

FLOODS SWEEP OVER GREATER LOWLAND AREA

2 Lives Are Lost And Property Damage Is Placed At Quarter
Of Million Dollars

GLENDORA, Miss., Jan. 18.—(A.P.)—The far-flung flood of the Tallahatchie, Coldwater, and Yazoo River valleys was pushing today through six Mississippi counties and threatening to invade at least three others. Two lives were lost, attributed indirectly to the high water. Property damage was estimated at $250,000,000 on the inland sea extends from Lambert, in Quitman county, to Belzoni, in Humphreys, a distance of 125 miles.

Lives of 5000 persons were imperiled last night by a 15-foot wall of water sweeping through the Tippecanoe basin in northern Mississippi. Shortage of boats hampered rescue work.

Foaming flood waters from four major breaks in the main levee system east of the river had converged and were sweeping down the basin. Bodies of chickens, wild animals, hogs and cattle were spewed up as the waters crashed together.

Rescue workers rushed into the area with 250 paddle skiffs and half a hundred motorboats to save marooned families from bobbing haystacks. The towns of Distal, High Point and Philip were being evacuated last night. Tippecanoe and Macel were abandoned late Saturday.

Meanwhile, urgent appeals were made throughout the South for more boats and for food to supply the overcrowded refuge camps.

Millions of dollars' worth of property and crops are in imminent danger of destruction in half a dozen camps. Families are to remain at their homes were suffering from cold. Neither food nor coal was available. Oil lamps were being used for cooking purposes.

The entire eastern levee of the Tallahatchie had given away and workers turned from levee reinforcement to rescue work throughout the area.

Citizens of Clarifield constructed 125 skiffs and sent them into the Peabody district. Six motorboats were sent from Gulfport. It was estimated that 300,000 (Continued on Page Five)

Japs Inflict Heavy Losses On Chinese

MURDEN, Manchuria, Jan. 18.—(A.P.)—Hundreds of Chinese paid with their lives, a Japanese official communiqué, said today for the victories they won last week when the Japanese casualties ran high. The communiqué told a grim tale of the crashing of the Japanese mailed fist in retaliation. Wrecking all the most destructive engines of modern war, General Honjo, Japanese commander, drove retaliatory thrusts at several widely separated points in Manchuria. In two battles at Tientsin and Tientsin at least 200 Chinese were killed and a considerable number slain.

CANNON PRAISED IN RESOLUTION BY ANTI-RUM GROUP

Is Called Champion Of Freedom Of Conscience, Intellect

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(A.P.)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., was endorsed yesterday by the Anti-Saloon League in a formal resolution as "a great champion of freedom of conscience and intellect—a protector of the independence of the franchise."

The tribute, written by O. S. Poland of Boston, said only the resolution of the Southern Methodist clergyman and his sacrifice "stands between thousands of independent voters and social ostracism, financial ruin, serious physical harm."

"He is not trying to protect himself by refusing information," the resolution added. "He is protecting many who worked with or for him."

Poland explained later this referred to Bishop Cannon's refusal to permit names of many associated with him in the campaign against Alfred E. Smith to become known at his own information to a Senate committee.

The resolution was announced as the League continued its biennial convention with warnings of its leaders that a fight for prohibition was a fight for the future of the nation.

American Legion Is Assailed, Defended
In Debate On Radio

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(A.P.)—The American Legion was assailed as an organization that "is a Congress" and defended as a guardian against tyranny and oppression, anarchic and revolution, in a radio debate yesterday.

Marcel Duffield, author of "King Legion," said the legion was a tool in the hands of military clique, "a bloc of a million voters that has frightened Congress," and as a group that knows its power and boasts about it.

Representative Hamilton Fish, himself a member, asserted the legion was a "bulwark for law and order" that will aggressively combat "the spread of communism and all revolutionary doctrines."

Both spoke from station WOR. Duffield declared the legion, under pressure of "a few energetic generals and ambitious admirals," is not only causing Congress "to waste the taxpayers' money by millions but is actually 'fostering the war spirit in this country' by its campaigning for a bigger army and navy."

"That," said Duffield, "is the menace of the legion."

"What the legion thinks today," replied Fish, "should be welcomed and followed by the American people, as the legion represents a cross section of our country, all of its members having served in the armed forces of the United States during the World War. If a nation is to be worth dying for in time of war it must be worth living for in time of peace."

Unemployment Issue
In Nearing Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(A.P.)—The issue of direct federal aid for unemployed, to which President Hoover is opposed, moved the Senate today when one of the subcommittee reported legislation authorizing $75,000,000.

The bill was immediately taken up and discussed by the full committee. The bill was postponed until Thursday because it looked a question.

SOVIETS SEEK JAP PACT WITH IDEA TO PEACE

Make Overtures For Non-Aggression Accord Demonstrating Desire Against War

MOSCOW, Jan. 18.—(A.P.)—The Soviet government has made overtures to Japan for a pact of non-aggression as a new demonstration of its desire to keep the peace, and at the same time to counter what it considers the attempts of "far-right imperialist circles" to provoke the two nations to war over the Manchurian controversy.

With an uneasy eye on Japanese troop movements in the area of the Chinese Eastern railway, partly owned and operated by Russia, Foreign Minister Maxim Litvinoff said in a statement that the Soviet government is in the process of concluding a non-aggression pact with Japan. The pact would be followed up with direct negotiations between the Soviet ambassador and the foreign office in Tokyo.

The move appeared to informed observers to dispel an assumption in some circles abroad that a secret understanding exists between Soviet Russia and Japan regarding the occupation of Manchuria. A favorable response from Japan is reportedly awaited here in view of the fact that the Far Eastern country is now Russia's only neighbor with whom no pact has been concluded nor negotiations conducted.

The second world war in general and an agreement not to declare war on each other, to respect the mutual frontiers of each party and to remain neutral in case either nation became involved in war. Such treaties already exist between the Soviet Union and Japan.

Bright Spots Are Shown On Horizon
Of Steel Industry

CLEVELAND, Jan. 18.—(A.P.)—More bright spots in the steel industry are reported by the magazine "Steel."

"Steel demand is more definitely on the upgrade, stimulated moderately by reviving confidence and the closer approach of seasonal influence," the magazine says. In its weekly review, "None of the major consuming groups exhibit a marked tendency toward improvement. But practically all are contributing in large measure to the rising volume of steel orders."

Steelworks operations again made a considerable increase, the rate advancing one point to 26 percent in the past week, the magazine reports. Another slight gain is in prospect this week. Encouraged by the outlook steelmakers are bulking up resistance to pressure against prices, a determined effort being made to put heavy finished steel on a more remunerative basis.

Ancient Tomb Uncovered In Mexico Reveals Rich Storehouse Of Treasures

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 18.—(A.P.)—A Mexican tomb just uncovered near the city of Oaxaca was revealed yesterday to be a veritable storehouse of historical and material treasures from the fifteenth century of Mexican civilization. Alfonso Caso, chief of the government's archaeological mission, reported that the structure represented the richest and most important discovery ever made in North America, and rivals historically and intrinsically the tomb of King Tut-Ankh-Amen in Egypt. The excavations produced more valuable relics, he said, than similar work in the Mexican ruins in Yucatan.

The tomb, located at Monte Alban, contained among other things the bodies of 10 Mexican warriors covered with ornaments of gold, jade, pearl, amethyst and alabaster, some of which were finely carved and of great beauty. The chiefs apparently were killed in battle. Some were slain, and were buried with all their wealth in great secrecy during a bloody conflict with the Zapotecan people, who eventually overtook their land from them.

Three Zapotecan vases were found broken at the entrance to the mausoleum but all the other finds were intact in spite of the great damage caused by earthquakes in the area for centuries. Among the valuables uncovered were several crowns of pure gold, beautifully wrought relics of gold, pearls as large as pigeon eggs, jade necklaces, rings of gold and precious stones, vases of gold, rock crystal, onyx and alabaster engraved with hieroglyphs, and a golden mask described as the most unique and valuable thing of its kind ever found.

Some cases, saying it was almost impossible to portray the beauty and workmanship of many of the relics, expressed the opinion that the discovery proved the Mexican civilization was the most advanced in America at the time, placed just before the Spanish conquest. The finds have been transferred to the vaults of the Bank of Mexico in Oaxaca City and Riva Palacio, director of Mexican archeology, has gone to the scene with a crew of experts to further investigate and evaluate them.

The Monte Alban ruins are situated on the top of a mountain ridge six thousand feet above sea level and lay directly above the city of Oaxaca, only five miles from a railroad. The government has known for a long time of their existence but made no considerable excavations until recently.

The work was made possible by private contributions, among which were funds donated by the late Dwight Morrow, who visited the ruins while he was ambassador to Mexico in 1928.

FRANK STANTON AUTOGIRO GIVES AND WIFE LOSE PASSENGERS NEW LIVES IN CRASH

WAS SON OF GEORGIA
POET WHO WROTE
'MIGHTY LAK A ROSE'

MADISON, Ga., Jan. 18.—(A.P.)—Frank L. Stanton Jr., of Atlanta, son of the beloved Georgia poet and his wife, lost their lives yesterday as their automobile struck a bridge and burned 33 miles south of here.

Their 13-year-old daughter, Dorcas, escaped unhurt.

Mrs. Stanton was pinned beneath the wreckage of the automobile and her body was not removed until the flames had burned out. Mr. Stanton was buried in a Mason hospital where he died about 12 hours after the crash. He had been a fractured hip leg and was badly burned.

Mr. Stanton was president and advertising manager of the Georgia Mine Clothing Company of Atlanta, and his family left their home Saturday night to visit Mr. Stanton's brother, Kinship Dabney, at Jacksonville. They had decided to make the trip at night in order to avoid traffic.

Approaching a bridge over the Big Indian Creek between Cuthbert and Madison counties, the car fell into the water. The car was completely submerged and the family was killed.

Identity Of Men In Longwood Holdup
Is Still Unknown

The identity of the two men who entered a roadside lunch stand and service station near Longwood early Saturday morning and collected the contents of the cash register before making an escape in an automobile is still unknown to the sheriff of Orange and Seminole counties, who have been working on the case since it was reported.

The strangers drove up within a few yards of the dining station in the early hours of the morning. Their automobile was without lights. P. C. Samwell, Winter Park men who were occupying the place in the absence of the owner, was reading a newspaper when the car entered, leveled a shotgun at him, and ordered him to hand over the contents of the cash register.

Mr. Samwell made an effort to prevent one of the men from rifling the drawer, and in so doing, he upset a tray of glasses which fell with such a noise that the men were aroused. The men, believing that help was coming, rushed out of the stand, and made their escape.

Mr. Samwell said the men were about 25 years of age, both of light build, and were well dressed. The description has been broadcast throughout the state.

HOPE AND FEAR SEEN UPON EVE OF DEBT MEET

England Is Optimistic Over Outcome But
French Newspapers
Reveal Pessimism

LONDON, Jan. 18.—(A.P.)—Europe entered the last week before the world reparations parity tentatively set for Jan. 25 at Lausanne, in an atmosphere of mingled hope and fear. Great Britain looked forward to the event with optimism. France was nothing on the horizon but pessimism. Neither sentiment had any foundation in official statements, for both governments were preparing for the conference under a cloud of secrecy.

The British optimism was, primarily a product of the political writers, in responsible newspapers who drew from the evidence of the past week the conclusion that one vitally important point has been gained that Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany will go to the conference with a united front.

This viewpoint found its chief expression in an article by the diplomatic correspondent of the influential newspaper Observer. All four nations have agreed, he wrote, that the sequence of events at Lausanne will be as follows:

1. The conference will last a few days only.
2. The 11 countries represented will submit to Washington a proposal that the Hoover moratorium on reparations and war debts should be extended from July 1 to the end of 1932.
3. The parity will resume before the end of the year and will then seek a permanent settlement of the whole problem.

The Observer's opinion was echoed in other responsible circles which placed emphasis on a belief that the British government has now decided a further moratorium lasting more than a few months ultimately would do more harm than good.

In contrast with the attitude prevailing in England, such Paris newspapers as Le Temps, which is credited with being close to the French foreign office, and the nationalist journal Les Debats looked at the situation as a whole and found the prospects gloomy.

Both papers took the view that whatever happens at Lausanne the key to the whole problem lies in the hands of the United States, but there is not the slightest reason to suppose the American Government will plunge into the reparations tangle and straighten it out. It is the opinion of the British government, Le Temps said, that the United States ultimately will agree to cancellation of inter-governmental war obligations. "There is nothing in the present state in America," the paper continued, "which allows the belief that the Washington solution will be such a solution."

The publications, therefore, looked toward Lausanne with no exaggerated hopes, although neither suggests postponement of the conference.

The court will set a date for the hearing later. In his plea for a writ Kilgore claimed he violated no state or federal law when he sprayed his trees prior to Dec. 6 last. He said the supreme court's decision in the recent case, when he and other growers attacked the law, upheld this point.

"The Champ" Is Film Showing at Milne

A broken-down prize fighter and his small son, living in a border resort where the old gladiator seeks a "come back"—these are the characters played by Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper in their first appearance together in "The Champ," now showing at the Milne Theater.

The story is a poignant heart interest drama, based on parental love, but the picturesque details of a garish Mexican border town—horse racing, prize fighting, the whirl of the gambling halls, all invest it with a color and a thrill that give a new dramatic tang.

King Vidor directed the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, based on an original story by Frances Marion. The hero of "The Champ" and the hero of "Ship of Fools" have two of the most dramatic roles of their respective careers, and give the audience in them the same laughs, tears and emotional values.

Beery as the old champion loves the boy with an almost fanatical devotion. Finally, realizing his quest gives the child the advantage of a rich divorced mother can, he resolves to surrender the boy, though it breaks his heart. In the dramatic climax, the man they call "the Champ" proves the best man of all of them.

Miss Cowan To Take Lead Role In Plays

In the play, "Rich Man, Poor Man," to be given on Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock at the Woman's Club on Oak Avenue by the Little Theatre Club in conjunction with the comedy, "Pink and Patches," leading roles will be played by Miss Margaret Cowan and Maxwell Stewart. In addition to the leading feminine role in "Rich Man, Poor Man" Miss Cowan will also portray the lead in "Pink and Patches."

Although Miss Cowan has had many years of dramatic experience, she will make her first appearance with the Little Theatre Club here next Friday. She studied at Kingsmith Studio School in Washington, D. C. for one year and went from there to New York City where she attended for two years the American Academy of Dramatic Art and received her professional dramatic diploma. She took leading feminine roles for the Little Theatre Club of Daytona Beach for three years and was a principal in "Her Country," the cup winner in the first Little Theatre Tournament held in Tampa in the fall of 1930.

Sanford audiences will remember Maxwell Stewart in the role of "Sonny" in the play, "Buddies," presented by the Little Theatre Club in November of 1930, and in the scene, "The Honeycomb Express," of the Lion's Club Extravaganza given in 1928.

Carolyn Lloyd then took charge of the program for the evening.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"I" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Jan. 17.

The Golden Text was from I John 3:1, "This is the love, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son." Among the citations which accompanied the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "These words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee: And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent" (John 17:1, 3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science "exhort," "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is divine Principle, Mind, Soul, Spirit. Life is without beginning and without end. Eternity, not time, encompasses the thought of life, and thus is not part of eternity. The concept in proportion as the other is a created. Time is finite, eternity is forever infinite" (p. 468).

Autogiro Gives Passengers New Aviation Thrill

Part C, which arranged for the flight, is the autogiro, the craft through which the air depends on the same principles of airplane flight as are used in ordinary airplanes, except that the propellers are applied differently. All planes rise from the ground when a sufficient push of air passes over and under the wings. In the ordinary plane this rush of air is produced by moving the whole plane along the ground.

In the "scaled Power" Test plane, which is almost sufficient to lift the plane in the air, the "windmill" arrangement, rotating around the propeller, is used to lift the plane.

The power from the engine to the propeller is released before taking off, thus in the air, the rotors revolve by themselves. They are positively not driven by the engine, Mr. White said, "hence the name, autogiro, meaning self-turning." He pointed out another old fact, that the 15-foot wings on each side of the fuselage produce only one-fifth of the lift, because four-fifths comes from the rotors. The main function of the wings is to stabilize the plane in the air.

The craft can descend almost vertically without a possibility of stalling, going into a "spin." It can also climb almost vertically, and the plane is produced by the "windmill" arrangement, rotating around the propeller, is used to lift the plane.

NEW TOTALIZER JACKSON HIGH'S AT MIAMI TRACK QUARTET DEFEATS ACTS LIKE HUMAN SEMINOLE TEAM

Wagering Machine Is Last Word In Figuring Odds On Bets

MIAMI, Jan. 13. (A.P.)—From far away Australia came the Julius totalizer introduced to the American race wagers by the Miami Jockey Club, operators of Hialeah Park, approximately $300,000. It takes almost entirely from human hands the calculation of pari-mutuel wagers on horse racing.

Here is how it works: A better goes to a mutual horse race, names the horse of his choice, and hands over the amount of his wager. The clerk agent punches a lever signifying the amount of the wager. A flash of the eye, the calculator finishes its job and a ticket slides down a little chute just like the tickets in the theatre box office. Instantly, there is posted by means of electric lights about the track the notice that another race is made, and the odds on that particular horse are changed accordingly by the machine, with the further human aid. The indicator boards show in electric lights every fluctuation in the dividends; a horse will pay to win, place or show.

The machine will accommodate customers until the horses break down the barrier, when the totalizer is closed by the push of a button in the judges' stand. As the horses thunder down the track and by the time the thoroughbreds reach the finish line the dividends are posted on the indicator boards.

Approximately 90 miles of electric wiring are used to operate the "totalizer" and its board within a quarter mile radius at Hialeah Park. Black is the first race track to use the totalizer in America. The machine has been used on tracks at Bombay, Calcutta, in England, France, Australia, and New Zealand.

Four Lives Taken In Kentucky Feud One Is Near Death

LONDON, Ky., Jan. 13. (A.P.)—Blood guns, which blazed because members of one family believed a member of the other clan had raped their 17-year-old sister, have taken four lives, and yesterday a fifth mountaineer was near death and a sixth slightly wounded.

A quiet country churchyard at New Salem, a small Laurel county community 17 miles from here, was the scene of the shooting Saturday which claimed the lives of Hays and Forrest Crook, brothers, and Henry and Earl Johnson, brothers.

A cousin of the Johnsons, also named Henry Johnson, was in a critical condition yesterday at the hospital here, wounded in the abdomen. Willie Johnson, brother of the slain plain and who the Crooks said, had been shot.

Charles W. Hays, slain in the feud, was the wounded cousin did not participate in the shooting, but was wounded by a stray bullet. The battle, fought in the Baptist churchyard as worshippers were leaving after Saturday services, it was not determined whether Willie Johnson was the slayer.

President Hays, who was shot in the back, was taken to the hospital here. He is in a critical condition.

Celery Feds Finish 2-Day Invasion By Losing Game 32-21

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 13.—Andrew Jackson High's powerful quintet kept the record clean in a scholastic division Saturday night, defeating the Seminole High five from Sanford in the local school's gym by a 30-21 score.

The game closed out a disastrous two-day invasion of Jacksonville for the Celery Feds. They contributed Landon's first victory of the season Friday night.

Jackson clicked on oil cylinders during the first half and then coasted through the last two periods. The score at half-time was 21-10.

Coach Mike Hooser allowed his regulars to play through all but about three minutes of the first half but the visitors were completely snowed under. Even with the reserves in charge toward the end Sanford could do nothing to prevent the rapidly mounting Tiger total.

The Jackson mascot permitted his second team to enter the second half but it was no match for a rejuvenated Sanford quintet. Coach Whitley McInnes' charges produced a most creditable brand of basketball in the third period, running up nine points during this phase of the melee while holding the home forces to two.

In fact Jackson went scoreless in the third period until Coach Hooser returned his regulars to the floor with about two minutes of the chapter remaining.

Most of the spectators figured the first stringers would resume their sharpshooting proclivities where they left off near the end of the first half but the spark and fire wasn't there. Sanford outscored Jackson in this quarter, too, the count being 7-0.

Although the game was one-sided and not particularly hard-fought, three players were forced out of the contest in the last quarter with an excess of fouls. William Smith, diminutive Sanford forward, and Capt. Mitchell Scherer and Laurie Crenshaw of Jackson, were the three offenders.

Russell Tyler, lanky Tiger forward, carried off high scoring honors with five field goals and three from the free throw line. Crenshaw ran Tyler a close race, however, with four field goals and one free throw. All of Crenshaw's field goals were made in the first half.

Scherer played his customary sterling floor game. David Rothstein gave another fine exhibition at guard.

For Sanford, Hendrix Lyles turned in a good all-around performance, appearing to better advantage than any of the visiting players. Smith was watched closely by Scherer and was able to do little damage. Fulton Hester played well at times, as also did Murray Kanner. Sanford's All-Southern high school football players.

Bishop Hugh C. Boyle declined to comment. The priest, whose candidacy was announced following a rally of some 50,000 unemployed and others at Pitt stadium Saturday, asserted he is "not interested in politics."

"I am interested in the people and their needs only," he said, "and I want to see the resolutions we have adopted carried out."

Our platform is our resolution, taking immediate relief, jobs and a $20,000,000 program of public works to provide the jobs, with increased income and inheritance taxes to provide funds for the relief of the unemployed and farmers."

Volstead Scores Suggestion Made To Restore Beer

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 13. (A.P.)—Andrew J. Volstead, author of the prohibition enforcement act, yesterday wrote to Senator Bingham of Connecticut that his bill legalizing four percent beer "draws down the old rag-bag of laws, brass rails and all."

The twelfth anniversary of national prohibition brought Volstead, now legal adviser to the district dry law enforcement administrator here, the declaration that "I am still for prohibition."

He branded the proposed law as one which "would tend to depress business and not afford relief."

On Jan. 6, Volstead was invited by the Connecticut Republican to appear before the Senate committee on the beer bill.

Volstead, who said he would go to Washington only in response to a summons, Bingham announced no summons would be issued.

"Your appeal for beer on the ground that it will provide a tax revenue source of the revenue that is greatly needed is in my view, based on a delusion," Volstead said in his letter.

Before the World War the government received from taxes on malt liquors less than seventy million dollars annually, he asserted, and continued:

"It is reasonable to believe that with millions of people out of work the federal government could not collect even half of that sum now, especially after a large majority of the beer drinkers have long since given up the beer drinking habit."

After a pair of non-conference meetings, Maryland barely survived its first long engagement with Washington and Iowa, losing two overtime periods to down the Generals 42-38. Saturday night the champions won from V. M. A. 34-20.

KENTUCKY SAYS SHE IS OUT FOR BASEBALL TITLE

By DILLON GRAHAM
Associated Press Sports Writer.

ATLANTA, Jan. 13. (A.P.)—Always a dangerous contender but never a winner since the annual tournament was inaugurated eight years ago, Kentucky has again warned the Southern Conference of its basketball championship intentions.

The Wildcats from Lexington, second ranking team in Dixie last year, today were on even terms with Alabama for the conference cage leadership. Each had four victories. A step behind came Maryland, the defending champion, with two triumphs.

Kentucky added another decision over Clemson, 30-17, and over Tennessee, 29-28, for its four games. The Vols' defeat dropped them from the pace-setters' position they held with Alabama last week, while the Crimson from Tusculum gained two victories over Florida, 32-19 and 25-11, to retain their ranking.

Florida Products Week Is Observed By Service Clubs

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 13. (A.P.)—This is "Florida Products" Week with the service clubs throughout the state.

The "week" was sponsored by the clubs at the suggestion of the State Department of Agriculture. Commissioner Nathan Mayo issued the following statement:

"The governors of the service clubs of the state have agreed to observe 'Florida Products Week' beginning Monday, Jan. 13. During this time we urge everyone to co-operate in this laudable endeavor to emphasize the importance of using Florida products in our menus at home, at club lunches, hotels, boarding houses, restaurants and all public eating places."

"We hope that this patriotic endeavor will bring to the attention of the public the wonderful possibilities of Florida as a food-producing state, including staple products such as field crops, fruits, vegetables, dairy products, poultry, domestic meat products, fresh and salt water fish products and wild game."

"This will also be a means of bringing to the attention of the hundreds of thousands of our visitors the many varieties of foods produced in Florida and their health-giving qualities, and by creating a greater demand for such products both at home and abroad, will furnish employment to great numbers of people, and to this extent will in some degree relieve depression."

MORRISON WINS GOLENG MEET AT AGUA CALIENTE

California Star Gets $5,000 As 1st Money; Gene Sarazen 2nd

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico, Jan. 13. (A.P.)—Fred Morrison, from Colter City, Cal., won the world's richest golfing stake yesterday the $15,000 Agua Caliente open, by playing the final 18 holes in 73, one over par, for a 72-hole grand total of 284.

The good-natured professional won the $5,000 first prize in his initial appearance in big money tournament play.

Morrison, who is 31, was on top of his game during the four day's play. He shot a 60 in the rain and mud on Wednesday to lead the field by one day, layoff, came back Saturday with a 68, to take the lead again.

Two strokes behind Morrison came Gene Sarazen of New York, who won the first Agua Caliente open in 1930, then worth $25,000. Sarazen took second place, money of $2,500. His final round was played in 72, even par, which with his previous cards of 70-72-72 gave him 286 strokes.

Olin Dutra of Santa Monica, a descendant of the California dogs, finished with a par-breaking 71 for the final round to take third place in the tournament and $1,500 of the prize money. He had his previous cards of 72-71-71 gave him a total of 284 and thus celebrated his thirty-first birthday.

Lighthorse Harry Coper of Chicago, after being in second place at the end of the third round, faltered in the final nine to take a 76 yesterday. This, added to his previous cards of 72-71-71 gave him a total of 294 and set him down in fourth place, worth $900.

Last year, George Von Elm of Los Angeles, and Johnny Golden, Stamford, Conn., tied for first place with 293. Von Elm had a 72-hole total of 294 this year, which placed him in a tie for eighth place and netted him $270. Golden's final score was 297, which brought him $100 for a fourteenth place tie.

Morrison and Sarazen bettered the surprisingly better scores made this year. They said the fact that the rules permitted them to improve their lies for the second shot on long holes and the great improvement of the greens accounted for the difference.

Tied for fifth place with cards of 296 were Charley Goff, Doral, N. J., and Willie Gorgin of San Francisco. They won $700 each.

Leo Diegel, the home pro who turned up the course on the first two rounds and blew up badly Saturday, finished yesterday with a 74 for a total of 292 and seventh place. His earlier cards were 70-68-78, and his money, $500.

(Paul) Runyon, 33-year-old professional of White Plains, N. Y., and Willie Hunter, the veteran from Portland, Ore., tied with 294 in the eighth round. Runyon's 70-68-73-76 gave him the honor of leading the youngsters in the play. His second round, made in four under par, placed his name with those of Diegel and Morrison as co-holders of the course record. Hunter's cards were 73-73-72-75.

Boom Conditions Are Continuing In Everglades Area

WEST PALM BEACH, Jan. 13.

Boom conditions continue in the Everglades, according to word received here. All records for vegetable shipments from the western part of Palm Beach county are being smashed this month, and dozens of temporary buildings are being erected to house the laborers working in the district.

Everglades growers continue sending their crops to market in large quantities, despite the fact that this is usually considered the dull season. Carload shipments for last week totaled 148 cars, of which 118 were beans. The same week last year only 15 cars were rolled from the same territory, all of them being mixed vegetables.

Growers are receiving from 75 cents to $1 a hamper, for snap beans, and from $3.50 to $4 for lima beans, the best paying crop. Tractors are at work about Lake Okechobee plowing and dicing lands for new crops.

In order to house the throngs of laborers employed in farming operations, dozens of buildings are being erected in the outlying districts and in the towns. Buildings to house farm equipment are also going up everywhere, many farmers taking advantage of the seasonal let-up to erect needed structures.

Furniture Making
Expected To Take
Big Upward Swing

CHICAGO, Jan. 13. (A.P.)—The furniture industry will begin to step up production this week to fill orders from thousands of retailers whose stocks are the lowest in 80 years.

This increased output will be the response to sales negotiated by 700 manufacturers whose exhibits at the National Furniture show, which ended Saturday at the American Furniture mart here, drew more than 4700 buyers from 45 states and Canada.

It will be the first time in several months that the furniture industry has felt the welcome knock of an appreciable volume of new business at its door.

"Indications are that thousands of men employed in the construction of furniture will be recalled to work by factories as a result of sales at the show," V. L. Alward, president of the mart, said yesterday.

A check of the 700 exhibitors at the show revealed that furniture factories generally have been running between 50 and 100 per cent of capacity. Some manufacturers said they could resume full-time operations as a result of new orders.

Municipal Airport
All Set To Receive
Airplanes On Tour

ing filled with events such as have never before transpired here.

School children who have been actively engaged in selling tickets for the event, are said to have made good progress, with most persons making purchases in order to assist the child in securing an airplane ride which will be given to the boy or girl selling the most tickets.

Featuring the tour from the viewpoint of prominent aviators is Mrs. Betty Hunt, widow of the noted stunt flyer who lost his life late last fall. Art Klippel, Art Davis, and a host of Florida aviators, Mrs. Land will perform all of the stunts which made her late husband famous, while Killip and Davis have equipped a series of spectacular stunts which have never been seen here, and on but few occasions in the state.

The aviators will no doubt attract most of the attention for they have been the sensation of the West. Passengers will be carried in them as in other ships during the day, and the pilots of each will give a demonstration of the possibilities of the airplane, in several different situations demanding safety. They will remain in the air over a given spot for several minutes, as well as settle to earth slower than a man in a parachute who is released to "fall out of an airplane" flying alongside the aviators.

Specifically, Klippel will demonstrate a series of stunts, including a loop, a barrel roll, and a series of loops, and Davis will perform a series of stunts, including a loop, a barrel roll, and a series of loops.

RAIL EXECUTIVES EXAMINE LABOR'S WAGE PROPOSALS

No Decision Reached At Secret Meeting Between Factions

CHICAGO, Jan. 13. (A.P.)—Labor's program for the stabilization of railway employment was scrutinized yesterday with no decision reached.

The proposals made as a reply to the suggestion of a voluntary wage cut of 10 percent were discussed at the conference between rail employees and their organized workers by President Daniel Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio leader of the committee of nine executives.

For three hours he explained to the Brotherhood and union delegates the viewpoint of the management on such problems as a national employment to minimum forces, retirement insurance and a six-hour day. The meeting was secret and Willard refused to reveal what stand the roads were taking on any of the questions.

David B. Robertson, chairman of the union delegation, said nothing definite had come out of yesterday's session of the negotiations although he felt as a result of the discussion that the presidents want to cooperate with us as far as is possible and practicable.

"Their attitude in some cases appears to be favorable to our proposals," Robertson said. "In other cases they do not go as far as we hoped they would go."

The spokesman both stated that subject of wage reduction had not yet been discussed by the labor delegates.

As to the possible outcome regarding the entire program or any particular part of it, Willard said "that will all come out in the wash" and Robertson said he was "just as hopeful of a settlement" as when he entered the negotiations.

The only general meeting yesterday started at 10 A. M. and lasted until 1 P. M. Today the negotiations continue and both sides are expected that before noon the negotiations will continue and both sides are expected that before noon the negotiations will continue.

A. F. Whitney, head of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, spoke yesterday on the labor proposal of a joint commission to determine the ways and means of applying the principle of the six-hour day to the different classes of employees.

Julius G. Luhrs, head of the American Train Dispatchers' Association, argued for a federal compensation law to indemnify against occupational accidents and a law to provide retirement insurance.

The labor delegates were assured by the presidents yesterday that all of the railroads would defer any action on wage reductions under the railway act until the end of the present conference, and that if the negotiations failed, the roads would give the union men ample time to return home before demanding conferences as required by law.

In seven seconds. It is piloted by Herby C. Finley.

A Sanford aviator, John H. Kratzer, and his brother, Max G. Kratzer, will return to Sanford with the tour, having attended the Miami races, as well as accompanied the aviators through Florida.

To dispel an impression that persons may visit the field to see the arrival of the tour and the accompanying stunts, a small committee of local aviators, including S. D. Hightower, member of the committee today announced that all visits will be blocked and controlled by national guardsmen, police, and members of the committee, who will sell tickets for the affair.

The expense of bringing the tour is so heavy that it is necessary that all persons who wish to see the planes and stunts, must purchase tickets before being admitted to the vicinity of the field. Mr. Hightower said. Admission is 50 cents, children 25 cents, while ground tickets for sitting automobile owners to a parking space at the field are 50 cent per each car.
