Cathy loves to answer the phone, even though the calls aren't for her.

You can Imagine how thrilling this moment was. There was really a call for Cathy.

We watched her shining smile . . . and listened to her shy, awkward replies. "That was Miss Ferring," she informed us with a slight air of sophistication. "And who in the world is Miss Ferring?" we asked, "Oh, she's my Sunday School teacher. I thought you knew-" A dedicated Christian volunteer was devoting her time and talents to the religious growth of our Cathy-and we didn't even know her name!

We'll remember that call. It brought us to our senses-and to our Church! Copyright 1964, Kaister Advertising Service, Inc., Streeburg, Va.

Must Impose Full Cash Value

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) -Atty. Gen. James W. Kynes is the duty of the full cash or just value.

The attorney general said full cash value and just value were for all practical pur-Kynes wrote the opinion for Comptroller Ray E. Green and for the Cabinet Budget Commission, who sought advice on their duties in requiring assessors to live up to property valuation laws.

Kynes said the comptroller, under supervision of the Budget Commission, was suthorized, if not directed, to notify the county assessors to base property valuations on full cash or just value.

He said if they failed to comply, the comptroller was to use whatever action necessary, including going into court, to force compliance.

Under the law and under decisions of the courts, said Kynes, "it is clearly the duty and obligation of the county assessors of taxes, as well as the Board of County Commissioners sitting as boards of tax equalization, to assess all real and tangible personal property on the basis of full cash or just value and, where equalization is necessary, to equalize on that basis."

The opinion said the comptroller should not take over from the local assessors initial valuation of properties nor should be attempt to sit as a board of equalizer.

Illegal Use Of Guns

United States Congress and the legislatures of all of the 50 states of our Union, except Kentucky, Mississippi, and Virginia, are scheduled to convene in regular session 43 in January, 2 in February, one in April, and 2 in May. This situation is certain to produce a large number of bills to control the ownership and use of firearms. Many anti-gun laws will be proposed by persons who believe that such a law will prevent crime or that it will assist in the arrest and conviction of criminals.

The American people seem to have developed an inclination to try to eliminate problems by passing laws. especially laws prohibiting people from doing things by which a small minority cause trouble. Much of the sentiment against people owning and using firearms is based very largely on a notion that if guns were more strictly regulated there would not be so many murders and robberies and such. Most proposed firearms legislation is pointed in the wrong direction. It disarms the honest, law-abiding citizen, while it fails miserably in its avowed purpose of disarming the criminal. It is aimed at outlawing the gun rather than punishing the criminal who uses the gun for an illegal purpose.

No legislation can prevent criminals from securing and using guns. Reputable gun owners maintain that legislation should not be aimed at the firearm but at its misuse. They do not oppose reasonable legislation regulating the carrying of a concealed handgun, but they do oppose the theory that a target shooter, a hunter, or a collector should be required to meet the same conditions. They do oppose legislation which denies or interfers with individual rights of our citizens or is designed purely for the convenience of law enforcement or for the purpose of circumventing due process of law in order to more easily obtain convictions.

During the next few months, the In their concern with trying to prevent the use of firearms in crime, too many people forget that the right to keep and bear arms is critically significant to a free people. It is not by accident or merely because of the temper and conditions of the times that a guarantee of the right of the people to keep and bear arms is the second item in the Bill of Rights. Like other protections of the individual in the Constitution, as originally amended, this was a product of a knowledge and understanding of history-the kind of history which those who fail to understand are doomed to repeat.

As we strive to solve the problem of increasing crime in some areas. our efforts must be based on reason and knowledge, not on emotions or misinformation. Existing laws must be strictly enforced with severe additional penalties for individuals who use a firearm in the commission of a crime. Any proposed legislation must not be directed at firearms or the right to keep and bear arms, but at the illegal use of guns.

Thought For Today

In the morning sow your seed, and at evening withhold not your hand; for you do not know which will prosper, this or that, or whether both alike will be good .- Eccl. 11:6.

No race can prosper until it learns that there is as much dignity in tilling a field as in writing a poem .-Booker T. Washington.

Honor your father and your mother, that your days may be long in the land which the Lord your God gives you.—Exodus 20:12.

Every man is his own ancestor, and every man is his own heir. He devises his own future, and he inherits his own past.—Frederick H.
