State Atty. Gleans Fact

396 involved drugs. In 1969, the state attorney office handled 224 cases.
Prosecution of cases has improved considerably, according to Herring, and cited the reason as being more manpower, with Eaton using a full time basis; better preparation of cases by law enforcement officers and the investigator (only three a year ago); the vice squad making better cases and the fact that the caliber of undercover work has improved. "No one can criticize the work which we have done in capital cases," Herring noted. Among the prominent cases in which convictions were obtained were: Mabel Thompson, Henry Joyce, and more recently Dennis Berovich. The ones which were "lost" were due to a manpower shortage, Herring felt.

Crash Program
Herring said that satisfactory results in prosecution could have been achieved more rapidly with a crash program, but the problem, as in many areas, was lack of money. However, he said the budget is being slowly implemented and his goal is to have full time state attorneys, since "prosecution must be a full time job."

Herring contends that he "lost" Speer, Leone and his former secretary, Sue Leffer, because "there was too damn much work... it was frustrating for them."
Herring alluded to the fact that he could not obtain desired funding from the County Commission, and had considered going to the state legislature requesting a special act to get more money for his office.
The legislature, Herring said, has given him funds requested and he has been able to avoid going to the County Commission and making demands. However, Herring said the county is not contributing a fair share, since the state is giving five times as much as the original budget.

Herring, admittedly inexperienced, admitted that in original prosecutions, he felt that he has gained experience. Herring sees no problem, as many do, with legal technicalities, although admitting that these do make conviction more difficult. However, Herring said, the "greatest obstacle to getting a conviction has got to be lack of evidence." He mentioned that technical obstacles are a problem and that he has lost capital cases because of these.
Herring saw as his most difficult cause celebre the Mabel Thompson case, although he contends it was not as complex as that of Dennis Berovich, he probes a person's philosophy.

Grandmother Is Proud This Thanksgiving

By LIZ BAKER
CHULUOTA—Mrs. B. E. Thred, 231 East Third Street, a proud grandmother this Thanksgiving Day.
Her grandson, Peter Kempink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Margie Kempink, of Bonnell, played with the Colonial High School band in the Macy Thanksgiving Parade in New York City. The parade saluted Walt Disney World.
Peter flew to Washington, D.C. to play with the band on the steps of the Capitol.
The band members were cheerful when Peter showed up to join his high school band in Washington.
Clarinetist Peter had been left behind because he was scheduled by mistake on the night bus leaving Orlando instead of on a day schedule. Realizing the mistake Peter was put on a plane and flown to Washington, where he took his place with the band.
It was a thrill for Peter, this being his first plane ride. He will return to Orlando with the other band members on the bus.

Federal Aide Approves Sewage Plant Gets OK

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI
Seminole County commission administrator, William A. Pinch, reports that the improvement and expansion of the Westfield sewage treatment plant now meets with the approval of Clifford Harrell, federal receiver for Ecological Utilities.
Pinch said there are no developments at this time that would suggest that any Ecological Utilities facilities in Seminole County will be abandoned or suffer significant changes in fiscal, operational or management problems.
The Matland utilities package sewage plant was reportedly operating satisfactorily and tentative approval has been given by the utility control office.
In other reports, Pinch said that the $6,800 GPD package sewer plant (Seminole Utilities) is operating satisfactorily and tentative approval has been given.
Applications received from Eagle Utilities Corporation for water and sewer certification under the Sterling Park on Red Bug Road was placed on a public hearing agenda for 7 p.m. Dec. 15.
Pinch reported that a meeting was held with representatives of the Regional Planning Council, Orange County, City of Orlando, Florida Tech University, Florida Department of Pollution Control and the Florida Public Service Commission to determine whether they would support a major Seminole County sewage disposal program. Since the response was good, this office will now proceed with the development of recommendations to be submitted within the next 30 days to the County Commission.
County Planner David Farr and Pinch discussed the Winter Park Estates sewage plant $5.25 per cent ratio with the Orange County director of planning, Martin Knecht.
Knecht indicated he was not previously aware that this was a significant problem with the Seminole County commissioners.
A meeting will be arranged between the chairman of the boards of county commissioners of Orange and Seminole County to try to resolve the problem.

County Planner Gets No Response

County Planner David Farr reported to the County Commission Tuesday that he has received no response from the City of Altamonte Springs, Longwood or North Orlando to his letter asking them to join toward a cooperative planning and zoning committee.
Casselberry is interested in working out such a plan with the county planner.
Commissioner Al Davis said he could see no reason or purpose for such a joint committee. "Our commission is sympathetic to and knows the needs of the county and this would be just another board with which the county would be involved."
Commissioner Sid Vihlen was of the opinion that working out

PAVETTE, Idaho (AP)—Police Chief Swan Swer, opened the prison door for the 25-year-old Wells, got him a job and set him up in an apartment in this small southwestern Idaho community.
Three years ago Swer said Wells was for burglarizing a doctor's office.
"He's a good kid," Swer said of Wells. "He wasn't even armed when he broke into the medical clinic. He went right by two safes. He just needed a small town cop."
While in prison Wells kicked the drug habit and joined a group of inmates who held "trap" sessions on narcotics with numerous organizations on the outside.

Candidate Duerr's Thought 'Wiser Planning, Not Spending'

By DONNA ESTES
CASSELBERRY — "Wiser planning, not wider spending" remains the motto of Dr. Edith Duerr, seeking her fourth consecutive term on the City Council in the Dec. 7 municipal elections.
Twelve year resident of the community, 11 years of which she has attended Council meetings even before she was elected to office, Dr. Duerr said, "A city growing as rapidly as Casselberry needs planning at all levels."
"If the growth is to update our city, as I believe it can, we should be planning ahead to acquire the land required for future city needs. In the past I took the initiative to have the city obtain the Secret Lake Recreation park as well as a site for a future fire station," she said.
"I was the principle author of the subdivision ordinance and zoning both in individual city acquire the recreation sites in new subdivisions. As a result the city will shortly acquire areas in Summerest, the Colonades and in Camelot," the candidate said.
"We need to plan for others as well as for pocket playgrounds in areas not so served now," she continued.
"Call it herself a financial conservative, Dr. Duerr said she does not believe the majority of the residents of the city are ready or willing to pay property taxes to have more services at this time. "I believe we can meet the city's needs without such taxes, but only if the Council exercises special care to get increased efficiency and avoid waste."
"The Council requires individuals who will place their city's needs ahead of their personal desires. People who can say 'no' to special interest groups who desire special service from the city."
"I favor a paving program but only if those with property on unpaved streets pay their proper share of costs. I do not think the city should undertake a general paving program in which those on paved streets, such as in our newer subdivisions, would pay equally the cost of paving dirt roads," Dr. Duerr said.
"I believe the city must acquire the water and sewer facilities at a price in line with their value and one which our fiscal agent shows we can afford. These utilities must be upgraded to give the type of service our city will increasingly require in the future and meet the health and fire department safety requirements of our city," she said.
"I have favored upgrading the sewer both in individual areas and by raising the requirements in various residential zoning districts. I am

Price Commission OKs Increase For Chrysler

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Price Commission has approved price increases for Chrysler Corp. of up to 4.5 per cent, while a pair of Cincinnati building trades unions have asked for cuts in pay raises to conform with national guidelines.
The commission approved a 4.5 per cent increase for Chrysler, but the company moved to boost prices only 1 per cent, citing competitive reasons. An announcement of the increase in Detroit left open the chance for an eventual increase to the commission approved level.
Chrysler first sought 5.3 per cent, but the commission said that was too high.
American Motors Co. has already been permitted a 2.5 per cent increase, and Ford Motor Co. has asked for 4.4 per cent. General Motors also has a request pending for 3 per cent.
The commission is the Cincinnati District Council and Local 1454 of the Millwrights Union, representing 3,400 workers asked for renegotiation of their two-year contracts as pay hikes they have coming Dec. 1 may be reduced to the 3.5 per cent the Pay Board has set as a guide.
They would receive raises of 10 to 11 per cent under their present contracts. The request was in a letter to Cincinnati's Allied Construction Industries.
Joseph Ware, business manager of the millwrights, said the unions have "handed the responsibility for success or failure of the Phase 2 program back to the federal government and Allied Construction Industries."

Tie Nixes School Millage Vote

By BILL SCOTT
A two-to-one vote stepped an effort by two School Board members to place on the March 14 presidential preference primary ballot a proposition to allow county voters to decide whether they desire to add four mills to the school's debt service in order to construct more schools in the South Seminole area to take care of the county's overflowing pupil population on a pay-as-you-go basis.
Ray Slaton moved that voters be given a choice of selecting the guidelines for the board to follow in solving the increasing school population by allowing a choice on four alternatives. These included: Extended use of 45-10 plan; double sessions; millage election or payment.
These included: Extended use of 45-10 plan; double sessions; millage election or payment.
A demonstration of intuitive painting by Edith Rowland of sculpture which underlies the Hilton Leach Gallery, Sarasota, will be held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Maitland Art Center to introduce the work shop which will conduct at the next term of instruction in January.
The intention of the course is to release the intuitive and contriving intellect, in order to achieve the maximum ease and spontaneity in painting, whether abstract or representational.
Also included in the course are lessons in composition, color and harmony, framing.
This was a change from the previous board action a month ago that withheld bid advertising until more was known concerning the air conditioning of certain schools to enable the county to adopt a pilot extended-day school calendar in July.

Thanksgiving Day 1971-Time For Gratitude

It was three hundred and 50 years ago that the Pilgrims on Cape Cod harvested their first life-saving crops and Gov. William Bradford proclaimed a day for thanksgiving and prayer.

Those were bold men and brave women who knew full well that their times were filled with dangers, their lives menaced by foes and their very existence to be dug out of the sandy soil of Plymouth Plantation.

During these three and one-half intervening centuries the American people, with rare omissions, taken time out to perform these very devotions in each November.

This year — 1971 — drawing to a close, is a time when the bland giving of thanks is a mockery of the true meaning of Thanksgiving. To do so without drawing a balance, is to perform an injustice to the truly great era in which we live.

For this is a great era. It is a time of change.

It is a time for some overdue realignment of economic, social and political forces. It is a time from which could emerge a world ready to face its complex challenges with honesty.

Perils abound in any such time. They did in 1621. But it is the recognizing of them before they pass the point of no return, that converts such years into annals of achievement.

Thus, we in America, especially in this blessed area of Central Florida, should take time between the social and athletic events which have become so much part and parcel of Thanksgiving Day, to soberly become grateful for what we have and pray—each in his own way—for guidance in the momentous months ahead.

What we have is no mean portion.

First course in this Thanksgiving dinner would, quite naturally be a glass of O.J., the Sunshine State's sunshine beverage. Here is an industry which combines the best of nourishment with the kind of returns which make the bank accounts of the citrus people just as healthy.

Variety is, however, the quality which makes such a festive board groan under the weight. In Seminole County the coming of new industries, new businesses and new home-makers presents such an opportunity for broadening and deepening the character of this home-place that all required is to convert the wish to the deed.

Perhaps this very accomplishment is the challenge which this Thanksgiving Day flings at the feet of all celebrants. For if there ever was a time when the menu of informational food was longer, more varied, spiced with greater swings of opinion, we are not aware of it.

Nor, as another matter for giving thanks, has there been a recent era when the public has been spurred into greater awareness of its responsibilities as well as its rights.

This, too—praise be—is very evident in the state of Florida, the county of Seminole and the cities which operate within its borders. We are also grateful for the awakened interest by conscientious educators to the need to bring formal education into the realm of reality and to emerge from the Halls of Ivy.

It was during the time that First Thanksgiving of the Pilgrims that Governor Bradford wrote, in the style and manner of those 16th century days:

"Thus out of small beginnings greater things have been produced by His hand that made all things of nothing, and gives being to all things that are; and, as one small candle may light a thousand, so the light here kindled hath shone unto many, yea, in some sort to our whole nation."

To long ago, too far away for Florida in 1971? Not at all. What is taking place here today, can properly be another candle whose light can still be visible in 2021. Gratitude feeds such a flame!

Each Must Decide

Bits of wisdom and nuggets of philosophy can be found anywhere; each human is capable of reaching fundamental decisions within himself.

That fact is illustrated by the comments of a longtime entertainer, Ginger Rogers, who still is starting in musicals even though her movie dancing career is probably past.

Today's stage show seems to run to extremes in terms of language and conduct, but when Miss Rogers was asked to star in the musical "Coco" she agreed only if a four-letter word in the script were taken out. It was.

"I'm not a prude," she explained later, "but cleaning up the stage and movies has to start somewhere... I have an aunt in California who is an actress and needs every role she can get to pay her bills. But very recently she turned down a part because she thought the picture about cannibalism, was indecent."

"It's in the power of every individual not to do things he or she doesn't approve of, things which do not hold up a decent example to young people. Every indecency contributes to the indecency of our society."

The idea that one person can put his finger in the dike is not new, by any means. But many who are disgusted by current mores, either as participants or as spectators, do not have the courage to buck the "trend."

Every one who does have the strength of conviction can influence others to do the same; otherwise the downhill slide of public morals and tastes can only accelerate. —Tulsa (Okla.) World

IRS On Prowl For Cheats

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA)—International Revenue Service men make 12,000 to 15,000 monitoring checks a week on American businesses as part of their normal tax surveillance.

At each visit, they now ask businessmen for price lists. This will be routine as long as Phase II lasts.

Significant price boosts found in these samples will be cross-checked and run through the computers if necessary to determine whether they fit the rules.

This is the iron fist in the velvet glove, designed to keep prices down in 10 million small and medium-sized businesses across the nation.

The U. S. experience in World War II and Korean price controls may have something to teach us. Men involved in that exercise say this is what to look for:

—A tendency among producers to concentrate more on those items which have been most profitable and to cut back on the production of less-profitable items, even though the latter may be in great demand. This could create shortages.

—An unusual shift to "new" from the "old" items for which prices are controlled. In World War II, a possibly apocryphal story goes, it was very difficult to buy plain T-shirts but "Mickey Mouse" T-shirts were plentiful. They were a "new item."

—A trend among producers to hedge on quality, quantity and service. Though illegal, officials say these deceptions were often extremely difficult to detect and quite often even more difficult to prove.

The Nixon administration is counting on a national will not to cheat. Men have been through this price control exercise before say, "Don't count on it."

IRS men are optimistic, based on their experience with the income tax. Others, including some of President Nixon's best economists are not so sure. They advise against putting too much confidence in the high rate of cooperation during the three-month freeze. The freeze, they say, was one thing. It was straight across the board, with almost no exceptions. It was short in duration. It caught people unaware, without time to think up efficient methods of evasion. Longer-term price control, with its multitude of exemptions and confusing and impractical rulings, is something else again.

Overseas Broadcaster' View

By RAY McHUGH
Chief, Washington Bureau
Copley News Service
WASHINGTON — The shadow world of Voice of America, Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty these days is like the eye of a hurricane. While controversy swirls around traditional tenets of American foreign policy, these basic information arms appear calm and confident about their future.

"If we were to stop broadcasting tomorrow," said one VOA executive, "it would be a disastrous signal to the Communists and to our allies. No single action could do more to undermine the credibility of the United States or the position of President Nixon in his upcoming summit meetings in Moscow and Peking."

This link with basic U. S. policy, he said, is appreciated by a majority of the House and Senate, including men from both parties who serve on the House Foreign Policy Committee.

Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate committee, he said, does not speak for a majority in Congress when he proposes sharp cutbacks in VOA or questions the legitimacy of Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty — two operations hitherto supported largely from public donations and secret Central Intelligence Agency funds.

Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty, he acknowledged, might not muster as many votes as Voice of America in congressional roll calls, but he added: "I think the need is well understood. They are effective."

"There are no Fulbrights in Peking suggesting that Radio Peking halt its English-language broadcasts just because the Red Chinese have been admitted to the United Nations, or because President Nixon is going to meet Chou En-lai," he said.

"On the contrary, if anything, Radio Peking's attacks on the United States have intensified since the Nixon trip was announced."

Congress appropriated $44.7 million for Voice of America operations. The agency employs about 1,900 persons in its programming and engineering sections. It broadcasts in 33 languages and surveys indicate it reaches 50 million people, aged 14 or older.

Radio Free Europe's budget is put at $25 million; Radio Liberty at $11 million. Radio Liberty concentrates on multilingual broadcasts to the Soviet Union. RFE, beamed at the USSR and the satellite states in Eastern Europe, also maintains an elaborate research organization at its English headquarters in Munich.

RFE officials consider their greatest threat, lies in Bonn, not in Washington. The West German government has been the permitter to revoke the license to operate from Munich. "We understand they are stepping up their demands on Chancellor (Willy) Brandt," said one.

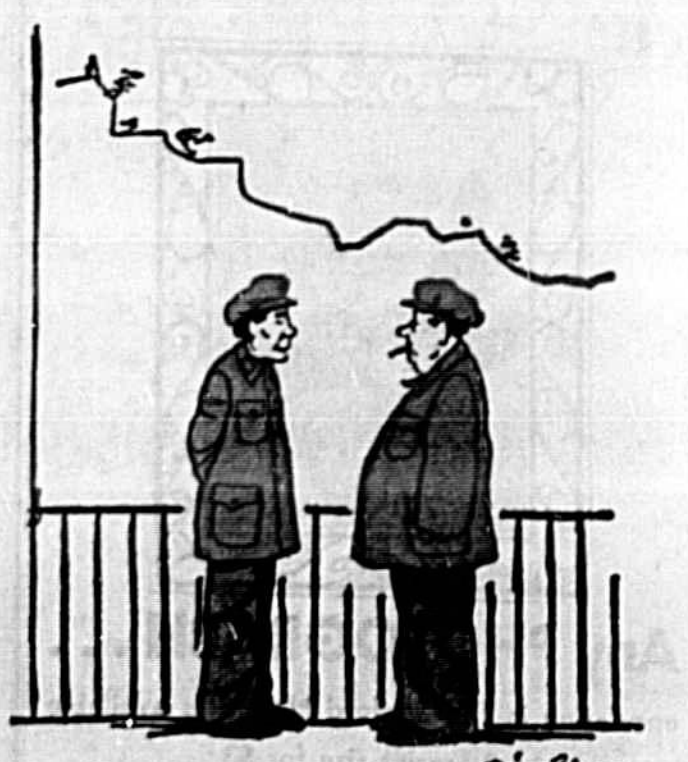

A new Voice of America facility is being built in Greece to help penetrate jamming and interference in the Soviet bloc. The VOA executive disclosed that a special recruiting drive has been undertaken to find qualified Chinese-language announcers and programmers.

"Once we have them aboard," he said, "we will decide whether to increase our service to the Chinese mainland."

Fulbright has argued that American broadcast activities are losing their importance as national policy shifts away from the confrontation atmosphere of the cold war toward one of détente and coexistence.

"If anything," says the VOA executive, "our programming is even more important in this new atmosphere. When open hostility is the rule, the issues are clear-cut. In this new era of negotiation, political climates become very confusing. VOA serves to put things in perspective on other nations, especially, for example, in Eastern Europe."

Rioting Prisoners Holding Warden

By CHRIS CONNELL
Associated Press Writer
RAHWAY, N.J. (AP) — Inmates who rioted at Rahway State Prison held Warden Hugh Yokes hostage early today, a guard saving as a go-between, during the rioting, which began Wednesday night. It was not immediately known if any inmates were injured.

The go-between, Eddie Mullins, 38, said the inmates want a meeting with Gov. William T. Cahill.

"They don't want to be killed," Mullins said. "Eleven guards were reported wounded — during the rioting, which began Wednesday night. It was not immediately known if any inmates were injured."

It also was not known how many of the 1,150 prisoners took part in the disorders or if any of them were armed.

At dawn today, state officials and state police declined to say whether the rioting was still in progress. They would give no details on the prison situation.

Mullins urged officials not to storm the prison and was going to think up efficient methods of evasion. Longer-term price control, with its multitude of exemptions and confusing and impractical rulings, is something else again.

Resnick Escape Try Broken By Guards

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Convicted murderer Errol B. Resnick, once described by police as the head of Central Florida's narcotics smuggling ring, and two other prisoners tried to escape Wednesday night from the Duval County Jail, officials said.

Resnick, 34, of Orlando, Donald Jones, 28, and Marvin Chandler, 19, both of Jacksonville, were subdued by guards 20 minutes after they broke out of their maximum security cells, jail officials said.

The three were immediately charged with assault to murder and attempted escape, said John Goode, chief officer of the jail. Goode said the escape attempt began when Jones lured guard Ronald Howard to his cell by threatening suicide if a note was not delivered.

According to Goode:

— When Howard, the lone guard on the floor, neared Jones' cell, Chandler walked out of his unlocked cell and threatened the guard with a knife fashioned from a double edged razor blade.

At Chandler's command, Howard freed Resnick and Jones. The guard was then tied up with strips of sheets.

The three prisoners were taken to free 40 other men on the floor, but failed because Howard pointed out the wrong key to them.

— Just as the three escapees were moving toward the main cell block, a guard on the floor, Sgt. J. L. Thomas slammed the door shut and pretended to lock it although he had no key.

The three prisoners were untied and Howard and threatened to kill the guard. But Howard managed to break free.

— More guards were called and the three prisoners were subdued and taken back to their cells.

Goode said it was not known how Chandler's cell door was left unlocked.

Resnick, an Orlando gunshop owner was sentenced Oct. 28 to die in the electric chair after a Clearwater jury found him guilty of murder in the slaying of police informer Clayton E. Walker.

He still faces similar charges in the killing of pilot Horace Hartwig whose body was found last month in a tyne filled grave in Lake County.

Police and federal agents have described Resnick as the kingpin in a Central Florida narcotics smuggling ring, his plea entered guilty in federal court in Miami last September to one count of conspiracy to smuggle marijuana and later was given a 17-year prison term.

Jones was being held on armed robbery charges and Chandler for alleged possession of narcotics.

$2 Million Sought In Slaying

MIAMI (AP) — A Tennessee couple asked a federal judge Wednesday for $2 million in damages for "pain and anguish" suffered after their 19-year-old son was shot and killed by a Miami policeman.

U. S. Dist. Judge James L. King ruled earlier that the city of Miami and police officer Arthur Dragon were legally responsible for the "unnecessary" slaying April 6 of John Mayhall.

King said the officer's action in shooting Mayhall as he clung to a fence in a downtown Miami parking lot while trying to escape arrest, was not motivated by self-defense but was an "unjustified, unnecessary killing in cold blood."

Mayhall, driving a stolen dark blue, led police on a high speed chase through the Miami business sector before he drove into a dead-end parking lot and tried to climb over a six-foot high chain link fence.

Edmund Mayhall and his wife, Marjorie, of Hendersonville both were unharmed.

Judge King said the days of anguish and despair since their son was killed.

Mayhall testified that there had not been an hour since April 6 when he had not suffered because of his son's death.

Lawyer Murray Sarna, representing the Mayhalls, told the court: "I can't imagine anything more valuable to these people than their son."

"Even the loss of their arms and legs would be less painful," Sarna said. "This is the most painful injury a parent can suffer."

Judge King said he would decide on the amount of damages to be awarded at a later date.

TRACK TALK

with George Crossley

SPORTS EDITOR, HERALD. The Sanford Herald sports section coverage of local sporting events is usually complete and "news worthy." The coverage of auto racing is the glaring exception.

Each week a column by George Crossley entitled "Track Talk" is printed. Mr. Crossley talks on racing in Europe, Mexico and Texas, but no mention is made of the professional tracks within a 30 mile radius of the Herald office.

The foremost competitor and points leader in Grand American Sedan competition in 1971 has been Tony Lind in his expertly prepared Camaro. At North Wilkesboro, North Carolina, Tony showed Grand American and Grand National competitors, the rear of his automobile as he won the Wilkes 400 Grand National Stock Car race.

Benny Parsons will be driving a Chevrolet for A. J. Fort in the Texas 500 coming on on December 2. Benny is certainly one of the most talented drivers on the Grand National circuit. The Chevy which is prepared by Banjo Matthews should be a real fine ride and give Benny a chance to show just what he can do in a real competitive piece of machinery.

Preparations by several private owners should produce some real point machinery in January for the Riverside 500. If not then you may be surprised to see another super hot Chevrolet with a name driver at the wheel and the Pontiac project will hopefully become a reality.

The International Motor Sports Association had six separate racing events this past weekend at Daytona International Speedway.

In the Super Vee event which covered 17 laps, Steve Pieper was the winner, passing Hill Scott and Gail Lyons on the front straightaway in the last lap after a rain-lashed battle between these three drivers.

David Loring in a Caldwell won the international Formula 100, 30 mile race after a really spectacular battle between Loring, Bert Hawthorne, Gordon Smiley and, later, Nils Saubren.

In the Baby Grand Sedan race, Carson Baird from Laurel, Maryland completely dominated the race, starting from the pole position and coming out victorious after a race-long battle with Byron Morris and Jim Abernathy in a BMW. These cars were involved in a 40 lap race around Daytona's 2 1/2 mile road course on street tires! That's what I said. They were racing with street tires. The rules IMSA have made up for this class state that tires, suspension and transmission will be stock.

David Loring in a Caldwell won the international Formula 100, 30 mile race after a really spectacular battle between Loring, Bert Hawthorne, Gordon Smiley and, later, Nils Saubren. Loring was in second place on the last lap when he passed Hawthorne just before the finish line for the win. A really great show was put on all weekend by these open wheel racers.

In the 200 mile (5 lap) feature event, Tampa's Dave Heinz with co-driver Don Tenko drove to an easy two lap victory over the rest of the field as they averaged 107.5 miles per hour in the event. The Corvette they were driving was running a brand new aluminum 2.1-l engine which had been prepared for this event. The $5,000 engine was more powerful in Dave's eyes than the 1.88 engine he had been campaigning in his car in 1971.

Dave Heinz had a fine year in motor sports competition. He has won over the 2.5 litre class in GT competition as well as placing sixth overall and second in class in the 24 hours of Daytona and eighth overall and second in class in the 24 hours of Sebring. The 1972 season may be the year when Dave Heinz, along with Don Tenko, capture the Grand Touring Championship in World Manufacturers competition.

Second in this 200 mile event was Tom Neil from Jacksonville along with co-driver Jim Fitzgerald from Raleigh, North Carolina in a Camaro. This car was the only car even on the same lap with Heinz after 20 laps of the race when a long pit stop in which starting problems started to crop up dropped them back in the pack. Neil then made up the lost time as he put on a real charge for the lead. In third place came Bill Cuddy Jr. in a Ritchie Ginther prepared Porsche 911. In fourth position was the 2.5 litre 200 horsepower Porsche 911 driven by Peter Gregg and Hurley Haywood. Gregg and Haywood won the GT Championship in their class despite the fourth place finish. Gregg and Haywood are both from Jacksonville. They both will be racing in February in a Porsche in the six hours of Daytona.

Tech Wrestling Team Has 'Talent'

By HERKY CUSH Herald Sports Writer

It's a whole different scene at Florida Tech's wrestling practice this season but, less than half of last year's club is back to appreciate the vast improvement.

For Junior High Students Mat Program Needed

"Now that wrestling is recognized as a major sport in Florida State officials get behind the program," stated optimistic Florida Tech wrestling coach, Jerry Gergeley.

The foremost competitor and points leader in Grand American Sedan competition in 1971 has been Tony Lind in his expertly prepared Camaro.

Benny Parsons will be driving a Chevrolet for A. J. Fort in the Texas 500 coming on on December 2.

Preparations by several private owners should produce some real point machinery in January for the Riverside 500.

John Rouse is another of the returning stars and the heavy-weight grappler figures to be better than he was last season when he capped state college honors. If anything makes Rouse better it just might be Bill Huffman, another senior heavyweight from Miami Dade North who is giving Rouse all he can handle as both battle for the starting berth.

Rule changes invoked by the NCAA for its 1971-72 wrestling season indicates an emphasis being placed upon more offense and that means more action for wrestling fans around the country.

For this season the pin has been raised to six team points regardless of when it occurs.

Perhaps an even more surprising innovation by the NCAA rules committee is the increasing of the team points for decisions that are decided by 10 points or more.

Changes have also been made in the scoring while the match is in progress.

That was New York's fifth victory in the series.

Kastner, Roberts Head Fund

Harold Kastner and Dr. Vincent Roberts will serve as co-chairmen of the Salvation Army's $240,000 capital funds drive. This announcement was made today by Jack Toole, chairman of the Salvation Army advisory board.

In making the announcement Toole said: "We are tremendously pleased to have these two civic leaders heading this important fund raising effort. Both of these men have distinguished themselves within their professions. Both are interested in the betterment and improvement of Seminole County. Both of these men have actively served as members of the advisory board of our local Salvation Army."

Toole explained that when the Salvation Army sought the leadership of its once-in-a-lifetime capital campaign, they looked for men who were dedicated to the betterment of all the communities within Seminole County as well as dedicated to the work and purposes of the Salvation Army.

"We know that these two men will bring to our building fund drive the guidance and leadership that is so vital to success," Toole said.

In accepting the co-chairmanship of the building fund Dr. Roberts said:

"Throughout most of my life I have known of the Salvation Army. I have known of its good works and I have come to realize that this is truly one of the most dedicated humanitarian organizations in the entire world. It is a humble, hard working organization that seeks no praise or glory for itself. Most of what it does you will never hear about. It is an organization that is totally dedicated to helping people regardless of their race, creed or the conditions of their lives."

Dr. Roberts stated that he felt that this was one of the most important building fund drives that has ever been conducted within Seminole County. He said: "When you consider that this Salvation Army of ours has been helping the poor, troubled and distressed of our county for over 42 years and that it has been using a building that has been ready to fall down for the past 10 years, it is important that we do something to change this situation. I sincerely hope that we will be able to raise more than $240,000 so we can build a bigger and better community service center. All of the money that is raised is going to be used for this facility."

Kastner stated that he believed this fund drive would offer the best opportunity the people of Seminole County have ever had to make an investment in helping the poor, troubled and distressed of the county.

Kastner said "I feel that it is important for us to actually look upon this fund drive as being a permanent investment in our community. When I say investment, I mean an investment in the lives of our people. Our people are the most important thing we have. Some of our people are not as fortunate as others. Some do not have the opportunities that others have. Some are poor and disadvantaged. These are the people that we should try our best to help. Most of us do not have the opportunity to help these people directly. Most of us wouldn't really know the best ways to help them. Our Salvation Army knows how and it has been doing it in Seminole County for 42 years."

Kastner stated that by working through the Salvation Army every person who sincerely wanted to help the people who needed their help could do so. He said: "There is no organization that knows more about helping people than the Salvation Army. If we will contribute the money it needs to build this new facility, it will use the new facility for the next 50 to 75 years to help more and more people. There is no better way for us to help our community than by helping our local Salvation Army build a facility that it will use to help our people."

Roberts and Kastner stated that they would announce the men who would head the advance division of the building fund drive next week.

Those wishing further information about the building fund are encouraged to call the Salvation Army, and ask for Captain Billy Lyons.

Deathly Prank!

WINTER PARK (AP) — Police blamed a "harassment type prank" Wednesday for the death of Michael Moore who died in a fire at the city jail.

Deputy Police Chief Leigh McCaechern said the prank was a "harassment type prank" by a group of inmates who lit a fire in the jail cell.

Bond Vote Is Set

By BILL SCOTT

A proposed $4 million drainage bond issue for the City of Sanford has been endorsed by the Citizens Advisory Board. The question will be on the ballot in the Dec. 7 municipal election.

City Manager W. E. Knowles explained the proposal is for 4.00 mills of ad valorem tax for 20 years.

Whether the Sanford voters will approve the referendum will be determined by the additional millage to alleviate some areas of high water during heavy rains is debatable, but the City Commission is having a plebiscite on the ballot along with the names of candidates running for two City Commission posts.

Arthur Harris, board chairman, brought up the bond referendum for discussion. He stated that information being circulated is not actual fact and said people were misinformed about the real issue.

It was also suggested the drainage referendum be called to the attention of the City Zoning Commission at its next meeting, Dec. 2.

In other actions, the advisory committee recommended to the City Commission that the present city redemptions program be speeded up and a letter be sent along with the condemnation notice informing displaced persons the advisory committee would act as a relocation committee to help find adequate housing.

Topless Club Stand Explained By County

By ANN SIEKZKOWSKI

County Commission Chairman Givie Drummond has received numerous inquiries as to the reasons "why the county allows Club Juana, which is a topless club to continue operation."

Drummond said he wants everyone in Seminole County to know that the County Commission has no jurisdiction within the city limits of Casselberry where the club is located. Therefore, it cannot control the operation of the Club Juana. That is the exclusive responsibility of the City of Casselberry and all complaints or inquiries regarding the Club Juana should be directed to the government leaders in Casselberry.

Drummond asked Zoning Director Robert Brown to investigate a billboard which has been erected off I-4.

Attorney Robert Morris reported for the Catholicism Company on their request for transmission rights. He said he saw nothing wrong with charging a fee to the company since it has no wish to become a public utility; therefore, has no right to free right-of-way. The county could be reimbursed for legal, administrative and safety requirements rather than use as a money-making activity.

County Engineer William Bush was asked to investigate a fee system, possibly on an hourly basis.

Adair said that a lease agreement with Seminole Junior College has been approved but he requested the matter be continued until a question about the use of the equipment is clarified.

Vast Fraud Scheme Is Uncovered

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Police say they have uncovered a scheme to defraud 300 companies across the country of a few business based in Atlanta.

Police Lt. L. A. Jones said the scheme came to light with the arrest of Daniel Lee Stull, 29, of Akron, Ohio.

He said Stull had in his possession an 11-page pamphlet giving details of the fraud, which was to net its operators $200,000 within 90 days and $500,000 within 180 days.

According to Jones, Stull took the name of a legitimate firm — Nationwide Supply, Inc., of Memphis, Tenn. — and used it to set up offices in Memphis, Baltimore, Md., Birmingham, Ala., and Atlanta.

Two Men Arrested By County Deputies

Seminole County authorities have arrested two men in separate instances of burglary and possession of stolen property charges.

Deputy Robert Hendry early today apprehended Steven W. Cox, 39, Orlando, on breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony charge after encountering the man inside a railroad warehouse in Orlando a year ago. Bond on Cox was $2,000.

Det. Sgt. Johnny Wright Jr. arrested Theron Bass, 30, 1229 West Eighth Street, on possession of stolen property charges after he was found in possession of a color TV set valued at $255 reportedly removed from a railroad warehouse in Orlando a year ago. Bond on Bass was $1,000.

Pakistan, India Envoys Talk Peace With U. S.

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, showing increasing concern over the possibility of a general war between India and Pakistan, has called on both nations to disengage and pull back their troops from battle areas.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers asked diplomats from both nations to see him in his office Wednesday "in light of the military clashes that have appeared to have taken place."

During the separate, 20-minute meetings, the secretary said that unless the fighting ends on the East Pakistan border and troops are withdrawn, serious consequences could be expected, meaning a general war.

This was the first acknowledgment by the State Department of actual fighting between Indians and Pakistanis, although department spokesman Charles W. Bray continued to refuse to discuss who had invaded whose territory.

Another sign of the American concern was the State Department suggestion that U.S. citizens leave at least two cities in Pakistan — Dacca and Lahore — since there was no surprise since it is near the current fighting, but Lahore is some 1,000 miles away near the Indian West Pakistan border.

Administration officials say there is no fighting there, but acknowledged Lahore would be a likely battle area if the conflict spreads.

Sources maintained this does not mean a general war is imminent, but they acknowledge the possibility is present enough to take precautions.

While Rogers said the troop pullbacks, which were agreed to previously by Pakistan, is the most immediate way to prevent escalation toward full-scale war, U.S. officials consider the United Nations Security Council as holding the potential for a more nearly permanent settlement.

It is unclear how exactly the Security Council might deal with the problem, but officials here are known to feel the other big powers are interested in trying.

The United States has been in touch with the Soviet Union, France and Great Britain about the Pakistani-Indian situation. While there has been no contact with China, this is still a possibility since Peking reportedly has counseled restraint by Pakistan.

The exact nature of the American power efforts is unknown beyond disclosure of Rogers' Wednesday meetings and acknowledgment of the previous contacts with the two involved nations and the big powers.

Bray refused Wednesday to discuss any elements of the American role. He even refused to confirm or deny a statement made in a letter by the Nov. 3 New York Times by Benjamin H. Gitelson Jr., former U.S. ambassador to Pakistan, that a long-standing agreement commits the United States to aid Pakistan "even with our own arms and men" if attacked.

Americans Thankful This Day

By Associated Press

Thanksgiving, a tradition that traces to the first colonial settlers, is observed today by Americans at home and abroad with special attention to sharing the abundance of the nation's table.

They were met by a group of other 7th Fleet ships off the Vietnam coast.

President and Mrs. Nixon, spending their first Thanksgiving away from the White House since he took office, flew Wednesday night to their San Francisco, Calif., home.

They were met by a group of local businessmen with whom the President chatted about the ball. Many groups and individuals also took time to open their doors to the orphaned, lonely and needy who might otherwise have no place to go.

In South Vietnam 180,000 American servicemen marked what is expected to be the last Thanksgiving for any sizable U.S. contingent in Indochina. Withdrawals are scheduled to reduce the force to 40,000 next year.

New Traffic Signs Readied For Nation

By VERN HAUGLAND
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's a new look coming in highway and street traffic signs and pavement markings throughout the United States.

The nation is changing over gradually to an international type system of traffic control devices which emphasizes pictures and symbolic signs, as well as written messages.

The Federal Highway Administration says states and local communities have until 1973 to meet the new standards for pavement marking, until 1973 for signs, and until 1977 for signs, and until 1977 for signs.

Not all signs will be changed. Signs are particularly important in the new system.

Red indicates stop or prohibition. Green shows that movement is permitted or gives directional guidance.

Blue is for signs leading to areas of construction or maintenance work; brown provides public-recreation and scenic guidance.

Ford Unveils Plans On 'Revitalization'

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Ford II has unveiled plans for a $50-million riverfront development to be built on 28 1/2 acres of land just east of the Detroit Civic Center.

Ford said Wednesday that plans call for a late 1972 start on the complex, which will include offices, apartments, shops, restaurants and a tower, cylindrical hotel.

"We want shops, entertainment, discotheques, whatever you call it," the board chairman of Ford Motor Co. said.

"We see a living, exciting place that will revitalize downtown Detroit. I have a deep and personal interest in this program and I intend to see it through to completion."

Williams Pleads Not Guilty

A Knoxville, Tenn., man now serving a term in Atlanta federal prison upon conviction of interstate transportation of a stolen car r charge, Wednesday pleaded not guilty at an arraignment hearing to a charge of stabbing to death 70-year-old John Sechrist, a Sanford resident.

Ewing Williams was brought to Sanford by a U.S. Marshall after pleading guilty to a stolen car charge, which developed when Tennessee authorities apprehended him in the car belonging to Sechrist, the murdered man.

Circuit Judge Dominick Salfi heard Williams say he had never been in Florida when questioned about his guilt or innocence.

Jack Fulenwider, state attorney investigator, said today the suspect will have to be re-arrested a week from Tuesday on the murder charges.

He did not elaborate on the reasons for the re-arrestment.

Baby's First Christmas! Make It Rich

Baby's first Christmas is a memorable day — just ask any mother. But all the excitement can be hectic and tiring for your mopey and nerve-shattering for you. Take the advice of child-care experts and make the day rich with learning experiences, free of rush and frantic activity.

The Christmas tree is a fascinating wonder for a tiny baby. He'll gaze delightedly at the bright shapes, colors and lights. Put him near the tree in an infant seat or on a soft blanket spread on the floor.

If the child is older and is beginning to reach and pull, make sure the tree is anchored securely. Show him how to touch — the brightly evergreen needles without pulling the branch. If you let him touch some of the ornaments carefully, he'll be less inclined to grab them on the tree. Touch is an important learning experience. Garter child-care experts point out:

Christmas calls for packages and that's where tots really have a ball. They love ripping the bright tissue paper from gifts. They're delighted with the sound, the feel of the paper, the discovery of something exciting inside.

With all the excitement and activity, babies tire easily on this big day. So if your little one is fussy, take him to his room, away from the confusion and people. Be calm and reassuring. He'll soon drop off to a much-needed nap.

Welsh Rarebit Fondue

Yule Morning Treat

The gifts are all opened and the wrapping paper and ribbons are strewn all over the living room floor. The children are elated with their new gifts and the adults are intrigued with theirs too.

All the energies have been used up and everyone is hungry. "Mom, what's for breakfast?" or is it brunch time already?

Mom, the eternal Santa Claus, is busy in the kitchen preparing a Christmas brunch for her family and guests. She just received a General Electric buffet style skillet which she is going to use for the first time this holiday morning and she plans to make an assortment of dishes for her gang.

She's excited about her skillet for its many convenience features such as the tilt leg for draining cooking oil or grease, and for easy hasting and the double non-stick coating that minimizes food sticking and contributes to easier cleaning.

She likes the push-button ejector on the temperature control for quick detachment from the skillet without pulling. And she especially likes the map-away leg and handle sections that permit thorough cleaning of the skillet body, even in the dishwasher.

Since the day is special, so is the brunch selection. This fondue is not only easy to make but will help tide the family over until dinner. Here is the recipe.

CHRISTMAS WELSH RAREBIT FONDUE
 3 cups cheddar cheese, shredded
 3 cups American cheese, shredded
 2 tablespoons flour
 1 (12 oz.) bottle or can gringer ale

Teaspoon dry mustard
 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
 2 tablespoons snipped chives

Toast together 3 cups each shredded cheddar cheese and American cheese with 2 tablespoons flour. Set aside for later use.

Pour (12 oz.) gringer ale into electric skillet. Blend in 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard and 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. Turn heat control to 250 degrees F. and heat liquid just to boiling point.

Lower heat control to 220 degrees F. All cheese mixture, about 1/2 cup at a time, stirring constantly in a figure 8 motion. When all of the cheese is blended, stir in 2 tablespoons snipped chives. Lower heat control to 180 degrees F. and serve with sour dough bread (or French bread) cut into 1/2" slices.

Let Us Be Thankful

From its beginning, this nation has been blessed in so many ways . . . in its land, in its people, and in its government. It is only right that we take time from our busy lives to acknowledge the source of all these blessings our Creator. We invite you to join with us in Thanksgiving for the gifts bestowed on us.

Cubans Fete 'Noche Buena,

By MARILYN GORDON

Those delightful cooking odors drifting over English Estates are coming from the home of Miriam and Jose Miranda. Miriam is preparing for Christmas with the perfect blending of her native country, Cuba, and that of her adopted country, America.

"In Cuba we call Christmas 'Noche Buena.' The family will gather from all around to celebrate. You see, she explained, "We have two days of holiday," which are really unrelated. Christmas, Dec. 25, and a sort of Santa Claus day, Jan. 6, only without a Santa Claus. We do not have Santa in Cuba. Toys are brought by the Three Wise Kings. We leave delicious food out for them, and the children must display all the toys that they were given last year by the kings to show them that they have been cared for.

"All year the children are taking care of their toys because they know that if they are not cared for, the three kings will not make the mistake of leaving another group.

"There are no outside decorations, and the only decorations inside would be the tree.

"Our traditional meat consists of turkey or pork, rice with black beans, salad and Natilla (custard pudding).

"Good cooking has always been a tradition in my family and my husband's family. That is why we opened a restaurant."

Turkey (Pavo)

The turkey is cut free-range style and marinated in garlic and pepper. Soak overnight. The next day cook in olive oil, lightly fry Spanish onions, slices of green pepper, green peas, Spanish olives and tomato sauce. Turn the fire down, add a half cup of water and cover. Cook 30 to 40 minutes.

Natilla

1 can condensed milk
 1 can milk
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
 2 sticks cinnamon
 1/2 tablespoon Anise (spice)

Boil all of the above 10 minutes. Separate an egg and mix yolk with milk. Add 2 tablespoons cornstarch. Cook on a very low fire and stir until heavy. Whip the egg white until stiff and put on top of the pudding. The puddings are always put in individual pots.

Home Gifts Make Yule Linger On

Take the problems out of gift giving this Christmas. Forget about sizes and fit. The answer is the ready-to-use house gift to be enjoyed by the whole family as well as the actual recipient. And, it's extremely easy to choose a gift for someone when you know how they live. Taste preferences are there before you — color schemes, types of styles enjoyed, what's needed. It's a rare house gift that has everything.

Since the Christmas "House Gift" concept was first presented four years ago by House & Garden magazine, it has become an ever increasing trend in gift giving adopted all over by sophisticated shoppers in the know. And according to recent statistics, more store space each Christmas season is being devoted to the display of the house gift. Boutiques have been set up in stores throughout the country with months of pre-planning going into the gathering of some of the most exciting house gift ideas yet seen. Everything from works of art to zithers is being shown. The variety is vast, encompassing absolutely everything one could imagine.

Just wander into the culinary department, or the bath boutique, and it will be a wonder if you come out without a gift for yourself, as well. Pots and pans have never been more attractive, especially in House & Garden colors. Sheets and towels are as beautiful as you would expect their famous-name designers to make them. But, as the walrus said, we're here to talk of many things. Gift ideas for the house include ice buckets, silver radiators, porcelain birds, stereo sets, picnic accessories, microwave ovens, pictures, china, glassware, the list is endless.

A thoughtful house gift adds to the comfort, convenience and beauty of a house-pride family, reflecting your concern in their pleasure. Christmas is a time for the entire family, and a house gift present truly captures the spirit of this giving season.

By the way, mistletoe can be used for things other than a romantic excuse. The mantel of the fireplace or center of a Christmas wreath are ideal spots for this colorful decoration.

Handmade Ornaments Give Glow

Handmade ornaments and wreaths of all types were used as holiday decorations for hundreds of years. They gave the tree a glow of warmth often missing with today's electric lights and plastic ornaments. Everyone, from the smallest youngster, shared in the fun of making decorations and trimming the tree. The finished product was truly a family creation.

To help you create the charm and nostalgia of an old-fashioned Christmas tree, home economists for Tootsie Roll have developed some festive, decorative ideas using materials commonly found in most homes during the holiday season. Because they are easy to assemble, any can be used as entertaining projects for vacationing youngsters. Each idea requires only a small amount of time but it big on eye appeal and taste-tempting as well.

In addition to — or as a replacement for — small gifts used in Christmas stockings, the home economists suggest wrapping tiny surprise gifts and hanging them from tree branches with velvet and small ribbon or strands of bright yarn. Small jewelry boxes filled with candies or miniature baskets packed with popcorn are ideal for this purpose. To decorate the miniature gifts, use small scraps of ribbon and papers.

Popcorn balls in all sizes add a festive touch of nostalgia to holiday decorations. With a large needle and regular yarn, string tiny popcorn balls alternately with satin-covered plastic foam Christmas balls to form chain garlands. Giant-sized popcorn balls hanging from silvery ribbons will attract every sweet-tooth in the neighborhood over for a look at your tree.

Here is a recipe for quick popcorn balls with a surprise ingredient to make them chewier and tastier than ever before.

- POLKA DOT POPCORN TREATS
- 6 quarts popped corn
  - 1 cup chopped walnuts
  - 2 cups Tootsie Rolls, cut to 1/4 inch pieces (about 30 miniature rolls)
  - 2 cups sugar
  - 2/3 cup light corn syrup
  - 2/3 cup water
  - 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
- Mix together popcorn, corn, nuts and candy pieces in a large bowl.
- Cool sugar, syrup, water and butter together until they reach a hard crack stage. (240 degrees on a candy thermometer.) Pour over popcorn mixture and toss to coat. With buttered hands, shape mixture into desired size balls. Let cool and set.
- Yield: 40 to 45 miniature popcorn balls — 15 to 18 large balls for individual ornaments.

THEME for the month in the Blue Pod at Idylwild School is "We Give Thanks" and the children did so by sharing with needy families in Sanford. Packing food and clothing to be distributed by Mrs. Marie Taylor, social worker for Seminole County schools, are Sandy Brooks, Warren Lawrence and James Voltoline.

Imaginative Play Is Unlimited

A prominent toy manufacturer has expanded its successful Play Family series with the addition of a versatile playroom and learning School House.

Imaginative play is almost unlimited with figures of people, animals, vehicles and objects that can be used in playroom facilities. The item has such features as a tower with ringer bell, clock with moving hands, magnetized alphabet and numerals which adhere to the school roof. Letters and numbers fit into molded plastic trays similar to a puzzle, providing an exercise for the child in size and shape perception.

The school has a handle for carrying. All pieces are easily stored inside the school when play-time is over. A section of the roof and side of the school with a blackboard surface opens up hinges. Inside is the school room, teacher and well equipped. The artistically decorated Family Garage.

Useful And Exotic Presents For Pets

Are you down to the real nuts-and-bolts of your Christmas shopping list — those out of the ordinary gifts for hard to please people? Think a minute. Do they own pets? Then stop in a pet shop and look over the goodies that range from the practical to the zany for the four-footed members of the family. Any real animal lover on your Christmas list will be delighted with a gift for his pet, suggests the Pet Care Bureau.

For a fashion-conscious dog owner, you'll find an array of canine coats with all the newest exclusive touches. There are "wet look" models in bright-colored vinyl that very practically wipe clean with a damp sponge. Fake fur — to cover real fur — is used for natty numbers in leopard, zebra and tiger patterns. For city dogs, a pair of plastic boots will protect his paws from irritating chemicals spread on sidewalks to melt ice.

This year, pet shops are selling dog collars for people as well as pets. Collar styles range from sporty, brass-studded leather to antiqued metal mesh and glittering rhinestone-studded velvet in zingy colors.

You might select a "his and hers" pair of collars.

New for a cat is a rabbit pill for his favorite snoring spot. There are special cat beds, designed with Kitty's passion for privacy in mind. One of the most attractive is a plump wicker basket with a round cat-sized opening in front for skimming in and out.

A bed for either a dog or cat is a doughnut shaped cushion, foam-filled and washable. If a dog has cold feet as well as a cold nose, he might enjoy sleeping on a special electric heated pad made especially for pets. It's T.L. approved and washable too.

For traveling pets there are all kinds of carriers, designed to look like luggage. One of the handiest folds up into a nest. For children, books and records about animals and their care make useful, cherished possessions.

However much or little you want to spend, you'll find a pet shop a happy hunting ground for the pet and pet-loving people on your list and a pleasant surprise gift. A pair of pet nail clippers is another practical idea.

For the gourmet pet, all sizes of well-designed pet food feeding dishes are made of plastic, stainless steel or ceramic ware. There are even automatic feeding dishes. Fill the dish, set the timer and this gadget serves dinner on time. It's a great idea for the single person who occasionally works late and worries that his pet is missing a meal. To keep the floor clean, look for gray pet place mats.

The pop-art craze has influenced the new pet toys. In addition to bones and catnip mice, toys are shaped like dill pickles, ice cream cones, pork chops, hot dogs, lollipops and fire-plugs. Chew toys for dogs made of rawhide or nylon are especially good because they're digestible and help keep the teeth clean.

However much or little you want to spend, you'll find a pet shop a happy hunting ground for the pet and pet-loving people on your list and a pleasant surprise gift. A pair of pet nail clippers is another practical idea.

Key Lies In Planning Hectic' Happy Holiday

Like the first dinner for the in-laws, a wife's first round of holiday plans can be hectic, horrendous, or happy. The difference lies in planning.

Hold a conference with your husband to decide what kind of entertaining you'll do. Then plan a schedule of cleaning, shopping and cooking, and stick with it.

Don't leave dishes to the last. This can be a time-consuming chore, especially if unclean china and glassware are accumulating a hard-to-remove grease film on a top shelf.

For fragile glassware, line the sink or drain with soft terry towels. Then fill with warm water and add a cupful of household ammonia. Wash each glass carefully. If glasses have etched designs, use a soft brush. Rinse and dry. Then wrap each glass in a plastic sandwich bag and store in a box until the big day.

Wash your special china in a fresh solution of ammonia and warm water. Wrap in plastic and return to the top shelf.

Then check those serving and cooking pieces you don't use often . . . the big coffee pot and salad bowl, and large pots and pans. Wash in the same grease-cutting ammonia and water solution, and wrap in plastic. The big cleaners' bags are ideal for this. You may not want to keep household equipment in plastic wraps regularly, but they will save last-minute washing.

Take advantage of the grease-cutting ability of ammonia for all pre-holiday cleaning. Most housecleaning chores involve fighting a film of grease and grime. Ammonia does this quickly and easily.

Offer Pictures For The Holiday

Picture the home of a friend or relative on your Christmas list and chances are you can picture an empty wall space with room for a picture. Pictures are the kind of gift that comes in enough sizes, and colors to fit anyone's taste and any home's decor. And they come in prices to fit any holiday budget.

In choosing pictures for others, experts suggest that you let the recipient's taste and interests be your guide. You can find picture of ships for boating enthusiasts, horses for equestrians, pictures of faraway places for travelers and dreamers, even cloths for children's rooms. You'll find them realistic or abstract, small or large, bright or subtle.

Capture Radiance Of Yuletide Jewelry, Stones In Season

'Tis the season' when lavish, luscious gifts are stockpiled beneath the tree and backed up in the chimney, getting into the spirit of it all is the jewelry store, where Christmas is always set in splendor: trimmed with the precious light of diamonds, rubies, sapphires, emeralds, the glitter of karat gold, the snow white glistening of pearls. All the magic of Christmas is locked forever in one jeweled moment, to give and to receive this Christmas more rich and magnificent, they are jewelry stores.

Karat gold raises the curtain on the season of splendor by dazzling one and all with a sweeping variety of textures. Rich and magnificent, they are jewelry stores. They are jewelry stores. They are jewelry stores. They are jewelry stores.

Gold is Santa's bag, too, and he likes it styled just as rich and rewarding when he receives as when he gives. Cuff links and their companion ties or wider bars are interestingly and unusually worked in modern ways with gold that are unapologetically masculine. Stones like jade, lapis, mother-of-pearl, even sapphires, rubies, diamonds, spice things up for a holiday-bright look that's luxurious and entirely appropriate for this year's jolly Old Nick. "Gold" isn't exactly the way he looks. Gold glories his visions with wondrously different rings set with opals, tiger's eye, jade, and of course, Christmas jewelry. Real bracelets, multi-textured belt buckles, stone-set money clips glisten still more

The ideal gift for her during this love season is diamond jewelry. Not surprisingly, the love sparkle of diamonds can find their way under every feminine Christmas tree. Small diamonds, sugaring a jewelry design, will be her sweetest Yule treat but not his budget of dream operas for him.

The Jewelry Industry Council suggests an eye-opening sleigh stop at a fine jeweler's to see the latest of these love bright small diamond designs. Even Santa lassies will be pleased to discover that the diamond, which has become his gem, too, can top her gift list.

New Tots's Music Box

An interesting music box concept has been introduced in a new product the company calls Change-a-Record Musical Box. The feature is an unusual one which promises to set off a flurry of new products following a similar line. The item comes with 5 changeable discs, each with a different tune on each side. Fisher-Price makes it.

The toy's tone-arm contains a music box "comb" and an extremely efficient sound box. The molded records are constructed in a way that their grooves serve to "track" the tone arm over hidden ribs that "pluck" the musical comb in the tone arm. The result is a sound of extraordinary clarity and with a surprising and pleasing quality.

The musical box plays for 2 1/2 minutes each wind. Designed for ages 2 1/2 to 5 years, it is usually indestructible and is footproof to operate.

WITCHES ARE synonymous with fairy tales, unfortunately, but they all live happily ever after. Pamela Madden dances the "Witch of Nightmares," with her "rondouls" (on floor) Marta Sheiden, Kim Erickson, with deadlines established. (Bob Orwig, Photos)

A wonderful opportunity is being given underprivileged children and older deserving persons to witness a benefit performance of the "Enchanted Shoes," to be presented by the Ballet Guild of Sanford-Seminole on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 11 at Seminole High School auditorium.

Any group that feels they are qualified may call 323-1900 or 322-9272 to arrange admission.

The Guild in making this offer, feels that many groups will take advantage of this opportunity to see the local group perform the original ballet, choreographed and directed by Miriam Rye and Valerie Weld. The ballet has been lengthened and this year will have additional dances and music that will make it even better than last year's Christmas performance.

Qualified groups will see live entertainment of top calibre, prior to the two performances Saturday night and Sunday afternoon Dec. 11 and 12.

Thanksgiving Bride Dianne McCully, Rex Johnson Wed In Candlelight Rites

The Methodist Church in Oxford, was the setting Nov. 24, at 8:30 p. m. for the marriage of Miss Dianne Scherer McCully to Rex Homer Johnson.

Rev. Fred Foster of Tampa, performed the double ring, candlelight ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Charles A. Powell of Oxford, and Ernest C. McCully of Joliet, Ill.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. Lewis Wilbur Johnson Sr. of Sanford, and Mrs. R. W. Glenn of Lakeland.

Her only ornament was a tiny pair of pearl earrings set in a tiny golden flower, a gift of the groom. She carried a cascade of white pom poms centered with a yellow-throated white orchid, English ivy and satin streamers.

The altar setting featured lighted yellow candles. Arrangements of yellow gladioli with chrysanthemums and Fall leaves complemented the philodendrons and potted palms which flanked the altar.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. Lewis Wilbur Johnson Sr. of Sanford, and Mrs. R. W. Glenn of Lakeland.

At the other end was the crystal punch bowl, filled with yellow punch and an ice ring with gold and orange mums and white orange blossoms.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Powell entertained with a reception in the church dining room.

The bride's table was beautifully done in autumn gold linen over laid with white mums, centered with the bride's bouquets. One end held the three-tiered wedding cake decorated with mums and topped with the bride and groom in a cathedral setting and orange blossoms.

At the other end was the crystal punch bowl, filled with yellow punch and an ice ring with gold and orange mums and white orange blossoms.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Powell entertained with a reception in the church dining room.

Cathedral Court Order Entertains Grand Officers On Official Visit

By HERTHA SNYDER
Cathedral Court, Order of the Amaranth, entertained the Grand Royal Matron, Mary Croft and Grand Royal Patron, William Brittingham at their official visit Friday evening.

A banquet was held at the Congressional Church preceding the meeting. The host table was centered with a large floral arrangement of red and white.

Geneva Homemakers Learn The Art Of Candle Making

By LIZ MATHEUX
GENEVA—The Geneva Homemakers Club met on Nov. 10 at the Geneva Community Center with 20 members present. Mrs. Betty Woodham was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Clifford C. Holzer, club president, displayed the "aching tool" which is sponsored by the "SISTER'S" organization of Sanford. She explained the workings of the tool and told the group that it would be in the keeping of her husband and could be borrowed at anytime from him.

After a discussion relative to the stitching tool and a short business meeting the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Donald Dunn Jr. who gave all too short but a most interesting talk about needlepoint.

After Mrs. Dunn had completed her discussion the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Joyce

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR READERS: Today is the day to reflect and give special thanks for our blessings. My personal blessings are many. May I share with you a few letters for which I am extremely thankful?

Happy Thanksgiving!

DEAR ABBY: I don't think you realize the impact your column on V.D. has had on the nation. Your advice to minors to telephone their public health department if they suspected they had V.D. brought in a flood of calls. So many youngsters did not realize that in some states a doctor is able to treat a minor for V.D. without informing his parents. You deserve a medal. AN M.D. IN L.A.

DEAR ABBY: If you never do another thing, you will have earned your place in heaven for that. The column you wrote telling youngsters what they stood to lose by trying marijuana. We had that column printed up by the thousands and distributed to all the schools in our community.

FOR YOU IN ILLINOIS DEAR ABBY: May God bless you for your column on teen-agers. He described a million with information that will surely have many lives. C.K.W., ZANESVILLE, O.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for the Confidential you had in your column saying, "Tell your parents at once. They are your best friends and no matter they have said," I promise you they will help you. You were right. Our daughter came home. GRATIEFUL IN EL PASO DEAR ABBY: Just a line to say all heartfelt thanks for the advice you gave me. I was so upset until I read your letter telling me the harm I was doing myself because I wasn't willing to forgive my husband. You pointed out that I was really punishing myself by trying to punish him. You were so right. Abby, thank you for making me see the light.

PASADENA DEAR ABBY: I must say that in your enlightened attitude toward homosexuals, you are spiritually far ahead of all the churches in America. Being strongly religiously trained, I should know, after three attempted suicides and four psychiatrists. For the sake of others like myself, please print this. Bless you for not being a CANT SIGN.

DEAR ABBY: This is to thank you for what you did for our family. We had been scolding our 13-year-old daughter for her bad posture for about a year with no results. Then one day you published a letter from a doctor who warned parents about spinal disorders in teen-agers. He described a simple test a mother could give her child at home. I tested my daughter, and she had

Jacoby On Bridge

Jacoby and Son

How do you know when to raise your partner's no-trump opening to four no-trump? It is a simple matter of counting points—the key number is 33 for a small slam.

If you hold just 14 balanced points opposite a no-trump the most your side can have is 32 so you just raise to game. With 17 the least you can have is 33 so you bid six no-trump.

Thus the raise to four no-trump shows 15-16 high-card points. If you have just 15 you need a couple of 10 spots to give your hand some extra playing strength. North has 15 high-card points

NORTH	EAST
♠ A106	♠ K109

WEST: ♠ 109, ♥ 109, ♦ A10, ♣ 109
EAST: ♠ K109, ♥ Q10, ♦ A10, ♣ A10

SOUTH (D): ♠ A106, ♥ K108, ♦ Q10, ♣ 109

plus three of those 10 spots. He raises to four no-trump. South holds 17 points and decides to make the super scientific call of four no-trump. He carries 21 to the small slam and hopes for the best.

The best eventuates. It turns out that North's 10 of clubs is a trick. South's 10 of clubs is the club ace and takes three clubs, three spades, two hearts and four diamonds for a total of 12.

This time the 10 of spades and hearts aren't needed. The 10 of clubs did enough work for all three but you can see their potential value.

Worry Clinic By Dr. Crane

By GEORGE W. CRANE
PH. D., M. D.
CASE 5328: Debby, aged 9, is one of our grandchildren.

On last Mother's Day, she sent her grandmother a greeting.

And on the black page, she wished her a happy Mother's Day.

Then she scribbled this precious comment: "Grandma, you've done a good job rearing your kids."

Debby's mother was one of those five "kids" who was also a compliment for our daughter, Judy.

Judy had four brothers, two on each side of her in age.

An exception for the untimely death of her oldest brother in his Marine jet plane, she'd had four brothers with doctoral degrees.

For George had expected to become a pediatrician and serve as a physician for children.

Philip gained his AM and Ph.D. then became an American history professor for several years before being elected to the United States Congress.

Daniel is a successful dental surgeon and president of the Association of American Dentists (AAD).

David, our youngest, holds the JD and MD degrees so serves as a psychiatry professor and private medical-legal consultant.

In his interview in citing our children is not mere paternal boasting but to show that when you practice the rules of the parent-child game you don't produce hippies or fluffers and anti-establishment nutnuts.

For child psychology is a science, which must be followed exactly!

An investment in knowledge," said wise old Benjamin Franklin, "always pays the best dividends."

It Started In 1843

NEW YORK (AP) — John Calvert Horsley, 19th century British artist, really started something in 1843 when he designed the first Christmas card for Sir Henry Cole, founder of the Victoria and Albert Museum.

Before the year is out Americans will have bought more than seven billion greeting cards, says Irving Berlin, president of a card shop chain.

Horoscope Forecast

FRIDAY, NOV. 26, 1971

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You can now wind up tiresome problems that have been frustrating for a long time. Avoid taking on any new ventures until after you eliminate whatever is standing in your way to happiness and success. You can see what to do to get things done.

MRS. J. W. DEAR ABBY: I'm an old lady who lives alone, and sometimes the brightest spot in my day is the pleasure I get from reading your column. You tickle me so much I often laugh right out loud. Don't ever lose your sense of humor, Abby.

MILWAUKEE SENTINEL READER DEAR ABBY: Your column in the STARS AND STRIPES has kept me going. It's the next thing to a letter from home. I know you need a vacation, too, Abby, but the one day of the week DEAR ABBY is missing we get the blues.

YOUR FANS IN 'NAM What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write ABBY, Box 6970, Los Angeles, Cal. 90009. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send #1 to Abby, Box 6970, Los Angeles, Cal. 90009.

MILWAUKEE SENTINEL READER DEAR ABBY: Your column in the STARS AND STRIPES has kept me going. It's the next thing to a letter from home. I know you need a vacation, too, Abby, but the one day of the week DEAR ABBY is missing we get the blues.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Discussions of impotence with others will not yield right results so postpone such. Forget a social affair that could lead to trouble. Stay at home tonight and relax.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Listen with care to whatever higher-ups have to say and follow their ideas and suggestions. Take no risks where credit is concerned. Show that you are a precise person.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Listening to the suggestions of a newcomer could prove very helpful to you. Go to right sources for the data you need. Use own judgment in making decisions.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Study your tasks that you have assumed and toss out those that are not good. Remove anything that stands in your way of advancement. Showing devotion to work is wise.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have an associate who needs comforting with what is to you desire. Study a civic matter well. Show loyalty to those who deserve it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) This is not a good day to get started on any home decorating you want to do, since this needs more time to figure out the colors, etc. are not amiable now. Avoid an argument.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you postpone a recreational plan it works out much better later on. Be content with inexpensive pleasure right now. Strive for more happiness with love. Smile more.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Wait until tomorrow to discuss certain differences with your home with those who live in your home. A good day to do some reading you've been putting off for a long time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Not a good day for starting new ventures but fine for handling correspondence and looking statements over for possible errors. Be sure to read your newspapers thoroughly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A financial investment may sound good to you today so study every angle before making a decision. Now is the time to put a new idea into operation. Show that you have ability.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Handle those personal tasks early so that you have free time for more important activities later. Choose your words carefully if you attend a social event. Avoid arguments.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY: He or she will be one of those highly visionary young people who will be apt to make mistakes in whatever is of a practical nature, so be sure to teach early to check and recheck everything, especially where important matters are concerned. An ideal chart for whatever is of an artistic or cultural nature. Send to the schools that specialize in such.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Compared To United States Europe's Cleanliness Noted

By BILL GHELOW and WALTER GHELOW (one of a series)

The beauty and the cleanliness of the cities of Europe was surprising and impressive. The same applies to the road ways and the countryside. With the exception of Venice, Italy, each city we visited had almost a manicured look. Not once did we notice debris on a city street. Europe's superhighways are completely void of trash thrown from passing cars. No beer cans were seen beside a road in our three weeks of traveling. Government road-sides are spaced close enough together that the traveler has only to pull over briefly to dispose of debris.

FORMAL GARDENS abound throughout Europe along with home gardens. This photo of many gardens in Paris was snapped by Bill GheLOW.

Each tiny space of ground is used for cultivation of something interesting and pretty. In one town where it had been necessary to leave a power pole in the middle of a very unusual shaped and quite wide street, a bed of flowers surrounded the pole.

The natives seem to take as much pride in their private homes as the "city-fathers" do in the public grounds. Each lawn, no matter how small, is lovely with blooming flowers and well kept shrubbery. These many vacant homes have unkept lawns. When we saw the power pole with the flowers in Lucerne, we thought about the triangle at the north entrance to Sanford at Highway 17-82 and the lakefront and bemoaned the fact that we citizens do not give the importance to beautification as do the Europeans.

Sewer Funds Expected

By DONNA ESTES

SALTAMONTE SPRING—Federal funding for the $1 million plus extension of the city sewer system to serve the northern district of the city probably will be received within 90 days, Mayor Lawrence Bessinger reported to the Council he had been informed via telephone the federal moneys will be forthcoming.

In addition, following reports by City Engineer Harold Haddad, Council authorized the mayor to execute documents to process applications for $794,000 in state anti-pollution funds for the system.

"Plan is to obtain 95 per cent of the costs from the federal government and 45 per cent from the state government," the mayor at the same time reported short term loan with Barnett Bank of Seminole County for the city's share, of the cost for the first section of the sewer system serving the southern half of the city has been paid down to $44,303.64 in eight months. Once the federal $900,000 plus interest has been paid from sewer connection fees.

Handicapped admitted a recommendation for Council study which would revise connection fees for hookup to the sewer system.

Connection fees have been $125 per household where lines are not installed by developers and $25 per household where lines have been installed in addition to septic tanks.

The engineer said since developers are no longer installing septic tanks, they should be charged at the same rate as other homes. In addition he urged that the fee be increased to $150 per household to those homes not hooked up to the system within 90 days from time it was made available. He also recommended a formula of construction charges which would have apartments and motels paying $50 per hookup for each unit.

In other business, letter was read into the record from Piedmont Development Corporation agreeing to advance payment of $35,025 for sewer and water connection charges, cost of lift station and for extending water lines to an eight-acre tract near the intersection of SR 436 and Interstate 4 where a motel-resort is to be built.

City Engineer William Palm said a "Bistrotrap" restaurant is to be built at the site, as well as a well known chain motel.

Council also adopted an ordinance and final reading an ordinance amending the motel-resort location site.

For Impromptu Get-togethers Hang One On With Punch, Cookies

With the Christmas holidays just around the corner, trimming the tree is a good excuse for an impromptu get-together. Call in a few friends; mix Tea-house Punch with a base of spicy tea and lively cranapple juice; then bake a batch or two of Christmas Cherry Bars.

You'll be surprised how quickly the Christmas tree looks great, if there's an enthusiastic crowd and some good things to eat. Let them create holiday decorations from an assortment of trimmings — bright tissue paper, crepe paper, plastic foam shapes, felt, foil, ribbons, sequins and glitter, for example. Watch them come up with mod Christmas poses, fluted foil stars and original artwork.

When everyone's in the living room strung lights and hanging tinsel, the last place you want to be is in the kitchen. So set out a "serve-yourself" tray near the festivities. Guys and gals can pour their own roxy Tea-house Punch from a tall pitcher and refill as they like.

Since the younger crowd are avid tea drinkers, keep in mind Bigelow teas for their holiday gifts. Choose a canister of one of the special teas like hearty Irish, Earl Grey, smoky Lap-sang Souchong or Chinese Tea. Or, for those who want to learn the differences in fine teas, buy the attractive library assortment of 14 Great Teas of the World, available in gourmet shops, gift shops and department stores.

TEAHOUSE PUNCH
 (Makes about 20 servings)
 4 Constant Comment tea bags
 4 cups boiling water
 1/4 cup sugar
 3 quart cranapple juice, chilled
 2 bottles (7 ounces each) carbonated water, chilled
 Red food color (optional)
 Place tea bags in a large saucepan or heat-resistant bowl. Pour boiling water over tea bags; steep 5 minutes. Remove tea bags and add sugar. Chill thoroughly.

 To serve, pour tea mixture and cranapple juice into tall pitcher over ice. Add carbonated water, few drops food color and lemon slices, if desired.

CHRISTMAS CHERRY BARS
 (Makes 32)
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 2 tablespoons confectioners

sugar
 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
 1 jar (4 ounces) red maraschino cherries, chopped
 2 eggs
 1 cup granulated sugar
 1/4 cup sifted all-purpose flour
 1/4 teaspoon baking powder
 1/4 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon vanilla
 1/4 cup coarsely chopped nuts
 2 tablespoons maraschino cherry syrup
 1/4 cup coconut
 Cream butter with confectioners sugar; gradually add 1 cup flour, beating until smooth. Spread on bottom of 13 x 9 x 2-inch baking pan. Bake in 350 degree oven 20 minutes; cool.

Drain and chop cherries, reserving 2 tablespoons. Beat eggs with granulated sugar until light. Sift together remaining flour, baking powder and salt; blend into egg mixture. Add vanilla, nuts, cherries and cherry syrup; mix well. Spread over baked layer. Sprinkle coconut on top. Bake in 350 degree oven 20 minutes; cool.

Is She A Fashion Innovator?

Here's the easiest out for any perplexed Santa! Remember that leg fashions head the list of gifts that are top favorites with all females from early teens to grandmas.

"If the lady is young or young in spirit, she'll welcome an adventurous range of nifty hose shades like Wineberry, Red Onion, Gaucho Green and Bright Navy to match or contrast with her costume and shoe wardrobe," advises Betty Curry, Burlington fashion director. "Pamper her with glamorous styles like Brief Top and all sheer panty hose that assure an elegant view no matter how liberated legs may be.

If she adores naked styles in shoes, sandal foot panty hose will make a joyful addition to her panty hose wardrobe.

"If the lady on the gift list is a conservative, better choose classic panty hose colors like camel, taupe and Cafe Brazil for your gift package. Invisible mesh styles are a practical choice if she's a 9 to 5 girl."

Boots, of course, are top fashion favorites and no lady ever has too many pairs. A real bonanza for gifts in this area are Shin-Shams, the feather-light stretch leg fashions by Burlington's First Editions that turn every shoe into a custom look boot instantly. The legs of Shin-Shams are leather-like polyurethane; the stretch nylon feet fit inside the shoes, with the double advantage of permitting the feet to breathe and allowing shoe ornamentation to create a fabulously expensive custom look effect. They are so light and flexible they fold into a purse easily, so they are a special delight for travelers and easy to wrap up for the Yule tree. There's a fascinating variety of new styles, including Canvas Granny, the Gaucho with smart side lacing, a Rich Peasant with multi-colored embroidery up the front and a panel suede style.

Appliance Gifts Most Apt To Please

If you are thinking of surprising the woman in your life with a new appliance this Christmas, facts from a recent Home Care Institute survey should help.

Whether it's a large or a small appliance you are considering, talk with some of your wife's friends about it before heading down to the local store.

In the store, check the appliance's quality and type of construction and its ease of operation. These are the most crucial factors homemakers look for when purchasing an appliance. Color, style, convenience features, brand name and warranty period are also important and should be considered, but the women rate them as significant, not crucial, according to the national survey conducted for Eureka Williams by the Home Care Institute.

The survey information contains some good hints about what homemakers want this year. When asked which large and which small appliance they would purchase for their home if price were no object, the most frequent responses were a dish washer in the large appliance category and a vacuum cleaner in the small appliance section.

Consider a lightweight cleaner or a hand vac for fast clean-ups or in-between chores. They are versatile, require only a small storage space and are easy on the budget. Canister cleaners such as Empress or Princess, which carry and store their cleaning tools in compact canisters, are ideal for carpet maintenance as well as above the floor cleaning.

Thoughtful Gifts For Men: Executive Survival Kits

How often does the man in your life — wearing a 3 o'clock shadow — and the same clothes he put on at 6 o'clock that morning — go to dinner, or the theater, or attend an evening business session with an important client?

If he's a member of the fast-paced business world, one he can keep in his desk or on the bookshelf in his office. And it makes one of the most thoughtful Christmas gifts a woman can give the man she loves.

Here are some items you should include:

First of all, he'll need something to take care of the beard shadow (if indeed, he doesn't have stubble whiskers by six o'clock). One of Remington's new Elektro Blade units would be ideal. There are several models in various price ranges.

Next, include his favorite after shave lotion or cologne, a couple of small combs (men frequently forget to carry their both cord and cordless. Since the blades can easily be replaced, these shavers are always sharp).

For emergencies, include a small can of spot remover and some cotton pads for tie and pocket combs), a toothbrush and a small tube of toothpaste (or mouth wash if he prefers), shoe polish and a buffer cloth, nail clippers and file.

Yes! A sewing kit. They don't really admit it, but it's a rare man who doesn't know how to sew a button on, and he'll do it rather than appear careless in his grooming before an important client. Make one for him. Just wind a small amount of three or four colors around a small piece of cardboard, attach a couple of needles, and insert them in a used match book. Sooner or later, it's bound to come in handy.

As for the survival kit container, it can be as lavish as you wish. Or you may wish to use a cardboard box file, the kind with a metal clip, that looks like a book when closed. Whatever you choose, he'll appreciate it.

There's nothing earthshaking about saying that children learn from experience. Or about saying that toys are a significant part of their experience.

But it is rare indeed to translate academic theory into toys that children will be eager to play with, that they can play with safely and that they can learn from.

Dr. Esther P. Edwards, a child study expert formerly associated with Tufts University, did precisely that. For three years, she and her team researched the development of infants and toddlers. They studied mental, physical and emotional reactions to a wide variety of stimulations. They experimented with color, sound and shapes. And much of what they learned contradicted what had been thought to be true or, more often, filled an information vacuum.

The research team turned its data into dozens of toy designs. The cream of their ideas — 25 playthings for children from birth to age three — is "The Wonder of Growing."

The collection begins with simple visual-stimulation toys and progresses through play things that invite children to compare, control and manipulate — and thereby to develop muscle control, vocabulary and language skills. Many intermediate items help lay the foundation for science education and present books as rather than individualized supplement to the collection is the 128-page "Wonder of Growing" guide for parents who wish to learn more about the early child development. This book comes with Series I or may be bought separately.

Dr. Edwards learned that children develop their potential best fully if they are encouraged to build on their experiences in a logical sequence. The sequence must be flexible — as the child won't be frustrated by being presented with tasks he can't do — and each toy in the response should have as many facets as the child continues to discover new things.

But she agrees with other child development authorities that the best kind of educational toy is one that makes it fun for the child to learn.

Writing in "The Wonder of Growing" parents' guide about Rowls and Balls, a toy suggested for the 12 to 15-month-old, Dr. Edwards said, "The current discovery that the walls are really there is intensely pleasant to a child. Add to this the delight of physically controlling and manipulating, and the stimulus of constantly changing patterns created by the color and form of the balls against the container. Here is a toy intensely involving for the just-turned-one-year-old."

Nor is "The Wonder of Growing" series oblivious to the fact that children should set their own pace for development. There is no pressure on the child, no insistence, "Doing what is comfortable is important," wrote Dr. Edwards about the collection's simplest story book, "Superhero's Busy Day."

"With your involvement you engage the child's attention. Above all, should attention wander, do not insist that the book be finished."

Flexibility, building on the already-learned, gentle encouragement from interested parents.

This is the heart of the collection.

Crystal Fixtures Stylish

Frosted window panes, softly falling snow, the cheer of a burning fire and the delightful sparkle and whimpy of decor time mark the Yuletide season.

Have you considered adding the ultimate touch of elegance to your holiday festivities—a shimmering crystal fixture for your home?

In the royal courts of old, great cascades of crystal filled ballrooms and grand foyers. Extremely high ceilings and large rooms were required to show them correctly. Usually only hotels and public places in recent years had the space requirements for such ornamentation.

Fortunately, Thomas Industries, one of the Nation's leading residential lighting specialists, believe that everyone should enjoy the beauty of crystal—whether or not they live in a tiny efficiency apartment, town house, or spacious country home.

Crystal fixtures now are available in period stylings and modern adaptations ranging from just enough crystal to catch the light, to waterfalls of bedazzlement of legendary grandeur.

Crystal fixtures may be in the form of chandeliers, wall brackets and sconces; they may be close to the ceiling fixtures or chainhang lights. They may be tastefully used in dining rooms, living rooms, powder rooms, bedrooms and foyers. These fixtures are budget priced, or if you are a homemaker who wants to have everything, may cost several thousand dollars.

Children Decorate Own Tree

What could make children feel more important and special than to decorate their very own mini-tree. And it won't shake their belief in Santa any, not if they're told it was he who dropped off the tree and trimmings. Nor should it shake your budget, for the tree can be of the dime store variety, the ornaments made of play clay . . . a cooked up mixture of baking soda, corn starch and water.

The time for the ornament-making is while the youngsters are off at school or taking their afternoon nap. The place . . . the kitchen where you whip up the clay slurry:

Combine thoroughly in a saucepan 2 cups baking soda (1 1/2-pound package) and 1 cup corn starch. Mix in 1 1/4 cups cold water. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Cook a minute longer or until mixture resembles moist mashed potatoes. Remove from heat immediately (over-cooking makes clay crumbly). Transfer to a plate and cover with a damp towel. When clay is cool enough to handle, knead a little and store all but what you're about to use in a closed plastic bag.

For your first session . . . it will take two . . . you'll need in addition to the clay, a rolling pin, wax paper and the snipped off ends of paper clips which serve as tree-hanging attachments. You'll also need cookie cutters and apple cutters to stamp out the shapes. If you decide to come up with your own designs, partridge, angels, drums and the like, you'll need white paper on which to draw the designs and scissors with which to cut them out for patterns.

When all is assembled, roll out the clay on wax paper to 1/4 inch thickness and cut out shapes. While clay is still soft, press in the snipped off paper clips and any other embellishments you wish to add. Now slide all your finished pieces on to a cookie sheet and hide for a day or until ornaments are bone dry.

For your second session, paint your pieces using water colors or tempera; and to give them a ceramic-like finish and help preserve them for Christmas, to come, dip each in a panful of clear shellac.

With Gift Of Sterling Wish Her A Merry Yule

When a man's picked out Christmas gifts for his wife for 25 years, thinking of something new gets to be a challenge. That "something new" this year could also be something dandy times for sterling gifts — that's beautiful, much-wanted and well-deserved — it's sterling silver. But there's no reason why any woman who'd love to add to her sterling set — or, indeed, start one — has to count the years until her silver anniversary celebration. Many women, in fact, who find that they have more leisure time once the children are out of the growing stage discover new zest for entertaining. And this is the time when beautiful tables suddenly become more of a necessity than a luxury, and "fill in" flatware seems an unnecessary privation. In many cases, it's not only the wife, but the husband who senses the need for a little improvement. There is, after all, no excuse for having to rummage around in the kitchen for an extra serving spoon when the boss and his wife come to dinner. And it certainly doesn't add to a hostess' sense of security to wonder if she can get away with using a dinner fork instead of a lemon fork when she serves tea.

It is, therefore, a most discerning and considerate husband who tucks a gift of sterling silver under the Christmas tree this year. If he and his wife have never previously owned sterling, a gift of several place settings will provide the "cornerstone" of a set which can be added to at other times during the year, such as a birthday, Mother's Day, or a wedding anniversary.

If, on the other hand, his wife has started her set, but needs additional place or serving pieces, there are a great many pieces which are sure to be most welcome. Does she, for instance, have enough serving pieces to accommodate her holiday party plans? What could be nicer than finding one or more of the following items under the tree, and using them for Christmas dinner last very day? These are truly some of the most beautiful pieces in a sterling silver service, and add much to the elegance of dining and buffet tables:

Tablespoon: An indispensable item for vegetables, berries, casseroles, dishes and desserts.

Cold Meat or Buffet Fork: Good for sliced meats, cheese and tomatoes.

Flat Server: Used with hard-to-balance foods like broccoli, asparagus, and platter salads.

Butter Serving Knife: For use on the cheese tray, as well as the butter dish.

Gravy Ladle: For gravy, sauces or salad dressings served from either gravy boats or bowls.

Bon Bon or Nut Spoon: A spoon that's handy, too, for canapés.

Pie or Cake Server: If she prides herself on her baking, it's essential!

There are all excellent choices — and there are a number of other serving pieces, as well as additional place pieces, which are available in every sterling set. Whatever the choice, any husband can be assured that a gift of sterling this season will bring that anticipated response: "It's just what I wanted!"

GETTING READY for Santa's visit are these two pretty young girls at Penney's store at Sanford Plaza as they get into the holiday season spirit.

Personal-Care Gifts Top Their 'Wants'

Ask any well-groomed Santa what the number one most-sought-for Christmas gift is, and he'll tell you personal care beauty appliances. Hair dryers, Steam/mist combs, Makeup mirrors, Hairsetters. All exciting new ways to great hair and makeup.

But the great variety of products, all claiming to be the best, can confuse the Christmas shopper. Which one to buy? They're not all the same, so here are a few hints:

The hand-held styling dryer is the hottest news in hairdryers because it's the fastest, most convenient way to dry hair while helping to style it. So look for the styling dryer with the highest wattage (around 500) — which means more air power to dry faster — and two speeds. One for drying, the other for styling.

A good styling dryer should have a soft flexible detachable brush, specially designed to use on wet hair. The brush will smooth and sleek the hair and speed drying time even faster. Make sure the cord is long enough (at least 8') for maneuverability. Dual voltage for world-wide travel is also a plus feature.

The newest idea in the hair-comb family is the steam/mist comb. The important feature to look for is a warm air flow with moisture, not wetness. It's best not to wet your hair, just to dampen it so that the warm air can "press" in a curl or flip, or smooth out too much of a curl. Look for the comb with a built-in steam/mist system rather than one that's attached. And be sure it has enough of an air flow to do a good job. Compare wattage—the highest is about 350. Also make sure the brush and comb attachments are made with rounded tips that will not scratch the scalp.

Both the styling dryer and steam/mist comb come in men's versions. Look for the same quality features.

No woman who cares about the way she looks should be without a good makeup mirror. The best mirrors have four separate light settings so a woman can make up in the light in which she will be seen — day, office, evening and home. See that the mirror also has a magnifying side for close-up work, and a superior lamp, like the Broad Spectrum lamp, that gives truer, non-glare, cool lighting.

For The Smallest

Now there is a super kind of land exploration vehicle for the 2 to 5 age group. The manufacturer has incorporated a large number of special features into its 6 wheel riding toy which, incidentally, is the first it's put out since it introduced its creative coaster in 1964.

The new toy is a composite of many pieces of equipment used today by ecologists, government and private agencies when their work takes them off the beaten path.

There are wide track, heavy tread balloon tires, a front and rear steering system for maximum maneuverability and a generous storage compartment in the vehicle. There are a ramp and wheels that are widely spaced to reduce the chance of tipping. The toy's pretend engine make a revving sound by pushing the side lever with safety knob back and forth. A push-button "peep peep" horn is located in the center of the over-sized, easy-to-turn steering wheel and two removable figures in the see-through cab add still more play and fun.

The explorer with rugged, no nonsense styling, is made of the finest high impact Polystyrene. Weather resistant for outdoor play, it measures 18 1/2" long x 10" wide x 18" high.

WILLIAM LANZNER enters the holiday season as he puts up Christmas decorations at Don's Shoes in Sanford Plaza.

Crystal Is Treasured

A vessel from which to drink liquid was one of the earliest artifacts treasured by primitive man.

At first Nature provided the drinking vessel in the form of coconut shells, gourds, and large egg shells. But as soon as Man learned to shape and fire clay and work metal he made elaborate drinking cups for himself, using even gold and silver.

Glass as a material for drinking vessels is comparatively recent; it was the Romans who first popularized non-ferrous metal glass goblets. Not that medieval Europe used expensive glass as commonly as we do today. Up until the 19th century liquids were also quenched from such diverse vessels as curved horns, wooden bowls, silver or gold beakers, pewter tankards, ostrich eggs mounted on silver feet, leather cups in the form of a lady's shoe, and ivory and porcelain cups.

Most of these exotic drinking vessels have disappeared in favor of crystal for liquids, especially in stemware. A set of crystal stemware is always a gift to be treasured. Light shimmering off these lovely glasses sets the quietly gala tone that makes any dinner a feast, and even plain water tastes better from a hand-blown goblet.

The big news in stemware for 1972 is left. Stems are solid and thick; bowls are wider and sometimes flat-bottomed. The glass is heavier and less fragile, more comfortable to the hand.

An accompanying holiday present could be some gift-wrapped bottles of luxury spirits to serve in the new, sturdy crystal. Campari, for instance, mixed with soda and ice in a goblet, makes a sparkling, garnet-red aperitif to serve before dinner, and the joyful color shows off the beauty of the crystal to advantage.

Invitations Leave You Anxious? Tips On Being Charming

Does an invitation to a party sometimes leave you more anxious than elated? First there's the worry about what to wear; then the dilemma about your makeup and hair; should you try out those new blue eyeshades or save them for another night?

Next, there's the question of personality and charm; will you feel comfortable with the expected crowd; will your conversation be as interesting to you as you think it is or will you be so concerned about making a good impression that your naturally witty nature remains under cover all evening long? All of us have had these qualms at one time or another.

Because the holiday season coincides with an increase in party-going, we can all make good use of these "tried and true" pointers about being — and looking — as charming as possible.

Don't wait for others to take the initiative. Too often a social gathering with great "fun" potential is made dreary and unenjoyable by the lack of interest in contributing.

Try to be as "positive" as you can in your approach to an evening. Look forward to all of the day's happenings and approach each new experience with a fresh and bouncy attitude. Only boring people find the company of others tedious. If you show interest in your surroundings, your surroundings will become more interesting to you. Charm is really only a simpatico combination of mind, spirit and looks . . . and all of us are capable of developing it.

To avoid being too self-conscious about your looks, try out your new "party face" ahead of time. Nothing can ruin a would-be "event" faster than change, or when you're "practicing to make perfect," use a gentle cold cream to quickly remove eye makeup. Pond's famous hypo-allergenic Cold Cream, in the familiar green and white jar, has a proven formulation that removes eye makeup gently as it leaves your skin softer, smoother and fresher looking. Just smooth a generous dab on your eyelids and tissue off lightly. This cold cream whisks off all makeup "in a wink" — even stubborn mascara. Party-goers will particularly appreciate that when bedtime comes in the wee hours and a drawn out cleansing ritual is out of the question.

Once you're ready for the occasion, just keep in mind that real charm boils down to showing genuine warmth and feeling for others; with your giving spontaneity of your self and demonstrating sincere interest in discovering what makes another person "tick." Begin by always walking into a room with a smile on your face! It's the best way to make others feel just as relaxed as you look!

What To Wear To A Party

Aside from the obvious pleasures at holiday time — seeing favorite relatives, renewing old friendships and enjoying traditional holiday foods — the Christmas season is more importantly a time for group party-going — and giving.

If you're party-minded and have a deep-seated love for all the old world traditions, too, you'll probably choose to do your Yuletide hostessing around a gloriously fragrant balsam or Scotch pine tree.

And, after having set up a supper buffet rich enough to please even the spoiled palate of St. Nicholas, and lugged saved-up-for-years tree ornaments from the attic or basement, you'll probably get around to choosing your party dress.

For comfort's sake, you'll be wise to rule out long, flowing, at-home costumes, since their cumbersome length could not only hamper, but hurt you, when you step up on a ladder to place your most treasured glass tree ornaments.

Instead, you might choose a lovely above-the-knee party dress — maybe an elegant long-sleeved turtle-neck style in a lush metallic yarn, or a babykin soft burgundy velvet smock-dress. Both would give you the freedom you'll need to move around effortlessly.

And, you can make yourself the most fashionable girl in your crowd if you complement your costume with wonderfully sheer pantyhose in a shade exactly matching your dress! For really mini-lengths, select nude-to-the-waist pantyhose that will allow you to bend and stretch without worrying about your "posture."

With the loving — but close-up — inspection your favorite bean will probably give them, you'll want your legs posed as shrewdly — and snugly — as possible. No hairy knees and saggy ankles tonight!

Because of these demanding fit requirements, we've asked the hosiery experts who make "Cantecro" II stretch nylon, the everyday stretch for pantyhose that "fit better than skin," for some timely hints about putting pantyhose on so that they set any legs off to their very best party advantage:

1. After removing all rings and jewelry, rest your feet, slipping your foot into the pantyhose after having gathered them to the ankle.
2. Pull firmly — but evenly — over both ankle and calf, first one leg, then the other.
3. Keeping nails away from hosiery, grasp stocking (back and front) between the balls of your thumb and index finger, until hosiery are firmly over the knees.
4. Coax stockings gently over thighs so that they are even just below the crotch.
5. Here's the key to perfect fit: Make sure the fleshy part of your most upper inside thigh goes completely inside the LEG, not the panty part of your pantyhose. Now firmly pull hose up onto hips.

If your fellow these simple steps, you'll find you've got not only great legs to stand on but an admiring crowd on hand as well!

For A Record Yule Trip Santa's Reindeer Ready

Heaven help those "right reindeer!" If things weren't tough enough pulling that fat little man with a sack full of toys all over the county on Christmas Eve, the eight little reindeer, (and you count Rudolf!) will be staggering under a record load of nearly two million bicycles expected to be delivered by Christmas this year.

America is in the throes of the biggest bike boom in its history, and industry leaders are predicting a record 8 million plus bikes will be sold by year's end. If past marketing experience holds true, the present Christmas buying season will be the biggest bike buying time of the year, and this year it should be the biggest ever. Americans of all ages are finding new values in the two-wheeler, and many thousands of not-so-youngsters are rediscovering good things about bikes that they once knew and may have forgotten.

Of primary importance to the youngster of course — and he still represents over 75 per cent of the American bicycle

Holiday Tea Cakes For Guests

All through the house, the spirit of the holidays is captured in the inviting fragrance of home baking. Luscious cakes and cookies, traditional to the season, are baked not only to serve the family and friends, but also as gifts from the heart and hearth.

Try your hand at a simple recipe for delicious Holiday Tea Cakes. A modern version of an old Czechoslovakian recipe, the rich round miniature balls are made with a basic batter of sugar, butter, flour and chopped nuts. They have a lively lemon flavor and a hint of spiciness that comes from using a clever American flavored short-cake lemon flavored instant tea powder. These delectable cakes are rolled in confectioners sugar for an appropriate frosty look.

In the following recipe lemon flavored instant tea powder is featured . . .

HOLIDAY TEA CAKES

1 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sifted confectioners sugar
2 tablespoons lemon flavored instant tea powder
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup finely chopped pecans
In large bowl, blend butter, confectioners sugar, lemon flavored instant tea powder, and vanilla. Combine flour and salt; slowly add to butter mixture. Fold in nuts. Chill at least 1 hour.

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Form dough into 3/4-inch balls. Place on ungreased cookie sheets and bake 10 to 12 minutes. Roll in confectioners sugar. Cool on rack; then roll in confectioners sugar again. Makes about 6 dozen tea cakes.

Ewing Williams' Murder Trial Set

Trial has been set for the week of Jan. 31 in the case of Ewing Williams, Knoxville, Tenn., charged with first degree murder in the Feb. 10 death of John Sechrist. Williams pleaded not guilty at a "last moment" arraignment Wednesday morning. Sechrist, 79-year-old Sanford recluse, was found dead beside a blood splattered bed at his home, 2418 Cedar Avenue, by investigating police.

A post mortem disclosed he died as a result of a stab wound in the back and a punctured lung.

Williams is presently serving a term in Atlanta federal prison for interstate transportation of a stolen car, which developed when Tennessee authorities apprehended him in the car belonging to Sechrist.

Williams was indicted for the slaying by a Seminole County grand jury on Oct. 15.

The trial of Troy Durland, charged with first degree murder in the slaying of retired Sanford resident, George DiGiovanni on Sept. 17, which was set for Jan. 31, has been rescheduled for the week of March 20.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A hijacker who apparently knew precisely what he wanted to do and how to do it has vanished after bailing out of a commandeered jet airliner with $200,000.

The pilot of the Northwest Airlines Boeing 727 said he believed the hijacker "took leave of us" in the Woodland, Wash., area 23 miles north of here as the plane flew low and slow from Seattle to Reno, Nev., en route to the man's demanded destination, Mexico.

Helicopters and airplanes circled overhead the brushy and timbered foothills of the Cascade Mountains most of Thursday before the weather closed in. The hunt resumes today.

State Attorney Must 'Fish' Preparation Vital To Trials

By MARION BETHEA (Fourth in a Series)

Many of the criminal informations filed by the state attorney's office are later "nolle prosequi" which means that the state is unwilling to prosecute the case at that time, although it may be re-filed, as has happened in many cases.

Abbott Herring was asked the reason for this action and stated that when his office feels there is "probable cause" an information is filed. Before the trial, however, the state attorney's office conducts an investigation of the case in which all witnesses are summoned and a "fishing expedition" of the state's case is undertaken.

Some times, says Herring, the witness' testimony is not what the state expected it to be and, therefore, there is little point in going to trial upon an allegation which cannot be proved.

In any trial, a maneuver upon the part of both the defense and prosecution is to attack the credibility of a witness, thus casting a shadow of doubt upon the case to the jury. In fact, this is one of the charges of the court, that the jury consider the demeanor and credibility of a witness. Herring was asked what he considered a good witness, to which he cryptically answered, "anyone who is not an adverse witness. I would not call these for trial."

Accolades

With respect to the nolle prosequi cases, Herring again pointed out that in cases involving malfeasance, for instance, often a public official is involved who is controversial, making the case a "hot potato."

In this respect, the state attorney remarked, "you feel you would like someone other than yourself to consider the case . . ."

Heavy Snowfall Buries Northland

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Thousands of motorists in the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic states spent Thanksgiving Day in the homes of strangers or in their cars as record snowfalls halted traffic.

Snow nearly two feet deep covered New York's capital city, Albany. The state's 25,000 employees there were allowed to report to work late today so they could dig out.

The National Weather Service in New Hampshire called the storm in that state "the worst in 20 years." Up to 18 inches of snow fell on the area.

Mrs. Ralph Lawrence, of Franklin, N. H., planned to have 17 guests for dinner. But when they were unable to make the trip from New York, she invited everyone in the neighborhood to her home for turkey.

State police at Milford, Pa., housed more than 100 persons who were stranded in snowbound cars after a storm dumped 16 inches of snow on that area.

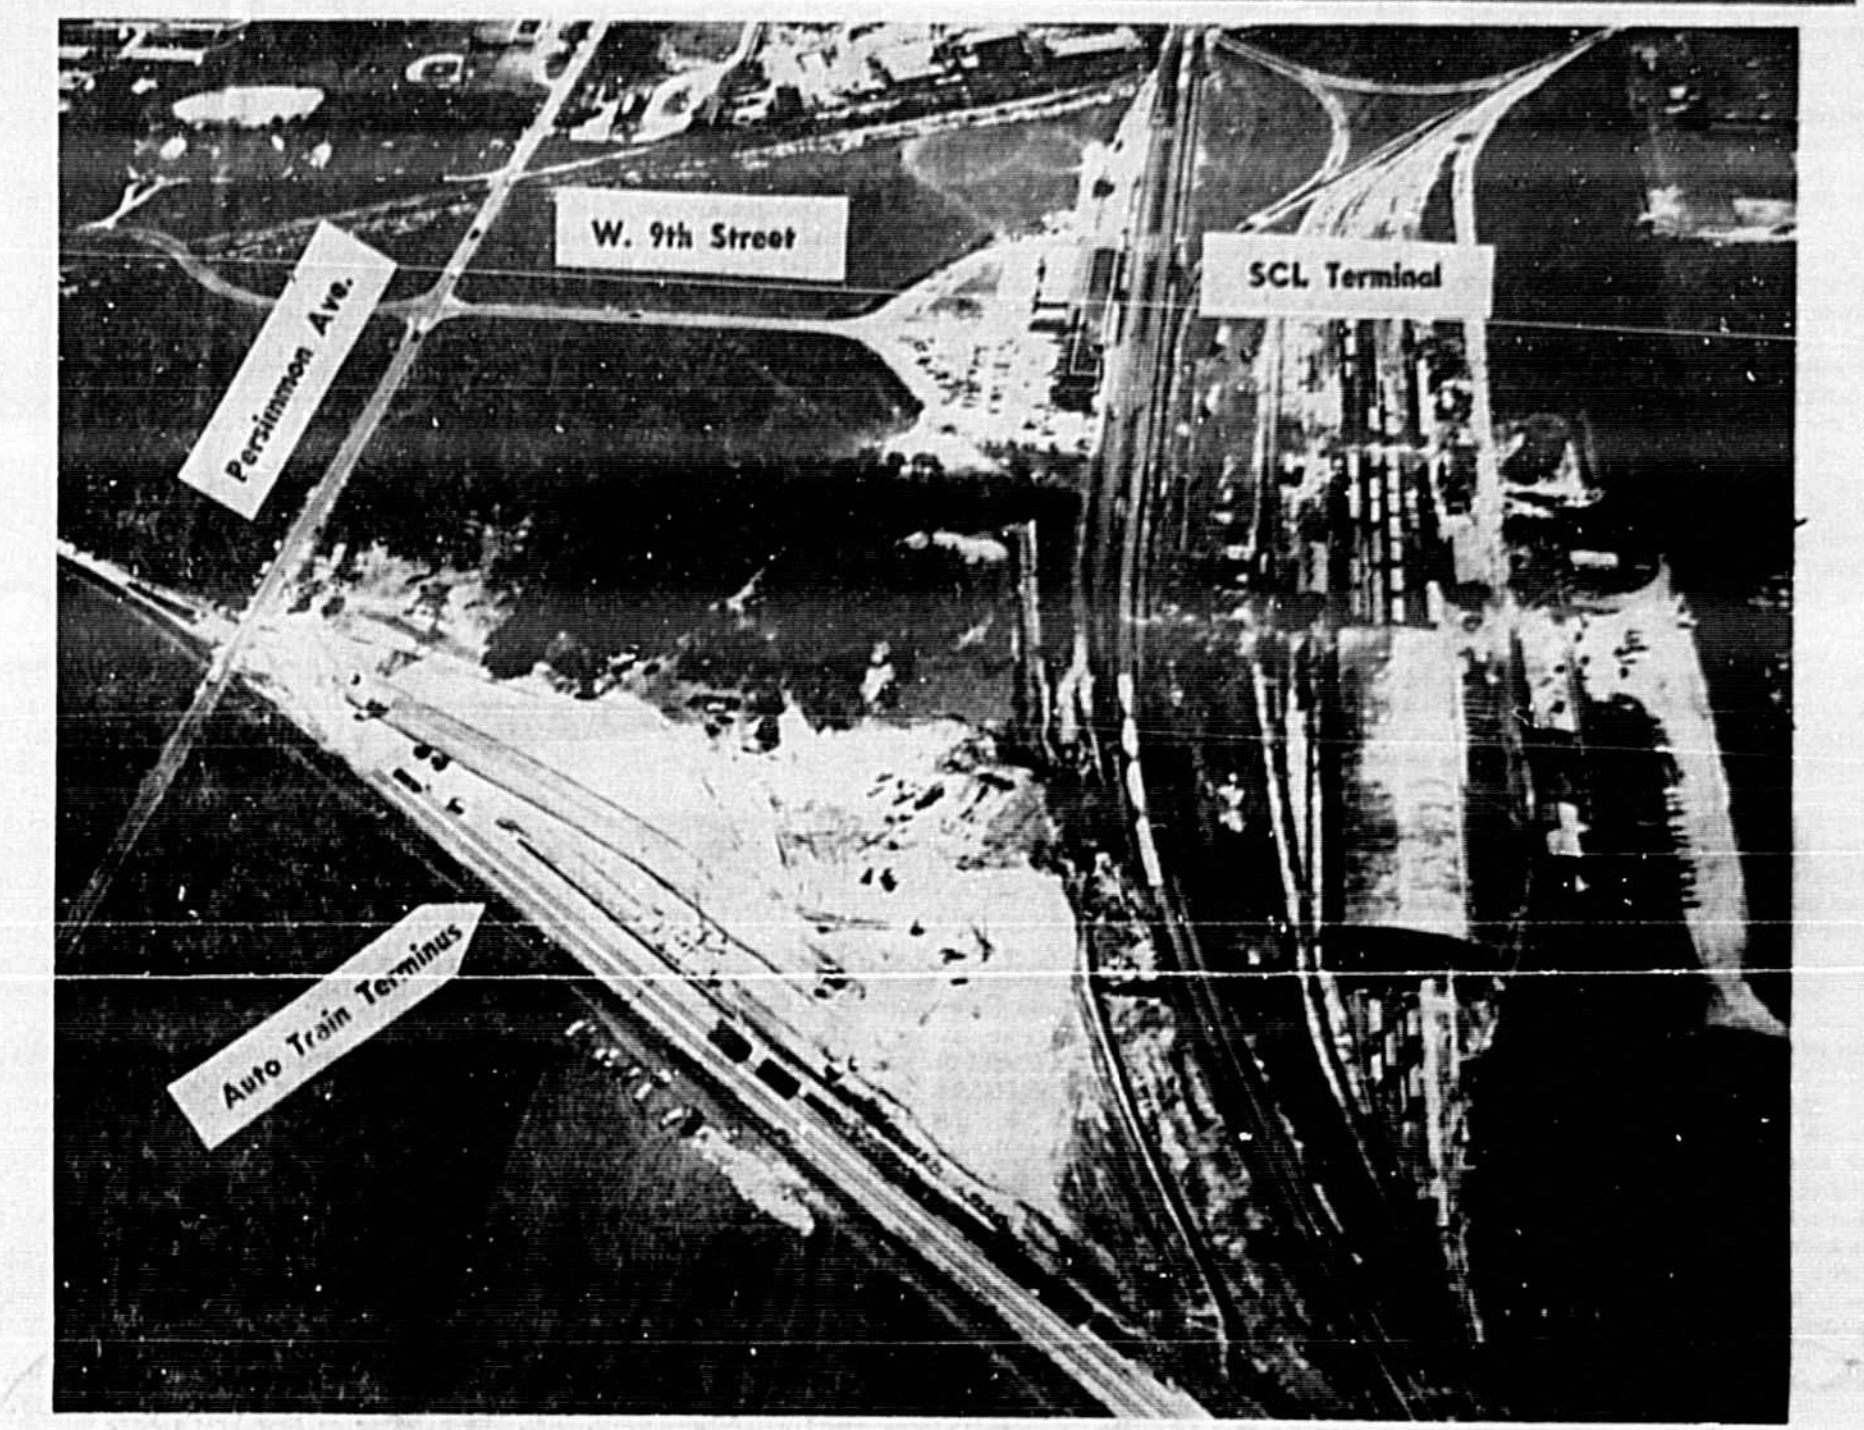

Troopers rounded up food for the hungry travelers.

"They're eating hot dogs and bologna sandwiches but it tastes like turkey to them," a state trooper said.

Trooper John Seleski trudged a mile through the snow to reach a stranded car on Interstate 80, then helped the expectant mother to deliver her baby. Both the mother and baby girl were reported doing fine although they were trapped in the car several more hours.

Maryland State Police reported that 1,200 to 2,500 vehicles were stranded overnight in snow up to 16 inches deep on Interstate 79 between Frederick and Hagerstown.

The highway, a major artery linking Maryland, western Pennsylvania and the turnpike system toward Chicago, was carrying heavy holiday traffic when a tractor-trailer truck jackknifed early Thursday in the westbound lane on South Mountain north of Frederick.

Search Reveals Nothing 'Rich' Skyjacker Vanishes In Air

Authorities held out little hope, however, that the hijacker would be found soon.

"He's probably long gone," a Clark County, Wash., sheriff's deputy said.

It was the first air air-craft hijacker had used a parachute to make his escape and it was the largest sum of money an air pirate had ever escaped with in the United States.

He told a stewardess he had a bomb and that he wanted to go to Mexico. He also demanded four parachutes and $200,000.

The FBI said he had used the name D. B. Cooper when he boarded the plane in Portland.

"That's the name he used when he bought his ticket," an FBI agent said. "But he's probably no more D. B. Cooper than I am."

Scott said during the flight that indicator lights in the cockpit showed the rear stairwell was being operated.

Firebombing!

WINTER PARK, Fla. (AP) — A firebomb was hurled through the display window of a dress shop in the central business district, authorities said today. Damage was reported.

"Somebody apparently tossed a bottle filled with a flammable liquid and a wick," said Fire Chief R. S. Bair. The shop, the sampler, is only a block from the firehouse. Bair said, and crews caught the blaze before it had a chance to do much damage.

Police said no suspects were in custody in the Thursday night incident.

That's how little we charge for a Volkswagen. Of course you don't get certain things with it. Like a drive shaft. (The engine's in the rear.) Or a radiator. (It's air-cooled.)
