On $15 Billion Money Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) - After a 10-day recess, Congress will resume work on a $15-billion money bill that contains tuxts for several programs that aid millions of Americans herd hit by the recession. A dispute Thursday delayed final action on the bill, which contains funds for unemployment compensation, food stamps, welfare, community services, veterans services and numerous other federal programs. After the Memorial Day recess ends on June 2, the House also will tackle two other major items on which it postponed action. These are the energy conservation tax bill and the attempt to override President Ford's veto of the strip mining bill.

Medical Care Costs Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) - The federal government's Council on Wage and Price Stability plans to study the rising costs of medical care, which Council Director Albert Rees says is one remaining trouble spot in the improved inflation picture. The cost of medical care services increased 14.5 per cent in the past 12 months and 2.7 per cent in the past three months, according to the Labor Department's Consumer Price Index for April. By comparison, consumer prices over-all rose 10.2 during the 12-month period and 1.4 per cent in the past three months. Physicians' fees rose 14 per cent during the 12-month period ending in April, dental fees rose 11.8 per cent and hospital service charges increased 16.8 per cent.

School Prayer Law Passes

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) - The New Hampshire legislature has passed a law to reintroduce prayer into the public schools, with sponsors directly challenging the U.S. Supreme Court on the issue. The Connecticut legislature passed a measure designed to avoid a confrontation with the high court. New Hampshire Gov. Meldrim Thomson is expected to sign a bill passed Thursday that would permit the voluntary recitation of the Lord's Prayer in public elementary schools at the option of local school districts.

500 Holiday Deaths Predicted

CHICAGO (AP) - Traffic accidents during the long Memorial Day weekend will cause between 400 and 500 deaths and 18,000 to 24,000 disabling injuries, the National Safety Council predicts. The 78-hour holiday period begins at 6 p.m. local time today and lasts until midnight Monday. Ron Kuykendall, NSC traffic safety information specialist, said Thursday that there were 392 fatalities during last year's Memorial Day weekend. In 1973, before speed limits were lowered to 55 miles per hour on the nation's highways, there were 539 traffic fatalities during the holiday weekend.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) - House and Senate conferees have approved bills to reorganize the state's massive Health and Rehabilitative Services Department and put prisons under a new department of offender

The last roadblock was cleared Thursday when House conferees, urged by Speaker Donald Tucker to reach a decision quickly, backed down from their position on juvenile delinquency programs. The bills, as finally approved, contain the Senate position - also sought by Gov. Reubin Askew - of keeping the delinquency programs within HRS instead of including them in the new department.

The Memorial Day holiday weekend officially begins at 6 p.m. today and ends at midnight, Monday, May 26.

During that 78-hour span, 28 persons will die on Florida's highways, according to Highway Patrol Director Colonel Eldrige Peach.

"If our estimate should prove to be correct," Beach said recently, "having 28 persons killed during this period will be a tragic waste of human

Colonel Beach said, "Last year, 22 people were killed and in 1973 40 were lost in traffic deaths. Over the last four years, about one person was killed every two and one-half hours during Memorial Day weekends."

Of those who were killed last year, six were pedestrians and seven others were persons ejected from a vehicle and killed. Twelve crashes occurred in daylight hours and 15 crashes happened in clear weather. Two of the 22 deaths came about via accidents involving motorcycles.

Too, it is worth noting that of the six pedestrians killed, three died in accidents that happened during darkness hours.

There is no law enforcement agency known to man that can eliminate traffic deaths alone, according to Colonel Beach "even when we're out in full force as they will be this Memorial Day comparatively small slight of decency along weekend," he says. "We must have the full cooperation of the traveling public if everyone is to Arrive Alive," Colonel Beach concluded.

In addition to those people who will lose their lives this weekend, there will be countless others who will be permanently maimed or disfigured while still others will suffer the sadness and heartbreak that accompanies such tragedies.

Then again, there will be those who lose their lives through drownings, fire and other unforeseen happenstances.

With all this in mind, we urge all our readers to be extra cautious this weekend. When driving, watch out for the other guy at all times. In other words, be a good defensive driver. If you and yours are having a fun day at the beach, take a count of nose periodically and keep isolated from the development of human rights close tabs on everyone - especially the youngsters.

And, if it's a big barbecue that's on your agenda, use common sense. Start your fire with caution -- don't do like some idiots and use gasoline to get it going - and keep little ones at a safe distance. Watch out for flying sparks and spat- of Jews, and first submitted to the Senate a the county government is not necessarily an tering grease.

At all times, no matter what you do or where you go, make a special effort to make this in part, a national, ethnic, racial or religious study of county government by the Public Memorial Day one on which we honor the memory of those who died while serving our country - not the day when your loved ones will remember you as having been one of the statistics of Memorial Day 1975.

Unneeded Agency

The banner of consumerism is in the forefront of a march by Congress to establish a new bureaucracy which will create undreds of federal jobs and cost the taxpayers an estimated $16 billion over the next three years.

A proposed consumer protection agency to "monitor" the actions of other governmental regulator departments has been given legislative form in bills before both the House and Senate. But, as President Ford emphasized in a recent address to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, ample federal tools exist already to insure that the American consumer is kept secure from purveyors of shoddy merchandise or inadequate services. The federal effort should be directed to improving their focus

TOM TIEDE Human Rights Fight

WASHINGTON - (NEA) - When the U.S. Senate refused last month to ratify a harmless resolution designating April 24 as "National Day of Remembrance of Man's Inhumanity to Man," hardly an instance of editorial surprise was recorded. Perhaps understandably. Senatorial snubs of this kind may be so common as to no longer be newsworthy; these hundred men regularly and deliberately ignore actions designed to condemn human oppression.

The brushoff of the National Day of Remembrance, actually, was for the Senate a these lines. In recent years the body has refused rove other more urgent numan rig resolutions which would call for the international political rights of women, the international condemnation of all forms of racial discrimination, and the world abolition of forced labor, forced marriage and forced prostitution.

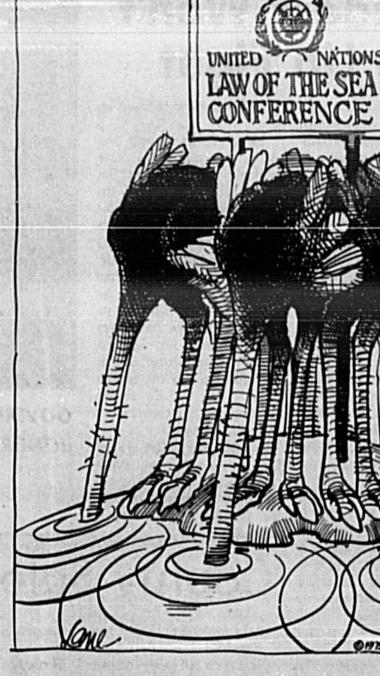

Indeed, the Senate's record concerning the global cause of human dignity is, as one member says, "odorous." And, unfortunately, its reluctance leaves a scent on every American. Constitutionally, the United States cannot officially join other nations in the observance of international laws of human rights without a two-thirds Senate vote approving each law; and since the Senate has steadfastly refused to approve all but a few world treaties and conventions in this area, the entire country remains regulations.

A House subcommittee on international organizations suggests the Senate has failed to ratify "at least 29 human rights conventions" - Sunday Herald, May 18th, I don't know whether I but one, the Genocide Treaty and that may well hold a minority or a majority point of view, and be the most dismal illustration of its shame. The birds worked daily, hammering and pecking away, at the tree until Jack found a perfect circle had been drilled about three to four inches deep before going six inches or so straight down inside the trunk. "One would drill away at the wood and then fly away. The second would sweep out the shavings and his mouth, my son came along and grabbed the snake, freeing the bird, and hauled the snake to the zoo. "My daughter was upset because she thought the bird was hurt. She had spotted red on the little tyke's head, thinking it was blood," Jack continued. "I showed her the bird was okay and put it back in the nest, figuring the mother would have nothing further to do with the little bird because a human had touched it. I've heard this happens.

'Well, the next day, there was the mother bird back and caring for the lone survivor of the family. A couple of days later, I spotted the adult birds in a tree some distance away while the little bird chirpped and squawked for food.

I think the adult birds were telling the little guy that if he wanted his food, he was going to have to fly over and get it. Sure enough, pretty soon he got up the ve and took off." Jack said.

Realism In Foreign Policy Plan

What place should moral principles have in the conduct of a nation's foreign policy?

At a time when Americans are concerned about the future direction of their country in the light of the bitter Vietnam experience, at a time when the "dirty tricks" of the Central Intelligence Agency - which some critics allege extended to the attempted or contemplated assassination of certain foreign heads of state are the subject of official investigation, the question is far from a rhetorical one.

All governments claim to act from moral principles, of course, but the question has a * special relevance for Americans, according to Charles Frankel, professor of philosophy and public affairs at Columbia University.

This is because, he writes in "Morality and U.S. Foreign Policy," a booklet recently published by the private, non-partisan educational Foreign Policy Assn., unlike most other nations "made by God or history," the United States "declared itself a nation by an act of explicit political self-construction, by a r deliberate compact into which people entered by announcing their allegiance to universal principles that they declared ought to be at the foundation of government everywhere."

Jefferson, in his Inaugural Address of 1801. described the United States government as "the world's best hope." Lincoln, not a man of evangelical temper, spoke of the effort at popular government as "the last, best hope of man."

Along with this sense of hope, says Frankel, there has been in the American air since the time of the Declaration of Independence the idea that from paying the tax prior to passage of the or- something better is expected of a nation selfdinance by the Commission. ## WORLD IN BRIEF U.S. Agrees To Consider

European Arms Buy Request

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) - The United States has agreed to give sympathetic consideration to requests from its NATO allies that America place more arms orders with European producers. Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger gave that response during opening sessions Thurrday of the autual spring meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. British Defense Minister Roy Mason contended that for every dollar the United States spends on arms purchases in Europe, the Europeans buy $10 worth of arms in the United States. He said the ratio ought to be no more than 5-to-1.

Kissinger, Ecevit Meet

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)-Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger met today with former Premier Bulent Ecevit and asked him to throw his support behind a Cyprus settlement

Ecevit was the premier who ordered the successful Turkish invasion of Cyprus last summer but now heads the opposition to Premier Suleyman Demirel's govern-

Kissinger said they reviewed "international affairs in general and the Cyprus question in particular." Asked what he expected the opposition leader to do about a Cyprus settlement, he replied: "I am sure it will be a responsible role as he has always said it would be." Kissinger during his visit warned Demirel and Ecevit that despite the U.S. Senate's approval of the resumption of American arms aid to Turkey, the House of Representatives won't go along unless there is actual movement toward a settlement between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Moslems, Christians Battle

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - Shooting between

Palestinian Moslems and right-wing Christian Lebanese

continued on the eastern outskirts of Beirut today despite deployment of a buffer force of Lebanese security troops.

The government stationed troops of the new special police force with armored cars and trucks between the warring factions in eastern suburbs where at least 20 persons have been killed in three days of fighting between Palestinian guerrillas and the private army of the Phalangist party.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) - Game 751 was the biggest of them all for the Voted the most valuable player of Kentucky Colonels.

High point honors went to Indiana's Billy Knight, who finished with 40, followed by George McGinnis with 31.

It was Knight, with 22 seconds left on the clock, who almost pulled the game out for Indiana when he hit two free throws, narrowing the gap to 108-103. He then dropped in a 13-foot shot, but Gilmore was fouled and pumped in two from the free throw line to make it 110-105.

Indiana called time out with 1 seconds left, and when play resumed Billy Keller fired off a 26-footer that

In Game No. 2, it was Keller's 45foot shot that touched off an Indiana protest after Kentucky won 95-93.

ABA Commissioner Dave Debusschere ruled that the shot came after the final buzzer, despite Indiana's claim that two seconds still showed on the clock.

Helen Gives Her Furniture A Brand New Appearance

By ELDA NICHOLS Herald Correspondent

Can an amateur really refinish old pieces of furniture and be pleased with the outcome? Helen Bliss, of English Estates, answers emphatically, "Yes!" And she has the evidence to prove it.

"My first experience was in re-doing an old oak table that had been in the family for years," she explained. "It had a lot of sentimental value, and besides, we continually used it n different areas of the house So with that first success, we figured we could do as well with ther nieces

After buying an old vanity dresser recently, Helen has refinished it and matched it to er bedroom suite. "I learned something from this," she said. Don't use plastic wood in mending flaws in the wood, as e stain won't cover it. Paste wood filler is much better." Helen's first step, after choosing a piece of furniture to work on, is to use a well-known orand paint remover. "I have ound it's best to avoid the sser-known brands in paint emovers or stains. A good quality brand is much cheaper than re-doing or ruining a good piece of furniture," she said. After removing the paint, perfections in the wood. Stain is then applied, in the chosen color, with either a brush or by wiping it on. "The color depends on how much you apply, as the more coats you give the object, the darker the inish. Also, be sure each coat is dry before starting the next frame." she said one," she warned.

Historical Vans To Outline Heritage Bicentennial Exhibit Goes On Display At Sanford Plaza

The American Bicentennial Florida Exhibition coming to Sanford.

The three-trailer exhibit, which is sponsored by the Bicentennial Commission of Florida and the Seminole County Action '76 Committee, will be on display throughout the week of May 26-31 at Sanford Plaza and is expected to be viewed by approximately 50,000 visitors. Sanford is one of just 50 areas in the state which will be hosting the historical van and features the most up-todate audio-visual techniques to communicate its historical journey through Florida with glimpses into the future of our state.

The exhibit will be officially opened on Memorial Day at 10 a.m. with Jack Horner, chairman of the Action '76 Committee of Seminole County, serving as master of introduction of visiting dignitaries, Moore will offer the

Horner will introduce Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore, who will officially welcome the exhibit, with County Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr., proclaiming the exhibit open by cutting the ceremonial ribbon. Lake Brantley's Patriot High School Band will provide entertainment during the official opening ceremonies while the U.S. Marine Corps recruiting service will carry the colors. Ernie Horrell, coordinator of the Action '76 Committee, will lead the spectators in the pledge of allegiance to the flag with Rev. Douglas Porter, of the Sanford Ministerial Association, giving the invocation. Following some opening remarks by Horner and the

After Vihlen cuts the ribbon to the exhibit, it will be open to the public and will remain open throughout the week during daylight hours.

The traveling exhibit features the national Bicentennial themes of Heritage '76, Festival USA and Horizons '76. It is financed by the Florida Banker's Association and that group's sale of Governor's Bicentennial Medailions. This is the first opportunity most residents of Seminole County will have to come into direct contact with the Bicentennial celebration and its objectives. In addition to the Florida exhibit, several Seminole County communities will present Bicentennial exhibits unique to their heritage

Sanford Planning Big Memorial Day

Most everyone in the area will be able to attend, inless they go to school, work for the city of Altamonte orings or for a merchant who decides to keep his doors open for the day. Sanford will conduct a service at Memorial Park on Lake Monroe beginning at 12:30 p.m. On hand will be the band and 50-state flag pageant group from the Naval Fraining Center in Orlando.

The Memorial Park ceremony will climax with the sentation and hoisting of the 15-by-25 foot American flag being given to the city by the Sanford Rotary Club. Meanwhile, the Bicentennial Florida Historical Exhibit will open at Sanford Plaza at 10 a.m. when Seminole County Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr., cuts the ribbon.

School children and their teachers won't be able to be on hand for either of the two ceremonies since the School Board has decided that it's business as usual in the classrooms.

Municipal and county employes throughout Seminole, with the exception of Altamonte Springs, will get the day off, Altamonte's Mayor Norman Floyd had directed that nis city will observe Memorial Day on Friday - which is May 30, the original date of the observance.

Banks will close along with the post office and the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce. Merchants are split on the issue, with some of the larger stores - and most of the smaller ones - closing up.
