

Bartow Girls Meet Death In Burning Residence

Parents Make Escape Thinking Girls Are Safe

Other News of Interest Concerning The State of Florida In Condensed Form

Misses Emily and Geneva Braddy, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Braddy of Bartow were burnt to death Sunday in a fire which completely destroyed the Braddy residence and would have communicated itself to other structures had not the Braddy home been in an isolated location. Another child member of the Braddy family was injured by the flames, but is expected to recover. Mr. Braddy received several burns on his hands as the result of his attempts to rescue his children. The family were asleep in the second story of the house when the fire started about 10:30 o'clock and the flames had gained terrible headway when Mr. and Mrs. Braddy were awakened by the heat and smoke. They staggered down the stairway and, in the general confusion, failed to look after the safety of their two daughters who, they thought, had preceded them out of the house. When they reached the ground the young women could not be found, but screams from the house told of their awful fate. It was then too late to rescue them, the building being wrapped in flames. Summoned to the scene soon after the fire started, the Bartow fire department did good work, but the flames had gained such headway by the time the firemen arrived that little could be done. Late tonight the house was a smoldering ruin. Hundreds of people attracted by the fire were on the scene, and many shed tears when they heard of the terrible fate of the young women. Miss Emily Braddy was a young woman who had reached her majority, was noted for her beauty and accomplishments and greatly admired, while Miss Geneva Braddy was about twelve years of age. The family had been spending the past week on a camping trip at Eagle Lake, and has just returned. The origin of the fire is unknown tonight, but will be investigated tomorrow. Members of the family and friends are prostrated with grief over the loss of the two lives of the young women.

House Party at Anna Maria
After a short visit in this city a party went to Anna Maria yesterday for a house party of a week's duration. This will be in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rogers and little son of Savannah, who are visiting relatives in Lakeland and Sanford. The party included besides Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Alfred Lilja of Sanford; Mrs. May Williams of Lakeland; Mrs. Jewel Wells and little daughter, Louise, and father, Mr. W. P. Powers of Orlando; Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Lanier and children of Bartow. They will occupy a cottage, and anticipate a delightful outing at that attractive resort.—Tampa Tribune.

Trainmaster Marlowe
The excursion train on Monday was accompanied by Captain D. C. Marlowe, Master of Trains of the A. C. L. Railway with headquarters at Sanford. In conversation with Captain Marlowe—who blushingly admitted Julia Marlowe was a distant relative—we gathered this personal history of the popular and efficient trainmaster, who is probably the youngest man occupying that responsible office on the A. C. L. system: Began railroading on the Plant System fourteen years ago at Waycross, Ga., in the capacity of brakeman. Was promoted to freight conductor, then to yardmaster at Jacksonville and Savannah. Later made assistant master of trains, and about a year ago appointed trainmaster of the Sanford Division. "Are you married?" the Lake Region editor ventured to ask of the youthful official. His reply was significant: "No, but it's not my fault that I'm single." Girls, take notice. Another item of interest was Capt. Marlowe's statement that he hoped to secure for this division some of the brand new handsome coaches lately put in service by the A. C. L. In this wish we join you heartily. Success to you, Captain Marlowe; may you rapidly rise in your profession to that proud eminence occupied by your cousin Julia, when you, like that prima donna, can exclaim: "I am monarch of all I survey, There's none with me to compete; From sun-up to Sarasota Bay, I'm boss of all I meet."—Eustis Lake Region.

The Hicks in Pennsylvania
A. A. Hicks of Paola, Florida, who formerly resided in Bloomsburg, is now a visitor here. Mr. Hicks left Bloomsburg in November, 1885, and has resided in Florida ever since. Mrs. Hicks came along with him and at present they are the guests of Mose Tressler and family in Fernville. They have prospered during their sojourn in Florida and are enjoying good health. They are the parents of two sons and two daughters, all of whom are married and doing well. This is their first visit to Bloomsburg since they left here almost twenty-eight years ago, and they notice many changes and improvements in and about our town. After a visit here of a couple of weeks they will go to Altoona for a few weeks and expect to return to their Florida home in October.

Mr. Hicks is a son of the late Jesse Hicks who was born in Catawissa and later moved to Reading where he died. He is also a half brother of the late Benjamin F. Hicks who resided on Sixth street in this town. "Lon" as a number of us always call him, is well remembered by many of our people and was given a hearty welcome by those who met him. His wife was a daughter of Joseph Witts of Irondale and is also favorably remembered by many friends. When asked if he wouldn't like to come back here to live Mr. Hicks replied "No, I wouldn't come back for the best farm in Pennsylvania, our climate, our work, our surroundings and our people are so much different and we are so well satisfied that nothing, scarcely, could induce us to return here."—Bloomsburg (Pa.) Sentinel.

Prominent Volusia Man Dead

Telegraphic advices received in Jacksonville announced the death of Elber W. Bond, a prominent citizen of DeLand, who passed away in Wailoughby, Ohio, at the age of 87.

Grief, owing to the loss of his wife who died July 1 last, is ascribed as being the immediate cause of Mr. Bond's death.

Mr. Bond settled in Volusia county in 1881, and since that time has given generously of his time, labor and means in support of projects for the general up-building and advancement of the county. Through the years of an active business career he had worked diligently and intelligently in the initiation and promotion of important corporate and business interests, having been a founder, a builder and a developer, his work being among the greatest of the forces in the growth of DeLand and Lake Helen.

Lawson Pharmacy Sold

The Lawson Pharmacy was sold last Saturday to J. H. Fletcher of Ft. Meade who will assume charge immediately. Mr. Fletcher is a registered pharmacist and will conduct the store in a most progressive manner, taking charge of the pharmaceutical department himself and making many innovations. This store is one of the best locations in the city and under the able management of Mr. Fletcher should prove very attractive, not only to the drug trade but the thrifty ones who delight in cold drinks and other confections. Mrs. Fletcher and family are here also and they will add one more family to Sanford's constantly increasing population.

The Herald welcomes Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher to Sanford and hopes that they will remain with us always.

New And Old Counties Make Friendly Division

Orange And Seminole Commissioners Come To Terms

Transaction Gives Satisfaction And Both Counties Are In Fine Shape Financially

Using the 1912 assessment as a basis for settlement made necessary by the creation of Seminole county from a part of Orange at the last session of the legislature, the county commissioners of the two counties completed their work Friday afternoon, and adjourned after having given their official approval to the articles of agreement.

The division was effected without friction. On the contrary, the adjustment was made in the most amicable manner, with all satisfied at its conclusion that the matter had been concluded on such terms as would be sanctioned by all.

In order to enable the new county to start its affairs off on a cash basis, the county treasurer of Orange was ordered to pay into the treasury of Seminole county the sum of ten thousand dollars immediately, this being a portion of the amount due the new county under the settlement. The remainder will be paid after the proportions have been worked out by the special agents appointed to do the work. This will require some time and in fact no accurate forecast can be made of the time that will be required. There are numerous conditions accompanying the settlement that had to be worked out with the greatest forethought, and in order to reach a working basis the audit of the county's affairs made May 1, and reported by the auditor May 5, was taken as a starting point. The surplus funds on hand that date were divided on a basis of assessed values, after certain deductions had been made, all of which are enumerated in the articles of agreement. The document seems to cover all phases of the division of property and money affairs between the two counties. It may be that future developments will show that something was overlooked, but no omission is apparent. The text of the document, which is signed on behalf of Orange county by M. O. Overstreet, chairman; J. L. Dillard, E. L. Brown, S. W. Eldredge, and on behalf of Seminole by Frank L. Woodruff, chairman; L. P. Hagan, J. T. McLain, C. W. Entzinger and J. A. Clark, follows:

Memoranda of agreement reached at the joint meeting of the Boards of County Commissioners of Orange and Seminole counties as follows:

1. The written agreement entered into by the Chairman of Orange county board and the chairman of the Seminole county board, representing the two said boards, which was executed on May 9th, 1913, is hereby approved and confirmed, and it is agreed that the plan of division shall be as provided in said former contract.

2. As to further details of settlement it is agreed that they shall be as follows:

3. Division of movable personal property.

That part of the personal property which, under said agreement, is to be divided, that is to say, mules and other road equipment, is divided as follows: Orange county shall take and retain (subject to the following) all of the said property at an agreed valuation of $6,000. Seminole county to receive her pro rata part (based on assessed value of property in Seminole county) of the said $6,000, payable as follows:

(a) Seminole county takes steam roller at $500.

(b) Seminole county takes one combination van at $100.

(c) Seminole county takes one prison van at $100. (d) Balance in cash.

4. As to division of surplus funds in accordance with said former agreement and in accordance with said former agreement and in accordance with the act of the legislature, it is agreed as follows:

5. It is agreed that the division of funds (subject to special provisions made hereinafter) shall be made as of May 1st, 1913, and the auditor's statement of Orange county, dated May 5th, 1913, is taken as a basis for the several computations referred to below:

The said statement shows a total balance on hand in all funds at said date of $107,367.64. From said total shall be deducted before making any division the following amounts:

(a) Amount shown by said statement to be in general school fund, $4,288.38, of which fund Seminole is to receive outright what is shown to be due to schools in Seminole county, said amount to be paid as a separate matter and to be the amount which may be, shown by the school records to be due to schools in the territory now embraced in Seminole county.

(b) The amount shown by said statement to be in a special district tax school fund, to-wit: $11,000.63, Seminole county to receive as a separate settlement what is shown to be due by the school tax records to be payable to districts now embraced in Seminole county.

(c) The amount shown by said statement to be now due to the fund of special road and bridge taxes for district No. 1, which is embraced in Seminole county, and all of which amount is payable outright to Seminole county.

(d) Before making any division there shall further be deducted from the above total of $107,367.64, all debts of the county of Orange which accrued, or for which Orange county was liable on May 1st, 1913, whether the same were actually due and payable on that date or not. This to include bills vouchered at the May meeting of the county commissioners of Orange county, and also all bills vouchered or for which warrants were drawn since that date and which were obligations of the county on said May 1st.

(e) There shall further be deducted before any division is made all amounts found to be payable by either county to any and all incorporated cities and towns in Orange and Seminole counties on account of road taxes, the amounts yet to be computed by the county auditor.

6. After deductions of all of the foregoing items from said total of $107,367.64, the funds remaining shall be divided between Orange and Seminole counties pro rata according to the assessed valuation of the year 1912 of property in said counties, and subject further to the following provisions:

7. Seminole county shall pay to the county of Orange outright the following items, said payment to be made by deducting the amounts thereof from Seminole county's pro rata part of the above mentioned fund, warrant to be paid to Seminole county for the remainder found to be due to Seminole county after said deductions:

(a) As to the bridge known as the Wekiwa bridge. The cost of this bridge, to-wit, $1,150, shall be considered as a separate item not included in joint debts to be pro rated as above, and settlement therefor shall be so made that Seminole county shall have paid five-sixths of the entire cost of said bridge, and Orange county one-sixth, Seminole county to reimburse Orange county out of her portion of county funds the said five-sixths of item, to-wit: $988.33.

(b) Seminole county shall refund outright to Orange county all costs which have been paid in criminal cases, except in cases where convictions have been had and where the convict or convicts are now in Orange county convict camp, since the county division.

(c) Seminole county shall refund and pay outright to Orange county her pro rata (based on 1912 assessed valuation) of salaries of the county clerk, the county attorney, salaries and fees of county treasurer, tax collector, tax assessor, county commissioners, and all administrative expenses of government since May 1, to date, except, however, that Seminole county shall not be required to pay any salaries or fees of employees, or for any equipment or improvements or any expenses whatsoever the benefit of which was had solely by present Orange county.

(d) Seminole county shall reimburse and refund to Orange county outright the entire amount of all costs and expenditures made for work or equipment or materials or improvements which have been placed in or expended solely for Seminole county since county division.

(e) The settlement shall be so computed that Orange county shall pay outright for the fixtures installed in Orange county court house shortly before division, in accordance with said former contract.

(f) Orange county shall pay outright for one car load of metal culverts which were at hand at the time of the division, except that part of said culverts which have been installed in Seminole county to be paid for outright by Seminole county.

(g) It is further agreed that Seminole county shall receive outright that part of county revenues collected since division which arose or was paid out of Seminole county territory that is to say, all moneys received during said

Senator Bryan Defended In Parcel Post Action

Florida Senator Receives Much Unjust Criticism

Bryan Only Doing What He Considers Best For Service Of People He Represents

Lakeland, Fla., Aug. 11, 1913.

Editor Sanford Herald:

I noticed considerable criticism in the columns of the press, both favorable and otherwise in reference to Senator Bryan's action on the parcel post matter, among the most recent comments on his action an editorial comment in the Tampa Times of the 8th instant. I note the editor states among other things that he views his action with disappointment and regret. I cannot conceive how his friends or any one else would have him do otherwise in his conscientious duty as he sees it.

It is true that his stand is not popular at this time but I attribute this to the fact that he is misunderstood in the matter. He is not now opposing nor has he opposed a reduction of rates of the parcel post system.

Congress in the same identical bill which enlarged the parcel post provided for a joint committee of the two houses to further consider the question of the parcel post, and ascertain whether or not it could be enlarged or extended.

Senator Bryan was a member of this committee endeavoring to investigate whether or not it could be enlarged. This committee on parcel post and post roads has been securing data and information from every county that had a parcel post established. They had received information from all these sources relative to this matter, with the exception of our own Postmaster General.

It was natural to presume, if the department could not furnish any information asked for by the committee, as to whether or not the present system was on a paying basis or creating a deficit. The department certainly was not in a position to make a radical reduction in the rates, without a reckless disregard of the consequences. It is stated on good authority that the present plans were worked out by the subordinates in the postal department, and not only has their plan been severely criticised, but their ability has been seriously questioned by no less authority than Congressman Kindel of Colorado.

Senator Bryan's opposition to that particular clause in the act of Aug. 24, 1912, giving the Postmaster General this arbitrary power to read into the law is well founded and justified by the act of Mr. Burleson in abolishing the special parcel post stamp. So now we cannot know, except by estimate, either the revenues of the government or the expenditures of the government in this particular branch of the service. If he would make such a drastic order as this on the 6th of March, only two days in office, thereby putting his own department at sea as to specific information, and ruthlessly casting aside an act of congress, and then again when the committee has spent about one year studying this complex problem and seeking information to work out a feasible, stable, substantial and enduring parcel post system that would be practical and create confidence in the public mind from its inception, founded on experience and facts, Mr. Burleson, then again on the recommendation of subordinates, puts into effect, the last order increasing the weight of packages to twenty pounds. I think it is another demonstration of the fallacy of bestowing legislative powers upon an executive part of the government, and further demonstrates the wisdom of Senator Bryan in his consistent and persistent fight on the particular clause, giving the Postmaster General that Arbitrary power.

I believe Senator Bryan will vote for and work as hard for the relief of the common people as any one in Congress. We cannot expect to conduct a government business at a loss. If it is a fact that the parcel post system can handle a six pound package, one thousand miles on the same train that the express carries another six pound package one thousand miles, and the government pay their employees ninety dollars per month, and the express company pay their employees forty-five dollars per month, and the parcel post rate being forty-four cents for a like package, it seems to me that the interstate commerce commission, who sanctioned the last order of the Postmaster General making further reductions, would certainly offer the common people some direct relief through a reduction in express rates, especially after giving twenty months in the consideration of the express rates and spending $200,000 of the people's money making an investigation, when they have in this particular case made a reduction of the parcel post rate, after nine days' consideration. To take the burden from the people permanently, it is necessary to reduce the amount paid the railroads, in the same ratio that the reduction is made from the people to the government.

Yours very truly,
J. CLIFFORD BROWN.

Lodge of Maccabees Formed
Sanford Tent, No. 4, Knights of the Maccabees of the World was instituted in this city on last Friday evening in the Eagles' Hall, with some forty odd charter members, composed of the leading professional and business men of Sanford. State Commander A. C. Hamrick of Atlanta, Ga., was present and gave the instructions in the work and also acted as installing officer.

The following officers were elected and installed: Past Commander, Dr. J. N. Robson; Commander, I. S. Maines; Lieut. Commander, Dr. O. J. Miller; Record Keeper, W. H. Wright; Chaplain, E. M. Bell; Sergeant, H. C. Phillips; Master at Arms, M. L. Raines; First Master Guards, W. E. Betts; Second Master Guards, G. W. Hardman; Sentinel, F. M. Pou; Picket, H. E. Arnett; Trustees, A. D. Smith, B. R. Beck and W. C. Bray.

A full set of regalia was ordered and it is expected that the full initiation will be put on at the next meeting which will be on next Thursday evening, the 14th.

The Sir Knights are very enthusiastic and are working to build up this lodge to one hundred or more members and from present indications they will realize their expectations within a very short time.

This popular organization is thirty years of age and has paid out since organization in benefits something over fifty million dollars and has invested over eleven million dollars for the benefit of its members.

Detroit, Mich., is the headquarters of the Knights of the Maccabees of the World and they are in no way connected or affiliated with any other organization using the name "Maccabee."

Colonization of Florida
C. S. Ucker, W. H. Manas and Dr. Stinson, all representing the Southern Settlement & Development Organization were in the city yesterday enroute to South Florida in behalf of the organization. Sunday's Times-Union describes the organization fully, of which the below is but a part:

The plan of the Southern Settlement and Development Organization to settle the untilled acres of Florida and fifteen other southern states will be graphically outlined at the meeting to be held in Gainesville next Friday afternoon. The receipt of invitations sent out by Dr. W. M. Stinson, chairman of the state committee, resulted in a number of telegrams being received here by nearby counties last night. These were to the effect that there will be a good attendance at the meeting in Gainesville.

Thirty-seven counties of the state have been asked to send their delegates to the meeting. At the same time yesterday the question as to "What is the Southern Settlement and Development Organization?" was asked and answered by the officers of the body who are here at the present. The future greatness of the state, its agricultural development, industrial prosperity and banking advantages offered by the willings of the trust companies of Europe to buy Florida farm mortgages will be some of the features of the Gainesville meeting.

Laid Some Egg
Mrs. W. B. Noell, who resides at the old Downey place on Sanford Heights has some fine chickens and takes a great pride in the same. The chickens seem to respond to her kind treatment with plenty of hen fruit and one of them last week laid an egg that measured 6 1/4 inches by 7 1/4 inches, which in these days of high cost of living would be very welcome to the housekeeper.

Get the Laws
The Herald last Friday printed the laws passed by the last legislature and every registered voter is entitled to one and if you have not received a copy come to the Herald office or send in your order and you will receive one. The list of registered voters for Seminole is not complete and there may be some voters who were overlooked. If any who are not voters desire a copy they are

SENATOR BRYAN ALL RIGHT

The Herald has withheld judgment on Senator Nat Bryan in regard to his stand on the parcel post schedule despite the storm of protest being raised against his action by numerous papers throughout the north and west.

Today we have first hand information from Washington in the letter from Hon. J. C. Brown, who explains the acts of Senator Bryan regarding his position in the parcel post matter.

We knew that Senator Bryan was not supporting either the railroads or the express companies and that in opposing some of the changes in the system he was only acting for the good of his constituents and all the people of the United States.

A TEMPERATE ELECTION

The commission government election is over and has been settled very happily. A good natured election is a rare avia. Ill-will, jealousies, intemperate remarks, spleen and many vices usually accompany elections.

We would at all times advocate temperate discussion, ever bearing in mind that the individual is greater than the question and that nothing should be done to drive him afar from brotherly approach; and if a man is so constituted that he is unable to discuss such a question in a temperate and reasonable manner it were better that he say nothing, no matter what side he may favor.

THE NEW HOTEL LAW

The new hotel law passed by the legislature will make a general cleaning up on the different hotels over the state that have been running along in a manner to suit themselves.

Sec. 14. That within six months after the passage of this act every hotel, or restaurant in this state occupied by one or more families or tenants, aggregating twenty persons or more, and having fifteen or more sleeping rooms on the third floor, or if three stories high shall be equipped with an iron stairway, fire escape or escapes, on the outside of the building connecting on each floor above the ground floor and to the outside of the building, with openings from each floor, which shall be well fastened and secured, with landings not less than six feet in length and three feet in width, guarded by an iron railing not less than thirty inches in height.

than two feet wide with steps not less than six inches tread and placed at an angle of not more than forty-five degrees. The way of egress to such fire escape shall at all times be kept free and clear of any and all obstructions of any kind and every nature.

Fire escapes shall be placed where the hotel commission may direct. And if more than fifteen sleeping rooms on each floor, above the second floor there shall be provided one such described fire escape for each additional fifteen sleeping rooms on each floor. There shall be posted and maintained in conspicuous places in each hall and each guest room, except in the hall and rooms on the ground floor of such hotel, plainly written notices reading: "Fire Escapes are indicated by red lights." And every hotel less than four stories high and having less than fifteen sleeping rooms on the third floor, shall have hallways placarded to indicate all stairways and exits, and shall keep a five-eighths inch rope of sufficient length to reach the ground in each outside room, to be fastened six feet above the floor near window in a substantial manner and capable of sustaining at least five hundred pounds weight; provided, however, that nothing in this section will be construed to prevent the use of any automatic rope fire escape, in place of the knotted rope.

To you who were so fortunate as to be a Savings Depositor of the Peoples Bank, this means a larger measure of prosperity than for your neighbor who did not embrace the opportunity. To the community, it means that there is just that much more money in circulation to aid in its General Upbuilding. To the Peoples Bank of Sanford, it means that while it has not been enabled to pay extraordinary dividends to its stockholders, and has not doubled its capital, still it has been enabled to contribute materially to the wealth of the people of Sanford and at the same time build up a creditable surplus. Extending to the people of Sanford and Seminole County the same facilities for the handling of their savings and commercial accounts as has been its custom since organization. # BAD WATER HOLD-UP

It Was Only for Moving Pictures but Passengers Thought It Real Thing.

By FRANK FULSON

The journey across the water is not a distracting one, and any diversion is gladly welcomed, so that when the flashily dressed man stood up at the end of the Pullman and began to address the passengers, everybody went forward and gathered around him, laughing and clapping. They thought he was going to offer something for sale.

However, he had nothing to sell. He had a favor to ask, he said, and so everybody became silent and listened attentively.

"Ladies and gentlemen," began the flashily dressed man, "I am going to repeat to you what I have just said to the passengers in the next coach. When we reach Bad Water, in ten minutes or so, a moving picture man will be upon the platform to take some pictures representing a hold-up. Some of the performers, dressed as bandits, will attack the mail car, while others will go through the coaches, demanding your money and valuables. But please do not be alarmed. The whole proceeding will be in pantomime, and if you will make a show of compliance, and so aid us, nobody will be annoyed. I ask of you, fellow-passengers, to feign alarm, and if one or two of the ladies will pretend to faint it will help things along."

Everybody began laughing and eagerly awaited the stop at Bad Water. This was the fourth day of the trans-continental journey, and the passengers were on very good terms with one another. They began to discuss train robberies.

"I'd never give up a cent," exclaimed a stout, perspiring drummer, wiping the alkali dust from his features. "Not for all the train robbers in California. No, sirree, and don't mistake me. I'd duck their pistols and hit out once or twice and then—well, there wouldn't be any train robbers."

"Well, as for me, I know I should just faint," answered a demure young lady. "And before I fainted I'd just hand over everything I had."

"Not with me around, you wouldn't need to," answered the drummer gallantly.

The other travelers did not commit themselves, for at that moment the take them, then. And that's every penny I have in the world."

"It's big, big and big gang," somebody screamed. "It's real enough! My God, it's all real!"
Then the flashily dressed man came dashing out of his coach, a smoking pistol in his hand. He was followed by two of the gang.
"Hands up, you silly sheep!" he yelled. "Hands up or I fire. Now, then, back into the cars. One at a time, please. You'll keep them above your heads while I go through you."
Sheep, he had called them, and like sheep they obeyed. The first to do so was the commercial traveler. There was a look of terror on his red face, and he held his arms erect as ram-rods.

Only one traveler remained upon the platform. It was the demure young lady who had been discussing her course of action in the event of a real hold-up. Instead of fainting she stamped her foot violently and actually shook her fist in the flashily dressed man's face.

"I won't put my hands up and I won't give you a cent. And I've got ninety dollars inside my waist and I defy you to take it, you coward. There!"

Upon the platform the operator was still grinding off his film. The flashily dressed man approached the young lady, took off his hat, and made her a bow.

"Madam, you are the only man among the lot," he said. "Pray keep your money as a tribute to your courage!"

The passengers had all fled in when the wheels of the train began to move. The flashily dressed man caught the young lady by the arm and swung her aboard. Inside the travelers stood huddled together, but there was no bandit to receive their cash. The flashily dressed man stood on the step and looked at them.

"Sorry to frighten you all, ladies and gents," he said. "If you'd obliged me as I asked of you to do, I wouldn't have had to scare you. We ain't bandits; we're just moving picture people; but we had to get the picture and as you wouldn't help us—why, we just had to help ourselves. Good-bye."

And as the train was now in motion he leaped to the ground and stood smiling at them.

When they had resumed their places there was quite a long silence. Then the drummer spoke.

"I know it wasn't real," he said. "If I'd thought it was I'd have acted differently."

He smiled at the demure young lady. But she was reading a textbook on the Montessori method of teaching the young, and she never looked up at him between Bad Water and San Francisco.

RURAL TEACHERS' PAY SMALL

Average Pay is Less Than That Received by Street Laborers in Cities.

The statisticians tell us that the average salary of the teachers of the nation in the common schools is less than $400 a year, and in the rural school districts less than $300, the Hon. David Franklin Houston, secretary of agriculture, writes in Leslie's Illinois reports rural salaries ranging from $250 to $400, Kansas, a salary of less than $250, Missouri, Mississippi and Tennessee, one of less than $250; Vermont, Maine and North Carolina, one of less than $200. In urban communities it ranges from $500 to $600 to $1,500 or $2,000 or more. The annual compensation of rural teachers is less than that of street laborers in cities, less than that of bricklayers, plasterers, carpenters, painters and brakemen, and the superintendent of Alabama reports that in that state it is less than the average earnings of convicts.

Everywhere these teachers are straddled in one room buildings, for the most part unsightly, devoid of the ordinary comforts, lacking in facilities, in unattractive and insanitary surroundings, they teach all grades and hold 30 to 35 or 40 recitations a day for four, five, six or seven months a year, and do this without advice or assistance from competent supervisors or inspectors. Illinois reports 10,600 one teacher schools, 1,150 of them having less than 15 pupils; Kansas, 7,800, 425 with less than 15 pupils, 300 with less than 10; North Carolina, more than 4,000 out of a total of 5,400; Indiana reports 1,085 schools with less than 15 pupils, and 2,000 with less than 20; Missouri, 706 with less than 12, and 2,500 with less than 20.

When the people know the facts and are intelligently led they will face the situation, provide the means and will regard the expenditure for developmental purposes not as a burden, but as an investment. They must put more money into this business of rural education to save what they have already put in—to make good what they have undertaken. As people of ordinary business sense, they must recognize the necessity of efficiency of production. A nation which is spending $700,000,000 a year on war, past and future, $800,000,000 for tobacco, and $1,500,000,000 for whisky cannot make the plea of poverty and cannot afford to say that it will stop at an expenditure of $230,000,000 for schools.

An Extra.
Newsboy—Great mystery! Fifty victims! Paper, mister!
Passer-by—Here, boy, I'll take one. (After reading a moment.) Say, boy, there's nothing of the kind in this paper. Where is it?
Newsboy—That's the mystery, governor. You're the fifty-fifth victim—Missouri Over.

"Hands Up, You Silly Sheep!"

train began to slow down and there appeared the irrigation ditch from which the station took its name. Then the little tin-roofed shanty came into view, and a moment later a half dozen men, wearing sombreros and masked, with pistols stuck all around their waist lines, leaped forward across the tracks. One jumped into the engine cab and held his pistol to the forehead of the engineer. The mail van was next attacked, while two men made their way into the foremost of the coaches.

Upon the platform a moving picture operator had set up his instrument and was busily reeling off the film. The passengers, interested in the scene, gathered around him.

"Now, ladies, now, gentlemen," interposed the flashily dressed man in tones of remonstrance, "won't you please go back into the coaches and be robbed? You're interfering with the operator. It spoils the reality of the pictures, your standing round here as though nothing had happened. People will think the picture's a fake, and it's going to be exhibited in all the leading cities of America. Won't you go back?"

Two or three did turn back toward the coaches in a half-hearted way, but the rest remained obdurate, and the flashily dressed man ran here and there among them, remonstrating and pleading. His requests, however, fell on deaf ears. It was much pleasanter outside in the fresh air than within, and, besides, all wanted to see the whole proceedings. At last, in despair, the flashily dressed man threw up his hands and disappeared inside one of the coaches.

Almost simultaneously a pistol shot rang out, followed by a woman's scream for help. The heads of the spectators turned round with a simultaneous movement and their features betrayed an expression of sudden fear.

"You told me it was fun," shrieked a woman's voice. "I won't give you my rings. I won't, I tell you. There,

A Chief is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, He'll Prent 'Em'— So Says Saunterer.

Election Time
The town is doing 'em, it is gettin' on first rate; they're takin' in some money, and workin' up to date; there ain't no need complainin', for they're doin' pretty fair; but that don't make no difference for there's rumors in the air; there's a bunch of 'em-grubbers, who are never satisfied; who keep a constant growlin', "somethin' wrong" is just implied. They say that things are going in an under handed way; that a slone is in the saddle, that a "risk" has been taken; the officers are pickin' with some members on the side; to run things in a manner that they just can't abide; a change is badly needed, they must all be turned out; and backward regarded, we must turn the rascals out. The books are in good order, there's nothing wrong found there; the money, too, is handled with all righteousness and care; the citizens are all greeted with a hearty shake of hand; when they all come to meetin' and they all know how to do their duty, and the rest are right in line; but there's something needs reforming and it's just about the time.

I am glad to see Orlando vote the commission form of government and will watch the outcome with much interest. I have always been in favor of commission government because it gets away from politics. The bureau of Municipal Research of New York states that: "The annual payments for permanent debt have increased nearly six times as much in the last ten years as has the population and one and one-half times as fast as the total budget. In the last five years the debt has increased three times as fast as the population and nearly one and one-half times as fast as the total budget." How long would any private business enterprise tolerate such a state of things? This is but one specification in support of the charge that American cities are notoriously mismanaged. In the most important affair of the people, that of running a city, there is rock-footed, time honored and apparently hopeless incompetency and crookedness. The N. Y. police have been convicted of graft, graft has come to be expected in every paving contract, theft and waste abound. There is one main cause for this. It is the presence of political party organizations in city elections. How is it possible for any one outside of a madhouse to suppose that it makes any difference whether the mayor and aldermen that control our cities are Democrats or Republicans? Some cities of secondary size have seen this. They have devised a system of government by commission. Beginning with Galveston and Des Moines, dozens of cities have adopted this plan. The substance of it is that the mayor is hired, just as any factory or department store would hire a manager, because he is capable, and without reference to his general ideas on national politics. German cities when they want a mayor seek out an expert engineer and financier and employ him. He has nothing at all to do with political partisanship. If this plan is rational and good for the smaller American municipalities and for German cities, and it has proved uniformly successful, why is it not good for the enormous and complicated situation in New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia? Little by little the American people are learning the slow lesson that the political party is no means for giving force to the opinion of the people; that it is always the agent of corruption, and that the boss managed city business is invariably an agency of swindling and incompetency.

It is not only the express companies that are trying to prevent expansion of the parcel post system to include packages up to 20 pounds weight, with reduction of charge. Railroad men also join in the contest to defeat the plan of Postmaster Burleson. That is because the interests of the roads and the companies are identical. The parcel post act permits the postoffice head to extend the system of the interstate commerce commission consents. The battle of the moment is before the commission to get it to deny consent and the opponents of General Burleson have won some congressmen to help them. The senate committee on postoffices has also a bill before it to rescind the clause of the act that allows the postoffice to broaden the service and, of course, all hands are piped on deck to cut that clause out of the law, if possible. The postoffice has found that three cents for the first pound and a half cent for each additional pound more than pays the cost of the first hundred miles carried, but the enemies of the system loaded it down with a charge of three cents for fifty miles and four cents for 150 miles, when half a cent a pound is a profitable charge for each hundred miles after the first hundred.

As the success of the parcel post as doubly assured under the law as it stands that success must be even more pronounced when the ideas of General Burleson are realized in the way of both extension and lowering of rates, with the abolition of the zone system, which is also bound to come.

If it had not been for the opposition of the express companies, backed by the railroads, the parcel post would have been working long before it was and at rates much less than those finally forced into law. General Burleson is doing grand work. The people ought to understand it better for they would more vigorously back him if they did.

It will leak out by and by that General Burleson has got under the articles of incorporations that have so long— and in preventing a property owner whose premises harbor contagious disease from spreading the contagion, even if it is necessary to destroy his property. With the numerous instances recently of the terrible loss of life, not to mention destruction of property through buildings properly constructed and equipped, it has been suggested that the authorities should be permitted to declare that antiquated buildings which are a menace to their occupants and a danger to the surrounding property should not be insurable at any price. Within a few months of the enactment of such a law not a fire trap would be left standing. The flaw with this plan is that it is another shifting of responsibility, of which public officials are so fond. They realize that property owners will make a great fuss if their profitable firetraps are torn down, and want to shift the burden of blame from their own shoulders, where it belongs, to that of the insurance companies, where it does not belong. The cities have the authority and the police power, while the insurance companies have neither. In several of the fire marshal states this duty has been accepted by the authorities, and with good results. Ohio demolished over 6,000 fire traps last year, and with very little protest on the part of the owners, once they realized their responsibility to the community.

That cutting of huge melons at the expense of the people will be deferred for a time and even permanently if the nation continues resolutely to back up the postoffice in its new business undertaking. The increase in the parcel post department since it was set going is something phenomenal, even with the handicaps under which it is carried on. The men who get in the way of it will fare no better than the bull did that essayed to stop a locomotive.

I understand that several of the owners of hogs and cattle in the city limits are sore because I called attention to the fact that the city ordinances would not allow it. Now I want to ask these same people if they are complying with the law or not. I want to ask them if their neighbors have any rights in the premises and if their offensive hog pens are not enough to make the neighbors complain. I want to ask the people who have cows and horses and are not keeping their stables clean if they are complying with the laws and if they are working by the golden rule and if so where do their neighbors come in. It is my opinion that the man who keeps a hog pen or a cow pen or a horse stable as filthy as some people keep them in Sanford is no better than his own hog. He recognizes no one but himself and cares nothing for his friends or neighbors and while I do not know the names of the people in the city limits who are foisting these nuisances on their neighbors, I will lay a wager right now that the people who are breaking the laws in this manner are selfish, arrogant, self important and think they are bigger than the municipality of Sanford itself. It makes no difference to me whether they get sore about my calling attention to their shortcomings or not. These same people have probably complained to me many times about something their neighbors were doing and now that the shoe is on the other foot they want to play the injured person.

These same people know that they are in the wrong in this matter and the man who is in the wrong usually wants to soak his best friend because he calls attention to his actions. A good many women labor under the impression that in marrying a man they are conferring an inestimable boon upon him. Having once harbored the idea, they go forward on that principle, and fifty years afterwards they are still singing the same song: "If I had not married you, John Jones" etc.

They somehow seem to think that theirs has been the only sacrifice; that the children are the slings and arrows of the same outrageous fortune; and everything that turns up, from the broken dishes to the ink on the carpet, is all his fault. Time to consider this a little differently, ladies; to remember that there is something on the husband's side of the question. The income which has to be stretched so thin for the needs of the family would have been a bounteous provision for the jolly bachelor. The same bachelor would have been received everywhere with open arms, and sweet girls and their mamma would have seen to it that his visit was enjoyable and hilarious. But as a married man with a wife and family the same charms seem to be invisible. He is welcome, to be sure, but neither the girls nor their mamma have very much spare time for him. Not only that, but one must remember that as a young fellow he took particular pride and delight in keeping all his doings, however innocent, from his father and mother. He was like the wind which blows where it listeth and none knew whence it cometh and whither it goeth. So with the man in the days of his youth. But once married, all is changed. He must tell all he knows, and more, too, to his lady wife. What he eats for lunch, where he buys it, whom he talked to during the day, and what they said, how much his new suit was and where he purchased it, and all that concerns him must be given with accuracy and truth. So, then, madam wife, your husband has sacrificed upon the altar of matrimony, his money and his personal freedom; in exchange for this he has a home, to be sure, but a home where he is as much hired man as guest; for you he has relinquished all that made social life the capital of Ecuador, is toasted and eaten as a delicacy by the natives of that country. They are sold in the streets in the same manner as are chestnuts in the cities of this country. The roasted bugs taste very much like toasted bread. Not a Universal Emporium. Did you ever stop to think what a great world this would be if you never knocked the other fellow. If instead of trying to belittle his efforts you would encourage him more and rather than kick him down the hill you would try to level him up. Each day I hear some one knocking this fellow and that fellow and wherever a crowd gets together no matter whether it be ladies or gentlemen they immediately get out their little hammers and start the anvil chorus. It may be our livers or that we need a change to put us straight, but isn't it a fact that we would rather knock than boost because it seems to help our condition by giving the other fellow the dickens as a relief for our feelings. I do it and all of you do it and I know it is wrong, but just let me get up feeling badly and I join the would-be blacksmiths soon in the morning and start with the A's and go on through the alphabet. I do not believe that half the people talk about the other half with any intention of doing them an injury but nine times out of ten you are doing them an injury as well as yourself, because if you get into the bilious habit of eternally kicking you sooner or later get dyspepsia, your food does not go the right way and you are at outs with yourself and the world in general. We ought in justice to ourselves and to the other fellow quit the game and join the boosting club that only speaks good of every one and there is some good in all of us if we but look for it. Let's get more cheerful or else see the doctor.

Superstitions That Survive. The death of the Roman Emperor Maximus was presaged by the howling of dogs. It was in the hope of finding the stream of perpetual youth that led Ponce de Leon, the Spanish discoverer, on his trips through Florida, while De Soto was seeking for a city of gold. In Brazil the people believe that Don Sebastian, the royal hero who was slain in Africa about 1580 in a battle, will return to claim the crown. The people go out on windy nights to watch the heavens anticipating his return.

Teach Concentration. The greatest thing that parents can do for their children is to teach them concentration of the mind as soon as their intelligence begins to bud—and that is very early. The mind of a child generally takes its bent long before the school days begin. The proper education of children begins from the cradle, and if it were pursued as it ought to be the mental force of mankind might be quadrupled in a single generation.

Stringing Pearls. Only the finest silk is used for stringing the finest pearls. Great beads, round and shiny, unmistakably artificial, and with no more real lustre than white marbles, with the exception of what are called Roman pearls, manufactured many years ago, may be allowed to hang together on catgut, but pearls must be threaded, pearl kissing pearl, on silk strands, worthy of their shape and size.

Roasted Bugs a Delicacy. An insect much resembling the June bug, and found in great quantities in the high plains about Quito, the capital of Ecuador, is toasted and eaten as a delicacy by the natives of that country. They are sold in the streets in the same manner as are chestnuts in the cities of this country. The roasted bugs taste very much like toasted bread.

Don't Have Roaches In Your Home

They crawl through sewers and drains and then over dishes and eatables and scatter disease germs and a filthy poisonous odor. Don't use a paste for killing roaches for roaches travel through it trail it about your home on their wings and legs, and the least speck of phosphorus paste will kill a person. Many persons die in this way and 'tis never known what killed them. You do know that if a chicken eats an insect that has been killed with a paste, it is a dead chicken, and if a dog eats the chicken it is a dead dog, and if a buzzard eats the dog it is a dead buzzard.

Pre-Cooling Fruits and Vegetables

While the pre-cooling of fruits and vegetables on a large scale is of comparatively recent origin, very nearly every car of citrus and deciduous fruits that leaves California after March are so cooled at time of shipping.

Ice in car bunkers for the preservation of fruit has been used ever since the advent of the refrigerator car, but it has been found by actual demonstration that it took the greater part of three days to bring fruit to a point where all decay would cease if the fruit had been loaded warm. Experiments on pre-cooling were conducted by G. Harold Powell, then with the bureau of plant industry of the department of agriculture, now the head of the California Fruit Growers Exchange. It was the Grower's privilege to visit the experimental pre-cooling station at the plant of the Los Angeles Cold Storage Company, and at that time Mr. Powell was confident of success, though it had not been brought down to a commercial basis. Mr. Powell blew a draft of cold air into the vent hole of one end of the loaded car, and drew it out of the other by the fan process, this air again being conducted back into the cold chamber of the ice plant. Soon after this a small pre-cooling plant was established by the railroad company in the Los Angeles yards at the icing station, and celery and other vegetables were pre-cooling at the time of being.

A pre-cooling plant was also established at Pomona by one of the associations connected with the Exchange, this company buying its cold air from a nearby ice plant. A little later the Gold Buckle Association at East Highla also an Exchange house, installed a complete pre-cooling outfit, manufacturing its own ice. From that time on the pre-cooling of fruits and vegetables became recognized as practically a necessity. The Southern Pacific Railroad at Colton, California, built an ice plant and pre-cooling device that would pre-cool a whole train load of thirty loaded cars in from three to four hours, blowing a blast of cold air from one end of the train to the other, the cars being connected by a flexible tube. This same company also has a similar plant at Roseville for the cooling of deciduous fruits. Not to be outdone the Santa Fe railroad has a plant of equal capacity at San Bernardino for the cooling of citrus fruits, no charge being made for this service, provided the cars are iced by the railroad company. It can readily be understood that the fruit thus brought down to a temperature where the stored ice can readily hold it, will prevent all decay in transit. It enables the deciduous fruit shippers to pick their fruit in a riper condition than they were ever able to do before, and it has resulted in a greatly increased reputation for the eating quality of the fruit so treated.

This is a service that Florida growers and shippers have not yet been able to obtain, but the way will be cleared this season, and in a few years no doubt Florida will be as well equipped in this respect as California today. The Intermittent Vacuum Pre-Cooling Corporation will soon send one of their demonstration plants to Dade county, where practical lessons will be given the shippers. This plant will be contained in a railroad car, and will be large enough to treat one car at a time. The company writes us that it is not their intention to build plants all over Florida, but to encourage local interests to finance them.—Florida Grower.

ORANGE AND SEMINOLE Will Show 31g Gain In Assessed Values of Counties

Tax Assessor Arthur M. Butt, after several months of constant work, has completed the assessment roll of the combined counties of Orange and Seminole, showing a taxable value of $8,630,023 for the year 1913.

This valuation was made on a forty per cent basis, and includes real estate, personal property, railroads, telegraph and telephone lines.

On the same basis the taxable valuation for 1912 was $7,948,798, showing a gain of $682,025, or more than a half million dollars for the one year.

Taxpayers will pay twenty mills on the dollar this year, which is one mill higher than the assessment for last year, this mill having been added for the road fund.

Having finished the combined assessments, Mr. Butt will now begin the arduous task of separating the Seminole property from that of Orange, and rewriting three copies of the tax roll for Seminole county, which will become a part of the records of that new organization.

Assessor Butt yesterday turned over to the county commissioners his tax books for verification, which completes his work for 1913, as far as Orange is concerned. This leaves him free to put on his war paint and work for the Seminole, in producing a roll that will bring much wampum into the treasury.—Reporter-Star.

The magnificent location of this property on the great tributaries of the St. Johns river, where the channel runs almost direct east from Riverview to the Atlantic Ocean, where the city of Jacksonville has built its great quarter million dollar electric light plant. Where the great municipal docks are going to be built. Where there are going to be millions upon millions of dollars spent by private capital in the near future for great manufacturing plants, all are situated by or near to Riverview, lying just to the east of us. This all goes to make Riverview the most classy and desirable property to the great city of Jacksonville.

Something To Consider

Riverview today has over five hundred property owners all boosting for the great future of Riverview. We have 40 homes, some costing three to four thousand dollars. Three mercantile houses. HUMAN NATURE

Being a Treatise on the Follies and Foibles of Mankind in Sanford

BY R. J. HOLLY

Sitting at a table at one of the restaurants the other day ruminating upon the honesty of mankind in general a man at the table next and to whom my back was turned...

Regardless of the price, however, I still think that the man who picked up a perfectly good hat in place of his soiled one knew perfectly well what he was doing...

Thus my belief in mankind receives a rude jolt again, and just as I was beginning to congratulate myself that the world was getting better a perfectly sober, honest and industrious son of a gun walks off with my best hat in broad daylight.

While my near automobile is running smoothly down the road and I am at peace with the world I love to think about the good that is in every one and I stop the car every few feet to allow some weary pedestrian to get in and ride.

The car is at the command of my friends and enemies and I am perfectly willing to get out of bed at any time of the night to go to the movies...

Well, they didn't. They don't seem to know me now and I am like a cowboy who has been dismounted and none of the cattle recognize his superiority. J. N. Whitner is the only man so far who has taken pity on me and given me a lift.

My ideals about the good fellowship existing between auto owners has received a severe shock and my shock absorbers are not working. Or I may have broken a rule by riding everybody in my car and thus lost caste with the other owners of cars who never take anybody in their cars except owners of cars.

Speaking to Bob Holland about the auto owners I was stated that there is a lot of feeling between owners of automobiles and that they would always help each other out.

"Then, why, don't I get a ride this week?" I asked.

"Well, I said automobiles," he replied. Now what did he mean by that?

It is wonderful what a "strong personality" an editor will have with his readers. A lady reader in New York state writes to sympathize with me in the serious operation of the removal of two ingrown toenails.

period which would have been payable to the county clerk or county tax collector of Seminole county had offices been in operation during said period, provided, however, that this applies only to the net amounts received by the county after deduction of all fees of officers, amounts paid to the state, etc.

(11) The county of Orange shall pay over to the county of Seminole from time to time Seminole's pro rata part of any moneys received from state for lands of convicts. This applies only to convicts sent up from Orange county before the division.

(12) For the purpose of making clear the foregoing paragraphs, it is agreed that Seminole county is entitled to receive her pro rata part of all moneys which may be collected and which were owing to the county of Orange at the time of division.

(13) It is further agreed, in accordance with the general provisions of said act, that Orange county shall retain and Seminole county shall have no interest in the court house, jail, county home, or any other real estate located in present Orange county. It is further, agreed, however, that Seminole county shall take and retain any county real estate located in Seminole county. This includes all clay pits and also a small piece of ground on which is located a ferry house at Osteen Ferry, and Orange county will execute deeds conveying this property if required.

(14) As to the division of county convicts on hand as of May 1st, and for an equitable adjustment for the use of stock and teams since said period until the date of this agreement, it is agreed as follows: That from the number of county convicts on hand as of May 1st, a deduction therefrom shall be made of three convicts who have been ill and unable to work. The county of Orange agrees to pay Seminole county for the use of the remaining convicts the sum of $5 per head until such time as Seminole county's pro rata share of said convicts are delivered to the proper authorities of Seminole county, and for the use and hire of said stock and teams Orange county agrees to pay to Seminole county the sum of one dollar per day, for all working days, up to the signing of this agreement, Seminole county to pay for all teams and stock that have been used in that portion of Orange county now constituting Seminole county upon the same basis. It is further agreed that the convicts shall be divided between the counties of Orange and Seminole as to the number on hand May 1st, upon an equitable basis, at such time as may be hereafter determined.

(15) It is agreed that each of said boards shall employ a competent accountant to aid the auditor of Orange county in making computations necessary to carry out the foregoing agreement. It is further agreed that said work shall be done under the general supervision of Honorable B. M. Robinson, auditor for Orange county and that a full detailed report of all matters, embracing as far as possible exact figures in each case, shall be made by the said accountants under the supervision of said auditor at as early date as practicable, copies of said report to be submitted to each of said boards. It is further agreed that the said reports shall be construed as final and binding, except as to errors and omissions.

CHULUOTA LOT SALE

Thriving City in Seminole Will Have Big Land Boom

Chuluota is to be placed on the market on September 1st. This is to be one of the most substantial and one of the prettiest cities in Central Florida. It is located on the Okeechobee branch of the F. E. C. Railway and is in the heart of the Kissimmee valley, a section noted for its fertility and other natural advantages.

Beautiful, wide boulevards will be laid out in the proposed city and lots fronting on these avenues will be placed on sale on the first of next month. All of the streets and boulevards will be hard surfaced and other public improvements will be made before any of the lots are disposed of.

A very handsome office building has been erected by the land department of the Florida East Coast Railway, in the future city, but no other structures as yet adorn the streets.

Chuluota has every advantage to assure a rapid growth. The surrounding country is very fertile and adapted to citrus fruit growing and agriculture. There are many splendid orange and grapefruit groves there at present. On the town site there are five beautiful lakes, with clean sand bottom, which are teeming with fish.

The new branch of the Florida East Coast Railway, running to Okeechobee, is well advanced and passes through Chuluota. It now extends to Kenansville, 58 miles beyond, or south of Chuluota and it is expected will be extended to Okeechobee by the first of January.

Eager to secure property in this favored town many people have vainly endeavored to buy lots in advance of the opening day, but they have been forced to wait and they will no doubt hail with joy the announcement that the day is not far distant when they will be permitted to enter this beautiful place. -St. Augustine Record.

CHANGES IN THEATRES

Star Theatre and Imperial Combine to Better Serve the Public

That Sanford will not at the present time support two moving picture shows has long been apparent to the public and possibly to the proprietors of the same. Sanford has an amiable loving population but there is such a thing as overdoing the proposition and about all the people wanted in the summer time was one good movie show. Consequently ere long the proprietors seeing that further competition would be ruinous very wisely came together and have arranged a summer schedule that will not only please the public but will give the proprietors of the show a chance to cop off a living. Karnatz & Herndon will be the style of the new combination and only the Star Theatre will be operated during the first five days of the week. On Saturday nights, when the crowd is usually too large to be accommodated by one theatre both the Star and Imperial will be open for the movies and sometimes for vaudeville. The Imperial will be given over to the legitimate drama when there is any, and by thus combining the expenses of operating will be cut enough to make a small profit.

The new arrangement should be perfectly satisfactory to the public, as both places have been putting up good entertainments and the people appreciate their efforts enough to wish both young men well. Karnatz & Herndon are young men well and favorably known and they have the best wishes of the Sanford people for their full measure of success.

CAPTURED ESCAPED CONVICT

Seminole Sheriff and City Policeman Get Usual Reward

Sheriff Hand and City Policeman Victor are $100 to the good today, as the result of their vigilance having captured an escaped convict yesterday. The convict was a negro woman named Frances Towers and she was sentenced from Dade county for highway robbery, getting two years. She worked in the camps of the Southern Pine Co., and has served only one month when she escaped. A description was mailed over the state and the officers here located the woman in Sanford last week. After being certain they had the right party the arrest was made and the negro confessed to being the one wanted.

Deputy Sheriff J. T. Lee carried her to Ocala yesterday, where she will be turned over to the leases and Sheriff Hand and Policeman Victor will divide the reward of $100.

County Court Tomorrow

Sheriff Hand leaves for Orlando today and will bring back seven prisoners that belong in Seminole county and they will be tried tomorrow before Judge Whitner of the county court. This will be the first court held in Seminole county.

Big Sales in Sanford

Sanford merchants as usual are offering big bargains in summer stocks and this city will be the trading center for miles around during the give away sale that will soon take place. Chas. Kaner has a big sale starting on the 15th.

J. K. Mettinger will have one on the 16th. The Sanford Shoe & Clothing Co. will start one on the 18th and the people who come to Sanford to trade will be able to purchase cheaper than ever before. Watch The Herald for advertisements.

MORE CANALS IN THIS SECTION

Kissimmee Anxious to Have Deep Water With St. Johns River

Isaac S. Hall, secretary of St. Cloud Water Association was in Sanford Monday enroute to Jacksonville, where he will appear before the Board of Trade, with reference to the proposed canal connecting the St. Johns and Kissimmee rivers. He says considerable interest is taken in the proposed route and much may result from the start already begun. Ft. Myers, St. Cloud, Kissimmee and Sanford have expressed themselves highly favoring such a canal, as it will mean much to all cities over the water route between Jacksonville and Ft. Myers. Six more turpentine stills will be put into operation between Lake Harney and Narcoossee, if transportation of some kind was provided besides much of the country south of Sanford would be opened up to settlement.

Many pleasure crafts of the Southern waters would be seen on the St. Johns river if the canal is constructed. Fifteen years ago steamboats received merchandise between Narcoossee and Kissimmee.

With very little expense to the government this connecting link between the two waterways could be made passable and be a benefit to the entire state.

Mr. Hall expressed himself that there is nothing that would benefit so many people at so little expense as the connecting of these two waterways.

Williams-Furen

At the Furen home on Laurel avenue this morning at eight o'clock Miss Nellie Furen and Mr. W. W. Williams were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. Strong of the Congregational church officiating. The wedding was a quiet home affair, only the relatives and friends being present.

Miss Furen is well known to a large circle of friends in this city and the county, having been a teacher in the Sanford schools for many years. She had been appointed to teach this term and the news of her marriage will come as a great surprise to the patrons of the school. They will make their home here.

New Seminole County Holds First Court

County Judge Whitner Disposes Of Five Cases

New County Court Grinds Out Justice In Most Satisfactory Manner

The county court of Seminole county held the first term on Wednesday morning, Judge Whitner presiding. There were five cases, disposed of in record time under the prosecution of Solicitor DeCottes and Judge Whitner handled the cases like a veteran jurist.

Hezekiah Thomas, the slick con who some time ago robbed several offices in the Pico Block and carted the contents thither drew a package of six months for the theft of the electric fan. The typewriter was no more valuable than the fan and for this offense he received six months, and when he serves the full time in road making he will never look a typewriter in the face again.

John Quartermain, the negro chauffeur for the ice wagon some time ago found a watch in the house of A. M. Tyler and borrowed it. He told the court that he had inadvertently forgot to bring it back and in a moment of absentmindedness sold the watch for 75 cents. He plead not guilty, but acknowledged the theft, which was one on the judge and John received six months in which to refresh his memory.

William Washington, like his namesake could not tell a lie and plead guilty to the charge of assault and battery and having given the court but little trouble was given ten dollars and costs and paid the same.

C. H. Houston, white youth and formerly candy butcher on the A. C. L., had been punished for carrying a pistol and pleaded guilty, was given the minimum fine of $100 and paid.

Arthur Jackson, of ebony hue had a taking way with him and was caught with the goods on him. Not wishing to take up any time with a small matter like the court Arthur was given $100 and costs or five months. It is optional with Arthur.

William Gilbert was also on the docket charged with cutting with intent to kill and having a plea of not guilty, was remanded to jail to await the pleasure of Judge Perkins of the Circuit Court.

This cleaning up of the civil docket and petty cases was a good piece of work as the prisoners were languishing in foreign jails and were pining to get back home when they could work the roads of Seminole county and patronize home industries.

The court was held in what will be the regular court room, as it can be arranged and the Eagles vacate. With the advent of the elevator this third floor should make an ideal court room.

Growers Getting Busy

Vacations for the average celery delta farmer are about over. Activities have begun in earnest on the celery and lettuce farms, as August is the month of seed bed planting.

To those unacquainted with this intensive farming, little realize the immense amount of labor and expense there is attached to it. Even the minutest details of the planting from the time the seeds go in the ground until the shipping begins have to be carefully watched.

Making the seed bed coverings of thousands of yards of white cloth is quite an item. This has to be renewed as the sun and rain rots it frequently in one season. The rise in the price of celery seed of several dollars per pound will be an additional expense to the grower, but what do a few dollars mean to the thrifty tillers of the soil in the celery delta? From now until the shipping season is over in the spring there will be plenty of work for everybody who is willing to hustle.

County Solicitor DeCottes

Hon. Geo. A. DeCottes, recently appointed advisor to the board of county commissioners is also the solicitor for Seminole county in the justice of the peace and county judge's courts. Mr. DeCottes is well fitted for both positions being one of the highest legal lights in the state and his handling of the cases in the first session of the county court last Wednesday demonstrated that justice will not be allowed to lag in the new county. Mr. DeCottes was honored shortly after coming to this section by being elected solicitor for the Criminal Court of Record and held the position until the election last year, when he was defeated by the late Eston Shine. The death of the latter caused a vacancy to be filled by appointment and in this appointment Mr. DeCottes was unfortunately a resident of the storm area in the proposed new county and lost the position again. He has a good position, however, in Seminole county and aside from his new laurels is attorney for several corporations and has a large legal practice in this and other counties of Florida. The new position of solicitor was created at the last session of the legislature and is a good law in providing expert legal advice for the smaller courts of the state.

Sanford's Co-operative Store

The first co-operative store to open in this section of the south with business in Sanford on September first in the Stone-Grove block, just east of W. W. Abernathy's furniture store. The new store will buy goods from the wholesale houses of Baltimore and New York and by avoiding the tentacles of the southern grocery trust will be enabled to sell groceries at a very reasonable figure.

R. E. Gormly will be secretary-treasurer and general manager of the new store and having had years of experience in this line in various states and in this section knows the trade thoroughly and can be depended upon to give the people the best that the market affords.

The co-operative store will start in a modest way at first, but expects to branch out with increased business and in a building of their own will give the people of this section a chance to purchase good groceries at a reasonable figure. The co-operative type of stores have made a wonderful success wherever started in many other states and that Sanford store will succeed is beyond peradventure, enough people having already taken stock to assure a good trade.

Tampa Sends Out Cards

Tampa, August 14. Tuesday was postcard day in Tampa, and thousands of cards were sent to unfortunates in the north telling of the glorious summer climate and other advantages of the city and section. All previous records for handling post cards were broken at the post-office.

The day was suggested by the Board of the Board of Trade and a card contained the following illuminating statement as to the weather conditions:

NO SUN STROKES, NO HEAT PROSTRATIONS IN FLORIDA

The weather bureau gives out following temperature figures for Tampa, Aug. 14, 1913:

Maximum 91

WAS IT THAT GOOD WITH YOU?

To thousands of people the "carried messages of faith in Tampa and the state of Florida. Thousands of people will learn for the first time, perhaps that the summer temperature of Florida is not by any means less the heated term in Seoul, as many of them had believed.

They will find that it is not safe to form one's temperature theories by a mere study of the lines of latitude. They will learn that frequently the thermometer goes higher in Canada than it does in Florida.

There is a good reason for this, and that is in the geographical location of the Land of Flowers. It is a narrow peninsula between the Gulf and the ocean, and is swept by breezes from both bodies of water continually that do a great deal toward making the summer temperature bearable.

These with the rains that fall nearly every day during the summer, makes life in Florida one long vacation as far as the hot weather is concerned. Even on the days when something slips and it gets to be really hot—and there are such days—the nights are always cool. It is always possible to get a refreshing sleep, and this does a great deal to make up for the ravages of the occasional hot days.

Go to Montana

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Biggers expect to leave in a few days for Lewistown, Montana, where they will make their future home. Paul recently sold his place of business to T. W. Williams and he has not decided what business will engage his attention in the far west but it is safe to assert that Paul will not out no matter where his lot may be cast.

New York's Governor Finally Impeached

Tammany Seems To Hold The Whip Hand Now

Other News Of The World Condensed For Busy Herald Readers

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 15.—William Sulzer, governor of New York, is the eighth governor in the history of the United States to be impeached. The last governor impeached faced the charges in 1876, nearly forty years ago. The list of governors impeached follows: Charles Robinson, Kansas, 1862, acquitted. Harrison Reed, Florida, 1868, charges dropped. William W. Holden, North Carolina, 1870, removed. Powell Clayton, Arkansas, 1871, charges dropped. David Butler, Nebraska, 1871, removed. Henry C. Warmoth, Louisiana, 1872, term expired and proceedings dropped. Aldert Ames, Mississippi, 1876, resigned. Governor Sulzer will strive to remain the executive head of the state government pending the result of the impeachment trial before the senate and court of appeals. Thursday, Sept. 18th, has been agreed upon as the date for the impeachment trial. The governors opponents assume that he ceases automatically to be governor because of the fact of his impeachment. Martin H. Glynn lieutenant governor succeeding to his prerogatives. Sulzer does not accept this view of the law, holding that he is still governor until the verdict of the court of impeachment is rendered. Abraham J. Palmer, a clergyman and senator, today confirmed the story that Mrs. Sulzer had told him she was alone responsible for the use of the Sulzer campaign contributions in stock transactions.

The United States government has informed the British government that it will do nothing to embarrass the peace policy of President Wilson toward Mexico and are inclined to support it. Henry Lane Wilson, whose resignation as ambassador to Mexico recently was accepted, took effect October 14, issued a statement today attacking the reported statement of the British foreign office that recognition of the Huerta government had been extended after he had made a "congratulatory speech" to the provisional president.

Larger matters were planned today by the house rules committee for the hearing on Thursday of the delegates to the National Council of Women Voters. A great many women spectators are expected to attend the hearing, at which the delegates will urge a report favorably on the suffrage amendment proposal. Among the speakers will be Lane Aldams and Dr. Harvey Wiley.

The general rains are bringing a material drop in the temperature, which is falling practically over the entire country today, except in the great middle west corn belt. Rain is badly needed there, and the corn is practically burning up. The weather bureau offers no hope for immediate relief.

Forty-two employees of the Barnum and Bailey circus were brought to this city today suffering from injuries received in a wreck at Irchfield, Neb. last night. Thirteen of the employees are seriously hurt.

Chulohota Basket Picnic The Sunbeam Mission Band will give an entertainment on Thursday morning, August 21st at 10:30 at the Chulohota school house. Admission 10 and 15 cents; the proceeds to go to the Baptist church for repairing the building.

A basket dinner and picnic and missionary rally will take place after the entertainment and a general good time is assured. Everybody is welcome to attend. Come with your baskets and swell the crowd.

Williams-Furn Tuesday morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Furn on Laurel avenue, Miss Nellie Furn became the bride of Mr. W. W. Williams.

The wedding was a very quiet affair, only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties witnessing the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Strong. The winsome bride was becomingly gowned in shades of roses crepe de chine.

After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Williams left for Tampa, where they will spend a few days, then they will go to St. Petersburg and make their home there.

Should Have Ticket Office As the winter season approaches the need of an uptown ticket office becomes more apparent. The present union depot is some distance from the city and half the time the telephone service is poor and no satisfaction can be had in trying to telephone about tickets and reservations. Sanford is large enough to have an uptown ticket office and the Atlantic Coast Line should take this matter under advisement. An ideal place for this office would be the new Miller block that is now being built on Magnolia avenue.

Says Frank Has Chance M. A. Miot has returned from a trip to Atlanta where he visited relatives for several days and incidentally attended the Frank-Phagan case. Miot says that from his observation of the case that Frank will get a mistrial and will eventually be cleared.

Notice The Library will be closed again next week on Tuesday and Thursday, as the work of cataloging the books has not been completed. Open again on Saturday.

The bride is an attractive young woman and an efficient teacher of the Sanford schools for many years.

The news of her marriage will be received with great interest by her many friends here and elsewhere.

The groom is a well known business man of St. Petersburg, where he is engaged in the furniture business and has the esteem of a large circle of friends and business acquaintances. His former home was in Illinois, where the happy couple expect to go in the early fall and spend a month. His many friends congratulate him on winning so fair a bride.

"Beans as Is Beans" Again speaking about the Tuada beans, we have three of some size growing on two vines. On Sunday one pod was sixteen and a half inches long, one thirteen and one eight inches long. It is called the Solomon Island Gourd or Guada bean. Mr. Wells cooked one of the small pods from his vine and pronounced it excellent. He said that it was as good as any string bean he ever ate.

The bean pod which measured sixteen and a half inches Sunday evening has grown, up to Wednesday evening, three days, thirteen and a half inches. The pod last night was thirty inches long, and the thirteen inch pod has grown to twenty seven inches in length. They are certainly a sight worth seeing.

We might say that we first read of the Guada bean in the Times-Union in Jacksonville, which prints all the good stuff in the country and in the south. White Garden Times.

Death of Mrs. Roberts Mrs. J. E. Roberts who resides on Melville avenue died last Sunday night. She was taken suddenly, and her husband started for this city to get word of her death had visited the home.

Mrs. Roberts leaves a husband and three children to mourn for loss. Interment was made Tuesday afternoon in Lakewood cemetery. The sympathy of the community extended to the bereaved husband and motherless children.

GREAT TENNIS GAMES Sanford Puts it Over on Kissimmee on the Tennis Courts At the park courts yesterday, Sanford placed it all over Kissimmee in some very interesting tennis games. The Kissimmee team was represented by Messrs. Weaver, Bullock, Vans Agnew and Woodson. Sanford by Messrs. Fox, Paleston, Wyatt and M. Kim.

The following sets were played in which Sanford came out victorious in all of them: Wyatt and Fox vs. Weaver and Vans Agnew. Score 6-2. Wyatt and Fox vs. Bullock and Woodson. Score 6-2.

Wyatt and Paleston vs. Weaver and Vans Agnew. Score 6-3. Fox vs. Woodson singles. Fox 6, Woodson 1.

Wyatt and Vans Agnew singles, Wyatt 7, Vans Agnew 5. Paleston and McKim vs. Bullock and Weaver, Score 6-5.

Sanford will play Kissimmee at Kissimmee next Thursday afternoon and a large following from here will accompany the players to Kissimmee.

Why do I say this? Because the conditions that now exist in the farming district surrounding Sanford and in Sanford itself portend a most prosperous future.

Sanford with all her natural advantages, new county, new roads or brick paved roads, with the farm lands surrounding her, with all cleared, tilled and highly cultivated, fertilized and ready for use, in fact I do not know of any town within the state of Florida that holds out such inducements to any one who may desire to make such investments. I predict that within one or two years Sanford will surpass even its own people in its rapid strides to prosperity.

So, Col. Bob, make her win. You have my most sincere wishes and prayers for success. You will find me ever ready to say a good word for dear old Sanford. In conclusion I want to say that while I was a failure in farming it was not the fault of the lands or farms but my own individual fault. Not knowing the conditions and plants and vegetables and their needs, it was impossible for me to succeed. I have no criticism to offer against the farming system or the lands in the celery delta. I can recommend it to any one with whom I come in contact now or through the columns of your papers. I also want to thank any and all of the good people of this section who have ever done me a favor and if I am in their debt they can rest assured that they will be paid. Sanford and the celery delta and all the people thereof have my best wishes for success and prosperity.

Two Bronze Cannons Will Guard Our Harbor

Congressman L'Engle Introduces Bill For The Same

Other Items Of Interest In County And State In Tawdry Form

When Congressman Harris and his assistants loaded our heavy coast artillery with too much sand and paper in order to celebrate Seminole county's birth and the said artillery having lived long enough to see Sanford on top promptly burst into a thousand fragments, Secretary Bates immediately cast about for some more artillery and wrote the officials at Washington regarding the same. Yesterday Mr. Bat received the following bill that will be introduced by Congressman L'Engle and when the heavy cannon arrive they will guard the entrance to the immense shipping harbor at Sanford for he time being and afterwards will be placed on the lawn of the new court house.

Following is the bill: A Bill to authorize the Secretary of War to donate two condemned brass or bronze cannon and cannon balls to the city of Sanford, in the state of Florida:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled: That the Secretary of War be, and he is hereby authorized and directed to donate to the city of Sanford, in the state of Florida, two bronze or brass cannon, with a suitable outfit of cannon balls, which may not be needed in the service, the same to be placed in a public park, building, or square in said city. Provided, That the articles of ordnance property furnished under the foregoing provisions of this act shall not be required to be accounted for to the Chief of Ordnance and that no expense shall be incurred by the United States in the delivery of same.

Another step towards securing in territorial service along the east coast from West Palm Beach, through Palm Beach and Dade counties, to Detroit, has been taken in the application to the Governor for the issuance of letters patent to the Miami and South Florida Irrigation Bank, a company composed of interested parties, which is being published together with the formal articles of incorporation. Application for a franchise to operate through Miami has been made in the city council, but action on the matter is still pending. It is said to be the intention of the company to secure its privileges through this city before pushing the matter of obtaining rights of way through the rural districts and the water town and along the proposed route.

The Tallahassee Free Democrat tells of the charter recently granted to a company which proposes to engage extensively in the development of horticulture in the state. The new organization is called the Florida Fig Orchards Company and is capitalized at $50,000.

There is said to be quite a heavy bloom in several of the groves near Palatka. This is the bloom that usually comes out in June, but which was deferred by nature this season on account of the drought. Grapefruit is also blooming some.

The Roberts-Gonzales community, located near Pensacola, has planted many acres of snap beans for a fall crop and expects to ship them at the rate of about a carload to the acre within a month or six weeks.

What promises to be one of the largest and most modern theatres in Jacksonville is to be erected for the Montgomery Amusement Company. The work of construction is to commence immediately.

Edison's Talking Pictures The famous Edison Talking Pictures are coming to Sanford. This has been decided and they will be shown at the Imperial Thursday, Aug. 21st. A complete entertainment, consisting of drama, comedy, tragedy, operatic selections and speeches by well known men and women will be enough to convince the most skeptical that at least silent motion picture is doomed and hereafter they will talk the same as real actors on a real stage.

One of the most stupendous undertakings in the talkies was the staging of the big minstrel number, comprising thirty-five people. This is a genuine minstrel also, with blackfaced comedians, cake walkers, quartettes and the grand finale of old veterans, showing the spirit of the Civil war. Other subjects deal with Mayor Gaynor, of the city of New York and his cabinet; a group of well known suffragettes; the Miser scene from the "Chimes of Normandy," a clever skit known as the "Musical Blacksmiths" and "Nursery Favorites," a subject that will gladden the hearts of all lovers of child life, dealing with "Jack the Giant Killer," "Old King Cole," "The Witch," "The Fairy," "Little Red Riding Hood," and all the old favorites so dear to the hearts of the young.

There is no limitation on Talking Pictures for every action and every sound of voice or effect are reproduced as naturally as though one were witnessing the genuine exhibition on a regular stage. This is considered one of the greatest inventions of the wizard Edison, and has created the greatest excitement throughout the country. They are at present being shown only in the largest cities, where they are drawing capacity business daily in the large vaudeville theaters. This is the first time offered to the country at large and the citizens at Sanford will await with interest the opening night here.

LETTER FROM DR. MINNICK Former Resident of Cameron City Tells His Experiences in Celery Delta The following letter from Dr. Minnick who now resides in S. Petersburg will be of interest to his many friends in and around Sanford:

To R. J. Holly, Editor Sanford Herald: My Dear Mr. Holly When I left Sanford I promised you I would write you a few lines setting forth why I was moving to St. Petersburg. You will agree with me that in all countries some of the best celery is raised by the genuine settlers who follow in the wake of the poor unfortunate pioneers, who supply physically, mentally, spiritually and financially more than language can describe. This is exceedingly hard on the pioneers who know nothing about farming or hoeing out or blazing the road for others to follow. Only one who goes through this ordeal can know the suffering and sad disappointment that follows and yet when he leaves the foundation he has laid the home he has builded, what hardships he suffers or how he longs for his old home. When you read this you can well imagine the feeling and longing of the writer for his home, his little hamlet, his good neighbors and Sanford. While the foundations have been laid and sufferings and disappointments endured, yet this in a sense is a real genuine pleasure that those who follow and take up the burden laid down will enjoy the results of our experience in a hopeful, happy and prosperous way.

Why do I say this? Because the conditions that now exist in the farming district surrounding Sanford and in Sanford itself portend a most prosperous future. Sanford with all her natural advantages, new county, new roads or brick paved roads, with the farm lands surrounding her, with all cleared, tilled and highly cultivated, fertilized and ready for use, in fact I do not know of any town within the state of Florida that holds out such inducements to any one who may desire to make such investments. I predict that within one or two years Sanford will surpass even its own people in its rapid strides to prosperity. So, Col. Bob, make her win. You have my most sincere wishes and prayers for success. You will find me ever ready to say a good word for dear old Sanford. In conclusion I want to say that while I was a failure in farming it was not the fault of the lands or farms but my own individual fault. Not knowing the conditions and plants and vegetables and their needs, it was impossible for me to succeed. I have no criticism to offer against the farming system or the lands in the celery delta. I can recommend it to any one with whom I come in contact now or through the columns of your papers. I also want to thank any and all of the good people of this section who have ever done me a favor and if I am in their debt they can rest assured that they will be paid. Sanford and the celery delta and all the people thereof have my best wishes for success and prosperity. Very truly, W. A. MINNICK.
