Rosenwald: Old Tune With Harsh Tones For Seminole

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

Like the proverbial fog which rises over early morning London, the clouds of America's deep-seated racial unrest have cast their shadow over Seminole County. Anger, boycotts, the threat of further countywide boycotts and pending lawsuits symbolize the black reaction to a school board decision to phase out their 49-year-old school in Altamonte Springs.

Each of their anger, blacks say, about the phasing out of Rosenwald Elementary School is directed toward School Supt. William Layer, the top administrator in this county's school system. Blacks say Layer is the root of their frustration — unbending, inflexible and unresponsive to their needs.

But reason is often swayed by the event, and in time blacks will realize the decision to bus their children to Casseberry Elementary, a 16-year-old school, came not from Layer, but was mandated by the county school board which is elected by the people and as such is held responsible to their needs.

It is true, that Layer opposed the "minority white paper" recommended by the protesting Rosenwald black

County Requests Measure To Cut Duties Of Clerk

By BILL BELLEVILLE
Herald Staff Writer

County commissioners met with representatives from Public Research and Management in Altamonte Friday in an effort to review recommendations from county department heads concerning re-organization.

The Altamonte firm had recommended the re-organization of the 22 departments in a detailed efficiency study presented to the commissioners this fall. Board members have been meeting in work sessions to discuss details of the report.

In an effort to avoid duplication of efforts, to speed up county government operation, the county commission segment of government will be organized into eight, and eventually reduced to five departments. Past discussion has already touched on the report's recommendation for a county executive type of government, but commissioners have indicated no firm stands publicly on the recommendations.

In the first step towards significant re-organization of the county clerk's office, the Board this week unanimously agreed to direct county attorney Tom Freeman to draw up a bill that would divide the clerk's office between actual court duties and fiscal duties.

Under the new proposal, County Clerk Arthur Beck's office would be limited to circuit and county court activities, while a professional controller would be appointed to function as clerk to the Board, auditor, and clerk of all county funds.

Although some courthouse observers see this as a threat to Beck's authority as elected clerk, commissioners say that they need a professional department head to handle fiscal activities.

Sanford businessman, Harold Kastner has been appointed director general of the Shriners Convention coming to Central Florida Aug. 21-22. It is expected to attract more than 20,000 Shriners making it the largest convention ever held in Central Florida.

County Thieves Work '9 To 5'

By GLENN MC-CASLAND
Herald Staff Writer

Burglars in Seminole County seem to prefer daylight hours to do their work.

Or so the figures from the Seminole County Sheriff's Department would indicate.

Break-ins of county residences from November, 1974, through January, 1975, show a steady rise in daylight robberies. A total of 135 homes have been targets of intruders during the three month span, Sheriff John Polk's records division reports show, for 32.3 per cent of the total number of break-ins logged in that period.

483 Total

Breaking and enterings for the three months total 483 — both nonresidence and residence pacing crime figures that show a steady increase in the unincorporated county sections.

Burglars still prefer night hours, however, for business raids with 67 recorded after dark as compared with 16 confirmed daylight jobs.

While the burglary rate climbed, a total of $420,874 in property of all types was stolen in 1,246 actual offenses. January's property loss was the highest at $158,941, while the crime report revealed November as recording the highest number of offenses with 481.

Property taken in burglaries totaled $172,111 with vehicle thefts totaling $133,522 and larceny, except vehicle, hitting the $106,725 mark.

Most police officials feel the burglary figures will continue to increase as the economy remains unstable or depressed.

Robberies

Armed robberies have become another major problem with nine committed within the county alone in January and 21 during December and November.

The offense reports, used to compile a picture of Seminole County crime for the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE), does not show vandalism, but Capt. Roy Rice has indicated this is one of the leading complaints in early 1975.

Vandalism reports are up, he says, along with crimes against persons, robberies and burglaries.

Homicide and rape figures remain constant with one murder reported in January as compared to one in December and none in November. Two rapes were logged as compared with seven in December and three in November, with all figures including attempted assaults.

Armed robberies in a residence jumped from two for two months to three in January while the "highway robbery" classification remained at a normal mark of four as compared with five in both December and November.

Crime reports reveal thieves are taking inventory which can be easily converted into cash, such as tape decks, stereos and other such items.

Cash is still the most sought-after item, however, armed gunmen are taking other materials such as foodstuffs and small appliances.

The "boom" growth of south Seminole County has increased the workload of the sheriff's department and crime figures reveal a hike in the offense rate. Law enforcement officials point out, however, that an increase in arrests, number of officers on the road and patrol activity will also show a crime rate increase.

The figures show a constant rise in almost every offense category and if indications from the January report are any guide, that increase will be the rule, rather than an exception during the rest of 1975.

Students Sought For European Visit

By ELDA NICHOLS
Herald Correspondent

Craig Keogh, Social Studies teacher at Milwee Middle School, has high hopes of visiting either England or France next summer, with a group of Middle School youngsters.

"Last Spring we had been studying about Europe, and some of the students thought it would be a great idea to actually visit the area," said Keogh. "We looked into all the possibilities and came up with a pretty good package tour. The group would leave Orlando; fly on a chartered jet, with everything included in the price of $725, per student. Any middle school age youngster could broaden his scope of understanding by taking the tour."

Keogh explained that 150 students are needed to get the package price, and ninth graders are also eligible. The tour would include the first two weeks in August, but students wishing to go should make a $100 deposit by Feb. 20. Bertie Loftin, Sun Travel, Altamonte.

"March 1 is the last day we have in deciding if we will or won't go," said Keogh. "This trip would be activity oriented. There would be plenty of learning by osmosis. The actual amount of educational benefits derived would be hard to measure, and any youngster could broaden his scope of understanding by taking the tour."

Doctor Appeals Lawsuit

A South Seminole chiropractor has filed suit in circuit court at Sanford seeking to block the suspension of his license for 90 days by the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

The action, filed by attorney Seymour Benson for Fred Seltzer, registered chiropractor, alleges Seltzer wasn't given adequate notice by the state board of charges against him before a Jan. 9 hearing at Orlando.

Robert H. Hendler, president of the state board, according to the lawsuit, signed an order Jan. 25 suspending Seltzer's state license for 90 days, effective March 2.

The civil action alleges there also were a number of errors in the hearing including "errors committed in the inception of the complaint and notice to show cause as based upon improper affidavits."

Seltzer is seeking a temporarily restraining order against the state board pending a hearing on his petition for a preliminary injunction until a judicial review of the matter is completed.

No date has been set for a hearing in the action which has been assigned to Circuit Court Judge Robert B. McCreger.

Clean Fishing Camps May Remain Compromise Seen On Wekiva

MICKEY LAURICH/KING Herald Staff Writer

The ironic plight of the fishing camp owners on the Wekiva River, which was beginning to read like nothing but bad news, now is developing into a compromise situation which may mean rewards to everyone involved.

The compromise is tentative and will be as much as six months to a year in the making, but could result in having the Wekiva designated a "scenic river" while allowing the well-kept fishing camps to remain on the river.

This compromise however is in direct conflict with the intentions of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund, which holds the property title to the islands where the camps are located and has the authority to remove the camps. The IIF wants all of the more than 50 camps, well-kept and run-down, removed from the islands, in order that the river may qualify for the "scenic river" designation, a move sought by local environmental groups.

But an official with the department of Natural Resources in Tallahassee said it may be worked out so the Wekiva can receive the designation and the well-kept camps be allowed to remain.

John Squire, administrator with the parks and recreation division, said if the well-kept camps are allowed to remain, the river could still "possibly" meet the requirements for the "scenic river" designation. But he pointed out this was just an alternative solution.

Squire said the first draft on study to determine if the Wekiva meets the criteria for the designation is being prepared now and that a meeting with state officials and the local public will be held shortly before the department makes its recommendations on the designation to the governor and cabinet.

But, Squire was quick to point out that at the present time, with the number of run-down camps on the islands, the river would not meet the criteria.

If the river did not meet the criteria because of the camps, it is expected that the IIF would then enforce its authority to have all of the camps removed. It has been no secret that removal of the camps, in order that the river could be designated, has been the intent of the IIF since winning a lawsuit in 1974 giving the state ownership of the islands.

Herein lies the ironic twist to the camp owners' story. They had been locked in a lawsuit that had been dragging on for five years and had cost the owners $8,000 over the ownership rights of the islands.

The camp owners contended the state owned the islands and were fighting to prevent a private owner from taking the islands.

The IIF then "brought its guns to bear" in the case and won, according to Ross McVoy, general counsel for the IIF. This is the hard lump the camp owners are having trouble in swallowing, because McVoy said he made it clear during the lawsuit that if the state won, the camp owners would probably have to move.

"At no time did I tell anybody that they would be able to stay forever," McVoy said.

So the camp owners, behind the work of Delbert Egan, and Harriet Milton, president of the Wekiva Camp Owners Association, have battled for a compromise to lease the property from the state, and for the time being it looks as if they have succeeded. Squire said that if the camps are not forced out by the IIF, the run-down camps are removed, and the river's aesthetic quality is allowed to remain that the scenic designation possibly could be secured.

He said another survey of the river may be conducted in six months to a year to determine if the river could meet the criteria of the "scenic designation."

The IIF at the present time is lax on pressuring the camp owners to move out, but should no action be taken to begin removal of the dilapidated shacks, the IIF would probably put its foot down and the camp owners would have run out of alternatives.

First Trial Slated In Police Theft Ring

BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer

The first of eight suspects arrested in connection with an alleged Sanford police burglary ring is scheduled to go on trial in circuit court at Sanford this week.

Raleigh Paul Sessions, 22, of 428 Scott Avenue, Sanford, was suspended from his job as an auxiliary policeman and city building inspector, officials said, following his arrest Jan. 9 as a result of an internal investigation by the police department in a series of burglaries.

Sessions is scheduled for trial on charges of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny. He is free on his own recognizance pending trial.

26 Trials

Twenty-six trials are docketed before Circuit Court Judge Clarence T. Johnson Jr., starting Monday. Court procedure is to "sound" the docket on Monday and determine the order of trials during the remainder of the week.

Three men are scheduled for separate trials in robbery cases. Ervin Edwards Jr., 17, of Seminole Gardens Apartments, Sanford, was indicted by the grand jury as an adult on charges of robbery and use of a firearm in commission of a felony.

John Henry Mobley Jr., 19, of Oviedo, was indicted on robbery, use of a firearm in commission of a felony and possession of a short barreled shotgun charges in connection with the January sawed-off shotgun holdup of Jet's Grocery, Oviedo.

Also slated for trial on robbery and use of a firearm in commission of a felony charges is Johnny Perkins, 18, of Castle Brewer Court, Sanford.

Former Resident

A former Sanford resident, Spencer Green, 30, of Winter Garden, faces trial on charges of reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident, attempting to elude an officer and no driver's license in connection with a spectacular Jan. 11, 1974 auto crash at Five Points, south of Sanford on U.S. 1727 in which a car being Casselberry police after a hit and run accident, literally leaped the four lane divided highway and landed on top of new cars in a sales lot at Town and Country Lincoln Mercury.

Benny Payne, 20, of Sanford, is scheduled for trial on an attempted murder, first degree arson, throwing a destructive device and conspiracy charges in connection with a May 1 firebombing incident at the home of Seminole Deputy Sheriff Lake Stallworth at Sanford.

Three persons arrested by police in a Jan. 11 raid at Silvertip Tavern, W. 12th St., Sanford, are scheduled for separate trials.

Gambling

Edna Pearl Smith, 50, of 1900 W. 18th St., Sanford, is charged with gambling. Marvin Harris, 36, of 1201 1/2 W. 12th St., and Vera Patricia Burke, 20, William Clark Court, both Sanford, face trials on charges of delivery of a controlled substance.

Three persons arrested in connection with a three-county burglary ring that sheriff's detectives said was believed responsible for 30 per cent of burglaries prior to Jan. 13, in north Orange, Seminole and south Volusia counties are also docketed for trial.

Lawrence Grant Shaser, 20, of 441 Trails Court, Calaboo, is accused of possession of burglary tools. Robert Lee Boothe, 39, of 216 S. Central Ave., Oviedo, and Roy Edward Swain, 37, of P.O. Box 152, Longwood, are charged with buying, receiving and concealing stolen property.

Other cases docketed for trial during the week include: Gerald Costello, 19, of 163 Burns Ave., Lake Mary, breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony — Bob Griffin, of Sanford, manslaughter — Truby Robinson Walden, 27, of 2860 W. 28th St., Sanford, delivery of a controlled substance.

Krohne, Tyre Post High Service Mark Adult Scouts Aid To Youth

By JANE CASSELLBERRY Herald Staff Writer

The happy character building experience of Scouting would not be possible for thousands of boys in the county if it were not for the dedicated adults who provide the necessary leadership and support.

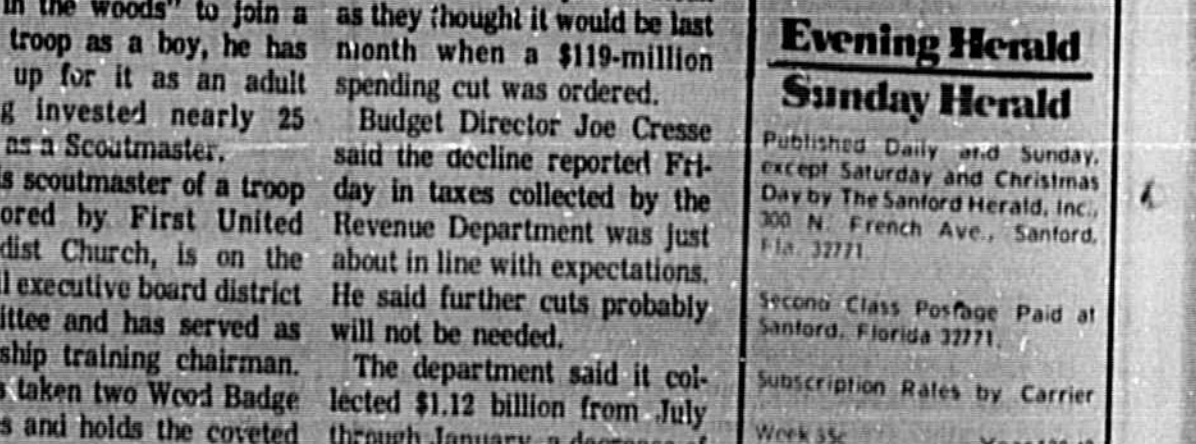

Two of these Seminole Scouters who have each invested a quarter century of devotion to Scouting are Walter J. Krohne Jr. of Longwood and W.W. Tyre Sr. of Sanford. Chairman of the Properties Committee for Central Florida Council, Krohne has been in Scouting for 25 years—two as a boy and 23 in Florida as an adult scouter. He has served as a scoutmaster, cubmaster, troop committeeman, district committeeman and as district commissioner.

On the executive board of the council for 20 years, he has taken Scouts to the 1969 Jamboree in Colorado, the 1973 Jamboree East in Pittsburgh and a tour of Germany in 1974. His son achieved the Silver Beaver award. He has taken Scouts to the Philmont Scout Ranch, to the 1960 Jamboree in Colorado, the 1973 Jamboree East in Pittsburgh and a tour of Germany in 1974. His son achieved the Eagle Scout rank.

"I just like to work with the boys," Tyre explained, "it is worthwhile if in trying to teach the ideals of Scouting you can help just one boy become trustworthy."

Tax Collection Figures Confirm A Bleak Picture

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Officials say new tax-collection figures show the state revenue picture to be just as bleak as they thought it would be last month when a $119-million spending cut was ordered. Budget Director Joe Cresse said the decline reported Friday in taxes collected by the Revenue Department was just about in line with expectations. He said further cuts probably will not be needed. The department said it collected $1.12 billion from July through January, a decrease of

Drug Indictment Hands Man Bond Of $500,000

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP) — A Bay County man was in jail today in lieu of $500,000 bond after being arrested on an indictment filed by a statewide grand jury in a probe of drug traffic in Florida.

State Atty. Leo Jones said Ralph E. Spinks, 60, was charged Friday with "conspiracy with others to distribute marijuana between Feb. 13, 1973 and May 31, 1973 in Bay County."

Spinks was accused in connection with a ring that brought marijuana from Colombia and Jamaica and distributed it in North Florida, according to Ralph Natter, assistant state attorney in Hillsborough County.

Transport System Eyed

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Two state agencies have agreed to work together to improve transportation facilities for Florida's elderly, handicapped and poor.

The agreement was signed Friday by Transportation Secretary Tom Webb and O.J. Keller, Health and Rehabilitative Services secretary. Webb pledged that his department would consider the elderly, handicapped and poor in mass transit planning, and would give city and county governments technical assistance in developing transportation for them.

Keller agreed his agency would seek federal funds to assist in transportation for the poor and would consider transportation in planning social services.

Cocaine Arrests Made

MIAMI (AP) — An appearance before a U.S. Magistrate is scheduled for Tuesday for three persons charged with selling a pound of cocaine to undercover agents.

A spokesman for the Drug Enforcement Administration identified those arrested Friday as Samuel A. Rosenbaum, 27, of Miami; Florence A. Bronstein, 30, of Lake Park; and Christine L. Bush, 27, of Palm Beach.

The spokesman said the drug had a street value of more than $20,000.

New Christian, O'Malley Charges Loom

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)

A grand jury that may consider new indictments against former Education Commissioner Floyd Christian or Treasurer Thomas O'Malley has scheduled a session for next week.

There were reports this week that the Leon County Grand Jury planned to issue indictments next Friday after a Thursday session.

But the indictments may involve matters other than re-indictment of O'Malley and Christian.

A grand jury special prosecutor, Asst. State Atty. Robert Willis of Jacksonville, would not comment Friday on the grand jury's purposes in meeting the grand jury and filing indictments against Christian.

The Florida Supreme Court upheld a ruling Monday that 19 counts of bribery, perjury and conspiracy against Christian were defective. An order formally dismissing the charges is expected from Leon County Circuit Judge John Rudd by the middle of next week.

State Atty. T. Edward Austin of Jacksonville, head of the special prosecution team, may be leaning toward by-passing the grand jury and filing direct charges against Christian.

The grand jury's extended term expires on March 2, which means delays in a formal order dismissing the Christian charges could keep the panel from considering new indictments. Direct charges filed by Austin would be speedier.

Austin can dismiss charges against Christian and O'Malley at any time. But Willis said the prosecutors plan to wait until they receive the order requiring them to do so.

"Whenever the mandate comes down, I think you can expect in a very short time thereafter that Mr. Christian will be recharged," Willis said.

The probability of a direct charge against Christian focuses attention on O'Malley as the likely subject of next week's grand jury action.

The Christian ruling does not encompass the O'Malley case but affects his indictments. The same issue, a finding that Austin and assistants were improperly assigned, is involved in the O'Malley case.

The grand jury indicted O'Malley in October on two charges.

Spending Cuts Imperative Need

The $349 billion budget submitted to Congress by President Ford and its anticipated $52 billion deficit are of a magnitude that staggers the imagination.

The more we contemplate it, however, the more frightening that budget becomes. It is like watching a fire burn out of control and looking over our shoulders for a fire department that is nowhere in sight.

Mr. Ford no doubt has the assurance of his economic advisers that it is safe to plunge deeper into deficit financing for the sake of stimulating recovery from recession — that the inflationary impact of his budget can be tolerated. He has doubtless been assured that adding this new deficit to the $28 billion deficit in the current budget will not impede the recovery he seeks by sending the government into money markets to borrow a total of $80 billion.

The Keynesian theory of using deficit budgets to combat recession would support this policy. However, the late Lord Keynes would surely be shocked at what our government has done with his principles, which provide that in normal times there must be budget surpluses to offset recession deficits and thus prevent inflation. Our federal budget has had a surplus only twice in 15 years.

Mr. Ford has appealed for a spirit of "honest self-denial" in Congress to make the $17 billion cuts in federal programs which are necessary to hold the projected 1975-76 deficit to $52 billion. Many members of Congress already are expressing doubts that they can manage to cut that amount.

The President's budget at least recognizes a need for keeping a pump-priming deficit from being so large that it patently surrenders the economy to destructive inflation. To ignore that need for restraint Congress would have to assume that the American people simply do not care how badly their income, savings and security are being gnawed away by inflation.

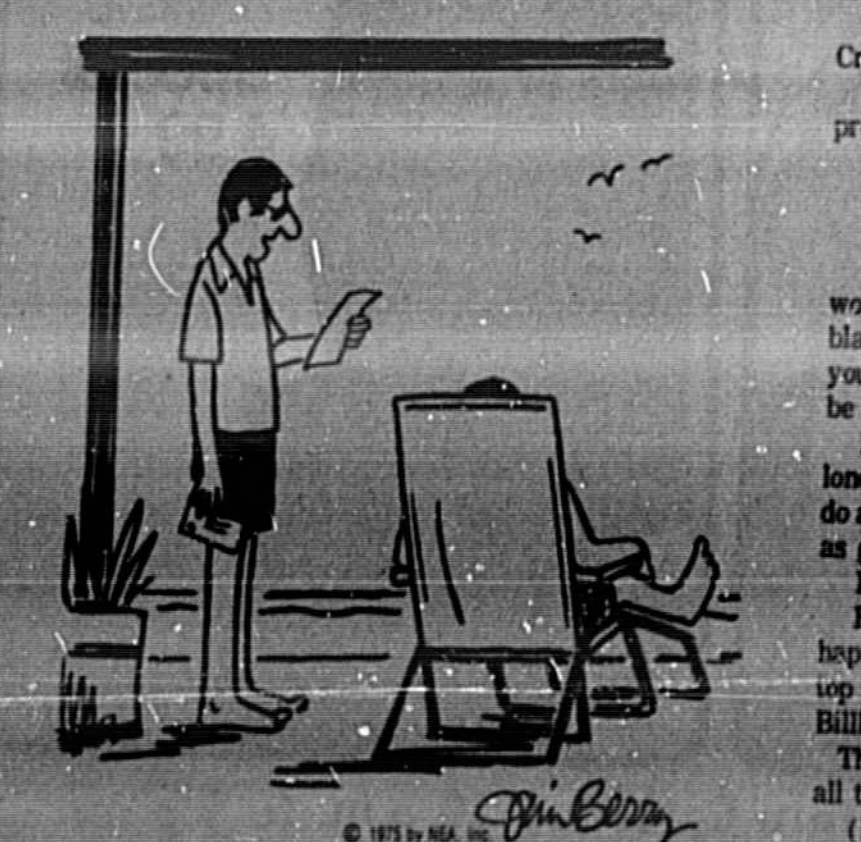

We believe they do care, and that Congress must begin to reckon with the disparity between the no-limit spending philosophy of the federal government and the highly limited spending philosophy that is being thrust on the American people by inflation. The debauching of our currency and the massive federal debt hanging over our future are leading to a day of reckoning, and Congress will sooner or later face the fact that in our republic the accounts will be settled at the ballot box.

All In The Family

The Palestine Liberation organization has invited newsmen to see a "correction center" it maintains in Syria to discipline its members. Obviously the PLO is sensitive to the skepticism generally voiced every time hijackers and terrorists who lie to Arab countries are turned over to the PLO for "punishment" — which never is visible or specified.

Sure enough, newsmen saw about 70 Palestinians in a stockade, but no one can be sure why they were there. Presumably they have incurred the displeasure of Yassir Arafat, who is sort of the "godfather" of this Palestinian mafia. But no one knows whether he confined his men to the clink for committing a crime — or for bungling a job.

FACTS SOUGHT In Shooting Of Suspect

Note to the anonymous caller who claims to have witnessed the shooting of young William Robin Magles on Monday evening.

If you haven't already done so, please contact Sgt. William Hogan of the Seminole County Sheriff's Department.

Sgt. Hogan wants all the facts in the case and if you have some information that has a bearing on the case, you owe it to all concerned to come forward.

Too, Sgt. Hogan has advised us that he's perfectly willing to keep your identity just between the two of you, but he would like to hear what you have to say. His main interest is to get every piece of factual information there is and apply it to his complete investigation.

So please, if you have something to contribute, contact Sgt. Hogan immediately.

Our 'Eyesores' feature seems to be accomplishing its intended purpose — to get people to clean up the debris that clutters our city.

On Wednesday we got a report of a 'genie man' and sent photographer Bill Vincent out to get a picture of the 'Eyesore' the next morning, only to discover that the individual responsible for said 'Eyesore' had already cleaned it up.

Now it's not good, that's great! Now if more people would just do a bit more and pitch in, we could really beautify Sanford and the surrounding communities. Let's make it a really clean place in which to work and live. And, start at home!

How about this one? Mrs. Gerald (Betty) Ford has been accused of using 'bribe' money by telephoning key legislators all over the country urging passage of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA).

Now, opponents of ERA are demanding equal privileges with our tax dollars.

While we certainly don't condone what Mrs. Ford is doing, if she is in fact making all these long distance telephone calls, then it's only right that 'equal dime' be given to those who are against passage of ERA.

In an effort to help familiarize our readers with the operation of a newspaper and what makes it tick (or hum, or buzz, or what-have-you), we invite school classes, civic groups, fraternal organizations and such to tour The Herald.

However, we insist that advance permission be granted and a definite date and time for touring be established.

If you would like to have your group included among those desiring to see the inner workings of The Herald, call us and we'll be happy to make the necessary arrangements.

We've had more stories and comments than we care to mention as we zip about town on our bright orange Honda CT90.

Some observers have even gone so far as to say it's legal to have such a tiny motorcycle on the highway. Apparently they haven't noticed that OGS (Our-Gas-Saver) is registered, properly tagged and inspected.

Granted, we get a bit damp on rainy days or during an early (5 a.m.) and oft-times foggy ride to work. However, getting better than 100 miles per gallon is reason enough to keep riding it day and from work and for those endless errands.

Sure beats that gas-guzzling Olds Custom Cruiser.

But, please, don't you hit and hurt us and we'll promise not to do likewise to you.

Doctors orders: Look in my eyes pretty woman. My goodness, you're 60 fire. A bit of black water might help. But for right now, you're so good. Pick up the pieces and you'll soon be some kind of wonderful.

Now look, you're my No. 9 dream, one of the lonely people. My eyes advise you, so go home, do a little boogie on reggae woman and you'll be as good as new.

Recognize any of that jargon? Well, it just so happens that in the above are all the "hot singles" records as listed in Billboard.

They're not necessarily in order, but they're all there. Can you find them? (P.S. I wouldn't be able to find them either if I didn't have the current listing right in front of me.)

GIVE 'EM HELI, BARRY

That's right. We said Barry, not Harry, though the image of the late president definitely is in mind.

Republican Truman lambasted the "do-nothing" Republican 8th Congress in the 1948 election campaign. Barry Goldwater has taken on the top-heavy Democratic "do-everything" 94th Congress in 1975.

The present Congress is "probably the most dangerous" the country has ever had, the junior GOP senator from Arizona warned the other day.

It is poetic justice, and not a little sad, that Barry Goldwater is about the only one around to "give 'em hell" now that the chickens of economic chaos incubated during the Roosevelt and Truman New Deal and Fair Deals and hatched by LBJ's Great Society are coming home to roost.

Now it goes without saying that Goldwater doesn't come on like a Truman. He's much too polite, for one thing.

Anybody who could listen with a straight face, as Goldwater recently did during a visit to San Clemente, while Richard Nixon discussed the possibility of his serving the Republican party's some capacity, maybe in fund-raising — ye gods, fund-raising! — would have to be the quintessence of politeness.

Nor does the average working stiff identify with Goldwater, although he is closer to the ordinary Joe than a lot of those who claim to be the common man's defender.

But Barry Goldwater shares one attribute with the scrappy Truman: Personal integrity.

The reason he is the junior senator from Arizona is because he resigned when he ran for president in 1964. He lost four years of valuable seniority while waiting for the next senatorial election.

Contrast that with Lyndon B. Johnson, who got a vice-presidential run and then served as vice president and Texas senator in 1960.

In 1964, Goldwater told it straight — that the nation might have to go to war in Vietnam to prevent a Communist takeover. Lyndon Johnson was shocked, and elected.

JACK ANDERSON This Greek Case Venture With Nixon

WASHINGTON — Now that the Greek dictatorship has collapsed, the story can be told how the White House and Justice Department conspired to send a Greek exile home to certain torture and possible death.

The exile was newspaper editor Elias Demetropoulos, who was driven from his homeland by the military junta in 1967. But the Greek colonels couldn't silence his typewriter.

He obtained resident status in the United States and took up battle station in Washington, pounding away at the junta and its Greek-American supporters.

The Nixon crowd in Washington zeroed in on him when he began firing volleys at Thomas Pappas, a millionaire with vast oil, gold and chemical interests in Greece. Pappas also happened to be a close friend and financial backer of President Nixon.

So close was the Nixon-Pappas tie that the Watergate conspirators instinctively turned to the Greek tycoon for help in getting better than 18 miles per gallon and a refund in the form of a price cut on those who pick gas guzzlers.

Prisoner Attempts Escape From Court

A 21-year-old Casseberry man, being held in county jail on kidnaping and false imprisonment charges, ran out of a courtroom door Friday afternoon only to be recaptured minutes later two blocks away on the Sanford lakefront by a confinement officer and Sanford Police.

Patrick Andrew Sims, 21, 843 N. Winter Park Drive, was jailed Thursday in connection with the abduction and assault of an 18-year-old Casseberry man.

Sims was charged shortly before noon Friday with sexual battery in the case.

Two hours later, as he was about to make a first appearance in county court on the sexual battery charge, officials said he ran from Courtroom D, Rand Mall.

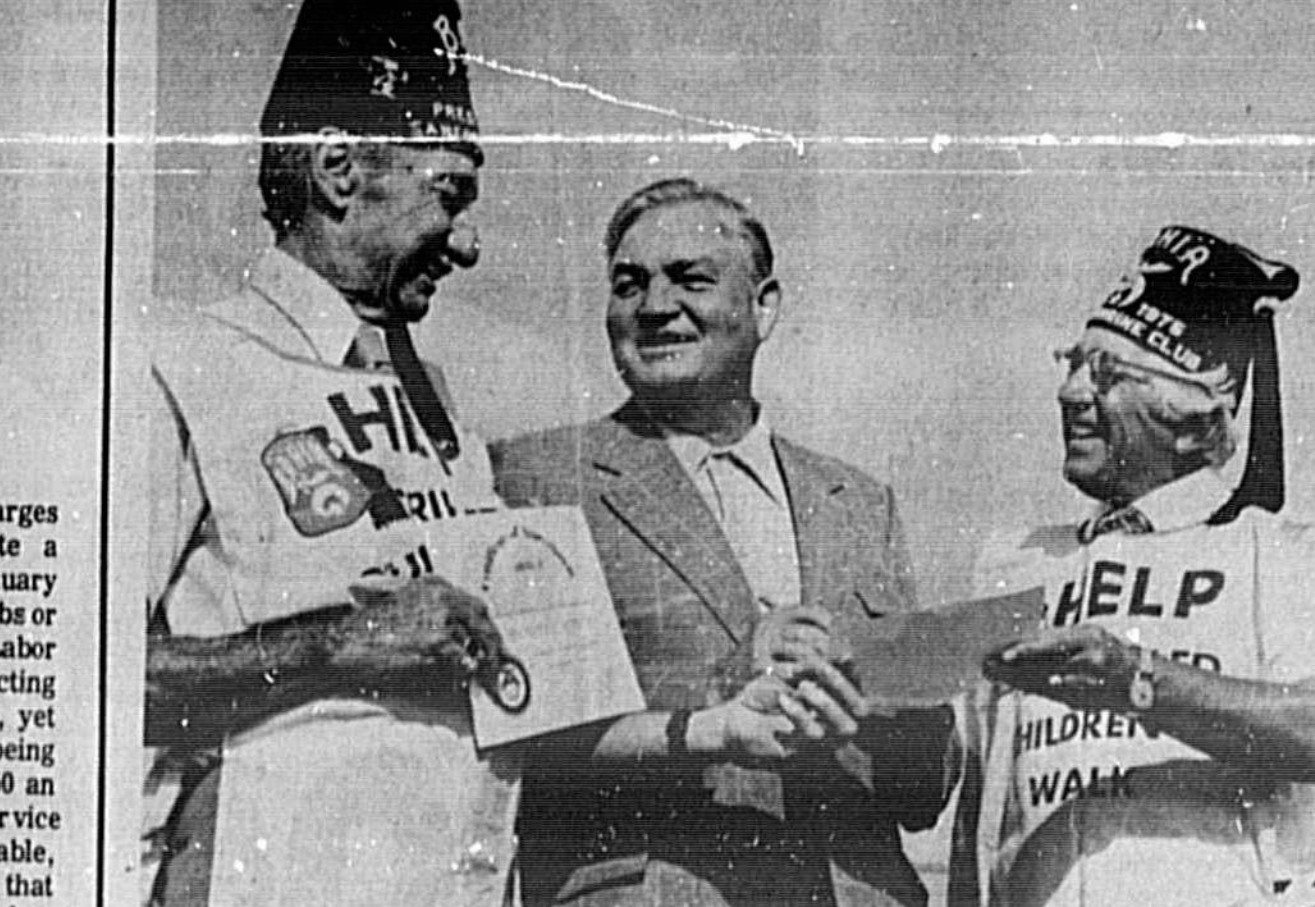

Confinement Officer William Alvarez had just taken handcuffs off Sims when the prisoner bolted through an open door, according to County Jail Administrator George Proudfoot.

Police said Alvarez ran a foot race with Sims along city streets and through a parking lot adjacent to the county courthouse before capturing him with the assistance of city police on the lakefront near the Sanford Marina.

Sims now is being held without bond in county jail on the sexual battery charge. No additional charges had been filed Saturday morning with Sims' attempted escape.

Two Seminole county teenagers were listed in good condition in Seminole Memorial Hospital Saturday morning following an early morning automobile accident on Doyle Road just west of Osteen.

Paul Grubhaber, 17, Osteen, and Kelly Burchett, 17, DeBary were admitted to SMH.

PAPER SALE DAYS SET

U.S. Plans Investigation

Attorneys for the U.S. Justice Department are expected to begin a probe Monday of Seminole County's heated county school board's decision to close Rosenwald school closing dispute.

Justice Department spokesmen announced last Friday that the agency would undertake an investigation to determine "what is happening" at Rosenwald, located in Altamonte Springs.

Burt Dougherty will direct the investigation for the Justice Department's Civil Rights section. He said the department is interested in the case because of its role in a 1970 desegregation suit involving Seminole County.

Black parents fighting the county school board's decision to close Rosenwald asked the Justice Department to enter the issue last week prior to the board's decision to close the school.

The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has also been asked to join the probe, but thus far the agency has made no comment on what its role would be, if any.

Spokesmen for the blacks, James Gadsden and the Rev. Amos Jones, were unavailable yesterday for comment regarding the Justice Department decision to become involved in the Rosenwald issue.

School Supt. William (Bud) Layer was unavailable as well. Dougherty's announcement Friday indicated the Justice Department would be in touch with "key officials in the dispute" to learn the facts involved in the decision to close the school and convert it into a center for trainable mentally handicapped children.

Meanwhile, black leaders indicated they would announce by Wednesday if they would attempt a countywide boycott of classes as has been done in the Rosenwald school area this past week.

Sheriff Closes Book On 'Fake' Robbery

Sheriff John Polk yesterday closed the books on an incident in which three Lake Brantley High School students staged a "mock armed robbery" of a convenience store.

Polk issued a stern warning that "any other such incidents" would not be tolerated by the Seminole County Sheriff's Department.

"This could have ended in a very tragic situation," Polk declared. "It was poorly planned and ill-advised."

The "robbery" was part of a civics class project in which students participate in simulated social situations and involved a Seminole County deputy, who was "in on the know" about the incident.

Polk, school officials and another deputy didn't know, nor were they informed about plans for the "staged" hold-up. The result was the arrest by the uniformed deputy of the three "robbers."

Reaction to the "robbery" incident touched off protests over use of educational funds to "instruct young people as well as how to hold-up a store."

State Sen. Lori Wilson received a number of complaints about the incident and reportedly was contacting State Education Commissioner Ralph D. Turlington to request an investigation into the incident.

Polk gave this description of the events involved: Three students in Mrs. Carol Klime's senior civics class at Lake Brantley High set up a mock robbery at the Handy Way Food Store No. 1483, Sand lake Road and State Road 434, with a deputy assigned to the area knowing about the plan. The robbery was to be filmed by one of the students for use in the civics class.

Students Richard McGough, wearing a stocking and armed with a blank starter pistol, a girl who drove the "getaway" car, and Joe Laughlin, conducted the robbery with Laughlin handling the camera.

All went well except that the deputy involved went off duty before the robbery and failed to tell his relief, Deputy B. L. Thompson what was in the works.

Thompson saw the students stage the robbery and "escape" onto the roadway in a car. Thompson stopped the car, but did not pull his service revolver because of the age of the youths involved.

Hearing the story, Thompson checked their identification and let the youths go. "If it had been anyone else, it might have been different," he said later.

Polk said his telephone "has been ringing ever since" word of the incident got out. "I plan to confer with the deputy who knew about the plan for the 'staged' hold-up, and I don't think that will happen again. I plan to commend Deputy Thompson for using a cool head that prevented something serious from taking place."

Polk said he did not believe a quote attributed to Mrs. Cline in another newspaper in which she reportedly said that "more there was a risk involved, but we will take that risk for educational purposes."

"I can't believe she said that. If they wanted it to be real, then my deputy should have arrested the young people, brought them to jail, booked, mugged, printed and confined them," Polk fumed. "If they (the schools) want the youngsters to learn about crime and what happens, then bring them to our department and we'll work with them. Take them to a court hearing. Let them see how real criminals are dealt with — we've got plenty of robbery cases for them to study."

Polk said Lake Brantley Principal William Daugherty was unaware of the incident until detectives arrived at the school to conduct further investigation.

Daugherty said that a mistake was made by not contacting law enforcement officers prior to the incident, but defended the outside education concept, pointing out "we can't confine our students and we can't have a stamp of approval on every thing a teacher does."

However, Woodrow J. Darden, director of secondary education for Florida, said that while role-playing was good in some phases of classroom education, law enforcement agencies should have been called and the principal told what was taking place.

Polk said he did not believe a quote attributed to Mrs. Cline in another newspaper in which she reportedly said that "more there was a risk involved, but we will take that risk for educational purposes."

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You will have more fun if your activities are based around entertainment you don't have to pay for out-of-pocket.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) The early part of the day will go much to your liking. Toward evening, there will be a foul-up because of another.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21) It would be wise if you attended to responsibilities first, but you won't. It will cut you away early from something enjoyable.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Keep persons out of your affairs who have no place in them, or something you want to achieve will be snatched from your grasp.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Someone has taken time to give you some very sound advice and thought you were in accord with their views. You won't follow it as you should.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Sometimes it's wise to hold out for a better bargain business-wise. Today is an exception. You're obstinate to a deficit.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You will make an agreement. At the last minute you'll break away, for something you think to be more advantageous. It won't be.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Get at anything productive you want to accomplish as early as possible. Later, disruptions will throw you off-stride.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Have your exit lines prepared in advance. You're going to want to duck out early from a social involvement this evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're a bit restless today. After awhile you'll want to get out of the house. Relaxation will elude you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be alerted for some unannounced drop-ins at your house this evening, or you'll be caught embarrassingly unprepared.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) Don't be in such a big rush to get home this evening that you speed and try to beat a few traffic lights.

The Only State Without Either Sales Or Income Tax

EDITORS: Prior to last November's election, Tom Tiede wrote a scathing editorial of New Hampshire Governor Meldrim Thomson and his administration that state. As part of an NEA policy to provide an opportunity for answer to such criticism, we are distributing the article on this page by the publisher of New Hampshire's largest daily newspaper.

WILLIAM LOEB is publisher of the Manchester Union-Leader.

By WILLIAM LOEB

A column of Tom Tiede's published before last fall's election, made a very strong attack against Meldrim Thomson, governor of New Hampshire, since re-elected governor of the Granite State, the only state of the 50 without an income or sales tax.

As the publisher of New Hampshire's largest daily newspaper for almost 30 years, I am grateful for this opportunity provided by the Newspaper Enterprise Association to reply to Mr. Tiede and give some facts about Mel Thomson, one of the unique political figures on the U.S. political scene.

Governor Thomson is an anomaly to the politicians in New Hampshire. He prefers not to pass out contracts to the politicians or make appointments at the expense of the general public. The liberals also dislike him because of his insistence on the basic moralities, patriotism and religion.

Elected as governor two years ago on an economy platform, he refused to accept a $12,500 salary increase provided by the Legislature. He said that economy in the state government should first begin with the governor. The governor's office needed a refurbishing and Governor Thomson did so at his expense in spite of the fact that he is not a wealthy or rich man.

Governor Thomson has kept his economy pledge. Official polls indicate the per capita burden of taxes in New Hampshire is the lowest in the nation. This miracle has been achieved by schools, roads and other services just as good or better than those supplied to citizens in adjoining states of Vermont and Maine. Both those states have sales and income taxes.

Mr. Tiede's remark, "He has threatened to go to war with neighboring states over borders and other disputes," is hardly accurate. There was simply a vigorous dispute between the lobstermen of Maine and New Hampshire over the border between the two states. This mutual agreement between the two states.

Mr. Tiede says that the governor "refused to allow authorities to remove five battered children from a foster home because of his view that foster parents are all 'pariahs'." Not so. Neighbors, the local minister and other responsible people in the community asserted that the children were well taken care of by the foster parents. The children themselves asked to be allowed to remain as a family unit in that very same foster home. Based on this information and the desires of the children, the governor forbade the welfare department moving the children.

Mr. Tiede further charged that the governor had bankrupted a literary magazine. The governor simply would not allow state funds to be given a magazine which published an obscene, vulgar and disgusting poem. The attorney general of New Hampshire, not appointed by the governor, supported the governor in this move.

Mr. Tiede accused the governor of "repeatedly referring to homosexuals as perverts from which the public needs protection." That is a true statement. The amazing thing is that Mr. Tiede should assume there is anything wrong with this statement. We believe the governor's position against sodomites is representative of at least 95 per cent of American public opinion.

Incidentally, the maple syrup served at those breakfasts is made by the governor himself. The governor's favorite recreation is working on his Mt. Cube Farm either in the sugar bush or in his fields.

Mr. Thomson has been known to shell peas from the

In three decades: The tax take in the United States is nearly 3 1/2 times what it was in 1944, climbing from a total of $48 billion, or 26 per cent of the national income, to $423 billion, or 37 per cent of national income in 1974. A cut in federal income taxes this year may slow or halt the increase in the tax burden — but fast-rising state and local taxes point to resumption of boosts in the tax load in years ahead. # Internal Revenue Raises Its Rate ... bad news for those who owe money, but a windfall for those who have money coming ...

Just when interest rates are generally going down, the national rate, Internal Revenue Service is raising the rate.

Beginning July 1, IRS will charge interest at the rate of 9 per cent on all tax deficiencies. This also produces a 9 per cent penalty after that date on all underpayment of estimated income taxes. The rate had been 6 per cent before the bill was signed into law by the President early this year.

The interest adjustment is bad news for those who owe money, but a windfall for those who have money coming from IRS. The agency at least is being consistent. After July 1 it will add interest on all outstanding tax refunds at the new 9 per cent rate.

During the recent high-interest period which saw the bank prime rate go to 12 per cent, many well-to-do individuals willingly paid a 6 per cent interest penalty while deliberately underpaying on their estimated tax.

Rather than make their tax payments on time, they used the money to buy high-yielding, short-term investments. Insurance companies, banks and savings and loans are reporting increased investments, and many inquiries from taxpayers anxious to set up their own Individual Retirement Accounts. The IRA's were provided in new tax legislation last year. The law, in effect, makes it possible for any employee not covered by an organized pension program to set aside up to 15 per cent of his earnings, but not more than $1,500 a year, in a tax-deductible retirement account. Thrift workers need not wait until the end of the year to put the maximum amount into their special account. Thrift institutions recommend that periodic savings go into a regular account throughout the year where it can earn daily interest. Then before the end of the year the employee can transfer the money to the IRA.

But for congressional advocates of allocation, Burns had a devastating and under the circumstances, ironic reply: to delegate allocation powers to the Fed would be to put into its hand "enormous and virtually dictatorial power," the very thing the Fed allegedly has too much of.

For many years academic and political figures have challenged that power with words, but the Fed has shrugged them off. There still remain many who would like the Fed to be more submissive to their wishes.

Other Side of Vasectomy

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I was glad to see your article on vasectomies. It is too late for me, but maybe it will prevent someone else from having one.

My husband agreed to a vasectomy about five years ago. I had been on the pill for six years and was having side effects from it. My gynecologist urged me to get my husband to have a vasectomy. "Nothing to it," she said.

We found a urologist with a good reputation in our town. He discussed it with us, telling my husband it would be a dull ache for a couple of days. "Two days rest and you can go back to work."

He went into the hospital to have it done in the morning and was released a few hours later. After he was home while and in the anesthetic wore off he was in excruciating pain. He knew nothing but pain day and night for two weeks. The doctor was not concerned and said it would take awhile.

In the meantime the stitches were all festered on one testicle. We went to another urologist who told him he had an infection and put him on antibiotics. After a while the testicles healed, but his problems had just begun.

He experienced involuntary losses of semen. Suddenly he would feel all wet and he would be soaked. When he tried to perform sexually he had great difficulty achieving an erection. When he did he was unable to climax. When he discharged semen he would not experience the feeling of a climax.

After these problems he started having chronic swelling of his testicles with pain and nausea. He refuses to go to another urologist for fear of more surgery. I suffer a great deal of

They're Coming At You

Daytona 500 Climaxes Speed Weeks Events; Bobby Unser Captures Race Of Champions

By CARL VANZURA Herald Correspondent

DAYTONA BEACH — Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., made a decision on the last lap to hold the lead and hope to win. The now famous "slingshot" was in everybody's mind as the racers jockeyed for second spot going into the fourth turn. Unser, A.J. Foyt, Cale Yarborough and Bobby Allison were glued together like a train. Coming down for the checkered flag, Allison tried a "slingshot" from fourth, only to lose the draft and fall back in the pack.

Foyt also tried to pass Unser but Allison's move prevented him. Unser held on to win the fourth race of the International Race of Champions at the Daytona International Speedway Friday. It all comes to a spectacular close today with the running of the 500 at 11 p.m. Forty of the top drivers in the world will be going after more than $300,000. The race Friday was three laps old when George Follmer and Johnny Rutherford collided on the backstretch, putting Follmer into the wall twice in 500 feet. Follmer then put it correctly. "This car is now history." In the wreck, the flying debris broke the windshield of Ronnie Peterson of Sweden and Emerson Fittipaldi of Brazil. The red flag came out for 20 minutes as the windshields were replaced. The average speed after 10 laps was a stalling 170.569 mph. The race settled down with the seven remaining cars running as if they were one. In lap 24, Peterson hit Yarborough in the side, but the cars managed to remain under control. The race was so close that one driver could lead the start of the lap and be last place at the end of it. In lap 29, David Pearson — the only driver who did not lead during the event — blew a tire bringing out the caution once again. Pearson was running second at the time. He limped into the pits, as did Allison, who complained something was wrong with his mirror. He couldn't fix it so he stayed off and threw it out the car. In the 30th lap, with the cars bunched up again, Peterson tapped Foyt on the back stretch and lost control of his racer. The car hit the wall, throwing debris all over the track. The restart set the stage for a 10-lap dash to the finish that would bring $30,000 for the winning driver. The average speed for the 100 miles was 187.516 mph. The margin of victory was 2 feet and the lead changed 12 times. The second race Friday was the Second Annual Permatex 200 NASCAR Modified Stock Car Road Race, which was won by pole-sitter Mervyn Treichler of Sanborn, N.Y. He led 29 of the 52 laps run. The only other leader was Allison, who led for 11 laps until his motor quit in the 21st lap. His only wreck of the race came when Johnny Bryant hit the wall coming out of the chicane. Bryant was taken to the hospital for observation. The only other caution came out when Geoff Bodine and Gene Felton collided and spun in the first turn. The win was Treichler's biggest. He collected $7,500. Following Mervyn was Fred DeSarro and National champion Jerry Cook. Will Cagle, a local racer, finished fifth in his Orlando-based Gremlin.

Sanford Academy Drops Opening Bout In Lake & Hills Event

By SCOTT ABRAHAM Herald Correspondent

Mt. Dora Bible's varsity and junior varsity teams won Friday and advanced to the finals of the Lakes & Hills Conference basketball tournament at Sanford Naval Academy gym. The varsity Bulldogs, 12-0 in season conference play, downed Montverde 70-42. Earlier in the day Dora's JV team wiped out the Howey Academy JV's 99-68. Host Sanford Naval Academy was eliminated Friday by Florida Central Academy 75-50. The loss was the middle's fourth of the year to the Red Devils, who battled Dora Saturday night for the tournament championship.

The naval academy JV team, slugged by Montverde's JV's 69-50 Friday afternoon for the right to challenge the Dora junior varsity in Saturday's final. The Dora Bulldogs outscored Montverde's Eagles each quarter, jumping in front by nine in the first period, 18-0. Dora's margin increased each quarter — 13 points at halftime, 24 points at the third quarter and 28 at the final buzzer. The Montverde team, which played brilliantly Thursday against Howey, could do little right. The Eagles threw the ball away on bad passes and let Dora's defenders out-hustle them under the boards.

Montverde's cold shooting enabled Dora to hold the Eagles to 42 points, just as the Eagles held Howey to 42 the night before. Montverde could not sink a field goal in the third frame, but hit four points on free shots. Montverde scored more from the line, 22 points, than from the floor, 20. Kirby Rogers led Montverde with 15 points, sinking nine free throws and three buckets. Dora's Jay White hit 20, Robin Pruitt 16 and Tim Wilson 14. Sanford Naval Academy's lack of height — the team's Achilles' heel all season — crippled the midshipmen with 15 points, sinking nine free throws and three buckets. Dora's Jay White hit 20, Robin Pruitt 16 and Tim Wilson 14. Sanford Naval Academy's lack of height — the team's Achilles' heel all season — crippled the midshipmen with 15 points, sinking nine free throws and three buckets. Dora's Jay White hit 20, Robin Pruitt 16 and Tim Wilson 14.

Down by five, Navy quickly dropped out of contention in the second frame as Central's Charlie Getgen, Greg Kratnyk and Eric Ostmark — all six feet and over — ran around and through the diminutive Navy defense. The trio picked up 11 straight points in the period's initial four minutes, and doubled Navy 20-15 by halftime. (Sanford's second high man, Mark Bassett, hit 10 of his 13 points in the first half.)

The third period continued much as the second, with Central outscoring Navy 20-11 to forge ahead 60-26. But with 6-4 Ostmark sitting on Dora's bench in the fourth quarter, Navy dominated 24-22. Getgen finished with 26 points for Dora, while Ostmark and Kratnyk added 16 and 13. Navy's Bill Ross hit 14 points and Hubert Kerrow dropped 10.

Peters Advances To State Semis; Other Locals Lose

One of Seminole County's nine wrestlers in the state tournament emerged undefeated after the first two rounds on Friday. Doug Peters of Lyman advanced to Saturday's semi-finals in the 115-pound class with a 15-3 superior decision over George Geday of Pensacola Catholic in the first round and a 4-2 decision over fifth-seeded Jamie Vijil of Brandon in the second round. Peters is seeded fourth. The semi-finals and finals of the state tournament, held at Tampa Jefferson High School, were Saturday. The other eight Seminole County wrestlers were defeated in the first or second round and knocked out of competition for a state title. Lou Payas of Lyman, wrestling in the 101-pound class, lost in the first round to David Hayes of St. Petersburg Northeast. Bruce Hill of Lake Brantley was defeated 4-3 in the 122-pound division by Leesburg's David Harrison. Lyman's David Lesure pinned Satellites John Freemy in the first round of the 129-pound class, but lost 13-2 to Merritt Island's Mark Black in the second round. Guy Campbell of Lyman was pinned in the first round of the 135-pound class by Pete Center of Ft. Lauderdale Stranahan. Lyman's Jim Howarth was defeated 6-3 by Warren Hicks of Coconut Creek, who was seeded No. 1 in the 141-pound division. Lake Brantley's Alpha Franklin topped Joe Mathews of Miami's Archbishop Curley 6-2 in the opening round of the 143-pound class and was pinned by Ft. Lauderdale's Dwight Smith in the second round. Craig Davis of Lake Brantley won 11-3 in overtime over South Miami's Beach's Dave Glasserman in the 168-pound class but was pinned by Tom Connally of St. Petersburg. Bennie Mills of Seminole pinned his first round heavyweight opponent Delmore Newton of Ft. Lauderdale. Mills lost to his cousin, Tim Chavers of DeLand, 2-0 in the quarter-finals. Chavers defeated Mills 1-0 in a regular-season confrontation at Seminole High School.

SJC Falters To Lake City

LAKE CITY — The Seminole Junior College Raiders fell to District II powerhouse and arch-rival Lake City Community College 80-73 at the Lake City gym Friday night. The loss dropped Seminole 6-5 in the district and virtually eliminated the Raiders from second place in the district and a berth in the Region VIII tournament at Stetson Feb. 27, 28 and March 1. Seminole led 47-45 at halftime, but Lake City rallied for a 35-26 domination of the low-scoring second half to knock off the Raiders. Lake City downed SJC 66-63 two weeks ago at the Raider gym. Freeman Kennbrew erupted for 25 points for Seminole

Junior College. He canned eight field goals and sank nine free throws. Kennbrew was the only Raider in double figures. Mike Pittman of Lake City led all scorers with 34 points. SJC bucketed five more free throws, 21-18, than Lake City, but Lake City threw in six more field goals. SEMINOLE: Williams 2.4; Fort 3.9; McDonald 1.0.3; McNeal 2.1.6; Johnson 3.7; Kennbrew 8.9.25; McHenry 4.8.8; Haber 1.0.2; Noe 2.5.9. ## Real Estate Investments

BY LARRY SAXON

Dear Mr. Saxon,
I own a 15 unit apartment building which is paying for itself, and giving me extra money each month. The problem is, I hate to deal with the tenants, fix the washers, etc. My ulcer kicks up every time I go into a mile of the place. What do you think are the chances of trying to sell it on this market? — S. A.

Dear S. A.,
Property can always be sold — at the going price on the existing market. At the present, you probably would not receive as much as you want for the building.

I intend there is no bad property — only wrong ownership. And your situation seems to be me out.

Why don't you make an appointment with an exchange and investment broker and ask him to study your ownership situation, including possible tax consequences? He will work with your tax consultant in an effort to exchange your entire equity into a type of property which will have good benefits for you — without the ulcers.

Dear Mr. Saxon,
At a party the other night, I mentioned I had a good setup for evading income taxes. An accountant sitting next to me almost swallowed his pipe. Doesn't everybody evade paying tax when they depreciate their property? — F. F.

Dear Mr. F. F.,
No wonder your accountant friend almost swallowed his pipe! "Eviding" income tax is a criminal offense. What you meant was "avoiding." When you take advantage of legitimate income tax shelter, you "avoid" paying income tax now, but eventually pay it later — maybe — on a capital gains basis.

The "maybe" is brought into play when you dispose of the property. If you can take advantage of favorable tax situations, little or no tax may be due.

Here's the Answer

Q — We have just bought a house that is 105 years old. The living room is very large and covered with beautiful planks. My husband says there is only one layer of flooring and that a well-constructed floor should have at least two thicknesses, so he wants to add another floor on top of the present one. I hate to see such a fine looking floor covered, but I don't want to risk a condition that is dangerous. What do you suggest?

A — I doubt whether the condition is dangerous simply because the floor is of a single thickness. I, like you, would be hesitant to cover a floor that is so beautiful after more than 100 years of life. If your husband has a good reason to suspect that the floor is unsound, have it checked professionally. Sure, floors of more than a single thickness generally are stronger and preferable, but in the days when your house was built, many single-thickness floors were laid. How well they have endured depends on the materials used and the skill of the builder.

Q — We had a painter in a year or so ago. Before he painted two of our rooms, he patched the plaster walls in a few

Don't Boil Blood Pressure: Conquer Your House Stress

By VIVIAN BROWN

This should be a big "no" for emotional stress connected with the house, always a devastating kind, commented a doctor the other day. He suggests adding one more resolution to the ones you've made for the new year: Conquer house stress.

In addition to money tensions — meeting bills and the like — there are the usual stresses of just having people underfoot — children, dogs, cats, hamsters (and husbands). Running a house is a big responsible job. If that women, they would think of that way, they would expect happenings and enjoy the challenge of it.

If you know the things that are likely to make you tense, you may cope better, he emphasizes. There are probably lots of pressure makers peculiar to your own belief, but some tension makers that push your nerves hard might be these:

Squeaks in wooden stairs can be eliminated without any prior knowledge of carpentry. So there won't be any misunderstandings, the three basic parts of a stair are the treads, risers and stringers. The treads are the horizontal parts on which you walk. The risers are the vertical boards under the treads. Stringers are the heavy wooden members on the sides, to which both treads and risers are attached.

Since the squeaks almost always occur when a partly loosened tread rubs against the top of a riser, the solution is simply to tighten the joint. Assuming that the underside of the stairway is not accessible, the first step is to determine whether the joint in the squeaky area is of the simple butt variety or is a groove-and-rabbit joint. If it is a groove-and-rabbit joint, it is a butt joint.

With a butt joint, you merely nail it back in place. Have someone stand on the tread while you drive two 8 or 10-penny finishing nails through the tread into the riser. Hammer

When you wish to dispose of your present holdings, be sure to contact a knowledgeable exchange and investment broker — and an income tax consultant. Together they can minimize the income tax which you must pay.

Dear Mr. Saxon,
I believe I'm the best heavy equipment mechanic in the country, but what I don't know about income taxes would fill an entire standing lot. I have an offer to sell my garage and the property next door, but my bookkeeper tells me it will cost me a fortune if I do. I can make more profit selling it than I've made in earnings for the last three years.

Dear Mr. C.W.,
There may well be. You should employ two experts. An income tax consultant, and a highly trained real estate investment and exchange broker.

Check Cabinet Needs Before You Remodel

By LOUISE L. GILL
Extension Home Economics Agent

Are you planning a new home or remodeling your kitchen? If you don't already know it, you'll soon realize that kitchen cabinets are very expensive items. Therefore, it's important to know just how much cabinet space you really need. Here are some tips to help you determine this:

1. Base the kitchen cabinet area on the size of the house. This makes sense because what would be a desirable kitchen in a large house might be an extravagant use of space in a small house or apartment.

2. Minimum plan for a house with 180 to 160 square feet of living area — 8 feet of base cabinet frontage.

3. Liberal plan for a house with more than 1400 square feet of floor space — 10 feet of base cabinet frontage.

What is meant by the term, "base cabinet frontage"? It is the length of accessible base cabinet, measured along the front edge.

Charm and character describe this handsome two-bedroom ranch, ideal for the beginning family or the retired couple. Two bedrooms, with the option of a third in the basement, are included in the 1,000 square feet of living space. A finished basement doubles the amount of space available. ## Many Reasons Told For Slow Home Sales

By JULIAN STENSTROM

There's not a real estate broker in Seminole County who hasn't had this question put to him recently by one or more homeowners who have listed their property with him: "Why hasn't my home sold? Ah, a good real estate broker, being honest with his client, would have to answer that it could be one or a combination of several reasons. Some of them could be simple. For example, it could be because the property is overpriced. On the other hand, however, there are many existing homes on the market today that are priced right despite the inflationary period we're experiencing right now. The price may be right but the difference in the asking price and the existing mortgage may be so great that the buyer on the market might not sell without new financing because buyers cannot produce the required mortgage down payment.

Buyers without the large down payments have to seek new financing through FHA or VA. Frequently, sellers are not willing to go along because of having to pay discount points on the mortgage to obtain a new mortgage.

Fouses at today's prices, purchased with low down payments, require extremely high mortgages. If a home is located, let us say, in Sanford, it is altogether possible that the monthly payment on the amount mortgaged could easily run as much if not better than $100 per month per $1,000. For example, a $33,000 home under FHA would require a down payment of $1,650. The monthly payment on the mortgage of $31,350 could run as much as $120 per month or even more for principal, interest, taxes, insurance and FHA's mortgage insurance premium. The listed property might not have yet sold because most of the existing homes on the market today are occupied and cannot be shown on a moment's notice. Usually, an appointment is necessary and when both husband and wife are employed this, too, can often be a problem.

Finally, the economic situation may not be conducive for some people in various areas of employment to take on new mortgages at the present rates of interest. Because of these and other reasons the sales volume of existing family homes, nationwide, during December of 1974 fell 3.3 per cent below the level of December, 1973, and a whopping 15 per cent under December, 1972.

It was the fourth consecutive month in which the sales of existing single family homes dropped more than 10 per cent below the more prosperous levels of 1973. Despite the decrease in sales of the upward spiral of price tags on existing homes continued. Consequently, the decline in sales activities was noted. Concerning prices of existing homes, the December, 1974, average sales price was $32,720 or 11 per cent above the national median of $29,490 for December a year earlier. And, price advances on an regional basis varied.

For example, in the Northeast the average price rise was 5.3 per cent to $36,450. In the South the median price hike was up a whopping 10.8 per cent to $32,100.

The median price in the North Central states increased 13.2 per cent to $28,760. In the West the average price of an existing home jumped 9.6 per cent to $35,029. This information was derived from surveys made by the National Association of Realtors. They also indicated a continuing decrease in the number of homes available in the lower priced categories. On the other hand, there is an increase in the number of homes available at $30,000 or more. Sales activities also

NON-SMOKERS, UNITE!

This ad is my response to a "letter to the editor" which was published in the Herald on January 19, 1975. The writer, who signed his or her letter "CRUSADER", complains about having to breathe the smoke of smokers wherever he or she went.

I ask now, through this public announcement:

HOW MANY NON-SMOKERS IN THIS AREA HAVE THE COURAGE TO STAND UP AND BE COUNTED?

How about you teen agers who are tired of having to wade through a smoke screen when you go to the bathroom at your high school, or even junior high school?

There is something you can do about it!

In unity we are stronger. Right here in Seminole County we number in the tens of thousands.

This is not an effort to make smokers quit smoking. I gave up on that long ago. But I will join in the effort to make the air free from their pollution when I go shopping or try to conduct business in my county and city and state offices, only to have to inhale the smoke from the cigarettes, and even worse, the stinking cigars of smokers!

I AM FED UP TO HERE WITH THE INEXCUSABLE BAD MANNERS OF SMOKERS WHO CARE NOTHING FOR THE COMFORT AND RIGHTS OF OTHERS!

The smoker has no more right to blow his smoke into the air I breathe than I have to spit in the water he drinks! Think about it!

Now, if you non-smokers are serious about getting some action, prove it with your signature or phone call. (Please phone between 7 and 10 p.m. only) 323-5264

Our Story: PRINCE VALIANT SETS SAIL FOR THESSALRIGA TO SEEK THE AID OF KING LEORIC IN THE COMING CONFLICT WITH BELLA GROSS'S PIRATE FLEET.

IT IS NO WONDER THESSALRIGA HAS TURNED BACK ALL INVADERS. HUGE TOWERS AT THE END OF EACH MOLE GUARD THE HARBOR.

AND ON THE LANDWARD SIDE, A FORTRESS PROTECTS THE WALLED CITY BEHIND.

VAL WASTES NO TIME IN TELLING LEORIC OF THE APPROACHING MENACE OF BELLA'S FLEET. TRUMPETS SOUND AND WITHIN MINUTES THE WAR-CAPTAINS GATHER.

AND WITHIN THE HOUR PREPARATIONS FOR WAR ARE UNDER WAY. LEORIC TURNS TO WALL: "BECAUSE OUR ISLAND IS SMALL AND OUR WEALTH GREAT, MANY A WAR LORD HAS TRIED TO CONQUER US. ALL HAVE FAILED."

BY DAY'S END THE DEFENSES ARE COMPLETE. THERE IS NO PLACE ON THIS ROCKY ISLAND WHERE A SHIP COULD LAND SAVE THE HARBOR, AND WHEN THE GREAT CHAIN ACROSS THE CHANNEL IS RAISED, THESSALRIGA IS SAFE.

A MAID OF NOBLE BIRTH STOPS HIM. "SIR VALIANT, YOU HAVE WON FAME WITH SWORD AND SHIELD. WILL YOU INSTRUCT CROWN PRINCE ODO IN THE ART OF COMBAT?"

ONE GLANCE AT ODO AND IT IS PLAIN HE WILL NEVER BE A WARRIOR. THE MIGHTY KING OF THESSALRIGA HAS SPANNED AN INCOMPETENT. NEXT WEEK - The Ways of Odo 2-16

OUT OUR WAY

Bernice Bede Orol's this week in astrology

Dear Bernice:
I never know which sign of the zodiac to read as my birth sign, because different astrologers use different dates. I was born Feb. 19, 1955 at 4:56 a.m. in Allentown, Pa. What am I?
---Borderline

DEAR BORDERLINE:
I RECEIVE HUNDREDS OF LETTERS LIKE YOURS. YOU WERE BORN ON THE DAY OF THE MONTH WHEN THE SUN CHANGED FROM ONE ZODIAC SIGN TO ANOTHER. THIS IS CALLED THE CUSP. THIS CHANGE DOES NOT ALWAYS OCCUR AT MIDNIGHT. IT VARIES EACH YEAR. ON FEB. 17, 1953 THE SUN MOVED INTO PISCES AT 5:07 AM EST -- SO YOU ARE AN AQUARIAN. PERSONS BORN ON OR NEAR THE CUSP DO REFLECT QUALITIES OF BOTH SIGNS.

RS DEAR READER: IF YOU WRITE ME REGARDING YOUR CUSP INFORMATION, YOU MUST ENCLOSE A SELF-ADDRESS STAMPED ENVELOPE 1200 West Third Street, Cleveland, Ohio 44113. Bernice cannot answer all the letters, only the ones of general interest.

YOUR WEEK AHEAD

- ARIES (March 21-April 19) Material prospects look good early in the week. Midweek your mental efforts are too scattered. Thursday watch what you sign. Keep reasonable hours this weekend.
- TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Monday, Tuesday personal interests will be advanced. Mixed financial conditions midweek. Thursday a big expense looms up. Worry over neglected work this weekend.
- GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Beginning of week gains are made through confidential maneuvers. Wednesday do everything on your own. Thursday guard reputation. Early Friday favorable for business.
- CANCER (June 21-July 21) Aided by friends, hopes are realized Monday, Tuesday. Don't reveal secrets Wednesday. Judgment's faulty Thursday. Shared interest profitable Friday. Trouble with associate Saturday.
- LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Monday, Tuesday are best days for achieving important goals. Midweek outside activities disturb routine. Both gains and setbacks Friday. Woes of another tie you down Saturday.
- VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) As week begins you'll gather pertinent knowledge for plans. A major achievement Wednesday if you don't slack off. Thursday avoid legal entanglements. Active but expensive weekend.
- LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Opportunities for gain through unusual sources Monday, Tuesday. Midweek plans are not used properly. Ambitious motives preclude consideration for others this weekend.
- SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Monday, Tuesday partnership arrangements tilt in your favor. Midweek business dealings are tricky, especially on Thursday. Avoid those whose ideas conflict with yours this weekend.
- SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Influences that affect your earnings are beneficial Monday, Tuesday. Be wary in making agreements Wednesday, Thursday. A semiprofitable venture this weekend.
- CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Week opens with the sun in Capricorn. Wednesday is better for career matters than Thursday. An arrangement is not as rewarding as hoped for this weekend.
- AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 19) Close important material transactions as early in the week as possible. Interesting contacts are made Wednesday. No gambling on Thursday. A career break Friday. Guard health Saturday.
- PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You're luckiest with your larger ideas as week begins. Attend to domestic paperwork Wednesday. Limit household spending Thursday. Weekend fun if you choose the right companions.

Student's Corner

IN A HOROSCOPE WHEN MERCURY AND PLUTO ARE UNFAVORABLY ASPECTED IT INDICATES ONE WHO HAS VERY INTENSE LIKES AND DISLIKES AND FREQUENTLY TAKES ADVANTAGE OF HIS WEAKER FELLOWS.

YOUR BIRTHDAY...this Week and this Month

PISCES FEB. 20 - MAR. 20

Cusp: PERSONS BORN ON THE CUSP OF AQUARIUS/PISCES (FEB. 17-FEB. 21) ARE INTERESTING INDIVIDUALS WHO PLACE EQUAL IMPORTANCE UPON THEIR LOGICAL EVALUATIONS AND THEIR INTUITIVE PERCEPTIVENESS.

Weakness: THOSE BORN UNDER THE SIGN OF PISCES WILL OFTEN PERMIT THEMSELVES TO BE DOMINATED BY A MORE FORGIVING PERSONALITY INSTEAD OF STANDING UP FOR THEIR RIGHTS.

Assets: PISCES ARE VERY AWARE OF THE FEELINGS OF OTHERS. THEY WILL GO OUT OF THEIR WAY TO MAKE AMENDS FOR AN INSTANTIVE ACT COMMITTED BY SOMEONE ELSE.
