Grand Jury Probes Death Of Baby Girl

Assistant State Attorney Fred Leone is presenting the autopsy report and evidence in the death of one-year-old Minnie Lee Bell today to the Seminole County grand jury.

This was disclosed Thursday afternoon to The Herald by State Attorney Abbott Herring, who said further that the results of an autopsy performed on the child by Arthur Schwartz, Daytona Beach pathologist, showed death was caused by a blow on the head.

Herring refused to speculate on what caused the blow which apparently fractured the baby's skull, explaining this would be brought out to the grand jury by his assistant, Leone.

The infant died Feb. 2 at Winter Park Memorial Hospital where she was transferred from Seminole Memorial Hospital in an effort to save the child's life by an 11th hour operation.

Arrested in the meantime were the baby's mother, Kathryn, 20, and stepfather, William Kniffin, 18, who met and married the mother while stationed in South Carolina with the U.S. Marine Corps.

They had been wed less than a month before deciding to come to Sanford, where Kniffin's parents live, while the Marine was en route to a new assignment at San Bernardino, Calif.

Charged by Detective William Lykens with unlawful punishment of a child, the Kniffins have been lodged in Seminole County jail in lieu of $10,000 bond awaiting the autopsy results.

Mrs. Kniffin brought the child to Seminole Memorial Hospital Jan. 30 and requested medical attention after saying the baby fell off a bed.

A physician on duty contacted police concerning the child's condition and arranged for the baby's removal to Winter Park. Both parents were arrested the following day by Det. Lykens.

 Seminole County stands to lose $2.25 million in state road funds unless the County Commission borrows $300,000 from the state to purchase rights-of-way for RR 436 and RR 45.
 This was disclosed Thursday afternoon by Al Davis, district road planning engineer. Davis said only two county roads are ready to let to contract in this budget year which ends June 30 and those include RR 436 four-laning from 1-4 west to the Orange-Seminole county line and the regrading of RR 45 west from Sanford to the Wekiva River.
 Unless these projects are let to contract there will be no state road work done in the county this year, Davis advised.
 The road expert further advised if $300,000 is borrowed from the state revolving road fund to be repaid over a four-year period, both road projects can be included in this year's state budget for funding.
 It is expected that two commissioners will vote against spending funds for buying four-lane rights-of-way for the RR 436 four-laning from 1-4

J. C. Penney Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — J. C. Penney, builder of a mammoth retail business that bears his name, died today. He was 95.
 He succumbed at 11:30 a.m. at the Harkness Pavilion of Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center, where he suffered a severe heart attack Thursday night, a spokesman for Penney said.
 Penney, a Missouri farmer who took up retailing in 1895, saw his chain of stores grow to 1,700 around the nation. At 95, he still was at the helm of his enterprises, working five days a week at his desk in the 45-story Penney building on Sixth Avenue here.
 James Cash Penney, one of 12 children raised on a farm in Hamilton, Mo., credited his father with "selecting my vocation" when he got a job for Penney as a store clerk at the age of 20.

SCL Will Spend $164,000 For Anti-Pollution

By MARION BETHEA
 A vis-a-vis confrontation between County Commissioner Sid Vihlen Jr. and officials of the Seaboard Coast Line Railroad has resulted in what Vihlen terms a "sacred victory" for further aiding the prevention of industrial pollution by a straight-forward strong approach, with full communication to the polluter and calling for cooperation rather than involving the courts. I am of the belief that these means will bring the quickest and most successful results in most cases.
 The matter dates back to December of last year when a complaint was directed to Vihlen, as district commissioner, by E. R. Meadors, concerning noticeable oil spillage on the St. Johns River as far north as DeLand. The spillage was traced to Mills Creek and, although small amounts had existed for several years, it had been noticed in excessive amounts by persons coming from Meadors Marine, located near the creek.
 Vihlen, Meadors and later Chief Sanitarian Val Robbins inspected the site and found residue was being dumped from a four-inch pipe running from the Seaboard Coast Line property where the fueling docks are located.
 At the time, Roy Reel, shop foreman for the railroad, explained that the pipe was draining from an oil spillage area and that there is a catch basin which filters oil out of the water, resulting from the fueling operation of the trains. After the separation process, he said, the oil is supposed to be burned in another portion of the tank with the pipe draining off the excess water. This separation process was malfunctioning, causing a tremendous amount of diesel fuel to go into the creek and lake.
 Meadors said that fishing was hurt in the area polluted by the oil, and that nets of commercial fishermen were fouled as well as tackle of private fishermen.
 Vihlen said today that he has been in constant communication with the railroad and announced that progress is being made. Vihlen said that Seaboard Coast Line has approved the expenditure of $164,000 to construct facilities to deal with excess bulk oil and fuel oil at their local train yards. Plans and specifications, he said, went out shortly after the problem was brought to the attention of the Seaboard Coast Line Railroad and bids were recently returned to the office of the assistant vice president in charge of equipment, J. W. Hawthorne, for the Coast Line evaluation.

Police Probe For Clues In Murder Of Recluse

Sanford police and Seminole County identification officers today spent all day Thursday combing the John Seacrist home at 2418 Cedar Avenue, where the 79-year-old recluse's remains were discovered the afternoon before in a decomposing condition.
 Chief Ben Butler sent Detectives William Lykens, Roy Williams and Paul Whitley have been assigned to search for clues that hopefully will eventually lead to the person or persons responsible for the stabbing death of the retiree, who had been cut and the man's 1966 white Comet vehicle and wallet are missing.
 Discovery of the body Wednesday afternoon left investigators with the opinion that murder had been committed after police found the telephone wires had been cut and the man's 1966 white Comet vehicle and wallet are missing.
 But it was the autopsy report that came just before Thursday noon that found the man had died as the result of a stab wound in the back, which punctured the left lung and caused internal bleeding.
 With all doubts that may have lingered in their minds, police and sheriff's investigators immediately re-entered the domicile and, braving the smell of death that still permeated, began the slow process that must always precede the actual interrogations of witnesses and suspects.
 Thus far many fingerprints have been found in the house and police are now checking these against possible suspects. An all-points alert has been sent out by police in an effort to locate the automobile that was thought to have been taken from the abodes carport by the murderer.

INVESTIGATION of the stabbing death of 79-year-old John Seacrist, whose body was found Wednesday by Sanford police in his closed house at 2418 Cedar Avenue has drawn State Attorney Abbott Herring into the mystery still to be solved. The state attorney is shown above in the front yard of the death house, while police and sheriff's investigators comb the inside. (Bill Scott Photo)

Christian Renewal

REV. JAMES MARTINEZ
St. Augustine Church, Cassberry

When John XXIII made his historic decision to hold the Second Vatican Council, he expressed the idea and thought that it would be a breath of fresh air. It has been that and more. This Council has put forth the incentive for reform from within. This is most serious and best type of reform. Improvement because we want to improve, and not simply because someone is telling us to reform, must be better.

Again and again this Council has concerned itself with the people of God—things that persons. This itself is a breath of fresh air. There is emphasized frequently a concern for people.

As we approach the Lenten Season I think it is well for us to keep people as well as ourselves in mind. Perhaps we have concentrated too much on ourselves and have found ourselves unworthy citizens of the City of God, but we must concentrate on extending ourselves to help our neighbors because this is what Christ expects of us. It is not Christian to say simply "Lord, I am not worthy and turn away from the poor, neglect the aged, or encourage racial segregation."

St. Paul in I Cor. 13:3 says "I am the least of the apostles, in fact because I persecuted the Church of God I do not even deserve the name." St. Peter in the Gospel of St. Luke 5:8, 11 after he was called by Christ to set out into the deep and witnessed the great catch of fish, fell at the feet of Jesus saying: "Leave me Lord, I am a sinful man." Jesus said to Simon, "Do not be afraid, from now on you will be catching men."

Knowing how these three men felt about themselves, and what they accomplished for God can give us a great deal of encouragement. We will be practicing this season because we are unworthy citizens of the City of God, but we must concentrate on extending ourselves to help our neighbors because this is what Christ expects of us. It is not Christian to say simply "Lord, I am not worthy and turn away from the poor, neglect the aged, or encourage racial segregation."

Jewish-Christian Slated To Speak At Lakeview

HARRY BUCALSTEIN

Harry Bucalstein will be the guest speaker at Lakeview Christian Church starting Sunday for four days. His schedule: Sunday, 2 p.m., "The Prophetic Background of the Arab-Israeli Conflict"; 7 p.m., "What the Church of Christ Owes the Jews Today"; Monday, 7:30 p.m., "The Passover" (his relation to the Lord's Supper); Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., "Christ in the Tabernacle" (a film strip); and Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., "Why Is Russia Anti-Semitic?"

The church is located on Bear Lake Road at Jamison Avenue. Rev. Bucalstein was born in Poland, and emigrated to the United States at the age of seven. He received the customary Jewish religious training until he was 13. He was converted to Christ at the age of 14. God called him to serve as a Christian minister, and he prepared for the ministry at the Tabernacle Institute, Minneapolis, and Northern Baptist Seminary.

Mr. Bucalstein has had a prolonged illness since July 1970 requiring surgery four times and 29 cobalt treatments. He will be hospitalized at Gainesville for an indefinite period where it is hoped she will benefit from treatment. Anyone who would like to make a contribution to help defray Mrs. Rawlins' mounting medical expenses may do so by contributing to the Mary F. Rawlins Fund at the Florida State Bank. Mrs. Rawlins does not qualify for Medicare. Mrs. Rawlins also will appreciate cards or letters from her friends to brighten her stay at Gainesville.

Unique Faith Grows In Fern Park Setting

By MARILYN GORDON

Fern Park is the site of the only English speaking Eastern Orthodox Catholic Seminary in the world. Located on the shores of Lake of the Woods on U. S. Highway 17-82, the campus typifies the natural wonder of Florida with stately oaks, tropical palms and citrus trees scattered in abundance throughout the grounds.

Three Hierarchs Seminary was founded in 1964 by the Holy Synod of the Eastern Orthodox Catholic Church in America. Graduates of the Three Hierarchs Seminary will be a body of dedicated, idealistic and moral individuals who will be willing to give their lives to God in just as unassuming a fashion as did the historic Three Hierarchs of Orthodoxy: Saints Basil, Gregory and John Chrysostom.

At present, the seminary campus includes a new administrative building, housing the editorial and publications offices, the library, bookstore and administrative facilities, the seminary chapel, including seminary room, provost's residence, workshop and maintenance buildings. A residence hall is currently being designed and work is expected to begin in September.

The library contains the largest volume of books in English on Eastern Orthodoxy in the world. Hanging on the walls are many large icons. The seminary's press is credited with the reprinting of vital and irreplaceable theological and historic works, long out of print, that would otherwise be unavailable and perhaps lost to scholars and students in the western world.

In addition to courses in biblical, historical, practical and systematic theology, students undertake an internship which gives them working practical experience in hospitals, prisons, and various welfare agencies. At present there are five students. Arrangements are currently being made for a student from Kenya.

The administration consists of: president, Rev. Gregory Adair; provost of the Seminary, Rev. Paul Zelly; dean of the Seminary, Rev. Anastasios Kostas; and Director of Development, Chaplain, Rev. John Chrysostom.

The faculty is composed of Rabbi David Kirschbaum, assistant professor of Old Testament; Dr. Louis Schult, professor of Biblical theology and church history; Rev. George S. Yacalis, assistant professor of Systematic Theology; Rev. John R. Adair, instructor in practical theology; Rev. Paul S. Zelly, assistant professor of Byzantine music and practical theology; and Rev. 400 Hear Christian Scientist Speak

About 400 interested listeners heard Eugene Depold try, of San Diego, a Christian Science lecturer, describe what he meant and what it means to "stay on the beam" in a talk delivered in the Sanford Civic Center. This is one of the lectures which is sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Sanford and always draws a large attendance from an area stretching from Orlando to Daytona Beach.

He was introduced by Mrs. F. Stewart Helmly, of North Orlando, second reader of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Sanford while the organ music was provided by Mrs. Floyd Richards, of Altamonte Springs, church organist.

Christ Jesus was "always on the beam which leads and guides mankind in the way of all good, because he was in constant tune with God," he said. "As Jesus went about healing mankind's troubles, solving their problems, he established his complete dependence on God's guidance and direction."

He began his lecture by describing the differing viewpoints of the passengers and the pilot on a plane coming in for a landing in a thick fog. The pilot had confidence that all would be well as he followed the radio beam to our safe landing. "For most of us, our daily lives contain experiences similar to this," he said. "Some of the time we're in clear weather; but at other times we're surrounded by the dark pictures of sickness, fear, the difficult task of making right decisions, pressure, hatred, and destruction. And we need safe and right solutions — a way out of these dark storm pictures."

Christ Jesus was "always on the beam which leads and guides mankind in the way of all good, because he was in constant tune with God," he said. "As Jesus went about healing mankind's troubles, solving their problems, he established his complete dependence on God's guidance and direction."

'Annexation Is 2-Way Street' Knowles Avers

By MARION BETHA
"Annexation is a two-way street... service and paying for it." So commented Sanford City Manager W. E. Knowles in discussion of an annexation bill proposed for endorsement by the County Commission to the Orange-Seminole legislative delegation.

Knowles told the Commission that annexation is a statewide problem and that the Florida League of Municipalities has proposed the North Carolina bill (this is the bill which the county in part, endorsed in the last three terms of the state Legislature. Knowles continued that one must look at the philosophy of annexation in which the ability to provide services to urban centers is the reason an annexation was created. Knowles cited the North Carolina plan as advantageous in that it requires municipalities to schedule the services upon a schedule in which they will be provided. Florida does not have this provision, Knowles said.

The city manager continued that "good government is planned city management" and that the city government is planning to annexation.

It was pointed out that the county should support the Florida League of Municipalities in the bill in this term of the Legislature. However, the county feels that the bill is incomplete in that it is designed to set large areas. It is hoped to set the bill in this term of the Legislature on a local basis if a state-wide basis is not feasible, and that the municipalities outline the services which they will provide. Knowles cited that "many people want service without paying for it."

Commission Chairman Greg Johnson said that the county will pay to Jano Paulucci, the owner of the pit, located on Rinehart Road, $10,000 this year and $100,000 the following year. He explained that this would, in effect, be a 24-month purchase of the legal requirements. Johnson said that the agreement was satisfactory with the owner. However, Johnson said that he wanted title information available which would cost approximately $200.

He went on to say that the owner would not bear the expense of the title search in the use of the property as an easement for a two-year period. At the conclusion of the period, the land would revert to the owner. Johnson stressed that before the agreement is consummated he wished the title search. Subsequently, the attorney was authorized to pursue the agreement with the easement for acquisition, to expand the money for the title search and to seek the recommendations of the county Planning and Zoning Commission.

Johnson Reluctant On Lease

County Attorney Harold Johnson has reported to the County Commission on the "lease" of a borrow pit for clay Johnson was reluctant to refer to a lease arrangement, preferring to allude to it as a "borrow pit easement."

Johnson said that the county will pay to Jano Paulucci, the owner of the pit, located on Rinehart Road, $10,000 this year and $100,000 the following year. He explained that this would, in effect, be a 24-month purchase of the legal requirements. Johnson said that the agreement was satisfactory with the owner. However, Johnson said that he wanted title information available which would cost approximately $200.

Success In Space Should Be Pursued

The unquestioned success of the Apollo 14 lunar mission is of such magnitude and laden with so much good for the scientific and work-day world that the entire space program should now be given a more balanced look by the Nixon administration.

Here in the area which holds the Kennedy Space Center complex, there has been an horrendous waste of trained expert manpower with the drastic cutbacks, sending their skills in jobs which require more back-pump than brain-power.

Even further along the space shuttle will be another space station located within lunar orbit, where similar explorations could be conducted.

There is entirely too much to be said about the space shuttle in specific terms to be attempted here. But what is obvious is that the selection of Cape Kennedy as the launch site is becoming more and more certain.

For here are the physical facilities already prepared which do not exist in the other sites being promoted by interests who want this 1970-80 center of space activity to be in New Mexico or California.

Askew Bows To Blacks In Demands On Voting

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Chances appear slim that Gov. Reubin Askew will summon the Legislature back for another special session between now and April.

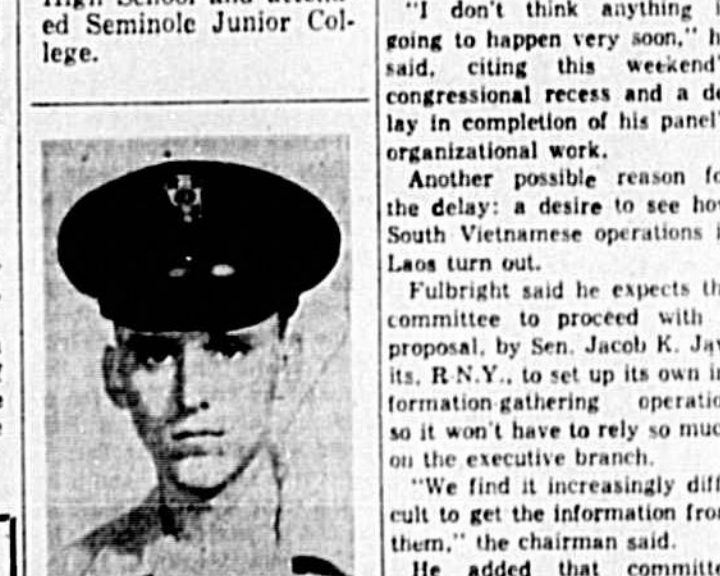

But, the governor told a group in his office, "as far as the suspension of any public officials, nothing has been brought to my attention thus far to warrant the suspension of the sheriff."

HUGH D. MAXWELL III, son of retired Col. and Mrs. Hugh D. Maxwell Jr. of 618 Oak Hill Drive, Altamonte Springs, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., for training as a medical services specialist.

Askew said he would not suspend Gadsden Sheriff Robert Martin "or any other public official" without evidence of misconduct.

The suspension of Martin and his entire staff was one of four requests presented to Askew Thursday by blacks, many of whom marched to the State Capitol from Quincy, 22 miles to the west.

OLIVER J. JELKS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Jelks, of 1320 Olive Avenue, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., for training in aircraft maintenance.

Secretaries Reluctant To Testify

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee's plans for broad hearings on ways to end the Indochina war are being delayed by reluctance of Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird to testify in public.

Rogers and Laird were asked two weeks ago to testify before the Foreign Relations panel. The request was made before the public appearance since July 1969 came last December when he urged approval of $225 million aid for Cambodia.

They have been asked to testify before the committee in open session—three times during the first half of 1969. His public appearance since July 1969 came last December when he urged approval of $225 million aid for Cambodia.

Another possible reason for the delay: a desire to see how South Vietnamese operations in Laos turn out.

U.S. Senate Demos Look South

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats in the Senate have turned to a corner from the land of the Magnolia blossom and the soft drawl to lead them to continued dominance over the GOP in 1972.

They elected Sen. Ernest "Fritz" Hollings of South Carolina as chairman of the Senate Democratic Campaign Committee.

It was any window dressing notwithstanding, a hard-headed, political decision by the senators.

The fact is that more than half-seven out of 13—of the Democratic Senators up for reelection in 1972 are Southern Democrats.

They are Sens. Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, James O. Eastland of Mississippi, B. Everett Jordan of North Carolina, John L. McClellan of Arkansas, David Gambrell of Georgia, John J. Sparkman of Alabama, and William B. Spang of Virginia.

Hollings speaks their language, knows their politics. No northerner or wasterer could help them more. Certainly, in addition, Hollings doesn't have to worry about the big industrial states where civil rights is a big issue and a negative impact.

$25,000 In Prize Money For Open Deltona Open Activities Underway

By RON FROST
Herald Golfing Editor

Some 200 professional golfers will tee-off at 7:30 tomorrow morning for the start of the $25,000 Deltona Open, being played at the Deltona Golf and Country Club. The winner will collect $1,200 while $900 will go to the runner-up. Deltona plays to a par 72 over 6,586 yards of some of the toughest real estate the pros will find on the Florida Winter Tour, sponsored by the PGA. The course is in excellent condition and the weather outlook appears prime. Host Pro Bill Schuman and his entire staff have worked extremely hard in trying to make this the best event on the tour.

A pre-pro event was held yesterday in which Greg Powers of Nashville, Tenn. tied the course record of 68. A pro-am was scheduled for today. The Dave Oakley, winner of the Mayfair Open, and Mike Davis, co-winner with Bruce Fleisher at the Indian River Open, are entered. J. C. Goosie, runner-up at Mayfair for the Kasper tournament, was the runner-up in the first round. Al Kelley Jr., Earl Fennell, Billy Capps, Pete Cooper, Harold Rayburn, Gordon Jennings, and Bob Duval will all be in hand.

I talked with Earl Fennell yesterday. Fennell was the defending champion of the Indian River Open last week. Due to rain, the tournament was confined to only one day. Earl shot a 77 at the tough Sugar-mint course and attributed his high score to the flu. He said he is feeling better. He is one of the masters of the game and we look for him to be strong. The "Goosie" is a real crowd pleaser and always has a large gallery following him regardless of how he is scoring.

Some of the area pros competing for the crown are Frank Arash, Grover Todd and Mike Wheelbar all from Mayfair. Bill Schuman and Wally Ordine, Deltona, Cooper, Popp, Jones and Rayburn, all from Orlando. The real winner of this tournament has already been decided. The Deltona Youth Fund is the real beneficiary as the profits will go to the youth fund.

There will be a slight charge for admission to the tournament. You can be sure that you will not be disappointed in making the short trip to Deltona.

Basketball may be the official name of the game but psychology should have plenty to say just how the game will be played tomorrow night when the Florida Tech Knights (FTU) meet the Florida Institute of Technology (FIT) tomorrow evening in the Ovidio High School Gym. FIT coach, Bing Yandle had his charges "warm" up for tomorrow's outing with a little tussle with the Rollins Tars in Melbourne last night. And prior to the game with the Tars Yandle was worried about his team's mental attitude. He felt they just might be looking a little better than the Tars, toward the rematch with FTU.

Two Grand National Races Won By Hamilton, Pearson

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor

DAYTONA — Last year's one two finishers in the Daytona 500, Pete Hamilton and David Pearson, both took wins in the two 125 mile Grand Nationals.

Hamilton won in the last second, but Buddy Baker couldn't pull off the same tricks against Pearson.

Hamilton for two more laps, but two laps later, Richard Petty came barreling in by his number 43 Blue 71 Plymouth. He paced the field for six laps and Foyt then went back on top for a single lap. Then Fred Lorenzen grabbed the top spot for five trips around the two and one half mile long track. On the third lap, Foyt took over again, and it appeared he was to take the checkered flag. But as Foyt was coming down the back straightaway, Hamilton slung, shot past to win by a nose. With two laps to go, Hamilton was in the third position, behind Foyt and Richard Petty but then began to make his move.

In the second race, Buddy Baker jumped to an early lead, and battled with Bobby Isaac. Hamilton was in the lead. Coming through the final turns and heading into the straightaway, Baker tried to slant shot around Pearson, just as Hamilton was in the first race. But slower traffic ahead forced him to back off and Pearson crossed by a length. Also making a charge at the finish of the second was Dick Brooks. Brooks, a 29-year-old from Porterville, Calif., thus served notice that he'll be a prime contender in Sunday's classic, the Dodge, a winged machine from last year, carried a 305 cubic inch engine, small in the field and the only one exempt from the carburetor rule.

The Lions were down 29-14 at the half, but had charged back to assume the lead in the waning minutes of the contest.

14 GIs Killed, 12 Aircraft Downed; Allies Move Against Red Supplies

By GEORGE ESPER, Associated Press Writer. SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command today disclosed the loss of a dozen American aircraft in Indochina, 11 of them supporting the South Vietnamese campaign in Laos and Cambodia. Fourteen Americans were killed and seven wounded in the crashes, the command said.

The losses—10 helicopters, one F4 fighter-bomber and a C130 transport that had been spraying against Marxist forces—occurred in the past five days. It was one of the heaviest tolls of U.S. aircraft reported for such a period since operations in the A Shau valley in April 1967.

The South Vietnamese command reported that its troops and their heavy American air support killed 165 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong during the past 24 hours in the parallel drives against enemy supply lines through southern Laos and Cambodia. The Saigon headquarters said 13 of its men were killed and 96 wounded in more than half a dozen clashes.

The offensive into Cambodia began Feb. 3, the Laotian thrust five days later.

South Vietnamese forces sweeping through Laos also reported seizing four of the 31 caliber North Vietnamese machine guns that have been part of the heaviest anti-aircraft fire American planes and helicopters have encountered in months.

South Vietnamese briefing officers listed a considerable variety of enemy vehicles and supplies destroyed and mutilated in the Laotian drive, including tanks, trucks, motor fuel and 12 tons of ammunition. The losses announced today included five helicopters shot down in Laos, four shot down in Vietnam north of the Khe Sanh combat base, an F4 downed in Vietnam near Quang Tri, and a helicopter gunship that crashed in Cambodia due to unknown causes. Nine Americans were killed and seven were wounded in these crashes.

The Air Force C130 transport crashed Thursday at the Phan Rang air base 165 miles north of Saigon, and the five American crewmen were killed. Reports that American soldiers had been seen in southern Laos, and that some were wearing South Vietnamese uniforms, brought an admission from official sources that U.S. reconnaissance teams are operating in the neighboring country but only in an intelligence-gathering role. These sources said such teams, often led by Special Forces soldiers, have operated across the border for years.

The U.S. Command declined to discuss "any operations on intelligence gathering," but a spokesman said again: "There are no U.S. ground combat troops in Laos. There will be no U.S. combat troops or advisers in Laos."

It is known that some American teams in Laos have been killed and wounded, but these casualties are not reported by the command. Both CBS and ABC correspondents reported Thursday that American soldiers were seen in Laos, some wearing South Vietnamese uniforms. President Nguyen Van Thieu and Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, both visited the northern front today.

WOMEN'S LIB. CAMBODIAN STYLE, meant a ride on a tank for this lady soldier during battles with Communists for control of the roads out of Phnom Penh.

First Class Newspaper Delivery

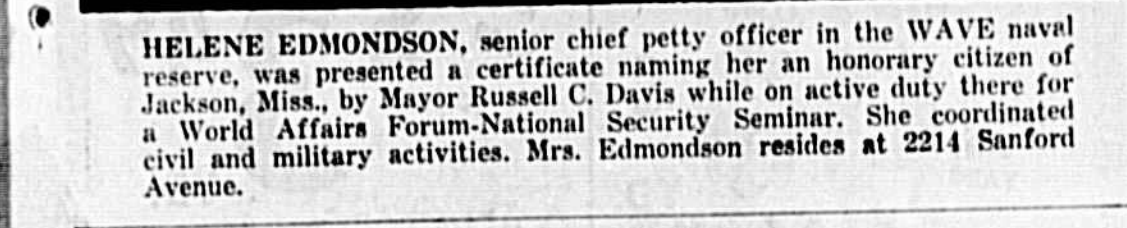

By GARY TAYLOR
It took roughly $100,000, 900 to get the first edition of the Sanford Herald Academy school newspaper, "The Clipper," off the ground... and that was for only one copy.

"The Clipper" is a monthly paper for the students and is also sent to all parents. Joseph Ashken is faculty advisor. Douglas Sarubh is student editor and there is a staff of 10.

All this for $100,000,000 a paper? Hardly.

For the cost of the first edition had some high mailing costs, footed by NASA. The first copy was sent all the way to the moon via Apollo 11.

Capit.J.C. Snodgrass, whose son, Douglas, attends the academy, is a friend of the school. He is a former member of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. He coordinated civil and military activities. Mrs. Edmondson resides at 2214 Sanford Avenue.

'Reunion' With Families

By MIKE COCHRAN, Associated Press Writer. SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 14's moon explorers returned home today, held a reunion with their families through a glass pane, then began two more weeks of isolation in the Lunar Receiving Laboratory.

The astronauts began their 21-day quarantine today. The wives and children of the spacemen and several officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration stood in cool weather and blustering wind to greet the returning heroes.

The astronauts waved at them through a trailer window and Shepard, who commanded Apollo 14, said, "We feel it's been a good mission and we're ready to start debriefing and talking about it."

"It is especially good to be back here," he added. "There were many little things that happened during the mission that could have been prevented if it hadn't been for all the devoted efforts of all the people at the control center here in Houston who worked so long and hard to make things turn out right."

Thomas apologized for the plane's being three hours later, saying, "We had a hard time getting away from those San Moon dancing girls."

Waiting in the Lunar Receiving Laboratory were 12 persons who will remain with the astronauts until the release Feb. 26, performing medical, housekeeping and other chores.

The spacemen began their isolation in a quarantine trailer aboard the helicopter carrier New Orleans after their recovery from a Pacific Ocean splashdown Tuesday morning.

When the ship had steamed to within helicopter range of Samoa Thursday, they departed by helicopter for Pago Pago, shielded in isolation garments and face masks. At Pago Pago, they boarded a quarantine trailer in an Air Force C141 jet transport for the trip to Houston.

Quarantine for the trio was designed to prevent the spread of any germs they may have brought back from the moon.

No germs were found on the astronauts or moon rocks of the Apollo 11 and 12 missions, and if the same is true of this crew, future moon astronauts probably will not be quarantined.

Scientists planned today to open the first of the boxes of rocks and lunar material collected by Shepard and Mitchell in the moon's Fra Mauro highlands.

This box, containing about 10 pounds of samples, was flown here Thursday afternoon. It was placed in a cabinet of dry nitrogen gas and the outside was sterilized throughout the night with peracetic acid.

Additional rocks arrived with the astronauts, but the bulk of the 95 pounds will come next week with the quarantine trailer that was aboard the New Orleans.

700 Raiford Cons On Hunger Strike

RAIFORD, Fla. (AP)—A hunger strike by 700 inmates in the maximum security section of Raiford State Prison entered its second day today as tired correctional officials sought to accomplish more than just discipline.

The strikers, who produced a mimeographed strike bulletin Thursday outlining grievances and explaining how the strike would take place, said they would stop both food and work for 72 hours. The bulletin added that if they didn't get an encouraging response in that time limit, they would begin to eat again but they would stay off their jobs in protest.

Thursday Dr. James Bax, secretary of health and rehabilitation services, said the men had also complained of racial discrimination and were asking for more black assistant officers. The strike included both black and white inmates.

Bax added that the prisoners had "some very good points."

Property Loss At $1 Billion

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Officials today counted $1 billion in property loss from California's earthquake disaster and the search of debris for other victims continued.

Estimates of damage from Tuesday's devastating tremor were upped to $1 billion.

Rescuers picking through the ruins of the Veterans Administration Hospital in Sylmar said they had removed 27 bodies and rescued a man trapped for 58 hours. Three patients and three employees were missing and feared dead.

A 68-year-old chef at the hospital was pulled from the wreckage late Thursday after being buried since the quake hit at 6:01 a.m. Tuesday. Rescue personnel said Frank Carbonara was apparently saved by a large metal tub which kept rubble from falling on him.

Carbonara was rescued by helicopter at a hospital where he was pronounced in good condition, although suffering from chest and hand injuries.

Interviewed by newsmen at the hospital, Carbonara, his face gaunt and drawn, said he didn't think he slept during the whole ordeal.

Asked what kept him alive, he replied, "I thought I was dead."

Meanwhile, some 80,000 persons who were evacuated from a 20-square-mile area of the populous San Fernando Valley below an earthquake-damaged reservoir were expected to be allowed to return to their homes late today. Engineers had drained off much of the water in the 3.8 billion gallon reservoir whose concrete face was cracked by the quake.

The homes of thousands of persons in the valley and in communities such as San Fernando and Sylmar were damaged or destroyed.

Many fled to evacuations centers set up in the Los Angeles area, or camps.

Thomas S. K'appe, head of the Small Business Administration, estimated not more than one homeowner in 10,000 had earthquake insurance.

Tap water came out a brownish color in thousands of Los Angeles area homes but authorities said it was safe to drink.

The Los Angeles Department of Power and Water said repairs would take months and that there would be problems in meeting peak loads in the event of trouble within its system.

WELCOME WAGON
DELTA-NA Welcome Wagon Club has foreseen the need for many Deltonians to discover why a Will is "just common sense—good business." At their Feb. 16 meeting Howard Warner of Orange City will speak on Wills—why have a Will? How to make a Will, cost of Wills—most of which are very reasonable in Florida. A question and answer period will follow his talk. All members of the club and all newcomers are invited to attend at 10:00 a. m. at the Community Center. There will be morning refreshments and friendships to be made.

KEYSTONE TOUR
DELTONA—Those Keystoneers! They like catered dinners—no "pot-luck" for them! This month 130 members and their guests attended a steak dinner in the Community Center. Plans were completed for a bus trip to St. Augustine on March 6. Buses will leave Deltona Inn at 8 and return around 6 p. m. This is no "guided tour". Each one will be free to go his way, lunch where he pleases—or take a small lunch—and to visit places of interest. What to see and where to go will be obvious on arrival. March 1 is the closing time for reservations. Members of the Keystone Club will be taken care of first, and after that friends or others wishing to go in order of reservations. Reservations are limited to 70—a good big husband! Or two? Phone William French, trip director—374-1914—for reservations or further details.

By CECELIA FARMER
Mr. and Mrs. O. R. (Shorty) Smith Sr. celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary with a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rotunda, 909 Grove Manor Dr., Saturday, Feb. 6.

Co-hostesses with the Rotundas were the Smith's daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Smith.
The delicious dinner menu included ham and roast beef, eggplant casserole, sweet potatoes, carrots, rice, beets, hot biscuits, cake, ice cream and cake, iced tea and coffee.

Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Curtis Hughes and Mrs. Solon Teston.
A color theme of red and white was used throughout the house. The dining table was overlaid with red nylon net, over red, and on each end of table were identical floral arrangements of red roses, white daisies and lilies of the valley interspersed with red velvet bows and Valentine hearts. Two large hearts, topped with the arrangements, had the inscription "40" representing the number of years the couple had been married.

The anniversary cake also decorated in the chosen colors was centered with a miniature bride and groom standing in front of an altar, and on each side names and birth dates of their children were inscribed in the icing.

An arrangement of red roses in a crystal vase, flanked by two lovely crystal candelabras and red holders and red tapers graced the buffet and other arrangements of red and white roses and carnations were placed throughout the party area. Gifts were placed around an antique floral lamp on an antique marble-top table.

Mrs. Smith was radiant in a red knit dress complemented with a corsage of white rose buds, presented to her by her husband. Mr. Smith was dressed in a dark business suit with a white carnation boutonniere.

The former Minnie Hardy and Green Rudolph Smith, both of Sanford, were married Feb. 2, 1931 and have made their home in Sanford the entire 40 years. They have two children and three grandchildren. Children are Lt. Col. O. R. Smith Jr., of Lackenheath, England and Mrs. Terry Smith, Sanford, Lt. Col. Smith is serving in the U. S. Air Force and specializes in eye surgery. Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Do you think a man who has been promiscuous for 20 years can now reform? My 22-year-old niece has just become engaged to a 37-year-old man who, by his own admission, has been with so many women, he lost count long ago. This isn't just talk because this is a small town and his reputation is well-known.

He now says he is tired of running around and wants to settle down with a nice girl and become a respectable family man. My niece is fully aware of his past, but is willing to accept his word that he will change. My question is, can he change even if he wants to?

He is a very successful professional man and could give her all the material advantages, but I wonder if it's worth the risk. My niece says she will give serious consideration to your opinion or advice.

DEAR ABBY: I am a psychologist and I am presently working with a young woman who had precisely the same problem as was expressed by "Jessica's Mother."

My patient also had a boy friend who cried when she said she didn't want to marry him. He cried again when the girl's mother talked with him, and he told her he would kill himself if the girl didn't marry him.

The mother urged her daughter to marry him to "keep the peace," and so they were married. The five years they spent together were pure hell for the girl. Can you imagine being married to a crybaby for five years?

Of course, my patient tossed around the idea of leaving the marriage, and she blames the young man for trapping her with such a pathetic performance. If there is any "peace" to be had, it's the girl's own fault.

Now that her divorce is final, she is being treated for stomach ulcers and an emotional breakdown. Some people have a hard time learning that they themselves must make the major decisions of their lives, and they shouldn't allow themselves to be talked into anything to "keep the peace" or to stop someone from crying. Respectfully yours,

DEAR NO TOWN: No, Grandpa is not to be controlled by enthusiasm. Appeal to Grandpa since he shows better sense. If that fails, you tell Grandpa as respectfully as you can that he is not to be controlled by enthusiasm.

DEAR ABBY: I am a psychoanalyst and I am presently working with a young woman who had precisely the same problem as was expressed by "Jessica's Mother."

My patient also had a boy friend who cried when she said she didn't want to marry him. He cried again when the girl's mother talked with him, and he told her he would kill himself if the girl didn't marry him.

A great majority of the entries had about Abraham Lincoln as the subject of his conversational ability.

We have just come across one that has far exceeded our own. It is a masterpiece. Perhaps the reason for this is that contract bridge was not invented until four score years after his death.

North was delighted to let the great emperator play at this night will produce six tricks and it is almost always better to try for a miracle, when you don't have a singleton.

West opened the jack of hearts and after eight tricks analyzed the lead and reviewed the bidding. Mr. Lincoln let the jack hold.

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE

Pl. D. M. D.

CASE P-271: Sister Norine has served for 20 years as a dedicated Catholic nun.

Last summer she was granted a brief vacation to visit her brother, Frank Kromm, head of the newspaper syndicate that handles this column.

So she took an all-night bus from Minnesota, finally arriving at Lafayette, Ind.

But when she presented the receipts for her two suitcases that had been checked, her luggage couldn't be found.

Although she had a through ticket and had a layover of three hours in Chicago, her baggage had not been placed on this bus.

Frank Kromm had driven 25 miles to meet her, so he now headed back to his home.

That night he received a telephone call from the bus station at Lafayette, saying Sister Norine's luggage had now arrived.

But the phone call came "late!" Imagine

Instead of sending her suitcases down to Frank Kromm's town, as could easily have been done via a change at Indianapolis, the station agent said Frank Kromm must come back to Lafayette to obtain Sister Norine's luggage!

That meant an extra 70-mile drive, due to the fault of the bus company which should have remedied its own errors!

Contrast this inefficient way of doing business, with the superb efficiency of the airlines! For the airlines not only state their telephone switchboards with intelligent, cordial girls who go out of their way to help you, even when you ask them to handle you on a rival airline.

But their baggage dispatchers are college men with mental alertness and efficiency.

Even so, an occasional error occurs. In this instance concerning Sister Norine's luggage, but the airlines then don't South was tempted to try the diamond finesse. The game was the point doubling. Perhaps West was playing preemptive jump overcalls and West had already shown up with a good six-card heart suit, but Mr. Lincoln could not count nine sure tricks and the contract looked like a very good one. He rose with the ace and carried out.

"Nicerly played, Mr. President," said Andrew Johnson who was dummy.

"Thank you," replied Honest Abe. "In my young days I used to split hairs. I don't always split honors at this stage in life."

make you pay for their mistakes! It is this superb demonstration of applied psychology on the part of the airlines that has made passenger trains almost obsolete.

The latter have catered to freight hauling so much, they have disdained passengers for an entire generation.

Since I have traveled millions of miles by train, bus and air, I have had a good perspective by which to contrast these three forms of transportation.

The passenger conductors were the best psychologists on the railroad, being cordial, friendly, and joking with customers. They were especially helpful with families who had children.

And the rest of our railroad personnel have been introverted engineers and mechanics, more interested in "things" than in "people."

I doubt if any railroad conductor was ever elevated to a top post with railroads, yet the conductors were the best managing men.

Modern air-conditioned buses are excellent, but the drivers are often poked-faced, who smile or volunteer information to anxious patrons, who are wondering as to what rate they are to locate their bus.

Airplanes rate tops in their "consumer psychology," for they train their people who "front" before the public and thus teach them how to win friends for their firms.

The railroads should be operating one-man passenger cars with their conductors as parents and have the best trackwork (level and with no sharp curves).

15th Season

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—The Santa Fe Opera will begin its 15th season July 8. The festival will feature six operas by Verdi, Puccini and Wagner. The season ends Aug. 23.

We The Women:

I keep a picture gallery of children on my kitchen wall and yesterday I finally got around to adding the photographs. One of the girls was wearing a hat that was so big, it hid her eyes. The other beautiful daughter looked as if she'd consistently "pudged" instead of "cheese" "baby".

The photographs of my own children are going to win every time.

On the 25 amateur cards, little children in various poses smile fondly at Teddy bears, hold glittering ornaments in their hands, and sweetly next to manger scenes and perch delicately upon satin chairs.

From the pros' pictures, the kids glare sullenly through their branches. One child is holding a branch and looking quite capable of defending him self.

I don't rank as a professional photographer, although for a time my job was taking news shots. The editor said he was sure that I lacked in technique. I'd make up in endurance. Besides, they don't have any body else for the job.

My pictures were a phenomenal success. All the society girls I photographed looked graceful and poised. My club members looked mysteriously alive. Pictures I took of a July Fourth parade were of life magazine quality. Blood shots of swirling leaves and river life could almost be classified as works of art.

Staggered by success, I decided that year to create my own Christmas cards. I tried for both formal and informal shots and, in the end, I had dozens from which to choose.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I scrubbed some potatoes and then boiled them in their jackets in my aluminum boiler. I used some of the soaked potatoes, left the holding a branch and looking quite capable of defending himself.

DEAR POLLY—I recently made a vest-looking vinyl coat and yesterday I finally got around to adding the photographs. One of the girls was wearing a hat that was so big, it hid her eyes. The other beautiful daughter looked as if she'd consistently "pudged" instead of "cheese" "baby".

The photographs of my own children are going to win every time.

On the 25 amateur cards, little children in various poses smile fondly at Teddy bears, hold glittering ornaments in their hands, and sweetly next to manger scenes and perch delicately upon satin chairs.

From the pros' pictures, the kids glare sullenly through their branches. One child is holding a branch and looking quite capable of defending himself.

What you'd expect. One beautiful daughter stood forth from each picture with the animation of a still-movie. There were 27, all bearing witness to the fact that, when it comes to taking photographs of family members, an amateur is going to win every time.

A TIME FOR LEARNING

These are the wonderful years, when there is so much to learn — and hours enough in which to learn it.
Youth has an unquenchable thirst for knowledge; also the desire, the capacity and the energy to absorb — if given even a little encouragement. But today, perhaps more than ever before in history, youth does need guidance.
Be sure the young people in your life have the opportunity to examine the whole picture. But in their search for the stars, don't let them forget the miracle of this planet upon which they live and its Creator.
Let them know their church.

VALENTINE GREETINGS ARE EXTENDED BY TERESA ANN LOY, 4-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER OF REV. AND MRS. ROBERT LOY.

By JACK GAVIER
NEW YORK (UPI) — A four-hour picnic supplying the entire prime time entertainment for a television network in one evening?

This happens Sunday when CBS broadcasts "Ten o'Clock Mysteries" — a special, prestigious Hollywood film of 1959 based on Gen. Lew Wallace's notable novel about a Jew's defiance of the Roman Empire.
During the new week NBC has a Bob Hope hour, a special starring Gaille Hawn, a study of the Everglades and a new game show.

Highlights:
FRIDAY
NBC preempts "The High Chaparral" at 7:30 for a dramatic, historical special, "The Name of the Game" at 8:30. Mercedes McCambridge, Suzanne Pleshette, Larry Hagman, Monte Markham and Leon Ames are guest players. Washington gossip columnist tries to destroy career of a prominent government official.

The CBS movie at 9 screens "1969's 'The Rat Race,' starring Tenny Curtis and Debbie Reynolds in the story of a naive saxophonist trying for success in New York.
"The Tonight Show" on NBC at 10 has "Revenge—What a Man Hates." A relaxed convict seeks revenge against Strangle.

SATURDAY
ABC's "Wide World of Sports" at 5 covers auto thrill racing at Tampa, Fla., the Duke Kahanamoku surfing competition in Hawaii and acrobatic skiing at Alta, Utah.

From 6 to 7, NBC covers play in the fourth round of the five round, a n n u at Bob Hope Classic golf tourney in Palm Desert, Calif.
Andy Williams' guests on his NBC show at 7:30 are Ozzie and Harriet Nelson, Joe Carpenters, Jonathan Winters and Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons.

CBS at 7:30 repeats the animated cartoon special, "He's Your Dog, Charlie Brown."
This preempts the first half of "Mission: Impossible," whose preempted second half, "Three Sons" at 8:30, allows for a preemption of "My Three Sons" at 8:30, allows for a one-hour National Geographic Society special, "The Great Mohave Desert," with actor Joseph Campanella as narrator.
Pearl Bailey's ABC hour at 8:30 features Eibel Waters, Robert Goulet and Hines, Hines and Dad.
NBC's movie at 9 screens 1966's "A Patch of Blue," starring Sidney Poitier and Shelby Longbrake in the role of a white blind girl who finds escape from

ANNETTE Johnson, a former Miss Tampa, is a candidate for the title of Florida Citrus Queen at the Citrus Pageant Monday and Tuesday at Winter Haven. She is the current "Watermelon Queen."

My Valentine

A rare find is an able wife —

She is worth far more than rubies!

Her husband may depend on her

And never lose by that.

Beauty may wither, charm wane,

We'll keep our praise for the wife with a brain.

(Suggested by the last chapter of Proverbs.)

International Stars In Movieland Film

Warner Bros. "Naked Under Leather," which opens on Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre, stars France's Alain Delon and Britain's Marianne Faithfull. The lyrical love drama promises to be one of the year's most provocative and disturbing films.

Written by Jack Cardiff and MARIANNE Faithfull leaves her bridal bed to return to her lover in "Naked Under Leather," starting Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre.

Ronald Duncan from the prize-winning novel by Pierre de Mandriargues, the Technicolor film introduces Marianne Faithfull in the dazzling co-starring role of a young girl inextricably involved with Delon, as her lover, whose savage sexual attraction imprisons her in a world of erotic fantasy.

Jack Cardiff also directed the film. His illustrious work as a leading director of photography has earned him a reputation as one of the world's most glittering film talents.

Companion feature is "For the First Time" in color and starring Jacqueline Bisset. This program has the "R" code rating. Dressed throughout by Lanvin, Miss Faithfull's most unusual costume is a one-piece, skintight black leather riding suit, lined with white fur, which she wears for sequences in which she rides a powerful 1207cc. motorcycle. She was tutored in control of the motorbike by riding expert-stuntman Roy Wilkin.

Cardiff was drawn to the subject, he notes, by the visual potential of the story, threaded into a melange of fantasy and realistic images, and by the psychological intricacies of the three main characters: the girl, her lover, and her husband who is played by British actor Roger Mutton. Ultimately, each stands alone, facing personal desires and weaknesses.

Delon, best known for his "young seducer" roles, realizes a long-held ambition to play a subtler, more mature role with his characterization of the lover. With some 70 starring roles already to his credit, Delon feels that "Naked Under Leather" will lead to an expanded career, with greater maturity of expression.

Six weeks of location filming for "Naked Under Leather" encompassed the sports center of Auz Flabierets, at an altitude of 9000 feet. Chosen for its early October snow, the Swiss locale offered challenging obstacles to the unit, struggling some three miles through knee-high snow to film sequences with the cast and ski champion Willy Favre and the National Ski Team of Switzerland.

Away from the high altitude other sequences were filmed under less arduous conditions in Heidelberg, Germany. There, a glassed-in summerhouse formed the lovely setting for many love scenes between Alain Delon and Marianne Faithfull.

Johnny Carson Wallops 'Foe'

By RICK DUBROW
HOLLYWOOD — (UPI) — Notes to watch television by:

The ratings: Johnny Carson, who quickly geared his late-night show to focus on the Southern California earthquake, walloped the competing Merv Griffin and Dick Cavett by a tremendous margin in the New York and Los Angeles overnight ratings for Tuesday... Griffin, who is based in Hollywood, devoted his program on the night of the earthquake to a tribute to songwriters...

BEST by critics' test, Karen Black is currently one of the busiest of young actresses. She won the New York critics nod as best actress for "Five Easy Pieces," has completed two new pictures ("Drive, He Said" and "Dealer") and is starting a third in New York.

Motorcycle Racing Film's Background

The thrilling sport of professional motorcycle racing is the background for Paramount Pictures' "Little Fauss and Big Halsy" starring Robert Redford and Michael J. Pollard. The Albert S. Ruddy Production, directed by Sidney J. Furie, opens today at the Sanford Plaza.

Producer Ruddy and director Furie go behind the scenes to explore the motives which produce the unusual breed of men dedicated to risking their lives in a perilous sport. The script by Charles Eastman centers on three young people who are part of the uncertain world of motorcycle racing.

All scenes were filmed on location in Southern and Northern California and in Arizona. Shooting was done in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Phoenix, and in smaller towns like Lancaster, Rosemont and Willow Springs. The production operated like a traveling road company, filming in a different town every few days.

Add ratings: Henry Fonda's new half hour ABC series, "The Smith Family," in which he plays a policeman who has a family and tries to deal with social problems, is off to a strong ratings start... What it proves is that his star power and audience acceptability are stronger than those of other performers who were rejected by the public this season when they attempted series aimed at so-called "relevancy"...

However, ABC's new weekly western, "Alias Smith and Jones," modeled after the tongue-in-cheek "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid," has been having rough going. And a series about a British criminologist, "Strange Report," is going nowhere in the statistics... And the same holds true for CBS' much-talked about comedy series about a fellow who sees the world in terms of his own prejudices, "All in the Family."

The headliners: Alabama Gov. George Wallace visits the Dick Cavett show Feb. 24... Truman Capote is a guest on NBC's "Laugh-In" Monday... same network's Bill Cosby has another special Feb. 23, with Nancy Wilson, Burgess Meredith and Dizzy Gillespie... and Arte Johnson, who gained fame on "Laugh-In," has been given a one-hour variety special of his own on NBC March 18.

International Raceway in Sonoma, California, north of San Francisco. Filming at Sears Point was done during the running of the first national championship road races at the new paved 2½ mile track.

To give audiences the sensation of actually participating in the races, cameras were placed on special mounts attached to the motorcycles. Then stunt riders joined the pack of bikes and filmed the high speed sequences at close range. A camera crew in a helicopter followed the action from above. In addition, a recorder was mounted on the speeding machines to capture the authentic sounds of motorcycle racing.

Questions & Answers

By PENNY PENCE

Q: Is it true that Macdonald Carey of "Days of Our Lives" used to be a singing star on Broadway?—R.L., Ocala, Fla.
A: Carey appeared on Broadway in several musical plays, including "Lady in the Dark," in which he co-starred with Gertrude Lawrence.

Q: What happened to the actor who played Peter Graves' son on "Fury"? Does he still act?—F.R., Hartford.

A: Robert Diamond still acts, mostly in guest roles on TV. His latest appearance was in an episode of "To Rome with Love," which aired in early January.

Q: Why doesn't Doug McClure guest on other shows? He's good and we don't see enough of him with the new format of "Men from Shiloh."—C.K., Binghamton, N.Y.

A: The new format may not offer as much McClure in the Western format, but it has given him the opportunity to try his hand at variety shows, he says. He's also made several radio appearances since he has some time off from the series that used to be so demanding.

Q: After all the gossip about Patty Duke's marriage, we wonder what has happened to Michael Tell, the man she supposedly married in Las Vegas?—H.J., Ithica, N.Y.

A: The man she "supposedly" married insists he is still married to her even though she long ago retreated to her own hide-away in Southern California. Tell is a concert promoter, recently working with rock artist Eric Clapton.

Q: Burt Reynolds was so cool in "Run, Simon, Run" that it's hard to believe he's the same cat who portrays Dan August. How come there's never any chicks around him?—G.J., Pensacola, Fla.

A: Funny you should mention that. Reynolds is wondering the same thing, and making no bones about the fact his August series would be more popular if the detective could engage in more violent—and passionate—activities.

This week is also Homecoming at SEMINOLE JUNIOR COLLEGE. Six girls representing campus organizations were nominated for Homecoming Queen. They include Maxine Kaffler, Pi Chi Omicron fraternity; Mary-Lyn Richardson, Civinettes; Donna Christy, Tau Lambda Chi sorority; Linda Nelson, cheerleaders; Sharon Bagwell, Circle K, and Patty Sorice, Delta Beta Pi fraternity. Elections were held on campus on Wednesday, but a final run-off was needed between two candidates — Maxine Kaffler and Linda Nelson. The Queen was announced and crowned at the Homecoming Dance held last night at the Sanford Garden Club following a basketball game with Central Fla. Jr. College, but since this column had a deadline yesterday morning, I don't know the results of either the queen run-off or the basketball game. Let you know next week, o.k.

The SEMINOLE HIGH Band Parents Association will sponsor the FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY band of 115 members in a musical presentation entitled "Bach Rock and all That Jazz" at 8 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 20 in the Seminole High gym. You are cordially invited to attend and to make this a successful event. This will be the first time that one of the state university departments has presented a concert in Sanford, so don't miss your big chance.

New Student Government representatives have recently been elected at SEMINOLE JUNIOR COLLEGE. Several representatives had resigned last term because of schedule conflicts or for other reasons. The new roster of all representatives includes: President, Mike Gibson; secretary, Patsy Provanca; treasurer, Tracy Knowles; and vice-president, Colleen Bonham.

Sophomore representatives are Tom Palmer, Theotis Bronson, Al Diedolf, Bill McGathy, Yvonne Chapoff and newly appointed Mary-Lyn Richardson, Karen Barker, Karen Weber, Maxine Kaffler, and Patty Stanley. The freshman representatives are: Mitch Allen, Fred Collington, Bob Bergan, Mickey Hay, Linda Nelson, Steve Burns, Bill Armstrong, Janet Yahn and also Benita Tillman, Ellen Hotts, and Debbie Shaffer, new members.

The members of the newly formed Student Court include Ralph New, Chief Justice; Karel Schneider and Kathy Barker, sophomore representatives. The Student Court was formed to interpret and enforce the by-laws and rules of the SJC Constitution. Appointments are made on a life-time basis, meaning that members are in office during their entire time at SJC, unless impeachment occurs.

The PHI BETA LAMDA professional co-ed business fraternity, and Future Business Leaders of America Clubs will hold a District Leadership Conference, Saturday, Feb. 13, at FLORIDA TECH. UNIVERSITY. Approximately 250 delegates will attend from six counties representing 25 high schools and Manatee Junior College and FTU.

The Phi Beta Lambda chapter at FTU, composed of business education and business administration majors, was the first fraternity at FTU to go national. Registration will begin in the library at 8 p.m. and contests will be held throughout the day in the General Classroom Building for extemporaneous speaking, public speaking, typing and shorthand, job interview, and talent.

Dr. C. C. Miller, dean of education at FTU will present awards to the winners at 4:30 p.m. Charles Head, is state sponsor for FBLA.

ATTENTION ALL YOU LYMAN HI ALUMNI and

students! You are invited to drop by Room F-101 Friday Feb. 19 to say good-bye and reminisce with Mrs. R. T. (Aldia) Milwee, Senior English, and Business English teacher, who is retiring after 32 years at Lyman. The reception will be 9:45-11:30 a.m. and 2:05-3 p.m. Gosh, Mrs. M., you ain't aged a bit and I know they are shore gonna miss ya at my old Alma Mater.

Richard Miller, science teacher at SOUTH SEMINOLE MIDDLE SCHOOL, Casselberry, was surprised by his second period science class with a birthday party. Refreshments were served by all his students.

It's plain that women's lib has made it to FTU — at least in the Theater Department as only two of the seven student directors of this quarter's one-act dramas are males. The 7-play project starts Feb. 23 for four days, but the plays will be performed strictly for credit before fellow students. Student directors and their plays: Deborah Ford, "Riders to the Sea" (Synge); Anne Cox, "Impromptu" (Mozel); Teresa Ramos, "The Leader" (Inesco); Terry Radice, "Dumbwaiter" (Pinter); Gwen Odom, "Purgatory" (Yeats); Walt Komanski, "Aria de Capo" (St. Millay); Mary Linda Irwin, "A Slight Ache" (Pinter).

Sorry, but that's all I have for you this week, gang. At least you know a lot about SJC now! I'll see you next week, editor-willing! Until then, hang loose, stay happy, and make some news! (But make sure it's good news!)

Requires Effort

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — Development of rural areas into industrial residential communities requires more effort, more imagination and more money than similar developments in metropolitan areas.

Howard Roepke, president of the Illinois Development Council, said, despite this, information now indicates a higher industrial-growth rate in Illinois' non-metropolitan areas.

A professor of economic geography at the University of Illinois, Roepke estimates that about 13 per cent of Illinois workers in manufacturing are now living in non-metropolitan areas.

Roepke said major disadvantages facing rural communities include lack of facilities and lack of skills—or lack of identification of skills.

'About This Field'

By ERNIE HOOD

George D., Attalla, Ala., says: "With so much talk going on these days about saving the nation's resources, I'd like to do my part as a soil conservationist. Can you tell me something about this field?"

Dear George: Farmers, ranchers and other land managers call upon soil conservationists for technical assistance in planning and maintaining programs aimed at efficient land utilization.

By taking detailed inventories of a particular area's soil, water and vegetation, the conservationist can present his client with alternative plans for their development and use, including estimated costs and returns. Once a plan is decided upon, he lends guidance in carrying it out.

Many new jobs in this field should open up in government agencies, public utility companies and banks, as these organizations become increasingly interested in land investment, conservation and development.

Annual salaries start around $6,000, but can go as high as $17,000 after several years of experience.

Trent S., Marian, Ohio, writes: "As a pharmacy major, I'm becoming a little worried about jobs after I graduate. Aren't openings pretty well limited in drug stores?"

Neither Birthday Nor House Were Ordinary

By JOYCE GABRIEL

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (NEA)—A single candle's flame flickered in the dining room of a big, old house in Syracuse, N. Y. In near-darkness came forth the sound of voices — children's voices: "Happy birthday to you, happy birthday to you, happy birthday, dear Les, happy birthday to you."

The candle was blown out and lights turned on to reveal a chocolate cake. A 17-year-old boy sat, the cake on a table in front of him, as his facial muscles struggled to arrange themselves in a proper expression. He almost managed a smirk as six other youngsters and six adults looked on, but his eyes were shining too brightly to hide his delight.

This was no ordinary birthday. This is no ordinary house. And these are not ordinary children. The house, Cepheus, might properly be called the house that Lorraine and John Ghidui built. And the children, ranging in age between 14 and 17, have backgrounds out of Oliver Twist.

Cepheus is a foster home for children who have been (or would otherwise be) in state institutions. Some are parentless, some have run away from home or have been disinherited. All are troubled. Last September, John and Lorraine, 25 and 22 years old, respectively, rented a house to give these children and others like them, a HOME.

John had been a social worker for a year when he decided to start a foster home for troubled minors.

"I wanted to offer an alternative to institutionalization of kids," he explained.

When he and Lorraine were married last June, they rented a big, three-bedroom home in Syracuse, drew up a proposal for funds from the Urban Crisis League (which is part of the Community Chest in Syracuse) and recruited their "kids."

They weren't hard to find.

Agri-Expansion Potential Great In Southland

By FRANK J. JASA
Agricultural Agent

An ample supply of potentially productive land, a favorable climate, and an ample water supply are three natural attributes which insure a favorable future for agriculture in the South.

Of the total potential cropland in the South, less than 30 percent is in use. In the remainder of the U.S. more than 60 percent of the potential cropland is already in use. Consequently, the south has a greater potential for expansion than any other part of the country in terms of available cropland.

Another advantage agriculture in the South has, is climate. With an average annual temperature that is 16 to 20 degrees higher than midwestern and northern levels, the growing season is long enough to permit the cultivation of subtropical plants, to produce vegetables during the winter months, and to facilitate longer periods of forage and timber. Weather conditions also make it possible to double crop some of the land, particularly in Florida.

Of the three natural attributes that make it possible to increase agricultural production in the South, water is perhaps the most important. In addition to 50 inches or more annual rainfall, much of the South has underground aquifers augmented by surface reservoirs for storage. The water situation alone puts the south in an enviable position with respect to a resource that is in short supply in many other parts of the country.

New Landscaping Hints Are Offered

By DAVID DEVOLL
Extension Agent

The old-fashioned landscaping ideas of covering up a house with vines, bushes and trees is no longer practical.

In the old days, many houses were large, porches were high, and they needed large growing plants. Today we are building low and attractive homes so not as many large growing shrubs are needed.

To help you in selecting and placing plants around the home, here are some suggestions:

- Select plants for the landscape which will not grow out of bounds. There are many species of broadleaf evergreens which are low-growing and attractive. Use them in home landscaping to reduce maintenance problems in the future.

— Too many different plants around the home are not attractive. Many times a grouping of three, five or seven plants of the same species can create a most attractive design. Repetition of landscape elements can be attractive.

— Locate plant groupings at the corners of the house. Some of these are: the entry area, or in other locations where strong vertical lines are created.

— Space plants so that they have room to grow to maturity.

Fruit juices make good appetizers. So do wedges of slices of fruit served with crisp greens and salad dressing. Fruit combinations, molded with gelatin make excellent low-calorie desserts.

Whole fruit is an ideal choice for snacks, box lunches, and picnics. Besides adding variety, texture, color and taste, fruit to a meal, fruit contributes minerals and vitamins needed in the diet.

Yellow fruits such as apricots and peaches are good sources of vitamin A. Strawberries, oranges, grapefruit, and tangerines are rich in vitamin C.

'Medical Center' Tops In TV Lists

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — "Medical Center," now in its second successful season on CBS, appears to be one of the network series almost certain to be renewed for a third year.

This doctor show steers a solid, middle-of-the-road course, relying heavily on those familiar scenes on which the dedicated physician nobly flouts authority and risks his career in the interest of his patient.

Wednesday night's episode started out with the earnest young doctor—played by Chad Everett treating a young girl injured in what appeared to be a suicide attempt brought on by an unfortunate love affair. To this was added the plight of an ex-comedian who worked around the hospital entertaining young patients—a part well played by Jack Carter. He suffered seizures during which he attacks anything or anyone nearby—including the girl and the doc.

It all came to a happy ending. The comedian's problem was an operable brain tumor and the girl was getting a new lease on life. But unless one has a real affection for this type of entertainment, it can be a bit of a drag.

On ABC, "The Young Lawyers" was busy Wednesday night expanding to conform to "The Mod Squad" formula, now apparently mandatory for TV series about young people. The hour has fared poorly in the ratings and the network obviously hopes the change will help improve things.

When the series started in September, Lee J. Cobb was the older, fatherly attorney, and Zalman King and Judy Pace were the young stars. Now they have added

Philip Clark as the third regular: "The Mod Squad" rules call for three kids and one older figure.

A week or so ago, CBS revamped its "Storefront Lawyers" so that it complied with the rule, adding an older, father-figure.

Clark, considerably more of an established type than the long-haired King, joined the team with a story that had him charged with assailing a 16-year-old high school girl. He was innocent, of course, and the girl's story about his fathering her unborn child was fantasy. However, it gave Cobb a chance to mastermind one of those courtroom confessions in the Perry Mason style.

In five months of trial work, the young law students in the ABC series haven't done much in the Nielsen, but they haven't lost a case.

Youthful Parents Face Murder Trial

By BILL SCOTT

"We're going to try to make it stick." Assistant State Attorney Fred Leone was commenting on the first degree murder indictment returned against a 20-year-old mother and the 18-year-old stepfather of Minnie Lee Bell.

The parents, Kathryn and William G. Kniffin, late of South Carolina and now Sanford, were ordered held without bond in the Seminole County jail after a county grand jury accused them of fatally beating the one-year-old girl.

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

After all this time, I now understand what some of the people meant, when after seeing and hearing Harry James perform recently in Sanford that "Oh, he was good, but..." I thought he was great, because I enjoy his music.

Evidently, what these other people wanted from James was that special charisma. Boots Randolph offered Saturday night in Orlando.

He joked, and quipped and generally had everyone enjoying his comments as much as his outstanding sax reductions. And then, when you added the talents of guitarist Chet Atkins and the piano stylings of Floyd Cramer... well, this had to be one of the very best musical extravaganzas ever in Central Florida.

County May Decide Road Issue Tuesday

Seminole Faces Loss Of Millions From State

By MARION BETHEA

Possibly one of the most important issues facing the county will be decided at tomorrow's meeting of the County Commission. This concerns funding for SR 436 west and SR 46 west.

At a work session held last week, Al Davis, district planning engineer, DeLand, disclosed that the county must borrow $300,000 from the state revolving road fund to purchase rights-of-way on the above two roads, or stand to lose $2.25 million in state road funds.

Davis said that only two county roads are slated to let to contract this budget year ending June 30: SR 436 four lanes from 14 west to the Orange-Seminole County line and renovating SR 46 west to the Wekiva River. Unless these are let to contract there will be no state road work done in the county this year, Davis said. However, he contended if the $300,000 is borrowed from the state revolving account, to be repaid in four years, both projects can be included in this year's state budget for funding.

Commission Chairman Greg Drummond has been consistently opposed to the four-laning of SR 46, although stating no opposition to two-laning of the road. Drummond feels that the money could be better spent elsewhere than the four-laning. Also cool to the proposition is Commissioner John Kimbrough.

Also under discussion will be a proposal by Sanford Industrial Commission Director David Kelley relative to industrial revenue bonds. Kelley contends that the county needs the industrial revenue bonds to attract industry to the county, and further that these will encourage business and alleviate unemployment. The process is utilized by all southern states to obtain industrial revenue bonds. There is of the opinion that the bonds can be used in selection of the type of industry wanted.

Administrative Assistant J. Martin Gainer will report to the Commission upon the personal board review of county road department employment practices. A few weeks ago, a letter was received by the Commission indicating that blacks felt that policies in the department were discriminatory in that they were relegated to positions of menial responsibility. Drummond denied these allegations, saying that the county (Continued on Page 1B, Col. 1)

Five Youths Held On Dope Charges

Four Seminole Countians were arrested during the weekend on drug charges, according to police and county records.

A 13-year-old girl, two Casselberry residents, a Lake Mary youth and a Plymouth (Conn.) man were charged in drug violations, reports reveal.

Det. Sgt. Ralph Russell, Lt. Charles Fagan, Sgt. Eddie Hughes and Deputy A. F. Davis arrested the 13-year-old juvenile outside the city limits after she tried to purchase a hypodermic needle at a Sanford drug store, Russell said. A quantity of marijuana was confiscated at the girl's home, he added.

Edward C. Schwickerdt Jr., 18, Lake Mary, was charged with possession of habituating by police after he was alleged to have tossed away a packet of depressant pills at the police parking lot while being arrested on a traffic charge.

Caroline Karin Ross, 21, of 500 Georgetown Drive, Casselberry, was booked on sale of narcotics and possession of narcotic drug charges by Deputy Davis, who had obtained a capias from Circuit Judge Dominick Salfi to go to the accused home. Her bond was set at $3,000.

City Ponders Lease Of Marina Building

Sanford City Commission indicated at a special meeting that it would prefer to lease the marina dry storage building owned by Cobia Boats, through its subsidiary Monroe Harbour, Inc., at the annual $1,000 fee rather than purchase the building.

This proposal was advanced by Commissioner J. H. Crapps after Mayor Lee P. Moore asked the commission its opinion about going into the marina business and accepting the proffered storage building with related equipment for an estimated $250,000 from the lessee.

Cobia has indicated, through a company official, a desire to sell out the lakefront facilities to the city or to an acceptable private business group.

Monroe Harbour now holds a lease, let on the building, which is owned by the city except for the storage building, and has filed a court suit asking that a finding be made to determine who is responsible for restoring the sunken docks in the marina's west harbor.

Both the city and lessee maintain the other is responsible for restoration of the floating docks, which are rented to boaters by the lessee.

Crapps, in his proposal which received some commission support, stated this would give the lessee the opportunity to walk

Congress Confuses George To This Day

By DICK WEST
Staff Writer

Radiant with intellectual curiosity, my son, George, burst into my study where I was annotating an anthology of the best loved poems from the Congressional Record (1933-66).

"Father," he said, "why are we celebrating Washington's birthday on Feb. 15 this year?"

"Because Congress has made it legally impossible to celebrate Washington's birthday on Washington's birthday," I replied.

"It set the third Monday of February as the federal holiday, whereas Washington was born on either Feb. 22, 1732, or Feb. 11, 1731, depending on whose calendar you use."

"But neither Feb. 22 nor Feb. 11 can fall on the third Monday of February, regardless of whose calendar you use. Get it?"

"Right on," said George, blinking his eyes.

"Very well, Washington himself figures he was born on Feb. 11 because that was the days between Jan. 1 and March 24 was dated 1732. Do you follow me thus far?"

"I'm with you," George said, picking himself up off the floor.

"Good. As you can see, Washington was 19 on Feb. 11, 1750, but his 20th birthday was on Feb. 11, 1752. Now here's the hard part:

"Since the vernal equinox had been displaced by 11 days in the Julian Calendar, the Gregorian calendar tried to make up the difference by removing 11 days from September.

"In 1752, there were 10 days dated Sept. 3 to Sept. 13, which made it necessary to add 11 days later to compensate. So in 1753, Washington celebrated his 21st birthday on Feb. 22 instead of Feb. 11. All clear?"

"All clear," said George, crawling out from under the desk.

"Okay. So now you know why we are celebrating Washington's birthday this year on Feb. 15. And always remember that you can never learn anything unless you ask questions."
