SPEEDY END TO STRIKE EXPECTED FOR TODAY ESPECIALLY IN THE EAST

Many Roads Resuming Business As Usual

STRIKERS LOSE PEP

MEN ARE RETURNING TO WORK ON MANY OF THE LARGE ROADS TODAY.

The speedy termination of the transportation tie up by the unauthorized strikes of the railroad employees seemed assured today. Switchmen, yardmen and other employees of the Pennsylvania Reading and Baltimore & Ohio returned to work under orders of their strike leaders in the districts from Washington to Boston. The men are returning to work rapidly in the New York district. Reports from all sections of the country indicated today the swing back to work is gaining rapidly. This is reflected both in the increased amount of the traffic handled and the loss of enthusiasm for the strike that is apparent in the attitude of many of the strikers.

PROFIT'RS STRIKERS TO BLAME

CONGRESSMAN HAINES SAYS THEY ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR DISRUPTED CONDITIONS.

Former Congressman Charles D. Haines of New York, who has a winter residence at Altamonte Springs was in Tampa yesterday. Mr. Haines is the president of the American Patriots, the membership of an organization said to number millions, and has among its vice-presidents many of the most noted men in the country.

"Months ago we anticipated the strikes that are today creating havoc throughout the country, and advised our people in congress that drastic legislation must be enacted if we were to have domestic peace during the next decade," began Mr. Haines.

"Our legislators," he continued, "have been too cowardly to bravely face the situation and enact laws such as would make it impossible for the country to suffer by the insane acts of that class of people who would not hesitate to disrupt our government, and that is their first purpose, for these strikers are men who are simply and solely sneaking devils of an American plot and intrigue, and the best and the only way to deal with them is to deport them as fast as steamships can carry them to those shores who claim to be American citizens."

"These strikers are members of cliques and groups and societies and associations whose purpose is to fight our institutions tear down the structures founded on our constitution and enthrone chaos in the place of law. Now is the time to do away with these enemies, once and for all time for we will not have them longer transplanting their noxious and deadly poisons in our body politic. From this day forth there should be no patience with these enemies to our country and its institutions."

"This is America, and we want none other than Americans in it. We have made an effort to aid in the civilization of the world, while at home we find scoundrels at patriotism, players with pacifism, traffickers in cynicism and in treason."

"We have welcomed to this country the down-trodden, oppressed victims of every vicious tyranny in the world. We have given them asylum, have admitted them into the sacred mysteries of our freedom. We have given them opportunity. Many of them have become stalwart Americans. Others have become traitors and stunk with the evil they have brought in their vile brains, have fouled the air of freedom with the stench of their treachery. They shall not be permitted to continue to menace this country."

"Just a wholesome warning, which unless heeded promptly will bring a condition, bordering on revolution in this country, a warning to that unholy, vicious class of manufacturers and merchants who are perpetrating a class as dangerous to the welfare of this country as the bolshevik. They should understand that the patience of the people is near exhaustion, and that in their selfishness and greed they are creating socialistic principles in the minds of Americans as well as aliens. They are making America socialistic, and from militant socialism to bolshevism is but a span. These profiteers are degenerates, unworthy to be classed among civilized and free men, and they should receive the same penalty as other highway robbers, or be deported to Turkey.

"Will our people not open their eyes so that their vision extends beyond the nose? During the recent war it is said we had over 3,000,000 soldiers in arms, and this was a mighty army, but we should give heed to these facts: There are 100 races and nationalities in the United States; 33,000,000 of our population of foreign origin; 13,000,000 are foreign born; 5,000,000 do not read or write nor speak English; 2,000,000 aliens of military age are unnaturalized, and to these millions are daily preached the doctrines of socialism and further the majority of socialists in this country today are Americans. Let us do the right and dare to be militant in protecting the sanity and good name of America and save this republic from dissolution."

"The present strike will probably end without serious trouble, but there remains that army numbering millions whose purpose is to erect a government similar to that now existing in Russia, and unwittingly, perhaps unknowingly, their strength, powers and numbers are alarmingly increasing through their selfish greed of those who rob the people at large through the excess charges on every thing that man eats, wears or buys. The soviet government which they are inviting will rob them in return, and the mourners would be few."— Tampa Tribune.

MANY MEN TO FORCE TURKEY OUT

ALLIES WOULD HAVE TO FURNISH 300,000 MEN TO ENFORCE PEACE TREATY.

San Remo April 17 (By Associated Press) The allies would be called to furnish three hundred thousand men in Turkey to insure the execution of the peace treaty which is to be considered by the Allied Council here Monday.

OVERALLS SPREAD TO THE WEST

FLORIDA GIRL IS CHAMP.

BUT CHAMPION CHICKEN RAISER WHICH IS BETTER THAN ALL OTHER SPORTS.

Washington, April 14.—The example set by a Florida girl who won the state championship of Florida and $739.75 last year by raising chickens is held up by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as an inspiration for other children. The following account of what this Florida girl did has been sent broadcast throughout the states by the publicity bureau of the federal department.

Marie Bradford, who lives in St. Johns county, Fla., has found poultry raising profitable. In 1919 she net returns from her birds was $739.75.

This little Florida girl two years ago joined one of the poultry clubs supervised by the United States Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural college. She made a good profit the first year and in the state championship. She started her second year poultry work with 105 fowls, valued at $268.

During 1919 she sold 1,030 eggs and set 14 dozen. From the fowls raised she sold 49 for $89 and kept 209, valued at $525. The total income from her flock for the year was $1,330.75. When her expenses for feed and the value of the original flock were deducted, her profits for the year were $739.75.

This excellent record won her the prize of $50 offered by two members of the board of control of the State Institutions of Higher Learning to the girl who did the best work in a poultry club in Florida in 1919.

Financial Collapse In Germany

Congregational Church
Can we save civilization? With conditions as they are in the world we cannot shut our eyes to the seriousness of the situation. What are the saving forces? This will be the morning theme accompanying the service of worship at the Congregational church Sunday. Friendship, potent word! "The Friendship of Christ" will be the subject of the evening meeting, and the friendship hymns will be sung.

Burned in Boat House
Port Clinton Ohio April 17 (By Associated Press) Three men were burned to death and seriously buried in a fire in Matthews boat plant here today. The men were visiting yachtmen who were asleep in the boat house.

MUSICAL TREAT FOR SANFORD

CHORAL ORCHESTRA FROM SOUTHERN COLLEGE WILL BE AT METHODIST CHURCH.

The Sanford Methodist Church is offering the citizens a rare musical treat in bringing to this city the Choral orchestra and soloists from our Southern College at Sutherland.

This is recognized as one of the great institutions of learning in the South. This organization is headed by Dr. R. H. Alderman and his talented wife. They will bring with them sixteen trained musicians of exceptional ability. This is recognized as one of the finest musical organizations in the state. They will give a free concert at the church Saturday night at 8:00 p. m.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend and those who fail to do so will miss a rare opportunity of listening to some very fine classic music.

This organization will also take part in the services Sabbath morning and evening.

The organization will render the following program at the concert Saturday night.

COMMISSION IMPROVES CITY OF SANFORD

REPORT OF AUDITORS SHOW GOOD RESULTS FIRST QUARTER OF BUSINESS ESS.

The following statement to the City Manager from the auditors who have recently gone over the city books is not only enlightening but is certainly worthy of notice showing as it does that while the city Commissioners have only had office since the first day of January they have made a fine record. The following is the report:

April 8, 1920.

Mr. G. A. Abbot
City Manager,
Sanford, Fla.
Dear Sir:

We have opened a new set of books for the City as of January 6th 1920 and brought the entries up to March 31st. and have made trial balance and statements for each month.

We note a considerable improvement in the City's finances as shown by the statement of March 31st. the most noticeable of which is the reduction of the outstanding indebtedness consisting of warrants issued by the previous government amounting to $9405.13. The available cash on hand is $13,394.87. The total expenses for current operation during the three months period amounts to $8,609.75 and for the maintenance of streets and other City property $1,595.00.

We have instructed the City Auditor in regards to keeping these books and we believe that he will have no difficulty in keeping the City's records in the proper manner.

Yours truly,

WILL TALK TO MARS NEXT WEEK

WEALTHY OHIO MANUFACTURER WILL FINANCE PROPOSITION OF PROF. TODD.

Dayton Ohio April 17 (By Associated Press) E. B. Weston a local manufacturer offers to finance the experiment to communicate with Mars should the government refuse the use of an airship at Omaha. Professor Todd of Amherst College plans to make the attempt next Friday by wireless from an airship if the government will consent.

VERDICT WILLFUL MURDER

BROUGHT AGAINST THOSE WHO KILLED MAYOR OF CORK.

Cork April 17 (By Associated Press) Charges of willful murder against Premier Lloyd George were brought in a verdict today of the jury in the inquest into the death of Mayor McCurtain who was assassinated in March.

USED THE PRINCESS THEATRE

Minstrel Show and Flora's Dream Showed to Crowded Houses Last Night

The heavy downpour of rain yesterday put a crimp in the plans of the Spring Festival and Carnival after they had the booths decorated and all the platforms ready for the second big night of the festival but the Woman's Club is never down and out on any proposition and last night the various booths were operating while the Minstrel Show and Flora's Dream were given in the Princess Theatre. Both shows went big and played to crowded houses and if the weather is not propitious tonight it would be a good plan to give them in the theatre again for it demonstrated that the people would much rather see these fine shows in the operahouse where they can be accommodated. These two shows had to turn the crowds away on the carnival grounds on Thursday night and many were disappointed in not being able to see them.

All those who have witnessed the performances of Flora's Dream and the Big Minstrels say that they have simply outclassd any previous performances of this nature that have ever been given in Sanford.

Come out tonight to the carnival and help out this great undertaking of the Woman's Club. Unless the plans are changed the shows will be given at the foot of Park avenue tonight and the carnival will be on full blast from 8 to 12.

Card of Appreciation
We wish to express to our friends our appreciation of the many manifestations of their thoughtful kindness to us in our sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Brownlee.

Sanford Thronged Last Night With Bunch of Merry Maker SHOWS ARE GREAT

AND WERE HIGHLY PRAISED BY THE MANY WHO ATTENDED LAST NIGHT.

The annual Spring Festival and Carnival opened Thursday afternoon when the big parade started from the show grounds at the foot of Park avenue and passed over the principal streets with much noise and with cars containing a part of the performers and wound up at the grounds where the fun started and it kept up a merry clip until late at night when it was estimated that the shows and different stands did almost as much business as they did in two nights of last year.

Space will not permit an extended account of the many and varied attractions presented by the ladies who are the prime movers in this big event that is staged annually for the Woman's Club of this city to make money for the civic improvement of Sanford.

The Country Store, the Candy Store, the Flower Stand, the Kewpies and Baking Dolls, the Hot dog stand, the Fortune Teller, the Confection and Ice Cream Stand, the Dancing Pavilion and many other concessions are the real stuff all arranged in the carnival spirit and they were well patronized both nights.

In the show line this year's carnival outlines all previous efforts in this line. Starting with Flora's Dream a wonderful production of young and beautiful girls, the Revivies of a Bachelor a fine production that portrays the different girls in the man's life all made up from some of the most beautiful women in Florida, Lizzie in a tent all by her beautiful self and you guess who Lizzie is and then on down the line to the Minstrel Show at the end of Jazz Street, the big city minstrels that packed the tent last night and is pronounced to be the best that has ever been shown in Sanford professionals not excepted. And there are other attractions too numerous to mention. These are just a few items among the many in the Great Spring Festival that is going on and will be staged tonight.

Get a horn and blow yourself.

Hearst Wins First Battle

IN SUIT TO DISCUSS INJUNCTION AGAINST SHIPPING BOARD.

Washington April 17 (By Associated Press) The Shipping Board's motion to dismiss William Randolph Hearst's suit for an injunction to prevent the sale of the former German steamers was overruled in the District Supreme Court which sustained Hearst's right as a tax payer to maintain the suit. The Shipping Board will probably appeal.

PASTOR TO PREACH IN OVERALLS

OVIEDO

L. H. Gore was called to Wilmington N. C. Saturday night by the illness of his father.

R. G. Crawford spent Saturday in Orlando.

The friends of Mr. J. H. Lee Jr., are congratulating him upon his marriage last week to Miss Lewis of Altamonte Springs. For the present the young people will reside at Lake Charm with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lee Sr.

On Friday afternoon at regular meeting of the Woman's Club the following officers were elected. Pres. Mrs. W. P. Carter, Vice-Pres. Mrs. L. R. Mitchell, Secty. Mrs. R. W. Lawton, Cor. Secty. Mrs. Anita Crawford, Treas. Mrs. T. G. Simmons. At this meeting Mrs. T. L. Meade presented the Club with a piano. Mrs. Meade has always been a faithful member and loyal friend to the Oviedo Club and this gift which means so much to the club at this time is not the first but the last token of Mrs. Meade's love for the organization.

On Wednesday afternoon the Club had a most interesting meeting, the subject of which was citizenship. The meeting was well attended and much interest manifested. Short addresses were made by Rev. Thompson, B. F. Wheeler and T. W. Lawton. After the meeting Miss Brady of Washington D. C. was introduced to the ladies and presented to them the plan of a Chautauqua for Oviedo next winter. Miss Brady represented the Radcliffe Chautauqua Co. and she had no trouble in getting the consent of the Women to help sell the tickets since the men of town were backing them up with their support.

A general clean up day at the cemetery was held Tuesday. Only a small crowd gathered but did a great deal of work. A delightful dinner was served and the workers stayed until late afternoon.

The Junior Christian Endeavor accompanied by Miss Mabel Swope had an afternoon picnic Tuesday.

On Tuesday night Misses Virginia Wright and Gayle Marshall entertained at a High School party at the home of the former. Many new and delightful games were played and several contests enjoyed.

Mrs. Willa Dumas Lee is visiting Mrs. C. T. McCulley.

Miss Aplan Sikes and James Purvise Jr., of Cameron City were married last Saturday and expect to begin house keeping at once. Mrs. Purvise just recently came from Ocala and has been living with her sister Mrs. Perry Anthony in Cameron City. The young people are receiving congratulations from a host of friends.

REAL GENIUSES NOT "QUEER"

For Instance, Taking Insufficient Nourishment Cannot Be Taken as Mark of Brilliance.

The legend that Meredith lived on the contents of a sack of oatmeal while he wrote his masterpieces is pure myth, writes St. John Ervine in the Manchester (Eng.) Guardian. He was particularly addicted to the pleasures of the table and could not have written his books on a diet of oatmeal. His letters are full of references to food and wine and, like Doctor Johnson, he contemplated writing a cookery book. He had the capacity, which every man of genius has, of being highly interested in the most ordinary things.

It is your third-rate person who is not interested in food and drink and the common things of life. Your man of genius demands that these things shall be so attended to that he can appreciate them at their best. Moreover, since eating and drinking are necessary to all of us, he wishes them to be done in such a way that he shall not be diverted from his job by complaints of the clumsy and insignificant arrangements for them.

Herbert Spencer complained of the stupid spoons that manufacturers put on jugs—so that it is impossible to pour liquid out of them without spilling it—and he went to the trouble to invent a paper fastener because he was dissatisfied with those in common use. A third-rate person would have been much too superior to think of such things.

ODD GIFTS FOR PRESIDENTS

Many and Various Tributes of Affection Have Been Received by Chief Executives.

Early presidents of the United States received strange gifts during their terms as executives, the strangest of them all being, perhaps, the cheese sent to Thomas Jefferson, with the admiring inscription, "the greatest cheese in America for the greatest man in America." It was conveyed to Washington by a six-horse team. Jefferson insisted upon paying for it, and it lasted for a whole year.

Andrew Jackson was the recipient of such gifts as a whole hog from Kentucky, whisky from Pennsylvania, beef from New York and a cheese that weighed half a ton or more from New England. The Blue room in the White House contains the most famous of the gifts received by American presidents, the golden mantle clock presented to Washington by Lafayette, who received it from Napoleon. In the Green room is the Gobelin tapestry, made by a process which is now a lost art, which the Emperor of Austria gave Mrs. Grant.

Triumph of Art.

A young artist, out on a sketching trip, came across a living specimen of the "barefoot boy with cheek of tan," properly outfitted with roof and string of fish, and for a consideration induced him to pose for a sketch. In a few minutes there came along a man who would have been spotted instantly by a reasonably sophisticated observer as the head, theoretically at least, of a family. For half an hour he stood watching the artist work, then burst out in admiring enthusiasm:

"Well, sir, if that isn't wonderful! Beats all I ever saw!"

"Like the sketch, do you?" the flattered artist responded with a pleased blush.

"Sketch? Oh, that! Yes, it's all right, I guess. What I meant was the way you have managed to keep that boy quiet for so long."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Wanted Blame Properly Placed.

Rosemary, aged four, and her twin sisters, aged two, were left in the care of a friend who also had three children of about the same ages. During the afternoon the friend heard one of the children in her pantry and, thinking to frighten the child out of the pantry without going in, said: "I hear some one in my pantry." Rosemary quickly walked over to her and said: "It's not any of ours; it's one of your own."

SEIZE CANNED BEANS

Federal Inspectors Charge Cannermen With Misbranding.

Long Cranberry Beans Labeled as "Red Kidney Beans" Taken by Officials.

Washington.—Seizure of a large shipment of canned beans, labeled as "Red Kidney Beans," but which were long cranberry beans, was made recently in Chicago on information furnished by federal food inspectors. Officials of the bureau of chemistry, United States department of agriculture, who are charged with the enforcement of the federal food and drug act, have received information that large quantities of the low-priced long cranberry bean have been put up under the label of the high-priced red kidney bean and are being sold to consumers at the higher price. Inspectors have been instructed to report for seizure all shipments so misbranded coming within the jurisdiction of the federal food and drug act.

The long cranberry bean costs the cannery only about half as much as does the red kidney bean, yet investigation has shown that when the long cranberry bean is sold under the label of the red kidney bean the price to the consumer is as much as that of the genuine red kidney bean.

The long cranberry bean, which is imported in large quantities from Japan, is an excellent article of food, and there is no objection to its sale and use under a truthful label, say the officials. The bean looks and tastes very much like the genuine red kidney bean, and if sold under its own name could soon establish a market on its own merit, but because its cost is so much less than the red kidney bean, its sale under the name of the higher-priced bean is demoralizing to the trade and unfair to the consumer. The officials have inaugurated a campaign to seize all interstate shipments of beans which in this particular violate the food and drug act.

"TROT ALONG" BASKET

Shoppers tired of carrying home parcels will be delighted with this "trot-along" shopping help, which is simply a basket mounted on wheels, with a walking stick for a handle. It has become very popular in London. The "trot-along," though strong enough to carry heavy parcels, can be easily handled by a child, as the illustration shows.

BUILD AIR DEFENSE STATION

United States Government to Have Base for Land and Sea Planes on Staten Island.

New York.—Construction of an aerial coast defense station has been begun at New Dorp, Staten Island, to serve as a base for land and seaplane patrol aircraft.

The station, which will be known as Miller field in honor of Capt. James E. Miller, killed in action in France, also will be equipped with directional wireless apparatus to guide patrolling craft in foggy weather.

The field comprises 450 acres, with an ocean frontage of 1,750 feet. The plans, which were made during the war, call for 32 buildings, including barracks, officers' quarters, mess halls, post exchanges and administration buildings.

Find Rare Variety of Sugar on Firs

Washington.—Discovery of the growth of sugar on fir trees in British Columbia is announced in the American Forestry Magazine. The discovery resulted from investigations by Prof. John Davidson of the University of British Columbia at Vancouver.

Specimens are said to have indicated the presence of a large percentage of an extremely rare variety of sugar. Indians have made use of the sugar for many years, the article states.

LIKE THE KNIGHTS OF OLD

Plans Were Going Forward to Clothe Our Doughboys, Fighting the Hun in France.

Plans that American war armor artists were perfecting to make the Yankee doughboy in France more uncomfortable, miserable, and safer were nipped in the bud by the sudden armistice, according to the Home Sector, the ex-soldiers' magazine conducted by the former editorial council of the Stars and Stripes. The armor artists of the engineering division of the ordnance department were working on a portable fortress that could stop a machine-gun bullet at 150 yards and a doughboy life-preserver, worn around the body, for use in attacks that would have made the combat soldier in France look like a cross between Sir Galahad on parade and Casey of Harvard streaking across the Yale goal line for a touchdown.

The Home Sector says: "The records of A. E. F. hospitals show that seven or eight of every ten wounded soldiers were lacerated by fragments of shell and other missiles which even thin armor plate would have kept out."

"We in this country started to work on the theory that it was possible to produce body armor which would not be difficult to carry and which would resist the impact of a machine-gun bullet at fairly close range."

"There was developed by the engineering division of the ordnance department a body defense, including a light front and body plates, weighing altogether only nine and one-half pounds. The plates were lined with sponge rubber. One lot of 5,000 were manufactured and sent abroad for experiment. There was also developed, manufactured and sent over to France for test a heavy breast plate with thigh guards, weighing twenty-seven pounds, capable of stopping machine-gun bullets at 150 yards."

The Yank did not take kindly to the idea of body armor. Or it might more aptly be said that the Yank did not take kindly to the idea of still warfare. "Tell it to the tanks," he shouted when asked how he liked his proposed winter suit.

Dig for Egyptian Temples.

An appeal for funds to carry on the excavation of Egyptian antiquities on a larger scale than ever before contemplated was sent out by the Egyptian Exploration Fund from its American headquarters at Boston, the New York Times states. About $10,000 is needed to reopen the excavation of ancient civilization where many relics were found before the war stopped the work. The appeal says:

"Two monumental undertakings are the clearance of the eleventh and eighteenth dynasty temples of Deir el Banari, visited by every tourist at Thebes, and at Abydos, the Osireion, the temple of the underworld, dedicated by Merenptah, Pharaoh of the Exodus, and richly decorated by him with texts from the 'Book of the Dead.' This great excavation, halted by the war, employed 63 fellahs (native workmen) and awaits completion. It is the one remaining architectural puzzle of Egypt."

Fit Yourself to Conquer.

You must see the rainbows in the future if you would be a builder who touches men. You must forget the lowering clouds and impending storms. Their present hindering will but swell the tide flowing your way later. There's something godlike in the enthusiastic soul. Enthusiasm paints its own stars in the mental firmament and then draws from them light. You might as well try to pull the sun from the sky as to hinder the youth who is led by enthusiasm. His life is too buoyant to be held down by oppression. Injustice merely makes him a martyr and wins the crowds to him. And when he feels the opposition of unthinking men he will rise to greater heights as he thrills those who listen with the story of his wrongs. What he sees or thinks he sees makes him irresistible and fits him to conquer.—Grit.

The Cynical Actress.

At least one manager believes that the actress should lead a pure and simple life.

"Cynical, disillusioned actresses are no good," he said at a dinner. "I remember an actress of mine some years ago who fell down badly in a part I'd given her."

"Look here," I said the morning after she fell down, "all critics say you don't show half enough emotion in the scene where your husband leaves you, never to return."

"The cynical, disillusioned creature gave a hard laugh."

"Oh, I don't, don't I?" she sneered. "Well, look here, Mr. —, I've had six husbands leave me, never to return, and I guess I know how much emotion ought to be shown in such circumstances as well as anybody."—London Opinion.

Town Remembers Old Glory.

Rye may be, owing to the sea's vagaries on that part of the English coast, two miles inland at the present day, but she does not forget her ancient glory as a Cinque Port. Did not Rye furnish nine ships, in the time of Edward III, toward the siege of Calais? She did. And so Rye, supported by her ancient reputation as a port of importance, and clothed in the charm of her present old-worldliness, set herself, the other day, to do honor to England's greatest sailor. She conferred on Earl Beatty, the freedom of the town.—Christian Science Monitor.

Sensitive Pendulum. The pendulum of the great clock in the tower of the house of parliament in London is so delicate that a small weight of only one ounce placed on a particular part of the apparatus will alter the rate of the clock one second per week.

The Mind of a Woman. "A woman is more religious than a man," says Dr. A. T. Schofield in "The Mind of a Woman." There is more of the emotional and the mystic. Women, being more emotional than men, are pre-eminent in the spiritual life, for love is their nature more than it is that of men.

SEED OF LEARNING NOW WHERE EMPERORS SAT

Ancient Building Where Chinese Rulers Stored Their Plate and Jewels, Is Now a Christian College.

The ancient treasure-house of the Sung Dynasty, which under the imperial dragon ruled China more than a thousand years ago, now carries the Cross of the Church. The treasury has become a Christian Normal School; and in it the young Chinese are taught to put aside worldly treasure rather than to accumulate it. This odd building is located in Kaifeng, the most historic city in the great province of Honan, and once the capital of the empire. So important was the treasure gathered within its walls that in 960 A. D. the emperor had dug a tunnel fifteen miles long running from the treasury into the mountains, so that in time of invasion the national riches could be saved.

If the young Chinese mind considered learning such an imposition as his American cousin he would probably play hooky and "beat it" out through this tunnel. But he doesn't. He considers it a blessing and privilege to be allowed to learn, and he concentrates all his energies on it.

Because of this eagerness of the young Chinese, and the vast field open to educational possibilities, the Inter-church World Movement, in which America's Protestant churches are cooperating, plans, as a part of its early program, to establish five Christian universities in different parts of the republic.

Just a few more strikes and the whole bunch will "strike out."

If course it makes no difference to the strikers if all the rest of us starve to death

And while the newspapers are suffering for paper that is held up by the strike we are expected to sympathize with the strikers. We do (not).

Several prominent people who have visited the Fernald-Laughton Hospital the past week say that it undoubtedly is the finest small hospital in the state.

We have the assurances of several prominent men of Sanford that many new homes and several apartment houses will be built here this summer. Well, other cities are building them. Why not Sanford

If any daily newspaper ever suffered as many hard knocks and calamities as the Daily Herald has suffered this winter we would like to hear from them. We will be glad when the daily stops the first of May and we can go fishing one day and forget our troubles.

Read the report of the city finances in another part of this issue and take comfort in the fact that the city is being operated upon a business basis and even those who were opposed to it will soon be advocating it for other cities. Chronic grumblers will always find flaws in everything but the figures are there to show for it.

cents to get it out of the postoffice and you open it only to find a request for reef publicity, well, nothing short of a revival will save us.

Yesterday it was lightning and it played hob with all our plans by blowing out the fuses on the transformers and the men could not repair it while the heavens were weeping and when it could be repaired it was too late for the daily. With themachines loaded with press stuff and local news it could not be printed and there you are. Is it any wonder that the editor is bald headed and the business manager is looking for a job on the railroad where he can strike when he gets mad.

An article in this issue from the Kansas Agriculture College about Oscar Brown of Sanford a graduate of Sanford High School should be read by every boy and girl in Sanford. It demonstrates that if you want a college education you can get it by your own endeavors and also demonstrates that were a boy boy is thrown upon his own resources he thinks more of an education that the one who has plenty of money and does not worry about where his next meal is coming from. The story of Oscar Brown is world old but new to the youngsters who have read about Lincoln and other great characters in history who solved their life work in just this manner and Oscar is on the high road to greatness because he has all the qualities that go to make men great. It is also a plea for better schools and more teachers to turn out such students as Oscar Brown.

WONDERFUL FLORIDA

"Every industry is booming in Florida this year. The lumber industry, the naval stores industry, the phosphate industry—all of which were dormant during the war period—are in full swing now and are bringing millions of dollars to the state, to say nothing of the fish industry and the general farming and gardening and the great sugar-cane industry," notes the Jacksonville Times-Union. Florida is a wonder state, all right. None of us begin to appreciate its remarkable achievements and even more remarkable possibilities.—Miami Metropolis.

THE WAY TO DEAL WITH "ILLEGAL" STRIKES

Suppose a powerful body of troops from Canada or Mexico should cross the border line; take the railroads of the country out of the hands of their operators and owners; stop and dismantle all freight trains wherever they might happen to be at the time; say to the farmers and growers of the country: "There will be no more trains to carry your products to waiting markets, until we give the word;" to the inhabitants of the cities "You shall not have food except by our permission, which will not be given until our demand shall be complied with. The farmers' products may rot in their fields, and the people of the cities may hunger to the point of starvation, not even milk for babes shall pass through our cordons, until we carry our point." Suppose all that were to happen, how long would the people of America stand for such tyranny. Such gross interference with all their rights and privileges? They would rise as one man and sweep the invaders from our soil, and from the face of the earth.

The above is pure supposition, of course. It will never, and can never happen, but will some one tell us how the present conditions differs from that supposition one except in the personnel of the the oppressors? Is tyranny and injustice any more agreeable at the hands of an "illegal" and unauthorized band of our own countrymen than it would be at the hands of a foreign foe? Indeed, it is worse, for we could fight the foreigner with a good stomach, but we hesitate to deal with large bodies of our fellow citizens even though we know they are breaking the law. Our rulers have a very vivid sense of the potential voting power of these law breakers and are disposed to handle them very gingerly. It may be remembered that the attorney general of the United States openly expressed the wish that a certain judge should not put the striking coal miners (law breakers) in jail, as that would spoil his hopes of a compromise settlement with them. Isn't it about time the government of the United States asserted its authority against these "illegal" strikers in a vigorous way even as the state of Kansas has done. The head of the coal miners in that state defied the authority of the industrial court and refused to answer the questions put to him by the court. The judge promptly clapped him in jail and now he is talking to his followers through prison bars. A dose of that medicine administered to the leaders of the present "illegal and unauthorized" strike, which is paralyzing the business of the country and inflicting untold loss and damage to thousands of innocent people might prove beneficial in the future. The nation cannot afford to be unjust to any class nor can it afford to temporize with law breakers however numerous they may be, nor how many votes they may control.—Tampa Times.

Unwelcome Immigrant. The boll weevil is something this country has acquired from Mexico. It crossed the Rio Grande river in 1892. Since then it has been traveling from 40 to 100 miles each year, and now covers the greater part of the cotton states.

Louis Crommelin Chiefly Responsible for Progress of Irish Linen Industry

Louis Crommelin, who fled from France after the repeal of the Edict of Nantes in 1689, is chiefly responsible for the Irish linen industry. When he left France he was accompanied by a number of refugees who helped him greatly improve the Irish linen trade. In 1711, when the board of trustees was formed to encourage and extend the manufacture of linen in Ireland, the machinery in use was very simple and was worked principally by hand. Soon after, in 1725, new machinery was invented and applied for many of the processes. In 1765 Dr. James Ferguson of Belfast received a premium from the linen board for the successful application of lime in linen bleaching. He introduced the use of sulphuric acid in 1770. Up to that time the acid employed was buttermilk and soft of cattle applied instead of alkali. After that improvements took place rapidly. Potash for making dye to boll the yarns and cloth came into use in 1780, and chloride of lime, the bleaching agent, in 1795.

America Is Surpassed by Europe in Eating Potatoes

In this country the chief and practically only interest in the potato today is as a vegetable for the table. We are greatly surpassed in this use by Europe, and Germany in particular. In that land the average annual per capita consumption was seven bushels in normal times, while our own was two and a half. The laborers of eastern Germany ate seventeen bushels per annum. The other European countries are, as a rule, far above us and the diet of many an Irishman is said to be potatoes and spring water—for breakfast, dinner and supper. In addition to this direct consumption, uses of the potato largely unknown to Uncle Sam are for flour, starch, dextrine, glucose and alcohol.

Duty to Childhood.

Men of today have a duty to childhood because they themselves have once been children. Each generation is a recipient in its turn of the accumulated wisdom and pity of previous ages, and is in duty bound to pass that on, "plus a certain increment due to its own exertion."

Berner Harbor of Commerce Georgia is in the city the guest of the Gables and his mother Mrs. Lucy Harbor who with her daughter Miss Thelma have been regular winter visitors to Sanford for many years. Berner like all other Georgians is a great fisherman and on Tuesday with a party of friends succeeded in catching 75 fine specimens of the finny tribe. Since that is more fish than a man from Georgia ever saw before his story will no doubt be disbelieved in his home town but he can refer them to Sanford where they can do likewise if they could just pry their feet out of the yellow Georgia clay and come down to Florida for a few days. Berner and his mother and sister will leave next week in their car for home much to the regret of their many friends here.
