HERALD IS HIT BY CRITICISMS IN LEGION MEET

This Newspaper Is Charged By
F. M. Davison With "Never Showing Proper Spirit Of Co-operation" With Legion

Herring Defends The Rights Of Herald

Paper Is Called "Community's Best Friend" Others Talk
In Behalf Of The Herald

The Herald was made the target of criticism by a small group of members of the American Legion which held its meeting last night at the clubhouse on the waterfront. The "panning" occurred during a discussion of the subject of whether the organization was to join the Herald in giving the World Series results.

As a result of the action taken by the Legionaires that organization will stage its baseball matches at the City Hall, changing a small admission, and the Herald will give its free returns in front of this building. The Herald's offer of furnishing the board and the Legion was rejected after considerable discussion.

In outlining the offer of this newspaper, LeRoy Chittenden, post commander, declared that although the Herald had been generous in its proposition, he was of the opinion that the Legion could make more money by staging a separate show at the City Hall, permission of which he said had already been secured.

J. H. Hintermister expressed the view that the Herald was entirely within its rights to offer the returns, and although he recognized the courtesies extended the Legion in the past by The Herald, he was of the opinion that to stage a separate show would bring better results for the Legion. The World Series receipts, he pointed out, had been the main source of revenue in the past and he declared that he thought that the Legion should be made successful regardless of the newspaper returns.

Herald Playograph Will Give Fans Close-up Of World's Series Games

The Herald has completed its arrangements for securing the results of the World's Series which begins tomorrow in Pittsburgh. The large playograph has been installed on a platform in front of this office and today a printer machine will be placed on the second floor of this building in order to give the fans an uninterrupted service. Through the courtesy of City Manager W. B. Williams, the Herald has arranged to have a portion of Magnolia Avenue roped off and seats placed there for the comfort of the fans. The City Manager announced that he would be able to place benches in the street for each game and for this kindness and co-operation The Herald acknowledges its appreciation.

As fast as the returns come in over the printer machine they will be announced by play through a megaphone and at the same time it will be recorded on the playograph which will give local baseball enthusiasts a view of the games as they are played in Pittsburgh at Forbes Field and in New York at the Stadium. The baseball returns are to be received through the International News Service, of which The Herald is a member, and the play board will be operated by The Herald. The baseball machines will be free of charge and The Herald cordially invites the public to hear the return's each day, Sunday's game included.

The series will open in Pittsburgh Wednesday, the game starting at one o'clock Sanford time. The first two games will be played in the Smoky City and the next three in New York on October 7, 8 and 9. If additional games are needed they will be played in Pittsburgh on October 10 and 11. Sunday's game will begin at 2 o'clock.

LEVINE AIRPLANE FLOGGING PROBE IS FORCED DOWN EXPECTED TO END BREAKING WHEEL IN MANY CHARGES

Trans-Atlantic Flight Was On
Rome To Bucharest Flight
With Levine And Royal Passenger
Going To See Marie

ROME, Oct. 4.—(INS)—Charles A. Levine's trans-Atlantic airplane "Columbia," was forced down near the Ciampino airfield this afternoon while making a flight from this city to Bucharest with a Spanish prince as passenger, and was damaged. The occupants were unhurt.

The "Columbia" hopped off for Bucharest shortly before 3 o'clock. After Levine had had a 20 minute audience with Premier Mussolini. The passenger was Prince Ferdinand, infant of Spain, who was going to Roumainian capital to visit Queen Marie.

Twenty minutes after the "Columbia" hopped off engine trouble developed, and the pilot, Capt. W. G. Hinchcliffe, was compelled to land. The pilot failed to see a pole that was lying nearby buried beneath the grass of the landing field. The plane ran into it, breaking one of the landing wheels and jarring the whole plane. The occupants, Hinchcliffe, Levine and the Spanish prince, jumped out none the worse for the adventure.

Examination of the machine showed it should have a thorough overhauling probably requiring two weeks. Levine motored to Rome where he announced that he had decided to abandon further flights. He said he would go to Paris tomorrow by rail and would sail on the evening for New York. Capt. Hinchcliffe, who was engaged by Levine to pilot the "Columbia" several weeks ago, will return to London at once.

Libendahl Widow Refuses To Enact Account Of Murder

HAMMONTON, N. J., Oct. 4.—(INS)—Mrs. Margaret Libendahl, widow of Dr. William Libendahl, refused today to reenact her version in the murder of her aged husband. The detailed drama which was to have been staged this morning on the Atison road four miles from Hammonton will probably never take place. For it is rumored that Mrs. Libendahl's refusal was at the advice of her counsel, Charles White, who is believed to be the attorney for the state.

Power Company Agent In Daytona Is Robbed Of Large Sum Today

The messenger was blinded for the moment by acid thrown in his face by his white assailant. The bandit escaped.

MOB IS FAIR TO NEGRO AS THEY START TO HANG

As Rope Is Placed About Negro's Neck, He Is Asked If He Has Anything To Say: He Tells Story Of His Crime

Negro Was Hired By Farmer To Kill Man

Mob Takes Rope From Around Negro's Neck To Return Him Safe To Jail Where Seized

EASTMAN, GA., Oct. 4.—(INS)—Triumph of a mob's sense of justice over its blood lust returned Willie Thomas, a negro accused of murder, to the Dodge county jail here today after he had been taken out to be lynched. Thomas confessed, according to the county police, that he killed W. H. Howell, 66, wealthy farmer, whose body was found buried on his farm yesterday.

Storing the little jail last night, the mob took the negro into the woods. Ropes were produced. It was told that he was to be hanged. Did he have any last word to say? Thomas said he had. With amazing calmness, he told a story of having been hired to kill Howell by an enemy of the slain farmer. So convincingly did the negro tell his story that the mob relented. Even the brutal, unthinking spirit that animates such projects gave way. The leader hesitated.

Fair play prevailed. The men took Thomas back to jail. They had not harmed him. His story was repeated to the police and within a few hours they arrested Tom Buchanan, a white farmer. Both Buchanan and Thomas are held for the grand jury. The county police say that they have no further fear of mob violence. In this case.

According to the statement of Thomas, he was hired, with an advance payment of $5 and the promise of $100 more and a Ford car. To shoot Howell. All he ever received, Thomas said, was $5.

He explained that Buchanan had wanted to get Howell out of way because Howell was going to testify against him at a criminal trial to be held next week. Buchanan is charged with firing at a county policeman, and Howell was a state witness.

Thomas said he fired at Howell with a shotgun. According to the negro, Buchanan standing nearby, also fired with a revolver and then helped him bury the body. Howell's body was searched, but it yielded only 80 cents. No effort was made to search the farm house where Howell, who was a bachelor, lived alone.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—(INS)—Sixty-seven visitors ill from the effects of their first Pittsburgh stogie; nine others creaking with rheumatism from a night spent on a back bench in the rain; after a vain search for hotel rooms; 18 amateur statisticians down with brain fever after frantically hours of grinding out series "dops"; 99 grandmothers of Pittsburgh office boys reported in a critical condition; and three ticket speculators on the verge of collapse following the discovery that they could have realized 30 on pasteboards which they just sold for $20.

These were a few of the casualties today as the permanent and temporary inhabitants of this baseball-crazed community gathered, jostled and talked one another into insensibility over the relative merits of the Pittsburgh Pirates and the New York Yankees, who cross bats here tomorrow in the first game of the world series.

The general excitement does not equal the hysteria of 1925, when the Pirates battered in the gates of pennantville after many long and lean years of disappointment. Nor does it approach the wild enthusiasm shown by supporters of the Washington Senators and St. Louis Cardinals when those teams brought home the bacon in 1924 and 1926, respectively. But interest in the series is within one or two degrees of fever heat, and pandemonium, already on the verge of breaking loose, no doubt will reign supreme at the first sign of a Pittsburgh batting rally.

The ball players themselves were being to get out on Forbes Field and throw the ball around. Rain kept the Pirates idle yesterday and the Yankees got in only 30 minutes of practice today. However, the sun gave Jupiter Platorum the bum's rush and indications were that both teams would be put through a lengthy workout.

The Yankees were to have had the field for practice this morning, but Donie Bush, who is taking no chances with the elements, politely informed Mr. Huggins that the Pittsburgh practice would be held this morning and the only exercise that the Pirates have had since the close of the National League season has consisted of wrist exercises—pitching nickels into the center of the table.

Following today's workout, the rival teams will be ready for the opening yelp of "play ball!" Babe Ruth and Buster Gehrig, the sluggers of the Yankees, already have lighted the range on the right field fence in their limited batting practice there. A party of Sunday school teachers from Indiana, passing the fence yesterday, were hit by so many baseballs that they thought they had run into a wall of brick.

NUMBER 388

UNREST LOOMS IN LABORING CLASS, SECRETARY SAYS

Rapid Displacement Of Working Men By Machinery Is Cause Of Discontent; Situation Serious, Says Davis

By International News Service
WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (INS)—Secretary of Labor Davis has warned the country that discontent and unrest among the laboring classes may arise as the result of the rapid displacement of working men by machinery.

Although the number of consumers in the United States has been increased by 10,000,000 in the last decade, he said, the factories supplying the needs of the nation are getting along with seven per cent fewer workers. Industry has been able to reduce the number of its workers because of the introduction of labor-saving machinery, and as more of these devices are added the tendency to throw more men and women out of jobs will be proportionally increased.

"Is automatic machinery, driven by limitless power, going to leave on our hands a state of chronic and increasing unemployment?" Davis asked. "Is the machine that turns out wealth also to create poverty? Is it giving us a permanent jobless class?"

The country, he continued, cannot afford to sit by and watch such a class grow. The industrial leaders must "invent new ways of utilizing the man displaced by our machines. With the invention of every labor-saving machine should come the invention of using the man whose labor is saved. There is no other way; otherwise our new machinery does not 'save' labor, but wastes it."

Immigration laws have thus proved an effective check on the evils which might issue from this situation, the secretary said. Secretary Davis wanted it made clear that he was not counselling any cessation of industrial or mechanical progress.

BERLIN MUSICAL CENTER SUFFERS FROM THE RADIO

Broadcasting Companies Have Invaded Field And Large Capital Attracts Best Of Musical Talent In Germany

BERLIN, Oct. 3 (INS)—Berlin, once the centre of musical life of Europe and the starting grounds for many internationally known musical artists, including singers, violinists, and pianists, suffers severely from the activity of the broadcasting companies, according to noted Berlin critics and prominent musicians.

Radio broadcasting companies have long invaded the field of serious, classic musical productions, and owing to their enormous capital, threaten to kill individual musical activity in Berlin. The broadcasting companies can afford many, and were it not for the fact that radio production is still incomplete and not a first class artistic production, from the point of view of serious critics people would content themselves to "listen in," leaving serious artists before empty or half filled audiences.

The triumph of radio over individual concerts can be traced back to two main reasons: first, Germany's middle-class, once the foremost concert goer, has been impoverished and cannot afford to buy tickets for individual concerts; second, people find it inconvenient to leave their homes in winter time, dress and run to the concert halls when they can sit at home comfortably in an arm-chair and listen to the same artists whom they see and hear personally they would have to spend time and money for. Several Berlin critics, although regretting this development, favor "peace" between the two antagonists in the interests of the public. The only demand they put forth is that serious artists and critics should have a chance to control the program of the broadcasting companies from an artistic point of view, so that the music loving public will be assured of the best possible "service."

Mrs. Duvall May Be Next Mayor

Dr. King Offers Suggestions On New Police Head

Dr. King, who is touring Europe on a business and pleasure trip, is still unmarried, although her mother admits she has several young admirers. Another famous beauty, Miss Norma Smallwood, "Miss America" of 1924, having minor trials and her having won a beauty contest. Accompanied by her mother, Anna D. Smallwood, this strikingly handsome 20-year-old Tulsa, Okla., girl paid a visit to New York City a few days ago and announced through her attorney, that she will sue Walker and Edwin Meyers, theatrical agents, for breach of contract. She claims they promised to book her for eight weeks in vaudeville at $475 a week.

"We did a lot for Miss Smallwood, who is now suing us," said Mr. Meyers today. "When she won the contest at Atlantic City, I booked her for 20 weeks on the interstate circuit which covers the south and southwest, at $1,000 a week. She merely had to walk out on the stage, wear pretty dresses and say a few words."

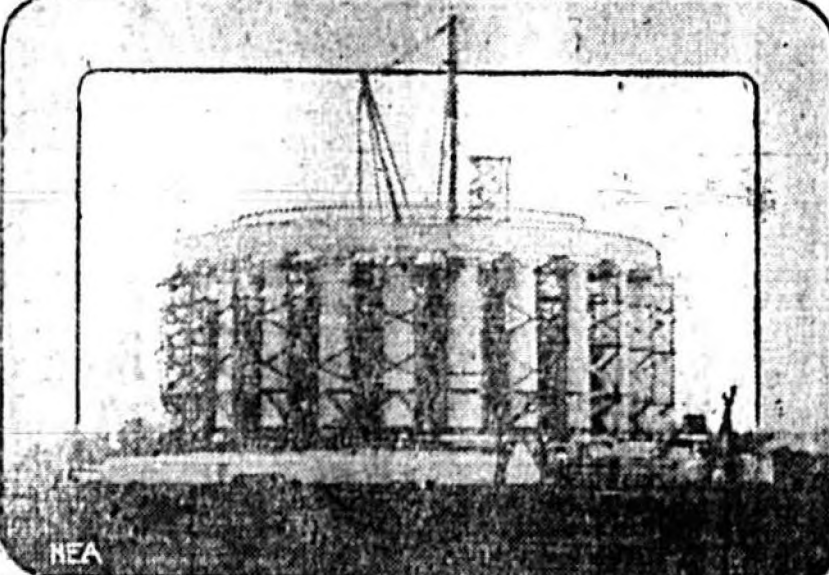

"I was going to book her up again, but she would not co-operate on business matters."

Miss Smallwood and her mother, who is a real estate broker, have returned to Tulsa. The girl's father is dead, and she and her mother are constant companions. The tribulations of another beauty has just come to public notice in newspaper stories. Mrs. Nina Colton Green Hartung, who won a beauty contest in the Bronx in 1921, has lost her husband. He granted an interdictory decree of divorce and custody of their son. The husband, John J. Hartung, named George Schenell, as co-respondent.

SEARCH FOR GUN IS NOW CONFINED TO CEMETERY PLOT

Authorities Are Investigating Letter Hand Over By Lawyer For Beach; Note Involves Two In Murder Lillioendahl

HAMMONTON, N. J., Oct. 3 (INS)—Search for the pistol with which Dr. William Lillioendahl, 72-year-old physician, was ruthlessly slain two weeks ago, centered today about the family burial plot of Willis Beach, 52, poultry farmer who is being sought over three states in connection with the murder.

Grave-diggers, working under the direction of detectives, rescued the work of upturning the loose dirt about the graves, in the belief that the murder pistol may have been hidden there. Search for the weapon has been abandoned in the vicinity of the lonely road where Dr. Lillioendahl was shot to death. The authorities are investigating a letter, turned over to them by Edison Hedges attorney for Beach, purporting to have been signed by "Mitchell Raffles," and postmarked Philadelphia. The letter stated that the writer and another man had murdered Dr. Lillioendahl because the physician had overcharged them for narcotics. Authorities believe the letter was written by a crank.

Hedges, who had been indicted on a charge of aiding Beach to escape prosecution, has denied that he had told Beach to leave the jurisdiction of the court and declared that he does not know where his client has hidden himself. Beach is being sought on a warrant charging him with "aiding and abetting" the murder. Coolidge May Come Florida On Trip To Cuba Next January

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 3 (INS)—President Calvin Coolidge will visit Atlanta, Birmingham, Montgomery, Pensacola, Crestview, Tallahassee, and Jacksonville enroute to Cuba in January if he accepts the itinerary submitted them by Congressman Yon, of Florida, and Secretary Frary, of Okaloosa county chamber of commerce, this week.

The proposed itinerary, which was submitted last Tuesday to the president, would take his private train through the heart of the southeastern states. Six of the largest southern cities would be visited and three state capitals.

President Coolidge told Congressman Yon and Mr. Frary that as he had never been farther south than Charleston, S. C., he was very much interested in the route he would travel on his visit to Cuba. D. S. McCallum, president of the Okaloosa county chamber of commerce, had dispatched telegrams to all civic bodies, newspapers, and railroads over which the president would travel if he accepted the proposed route asking cooperation in having him select it. Judge A. G. Campbell, president of the northwestern Florida association of chambers of commerce has announced that his organization would lend every possible assistance to the movement.

Wagoner's Sale Of BANKRUPT STOCK

Of The Seminole Furniture Co. A DECIDED SUCCESS!

Hundreds of people crowded and attended our sale and were pleased with the most unusual values we offered Saturday and today. We were truly surprised to note the liberal manner in which the people BOUGHT OUR GOODS and paid COLD HARD CASH and lots of it notwithstanding the cry of HARD TIMES.

Now Here Is the Whole Thing In a Nutshell: It's not because the public prefers us to any other fellow merchants or because they like my sales manager—no! Not by a darn sight—

The fact is—if you have anything to sell and can give honest values the good people of Sanford and Seminole County know, understand and appreciate and are ready to take advantage of Bargain offerings and are far from being BROKE.

All you have to do is to tell it to them—let them know it—they have ready the cash—our last two days sales can prove this without a doubt.

To all Knockers and Hard Time Cryers, FORGET IT! Believe in Sanford—there is plenty of business here for all of us and plenty of money but you must be a go-getter instead of bewailing conditions.

If you have anything to sell advertise it convincingly, no misleading statements, and back up your advertisement with real bona fide values and you are assured of the same success that we have met with.

Try this and let's pull together for a bigger, better, greater Sanford.

Team Work Needed

Governor Martin's sounding the tocsin. "Get your shoulders to the wheel and put Florida over" seems to be the spirit of most organizations and community leaders in the state.

In calling attention to Tallahassee's Trade Expansion Campaign which will culminate in a Fall Festival, the Florida State News says, "There must be no questions of immediate benefit to any one individual."

But as the News points out, whatever benefits the community, benefits the individual. "A community either progresses or stagnates. There is no middle ground."

Probably nowhere in the state has the need for team work been so seriously felt and nowhere would it be productive of so much good in Sanford.

But financial matters are rapidly being straightened out; prospects for the tourist season look good; and the celery crop promises rich returns.

America's Missionary Work

In a recent issue of the DeLand News, Wickes Wamboldt gives an interesting discussion on the subject of "what we are." The comment has to do with our efforts in foreign missionary work.

"Imagine yourself a Chinaman in heathen China looking across the Pacific at the Christian United States. See the darling hold-ups in city and on highway—impudent bloody hold-ups; banditry, as bold and vicious as anything that ever happened in the wildest parts of the globe.

"Is it any wonder that Chinese have revolted against our Christianity, and have driven our missionaries out saying, 'Go back and save your own people; then come and save us.'"

"What reasons has China or any other people to accept Christianity and live by its teachings? Just these reasons: 'Cast your eyes over the world and you will see that the Christian peoples are the most progressive peoples; you will see that the Christian peoples dominate the earth; you will see that the Christian peoples are the most wholesome peoples; the most cultured peoples; they are the peoples among whom there is at the least misery; they are the only peoples who sing; pagans and heathens make noises with their mouths, they chant, they howl, but they do not sing.'"

"The Christian peoples had as they are the best and happiest of all the peoples."

MR. BRISBANE HELPS MIAMI HERALD

Arthur Brisbane, advertised as "the highest paid editorial writer in the world," whose comment is published daily in The Miami Herald, also has, perhaps, the largest audience of any editorial writer in the world.

The Herald published in Mr. Brisbane's column a few days ago the following: "The rest of the country will be glad to hear that Miami, and Florida generally, have wiped out all signs and reminders of the big wind, and are ready for another boom, with preparations made for record crowds this season."

The new boom will come, do not doubt it, and what is more important, it will stay. Florida is destined to be the winter sun parlor of millions of Americans.

This paragraph, which undoubtedly will be of considerable advantage to Miami, appeared simultaneously in more than 200 daily newspapers and in 1,500 weekly newspapers. The combined circulation of the newspapers which printed it is estimated to exceed 25,000,000 copies.

Mr. Brisbane's expression of opinion doubtless was prompted by his friendly interest in Miami. The opinion itself, however, was influenced by his knowledge of basic conditions here.

Greater Production Florida's Aim TAMPA TRIBUNE

Florida is losing approximately $77,000,000 a year by not producing sufficient crops to supply the needs of its own people.

A recent statement by Commissioner of Agriculture Mayo showed that of the $111,000,000 in foodstuffs consumed annually by the people of Florida, only $34,000,000 is produced in this state.

The total consumption does not include grain canned goods other commodities not produced in considerable quantity in this state. It includes only those things which Florida can and does produce but not in sufficient quantity to feed its own people.

Yet Florida produces 81 percent of the nation's grapefruit 61 percent of the early peppers 21 percent of the watermelons 41 percent of the table cucumbers 24 percent on the table tomatoes 20 percent of the egg plant, 38 percent of the early Irish potatoes 32 percent of the celery.

As Brisbane Sees It

Rabbits, Turtles, Pines. Try Los Angeles. That is the Place. Wells and War.

Copyright 1927 by Star Co.

HODGE, CALIF., Oct. 4.—This is written at Hodge, Calif., on the so-called Mojave desert, 60 miles back from the Pacific ocean, 2000 feet above it. This writer has bought 5000 acres here, but does not advise you to invest.

Some day every foot of this desert will be green, but it is not a place for quick money-making; no place for the man that cannot bring plenty of money with him.

Will Hays, movie moderator and king, has asked this writer to get him a thousand acres or so here to keep and forget. Paul Shoup, of the Southern Pacific, with millions of acres in this region, will be asked to oblige. Some day Hays will be pleasantly reminded of his purchase, but it is not for the little buyer or the man anxious to make a living now without working "too hard."

IT IS A LAND of great delight After you have brought in your well, started your 40 horsepower electric pump throwing into your reservoir 100,000 gallons of beautiful water every hour, to see vigorous young alfalfa protected in its youth by a cover crop of tall sedan grass, covering acres that were barren desert and sagebrush one year ago, makes it worth while to invest money that you probably never will recover.

THERE OUGHT to be 10,000 little houses for retired school teachers, firemen, policemen, clergymen and other deserving people scattered over 50,000 acres about here, surrounded by a million chickens and turkeys. Riding your horse in any direction over these soft desert flats and hills, you meet nothing to remind you of mankind.

Jack rabbits as fleet and almost as big as small deer bound ahead of you over the sagebrush and cactus, and lurking coyotes start in pursuit and thank you perhaps for rousing the rabbits. Desert turtles, as big as a milk pail, draw in their heavy heads as you pass. Coyotes turn them over, tear off the under shell, eat the meat; ants clean the bones. The shells make good bird houses.

THIS IS A PLACE for men with money or real workers. At the Los Angeles fair recently, the blue ribbon for the best alfalfa grown anywhere, was won by the Hodge brothers, for whom this place is named. When the war ended the two brothers took land here as homesteaders and under the soldiers land act they cleared their land, dug their wells, built a 300,000 gallon reservoir, installed their pump, all with their own hands, sleeping at first under a lean-to, working eight hours a day for other men to live then working additional hours on their own account. And they get the blue ribbon for the finest alfalfa in the country. This is a good place for men willing to work like that, but they are not numerous.

THE WONDERFUL PLACE to see is 60 miles west of here—Los Angeles. There is the place to go taking money with you for investment. Harnessing the Colorado river, now a certainty, thanks to Hiram Johnson, Herbert Hoover and President Coolidge, will double Los Angeles' value within a few years. And with abundant, cheap power, Los Angeles, now sixth manufacturing city in the country with six thousand industries, will rise rapidly to supremacy. Able business men Julius Rosenwald of Sears Roebuck, Firestone, the tire man; the Good year and other big concerns. Including the powerful Henry Ford, are building huge Los Angeles plants. Labor is abundant, rents and living are cheap, and there is no coal problem because you do not need coal. The man establishing a plant here is wise on his own account, far-sighted and a benefactor to labor.

H. G. WELLS is useful because he is not afraid to let his imagination work, and write down what it tells him. The average man is afraid to say anything he cannot prove, by someone dead 100 or 1000 years. Wells says another war, more terrible than any is on the horizon. "The omens are as plain now as they were in 1907." It is to be a war from the air, gas suffocating whole cities, instead of bullets killing a few thousands wholesale instead of retail murder.

WELLS CONFESSES THAT he was surprised when "that profession of ruthless sensitive medicriffs, the military profession" allowed the great war to happen. Fortunately, there is a chance that Wells may be surprised again, by an almost indefinite postponement of the big gas war. What everybody expects usually does not happen. The world's greatest power, high finance, is better organized than ever, and knows what it did not know in 1907 "that war does not pay, ruins even the winners, and would lead next time to government confiscation of capital." When kings ruled, they did not have war if they did not want war. With finance ruling and not wanting war, the deadly gas war may be postponed indefinitely.

What Price Coal!

RHEUMATISM May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunate who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep? You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.?

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause. S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Grudge Fight Gives Film Fans Action In Milane Picture

A grudge fight for the championship of a rough and ready regiment is one of the exciting incidents in "The Rough Riders" which will be shown at the Milane Theatre today.
Even the most rabid fight fan will get a thrill out of the punishment encounter between the two young giants, Charles Farrell, leading man, and Fred Kohler.
Kohler is the top sergeant and Farrell a sergeant in the Paramount production. Both are brutes and they have an intense dislike for each other in the screen story.
The fight settled one and for all the question whether actors really hurt each other in screen fights. Director Victor Fleming was a well-known athlete and boxer once on a time. James Howe, (first cameraman, used to be the flyweight champion of the Pacific coast. Realism was the watchword. Smashing punches that went true to their mark left marks and welts on the faces of both men. Twelve hundred Rough Riders fought it was a film fight and went wild with excitement.
Farrell and Charles Emmett Mack stage another battle over Mary Astor and this, too, is thrilling. Noah Beery and George Bancroft add a few tussles that prove semi-windup affairs.

Changes Are Sought In Massachusetts' Auto Insurance Law

By International News Service BOSTON, Oct. 3.—A definite movement to bring about a change in the Massachusetts compulsory automobile insurance law has been started for the benefit of the summer residents of the state.
Edward G. Stacy, secretary of the Massachusetts section of the New England Council and secretary of the Massachusetts state Chamber of Commerce is directing the move.
Mr. Stacy has urged that greater concessions be given the summer resident in Massachusetts who is now required to make his automobile insurance conform to the Massachusetts statutory policy. It had been pointed out that the summer resident could well afford to pay the cost of automobile insurance, but Mr. Stacy and others supporting the move for a change, reply with the assertion that the cost was of small consequence as compared with the annoyance caused by the details of the procedure required in Massachusetts. It was also contended that the recreational industry of the state would suffer because of the annoyance.

Hotel men of this state have attested that wealthy guests were going to other states because they refused to go to the trouble required by the Massachusetts law. Advocates of the change in the law would have a four months' period of exemption from the insurance law be granted summer residents, particularly if their cars are insured in their own states.

As We Grow Older

As we grow older, there is a gradual slowing up of bodily functions. The kidneys are the blood filters. If their action becomes sluggish they do not thoroughly cleanse the blood of poisonous wastes. This tends to make one tired and achy, with other nagging troubles, drowsy headaches, and dizziness. A common symptom of imperfect kidney action is scanty or burning excretions. Elderly people recommend Doan's Pills. This tested diuretic is endorsed the country over. Ask your neighbor!

SAFETY SOUGHT BY MANY CHINESE IN THE STRAITS

Record Number Orientals Go To Straits; Settlements Escape Dangers Infesting Their Home Country Now
By International News Service PEKING, Oct. 1. (INS)—A record number of Chinese immigrants sought the peace and safety of the Straits Settlements from dangerous and turbulent China last year. According to official figures, 348,503 Chinese arrived in the Straits Settlements during 1926, although that number was offset by 120,308 Chinese returning to their native land.
Another record was broken last year when 95,715 Chinese women and children were included in the immigration figures. Practically all of these Chinese come from southern China and are attracted by the prosperity and demand for labor in the Straits where they are free from military oppression and war demands.
The only other year which approached 1926 in numbers of Chinese immigrants was 1911, the year of the revolution which overthrew the empire.

How to cross a BRIDGE PARTNER - and get away with it

In some states, particularly the state of matrimony, trumping a partner's ace is a custom more to be feared than shuffling a Ford out of season.

Pretzels have found a way out. They make sure there's always a big pile of O-So-Guds alongside the card table. Then when the injured partner gets fairly incandescent with blustering rage, the pretzels bites out a few letters like this:

O-So-GUD PRETZELS

Now, who could continue to talk mean after getting such a sweetly contradictory note from your other half, surely.

Crispy, crunchy, salty pretzels baked by Uneeda Bakers smooth over many difficulties. They help make things pleasant at parties and picnics. They're good any time with iced drinks. They're fine for between meals and before-we-go-to-bed lunches.

And try them with soup, with salad, with cheese, with dessert. Give them to the children for picnicking. They are very easy to digest.

Be sure to ask for Uneeda Bakers' pretzels.

FIRE DRILL SAVES CHILDREN

Cool-headed teachers and a well-performed fire drill saved the lives of many children when the Columbia school, at Garrison and St. Louis Avenues, was struck. Although the building's roof collapsed and part of its walls were destroyed, all of the children escaped death, marching out in orderly fashion. In the background can be seen a Greek Orthodox church which was badly damaged.

Lindy With Fez Indiana Plans Lincoln Memorial

Before Col. Lindbergh left San Diego, Calif., on his hop for Paris he applied for membership in the Delta. On his recent visit to San Diego his induction was completed. Here he is wearing the fez.

Here is a drawing of the $1,225,000 memorial which Indiana proposes to erect to the memory of Abraham Lincoln and his son, Robert Lincoln. The site is the original Lincoln farm near a river, midway between Evansville and Frankfort. Indiana has spent fourteen years of the purchase period of the site. The state of Indiana now holds the site. It is a committee, made up of the state's leading men, is raising the money.

OCALA—Building construction for August in this city reached total of $22,450.
