Commission OKs teen center

By Dan Ping
Editor

SANFORD — A local businessman received approval Monday night from the Sanford City Commission to open a teen center at the corner of Park Avenue and 25th Street.

Commissioners expressed concern that the center was adjacent to an adult bar, Stooges, and about the hours of operation. However, the commission unanimously approved Willie "Bebe" Rumph's application for the Bee Hive Teen Center.

"Having taught in Sanford for as long as I have, I'm well aware of the kids' complaints about there not being anything to do," said Commissioner Whitley Eckstein. "It's encouraging to see someone try to provide something for the kids."

Eckstein, however, questioned Rumph about the proximity to Stooges.

"I don't want those Stooges guys going down and causing problems. How do you intend to prevent that?" Eckstein asked.

Rumph said he'll hire an off-duty Sanford officer to provide security along with two other employees. He also said once the kids enter the teen center, they won't be allowed to leave and then return later.

"Once you leave, you leave for good," Rumph said. "I don't want kids running out to the parking lot, hanging out and then coming back in."

Commissioner Velma Williams said she was concerned about the late hours, especially since the club is targeted for children age 12 to 17.

"I'm concerned that 12:30 a.m. is too late for some of these kids," Williams said. "But for some of them, if they're not there, they're going to be some

DCF transfers child protection services to sheriff's office

By Nick Pfeiffert
Staff Writer

This fall, the Seminole County Sheriff's Office will take over operation of Child Protection Services in Seminole County.

The move comes after the Florida Legislature appropriated approximately $3.2 million to the sheriff's department.

"The Department of Children and Families (DCF) will still be around," explained spokesman Steve Olson, "but rather than taking care of child protection, the sheriff's department will be in charge of it, with assistance from the DCF."

Olson said Seminole County will be the first in Central Florida to take over this operation. One additional county in the western part of the state is also becoming involved.

Thursday, August 17, there will be a ceremonial signing of the local agreement between the Seminole County Sheriff's Office and District 7 of the DCF. The event will be held at the sheriff's conference room.

According to Olson, the program's main objectives have been clearly defined:

- To establish and maintain a team of well trained, highly motivated and professionally competent investigators and support personnel who will provide effective, efficient and timely child protective investigations with an unwavering focus on the safety of children.

- To maximize resources for a joint investigative process.

- To maintain those resources and close working relationships with all of the government agencies and community partnerships involved in the child protection process.

- To enhance the delivery of service and the communication, which will assist with effective monitoring of families identified as being at risk for abuse, neglect or abandonment, to include, but not limited to, information provided to local law enforcement agencies of the services sanctioned on the family.

Olson said the operation by the sheriff's department will "help streamline" the way child protection is handled.

"It will give us more local accountability in our cases."

Steve Olson
Seminole County Sheriff's Office Spokesman

"If one of our deputies finds a situation where a child or children may be in jeopardy," he said, "he can handle it sooner, and not have to go through the paperwork or chain of command first. The matter can, so-to-speak, stay in-house. It will give us more local accountability in our cases.

"Of course, the DCF will still be available to lend technical assistance and use their data base in helping us," he added.

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office is now in the process of hiring and training staff for this ambitious endeavor. The actual transition of cases from DCF to the sheriff's office is expected to begin in late October or early November.

Backyard serenity

Michael Van Dyke, right, created an environmentally safe garden, complete with a goldfish pond and fountain, for Laurel Swindle, who was diagnosed with breast cancer seven years ago.

Garden is 'environmentally safe'

By Michelle Jeria
Managing Editor

SANFORD — Laurel Swindle wanted an aquarium. Instead, she got a garden with a goldfish pond.

In an area of her yard once covered with weeds and sand, Swindle now has a small pond and fountain surrounded by native Florida plants and a small herb garden. The metamorphosis is a result of her husband, Michael, and gardener Michael Van Dyke.

"I told my husband I wanted an aquarium, and this is what he got me," Swindle said pointing to the backyard oasis. "I never expected anything this beautiful."

A couple of months ago, Van Dyke said he received a phone call from Michael Swindle about building the garden. Before he even arrived at the Magnolia Avenue residence, he began thinking about his next creation.

"When I received the phone call from Mr. Swindle, we talked about Mrs. Swindle's health and what kind of garden would be nice," Van Dyke said. "He wanted me to make his wife happy."

Van Dyke said the garden had to be visually pleasing and environmentally safe for Swindle, who was diagnosed with breast cancer seven years ago.

"Since her immune system is so low, there are some shrubs and plants that might bother her," Van Dyke said. "The ones we chose for the garden are completely safe for her."

Van Dyke has been gardening since he was a boy living on his father's farm in England. While attending college, he studied to become a landscape architect.

Hotel fire bewilders inspectors

SANFORD — The Sanford Fire Department responded to a fire in room 118 at the Best Western Marina Hotel located at the Sanford Marina on N. Palmetto Avenue and Seminole Boulevard. The fire department was called at 4:45 p.m. by general manager, Jay Sheppard.

"The guy next door heard the smoke detector going off and saw smoke coming from under the door. I called 911," Sheppard said.

Sheppard went to the room with a key but was told not to open the door (which would let oxygen into the room).

"I was worried that someone might be in the room. I kept thinking 'Should I? Shouldn't I?' Then I heard the fire trucks and decided to wait until they arrived," he explained.

Fortunately, the room's occupant, Maria Rentas, a flight attendant for Pan American Airlines, was away at the time of the fire.

According to Sanford Fire Inspector Pete Tucker, the fire generated intense heat and melted only the left side of a plastic sink. Tucker said the top of the sink was empty except for a coffee pot that was

The wonderful world of the originals

In a recent issue, Sports Illustrated magazine dug up a number of sports originals. "Refrigerator" Perry was pictured on the cover. Bo Belinsky, Renee Richards and Bill "Spaceman" Lee and "Eddie the Eagle" were among the featured originals.

I was fortunate enough to meet these fine men and man-turned-woman in my storybook sportswriting career. Good copy, these "flakes."

Belinsky pitched for the Los Angeles Angels. Well, let's say he traveled with the Angels but was hardly an angel. Bo was baseball's most celebrated ladies man — Wilt Chamberlain in spikes. He dated Hollywood starlets. One night, he pitched a no-hitter. All left-handed pitchers are eccentric, strange of plain nuts. Frank Bertina was called "Toys" because he had toys in his attic. He beat the Red Sox in a game that began at 10 a.m. on Patriot's Day in Boston. "Toys" said his body didn't have time to wear down that early.

Another lefty, Don Rudolph, was married to the striptease artist Patti Waggin. Obviously, Rudy enjoyed the nightlife. The Peppermint Lounge in New York was one of his favorites. So was Mr. Lucky's in Chicago.

Sometimes, Rudy took his teammates to see his wife strip. Rudy lost 19 games one year and begged for a chance to make it 20.

"Spaceman" told us all we needed to know about Bill Lee, a marvelous dude who pitched in Boston and Montreal. Lee called his manager Don Zimmer, "the Gerbil." When Baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn asked him about sprinkling marijuana over his pancakes, he seemed dumfounded that Kuhn didn't do likewise. Bill Faul was right-handed but acted as if he were left-handed. He used to pull his rear up to his room at the team motel and hypnotize himself with the flashing signal lights. Faul pitched a one-hitter by hypnotizing the opposing team.

Renee Richards was a man named Richard for more than 30 years before becoming a woman named Renee. Richards wore size 16 tennis shoes. She and John Lucas won a number of mixed doubles tournaments. They were known as the "Odd Couple."

Just about anyone who plays hockey is a flake. All goaltenders were goofy until Ken Dryden came along. Dryden, a Cornell grad, was so smart that's what made him goofy to everyone else.

Hockey players enjoy doing things like switching each other's fake teeth when no one is looking. They also like shaving an eyebrow off a rookie or cutting the legs off a guy's trousers in icy winter. A bunch of Boston Bruins once wheeled a teammate out of Mass General Hospital and into the Three B's pub next to the old Boston Garden.

Tim Rossovich of the Philadelphia Eagles was the zaniest football player I ever met. His buddy, punter Sam Baker, wasn't from this planet either. Rossovich ate glass. After he quit football, Rossovich was a movie villain. I think Sports Illustrated forgot about him, but I haven't.

Two of my favorite basketball flakes were "Hot Rod" Hundley and "Pistol Pete" Maravich. I saw both play as collegians and both as pros. Both were as entertaining off the court as they were playing. Hundley still does TV commentary. Pistol Pete passed away way too soon. Talk about an original.

Safety not bathing suit priority for instructors

DEAR ABBY: I'm sure you'll get a lot of mail about the letter from the man who was accused of sexual harassment after he commented that the bathing suit his child's instructor was wearing had become transparent. I agree the father should have discussed the transparent suit with his wife or another woman for guidance. You are right; the woman would have nipped the "problem" immediately. However, as a former water safety instructor for the American Red Cross, and a former pool manager at the Piedmont Park Pool for several years (1983-86), I feel the need to comment.

Certified swimming instructors take their jobs seriously. If they do not, they should be dismissed. Their job is to teach water safety to children, adolescents and adults. Women and men learn at a young age which colors become transparent due to contact with water; it is safe to say that light-colored suits (white, tan and yellow) are inappropriate for lifeguards or swimming instructors.

All of that said, I blame the parents (today's society always blames the parents) for allowing their 17-year-old daughter to wear a transparent suit while teaching. Second, I blame her employer for not providing guidance — a dress code — as to what is acceptable swimwear. Young women on my staff knew to wear dark-colored suits. The suits had to be functional, not cut high at the legs or low at the chest. The uniform code helped to prevent distraction due to dress — or lack of it. This would have saved the well-meaning parent, who happened to be male, embarrassment.

My advice to the father: Find another instructor for your daughter and another aquatic facility with a swimming program where safety is the No. 1 job description.
LAURA E. DeMARS, ATLANTA

DEAR LAURA: You have written a sensible letter — and believe me, I received fire and brimstone from readers who thought my answer was sexist for not taking the young woman to task. However, one letter in particular did not. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: I would like you to know that the young swimming instructor was NOT wearing a transparent suit, but rather a Speedo one-piece. It is the type worn by almost all girls who take part in swimming competition or instruction. The "problem" was not the suit — it was that she was cold. Even though the dad distorted the facts, he still didn't get the verification he was seeking. His actions were inappropriate and humiliating to the girl. In the future, he should pay attention to his daughter instead of the instructor. Thank you.

Egyptian star can be found in the gardens of Central Florida

The scientific name comes from a Greek word meaning "five" for the number of petals on the flowers. Originally a native of tropical Africa, Pentas has numerous clusters of star-like flowers that attract hummingbirds and butterflies.

Pentas is related botanically to Ixora, gardenia, and coffee. It is also known as the Egyptian star or Egyptian star clusters.

The Plant

Pentas has a fast, upright to somewhat sprawling growth habit, multi-branched, and woody near the base, growing about 2 to 4 inches tall. It is usually kept 12 to 18 inches tall by pinching off the tips of stems.

The plant has opposite, hairy, oval, dark green leaves, 3 to 4 inches long, which are often deeply veined. Flowers are five-lobed, trumpet-shaped, about 1/2 inches in diameter, born in numerous rounded terminal clusters, about 4 inches in diameter, formed on the upper portion of the stem.

Flower colors are red, pink, lavender, white, and purple, and in warm weather zones are produced nearly year-round. The variety Orchid Star has rosy lavender flowers.

The fruit is a little capsule that contains many small seeds.

Planting

In Florida, Pentas is planted during the months of March through August in zones nine through 11. The plant is sensitive to cold weather.

It can be grown in full sun to partial shade, but do best in at least four hours of direct sunlight a day, with night temperatures of 50 to 65 degrees and day temperatures of 68 degrees or higher. Ideally, it should receive morning sun and open, light shade during the hottest part of the day.

It requires a well-drained, somewhat acid soil, with good moisture. Fertilize frequently. Propagate from stem cuttings at any time.

In the southern parts of the State, Pentas may be evergreen, eventually becoming almost shrublike. In North and Central Florida, you can purchase new plants each spring and treat them as annuals. It may grow back from the roots in spring in Central Florida following a freeze if, the roots are not killed by the low temperatures.

Indoor Planting

Often Pentas is listed and sold as a greenhouse or indoor plant, and it is a wonderful subject when used this way. If you want to carry your garden plants over the winter instead of purchasing anew each spring, lift them from the garden in early fall, trim them back severely, pot them, and bring them inside to be placed in a sunny window.

Fertilize lightly during the winter months.

Propagation

You may obtain new plants for potting by taking tip cuttings in early fall and rooting in either water or in a peat and soil mix. Repot in a 50-50 mixture of sand and peat after it is well rooted. Set winter plants in the garden after the soil becomes thoroughly warm in the spring, or gradually expose them to outside conditions and leave them in the pots for patio or porch use.

Whether indoors or outdoors, after the plants have begun to show good growth, pinch out all growing tips for low, bushier plants which will produce even more flowering clusters.

Uses

Pentas is often used in border plantings, containers or hanging baskets. It is an attractive small flower or accent plant, and can even be used in flower arrangements.

It is a very popular plant in butterfly gardens because its flowers are such favorites that butterflies continuously nectar from flowers, feeding from them until almost dark every day.

In the garden, massed plantings of Pentas produce the most striking effects and of course attract the most butterflies. Cluster them in groupings of six to 10 plants throughout the border of walks or driveways, use them along the edge of a wooded area, or plant in a solid bed of their own.

Pests And Diseases

This plant is very tolerant to insect and disease problems.

Occasionally, mites may affect terminal ends of this plant.

where. I'd rather have them at the center in a supervised environment."

Rumph said he may adjust the 12:30 a.m. closing time for Friday and Saturday. On school nights, Rumph said he intends to close at 9 p.m.

Some members of the public were concerned with the traffic a teen center would generate.

"This is not the location," said one lady. "It's very hard to get in and out. That is a very dangerous intersection."

Others were more supportive.

"Anything Bebe can do to keep the kids from stealing my car, I'm for it," said Patricia Doughty, who is the victim of teen car thieves. "If you know Bebe, you know he isn't going to put up with any foolishness."

Questions were also raised about liability and insurance. Doughty said that was not an issue.

"Bebe's been talking about this for some time," she said. "When he decided to do it, the first thing Bebe did was consult my husband about his insurance. His insurance is all lined up."

In other business, the commission:

- Approved on first reading an ordinance to annex 23.7 acres of property west of Regatta Shores apartment complex. The five property owners are asking the city for a voluntary annexation. Developer Michael Murray is working with property owners and plans to put a 100-house development on site.

Property owners on Palm Drive and Riverview Avenue are opposing the development because of potential flooding the project could cause on their property. They are also concerned with the density of the project.

- Agreed to a contract with Utilities Inc. of Florida (UIF) to sell wastewater treatment services to the utility. UIF provides wastewater treatment services to customers in Lincoln Heights and Ravena Park subdivisions. The expansion of the GreeneWay and the realignment of Airport Boulevard will impact UIF's treatment facility, forcing UIF to purchase services from the city.

- Approved a resolution amending the classification and pay plan for positions in the utility department.

Since leaving school, he said he has designed and created hundreds of gardens, and he has even worked for British royalty. He has also appeared on several British television shows to discuss his gardening expertise.

Although he dabbles in all aspects of garden construction, including masonry and landscaping, Van Dyke said his specialty is ponds and waterfalls.

"It has taken 40 years of my life to create 476 ponds," he said. "I hope I live another 20 years so I can make it to 1,000."

"In England, I did so many waterfalls, they called me Mr. Waterfalls," Van Dyke said, who currently resides in St. Augustine.

Although the Swindle's garden does not include a waterfall, the pond houses goldfish, frogs and snails. The garden's centerpiece is a replica of a Victorian-era fountain.

"Creating a garden is almost like creating a habitat," Van Dyke said. "It attracts so many different kinds of life. It's also very relaxing — in a sense, it's like a medication."

The Swindle's garden took about three weeks to complete. Several of the plants Van Dyke used have special meaning to Swindle, including the Ficus her daughter gave her.

"She gave it to me six years ago," Swindle said. "It's my good luck plant in the garden."

The Swindles aren't finished transforming their backyard. They plan on planting a vegetable garden and working on landscape in other areas of the yard.

But for now, Swindle said she is enjoying the corner of the yard which now brings her tranquility.

"I don't want to say the garden is necessarily spiritual, but it makes you feel better," she said. "It can be very distracting and helps you take your mind off of things. It's just wonderful."

unplugged and unaffected by the fire. He added that the plumbing on the sink wasn't damaged. Tucker was at a loss to explain the cause of the fire.

"It's perplexing to me," he said. The state fire marshal, he explained, was called to investigate the blaze.

Tucker said although the room was a non-smoking room, there was an ashtray, but it apparently had not been used.

"I've never seen anything like this in my years with the department," he added.

New FWC rules in effect for summer and fall

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) is announcing several changes in laws affecting boaters, liveries, fishermen and bowhunters.

Most of the changes will take effect October 1, while some changes have been in effect since July 1st.

Shupe
Outdoors

Starting in October, boaters, divers and operators of personal watercraft will find several changes in laws involving their activities.

According to Capt. Paul Ouellette, FWC's boating and watercraft supervisor, these new laws, as well as other changes which went into effect July 1, will be instrumental toward increasing safety on our waterways. We're looking forward to working with the personal watercraft and dive industries and others. We want to make sure those activities are just as safe as they are fun."

One change will increase the size of divers-down flags displayed on vessels from 12 inches by 12 inches to 20 inches by 24 inches, and requires a stiffener to keep the flag unfurled. Dive flags carried on floats may still be 12 inches by 12 inches. Also, divers-down flags on vessels must be displayed so that the flag's visibility is not obstructed.

Although this part of the law did not change, the FWC is reminding vessel operators that they must make reasonable efforts to maintain a distance of 100 feet from any divers-down flag while on a river, inlet or navigation channel and divers are reminded that they must make a reasonable effort to stay within 100 feet of the divers-down flag on rivers, inlets and navigation channels.

Other changes in the law require divers to make reasonable efforts to stay within 300 feet of the divers-down flag on all waterways other than rivers, inlets or navigation channels, and vessel operators must make a reasonable effort to maintain a distance of 300 feet from the flags on these waters.

Vessels approaching divers-down flags closer than 300 feet in open water and 100 feet in rivers, inlets and navigation channels must slow their vessels to idle speed. Another change removes dive flag provisions from the careless operation sub-

County Recreation Departments, independent leagues holding sign ups for adult, youth fall leagues

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - It may be over 90 degrees outside and the calendar may say it is still August, but it is time to prepare for Fall Leagues being offered by various Recreation Departments and Independent Leagues throughout Seminole County.

The City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department will be offering Adult Softball, as well as baseball, softball and flag football for youth athletes.

The Sanford Little League and Seminole PONY Baseball are both registering for Fall Instructional Leagues.

The City of Lake Mary Parks and Recreation Department is almost set for its Adult Fall Softball Leagues.

The City of Altamonte Springs is offering adult softball, adult and youth indoor and outdoor volleyball leagues, and flag football leagues.

The City of Casselberry is offering a youth soccer league.

And the US Lacrosse Orlando Chapter Seminole League is planning its Middle School leagues and boys youth lacrosse coaches clinic.

Following is a short synopsis of the offerings:

SANFORD

SANFORD ADULT SOFTBALL

City of Sanford Parks and Recreation Department Adult Softball League Director Jim Schaefer has announced that the Spring League trophy presentation ceremony and the organizational meeting for the Fall League will be held on Monday, August 21st at 6:30 p.m. at the Downtown Youth Center in Sanford City Hall on the corner of Park Avenue and Seminole Boulevard.

In addition to the regular leagues of Church and Co-Ed on Monday, Women on Tuesday, Men on Wednesday and Thursday and Industrial on Friday, if enough interest is shown (i.e. more than seven teams), a second night of Church Softball could be played on Tuesday (B League) and that a Class D League (no home runs) could be added on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday nights.

The Fall League will begin play the week of September 11th.

Call 407-330-5697 for more information.

Predators advance to third straight Arena Bowl

From Staff Reports

ORLANDO - The Orlando Predators outscored the visiting Arizona Rattlers 39 to 22 with another outstanding defensive effort in the second half to win 56-44, and will now host ArenaBowl XIV here against the Nashville Kats at the T.D. Waterhouse Centre next Sunday August 20th.

Third seeded Nashville advanced by upsetting No. 1 seeded San Jose 51-42.

The Kats (12-5), who have had to win three playoff games to get this far, will be making their first ArenaBowl appearance.

But going on the road shouldn't add any pressure for Nashville, which is 8-1 this season — including two of the playoff wins — away from the Gaylord Entertainment Center.

The SaberCats (13-3) self-destructed at some key moments, committing 12 penalties for 81 yards, with many of them coming on crucial third-down situations. The SaberCats also were picked off three times and committed two fumbles.

Game time is set for 1 p.m. and will be televised by ABC (Channel 9 locally).

The Arizona Rattlers took an early 6-0 lead in the first quarter on two Bjorn Nittmo field goals both of 20 yards.

The Predators would then answer back to take their first lead of the game at the 1:49 mark of the first quarter when Connell Maynor ran a quarterback keeper in from one yard out, making it 7-6.

The Rattlers would come back to take a halftime lead of 22-17 by outscoring Orlando 16 to 10 in the second quarter. Arizona had two great drives that resulted in two touchdown passes of 15 yards and 39 yards from back-up quarterback Lance Funderburk to Maurice Bryant.

The Predators scored a last second 38 yard field goal by placekicker David Cool to close

Miracle, Rockers in do-or-die game

From Staff Reports

CLEVELAND - It's win or go home for the rest of the year for the Cleveland Rockers and Orlando Miracle in their WNBA Eastern Conference series.

Chaisty Melvin had 12 points and 10 rebounds, and Rushia Brown had 12 points and nine rebounds as the Rockers beat the Miracle 63-54 in Game 2 Sunday to even the Best-of-Three Semifinal Series at 1-1.

Cleveland dominated the boards, holding a 39-25 advantage.

The deciding Game 3 will be tonight in Cleveland at the Gund Arena (7 p.m. on ESPN), where the Rockers went 13-3 during the regular season.

The Miracle have now lost nine straight on the road, where they were 5-11 this season.

Merlaka Jones and rookie Helen Darling scored 15 points apiece for Cleveland, which withstood Orlando's second-half charge from a 21-point halftime deficit.

Jones scored 11 points in the second half, including a key jumper after the Miracle had closed within six points.

Adrienne Johnson scored 15 of her game-high 17 points in the second half for the Miracle. Orlando pulled within 52-46 on

UCF takes to the pads; Rodriguez has surgery

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - UCF took to the field Monday morning for a two-and-a-half hour practice session that saw the Golden Knights in full pads for the first time this season.

UCF returned to the practice field in the afternoon in shorts and helmets.

"I think it went very well and I felt the kids reacted very well," said UCF defensive coordinator Gene Chizik. "They are probably a little tired right now and a bit banged up but they will push through that."

"These kids work really hard. We still have a long way to go, but the kids are excited. We just need to work in some more reps and I think this football team will be fine."

Chizik and his defense was dealt a bit of a blow Monday when they learned that junior linebacker Tito Rodriguez (Lehigh Acres/Lehigh High School) will have to undergo arthroscopic knee surgery on Wednesday and may be forced to miss the season-opener at Georgia Tech in just under three weeks. It is too soon to tell, but doctors and coaches feel he could miss anywhere from two to four weeks with the injury.

Rodriguez, who moved to middle linebacker in the spring, made 34 tackles last season and started three games, two at middle linebacker. He suffered a lateral meniscus tear in his left knee on Friday and doctors confirmed on Monday that he would need the surgery to repair the damage.

Chizik said he was unsure at this time who would start at middle linebacker if Rodriguez is unable to play in the season opener.

The coaching staff also announced that they will try fullback Sean Gaudion (Brandon/Hillsborough High School) at linebacker to see if the sophomore can help provide depth at the position.

Gaudion, who played linebacker in high school, was expected to push starter Dwight Collins for playing time in the UCF backfield.

Senior wide receiver Tyson Hinshaw (Orlando/Lake Mary High School) was also held out of practice after hyperextending his knee Saturday. However, the injury is not believed to be serious.

Second string quarterback Ryan

Schneider (Plantation High School) continued to practice on a limited basis. He will be progressively worked back into the workouts and will see little contact throughout two-a-day practices, and sophomore offensive tackle Taylor Robertson (Kingston, Ontario/LaSalle Secondary School) missed the last part of the afternoon practice after experiencing problems due to a bone chip in his right elbow.

UCF takes to the practice field today for its fifth day of two-a-days (7:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.).

The Golden Knights will hold their first scrimmage of the year Saturday at 8:15 a.m. UCF opens the season in just under three weeks (Sept. 2 at 7 p.m.) versus Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

a free throw by Caria McGhee with 2:40 to play.

Jones promptly hit a 14-foot jumper and Brown later hit a six-footer in the lane to put Cleveland ahead by 10 with 38 seconds left.

Orlando shot 6-for-27 (22 percent) from the field in the first half, and 16-for-34 (47 percent) in the second half.

Taj McWilliams was the only other Orlando player scoring in double figures, with 15 points.

Melvin and Brown each scored 12 points for Cleveland.

Orlando trailed 36-15 at half-time and opened the second half with a 10-0 run during the first 6:23.

Cleveland began the game in similar fashion, running to a 12-0 lead before the Miracle scored on a free throw by McWilliams 3:50 into the contest.

Darling scored 10 points in the first half as Cleveland dominated every aspect to take the largest halftime lead in WNBA playoff history.

The Rockers rolled to a 29-7 lead, outbounding Orlando 24-6 as the Miracle shot just 2-for-21 from the field in the first 16:36.

Cleveland's 26 first-half rebounds also set a playoff record and Orlando's 15 points were the fewest in the first half of a playoff game.

section of Florida laws, and adds "buzzing" a dive flag to the description of reckless operation. Dive flag violations will continue to be second-degree misdemeanors until Oct. 1, 2001.

Other law changes effective Oct. 1 include an amendment to water skiing requirements, which prohibits wearing of inflatable personal flotation devices (PFDs) by water skiers.

Several changes will affect operators of personal watercraft (PWC), including amendments which will:

- prohibit wearing inflatable personal flotation devices; require PWCs to comply with laws governing reckless operation, careless operation and navigation rules;
- make it unlawful to allow a rented PWC to be operated by a person who has not received instruction in the safe handling of a PWC;
- require the person who receives the instruction to give the rented PWC's owner a "written statement attesting to the same"; and
- gives the FWC rulemaking authority to set the instruction to be given PWC renters.

Also, FWC-approved boater safety courses, equivalency examinations and temporary certificate tests must include a component regarding diving safety.

The FWC reminds fishermen of two new rules which took effect July 1. Anglers are authorized to take catfish at night with gigs and bows and arrows, and during the daytime by spears, gigs, snatch hooks, crossbows or bows and arrows from boats or from shore, except at spillways of the Eureka, Rodman or Jim Woodruff dams, or in certain Dade County waters.

New rules also prohibit the use of peacock bass for bait and prohibit removal of the heads or tails, or filleting of panfish, until anglers have finished fishing for the day. This rule applies only in lakes that have minimum length requirements for panfish.

Also taking effect July 1, the FWC passed a rule to clarify the definition of a bow to prohibit the use of devices, during archery season, which mechanically hold the bow string in the drawn and ready-to-release position.

The new rule does not prohibit mechanical release devices which require the hunter to rely on his own strength to draw and hold the bowstring.

SHUPE'S SCOOP

As more and more people take to the woods and the waterways, the FWC will need to take additional regulatory measures to ensure the safety of all involved.

FISHING FORECAST

Expect fair bass action in the river south of Puzzle Lake. Low water levels are keeping the bass in the narrow main channel, where they readily hit a wide variety of lures. Bream and catfish continue to hit worms and muscels in the deep bends.

Sebastian Inlet has good catch-and-release snook action with fish to over 20 pounds. Trout, redfish, and a few tarpon are also present. Large live shrimp or finger mullet are top baits.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral reports that king mackerel are just off the beach and in the buoy line. Look for king mackerel and cobia on B A reef and Pelican Flats. Flounder and sheepshead are biting inside the Port. Trout and redfish are fair in the Banana and Indian rivers.

Ponce Inlet is a great place to take the family. Sheepshead, drum, redfish, small bluefish, jack crevalle and ladyfish are all in good numbers and will readily bite live or dead shrimp. Trout and redfish are rated as good in Mosquito Lagoon.

four catches for 113 yards and two touchdowns, as well as five kickoff returns for 87 yards and three tackles on defense.

out the first half scoring.

Orlando took the second half kickoff and drove to mid-field before Maynor hit wide receiver Joe Douglase on a 25-yard touchdown pass.

Defensive back Kenny McEntyre intercepted a Funderburk pass to give the Predators the ball back and Orlando was able to convert the turnover into seven points on a 37-yard touchdown pass from Maynor to Cliff Dell, making the score 31-22 with 8:03 remaining in the third quarter.

Arizona scored on a one-yard pass from Funderburk to Randy Gatewood to end the third quarter and make the score 31-30.

The Predators scored 25 points in the fourth quarter to seal the victory and earn their third straight trip to the ArenaBowl.

Maynor won the game's MVP award, completing 15 of 28 for 269 yards, with no interceptions, and five touchdown passes. He also ran for 44 yards on five carries that included two rushing touchdowns.

The second rushing touchdown late in the fourth quarter help put the game out of reach of the Rattles.

Dell was named the Ironman of the game with
