and eastward across the Appalachians.
Overnight readings plunged to near 15 below zero in northern Minnesota and eastern North Dakota while near zero temperatures chilled northern Illinois, a drop of 20 degrees from the previous night's low.
Wind gusts of 40 miles an hour powered the cold air into the Gulf of Mexico where Jackson, Miss., registered a 35-degree reading early today after reaching a high of 65 Thursday. Light snow accompanied the cold in Jackson.

In the Texas Panhandle, high winds piled a seven-inch snowfall into drifts. Authorities said roads were open but slick and hazardous. Four inches of snow accumulated at Dalhart and Dumas, Tex. A dense fog which shrouded sections of the East and South in advance of the cold air Thursday played a part in a series of airplane accidents.

At Portland, Conn., a four-engine Air Force C54 Skymaster crashed in flames during a dense fog Thursday night, killing two of three men aboard. The survivor was hospitalized in serious condition.

An Eastern Air Lines DC7 with 59 persons aboard crash-landed off a runway in a heavy fog at New Orleans. No one was injured. A fog bank blanketed Moody Air Force Base near Valdosta, Ga., just as three Air Force jets ran out of fuel. Two of the jets landed safely on highways and the third crashed into a farm. The five airmen aboard the planes escaped injury.

Damaging winds also plagued the South Thursday as a small twister was reported near Cumming, Ga., and violent wind gusts damaged 25 homes at Kosciusko, Miss. Gusts of 51 miles an hour hit Atlanta.

Snow was general during the night in the upper Ohio Valley into western New York and northern New England. Heavy rains soaked Alabama, Georgia and Florida with amounts of up to one inch reported at several points.

Judge To Appear In U. S. Court; Has No Comment

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Alabama Circuit Judge George Wallace will be required Jan. 25 to show cause why he should not be found in contempt for refusing to surrender voting records to the Civil Rights Commission.

Federal Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. cited Wallace for contempt here Thursday after the Clayton jurist earlier this week handed over the records to grand juries for a local vote fraud investigation.

Wallace refused comment but a spokesman on his behalf said the commission "backed down" on every issue. They came down here arrogantly and have backed down, showing that states' rights have won the issue."

Johnson, a former law school classmate of Wallace at the University of Alabama, ordered the segregationist "to show cause if there be any reason why he should not be found guilty of criminal contempt."

Three times the 39-year-old Wallace refused to honor subpoenas or, as he put it, to "dignify" the commission by appearing before it.

He sidestepped the third order by turning the registration books over to the grand juries of Barbour and Bullock counties. The grand juries allowed commission agents to examine the books.

Wallace could be fined up to $1,000 or given six months in prison if found guilty of contempt by a jury, or $300 and 45 days in jail if found guilty by a judge.

Heart Operation Outcome In Doubt

MIAMI (UPI)—Mrs. Evie Mae Trant of Haines City took a turn for the worse today following a delicate heart operation.

Doctors at Jackson Memorial Hospital listed Mrs. Trant in "serious condition" after spending a "poor night" earlier, she had been reported holding her own. The woman underwent surgery Wednesday to correct two faulty openings in her heart.

Guilt Pleas Made By 2 Ex-Deputies

BARTOW (UPI)—Two former deputies involved in the sensational 1956 Polk County bribe scandal have pleaded guilty to perjury charges.

Rolie Arnold and James L. Busbee, deputies at the time of the scandal, each pleaded guilty Thursday to charges of perjury and conspiracy to commit perjury.

Their cases were referred to a parole officer for a presentence investigation.

The scandal came to light in the May, 1956, Democratic primaries when state Rep. Boone Tillitt Jr. accused state Sen. Harry King of offering him a $10,000 bribe to withdraw from the Senate race.

King, former Polk County sheriff Pat Gordon, Arnold, Busbee and another deputy were tried and convicted on perjury charges during the investigation. But the state Supreme Court threw out the verdicts on trial technicalities and ordered a new trial.

King won the right to a separate trial which opens next Tuesday.

Marshall Always Answered Duty Call

United Press International
Gen. George Catlett Marshall is a man who never could say no to his country when it needed him.

Marshall, who suffered a brain spasm Thursday at his Pinehurst, N. C. winter home, played a prominent role in U. S. affairs first as a military man and then as a statesman and cabinet officer from the years after World War I until his final retirement from public life in 1953.

Although the foundation of his fame rested on military achievement, the 78-year-old Marshall won the Nobel Prize in 1953 for his contributions to peace.

Former President Truman once characterized Marshall as "the greatest living American." Only Thursday, one of Marshall's famed military protégés—President Eisenhower—spoke feelingly of his "almost veneration" of Marshall.

The soft-spoken general directed the greatest array of armed might in military history as Army chief of staff during World War II. When the war was won he wanted to rest.

But seven days after his retirement, President Truman asked Marshall to be his personal representative in an effort to end the civil war in China.

After more than a year of patient but futile efforts, Marshall quit his mission in disgust and again sought retirement.

But Truman asked him to become secretary of state. Marshall, always a man of Spartan devotion, could not refuse. It was in this post that he enunciated at Harvard University in 1947 what was to become famed as the "Marshall Plan," later credited with saving Europe from economic chaos and Communist domination after World War II.

With the Marshall Plan doing his work, the general once again resigned and returned to the quiet of his tree-shaded home at Leesburg, Va. He wanted only to tend his garden and rest.

But there was no rest for Marshall.

Named Defense Secretary He was called back into harness as secretary of defense when troops of Communist North Korea invaded South Korea and the United States went to the aid of that threatened little democracy. After whipping the country's armed forces into fighting shape, Marshall again retired to private life.

Marshall is well known for his stern way of dealing with his associates. It is said that during his public career he never addressed any of his associates by their first names.

Marshall married twice. His first wife, Lily Carter Coles, was a childhood sweetheart. Following her death, he married Mrs. Katharine Boyce Tupper Brown of Baltimore.

He has no children of his own but was stepfather to his second wife's three children. One, Lt. Allen Tupper, was killed in action during the Italian campaign.

Astronomers began studying meteors in earnest after the night of Nov. 12, 1833, when the skies over North and South America were lighted up with thousands of shooting stars, convincing millions that the world was about to end.

The steel industry in the U. S. reinvested 54 per cent of its nearly seven billion dollars in total earnings between 1950 and 1957.

Illness Is Fatal To Union Official

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—Don S. Hurd, secretary-treasurer of the International Typographical Union since 1946, died at the Union Printers' Home here Thursday night. He was 80.

Hurd had been in failing health since last spring. He left I.T.U. headquarters in Indianapolis, Ind., on Dec. 19 to enter the home's hospital here.

A native of Sheridan, Wyo., he joined the printers' union when he was 19. His father and grandfather were printers.

Hurd devoted most of his life to printers organizations, and he served for 13 years as secretary-treasurer of the International Allied Printing Trades Assn. Burial will be in Indianapolis.

No Sex By Phone LONDON (UPI)—Following a complaint from an angry husband that a telephone operator told him his new baby was a boy, when it really was a girl, a London hospital placed this sign over its switchboard: "No sex must be given out over the phone."

Oranges Carry Sanford Stamp Oranges stamped with "Sanford Manufacturing Co., Sanford, Fla." are being distributed this week at the Hotel Statler in New York City.

Marvin Meltzer, manager of the local firm, conceived the idea as a gimmick for the National Wholesale Drygoods Convention, Jan. 19-22.

When salesmen visit the display room, they receive a juicy orange, hand-stamped by Meltzer's sister, Mrs. Gertrude Reiter. Mrs. Reiter volunteered for the job when the firm wanted something different for its convention showrooms. She is a resident of New York City.

The oranges were shipped from United Fruit Co. in Sanford.

Tots Gas-Soaked, Set Afire, Saved; Mother Charged

BARTOW, Fla. (UPI)—A 21-year-old woman was charged today with pouring gasoline on her two tiny children and setting them on fire because they were "getting on my nerves" and interfering with her love life.

Mrs. Juanita Irene Hamill told sheriff's deputies she locked her 4-year-old daughter, Sharon Kay, and 3-year-old son, Olin Vivian, in the bathroom of their home at Polk City Sunday and waited for the flames to end their lives.

But she said their screams of agony caused her to relent and send for neighbors, who battered down the bathroom door.

Little Sharon Kay was reported in serious condition in a hospital from burns over 25 per cent of her body. The boy escaped with minor burns.

The sobbing woman told Sheriff Hagan Parrish the children were ruining her romance with a 6-foot-3 pipe worker, William Ernest Cabo, 40, of Sevierville, Tenn. The two had been living together for the past five weeks.

She was charged on two counts of attempted murder and adultery.

Mrs. Hamill said she was separated from her husband, Grover Hamill, now living in Emmet, Idaho. She gave her home address as Iola, Kansas.

Mrs. Hamill said she and Cabo decided last Saturday they couldn't stand the children any longer and would return them to their father in Idaho.

"They were getting on our nerves," she said.

But Sunday, she said, she poured two gallons of gasoline over the children, put them in the bathroom and threw a match on them. Then she locked the door.

Mikoyan Angered; So Is State Dept.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan said today the State Department is conducting a "cold war" that affects world trade.

The department immediately accused him of abusing U.S. hospitality by making "fatuous" remarks about the government.

The exchange, the most unfriendly of Mikoyan's visit to this country, came after the No. 2 Soviet leader met for 45 minutes with C. Douglas Dillon, undersecretary of state for economic affairs.

Mikoyan told newsmen that "the cold war in the State Department is still going on and it affects foreign trade." His talks with Dillon were aimed at expanding U.S.-Soviet trade.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White sharply criticized Mikoyan's statement.

"This allegation is fatuous on the face of it, particularly when it comes at the close of a tour of this country where this man has been very cordially received by all classes of American citizens," White said.

Juveniles Attack Negroes In Park

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Three separate roving bands of white teen-agers attacked three groups of Negroes in the sprawling and recently integrated City Park here during the weekend.

Of the 18 Negroes attacked in the park two were injured. One of the Negroes was knocked unconscious.

Police today continued their investigation and search for the bands of teen-agers. Officers said they suspected many of the estimated 25 white youths involved in the gangs were juveniles.

The Negroes who were attacked, including a Negro Boy Scout troop, said they were patrolled by stunts and clubs and the attacks caught them by surprise.

The violence was the first in the city since several federal court orders went into effect last year. City Park was integrated a month ago by federal court order.

Both of the injured Negroes, whose injuries were considered minor, were treated by private physicians.

Negro Scoutmaster Herbert Jackson, 29, told police some $200 in damage was done to his car by the rock-throwing white juveniles. Windows in the auto were smashed, tires damaged and the fenders bent.

President Submits $77 Billion Budget To Angry Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today sends his $77 billion dollar balanced budget to Congress where it faces sharp attacks from the Democratic majority.

Even before the budget message reached Capitol Hill, Democrats and Republicans were wrangling over the President's proposal to cut government spending in the 1960 fiscal year.

House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck said the budget could be kept in balance unless the Democrats went "hog-wild" on spending and proposed a lot of new programs.

The Democrats replied that the President's budget was unrealistic and politically inspired. They accused the Republicans of trying to put a "spender" label on their party.

Eisenhower already has challenged the Democrats to stay within his budget limits. In his State of the Union message last week, he held out hopes for a small tax reduction if the budget can be kept in balance.

The contemplated 1960 spending total compares with estimated spending of $69,900,000,000 and a deficit of about 12 billion in the current fiscal year which ends June 30.

The Democrats served notice they intended to take a close look at the new budget, especially the proposed spending for missiles and defense in the race with Russia for space supremacy.

The President's defense program calls for an outlay of about 41 billion dollars for the armed forces in the next fiscal year, about the same as this year. But defense officials said that funds for space missiles would be increased.

Schools May Open On 'Mixed' Basis

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—Federal and state courts struck down Virginia segregation laws today in a double-barreled attack that brought a new era of crisis over the state's massive resistance stand against public school integration.

Emergency action was expected soon, possibly including a special session of the General Assembly to deal with the situation. The rulings were in the State Supreme Court of Appeals in Richmond and in a federal court at Norfolk.

Nine Virginia schools have been closed, throwing 13,000 children out of public schools since September because of the state's law forbidding integrated facilities in public schools.

The state high court ruled first—denying a petition by the attorney general to force the compulsory general use of a law granting tuition money for private instruction to pupils thrown out of public schools by integration closings.

Hard on the heels of the state action, a three-judge federal panel at Norfolk declared unconstitutional one of the state's "massive resistance" laws used to close some schools in the port city.

The state's highest court, in a 5-2 split decision, ruled that one of the laws to automatically close integrated schools and to cut off state funds to integrated schools violates the Virginia constitution.

The federal court, in its unanimous ruling, specifically struck down the actual closure law, considered the key stone in Gov. J. Lindsay Almond's determined efforts to resist integration. Almond was expected to appoint a legislative commission to draft new legislation for a General Assembly session, possibly in February.

The possibility existed that today's two historic rulings could lead to limited integration during the interim before the Legislature can meet.

City Fines 2 Men For Blaze Hassle

The decision of a protection agency is final, George Dangleman and George Snyder discovered Friday.

The two men were found guilty of preventing firemen from doing their duty by City Judge Ambrose Oltiff.

The case arose Jan. 8 when Fire chief Mack Cleveland sent the fire-truck to extinguish a trash fire at Fifth and French, where Dangleman was clearing a lot.

Firemen Carl Smith and Alvin Hittell testified that Dangleman and Snyder fought with them as they attempted to drown the fire. Dangleman previously had been given permission by Cleveland to burn trash in small piles on the lot, which is near a large fuel tank. When a fire was built earlier in the day exceeding the Chief's specifications, he revoked the permission.

When Cleveland passed the lot at 6:30 that night, he again saw the fire and called out the truck. A resulting struggle brought aid from police and City Manager Warren E. Knowles.

Mack Cleveland Jr. prosecuted for the city in the case. Dangleman was fined $200, of which $150 was suspended. Snyder was fined $100, with a suspension of $75.

Chief Cleveland said that the two men came to the fire station some days before the trial and apologized for their behavior.

Baths, Liquor Credited With Saving Man's Life

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (UPI)—William Korpi said today he owed his life to Finnish baths and the wintering effect of a "couple of gallons" of whiskey.

Korpi, 34, was asleep in a snow bank when two surveyors chanced upon him Friday on Drummond Island at the tip of the eastern end of Michigan's upper peninsula. He was "stiff as a board" after 16 hours of exposure to zero temperatures.

"I'm Finnish," Korpi told United Press International. "We can take the cold."

Korpi was born in this country but his father, Otto, immigrated from Finland before the turn of the century.

He said his victory over the elements might be due partly to his practice of taking Finnish baths. He agreed it takes some doing to jump into a snow drift after sitting in a steam room along side hot rocks, "but there's a bath that's good for you."

Doctors disagreed as to whether the large amount of alcohol in Korpi's blood had actually served as an anti-freeze, keeping his blood from icing and bursting the blood vessels in the cold.

Korpi joked that he had stoked up on "a couple of gallons" of whiskey. He said he had been visiting a friend and started home with two bottles in his pocket.
