

THE TOY WIFE

GERTRUDE GELBIN

RESUME

Gilberte Bisquit, called Froufrou because of her irresponsible, married Georges, serious young lawyer, Louise, her sister, has loved Georges since childhood. After five years of marriage, Georges begs Louise to live with them because Froufrou's whims and caprices are ruining his career and the upbringing of their child. Froufrou soon realizes that her sister has usurped her place in the affection and esteem of her husband and little son, Andre Valaire, New Orleans, who has always loved Froufrou, turns to Louisiana. Froufrou attempts to recapture Georges' love. Discouraged, she runs away with Andre. In New York she develops a venereal cough. A year later, lack of money prompts her to return to New Orleans and spite Froufrou's despotism by that Georges will challenge her to a duel as soon as she returns.

Chapter Ten

FIELD OF HONOR

Froufrou's cough grew worse throughout their trip to New Orleans, but once there, the warmth and comfort of Andre's town house renewed her hopes of getting well. As soon as he was convinced that she was sufficiently recovered to be left to the care of Pick and Brutus, Andre set out on horseback for his mother's plantation.

Dawn was just rising through the grey mist as they reached the historic field where duels were fought for a lady's honor. The door of Froufrou's carriage opened and she alighted, coughing as her feet

Britain Leads U.S. In Laws For Labor Peace

U. S. Commissioners To Find Big Pile Of Laws In Survey

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
WASHINGTON — When the President's special labor commissioners roll up their sleeves in London this summer, and plunge into the British labor law of 1927, they will discover, first off, what a lot of law it takes to keep a semblance of peace in the British industrial family.

For the British have been head over heels in more or less modern labor legislation and customs for nearly 150 years. The 1927 law, while extremely important, is merely one statute among dozens.

This stack of laws does not mean that the British have evolved an industrial Utopia, where employees and employers lie down like the lion and lamb of Biblical fame. Only last year on the eve of the formation London's bus workers went out on strike and there was the devil to pay before they climbed behind their steering wheels again.

But the big pile of British labor laws does mean that the British have accumulated a vast store of valuable experience worth anybody's time and study.

The British were wrangling over collective bargaining in George Washington's time.

Sentiment was so strong against group negotiation that parliament passed in 1799 a law to bar collective bargaining. That was the year George Washington died. Strikes destroyed property and general confusion led to repeal within a few years and thereafter collective bargaining was generally accepted.

So in Great Britain now, no political party regards a guarantee of collective bargaining as an essential labor law. Many authorities agree it is practiced in about 90 per cent of British industry.

The question of hours and wages came up over there a long time ago.

While we were fighting a Civil war, parliament was about to consider eight-hour laws. Some British industries at that time also were bargaining over reduced hours of work. Our first national eight-hour law reached the statute books in 1916 and it applied only to railroad workers.

Furthermore, our legislators have spent the last 11 months fighting back and forth over the question of whether we should pass a national law regulating wages and hours of such industries as congress may elect.

The reason why the British have beat us to some sort of a solution of the labor problem is a simple one—that of reaching the crossroads first by virtue of an earlier start. After all, the British had 800 years or more of exciting history—labor along with the rest—before America became a nation.

But the most important reason is the essential difference in the history and size of the two nations.

It is 3,000 miles from San Francisco to New York, and only a few hundred between the opposite shores of the British Isles. There are 48 states in the United States, each still jealous of its statehood and the power the Constitution confers upon a state.

In Great Britain the whole business is symbolically the business of one king, and when his parliament passes a law—that's that. The law applies from end of the realm to the other, in uniform, even pressure. In this country, Congress presumably cannot regulate the candy store proprietor and his salesgirl in Waterloo, Iowa, because that's the state's and city's business.

As for our recently enacted Wagner labor act or collective bargaining, and the British law of 1927, they were the product of exactly opposite situations.

The British law got on the statute books in the "wake of a general strike that practically paralyzed the British Isles. In the view of the conservative government then in power the strike gave an exhibition of too much pressure for collective bargaining.

The American law was proposed by a political party (the Democratic New Deal) which professed to see in this country too much pressure by industries against workers who wanted collective bargaining.

Collective bargaining is standard practice in Great Britain, and the law assumes the worker's right to it. The act also outlawed general strikes and strikes in one industry in aid of another, forbids employers' lockouts and makes punishing illegal when it is not to cause disturbance or injure the workers.

Solons Probe Violations Of Election Laws

Senate Candidates To Be Asked If Officials Were Connected With Campaign

Plan 'Crack-Down' On All Offenders

Persons Suspected Of Improper Conduct To Be Prosecuted

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP)—Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) announced today that the Senate Campaign Expenditures Committee would ask every candidate for the United States Senate whether any federal officials were connected with their campaigns.

This information will be demanded, along with the list of campaign contributors and the amount of money they gave, Sheppard said.

Earlier Senator Walsh stated a Senate inquiry organization reaching into every state and ready to "crack down" on election law violators was proposed.

Walsh, a member of the Senate campaign expenditures committee, said he would suggest to the committee that regional representatives be chosen to initiate all investigations necessitated by complaints that public funds were being used for political purposes.

After the regional deputies reported, the committee could decide which complaints warranted action, Walsh said.

He emphasized that the committee "means business."

The Senate Committee last night ordered all government agencies to stay out of all primary and election campaigns, warning that persons suspected of improper conduct will be exposed and cited for criminal prosecution.

The group, headed by Sen. Sheppard, made public a resolution adopted at its first meeting yesterday pledging that campaign investigations will be conducted with "rigor and vigilance."

The committee, it was said, "will make full use of the power and authority vested in it, without partisanship."

"Any other course would be to fail to measure up to the obligations imposed by the Senate upon the committee and subject them to the charge of indifference toward honest and clean elections," the resolution said.

The committee's warning against the use of improper tactics was directed first to all candidates for senatorial office, their friends and aides. It was extended to governmental agencies in these words:

"The committee likewise gives warning that all governmental agencies must keep clear of all primary and election campaigns—must keep their hands off."

SUCCESSORS

Sen. Royal S. Copeland, D-N.Y., former foe of President Roosevelt, New Deal, died at Washington last night after a short illness induced by over work during closing day of the 74th Congress. He was 60 years old. The Senator collapsed on the Senate floor last Wednesday.

War In Europe Not Imminent, Doman States

Visitor From Switzerland Declares Adolf Hitler Is Opposed To Wars

There will be no war in Europe, especially in Central Europe, Adolf Doman of Basel, Switzerland, who is spending a few days in Central Florida told a Herald reporter in an interview this morning.

The tension between Germany and Czechoslovakia which has attracted the attention of the entire world, will definitely not end in a conflict between the two nations, Mr. Doman said.

"Hitler is opposed to war," he said and expressed his feelings and attitudes with the statement that "Any organization regardless of its nature, must be liquidated in order to function properly."

He likened the situation now existing in Czechoslovakia to that of the State of Texas in its rebellion against Mexico. The Sudeten Germans, like the Texans, desire to govern themselves and are seeking freedom from the oppression of the Czechs, he stated, adding that while at present the Sudeten Germans are not a part of the Nazi state of Germany.

Citing one instance of partisanship, Mr. Doman stated that in Czechoslovakia as in many other nations, there is a tendency of the government to do everything for the people and this naturally resulted in a large number of government employees. The Sudeten Germans, he stated, are excluded entirely from government positions.

This section, Mr. Doman termed as "most beautiful" and he declared he would like to settle here.

The flat country of this area, he stated, is quite a contrast to the Alps of Switzerland which tower 12,000 feet above sea level. He said, however, that the sector surrounding Howey-in-the-Hills reminded him a great deal of his native Switzerland. He was an enthusiastic over the natural beauty at Sanlando Springs and termed as most unusual the amount of water that flows from the springs. In his travels, he stated that the only thing he had seen to equal it, was a spring in China which had been made a sacred shrine.

Mr. Doman's chief purpose for coming to the United States was to investigate possibilities of introducing a new method of soil fertilization which is spreading throughout Europe, he said. The new method is known as the bio-dynamic method and he declared it has a commercial value for southern growers in that it will greatly reduce commercial fertilization costs.

Mr. Doman is the guest of Gordon Barnett and commended Fern Park and its residents highly.

Stores In Jax Closed In Move To Collect Tax

Sheriff Closes 20 In Levy Based On War-rant By J. M. Lee

JACKSONVILLE, June 18.—(AP)—Circuit Judge DeWitt T. Gray ruled yesterday the Whole State's "chain store" tax and deputy sheriffs closed 20 of the shops in the first move to collect between $15,000 and $50,000 in delinquent taxes and costs.

A temporary injunction had halted a tax levy against the stores until the court could decide whether the concern, of which Mayor George C. Blume, Jr. is president, came under the chain store classification.

Blume and his associates claimed each store was individually owned and the group banned together only for marketing and merchandising purposes.

There was no announcement of an appeal to the State Supreme Court.

The "chain store" tax levied by the 1935 Legislature imposed graduated occupational licenses and gross receipt taxes.

A single store pays $10 a year occupational license and one-half of one per cent of its gross receipts. Chains pay increasing amounts based upon the number of units operated. Proceeds go to public schools.

The levy started by Sheriff Rex Beant is based upon a warrant issued by State Comptroller J. M. Lee Nov. 12, 1937, Judge (Continued on Page Two)

Police Raid Semitic Homes, Businesses; 160 Jailed In Nationwide Campaign

200,000 Chinese Trapped By Flood

French Public Service Employees Threaten General Strike

BERLIN, June 18.—(AP)—Reich information indicated today the high command of the Nazi Government had ordered a nationwide "check up" of Jews in the greatest anti-Semitic drive yet undertaken by the Nazi regime.

The move followed a wave of anti-Semitic disorders which had been being limited to Berlin.

Police raided Jewish homes and Jewish business places, described as a "check up" drive to ward off "contaminating" and "criminal" elements.

The Reichstag report issued by the German press agency, the start of the anti-Semitic drive had been made. The statement said that police had arrested 160 persons, mostly without suspicion of crime.

The report said a strong attack on anti-Semitic Jewish elements in Berlin had started "strongly" in many parts of the Reich's population which had to be held in check.

It referred to Berlin's increasing anti-Semitic drive made from police raids which last night were characterized by shouting of anti-Semitic slogans and scores of shop windows.

Entrapment of "contaminating" elements at the Yellow River, the Jewish and anti-Chinese work, announced in Berlin today, on the Spanish front, on the war have general strike threat by the French public service workers, embarking on a new "appearance" of diplomacy, these new threats given today into the disordered pattern of international affairs.

The Yellow River flood apparently had saved Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's provincial capital, Hankow, from the danger of attack from the north for many months. But Japanese sources declared a plan to cut off the river.

Dawson Expects Upward Trend In Livestock Prices

Returns At Kissimmee Auction Slightly Lower Yesterday

County Agent C. R. Dawson declared today that although prices at the Kissimmee live stock auction market were lower this week than at the inaugural sale last week he expected to see prices rise by the auction next Friday.

He pointed out that there was bound to be a reaction from the first week's high prices. Buyers he said, were willing to pay higher prices the first week in order to get the market off to a good start.

Yesterday's prices at large centers of $1.00 or more, year calves, mostly medium to poor, sold from $1.50 to $2.25. One lot of calves went to Cincinnati at $3.00.

Old cows ranged from $2.00 to $1.50, these being of poorer quality than were run the first sale last week.

A Jacksonville packer bought a lot of old fat cows at $6.00. Steers ranged at five to six dollars.

Not more than five hundred head were sold. A lot many being in small lots entered by little producers.

Quite a lot of milk cows were sold from $30 to $50 and yearling breed bulls brought $50 and upward.

The small lot entries required several hours for their sale.

Before the cattle auction started, a dozen or more horses were placed in the ring but the owners mostly declined the offers, one Tennessee saddle range pony being withdrawn when the highest bid Col. Henry could bring was $120.

Mr. Dawson again reminded that L. M. Rhodes, who was re-appointed State Marketing Commissioner yesterday by Gov. Cone, will speak at the Court House Tuesday night at 8:00 o'clock on the "Expanding the Celery Market." He predicted that a large crowd would be present.

Big Turn-Out Urged At Twin-Bill Ball Game Tomorrow Afternoon

Tomorrow may be just Father's Day to millions of Americans but to Sanforites it will be Father's Day plus a double-header baseball game between the Lookouts and the Leesburg Islanders.

The Seminole County Baseball Association is expecting every father in Seminole County to be present at the game tomorrow which begins sharply at 2:00 o'clock.

With the arrival of several new players in the past few days and more to arrive many Sanford baseball fans have gone so far as to assert their belief that the Lookouts will be in the first division soon.

C. R. Dawson, when he heard that Bob Pittman played his first game with the locals last night in Gainesville, declared that Pittman's presence alone should suffice to make the Lookouts a couple of notches in the standings. Mr. Dawson knew Pittman and saw him play baseball at the University of Florida several years ago.

Pittman has always been known as a long hitter. During his undergraduate days at the University of Florida, Pittman was a

Trade At Home Campaign Started By Chamber Group

Twelve-thousand slips of paper are being distributed to the people of Sanford in a "Trade-at-home" campaign being conducted by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

In an effort to induce the people of Sanford to do their trading in Sanford a series of six papers have been drawn up each carrying a different message about the advantages of trading in Sanford. Distribution began today.

The Florida Power and Light Company will enclose one of these messages in each bill sent out and the Chamber of Commerce will mail many of them directly to citizens of Seminole County.

The message says "Self interest and collective interest are one. If our community prospers, you prosper. If the community goes backward, we all lose. Your interests are here. Keep your money where your interests lie. When you patronize outside merchants, the money you spend can never be used towards the growth of this community. When spending money here, you invest it and the investment will pay dividends in making our home area a much better place to live in."

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

WE OWE INFINITELY MORE THAN WE CAN PAY: Ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's.—1 Cor. 6:20

THE ROAD OF MY HEART

I do not ask to know the end, Nor half the way to see, I only ask to have a friend To walk awhile with me. I do not need a merry tune When birds sing in the tree, When trifling rivers run in June And bees hum busily.

What we think is a pretty good definition of most liberals was contained in a recent letter to a well-known magazine. In effect, it stated that a liberal is a person who is ready to argue that two and two are equal to three and one-half.

Germany has refused to take over the debts which Austria owes the United States for post-war rehabilitation and for private purchases. Hitler has a rather peculiar philosophy: all of Austria's assets belong to him, but he will have none of her liabilities. It must be nice doing business with a guy like that.

The trouble with giving the Sudeten Germans home rule is that they occupy the strategic barrier region between Germany and Czechoslovakia where the Czechs have combined natural defenses of the terrain with a series of strong fortifications. Giving the Sudeten Germans this area would be like handing over the keys of your home to the village bad man.

With the advent of some new players, Sanford's Lookouts are expected to climb out of the cellar into the top flight position. Officials of the new baseball association are anxious to have the sporting public turn out en masse tomorrow to show their loyalty and rededicate their support to the home boys. Tomorrow being Father's Day, it is suggested that the "old man" substitute by taking the entire family out to the ball park.

A. J. Fort, who ably manages the Sanford Country Club golf links, is not a sportsman, nor is he a conventional type, who can't remember the great old days when one is a professional, limited to one year and contract as the next best thing. Mr. Fort says there is nothing at all things. He doesn't care at all about the money, but when the presence of automobiles out to see some one up or to smell the perfume of the orange blossom, the vintage point of the game, but when they become as nervous as to ride over the road, cutting over cuts in the road to avoid the hole, Mr. Fort says

Strategic America

The mechanizing of the modern army has placed the United States in a most strategic position when it comes to choosing up sides for the next war. A French general has compiled some figures showing that our country manufactures two-thirds of all the cars and trucks made. France, Britain, and Germany combined produce only 14 percent.

Importance of the motorcycle, automobile, and tank have increased to the point where whole army divisions are motorized and it is safe to say that the army which maintains supremacy on the field must also have supremacy in motorized equipment.

That the United States could assure this supremacy to its own army or those of its allies with all its vast facilities for making trucks and tanks goes without saying. Not only this, but we have the means of outstripping all other nations in the making of airplanes and no other country or combination of countries could hope to best us in the production of airplanes.

However, a preponderance of motorized equipment would not be much help if there were no fuel with which to operate the power-driven vehicles of war. And in this respect, the United States has it all over the rest of the world. We have unlimited resources within our own territory, and we have a fleet of 394 tankers to transport the product.

It is interesting to point out that Germany including Austria produces only 485,000 tons annually while her normal war requirements would be 12,000,000 tons yearly. Not only this but Germany, France and Italy combined have only 140 tankers.

England's position in the matter of oil is much better than other European countries. She has resources in various parts of the world and she has 464 tankers and a strong navy to protect them. Russia has the largest supply of any European country, producing 28,000,000 tons annually.

So it may be seen that the fair hand of America will be ardently sought by other nations when the first signs of hostilities begin.

Father's Day

We have never been able to get excited about Father's Day, somehow, and we have noticed there has always been a lack of enthusiasm for the occasion, but we have never been able to put our finger on the weak spot.

The Melbourne Times seems to have the thing figured out: and it makes bold to assert that "Father's Day will never be an institution. Never, that is, so long as fathers and grown-up boys write the pieces and prepare the advertising copy for exploiting the occasion.

"They all do it too much with their tongues in their cheeks. They can't bring themselves to write seriously of themselves. They can't pay tributes to father in the abstract because they are the abstract themselves. And they can't pick out an individual to hold up as the perfect father, without going away back into history and play tricks with the facts.

"The guys all know what a good father is. The best of them have had such fathers themselves. And they know, regardless of their shamed way of avoiding the subject, the kind of fathers they would like to be themselves.

"The guys know, too, how wonderful it is to get appreciation from their children. It is just about all they can stand to have their boys and girls surprise them with some special bit of gratitude. They get so in the habit of just going along day after day, meeting the bills, and keeping the family safe, they regard it all as nothing to be praised for. It is not only their job, but their privilege. The most of them just worry because they can't do more.

"On Father's Day, June 19, many families will make a great ado about Father. And many families won't even know it is his Day. We have an idea that in the homes where the Day is quite forgotten, the old chap will have a more comfortable time. He knows so well how far he has fallen in being the kind of father he'd like to be.

"On Mother's Day, sentiment comes easy. For the rugged old man of the house; it somehow seems more fitting just to say, 'Here's a Howdy, old Top. God bless you.'"

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. N. Lefler, when Miss Penches Dorothy Lefler became the wife of Marion S. Wiggins.

The home was beautifully decorated with ferns, palms, white oleanders and baskets of pink roses.

The bride was charmingly gowned in a tulle suit of blue bird taffeta with touches of Persian and corage bouquet of bride's roses. The bride was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. W. N. Lefler, the ceremony being performed by Father O'Riordan, pastor of All Souls' Catholic Church, and the nuptial music rendered by Mrs. Fannie Stearns.

The groom during his stay in Sanford the past winter as a government agent has made many friends. He is a young man of sterling worth and the bride, Miss Penches Lefler, numbers her friends by the score.

The wedding came as quite a surprise to the many friends in Sanford and elsewhere. The event was witnessed only by immediate family and a few very intimate friends.

The bride and groom left just after the ceremony in their car for Ocala where they will remain for a few weeks after which they will leave for the bride's home.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—By JOHN HIX

MOOSE-GLUE PROPELLER... Pilot E. G. Fullerton, R. C. A. F., found himself in an embarrassing position when, in March, 1920, he was stranded 1,000 miles from civilization with a broken propeller, at Fort Simpson, N. W. T.

The ice had not yet gone out of the Mackenzie River; communication with Edmonton, Alta., would be impossible for months. There was nothing to do, Fullerton decided, but sit and wait for spring to come.

Then Walter Johnson, a Fort Simpson ex-cabinet maker, proposed a daring plan. He thought he could whittle a propeller—if he had the right kind of wood.

A search of the settlement disclosed a supply of sleigh boards, well seasoned, in a warehouse. A number of these could be cut to shape and glued together—if glue were available.

Somebody suggested boiling down an old pile of moose hides. The trick worked; after days of working with crude tools, Johnson completed the propeller. Dramatically, Pilot Fullerton fitted it to his ship.

A short test flight proved it was satisfactory; at 1,500 revolutions per minute it pulled the two-ton metal Junkers monoplane smoothly through the air.

Strange as it seems, Fullerton lifted his plane from the ice-covered Mackenzie River on April 21—only a few hours before the ice broke up—and soared away 400 miles to Bear Lake, near the frontier town of Beaulieu, Alberta, covering the distance in four hours with the odd moose-glue propeller!

STUDY TO MAKE THYSELF APPROVED—My constituents may be surprised that I plan to remain in Washington for about four months after adjournment of Congress. I assure you that according to all information, Florida will be a very much more delightful and cooler place to spend the summer months than Washington. However, I plan to remain in the Capital City until about the first of November for the purpose of pursuing certain studies which will better qualify me to serve you well. I plan to study the parliamentary procedure of the House of Representatives and the functions of committees, departments and bureaus, and make personal contact, meeting as far as possible the clerks of the committee and the secretaries and heads of the departments and bureaus. A great deal is accomplished through personal contact that I could not otherwise accomplish and for this reason, I believe that it is well for me to prepare myself in this respect. I plan to return to Florida about November and visit with you and discuss your problems personally.

Nazi Regime Begins Drive Against Jews

Berlin newspapers said they understood Germany would make a "new sharp protest" in Czechoslovakia against the flight of what appeared to be a Czechoslovak military plane over German territory.

Nazi painting squads smeared anti-semitic slogans on the windows of more than a hundred Jewish stores in Berlin.

A decree for the coordination of the former Austrian army with that of Germany and an order calling the Austrian men born in 1917 to report between next August 16 and September 10 for military service were announced in the Official Gazette in Berlin.

The decree makes Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's national defense laws of May, 1938, operative for the new Austrian province.

These ordered all male Germans between 18 and 45 years to serve a year in the army, made a year of labor service prerequisite to military service and provided that Germans living abroad must serve their terms in Germany.

In Washington Secretary of State Cordell Hull revealed he had advised Germany that attempts to repudiate Austria's war debts and private loans will not be countenanced by this government.

The disclosure, significantly made only a few hours after Reich Economics Minister Walter Funk, in a speech at Bremen formally repudiated Austria's debts, despite the fact the little republic has been absorbed in "the greater Germany," and berated the United States as the "center of disturbances" in world economic affairs.

At the time of Germany's bloodless conquest of Austria in March, Austria owed the United States $50,000,000 of which $24,055,708 represented post-war advances for food supplies. The remainder represents private loans, bonds and similar obligations.

John Roosevelt and Anne Clark Are Wed Today

The 107-year-old church and thousands pressed against the police lines outside.

The bride, wearing a flowing white organdy gown embellished with 620 yards of satin ribbon and a full veil and train that required 100 yards of material, moved up the aisle on the arm of her uncle, Russell Barrigle. John joined her at the altar. Behind him stood his brother and best man, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr.

The ceremonies were performed by the Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, Episcopal bishop of Massachusetts, and the Rev. Endicott Peabody, St. Croton School headmaster, who taught all the Roosevelt boys and officiated at their marriages as well.

A narration followed the ceremony. The couple concealed their honeymoon destination.

Gray halted proceedings with a temporary order and his ruling yesterday was upon the Whiddon Company's request for a permanent injunction.

A deputy sheriff was posted at each store yesterday and Friday receipts were impounded as of the hour of the levy. The cash was stored in vaults.

Sales were halted and the goods placed under guard, although perishables were not impounded. Court attaches said the sale of the goods to obtain funds for the taxes will be on an Aug. 1 "rule day" proceedings. The sale, on a public auction basis, must be advertised 30 days in advance.

Sanford Theater News for the Coming Week

FOOLS FOR SCANDAL—Reading in the usual manner, we find Fernand Gravet, Ralph Bellamy, Marie Ralston, Isabel Jeans and Carole Lombard having a wonderful time as the principals of "Fools for Scandal."

Carole Lombard Falls In Love With Royal Chef

A riotous comedy with music—Lombard is an American movie star in Europe to see the sights.

As if gorgeous Miss Lombard she of the mad antics, were not enough the picture should reach the top of the charts. The French musical comedy stars, making his second American appearance, the first was in "The King and the Chorus Girl" surprises his most ardent fans with a song routine that's well worth the price of admission alone.

SECRET AGENTS—To perpetrate a ruse which would permit him to learn the secrets of an outlaw gang, George O'Brien as a U. S. Marshal poses as The Raven, a notorious bandit, in "Gun Law," RKO Radio's action thriller with Rita Oshmen and Ray Whitley.

Luise Rainer May Win Award Again For Fine Acting

Luise Rainer, only star ever to be accorded two Academy awards, proves her unqualified right to the honor with another character gem as outstanding as her "Anna Held" in "The Great Ziegfeld" and her "O Lan" in "The Good Earth."

Her "Froufrou" Bigard in "The Toy Wife," which plays next Thursday and Friday at the Ritz Theatre, adds a delineation which may well nominate her for the third time and create still another precedent. By turn the frivolous, light-hearted girl, the equally irresponsible wife, and the broken, tragic figure which her own folly makes her, she draws a masterful and truly moving picture which any other actress of the year will be hard pressed to match.

In the masculine leads Melvyn Douglas and Robert Young live up to the high standard set by the picture's star, Douglas as Miss Rainer's husband who is loved by his wife's sister is at all times effective, while Robert Young is dashing and romantic as the young gambler with whom Miss Rainer finally runs away.

Other excellent performances are contributed by Barbara O'Neil as Miss Rainer's sister, H. B. Warner as her father, Alvin Kruger, Walter Kingsford, Leonard Penn and the four-year-old Alan Perl whose remarkable resemblance to Miss Rainer won him the role of her child. Worth mention, also, is the work of the negro performers, particularly that of Libby Taylor, Theresa Harris, Clinton Rosemond and Clarence Muse.

Richard Thorpe, who won worldwide critical acclaim for his direction of "Night Must Fall," has turned in a finely conceived picture of one of the most colorful and romantic periods of American history, namely, Louisiana in the 1850's. In "The Toy Wife," and Merian C. Cooper, producing from Zoe Akins' polished script, has lent it the authenticity of atmosphere which makes it doubly satisfying.

PLENTY OF KIBITZERS—Fred MacMurray, Ben Blue and some of the four Yacht Club Boys engage in a game of cards in a scene from "Cocoanut Grove," the new film coming tomorrow and Monday to the Ritz Theatre. Harriet Hilliard, radio thrush, is seen as the romantic lead opposite MacMurray.

"Saint in New York," Has Crime Solution

When a group of racketeer barons are able to escape punishment by reason of the activities of their shyster lawyers, it's high time something is done about it.

And in RKO Radio's "The Saint in New York," this "something" is accomplished in ingenious fashion by bringing in a debonair killer to shoot down the rackets who are running the city. The exploits of the smiling, deadly "The Saint" promise one of the season's most exciting pictures.

Louis Hayward has the title role, with Kay Sutton in the feminine lead, and Sig Rumann, Jonathan Hale, Paul Guilfoyle, Frederic Burton and other noted character actors in important parts. Ben Holmes directed.

The North American Indian employed a language of gestures as well as a spoken language.

Jungle Is Created For Mystery Film

An Indo-China jungle, complete to the last detail, was constructed on several acres of the great 20th Century Fox lot as the background for "Mr. Moto Takes A Chance," latest in the series of mystery adventures starring Peter Lorre, as the fast-thinking, fast-acting Oriental detective based on the character created by J. P. Marquand, playing Saturday at the Ritz Theatre.

Containing a murky jungle river and a native settlement, together with a temple of Khmer architecture, it was considered one of the most interesting exterior settings ever constructed. Rochelle Hudson, Robert Kent and J. Edward Bromberg are featured in the thrill-a-second adventure for which Executive Producer Sol M. Wurtzel selected Norman Foster to direct.

John Kozik, famous English poet, was the son of a livery-stable keeper.

Canton is the gateway through which most Chinese supplies pass—therefore the continued Japanese aerial raids are an effort to destroy it.

Davis Seeks Curb On Wars' Air Raiders

Requests Influence Of Red Cross Be Used To Stop Needless Civilian Slaughter

Commission Will Probe Bombings

4 Jap Warships Are Sunk As Drive On Hankow Continues

LONDON, June 20.—(AP)—Norman H. Davis, president of the American Red Cross, today called on the International Red Cross organization to use all its influence to curb "revolting and needless slaughter of helpless women and children" in air raids on unfortified cities.

Speaking before an international conference of the Red Cross, Davis said "something must be done to restore civilization to sanity." China, Japan and Spain were among the more than 60 nations represented.

The British government announced a commission of British, Swedish and Norwegian experts would leave for Spain soon to determine whether the aerial bombardments in the civil war have been directed at military objectives.

The announcement, made in the House of Commons by Richard Austen Butler, parliamentary undersecretary for foreign affairs, indicated the United States had rejected an invitation to participate in the investigation.

TOKYO, June 20.—(AP)—Japan notified neutral powers today that the China war zone probably would be expanded considerably and urged them to take precautionary measures in a vast area extending some 700 miles inland from China's coast.

In China proper, Japanese air and land forces sought to smash the Yangtze River barrier to the drive on Hankow.

In Shanghai the Chinese reported officially four war vessels of the Japanese fleet in the Yangtze River were sunk above Anking in a raid by eight heavy bombers.

A statement issued in Hankow said the Chinese planes managed to outfight and splinter 12 Japanese pursuit ships to carry out the attack.

It asserted the bombers carried out their raid in two units of four each, after a quick dash down the river, launching their explosives from 9000 feet.

Japanese warplanes reported their forces drove steadily ahead with their Yangtze valley offensive against Hankow, provisional Chinese command on page three.

Southern Amateur Golf Championship Won By Carl Dann

PONTE VEDRA BEACH, June 20.—(AP)—Carl Merle Dann, for years one of Florida's top golfers, won the southern amateur championship Saturday in decisive fashion over the sun-baked fairways of the Ponte Vedra Beach course.

Playing steadily from the start and seldom in any trouble on this layout whose pitfalls are many, the 26-year-old Dann registered an 8 to 7 victory over Frank Gordon, tall veteran from Rome, Ga., Dann took the lead at the 14th hole and from then on the outcome never was in doubt.

The newly-revived southern championship is the first for the state since Ralph Redmond of St. Petersburg defeated Earl Gibson of Louisville at Atlanta in 1933 and 3.

"I'm tired to death," Dann remarked as he walked away from the 25th green, where the match ended with both golfers exhausted.

JOHN ROOSEVELT AND BRIDE

Much in evidence is John Roosevelt's smile as he and his bride, the former Anne Clark of Nahant, Mass., leave Nahant's 107-year-old Union Church following their wedding. John is the youngest son of President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

High Court Writ Halts Seizure Of Jax Stores

Order Temporarily Stops Dismantling For Past Due Taxes

TALLAHASSEE, June 20.—(AP)—The seizure of the twenty Whidon Cash Stores in Jacksonville for non-payment of the State's gross receipts tax was halted today by a Supreme Court writ.

The writ restrained Controller Lee and Sheriff Rex Sweat from dismantling stores under warrant for about $50,000 in past due taxes and licenses. It holds up execution at least until noon Friday to allow the court to test the Whidon claim that it is not liable for tax as a chain store.

Circuit Judge DeWitt I. Gray ruled the organization was legally a chain store but the store claims each unit is owned by its manager. The stores have been closed since Judge Gray's ruling.

2000 British Protest Bombings At Canton

LONDON, June 20.—(AP)—Two thousand persons marched on the Japanese embassy yesterday with a resolution protesting against the bombings of Canton, South China metropolis, and urging a British boycott of Japanese goods.

A large force of mounted police blocked the marchers near the embassy but allowed a small delegation to deliver the resolution.

Prof. J. B. S. Haldane earlier told a meeting of the China campaign committee at Trafalgar square that Germany and Japan were pooling information gained from raids in Spain and on Canton.

League Is Formed To Amend Labor Board

NEW YORK, June 20.—(AP)—A group of New York business men disclosed yesterday they had applied for a certificate of incorporation as "The League to Amend the National Labor Relations Act, Inc."

Harris J. Klein, their lawyer, said passage of the act was followed by "outrageous litigation, the disruption of various industries by labor strikes and unity and bitterness."

SYRACUSE, N. Y., (AP)—Circus tents crowded the downtown here yesterday a few hours after a deadline set by John Ringling North, president of Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus, for disbarring the show if employees refused to accept a 25 percent cut in pay.

H.B. Moss And Wife Victims In Gun Tragedy

Murder And Suicide Blamed For Death Of Local Couple; No Inquest Held

Mr. H. B. Moss shot and killed his husband and then killed herself yesterday morning at their home on the Orlando road about two and one-half miles from the city limits. Sheriff C. M. Hand declared it was plainly a case of murder and suicide.

Mrs. Lavine Glade, Mr. Moss' aunt who was the only other person on the premises at the time of the shooting, said it occurred about 10:30 o'clock.

Justice J. C. Roberts who arrived on the scene shortly after the fatal shooting declared there would be no need for an inquest.

Mrs. Moss' brother, Thomas B. Murray, revealed that his sister had been in ill health for some time, having suffered a nervous breakdown recently. He said when he learned of her condition he left his home in Lantana, Fla. about a week ago and came to Sanford where he could be near her.

Sheriff Hand asserted that the shooting was undoubtedly the result of Mrs. Moss' ill health. He pointed out, however, that he was investigating a report that she had sent a letter to relatives in Georgia regarding marital troubles.

Miss Glade, declared that about 10:30 yesterday morning Mrs. Moss asked her to burn some papers and trash in the garden and that while she was there she heard several shots and ran into the house where she saw the bodies lying on the living room floor. She summoned a doctor immediately.

Mr. Moss was shot twice in the back and Mrs. Moss shot herself twice through the mouth, according to a report from the Erickson Funeral home which took charge of the bodies. Sheriff Hand said that the gun used was a .38 caliber revolver and that all six shots had been fired.

Mr. and Mrs. Moss were both employed by the telephone company here. They had been married 20 years. Mr. Moss was 41 years old and Mrs. Moss was 36. They had no children and no other relatives here other than Miss Glade and Mr. Murray.

The bodies will be sent to relatives in Lincolnton, Ga. for burial. No services will be conducted here.

Fish Urges Strong Attitude Against Oil Expropriation

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(AP)—Representative Fish, of New York, said in a statement yesterday that the Administration would be "aiding and abetting in the spread of communism throughout Latin America" if it did not take a stronger policy toward Mexico's expropriation of American-owned oil properties.

Fish asserted that Mexican radicalism differed little from Russian communism and predicted mills in Cuba and Mexico in Chile would be taken over by the governments of those countries unless the United States protected interests of American citizens in Mexico.

"I am unable to understand the weak and vacillating attitude that American-owned sugar land of President Roosevelt in not demanding the restoration of American property or full indemnity for damages, which could be the only satisfactory settlement," he said. "If we continue to procrastinate our citizens will probably lose everything, or obtain agrarian bonds as they have in the past, which are and will be utterly valueless."

Members of the club instructed the secretary to send H. H. Coleman, president who is in California to attend the Rotary International Convention, a telegram wishing him a pleasant journey.

H. B. Pope, who presided in the absence of President Coleman, announced that next Monday the installation of the new president, George Rollins, would take place. He said there would be no meeting on July 4.

Visiting Rotarians included Jake Jacobs of Deland, J. D. Bowen of Jacksonville, Frank Snell of Titusville, and Harry H. Hughes of Louisville, Ky.

New Development In Sound Reproduction Demonstrated

A new development in sound film technique which may be as important in film development as the use of color, was displayed here yesterday before theatermen newspapermen, and Sanford residents at the Ritz Theatre by J. I. Marcantelle, local manager of Sparks Theatres.

A special screening showed the difference between a new sound track on a film and the old type sound track.

The new sound track was developed by RCA Victor and is called the "push-pull" or dual type of recording.

This was the third demonstration of the new sound track.

Those present agreed that the difference was distinctly noticeable. The film with the new sound track system gives depth and intensity and fullness of tone to the sound, while the old type sound track is dull, flat and lifeless.

With the sound reproduction systems now in use only one tone of an orchestra can be heard. Under the new system different instruments can be distinguished more clearly. From the highest notes of the violin to the lowest notes of the oboe and bass violin there is perfect, full tone reproduction.

C. L. Sweeney of Sanford, district winner for RCA-Victor, explained that the new development was made possible through the (Continued on Page Three)
