WILL AMERICA ARRANGE NEW PEACE TREATY

BERLIN OFFICIALLY DENIES THAT AMERICAN AID HAS BEEN EXTENDED

OR ANY APPOINTMENT OF COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE CONDITIONS

FOR NEW TREATY

Defining Amount of Reparations That Germany Should Pay

(By The Associated Press) BERLIN, Dec. 22.—It was officially denied here that Chancellor Cuno or other government official had suggested the appointment of an American commission to investigate Germany's economic condition, with a view to effecting a new treaty defining the amount of reparations Germany should pay to the Allies.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The question of America extending aid toward the solution of economic troubles of Europe has been brought sharply to the front with the emerging of a plan under which an American commission would determine what Germany should pay the Allies in reparations. The proposal so far has not been discussed outside of formal channels of diplomacy, but the understanding in authoritative circles has been developed through the exchange of views to such an extent that the United States, Great Britain and Germany are willing to assent to the creation of such a commission. Premier Poincare of France now has the plan before him and is expected to make a decision when he has concluded a series of conferences with industrial leaders of France and Germany.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—A plan under which an American commission would determine how much Germany should be required to pay the Allies in reparations has emerged from the effort to find a way for extending American aid toward a solution of the economic troubles of Europe.

Although discussions of the proposal have been kept thus far outside the formal channels of diplomacy, the exchange of views has developed a thorough understanding in authoritative circles that the United States, Great Britain and Germany are all willing to assent to the creation of such a commission.

The plan now is before Premier Poincare of France and he is expected to make a decision after he has concluded a series of conferences with industrial leaders of his own country and Germany. It is assumed it will be communicated later to all the nations interested in reparations payments.

Officials of the Washington government who, from the beginning of the present discussion have been unwilling to do more than hint that a way was being sought to render aid toward a European settlement, declined today to discuss the plan for an American commission. Secretary Hughes however, did issue a statement saying the "government" had presented "no proposal on the subject."

The plan for an American commission first was disclosed early today in an Associated Press dispatch from London where the proposal had been actively under discussion. The dispatch credited the Chamber of Commerce of the United States with having first laid the suggestion before Secretary Hughes, and it was learned here today that much of the actual discussion which has taken place since that time has been conducted in behalf of American industry by the officials of the chamber.

At the state department there was a disposition between the activities of American and other business men in regard to the problem and the moves made by Government officials themselves. It has become clear during the day, however, that the two groups had kept in the closest touch and that not only Secretary Hughes but Secretary Hoover and others high in the administration were fully advised of efforts made by President Julius II

Bishops Asks Nations to Repent for Their Part in the War

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Scoring what it terms "unjust accumulation and inequitable distribution of huge profits by financial corporations" and the distribution of "rewards of conquest in the form of governmental monopolies," the board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, in a statement issued here, calls upon nations to "individual and national repentance for whatever share we may have taken in the defense and support of un-Christian programs of power." The statement was adopted by twenty-six bishops in conference. "America," the statement says, "should unhesitatingly accept her full responsibility for leadership in the restoration of a broken world. She should refuse to sanction any war except for strictest self-defense of humanity. She should continue to advocate universal disarmament and should not hesitate in asking that an international conference be called for this great purpose."

The growth of "personal and organized greed has limited and often defeated" the ideals of Christian society, the statement continued. "The first corrective of the world's woe is sincere repentance. The second corrective is the organization of political and social life everywhere upon the basis of the welfare of all."

"We deplore the unjust accumulation and inequitable distribution of huge surplus profits by financial corporations. We insist that Christian principles shall be applied alike to capital and labor."

"We deplore the distribution of rewards of conquest in the form of governmental monopolies and territorial control for personal and selfish advantage."

"We deplore the investment of taxes in armaments and pompous display, and urge the nations of the world not only to limit but to destroy this bulwark of hatred. It is our solemn judgment that nothing short of the actual application of the principles of Jesus in governmental, economic, religious and racial life today will meet the need."

Turning an electric room heater on one side brings on top an attachment for toasting.

Barriers of the British Chamber of Commerce and men in England, and France and Germany who hold similar posts in the industrial world to find a formula for the solution of the reparations problem.

Neither at the state department nor at offices of the chamber was there any inclination to deny the published report from London telling of the unofficial plan and its communication to the Washington government. It is known that Mr. Barnes conferred last week at some length with Secretary Hughes. Asked if an official statement could be made in regard to this conference, state department spokesmen said today it would not be possible to do so. At the same time efforts to obtain a more detailed statement regarding Secretary Hughes' general denial of a government "proposal" also proved fruitless.

Department officials made it plain they would not be drawn into any departure from the formal terms of the secretary's brief statement.

As to just how such a commission would be selected and from what source it would draw its power and to whom its report would be made, no definite information is available. It has been suggested in one well informed quarter, however, that the "formal proposal" for the new study of Germany's economic situation might well come at the proper time from the reparations commission itself. That body might also receive the report to be used as a basis for whatever revision of schedules it showed to be necessary.

Asks That Disabled Soldiers be Remembered This Christmas

(By The Associated Press) CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 22.—A proclamation urging that the ties which existed on the battlefields of France be reunited and that every disabled veteran who remains in a hospital be made happy on Christmas day, has been issued to every post of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War by C. Hamilton Cook, the National Commander.

Commander Cook urged that every post make arrangements to visit their bedridden buddies and give him a "chance to talk over the old times." Chapters were urged to spend a part of their funds for baskets containing cheer for the men. Women members of Chapter Auxiliaries were requested to co-operate.

In centers where many disabled soldiers are quartered, arrangements are being made to provide special entertainment programs.

(By The Associated Press) MARION, Dec. 22.—Motions by the defense asking that all evidence introduced by the state be acquitted that a court verdict of "not guilty" denied at trial of five men charged with murder in connection with the Herrin riots. Motions, twenty in number, specially named twenty-three state witnesses and asked all their evidence be stricken from record on the ground that much of it was "hearsay and had no bearing on the case."

(By The Associated Press) GAINESVILLE, Dec. 22.—Florida's principal field crops and fruits during this year had a farm value of $60,650,000 compared with $46,019,000 last year, according to the December crop review issued here by the Federal Bureau of Crop Estimates.

Must Reduce Production Costs or Lose Trade

(By The Associated Press) TOKIO, Dec. 22.—Japanese manufacturers have been warned that unless they alter their methods and reduce cost of production they will lose their foreign trade. Mr. Akivama, of the commercial and industrial bureau of Tokyo, on his return from a foreign tour, in his report says that in China wages are very low and that for this reason Japanese goods are being forced out by Chinese manufacturers which he says, are just as good as Japanese. He also declares that in the South Sea markets Chinese goods are slowly supplanting Japanese merchandise and that unless Japan is to lose these markets entirely production costs must be reduced in this country.

Economy First Issue N. Dakota Legislature

(By The Associated Press) BISMARCK, N. D., Dec. 22.—Financial and public welfare problems, and others having to do with political considerations, will face the North Dakota legislature when it convenes here January 3. For the first time in three regular sessions and two special sessions, it will not be controlled by the Non-Partisan League, a small majority in both house and senate being members of the Independent Voters Association, a coalition of progressive Republicans and Democrats.

Questions of economy will be the first to come before the legislative session. State taxes have increased $16,069,469 since 1915, largely thru increases in road and school taxation.

Reduction in the number of banks in the state also will be considered. North Dakota has an average of a bank and a half per thousand population. The present law discourages consolidation of banks and an act that will permit their turn-over without closing or liquidation, is expected to be passed.

Legislation also is expected looking toward the closing of industrial experiments of the league that have proved unprofitable. The league closed the experimental creamery at Werner and stopped the erection of buildings in its home building experiment. Most of these industrial experiments were adopted as initiated measures. Increase in the power of the farm loan department and provision for the operation of the state owned mill at Grand Forks, are among other expected legislative considerations. One unit of the mill is running the complete operation of which the independent administration pledged "an honest effort to determine if it is a successful experiment."

Consideration of a complete list of laws regarding children and the revamping of the health laws of the state to meet present conditions are the chief welfare measures to be acted upon. A children's code commission has been at work for two years and with the help of the children's bureau at Washington, a system of laws has been compiled. The health laws presented will be largely an attempt to consolidate and systematize the present health agencies, with some attempts made at the enlargement of the field.

First report said the fire was caused by short circuit in electrical wiring.

Old Dearborn Station Burned in Chicago—Was Old Landmark

And Will Cost Over Million Dollars to Replace

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Fire starting a few minutes before four o'clock yesterday afternoon, destroyed the Dearborn Street Railroad station, formerly known as the Park Street Station and left eight railroads homeless in Chicago.

The building was erected in 1884, was valued at $500,000 but will cost more than $1,000,000 to replace, it was said.

Within a little more than an hour after a traffic policeman saw smoke issuing from the room the flames swept through the 38 years old brick and wood structure, once the pride of railroad men and left only a smoke-blackened brick shell behind.

Hundreds of passengers and 200 men and women clerks fled to safety. Mrs. Hazel Locker, 25, a woman clerk, fainted and was trampled on by the wild rush of clerks from the upper floor. A policeman found her lying unconscious on the stairs and carried her out.

Postal clerks with motor trucks rescued 150 tons of holiday mail and railroad employes saved all passenger cars in the train sheds.

The station was owned by the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad and was used by trains of that line, and the Santa Fe, Monon, Erie, Chesapeake and Ohio, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Wabash and Canadian Grand Trunk.

Skeleton Found Near Apopka Looks Very Mysterious

Belief that a skeleton found in a swamp eleven miles west of Apopka yesterday by Billy Witherington, Lee Lovell and Mark Ryan, is that of a former army officer, was expressed by Sheriff Francis Karel yesterday. Mr. Karel said that the skeleton had evidently been in the swamp at least a year. There was no evidence of flesh on the bones and the only mark of identification found was a collar button which bore the initial "D." Near the skeleton, however, boots such as are worn by cavalry officers and a military cap were found. Pieces of khaki cloth also led the sheriff to believe that the body had been clothed in an army uniform.

The sheriff brought the skeleton to his office here, declaring that he hoped to identify it through the teeth. Two gold teeth were found and there was evidence of bridge work and fillings in others. It was said that a record of dental work is kept by the war department and that the victim's identity might be discovered through this source.

Mr. Karel hesitated to say whether he believed the supposed officer had been murdered. The skeleton was found in an out of the way place, some distance from a road and the sheriff pointed out that if the man had been murdered the body could have been disposed of in some place of easier access.

On the other hand authorities could not recall having heard of anybody reported missing in this section of the state. Mr. Karel said that he was mystified and that he intended to return to the spot where the skeleton was discovered and make a more careful search. It was strange, he said, that no article other than the collar button could be found which might serve as a means of identification.

The three West Orange county men who found the skeleton were hunting in the swamp. One of them noticed a boot back in the deep brush. He investigated and came upon the skeleton. Mr. Karel was notified and left Orlando yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock. At Apopka he was joined by Thomas Hawthorne and together the two men brought the skeleton to this city.

The sheriff said he would write to Washington immediately to see if there is any record there of the disappearance of an officer. He did not accept the theory that the man might have been an aviator, since no trace of a plane could be found in the vicinity of the body.—Orlando Sentinel.

MYSTERY OF MASKED MOB IN TROUBLED LOUISIANA SECTION COMES TO LIGHT

TIED WITH WIRE

And Men Who Set Charges Left Without Knowing Bodies Were Found

(By The Associated Press) SHREVEPORT, Dec. 22.—The bodies of two men in a high state of decomposition believed to be Daniels and Richards, the missing victims of the Moorehouse mob of last August, were found this morning near the ferry on Lake LaFourche, according to a special correspondent of the Shreveport Journal. The limbs of the dead men were tied with wire. The bodies came to the surface as the result of a charge of dynamite exploded last night by unidentified parties. It is thought they left without knowing that the bodies had risen.

MONROE, Dec. 22.—Captain Cooper said that he did not anticipate trouble, but that the impression was growing that a serious outbreak in Mer Rouge was regarded as probable. Persons in a situation to know say that heavy stock rifles and shotguns and other weapons and ammunition stored in the residences and stores there and it would take but a spark to kindle into bloodshed the intense feeling said to exist between the hostile factions of the community. All persons found within several miles of the diving operations at Cooper's Lake will be forced to give an account of their presence there before being released by the military authorities.

MONROE, Dec. 22.—Lieutenant Louis Hayden this morning received a message from Captain Cooper at Mer Rouge ordering him to mobilize a detachment of forty men and rush them to Moorehouse parish to reinforce the members of Company G, Louisiana National Guard now on duty there. Troops engaged in dragging the nearby lakes in search of the bodies, had, over the telephone, ordered a detachment of his guardsmen to investigate the skirmish early this morning between eight guards at Cooper Lake and a party of ten men who made their way to a boat seven miles north of Mer Rouge in a boat, and were making a search of the water when fired upon by the soldiers.

License Tax No. 13 Cannot Be Sold in St. Augustine "Spooky"

(By The Associated Press) ST. AUGUSTINE, Dec. 21.—City Tax Collector Wells has a license tag for a taxi that nobody wants and which has been refused repeatedly since the first of last January. It is number 13. The tag has remained in his office all the year in spite of the fact that every applicant for license after the first twelve tags were assigned has been imperturbed to take it. Persuasion and even threats have failed to induce drivers to accept it because of the well known idea that 13 is unlucky and the collector now is willing to wager that the tag goes into the trash heap on December 31.

Much-Ado Over Name of Fast Tourist Train, Chicago to Jacksonville

CALLED THE FLORIDIAN, INSTEAD OF THE FLORIDIAN

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 21.—Floridians throughout the state have noticed in the larger daily newspapers recently an advertisement with a word in large letters, apparently misspelled in nearly every instance it has been charged to carelessness on the part of the typesetter, inasmuch as one letter has been omitted. Newspapers referring to the advertisement editorially and in news stories have inserted the missing letter.

The word is "Floridian." The general public thinks it should be "Floridian."

It came about this way. The Illinois Central, Central of Georgia and Atlantic Coast line railroads recently established a fast tourist train between Chicago and Jacksonville, and advance information received in railroad circles here was that it was to be named the "Floridian." When advertisements were placed in the newspapers it was the "Floridian."

A native of the state is a "Floridian" and he objects to "Floridian" as much as an educated "Honduran" objects to "Honduranian."

Attention of the railroad officials here was called to the apparent error in naming the new line and it developed that it was intentional, that the word "Floridian" was a kind of happen-so or coined term. It seems another railroad some time or other operated a train called the "Floridian" and as railroads consider it a high crime to steal another's thunder, the Illinois Central and its associates compromised by leaving out the "I" and naming it the "Floridian."

A local Florida Cracker deeply interested in the impressions of Florida and things Floridian that go out to the world voices disapproval of the "Floridian."

"In the first place," he says, "uneducated persons in the territory traversed by the train—and this includes the entire upper and central Mississippi Valley—who through ignorance use the term 'Floridian' instead of 'Floridian' will bet their bottom dollar that 'Floridian' is correct. Persons who know will gain the impression that the passenger departments of the road that named the train, used the word 'Floridian' through ignorance."

"Civic organizations interested in the progress of Florida should demand that the proper word be used. We have many one-eyed Floridians doing great things in the upbuilding of the state—we wish we had more like them—but I do not think a one-eyed 'Floridian' is just the proper thing. It should be given another 'I'."

MAN SAYS DOPE RING BEHIND TAYLOR DEATH

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 21.—Police yesterday were holding John Marazino, 23, for examination both as to his sanity and his story that he knows who murdered William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director in Hollywood, Calif., a year ago.

Marazino was arrested late Tuesday after he had entered a dwelling house and asked to be hidden, declaring that he was marked for assassination and was driven out of California by members of a "dope ring" who knew that he knew who killed Taylor.

"Several members of the dope ring are responsible for Taylor's death," the prisoner told the police. "Their agents have followed me all the way from California into Ohio, and I am marked for death," he asserted.

A suitcase the prisoner carried was filled with women's apparel which Marazino said he had used to disguise himself, so as to escape pursuit.

The police are communicating with California authorities.

Two Big Guns From Fort Dade May Go to Tampa

(By The Associated Press) TAMPA, Dec. 21.—Governor Hardee has informed the Tampa Board of Trade that this city can have two of the eight inch coast defense guns at Fort Dade and DeSoto, at the mouth of Tampa Bay, if it wants them. The forts have been abandoned by the war department. Each of the guns weighs 32,318 pounds and each of the two carriages that go with them weighs 180,813 pounds.

Secretary Weeks has advised Governor Hardee that if the state desires it can negotiate with the Department of the Interior and have the two forts turned over to Florida as national parks, provided the state pays the cost of maintenance.

A committee from the Board of Trade is to determine whether the two rifles shall be moved here and mounted in one of the parks.

The barnyard golfers, the slipper slammers, the horse shoe throwers in fact will hold a tournament in Orlando some time during the tourists season for the state-wide champions and winter champions in the state. Will Sanford tourists have any contenders?

Two more days until Christmas. Have some kindness in your heart for the clerks in the stores and the post-office and other places where you expect to get quick service and cannot on account of the Christmas rush. Take it all with a smile and make the people round you remember that it is the glad-Christmas season.

All of which reminds us that there would be more joy and happiness in this world at Christmas time if everyone would start a Christmas Savings account and when the day comes round—the day the youngsters like and we almost regret to see—we would be fortified against discontent by having a nice bank account to draw from and buy the family everything they need. Try this on your piano.

'The Farmer Feeds the World' says headline in papers calling attention to the fact that all the money in the world will not buy food if the farmer is not helped along financially and every other way. Sometimes we think if the farmer went on a strike this world would be a chaos in a short time. And yet there is less being done for the farmer than any other business in the world. However if we were a farmer we would not worry. He still controls the world and can pull the strings any time he organizes his own works and tells the world what to do.

THE SPIRIT OF SUNSHINE

Two young men, arm in arm, walking down one of the principle streets of a great city; their shoulders were thrown back; their heads were erect; they were laughing and talking; seemingly the happiest young men on that street. It was refreshing to hear their gladdening laugh. Yet they saw nothing; for they were blind. It was the indwelling of a beautiful spirit that was thus being outwardly manifested. They were going Christmas shopping.

Two beautiful young girls came tripping down a long flight of stone steps leading from a large and imposing building. They were as vivacious and active as the morning breeze. Their smile was as the morning sunshine. Neither spoke a word nor heard. But they conversed pleasantly with their fingers and their souls looked out through beautiful eyes, like pretty faces through a window. They understood each other as they conversed pleasantly even though they uttered not a word; their lips had never spoken the ineffable words of love, though their hearts felt that love, and their ears had never heard the sacred sweetness of a mother's voice. They were deaf mutes.

A lad with a cap crosswise on his head hobbled on crutches the liveliest chap on the busy street corner as his cheery voice called out: "Evening paper; all about the Christmas rush." He smiled and greeted people merrily as he handed them a paper and made the change, though many people did not tarry for the change. Though his little legs were bent and warped, his soul was happy. He was thinking of Christmas and the sunshine of his soul was overflowing.

The Christmas spirit was in the hearts of all these young people and the sunshine of their souls poured freely out notwithstanding their impediments and their afflictions.

To human beings alone has God given the power to smile as an expression of happiness and appreciation. The person who does not know how to smile is more sorely afflicted than the person whose eyes are blind or whose ears are closed to sound. It is sadder to see a life so clogged with materialistic ideas that the sunshine of the soul is never reflected in the face than to see a dwarfed boy hobbling around on crutches whose face radiates smiles.

These young people whose reasons for smiling and being happy though nature had been less kind to them than to the thousands whom they met in the crowded streets, were less numerous; were a living example of God's purpose in giving to human beings these special attributes denied to other creatures. How many there are who fail to catch the meaning of life and who fail in its best purposes because they fail to smile and be happy except under the most favorable circumstances. To accept a situation that cannot be helped, and to cheerfully travel the path of duty is a distinction that comes to few people and is a virtue of great value.—Reporter-Star.

GETTING PUBLIC WORK DONE

Officers of churches and other organizations complain of the difficulty they have in finding helpers. If you want a committee to arrange a Christmas entertainment or get up a public supper, or some one to teach a Sunday school class, it often takes a long time to find one who will serve.

There used to be more women with free time which they would give to public work. Some who used to hire servants do their own housework now and girls who formerly remained at home now have regular jobs. Many are occupied with club life, motoring, card playing, etc. Everybody seems to be busy.

Yet more public work than ever before is being done. Perhaps people are learning to let up on suppers and fairs and undertakings that yield no positive result, and to go in for work that is constructive and educational. The people who allow their time to be so occupied with their own concerns that they have none for community enterprises live rather selfishly and miss many rewards.—Gainesville Sun.

The editor of the Herald has received a beautiful Christmas greeting card from Clayton C. Codrington, the secretary of the Associated Dailies of Florida with the following explanation:

"The quotation on the Christmas Card was used by Major Lew B. Brown, St. Petersburg Independent, at the banquet at Gainesville. It is more than a Christmas present and if observed by our members, should bring lasting good to the 'Fourth Estate' in Florida.

ASSOCIATED DAILIES OF FLA. CLAYTON C. CODRINGTON, Secretary-Treasurer.

The handsome Christmas card enclosed with the foregoing note contains this beautifully expressed sentiment:

The Editor Should Be: For the right that needs assistance; Against the wrong that needs resistance;

For the future in the distance And the good that he may do. THE ASSOCIATED DAILIES OF FLORIDA.

Thanks, Clayton, We have tried to live up to this sentiment all of our life. The past fifteen years in Sanford have been devoted to this rule, and we have never broken it except perhaps at times when softness of heart precluded publishing articles that would cause sorrow and anguish to the hearts of women and children and do no good from a publicity standpoint. And we believe that without exception the members of the Associated Dailies of Florida are editing their papers with this big idea in view. We will hang the card in our sanctum—not because we need it, but to let the public again know that the Daily and Weekly Herald is this kind of a girl.

A NEWSPAPER FUNCTIONS IN HEART AS WELL AS BRAIN

In a "Good-Bye" to her friends and acquaintances of the Polk County Record, Miss Gail Binkley, who for three years has been associate editor of that paper, says:

"A newspaper functions as heart, as well as brain, in its community; and those who aid in creating the newspaper can imagine that they feel their fingers on the pulse of the community. Its pulse is life and love, as surely as business is the thing that makes it wheels go round." Few outside of the staff of a newspaper realize how true that is. The newspaper worker is more closely a part of the inner life of a community, of its people, than even the family doctor, or the preacher. The newspaper workers know far more about you than you ever dreamed, and because he loves you, he magnifies your virtues; and in the words of the Elks' fine motto, writes your shortcomings on the sands, so that the tide of forgetfulness may sweep them out at its first flow.

The Florida press deplores the loss of Miss Gail Binkley. As associate editor of the Polk County Record, former president of the South Florida Press Association, and vice-president of the Florida State Press Association, she has become and deservedly, one of the best known and most loved in all the make-up of that body of men and women who love Florida and who give their best to it.

That she takes away with her such a conception of the place she has filled so excellently means that there is to be a fine influence for good in the neighborhood where she will live. The Tribune wishes her all happiness; and the best that her dreams may have laid up for her.—Tampa Tribune.

HOW DOES MALARIA WINTER IN THE SOUTH?

No farmer in the South can afford to fold his hands as soon as the growing season is over and his crops are in the barn. No progressive farmer would think of sitting idly by during the winter months while the weed and grass seed, sassafras sprouts and boll weevil are "digging in," establishing themselves at strategic points all over his place and getting ready for the next spring drive against his crops. As a matter of fact, during the growing season the farmer is so busy planting, cultivating and harvesting, it is only after his crops are in that he is free to fight farm pests to best advantage.

Speaking of farm pests which must be fought during the winter months, had you ever thought of malaria in this connection? Next summer malaria will blossom out in your community and bear its baneful crops of chills and fever to interfere with the joy of living and reduce the efficiency of everyone attacked. At the end of the season the crop report of this disease, as collected by our state health department will show some deaths, much sickness and a greater economic loss than from any other disease in the south.

How, then, does Malaria winter in the Southern states? You see very few cases of chills and fever in the winter months, and it is only on the warmest days that there are any malaria mosquitoes flying about. It is true that many malaria mosquitoes hibernate, or live through the winter months in secluded places, but so far as is known these mosquitoes do not carry the infection over until the next spring. Next year's malaria crop is carried over in only one way—in the bodies of persons previously infected, inadequately treated and never really cured of the disease. Here, then, is the clue for this winter's campaign against next summer's malaria. Kill the malaria seeds in the human hosts, CPRE the malaria cases, and thus prevent an abundant crop of malaria next year, for it is from these old cases that all of next seasons new crop will spring. Fortunately, we can kill the malaria germs without injury to the person who carries them in his blood. Quinine will do this almost without fail if it is taken in sufficient dosage for long enough time.

The United States Public Health Service, the National Malaria Committee and the State Health Officers of all the Southern States, have approved the "Standard Quinine Treatment for Malaria."

"For the acute attack, 10 grains of quinine sulphate by mouth 3 times a day for a period of at least three or four days; to be followed by 10 grains every night before retiring for a period of eight weeks. For infected persons not having acute symptoms at the time only eight weeks' treatment is required. Proportionate doses for children according to age."

The best physicians of the South are employing this treatment, or something similar in the way of dosage and length of treatment. Certainly it is a great improvement over small doses of quinine or chill tonics discontinued as soon as the chills are broken, which rarely affect a permanent cure. If you have had malaria recently consult your physician and take quinine under his direction until cured.—Florida State Board of Health Bulletin.

to congress yesterday to improve Miami harbor, Fla., at a cost of $1,005,000.

General Beach recommended an initial appropriation of $500,000, with the remainder in two annual installments. He also recommended an annual appropriation of $25,000 for the maintenance work.

The board of engineers for rivers and harbors, which investigated the project, General Beach reported, believed the rapid development of southeastern Florida and the large present and prospective commerce in fruits, vegetable and sugar demanded increased transportation facilities and considered Miami a logical port for development along this line.

General Beach concurred in the report of the district engineer and the board of engineers in recommending a channel 25 feet wide and mean low water, 500 feet wide from that depth in the ocean to the near outer ends of the jetties, thence 300 feet wide through the entrance, reducing to 200 feet wide across Biscayne bay and following the route of the existing municipal channel.

Local interests had agreed, he said, to cooperate by dredging and enlarging the present turning basin at the municipal docks to 25 feet.

HERALD COLLECTIONS

The Herald carriers manage and control their routes, pay in advance for all papers drawn, and absolutely depend upon their collections for their running capital and profits. When subscribers neglect to pay them it is the CARRIER and not THE Herald that stands the "brunt."

Subscribers who do not care to pay the carrier each week may pay the Herald two or more months in advance and they will pay the carrier each week from this fund.

This system of delivery is known as the INDEPENDENT CARRIER PLAN and is used by most of the larger newspapers of the country and has proven beyond doubt to be the best plan of delivery. When a boy manages his own route, buys and sells at a profit he is in business for himself in exactly the same sense as any merchant. He knows he must give service to be successful and build up his business. He knows that every new customer he secures means more profit. In short, he knows he must conduct his business in a capable and efficient manner to be successful.

The Herald earnestly requests its subscribers not to discourage these boys in this, their first business venture, by refusing to pay promptly each week for their newspaper.

BUILD NEW STADIA FOR SPORT LOVING CROWDS

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Growing popular interest in outdoor sports throughout the metropolitan area, especially in baseball and football, will result in largely increased accommodations for spectators in 1924, according to present indications. Conservative estimates place at 500,000 the total simultaneous seating capacity which scores of fields and a few larger stadia will have when plans now under way are completed.

While more than half of this capacity is scattered among the smaller school, college and athletic club stadiums, approximately 216,000 will be necessary in four big arenas. These are the three major league ball parks—Polo Grounds, Yankee Stadium and Ebbets Field—and Baker field, Columbia's new stadium.

Yankee Stadium, home of the American League Baseball club in the Bronx, is rapidly nearing completion, and if not entirely finished will be ready at any rate, for the formal opening of the 1923 baseball season in April. A 400 yard cinder path will offer facilities for track and field sports, while football and boxing will also be staged in this big arena whose seating capacity will be from 70,000 to 80,000.

World's series attendance last fall at the Polo grounds exceeded all previous records there, and as a result the home of the New York Giants is being enlarged to seat 54,000, about 17,000 more than its present capacity. Football and boxing also figure as attractions at this field. Ebbets Field, grounds of the Brooklyn National League club, with seating capacity of 22,000, has been used for boxing and occasionally football.

Plans for Baker field, Columbia's projected stadium, to be erected at 118th street and Broadway, call for a bowl seating between 60,000 and 60,000 but it is doubtful if this will be realized for some time. Work on the playing fields is expected to start in the spring, with the possibility that football may be played there in the fall, but the university athletic authorities point out that the development of the whole project is in its infancy.

Next fall, with the Yankee Stadium as an added neutral battleground, football is expected to claim much greater public interest. Already Syracuse and Pittsburgh universities have agreed to play their annual game at the American League park, and it is probable that New York again will be the scene of the Army-Navy classic, which for several years has been held at the Polo grounds.

New Constitution Before Texas Assembly

(By The Associated Press) AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 22.—A constitutional convention, radical changes in state tax laws and the educational system, reclamation and flood control, alteration of highway laws and revocation of the state prison, are among the matters that will come before the Texas legislature at its January meeting, according to statements from leaders of the two branches.

The attorney general already has prepared a measure for the creation of a new constitution, designed to replace the present one written in 1876.

Proposed changes in the state laws are due to a deficiency in the general revenue fund this year at times amounting to more than two million dollars. Many Texas schools may be forced to close early next spring because of the shortage of state funds. An emergency appropriation and an increase in state allotment for the schools are advocated.

Separation of the state banking and insurance departments has been endorsed by the state bankers association and other statewide bodies. Flood control measures are advised by Governor Neff, who recently led a movement to work out such proposals.

There also is some agitation for the presentation of a soldiers bonus measure.

Gasoline Tax Suggested to Meet Michigan Highway Cost

(By The Associated Press) LANSING, Mich., Dec. 22.—Enactment of legislation to remodel the state's taxation system, cut down the cost of state government, develop the state as an agricultural center, tighten the "blue sky" laws and broaden women's rights will be asked, along with other proposed changes in the laws of the Michigan legislature when it convenes in regular session in January.

Outstanding in the prospective legislation are the following proposals: To provide a gasoline tax to finance highway development and maintenance without a real property tax. To make more compact the centralized state government which was inaugurated two years ago, by curtailing and combining departments.

To make the furnishing of poisonous liquor punishable as manslaughter.

To tighten the motor vehicle laws by prescribing more specifically the lighting equipment on automobiles, and increasing the penalties for speeding and reckless driving.

To delegate to the state agricultural college much of the work done by the state agricultural department.

To provide what amounts to a literacy test for voters.

To provide a bill of rights for women, which will put them on an equal standing with men in business and welfare matters.

To enact a land certification law which will enable non-residents of the state to invest in Michigan's undeveloped lands and to provide that the state encourage reforestation of idle lands not suited to agriculture by residence taxes.

The reorganization of the state legislative district, which comes before the legislature by virtue of the 1920 federal census, stands high in state interest. Other measures include provision for a eugenics law; to devise ways and means of raising money to retire the $61,550,000 state bonded indebtedness without adding to the tax burden on real property; and to make insanity grounds for divorce.

An attempt may be made to revive the income tax, which was initiated by the 1921 legislature and defeated by the voters.

Feeder Lines Needed By United States R. Lines in Alaska

(By The Associated Press) ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Dec. 22.—Feeder lines are needed by the United States government railroad in Alaska, according to General Wiles P. Richardson, who as representative of Secretary of the Interior Fall, made an inspection tour of the road.

Eventually the government must adopt a colonization plan for Alaska, General Richardson said, so that the country can be settled and fully developed.

Denver Officers Hit Fresh Trail of Mint Robbers

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 22.—Police and other peace officers of northern Colorado last night were engaged in an intensive man hunt for four men in an automobile suspected of being the bandits who Monday morning shot and killed Charles T. Linton, federal reserve bank guard, during a gun fight in front of the mint here in which they stole $200,000 in currency and escaped.

The hunt started yesterday afternoon when Henry Fuqua, a farmer living about twenty miles north of here, reported to Sheriff Hall of Greeley, Colo., and fifty miles north of here reported to Sheriff Hall of Greeley that he had encountered four heavily armed men in an abandoned house in his ranch property.

Sheriff Hall notified the Denver police department asking for assistance. The sheriff, six deputies and a state ranger left for the farm house, while the Denver police department's armored riot car equipped with machine guns and two automobile loads of policemen and detectives armed with sawed-off shotguns left for Greeley to join in the pursuit.

The armored police riot cars and two automobiles filled with detectives carrying machine guns and sawed-off shotguns were sent by Chief of Police Williams in response to the call for help from the Greeley sheriff. Greeley lies about fifteen miles north of Denver.

At 4:15 o'clock Sheriff Hall of Greeley reported to Denver that on arriving at the cabin he found the men had departed in the direction of Fort Collins, Colo., in a car. He also said he had information that the men had stopped at the farmhouse of a farmer named Downer, a mile and a half west of Greeley.

Sheriff Hall is quoted as saying he expected to overtake the suspects before they reached Kuner, which is fifteen miles from Greeley.

Immediately upon receipt of this information from Sheriff Hall, the Denver police department sent out notices to all towns between Denver, Greeley and Fort Collins of the approach of the car believed to be carrying the bandits responsible for the robbery at the Denver mint Monday morning.

Internat'l Conference Proposed by Borah to Settle World Condition

IMMEDIATE ACTION AND WORLD DISARMAMENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Extensive discussion of international affairs is expected to develop in the senate as a result of a proposal yesterday by Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, for an international conference to consider economic, financial and business problems, including German reparations, as well as reductions of land, sea and aerial armaments.

Senator Borah offered his plan as an amendment to the $330,000,000 naval appropriation bill, which was reported to the Senate yesterday for proposed that the president be asked to call an economic conference instead of a conference merely to deal with the limitation of naval vessels under 10,000 tons, and military and naval aircraft provided in the bill as passed by the house. In offering his amendment as a substitute for the house provision Senator Borah declared the world economic conditions required immediate action, and he proposed that President Harding "be authorized and requested" to invite such governments to send representatives to the conference as he should deem "necessary" with the object of arriving at "understandings or arrangements looking to the restoration of trade and establishment of sound financial and business conditions."

With reference to armaments, the house bill's provisions as to naval vessels under 10,000 tons and aircraft, with its provision for consideration of land and sea armaments.

Senate leaders do not expect the Borah proposal, nor the house provision to be reached during today's consideration of the bill. These, and an amendment by Senator King, Democrat, of Utah, calling for a land and sea disarmament conference, which is pending, are expected to go over until after the Christmas holidays.

Senator Borah's amendment caused general surprise, especially in view of his strong opposition in the past in reference to American participation in European problems. He was one of the strongest opponents to the League of Nations and the Treaty of Versailles, but in his statement today he made it clear that he believed action was needed to solve pressing economic problems affecting American trade.

Recreation Fields His Gift to Employees and to The Public

(By The Associated Press)

PONCA CITY, Okla., Dec. 22.—The magic of black gold that spurts from the oil fields of Oklahoma and Texas, which has made millionaires overnight, is seen perhaps in few places more clearly than in this active little city of some 7,000 persons.

Ponca City boasts the distinction of having more laborers who are golf fans than any other city in the world—the result of an oil millionaire's riches which have enabled him to realize an ambition to make others happy. This man is Ernest W. Marland, head of the oil company that bears his name, and the golf playing laborers are his employees who, with the general public, are invited to use his private course, recognized as one of the best and most beautiful in the southwest. It is no unusual sight to see a foursome of bankers teeing off behind a group of men in jumpers and overalls.

Marland's golf course is part of his estate. Deciding to make Ponca City his permanent home in 1916, Marland selected a cornfield on the city's outskirts as the desired site. Today the southern part of the field has been transformed into the most elaborate garden in the southwest, and by the side of the garden is his palatial residence, reputed to have cost approximately one million dollars.

At the opposite end of the estate is the golf course. This, too, has been landscaped and beautified. A small stream flows through the course and has been dammed to form several small lakes. Clumps of trees and shrubs combine beauty with utility in providing hazards.

Two years ago Mr. Marland announced that he would build an athletic park, which like his golf course and his garden, should be open to the public. Twenty acres adjoining the Marland refining plant were purchased and work commenced. The park was opened this spring. It is one of the most modern in the state, containing playing fields for football and baseball, running tracks, tennis courts and open sward to be used as desired. The concrete grandstand seats 1,500 and is equipped with club rooms, showers and other modern conveniences.

The Des Moines club of the Western League will use the park for training next spring.

Mr. Marland's newest enterprise of this nature is the establishment of a game preserve. He has purchased 300 acres adjoining the city on the north and is directing a large force of men in beautifying the area and otherwise preparing it for use.

GENTILE TO HEAD STATE CITRUS CLUB

(By The Associated Press)

The Fruitman's Club, an organization which existed in Florida several years ago, was revived at a dinner in the San Juan hotel at Orlando yesterday which was attended by forty or more citrus operators, representing every part of the state's citrus region. Election of officers, discussion of the approaching visit of the California Citrus growers, and means of eliminating trade abuses occupied the meeting.

Lawrence Gentile was named president of the club. Other officers are: Vice-president, S. O. Chase; secretary-treasurer, F. E. Godfrey; assistant secretary, T. M. Jackson. The board of directors includes the foregoing officers and H. A. Ward, F. L. Skelton, C. S. Fugazzi, C. A. Marsh, C. J. Turner and A. C. Smith.

The operators named the managers of the traffic departments of the various companies represented to act as a committee to suggest a route for the Californians who will visit Florida in February. It was specially desirable, members said, that the party visit Orlando—the center of the citrus industry. The club will offer its cooperation to the Orlando Chamber of Commerce in the latter institution's efforts to have the Californians stop here.

The independent operators expressed themselves as being especially anxious for the visitors to see all of the citrus fields of the state. It was pointed out that citrus conditions in Florida and California are vastly different. In the Pacific Coast state the citrus field is concentrated in a comparatively small area, while in this state the citrus belt is several hundred miles in length.

Trade abuses drew lengthy discussion, many complaints being registered concerning attempts to break market prices and other alleged irregularities which are said to work injury to the entire citrus industry.

S. J. Sligh, who presided at the meeting until the permanent officers were elected, was a speaker, as was Dr. P. Phillips. Both of them expressed the belief that the club should meet often, exchange information that may aid in eliminating trade abuses, and promote a better spirit of cooperation.

The meeting was attended by: C. S. Fugazzi, Cincinnati, Ohio; S. L. Friebe, Tampa, Fla.; Gus J. Gentile, Orlando; R. C. Middleton, Crescent City, Fla.; H. A. Ward, Winter Park; H. W. Barnum, Winter Park; J. R. Crenshaw, Orlando; C. A. Stewart, Orlando; Wm. Walker, Orlando; C. R. F. King, Orlando; F. Kay Anderson, Orlando; S. J. Sligh, Orlando; Lawrence Gentile, Orlando; H. C. BIG THINGS PLANNED FOR ALL F. H. S. A. A. TEAMS, MARCH

Big Things to Take Place in Gainesville and Big Track Meet in April

At the executive meeting of the F. H. S. A. A. last night in Gainesville it was definitely decided to hold the second annual high school basketball tournament at the University of Florida, March 1, 2 and 3. A cross-country race will also be held on March 3, according to the same announcement and all high schools in the association are urged to send teams.

It is planned to hold the semi-finals of the turnery played Saturday morning and the finals at night. The cross-country run will come in the afternoon. The distance of the latter event has not been decided upon, but will not be over three miles.

Keen interest for the second titular conflict for basketball honors is expected this year. The meeting last year was a success in many ways and closer scores and larger crowds are looked for this year. Duval capped the first tournament and will be a contender again this season. The Tigers' success last year was easily won but, with most of the stars missing now, the competition should be much keener and cause a better article of ball.

In addition to the announcements for the basket ball and cross country events, the committee also chose April 9 and 7 as the time for putting on the ninth annual track and field meet of the Florida-High School Athletic Association in Gainesville.

There will be some changes in the manner of conducting the meet next spring. The team finishing second will receive a banner this time as well as the winner of first place honors. The essay and declamation contests also will not count for points in track meet.

There were around 200 athletes for the meeting last year which like the basketball tourney was won by Duval and an even greater array of contestants is looked for the coming spring. —Tampa Tribune.

Second Rice Crop Estimate Records Decrease

(By The Associated Press) TOKIO, Dec. 22.—The department of agriculture and commerce has published the second estimate of this year's rice harvest which is put at 60,584,108 koku, showing a decrease of 2,654,648 koku or 3.3 per cent compared with the first estimate published in September. The second estimate shows an increase of 5,401,894 koku or 9.8 per cent over last year's harvest or an increase of 3,568,306 koku or 6.3 per cent on the average for the last seven years.

GOOD CHRISTMAS WEATHER

The clear, crisp weather of today brought out a big crowd of Christmas shoppers and today and tomorrow promise to be the biggest days in the history of the city. The rain kept many shoppers at home, especially those who had some distance to travel but now that the skies have cleared and the folks who have been away are coming home for the holidays, it should make a big difference in business. The advertising in the Daily Herald also helped to stimulate old business and bring in much new business.

Orland and Lakeland Each Fined $110, But Orlando Gets $800 Returned

AUBURN, N. Y., Dec. 22.—Chairman John H. Ferrell, of the National Board of Arbitration of the National Association of Professional Ball Leagues, yesterday gave out the decisions of the board following the hearing by the commission on the recent Louisville meeting of the body. Included in the decisions were the following:

Services of Charles Cochran awarded to Sacramento, Cal., provided he reports in good condition in 1923, in which event Sacramento pays Enid, Okla., $2,000. Claim of Reading, Pa., for $300 against Richmond, Va., for purchase of Player Cavanaugh allowed. Claims of Frank Raymond for $500 and for $950 against Portland, Ore., allowed.

Claims of Orlando, Fla., against Lakeland, Fla., for return of $800 on transfer of players Luena and Stewart allowed and each club fined $100 for "farming."

Gold Mounted Harness a Gift to King Albert

(By The Associated Press) BRUSSELS, Dec. 22.—A number of costly gifts, including a set of harness mounted in gold and enriched with precious stones, have been presented to King Albert by Ras Taffari, regent of Abyssinia. Among the gifts were also many shields and sabres, one of the shields formerly belonging to Emperor Menelik and used by him at the battle of Adowa.

Similar gifts were sent from Abyssinia to the late Emperor Nicholas, of Russia, when he recognized Abyssinian independence.

Iroquois Indians Will Remain in Canada

(By The Associated Press) TORONTO, Dec. 22.—The Iroquois Indians have made peace with the Dominion government. Threats of migration to the reservations of the nation in the United States, because the Dominion would not recognize the red men as an independent nation, have been forgotten. The hatchet was buried and the peace pipe was smoked at Chawakee early in December.

Chief Deskaheh, leader of the faction fighting for independence, carried the issue to the council house of the nation, but accepted defeat stoically when the other chiefs at the pow-wow outvoted him. He and his followers had maintained that their grievances were properly matters for an international court of law, their independence having been recognized by a British sovereign.

Leaders of the Loyalists, the winning faction at Ohswekon, were chiefly from the Christian tribes of the Mohawks and Delawares. They were well satisfied with the outcome at the pow-wow, but now propose to go even farther. Their tribes have virtually no representation on the hereditary council, members of which are elected for life by the women of the tribes. The Loyalists, it is announced, will work for an elective council, "to conform with the democratic trend of the times and to do away with a remnant of feudalism."

Proposes Both Movies and Plays For Small Theatres

(By The Associated Press) NORTH HAMPTON, Mass., Dec. 22.—Something in the nature of a gentlemen's agreement between motion picture exhibitors and those interested in the spoken drama is suggested as a solution of the community theatre problem by Samuel A. Eliot, Jr., assistant professor of English at Smith College. Mr. Eliot is the author of several one-act plays and was active in the community theatre venture of the Northampton players, which attracted wide attention a few years ago.

Expressing in a recent letter to the Daily Hampshire Gazette a hope for a revival of a community repertory company in Northampton, Mr. Eliot advanced the idea that in a city of this size—Northampton has a population of 22,000—the amusement time of the municipal auditorium might profitably be divided equally between the play and the movies.

"It seems certain," he said, "that the Academy of Music is too large or Northampton too small to support more than one play out of ten thru as many repetitions as the Northampton Players used to give. Three or four performances are enough. And the patrons of the movies have their rights as well and should, I think, be given a full half of the time.

"The movies are highly profitable and, if the latter half of each week were regularly devoted to them, they ought to bring in enough money to offset possible losses on plays acted by a permanent company in the first half of each week. This company would thus have the equivalent of ten days, not six, in which to prepare each new production—no small advantage to their art."

Mussolini Abstemius And a Hard Worker

(By The Associated Press) ROME, Dec. 22.—Benito Mussolini, the man who at thirty-eight years of age has become virtually the legal dictator of Italy, has a great capacity for work. Since he assumed charge of the Ministries of Foreign Affairs and the Interior, Mussolini has averaged over eighteen hours of hard work every day. At his desk promptly at the stroke of eight, he is still busy at midnight attending to the business of the two most important ministries in his government.

During the eighteen months in which he was engaged in the organization of the Fascism movement culminating in the peaceful entrance of a hundred thousand of his followers into Rome October 31st, Mussolini worked an average of twelve hours every day, including Sundays. Mussolini eats little and drinks less. He sleeps about five or six hours out of the twenty-four. His beverage is a light Italian wine with about fifty per cent of water added.

His favorite recreations are fencing and walking, and he is said to be a chess player of no mean ability. Italy's man of the hour was an enthusiastic advocate of his country's entrance into the world war on the side of the Allies. He served as a corporal until wounded so severely that he had to be sent to the rear as unfit for further active duty. It is said that his body bears the scars of one hundred and twenty wounds, caused by shell splinters and shrapnel.

GOVERNOR'S APPOINTMENTS

JOHN H. COOK JUDGE IN FRANKLIN COUNTY

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 21—Governor Hardee this afternoon announced the appointment of John H. Cook of Apalachicola, as county judge for Franklin county, to succeed H. W. Johnston, deceased. Mr. Cook is a prominent and successful business man of Apalachicola, having formerly been mayor of that city, secretary of the chamber of commerce and a representative in the legislature from Franklin county.

GIFTS FROM BAUMELS

Convey beautiful sentiments and also serve a lasting and useful purpose so the advertisement in this issue says. The fine quality and reasonableness in price is evident in every article. Just a few of the items like bone silk underthings, gloves, furs, sweaters, kimonos and robes and everything in ladies' wearing apparel—too much to mention here. See the advertisement in this issue.

Those Vandal Tourists.

Indignation has been aroused in certain circles in Switzerland, reports the Geneva correspondent of the London Daily News, by the vandalism of tourists in destroying the flora of the Alps. Some of the flowers are becoming more and more rare, and lovers of the mountains have been pained to find on their excursions whole roots dragged from the soil and lying dead.

This is especially the case with the Edelweiss, and the mountain lily writes from Gyon to the Tribune de Geneve, pointing out that on the Arête d'Argentine, one of the rare spots in that neighborhood where the plant still blooms, many roots were found pulled up. The Edelweiss is somewhat difficult to pluck, and those who gather it should cut the stem of the flower with a knife, so that the root may be left to flower again next year for the pleasure of other tourists.

Potato Ancestors.

Thirteen thousand feet above sea level in the mountains of northern Ecuador, the region which is believed by scientists to be the cradle of the potato race, there has been found a wild species of this plant. The discoveries were made by Wilson Popeo of the bureau of plant industry, Department of Agriculture.

Our own large, developed potatoes would be just as proud of these mountain Murphys as Mr. Bryan is of the anthropoid apes; for the Andean variety from which our own has sprung is too small to be of economic importance. Plant breeders in this country, however, hope that tests may show characteristics which will make it worth while to combine them with our cultivated kinds by crossing. The wild tubers produce seed rather freely, but also are subject to one of the potato diseases of which their cultured brothers are often victims.

Treat for the Diners.

The Woman enjoyed the antics of a seven-year-old boy, her fellow boarder, more perhaps than his mother did, for it took some strength to administer law and order to small but active John. One day as the boarders tripped from shore or tennis court for lunch they found John exercising his much-cherished privilege of ringing the dinner bell.

"Ice cream for dessert, ice cream for dessert!" he chanted, as he rang. "I know what kind, too," he went on, "but I won't tell anyone." As he caught the Woman's smile, he added: "All right, I'll tell you if you won't never, never tell," and in a stage whisper he divulged the secret: "It's calomel."

FLAPPER GOT IN A WORD

Not Much to Say, but There Was a World of Meaning in Her Simple Question.

For once the very modern girl's flapper sister faded into the background. She sat and munched English muffins and sipped tea while the very modern girl gossiped ecstatically with the old school friend from out of town, who wore a shiny new ring on the fourth finger of her left hand.

The out-of-town girl did most of the talking—her lingerie, the color of her new gowns, the darling showers the girls had given her, Jack's wonderful devotion. She bubbled on without stopping to catch her breath, while the very modern girl leaned forward with sparkling eyes, anticipating the good time she would have spreading the news, and the flapper steeled in her chair and dug her teeth into the English muffins.

"And now, tell me, what is Jack like?" demanded the very modern girl. "Who is he like? Any of the boys we used to know?"

The engaged girl reflected. "No," she hesitated, "I don't know anyone just like Jack. Except—well, mother says he's a lot like me. He's full of fun and very generous, and such a gentleman! And he's awfully clever, too, and talks so intelligently."

The flapper stirred and stopped chewing. "Did you say he was like you?" she demanded suddenly.

NATURE'S FREAK IN VERMONT

Remarkable Stone Face Only Recently Discovered in the Little Village of Hinesburg.

A great stone face has been discovered in the village of Hinesburg, Vermont, according to the Burlington Free Press. It is located in the south end of the village and faces south, a sort of guardian of the south portal of the town. It is from the west that the features are clearly seen. Topping a good-sized rock about one hundred feet from the main road, the clean-cut lines of a man's head are plainly discernible. The chin is very prominent. The mouth is wide, the nose slightly hooked and the eye very clearly cut in the face. This freak of nature is fully as plain to the eye as the famous "Old Man of the Mountain," near the Profile house in the White mountains. Hinesburg's great stone face was discovered. It is claimed, by D. C. Stone, a harness-maker in that village. He has called the attention of a number of people to it, among them the Rev. G. C. Cornell, pastor of the church at Hinesburg, who took some snapshots of the face. A couple of these snapshots, taken from different distances, were brought to the Free Press office recently by Mr. Cornell. How long the stone face has been discernible in Hinesburg is not known, as it is only recently that it has drawn attention.

END IMPEACHMENT HEARINGS AGAINST ATTORNEY-GENERAL

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Winding up its public hearings on the Keller charges against Attorney General Daugherty, the house judiciary committee voted today to meet on January 4, to reach its formal decision and begin preparation of its report to the house. It was regarded as practically certain that the committee would hold there had been no evidence produced upon which the impeachment proceedings could be based. The public sessions today were taken up with the examination of officials and employees of the department of justice in answer to a number of charges made against the attorney general by Representative Keller, Republican, Minnesota. Mr. Howland announced he would like to make a brief statement "expressing our position and hopes in this case," but the committee showed no disposition to hear him and the proceedings were ended.

Aside from its report on the impeachment charges, the committee has yet to act on the question of what action, if any, is to be taken on the refusal of Mr. Keller to obey a subpoena calling for him to appear for examination under oath as to the information upon which he based his allegations against Mr. Daugherty. This question has been referred to a sub-committee of five members, but as yet Chairman Boies has not issued a call for a meeting of the sub-committee.

BURGLARS ROB STORE WITHIN ONE BLOCK OF MONROE COUNTY JAIL

KEY WEST, Dec. 21.—Undaunted by the fact that the county jail is only a block from the place, burglars at an early hour Sunday morning entered the Tip Top grocery store, corner of Whitehead and Southard streets, and after rifling the cash register of $7 in small change, left the register on the porch and took away with them between $50 and $60 worth of groceries.

Neighbors heard the noise in the store, according to Juan Salgado, the owner, but were either of the opinion the owner was there or afraid of return to see what was going on, so the bold, bad men were not molested during their visit.

SANTA CLAUS IS NOT SUCH A MYTH IN FAR ALASKA

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Old St. Nick, with his packed sled and harness, prancing over the country with jingling bells, and digging his way through piled snow drifts, is not so mythical after all—

more than thirty years ago. He was especially interested in the remains of the three-toed horse and other types of beasts of the same family.

If the interest of this work he went to Nebraska early last summer. Aided by several students he began digging in a channel bed that appeared to be rich in bones of all sorts.

He delved further in an effort to uncover complete skeletons. His student helpers returned to their schools and he kept on alone, but had no further success.

Bad weather finally set in and Mr. Thompson was compelled to abandon his work. He had, however, collected hundreds of bones and skulls of great research value.

Western Nebraska undoubtedly is the richest field in America for this sort of work," said Mr. Thompson recently and we hope to make startling discoveries in the next two or three years.

SPURNED BY MAN, GIRL KILLS SELF

Flapper Love Sends Evelyn Couture to Death and Kenneth Gunn to Hospital.

BREAKS UP WEDDING

Marriage Festivities Turned Into Tragedy by Infatuated Girl—Bride Tells Story of Dead Girl's Persistence.

Toledo, Ohio.—Flapper love, violent and passionate, but shallow and impetuous, sent Evelyn Couture, nineteen years old, of Sylvania, to her death by her own hand and put Kenneth P. Gunn, twenty-one, of Toledo, in a hospital with a bullet in his lung.

Mrs. Pearl Thomas Gunn, wife of the wounded man, is a candidate for the state senate in the primary election. She has espoused the cause of short skirts, bobbed hair and other features of a liberal platform.

Wedding festivities of young Gunn and his bride of a few hours were halted by an insistent knock on the door of the bride's apartment on the evening of the wedding day.

Pulled the Gun and Fired.

"Oh, what's the use," she replied despondently. Then, according to Mrs. Gunn, the Couture girl asked that Mrs. Gunn step out into the hallway.

"After a recent experience with her, I was afraid to do this. Then she said she wished to see Kenneth," the bride said.

"The came out of the bathroom and saw her. He said: 'Go home, we're married. Let us alone.'"

"She insisted that she wanted to see him for a moment and came into the room, carrying a flapper hat in her hand. Kenneth said: 'I suppose you have a gun again. Well, if you have, you might as well shoot. I can't bullet.'"

"Of course, he didn't think she would shoot, but she walked up to him and pulled the gun from under her hat and fired. I had started down stairs and turned at the shot. She had thrown her arms around him, but even though wounded, he flung her from him toward a corner. Then I heard another shot, and, running back, thought she had shot him again. When I reached the door she was falling to the floor. She had killed herself.

When I saw her there, all crumpled up and Kenneth wounded, I fainted.

"She didn't love Kenneth and he didn't love her. She might have been infatuated with what I would call flapper love, but there was nothing deep about her affection.

"I truly love my husband, although it has only been in the last few weeks that we have been together much, after a long estrangement. During these weeks this girl continually followed us. Kenneth told me he was through with her.

"A few days before the wedding I wanted to terminate our friendship and give Kenneth to her if he wanted to go to her, but he assured me that there was nothing to his friendship with her and that he merely had spent some time with the Couture girl while we were estranged. Three weeks ago he told me he was ready to settle down and we started going together again.

"Then Miss Couture interfered. Recently she met us on the street and pulled a gun on us. Kenneth told her to stop talking about him as he was through."
