'Hanoi Hilton' Crushes American POWs' Spirit

By JULES LOH
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Never fully awake; never soundly asleep, never unboundly uncomfortable, never at ease, the prisoners in the "Hanoi Hilton" are, in all respects, identical to each other.

The world of the American prisoner of war in North Vietnam is a twilight world in which he does not live but vegetates. Gradually the treadmill of deprivation and routine flattens his wit and crushes his initiative until he responds not to ideas or even to hunger or pain but, like Pavlov's dogs, only to the sound of a gong.

That, say men who have endured it, is the ultimate ordeal of the "Hanoi Hilton." The isolation and monotony of the psychological horror and human degradation all the beatings and rats and diarrhea and vomiting and emphysema of the boneyards.

"If you think only in terms of physical torture you miss the subtlety of what we mean by 'inhuman' treatment," said Air Force Col. Norris M. Overly, who spent five months as a prisoner of the North Vietnamese and is now attending the National War College in Washington, D.C.

"A military man can anticipate beatings, can even expect it from someone who wants information. What he can't contend with is the sameness. The same cell, the same soup, the same propaganda, the same... everything."

Other former prisoners concur. Even men like Navy Lt. Robert Frisman.

Exploding shrapnel shattered Frisman's right elbow when he was shot Oct. 24, 1967. He was taken prisoner and released 21 months later, his elbow still unhealed and his weight down 63 pounds. He now is recuperating in San Diego.

"The actual physical thing isn't so bad," he said of his prison experience. "I was struck with rocks and had knives jabbed at me and I was strapped around and tied up with ropes on my bad arm. But it's the isolation, the extended isolation, that gets you."

Air Force Capt. Wesley Rumble, now stationed at George Air Force Base, Calif., is another. He spent 18 months as a prisoner, calls it "the worst thing I've ever lived through" and insists "The worst thing about it was the forced boredom and the deliberate cutting of communication with the outside and among prisoners."

Overly, Frisman and Rumble are three of nine American prisoners so far released by Hanoi. The United States believes that 378 men, perhaps as many as 500, possibly many more, are being held captive among about 1,500 listed as missing in Indochina since 1964. Hanoi has refused to give an accounting of its war prisoners.

Hanoi justifies its treatment of the men—or rather its refusal to honor provisions of the Geneva Convention of 1949—on grounds that they are "war criminals" and thus not entitled to the convention's protections.

"They certainly treated us like criminals," Overly said. "The Hanoi Hilton is not a PW camp as Americans have come to think of them. It's an actual prison, a penitentiary, a place to keep felons."

The light bulb was kept burning in each cell 24 hours a day," Overly recalled. "There was never any sense of day or night and never any feeling of more fatigue at one time than at another."

During the long periods of waiting, he said, the men—two to a cell, sometimes three, sometimes only one—looked through the bars for exercise. They had to take turns because there was only room between the bunks for one man to walk.

Bunk is not an accurate term. The beds, Overly said, were simply three 6-inch-wide planks laid across two sawhorses.

The routine was interrupted from time to time for interrogations sessions and other activities, most of which were accompanied by beatings and insults.

But Overly and the others emphasized that the mental anguish, the "colored inactivity" as he put it, and the isolation of the men from one another caused more suffering than the physical torture.

Sanford Voters Face Ballot Test Tuesday

Editorial Comment

There is just one word of advice which is in order: Sanford voters — Get Out And Vote Tomorrow!

In that balloting a significant choice will be made by Sanford citizens in electing a fifth, nine-member City Commission to serve for a three year term.

Seeking that honor and that responsibility are three men none of whom is an incumbent.

One is a former City Commissioner—Earl Higginbotham — who was defeated a year ago when he sought the three year term as mayor which Lee P. Moore is now filling.

Another is Julian Stenstrom, a native of Sanford, making his first bid for elective office. Mr. Stenstrom is well known for the long-time residents of the city and in South Seminole, where he is active.

A new face, a new voice and a welcome vigor is presented by the third candidate Dennis Brusnahan, 42-year-old Navy veteran who served at the Sanford Naval Air Base in the 60s, now lives in Sanford and is willing to speak out on issues he considers vital.

We believe that in these three men the voters have candidates who are easily identified in terms of experience, ability and motivation. They have a choice.

It is pleased that all candidates have made an effort at such meetings as was held by the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees, in advertisements as well as statements and interviews with reporters to furnish the voters with the needed information for informed balloting.

What then are we concerned about?

We are concerned about the almost tragic lack of interest among the 6,405 registered Sanford voters to do their part. To pay attention to what the candidates are saying. To supply their part of the democratic process.

The recent mid-term elections gave unmistakable evidence that every voter counts. With this bright in memory, we would remind Sanford voters of what happened a year ago in the December election of a three-year term mayor.

Remember that this Moore-Higginbotham election was a contest that aroused emotions and produced a very healthy climate of rivalry.

At that time Harry Skop, a man of action-without-direction, was the third candidate. When the ballots were counted on Dec. 2, 1969 the 6,600 registered voters of that year had only mustered 1,936 of their number to vote.

Then to add insult to injury, the result lacked five votes to give Mr. Moore the required majority and a run-off election was required on Dec. 17th when 1,069 voters wanted Mr. Moore to have the majority post and he won.

This financial loss is not large. It is not significant. It is not alarming. It is not basically important. It is not a voter showing.

What is important, and this cannot be said too often or too emphatically, is that such a voter showing is cutting at the roots of the democratic system. When more than 6,000 registered voters are given the opportunity to vote on selecting local officials who will deal with the primary responsibilities of government and only about 2,000 cast ballots, it is a time for a lot of soul-searching among the electorate.

This year, this time the candidates for city commissioner have done their part.

Let the elections tomorrow show that Sanford voters are awake to the challenge, recognize their sacred duty and produce a total of which no one need be ashamed!

Food Yardstick Measuring

By ARNOLD R. SAWISLAK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Who is poor in the United States? At the poor, those who haven't got the money to buy enough food to survive? Or are they the people who have the least money compared to the rest of the population?

The answer is of some interest because the nation is making dramatic progress toward ending poverty defined on the basis of a minimum human diet. But it seems to be moving far less quickly toward closing the gap between the rich and the poor.

Since 1964, the government has used a food yardstick to measure poverty. It is based on the assumption that anyone who must spend more than one-third of total income to buy a subsistence diet is poor.

Under this definition, the number of Americans living in poverty declined from 38.5 million in 1966 to 24.5 million in 1968. Most politicians love those figures, because they obviously indicate that the problem of poverty is on the way to solution.

There are some however, who say the government has been far too easy on itself in defining the problem.

The National Welfare Rights Organization, for example, has estimated that the minimum income needed for the necessities of life on a Labor Department calculation called the "lower standard budget." In 1968, that showed a family of four needed $5,500, not counting medical care.

Anthony Downs, a leading private expert, points out in a new study of urban poverty for the Committee for Economic Development that the whole approach to defining poverty is weak. These analysts are interested in income distributions throughout the population and classify as poor those whose incomes are in the lowest 20 per cent of the national ranking.

Downs does not suggest that the "moderate" standard replace the official "poverty threshold," but comments that the nearly three-to-one differential between them shows that any particular issue will be based on what I sincerely believe to be the most benefit to the largest possible number of people.

But there might be one exception to that pledge—in the area of zoning. When and where an individual or a group of people, depending upon existing zoning, buy or build houses and establish a household, I shall never vote to alter that zoning unless the people in that area desire it. I am for progress but not at the expense of a single homesteader.

I am not for making Sanford the "garbage can" city of Florida. However, it is a common sense must provide a solution.

Candidates Speak Out

Stenstrom

Another requirement is going to be cooperation with present members of the City Commission. It is my intention to work hand in hand with other commissioners, if elected, whenever I can. But I do not intend to be a yes man!

However, when I cannot agree I do not plan to become adamant and unyielding. Instead, my efforts will be directed toward providing the necessary leadership in finding solutions acceptable to all or at least a majority.

Consequently, I believe in cooperating with the new media. As a former newspaperman I believe in authoritative reporting and strongly contend that people have a right to know the facts. And, certainly, I would always welcome constructive editorial opinion.

I have pledged not to represent only one special group. The group I will represent is comprised of the citizens and taxpayers of Sanford. The stand I take on any particular issue will be based on what I sincerely believe to be the most benefit to the largest possible number of people.

But there might be one exception to that pledge—in the area of zoning. When and where an individual or a group of people, depending upon existing zoning, buy or build houses and establish a household, I shall never vote to alter that zoning unless the people in that area desire it. I am for progress but not at the expense of a single homesteader.

The Sanford Airport must have sound industry. This I believe will be established with a strict criteria for location of industry into the Air Station along with a thorough study of the industry in all areas with a greater emphasis on financial stability. Some profit to the City is better than none.

The Sanford Zoo is a real challenge. It could be one of the greatest assets of the City of Sanford, and we are most fortunate in securing good tenants for this important project. We are now faced with a rather embarrassing condition, due to the fact that we have approximately 40 of the floating docks damaged. I am fully aware of the intention of all parties concerned, and feel that this should be negotiated between the parties concerned to everyone's satisfaction, without being litigated further in the courts.

At the time I went off the commission, I felt that the Zoo project was adequately worked out and that the necessary arrangements would be started to correct this deplorable condition. A year later, it is still flourishing around. I intend to give my full attention and efforts to assist in this program in order to bring it to a successful conclusion.

The airport is another one of our most important projects, and has unlimited possibilities. If given the proper attention, this project needs in depth study and determination for the proper authority to be set up. We are now endeavoring to operate this facility with three different factions trying to coordinate their efforts in order to get this project off the ground. I am for working with the present people in charge, and cooperating with the City Commission to try to work out a solution wherein each one of the citizens of the State of Florida. ## Pope Paul Abdication Rumored

VATICAN CITY (UPI)

Pressure is building on Pope Paul VI to deal with wide spread and persistent speculation he plans to abdicate.

So widespread is gossip and published speculation that the influential La Stampa of Turin said Sunday the 73-year-old pontiff might go into a Benedictine monastery. No Pope has abdicated since 1294.

Helping fan the reports are magazines and newspapers quoting unnamed "high level" and "authoritative" Vatican officials. The official record has no comment, which is the usual practice.

Friends say Farmer, who joined the administration in February 1969, wanted to leave earlier but stayed on the job to avoid embarrassing the President and nothing has happened to change that.

His primary task in HEW was to recruit minority workers for key government jobs, but he described himself as "an ambassador from the black community." A year ago he told newsmen he was "not happy but optimistic" about the administration.

After word of the meeting was made public Farmer changed to issuing terse comments and the White House would neither deny nor confirm reports of the resignation.

Another seeming telltale sign was the passing of a "farewell" party by fellow workers for Dec. 16, as well as a word that Robby H. Bradley, widely speculated as Farmer's replacement, had quit his job as a vice president for Hughes Tool Co. A Hughes spokesman said Bradley, who is white, resigned to take a job in Washington.

Top Ranking Black Ready To Quit

By JOHN STOWELL

Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — Evidence mounted today that James Farmer, highest ranking black in the administration, would turn in his resignation personally to President Nixon.

Reports persisted for months that Farmer was preparing to quit as an assistant secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. But, until today's meeting between Farmer and the President was announced, the former civil rights leader had issued detailed denials.

After word of the meeting was made public Farmer changed to issuing terse comments and the White House would neither deny nor confirm reports of the resignation.

PASS IT ON

A CREDIT EXPERT makes the remarkable claim that more than half the women in this country have never bothered to add up how much money they owe. Can't believe it... HERE'S to Flip Wilson — clink! is he not the best of the comics heretofore? Oh, Fred Allen would have been proud of him. IF YOU OWNED a clock that... one second fast every day since the year A.D. 1, how far ahead of time would it be now? An informant says eight days.

SAY YOU PUT a quarter in a Nevada slot machine, something happens, and you remark, "I lucked out." Does that mean you won or you lost? Hold on, it's not that definite. If you spring the query on your compatriot, "I'll warrant all the women will say 'I lucked out' means you lost while all the men will say it means you won. Try it... A FAIRBANKS SUBSCRIBER reports the average Eskimo's winter clothing weighs less than 10 pounds. That's not much. Considerably less than the heft of winter clothing for the average businessman hereabouts at any rate.

CUSTOMER SERVICE—Q "When Thanksgiving in Canada?" A Second Monday in October. Q "Who is the highest paid athlete now?" A Don't that Vista Pete Maravich at $300,000 a year? Q "What's the latest ratio of American Indians to employees of the Bureau of Indian Affairs?" A Just 40 to one.

HEREWITH, the latest candidates for membership in the Proper Job Club: Of Twin Falls, Ida, Dr. Carver, a surgeon. Of Monroe, La., Mr. Sprayberry, an insecticide salesman. Of California, M. M. McCarver, a cemetery caretaker. Of Trenton, N.J., Dr. Jock, a podiatrist. And of Birmingham, Wash., a supermarket produce manager named Romaine Daily.

MOST ALL the concert halls are designed in the reasonable belief that everybody in the audience will have clothes on. Now there are you paying attention? The halls have to be so designed, because the customers' clothes absorb sound, and if the audience were not fully dressed, the music wouldn't come off right. A British symphony conductor points this out. He says even numerous girls in miniskirts change the acoustics. So he proposes either miniskirts be banned or auditorium be remodelled. Calls to mind a roughly similar complaint years back when I was teaching in Beer, Verse and Dexterity at the University of Pittsburgh. One night almost all the ladies in the Syria Mosque wore satin. The conductor of the moment there walked out finally, growling at length about the rinky-dink echoes.

Adjustment Board Delays On Opinion

By MARION BETHEA
A continued appeal against a decision of the county Board of Adjustment granting a special exception to install and operate a sewage treatment plant north of Sanlando Springs has been continued until Dec. 14 by the Board of County Commissioners.

The appeal had previously been continued from Nov. 10 due to a request by John McClinton to obtain more engineering information. The area encompasses the Davis and McClintock developments. It was stated that an agreement is being negotiated for water and sewage across 1.4 to the east side of the development to be provided by the owner of the system Lester Mandell. A representative stated that the developers were presently in the process of signing a contract and that if-ment would be kept in one established area. Therefore the continuation was requested until the contract is executed. Another appeal against a decision of the Adjustment Board in denying a trailer parking permit at Eureka Hammock was denied by the Commission upon the basis of two letters which were received in opposition to the matter.

CASSELBERRY — City Council is expected to consider two vacancies on the council at a special meeting Monday, Dec. 14, at 7:30 p.m.

The two top vote getters in Tuesday's municipal election named by Blow earlier this week as his appointments, were Tom Napier and Harry Sammons.

Vacancies were left by the resignation of Napier and Richard Wirz, effective Dec. 1. John Lighty was elected to fill a third seat, to be vacated by Louis Kirby, who did not choose to run for re-election. The new terms will begin Jan. 11.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: For years my husband brainwashed me into believing that the only thing money was good for was to invest it in order to make more money. It made sense to me, and for many years that is exactly what my husband did with his money, while we went without luxuries we could have well afforded.

However, now that we have more than enough security to our investment, I think it is time we enjoyed a few luxuries. My husband totally disagrees with me and still insists on "investing" all our money.

Your previous advice to consult a marriage counselor did not work. In the first place, my husband is smarter than any marriage counselor, and in the second place, he says they are only after his money. He may listen to you, since your advice is free.

Lady, you can catch more flies with honey than vinegar. And if at this stage in your life you can't inspire your husband to want to provide you with the luxuries you can well afford, you're in trouble. It seems rather obvious that Lee is cheating himself by going with this man while he is still married. And if he doesn't get divorced and marry her, she will have wasted a lot of valuable time. In the meantime, we're afraid people will talk. What should we do?

DEAR ABBY: I enjoyed all those letters from the different preachers telling how they felt about babies crying in church. Little ones can be quite annoying when they set up a holler and their mothers don't take them out, but I will tell you what disturbs me even more. It's folks who go to sleep in the middle of the sermon and snore.

DEAR ABBY: My sister, Lee, is in her early 20s. She is a very attractive divorcee who has been seeing a rather well-to-do married man. This man (Lee says) has promised to marry her when he gets his divorce, but no one knows when that will be.

Our family is concerned that Lee will be accused of breaking up this man's home, although Lee assures us there is no danger of that.

DEAR ABBY: I have a question about my car. I have a 1968 Oldsmobile Delta 88. I would like to know if there are any other cars in the same class that are better than mine. I would like to know if there are any other cars in the same class that are better than mine.

Horoscope Forecast

Tuesday, December 8, 1970
GENERAL TENDENCIES: You can be too busy in making changes that appeal to you, so try to be less rash and impulsive and take your time thinking out the new ways you wish to achieve your aims. Use your fine mind to delve into the truth regarding some new venture that interests you very much.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Show that you are most careful before you act especially where important matters are concerned. Use diplomacy in dealing with a partner who is highly upset. Showing friendliness to others helps much.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Sit down with experts before you begin a new operation and iron out any possible bugs in it. Show patience with one who comes to you for assistance, even though you may be busy. Honesty helps much.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to Abby, Box 6700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You need to start changing everything around, but if you act too hastily, you defeat your own purpose. Sit down and write a list of things you can give your support to. De-light family in P.M. in some way.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Make sure you carry enough weight with promises as expected. Others instead of in some unusual way. Put in a good day's work. Evening can be most happy with the one you love. Show much courtesy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Although you have many duties to perform do not try to throw them off on others' shoulders. Co-workers could add to pressures, but ignore them. Keep working at a steady pace and all is fine.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) This can be a particularly happy day for you. If you jog along with others in a friendly fashion and do not try to force your ideas on anyone. Use particular care on any work you are doing.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Instead of making further demands on those dwelling with you, try to be helpful instead. Rid yourself of whatever has caused tensions. Get a new start on right living, having a greater abundance in the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have an opportunity to organize your daily activities much better, so whip up some enthusiasm for them. Do more studying so that you know all there is to know about present and future outlets. Forget gossip.

We The Women: By Betty Canary

"There are so many conflicting articles," a reader says, "and so much contradictory advice." A continuing problem at our house is getting the children to clean up their bed rooms. I've seen suggestions that we make a game of cleaning the bed, that I should lay down the law, that I simply close the door and forget it.

What do you suggest? I'm pulling her tangled hair and a daughter sits uncombed in a pile of wadded fur. The artist will naturally have depicted the two scenarios, by a litter of fishbone combs, broken second-hand laces and dirty drinking glasses.

Probably some of us merely use a messy room as a club to wield. "You got a D in History," we say. "After having cleaned your room up in a week either."

Art gets Lucy, he bets her $500 that she can't hold her temper for just 24 hours. She doesn't know that Linkletter and the Lucy cast have already worked out a plot guaranteed to make anyone blow up.

9-10 NBC. The Bob Hope Show. Hope's latest TV special is simple variety, featuring a major dose of Mr. Hope. The outstanding feature, and an obviously favorite task, is the introduction of the Look All-American football team. Bob also introduces a lovely colleague, Dorothy Lamour, who again suffers through Hope's "road" dialogue.

9-10 NBC. Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In. Phil Silvers is an ideal guest for this dippy series. Although his role as a psychiatrist working on Dick and Dan together, and a talent agent working over a starry-eyed and wretched young star played by Arta. Arta also brings back the old Letch who is trying to get Alice to go skin-dipping.

By June Anderson Almqvist, Seattle Times Women's Editor. SEATTLE (AP) — Another all-male domain has been tilled. It happened here recently when Mrs. Lynn Boyce, 22, was hired as a line attendant by a local airline service which handles itinerant and local aircraft. Mrs. Boyce's job at Gateway Flying Service is to greet arriving planes, assist pilots and passengers in matters like hotel reservation and fuel and park the planes. Mrs. Boyce got her job thanks to her professional skills and to her looks and personality. Nevertheless, it took her several months to convince company vice president Allan Crawford to hire her.

Today's woman enjoys new freedom. In her home, as well as out in the world. And part of what makes it possible is modern electric living. It gives her more time and energy to develop her full potential. Electric reverse-cycle air conditioning heats in winter and cools in summer, so today's woman can choose her own indoor climate. She feels better... achieves more. And so does her family. And being practical, she appreciates "reverse-cycle" as the key phrase for economical year-round comfort. ### Florida Will Celebrate American Bicentennial

By RICH OPPEL
Associated Press Writer
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida's celebration of the American bicentennial in 1976 will not be a great big carnival, but a serious effort to define the state's future goals and make advances in several fields. So says Pat Dodson, named by Gov. Claude Kirk last week to serve as chairman of the 27-member Florida Bicentennial Commission. The former Pensacola advertising man foresees a major international exposition at Miami which may draw 45 million persons in one year, great advances in education and transportation, and a culmination of historical restoration efforts in at least three cities. "I'm personally determined that it is not going to be a great big carnival. The appreciation of what we have done in this nation, and what we have become, is too important," he said in an interview. Dodson said he was "extremely impressed" by President Nixon's remarks before him and some 30 other state representatives at the White House last October. Nixon urged them to consider state goals in planning the celebration. A high priority in the celebration is development of an international exposition or trade center at the Internia site in Miami, something which would tie in with Florida International University's second campus and "leave behind something permanent," said Dodson. A Miami Bicentennial Commission has been created.

Congress To Hear Of Oil Slick

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Secretary of the Navy John Chafee is scheduled to testify in Washington today on the Navy's role in creating a 1,000-square-mile oil slick which threatened Florida's northeast coast last week. Chafee conferred with Navy officials in Jacksonville Sunday in preparation for his appearance before a Senate Public Works subcommittee. The secretary declined any comment on the meeting with Rear Admiral Daniel Smith Jr. of Key West and Rear Admiral Lawrence Heworth, commander of the Navy's Fleet Air operations in the Jacksonville area, but did say "the Navy is no Johnny Come Lately in pollution control." Admiral Smith is heading a formal board of inquiry into the slick created when two Navy barges out of the nearby Mayport Naval Base dumped thousands of gallons of oil waste into the Atlantic some 50 miles offshore last Monday. The massive slick came to within 10 miles of the shoreline before rising winds and choppy seas checked its progress and sent it back out to sea. The Florida Marine Patrol said aerial inspections during the weekend showed remnants of the slick were continuing to drift easterly into the Atlantic some 50 miles off shore. After learning of the dumping, Chafee revoked a regulation permitting Navy vessels from discharging oil wastes into the ocean.

44 Killed In First Crash; Two Survive

Second Yank Air Transport Found; 79 Dead

By BERT W. OKULEY
SAIGON (UPI) — The U.S. Command said today searchers had found the wreckage of a second U.S. Air Force C-119 transport plane in the mountains of Central South Vietnam. The command said there appeared to be no survivors among the 79 men aboard, including six Americans. The twin-engine C-119 went down Nov. 27 on a flight from Nha Trang on the South China Sea Coast to Saigon with six GIs and 73 South Vietnamese. Rescue planes Saturday found another crashed C-119 and said today the total of American troops in Vietnam fell below $50,000 for the first time in more than four years. Spokesmen said there were 348,700 U.S. troops in the war zone as of Dec. 3, a decline of 6,100 from the previous week. President Nixon's latest withdrawal program calls for a reduction to 341,000 by Christmas but U.S. Command sources said there will be 7,000 fewer men left in the war zone than Nixon's original target. Communications from Phnom Penh said the remnants of a Cambodian battalion that fought a North Vietnamese regiment all day Sunday had lost radio contact with the military headquarters after falling in air support.

Both were injured. Thick clouds and rain had hampered the search for nearly a week. The U.S. Command also said today the post audit of the strike against GM for a pattern-setting agreement. No strike deadline has been set for Chrysler or for Ford's Canadian operation. The prospect loomed that some Ford plants might be closed, despite any national agreement. Sources said that some union locals which had failed to reach the plant agreements might walk out at midnight whatever happened at the main bargaining table. By early today, 67 of 99 local bargaining units had reached agreements.

Bresnahan, 105 Meadow Creek Cove, in the Woodlands Development, according to a report from Deputy Day Lamann, destroyed the family's Altamonte Springs home. In the Sunday incident Deputy William Hogan was trapped along Longwood Avenue (past midnight) and spotted flames in the kitchen of a house owned by John Henry Dursad, Jimmy Smith, Michael Dursad and Nathaniel and Vardar Hale. The deputy knocked and when no one could be aroused, forced open the door and awakened the sleepers, one-by-one. After the group had been removed, Hogan called firemen from Altamonte Springs but the frame dwelling was gutted. Sheriff Polk said Hogan is an example of the "fine young dedicated" police officers working in Seminole County. "Bill is a new man, and father of two children, and there is no doubt in my mind that his alert action saved the lives of those asleep inside the burning house," Polk added. The sheriff said he is personally proud to have Hogan as a member of his patrol. ALTIMONTE SPRINGS — A letter relative to an increase in league fees will be read at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow, is expected to consider and accept the offer from the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration for a grant for the city's new sewer system in the amount of $281,160. The grant had been expected for some time, and is now resolved. Prior to the meeting two public hearings are on the agenda. One is an application to vacate and abandon a portion of Third Street and Branch Avenue between Southwestport and Sanford Avenue. The other is a request to consider a zoning change at Robert Betts Addition from R-1A to R-3. During the meeting a letter will be read to council regarding the tax status of the St. Johns Presbytery high rise apartments. A letter will also be read from the Auditor General regarding post audit cost.

relative to restrictions upon sewer station zoning in the city. Consideration will be given to the payment of interest on the temporary construction loan. From the floor the Council will recognize County Planner David Farr and County Commissioner Greg Drummond. Presumably they will be present to voice the county's policies upon the Cross County Financial District annexation. Continuation of fire protection by the municipality to Zapp's Department Store will be discussed. First reading will be held upon an ordinance to annex property at 14 and SR 436. Council will set the date for a requested public hearing which has received opposition from several conservation groups relative to the Crane's Roost area. These groups contend that there will be possible pollution. A discussion will be held

Krider Answers Critic Over Proposed Canal

The long-time conservationist with his yard of two or three acres a week to the editor in opposition to everything imaginable, has failed to protect us from the pollution of the St. Johns River that is considered to be the worst in the United States from Palatka north. The State Board of Natural Resources contend that the river is so bad the Shad refuse to enter, and apparently those that do are caught in the nets of the commercial fisherman at Putnam County. While he was screaming about all the had effects the Canal would have on shad fishing, we lost 70 percent of the yearly run. While Mr. Crowe proclaims to be the authority on everything that is good for Seminole County, Orlando throws the effluent in the Econ, the blind mosquitoes prevent Sanford from reaping the benefit of Lake Meade, bycatching close the river six to eight months in the year, and the shad run is fast disappearing. Perhaps "Big" Jim's classification as a conservationist is based on his production of letters to the editor, rather than accomplishments. What a delightful place Sanford would be if suddenly all the "againers" would be in favor of something.

Lyman Girl Kidnaped, Freed; Sanford Teenager Assaulted

By BILL SCOTT
The abduction of a Lyman High School teenager for a 20-minute period and the attempted rape of a Sanford girl by a group of boys in a car traveling back from De Land highlighted the weekend's crime report. Longwood Police Chief Ed Sweet said he is searching for a 29-year-old man, with a mustache, who abducted a 16-year-old girl from the school campus Thursday by placing a knife to the girl's back and forcing her to accompany him in his car. Chief Sweet stated the girl was returned unharmed about 20 minutes later to the school. He quoted the girl as begging her abductor not to harm her and succeeded in getting the man to return her safely after kissing her cheek. In a second report, Chief Ed Sweet stated a man exposed himself to a group of girls at Seminole Memorial Hospital to question the girl. Lt. Charles Egan reported the girl's underclothes and wig had been left in the car after the intended victim was released near her home.

Nixon Accused Of Hushing Sailor Incident

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of a House subcommittee investigating the Lithuanian defector incident, angered by a State Department press officer's refusal to show for a hearing, says he will not subpoena witnesses if necessary.

Rep. Wayne J. Hayes, D-Del., accused the Nixon administration of hushing the appearance of Deputy Undersecretary of State William J. Macomber Jr. and doctoring congressional investigation in the case of the asylum-seeking sailor forcibly returned to a Soviet vessel.

During a 12-minute hearing by the Foreign Affairs subcommittee Thursday, the witness chair remained vacant. Saying he could only guess at the reason, Hayes said:

"It may be... that it is going to take the White House some time to get all its people reorganized with their proper stories."

In reply, a State Department spokesman later said Macomber accepted the request to testify only after the administration's investigation was complete and President Nixon's findings had been made public. Since neither condition was fulfilled, the spokesman added, Macomber didn't go.

Shortly before Macomber's scheduled appearance on Capitol Hill, the White House disclosed new guidelines it said would insure no recurrence of a hushing incident of this kind, but declined to discuss details of this case it said still is being investigated.

That development came about the time the Soviet embassy in Washington said the sailor—who jumped to a U. S. Coast Guard cutter to plead for political sanctuary—was seized by Soviet crewmen who boarded the American vessel with U. S. permission—had stolen money from his captain's safe and had deserted.

"The attempt to give this case a political interpretation and to present it as a matter of criminal law who tried to escape responsibility," the Soviet statement added, "cannot be viewed as other than another hostile anti-Soviet propaganda effort. This can only be regretted."

The incident took place off Martha's Vineyard on the Massachusetts coast Nov. 21 when a Soviet trawler was moored alongside the Coast Guard cutter Vigilant for talks about coastal fishing rights.

On Capitol Hill, the House hearing for the State Department spokesman was held for Monday, Hayes said, "and if they haven't released Mr. Macomber from captivity, I'm going to ask the (committee) chairman to issue a subpoena."

Hayes requested Congress to find out what happened, what the State Department played, and whether Coast Guard personnel were permitted to make foreign policy.

Sen. F. Bradford Morse, R-Ill., a fellow committee member agreed "Congress has a right to know the facts—but said he understands Macomber will appear at a hearing "as soon as he has facts in hand."

At the White House, presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said new instructions call for every possible protest for those seeking sanctuary in the United States.

"Under no circumstances," Ziegler said, "will the State Department press officer John F. King said the United States has told Russia in position Saturday's scheduled visit of the Soviet research vessel Akademik Kurchatov to Boston because "we felt the visit would be inopportune at this time."

Although this appeared on the surface to be retaliation for Russia's role in the defector incident, officials refused to support such an interpretation and there was some indication the government was worried about an antagonistic public reaction.

Edge water 24 - Seminole 23

'One Point Is Like One Mile'

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor

ORLANDO — It was a field goal that appeared to win it for the Seminole High Football Seminoles: It was a field goal that won it for Edgewater; it was the most exciting game played in the Tangerine Bowl this year: it was the Sentinel Star Bowl.

The Sanford Seminoles went to the Orlando Field with victory on their mind and three quarters it appeared they would have it. But then the "impossible dream" that was so possible came to a disastrous halt at the Edgewater Eagles overtook the Tribe and won in the final seconds of the game, 24-23. But that point was like a mile as it came when it couldn't be matched.

With the game less than two minutes old, Johnny Holt brought the same 18,000 fans on hand to their feet as he caught a Tommy Barks pass and raced 77 yards, before being pulled down at the two yard line. He would have gone all the way had it not been for a bad leg. The Seminoles couldn't get the ball across the goal line, with Dallas Brown dropping a quick pass in the end zone on fourth down.

Edgewater took over on the seven, and after three plays, they gained only six yards. It was a punting situation and Buster Morrison, "Mr. Every-thing" for the Eagles, went back to punt. Carr highlighted a drive came from nowhere to put a hand on it and then made a gallant effort to scoop the ball up. It rolled out of bounds, but the Seminoles had the ball on the five yard line.

Howell got the call three straight times and finally carried it in from the six. Kevin Spolski converted and the Seminoles led with 5:23 left in the initial period of play. There was a rousing of the kicker call on the PAT, and the Seminoles kicked off from the Eagle 45 yard line.

The Eagles moved into Sanford territory and had the ball at the 24 yard line with a first down. They lost two yards, and the ball was still 12 yards away from the first down when fourth down rolled around. They went for it, but lost three yards and the Seminoles took control. The Seminoles were assessed a 15 yard penalty on the first play, and on first down and 25 yards to go, Walt McCully intercepted a half-back pass thrown by Tommy Whigham. A pair of first downs moved the ball down to the 26 yard line and the Eagles were threatening. But they could gain only three yards in four plays and the Seminoles took over.

Six plays later, Ronnie Howell slipped back and quick kicked for the Seminoles. The ball went back and fourth four times, and the Seminoles found themselves with a first down on their own 29 yard line. Late in the second period, Barks connected on 20 yard aerial for a first down. Then Barks went four yards on a keeper. Then it was pass play that covered 47 yards as he broke a tackler. Spolski booted and the Tribe led 14-0 with 1:56 left in the first half. That's the way the half ended.

Phil Eason took the opening kick off in the third quarter, the Eagles and raced all the way back to the Seminole 29 yard line. Only a shoe-string tackle by Mark Carr saved the touchdown. With a fourth down situation, it appeared that the Edgewater offense had been stopped. But Morrison hurled a pass into the end zone and the Seminole defender, NeSmith, deflected the ball, right into the outstretched hands of Eason. The PAT attempt was wide and the score was 14-6, early in the third quarter.

A 28 yard run by Howell and a 41 yard pass from Barks to Carr from Morrison to Robert Farina was good for a TD with 5:02 remaining in the third period. Morrison hit Chuck Kazarov on the Seminole 20 yard line and the margin was cut to 20-14.

Near the end of the third quarter, the Seminoles picked up the hardest first down of the season. It was first and ten at the Seminole 44 yard line. Johnny Holt took a pass, but was hit inside the 30 yard line. Edgewater recovered the ball and raced back across the 35 to the 28 yard line, where he was hit and Mike Hardin grabbed the loose pigskin. It was a loss of yardage, but a first down.

On the first play of the fourth quarter, the Seminoles had all but assured themselves of a win, 24-23. The Seminoles got the ball and had time for three plays, but couldn't do it.

As one Sentinel Star Bowl official termed it, "It should have ended in a tie." A Seminole High fan remarked, "We won it on everything but the scoreboard." But that's what counts, and the Seminoles took a respectable loss.

PRETTY DEBBIE Moody, a member of the SHS cheerleaders, had a lot to cheer about in the first half of the Sentinel-Star Bowl game as the Tribe rolled to a 14-0 lead at the half. But a come-from-behind effort in the last half gave the Eagles of Edgewater a 24-23 win.

Tribe Stands Proud

By GREY BOYLES
Seminole Coaching Staff

The Seminoles were sad Saturday night but they were also proud that they had played for Seminole High and it took all that Edgewater had to pull out victory at the end of the game. The college scouts who were impressed on the Orlando fans. They showed the big city people and players what everyone in Sanford already knew, that the Seminoles are for real.

Questionable penalties and a couple of mental mistakes cost the Seminoles the game. The college scouts were impressed by several of the Seminoles and one scout said what the Seminoles already knew, that Cecil Nelson and Cliff Martin were better ends than John Davis of Orlando Edgewater. Dick Settle made a big impression on the scouts with his middle guard play and nothing can take away the gutsy quarterbacking of Tommy Barks as he ended the season with a school record 22 touchdowns. Ricky NeSmith made some great catches and all of the backs ran hard. Johnny Holt, Tommy Whigham, Chris Malby and Ronnie Howell picked up chunks of valuable real estate. The line did a good job of keeping out the Eagle defensive linemen and opening holes for the Seminole backs.

The players and coaches of the Seminoles are proud of the City of Sanford and the surrounding areas for their fine support this year and it was just great to see such a following around Sanford at the Bowl game.

Kicking played a great part in the game. In fact, kicking was the game. Defensive end Cecil Nelson blocked an Eagle punt that he would before the game and set up the first Seminole score. Kevin Spolski kicked a 30 yard field goal and put the Seminoles ahead by two with two minutes left in the game.

When it looked like the Seminoles had stopped the Eagles a very crucial pass interference call allowed the Eagles to stay alive and set up a Buster Morrison field goal from the 25 yards with only 15 seconds left on the clock.

The first half was all Seminole and the Eagles dominated most of the second half. The Seminoles won the battle of the punts but lost the war by only one slim point. It has been a pleasure, as a coach and writer, to work with such a fine group of young men. The coaches, led by head coach Tom Perrin, were fortunate to have been allowed to have a small part of the lives of such a truly great bunch of guys and as every-one knows, in life one must learn to take the bitter with the sweet and the Seminoles know how to take bitter pills and become better men. God bless a great bunch of young men and a small band of 19 great senior Seminoles. Stand tall you Seminoles.

Edgewater took the kickoff and began driving. A seven yard pass from Morrison to Robert Farina was good for a TD with 5:02 remaining in the third period. Morrison hit Chuck Kazarov on the Seminole 20 yard line and the margin was cut to 20-14.

Near the end of the third quarter, the Seminoles picked up the hardest first down of the season. It was first and ten at the Seminole 44 yard line. Johnny Holt took a pass, but was hit inside the 30 yard line. Edgewater recovered the ball and raced back across the 35 to the 28 yard line, where he was hit and Mike Hardin grabbed the loose pigskin. It was a loss of yardage, but a first down.

On the first play of the fourth

TOMMY WHIGHAM races down the field Saturday night at the Sentinel-Star Bowl, while one tackler hangs on and Whigham highlights a drive that climaxed on a 18 yard pass to Ricky Green, with 7:33 left in the third period. The kick was off target and the score stayed 20-14.

Dolce's Attitude Toward Tribe Changes After A Tough Battle

By LARRY NEELY
Herald Sports Staff

ORLANDO — A hot propaganda battle ensued between the forces of the Edgewater Eagles and the Sanford Seminoles prior to Friday night's bowl contest, particularly between Bob Dolce and Tom Perrin, coaches of the respective ball clubs.

Dolce was by far the most outspoken of the two, claiming foul when guard Cliff Brackins was reported to Florida High School Activities Association Executive Secretary Floyd Lay, as living out of Edgewater's district. Brackins was later determined to have established his legal residence at a motel in the school's district satisfying all the residency requirements. Both teams were vying for a berth in the state Class AA football playoffs as the representative of District 3AA at the time the Brackins issue erupted. Edgewater held a two point advantage in the district standings over Seminole with Oak Ridge trailing the Sanford team by three points.

Had Edgewater been forced to forfeit their games Seminole would have been the District 3AA representative.

Then the eligibility issue blew up right in Dolce's face. Jones High School was determined to have an ineligible player and was forced to forfeit their games which gave Oak Ridge another win to tie Edgewater with 70 points. Since Oak Ridge had defeated Edgewater 13-6 earlier in the season, Oak Ridge went to the state playoffs.

Dolce let it be known that he felt the weaker team was going to represent the district, despite the fact the Eagles had lost to Oak Ridge. The Edgewater head coach once again turned his attention to Seminole, his opponent in the Sentinel-Star Bowl. Dolce said that the Sanford eleven, although undefeated in regular season play, were overrated and owed their jobs in the first quarter and hit them hard to give them a real test to see if they were really as good as claimed. Prior to the game Dolce said he was prepared to serve helpful helpings of "crisis" to several fanfibles.

Dolce ate several slices of "humble pie" as the Seminoles drummed Edgewater in every category except on the score board. The victorious Eagle team was saved from overtaking by a 25 yard field goal by Buster Morrison with 17 seconds remaining in the game.

By the end of the game Dolce's attitude toward the Sanford Seminoles had changed from one of mockery to one of respect. At the conclusion of the game, Dolce said, "I'll tell you, Sanford has a real tough team."

Perhaps Dolce's turnaround in his attitude toward the Seminoles can be attributed to the 43 minutes and 22 seconds of actual playing time that he saw his Eagles losing to the "overrated" Seminoles.

Several major college scouts were on hand to view several Edgewater players, including The Eagles' head coach of last year Don Blackwelder, who is now with Florida State University.

One scout who was at the Tangerine Bowl to view Edgewater defensive end John Henry Davis stated that Seminoles had two that were better, Cecil Nelson and Cliff Martin. At the conclusion of the game, several of the Edgewater players were bestowed with Metro Conference honors.

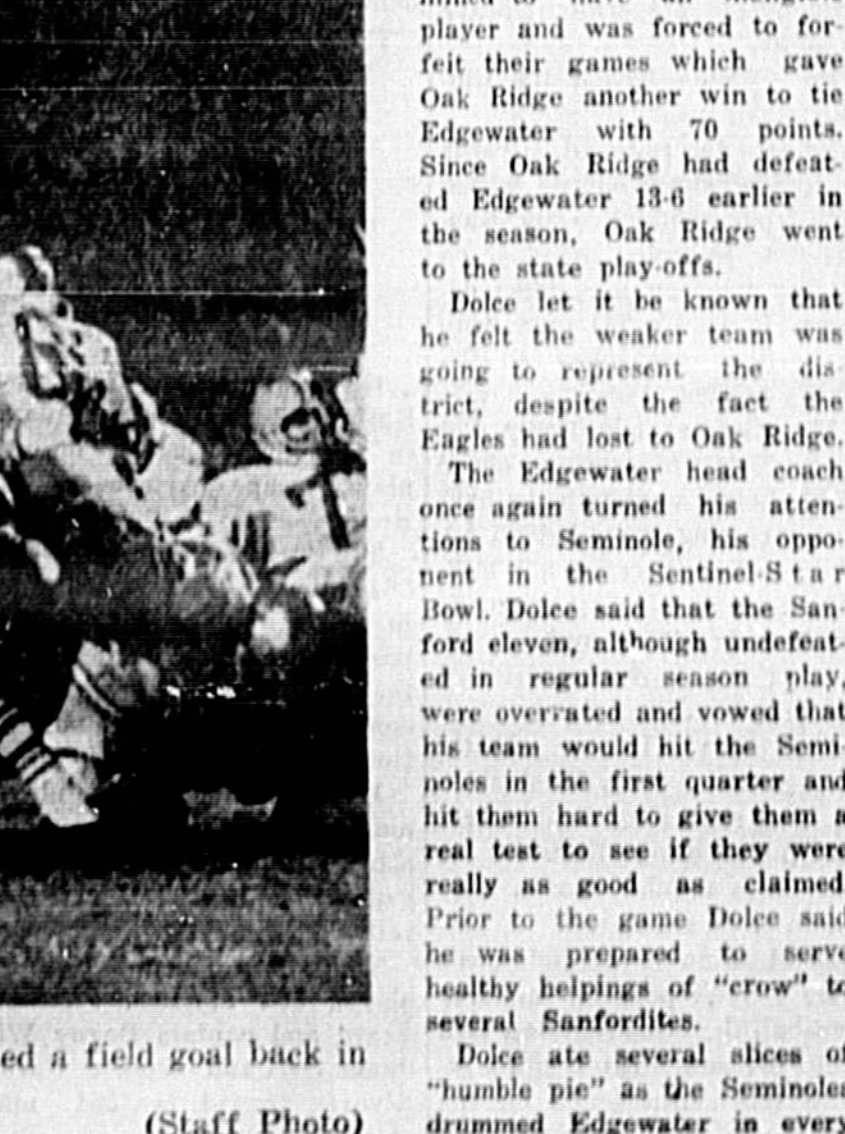

Walt McCully was named the outstanding defensive back of the conference while Glen Kennedrick was named the top offensive lineman. Brett Welch, a 196 pound linebacker, was honored as Edgewater's Most Valuable Player of the Bowl game. Tommy Barks received the honor for Sanford.

One contributing factor to the outcome of the game may well have been the apparent willingness of Edgewater's sister Metro Conference teams to see the Eagles lose. Nearly all of the other Metro teams loaned their game films to the Seminoles.

One interesting sidelight to the game was the fact that "fool" played an important role in the clash. Three extra points were kicked, two by Seminoles' Kevin Spolski and one by Morrison. Three field goals were attempted and two were completed, one by Spolski and one by Morrison.

For such a pitched battle water defensive end John Henry Davis was surprisingly cool. There were no fights either on or off the field. Boos were few and far between. The only signs of animosity between the two teams were the signs that decorated the stands. Considering the pregame publicity it is something that the Sentinel-Star Bowl. Dolce said that the Sanford eleven, although undefeated in regular season play, were overrated and owed their jobs in the first quarter and hit them hard to give them a real test to see if they were really as good as claimed. Prior to the game Dolce said he was prepared to serve helpful helpings of "crisis" to several fanfibles.

Dolce ate several slices of "humble pie" as the Seminoles drummed Edgewater in every

FOR THE SECOND time in Seminole history, a field goal was kicked Saturday night. Here, Kevin Spolski boots the ball for a 30 yard field goal to give the Seminoles a 28-21 lead. But it wasn't enough as they fell 24-23. Don Carter kicked a field goal back in 1959, the first ever by a Seminole. (Staff Photo)

Seminole Stops Kissimmee Cagers

By GARY TAYLOR, Herald Sports Editor. KISSIMMEE — "The worst part about it is that Kissimmee is better than Lyman. Those were the words of Seminole High head basketball coach Joe Mills after his Fighting Seminoles had managed to stop the Kissimmee five by a score of 57-54. The exciting come-from-behind win ended the Tribe's record at 1-1 after a first game loss to Lyman.

The Kowboys jumped to an early 8-0 lead, and widened it to as much as 14-7 during the opening period. The end of the first period saw them leading the locals 14-9. Things didn't get any better in the opening minutes of the second quarter. Five or six straight Kissimmee field goals made the score 21-11 with 4:30 remaining in the half.

HERALD SCOREBOARD. Seminole 57, Kissimmee 54. Scoring: Seminole (Smith 15, Nelson 12, Hollaway 12, Left 12), Kissimmee (Smith 15, Nelson 12, Hollaway 12, Left 12).

A key play came with 3:17 remaining in the period. Greg Mitchell was at the line with the bonus in effect. He missed the shot, but a lane violation by Kissimmee gave him a "new lease on life" and he sank both shots. With 1:47 remaining to be played in the half, Wes Louwman sank a basket that made it 23-19.

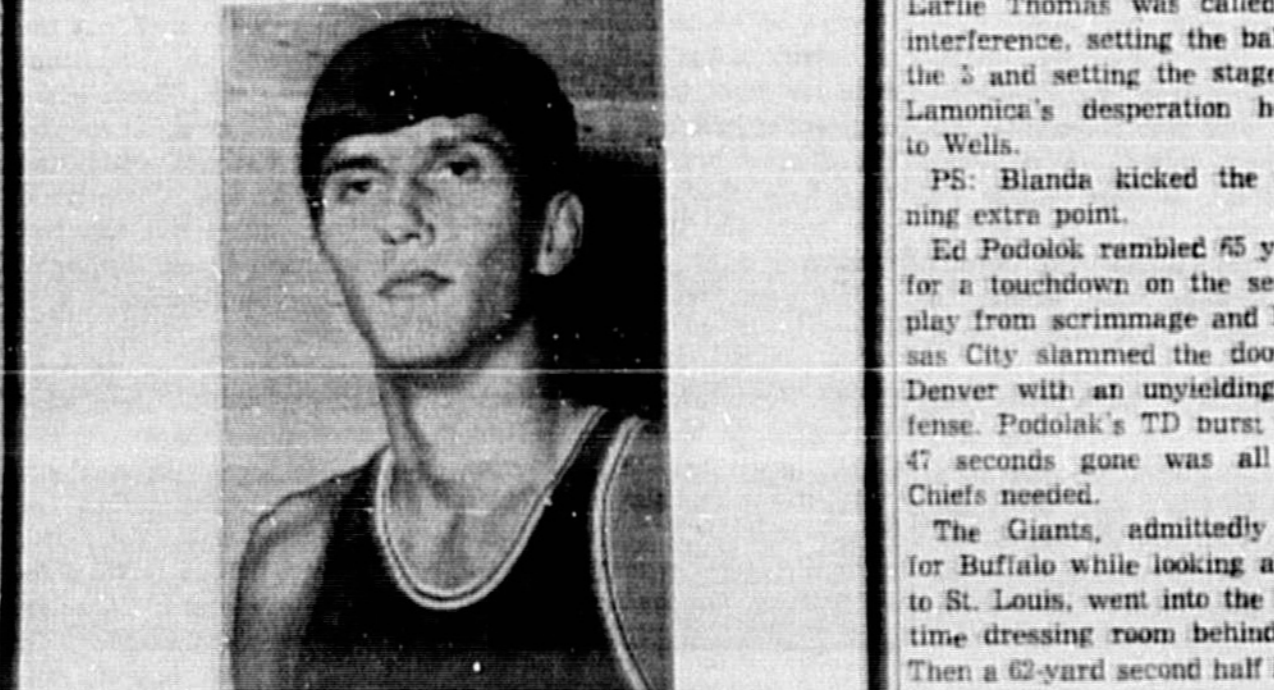

It was a see-saw third period, with Seminole holding the advantage most of the time. At one time they led by five, 41-36. With 23 seconds remaining in the third period, Ricky Smith hit one of his shots to give the Tribe a 42-40 advantage going into the final quarter.

CONCENTRATION... the only way to describe it. Seminole High basketball coach Joe Mills talks to his players, warning them not to foul, during a time out called with just seconds remaining in their game with Kissimmee. The Seminoles won the close contest 57-54 and are 1-1 on the season.

Florida Tech Wins, Loses In Weekend's Cage Action

By HERRY CUSH, Herald Sports Staff. Florida Tech's newly crowned Knights split in weekend action at the Oviedo High School gymnasium, downing Patrick Air Force Base, 112-75, then bowing to Southwest Georgia, 85-76.

It was a weekend of a Knight of Old might have experienced but at least Tech was lucky enough to come out with their heads and their heads raised high at that.

With one starter at home and another playing despite after effects of a lingering cold, the Knights were able to rip the nets for 63 points in the first half of their Friday night encounter with Patrick and coast to an easy victory.

Ed Smith was home resting when his mates were running Patrick into the hardwood at Oviedo High School. And Pat Fitzgerald gave it all he had before he was permitted an early shower by Coach "Torchy" Clark with 14 minutes left in the game.

Lions Barely Miss Century Mark

By LARRY NEELY
Herald Sports Staff
DELAND—The Florida Military Academy gymnasium resembled the ancient edifice that Oviedo High School called home for many a year, but that fact didn't seem to deter the Lions as they roared to a 99-38 victory over the Knights in their season opener.

Oviedo spent the last 1:17 of its contest trying to break the century mark, and had six chances to do it, but muffed them all. While the final buzzer was being sounded referee Bob Raine called a foul on Keith Swanson of Florida Military which gave Ed Whipper two shots from the charity stripe. Whipper missed on the first attempt and when the ball bounced off the rim on the final try Joe Mikler was up and showed the ball in the hoop. The shot was not counted since it came after the final buzzer.

The Lions charged to an early lead in the game and the Knights were unable to overcome the obviously better Oviedo quint. By the end of the first frame the Oviedo team enjoyed a 21-10 lead. The Knights were held to nine points in the second quarter while the Lions bolstered their lead by 20 points.

It was the second period that the Lions put in their shakiest offensive performance of the contests even though they advanced their lead by 20 points. The Oviedo five lost the ball on turnovers eight times. The Florida Military squad was shaky in the same period as they lost the ball nine times to the Lions.

Oviedo expanded their already insurmountable lead by 27 points in the third period and added the icing on the cake with 28 points in the final period while allowing Florida Military only six. The Knights' two top scorers, Ed Kucharke and Dave Nihart, fouled out in the final period adding more problems to the out-classed Florida Military team.

Rick Holloway passed the Oviedo floorman meeting 20 points while pulling down six rebounds. Three of the remainder of the starting five were in double figures for the contest. Curtis Carwin added 18 points to Oviedo's effort with George Parker and David Tom-sie adding 14 and 13 points respectively. Oviedo's 90 points is exceeded only by the Lions' February 5, 1967 contest with Florida Military when the Lions came out on top 106-40.

The boards were controlled virtually throughout the game by the Lions. The Oviedo quint nabbed 48 rebounds while the Knights were able to grab only 16 rebounds. Whipped pulled down ten. Toase and Mark Wilson got eight and seven rebounds respectively.

Head mentor Dave Miller was fairly satisfied with the showing his ball club made in Friday night's game, but left room for more improvement at the season progressed. Miller pointed out that some of the players had been working out for little more than a week.

Play-maker Alan Daniel who started at guard was among the three players who had previously been devoting their attentions to the gridiron. The charity stripe was one of the most active places on the court for both teams. Referees Bob Raine and Tom Sperling called 23 personal fouls on Oviedo and 22 on Florida Military. Towards the end of the game Sperling was heard to comment, "I believe this is the most fouls I have ever called in one game."

Oviedo hit on 16 of the 24 from the foul line for 62.5 per cent while the Knights hit only 18 of 39 for 46 per cent. The control of the boards was shown by the fact that the Lions netted 42 field goals while Florida Military scored only 16.

The next game on tap for the Lions will be a big one this coming Friday night when they play host to Winter Garden Lakeview. The game will mark two firsts in Oviedo basketball as it will be their first home game in their new gym and their premiere performance in an Orange Belt Conference game. Preceding the game the Oviedo Athletic Boosters Club will sponsor a spaghetti supper to be held in the Oviedo High School commons from 8-7 p.m. Game time for the preliminary Junior Varsity contest is slated for 6:30 p.m.

A 15-Rounder At The Garden

Ali Takes On Bonavena

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
NEW YORK (AP) — Muhammad Ali takes another step in his bid for a showdown with heavyweight champion Joe Frazier when he meets Oscar Bonavena tonight in his first New York fight since 1967.

Frazier is scheduled to fight tonight with his rock groups in the Catskills, bidding his time for the greatest one-night stand in boxing history—a possible $7 million title match with Ali.

Ali is a 6-1 favorite to beat Bonavena, probably the last stumbling block to a fight with Frazier.

The closed-circuit telecasts, handled by Top Rank Inc., will be seen at 173 locations, including New York in the United States and Canada with a seating capacity of 1 million.

Ali, also known as Cassius Clay, is guaranteed $200,000 against 42½ per cent of all receipts. Bonavena gets $100,000 against one percent of receipts.

The fight will be Ali's first in New York since March 22, 1967, when he knocked out Zora Foley in a title defense. He then was stripped of his championship because of a conviction for refusing induction into the military service, and went into a 1½ year exile from the ring that ended with his fight with Quarry six weeks ago.

Ali's conviction, which carried a five-year prison sentence, is still pending before the U.S. Supreme Court. This is not expected to block a Frazier fight should Ali beat Bonavena. Bonavena is expected to answer a question left unanswered when Ali stopped Quarry on cuts after three rounds in Atlanta.

What about Ali's stamina? Ali, angered when Bonavena said to him last week, "Why you not in Army—you chicken," has predicted he will win in nine rounds.

But Bonavena, a bull-strong, braiding type of fighter, went 25 rounds with Frazier, a nimbler puncher, and never left his feet. Although he lost two decisions with Frazier, the second a 15-rounder, he slugged with the champion and dropped him twice in the first round of the first fight.

Oviedo Junior Varsity Wins Season Lid-Lifter

By LARRY NEELY
Herald Sports Staff
The margin was close from the charity stripe with the Baby Lions hitting nine out of 28 while the Knights hit on six of 17. From the floor the race wasn't even close as the Oviedo JV quint chalked up 26 field goals, holding the Florida Military team to nine.

The Baby Lions moved out in front in the first period with a narrow margin of 9-4 but tallied 20 points in the second frame while holding the Knight five to a mere five points. The Oviedo JV's second quarter effort was paced by Gooch's six points.

The Oviedo JV expanded their lead by 11 points in the third period and moved out further in front in the final period for the win.

Dale Phillips, Baby Lion coach, made sure everyone on the bench got into the act before the contest had ended. None disappointed Phillips as all eleven players contributed to the winning effort.

Over-Time Soccer Battle Ends In Loss For Middies

Soccer has been played in England and all over South America as a major sport for many years, even before football was introduced to the United States.

Last Friday the Sanford Naval Academy's soccer team played their first game of the season, with a 2-1 loss against Bishop Moore High School.

Basketball's Birthday Set For Next Month

CHICAGO — Basketball, the only major sport strictly of U.S. origin, next month celebrates a diamond jubilee—the Middle West a thousand miles from its birthplace.

It was 75 years ago, come Jan. 18, that the first college basketball game with five on a side was played.

The game was invented on a December day 73 years ago by a YMCA physical education instructor, James Naismith, at Springfield, Mass. Among those exposed to it in the early stages, according to Encyclopedia Britannica, were H. F. Kallenberg and Amos Alonzo Stagg.

50-Man Teams
Kallenberg brought basketball to the University of Iowa and Stagg implemented it in the University of Chicago. By then the game was spreading among other campuses but it was several years before the inevitable happened—basketball broke out of its intramural confinement and went intercollegiate.

This happened when Stagg and Kallenberg sent their teams into competition. The scene was Iowa City. The score ended 15-12 in favor of Chicago.

Neither team used a substitute. One of the early problems in the game was deciding on the proper number of players. At Cornell, in 1892, the game was played with 30 men on each team—but not for long. The total dipped to seven and then, a few months prior to the Iowa-Chicago clash, to five.

After the first intercollegiate game became history, basketball's fathers advanced to the next logical step—the tournament. The first national tournament was staged by the Amateur Athletic Union in 1897. It was won by the 23rd Street YMCA of New York City.

Perhaps naturally, this team turned pro, calling themselves the New York Wanderers. One of the game's more important dates came Dec. 29, 1894, when basketball was introduced at Madison Square

Takes Ball And Cake

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — When Dartmouth beat Harvard 17-14 in the game of the ball and a cake for winning coach Bob Blackman.

It was his 100th win at Dartmouth and when the game was over his players presented him with the game ball and a cake bearing an appropriate inscription.

Each team failed to score until the second quarter when Bishop Moore made a hard drive and penalty shot for the Blue Jackets. The ball was high and went over the top of the net, leaving the score Bishop Moore 1 - SNA 0.

The third quarter saw the ball pretty much in the center of the field until a series of kicks from Bill Phillips and Tim German, left center forward Danny Wallace in front of the goal all alone. The shot was good as the score was tied 1-1. Later in the same quarter "hands" was called on a Blue Jacket and again Bishop Moore got a direct kick on the goal. The hard straight shot was saved by SNA's goalie John McClain. At the end of the fourth quarter the game was still tied, so was continued into overtime of two, 5 minute periods. Bishop Moore scored during the first five minutes period. The Blue Jacket failed to score in the remaining time and the game ended, Bishop Moore 2 - Sanford Naval Academy 1.

Father Complains To State Council

By BILL SCOTT

An Oviedo father said today he had filed a complaint with the State Professional Practices Council at Tallahassee after his 15-year-old son fell while being forced to pick up garbage at the school athletic field, and cut his hand.

Theodore Jackson said nine stitches were needed to close the wound on his son David's hand, after the youth was compelled under Oviedo High School's internal suspension policy to pick up trash in a locked football field.

Betty Jackson, the eighth grader's mother, reported both parents had talked with Supt. John Anzel about the incident, which first started after the boy was accused of cutting classes rather than sit in an unheated portable classroom on a cold day.

She said her son was suspended by Clyde Holder, the school principal, and made to water flowers for five days before instructions were given to the boy to remove the trash from the football field.

Upon arriving at the athletic field with two other youths for garbage detail, the boys found the stadium was locked and they had to scale the fence.

Next day, David returned alone to the field and climbed the fence, later he fell and cut himself and according to Mrs. Jackson had it not been for Coach Miller arriving at the field to take school annual pictures, the boy might not have been able to climb out to get medical attention.

As it was, the coach removed the boy to seek medical attention, according to Mrs. Jackson, who stated she was made aware of the accident when she received a call from the doctor's office.

The boy's father said he didn't feel it was right that he should be forced to pay the doctor's bill, since his son was working under the direction of the school officials when the mishap occurred.

Supt. John Anzel acknowledged he had been informed by the Jacksons of the situation concerning their son, but made no direct comment.

But, and here's the part bugging so many fans: why was it necessary to have those summit conferences on just about every call you made against Sanford (oops, there I go again...)

Instead of continuing in this vein, permit me to share some choice messages, O.K.?

"Notice to All Fighting Seminoles: We, and I know everyone, wish to thank you for the most exciting and well-played high school football game we have ever witnessed. It was truly an evening to remember!!

And may I add, this time the 'best' did NOT win."

It was signed, The Kriekes.

Honest... this is the truth. One of those officials also calls on a number of local business places... selling electronic gear, etc.

Would you believe that there were two stores who refused to even talk to him? And further that after consenting to carry on a conversation, a certain appliance store in Sanford purchased a trophy for the refs... As a matter of fact, it was a combination trophy to be shared by the refs and "Eagles"...

Is it true that Coach Perrin spoke to the Rotary yesterday and said that "if I had to do it over again, I'd go ahead and select the same officials."

And after a brief pause, added, "Afterall, even the boys playing the game do have had nights, too!"

Another reminder that the "Walker" Senator, Lewten Chiles will be in our territory again tomorrow.

This time, he'll stand still long enough to shake your hand while he's at the Florida State Bank Lounge... from 2 till 4 P.M.

Here's your chance to talk to your U.S. Senator. (It seems that we never really do get around to WRITING, so...)

What we really are, matters more than what other people think of us.

'Fuel Oil Pollution' Dumping Blamed On Railroad

By JANE CASSELLBERY

Fuel oil pollution, noted for the past two weeks by fishermen on the St. Johns River in Lake Monroe north to Deland, has been traced to Mills Creek and the blame laid on Seaboard Coastline Railroad.

County Commissioner Sidney Vihlen reports that evidence of fuel oil dumping at Mills Creek has existed for several years, but for the past two weeks there has been an excessive amount noticed by people coming in and out of Meador's Marine located near the creek.

Investigation by Vihlen and Gene Meadors showed that oil residue was being dumped into the creek from a four-inch pipe running out of Seaboard Coastline property, where fueling docks are located. County Sanitarian Val Robbins who following complaints about oil on the river, had made inspection, but was unable to determine the origin, joined Vihlen and Meadors in checking out the situation at the creek Monday morning.

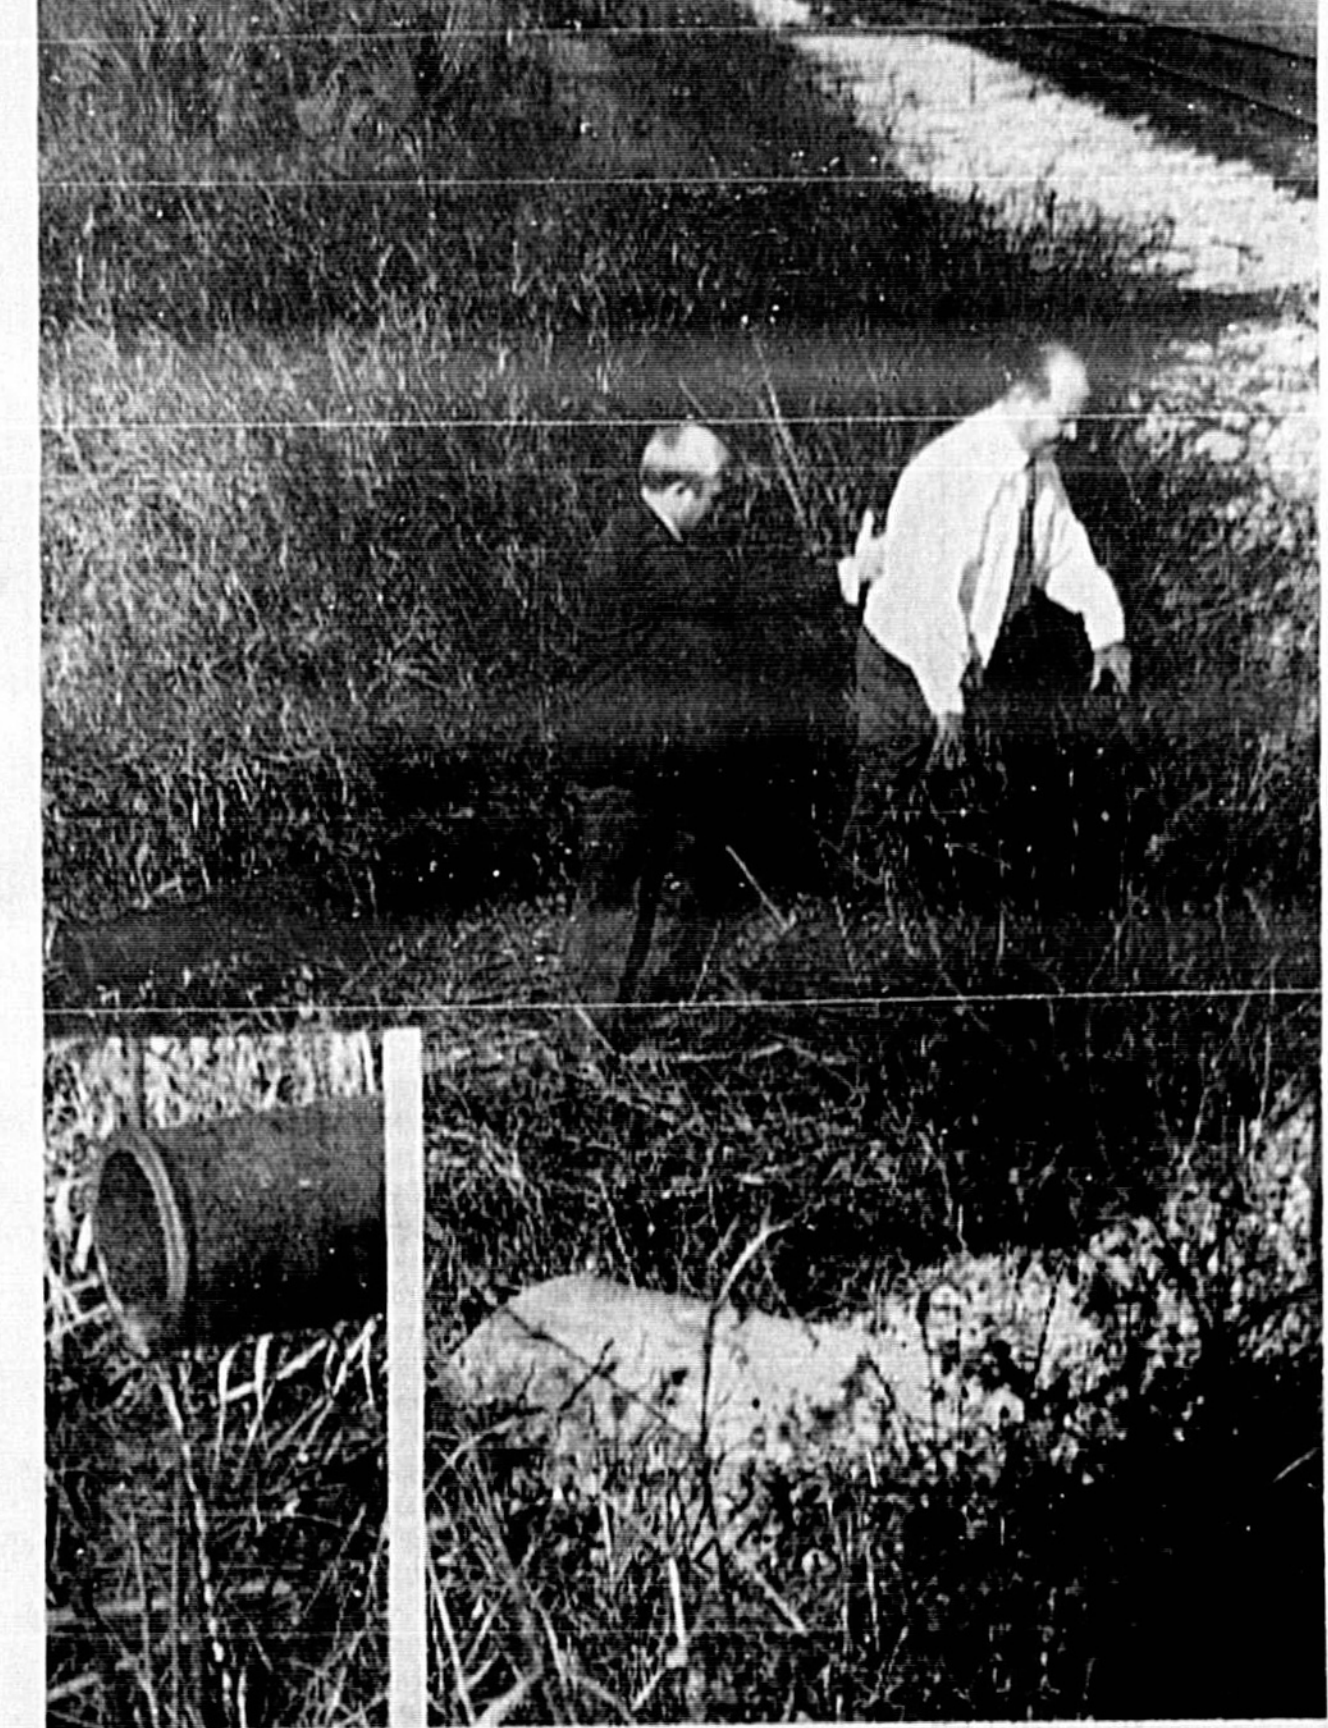

Shop foreman for Seaboard Roy Riel explained to the commissioner that the problem is that the pipe is draining from an oil spillage area and there is a catch tank which filters oil out of water resulting from the fueling operation of the trains. After the separation process the oil is supposed to be burned in another portion of the tank with the pipe draining off the excess water. During the past two weeks, this separation process has been malfunctioning causing a tremendous amount of diesel fuel to go into the creek and the lake.

Vihlen stated he then talked to L. A. Anderson, assistant superintendent of Seaboard Coastline, who expressed concern about the oil being dumped in the creek and promised him the railroad would cooperate fully in alleviating the problem. Although he does not have control over the shops, he felt there would be complete cooperation.

Riel placed a call to the Seaboard Coastline Head Engineer's Office requesting that they send down personnel to investigate and take steps to prevent the spill. Anderson and Riel have both informed Vihlen that Seaboard Coastline has recognized certain problems in excess oil leaving their property via creek, but not to this extent. They have in their budget $164,000 to completely build a new facility which will separate and burn all excess oil right on the property.

Vihlen stated, "I am very pleased with the cooperation evidenced by Seaboard Coastline and the County Sanitarian Val Robbins and only expect to see the railroad correct the problem immediately without the county resorting to the State Department of Air and Water Pollution Control Board, which enforces such illegal dumping."

Meadors told The Herald that fishing had been hurt in the area polluted by the oil for the past two weeks and the oil had fouled nets of commercial fishermen and tackle of private fishermen. He pointed out that this is a dry period and should get a good rain it would wash thousands of gallons of the diesel oil into the creek and lake and that the large amount of oil in the creek now is also a fire hazard.

Hotel Units Assembled At Disney

By FRED VAN PELT

WALT DISNEY WORLD — The nation's first on-the-job assembly line erection of fully completed, steel-framed hotel rooms was unveiled here today by United States Steel's realty development division.

Local, state and national press observed the operation which is turning out complete hotel room units for the first two resort hotels at this 27,000-acre facility. Both the 1,057-room Tempo Bay Resort Hotel, featuring a monorail running through the lobby, and the 425-unit South Seas Polynesian Village are scheduled to open in the fall of 1971.

The room units, assembled with all utilities installed and interior decor complete, progress past 26 separate assembly points.

The Tempo Bay Resort Hotel features a central 14-story high rise structure with a complex of three-story annex structures radiating from the center of activity. The high rise structure employs a three-story primary structural frame, allowing the assembled room units to be stacked one on another between structural supports. The annex buildings will be made up of the same room units, placed three high. The Polynesian Village is composed of low rise structures.

Polynesian Village and the Tempo Resort Hotel, largest of the five theme hotels planned for Walt Disney World, are expected to be open when the public is admitted to the Disney entertainment extravaganza next October. Tempo Bay will feature a 90-foot high open-hall lobby through which the monorail trains will transport guests to and from entertainment and recreation areas. Clustered around the lobby will be shops and restaurants as well as exhibition and other convention facilities.

Both the Tempo Bay Resort Hotel and the Polynesian Village will have lake settings, featuring swimming, boating and water skiing.

Teachers Seeking Pay Raise?

Seminole County School Board's Thursday 7 p.m. meeting with a proposal for the salary committee to consider.

Hughie Barron, Milwee Middle School teacher and chairman of the salary committee, is expected to present the teacher's request to the board for that body's consideration.

The teacher declined to say whether the teachers would be seeking another pay increase to accompany the whopping raise given by the board earlier this year, but Barron did advise "if the school board desires to increase the base index from $6,300 a year to $6,700, then we'll show them where to find the money."

Another item that may come before the board is a desire to have more of the county's teachers placed on continuing contract. This type arrangement comes now after a teacher has been in the county for three years and is recommended.

AREA LEADERS OF LOCAL CHAMBER

New Chamber Officers Selected

By BILL SCOTT

Election of new officers to serve in 1971 and a discussion of Seminole County governmental consolidation highlighted this morning's meeting of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Fourth Quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors.

By unanimous vote, the directors affirmed the nominating committee's recommendations and selected John Mercer, president; A. K. Shoemaker, Jr., vice president; Gene Estridge III, treasurer and Howard Hoigen and Garnet White to the executive committee, after Mack N. Cleveland Jr., nominating committee chairman, read the group's choice to the assembly of 34 persons.

Retiring chamber President George Touhy brought up the consolidation subject for discussion by the directors and called on Clifford McKibbin, a former Sanford city manager, to give his opinions on placing all county municipalities under a single governmental operation.

McKibbin stated, "We, living in Sanford, would probably save taxes by consolidating, but people in the south end of the county not now in the tax picture would be affected."

McKibbin further advised that under consolidation, a metropolitan manager should be charged with the county operation, and called for a feasibility study.

Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore was requested to give his views and advised that at a previous chamber executive committee meeting, he indicated a desire to consolidate, but felt the subject would get nowhere unless the idea originated in Sanford, would probably
