Supply Working Capital on Reasonable Terms Granted Others

CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD TODAY

President Says Farming Is an Industry More Vital Than any Other

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Development of a thorough code of law and business procedure, with the proper machinery of finance to assure the farmer a generous supply of working capital on as reasonable terms as granted other industries, was advocated today by President Harding in opening the National Agricultural conference.

The conference opened with approximately three hundred delegates representing agriculture in all its phases and industries relating to farming.

THIRTY-NINE YEARS WITH FIRST NATIONAL IN THIS CITY

Quite by accident the Herald representative learned that today was the 39th anniversary of the First National Bank and that F. P. Forster had been with the institution that many years. Thirty-nine years with one bank is a record of which anyone can well feel proud and this paper would like to take a column to tell of the many changes and the many improvements that have taken place in the bank in that time.

"NO WORSE BLUNDER" THAN U. S. AT GENOA POSSIBLE—GOMPERS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor has followed up his recent attack on the proposal to have the United States enter the world economic conference at Genoa, along with Russia, by an editorial in the forthcoming issue of the American Federationist, official organ of the association which declares that "no worse blunder could be made" than to send American delegates to Genoa.

"Can we hope to enter into a period of higher international relations by taking the hand of monsters who boast that they rule by terror and bloodshed?" Mr. Gompers asked. "To recognize the Lenin despotism at this time would be to confound the situation and still further postpone the time when recognition of a government based on a free expression of the people may be established," he added.

Cardinal Santos dead Archbishop of Toledo died at Madrid

POWERS AGREE TO PUBLISH LIST OF AGREEMENTS

TO BE "AS COMPLETE AS POSSIBLE" SAYS THE RESOLUTION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Two more American resolutions based upon the principle of open diplomacy and open door of commercial opportunity in China were adopted yesterday by the Far Eastern committee of the Washington conference.

The proposal for a show down of all international agreements affecting China's interests, presented Thursday by Secretary Hughes, was given committee approval only after it had been freighted with upwards of a score of amendments, but American spokesmen insisted last night that its meaning had not been materially changed.

Under a supplemental declaration proposed by Elihu Root and accepted with little debate, the powers agree not to support in the future any engagements entered into by their nationals designed to create special spheres of influence or exclusive opportunities within Chinese territory.

JOHN WANAMAKER VISITING OUR CITY ON HIS FINE YACHT

PROMINENT MERCHANT, PHILANTHROPIST AND STATESMAN HERE FOR FEW DAYS

John Wanamaker and party from Philadelphia, arrived at the city dock Saturday night and are spending a few days in and around the city. The well known merchant, philanthropist and statesman has been riding around the city and taking in several cities near here while the boat is at anchor and he is enjoying his visit very much.

Mr. Wanamaker was reported dead several weeks ago as a man named Wanamaker died at Miami and the undertaker making out the burial certificate jumped at the conclusion that it was John Wanamaker and sent out the word broadcast. Mr. Wanamaker says the report of his death was "greatly exaggerated" and while he was at his home in the north he said he was almost afraid to make the trip to Florida if they intended to kill him off so quickly and without his consent. However, he is the picture of health and went to the Presbyterian church here yesterday and otherwise spent the day as a good Presbyterian should.

It was then carried to St. Peters, attended by a solemn procession of Cardinals, priests, members of the diplomatic corps and dignitaries of the Vatican. VICE-PRESIDENT F. E. C. RAILWAY, HERE FOR VISIT

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ingraham, of St. Augustine were glad to see them in Sanford for a day's visit with Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Forster, Mrs. Forster and Mrs. Ingraham being sisters. J. E. Ingraham was one of the pioneers of this city and is fondly remembered by many of the old timers as one of the best looking men in this part of Florida in the early days. He was general agent for General Sanford and laid out the City of Sanford and had a beautiful home south of the city where Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Howard now live. Here he had a fine orange grove and all that heart could desire in the way of comfort and convenience with fifty acres of bearing grove—all killed in the big freeze that made so many rich men poor over night. Mr. Ingraham was also president of the old South Florida Railway and built the Pico block and the Pico Hotel for the railway company and many other buildings. Mr. Ingraham left here in 1892 to go with the Florida East Coast railway, being an intimate friend and associate of the late Henry Flagler. Mr. Ingraham is vice-president of the Florida East Coast Railway and president of the Model Land Co., that own thousands of acres of land from Chulueta in this county south to big Lake Okeechobee and surrounding territory and go south as far as Cape Sable. Mr. Ingraham is greatly interested in all the thriving little cities on the new branches of the F. E. C. Ry., and was pleased to get a recent copy of the Okeechobee News while here and to note the many improvements and changes on the big lake.

His many Sanford friends and especially his old time friends who knew him so well in the early days are hoping that he will soon recover from a recent illness and operation and be himself again and that he will return to Sanford for a longer stay some time in the near future.

PRIZES PRESENTED AT THE SCHOOLS BY WELFARE DEPARTMENT, WOMAN'S CLUB

The chapel exercises, both in the High and Grammar schools, were the scenes of cordial interest on Wednesday morning when prizes in the "City Beautiful" contest were finally awarded. Sometime ago it was announced by the committee of the Welfare Department in charge of that work in the schools that the winners chosen for submitting the most helpful suggestions for making Sanford a more beautiful city were Naomi Scoggan and Alice Holly in the High School and Margaret Butner of the Eighth grade. The prizes, however, which were to be good books, had to be ordered, and so the presentation of these to the winners was delayed until this week. Mrs. C. W. Vorce represented the committee at the Grammar School exercises, making a very appropriate talk about the pupils' individual opportunities for helping make Sanford a "City Beautiful." She then presented the eighth grade prize which was a copy of James Whitcomb Riley's "Songs of Friendship."

Miss Sara Muriel represented the committee at the High School, presenting in its name copies of Van-Dyke's "The Blue Flower" to Naomi Scoggan and Alice Holly for winning first and second place respectively in the contest. Honorable mention was made of the suggestions handed in by John Wilson and Annabel Shimmans, two members of the Sophomore class.

ORLANDO'S NEW HOTEL WILL BE ELEVEN STORIES

With only twenty days of the new year gone, Orlando has stepped into the lead of all cities in the Southland with a building total of more than $800,000.

This remarkable figure was reached yesterday when the Orange Hotel Co. applied for a $750,000 permit for its new hotel, and eleven story structure now being built on the corner of North Orange avenue and Oak street. Complete plans of the building will be submitted to the building department this morning by the architect, Murry S. King, and the permit will be issued either today or Monday.

Work on the hotel has been going on for several weeks under a temporary permit, which was first issued for thirty days and later renewed. Virtually all the structural steel has arrived and within the last few days the outline of what will be Orlando's greatest sky-scraper has mounted steadily upward, bearing a silent testimonial to the progress of Florida's Seventh City.

It will truly be a million dollar hotel, as may be seen from the amount of the building permit and officials of the company said last night that when it is completely equipped the cost may exceed even this startling figure.

Although the hotel has been referred to as the Menendez, it has not been named. Menendez was suggested by an artist sometime ago who painted the structure as it will appear when completed, but the company refused to adopt this appellation.—Orlando Sentinel.

TOUGH ON THE BOYS

The Sanford Herald in telling about three runaway boys found in that city said: "They will be held here probably wanted tonight et al shir pending the arrival of their folks from Orlando today." If the boys are in as bad shape as the Herald would indicate the parents cannot get there too soon.—Kissimmee Gazette.

STILL HUNTING FOR EASIER JOBS.

Within two weeks a resident of this city overtook a young man on the road some three miles to the southward and offered to pick him up and bring him as far as Kissimmee. The offer was gladly taken. The young fellow, evidently under twenty-five, had neither grip nor pack, was ill-clothed, and sadly needed dry-cleaning and pressing. He stated that his home was in Massachusetts where he was employed in a shoe-factory, but because of "some labor conditions" he had quit and made the trip to Florida. He was then walking back.

Such is the fate of many who come to Florida to find an easy snap. All this young fellow knew to an exactness was the making of shoes—yet he gave up a job because of a slight lessening of pay and made a trip to a location thousands of miles from a shoe plant because of a mistaken idea that everything would fall to him and he would have an easy time. The man recognized his mistake—yet he will leave the state with a bitterness in his heart regarding the residents here. No doubt he will always condemn Florida—merely because he failed to tumble into some lucrative position.

He was old enough to have understood that good positions in Florida—as well as in all other states—come only to those who have demonstrated their ability to fill such situations. He was old enough, also, to have saved some of the high wages he had been receiving during the "get-rich-quick" years to tide him through the era of reconstruction and into the years of normal conditions. And, again, he was old enough to have learned that "half a loaf is better than no bread"—that a man can so arrange his affairs to ensnare his outgo when his income is lessened.

There are men in Florida today who have made wages in the past few years of from fifty to eighty dollars a week. Today they are willing to accept in this state a situation which will pay their board and leave them a little for extras. They are of many trades—and no doubt are good workmen; but, led adrift by the phantom of a maximum of pay for a minimum of labor they thrust behind them the probabilities of luxuries and followed off after the possibilities of necessities.

And that is what is making hardships in all walks of life at the present moment!—Kissimmee Gazette.

THE JUNE PRIMARIES

While this is an off year in elections more than the usual interest centers in the June primaries especially in the selection of county representatives in the next legislature, where changes are to be made. Issues that are certain to come at the next session of the legislature are vital to Florida, a growing and prospering state. Among these will be tick eradication, no-fence law, highway development, changes in methods of taxation, capital removal and reapportionment.

But even more interest, perhaps, centers in the nomination of the United States senator, Senator Trammell's term expiring next year. So far no names other than those of Mr. Trammell, to succeed himself, and William Jennings Bryan. The Pensacola News, in a recent issue, makes the prediction that Mr. Bryan will be a candidate, and suggests that if he does Florida will see one of the liveliest campaigns in its history. The News says it has learned, in devious ways, that Mr. Bryan has declared that he will make the race if there is sufficient demand for it.

The Jacksonville Observer also has declared that Mr. Ryan would no doubt prove a highly acceptable candidate to a large number of Florida citizens and disposes of any question of his eligibility to office by citing the case of Frank Clark who was, to all intents and purposes, a citizen of Oklahoma when he was elected to congress from Florida.

If Mr. Bryan does decide to aspire to represent the state in the Senate it will be puzzling to many to know on just what kind of a platform he will stand—what issue will be made that would give him preference over Senator Trammell. Both Mr. Trammell and Mr. Fletcher voted for the prohibition issue, which is settled, and so far as we have been able to conjecture there are no big issues on which Florida's senators have offended the electorate of the state. And the native son, surely, may well count that he starts the race with light weight and the best of the start.—Palatka News.

HOW ABOUT THIS?

There is really no set rule for conducting a newspaper—Except to print all the news which, in the editor's opinion, is fit to print—

And to tell the truth. There's considerable difference between brands of editors, and that is why one man may cut down on space regarding some special article, where another man "pads" it and gives it a "big head." There is no editor, however, who does not sometimes err; And no editor, however old, or how long in business, will ever make the claim that he knows it all.

Yet the contents of a paper rests entirely with one head. A newspaper is like a menu—it covers much ground—Yet all its contents are not strongly admired by every individual patron. Mr. A will suggest that all politics be taboo; Yet Mr. B will advise writing more political dope and slashing down all the society stuff. Mrs. C says she always "dotes" on the social page but hates tales of accidents, and wishes those annihilated. Mr. D would eliminate all the religious notices and have that same space given over to sporting events—While Mrs. E declares that sporting news is lowering and she would much prefer that entire sermons be printed. Mr. F vows that all tales of crimes and casualties carry a lowering influence and should be censored; While Mr. G strongly maintains that the way to stop wrong is to plainly show it up.

And so goes the gay life—That of a newspaper editor. Call in a score of people to censor from their views the contents of any paper as it was going to press—With the columns all filled—And allow each visitor to blue-pencil what he'd delete or suppress or censor, and two-thirds of the columns would be entirely blank and the remaining articles would be about as insipid as a glass of home-brew left uncovered over night. People, as a whole people, must take the entire menu and pick out what they wish; And editors will continue to give interesting news—Unbiased, unframed, undictated. Statements written truthfully never harmed a righteous cause, but have very frequently caused betterments of conditions. Men have suffered financially because they told the truth; But they suffered far more from a moral point of view whenever they endeavored to "pass the buck," and essayed to carry water upon both shoulders. The proper and sensible way in which to run a paper is the same as the way to conduct any business—

Give the public the best in every possible line; Be frank, free, fearless; Keep every agreement and respect every patron; Liekspittle to no one—And always give the best that it is possible to get. Yassum. I thank you. —Thorn in Kiss-Gaz.

DOES PROHIBITION PROHIBIT?

Has prohibition proved a success? The answer depends largely upon the point of view of the person to whom the question is addressed. You will find individuals who will insist that it has been an unqualified success. They point to the abolition of the open saloon in confirmation to their position, and it seems a good point. They acknowledge, much bootlegging, but they point out that it is all under the ban of the law, that the drinker and the manufacturer, are both law breakers and subject to penalties when caught, and they insist that many are being caught by the vigilant sleuths of the prohibition army, which cannot be denied.

On the other hand there are those who insist that prohibition has been an absolute failure; that there is more drinking than ever before; that so far as enforcement of the law is concerned, there is no such thing, for any man wants liquor can get it anywhere in the country if he "knows the ropes." They claim it has diminished the respect for law, and made a nation of law breakers; they claim it has made it more difficult to get good liquor, and forced the drinkers to turn to the moonshine stuff, which is always poisonous. The government has been deprived of needed revenue, respect for law has sadly decreased, and crime, inspired by the deadly concoctions to which the people have performed resorted has largely increased.

In view of this widely varying opinions, it becomes an interesting question as to where the truth is to be found. Manifestly it will not do to accept in toto the testimony that is offered by these interested witnesses. Each looks at the evidence from a biased standpoint.

The New York Herald has been making a nation-wide investigation of the question with a view to get at the actual facts, without prejudice to either party, and for lack of better evidence we give its conclusions below, leaving our readers to draw their own conclusions. The Herald article:

In one respect practically all of the reports received by the Herald in its investigation into the results of two years of prohibition agree. In nearly every part of the country there has been a marked decrease in crime in the last two years. A decrease in the number of insanity cases in some sections and, judging by court records, an improvement in domestic relations also is noted. Whether there has been an improvement in the general public health which can be traced to prohibition the record is not clear.

In considering crime statistics, however, confusing results from the general inclination to include invariably the statistics covering the "crimes" for which the prohibition law itself is wholly responsible; that is, the violations of the Volstead act and the state enforcement statutes, and at present the violations in some sections of the country are exceedingly numerous. Any table of statistics which included these violations would be somewhat misleading if taken as a guide to whether prohibition had reduced or increased crime. The Herald correspondent at Indianapolis puts the matter thus: "It narrows down to the point of view on 'crime.' So far as arrests

By a Sanford Celery-fed Man

Mr. Sanford Celery-fed Man, Daily Herald:

Impressed with your sly feature in the issue of the 19th inst., especially your story of "Beauty and the Bal-let," I will say the man in Missouri is not apt to get far with his scheme to give each of the fair voters a box of cold cream. In the first place it is not pleasing to the girls for any more man to intimate that they need any cosmetic or beautifier whatever.

A much more effective plan was one I saw used a few years ago out in San Diego, Calif. As a guest of the Cabrillo club of that city and being present when several men were discussing the coming county election I was impressed with the assurance one of the candidates felt in his election.

When the party separated I got in touch with this man and asked him to tell me why he felt so dead sure of his election. Dropping his voice he said:

"If you will keep mum, I'll tell you my secret. I am an expert dancer. Oh I know exactly how to make a girl have a good time out on the floor. I attend every hop or ball in the county and where I am weakest, I have my friends to get up a big dance.

"When I get there and the music begins, I pick out the 'wall flowers' and you bet I see that they have the time of their sweet lives. When I take one to her seat, before starting out of the next, I slip one of my cards into the hands of my partner and the smile I get is all the assurance I want that I will not only get her vote, but she will go to the limit for me with every friend she has, male and female.

"I know all about it, for I have been doing this at every election since the ladies got the ballot and I get all the votes I need and some to spare." A VISITOR.

are concerned records shows that these have been approximately the same in Indiana under Volstead act as before it was put in effect, but the nature of the 'crimes' has differed. Bank robberies have increased and murders have decreased. Bootlegging arrests and convictions have increased several hundred per cent. Indiana dry before the Volstead act passed, but convictions for drunkenness have decreased several hundred per cent. In Indianapolis there is an average of six arrests daily for violation of the liquor laws."

STATE NEWS

(By The Associated Press) KEY WEST, Jan. 21.—Poor sanitation and crowded conditions prevail at three of Monroe County's schools, according to the presentment returned recently by the circuit grand jury for the county.

The grand jury recommended that the annex of the county high school be repaired and alterations made to insure the safety of its occupants. While the sanitation in the main building was found to be good, stagnant pools of water outlying the building caused an unhealthy atmosphere, the body reported. The building's seating capacity is inadequate for its needs, the report said.

The Harris grammar school was found to be unsanitary because of the run down condition of its inner walls and ceilings from a leaky roof. An iron stairway from the first to second floors needs repairing for the safety of the students. This building too was found to be badly overcrowded. Sanitation was found to be bad at the Douglas negro school, with a similar crowded condition.

PALATKA, Jan. 21.—The Palatka News has declared an open shop among its route carrier boys. The paper recently explained to its subscribers that under a threat of a strike by the carriers it had discharged them all, and new boys employed to carry the routes. The boys were paid $4 a week, the News said, which amounted to 60 2-3 cents an hour, or "more than the skilled labor demands."

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 21.—Housewives here have solved the riddle which stumped the best of them when circulars urging the more wide spread use of "hominy grits" were received recently from the United States Department of Agriculture, at Washington. It has developed that the Department was referring to the common garden variety of "grits," so dear to the Southerner when served with ham, gravy or butter.

The discovery was made according to reports made to local newspapers, when a housewife that formerly lived in the North created a commotion among her neighbors by explaining that "grits" in the part of the country she came from was known as "hominy grits" and that in the last few years it had come into popular use there as a cereal.

"The government may change the names of some things," an indignant native born Floridian was quoted as having said, "but one thing is certain all the circulars and all the pure food experts never will induce the Southerner to ask the grocer for "hominy grits" when he wants 'grits'."

OCALA, Jan. 21.—Ocala's dummy police force, the contrivance placed at street intersections to regulate traffic, is proving its efficiency as a means toward curbing reckless driving toward ing. One of the dummies has to its credit the smashing of the windshield of a car while another has been the means of enriching the city's treasury by $11.10.

One dummy was found the other morning so badly mauled that it had to be rebuilt. Apparently some driver during the night slipped up behind it and dealt it a death blow at the waist line was quick to retaliate, however, for the vicinity was covered with bits of a broken windshield. The identity of the driver was not established.

In the latest encounter a small truck attempting to dispute the right of way with one of the dummy cops and in doing so wrapped itself around the minion of the law. The dummy suffered the usual consequences, a few scratches in its painted surface. The driver of the truck was fined and with the costs of the court paid a total of $11.10.

ORLANDO, Jan. 21.—The program for the annual convention of the Florida branch of the Anti-Saloon League of America which will be held here February 9 has been almost completed. Speakers expected to address the delegates, as announced by the program committee, include:

Dr. E. J. Moore, general superintendent of the League of America, Dr. Howard H. Russell, founder of the Anti-Saloon League; Dr. George B. Stewart, veteran temperance orator; Dr. W. A. Cooper, chairman of temperance; Dr. C. L. Collins, pastor of First Baptist Church of Ocala, D. C. McCullen, H. G. Jones, Arcadia; N. C. Bryan, father of temperance legislation in Florida; Mrs. W. S. Jennings, Chairman Duval County Lay enforce committee, Cary A. Hardee, governor of Florida, and R. A. Buford, attorney general of Florida.

EUSTIS, Jan. 21.—The Board of Trade here has succeeded in inducing the Seaboard Air Line allway to change the name of its new station at Dead River which it had called Driver, by appealing to executive officials of the company after requests to other officers had been without result. The station in future will be known as Lake Eustis.

LAKELAND, Jan. 21.—Lakeland citizens will vote February 9 on a special bond of $100,000 to care for obligations due, which officials declare that if the voters fail to authorize the bond issue "it would be just about up to the commissioners to resign and declare the city bankrupt. The city certainly needs the money, bills have been piling up month after month until employes are unpaid and we are in a bad fix because we are unable to meet our obligations."

F. F. W. C. CLOSES SECTION MEETING AT WINTER PARK

WINTER PARK, Jan. 21.—The sectional convention of the F. F. W. C. closed at Winter Park last night with a brilliant recital given at the Woman's Club by Maria-Elise Johnson, violinist and Elizabeth Harris, pianist. The beautiful club house was filled to capacity for this closing event of the convention. The program presented by these two young women was an extremely difficult one but was very successfully rendered.

The opening number, Sontata for violin and piano was beautifully given. Miss Johnson is a violinist with rare endowments, her beautiful interpretation pure clarity and brilliancy of tone together with her masterful playing and interpretation will place this young virtuoso among the foremost violinists on the concert stage. The piano numbers by Miss Harris were delightful. Her masterly technique and the rich singing tones produced are features of her playing.

The last day of the convention was altogether a very interesting one, several delightful social events being enjoyed during the day as well as the sessions of the convention. Five minute reports were made at the morning session of Federated clubs in this session after speakers of the day included Mrs. W. R. O'Neal, Mrs. E. McGalloway, Mrs. W. F. Blackman, Mrs. J. W. McCollum, Mrs. Leonard, Dr. Gilbert S. Osincup. A four course luncheon took place at Virginia's Inn at noon and in the afternoon a boat ride was enjoyed by the delegates on Lakes Osceola and Virginia. The delegates assembled in a large college war canoe which was towed by high powered motor boats.

GREATEST HARPISIT IN THE WORLD TO PLAY AT ORLANDO

What promises to be the greatest event in the history of local music circles is to be staged in the concert by the sensation of the musical world today—the "Paganini of the Harp", Alberto Salvi.

Mr. Salvi is a young virtuoso not yet in his thirties, but his record of achievements is astonishing. His phenomenal harp playing has been the sensation of two continents. When a mere child he was playing for the Italian Court, and since then has amazed the concert audiences of both Europe and America.

Perhaps never has been a greater revelation to his audiences than has Alberto Salvi. He has revolutionized harp playing and produces effects and accomplies a power and brilliancy hitherto considered absolutely impossible. So astonishing have been these revelations that he has come by the name: "The Wizard of the Harp."

It is certainly a rare opportunity for Orlando, and the local patrons who have made the concert possible are to be congratulated as well as thanked.

GERMANY MUST PAY DECLARES POINCARÉ

Chamber Cheers Wildly As Premier Tells of His Policies

PARIS, Jan. 20.—Raymond Poincaré, president of the republic during the war and now premier of France, with the French chamber practically unanimous behind him, served notice on Germany today that so long as he held office in conducting the destinies of his country Germany must fulfill the obligations she entered upon at Versailles and may expect no leniency.

"The Versailles treaty binds us to our allies," he said, "but it binds Germany to us all. It must be carried out." These were his final words before leaving the tribunal after replying to various interpellations. His pronouncement summed up the whole program.

Never since the Germans threatened Chateau Thierry, when Clemenceau appeared before the chamber to tell France that the war was not yet lost, and there was still hope of victory, has a French premier received such an ovation as greeted M. Poincaré today, when he presented before the deputies the ministerial declaration, "Germany must honor her signature at Versailles."

DEATHS

After long weeks of sickness, lasting relief came to Mr. Jesso M. Neely, who was stricken down with what proved to be a fatal illness while on a visit to Atlanta almost two months ago.

Mr. Neely was a Mississippian, and came here from Senatobia in that state about thirty years ago. He was in business here for twenty years, but moved away and was a resident of Sanford when sickness ended his usefulness. Some eighteen or nineteen years ago, Miss Mary Mayo of this city became his wife, and survives him with three children, Miss Virginia, Jessie and Mary Elizabeth.

Mr. Neely was taken ill about six months ago, but partly recovered, and went to Atlanta to attend a meeting of insurance men. The effort was too much for his strength and he had to be taken to a hospital. He was brought to Ocala by his brother-in-law, Mr. Nathan Mayo, and placed in the Marlon County Hospital, where he has had every care and comfort, and where for awhile it looked like he would recover, but his illness had taken too strong a hold for the skill and care of doctors and nurses.

The funeral took place at the Presbyterian church this afternoon, Rev. Creson of Ocala assisting Mr. Neely's own pastor, Rev. Brownlee of Sanford. MacKay and Company had charge of the arrangements and interment was made in Greenwood. Following were the pall bearers; H. A. Waterman, M. R. Hunnicutt, Dr. H. W. Henry, N. A. Russell and two gentlemen from Sanford. Honorary Eric Collier, Dr. E. G. Peck, Sydney Halle, D. E. McIver, Baxter Carr, S. R. Whaley, T. W. Troxler, L. M. Murry, J. J. Gerig, G. L. Taylor, W. W. Harris and George MacKay.

Mr. Neely was a courteous and kindly man, much liked by all who knew him. His wide circle of friends deeply regret his death and sympathize with his bereaved widow and children.—Ocala Star.

MOONSHINERS GO ON BIG RAMPAGE; SHOOT UP TOWN

(By The Associated Press) BLACKSHEAR, Ga., Jan. 21.—A gang of men believed to be members of a whiskey distilling ring, at an early hour this morning visited this city and proceeded to shoot up the business district. Many guests at a local hotel had narrow escapes from bullets when the building was subjected to a heavy fire. The buildings in the city were shrouded in smoke. There was no casualty. The hotel was owned and operated by Mrs. J. W. Roberts, widow of former sheriff and mother of Olin Roberson of this county.

The postoffice windows broken by a bullet as were the windows of the Blackshear Drug Company, Strickland Brothers Company, S. E. Cohen and Dr. G. Hendry, one was injured and the men who were firing escaped.

Former Sheriff Roberson killed last August in raiding a still near here and the attack on town came within a few days of the son who succeeded to the still had seized a large copper still in a raid.

The firing started about 1 o'clock and lasted for twenty minutes. Pistols, shotguns and being used by the outlaws.

The gang evidently waited until the city limits until the local house cut off its lighting system the night. With the town in darkness, the gang swooped down at random. Residents on the skirts of the city say a speeding mobile, loaded with men left the town after the shooting.
