

Campbell Indicted In Knife Slaying Of Wife

Grand Jury Reconvenes Thursday

The Seminole County grand jury late Friday indicted James M. Campbell for second degree murder in the death of his wife on Aug. 2, State's Attorney Arthur Stood reported today.

Stood reported also that the eight member jury will reconvene Thursday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. Stood declined to comment on what the grand jury would consider when it reconvenes.

Friday, Circuit Judge Volle Williams charged the jury with investigating all county officials, institutions and offices.

In addressing the jury, Judge Williams asked it to look into "charges and counter-charges of public officials and to investigate them if it is warranted."

Williams also said that the jury has the right to recommend the suspension of any public official or employe found incompetent or "lax" in his job.

Jury members were conducted on a tour of the new jail facility and, according to deputies, were "pleased in what they saw."

The indictment against Campbell came after jurors pondered his fate for close to seven hours. He is expected to come up for trial during the fall session of Circuit Court early next month.

On Aug. 2, Campbell waived preliminary hearing and pleaded not guilty on charges of stabbing his wife, Betty Anne, to death in Sunland Estates.

Eyewitnesses said that Campbell plunged an eight in knife into the heart of his wife.

In indicting Campbell, the jury found that the slaying was "without premeditation."

Reds Grab Woman Trying To Flee At Dutch Airport

★ ★ ★ Bulletin

AMSTERDAM (UPI) — Soviet Ambassador P. K. Pomorenko was punched on the nose today by a Dutch policeman in a fistfight over custody of the wife of a Soviet defector. The infuriated Russian said the airport fight would have "far reaching consequences."

AMSTERDAM (UPI) — Ten Soviet embassy officials today fought their way into a Dutch military police office at Amsterdam's Schiphol airport and dragged away the wife of a Russian engineer who had defected to the West.

The Russians took the woman to the airport office of the Soviet Aeroflot airline where they held her under guard.

The woman was the wife of a Russian chemical engineer, Alexei Golub, 35, who left a Soviet touring group and asked Dutch officials for political asylum Sunday.

Dutch military police took Mrs. Golub from the Soviet tourist party as it passed through the airport en route back to Moscow today. Police sources said they wished to ask her if she really wanted to go home or would like to remain in the West with her husband.

Duval Clerk Charged With Embezzling Funds

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Mrs. Kathleen L. Hartley, clerk of the Duval County Civil and Criminal Courts, and her assistant were charged today with embezzling $30,000.

The charges were filed shortly after Gov. Farris Bryant's office in Tallahassee announced Bryant had suspended Mrs. Hartley and named former congressman Emory H. Price to succeed her.

Woodrow W. Richardson, Mrs. Hartley's chief clerk, also was charged in the joint information filed by County Solicitor Edwin Booth.

Mrs. Hartley suspended Richardson last week after reporting a shortage in the funds to Booth. She turned over her books to the solicitor and requested a full investigation.

Criminal Court Judge A. Lloyd Layton set bond at $5,000 each for Mrs. Hartley and Richardson. Mrs. Hartley was reported ill at home. Booth had said earlier that the funds involved were from the general money of the office, including the payments and budgetary expenses.

The governor signed the suspension papers Friday before leaving on a two-week European tour, but they were not filed until today after telegrams notifying Mrs. Hartley had been sent.

CIRCUIT JUDGE Volle Williams Jr. will be the principal speaker at the dedication of the new county jail, Sheriff J. L. Hobby said today. The dedication is planned for mid-November. The sheriff hopes to move into the new facility by the first of November.

Kennedy To Dallas

NEWPORT, R. I. (UPI) — President Kennedy will fly to Dallas, Tex., this afternoon for a brief visit with ailing House Speaker Sam Rayburn, the White House announced today.

Bodies Of Fliers Not Yet Recovered

Bodies of three Sanford Navy Base fliers, who were killed Saturday in the crash of a multi-jet heavy bomber, had not been recovered from Lake George Monday morning, according to reports from the Base.

The three, Lt. D. B. F. Brown, Lt. (jg) Tom Behrman, and Richard Hennessy, were on a routine training flight when the jet crashed into Lake George.

An investigating team visited the lake Saturday and a Navy salvage barge is en route from Jacksonville to assist in the salvage operation, Base officials said.

Nobody asked me but didn't a well-known doctor foot the entire bill for the plaque for the new county jail.

Rumors are circulating that the grand jury may look into charges of mistreatment at the county home.

They found the 18 grand jury chairs Friday afternoon. Seems they were scattered throughout the courthouse . . . Even some in the vault used by the County Commission for their informal closed sessions.

Nobody asked me, but what is the hospital gonna do with its old building on Fifth and Oak? One city official called it a "disgrace" to the city.

Nobody asked me, but with all the millions of dollars of road equipment standing around doing nothing, why couldn't the county commission sell some of those pieces to buy a warning system?

We hear that the sick bays at NAS were crowded when Kennedy's physical fitness program was put into effect.

Jaycees are really playing it cool. The word is that the community development program results won't be released to the press until the City and County Commissions get a look see.

Three city commission meetings tonight. Sanford, Altamonte Springs and Casselberry. Time for Sanford—8 p.m.; Casselberry—7:30; Altamonte—8 p.m.

Since the question of dog control comes up so often around the county, why doesn't the Longwood City Council open its meeting to discuss the problem with other municipalities of the area . . . two heads are better than one, they say, and 15 or 20 oughta be able to come up with something.

Five persons were hospitalized, three of them juveniles, in two separate accidents in the city over the past weekend, police reported.

Saturday afternoon between Myrtle and Oak Aves, a car driven by Michael Woodruff of 615 S. Laurel crashed into a palm tree after sideswiping a light pole. Woodruff, 16, was hospitalized with possible chest injuries. Two other youngsters in the car, Gary Lee King and Jim Johnson, both 14, suffered lacerations in the mishap. Police charged Woodruff with reckless driving.

Sunday afternoon on Sanford Ave., a car operated by Lonzo Hatcher, 73, slammed into a telephone pole. Hatcher and a passenger in the car, Duke Kincaid, were injured with cuts and bruises. Hatcher was charged with reckless driving and driving while intoxicated.

Vopos Set Trap For Youths

BERLIN (UPI)—Witnesses told police today that Communist East German border guards penetrated 25 yards into West Berlin Sunday night, seized two West German teenagers and dragged them across the border into East Berlin. The two may have been wounded.

The kidnaping was reported by two companions of the teen-agers. Police said the four were lured to the border by a mock escape by East German police (vopos). Two vopos told the four youths Saturday they wanted to take refuge in the West and then made an appointment to meet the youths Sunday night at the Rudow area of the border.

When the four arrived, police were told, at least 15 vopos started firing with machine pistols. The two who escaped said their companions cried out as if they had been shot and the vopos crossed the border and dragged them into East Berlin. Four other West Berliners, who had crossed the border Saturday night, were seized by the Communists trying to claw their way back through the barbed wire barrier Sunday night with their four East Berlin girl friends.

Again the Communists opened fire, but it was not known whether any were hit. The incidents drew an angry warning from West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt today that he will take action to "stop West Berliners being shot."

Brandt, just returned from a two-day trip to the United States, said, "We are not going to be intimidated by Communist threats along the border."

Communist troops were reported on the move in East Germany, apparently in connection with Warsaw Pact maneuvers linked to the Berlin crisis.

Reds Plan World Rule, Smathers Says

By DOT HIGGINBOTHAM

Senator George A. Smathers, Democratic senator from Florida, speaking at the state convention of the Federation of Democratic Women's Clubs of Florida in Clearwater, sounded grim warnings on the world situation and on affairs at home and in the state. He spoke before 500 persons at a banquet Friday in the Jack Tar Harrison Hotel.

"Khrushchev is cocky and overconfident," said Smathers. "Up until now he had been able to move anywhere with little opposition. At the end of World War II the Communists controlled one country and seven per cent of the world's population. Now they control 14 countries and 44 per cent of the world's population."

"We have to stop them. We must show them power, for that is all they understand. We have to have power to negotiate. In the free world, unless confidence in us, we will have to stand alone . . . fortress America . . . and we could not long endure."

"Out of these decisions came the Nova project. It has become clear that who ever controls outer space controls the world.

"Florida is proud that it has been chosen for the site of the Nova project. The $885 million that will be spent in this area in the next ten years will bring tremendous problems along with tremendous economic boom."

Senator Smathers assured his audience that the executive branch of the government is in strong, capable, competent hands. "In my 16 years in Congress, I have personally known four presidents," said Smathers. "And if there ever was a great president it is John F. Kennedy."

"Never has there been one man come into office who had such terrible problems on his shoulders."

Smathers defended the budget increases recommended by the Administration as being essential to meet Soviet threats in outer space and in the necessity "to be prepared to fight less-than-nuclear war in Berlin, Cuba, Europe, Asia or anywhere we have to fight."

"We will be called a war party," Smathers stated, "but we are going to stop the Soviets right where they are. Berlin is a symbol . . . an island of freedom in a world of communism."

Smathers deplored the bipartisan attacks coming at this time on the Administration and asserted, "we must have united support of the President during this critical period in world affairs."

Turning to state affairs, Smathers warned the Democratic women that Republican strength is growing in the state, and that Democratic office-seekers and office-holders can expect to find themselves faced with Republican opposition at every turn.

"You have a tremendous challenge to get to work and get Democrats registered and get them out to vote."

"We men depend on the women to do most of the work. Without your help, we could not get elected. There are 56 million women registered to vote today as against 31 million men. You have the power, it's up to you to use it to see that good men are put in office."

Smathers was introduced by the State Treasurer Edwin Larsen, and Larsen had been introduced by Secretary of State Tom Adams.

Larsen said that Mrs. Christine Maxwell, state president of the Democratic Women is known in Tallahassee as "Mrs. Democrat" and commented that the State Treasurer's office is very proud of her loyalty and effort. Mrs. Maxwell is Larsen's secretary.

Laotian Coalition Regime Delayed

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Rightwing Laotian leaders today forced a 24-hour delay in seeking King Savang Vatthana's approval of a plan to form a coalition government with Prince Souvanna Phouma, Communist-backed neutralist, as premier.

The basic agreement was reached Sunday at a conference of the three princes of Laos in a candy-striped tent on the banks of the Nam Lik River in Hin Heup village.

Souvanna Phouma and his half brother, "Red" Prince Souphanouvong, agreed that Prince Boun Oum and Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, premier and vice premier of the present pro-Western government, should go to the royal capital at Luang Prabang today.

The third Jaycee Polio Shot Day this year will be held in the Jaycee Information Booth at Sixth and French Aves. Saturday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., according to chairman James G. Taylor.

County Health Nurses, Mrs. Hulda Kibbes and Mrs. Mary McClure will give the shots, with the assistance of other registered County Health nurses under the supervision of local doctors and Dr. Phillips and Dr. Rasmussen of the Sanford Naval Air Station dispensary.

Booster shots will also be given if desired, along with the third shot in the current series.

SEN. Smathers Says Nova To Need Local Canal

The Sanford-Titusville Canal is closer than ever to reality, Sen. George Smathers told a Herald reporter at the State Convention of Democratic Women's Clubs at Clearwater last week.

"The Nova Project will give tremendous impetus to the planning and work on the proposed canal. Appropriations will be forthcoming for studies and surveys."

"Yes, the Nova project is considered a defense project," Smathers said in answer to another question, "and as such, receives top priority to move forward as fast as possible in our race for control of outer space."

The handsome and personable Senator, in Clearwater to address more than 500 persons at the banquet, highlights of the three day convention, was charming and friendly.

The convention delegates and Pinellas County office-holders found him an easy man to talk to at their meeting with him on the first floor terrace of the Jack Tar Harrison Hotel which overlooks beautiful Clearwater and the Gulf Coast.

Other state dignitaries who were also guests at the banquet were State Treasurer Edwin Larsen, Secretary of State Tom Adams and James Milligan of Orlando, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Milligan attended all three days of the convention, working with the Democratic women executives and readily available for local women's club officers who sought his advice and assistance on home-town political matters.

5 From Here Attend Demo Conclave

Attending the three day convention in Clearwater of the State Federation of Democratic Women's Clubs of Florida, from Sanford were Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds, president of the Democratic Women's Club of Seminole County, and Mrs. Peggy Kuhn, secretary, and Mrs. E. S. Higginbotham, vice president of District II.

From the newly-formed South Seminole Club, Mrs. Hope Bennett, temporary president, and Mrs. Lucille Mullany also attended the convention.

The convention delegates, 135 voting, and another 100 alternates turned down a proposed revision of their state constitution to refuse membership to anyone who has not been a registered Democrat for a year, because it would have excluded military personnel and persons who turned 21 during the year.

They also voted down a proposal to keep the present eight districts instead of changing to the 12 congressional districts as set up by the last population redistricting.

They approved holding the four executive committee meetings in Central Florida, approved raising the state dues from 25 to 30 cents, approved holding the annual convention in the fourth quarter of the calendar year and also approved permitting club presidents and congressional district vice presidents to be automatic delegates by virtue of their office.

The convention delegates unanimously passed a resolution bearing and severely objecting to "the underhand tactics" of the Republicans in confining the American public by their attacks on the present administration, "which can only lead to additional loss of prestige for our great country and will have a direct bearing on the peace of the world."

The resolve further stated that "dedicated Americans . . . publicly chastise the irresponsible and malicious attacks which are being pursued by the leaders of the Republican Party without just cause or reason."

The resolution was read and presented by Mrs. J. Fritz Gordon, Resolutions Chairman.

Hoffa Problem Faced By AFL Board

NEW YORK (UPI)—The executive council of the AFL-CIO confederate today is facing the problem of how to handle James P. Hoffa and his Teamsters Union.

The question of Hoffa's Teamsters—kicked out of the international union four years ago on charges of corrupt conduct—topped the issues facing the 37-member council as it drew up plans for the December national convention.

AFL-CIO president George Meany was under pressure from supporters of Hoffa, who are urging the Teamsters' re-admission and from others headed by Joseph A. Beine, president of the Communications Workers of America, who would set up a rival Teamster Union.

Robert E. Tolar, 86, Dies Here

Robert E. Tolar, 86, of 807 South Magnolia, died Sunday afternoon after a lengthy illness. He was born June 18, 1875 at Cairo, Ga. and came to Sanford in 1902.

Mr. Tolar was employed by the old J. T. and K. W. Railroad in 1902 and in 1905 was made a fireman. The road was taken over in 1902 by the Plant System and Mr. Tolar was promoted to engineer.

He remained as engineer when the Plant System was taken over by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad for which he worked until his retirement Nov. 30, 1944. In 1945 he was presented with a 50-year service pin of gold with a diamond setting.

Mr. Tolar was a member of the First Baptist Church here and at one time served as a deacon. He also was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

He is survived by his wife, Eva Gadick Tolar; a daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Tolar Nance; a sister, Loretta Breiberson, Mount Dora; a brother, H. E. Tolar of Winter Haven; two grandsons, Murray E. Nance and Nolly T. Nance, who is serving in the Army in Germany.

Funeral services will be announced later, pending word from Germany. Brison Funeral Home is in charge.

Scouts Tour Fire Station

The Cub Scouts of Pack 543, Den 5 and 2 made a tour of Fire Station No. 1 Saturday in connection with Fire Prevention Week.

Some 14 scouts participated in the tour. Den mothers are Pat Leonard and Betty O'Connor. Den Chiefs are Wayne Stankiewicz and Victor LaFila.

Meetings took up the morning and afternoon of the next day with a glamorous luncheon and fashion show, featuring models and beautiful clothing and hats from the Maas Brothers' new store which is opening soon in Clearwater, held at noon.

Guests at the luncheon and at the banquet Friday night, both held in the grand ballroom of the Jack-Tar Harrison Hotel, were started to find President Kennedy, accompanied by his lovely wife Jackie, smiling at them from the balcony of the ballroom, standing in front of a graceful backdrop before pillars festooned with red, white and blue streamers and huge rosettes. The realistic-looking figures of the President and his Lady were made of wax

'Keep The Gifts,' Longwood Firemen Say At Meeting

The Longwood Volunteer Firemen went on record Tuesday night as being completely opposed to eliminating gifts for children at the Annual Community Christmas Party.

A representative from another of the city's civic organizations, appearing at the Volunteer's business meeting Tuesday night, informed the men that his group had voted to omit the toys. His statement brought a flood of protests out of which came, when order finally was restored, the department resolution stating that "under no circumstances are the gifts to be eliminated."

"In fact," Chief Claude Layo reported, "the firemen are in favor of a bigger and better party similar to those of past years when in the late afternoon all the people would gather to open the event by singing Christmas Carols and Santa's arrival, sometime in the early evening, would conclude the activity."

"This year," he said, "the firemen already have planned to decorate the park and a large Christmas tree for the enjoyment of our children and adults during the holidays."

DeBary Cancer Unit Cited

Mrs. Beatrice E. Muller, chairman of the DeBary Unit of the American Cancer Society, reported today that the Unit has received a "Quota Toppers Club" card from the society's Florida division.

Ford, UAW Continue To Work To Settle Local Disputes

DETROIT (UPI) — Ford and the United Auto Workers concentrated on settling local disputes at 33 plants today with the government hoping for an early end to the strike by 120,000 workers.

UAW president Walter P. Reuther and Ford vice president Malcolm L. Denise for the present ignored national issues which triggered the walkout last Tuesday.

Instead, they worked on local plant problems which also must be settled before the strike can end. Neither man would predict a date for a final agreement.

Reuther and Denise met secretly over the weekend with Federal Mediation Chief William E. Simkin. After huddling with the two men, Simkin said he was hopeful of an early agreement.

But there were signs the strike might worsen. One Detroit area UAW local talked of massing pickets to keep non-union salaried workers from passing through plant gates, action which could lead to a court injunction against the UAW.

The union was having troubles on another front. Workers at the American Motors' Kenosha, Wis., plant rejected the UAW's historic profit sharing contract with AMC. Workers at other AMC plants earlier approved the pact.

Top UAW and AMC officials here were wary of commenting on the development. They said they would await official word from Kenosha before deciding what to do.

But Reuther indicated the contract was not dead because "it's got to be figured in terms of the whole corporation." Then he begged off further comment on grounds that "I've been wrapped up in the Ford talks and I'm not up to date on the details" of the AMC vote.

Reuther and Denise met for less than two hours Saturday but did reach agreement on a "very important" issue — jurisdictional rights of skilled and unskilled workers. Reuther said the issue was a key one in more than 20 plants and within 24 hours of the accord here four key plants came to terms.

Still to be settled were three national issues — production standards, outside contracting, and union representation. Money matters are not at stake. They were agreed on just before the strike started.

Experience

President Kennedy and his young team in the White House are providing some sharp surprises as they fill out major administrative posts.

Chosen to replace Alan W. Dulles as head of the Central Intelligence Agency is John A. McCone, 59, Republican businessman and veteran of the Eisenhower administration.

To lead the brand new Arms Control and Disarmament Agency the President picked another Republican, William C. Foster, 54, also a businessman, with long government experience under both parties.

His first choice for new foreign aid boss was George Woods, Boston banker of established conservative leanings. His name was later withdrawn.

But where are the fighting young frontiersmen we were told would help lead this administration's ventures into the uncharted future? The President seems to be settling for some pretty grizzled old hands.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

The Judge in our courts deserve great praise for they will retain their belief in human nature despite having to sit day after day and listen to such feuding between kin folk as that described today.

CASE 4-48: Bert R., aged 38, is a prominent California actor.

"Dr. Crane, an interesting case was tried in our court not long ago," he informed me.

"An elderly lady of 60 was dying in a local hospital. Yet the latter's two married daughters and her adult son, all in the 40's themselves got into a fight at the mother's bedside.

"Apparently, the argument started over who should give their dying mother her medicine.

"The brother and one sister attacked the other sister. They bitched her eyes; then kicked and beat her in insensitively. "She later sued them for $10,000 damages. The case certainly illustrates your oft stated point that blood kinship holds no magic.

"Let's hope the dying mother was in a coma so she couldn't have been heartbroken as a result of this deathbed brawl between her own grown children."

Previously, I have told you that the true parent-child bond is purely a spiritual matter.

I recommend that when a young couple cannot have children of their own, when sterility is a scientific fact, they might very profitably adopt a child.

This unfortunate case today indirectly proves the point that blood kinship holds no magic. Nor does it weld people closely together in love and devotion.

Cain killed his brother Abel. King David's son tried to kill David and seize the throne.

And today there are numerous cases of jealousy and quarreling between adult brothers and sisters, even at the bedside of their dying parents.

Certainly it is very common to find them starting feuds as soon as the hearse and property are to be parcelled out.

I have seen adult children of the "flesh and blood" variety, actually bring their aged parents to the grave in shame and sorrow because the children wanted the property of the old folks, and couldn't wait till death.

Because the parents happened to be long-lived or might have remarried, the children then tried to have them adjudged insane or incompetent in hopes of getting control of the old folks' real estate.

Don't think that such ungrateful children are rare. And don't assume that they have a sub-normal intelligence. Many of them are college graduates.

It amazes me to think of the mercenary feuding that I have thus witnessed in my lifetime among people who were "flesh and blood" kin.

These evil children have never lifted their fingers to help assuage the wealth of their aged parents. The old folks alone had slaved and saved to lay aside that money for their sons and daughters.

But the father, like greedy vultures, often cannot even wait till the death of their parents before starting the grand battle over antique chairs or cupboards, as well as real estate and stocks or bonds.

It's a wonder our Judges have any confidence in human nature at all after spending their working days listening to the petty wrangling and quarrels between husbands and wives or between brothers and sisters.

But such failures of parent-child relationships do not negate the fact that unselfish love can and does exist between parents and children.

It simply shows that blood is not thicker than water. It proves that the spiritual or psychological bonds are the only true evidence of kinship.

No adopted child would ever have treated this dying mother worse than her own children apparently have done, so have no hesitation in adopting youngsters.

Private Opinions Made Public

Appease and concede are so near alike in the dictionary that Washington is going to have a tough time convincing the majority of Americans that it isn't appeasing when it is conceding. . . . Read Webster's definitions of the two words and you'll see why so many of us are going to wonder about the outcome of the Berlin talks.

The only concessions the Russians are going to make — my guess, anyway — are ones involving rights which we have under the law. . . . That is, they are going to give us what already legally belongs to us. . . . Big-hearted, to say the least. . . . Actually, Khrushchev got just about all he wanted the day he sealed off East Berlin with hardly a protest. . . . It'll be the day when he opens it, either as an act of appeasement or a generous concession.

Domestic note: housewives have long hours largely because women are nowhere nearly as efficient workers as men. . . . They take twice as long to do a task as a man would. . . . They like to dawdle, dislike quick actions and decisions. . . . A man can (or could) get a child off to school in half the time it takes a gal to do the job. . . . Men are much faster cooks, too, and I am sure they could sweep and dust a house in half the time a woman requires for the job.

The best sports news in a long time is that Casey Stengel is coming back to baseball as the manager of the new New York National League club. . . . The Yanks have always had the major share of publicity in New York. . . . That will change when Casey unlocks his jaws after a year's abstinence. . . . After a year in hibernation, Ol' "Case" will break the world's non-stop talk record (his own) before the season is half finished.

What would the Las Vegas odds be on Richard Nixon's not shooting for the Presidency in 1964 despite his statement on the subject? . . . I'd say one to ten. . . . No, one to twenty. . . . When a man gets as close to a job as he did in November, he is bound to have one more crack at it. . . . Or try to.

Americans are the politest people on earth. . . . Europeans have that reputation, but live in Europe a few months and you'll agree that for common, every-day niceness and politeness, Americans have it all over the hand-kissing, low-bowling, flattering-word Old Worlders. . . . This Old World charm of manner is very impressive at the start, but live with it a while and it begins to wear thinner than a slice of poeluto.

Another reflection on the Russians: If Khrushchev is crazy, he is going to make war whether he is appeased or not. . . . If he is sane, he isn't going to envelop the world in nuclear war over Berlin or East Germany, so why doesn't standing up to him make sense?

I cannot find it in my heart to care whether "Cleopatra" is ever finished, whether Liz Taylor is fat, thin, or medium-sized, or whether she is nice to visitors (even Congressmen) on the set. . . . It's about time to bring in the asp and let it bite the whole picture.

There was only one thing wrong with the six-day bike race revival in Madison Square Garden. . . . The riders rode in a circle and not straight ahead.

Peter Edson's

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Whether the rift between the Kennedy administration and big business can be patched up a little may be decided at the select Business Council meeting in Hot Springs, Va., Oct. 20-22.

Formerly known as the Business Advisory Council — BAC — the group of 60 blue-chip executives lost their 27-year-old happy home-stand in Department of Commerce early this year.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges invited them out unless they would agree to end their secret meetings, admit the press to their briefings by government officials, take in more small businessmen, let him be chairman and pick the members.

Hodges actually picked the members in the past. But he picked them from nominees selected by BAC. What it tried to do was submit slates of top men from 25 major industries, geographically distributed.

They were selected for knowledgeability, national interests, willingness to work and lack of political connections. Each member served five years, then became inactive.

There are 175 active and inactive members living today. The combined worth of their companies has been estimated at well over $100 billion. Their general function has been to advise the government on how big business views the economy and what ought to be done about it.

U. S. Steel's Roger Blough became chairman this year. He succeeded General Electric's Ralph Cordiner, who resigned because of press of other duties after the government's charges against his industry for collusion bidding. Other members include Henry Ford II, Frederick R. Kappell of AT&T, and so on.

Rather than surrender their long-held privileges, the council moved its small headquarters office under executive secretary John Burke Jr. into a new office building a half-dozen blocks from the White House.

There it reopened its stand under the name of "Business Council," without the "advisory." But the members still say they want to be of service to their country. Hundred-thousand-dollar-a-year-men and up, as it were, moonlighting without pay.

In 1960 the council considered enlarging its field so that it didn't work for just one department of government. Nothing was done about that then, but that's what it may do now. Currently, the council has only one government job. It is a seven-man evaluation of U. S. Maritime Commission, under Donald David.

That Kennedy wants top business brains in his administration is shown by his naming of John A. McCone to run Central Intelligence Agency and William C. Foster to head the new Disarmament and Arms Control Agency.

The President called in a group of 17 executives early this summer to ask help in recruiting manpower for top jobs in government. All but one were council members. The council held its fifth meeting of the year recently, without administration sponsorship. But the president invited the members to the White House for cocktails. And the next evening, at their usual black-tie dinner, they were briefed by three top-drawer government officials.

Hodges denied the charge. But he moved to downgrade the council. One of his criticisms was that it had become too much of a high society club. If it was going to be of service to government it would have to reorganize.

That's what it's doing. But it is writing its own prescription.

They were: UN ambassador and nuclear test ban negotiator Arthur H. Dean, Undersecretary of Labor William Wirtz, and White House National Security adviser McGeorge Bundy. Speech texts of the last two were made public, as Hodges wished.

How Hodges broke with the council in the first place makes an interesting story now going the rounds.

When Hodges appeared before a congressional committee on depressed area redevelopment legislation, Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) objected to the program being run from Department of Commerce because, he said, the department was dominated by the Business Advisory Council.

Hodges denied the charge. But he moved to downgrade the council. One of his criticisms was that it had become too much of a high society club. If it was going to be of service to government it would have to reorganize.

That's what it's doing. But it is writing its own prescription.

Some Farmers, Buyers Reviving Barter System

ATLANTA (UPI) — Merchant credit, a two-centuries old method of exchange between businessman and farmer, is reappearing on a big scale in the South, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta.

The method, which sharecroppers and tenant farmers used to call "the furnish," means that a merchant supplies farmers with equipment and goods and collects only when the crop is sold.

The reserve bank said the broker chicken industry in the South east is being invaded heavily by merchant credit. The bank said in this industry it appears to be a matter of convenience to finance many things in one big package.

The method first appeared in the South in the 18th Century when British merchants supplied farmers thousands of miles away with seeds, tools and other goods on long-range credit at high interest.

It was the dominant feature of the South's cotton economy until a modern banking system, diversified agriculture and government farm aid programs all but wiped it out.

The reserve bank said now it is reappearing because certain sections of modern southern agriculture find it convenient and need more capital than banks and finance companies will supply quickly.

The reserve bank said that for the merchant the incentive to extend such credit is more to expand sales than to earn interest.

Greyhounds Grab Win; Sock Admirals

By PETE LEVEQUE

With devastating gridiron action, Lyman High's still undefeated Greyhounds leaped furiously ahead to upend the Cadets of St. Petersburg's Admiral Farragut Academy 21-3 at Lyman field Friday night in a bloody football scramble that gave the Greyhounds their fourth win of the season.

Early in this football contest Head Coach Bill Proctor found his boys confronted with a powerful display of force in Farragut's "hard rushing line" with an almost overwhelming average weight margin of 16 pounds in favor of Admiral Farragut.

The Greyhounds were sparked to an early 2-0 lead in the first quarter of the ball game with a powerful and sure tackle for a 2 point touchdown gain by starting offensive guard, Marvin Fellows, a 160 pound junior.

With a spectacular 35 yard run for a touchdown early in the third quarter, Lyman star offensive halfback Paul Blackford forged ahead for the Greyhounds' first touchdown, increasing the Lyman lead in the game 9-0. The extra point was tried for by Blackford and missed.

Near the end of the third quarter, offensive halfback Jim Williams returned a punt, setting up a touchdown play which halfback Paul Blackford carried out in good form, scoring for the Greyhounds in a desperate 4 yard plunge over the goal line.

Another highlight of the third quarter was a brilliant play by END RON HUGGINS (88) of the Lyman Greyhounds has just connected with a pass in the third quarter of their game with Admiral Farragut and is being tackled. Lyman piled up 21 points to their opponent's 2.

135 pound quarterback Fred Grant in a well-tossed 10 yard pass to Lyman's 180 pound starting end Ron Huggins who received the pigskin just before almost being forced out of bounds on Lyman's 45 yardline.

In the fourth quarter, Lyman's 130 pound fullback Carl Presley, after receiving a bad nose puncture in a first quarter scramble, rallied forcefully to intercept and carry back 60 yards a pass intended for Admiral Farragut. Lyman's final touchdown to bring the final score to 21-3 was made by halfback Jim Williams in the fourth quarter. The extra point was tried for by Williams and made.

Offensive guard Marvin Fellows received a blackened eye in the second quarter and was taken out. Lyman tackle Bill Toonk was knocked out in the third quarter. Attending physician Dr. George Culpepper said Toonk was badly shaken up but that no serious internal damage had occurred. Toonk remained out for the rest of the game.

Unsportsmanlike conduct was the keynote of this football game. Admiral Farragut Academy was penalized a total of 85 yards for violations ranging from unsportsmanlike conduct to delay of the game.

Lyman Head Coach Bill Proctor in an interview after the game stated that he was "reasonably satisfied with the results of Friday's game — more so than in previous games." He felt that the "Greyhounds" kicking was much better, but their passing was very weak and needs to be worked on.

Coach Proctor felt "that on the basis of the official reports that an excessive amount of personal fouls had been committed," but that he "was pleased with the way his boys conducted themselves in the situation."

Top Gridiron Clash On TV Saturday

United Press International

The men who make up the NCAA football television schedule sure showed some foresight when they picked Michigan State and Michigan — two of the country's top gridiron powers — for this week's nationally televised game.

Fourth-ranked Michigan State and eighth-rated Michigan, sporting unbeaten records and fresh from convincing victories in last weekend's action, run into each other at Ann Arbor Saturday.

It's not too early for the program-makers, who arrange the schedule months in advance, to ascertain what college football game would best suit the TV fans. Not for the second straight week the armchair viewers are in for an exciting afternoon, starting at 2:15 p. m., EDT, over ABC.

Last Saturday, top-ranked Iowa had more trouble than expected and wound up in a thriller while holding on for a 35-34 triumph over Southern California in the TV game-of-the-week.

The Spartans of Michigan State warmed up this week's traditional battle by battering previously unbeaten Stanford, 31-3. Michigan's surprising Wolverines, led by halfback Bennie McRae, routed Army, 38-8.

Of the remaining top ranked teams, only Georgia Tech, Syracuse and Baylor face tough opponents in the coming week's contests. The third-ranked Ramblin' Wrecks host undefeated Duke (3-0) in seeking to rebound after a stunning 18-0 loss to Louisiana State; Syracuse, rated No. 9 and a 22-21 loser to Maryland, hits the road against Nebraska (2-0-1), and 10th-ranked Baylor, idle last week meets Arkansas (2-1).

Iowa is at home in this week against Indiana (0-3) in a Big Ten clash. Mississippi, second-ranked and seeking to displace the Hawkeyes as the nation's No. 1 team, plays Houston (11-1) at home. The Rebels, who blanked Florida State, 33-0, Saturday, possess a 3-0 record and a string of 16 victories.

Fifth-ranked Texas, which romped over Washington State, 41-8, meets Oklahoma, winless in two starts, at Austin, Tex.; Missouri, No. 6 ranked, hopes to bounce back on the road against Oklahoma State (1-2) after tying California, (14-14) and seventh-rated Alabama (3-0) will try to contain passing wizard Roman Gabriel and North Carolina State (1-2) at home.

Rabb Finds Home With Bill Eleven

United Press International

Warren Rabb, who got tired of waiting for a chance to play with the Detroit Lions of the rival National Football League, looks like he has found a home with the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League.

The 24-year-old Rabb, who came to the Lions as their No. 2 draft choice in 1960 but was forced to play third fiddle behind Earl Morrill and Jim Ninowski, made his initial appearance with the Bills on Sunday and directed them to a 21-13 victory over the Houston Oilers.

Rabb threw for one touchdown pass and led a six-play march for another in the final period as Houston went down to its third straight defeat—the longest losing streak for the defending champions, who dropped only four games last season.

Buffalo's victory, coupled with Boston's 38-27 loss to the San Diego Chargers on Saturday night moved the Bills into a second-place tie with the Patriots in the Eastern Division race. Both teams are 1 1/2 games behind the New York Titans, idle this past weekend along with the Oakland Raiders.

Harriel's Beauty Nook Tops League

Harriel's Beauty Nook leads in the Jet Lanes Bowling League and there is a four-way tie for second place among Levy's, Adams Painters, Yowell's and Richards. Then follow Toy Coral, Park Avenue Pharmacy, Mary Ethers, Dawn's Beauty Salon and Bill's Tavern.

Splits of 3-10 were scored by Taki Leach, Kay Bowman, Louise Grayson, Fran Macey and Viola Kastner. Arianna Dederer scored a 6-10 split, Celeste Smith a 5-7 and Viola Kastner a 2-8-10.

Verna Bolton scored a 2-5 game and Jan Blackwelder rolled six consecutive strikes for 217.

Junior High Raps Eau Gallie

By CHESTER OXFORD

It was like a missile blowing up on the pad for the Eau Gallie Titans Saturday night on their own range, as the Junior High Light Squad Braves boomed them to the tune of 12 to 7.

Well known throughout the East Coast for their Midget Football abilities and having defeated Hendersonville, N. C., plus playing scheduled games with such teams as Jamestown, N. Y., Canton, N. C., as well as various Florida teams the Eau Gallie team and its sponsors can well be proud, even in defeat.

Some 150 Sanford fans took the 70 mile jaunt to back the boys from Seminole land. Not to be outdone and be the first loser of any one of four Sanford football teams.

the Baby Braves from Junior High went right to work.

After scoring one touchdown on some fine running and a 20 yard pass play from Hinson to Scott, the Braves picked up another six pointer late in the second quarter when Ernie Baumelster intercepted a Titan pass on the Eau Gallie 18 and scampered in for the TD. Both attempts for point after touchdown failed and Sanford led at half-time 12 to 0.

The Titan coach must have peeped his charges at half-time as they came out for the second half mighty fired up. They held the Braves and forced a punt and then marched some 60 yards for a touchdown. The extra point was made and the score read 12-7 Sanford.

Late in the fourth period the boys from Misaleland once again forced Sanford to punt. They took the ball and marched to the Braves' six yard line. At this point the Sanford boys, led by big (118 pounds) Steve Harris dug in. They held the Titans and took over with one minute remaining. They ran the clock out on quarterback keepers as the Titans "fizzled."

The entire Sanford team looked good with quarterback Ronnie Hinson and guard Steve Harris leading the way on offense and defense respectively.

With his heartbeat and blood pressure subsiding to normal after the game, Coach Mays said, "We were fortunate to win this one."

Fourth Series Game Was A 'Laugh'

United Press International

CINCINNATI (UPI) — It was what the ball players call "a laughner."

There's just no better way to sum up Sunday's fourth-game 7-0 New York Yankee victory over the Cincinnati Reds because it couldn't have been easier for the American League champions. It wasn't that the Yankees played so well. It's just that the Reds are locked in the vice of a mass hitting slump.

Whitely Ford thus wiped another of Babe Ruth's records off the books as he went five innings to stretch his string of consecutive scoreless innings pitched in World Series competition to 32. Ruth set the previous mark of 28 2/3 innings in 1916 and 1918 when he pitched for the Boston Red Sox.

Ford limited the Reds to four hits in five innings plus before departing with a slightly injured foot. But Jim Coates, a hard-throwing right-hander who is the Yankees' No. 1 "long" relief pitcher, proved every bit as tough and allowed only one single the rest of the way.

Jim O'Toole, who lost, 2-0, to Ford in the opening game, pitched three shutout innings but the Yankees clipped him for a run in the fourth on Roger Maris' inning-opening walk. Mickey Mantle's long single to left center and Elton Howard's double-play ground-er.

O'Toole, who manager Fred Hutchinson said "had better stuff than in the first game," had two out and nobody on when he got himself into trouble in the fifth by walking Ford. The Yankees, who are always delighted to accept such gratuities, promptly penalized O'Toole with consecutive singles by Bobby Richardson and Tony Kubek which sent Ford home and New York into a 2-0 lead.

After that it was a lark. Howard's double, a walk, Bill Skowron's single and a double by Clete Boyer boosted the lead to 4-0 in the sixth inning and two walks and singles by Richardson, Hector Lopez and Skowron plus an error by center fielder Vada Pinson added three more in the seventh.

Ford had a little trouble in the fourth inning when Eddie Kasko singled and Robinson was hit by a pitched ball for the first of the two times in the game, but Willy Post hit into a rally-killing double play. The Reds twice had two runners on against Coates but he retired Post in the sixth and Gene Freese and Gordon Coleman in the ninth to end those threats.

The victory extended Ford's own World Series record to nine wins. He has lost four. He started his streak in the 1960 Series with two shutouts against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Browns, Packers, Forty-Niners Have Good Day In Pro Circuit

United Press International

There may be a lot of power in that "bazooka" that was Bobby Mitchell of the Cleveland Browns, who went on the most explosive spree of the day in a 3-7 rout of the Washington Redskins. Mitchell made a great catch on a 32-yard touchdown pass, ran back a punt 64 yards and raced 31 yards from scrimmage for a third TD.

The Green Bay Packers showed plenty of fire power, too, in annihilating the Baltimore Colts, 43-7. Paul Hornung scored 33 points on 4 touchdowns, a 38-yard field goal and 6 conversions.

Probably the most unexpected barrage, however, was laid down by the Chicago Bears in their 31-17 upset over the Detroit Lions.

In other games, the New York Giants defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 24-9; the Philadelphia Eagles edged the Pittsburgh Steelers, 21-16, and the Dallas Cowboys drubbed the Minnesota Vikings, 29-0.

When all the shooting had died down, San Francisco and Green Bay were tied for first place in the Western Division, and Philadelphia, Cleveland, New York and Dallas despatched in the East, all with 3-1 records.

A few of these records are bound to be spoiled next Sunday when the Browns entertain the Packers and the Cowboys are at home to the Giants.

Hitchcock Set For Orioles

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Billy Hitchcock is signed, sealed and ready for delivery as manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

The 42-year-old former American League infielder and coach already has agreed to succeed Paul Richards as the Orioles' field boss next season at a $38,800 salary. It was learned Sunday night by United Press International.

Looks Like It's Over For Mantle

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The World Series appears to be all over for Mickey Mantle.

Mantle, hobbling so badly he had to grit his teeth even to walk up the dugout steps, will be missing from the lineup in today's fifth game and there is little chance he'll be able to play even if a sixth or seventh game is necessary.

"Whether or not he plays another inning, Mantle has been a big factor in this Series already," said New York Yankee manager Ralph Houk.

"His base hit in the fourth inning was the turning point of Sunday's game. That was the one that got us started. Just seeing him in the lineup puts pressure on the pitchers."

Mantle's abscessed hip had him depressed although it's nothing that should bother him two or three weeks from now.

"You play all year to get in the blasted thing," he said. "Then you can't play good. It makes you feel lousy."

Woman's Club Opens Season With Luncheon - Meeting

The first general business luncheon and program meeting of the Sanford Woman's Club was held Wednesday at the clubhouse. Luncheon was served at noon with Mrs. H. Wayne Rucker and her committee, in charge of arrangements. Assisting were Mrs. W. D. Hoffman, Mrs. C. L. Redding, Mrs. Frank Evans, Mrs. G. E. Quinn and Mrs. D. C. Howard.

Mrs. H. C. Echelberger, first vice president, presided at the business session in the absence of Mrs. W. L. Gramkow, president, who was attending the state board meeting at Fort Lauderdale. Members voted to adopt as their project for the year, a youth code for Seminole County. Mrs. George Wells, project chairman, told the group that Doug Stenstrom Jr., president of the Seminole High School Student Body, had in cooperation with the students and faculty adopted a code, whereby each student would sign a "code of ethics card."

The Woman's Club will underwrite the expense of this school project and have the code cards printed and later purchase a plaque.

It was decided to sponsor a girl to "Girls State" next spring. It was announced that the big fund raising project for the year would be, sponsoring of the Sanford Male Chorus in their annual concert, at the Civic Center on Nov. 14. All members will assist with the ticket selling.

Mrs. O. M. Harrison resigned as chairman of the Social Department. An election was held and Mrs. George Stine was unanimously elected to the position.

The club will be host to the County Federation of Women's Clubs on Nov. 16, members were urged to attend, Mrs. R. A. Smith announced that tickets were still available for the DeBary-Sanford Entertainment Assn. concert.

A lengthy discussion was conducted regarding the merits of making needed repairs to the club building or selling it and building a new one.

Mrs. C. L. Redding, second vice president and membership chairman, introduced three new members, Mrs. Grady Duncan, Mrs.

D. C. Ragan and Mrs. John W. Whitam. Mrs. Whitam is a transfer member from Palmdale, Calif. Mrs. Rosalin Jordan, mother of Mrs. Bob Drabik, was welcomed as the guest of Mrs. O. M. Harrison.

Greeting guests at the door were courtesy hostesses, Mrs.

Francis Meriwether, Mrs. B. B. Crumley, Mrs. Stine and Mrs. Wells. The building was decorated with basket arrangements of podocarpus and pink hibiscus. The speaker's table held a floral arrangement of fuschia and lavender pinks in a crystal bowl, encircled with pink hibiscus.

Programs Presented By Circle And WMU

The Shirley Smith Circle of the WMU of Pinecrest Baptist Church held their monthly business and program meeting at the church at 10:30 a. m.

Mrs. Adwon Clark gave the opening devotions and Mrs. Lucille Abrams, newly elected circle president, presided. It was decided to continue sponsoring Cathy Bluet, a girl at the Baptist Children's Home, in Lakeland.

Mrs. Vester Smith presented the program on "The World on our Doorstep." She was assisted by Mrs. Lucille Abrams, Mrs. C. L. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Harley Sykes, Mrs. Paul Martin and Mrs. Harold Davis.

Following the program, a covered dish luncheon was served.

Lake Mary Circle To Meet Tuesday

All ladies of the First Baptist Church of Lake Mary are urged to attend the WMU Circle meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Lamar Stokes, Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

This will be a combined meeting of both circles and all women who are interested are invited and welcome.

Osteen Class Meets At Tyson Home

The Adult Ladies Sunday School class of the Osteen Baptist Church held their regular monthly get-together at the home of Mrs. Mildred Tyson.

Mrs. A. C. Tyson, president, presided and appointed chairmen for the coming year.

Mrs. Albert Clark gave an inspiring devotional on, "The Heart and Joys of Christian Life." Mrs. Harry Osteen, program chairman conducted a Biblical quiz.

Refreshments of chilled dessert, nuts, tea and coffee were served to the following guests, Mrs. Tyson, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Osteen, Mrs. Robert Williams, Mrs. Guy Beall, Mrs. G. A. Tyler, Mrs. George Hirt, Mrs. John Tatum Jr., Mrs. Levi Van Eiten, Mrs. Robert Rynish and the hostess.

CPO Wives Club And Guests Enjoy Social

Fifty members of the CPO Wives Club, their husbands and guests gathered at the Naval Air Station Ballroom and enjoyed a covered dish supper, sponsored by the club.

An abundance of delicious food tempted the group and the event proved to be a very enjoyable affair. The men present had the most difficult task of the evening when they were required to vote for the three tastiest dishes.

Mrs. Berenice Jarrell won first place for her delicious stuffed green peppers. Her prize was a table cloth. Coming in second was Mrs. Evelyn Uhr, with her stuffed cabbage. She received a cookie press for her efforts. Mrs. Lee Babb won a deck of playing cards with her fruit salad.

Following the supper and voting contest, an evening of bridge and canasta was enjoyed by the group.

The next meeting of the club is scheduled for Oct. 18 in the NAS Ballroom. All wives of Chief Petty Officers, on active duty or retired, are cordially invited to attend. A special welcome is extended to the wives whose husbands have recently been promoted to Chief.

Plans Nearing Completion For Project

Items for sale, salesladies and customers are the three basic ingredients of the third annual outgrown sale, sponsored by the Episcopal Churchwomen of Holy Cross Church, on Oct. 20 and 21.

Although most of the articles for sale will be outgrown clothing, the "White Elephant" table under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy Holler is always a popular spot. Dozens of unusual items which to their original owners were as "useless as a white elephant" turn out to be just the thing for someone else's needs.

Mrs. Charles Register, chairman of salesladies, reports that she will be on hand at all times from the opening at 8:30 a. m. on Friday until closing time at 9 p. m., and from 8:30 to 6 on Saturday. This insures that all customers can be promptly served.

Posters made by Mrs. Harlan Rhoades and her committee announcing time and place of the sale will soon appear in public places, to attract the attention of potential customers.

Proceeds from the sale will help support many projects not only within Holy Cross but in the community at large, such as the United Church Women. Some funds also go to other work in the Diocese of South Florida, including the Bishop Gray Inn in Orlando. On an international level, proceeds will be used for the support of a Japanese war orphan.

Catholic Club Plans Bake Sale And Dinner

The All Souls Catholic Women's Club met in the Parish Social Hall for the regular monthly meeting.

Preceding the business session, Cdr. J. Andrews, of the Sanford Naval Air Station, presented a film entitled, "Communism on the Map." This was followed by a brief discussion on the facts and figures of communism in our nation.

Plans were formulated for a "League of Nations" dinner. It is scheduled for Nov. 6 in the Social Hall. Members are requested to come in costume representing some foreign country and to bring a favorite dish from that country.

A bake sale was set for Oct. 2 on the parish grounds. Mrs. Jo Milligan was appointed chairman of this project.

The first Negro slave in America was traded in 1540.

Pilot Club Prepares For Visit From District Lt. Governor

Members of the Pilot Club of Sanford are preparing for the official visit of the First Lt. Governor of District Four of Pilot International.

The distinguished visitor, Mrs. Herbert (Marian) Rice, of Jacksonville, will be in Sanford Wednesday, she and her co-pilot, (as husbands of the club members are called) will be guests of the local club at the Mayfair Motel.

They will be honored guests at a dinner at Spencer's Restaurant at 6 p. m. At 8 p. m. the group will meet in the lounge of the Florida State Bank building for the business session and a talk by Mrs. Rice.

The Lt. Governor is a former editor of the Wave, the state magazine for Pilots of District four and served as secretary, during the past year, to Mrs. Louise Everiss, district governor. She is also quite famous throughout Pilot International, especially at all the conventions, for her unique hats and large handbags.

A western theme was carried out throughout the evening. Steak was broiled in an old fashioned syrup kettle and the birthday cake decorated with figures of cowboys.

Birthday Party Honors Mrs. Morris

Mrs. Ernie Morris was honored recently with a surprise party to celebrate her birthday at the MQ ranch.

Hosts for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Herman E. Morris and son Bobby and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Richards and son Tim.

Elder Springs Church Class Adopts Motto

The Friendship Sunday School Class of the Elder Springs Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Ardeen Sizemore, with the president, Mrs. Margaret Griffin, presiding.

Following routine reports, the class voted on the class motto. Class colors are red, white and green.

Mrs. Ruby Wade was appointed corresponding secretary, Mrs. Sizemore, scrap book and Mrs. H. A. Stenstrom, sunshine chairman.

Goal for the quarters is to have an average of 15 attending regularly. Mrs. Ruby Wade will be hostess to the next meeting and members are requested to come in old fashioned dress.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You ran a letter from a mother who said she was careful not to let her dog lick her baby on the mouth because she feared the DOG would catch something from the baby. And you replied, "Now I've heard everything!" Well, you haven't heard everything until you've heard MY story:

I was raised on a ranch, and have been bitten and scratched by every kind of animal found on or near a ranch. No infections resulted. Recently I was involved in a person-to-person fight. I was floored with a blow to my left jaw. This caused my own teeth to penetrate my inner mouth. I was hospitalized for several days, during which time I was injected with every serum known to man to prevent tetanus from killing me.

My personal habits are clean. I have always brushed my teeth and bathed daily. The doctor shocked me with the following statement: "There are more dangerous germs in the human mouth than in the mouth of any animal."

"SHOCKED"

DEAR ABBY: I don't know when I have read anything as revolting as that letter in your column from the woman who didn't want her colie to lick her baby on the mouth because she was afraid of what the COLLIE could get. Honestly, some people are nuts! Please tell her if she is so worried about the dog she should muzzle the baby!

REVOLTED

DEAR ABBY: Yes, that dog owner who wrote to you was absolutely right. A dog's mouth IS cleaner than a human's. You have never seen a dog with bad teeth, and you never will, I'd sooner give my dog a sip of my soda than you!

ANOTHER DOG OWNER

DEAR ANOTHER: Let him have it. It's bad for MY teeth.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell that idiotic woman that it is dangerous to be licked on the mouth by a dog? Have her family physician explain the danger of CYSTICERCUS. I personally have seen children and adults die from it.

Sincerely, M. D.

DEAR ABBY: Apropos the letter in which a reader insisted that her dog's mouth was antiseptic enough to lick her baby's face, but she wasn't sure that the baby was germ-free enough for the dog's safety: A similar controversy took place between my daughter-in-law and me over her standard French poodle. She and I shared a large double bed (my son was away in Service), and she invited her 66-pound dog to make it a threesome. I gave her a choice. The dog or me. She chose the dog, and we haven't spoken since 1944.

WONT SLEEP WITH DOGS

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

A woman learns a lot about women by working with them in clubs and organizations.

At least one of my readers says she learned this much in a year of club work. Says she:

"You can't get women to work unless you give them lots of credit for any little thing they do. That is why meetings are so filled with 'Special thanks to...' announcements, the reading of names of committee members, and so on."

"If you want to get a good turnout for a meeting you have to serve refreshments. Even if half the women are dieting, it gives them a nice, superior feeling to say 'No, thank you.'"

"If a group is large the great speaker isn't important. The women are going to whisper or mentally plan grocery lists anyway."

"The same few women do 90 per cent of the work in any woman's club, and the same few do 90 per cent of the talking, and the same few do 90 per cent of the grumbling."

"Women will donate anything but money to a cause. That's the reason for so many cake sales, bazaars, white elephant sales, and so on."

"No woman can sell a club's membership an idea, however sensible it might be unless she hides her brain behind an air of false modesty. Every other woman is not to take the woman down a peg who is sure of herself.

"One thing you can be sure that women will all remember from any meeting—and that is what the other women were wearing."

"When there is a choice between spending a lot of time or a little money on a project the vote will always be to do the job the hard way."

Is she right? Or did her club president just neglect to mention in meeting that she was responsible for making the chicken sandwiches?

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

Here is another hand that illustrates the luck factor in team play.

What would you do with the South hand after your partner has first doubled a diamond opening and then raised your heart response?

Each South player considered three bids: two no-trumps, and three hearts. One player took the conservative viewpoint and passed. The other decided to go on to three hearts.

This three-heart call left North a problem of his own. Should he pass or go on to game? North

Finally decided that he might as well try for something worthwhile and went on to game.

The play was the same at both tables. West opened the king of spades and for want of anything better to do continued with the ace and jack. South cashed dummy's two high trumps, entered his hand with the king of diamonds for a finesse. When the finesse worked, South was able to take two diamond tricks and to ruff one diamond and discard the other on the ace of clubs.

Where did the luck come in? Didn't the pair that bid the game reap a deserved profit?

Possibly, but would you want to be in game just looking at the North-South cards? Had trump broke 4-1 South would have gone down and would probably have been doubled. If either high spade had shown up in East hand, South would probably have lost three spade tricks. If the diamond finesse had gone wrong South would have lost contract that way.

Highlights

7-7:30 p. m. ABC. Expedition:—"Sacred Well of Sacrifice" Part 1. Numerous difficulties had to be overcome in order to photograph this segment; divers from the U. S., the Mexican navy, as well as archeologists helped to make a fascinating documentary on the dredging operations of the Well, located near the ancient Mayan city of Chikén-Itza in Yucatan. Col. John D. Craig is the series host. A rewarding chapter, with divers risking lives for sake of the Expedition.

8:30-9:30 p. m. CBS. Window on Main Street. The "window" is beginning to become aware in soap opera. In this episode, novelist Brooks has a talk with a young schoolteacher to persuade her not to resign. It seems she'd been spotted doing the romantic bit by one of her students. Starring Robert Young.

10-11 p. m. NBC. Westinghouse Presents—"The Sound Of The Blisters." There are moments when "sound" is better heard than seen. As previewed in Hollywood, the reaction was: Too academic approach, making it seem slightly ponderous at times. Good contributions by Art Carney, Tony Randall, Andre Previn, and other stars don't obviate the fact that a more provocative theme could have been found to fill an hour. Produced, written and with a lecture by Dore Schary doesn't help much. Worth watching, mostly as a conversation piece—to sound off!

10-11 p. m. ABC. Ben Casey—"But Linda Only Smiled." Solid dramatic theme, posing the challenge of a mother's permission vs. a medical opinion. Cathy Reed is brought to a hospital near death as the result of a car accident. Against her mother's refusal, Dr. Ben Casey makes the decision; orders a blood transfusion as the only means of saving the girl's life. Starring Vincent Edwards, as Dr. Casey.

Carolina Student Arrested In Death Of Two By Poisoning

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (UPI)—A Michael Barham, 20, of Burlington, N. C., and William Henry Harrison Johnson Jr., 24, of Statesville, N. C., were arrested Sunday night by police investigating the mysterious poisoning deaths of two other students. Officers said, however, they could find no connection between the arrest of Ralph Seargent of Plainfield, N. J., and the cyanide deaths of two youths Thursday night.

Police Chief W. D. Blake conceded that murder, murder-suicide, or a suicide pact was a possibility in the deaths of James student whom police also questioned. Blake said Seargent admitted giving the capsule to the student with a note—apparently intended as a joke—which read: "This may be your best friend on the way out."

Authorities said that 1-10 of a gram of cyanide would be fatal. Seargent was charged with dispensing poisonous drugs, a misdemeanor.

Blake said it appeared "very unlikely" that Barham and Johnson were poisoned accidentally. He also said, "We've found no motive for suicide."

The deadly poison—probably potassium cyanide—was found in acting poison which produces "high concentration" in the bodies' death almost instantly.

Talent Sparks Taylor Comedy

By PETE LEVEQUE

Playwright Samuel Taylor's two act comedy, "The Pleasure of His Company," presented as the first in a series of five seasonal plays at Orlando's stylish Orange Blossom Playhouse, is a really remarkable display of theatrical talent in a delightful, lighthearted performance that almost everyone would enjoy.

The play centers around a young couple, Roger Henderson and Jessica Poole, who are very much in love. The conflict evolves when Jessica's real father (Biddleford Poole) arrives for their wedding and attempts to steal Jessica from Roger by captivating her with worldly charm and a lively disposition.

As the antagonist of the play, Biddleford or "Pogo" as he is called, causes unrest in the fashionable San Francisco family as slight and amusing tremors occur in the household.

Jay Harder of Jacksonville's Guild Theatre appears almost admirably as Biddleford "Pogo" Poole in the part of a flagrantly charming continental plutocrat whose main occupation is pleasure and a unique talent of saturating himself to the gills with whiskey and soda. Mr. Harder seems to accentuate his role with not a little fervor for realism, and as I am sure you will agree after seeing the play, possibly a little too much realism.

In reality a television cameraman, amateur Jim Gammon, a remarkable young leading man in the part of Roger Henderson, displays a natural ability for acting which is often lacking in the most experienced of actors. In the role of Roger, Jim gives you the impression that he is not in a play, that he has not learned a part, and is only saying what he really believes and feels in a very real and moving situation.

Sunny Gray of the Daytona Beach Little Theatre, in the part of Jessica's mother, Katherine Dougherty, is at times overly-dramatic and in possession of a rather shrill voice, but nevertheless appears satisfactorily as an overly-protective mother and cautious wife.

David Aldrich, even though not quite as old as he appears in the play in the role of Jessica's grandfather, Mackensie Savage, plays the part of a senile old man accustomed to isolation rather well, which is not really saying a lot for a player with twenty-five years of theatre work. Dave's greatest theatrical asset is that he is an actor and lives as an actor; he eats like an actor, drinks like an actor, and talks like an actor. However, if you see the play, you will gather that he doesn't sing like one.

Performances of "The Pleasure of His Company" begin at 8:40 p. m. this Wednesday through Saturday nights at the Orange Blossom Playhouse at 4321 North Orange Blossom Trail.

New Type Of Windshield Planned For Vigilante

North American Aviation's Columbus Division announced recently it has received Navy approval for the installation of a new type of windshield for its AJJ "Vigilante," at a savings of about $5,000 each.

The new windshield is made from stretched acrylic, a type of plastic which, before being shaped, is pulled in both directions to rearrange its molecular structure for shatter resistance.

It replaces the laminated plate safety glass windshield which has been used in the past. Extensive tests conducted in Columbus Division laboratories have shown that the acrylic windshield, while costing less, meets Navy specifications for the AJJ attack weapon system.

The stretched acrylic windshield provides undistorted vision and shatter protection necessary for pilots of supersonic planes, and at the same time saves weight, an important item in aircraft performance.

City Ignored On Road Program, Commission Told

The Sanford Herald

WEATHER: Cloudy through Wednesday. High today, 80-85. Low tonight, 65-70.

VOL. 53 United Press Leased Wire Established 1908 TUESDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1961 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 297

By LARRY VERSHEL
The only bright spot at Monday's City Commission meeting was Attorney Bill Hutchinson's dispassionate discourse on compensation neurosis which included 80 minutes of enlightenment on modern psychology with a little bit thrown in on hernias. Bill's finding: The city had better get a psychologist to examine all future city employees.

The Bellmeade Development Corp. of Daytona Beach will put a shopping center on 27th St. and Orlando Drive in the not too distant future. Some 50,000 square feet of store space will be utilized.

The major part of Monday's City Commission meeting was devoted to persons wanting something for nothing.

A survey of Sanford reveals that street lighting is very adequate, City Manager W. E. Knowles told the commission Monday night.

Seven city employees completed a radiological monitoring course. They were M. A. Yelvington, Lincolner, Sgt. Leo Rock, Patrolman Carl Dodson, D. W. Burnham, Darrell K. Swift and W. E. Knowles.

Only two more days to pick your good government award candidate!

Oops... The old hospital on Oak and Fifth doesn't belong to Seminole Memorial Hospital anymore. It was sold in June.

County Engineer Carlton Bliese denies that there is any county equipment standing around doing nothing. By the way road crews started paving Lakeview Ave. in Lake Mary.

Casselberry apparently expects tonight's "informal discussion" between the County Commission and Seminole County Mayors to become pretty complicated... the Board of Aldermen voted Monday night to send the town's attorney along with Mayor Joe Laird.

What doctor changed his mind about running for the city commission on the advice of his wife?

This is fire prevention week so it might be a good idea if the fire department had some men in the courthouse tonight when the County Commission and county mayors meet at 7:30. Plenty of fireworks expected.

Warning Issued On Forest Fires

Florida Forest Ranger Lewis Williams issued a strong warning to Seminole County residents this morning on the seriousness of the county's extremely dry conditions. According to instruments at the Longwood Fire Tower, the ground moisture level is very near that of the lowest recording in 1960. "If we don't get rain sometime today," Williams said, "by tomorrow the level will be as low as that of last year which proved to be our worst burning day." "Last year's record of 114 wild fires already has been equaled and we have two of our worst months this year yet to come," Williams warned. He urged that extreme precautions be taken by all residents in burning trash and rubbish at home and that fires which get out of control be reported to the nearest official immediately.

Who's Off The Track?

Mayor Wilbur Hawkins of Altamonte Springs said Monday night at the monthly meeting of the Town Council that it was his impression that people in South Seminole County wanted an adequate warning system against fallout. He quoted a wisecrack making the rounds among persons who oppose a warning system to the effect that the sound of the nuclear bomb would be adequate warning, the inference being that no warning system was any good. Hawkins observed: "If warning systems are not any good there are a lot of government and military officials who are way off the track."

Legal Action Set For Bridge Repairs

Graham Wilson, Casselberry road board chairman, Monday night asked the Board of Aldermen to turn the matter of determining who should repair the Seminole Blvd. bridge over to Kenneth McIntosh, town attorney. Wilson said that he attended last week's County Commission meeting and "got nowhere" and that he believed a hearing before the commission should not be considered the town's last resort. He asked that McIntosh be instructed to see whether the county can't be required to repair the bridge which he said was damaged "a couple of weeks ago when Commissioner Jim Avery contracted the Frank W. Griffin Co. of Lake Mary to move heavy clearing equipment onto property he's bought on the lake. This equipment damaged the bridge rails and marred the floor. In fact, one rail was split off and still is in the canal."

Altamonte Votes Dog Control Law

A proposed city ordinance for the regulation of dogs in the town of Altamonte Springs was given first reading and approved Monday night at the monthly meeting of the Town Council. It will come before the November meeting for second reading. Mayor Wilbur Hawkins said after first approval. The ordinance provides for annual inoculation against rabies and licensing. Fees include $1 a year for all males, and $3 for each additional male owned by an individual; $3 for each unspayed female and $1 for each spayed female.

The ordinance calls for vaccination once a year prior to Feb. 1 and the first vaccination must be performed within 30 days after final passage of the ordinance. All dogs will be required to wear their tags attached to collars at all times and the mayor is given the authority to require, in case of emergency or if he considers the situation warrants, that all dogs which run loose be muzzled. This condition will remain in force as long as the mayor considers it necessary. All ferocious dogs must be muzzled and provision is made for the seizure of such dogs when it is considered necessary.

The Council is given the authority to designate a city pound and a pound keeper. Violation of the ordinance provided for a $50 fine or 60 days in jail or both and each day that the ordinance is violated will be considered a separate violation. In other business the Council accepted the offer of Jim Robinson for the purchase by the city of a plot of land at the end of Jasmine Road to be used for a turnaround. The price will not exceed $500. Jasmine is a dead-end street.

The Fire Department was authorized to purchase two tires for the fire truck at a price not to exceed $300 for both tires. Bids will be obtained on the tires. A low bid of $52.23, submitted by the Town Garage, for repair of the police car was accepted. Altamonte Garage submitted a bid of $55.50 for the work. The Council voted Town Clerk Hansen two weeks' extra pay in lieu of his annual vacation, which Mayor Hawkins said Hansen had not taken in seven and a half years. This has been an annual custom for years past.

Altamonte Meeting Sparked By Fireworks

The Altamonte Springs Town Council was the setting Monday night for some verbal fireworks when one resident, Tracy Walker, appeared as spokesman for a group of citizens who wanted answers to some questions which were bothering them. Walker refused to give names of members of the group which he represented and emphasized that the questions were not his but ones which this group had given him.

The first question he wanted answered was why an employee of the Sanitation Department had been fired. The question was directed to Councilman G. V. Gray, who heads this department. Gray said that the employee, John Weeks, was fired because his work was "unsatisfactory." Walker shot back, "I don't consider this a good answer."

Walker next said that members of his group charged that members of the Council, Gray and Homer Sewell, had used city labor to perform some work on their private property. Gray was accused of using a city employee to cut the grass on his yard. Gray readily admitted that the employee had cut his grass but emphasized that the job was done after the man had finished his day's work for the city and that he, Gray, had paid for this work. Sewell was accused of using city labor and equipment to remove trees from his property. Sewell replied emphatically that no city employees or equipment had ever, at any time, been on his private property. He threatened to take legal action and had to be gavelled into silence by Mayor Hawkins. After the meeting ended Sewell said, "I'm going to put my attorney on this thing tomorrow."

Walker left the meeting saying that he would deliver the answers to his group. Shareholders of the Sanford-Seminole Development Company, Inc., will hold their annual meeting at 8 p. m. tonight at the lounge of the Florida State Bank on First Street.

The main item on the agenda is the election of directors, according to S. J. Davis, secretary. He said other business which may properly come before the meeting will be transacted.

Services Held For NAS Fliers

Memorial services were held on Tuesday in the Naval Air Station Chapel for the three crew members that perished in Lake George when their plane crashed during a training flight. At 11 a. m. Chaplain Robert L. Deal, commander USN, held Protestant services for Ldr. D. B. F. Brown and Lt.(jg) T. P. Behrman. At 11:30 a. m. Chaplain R. M. Laurensano, Lieutenant USN, held Catholic services for Richard E. Hennessy, AQB, the third crewman.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department today branded as totally untrue Premier Fidel Castro's charge that the United States was preparing another invasion of Cuba.

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro's government charged Monday night the United States is training invaders at 30 points in the Caribbean area for "large-scale aggression" against Cuba.

Acting Foreign Minister Carlos Olivares told foreign diplomats at a 90-minute meeting the prospective invaders are being trained at 20 places in the United States — mostly in Florida—and 10 U. S. or foreign bases around the Caribbean.

Olivares said the naval base at Guantanamo in eastern Cuba is one of the places where attackers are being trained. He asked the diplomats to report the charges to their governments.

"We are on the eve of another aggression from imperialism, this time bigger than the one Cuba suffered last April," Olivares said. "Let the world know who is the aggressor..."

"The world knows it is better to die on one's feet than to live on one's knees." In connection with the recently reported "plot to assassinate" Castro, Olivares said the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency is planning to wipe out leaders of the Castro government.

Olivares unfurled maps purporting to show where the potential attackers are being trained. The nations he said were involved included: Guatemala, where Olivares said 600 Cuban refugees commanded by Cuban ex-Gen. Eusebio Pedraza are training with the regular army. He said Pedraza "travels between Guatemala, Nicaragua, El Salvador and Miami, getting and giving instructions."

Nicaragua, where the Cuban spokesman said prospective invaders are masquerading as agricultural workers. The Dominican Republic, which Olivares said "is playing a big role in the new aggression," with several hundred invaders including some Europeans in training.

Olivares also denied the authenticity of documents, said to have been extracted from Cuban embassy files in Buenos Aires by a refugee ex-official, purporting to implicate Cuba in a vast anti-Argentine plot.

He said most of the alleged embassy documents bore a facsimile of his signature, while in fact few communications with Cuban embassies are signed either by Olivares or Foreign Minister Raul Roa.

Red Fire Misses; 3 Escape West

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist uniforms forced three fleeing East German teenagers—two boys and a girl—to abandon their motorboat in the Spree River today and swim for their lives to West Berlin. The boys, aged 16 and 17, and the girl, aged 16, had made their way to the Spree from the town of Wildau, 10 miles southeast of Berlin. They found a Red Cross life saving boat and started across to the American sector of Berlin 150 yards away.

Knowles Cites County Figures On Projects

City Manager W. E. Knowles armed with statistics and State Road Department primary and secondary road program reports, told the City Commission Monday night that Sanford has been completely ignored since 1954-'55 as far as the county's primary and secondary road programs are concerned. Ironically, Knowles said the figures for his report were turned over to him by County Commissioner Vernon Dunn and are expected to be discussed at length at a meeting of County Commissioners and mayors of the county tonight.

Two weeks ago, when the county's road program was adopted, mayors in the county expressed concern that they were being left out in the cold as far as road building was concerned. Citing the report, Knowles revealed that in 1955 a total of $500,178.77 was expended for Sanford strictly from the state with no funds included from the county in primary funds. From January of 1956 to June of 1956 it was $173,865.33 and from July of 1956 to June of 1957 it was $3,203.58.

Nothing was expended from June of '57 to June of 1960. This same report, according to Knowles, lists a total of $3,512,377.85 expended in the county during this five and a half year period. This means, Knowles said that Sanford received 12.53 percent of the total funds during the five and a half years.

Knowles emphasized that the report does not indicate how Sanford was ignored for the preceding 10 years with no expenditures. This work, Knowles said, was on the reconstruction of French Ave. and relocation of Hwy 17-92 from Park Ave. The entire amount was from state and federal funds, he added.

Discussing the secondary road program, Knowles said the report contains a breakdown of secondary funds totaling $172,107.04 during the five and a half years. During this period, the city manager explained, the report does not list any expenditures for streets in Sanford.

Secondary funds are from gasoline taxes paid in Seminole County; collected by the state and a portion of said gasoline tax returned to the county from which it was collected to be used by secondary funds, he added. This means, Knowles said, that the tax was paid by residents of Sanford yet there was no return to the Sanford taxpayers by the county.

Knowles said "although primary funds are state and federal, the secondary and bond projects are financed from local taxes. Under these projects, Sanford received nothing," the city manager explained. "During this same five and a half years, at $260,000 per year, the city taxpayers were contributing an estimated $1,430,000 to the county road program."

Therefore, while the state and federal governments were making a return to the Sanford resident for their tax dollar, the report clearly shows that the county was returning nothing while taking one and a half million in taxes from the Sanford taxpayer," he added. In other business, the commission, agreed to consider retaining Prof. William Howard of Gainesville on a consulting basis to do an actuarial cost study for a pension plan for city employees. Cost of the study was set at $703.

Approved three requests for exemption from city license fees and turned down another; Approved a plat for Golden Gates presented by William Kirk; Approved final ordinance on annexation of the Grace Methodist Church; Approved first reading of an ordinance amending the fee schedule for liquor license to comply with the state law schedule; Agreed to hold a public hearing on vacating of a north-south alley of 27th St. between Oak and Park Aves.

Navy Copters Rescue 74 In Typhoon

TOKYO (UPI)—U. S. Navy helicopters sped ahead of the fleet today to rescue 74 seamen—most of them Americans—from freighters driven aground by typhoon winds. Forty-seven men were picked up from the 9,200-ton American freighter Pioneer Muse, stranded on tiny Kita Daito Island Monday by Typhoon Violet. The other 27 came from the 7,500-ton Lebanese ship Shiek, which ran aground eight days ago under the lash of an earlier typhoon.

Violet brushed Japan's eastern coast today, killing at least two persons and injuring 18 in the densely populated Tokyo-Yokohama area. Wind and rain damage was extensive, although the island nation missed the full impact of the typhoon's 100-mile-an-hour winds. About 30 houses were destroyed or heavily damaged by the storm, and an estimated 60,000 were flooded. Flood damage was limited by the fact that the tide was low when the storm hit. So far as was known, none of Japan's American residents was harmed by the typhoon. Helicopters from the 7th Fleet aircraft carrier Princeton picked up the stranded crewmen of the Pioneer Muse and the Shiek before warships on the way from the big U. S. base on Okinawa could reach the scene. No one aboard the American ship was hurt. The captain and the chief engineer of the Shiek were killed when it ran aground, but the Navy reported the survivors in "good condition."
