Canal Bill To Be Introduced Tuesday

Port Terminal Word Expected This Week

Canal Authority Legislation Seen

Further action is anticipated this week on two proposed waterway projects benefitting Sanford and Seminole County.

John Krider, Chamber of Commerce manager, in a telephone conference with Harold Scott, Jacksonville engineer, this morning, learned that a bill will be introduced in the Legislature Tuesday furthering the St. Johns-Indian River Canal project and that word is expected later this week on the City's application for a federal feasibility study loan for the port terminal.

Sen. Bernard Parrish, of Brevard County, who has been spearheading the drive for the canal, will introduce a bill in the Legislature Tuesday, Scott said, authorizing the establishment of a St. Johns-Indian River Canal Authority. Actually, the bill will direct the State Board of Conservation to authorize the canal as a project. When and if the Legislature passes the bill and the conservation Board acts, Gov. Farris Bryant will name members of the Canal Authority.

Presently, Krider is chairman of the St. Johns-Indian River Navigating Committee and Scott's firm has been retained as engineer.

"The next objective," Krider stated, "will be to proceed with the engineering study to determine the most feasible alignment for the canal, even though it has been determined it will be between Lake Harney and a point near Maytown on the Indian River."

Scott also informed Krider that the Atlanta office of the U. S. Housing and Home Finance Administration has advised him an answer is expected this week from Washington on the request for a $10,000 loan for an engineer's feasibility study for placement of the proposed port terminal on Lake Monroe at Sanford.

War On Ships Is Declared

MIAMI (UPI) — Spokesman for a new Cuban underground organization today issued a "declaration of war on all Communist ships that enter or leave Communist Cuba" despite United States efforts to halt anti-Castro raids blamed on this country.

The spokesman said the group is known as the "Freedom Fighter Commandos" and will operate out of Mexico.

They sharply criticized the new U. S. crackdown but emphasized that their projected naval war on Communist shipping would not be carried out from United States territory.

The exiles said operations headquarters for the group have been "in the process of formation for some time" and are located "in a certain place in Mexico."

DANIA (UPI) — A Florida East Coast Railway bridge over the Dania cut-off Canal was set on fire Saturday night but was extinguished before serious damage could be done the Fire Department revealed today.

Fire officials said a passenger saw the flames and reported it about 9 p.m. They said only one tie was burning when they arrived.

FEC spokesmen said the fire was set so it could have caused the bridge to collapse if it had been undetected for a longer period of time.

Injured in the accident were the driver, Donald Lee Dorton, 20, of Lake Mary, and his mother, Mrs. Laura Louise Dorton, 43, also Lake Mary. Seminole Memorial Hospital this morning reported Mrs. Dorton's condition as "good."

Presses Roll
NEW YORK (UPI) — All major New York City dailies were back in business today for the first time since Dec. 8. Giant high-speed presses of four morning papers rolled out of their enforced winter hibernation a few hours after boldout photogravers wrote the finish to the 114-day newspaper shutdown.

Authorities said a kerosene soaked towel had been lodged between a railroad bed tie and a cross tie and set on fire. They said it was undetermined whether the fire was an attempt to destroy the bridge or to stop a freight train due later Saturday night.

Tight Control Rules Guatemala
GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala (UPI) — Military leaders who ousted President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes to prevent what they termed a threatened Communist takeover maintained tight control today of this small Central American republic.

Ydigoras and his wife were flown to exile in Managua, Nicaragua, in a Guatemalan airliner Sunday following a bloodless Saturday night coup d'etat. The deposed president told lawmakers there that "the change is good for Guatemala and for Central America."

The military installed Col. Enrique Peraza Azurdia, defense minister in the ousted government, as chief executive with power to rule by decree.

'Rough Sledding' Feared For Legislative Session

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Leaders of the 1963 Legislature which convenes Tuesday said this weekend the prospect of "rough sledding" and may force extension of the 60-day session.

State Rep. Frederick Karl expressed a fear today that the legislature which opens tomorrow may find itself caught in a financial squeeze that will force either an across-the-board sales tax or a huge borrowing program to finance essential needs.

Legislators began pouring into this capital city this weekend. Hotels and homes were filled to capacity as the 170 lawmakers and their families and retinues settled in for what promised to be a hectic session.

Finances are the biggest problem facing the lawmakers, and there is considerable disagreement as to how much money is needed and where it should come from.

Senate President Wilson Carraway and House Speaker Mallory Horne, both from Tallahassee, set the figure at $150 million and both said they preferred new or higher taxes to raise the funds.

Gov. Farris Bryant is expected to ask for some now hikes when he addresses the opening session, but not $150 million worth. The governor has indicated he will ask for long-term revenue certificates to finance the bulk of planned state construction.

"I'd rather vote for new taxes than go into a big bond program," said Carraway, with Horne nodding in agreement.

Budget Director Harry Smith and Comptroller Ray E. Green declined to give a new revenue estimate. But several months ago estimates showed present revenue sources would fall between $30 million and $50 million short of a "bare bones" budget of $882 million.

Also hanging over the Legislature is the question of reapportionment, which is far from settled in the minds of some urban lawmakers.

Several lawmakers from populous areas have indicated they would seek fairer reapportionment during this session but rural leaders have vowed to fight any such moves.

A special school is scheduled for the freshmen today to introduce them to legislative activities and procedures. The school usually lasts three days but had to be cut this year because of a time problem.

Adding to the troubles are moves underway to abolish the State Milk Commission, do away with the controversial Johna Legislative Investigative Committee, and turn over the power of the State Turpicks Authority to the Road Department.

Legislate Life And Death

The announcement last week of the approval of the Florida Legislative Council concerning the mandatory placing of Seat Belts on all new cars sold in Florida after 1964, brings forth another tremendous step toward complete government control of all enterprise.

Some legislators have referred to the proposed legislation as an "industry bill," suggesting that it will benefit only a few seat belt manufacturers.

For some time now most of the literate population has been well advised concerning the statistical reward of having and using automobile seat belts. We, by no stretch of the imagination, argue with the validity of information concerning the use of these safety devices. Seat belts save lives!

There Should Be A Law!
How many times have you heard, or uttered, the above statement without really analyzing its contents? No... THERE REALLY SHOULD NOT BE ANOTHER LAW... Heaven only knows that we have hundreds of volumes of laws on the books right now that are completely ignored and forgotten.

To legislate controls on every local, state, or national problem certainly will not insure the success of the legislation. Certainly it would have been just as effective for the legislative committee to publish its findings and enforcements without making another law that will add an additional enforcement problem to be faced.

In fact the suggested legislation only proposes to place seat belts in the cars, but carefully points out that if the individual does not use them, this is not a violation.

Actually the effect of the proposed legislation by the Legislative Committee will accomplish:

1. Force automotive manufacturers to place four (4) seat belts in every new automobile sold in Florida starting with 1964 models.

2. Add additional expense to every prospective automobile buyer in the state of Florida. Perhaps as much as $10 to $50.

3. Place in the hands of various local and state law enforcement agencies the responsibility of enforcing this new piece of legislation thereby adding an additional expense on the taxpayer.

Perhaps it would be well to conclude with some light philosophy. "The quantity of present laws are more than adequate, however the quality sometimes leaves a great deal to be desired."

Two-Way Street?

Americans are always being chopped at for not making a real effort to find out what other people in other lands are like. But this is a two-way street, and there is not much evidence that foreign folk are traveling it either.

That the Russians, the Red Chinese and other Communists have some weird notions of us is to be expected, since their propagandists specialize in peddling false information about everything.

What is more astonishing is the depth of ignorance about us which is found in Western Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America.

Edward R. Murrow, director of the United States Information Agency, documents this ignorance both broadly and in detail.

We think our moral tone has slipped in recent decades. But some foreigners find it unbelievably moral.

They do not understand how we can leave coins "out in the open" at street corner news-stands, or why we wait patiently at unattended at stoplights. (Frenchmen, for instance, often run on the red if no one is around.)

They are baffled to hear that most Americans really pay their taxes and, of their own experience, they can't believe these monies reach the federal treasury without being sliced off.

Yet the open intermingling of the sexes which is common to our life is read by many foreigners as incontrovertible proof of promiscuity. Some who visit here take pains, therefore, not to be left alone with an individual of the opposite sex.

Since they have no comparative model of modern capitalism, many are inclined to disbelieve what they see of our economy here. They filter the evidence through 19th century glasses.

It goes without saying they do not understand our system of government, with its curious checks and balances. The 50-state federal system is even more confusing. In most foreign lands, a provincial leader, comparable to our governors, would be quickly sacked if he spoke out as some of ours do.

A system of politics which fills the air with hostile criticisms but puts everybody behind the President on the big national matters is too much for many foreigners to figure. We mutter about "managed news." They wonder why the USA is not in full control of what the press puts out.

And, oddly they puzzle over why so many millions of Americans jump into all kinds of voluntary programs. A common approach elsewhere seems to be, don't pitch in unless you are compelled.

The jets have telescoped time and reduced the oceans to lakes. Yet the gulf among humans of differing cultures remains immense. Our friends appear to know us little better than the enemies who deliberately try not to.

Lois is like millions of other teenage girls. They often want to get married just to "keep up with the Joneses." But Lois would be paying full price for a man when she'd be getting only a second-rate mate who would be saddled with all-around and child support. And you can't build a happy marriage on injustice!

CASE P-401: Lois L., aged 17, just finished high school. "Dr. Crane," she began, "I am all muddled in my thinking. For I recently met a married man and I think I am now in love with him."

"We enjoy each other's company so much that we can just sit and talk for hours. He asks my advice about things and now he wants me to marry him—as soon as he gets a divorce."

"For he has been married 3 years and has two children. But he says his wife is frigid and nags him all the time. He says he can't sit down and talk to her the way I do."

"If Lois had $3,000 with which to buy an automobile, wouldn't she be stupid to squander that $3,000 on a second-hand beat-up jalopy when she could purchase a brand new car?"

Yet that is what she is considering right now in the marriage realm. For she is young, pretty and with plenty of chances to wed an eligible man who is single! Beware of men loaded with alimony and child support for the next 18 years.

Besides, it is never right to break up a home, especially when two babies will then be forced to grow up without their father.

When you marry, you pay full price, so try to pick A-1 quality matrimonial merchandise. Avoid shoddy or secondhand goods for you pledge your entire future life, loyalty and earnings when you marry.

"When you can have more, why take less?" is a familiar advertising slogan that applies very well to romance, too.

Since the average girl in our cities doesn't marry till four more years to shop around and play the field. Moreover, she should go on for at least a year of college. So I definitely urged her to take a year in Business College and then work for at least another year or two before she married anybody.

Meanwhile, I told her to cut off all connections with this married man and not even write to him.

"Look not on the wine when it is red," warns the Bible. That means, don't tempt yourselves or tantalize and taper off when you know you should make a clean and total break.

If a situation is wrong, that means you should let your head dominate your heart and then resolutely do what you know to be right.

For if you then go through the proper motions, you will again be able to revive those same romantic emotions with another and much more suitable sweetheart.

"But, Dr. Crane," Lois mournfully protested, "all my girl friends are going away to school or getting married, so I feel old and on the shelf."

"That is all the more reason why she should go on to school, too, and get a wider perspective. Too many girls get married because they want to "keep up with the Joneses," when they realize most of their classmates are engaged.

But that's not the proper presidential succession law provides that if both the president and vice president of the United States died, the speaker of the House of Representatives and then the president pro tempore of the Senate shall be next in line of succession.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Defense Secretary Robert Strange McNamara today occupies one of the strangest positions in the capital.

A Republican—who was for Kennedy in 1960—he is regarded by many administration leaders as the ablest man in the cabinet, enjoying the President's complete confidence.

Nevertheless, he has been mentioned as a dark horse possibility for the GOP presidential nomination in 1964 or '68.

By other Republicans and some Democrats he is regarded as a civilian chief of staff, a man on horseback, a ruthless administrator, a spendthrift with a budget that is far too big, a potential dictator, a man to be watched and feared.

To other Democrats, McNamara is simply doing a job that has needed to be done for a long time, cracking together the heads of admirals and generals to make them support real unification instead of fighting their old service rivalries.

No one man can be all these things at once, yet McNamara seems to be. That is the paradox of his position. His hassle with congress over award of the $6.5 billion TFX tactical fighter contract to General Dynamics, instead of to Boeing, is expected to simmer down after his testimony before Sen. John L. McClellan's Government Operations subcommittee.

But it could boil up into something better if the Congress should move to create a joint, bi-partisan group to watchdog defense contracts. McNamara takes full and sole responsibility for the decision to build only one fighter for both Air Force and Navy use, instead of the two the services wanted. The justification is that this saves the government $1 billion.

While McNamara has raised defense expenditures from $41 billion in 1961 to an estimated $51 billion for 1964, the latter figure is a $16 billion cut from what the services wanted.

The secretary's goal, after modernizing conventional forces, is to level off the defense budget. He is said to consider this necessary in the face of demands for tax cuts.

Kennedy's budget message even plugged McNamara as an economist, pointing to his program for reducing logistic operation costs by $3 billion in five years.

This, however, isn't enough to offset the $5 billion de-office now has 1,800 employees.

The real explanation given for McNamara's present predicament is that the job of being secretary of defense is far different from what it started out to be.

When the first secretary of defense, the late James V. Forrestal, fathered the National Security Act of 1947 which "unified" the armed services, the plan was to keep his operation small. He was to be a mere civilian overseer, referee and budget cutter.

The act gave him one undersecretary and only three assistant secretaries. His staff and office space were small. The real concern in unification was over creation of a Joint Chiefs of Staff with a single chairman who, it was feared, might become too powerful and a military despot.

The late Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson changed all that by installing a General Motors organization with over 20 "vice presidents" as assistant secretaries.

Then came the defense Reorganization Act amendments of 1956, which gave the secretary of defense broad new powers.

But nobody ever used them until McNamara came along. In the light of nuclear, missile and space developments, the evolution of his job is considered essential by the Pentagon bureaucracy. His office now has 1,800 employees.

The three service secretaries have been downgraded to such an extent that most people have to think twice to remember who they are—Vance of Army, Korth of Navy and Zuckert of Air Force.

There are now only seven assistant secretaries of defense, who are equally hard to name. And the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General Maxwell Taylor, seems to offer no threat of military domination of the republic.

It's "Sec. Def." who raises the suspicions now.

April Named Cancer Control Month

April 22 has been designated "Crusade Day" by the Seminole County Unit of the American Cancer Society, said Mrs. Tom Largent, chairman of the Unit.

Crusade Day is one of a series of events in connection with "Cancer Control Month" proclaimed by Governor Farris Bryant to be in April. During Crusade Day a house to house canvas will be made to receive funds for the local chapter.

In proclaiming April as Cancer Control Month the Governor stated: "1963 has been designated as the Year of the Volunteer by the American Cancer Society. It is a tribute to more than 65,000 men and women in Florida, and the 2,000,000 throughout the nation, who have dedicated themselves to the fight against cancer.

"The recognition of the volunteer also serves to emphasize how these dedicated people have helped to bring progress in cancer control, evidenced by the fact that more than 1,300,000 Americans are alive and well, five years after attacks from cancer. In 1937, the figure stood at only 100,000.

"To speed the final victory over cancer, and try to reduce cancer's mounting death rate of more than 8,300 citizens in Florida alone, the American Cancer Society is determined to intensify its effort to bring life-saving facts to the public to improve services to the cancer patient, and to accelerate its cancer research programs. "To this end, every citizen of the state of Florida is urged to observe Cancer Control Month by giving support to the American Cancer Society and learn the facts about cancer that are vital to personal protection against the disease."

Mrs. Lampman Honored At Coffee

The NAS Sanford BOQ was the scene of a recent farewell coffee for Mrs. Lester H. Lampman, whose husband had earlier that day turned over the command of VAH-11 to Cdr. John F. Barlow aboard the U.S.S. Franklin D. Roosevelt in the Mediterranean. Following a brief stopover in Sanford by Cdr. Lampman, the family will move to their next duty station in Norfolk, Va.

Nearly a hundred members of the various Officers Wives Clubs aboard the Station attended the coffee, which was given by members of the Checkertail group. The black and white Checkertail motif formed the basis of the color scheme of the decorations, which were keyed by an unusual cake centerpiece on the main table. The cake featured a doll dressed with flowers colored in black and white with streamers and flowers fanning out from the base.

Other handsome arrangements of flowers and candles in silver candelabra were spotted about the reception room of the BOQ, and a banner wishing Mrs. Lampman good luck formed the backdrop of the main table, flanked by two squadron insignia. Coffee, tea and punch were served with a wide variety of breads, cakes, cookies and canapés made by the VAH-11 wives.

It was evident that spring had arrived in Sanford by the colorful dresses worn by the guests. Mrs. Lampman wore white with black accessories for the occasion. Both she and Mrs. Barlow, new president of the group, wore white cor-sages.

After Mrs. Lampman had

Butts Passed Vital Information-Cook

ATLANTA (UPI)—Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook puts the finishing touches today to an investigation which he said indicates that Wally Butts passed "vital information" to Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant.

Cook said the information could have affected the outcome of last year's Alabama-Georgia game which Alabama won 35-0.

Butts was the athletic director at the University of Georgia at the time. He resigned the post in February. Cook made his investigation under orders from Gov. Carl E. Sanders. The attorney general is to hand his report of the matter over to Sanders Tuesday.

Pivic Paces Seminole Win Over Leesburg

Larry Pivic drove in five runs and Rick Gallagher slammed in three to pace the Sanford Seminoles to a 10-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Pepitone, who bats and throws left-handed, now leads the power-laden world champions in homers and also has batted in 14 runs.

But Pepitone, showed flashes of brilliance in his rookie year last season although hitting only 239 in 63 games, has the Yankee brass breathing easier.

Cletis Boyer got four hits and Hector Lopez homered in the Yankees' 17-hit attack against the White Sox.

In other games, Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves shut out the Baltimore Orioles, 2-0; the Los Angeles Dodgers outslug the Cincinnati Reds, 10-8; the New York Mets dominated the Kansas City Athletics, 6-1; the Philadelphia Phillies edged the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3; the Washington Senators tripped the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-2; and the Detroit Tigers defeated the Minnesota Twins, 6-3.

SOKC Sets Marathon Classic On Saturday

Highlight this week at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club is the running on Saturday night of the second annual Marathon Speed Classic.

There will be two races in which 16 of the track's top distance runners will tour the long 1/4-mile course. The winner of either race, who turns in the fastest clocking, is the victor.

The event created a great deal of interest when it was started last year. At that time the honor went to Fred Whitehead's Mac Tray, who covered the distance in 40.36 seconds.

King's Eye's, a sensational two-year-old, who recently sky-rocketed from Grade M to feature competition with six straight victories, returns to action tonight in the featured ninth race after a lay-off of more than two weeks.

Opposing King's Eye's in the evening top attraction will be Fred B., Sarasota Suncoast, Good Timing, Kevin's Pal, Mr. Tall Man, Lou Hayoc and Abigail Sue.

CWGA To Host DeLand Women

The Casselberry Women's Golf Assn. will hold the last in a series of Invitational Tournaments for this year on Thursday at the Country Club at Casselberry when they host the DeLand Women's Assn.

Play will tee off at 9 a.m. for 18 holes and luncheon will be served in the clubhouse at 1:30 p.m.

Last Thursday 16 members of the Casselberry group were entertained for play and luncheon at the Mid-Florida Country Club.

Ortiz Resumes Bout Training

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI)—World lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz hoped to resume training today for his rescheduled title defense against Cuba's Douglas Vailant here next Sunday.

The bout, originally scheduled for last Saturday night, was postponed when Ortiz suffered a gastric upset shortly before the weigh-in.

Photographer Almost Ruins Barber's Bid

WILMINGTON, N.C. (UPI) Attable Jerry Barber had a feeling he would win his third Azalea Open golf tournament, but a news photographer almost spoiled things for him.

"It happened on the 37th hole," said a happy Barber, who strung together fivebirdies on the back nine Sunday to win the tournament going away with a 14-under-par 274. At this juncture, the Los Angeles pro already had a four-stroke lead.

"But one bad shot could have made it a new ball game," he said. "Right in the middle of my swing I heard the camera click. I finished.

"Luckily the ball went straight. But it could have wound up in a clump of trees or in a creek and I would have been in trouble. "He could have blown me right out of the picture."

We found a quicker way for fast, fast, fast relief. We turned off the television set.

Mid-Florida Invitational Winners Set

Winners in the Mid-Florida Country Club Women's Invitational Golf Tournament Thursday were in two categories, Casselberry and Mid-Florida.

Casselberry winners included the following: Low net, Rita Blyer, 66; second low net, Betty Vickers; low gross Barbara McKinnon, 88; second low gross, Georgina Neundorf, 91; least putts, Evelyn McCullen and Doris Kobylak, 33.

Mid-Florida Club winners were: Low gross, Mary Horenstein, 92; second low gross, Dol Brown, 105; Low net, Betty Swope, 78; second low net (tie) Fanny Kramer and Frances Towles, 81; least putts, Helen Croyle, 33.

Lyman Drops 7-2 Decision

Lyman made three errors which led to four unearned runs as Titusville rapped Lyman 7-2 in baseball action Friday.

Dan Coley hurled for the Terriers and also batted out a two-run home-run to aid the Titusville cause.

It was the third defeat of the season for the Greyhounds against five victories.

Griffin hurled for Lyman and was tagged with the loss.

Foulk Cops Golfing Honors

Jeanne Foulk took low gross honors in the qualifying round of the Sanford Atlantic Bank golf tourney of the Women's Assn. of the Mair-fair.

Ginny Shedd had low net while Martha Zak scored low putts.

The first matches for the title will start Friday. In regular weekly tourney play, Class A winner was Grace Saylor, 64; Myrtle Adams, Class B; Ginny Shedd, Class C and Peggy Hillips, Class D.

Builders Sock Ormond Twice

Kingswood Builders putting on a hitting display seldom seen in baseball socked Ormond Beach in a double header Sunday 17-5 and 17-12.

The Builders banged out a total of 43 hits in the double-header.

Rud Moncriel with an iron arm performance hurled both games. Home runs included Harvey, 2; Metts and Dandridge.

The Boston Red Sox beat the Chicago Cubs, 3-1, the Houston Colts ripped the Los Angeles Angels, 9-3, and the Cleveland Indians handed the San Francisco Giants their seventh straight loss, 7-6.

The veteran Burdette became the Braves first pitcher to pitch nine innings and bolstered his chances of regaining a starting turn after last year's disappointing season. He held the Orioles to five hits while Frank Bolling and Hank Aaron drove in the Milwaukee runs.

Rookie third baseman Ken McMullen collected three hits, including two doubles, and drove home four runs for the Dodgers. Jay Hook went the route for the Mets, allowing seven hits and striking out nine.

Jack Hamilton's four innings of scoreless relief pitched and Cookie Rojas' 10th inning single provided the Phils with their victory. Rookie Tom Brown continued his hot hitting by breaking a 2-2 tie with a bases loaded single for Minnesota.

New Resuscitation Method Shown For Bear Lake Club

By Shirley Wentworth
The new life saving method of "mouth to nose" resuscitation developed in Australia and rapidly being adopted for general use was demonstrated Tuesday night by Seminole Chapter Representatives of the American Red Cross for members of the Bear Lake Home Demonstration Club.

The program on water safety and resuscitation was given by Mrs. Edith Avenel and Mrs. Colleen Stewart who also demonstrated the step by step procedures of mouth to mouth resuscitation using the life sized dummy "Annie" and guided each club member through the life saving routine.

Red Cross as yet has not wholly approved the new mouth to nose techniques although the mouth to mouth method, developed and used first by lifesaving teams in Norway, is approved and has been in use for some time, the representatives advised.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Russell Goomis with Mrs. Raymond Jackson, club president, presiding.

Mrs. Jackson announced that arrangements have been completed for the club to tour a furniture store on the evening of May 2 beginning at 7:30 p. m. She also announced that the Bear Lake group had received an invitation to attend the May 15 all day meeting of the Geneva Club.

'Featherbedding' Ruling

Rail Tie-Up Threat Seen

BULLETIN

CHICAGO (UPI) — The nation's railroads, freed of a restraining injunction, announced today they will put anti-featherbedding work rules changes into effect April 8 which could touch off a nationwide rail strike.

Rail officials are expecting that President Kennedy will appoint an emergency board for a 60-day "cooling off" period aimed at heading off a nationwide rail-road strike as the result of the court ruling handed down today in Chicago.

Local rail officers, requesting their names not be published, said this appears to be the only alternative at this point. The emergency board would study the facts in the matter for 30 days and then offer recommendations "for a solution to the President, the railroads and the employees."

The Herald sought at noon today by telephone to obtain a statement from W. Thomas Rife, president of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, but was informed by his Jacksonville office that "he is out of the city."

CHICAGO (UPI) — A federal district judge lifted an injunction and set the stage today for the nation's railroads to order sweeping anti-featherbedding work rules changes.

The railroads were expected to announce shortly that the work rules would become effective immediately. The action could result in a nationwide strike threat.

The representatives of the railroads had been restrained since last July from placing the proposed work rules changes into effect.

In dissolving the injunction, Judge Joseph Sam Perry told 200 persons awaiting citizenship ceremonies in his chambers that they were witnessing a "phase in railroad history."

Perry praised the railroads and five on-train brotherhoods, who have fought the proposed changes, for their conduct in the case which finally was decided by the U. S. Supreme Court on March 4.

Perry said his action meant there now is nothing to bar the railroads from starting the work rules changes which are expected to eliminate at least 65,000 jobs.

One of the first effects of the work rule changes probably would be the most drastic — the elimination of jobs which the railroads consider unnecessary. These were primarily firemen's jobs on diesel engines in freight and yard service.

About 15,000 — those with less than 10 years seniority — were expected to be separated or furloughed within one year with three months to one year notice.

About 40,000 firemen would be affected over a period of five to 10 years.

Some of the work rule changes would become effective within days. Others might take weeks, months and even years to make effective, railroad spokesmen said.

Reds Shoot For Moon

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today launched a space rocket destined for the moon, the official news agency Tass announced.

Tass said the final stage of the rocket follows the pre-set trajectory of the flight.

It said an automatic station "moon-4," weighing 1,122 kilograms (1,130 pounds) is installed aboard the rocket. The automatic station is expected to reach the area of the moon in three and a half days.

Tass said all apparatus aboard the automatic station is functioning normally.

It was the second unmanned space launch from the Soviet Union this year. Last month, scientists sent up Cosmos 13, and unmanned sputnik which went into an earth orbit.

Moscow radio said the last stage of the rocket was put into an intermediate orbit and from there was sent toward the moon.

Tass said in a statement: "In accordance with the program for exploration of outer space and planets of the solar system, a space rocket was launched in the Soviet Union on April 2 toward the moon."

"The final stage of the rocket was preliminarily set on an intermediate orbit of the earth's manned sputnik, then was launched and emerged onto the pre-set trajectory of the flight."

Army Takes Over In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Retired military officers proclaimed a revolt today to block what they termed a threatened Communist takeover, but the government scoffed at the uprising.

The Defense Ministry described the political dissidents as retired army and navy officers and die-hard anti-Peronists engaged "only in psychological action."

The government claimed "absolute calm" in all commands at midday. The statement contrasted sharply with the rebel proclamation of a "national revolution."

Rebel broadcasts identified aged retired Lt. Gen. Benjamin Menendez as "commander-in-chief of the revolution." Solo casualty of the revolt up to midday was a general who was wounded by gunmen who sped past his home.

The rebellion appeared to be an attempt to block the government's plan to allow supporters of ousted former President Juan D. Peron to participate in elections scheduled for June 23. Brazilian Communists have supported Peronist candidates in past elections.

Barnett said Monday in Jackson that Negro demonstrations in this delta town were like "a loaded bomb resting in a street" and that state and local authorities had the right to remove such dangers.

Bomb Threat

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The cabinet approved a pardon today for Herman Grizard, 20, sentenced to two years in prison for falsely reporting a bomb in a school.

"No recent session of this legislature has been confronted with fiscal problems as difficult as those we are now called upon to solve," said Carraway.

"Not since the end of World War Two have the demands for capital and administrative outlay pressed us so hard."

"Budget demands must be subjected to long and thoughtful hours of scrutiny. Every ounce of fat must be taken out, but at the same time, every pressing need must be met. Each request for funds must have your cold and impersonal consideration."

"We can be neither ingardly nor liberal."

Kennedy Proposes $420 Million Cut Of Aid Requested

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy, faced with an economy-minded Congress, took the unusual step today of cutting $120 million from his foreign aid request.

Kennedy adopted many of the recommendations for tightening up aid made to him last month by a citizens' committee headed by retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

In a new proposal to spur economic development overseas through private channels, the President called for a tax credit for U. S. taxpayers who invest in developing countries.

Anderson North Orlando Mayor

First fully elected Town Council of North Orlando in a brief initial session chose W. W. Anderson as mayor Monday evening.

Anderson, a holdover from the March 1962 election, and Arthur Ferrin, elected last month, were chosen to head the five-man Council. Anderson succeeds Frank Fasula as mayor. Ferrin was named vice mayor.

Holdover with Anderson is Robert Stephenson, also elected last year.

Circuit Judge Volle A. Williams Jr. administered oath of office Monday evening to those elected to the Council last month: Mrs. Irene Van Espool, Ferrin and Arthur Rhodes. These three succeeded North Orlando Company-appointed councilmen.

Anderson called for a vote for a mayor. The Council members, themselves were crowded out of the small office by well-wishers.

Mrs. Van Espool failed the vote; Anderson, 3; Ferrin, 1; Rhodes, 1. Anderson called for a vote for a vice mayor and Ferrin won 3-2.

The new mayor then asked for a nomination for a temporary town clerk. Mrs. Van Espool nominated Mrs. Barbara Peters and she was chosen for Monday night's meeting. It was learned another nomination will be in order for a town clerk at the first regular session of the new Town Council at 8 p. m. today.

It also was learned Anderson already is proposing to raise $10,000 for the construction of a fire hall and town offices.

At the conclusion of Monday evening's session, Anderson had this to say, as North Orlando's new mayor: "As far as I am concerned the village was born tonight. Let's forget what has happened heretofore. It is dead, done and over with. Now, we are going to try to go forward."

Anderson was referring to disension which has marked North Orlando's progress from its inception.
