Lake Mary Says No; Sanford To Put Up Scene

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Lake Mary won't have a nativity scene at city hall during the Christmas season, but Sanford will, as usual.

The Lake Mary City Commission, on advice from City Attorney Robert Petree, turned down a request from police department employees and fire department volunteers to build a nativity scene on their own time with their own money for display at city hall.

"I am not saying the city should be anti-religion," Petree said, but a religious scene on publicly owned property is "inappropriate."

"There's a strong possibility that a lawsuit would be filed against the city if one were placed on city property."

That didn't seem to worry Sanford officials, however.

A brand new creche has been purchased with donated funds and it will be placed on the Park Avenue side of the Sanford city hall, Sanford City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles said today.

And Mayor Lee P. Moore and Commissioner David Farr fully support the Christian display.

The Lake Mary City Commission voted unanimously to follow Petree's advice.

Commissioners Ken King and Russ Megonegal said today the issue involves the separation of church and state.

"I had to make a decision and I did. I like the idea of a nativity scene, but I don't think city hall is the place for it," King said.

Megonegal said his decision was not personal, adding he has experience with decisions on the separation of church and state from his days in education.

"The (Supreme) Court has ruled that government has to be neutral on religious matters," he said. "It really wasn't fear of a lawsuit, but a recognition that we must respect the rights of all taxpayers."

"Even though I teach Sunday School, I don't feel a nativity scene should be displayed at city hall," Megonegal said.

While Petree advised Lake

Mary to take a neutral attitude in religious matters, Knowles took a different attitude.

"If the entire world were made up of neutral people, no one would get anything done," he said.

He said the Christmas Parade Committee of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce raised some $2,893.74 and asked the city through its purchasing procedures to buy a new nativity scene to be displayed this year for the first time. The old scene, refurbished many times over the 10-to-15 years it was used, was retired at the end of the Christmas season last year, Knowles said.

The new scene will be erected during the week of Nov. 28th, the city manager said, when the city usually starts its Christmas decorations.

At Sanford City Hall, in addition, the women in the various departments usually display Christmas cards and decorate for the season as they wish, Knowles said.

"We have always put up a scene," said Moore. "There have been conversations in the past about possible lawsuits, but we haven't worried about it. We are not using city funds for the scene, but we provide the space and the labor to put it up and we provide the space to store it."

"I suppose if we got sued, we would take it down," he said.

Farr said, "I'm proud to see the city take this attitude. We still consider America a Christian nation. We are winding down the 'Year of the Bible,' authorized by a joint resolution of the Congress, recognizing the impact of Christianity, the nativity and the church on every day life."

"I think it is great and support it 100 percent. I would like to see more of it in government," Farr said.

Lake Mary will have a Christmas tree decorating city hall there.

"The Rotary Club usually donates it. We won't be using city funds, but we are looking forward to the Christmas tree," Mrs. Rice said.

Bank Robbery Suspect Identified

A man accused of robbing a Sanford bank Wednesday has been positively identified as Anthony Alexander Andrews, 26, of Palm Beach.

Herb Shea, assistant chief of the Sanford police, said a check of the suspect's fingerprints with the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, D.C., confirmed his identity.

The suspect initially gave police two aliases, Tony Johnson and Tommy Johnson and police believed he might be from the Daytona Beach area.

Andrews remains in the Seminole County jail today with no bond. He is charged with armed robbery, aggravated assault, using a weapon in a felony and grand theft.

Voter Registration

Kappa Sigma Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority will hold a voter registration drive Saturday from 3:30-6 p.m. at the Tip Top Super Market on W. 13th St., Sanford, and Southwest Road at the parking lot at the railroad crossing.

Reward Increased

A reward of $6,000 is being offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person who started a fire that destroyed the United Solvents of America Corp. paint plant, west of Sanford, Oct. 29.

Seminole County fire investigator Ray Pippin said the firm's insurance company has added $5,000 to the $1,000 reward that was being offered by the Florida Advisory Committee on Arson Prevention.

Contrary to what TV may have led you to believe, the prosecution of criminals is not reliant solely on the work of the cop on the beat. The State Attorney's Office in Sanford has its own team of investigators who do everything from interviewing witnesses to tracking down physical evidence.

Murder Trial Continues

Bean's Girlfriend Says She Washed His Clothes

Donald Ray Bean Jr.'s girlfriend testified Thursday that Bean arrived at her house in Lake Mary soon after John Thomas Ellis had been shot to death in Longwood and later she laundered the clothes Bean was wearing.

Bean, 18, of Eustis, is on trial in Seminole County Circuit Court, charged with first-degree felony murder in the Feb. 12 death of Ellis, 43, of 816 Cherokee Circle.

Sandra Redman, 16, who was living with friends at 129 Continental Blvd. in Lake Mary on Feb. 12, testified that Bean knocked on her bedroom window at about 3:45 a.m. She said she let him in and he spent the night at the house.

Later that day she laundered his clothes, including a pair of blue jeans, because they were "dirty," she said.

Assistant State Attorney Angela Blakely said that a blood stain was found in the blue jeans when authorities confiscated the jeans later.

Miss Redman said she found no "dark red stain" in the pants and made no extra effort to bleach anything out of the jeans.

Miss Redman said Bean had visited at her house on previous occasions. She said he did not appear nervous when he arrived Feb. 12.

She said she knew nothing of the shooting until police arrived at her house that afternoon. She said she had known Bean for over a year and had never seen him with a firearm.

Ellis was shot in the head, stomach and leg with a .38-caliber handgun.

Loans

$250,000 Committed To Help Offset Rezoning Impact

The Southeast Bank's Sanford banking center has committed up to $250,000 to be loaned to Sanford homeowners affected by a new rezoning which calls for them to comply with fire safety standards.

The homes converted into two or more apartments over the years in the area bounded by 4th and 13th streets, between Laurel and Palmetto avenues have up to two years, if necessary, under a special resolution adopted by the city commission, to bring their homes into compliance with city fire codes. This may include the installation of fire walls, smoke detectors and fire extinguishers.

John Mercer, vice president and manager of the banking center, said these multi-family property owners may be facing a severe hardship because of the necessity of bringing their homes up to the new standards, and Southeast wants to help by making funds available for a limited time for the required home improvements.

He said owners of the multi-family residences who must conform to the new standards may borrow up to $5,000 per owner-occupied dwelling from the bank at an interest rate of 1 percent below prime rate at time of funding. He noted that prime currently is 11 percent, meaning the interest would be 10 percent.

"We've heard of some estimates for these improvements running as high as $3,000," Mercer said. "Most residents affected are on a fixed income and rent out rooms or some portion of their residences to supplement their income.

He said a $5,000 loan over a seven year period at 10 percent would be slightly less than $91 per month. Monthly payment on a $3,000 loan would be $53 and monthly payments on a $1,000 loan would be $19.

All loan applications for this special program should be made at the Southeast Bank's Sanford Banking Center, 161 W. Airport Boulevard.—Donna Estes

No Place Like Prison For The Holidays

Officials at the Seminole County jail have issued orders to mom — don't bother to send Christmas cookies this holiday season because inmates will not be allowed food items.

But goodies will be provided from within. Jail Administrator Jim Schultz said the no-food policy is necessary to prevent the smuggling of drugs and other contraband into the jail.

And the policy applies all year long, not just at holidays. "We never allow inmates to receive food items as gifts," said Schultz.

Schultz said he's been a jail administrator for 12 years and he's had experience with drugs concealed in food items.

"Usually it's marijuana, and it's hidden in cakes, muffins or cookies. It would be too much trouble to try to examine all the items sent in, to cut open cakes and muffins," said Schultz. "And even if we did, we couldn't detect it all. Some foods might be laced with some drug."

He said 95 percent of all food items that would be sent to inmates "would be perfectly innocent. It's the other 5 percent that ruins it for everybody."

Schultz said he had even heard of hack saws and small handgrips being concealed in food items in some jails.

But the holidays will not be entirely without joy at the jail. "We are going to provide goodies for the prisoners at Thanksgiving and Christmas," said Schultz.

A special turkey dinner will be served on Thanksgiving and steak will be served on Christmas and there will be extra fruit and nuts. Inmates will receive small gifts like a pack of cigarettes on Christmas.

And the taxpayers don't pay for it, Schultz said. Funds for the special meals are provided by profits from the jail commissary where inmates purchase cigarettes, candy and toilet articles, Schultz said.

Schultz said no inmates have complained about the policy of not allowing food items to be brought in from the outside, but parents, wives and sweet hearts sometimes complain.

"We explain to them why we have the policy and suggest that they give money instead to the inmate. He can use that to buy whatever he wants at the commissary," Schultz said.

The same policy of prohibiting food items as gifts for inmates prevails at all of Florida's prisons.

Richard Kirkland, an official of Union County Correctional Institution at Raiford, said the policy is necessary because "drugs were placed in items such as cookies or cakes. How do you check a cake for contraband? Cut it into small pieces?" he asked Wednesday at a hearing on the policy.

"Food items are something where once you handle it, who wants to eat it?"

The regulation took effect in January but inmates said they were not aware of it until recently. Officials have received several hundred letters from inmates complaining about the policy.

Inmate Gary Piccirillo said most prisoners view the holiday food packages "like a visit with their family in Michigan they may never see. It's very important."

Officials said, however, it is likely the prisoners will go without the packages this Christmas. Hearing officers generally take 60 to 90 days to issue their rulings.

Few In Seminole Gave Up Their Butts During Smokeout

The Great American Smokeout was something less than a rousing success in Seminole County.

"We didn't get many people to drop their cigarettes into our little coffins, (Thursday) but we reached a lot of people with the message about smoking," according to Irene Brown, public information officer with the Sanford and Lake Mary unit of the American Cancer Society.

Nationally, the Cancer Society estimated that 19.5 million smokers tried to kick the habit for 24 hours and some 4.5 million were successful. But whether they have given up cigarettes permanently is another question.

Vivian Buck, chairman of the local smokeout, said, "I here were not a lot of people throwing their cigarettes away, but people are beginning to realize they have a problem."

The ACS unit had displays of small coffins in which they encouraged people to dump their cigarettes at the Sanford and Lake Mary city halls and the Geneva Community Center. Mrs. Buck said the personnel at the Central Florida Migrant and Community Health Center on Park Avenue in Sanford set up their own display.

Lake Mary City Clerk Connie Major and Assistant City Clerk Carol Edwards stopped smoking while the Cancer Society workers were at city hall for two hours Thursday, but both admitted they resumed puffing after they left.

At the health clinic, executive director Susan Moore said she gave up smoking for the entire 24 hours, but resumed today. "The other two girls, who are smokers here, also gave up cigarettes for the day," Mrs. Moore said.

The American Cancer Society, which sponsors the annual exercise of pitting willpower against craving, said the 24-hour, mass nicotine fast lured 35.6 percent of the nation's estimated 55 million — half a million more than the figure for last year's smokeout.

"The big point we want to make is that the Smokeout is a light-hearted thing," said Pam Winslow, the society's spokeswoman in Norfolk, Va. "It's to help people, not to preach at them."

To get through the day, smokers used a variety of tricks. Some snapped a rubber band on the wrist when the yen became overpowering. Others were threatened with "public humiliation" if they gave in before the midnight deadline.

Thousands dialed a nicotine hotline set up with the cooperation with the American Psychiatric Association.

However, small groups of Philip Morris employees at Richmond, Va. picketed American Cancer Society offices, protesting what they claimed were attempts to injure a tobacco industry already reeling from a depressed economy and a drought-stricken tobacco crop.

"Breathe — Breathe — We take it all for granted — but if we keep on smoking — in the ground we will be planted," was the chant at a pre-Smokeout pep rally and bonfire at West Georgia College in Carrollton, Ga.

Few Smokeout groups had a sendoff to match the one in Carrollton, where the entire town of 35,000 vowed to quit smoking for the required 24-hours. Smokers who lit up in Gainesville, Texas were warned they faced arrest and light hearted public humiliation.

Actor Larry Hagman, the sinister J.R. Ewing on the popular Dallas television show, handcuffed his secretary to his wrist to help her quit smoking.

The society said a telephone survey of 2,123 households showed 29 percent of the men smokers and 43.7 percent of the women smokers were participating. A survey will determine how many lasted 24 hours.

In last year's Smokeout, 4.5 million smokers hung on for the full period.

IN BRIEF

Administration Hinting Retaliatory Strike Possible

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration officials are indicating that American retaliatory strikes in Lebanon are possible to follow up on Israeli and French raids on guerrilla bases.

State Department spokesman John Hughes told reporters that the United States received advance notice of the French air attack on pro-Iranian guerrilla bases at Baalback in East Lebanon Thursday. Other sources indicated the U.S. was involved in the coordination of the attack.

But an administration official, who asked not to be identified, said a U.S. retaliatory strike in response to the Oct. 23 killing of 239 Marines in a Beirut truck-bombing is still possible.

The French attack was in retaliation for the deaths of 58 French members of the multinational peace-keeping force in Beirut in a terrorist bombing that coincided with the attack against U.S. Marine headquarters.

The Israeli raid Wednesday that killed 30 and wounded 80 was a response to the Nov. 4 terrorist bombing at an Israeli installation in Tyre, Lebanon, that killed 29 Israelis and 32 Arabs.

Bus Strikers Violent

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Striking Greyhound workers across the nation hurled bricks, bottles and eggs at buses rolling past angry picketers, bringing 132 arrests in one of the most widespread outbreaks of labor militancy in a decade.

No serious injuries were reported in the coast-to-coast skirmishes Thursday morning, the first time Greyhound buses had been on the streets in two weeks.

The resumption of limited service using newly trained drivers and strikebreakers represented the largest effort aimed at replacing striking workers since President Reagan fired air traffic controllers — who were federal workers — in 1981.

Greyhound was hit by the strike Nov. 3 when more than 12,000 union employees rejected a proposed pay cut.

Most of the buses rolling in the 15th day of the strike had few riders, despite half-price fares offered by the nation's largest intercity bus company.

Utility Franchise To Increase 150%

The city of Sanford will increase its revenues from a natural gas franchise from $8,000 annually to $20,000 under a new formula negotiated with Florida Public Utilities Co.

The franchise agreement slated for adoption at the city commission's Nov. 28 meeting, calls for the city to receive 6 percent of the firm's gross revenues from serving customers within the city limits. Under the 25-year-old franchise which is expiring, the return to the city was 2 percent of gross revenues, according to City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles.

Knowles said the gas company offered a new franchise agreement giving the city of Sanford the same percentage of gross revenues that it gives to other communities with which it has franchises. The resulting revenues will go into the city's general fund, he said.

2 Ex-Congressmen Admit Drug Use

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A 16-month House investigation into drug use on Capitol Hill turned up two ex-congressmen who admit they used marijuana or cocaine while in office and "substantial evidence" against a third former House member.

But no proof was found that current congressmen use drugs.

The House ethics committee, in releasing its 147-page report Thursday, disclosed that former Reps. John Burton, D-Calif., and Fred Richmond, D-N.Y., who left Congress in 1982, confessed to using drugs.

Former Rep. Barry Goldwater Jr., R-Calif., refused to testify to the ethics committee about any personal drug use, but the panel indicated it has sworn testimony he purchased cocaine and used marijuana in his Capitol Hill office.

For the second time, current Reps. Ronald Dellums,

D-Calif., and Charles Wilson, D-Texas, were cleared of drug activities.

The ethics committee dismissed allegations the two used drugs "within the Capitol enclave" or in House-related activities.

Last July, the Justice Department announced it had found insufficient evidence to file criminal drug charges against either Dellums or Wilson. The Justice Department likewise refused to take action against Goldwater.

The $1.5 million investigation did uncover evidence as many as seven workers in the House doorkeeper's office and 11 House employees, in jobs ranging from tour guides to congressional aides, have been or could be involved in illegal drug activity. The evidence has been turned over to their bosses, the report said.

But, overall, it concluded there is no organized drug ring operating out of the Capitol. Earlier allegations that helped spark the probe were that pages and congressional employees had been used as couriers to make drug deliveries.

House investigators also examined allegations against seven other sitting congressmen, including Reps. Parren Mitchell, D-Md., and Gerry Studds, D-Mass. The ethics committee dismissed them as strictly "rumor, hearsay and gossip." The five other congressmen were not named.

The committee said it will take no action to discipline Burton, Richmond or Goldwater or investigate them further because they no longer are members of Congress. But it will turn over its findings to the Justice Department.

The report winds up a two-pronged investigation launched in July 1982 into drug and illicit sexual activity on Capitol Hill.

Smokers' Heart Disease Could Kill 10% Of All Americans, Study Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Heart disease caused by cigarette smoking will kill 170,000 Americans this year and could eventually take the lives of 10 percent of the population, the government says in a new report on smoking and health.

"Unless smoking habits of the American population change, perhaps 10 percent of all persons now alive may die prematurely of heart disease attributable to their smoking behavior," said the 378-page report by Surgeon General C. Everett Koop.

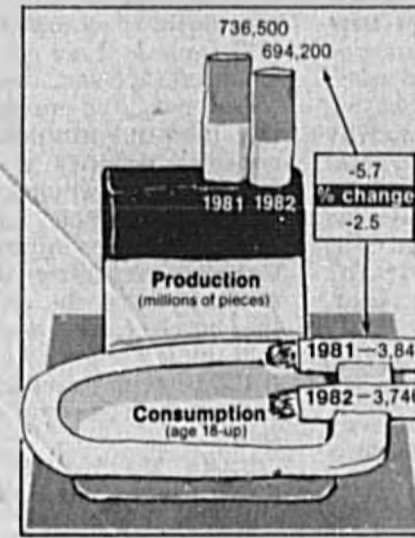

The document blamed smoking for increasing the death rate of Americans due to heart disease, including heart attacks and other forms of heart failure. It also linked cigarette smoking with other forms of cardiovascular disease, including strokes and hardening of the arteries.

According to government research, cigarette smoking is responsible for up to 30 percent of all heart disease deaths in the United States each year.

But the Tobacco Institute, in a statement released to counter the surgeon general's report, said its own analysis "shows the evidence is inconclusive."

"Whether cigarette smoking is causally related to heart disease is not scientifically established," the institute said, adding that the tobacco industry has set aside more than $110 million for independent research on smoking and health.

Koop's report was issued 19 years after the first surgeon general's report linking smoking and cancer

Both U.S. cigarette production and consumption declined last year, although consumption was down only minimally, amounting to about five packs per person annually. A new surgeon general's report linking smoking to a greater risk of heart disease may cause the slide to accelerate.

and four years after a report citing ties between smoking and heart disease.

In his introduction to this year's report, Koop said new research has shown that the increased risk of death from heart disease begins to recede almost immediately after a cigarette smoker quits. Eventually, the risk falls to a level no greater than that experienced by someone who has never smoked.

Cigarette smokers have a 70 percent greater death rate due to heart disease than non-smokers, and those who consume two or more packs a day have heart disease death rates between two and three times greater than non-smokers, the report said.

The report singled out only cigarettes, saying research showed that smokers of pipes and cigars "do not appear to experience substantially greater... risks than non-smokers."

The document identified cigarette smoking as the most important of three "modifiable risk factors" for heart disease — more significant than hypertension and high serum cholesterol levels because smoking is more common.

Researchers also concluded that chances of developing heart disease increase as a smoker's exposure to cigarette smoke increases, "as measured by the number of cigarettes smoked daily, the total number of years one has smoked, and the degree of inhalation, and with an early age of initiation."

Women smokers who also use oral contraceptives have a 10 times greater risk of heart attack than those who use neither birth control pills nor cigarettes, the report added. Women using cigarettes and oral contraceptives were also found to have an increased risk for certain types of strokes.

The study dealt only with links between cigarette smoking and cardiovascular disease, but the report also noted that smoking is a major cause of a variety of cancers and chronic obstructive lung disease.

Congress Rushing To Adjourn For The Holidays

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress, gliding toward its earliest mid-session recess in 18 years today, is putting the final touches on bills increasing the federal debt ceiling and providing billions of dollars for the military, housing and international loans.

Meeting late into the night, the Senate on Thursday passed and sent to expected House passage a multi-billion-dollar money bill for housing, the International Monetary Fund and various other projects. The senators also voted to increase the federal debt ceiling $101 billion to $1.49 trillion.

The Senate also passed a bill to pay farmers cash to cut milk output in the latest effort to trim costs of the $2.7

billion dairy program, freeze tobacco price supports and provide government-owned livestock feed to drought-stricken farmers and ranchers at a discount.

Both the supplemental money bill and the debt ceiling compromise appeared likely to pass the House. The fate of the dairy bill was less certain.

As those bills reached the last step before the White House, a House-Senate conference committee completed work on a $250 billion military spending bill, also expected to pass both houses, that bans nerve gas production but allows a startup of MX nuclear missile production.

But the House Thursday delivered a setback to efforts to trim the burgeoning federal deficit by refusing 214-204 to consider a bill increasing taxes $6 billion. The Senate then postponed action on its $28 billion package of tax increases and spending cuts.

This means that both the House and Senate will be starting afresh on deficit-trimming measures when the second session of the 98th Congress begins on Jan. 23, 1984.

Assuming that Congress adjourns for the year late today, as planned, it will be the first time since Oct. 23, 1965, that Congress did not work into mid-December or later to adjourn its first session.

Each Congress lasts two years, and legislation not passed by the end of the first session remains alive for consideration in the second year. But in recent years, last-minute emergencies and "must" bills often have pushed the first session toward Christmas eve.

The debt ceiling increase was considered the only "must" bill holding up adjournment this year. Despite problems and delays for weeks, the $101 billion increase — enough to keep the government borrowing through April — passed the Senate by a weak voice vote.

As usual, many bills that normally would be considered difficult to pass flowed through the legislative process, greased by a desire to spend Thanksgiving and Christmas at home.

Woman's Conviction For Shooting Daughter Upheld

An appellate court has upheld the attempted first-degree murder conviction of a Seminole County woman who shot her 8-year-old daughter repeatedly and left the child in a wooded area.

Judge Warren Cobb of the 5th District Court of Appeals in Daytona Beach Thursday upheld the conviction of Kathy Oviatt, 28, of Fern Park.

Orange County Circuit Judge Rom W. Powell sentenced Oviatt to 35 years in prison on Aug. 16, 1982, after she was found guilty of attempted murder.

Oviatt's daughter, Pamela Jane, testified that her mother took her to a remote wooded area in Orange County on Feb. 7, 1982, put a scarf over her head and shot her five or six times while they were playing blindman's bluff.

Some persons who were working in the woods found the wounded girl. Oviatt told deputies the girl had been kidnapped.

ROBBERS TAKE CASH AT BAR

Two men grabbed money out of a cash register at a Sanford bar Monday evening and fled, the second such robbery in Sanford in recent days.

Two men entered George's Number One Tavern, 1011 S. French Ave., at 7 p.m. Monday, bought a beer and gave the clerk a dollar bill, Sanford police said.

When the clerk opened the cash register to make change, one of the men reached over the counter, pushed her aside, grabbed an undetermined amount of cash from the register and the two men ran out the front door, she told police.

On Saturday at 6:50 p.m. two men got in a check-out line to buy a pack of gum at the Pantry Pride supermarket, 2944 Airport Blvd.

When the cashier opened the cash register, the men pushed her back, grabbed $915 in checks and cash and fled through the front door, police said.

The men drove off in a red car, possibly a mid-1970s Plymouth Duster, police said.

The robbery at George's Number One Tavern was the second robbery at the bar in recent weeks. On Oct. 31 three men took an undetermined amount of cash from a cash register in the package store after holding a clerk at knife-point.

HOUSE BURGLARIZED

A burglar took a handgun and a box of jewelry from a Winter Park home that was ransacked between 4 a.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. Sunday, a Seminole County sheriff's deputy reported.

The thief entered the house at 1340 Gladlolas Drive by prying open a rear window, deputies said.

A neighbor reported hearing two shots during the time of the break-in. Deputies found a shell casing on the patio of the house. A bullet had been fired through a window and into a refrigerator inside the house, the report said.

MAILBOX BREAK-IN

A Longwood man reported that checks totaling $831 were taken from his mailbox at 1516 Sunshine Tree Boulevard.

Robert K. Dazey, 37, told authorities his mailbox was broken into between 5:30 p.m. Friday and 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—James Charles Mariotti, 22, of 130-A Mosswood Circle, Winter Springs, was arrested Friday at 12:17 a.m. after his car reportedly hit a vehicle in a driveway on Moss

Road, a report said. He was also charged for possession of drug paraphernalia because a small resin-filled pipe was found in his car, a sheriff's deputy said.

—Fred Thomas Riley, 26, of 57 Alkerson St., Methuen, Maine, was arrested Friday at 12:04 a.m. in the parking lot of the ABC Lounge in Casselberry.

—Burl Rocky Life Jr., 26, of 701 Rockcreek Loop, Longwood, was arrested Friday at 2:20 a.m. after his car was seen speeding and weaving on U.S. Highway 17-92 near Dogtrack Road, Casselberry.

—Georgetta Marie Colbert, 30, of 225 E. Pine St., Longwood, was arrested Wednesday at 2:10 a.m. on U.S. Highway 17-92 at Dogtrack Road, near Longwood, after her car was seen crossing lanes several times.

—Larry Dean Rash, 26, of 1217 Palmetto Ave., Sanford, was arrested Thursday at 12:41 a.m. when he was seen in a car parked in a field off Celery Avenue in Sanford.

Calling All SHS Alumni

The Seminole High School class of '84 is inviting and encouraging all SHS alumni to come to its homecoming tonight.

According to class president Sue Bisigni, fewer and fewer SHS alumni attend homecoming every year. In a message to alumni she says:

"Practically every year a new tradition is started but not one old tradition is forgotten. Wouldn't you like to sing the fight song again or that good ole alma mater?"

"We are not asking for much, just for you to attend the game, come out and support the football team, see your old classmates.

"We might not have a state champ football team but we do have one thing. We have love and respect for our school."

Santa Arrives Tonight

Santa Claus will arrive at the Altamonte Mall in rather spectacular fashion tonight, skydiving into the parking lot adjacent to North Lake at 7:30. His appearance will be highlighted by a fireworks display.

On Saturday at 2 p.m. in the same location, Snoopy and Woodstock will drop in by helicopter

IN BRIEF

Analysis Links Drifter's Car To Walsh Murder Case

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A detailed analysis of Otis Elwood Toole's car links him to the kidnap-murder of 6-year-old Adam Walsh, but there is still not enough evidence to prosecute the drifter, authorities say.

Toole, 36, once confessed to the 1981 abduction of the boy, whose severed head was found in a canal, but he later retracted the confession and denied that he had killed anyone.

Two and a half years after the murder, police technicians searched Toole's 1971 Cadillac intensively, hoping to find blood, fibers, fingerprints or hair that might prove Adam had been in the car.

Hollywood Police Chief Sam Martin said in a brief statement Thursday, "Certain evidence revealed negative or inconclusive results while certain other evidence is positive. Beyond that this agency will issue no further statement as to the specifics of evidence submitted."

Sprucing Up Orlando

ORLANDO (UPI) — Mayor Bill Frederick believes pleasing sights can "break the tension of city life," so he wants to set aside thousands of dollars each year to spruce up Orlando with public art.

Frederick told the city council that sculptures, landscaping, plazas, murals, mosaics and fountains would "soften the harsh realities of today's hurried world."

To finance the art, Frederick wants the council to adopt an ordinance setting aside 1 percent of the cost of all city-building construction projects. The proposed ordinance is similar to others in more than 50 cities around the country.

Four years ago, the state of Florida passed an art allocation of 0.5 percent for all new state construction.

To prevent the city from piling up an excessive amount of art money, particularly during periods of major construction, the proposal would make the maximum donation to the art fund $500,000, no matter how large the project.

Gas Prices Drop 2 Cents

MIAMI (UPI) — Florida gasoline prices dropped by about 2 cents per gallon during the last month, the American Automobile Association red Thursday.

The drop was most pronounced for self-serve gasoline, which declined to an average of $1.11 per gallon, down 2.1 cents from a month ago. Self-serve unleaded gasoline dropped by 2.5 cents a gallon to $1.194.

In the last two months, prices for self-serve gasoline have dropped a total of nearly 3 cents per gallon.

The association predicts fuel supplies will be ample for the Thanksgiving holiday. Two thirds of Florida's service stations will be open Thanksgiving Day, according to the group's survey.

Judge Blocks Execution Of Killer Rapist

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A federal judge overruled the state Supreme Court and spared the life of Stephen Todd Booker just 14 hours before he was to die in the electric chair for the rape and murder of a 94-year-old Gainesville woman.

U.S. District Judge Maurice Paul ordered the stay of execution shortly after 5 p.m. Thursday, two hours after the Florida Supreme Court refused to block the execution.

Booker, 30, was scheduled to die in the electric chair at 7 a.m. today at Florida State Prison near Starke for the 1977 murder of Lorine DeMoss Harman.

Paul scheduled a hearing for Dec. 8 on the merits of Booker's appeal.

The Supreme Court, in a unanimous decision issued earlier in the day, said defense claims that Booker had not received effective assistance of counsel during his trial were without merit.

During a one-hour hearing early Thursday, defense attorney Jeffrey Weiner pleaded with the court to block the execution and order a new hearing on whether Booker had received effective counsel.

Weiner said a hearing Monday in which Alachua

County Circuit Judge John Crews rejected the claim of ineffective counsel had been a "sham."

Former defense attorney Stephen Bernstein had done little work on the case and erred by calling a psychiatric witness who had warned beforehand he could not say under oath Booker was insane, he said.

Originally, Booker was scheduled to die at 7 a.m. Thursday, but the state Supreme Court entered a five-hour stay to give itself time to hear his final appeal. Late Wednesday, prison superintendent Richard Dugger rescheduled the execution for Friday.

Tumble From Toilet Sparks Lawsuit

ORLANDO (UPI) — A woman who fell off a toilet seat in a Maitland office building has filed suit against the property managers, claiming she had to quit her job because of nagging backaches.

Grace Kelly Arvantis, 50, of Orlando charged in the suit that a loose seat, which was not connected to the toilet, caused her to fall to the floor and twist her back.

Her resulting back injury, she and her lawyer said Wednesday, caused her to be admitted to Winter Park Hospital three times in late 1982. Nerve damage to her lower back also has prevented her from returning to work, she said.

"It's hard to believe, but it's happened," Ms. Arvantis said. "I'm kind of embarrassed by the whole thing. It's changed my whole life."

Since the accident, Ms. Arvantis said she was forced to quit her job as a receptionist at Southeast Mortgage Co. because she is unable to sit for long periods of time without discomfort. The accident occurred on July 1,

The suit, filed in Orange County Circuit Court, charges the building's property manager, Lincoln Properties Co., and Norris Air Conditioning of St. Petersburg, which installed the toilet seat, were negligent and responsible for Mrs. Arvantis' injuries.

The suit asks for an unspecified amount of damages.

Tom Mooney, Ms. Arvantis' attorney, said the suit stems from a workers' compensation claim won by the woman last year. He said that award, paid by Southeast's insurer, covered the $2,044 medical bills for the woman and two-thirds of her lost wages from work.

But Mooney said workers' compensation claims do not cover damages for "pain and suffering" or for future disability.

"She's had continued (back) problems," Mooney said. "She used to be very active, go to the spa and go dancing, but she can't do that anymore."

Serious Crime Down

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Violent crime was down 7.2 percent in Florida for the first three quarters of 1983 and other serious crimes dropped 8.1 percent, according to Department of Law Enforcement Commissioner Robert Dempsey.

Dempsey said the number of crimes reported to law enforcement agencies has now declined for the last seven quarters, with the last increase coming in the fourth quarter of 1981.

"This continued downward trend in crime is a direct result of the cooperation and support of law enforcement agencies and private citizens in their efforts to make Florida a safer place to live and visit," Dempsey said Thursday.

The FDLE Crime Index showed declines in all seven of the index crime categories in the January-September 1983 period when compared to the same period in 1982.

Murders during the period dropped 17.3 percent, forcible rape 9.3 percent, robbery 11.7 percent, aggravated assault 4.2 percent, breaking and entering-burglary 11.6 percent, larceny-theft 6.6 percent and motor vehicle theft 5 percent.

"Based on past trends, if these efforts continue, crime volume in Florida for the entire year 1983 is projected to show a decrease between 7 percent and 9 percent, which will be nearly twice the annual decrease shown in 1982," Dempsey said.

The index said 541,670 index crimes were reported during the nine-month period in 1983, compared to 588,516 for the same period in 1982. In violent crimes, the greatest decrease came in murder, with 900 reported in the first three quarters of 1983 compared to 1,088 in 1982.

The value of property stolen in the first three quarters was $414.1 million, a decrease of 4.1 percent, or $17.6 million, over 1982 figures. Law enforcement agencies recovered $88.2 million of the stolen property, or 21 percent of the losses.

Other results for the nine-month period were:

- Arrests for index offenses dropped 7.4 percent.
- Juvenile arrests dropped 16 percent.
- Adult arrests decreased 3.9 percent.
- Index offenses decreased 10.7 percent in city areas, 9.3 percent in metropolitan areas, 9 percent in non-suburban areas and 7.4 percent in rural and suburban areas.

Infertility Treatments Often Ineffective

BOSTON (UPI) — Innovations in treatment of infertility such as new types of drugs and microsurgery are effective less than half the time and their use should be re-evaluated because of possible dangers to patients, doctors say.

"Our study raises questions about the effectiveness of treatment for many classes of infertility," said Dr. John A. Collins, a member of the Obstetrics and Gynecology staff at Grace Maternity Hospital in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

A study of 1,145 infertile couples found that 61 percent of the women who became pregnant did so irrespective of treatment, a report in the New England Journal of Medicine said.

"Some of our patients with severe problems, such as husbands with few sperm and a wife with blocked tubes, still got pregnant without treatment," he said.

"Even among couples with infertility of more than three years' duration, over half the pregnancies occurred independently of treatment," the report said.

The dangers of fertility treatments include multiple births and complications due to surgery, the doctors said.

The authors cited medical literature 100 years ago that said although many doctors claimed they had treatments that could cure infertility, most of the successes had little to do with the treatment. The new report's authors say in some respects, the situation does not seem to have changed much.

"Now that ovulation induction, artificial insemination and microsurgery are available as treatments for infertility, it is surprising that the rates of treatment-independent pregnancy remain high," they said.

Because infertility treatments are expensive and sometimes pose dangers, they should be tested for their effectiveness, just as any other medical procedure is, the report concluded.

"We believe our findings support the idea that infertility treatments should be subjected to clinical trial," the report said.

An accompanying editorial on infertility agreed the study's findings were important, but defended modern treatment of infertility as highly sophisticated and effective.

"We can quibble with small points in their report," said the editorial, written by Drs. John W. Grover and Charles E. Miller of Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge, Ill.

"However, these do not diminish the importance of the observation that many pregnancies do appear to occur independently of therapy, and it would be useful to know the proportions more precisely. We need also to understand why these pregnancies occur in order to treat other infertile patients more effectively," the editorial said.

Collins said the study did not determine how long a couple should wait until beginning fertility treatment. Normal women not on contraception have an approximately one in five chance of getting pregnant each month.

Clear The Way For Border Reform Bill

In 1960, a civil rights bill was blocked by a small group of intransigent opponents who prevented it from leaving the Rules Committee and reaching the floor of the House. A seldom-used procedure, involving a discharge petition, was used to force the House leadership to bring the bill out of committee. The petition was signed by 208 congressmen — 10 short of the required majority — and the Rules Committee yielded, permitting the bill to reach the floor. There it passed and became a milestone in the civil rights struggle.

Today, House Speaker Tip O'Neill stands in the way of border reform. Bowing to the Hispanic lobby, O'Neill has prevented the immigration bill, which has passed the Senate and four House committees, from leaving the Rules Committee.

Rep. Dan Lungren, R-Calif., ranking Republican on the immigration subcommittee, has initiated a discharge petition to get the bill on the floor where it can be debated and voted on. If a majority of congressmen, 218 members, sign it, it will automatically free the bill. A strong minority of members' signatures could press the House leadership to reconsider its obstruction, as happened with the civil rights bill.

A discharge petition is an unusual measure. But illegal immigration and exploitation are extraordinary problems. The status quo means suffering for millions of Hispanics and other workers without papers now living in this country in fear of being caught and deported. It means the wholesale violation of the integrity of this nation's borders. It means exploitation of workers in farms, sweatshops and hotels by unscrupulous employers. It means a harvest of resentment against Hispanic-Americans and other minorities.

Passing the Simpson-Mazzoli immigration law reform bill will legalize most of the illegal aliens now living in this country and stop the continued flow of illegal immigration by, for the first time, penalizing those who give jobs to illegal immigrants.

Die-hard Southerners used every trick in the book to prevent civil rights legislation from being passed. But once it was, the South underwent the process of integration with surprising energy. The resurgence of the South coincides, in many ways with the passage of national civil rights legislation.

Hispanic and farm leaders are now using every tool to prevent Congress from passing immigration reform. But, privately, many Hispanics and farmers realize they can adapt to and benefit from a new era of enlightened border laws.

There are no easy answers to immigration dilemma. But refusing to face the problem is the worst solution of all.

Get out of the road, Tip. Or you'll be trampled by illegal aliens crossing the border and angry Americans seeking revenge, not reform.

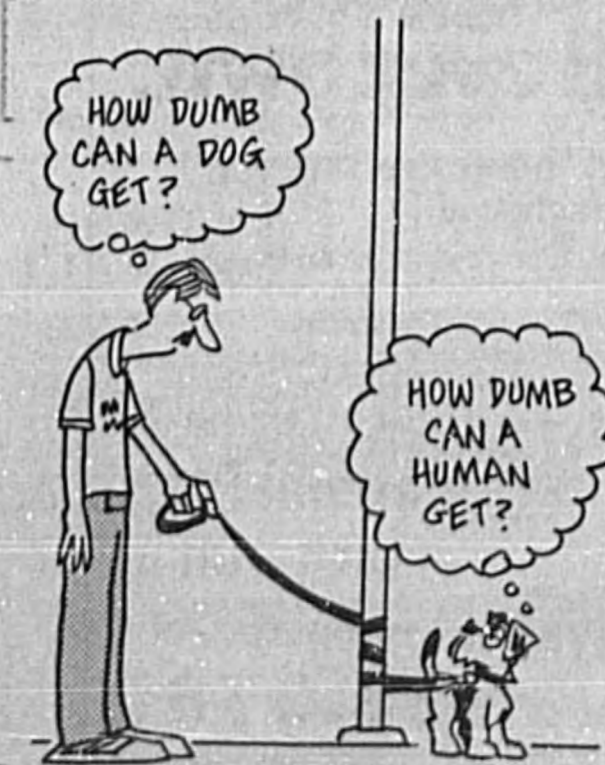

Silence Over Tripoli

Hundreds of civilians and refugees are being slaughtered by Syrian and rebel Palestine Liberation Organization troops in the assault on Yasser Arafat's forces. Yet, as when last year the Syrians ruthlessly killed an estimated 9,000 of their own people while putting down a rebellion in the Syrian town of Hama, only a few voices have been raised in protest — in the United Nations, in Europe, in the Soviet Union, or even the Arab world.

It's not hard to imagine the outcry that would be heard now if Israeli forces were savaging Arafat instead of the Syrians and his own former comrades. During the Israeli pursuit of the PLO into Lebanon last year, the Israeli forces were denounced widely for what the news media described as unnecessary civilian Lebanese casualties. Only later did the media acknowledge having exaggerated the death toll after international Red Cross and other sources confirmed that the Israelis' effort to avert civilian deaths had, instead, cost their forces additional casualties.

There's a clear, and strange, double standard in the way the Syrians and Israelis are perceived. Yet it is the Syrians and the Lebanese militias they control that keep Lebanon in turmoil and that remain a principal reason that the Lebanese are unable to unify and regain their independence.

BERRY'S WORLD

The Seminole County sheriff's SWAT — special weapons and tactics — team will get some special training this week.

Thursday and Friday the team will join forces with SWAT units from Orange and Volusia counties for a first time ever joint training session.

Seminole County SWAT commander Lt. Marty LaBrusciano said it is unusual for SWAT teams to train together. He knows of no other large Florida units that have trained together, although the heavily armed, highly-trained teams are sometimes called in to offer support to another county's team.

LaBrusciano said the idea for joint training came about after the Seminole County team was called to assist in Volusia County last year and they didn't even know the names of the Volusia officers, much less what equipment or expertise they had.

Seminole County Sheriff John E. Polk, along with the Orange County and Volusia

County sheriffs decided they needed to be better prepared to meet an emergency situation in the future and the best way to prepare would be for their SWAT teams to unite in advance.

Seminole County's 15 member team — 10 men from the Seminole County sheriff's department and five men from Longwood's police force — will join 62 officers from the other two counties Thursday at 8 a.m. in Orange County and Friday at 8 a.m. in Volusia County.

The men will put in two full days on the training courses. They will coordinate equipment from each team and will learn to operate additional weapons. Exercises will be performed both on the ground and in the air.

The Seminole County SWAT team normally trains on its own courses in Seminole County.

LaBrusciano said his men are looking forward to getting to know the men of the other SWAT teams. He said, "A lot of trust is involved in a SWAT operation and it's important to know who you are working with and how they are going to react.

"There's always been a friendly competitive feeling between the teams, but the men are working to work well together so they can better serve the community."

Seminole County has had a SWAT team since 1975. Team members are volunteers who serve on the team in addition to their patrol of investigative duties.

LaBrusciano said his team has never fired a shot during a Seminole County operation, although they once gave ground-fire support to the Volusia County team.

He said when a suspect is advanced on by the heavily armed officers, they usually give up.

The SWAT team is normally called in only in life or death situations. LaBrusciano said, "Some people think of us as the bad guys, but we've never injured anyone. We're here to prevent injury."

Oswald Materials On Display

By Jess Blackburn

FORT WORTH, Texas (UPI) — For the last 17 years of her life, Marguerite Oswald — mother of the accused assassin — studied documents, articles and correspondence to prove the existence of a conspiracy against her son.

Though she intimated to acquaintances she had solved the puzzle, she never publicly divulged the solution.

In 1980 Mrs. Oswald died. The materials she collected over nearly two decades — books, newspapers, magazines and letters — were given to the Mary Coats Burnett Library at Texas Christian University.

A portion of that collection which fills 39 boxes will be on display at the library through Nov. 30 to commemorate the 20th anniversary of the Kennedy assassination.

University Librarian Paul Parham said the collection contained "some interesting trivia" but the library staff had not had time to look at enough of it to determine its value, monetarily or scholarly.

"I think it is a very interesting collection. We've had it about two years but it is still not processed because of our small staff. I think it is very reflective of her attitude," he said.

Parham, who said he and Mrs. Oswald became friends because she used the school library in her research, said the accused assassin's mother intimated that she had solved the conspiracy to frame her son for Kennedy's death.

"Yet she never revealed her solution to me or anyone else that I know, which makes me a little suspect of whether she had really found a conspiracy," he said.

Probably the most valuable part of the collection, Parham said, is Mrs. Oswald's annotated copy of the Warren Commission report which concluded Lee Harvey Oswald had acted alone in killing the president.

Mrs. Oswald wrote margin notes throughout the report.

In a section on a FBI report of Oswald's arrest in New Orleans in August 1963 for charges of disturbing the peace while he was distributing handbills for the Fair Play for Cuba committee, it is mentioned three policemen were involved in the arrest. "Look how many policemen involved," she noted.

She also was critical of Forrest V. Sorrels, special agent in charge of the Dallas division of the U.S. Secret Service. Beside his testimony she wrote such remarks as, "Well trained. Very evasive. I know. I talked with him every day for about ten days."

About Jack Ruby, the man who shot and killed her son, Mrs. Oswald wrote, "My information shows that Jack Ruby was an Israeli agent."

Also included in the exhibit are pictures of Oswald. But there are no letters from Oswald in the collection.

Appeal To Woman Who Wants To Die

WASHINGTON — In yesterday's column, I told the tragic but poignant love story of Elizabeth and Richard Bouvia, two outcasts who tried to face the world together.

Now Elizabeth, tormented by painful paralysis, has given up the struggle. She has sued for the right to die in peace from starvation; she doesn't have the strength left in her atrophied muscles to commit suicide any other way. All she asks for, as she wastes away, are painkillers to ease the agony of her arthritis.

She won't speak to her husband, who keeps coming back to the hospital and getting turned away. Each time, he leaves a rose for her at the reception desk. In desperation, he has appealed to me to publish a message he would have preferred to deliver in private.

"Liz has to know I love her, I need her and I want to spend the rest of my life with her," Richard writes. "Mr. Anderson, I have to make her realize that she is a very bright and lovely lady... I want her to know how much I love her

WILLIAM RUSHER

Land Of The Rising Sun

TOKYO (NEA) — About 6:30 on the morning of Aug. 15, 1945, Japanese radio was preparing to broadcast at noon a recording of the emperor's announcement that Japan had agreed to surrender. The minister of war had just committed suicide. Curious junior army officers had set fire to the residences of the prime minister and the president of the Privy Council. Baricaded with a few chamberlains in the library on the grounds of the Imperial Palace, the emperor could only hope that his recording would not be found by still other hotheads who were ransacking the nearby Household Ministry where it was hidden.

At that critical moment the commander of the eastern district army (who was loyal to the emperor) arrived at the palace to subdue the hotheads, and on the palace grounds ran into an Imperial chamberlain who was gingerly picking his way from the library to the Household Ministry on an errand for the emperor. They bowed ceremoniously, exchanged calling cards and bowed again.

There are few, if any, nations on earth whose peoples are possessed of a self-discipline, let alone a servility, so deeply rooted. Who am I, therefore, to presume to contradict the familiar stereotype of the Japanese people? It is the stereotype because it is so largely true. Hard-working, intelligent, homogeneous and intensely clanish, they have made Japan one of the most prosperous and successful nations on earth. Thanks to many centuries of cultural isolation, theirs is also perhaps the most mysterious of all nations from the standpoint of an outsider. Yet, it is tremendously important for Americans to try to understand Japan, for on the friendship and alliance of our two countries may well depend the future of mankind.

That is why I accepted, promptly and with pleasure, the invitation of the Foreign Press Center here in Tokyo (an independent, non-profit foundation formed by the media in 1976 to assist foreign correspondents) to spend two weeks in Japan as its guest. My trip coincided in part with President Reagan's — a happy accident, no more. In this first dispatch, let me concentrate on a few impressions and factual sidebars, just to help set the scene.

The first time I visited Tokyo, more than 20 years ago, I dismissed it contemptuously as "Newark times ten." It seemed endless, and endlessly third-rate. Today, however, large parts of central Tokyo are downright beautiful. The Marunouchi area — the financial district — gleams with granite, chrome and glass. Roppongi, a sophisticated entertainment center, pulses after dark with splendid displays of every color known to electronic science. In Shinjuku, a mile or so away, a handsome cluster of skyscraper hotels and office buildings reaches arrogantly for the sky. Meanwhile, at the city's core, moated battlements still protect the green calm of the huge Imperial palace grounds, and hundreds of trees have donned their autumn colors. Tokyo is beginning to show real class.

As far as America and Ronald Reagan are concerned, moreover, Japan is a genuinely friendly country. It is also, of course, a free country, so America has its critics here, too. The principal newspapers — and their circulation is simply enormous — are largely liberal in their politics, for all the world as if they were consciously trying to imitate the leading American dailies. Their English-language editions even run the same heavy overdose of left-leaning Washington columnists. But, also as in the United States, the voters here seem impervious to the diligent efforts of the media to wash their brains; they regularly return the same solidly conservative, stoutly pro-American party to power, year after year.

Larry Flynt For President?

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Porn publisher Larry Flynt is running for president, and the U.S. political scene may never be the same.

That's a serious statement — for although his presidential campaign is obviously nothing more than a publicity stunt, Flynt intends to push many election laws to their limits. By the time he's finished, his campaign may have defined the outer limits of electioneering.

According to sources close to Flynt, the campaign is part of a massive publicity effort aimed at returning Flynt and his porn-publishing empire to its former position as the most profitable in that industry.

Flynt and Hustler magazine were riding high until the publisher was shot and permanently paralyzed in a 1978 assassination attempt. Flynt underwent four major operations and became a recluse, never leaving his Los Angeles mansion. He underwent heavy sedation for almost-constant pain.

When he and his advisors assessed things, they reportedly concluded that what had made Hustler so successful in his earlier days was its shock value. Now, with so many more "men's" magazines in circulation, Hustler would have to become even more shocking than it was in its heyday, and Flynt would have to quickly regain his image as the most outrageous personality in the pornography industry.

This led, in quick succession, to a number of moves by Flynt, including his purchase — for a reported $25 million (but probably for vastly less) — of copies of FBI tapes of automaker John DeLoorean's drug dealings and their release to the news media. He was subsequently arrested on contempt-of-court charges for refusing to release another alleged DeLoorean tape, which, says Flynt, records FBI agents threatening DeLoorean that they would harm his family if he wouldn't go through with a drug deal.

A key element to this publicity campaign is Flynt's announced presidential candidacy.

Flynt and his lawyers believe that almost anything contained in a political speech is constitutionally protected, even if it runs up against so-called community standards.

Flynt's ample funding makes his campaign different from those of previous "kook" presidential candidates. In fact, say sources close to Flynt, he even intends to have his presidential effort partially funded by taxpayers.

Under federal election law, a candidate is entitled to federal matching funds if he can raise at least $5,000 in 20 different states. This has been impossible for most far-out candidates — but for the publisher of a magazine with a monthly circulation of more than one million, this threshold is far less difficult.

never reach her except through the public prints. It's scrawled on yellow stationery, with a bouquet of flowers at the bottom. The spelling is poor and the phrasing sometimes awkward. But the message is eloquent.

"Dearest Liz," the letter begins. "Sweetheart I want to say I am very sorry that I left you all by yourself in Oregon. And I want you to know that the reason I left had nothing to do with your handicap. I was a lot of pressure I felt... and not being able to see any chance of obtaining employment in such a small town.

"I want you to know how happy I was when you contacted me and wanted me to come and get you out of the hospital... I know you have mentioned you wanted to die at times when you have your arthritis pain, and when you get depressed. Because of all the problems with attendants and... all the red tape and hassle you get from all the government agencies.

"But I want you to know I love you and care very much for you. And I need and want you as my wife for many years in the future. And I am seeking employment daily and I am very confident I will be employed in the near future.

"My next goal will be to get an apartment or house that will be accessible for you. Well I will start close by saying this, Liz, if you insist upon given the right to die and succeed part of me will die with you. I hope you realize I love you dearly and from the bottom of my heart, and I am praying for you daily.

"Liz you don't realize how much you are hurting the only person who has ever cared or loved you. I am pleading with you, not to continue this. We can work it out, life isn't really all that bad... I will send you another rose tomorrow."

The letter is signed "Your loving husband, Richard."

Choose The Proper Trees For Landscape

Winter, not summer, is the time for major tree and shrub planting and transplanting. There are several advantages in planting during November and the winter months. Instead of waiting until spring, the plants are not actively growing during this time and less apt to be injured by shock from planting. Also, the weather during the winter season is very conducive to good plant adjustment as well as good working weather for the gardener.

Winter planting of trees and shrubs allows the plants to become well established prior to spring growth and then bloom prior to summer heat. Research shows that roots of plants continue to grow and to develop during mild winter days, when the foliage does not.

You will also find that your nurseryman has a good stock of plants during the fall and winter and can generally give you more time and attention during this season, whereas he may not be able to do so during the spring rush. Of course, cold sensitive plants should not be planted during the winter months unless cold protection is provided.

The success of your landscape will depend greatly on your ability to select plants which will fit your particular landscape need and situation.

Trees are always a must in most landscapes whether their purpose is for shade, windbreak, food, setting, to add color and beauty with bloom and foliage, or to add esthetic and real estate value to the property.

The ideal landscape tree does not exist. Trees which have desirable features also have those that are undesirable. A tree may have beautiful flowers followed by undesirable fruit or seed pods. Most fast growing trees are brittle and short-lived.

Since all trees have advantages and disadvantages, your selection must be carefully considered. Points for consideration in choosing the proper tree should include the following:

(1) The tree you choose should fit your landscape need. For example, fast growing for quick shade, broad and spreading for shade, dense for a windbreak or for screening, or attractive blooms for an accent.

(2) Know the tree you select and its growth requirements. Know the tree's ultimate size and plant accordingly. Does the tree have serious insects and diseases that will require routine maintenance?

(3) Do you want an evergreen or deciduous tree? Deciduous shade trees under the desirable sunlight when void of leaves in the winter whereas an evergreen tree may be desirable for screening.

(4) Consider overhead utility lines, underground water lines and septic tanks, as well as walks, drives and paved surfaces which may be damaged by tree roots.

(5) Lastly, obtain a quality tree from a reliable nurseryman, and plant it in a carefully prepared spot, following good horticultural practices as to proper soil, location, exposure, watering, and pest control so that your investment in the tree is not lost through carelessness or lack of planning.

All Extension Programs are open to anyone regardless of race, color, sex, or national origin.

Crepe Myrtles Bloom 100 Days

By Hibiscus Circle
Sanford Garden Club

Now that cool weather has come to Florida and the trees are going dormant, it is a good time to select the following trees you want to plant in your garden.

Small trees, dogwood, redbud, crab apple, flowering peach, fringe tree and crepe myrtle are less than 25 feet in height. Properly planted and cared for will reward you with a long life and abundant color. Small trees are relatively fast growing, quick to respond to feeding, watering and provide beauty and shade.

Dig a hole large enough to accommodate all of the roots, whether you are planting bare-root, balled or container grown. Use half organic material with the soil you fill around the roots. Do not fertilize until the tree shows a sign of new growth. If planting bare root do not fertilize until the second season of growth, as it will make the new roots always plant the same depth as it was growing and water well to force out air bubbles. If the trunk is small it should be staked to prevent moving until roots are established. By planting in winter the roots have time to start new growth before Spring.

Because crepe myrtles bloom 100 days it is an excellent tree for the garden. It will reward you with abundant blooms of watermelon red, white, pink, etc., during the summer months when other flowering trees have passed their season. They may be planted in the border, in groups of one color for accent, or used as a specimen plant in the landscape and container grown for patio.

Crepe myrtles like full sun, but will tolerate partial shade. The more shade the smaller the blooms. They can be trimmed as a large tree or as a low shrub. Pruning in late winter before new growth results in larger cluster of blooms, as the blooms are borne on current season's wood. Don't be afraid to cut back in size. If dead blooms are removed they sometimes put on new blooms. The cuttings are easily rooted and they make little gifts for friends.

Fertilize trees at least once each Spring with a complete fertilizer at rate of 1/4 lb. per square yard; an application of nitrogen in July will be beneficial — especially if your soil is sandy.

Scholarship Pageant Seeks Miss Charm

America's Miss Charm National Scholarship pageant is looking for girls to represent Florida at the upcoming national finals, July 10-14, in Washington, D.C.

There are five age divisions and a representative is being sought for each age category: Little Miss (4-6), Miss Ideal (7-9), Junior Miss (10-12), Teen (13-16), and Miss (17-25).

Each girl will compete in a private interview, talent, evening gown and sportswear. Over $50,000 in scholarships, prizes and awards will be presented throughout the finals.

Each representative will be officially crowned and presented a trophy for her participation. She will also be given a Special Grooming Seminar where she will be informed on General Etiquette, social graces, the proper way to walk, sit, turn on stage to help build self-confidence and self-esteem.

As a Youth Development Program in its seventh year, it encourages community and state participation through civic and social organizations by giving of their time and talents to charitable functions. America's Miss Charm National Finals are presented to award scholarships and to bring outstanding recognition to all participants.

America's Miss Charm National Headquarters would like to invite girls from Florida regardless of race, color or creed to apply. Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope, stating your age, for more details to: America's Miss Charm Scholarship Program, P.O. Box 7246, Jacksonville, N.C. 28540, (919) 455-9643.

'Reg' Howe presents a check to C.J. 'Kit' Carson for sharing center

Rotary Gives $12,000 For New Center

In December, 1982 the Rotary Club of Sanford challenged the Sanford Christian Sharing Center.

The challenge came under the administration of Rotary president, Kenneth Sandon, when the club made a contribution in the amount of $500 to the sharing center, along with the stipulation that the club would match funds raised by the center, dollar for dollar, up to $6,500.

As the Christian Sharing Center raised each $1,000, the Rotary Club followed through with a matching $1,000, under the current president "Reg" Howe. This week the club made another $1,000 contribution with a grand total of $12,000 raised so far toward the proposed new facility.

Howe says the club still has $500 remaining to fulfill its obligation.

C.J. "Kit" Carson, public relations director of the sharing center, says a suitable building to carry on the work of the center will cost "at least $50,000." Carson is optimistic that the Sanford community will follow through with the necessary funds through donations.

Carson says contributions are tax deductible. Those who would like to contribute can mail their checks to: Building Fund, Christian Sharing Center, P.O. Box E.E., Sanford 32771. - Doris Dietrich

Man Should Find His Own Wife

DEAR ABBY: I have been reading your column for years in the Scranton Tribune but never needed to write before this. I am 62 and have been taught from childhood to help my fellowman.

Dear Abby

I know a wonderful 27-year-old man who is as nice as they come. He's served four years in the U.S. Army, believes in God, and has no prejudices whatsoever.

Can you rush me a list of missionaries, institutions, religious orders and lonely hearts magazines where he could find a nice girl who maybe has had a hard life and would appreciate a tall, handsome, slim, young white man? Religion doesn't matter. He could give her a nice home, children, marriage and a happy future. He doesn't care if she's divorced, widowed or has had a child out of wedlock. And it's even OK if she's Oriental or American Indian. Thank you.

A FRIEND IN PENNSYLVANIA

DEAR FRIEND: Your friend sounds like a fine young man, but if you want to help him, please encourage him to find his own wife. He can begin by socializing where decent, worthwhile people spend their time. He could volunteer his services to the elderly, disabled, disadvantaged children and veterans. All these people have friends and relatives. All he has to do is let them know he is interested in meeting a nice woman. Nice young women are standing in line to meet a decent young man.

DEAR ABBY: Is it right for my family (brothers and sisters) to invite my ex-husband and his new wife to family parties where I am invited even after I have specifically requested them not to? And to add insult to injury, his new wife was the woman who broke up our marriage. They are all aware of how he mistreated me during our marriage, but they continue to include him in family gatherings.

I want to be with my family — particularly for the holidays — but not if he is going to be there.

HURT IN BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

DEAR HURT: Since your family is aware that your "ex" has mistreated you and you are uncomfortable in his presence, but they invite him anyway, they have made a choice. And it's not you.

DEAR ABBY: I wish kids would stop calling it "making love" when it's simply "having sex."

Sex is the icing on the cake. To make a cake, you assemble the right ingredients, combine them properly, bake and cool. Then apply the icing!

Thanks for listening.

DISGUSTED IN SAPULPA, OKLA.

DEAR DISGUSTED: Right! The most important part is letting the cake cool.

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago you ran a letter that still bothers me. It was signed "Can't Decide." She couldn't decide if she should marry the "wonderful, considerate, generous" man she had been dating for two years because he was "short, stocky and bald." She said she was afraid that any children they might have would look like him.

Abby, I'm so glad you advised her to not marry him because she was unsure. I have an even greater concern for any children they might have: They might grow up to think like her.

'Fantasticks' Set At SCC

The Seminole Community College Fine Arts Theatre will present Harvey Schmidt and Tom Jones' musical The Fantasticks, Wednesday through Saturday, Dec. 7-11, at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 10 and 11 at 2:00 p.m. This multi-award winning musical, under the direction of Bobbie Bell, will be presented in the Fine Arts Theatre located in the Fine Arts Building on the campus in Sanford.

The Fantasticks, featuring the song, "Try To Remember," explores the human heart in young love, growing older, and the ever changing seasons. The world's longest running musical which is entering its 25th year at the Sullivan Street Theatre in New York has been produced in over 5,000 American cities, over 80 foreign countries, and has been translated in over 16 languages.

Roger Jarand portrays the bandit narrator El Gallo, and Lori Hunt appears as his silent partner, The Mute. The love interest is provided by Mary Anne Roberts and Rick Malena as Luisa and Matt. Hucklebee and Bellomy, the two fathers, who pretend to feud to bring the lovers together, are portrayed by Drew Aciord and Aaron Babcock. The eccentric comic relief is ushered in by Phillip Gordon as the old actor, Henry, and by Kevin Griffin as his trusty companion and expert at death scenes, Mortimer.

The musical is a warm and intimate invitation to join in a tuneful celebration of life and love. Ticket prices are $3.00 for senior citizens and students; $4.00 for general admission. The Box Office hours are Monday through Friday, 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. For information call 323-1450 or 843-7001, extension 399.

Homecoming Fighting Seminoles Close Season With Spruce Creek

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Seminole High's football team has played the favorite's role like an underdog this fall and it has played the underdog's part like a favorite.

That's what makes tonight's 8 o'clock homecoming clash against Spruce Creek so interesting.

It's a toss-up. "That's how I would rate it," said Seminole coach Jerry Posey. "Spruce Creek has been disappointing and so have we. It should be a very interesting game."

The Hawks of coach Brent Hall have lost seven of nine games. Most Five Star Conference coaches felt that Spruce Creek was the best preseason pick in Volusia County and a darkhorse in the conference race.

But things haven't materialized for Hall in his second year. At Ocala Forest, he had one of the best programs in the state, winning two state 3A championships. Of course, Scott and John Brantley had something to do with that success.

"I thought they were going to be a pretty good team," said Posey. "But they lost a couple of tough ones early, then they had some injury problems. When I saw them against DeLand, they had four guys fight around or over 200 pounds watching from the sidelines."

Spruce Creek, which lost two Lake Mary two weeks ago, 21-6, had last week to rest its injured, but it shouldn't matter too much. The Hawks are pretty much a two-dimensional team. Tailback Melvin David carries the ball 20-30 times a game. The senior halfback is just 5-10 and 152 pounds, but he is a durable, slashing-type runner. Quarterback Sean Hamilton is adept at the option play and likes to throw short passes to David.

Spruce Creek gives David a breather once in a while by running fullback Lane Lowry or short dive plays. Kevin Rushing, a quick senior, is used on sweeps.

"They try to run the option, but they're not real good at it," said Posey. "Although, about once or twice against Lake Mary and Lake Brantley, they broke off a big gain."

Seminole, 3-6 and in the midst of a three-game losing streak, will try to keep those long gainers in check with its sturdy defense. Defensive end Fred Brinson is coming along strong, according to defensive coordinator Dave Masure. "He was (Optimist) Player of the Week again," said Masure. "He's been doing a good job."

Much of the Sanford strength on defense comes from its linebacking area where juniors Mike Debose and Vince Williams along with senior Ed Rinkavage (see related story) have been the standouts. Rinkavage, however, has been hurting. The rugged 5-10, 200-pounder bruised his shoulder against Lake Brantley and is questionable for the game. If he can't go, Masure will look for sophomore Larry Byrd to step in and do the job.

Seminole has been rejuvenated somewhat by its good junior varsity group, which moved up after it won the Seminole County championship with a win over previously unbeaten Lake Brantley.

Soph Theron Liggins will start in the defensive backfield while teammates Alan Kendall and Carl Tipton should see plenty of playing time on the offensive line. Wideout Hal Posey, fullback Mike Hickmon, halfback Mike Levant and linebacker Jerry Little have also been impressive in practice.

"We're going to be playing a lot of sophomores," said Posey. "The injuries have hurt us the past week. At one time I counted 13 guys who were incapacitated."

Heading that list is defensive back-tight end William Wynn, who is bothered by a knee injury and hasn't practiced all week. Kelvin "Special K" Robinson, a starter at monsterback, is also doubtful. They join quarterback Mike Futrell (shoulder), guard Jeff Bender (knee), safety Brian Cash (knee injury), RB Rinkavage (broken arm) and cornerback Charlie Smith (broken wrist).

"I counted only three starters from what we started the year with on defense," said Masure. "It's really been tough patching things together."

A strong addition last week in the loss to Lake Mary was Walt Lowry, a sophomore who was ineligible who moved into a defensive end spot when Tracy Holloman went to offensive center. Guard David Linton will also play from defensive tackle tonight to shore up the holes while defensive tackle Anthony Hall will see some time at offensive tackle.

Between The Goal Posts

Seminole linebacker Ed Rinkavage delivers hit on the Spruce Creek dummy in anticipation of tonight's homecoming game.

Tribe's Ed Rinkavage Plays With Big Hurts

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

It's common practice for some football players to "play with the little hurts," but Seminole linebacker Ed Rinkavage goes one step further — he plays with "the big hurts."

Since the Lake Brantley game, the 200-pound Seminole senior has suffered from a severe bruise on his left shoulder, but don't expect this somewhat minor distraction to keep him out of tonight's homecoming final against Spruce Creek. Kickoff is 8 p.m. at the Seminole High School Stadium.

"I didn't expect to go into my final game with an injury," said Rinkavage after practice Thursday. "But a couple of days ago I realized, this is it. This is my last high school game."

It's been a career of ups and downs for the likable senior. He played some varsity as a sophomore and was a part of Sanford's undefeated district and Five Star Conference championship team two years ago. He hit rock bottom with the rest of the 'Noles and last year's 0-10 squad. This year, he was encouraged by the start of the Seminoles, but not the finish.

"We got up for the good teams (Lyman and Lake Howell) more and beat them," he said. "I guess we just took some of the others (DeLand and Mainland) too lightly. But after last year, I think we've all grown up a lot and that's what it is all about."

Hitting is what Rinkavage's game is all about. And, even with the bum shoulder, he wasn't about to miss out on Thursday's senior ritual of the "Last Hit."

"We line them up and run them down the tunnel and they take their

Last Prep Menu Is Fans' Delight

The final menu for the prep football season offers a little bit of everything to satisfy the fans' appetite.

Sanford's Fighting Seminoles hope to close the season on a positive note in a homecoming encounter against the Spruce Creek Hawks. Seminole is 3-6 while the Hawks are 2-7.

The last inter-county rivalry of the year occurs at Oviedo where the Lions host the red-hot 5-4 Lake Mary Rams.

Lake Howell, 5-4, has its hands full for the second week with fifth-ranked Winter Park. The Silver Hawks had Apopka on the ropes last week, but the Blue Darters rebounded to keep their record perfect (9-0) with a strong second half.

Lake Brantley, 7-2, continues to roll. The Patriots hope to post the best record in the school's history, but they will need a win over Boone tonight and a victory over West Orange in the Elks Bowl.

Lyman, 5-4, entertains hapless DeLand.

Hawks Finish With Powerful Winter Park County Roundup

For the second straight week, Lake Howell's Silver Hawks are going up against one of the best teams in the state. Last week, the Hawks dropped a 38-27 decision to sixth ranked (4A) Apopka after leading, 27-14, in the third quarter. Tonight, at Showalter Field in Winter Park, the Silver Hawks tangle with the state's fifth ranked team, the Winter Park Wildcats.

Lake Howell is 5-4 overall and 4-1 in the Five Star Conference while Winter Park, the Metro Conference champions, stands at 9-0. In two weeks Winter Park plays Apopka at Apopka for the region championship.

The Silver Hawks will see a much better defense this week and it will be hard scoring seven points. The Wildcats beat Orlando Oak Ridge, 30-3, last Friday and have one of the state's best defenses.

Winter Park linebacker Paul McGowan is one of the state's best and is being recruited by numerous major colleges. Nose guard Eric Howard and defensive end Reggie Scott are also among the defensive leaders for the Wildcats. Offensive leaders include running back Derek Collier, one of the top ball carriers in Central Florida, and 6-1, 240 pound lineman Mark Salva.

Lake Howell's offensive leaders include running back Jay Robey, quarterback Darin Slack and receiver Jeron Evans. Robey is the county's leading rusher with 758 yards on 132 carries. Slack is the leading passer with 979 yards. He has completed 50 of 122 passes for 10 touchdowns and five interceptions. Evans is the third leading receiver in the county with 16 receptions for 398 yards in 24.9 yard

Rams Look To Settle Score Against Oviedo

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Tonight's inter-county matchup between Oviedo and Lake Mary is an important game for both teams. The Rams, 5-4 overall and 4-4 in the Five Star Conference, are riding a two-game winning streak and looking to finish the season with a winning record.

"This is the last game of the year, so neither team is going to hold anything back," Lake Mary coach Harry Nelson said. "We want to go in, play a decent game, and hopefully come out with a victory."

On the other hand, Oviedo is coming off a disappointing loss to Osceola Kissimmee and the Lions, 3-6, are looking forward to tonight's game. Oviedo beat Lake Mary last year in the first ever meeting between the rivals.

"Lake Mary is the way we were last year at the end of the season," Oviedo coach Jack Blanton said. "They are playing good enough to beat anybody."

Lake Mary's rushing attack has been awesome lately. Last week, in a 34-19 victory over Seminole, the Rams racked up 360 yards rushing ago with Charlie Lucarelli and Neal Wellon both gaining over 100 yards. Lucarelli picked up 165 yards to move into second place in the county with 714 yards on 122 carries. Wellon picked up 106 yards and is fourth in the county with 542 yards on 89 carries. Scott Underwood, who picked up 65 yards last week, is fifth in the county with 523 yards on 103 carries.

"They have a heck of a backfield," Blanton said of Lake Mary. "They're hard to stop."

Quarterback Ray Hartsfield is the county's second leading passer with 733 yards. He has completed 48 of 91 passes for four touchdowns and has been intercepted four times. His main target, Donald Grayson, is one of the top receivers in Central Florida and the county's best. Grayson has 28 receptions for

Prep Football

454 yards (a 16.4 yard per catch average).

Defensively for Lake Mary, linebacker Bill Caughell continues to lead the county in tackles with 115 (71 solo and 34 assists). Tim Curtin is the Rams' second leading tackler with 75 (46 and 29) followed by David Hornyak with 54, Jeff Hopkins with 53 and Don Meyer with 49.

For Oviedo, Barry Williams fell from second to third in the county in rushing. He has 633 yards in 111 carries. J.W. Yarbrough has 440 yards on 84 carries.

Quarterback Kevin Thompson is the county's third leading passer with 670 yards. He has completed 39 of 107 passes for three touchdowns and has thrown four interceptions. Howard Lingard is the Lions' top receiver with 20 catches for 392 yards. Bowers has 10 receptions for 164 yards. Oviedo's third leading receiver, Andrew Smith, will miss tonight's game because of an ankle injury.

Defensive back Mark Howell leads the Lions in tackles with 100 (50 solo and 50 assists). Howell is second to Caughell for the county lead. Nose guard Kevin Yentz is second in tackles for Oviedo with 85 followed by Ed Norton with 60.

"They (Oviedo) have a good ballclub, but they've had some bad luck this season," Nelson said. "The two backs, (Williams and Yarbrough) look pretty fast on film and Yentz is a heck of a middle guard."

"We're going to have to play aggressive defense and force Lake Mary to make mistakes," Blanton said. "On offense, we're going to have to score a lot of points and we can't make any mistakes. There's no way we can match up with Lake Mary physically, so we're going to have to play on pride and discipline and hope we can slow Lake Mary down."

per catch average).

Defensive leaders for the Hawks include, Steve Cina, Bill Lang, Troy Quackenbush and Rick Pughe. Cina leads the Hawks in tackles with 87 followed by Lang with 80, Quackenbush with 63 and Pughe with 52. Pughe leads the county in quarterback sacks with seven.

Orlando Boone at Lake Brantley
Boone's Braves started out the season with two victories, including wins over Lyman and Orlando Evans. However, the Braves have lost seven straight since beating Evans and stand to lose their eighth straight tonight against Lake Brantley's Patriots at Lake Brantley Stadium in Altamonte Springs.

The Patriots, 7-2 overall and 6-2 in the Five Star Conference, are looking to cap off the season with a pair of victories (including the Elks Bowl) to finish with a 9-2 record, the best in the school's history. Lake Brantley is riding a three-game winning streak and the Patriots hammered DeLand, 45-0, last week.

The Patriots' leading rusher is Greg Shatto with 522 yards on 81 carries, followed by Allen Armstrong with 479 yards on 92 carries and Steve Emmons with 433 yards on 68 carries. Emmons gained over 100

Cheeseman Must Outrun County Competition For State Title

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Before the 1983 cross country season even started, Lake Howell senior Ken Cheeseman was rated the top runner in the state and the favorite to win the individual title at the state meet. And, although it hasn't been a picture perfect season for Cheeseman, he is in position to take first place Saturday in the 4A State Cross Country meet at the DeLand Airport.

The meet starts off with the 4A girls race at 8 a.m. followed by the 4A boys at 8:45, the 3A girls at 9:30, the 3A boys at 10:15, the 2A girls at 11, the 2A boys at 11:45, the 1A girls at 12:30 p.m. and the 1A boys at 1:15.

The 1983 season has been a rough one for Cheeseman, but he has come on strong in the past few weeks. For the first few weeks of the season, Cheeseman had strep throat and he missed some meets and didn't finish another. In the Five Star Conference meet at Lake Mary High, Cheeseman pulled a muscle and had to drop out of the race. He came back the following week, in the district meet at Trinity Prep, to turn in a first place time of 14:59, his best time of the season.

"I've been feeling pretty strong lately," Cheeseman said. "I think my chances are good." Cheeseman is looking to take the 4A individual title after finishing second in last year's state meet with a time of 14:43.6. Winter Park's Brian Jaeger won last year, as a senior, with a time of 14:32.1. Cheeseman's competition will include most of the same people who have been chasing him all season long. Lyman's Doug McBroom (top time of 15:22), Lake Brantley's Mike Garriques (15:12) and Orlando Oak Ridge's George Gardner.

"The top five guys from our region are just about as good as any," Cheeseman said. "Chris Palmer is probably the best from outside the region."

Largo will be the favorite to win the 4A team title after losing by three points (103-106) to Tampa Leto a year ago. Lyman is the only Seminole County boys team to qualify and their finish in the state depends on how well Brian Hunter and Carl Schmalmaack perform. Hunter and Schmalmaack were out most of the season with injuries.

McBroom is the Greyhounds' top runner and look for the Lyman senior leader to finish among the top five or 10 individually. Marc Overbay has been the number two runner with Hunter third, Steve Grundorf fourth, Schmalmaack fifth, Wade Jacobson sixth and Wayne Straw seventh.

In the 3A boys race, Oviedo's Marty Phillips is running as an individual and is looking to finish among the top 10. Rockledge was the 3A champion a year ago and Kenneth Williams of Jupiter Beach (14:52.6) was the individual champion.

Three Seminole County teams will be competing in the 4A girls race including Lake Howell (the region champion), Lake Brantley and Lake Mary. Colonial also qualified out of Region 3, Tampa Leto, Orange Park and Gainesville. Buehholz are the favorites.

Last year, all four teams from Region 3 finished among the top 10 in the state including, Lake Brantley (fourth), John I. Leonard (fifth), Winter Park (seventh) and Colonial (10th). Orange Park is looking to win its second straight state title after winning last year's with 71 points compared to 128 for St. Pete Northeast.

Lake Howell does not count on one runner to go out and set the pace. All seven of the Lady Hawks runners have contributed to the teams' success this season. The Lady Hawks like to run in a pack with its top seven including, Angie Smith, Lisa Samocki, Martha Fonseca, Mary Fonseca, Lyn Lucas, Amy Ertel and Nancy Nystrom (not necessarily in that order).

For Lake Brantley to finish high in the state meet, Kathryn and Joanne Hayward must lead the way. The Lady Patriots would like another fourth place finish like last season and they are capable of it if all five runners turn in their best performances.

Making the state meet was the goal of Lake Mary's Lady Rams, and anything they do in Saturday's state meet is just icing on the cake. Freshman Sue Kingsbury is looking to cap off an impressive season with a top 10 finish. Her best time is 12:06 (she ran a 11:43 in the Daytona Beach Run).

One of Lake Mary's goals at the state meet is to beat Orlando Colonial and possibly Lake Howell. To do that, the Lady Rams must get good performances from Fran Gordon, Tracy Blakely, Liz Stone and Andrea Beardlee along with Niki Hays and Shannon Weger. All seven of Lake Mary's runners turned in their best times on the Lake Mary course in last week's meet and they are looking to turn in their best times of the season Saturday.

Seminole County doesn't have any individuals or teams in the 3A and 2A meets, but Trinity Prep's Lady Saints will be in the 1A meet. However, the Lady Saints' chances of a state title are pretty slim since they lost number one runner Adrienne Poltowicz to an injury. The sophomore standout has a torn achilles tendon. That leaves fleet-footed freshman Katie Sams as the number one runner.

5 p.m. Lyman vs. Lake Howell

Seminole High School's freshman basketball team went on a 25-13 tear in the fourth quarter Thursday night to overhaul Lake Mary, 64-53, in the opening round of the Lake Brantley Freshman Preseason Basketball Tournament at Altamonte Springs. The tournament continues Saturday with three games and concludes Monday night.

"We extended our man-to-man defense in the fourth quarter and it made up a little more aggressive," said

Freshman Basketball

Seminole coach Bill Klein, "We forced a couple turnovers with our press which helped."

Guard Sean Fulce tossed in 10 fourth-quarter points and Roderick Henderson added six as the Tribe pulled away in the closing minutes. Sanford posted a fine 12 of 14 effort at the foul line while Lake Mary hit just 7 of 16 charity shots for the game.

Fulce led the 'Noles with 19 points while Jerry Parker threw 10 points to lead the winners and collected 12 rebounds. Henderson finished with 10 and David Daniels added 12.

"Daniels was very steady on offense and defense," said Klein. "Parker did a good job on the boards and Henderson played well overall, too."

Seminole moved to a 27-22 halftime lead, but Lake Mary, behind the strong play of Anthony Hartsfield (14 points), Oscar Merithe (13 points) and Tony Gaines (12 points) rallied the Rams to a 40-37 edge heading into the final eight minutes.

"We looked good offensively but we're going to have to do something about our defense if we want to beat them again," added Klein.

In Thursday's second game, Lake Howell had everything its way by blowing out the host Patriots, 81-38.

Terry Gammons led all scorers with 24 points while Ellis Bell helped out with 18 markers. Harold Sanders threw in 15 points for the Pats while Steve Morse added 14. Lake Howell took a 44-22 halftime bulge and never looked back. — Sam Cook

Raiders Open Tournery Tonight

Seminole Community College's Raiders will open play in the 15th Annual Raider Basketball Tournament tonight at 8:30 against the Florida Memorial junior varsity. In the early game, Valencia, 1-2, take on Indian River, 2-0.

SCC, 2-1, knocked off College of the Bahamas and a tough Manatee ball club before falling to foul trouble and the Brevard Titans last Tuesday, 80-74. The Raiders are defending champs. The beat Dade North on a shot at the buzzer last year by David Gallagher.

"We should be the favorite," said SCC coach Bill Payne who will stay with his starting five of 6-6 center Luis Phelps, 6-5 forwards Bernard Merithe and Delvin Everett, along with guards Jim Payton and Lenny Grace.

"Florida Memorial is supposed to be small and very quick," said Payne about his first round opponent.

J.C. Basketball

If so, the Raiders will go inside to Phelps, an all-stater last year to take advantage of the height difference. The powerful Spring Hill Springstead sophomore tossed in 18 points in the win over Manatee and has been in double figures for all three games.

Merithe has also played well, defensively and offensively. The Sanford soph totaled 17 points against Manatee along with playing an alert floor game. Everett has shown flashes of brilliance, but Payne is still looking for some consistency from his talented Apopka product.

Lake Mary Wrestling Classic Set Saturday

Some of the best high school and college wrestlers from around the state will be on hand Saturday when the Lake Mary Wrestling Classic gets underway at Lake Mary High School beginning at 10:30 a.m. Weighin is 8 a.m. to 10 a.m.

"The wrestlers will be wrestling unattached," said Lake Mary coach and tournament director Frank Schwartz. "The meet is sanctioned by the U.S.A. Wrestling Federation and almost all of the area coaches are excited about it. We expect a great turnout."

Schwartz sent out over 80 flyers and he said the University of Central Florida and Stetson University grapplers will be entered in the open class. Other classes for the prep are junior varsity and varsity.

Medals will be given for first, second and third places. A $5 entry fee will be charged and wrestlers must be members of the U.S.A. Wrestling Federation. Federation cards may be purchased at the meet for $6. The card cost covers the wrestler's insurance, said Schwartz.

Wrestling will go on all day with finals wrapping up the action around 5 p.m. or 6 p.m. — Sam Cook

...Homecoming

Injuries, aside, however, the Tribe's real problems began when fullback Tim Lawrence, defensive tackle Bryan Debose and defensive end Mike Tanner were dismissed from the team after the DeLand game for breaking training rules.

The offense hasn't been able to move the ball for four quarters. It started out explosively against Lake Mary last week, scoring three times on long runs in the first half, but was hurt by penalties and an inopotent ground attack in the second half. The Tribe held a 19-13 halftime lead, but eventually fell, 34-19, to the Rams.

Junior Deron Thompson has emerged as a threat to score anytime he touches the ball. Thompson raced 85 yards for his second kickoff return for a TD of the year and also added a 53-yard burst off left tackle when quarterback Mike Whelchel faked nine of Lake Mary's 11 into the line.

"You wouldn't believe the film on that play," said Posey. "All but two of their players went after the fullback and Deron just broke one tackle and was gone."

Thompson will not start in the backfield, but he should see some valuable time. The halfback spots will be controlled by Dexter Jones and Jo-Jo McCloud, both juniors with good moves and speed. Jones whipped around left end for 47 yards and a TD on the fifth play of the game against the Rams.

Whelchel has come along at QB after Futrell went down against DeLand. The junior signal caller hasn't thrown the ball too much, but he's been on target when he has. He tossed two TDs against DeLand.

Although it is homecoming, Posey said it doesn't have that much of an effect on the game. "There are a lot of activities during the week for the kids and we'd like to see a lot of alumni out," he said. "It's just sort of a big celebration all week."

The kind he hopes will conclude with a Seminole victory tonight.

last hit (at a dummy painted up like a Spruce Creek player)," said coach Jerry Posey. "Heck, Ed just turned and hit him with his good shoulder. He wasn't going to miss that."

Rinkavage got his first taste of football in the fifth (Lakeview) and sixth (Sanford Middle) grades with the Pop Warner program, but didn't play again until ninth grade. "I was always playing with the bigger kids," said Rinkavage, who admitted to being on the pudgy side. "I was five feet tall, but I was five feet wide, too."

As an offensive lineman during his younger days, Rinkavage went into ninth grade as a husky 190-pounder. Then he decided to try his hand in the boxing ring and promptly dropped 20 pounds. "The coaches couldn't believe how much weight I lost," said Rinkavage. "They said you better give up that boxing if you want to be a football player."

Rinkavage stepped into a Golden Gloves boxing preliminary at Orlando one night and a couple of solid rights to the head later, he figured it was time for early retirement. "I don't know why I did it," he said. "After a couple of times, I realized I wasn't built for being a fighter."

But he was built for being a football player. The 17-year-old senior started as an offensive guard as a sophomore and played there as a junior. He was switched to offensive tackle and linebacker his senior year. "He's had an outstanding year for us," said Posey.

Rinkavage is fourth in Seminole County in tackles with 52 solos and 29 assists. "I want to get 100," he said. "That's one of my goals. I'd like to be all-conference and all-county, too. I wanted us to have a winning season, too, but that's gone."

The rugged senior would also like a college scholarship — and he's not bashful about admitting his desire to play. "I'll go anywhere I can get a scholarship," he said. "I realize because of my size I'll have to play defense. I had a visit to Valdosta State, that was fine with me."

A win tonight would also be fine, right Ed? "Seminole by at least seven points," he concluded.

Burgess Shoots For Place At State

Prep Swimming

Junior Chuck Burgess will carry the banner as the lone Seminole High swimmer to qualify for the state meet when competition gets underway Saturday morning at Gainesville. The prelims begin at 9 a.m. with the finals at 7 p.m.

"Chuck was fifth in district in the 100 free and sixth in the 100 back," said coach Donalyn Knight. "But this is such a strong district that his times were good enough to qualify."

Burgess has a best time of 51.6 for the 100 free and a 59.2 for the 100 back.

Lake Mary's Scott Wise, fresh from a first-place finish at the district in the 100 fly, will be in the hunt for coach Walt Morgan's swimmers. Sheri Clayton also qualified on the 500 free with a third-place district finish. Lake Mary also qualified a relay team for the girls and boys.

Lyman's Jennifer Gage qualified in the 100 free with a third-place finish. Lyman also qualified its 400 free relay team and its 200 medley relay team.

The county's best bet may be Lake Howell standout Nina Aspinwall. She won the 500 free and was second in the 200 IM at the district.

Winter Park, which was an overwhelming winner at the district, is also the team to beat at state.

In the 3A meet, Oviedo's Andy Gill hopes to cap a fine season with a championship in the 200 free or 100 back. Gill won both events in the district last week. His time in the 100 back was almost four seconds better than the second-place finisher.

Trinity Prep's boys, who won the district, and its girls, who placed second, will bank on Brian Weightman, Jenny Pence and Rachel Weightman for strong performances Saturday.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Botts, Robertson Join For Low Gross Triumph

Margaret Botts and her guest Lib Robertson combined for the lowest gross score and Sally Norris and Marilyn Parapiglou had the low net score in the Mayfair Women's Golf Association (MWGA) Member-Guest Tournament. Botts and Robertson combined for an 87 compared to 83 for the second place team, Mary Ann Williams and Carroll Saunders. Norris and Parapiglou had a net score of 59 compared to 61 for second place Zella Eisslele and Rosemary Hokkamen and a 62 for third place Verne Smith and Phyllis Norgott.

The MWGA sponsored a Sunday Blind Draw Tournament on Nov. 13 and the low gross champions were the Parks team followed by Howard McNulty and Grace Sayles. The low net champions were the team of Curtis Spencer and Keen Ivory.

Mayfair winners at the West Orange Invitational included Ada O'Neil, sixth low net, and Margaret Botts, eighth low net.

In the MWGA Seniors Tournament, Verne Smith was the winner with a net score of 73 followed by Ann Guth with a 74. Awards for the tournament will be given out on Nov. 30.

Bears Rip Sanford Landing

The Pookie Bears erupted for six runs in the first inning and went on to rout Sanford Landing, 16-1, Wednesday night in Sanford Men's Softball League action. Don Marple, Mark Whitley, Fred Alken, Mark Smith, Nick Whitehead and Bob Beine all had singles in the six-run first for the Pookie Bears and Doug Burlison added a double.

In Wednesday night's second game, Don Causseau drilled three homers and collected seven RBI to lead Uncle Nick's Oyster Bar to a 17-2 rout of Session Time. Causseau hit a two-run homer in the first, a two-run shot in the third and added a three-run homer in the fifth. Mike Laubert ripped a three-run homer and added two doubles for Uncle Nick's. Joe Ervin went 4 for 4 with two RBI.

Hawks Open With Win

Mary Johnson tossed in 24 points and Tummy Johnson added 17 as the Lake Howell Silver Hawks successfully opened the 1983-84 basketball season with a Five Star Conference victory over Spruce Creek, 78-51, at Lake Howell Thursday night.

The Hawks raced to a 45-25 halftime lead and kept the lead intact all of the second half.

yards and scored three touchdowns last week to earn Burger King Offensive Player of the Week honors.

Quarterback Dennis Groseclose has completed 39 of 76 passes for 421 yards and five touchdowns. The Patriots' leading receiver is David Dewar who has caught nine passes for 130 yards.

Defensive leaders for the Patriots include Donnie O'Brian (84 tackles), Byron Bush (66 tackles) and Pat James (61 tackles).

DeLand at Lyman
The Greyhounds have a good chance to finish the regular season at 6-4 before hosting powerful Lakeland Kathleen in the Rotary Bowl. However, the Greyhounds could get caught looking ahead if they don't take DeLand's Bulldogs seriously.

Despite its 3-5 record, DeLand can put points on the board as it showed in scoring 48 against Seminole. The Bulldogs also gave Apopka one of its toughest games of the season so don't look for the Bulldogs to play dead tonight at Lyman High.

Lyman's leading ball carrier is Phil Germano who has picked up 330 yards on 64 carries. Quarterback Greg Pilot is effective both running and passing the ball. He has gained 278 yards on 41 carries and has completed 18 of 37 passes for 214 yards.

Defensively, Mike Henley leads the Greyhounds in tackles with 92 followed by Mike Crespo (70), Tyrone Simpson (65), Pilot (63), Avery Merwether (53) and Mike Battle (52).

Lifestyle Important In Reducing Stress

DEAR DR. LAMB — I would like to ask if in your opinion there is a close relationship between work stress and heart attacks. I'm talking about mental stress, not physical stress.

I have read where some studies have stated that mental stress can be a major factor in heart attacks. I am 42 years old, working in a job with some high mental stress and there is a history of heart problems in my family.

DEAR READER — What you mean by a history of heart disease in your family makes a difference. If you mean a significant number had heart disease early in life, it could be important. But if you mean they died at age 99 of heart disease I would not be impressed with the history.

How important stress is as a factor in causing heart disease depends on how that person reacts to stress. If he smokes to relieve the stress, drinks or eats excessively, then it is dangerous. Smoking and bad habits that lead to a high cholesterol and high blood pressure are important risk factors.

A person who has an equal amount of stress but doesn't respond in that way may have no increased risk at all. So the way to handle the problem is to develop a lifestyle that ensures you do not also develop high risk factors. If you are in a stressful job, make sure to exercise and watch your diet. That includes eliminating alcohol, coffee, cola, tea and avoiding habits that increase the stress reaction.

Your lifestyle is so important in determining how stress affects you that I summarized the program people should follow in Living With Stress. The Health Letter 20-12, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

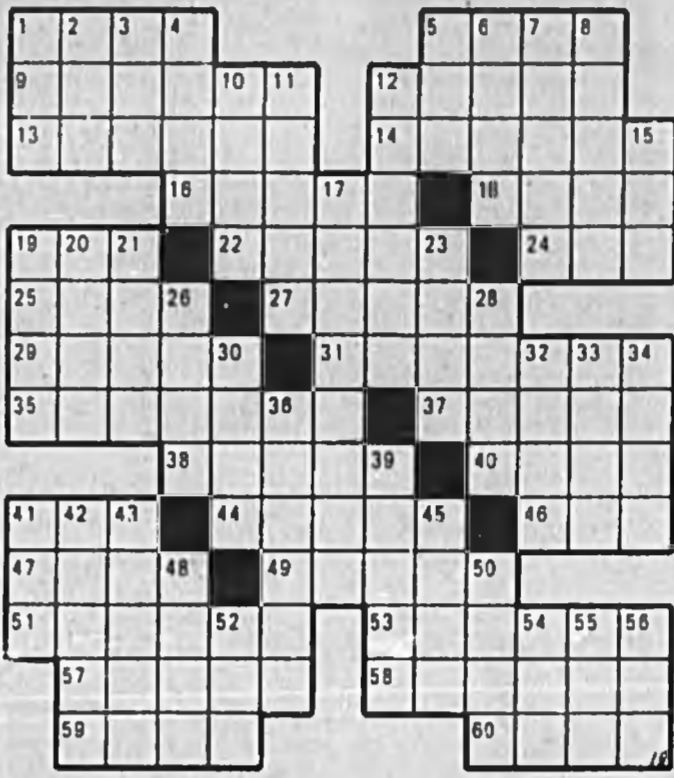

10019. DEAR DR. LAMB — For years my 11-year-old son has suffered from canker sores inside his mouth. The doctor said nothing could be done. They are very painful and he is unable to eat when he has them, which is quite often. The sores make it almost impossible to play trumpet in his school band. Please tell me, is there any cure when they appear and is there any way of preventing them? What causes them?

DEAR READER — Canker sores may be more difficult to treat and prevent than the common cold. They are not caused by an infectious agent such as a virus or bacteria. And in some cases there is a genetic defect that causes a person to be particularly susceptible to them.

Studies from the National Institute of Dental Research have shown that trauma can be a factor in causing them to appear. For that reason, overly vigorous brushing and dental procedures can be a factor. It might be wise to have him see his dentist for any possible mechanical factors that are contributing to his frequent canker sores.

Nutritional deficiencies also may be factors. Some doctors believe a full blood screening for these is advisable. The deficiencies most often cited are iron, folic acid and vitamin B-12.

There are some pastes such as Orabase and Orabase with benzocaine that can be applied over the surface of lesions and may relieve some of the discomfort. Ask your dentist about these. Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY

NOVEMBER 19, 1983 Your ingenuity in financial areas will be considerably heightened this coming year. It looks like you're going to put together some solid deals.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Bright ideas are likely to come to you in rapid succession today, especially for improving your material interests. Be sure to make them count.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Financial opportunities are around you today. Something profitable might be suggested by a close associate. Scorpio predictions for the year ahead are now ready. Romance, career, luck, earnings, travel and much more are discussed. Send $1 and your zodiac sign to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Send an additional $2 for the NEW Astro-Graph Matchmaker wheel and booklet. Reveals romantic compatibilities for all signs.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be a person of both ideas and action today. When you conceive of something clever, don't let any grass grow under your feet in putting it into motion.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You should be able to get a better handle today on matters over which you've had little control lately. Now you'll be able to set the course you desire.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you've met a new friend recently whom you would like to know better, take the initiative today and invite him or her to your place.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) In a situation where you have been competing against others, there will be a beneficial shift in circumstances today to give you the edge.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you feel that you and your friends have gotten into a rut in your social habits lately, try to introduce some novel changes today.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be alert for opportunities today. Something promising could develop through someone you'll meet in a chance encounter.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Use your ingenuity today to help find new ways to get certain things you've been wanting for family, things you couldn't swing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be a good listener today. You might be able to pick up valuable elements from conversations that will go over the heads of others.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Table with columns for North, South, East, West and card suits (NORTH, SOUTH, WEST, EAST) and a section for 'Opening lead: ♦K'.

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby Here is a bridge teacher's hand for advanced pupils. Let's follow the teacher's discussion. South has enough to try for game after North's trump raise and bids to three. North has a maximum raise and goes on to game.

The defense starts with three rounds of diamonds. South ruffs the third and goes right after trumps. If they break 2-2, he is sure of his contract and has a play for an overtrick, but East shows out on the second spade.

South has to lose a trump trick to add to the two tricks the defense already has in the bank. He must find a way to avoid a heart loser.

He can't avoid the loss if East holds the king. Do you see how he can if West is in possession of his majesty? He must start by taking all the clubs to strip the hand. Then he throws West in with the queen of trumps.

West is moribund. If he leads a heart, South lets it ride to the queen and then finesses dummy's jack. If West elects to lead the last club, South discards dummy's six of hearts, ruffs and takes that same heart finesse.

WORLD IN BRIEF

China Protests U.S. Resolution On Taiwan

PEKING (UPI) — China summoned U.S. Ambassador Arthur Hummel to the Foreign Ministry today to deliver what was believed to be a strong protest over a new Senate committee resolution on Taiwan, diplomatic sources said.

Hummel was summoned on short notice Friday night, a few hours after the official Xinhua news agency denounced the resolution as a "flagrant violation" of China's internal affairs.

The resolution, passed by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Tuesday, affirmed Taiwan's right to decide its own future "free of coercion" by Peking.

It also said Taiwan's future should be handled in accordance with the 1979 Taiwan Relations Act, which established the basis for continued U.S.-Taiwanese relations after the United States established diplomatic ties with Peking.

China, which maintains Taiwan is a breakaway province that must someday be reunited with the mainland, has also frequently denounced the Taiwan Relations Act.

Marxists' Collapse Foreseen

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (UPI) — A Nicaraguan rebel leader said U.S. troops will not be needed to topple the Marxist Sandinista regime, as 1,400 Marines prepared to storm a Honduran beach today in joint military maneuvers.

A U.S. official said Thursday between 1,200 and 1,400 assault troops from the 1,800-man 28th Marine Amphibious Unit, based in Camp Lejeune, N.C., will hit the beach at Puerto Castilla, 160 miles north of Tegucigalpa, while 400 members of the Honduran 4th Battalion land on an adjoining beach.

Earlier Thursday, Emilio Echaverry, chief of staff of the Nicaraguan Democratic Force, said the U.S.-led invasion of Grenada "has already had an effect on morale" in the Nicaraguan Army.

But he said similar action on Nicaragua is unnecessary because the Sandinista collapse is imminent.

British Hostages Freed

KHARTOUM, Sudan (UPI) — Army troops swooped down on rebels holding 11 foreigners in southern Sudan and rescued two of the hostages before they were to be executed, the government said.

The fate of the other captives was unknown. The two hostages freed Thursday were British employees of the Chevron Oil Co. kidnapped by the rebels Tuesday along with seven French and two Pakistani workers.

Askew Rally Saturday

A rally honoring presidential candidate and former Florida Gov. Reubin Askew will be held Saturday from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Orange County Fairgrounds on W. Colonial Drive in Orlando.

Tickets are $10 and proceeds will benefit Askew's campaign fund. Tickets are available by calling Jack Horner, president of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, 322-2212, or former state Rep. Dick Batchelor at 299-7180.

Missiles

Soviets Drop Key Demand In Nuclear Arms Talks

BONN, West Germany (UPI) — The Soviet Union, in a new arms proposal, has dropped its insistence on including British and French missiles in the Geneva arms talks, a West German government spokesman said today.

The United States informed West Germany of the new Soviet offer on Tuesday, government spokesman Peter Boenisch said.

The Soviets also suggested a reduction in the number of their triple-warhead SS-20s to 120 if the United States agrees to renounce the NATO plan to deploy 108 Pershing-2 and 464 cruise missiles in Western Europe beginning next month, he said.

"This proposal is unacceptable to the West," Boenisch said in a reference to the NATO deployment. "A Soviet monopoly on medium-range missiles is unacceptable because it does not take into consideration Western security needs."

The spokesman said deployment of the new U.S. missiles will go ahead as scheduled.

He called the new Soviet proposal an "informal" one, indicating it had not been made at the conference table in Geneva but in a private meeting between chief Soviet negotiator Yuli A. Kvitsinsky and chief U.S. negotiator Paul H. Nitze.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman had no immediate comment on the report.

Moscow has repeatedly threatened to walk out of the talks if the scheduled NATO deployment in December of 572 U.S. cruise and Pershing-2 missiles goes ahead.

NATO plans to begin deploying the missiles unless Moscow agrees to reduce its arsenal of 630 intermediate-range missiles, including 230 SS-20s aimed at West Europe.

The West has rejected previous Soviet demands that 162 British and French nuclear missiles be counted in the West's overall strategic arsenal, which has created a major block to reaching agreement at the Geneva arms talks.

American and Soviet negotiators met for more than two hours Thursday in Geneva for their 104th session since the talks began two years ago and agreed to meet next week despite Soviet threats to break off the talks.

Boenisch said the Soviets suggested that discussion of the British and French missiles, which are outside the NATO command, could be discussed "in another forum." Britain and France have argued their missiles are independent nuclear deterrents.

New Housing Starts Down...Again

WASHINGTON (UPI) — New housing construction slipped another 3.8 percent in October, the second consecutive month of decline, the Commerce Department says.

The setback the government reported Thursday, coming after a larger 12.2 percent drop in September, confirmed a new leveling-off trend that has now replaced booming acceleration for builders.

The two months of decline, blamed on high interest rates, still leave housing starts at a comfortable level compared to last year's palsied pace. The industry expects to finish the year 60 percent ahead of last year and is still looking forward to even more slight improvement in 1984.

The benchmark annual rate of new starts in October was 1,608 million units after seasonal adjustment. The National Association of Home Builders expects 1983 to end with about 1.7 million housing units to its credit.

"We will have added more than 600,000 units, an excellent sort of recovery," the association's chief economist, Michael Sumichrast, said.

"You have to say that's a good year," agreed economist Mark Riedy, of the Mortgage Bankers Association. "It's better than what we would have thought a year ago."

There were only 1.1 million housing starts in 1982.

"Next year certainly looks like

Arafat: 'This Is Not My Last Stand'

TRIPOLI, Lebanon (UPI) — Followers of guerrilla chief Yasser Arafat, advancing against fierce artillery barrages, battled Syrian-backed rebels today near a blazing oil refinery for control of the Beddawi refugee camp.

Claims by the Arafat forces to have retaken the disputed camp could not be independently confirmed because the relentless shelling made it impossible for reporters in Tripoli to reach the area of the fighting.

The state-run Beirut radio said the shell-scarred Beddawi camp just north of the port city of Tripoli was the scene of more heavy fighting today but gave no other details.

Officials of the Syrian-backed rebellion were not immediately available for comment.

"A major battle is now under way between our men and a combined force of Syrians, Libyans and (Palestinian) dissidents. The battle is around the refinery," an Arafat spokesman said today in Tripoli.

The refinery, on the northwestern perimeter of the camp, has been burning for a week because of the fighting between Palestinian factions.

The Beirut newspaper An Nahar today quoted Lebanese security sources as saying that 969 people, including 385 Lebanese, died in the two-week campaign that forced Arafat from the nearby refugee camps and cornered him in Tripoli, 42 miles north of Beirut.

Arafat, his hand swathed in bandages, vowed Thursday to fight "to the end" despite heavy casualties and a tightening siege by Syrian-backed rebels fighting to oust him as chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organization.

"Arafat is not giving up," one of his aides said today in Tripoli.

Palestinian rebel leader Abu Mousa brought up extra tanks, rocket launchers and artillery near Tripoli Thursday, increasing pressure on Arafat and his remaining supporters, An Nahar reported today.

"We are in an excellent situation. We have 95 percent of Beddawi and most of the hills around it," he said.

"This is not my last stand in the area," said Arafat, referring to the Middle East. "We are 5 million Palestinians in this area and you can't liquidate 5 million people."

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of one of the smallest Beltone aids of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

Send for this model, put it on and wear it in the privacy of your own home. While many people with a hearing loss will not receive any significant benefit from any hearing aid, this free model will show you how tiny hearing help can be. It is not a real hearing aid, and it's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a fourth of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Department 42363, Beltone Electronics Corp., 4201 West Victoria Street, Chicago, Illinois 60646.

You Can Fly In A Beautiful Balloon

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

Up, up and aawwwaaaaay....
Romantics and adventurers have been doing it for 200 years and I did it for the first time Sunday — took my first hot-air balloon flight.
Being a romantic, I decided to celebrate the 200th anniversary of man's first venture into the air the way the romantic French started it all on Nov. 21, 1783, by going up in one of those giant bags of hot air.

Balloonists are early risers, so at 6:30 a.m. I put myself in the hands of balloon pilot Terry Dillard and headed for a launch site on the shore of Lake Starke in west Orange County.

Dillard, who is daring enough to locate his Balloons by Terry shop on the south rim of the Winter Park sinkhole, assured me that people who are leery of flying usually walk away from a balloon flight wanting more.

At 29, Dillard has been a professional balloonist for nine years and has logged 2,700 hours in flight. He said he always has fun when piloting a balloon, but is aware of his responsibility. He keeps a close watch for powerlines, the biggest threat to a balloon.

At the launch site, Dillard and his four-person ground crew had his $16,000 custom made balloon, "Tequila Sunrise," assembled, filled with fan-give the passengers a chance to harvest fruit.

By CB radio we got word from Dillard that the landing site would be a field on the west campus of Valencia Community College.

In a balloon, the launch and landing sites, as well as the distance covered in the hour-long flight, are dictated by the direction and the force of the wind.

As we drove south, Eaves, 36, said he got hooked on ballooning two months ago when he took a birthday flight. Since then, he crews for Dillard every chance he gets so he can learn to handle a balloon on the ground.

He said when he has more experience he will take Dillard's $1,700 pleasure pilot course, so he can earn a FAA balloon pilot certification.

To qualify as a pleasure balloon pilot, you have to log at least 10 hours of flight time with a commercial pilot, who then can recommend you to the FAA for consideration. You must pass both a written exam and a flight test with a FAA official before you can pilot your own non-commercial balloon.

Eaves and I arrived at the predicted landing site about three minutes before "Tequila Sunrise" floated down. Other ground crew members and non-flying friends of the passengers, who had also been tracking the balloon, helped us secure the craft as it softly touched down.

When the passengers climbed out of the basket they described the flight as "great...smooth...incredible".

Von Brecht said, "It was like sailing, but without water."

The birthday celebrants gathered for champagne and cheese and gifts of balloon-adorned T-shirts and enameled balloon lapel pins.

I joined Dillard in the basket of "Tequila Sunrise" and we were off the ground before I realized it, skimming along 30 feet above the tree tops.

As we sailed steadily above Turkey Lake, the reflection of the colorful ballooning shimmered on the surface of the water.

The balloon billowed to a height of seven stories above us. Looking sunward through the balloon, I generated and propane-heated air and ready for flight in less than 30 minutes.

Three passengers celebrating birthdays by taking a "champagne flight" climbed into the wicker gondola of the 630-pound craft and we were set.

Forty-year-old Cay Von Brecht of Winter park said the $95 flight was a birthday gift to herself. "I decided to get high naturally. I feel exhilarated and imagine any fear there is is unfounded."

The ground crew released the teather lines and the hot air that filled the giant dacron envelope of a balloon forced the craft up. It drifted south, driven by a mild northwest wind.

I joined crew volunteer Dennie Eaves of Orlando in the chase truck, which followed the balloon on the ground. We kept the "Tequila Sunrise" in sight, as it glided over orange groves and dipped down, to

Battling For Viewers

By Peter Meade

Television viewers will have a difficult choice to make on Sunday, Nov. 20. ABC and NBC are both pulling no punches during this "sweeps" month.

Part one of the three-part NBC miniseries "Kennedy" will be airing against ABC's "The Day After."

"Kennedy" begins with Election Day eve 1960, in Hyannisport, Mass., and ends with the Nov. 22, 1963 tragedy in Dallas.

While "Kennedy" ends in tragedy, it is nothing near the complete devastation of "The Day After." In the ABC drama, set and filmed in Kansas, viewers will be shown the possible effects of a nuclear blast.

"I took my 13-year-old daughter to see a screening," says Bibi Besch, who stars as one of the "featured" survivors along with Jason Robards, JoBeth Williams and Steve Guttenberg. "We were devastated. It was like we were in cement — we couldn't move."

The people of "The Day After" never become more than surface sketches and the plot jumps about, but if viewers change channels — probably NBC — it will be because all one needs is a small dose of the nuclear drama to get the not so pretty picture of what the aftermath would be like.

ABC Blasted For 'Day After' ...Ballooning

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Anti-nuclear and conservative groups are at odds over whether ABC's movie The Day After is slanted propaganda against the arms buildup or a necessary public service.

The network maintains the TV dramatization of a nuclear strike is a non-political presentation of what such a war would be like. ABC says it hopes the film, to be aired Sunday, will promote worldwide discussion about the arms race.

The movie depicts the annihilation of Kansas City and the horrors faced by survivors 38 miles away in Lawrence, Kan. The message is clear: It could happen today and no one is safe.

ABC begins the movie with the warning:

"Although based on scientific fact, this film is fiction. Because the graphic depiction of the effects of a nuclear war may not be suitable for younger viewers, parental discretion is advised."

It concludes with a legend stating: "It is hoped that the images of this film will inspire the nations of this earth, their people and leaders, to find the means to avert the fateful day."

"I hope it scares the daylight out of people and prompts them to take action," said Josh Baren, a media consultant for anti-nuclear groups planning teach-ins and membership drives in response to the movie.

"I think it is the most significant movie ever made for television," Baren said. "ABC should be commended."

The Rev. Jerry Falwell, head of the Moral Majority and a critic of a proposed nuclear weapons freeze, condemned ABC and said his group may boycott companies that sponsor the "one-sided" program.

"At a time of serious national debate on a subject of vital interest ... ABC in effect, made a pre-emptive strike that greatly unbalances this debate by employing fear and stereotyping those who represent alternative views," he said.

The National Conservative Political Action Committee labeled the 90-minute show a "harmscoping movie" that is a "direct attack on President Reagan's peace through strength policy."

Terry Dolan, chairman of the committee, said the group will retaliate by refusing to run 1984 political advertisements on ABC affiliates that air the film.

Janet Michaud, director of the Campaign Against Nuclear War, said, "I think everyone should exploit the movie for their own cause, regardless of their political spectrum."

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., who has made the nuclear freeze central to his presidential campaign, said he would do just that. He plans fund-raising "watch-ins" during the film.

The American Psychiatric Association did not take a position on the merits of the film, but agreed with recommendations by ABC, the National Education Association and others that "children not watch The Day After alone."

I felt I was seeing light diffused through the inside of a giant mushroom made of rainbow-colored rectangles.

I felt no fear as we drifted. It was hard to believe we were actually floating freely in the air, with no engine. I wanted to go faster, but we were at the mercy of a gentle breeze.

Dillard said the flight was, "That dream every one has dreamed, of flying freely unattached to anything."

Soon we feathered down and made a somewhat bumpy landing in a field near International Drive. We arrived ahead of the crew, but spectators rushed up to help Dillard secure the craft.

That was my romantic ballooning adventure. If you would like to have one of your own, Ballons by Terry, Rosie O'Grady's Flying Circus and Above It All Ballooning offer pleasure flights locally.

If you're more adventurous, Dillard will be teaching a pilot's course at Valencia Community College in January which will include a brief flight. Or, you can schedule private lessons through his shop.

Dillard said there are about 12 pilots in Central Florida who own their own balloons. Some of those pilots, along with almost two dozen other balloonists took to the skys the last weekend in October to earn money for the Central Florida Zoo.

Dillard, who organized the "Great Pumpkin Balloon Chase," said he turned over about $2,000 in profits from that race to the Sanford zoo.

George And Gracie Had A Real Family Show

DEAR DICK: Was the boy who played George Burns and Gracie Allen's son on their old TV show really their son? — A.R., Amarillo, Texas.

Yes, Ronnie Burns, who played the son on their show from 1955 until 1958 and later on George's show after Gracie's retirement, was their real son.

DEAR DICK: I would like to know who sings the theme song on Facts of Life. I say it is Neil Carter. My daughter says it's Gloria Loring. We've got a pizza riding on this one. — H.H.K., Bay City, Mich.

Pay up, mom. Gloria Loring sings it. She wrote it, too, with her husband, Alan Thicke, and Al Burton. Charlotte Rae and the girls sang it the first season, then Gloria took over.

DEAR DICK: Can you please tell me the name of the series that Gary Collins starred in back in the late 1960s or early 1970s. It was about ESP. — M.E.B., Rock Island, Ill.

It was called The Sixth Sense, and it was on for one season, 1972. They never have been able to do a creditable series about ESP, for some reason.

DEAR DICK: Could you please tell me if

Ask Dick Kleiner

Timothy Patrick Murphy, who plays Mickey on Dallas, is the son of the late Audie Murphy? — Mrs. M.E.C., Evergreen, Ala.

No, he's not.

DEAR DICK: I often watch The Dukes cartoon show on Saturday morning. Can you tell me if any of the people who play the characters on the Friday night Dukes of Hazzard do the speaking for the Saturday cartoon show? — S.H., Portage, Mich.

Yes, all of them do. John Schneider, Tom Wopat, Sorrell Booke and all the rest supply the voices for the cartoon show.

DEAR DICK: David Selby of Falcon Crest looks exactly like the David Selby who many, many years ago played on the afternoon show Dark Shadows. But this must have been 20 years ago. It couldn't possibly be the same man, but he does look identical. Is he a son or a grandson? — Mrs. J.R.W., Jackson, Ala.

People age slowly when they're having fun. Shelby was in his 20s when he was on Dark Shadows. Now he's in his 40s and looks the same.

DEAR DICK: I saw V last season and I was wondering if NBC was going to make a weekly program out of the story. Have you heard anything about it? — M.J.S., Kalamazoo, Mich.

Yes, it's in the works. They have definitely decided to go ahead and make six more hours of V. Some time this winter, they will start out by rebroadcasting the original two-hour movie, then follow up with six weeks of new shows. If the reaction is good, they will make more.

Aggie's: Take Their Food Preparation Seriously

Come to one of the liveliest places in town . . . Aggie's, that restaurant at 2520 S. French Avenue in Sanford.

If you're interested in enjoying fine food at reasonable prices, prices that haven't changed in more than a year, try this delightful restaurant. It's away from the bustle of crowds and the management aims to please.

A prime rib for the hearty appetite, the Diamond Jim Brady, is offered for a mere $11.95. A more modest version, dubbed the Lillian Russell, carries at $9.50 tab. And these dinners are among the highest priced on the menu.

The people at Aggie's take pride in their dry-aged prime rib preparing it in special ovens where low temperatures turn out an elegant dish.

Also for beef lovers, there are five steaks and a shish kebob from which to choose, or steak oregano, strips of beef prepared with garlic and seasonings, a Hellenic touch. Along this line of fare are roast leg of lamb for $6.95, chicken Athenian, broiled and basted with lemon and butter, and the combination plate of Greek delicacies with mousaka and dolmades, all from family recipes.

From the sea come 10 fish dishes, shrimp scampi, scallops, lobster tails and flounder stuffed with crabmeat, among them. Prices start in this tempting category at $7.95.

If you dare, consummate the feast with a luscious homemade dessert, perhaps an Aggie's Surprise, a mystery concoction.

Early bird specials are offered from 4:30 until 7 seven nights a week with prices starting at $5.95. Luncheon specials are offered each noon and reduced drink prices and free hors d'oeuvres are provided during the attitude adjustment hours from 5 until 7.

Reservations are now being accepted for holiday parties with private banquet facilities for the affairs.

Mike Evans is currently entertaining Friday and Saturday nights.
