Fire training facility draws criticism

By Christopher Patton
Managing Editor

Natural Lands Committee sees

conflict; commission to decide Tuesday

County commissioners are scheduled to decide Tuesday if they will approve a $2.4 million expenditure for the fire department to purchase an existing industrial site for a Fire/Rescue Emergency Training Center.

However, a sticking point for some may be a new contention voiced by the Natural Lands Committee that it's improper to put a 'business' in an area the county is actively trying to preserve.

The 19-acre property is ideal for the fire department, according to public safety officials, as it is centrally located in the county at 201 Valentine Way — near the Environmental Studies Center on State Road 419. It's that proximity to the environmental center that makes some Natural Lands Committee members balk at the idea of the training facility. In addition, it is almost totally surrounded by properties purchased to create a green belt in the Spring Hammock Preserve near Soldier's Creek. The committee voted Monday in favor of recommending to county commissioners that they have the opportunity to purchase the land to preserve.

Beginning its 30th year of service, the county fire department is the second largest in Central Florida — after recently taking over the Altamonte Springs department — but it often travels to Dayvona Beach, Lake County or Tampa to train. User fees are charged at these training sites to pay for a portion of the building upkeep and operational costs, and local fire officials plan to do the same at the proposed Seminole County training facility.

"For the county on one hand to say we believe in the conservation of these natural lands, which they've done for 20 years now by continually buying in that area, and on the other hand we're going to create a business in the middle of it, that doesn't make sense," said Bob Goff, a Natural Lands Committee member.

Teenager takes reckless joy ride

A 15-year-old girl, too young to drive, went on a joy ride Wednesday that ended with a deputy throwing out stop sticks to disable the car and another officer using a taser to subdue the resisting teenager.

Linda Pearson, of 2450 Broadway St., located in the Midway community east of Sanford, allegedly took the vehicle without permission from her older sister, who was at work at the time.

As a Seminole County Sheriff's Office deputy filed a report of the stolen white Mitsubishi Galant at about 6:30 p.m., Sanford police radioed in a similarly described vehicle refusing to stop on Mellenville Avenue. According to the arrest report, Sanford authorities ended pursuit of the car due to the suspect's reckless driving. About two minutes later, another Sanford officer located the vehicle in the area of 27th Street near State Road 600, and was able to verify it was the stolen car in question.

With the assistance of a sheriff's office helicopter, officers on the ground were able to keep track of the movement of the vehicle without directly following it. Sheriff's office Sgt. Randy Garrett stationed himself near the intersection of Celery and Mellenville avenues, as the car with no headlights on approached him, driving eastbound on Celery.

He deployed his stop sticks — a plastic bar an officer can throw across a traffic lane that contains Teflon-coated quills which break off to puncture tires slowly — hitting both passenger side tires. The car came to a halt near Summerlin Avenue at Montezuma Drive. Pearson, however, fled on foot until a Sanford officer was able to cut her off and deploy his taser — a battery-powered gun that can administer a charge of up to 50,000 volts from as far as 20 feet away, which allows an officer to subdue a suspect without using physical force.

She was charged with grand theft auto and was transported to the county juvenile assessment center.

Iraqi Diary: Shoulder problems

Editor's note: Staff Sgt. Charlie C. Carlson III, son of Sanford historian Charlie C. Carlson II, is deployed in Baghdad as part of the 549th Military Police Company. He is providing the Herald with a journal of his experiences.

Some readers may be wondering about a suicide bomb that destroyed an Iraqi police station on Oct. 8. According to Sgt.

Carlson's father, the station was one Charlie III worked at.

"C3 missed the bombing by minutes," Carlson II wrote in an e-mail. "His patrol was due to drop off some weapons at the station that was bombed; however, on the way they stopped to eat breakfast at regimental headquarters."

"While eating, the suicide bomber hit the Al Jamilla Police Station in northeast Baghdad in the part called Saddam City. C3's patrol immediately responded along with elements from the 2nd Cavalry. C3's patrol was the first U.S. unit at the scene and found the top body half and head of the bomber which was used for identification. He reports that 24 were injured and 10 killed but as of this report, has noted no American soldier casualties."

"The bomb crater is about 10 to 12 feet across. He says the area is crawling with media and was very congested upon his arrival. His report is still coming in each time he gets a break to e-mail."

"He missed being at the station by about a half hour."

Seminole schools superintendent outlines future path

By Jamie J. Anderson-Potter
Staff Writer

Seminole County School Board Superintendent Dr. Bill Vogel discussed the future of the county's education system Friday during a First 100 Days Reception in honor of his first days on the job.

Vogel, who beat out 44 other candidates, was hired in July to lead Seminole County Public Schools after Superintendent Paul J. Hagerty's retirement. Vogel is a former superintendent of St. Lucie County School District, and was highly recommended by school officials in that area.

"I'm overwhelmed by the turnout here this morning," said Vogel, who attended the breakfast with his wife, Bobbi. "This [being named Seminole County superintendent] has been a wonderful experience and I'm enjoying it every day. I see today as an opportunity to say thank you for the warm welcome."

"It has been a smooth transition," added Vogel, who has been visible in the community since his arrival in July, visiting nearly all of the 55 district schools at least once.

Attendees of the celebration were treated to a buffet-style breakfast, complete with place mates designed by elementary school art students from throughout Seminole County.

The presentation of colors was conducted by the Winter Springs JROTC, while the national anthem was sung by Eric Furbish, Matt Habib and Joseph Hong, all of Winter Springs High School. Lyman High School Future Farmers of America contributed to

Mother charged in son's death

By Christopher Patton
Managing Editor

Authorities contend a Winter Springs mother of two children failed as a nurturer — a mistake that could cost her freedom.

Brenda Adair was arrested by Winter Springs police Tuesday afternoon on the charge of aggravated manslaughter of a child. The child was her 15-year-old son, Jerry. He died July 12, 2002. Exactly one week after his 10-year-old brother, Terry, died of the same reported cause, a drug overdose.

Adair

According to an arrest report, released by the State Attorney's Office 18th Judicial Circuit, Jerry had numerous narcotics in his system at the time of his death, including oxycodone and methadone. These two strong opioids are used to treat patients suffering from serious conditions such as chronic pain, terminal cancer and heroin addiction. Adair suffered from chronic headaches and was seeing two doctors at the time of the investigation and oxycodone and methadone, according to authorities, were prescribed to her.

Two prescription bottles of pills were found in Jerry's pockets when he died — one had his mother's name on it and the other had the name etched off. A bottle of pills was also found in Terry's pocket when he died. In fact, investigators found bottles of prescriptions scattered throughout the Winter Springs apartment — some in plain view they reported. Several were found in the upstairs, which authorities labeled in the report as not fit for living conditions as there was no usable furniture and a stale smell.

"The family room (downstairs) appeared to be the main room in the house," wrote Detective Matthew Tracht in the report. "Located in the family room was a bed, TV and dresser drawers. This gave me the opinion that most of the time spent inside the house was in this room. This is the room where both boys were found dead."

Meals on Wheels rolls to temporary home

By Jamie J. Anderson-Potter

LAKE MARY — When the Seminole County branch of Meals on Wheels, Etc., became homeless last month, Heritage Woods of Lake Mary came to the organization's rescue.

The need for a temporary location became apparent to Meals on Wheels executives when the Florida Hospital building they were leasing in Lake Mary was sold. In order to continue uninterrupted service to its customers, a temporary location was needed until a permanent site could be constructed.

"They [senior residents of Heritage Woods at Lake Mary] are thrilled to be opening their home to a program that also serves seniors," said Samantha Hollister, executive director of Heritage Woods at Lake Mary, an assisted living facility for senior citizens located at 150 Middle St. in Lake Mary. "Our goal is to be integrated into Lake Mary and all of Seminole County. This is just another way to reach out and help seniors in our area."

Meals on Wheels, which distributes 700 meals daily to Seminole County residents, has been located in Lake Mary for nearly a decade. The group was able to make

IN BRIEF

Girl offers assailant money to stop attack

Quick thinking by a 13-year-old girl may have saved her life.

According to Oviedo police, the girl reported Thursday morning to her Jackson Heights Middle School Resource Officer that she had been a victim of a physical attack as she walked to school.

According to the victim, she was walking to school along Franklin Street when Shawn Corey Scipio, 25, of 469 E. Franklin St., Oviedo, allegedly called out to her asking if she needed a ride. When she said no and continued walking, the man ran up to her, grabbed her around the neck and pulled her into his home.

She reportedly tried to escape, but the 5-foot tall, 300-pound man controlled her when she tried to pull away. He allegedly forced her onto a bed, but when she screamed he slapped her with an open hand, but did not continue his efforts to abuse her. The girl told him she had money and that he could have it.

The suspect took her $28 and released her without causing any further abuse, but threatened that he knew where she lived and would harm everyone. Oviedo authorities arrested Scipio and charged him with kidnapping, false imprisonment, attempted sexual battery and strong arm robbery.

Seminole, Brevard judges form speakers bureau

Realizing that the public forms much of its opinion on the court system based on high-profile cases or television shows, judges in Brevard and Seminole counties are fighting back with a little reality programming of their own.

Chief Judge James E. C. Perry is inviting area schools to take advantage of one of many programs its speakers bureau has to offer.

Members of the judiciary and other key court personnel are also available to address churches, civic groups, professional organizations and neighborhood associations. The speakers bureau features a variety of subjects, including court procedures, criminal justice, domestic violence, child support, jury service, judicial ethics and Revision 7 to Article V of the Florida Constitution.

For more information contact Deputy Court Administrator Wendy Whitsett at 407-665-4252 or e-mail speakers@flcourts18.org.

Oviedo firefighter 1 of 4 remembered at service

The State Fire Marshal's Office and the Florida Joint Council of Fire and Emergency Service Organizations will be hosting the 12th annual Florida Fallen Firefighter Memorial Service on Saturday, Oct. 11.

The service is to remember and celebrate the lives of Florida firefighters who have died while serving and protecting the communities. The memorial service will be held at the Florida State Fire College in Ocala and begins at 8:30 a.m.

The service will honor four firefighters who died last year in the line of duty. They are Dallas Begg and Lt. John Mickel of Osceola County Fire-Rescue, who died while participating in a live-fire training exercise on July 30; Rupert Fuller of Darlington-Gaskin Fire Department, who died following operations at a fire scene on Oct. 20; and Shane Kelly of the city of Oviedo Fire Department, who died while assisting at the scene of a vehicle accident on June 8.

Each family of the firefighters will be presented with a memorial medallion and a state flag that has flown over the Florida Fallen Firefighter Memorial, located on the grounds of the fire college. Also remembered at the service, fallen firefighter Robert Padgett of the Clay County Department of Public Safety who died Oct. 5, 1988. His family will be awarded a memorial medallion.

Their names will be added to a Florida Fallen Firefighter Memorial that includes the names of firefighters who died while on duty as far back as 1885.

The memorial ends Florida's activities in this year's National Fire Prevention Week.

the transition to its temporary location without a break in service.

"We're settled in and it's working out just fine," said Sherry Fincher, executive director of Meals on Wheels, Etc. "We're very grateful to the staff and residents of Heritage Woods."

According to Fincher, when searching for a temporary location the most important aspect to consider was the kitchen since the organization now produces and packages all of its breakfast and lunch meals under the direction of Executive Chef Richard Bartlett. Heritage Woods' full-size kitchen was a perfect match for Meals on Wheels' needs.

"Since we started cooking and packaging our own meals it has been so much better," said Fincher. "The meals are appetizing and the clients love it."

The organization is currently working with a limited equipment base, bringing only the packaging equipment to the temporary location and leaving the remainder of equipment in a local storage facility.

The groundbreaking ceremony for the Meals on Wheels permanent location is scheduled for Nov. 6. However, the organization will remain at Heritage Woods until January when its 35 employees will relocate to the new building just off U.S. Highway 17-92 on Ronald Reagan Boulevard in unincorporated Seminole County.

Meals on Wheels' administrative offices are temporarily located in a Florida Hospital office building in Altamonte Springs, but will also relocate to the new building in Lake Mary.

According to Fincher, when making a decision on a permanent office and production site, the organization took into consideration the convenience and accessibility of the location.

"Lake Mary is a great central location for us," she said.

"This room was cleaner than the other rooms upstairs," he continued. "However, the room had rodent droppings and the stale smell as well, and at one point, a rat was seen running around."

According to the report, it's the neglect of Jerry's well being and Adair's inability to provide adequate supervision that led to his death. She is not being charged in the death of her other son.

"The issue will be was she criminally negligent," said Assistant State Attorney Chris White.

During police interviews, Adair stated to investigators that she was careful to keep her strong pain medications secure by either giving them to a next door neighbor or a friend from Apopka to hold. However, both denied ever holding Adair's prescribed narcotics.

"These powerful lies that came from Brenda are consistent with a mother that does not provide adequate care and nourishment for her children," Tracht wrote. "Brenda's neglect in care and lack of adult supervision is a contributing factor in the death of Terry and Jerry Adair. If proper custody and control of these narcotics by Brenda happened, these deaths might not have happened."

Adair was released on a $7,000 bond shortly after her 3 p.m. booking into the Seminole County Jail Tuesday. She is scheduled to appear in court Oct. 27. If convicted of the first degree felony, she could receive up to a 30-year sentence.

Johnson II added. "He was real, real lucky this time. He says this was one MRE breakfast he won't complain about."

18 Sept. 2003 My arm is still giving me problems. Mostly my shoulder hurts, and now I've got sciatic pain, so they keep me loaded up on 800 mg of Motrin. My shoulder has a "rotator cuff problem," whatever that is. All I know is that it hurts pretty bad at times. Sometimes I feel like a one-armed warrior with a limp, or like a plow horse trying to pull a plow until I can't pull anymore. Then I numb-up on more Motrin.

At least I have an arm to hurt, which is more than some soldiers have who lost theirs. I think the lack of regular meals has taken a toll on a lot of us. Ninety percent of my meals for six months have been MREs or T-rations, which I compare closely to eating unheated stew out of a can. Months on limited water in extreme heat has not helped the situation. Add that to the effects of combat stress, lack of sleep, and seven days of work a week and it is no wonder so many soldiers have contracted mysterious illnesses in this country. Their immune systems are shot. I hope the Veteran's Administration has a big budget because they are going to need it for years to come to take care of everybody.

Last week we heard that we were going to be redeployed to the states Dec. 7. They even said it was written in stone this time and was official. Well, I didn't get my hopes up, but it did sound real this time. Then today we heard that we are back to the March date, or even April of next year. I heard through the grapevine that they could not find a replacement outfit for us. Just one more case of getting our hopes up, and then jerking the rug out from under us.

There is a Florida National Guard outfit in Baghdad somewhere, I think they are from Orlando. I should say they were a Florida National Guard outfit because they are regular army now and putting up with the same mess as us.

I would like to see some green foliage, but I would gladly trade that for some real food. I'm thinking about buying a portable generator so we can have lights. The electricity has been off for sometime now in our living area. Tonight, I repaired the lieutenant's laptop computer in 45 minutes in the light of my little battery powered lantern.

We have a BMW here that our platoon confiscated. It was wired to be used as a car bomb when we found it. It is now parked outside our living area. Sgt. Coe and SPC Johnson wanted to drive it to what we call the "Hilton," one of the palace compounds where we go for certain things like using a computer if ours is down. They were told they could not use the BMW, and they looked like two rejected teenagers whose father just took the keys away.

19 Sept. 2003 I was the tower SOG [Sgt. of the guard] last night and heard a loud explosion in the direction of an area that we don't cover. We currently are out of the police stations monitoring Zone 21 in Saddam City. My tower guard called me and said that he also heard the explosion but did not see anything. Later in the day, I learned there was a big explosion in central Baghdad near the Tigris River that left a huge crater. I understand that it was a probably a car bomb that went off prematurely before they could reach their target. I don't know if that is what we heard last night or not.

Anyway that is one car bomb that we don't have to worry about. Well, actually two since we confiscated that BMW. Now we just have to worry about where the next one is. It could be any one of thousands of vehicles in this big city.

The Fighting Lady Pride prominent aboard ship

As mentioned last weekend, my wife and I have recently returned from a lengthy camping trip in the Eastern portion of the country. Among our many stops was Charleston, S.C., where, as in most cases, we played "tourist."

An excursion in Charleston I will long remember is a visit to the now mothballed aircraft carrier USS Yorktown, CV-10, known as the Fighting Lady. The ship, decommissioned almost 20 years ago, sits in Charleston Harbor. Like the aircraft now sitting on display in honor of the U.S. Navy at the entrance to the Orlando-Sanford International Airport, the Yorktown was put in place through private donations. Not only citizens of that city, but former Navy and Marine Corps personnel who were stationed aboard the Fighting Lady donated and still donate to the ship's upkeep and maintenance.

It cost a few bucks to tour the ship, but was worth every penny. On the carrier deck, as well as up on the flight deck, were rebuilt aircraft, the type of which were used on the ship during World War II. With each was a list of the squadron they flew for as well as a listing of all the squadron personnel who gave their lives, through wartime activities or accidents aboard ship.

Not counting the flying personnel, the ship itself was home to approximately 3,000 service personnel at any one time.

Depending on which area of the ship one inspected, you could travel from well below deck to the control tower. Everything has been very well restored. In addition to the military aspects of the ship, we saw the dentist chairs, where the personnel ate, where the food was cooked or baked, recreation rooms with the traditional cozy duzy positions, and much more. Being a former Navy man, I was extremely pleased to have this opportunity, not having been stationed aboard any particular ship. I enjoyed the aircraft display, especially the Corsair (which was my favorite WW II plane). There were demonstrations as well where one could reenact the recovery of a space shuttle near the last years of the ship. You could sit in one of the planes and have your photo taken with the others. Included in the hangar deck is the Aviation National Memorial Hall of Fame, which will bring remembrance to any veteran of WW II, and, if they are like me, bring a feeling of pride for the accomplishments, not only of the Yorktown, but all personnel of the U.S. Navy and Marines.

The next time I return to Charleston, I'll be taking another tour of this great ship. Perhaps several tours over the years to come. It was well worth it — and I highly recommend all former service personnel especially those who served on board her, as well as their families and others, to pay the Fighting Lady a visit.

End of U.S. empire?

I was booed by some in an audience in Sarasota, Fla., last March for saying that history might judge the invasion of Iraq as the beginning of the end of American empire. But, for better or worse, that is what is happening: We are pouring out our power, credibility, good intentions and blood into the sands of Arabia.

The embarrassment (or humiliation) of Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld this week is the noisy echo of the quiet desperation in the White House about what to try next in our domination and occupation of a country farther away than we thought. After taking down Secretary of State Colin Powell for arguing that the job was tougher than it looked, and taking down the military for saying more troops were needed to occupy, President Bush is taking down Rumsfeld for his arrogant unilateralism within the administration. Now it is Condoleezza Rice's turn. The torch, burning nearer to our fingers, has been passed to the national security adviser, the new boss of the new Iraq Stabilization Group. How did it come to this? History may find other reasons, but so far some of our mistakes are obvious:

- We misjudged the terrain. I don't mean the geography. We ignored the history of Iraq and its neighbors. We ignored the history of Arab and Kurdish nationalism, Sunni and Shiite Islam, and British and Turkish colonialism there.
- We misjudged our own military strength and capabilities. It is beyond belief now that Rumsfeld and others believed, or at least said, that the United States could fight three wars like this at the same time. It is astounding that after a spectacular military victory, American military credibility has been diminished because the whole world knows we are not about to fight on the ground again unless we are directly attacked.
- We misunderstood our enemies. We still think Iraqis want to be Americans, when they only want to be Iraqis with more freedom and better prospects.
- We misunderstood our friends. We wrote off "Old Europe" — silly, but fine — then believed Turkey and Israel could resist the temptation to use our sacrifice to further their own interests and agendas.

- We bribed the wrong people. Our money can be a clean weapon used to do dirty things — in the right hands. But as we should have learned in the Iran-contra scandals and a hundred others, the most critical intelligence is the weeding out of the exiled hustlers and thieves waiting at every world border.
- We misjudged the United Nations. Mocking the U.N. for two decades and more, we have helped create a body that can be mobilized as a temporary superpower to thwart the world's only superpower.

Those are mistakes that the nation must share. Yes, there were people who understood the misunderstandings, but they were too few or too timid to make a difference — they could not muster the strength and will to, in William F. Buckley's phrase, stand athwart history yelling "Stop!"

Then there are the mistakes of the president and the others we hired to represent us and run the country. These are things that went wrong at the heart of power in Washington:

- The president misunderstood and misinformed Congress. Declarations and all that take time, patience and verifiable information, and the Bush White House was in a rush to war. Now Congress will come back to bite him.
- Congress misunderstood the president and evaded its constitutional duty. The cowards on a hill chose to believe what could not be shown in the hope they could escape responsibility and blame.
- The president did not know what was needed to win (or maintain) the peace. No matter how many troops we deploy, we cannot control the terrain if those men and women lack the necessary intelligence, policing and linguistic skills. We need, for instance, our own Arabic speakers, rather than depending on the kindness of strangers.
- We, the people, were not told the truth. Another truth is this: If the American people knew then what they know now — information that was available then — there would not be Americans out there being shot at by people they don't know or understand.
- That last is the real lesson, not of Iraq, but of America. For this wonderful thing we have to work, we have to trust our leaders, particularly the elected elite. And for us to trust them, they have to trust us to deal with real truth.

Carlson to Diary detractors: Want to trade places?

To the editor: To those who have written negative opinions of my letters and account of events of my time here in Baghdad, Iraq, always remember that I, just like all the other soldiers here, have earned the right to complain. I will gladly trade places with anyone back home who don't like the fact that I complain too much.

It is almost a G.I. tradition. We live with the bare basics, and when it comes down to becoming ecstatic over a meal that is not an MRE or T-ration or having enough drinking water, there is a good reason to be ecstatic. You take the luxuries of home for granted, but I can tell you what it is like being here without such daily luxuries.

I have not seen my wife and kids in nearly a year. So anyone who doesn't like my "complaining" just remember this, you get to see your families on a daily basis and have no idea what it is like being in Iraq without even knowing if you will ever see them again or when, or even if, you will ever go home alive. Your time at your workplace ends each day, your lives are not at great risk, and you are pretty much guaranteed of your trip home to eat supper each day. We have no guarantees of such things. Put yourselves in my boots, or any soldier's boots who is over here, and see what life is really like.

Being a veteran of several wars, I have probably racked-up more combat-time than my critics will ever experience in a lifetime. But isn't it strange that those who criticize the "Iraqi Diary" make no comment in regard to dozens of us who are killed or wounded each week over here.

As you can see I'm not anonymous, I do not hide to write my letters, and have willingly signed this response because expressing opinions and observations is one guarantee that we all have, and it is protected by the U.S. Constitution. The last time I checked, we still live in a democracy, and that is why you can read The Seminole Herald, pro or con, without fear of censorship.

To all those who have expressed appreciation and interest in my accounts of war-life, and to Dan Ping of The Seminole Herald, I send a big thank you. I do it for you because you have a right to know my observations of how things are over here.

Sgt.'s letters help reader put a face to Iraqi conflict

To the editor: Thank you for having the intestinal fortitude to continue the publication of "Iraqi Diary!"

When our Seminole Herald arrives the first thing my husband and I do is read the latest installment. Now when the broadcast news mentions a casualty we think of C3 (Staff Sgt. Charlie C. Carlson, III). For us he has put a face on the conflict. We think of him as a close friend, although we've never laid eyes on the man. However, when next he visits Sanford you had better believe we'll be in line to meet him and to thank him.

From the start, The Herald made it clear that these are the personal reflections of one soldier writing his family. That's what makes it valuable! These are the candid remarks of someone on the front line. C3's "Iraqi Diary" is an example of the First Amendment at its best. I also was impressed by the father's introduction to the series, explaining that while the family is comprised of career soldiers, they are anti-war. This was expressed very well.

Because of the "Iraqi Diary," I visited the Sanford Museum to see the special display and have read the new book "From Mellenville to Baghdad." Thank you for providing our community this perspective on the world. This is what distinguishes The Seminole Herald from The Orlando Sentinel. Recently when we received a Herald subscription renewal notice, we immediately renewed because we did not want to miss any installments.

Carlson's Diary a 'great service'

To the editor: You are doing a great service in publishing Sgt. Carlson's reports in "Iraqi Diary."

Thanks for ignoring the detractors.

Reta Richardson
Ninety Six, S.C.

Thanks to paper for running Diary

To the editor: Since the start of the "Iraqi Diary" letters, I have been a faithful reader. This is the only chance most of us have to know what it feels like to be in this war. It gives us an inside look at the emotional ups and downs of our troops.

Now I read in Dan Ping's column where someone has complained about the letters and has threatened to send copies to the Pentagon. The audacity of these people is beyond belief. It reminds me of what we used to complain about the old Soviet Union doing to its people. To think that such people exist among us is scary.

Freedom of the press is one of the last, true constitutional rights that we all still enjoy, and it is protected by those in military uniform. I was elated when Mr. Ping said that he is going to continue Sgt. Carlson's account of the war. Be it good or bad, it is coming straight from Iraq through The Seminole Herald. I have seen no similar accounts in any other newspaper, therefore, I commend The Herald for offering this special feature to its readers so we can hear directly from a soldier instead of through the filter of the major media. I would also like to thank Sgt. Carlson, too, for his courage and effort in keeping us informed of his views.

Families need to help Sanford by adopting a canine

To the editor: I just came from the Sanford Animal Control. There are 200 dogs begging for a home. I got one and wondered why people are dumping their dogs. These little guys are so loving and innocent, I can't understand why they are there.

If you don't know how to train your dog, there are plenty of places where you can learn. The Sanford Paw Park is a wonderful place for your dog and you to play and meet wonderful people. Research has shown that petting and loving your dog lowers your blood pressure.

Please, I beg of you, figure out what size and kind of dog your family would love and go get one. The staff is trying to take care and feed them, and it is a tough job.

Thank you to all of you who are trying to help and get a dog. If you can't, at least please donate food for them. You will be blessed for this, I know.

Arnold's win sends mixed news to GOP

Claiming that Arnold Schwarzenegger's broad appeal gives a fresh edge to the GOP, Republican politicians across the country are celebrating the action hero's strong win in California. The state is a Democratic stronghold, but Schwarzenegger drew many Democratic voters — including substantial numbers of Latinos — into his muscular fold.

These days, the GOP needs a little good news. President Bush's poll ratings are sinking like a stone as voters gripe about the jobless recovery and recoil at the $87 billion bill the president has submitted for Iraq. Then there's that peaky investigation of a serious national security leak, which points to high-ranking administration officials.

Given the GOP's relief over the California victory, I'm a little reluctant to point out that they pounced the champagne too soon. But here it is: Schwarzenegger's win means little to the Republican Party. Under that taut skin, the Terminator is a moderate Democrat. He supports abortion rights; he backs domestic partnerships for gay couples; he supports several gun control measures, including trigger locks, a ban on assault weapons and restricting the sales of guns at gun shows. All those positions are anathema to Republican regulars, whose party has shifted to the far right during the past two decades.

(Republicans might also reconsider their glee over the economic crisis that fueled the recall of Gray Davis, who was unlucky enough to preside over both the California energy crisis and the dot-com bust. The state's gaping budget hole — somewhere between $8 billion and $20 billion — awaits the new "governor," who will find it very difficult to mend.)

Had the actor chosen to run in a regular election, he would not have received the Republican nomination. His politics are too liberal for the voters who regularly participate in GOP primaries. Indeed, Davis might have been defeated for re-election last year had he been challenged by a moderate Republican — say, former Los Angeles Mayor Richard Riordan. But Riordan lost in the GOP primary to the steadfastly conservative Bill Simon Jr.

Schwarzenegger has drawn the fire of hard-core conservatives. Rush Limbaugh criticized him in a posting on his Web site: "I know that (R) next to Schwarzenegger's name excites the White House, but his own words prove he's not a conservative." (Limbaugh later gave Schwarzenegger grudging approval.)

Commentator George Neumayr, writing in the conservative opinion journal The American Spectator, described Schwarzenegger as a "middle-of-the-road Democrat." And conservative columnist George Will recently fulminated: "These Schwarzenegger conservatives — now there is an oxymoron for these times — have embraced a man who is, politically, Hollywood's culture leavened by a few paragraphs of Milton Friedman."

The recall was tailor-made for Schwarzenegger because it allowed him to leap-frog the tra-

Sanford Farmers' Market to open Nov. 7

Sanford's newest Farmers' Market is ready to open on the site of the country's oldest continuously operational State Farmers' Markets (1934). Located at 1400 S. French Ave. (Corner of 13th Street and U.S. Highway 17-92) in Sanford, the open-air farmers' market will open to the public on Nov. 7, at 8 a.m. Local growers will offer fresh vegetables, fruits, flowers and more under the shaded roof of a southern-style pole barn complete with a rooster weather-vane. "We're really excited about the opening of this beautiful facility at this historic location in Sanford and providing new market opportunities for local growers," said Zack Henderson, market manager. "We plan on the open-air farmers' market being operational on Fridays from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. initially, and possibly increasing the number of days the facility is open as demand increases." The Sanford Public Farmers' Market is a community redevelopment project with participation from the 17-92 Community Redevelopment Agency, city of Sanford, and the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (FDACS). The open-air market is located at the Sanford State Farmers' Market on a former tractor trailer parking lot directly in front of the State Farmers' Market Warehouse. The area was a sea of asphalt frequently used as impromptu overnight parking for over the road truckers. On any given night five to 10 tractor trailers would park there. Today, the asphalt has been replaced with the southern-style, open sided pole barn that is surrounded by brick pathways, oak trees, grass and a gazebo. "The visual change is remarkable. The new market and landscaping transform what was previously a very stark, and unappealing space into a green space where the community can meet, relax and enjoy the pleasures of the farmers' market and purchase fresh Florida produce," said Don Coler, bureau chief, FDACS.

the festivities by donating foliage centerpieces. During the celebration, Vogel also presented attendees, which included business leaders, elected officials and school board officials, with a first annual State of the Seminole County Public Schools Address. The speech was designed to inform the public on the status of Seminole County schools and what to expect in the future. One of the main focuses of the morning was the growth of Seminole County's education system. According to Vogel, in the past 10 years more than $450 million have been spent in renovations and new buildings. In addition to the new schools outlined in the school board's 10-year plan, nine more elementary schools, two more middle schools and one more high school will be needed. The additional funding is estimated at $170 million. "Growth needs are being met, with several new schools being planned and others being remodeled," said Vogel, who began his career as a teacher and has worked as a school-based and district level administrator. In the same vein as overcrowded schools, Seminole County, like other districts throughout Florida, are concerned about class size. In an effort to reduce the student-teacher ratio, the district hired 199 new teachers this year. To date, Seminole County schools have already met the 2010 standards with an average of 19.5 elementary-aged students, 21.6 middle school students and 22.9 high school students to every one teacher. According to school officials, these smaller class sizes contributed to the recent rise in test scores. According to reports, 75 percent of Seminole County schools received an 'A' rating on the FCAT, while 21 percent and 4 percent were 'B' and 'C' schools, respectively. Seminole County did not have any schools ranked in the 'D' or 'F' categories. This also contributes to Seminole County being home to 33 five-star schools. Vogel believes, in order to meet upcoming challenges, schools must focus on students

What people are saying:

"I think he's done a phenomenal job. He's been on campus several times, which speaks volumes to how into our community he already is." — E. Ann McGee, president of Seminole Community College. "We have a whole new feeling at the district office. He's very friendly. He walks through the halls and says hello to everyone." — Patty Baumhauer of Seminole County Public Schools community involvement program. "He is doing an outstanding job. He is engaging all the stakeholders in Seminole County education. I believe he will help the Foundation meet our goals." — Gerry Roux, chairman of The Foundation for Seminole County Public Schools. "I think his first 100 days have been phenomenal. We see Dr. Vogel frequently at Seminole High School. We are looking forward to his leadership and umbrella of knowledge and insight about education trends and issues." — Karen Coleman, principal of Seminole High School. "I think he's doing a good job. He seems to be committed not only to Lake Mary schools' excellence, but to all of Seminole County. He is meeting the concerns of Lake Mary parents." — Thomas Greene, Lake Mary Mayor.

and the work given to them, keeping an open outlook to the future, maintaining a results-oriented direction and thinking and planning strategically. "Our work is unfinished and to guarantee every student achieves is a continuous process," said Vogel, who received the Medallion of Excellence from Senator Ken Pruitt. "The success of Seminole County Public Schools didn't happen overnight. It began 10 years ago with a new mission statement. High expectations were not only talked about, but implemented. The accomplishments of Seminole County Public Schools are remarkable," he added. Vogel has a proven record which includes accreditations such as Florida's Superintendent of the Year Award in 2001 and the Lamp of Knowledge Award from the Florida Association of School Administrators in 2002. The Natural Lands Committee has, in the past, tried to purchase a portion of the property when it was a working industrial site.

"There's a high-tech building on the site that was the David M. Company, and then there is a large portion of the property that is undeveloped and wooded," said Colleen Rotella, Seminole County community resources manager. "That is what we tried to buy in the past. We don't buy large facilities like that. We tried to buy the undeveloped portion of the property."

With the purchase of the property that includes an existing structure, the county fire department hopes to save about $36,000 worth of storage space. Fire officials estimate by moving all of its stored equipment and apparatus to one location, they will free up more than 6,600 square feet of storage space, which could be available to other departments.

According to Lt. Mike Hammond, of the county fire department, a variety of disciplines could be taught at the site, including search and rescue, fire fighting, vehicle extraction and emergency medical training.

With recent events such as the Sanford city worker being trapped in a hole, a 300-foot rescue at a Florida Power smokestack in Volusia County and a teetering vehicle on the Interstate 4 bridge above State Road 46, "we have recognized there is a need to be prepared for any and all kinds of emergencies," said Hammond to commissioners in August.

Natural Lands Committee members fear that these type of activities are not appropriate for the surrounding environmentally sensitive area — especially with the Environmental Studies Center near.

According to Pat Burkett, a member of the Natural Lands Committee and environmental education specialist at the Environmental Studies Center, up to seven or eight school classes visit the center each day. Through a partnership with Seminole County Schools, students receive a hands-on learning experience as they view the displays and live wildlife specimens located at the center. One of the more legendary activities at the center is the "mud walk" where students can explore a wetland habitat.

"It was kind of presented to us that this is what is going to happen, what is your concern, not is there some way we can keep this from happening," Burkett said. "This is a no-brainer. This is something we don't put in Spring Hammock."

"They say there will be little or no smoke, what does that mean," she added.

If approved, the training facility would be a partnership with Seminole Community College. According to Dr. Dave Harrison, vice president of the college, SCC's fire and emergency medical training classes have doubled in enrollment since Sept. 11, 2001.

"This will provide us, with the county and other agencies, an opportunity to meet the demands," he said in August.

The college is set to fund $900,000 for a burn building that wouldn't actually burn or set smoke into the air. But, it would be equipped with propane burners to emulate the high heat in a fire and would produce a 'fake' smoke that dissipates quickly. The burn building is scheduled to be constructed on the portion of undeveloped land the committee tried to purchase in the past, which fronts State Road 419.

"I can't tell them there will be zero to no smoke what so ever, but that's the whole idea behind this propane building is it doesn't generate smoke," said Fire Chief Terry Schenk. "The smoke we do generate to train fire fighters so their visibility is cut off is a theater-type smoke, which is nontoxic, which really doesn't exit the building and if it does it dissipates in a foot or two.

"The answer to this thing is no, we're not generating big volumes of smoke; no, we're not putting kids at risk; and no, were not burning hazardous materials," he added. "You can't even see this facility from the center."

According Schenk, a good portion of the training planned for the facility will be inside, and the 100-foot buffer of trees between the Environmental Studies Center and the industrial site will remain.

"Basically, we're giving the county commission two choices: Do they want to be green or red," Goff said. "Do they want to be green then let us buy it. Or, do they want to be red, which is burn or embarrassed. This is an environmental issue, we have a lot of concerns of what kind of training will be going on."

"There probably could be a lot worse neighbors than this," Schenk said. "It could be a noisy, industrial thing. When something is zoned industrial there could be all kinds of worse possibilities."

In fact, the previous industrial use had several hazardous tanks that have been cleaned out and sanitized.

"We want them to leave these things in place so our people can get up on them and mess with the piping," Schenk said. "We can simulate there is a leak with these things. That's ideally better than having another industrial facility coming in there and filling these tanks back up with some hazardous chemical."

HALLOWEEN SAFETY CENTER

Trick-or-treat your way to a safe and happy Halloween with these important pointers:

TIPS FOR KIDS

- Stay on sidewalks when trick-or-treating, and remember to carry a flashlight.
- Cross the street only at corners, and always look both ways before crossing.
- Don't trick-or-treat alone, and plan your route ahead of time with an adult.
- If you're riding a bike, skateboard or scooter, place reflective tape on it.
- Wear light-colored or reflective clothing, so you'll be visible in the dark.
- Stay away from open flames or candles, like those in luminaries and jack-o-lanterns.
- Avoid approaching homes that aren't lit.

TIPS FOR PARENTS

- Always accompany young children trick-or-treating.
- Older children should be given a curfew and stick to a pre-planned route.
- When buying a costume for your child, look for something made of flame-retardant material and use nontoxic face paints instead of masks.
- Make sure your trick-or-treaters know how to reach you at all times.
- Inspect all candy for tampering or torn wrappers before allowing your children to eat it.
- Remove any tripping hazards from the front of your home.

The Way We Were: Society celebrates city b-day

The Sanford Historical Society held its regular meeting at the Sanford Museum Sept. 25. In recognition of the city's 126th birthday, a birthday cake, which pictured General

Grace Marie Stinecpher

Sanford, was enjoyed by the attendees. Also, each person received an aerial map of Sanford in 1884 as a gift.

The program titled "A Circus History of Sanford" was presented by society member Charlie Carlson.

Carlson, who is known for his various books on area history, has also been a circus and carnival historian for many years. He enhanced his presentation with slides of photographs and circus advertisements.

The group was informed that Sanford was once a well-known cultural center. During the 1840s, entertainers came to Sanford by steamboat, later by horse and wagon and then by railroad. Coming here were circuses, fairs, operas and minstrels.

The Frank Huffman Circus came to Sanford January 1886; it was advertised as the greatest $25 show in the East. They set up at Magnolia Avenue and Second Street. It was more of an athletic show with acrobats, tumblers and the like.

The Barnum and Bailey Circus came to Sanford in 1879 on a circus train. Carlson informed the audience that Bailey had never really existed as James McGinnis changed his name to Bailey.

Other early circuses to come here were the Son Brothers, Walter L. Main, John Robinson, and John H. Sparks. There were sometimes as many as 10 circuses here in one year. The John Robinson and Walter Main Circuses came to Sanford often.

Another regular was the Rhoda Royal United 3 Ring Hippodrome, Menagerie and Old Buffalo Wild West Show.

The sites for the circuses varied, but were not far from the railroad siding. The sites included Palmetto Avenue and Second Street, the lakefront, Mellonville Avenue and First Street, behind the armory, and Sanford Avenue and Eighth Street. The 1883 Orange County Fair was at French Avenue and First Street.

The John Robinson Circus and others would send an advance man in an advertising railroad car, which would be parked in a prominent place such as near the railroad siding. Inside the car was a printing shop, which produced posters and fliers. The advance man would make all the arrangements for the coming circus, and his helpers would plaster the area with posters and fliers. At times, they would use artwork from previous circus advertisements, just placing their information on top. Those who allowed posters on their property would be given free tickets.

To alert the citizens as to how the circus helped Sanford's economy, the 1920 Sparks Circus produced a flier that told what was purchased during their stay. This included hay and grain for 600 horses; 200 pounds of meat, fish and bones for other animals; 500 gallons of fuel; groceries for 800 workers; loads of sawdust; and 50 hotel rooms. Some of these circuses

GIRL POWER

After the cleanup effort and getting a little wet from a Florida shower these Girl Scouts (above) still are smiles. All the girls (bottom) worked well together collecting debris from the cemetery. Mark Layton (middle) is proud of Girl Scouts Scotti Delaney's and Candice Layton's accomplishments.

Local Girl Scout Troop No. 1115 assisted city employees in a clean up of Evergreen and Lake View cemeteries in Sanford Sept. 27 as part of a community service outreach program.

The troop members, based out of First United Methodist Church in Sanford, exceeded their expectations of the cleanup effort by filling a dumpster and a flat bed truck with yard trash, limbs, moss and ground litter.

"We all hurt on Sunday," said Scotti Delaney, one of the Scouts. "But, it was worth it. We cared a lot and wanted to make a difference."

The completion of the project allowed two of the girls, Delaney and Candice Layton, to receive their Bronze Award and "bridge over" from Junior Girl Scouts to Cadet Girl Scouts during a ceremony held Friday. Both girls plan to become Senior Girl Scouts in future years.

In order to receive the Bronze Award, the 12-year-old best friends were charged with planning and executing an original community service project.

"It's hard to come up with something that hasn't been done before when Girl Scout Troops do this type of community service every year," said Layton.

After several suggestions from their troop leader the two girls agreed on the cemetery clean up and spent several hours planning the outing.

Delaney and Layton, led by Troop Leader Barbara Hubler, joined Girl Scouts Amanda Copeland, Chelsea Hubler, Lisa Backer, and Emily and Elisa Cartwright, at the cleanup day. Marc Hultin, manager of the city of Sanford's parks and grounds operations, as well as four city employees also assisted in the clean up.

"They are hard workers," said Hultin. "The two girls who organized the project did a very good job. I certainly appreciate, as does the city, their efforts. Even our staff was surprised how much they were able to get done. It was nice to have the help.

"They didn't complain," he added. "They went about it with a great attitude."

The girls, who hadn't been in a cemetery before, admit they were a little nervous, but overcame their fears to accomplish their goal of cleaning the land. In fact, Layton, while cleaning off a headstone noticed the gentleman had died during World War II. She brushed off the stone and said "more power to ya, man."

"If you are buried in a cemetery you don't want to be buried in one your relatives can't get through," she said. "It's rude to have people litter on the ground, these are people's graves. It's not right to have people using cemeteries as a dumpster."

Hultin says, the Girl Scout Troop will assist the city in other projects beginning next year.

The wheels on the car go slap, dent, bounce

I can't believe that I have been writing this column as long as I have and never 'bumped' into this topic before. It surely is one all Geneva residents can relate to. Lucky me — local writer K. M. Phillips sent this to me to run in Stetson's Corner. Unlucky Karen — I can't afford to give her my paycheck this week because I have to get my front end aligned — again!

Slow down for a smoother ride. Washboard. Rattletrap. A dirt road at its worst. Waves of hard ridges jar axles and spines out of alignment. Shouldn't someone do something?

You can. Slow down! The reason for the washboard effect is simple. Instead of rotating in a perfect circle, a tire rotates like an oval or an egg at speeds above 25 to 30 mph. This distorted shape slaps the road surface, dents it, and then bounces. Slap, dent, bounce. Slap, dent, bounce.

Multiply this by four bouncing tires and the unsprung weight of a vehicle. It doesn't take long for the washboard-like ridges to form on your dirt road.

Many dirt roads are composed of dirt and crushed shell making the ridges even harder. The more you speed above 25 or 30 mph — the more ridges. The speed limit was determined for this very reason. Imagine! Not to annoy the impatient driver, but to preserve the texture and safety of the roadbed.

Daria Kinney
Scoles

To make matters worse, weekend road engineers' borrow the metal drag and in the driest conditions, drag the road to eliminate the ridges. They mean well. At first, the road feels smoother. But the truth is that the drag has only shaved off the tips of the ridges. They still exist deep in the roadbed. That's why in a few hours the washboard is back.

Professional road services grade the roads after a good rain when the road texture is the most compact. Heavy equipment digs under the ridges and eliminates them from the bottom up, forming a crown down the middle of the road. Why is a crown important? Especially in wet summer months, the crown provides drainage so standing water doesn't puddle in the middle of the road. Instead, it gently drains into the ditches. Consider this Rural Road Maintenance 101.

Then there's the safety factor. How much control do you really have when the tires and your 3,000-pound vehicle is bouncing all over the place. We share the road with horses, dogs, deer, pedestrians, ATVs and more. What would you do if you had to suddenly react to avoid hitting someone or something?

So the next time you feel the urge to accelerate down your dirt road, think about the washboard you are creating. Slap, dent, bounce. Why aren't the roads paved? Some people like living on a dirt road. Many of the dirt roads are private, in the hands of homeowners associations. It's hard to get people to pay the yearly HOA fees, which are minimal, much less to chip in thousands of dollars to pave dozens of miles of roadways. The easier

Harbors benefit from food drive

Burdines associates Katrina Burgard, Rosalyn Gaines and Samantha Le have become involved in a worthwhile and fulfilling project at the Harbor, which makes a visible difference in the community, while fostering camaraderie, civic pride and volunteerism.

Recently the Harbors I and II Literacy and Learning Centers, initiatives of Seminole County Public Schools and Sanford Housing Authority, were selected as recipients of the Seminole Burdines associates food drive.

Merve Hawkins
Seminole Burdines No. 27 associates teamed with other Burdines across the state to combat hunger as contributions were donated to local food banks in various communities.

Seminole Volunteer Enterprises, Inc., of Sanford and Second Harvest Food Bank of Central Florida are the sponsoring agencies for the Kids Café Meals Program for the Harbors.

Elizabeth Graham and Rick Wilkins desire volunteers for the program, as help is always needed to help students with homework, storytime or computer assistance.

Tajiri holds open house

Tajiri Arts School for Performing Arts and Academics will hold their annual open house and registration Oct. 11.

The 2003-2004 school year registration will begin 9 a.m. to noon Saturday. The school will celebrate its 15th year of Tajiri Arts, Inc.

Students are taught in three primary areas of instruction. Classes are being offered in Center Stage, Back Stage and Tajiri 4 Tots program.

Center Stage instruction includes drama, intermediate dance, drum, guitar, voice and hip-hop dance. Back Stage programs includes entrepreneurship, multimedia and staging. The Tajiri 4 Tots program for children 3 to 7 years old includes storytelling, beginning dance, mime and beginning drama.

The Tajiri school year runs from Oct. 21 to May 20, with major performances in February and May 2004. In addition, Tajiri will be involved with numerous special events throughout the year such as the Sanford Out of the Dust: History Still/History Alive cultural tour that will feature historical sites in the Sanford and Georgetown areas.

Tajiri Arts is located at 519 Palmetto Ave. at E. 64th Street, and their mission is foster education, self-respect, self-discipline and self-worth in youth ages 3 to 19 through performing arts, academic enrichment and entrepreneurship. The school trains ethnically diverse students in weekly drama-in-the-round classes. The curriculum is structured to improve academic performance by focusing on good study habits, positive attitudes and appropriate behavior. These programs are funded by grants, gifts and charitable donations.

Tajiri Arts School for Performing Arts and Academics motto is "Becoming somebody through my ### solution is SLOW DOWN!

One resident I knew complained constantly about her dirt road and its less than smooth condition — and "why didn't the county pave it over already?"

Turns out it was one of those private roads mentioned earlier. Whenever she whined (bad person that I am) I always thought, "Wasn't that dirt road there when you came to view that home before you bought it?" It's kind of like marrying someone with the hope that you will change them. Doesn't work. (She ended up moving...)

So if you are looking for a home here in rural Geneva, don't expect that bumpy dirt road to change once you move in! Just give in to the country atmosphere and 'slow down!'

We need you to tell us what you know that is good about Geneva! Please share your information, ideas and comments by calling 407-349-2140, writing to Stetson's Corner c/o The Seminole Herald, via e-mail at darias@mpinet.net, (please put "Stetson's Corner" in the subject line), or with a fax to 407-323-9408. ### Startling facts presented in corrections report

Mothers of Incarcerated Sons, Inc. (MIS), say the facts and statistics from the 2001-2002 annual report of the Florida Department of Corrections on inmate population reflect that the majority of inmates in prison on June 30, 2002, were male (94 percent) and black (53 percent).

This is an epidemic of black men and juveniles being "warehoused," as one of our incarcerated sons described in a letter. We Mothers of Incarcerated Sons, Inc., states Sherry Grace, executive director, are fearful that if it continues as is, a black man with out a record and with civil rights will become extinct! How this statistic affects us from this point will be determined by our own course of action.

Attention is called to parents, community and churches. Here are some things that we must do immediately to address this important issue:

- Educate our children on the reality of the system. They must not even look at a gun. If you have one get rid of it.

- Stay abreast and attentive to law enforcement and the judicial system and demand a just and equal process.

- Be prepared to question, stand firm and take an effective and appropriate course of action when necessary with children, as well as anyone else involved in this epidemic.

- Churches have to stop sleeping! There are some exceptions, however, many of our churches are like the five virgins without oil in their lamps! Every single church should have an effective and efficient preventive and restorative program in place, or be actively participating in a program.

- We all must stop looking the other way at the first sign of our children's involvement with drugs. The Federal Bureau of Prisons statistics, as of June 2003, shows that more than 54 percent of the incarcerations are drug offenses.

- When all else fails and our loved ones fall prey to the system, we must have effective programs in place to embrace them when they are released and return home to us.

MIS needs your financial support, professional expertise, volunteers and mentors for our men and families. Please help families keep our communities safe and productive for all citizens. Contributions are tax deductible to this 501(c)3 non-profit organization.

Send proceeds to Mothers of Incarcerated Sons, Inc., c/o Sherry Grace, executive director, P.O. Box 160576, Altamonte Springs, FL 32716. For more information, call 407-389-1416.

Redding, Sharp to wed

Michael and Theresa Redding have announced the engagement of their daughter, Sanford resident Tracy Redding, to David L. Sharp, II, of Sanford. The groom-to-be is the son of David and Janet Sharp of Sanford. The wedding is scheduled for Saturday, April 17, 2004, at 5 p.m. The ceremony is to take place on the shores of Lake Monroe at the Best Western.

were large and boasted up to 11,000 seats. To fill these seats, excursion trains would run from other areas in Florida, which sometimes included a night's stay there.

These early circuses always had a parade, sometimes a mile long. These were free and were to promote the circus. The last, real circus parade was held in 1939, as they had become too costly.

Probably the strangest circus to come to Sanford was one sponsored by the Klu Klux Klan in 1926. The parade included the Klan marching down First Street. It was a two-ring circus located on the lakefront with several sideshows. Proceeds went to charity.

During the late 1920s, the city tried to limit the number of circuses coming to Sanford by raising the fees. They were seen as competition by theaters and other amusement places that had begun to operate in the city. The Milane Theatre had opened in 1923.

An interesting note was that Emmett Kelley once performed in Sanford as a trapeze artist. He later realized that he wasn't very good on the trapeze and became a clown. He performed as a much loved hobo clown with Ringling Brothers for many years.

In 1960, the city was excited to learn that an attraction called Circus Land would be built in Sanford. In anticipation of this, Christina Brothers Circus set up temporary headquarters at Airport Boulevard and U.S. Highway 17-92. The Sanford Jaycees sponsored a circus parade, which began at the Municipal Zoo, wound through First Street to Mellonville Avenue, and proceeded to Celery Avenue. An NBC television station filmed the parade and it was said to be one of the last circus parades in the United States.

Although it was a very rainy evening, 30 members and guests of the historical society were present at the meeting. Guests introduced by president Jay Jacobs were Rick Walker, Jackie Rumbley and Waunetta Whitaker.

During the business meeting, the society's 2004 calendar was presented with several members checking some out to sell.

The society sponsored book "Images of America: Sanford" was also shown to the group for the first time although it has been on sale for several weeks. This book is soft bound and contains 128 pages and 215 photographs, maps and drawings. It covers the history of the city from the Timucua to the 1960s. There are detailed captions on the photos, which are primarily from the museum owned Vincent collection. Of interest to the society was that all the photo scanning and layout was completed at the museum on the society's new computer.

Curator Alicia Clarke drew the group's attention to the Baghdad Exhibit in the lobby. Charlie Carlson, III, whose diaries are being printed in The Seminole Herald, has sent all these items here from Iraq.

The membership voted for a dues increase for the coming year, realizing that the dues structure had not changed since 1986 and that expenses had increased.

Connie Williams, Gladys Stenstrom and Alicia Clarke were thanked for the delicious refreshments that were enjoyed by all.

Marian and Lester Rethwill drove to Reno, Nev., for the Pilot International Convention in July. They were able to attend all the activities of the convention and continued their trip visiting relatives in five states, including California, Oregon, Washington, Minnesota and Kentucky. Along the way they celebrated a 50th anniversary of Marian's cousin and the wedding of their grandson, Joseph Lambert, to Lisa Collins. Their last stop of the trip was to spend a day with Florence Taylor, a former Sanford resident, now living in Radcliff, Ky. The Pilot Club of Sanford is reorganizing into a new Pilot Club of Seminole-Orange Area. Co-presidents are Marian Rethwill and Carolyn White, the secretary is Winnie Turnbin and Ann Freeman is treasurer. The first re-organization meeting was held Aug. 24, the second on Sept. 13 and the next meeting will be Oct. 18 at 1:30 p.m. at the Seminole County Public Library, northwest branch, 580 Greenway Blvd., Lake Mary. Sanford minister drives to end domestic violence

Managing Editor

Rev. Robert Curry, Jr., of The Curry Ministries, Inc. is on a mission and it's more difficult than those he fulfilled during his U.S. military career.

The Sanford resident says it's time to stop domestic violence and the devastating effects it has on families every day.

"Something needs to be done," he said. "We have women dying, we have homes being broken into. We need a stronger statement to prevent this behavior."

As he eyes support from several political officials, including U.S. Rep. Corrine Brown, and the backing of religious institutions, such as the National Baptist Convention, Curry is determined to change the laws that punish domestic abusers. He is circulating a petition to alert state politicians and citizens, alike, for the need of harsher sentences.

"I'm trying to get changes," he said.

Among his supporters is Sanford Police Chief Brian Tooley who wrote Curry a letter stating, "Thank you for your attention and involvement in the effort to reduce the number of victims of domestic violence. You have the Sanford Police Department's support in your endeavor."

The need to raise awareness about the harmful behavior struck Curry when he noticed statistics from the Florida Department of Law Enforcement. Since 1996, more than 650 people have died in Florida as a result of domestic violence. About 320,000 domestic abuse arrests have been made since 1996, but almost twice as many cases have been reported.

It's a cause he is determined to start in Florida and carry across the nation. Along with his push to have legislators create a "cry for help" bill to establish guidelines to combat domestic violence, Curry is developing an informational book for battered women.

"A lot of women out there have experienced this," he said.

Curry, however, is no stranger to responding to a greater cause. He has actively pushed for minority churches, schools and housing communities to encourage their members to vote.

"We have a problem of not getting involved in the voting process," he said. "It's important that their voices be heard, and voting is taking part in that democracy."

As he rounds up support and signatures for his drive to end domestic violence, Curry also needs volunteers and financial support. An award winning poet, Curry offers churches a donation of 25 percent of the profits for those that purchase plaques of his poems at www.awardwinningpoetry.com.

For more information, write Curry at The Curry Ministries, Inc., P.O. Box 1151, Sanford, FL 32772, call 407-302-1846 or e-mail cmi@awardwinningpoetry.com.

Leaders continue unbeaten seasons

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

The City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Spring Recreational Fall Volleyball League is threatening to be turned into a runaway.

Many-time A League champion Matt's Team and the Hawks, a new entry in the B League, both stretched their unbeaten, and undefeated, strings to nine games with three game sweeps in each of the last two weeks.

Matt's Team had an amazingly easy week during Week 2 (Sept. 29), dropping just eight points in three games, with the closest being a 15-5 thumping of the Saints.

Week 3 (Oct. 6) was a bit tougher as Matt's topped Nation's Fence, 15-7, then had to dig deep to outscore the Shoestrings in extra points, 16-14.

The rest of the results were exactly the same in both weeks with the Shoestrings going 2-1, the Saints 1-2 and Morrison's Homes 0-3.

The story has pretty much been the opposite for the Hawks in the B League, even though they are still unbeaten.

In Week 2, the leaders barely got past both Nooma (15-11) and Morrison's Homes (15-13) and had to work hard in topping Sanford Church of God, 15-8.

Week 3 was a little easier as after the Hawks edged Morrison's Homes, 15-13, they almost doubled the score on both Sanford Church of God, 15-8, and Nooma, 15-7.

The other three teams in the B League have taken turns beating up one another, which has allowed the Hawks to join Matt's Team in building five-game leads in their respective leagues.

The results:
WEEK 2
A League - Matt's Team, 3-0 (15-1 over Nation's Fence, 15-2 over Shoestrings and 15-5 over the Saints); Shoestrings, 2-1 (15-13 over the Saints and 15-6 over Nation's Fence); the Saints, 1-2 (15-1 over Nation's Fence); and Nation's Fence, 0-3.

B League - The Hawks, 3-0 (15-11 over Nooma, 15-8 over Sanford Church of God, 15-8 and 15-13 over Morrison's Homes); Sanford Church of God, 2-1 (15-9 over Nooma and 15-11 over Morrison's Homes); Morrison's Homes, 1-2 (15-12 over Nooma); and Nooma, 0-3.

Rams roll over Silver Hawks

Lake Mary dominates Lake Howell

From Staff Reports

Now that's balance. Seven different players scored touchdowns as host Lake Mary got back to the 500 mark with a 56-0 drubbing of Lake Howell in a Seminole Athletic Conference game at Don T. Reynolds Stadium Thursday night.

Sophomore Keshif Vallot got things going in the right direction for the Rams, who have won two games in a row to get back to 3-3 on the season, with a pair of short touchdown runs of six- and three-yards in the first quarter as the hosts built a 15-0 advantage.

Things just ballooned from there as both of Lake Mary's quarterbacks, senior Jon Clark and junior Robert Kass, ran the offense to near perfection as the Rams rolled up almost 240 yards in total offense.

Lake Mary expanded the lead to 29-0 at halftime as Cameron Beaman dashed 74-yards for one touchdown and Keith Rivers once again showed his offensive skills with a two-yard plunge.

The signal-callers got into the act in the third period with Clark throwing an 18-yard scoring pass to R.J. Meyers, the other Rams star linebacker who moved over to tight end and displayed his offensive talents as well.

Kass took over the controls and directed Lake Mary on a 10-play, 60-yard drive capped by his own one-yard dive for the score. Kass completed three passes on the drive, two to Carl Buford, who added the final touchdown with a two-yard run in the fourth period.

The Rams defense got credit for the other touchdown as linebacker Matt Pirkowski picked off a pass and returned the interception 33 yards to paydirt.

The other Lake Mary points came on a two-point conversion run by Clark and three extra point kicks each by Chris Haines and Mark Heiselman.

Vallot keeps getting better and better with each game and finished the night with 105-yards on 15 carries.

The Rams will host powerful Kissimmee-Ocoola in a non-con-

Sloan saves Lions

TD run clinches SAC for Oviedo

By Tony DeSormier
Special to the Herald

OVIEDO — Local rivalries just aren't what they used to be.

With the seven Seminole Athletic Conference schools split into two different Florida High School Activities Association districts (four are in 6A-District 2 while the other three are in 5A-District 5), the chase for the SAC football title isn't as spirited as it once was.

Take, for example, Thursday night's SAC class between the Oviedo Lions (currently atop 6A-2) and the Lyman Greyhounds (who share the 5A-5 lead with Winter Springs) at Oviedo High School's John Courier Field.

Going into the game, Oviedo also was in front of the SAC race with a 4-0 mark against county schools while Lyman (1-1) was in prime position to drag the Lions back to the pack with a victory.

But, playing without offensive stalwarts C.J. Walker and J.J. Bass, Lyman dropped a 7-3 decision to home-standing Oviedo Thursday night.

"C.J. (Walker) and J.J. (Bass) are nursing some injuries so we held them

Senior Will Harrison (above) ran for a game-high 111 of Oviedo's 212 yards of total offense, but the undefeated Lions (5-0) needed a third quarter 8-yard touchdown run by quarterback Lee Sloan to hold off tenacious Lyman, 7-3, and clinch the Seminole Athletic Conference Championship at John Courier Field Thursday night. Junior Mike Benzer (right) booted a career-high 50-yard field goal for the Greyhounds (4-2) in the first quarter that stood up until Sloan's game-winning run. Oviedo will host Seminole and Lyman will be at Winter Springs in crucial district contests starting at 7:30 p.m. next Friday.

Patriots survive miscues

From Staff Reports

The Lake Brantley football team had to overcome two obstacles Thursday night. The Spruce Creek Hawks and themselves.

Luckily for the Patriots, they were up to the task.

Led by quarterback Brett Smith, Lake Brantley overcame four turnovers to defeat Spruce Creek, 19-6, in a non-conference game at Tom Storey Field.

In all, the Patriots fumbled the ball six times, losing two, and threw pair of interceptions. And that didn't count 14 penalties for 94 yards.

But the Hawks (2-4) were not much better, fumbling the ball four times, losing three, and getting flagged eight times for 62 yards.

The Spruce Creek defense also had no answer for Smith, who ran for 131 yards on 16 carries and scored touchdown runs of 61- and five-yards.

The Lake Brantley defense was also exceptionally tough, as in addition to forcing the four fumbles it also held the visitors to only 95 total yards, and an amazing minus-32 rushing.

The Patriots' 'D' was especially effective in the opening half, forcing all three turnovers and holding the Hawks to 37 total yards and a minus-29 on the ground.

Despite the defensive dominance, Lake Brantley only led 9-6 at halftime, taking a 9-0 lead in the first quarter as Lamar Guy tackled Spruce Creek punter Kyle Nel in the end zone for a safety after Nel fumbled the snap and Smith broke loose

Bears blitz Seminole

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — Visiting Winter Springs turned the tables on Seminole Thursday night and came away with a 32-17 Seminole Athletic Conference victory at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium in the Tim Raines Athletic Park.

The Fighting Seminoles had scored early and often in each of their last two games, both victories, but this time it was the Bears who came out smoking and took the Tribe out of the game quickly.

Chris Sienko took the opening kickoff back 57 yards to the Seminole 35 and four runs later Patrick Cucci scored on an eight-yard delay play right up the gut to give Winter Springs a 7-0 lead with only 2:15 off the clock.

The big play of the short drive was a 14-yard run by Sienko on an end around.

The Tribe got good field position too, starting at their own 36, but could only get nine yards on three runs.

Winter Springs scored just two plays after the punt when Kevin Harris took a draw and went 71 yards virtually untouched to the end zone and the Bears were up 14-0 with 7:12 still left in the opening period.

Seminole went to the air on its next possession and flew down the field with Mike McKinzie completing four passes for 77 yards, including a 34-yard completion to Danny Johnson, to give the Tribe a first-and-goal at the nine.

Travis Knight then carried the ball three times for eight runs and facing a fourth-and-goal at the one, Seminole decided to take the points, getting a 19-yard field goal from Jason Fowler.

The Tribe looked like they would get even closer when Cavese Richardson got an interception after a pass bounced off a Bears receiver's hands at the 20.

But three plays later, Seminole fumbled the ball back to Winter Springs after a completion at the nine.

The Tribe got the ball back early in the second period on a punt and McKinzie went to work, hitting Daniel Lingard for 53 yards and then finding Jamal Tennon for as 25-yard scoring strike and Seminole was within 14-10 with 9:05 remaining in the half.

Neither team would find much success the

Public meeting set for Lake Tohopekaliga Project

From Staff Reports

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) is holding a public meeting on Tuesday, October 14 at the Kissimmee Civic Center from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., to discuss details of the upcoming 2003-2004 Lake Tohopekaliga Extreme Drawdown and Habitat Enhancement Project.

The focus of the meeting is to inform the general public on the status of the project, provide information as to its necessity and long-term benefits, discuss the need for additional upland disposal sites, and present a forum for individuals to express their concerns and/or support for the project.

Agency personnel will be on hand to answer questions and provide a synopsis of the proposed work. Anyone interested in obtaining first-hand information regarding the project should not miss this opportunity.

Those who attend the meeting will also have a chance to discuss two proposed bass regulations, one of which could be implemented during the course of drawdown project. One proposal calls for a temporary "catch and release" regulation that would protect trophy largemouth bass throughout the project.

A second proposal would allow anglers to harvest one bass over 26 inches per day during the project. This second option would allow an angler to keep that catch of a lifetime and/or certify a new state or world record bass if it is caught during the project. A survey form will be available at the meeting to vote on which regulation anglers would like to see implemented, as well as an open discussion covering the two regulation options.

If either proposal is approved, the short-term rule is tentatively scheduled to be in effect from Jan. 1 through Sept. 30, 2004. The public will be notified of the finalized dates and temporary regulations in future Kissimmee Chain Highlights newsletters, and through FWC news releases. In addition, signage regarding the regulation will be placed at all areas with public access to the lake.

Anyone unable to attend the Oct. 14 meeting may direct questions, comments or support for the project to: Miles Hulon, 701 Marlo Road, Kissimmee, Florida 34744.

FREE DUCK HUNTING WORKSHOPS IN MARION, INDIAN RIVER COUNTIES

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) is offering two free workshops for anyone interested in learning how and where to hunt ducks in Florida. One workshop is in Marion County, the other in Indian River County. The family-oriented events are designed for beginning through advanced duck hunters, and those unfamiliar with duck hunting in Florida.

The first is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 18, from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., in the Osceola National Forest at the FWC's Hunter Education Training Center (HETC). The center is located at 7325 NE 170th Ave. (CR 314). To register for the workshop and to receive directions to the HETC call Greg Workman at (352) 625-2804.

The second workshop will be held Nov. 1 from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., at the Indian River County Public Shooting Range at 10459 102nd Terrace in Sebastian. To sign up and get directions contact Ron Bielefeld at T.M. Goodwin Waterfowl Management Area at (321) 726-2862.

Registration is free but space is limited to the first 100 participants for each workshop.

This year a free BBQ lunch will be provided at both workshops. These family-oriented workshops are presented by the FWC's Waterfowl Management Section and S.T.E.P. See Outdoors, Page 6B

Bears

rest of the period, until the Bears mounted a drive culminating in a 26-yard field goal by Jason Brockhaus-Kann in the final minute.

The Fighting Seminoles had one final shot before the half, getting a long field goal try that fell just short and Winter Springs led 17-10 at intermission.

The second half started much like the first with the Bears adding to their lead. Seminole took the opening kickoff but lost 10 yards on three plays.

Winter Springs also did nothing with its first possession, losing 13 yards on three plays, but then the roof caved in on the Tribe.

After three plays lost two yards, Seminole lined up deep to punt, but the attempt was blocked and the Bears recovered at the three.

Patrick Cucci then went in for his second score, giving the visitors a 23-10 after the PAT was missed.

The Tribe immediately got in trouble again as a holding penalty and a pass for a loss set the ball back to the two. A 15-yard pass seemed to get the ball out of danger, but the ensuing punt attempt never got off as the snap sailed through the end zone for a safety and Winter Springs was up 25-10 with 5:28 left in the third period.

Seminole finally got itself sorted out and went on a long drive, but after 14 plays and five minutes over the end of the third quarter and start of the fourth, the hosts turned the ball over on downs at the 19.

The Bears then tried to run out the clock, taking 4:30 off the clock, but a fumble was recovered by Knight at the Tribe 27.

Seminole struck quickly as, after an incomplete pass, McKinzie hit Rodney Grant for 34 yards and then passed 39 yards to Johnson for a touchdown and with 5:55 left the hosts only trailed, 25-17.

Winter Springs tried again to run out the clock and gained three first downs.

But Seminole looked like it would get the break it needed when the defense held on two plays, leaving the Bears with a third-and-nine.

The defense never got a chance to see if it could hold as a personal foul call, after the play was long over, gave Winter Springs a first down.

Two plays later, Harris broke a couple of tackles and got free for a 35-yard game-clinching touchdown run. Even in defeat, McKinzie had a huge game, completing 24 of 36 passes for 356 yards and two touchdowns.

Both teams will play big district games next Friday. Seminole (3-3 overall, 0-1 in Class 6A-District 2) will look to keep its hopes alive when it challenges undefeated Oviedo (5-0 overall, 2-0 in district) at John Courier Field, while the Bears (3-3 overall, 2-0 in Class 5A-District 5) hosts co-leader Lyman (4-2 overall, 2-0) at the A.W. Epps Sports Complex. Both games are set to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Coca Cola Night at New Smyrna Speedway

From Staff Reports

New Smyrna Speedway will be having a "Coca Cola Night" tonight (Saturday).

Fans can bring in any coke product label, can, or bottle and get $5 off general admission. Also, Monster Trucks fans that attended last Sunday's matinee can use their ticket stub to get in free tonight.

Topping tonight's program will be the FASCAR Pro Mods who will run for 50 laps and "double" points. Jerry Symons leads the points followed by Alan McCafferty, Skip Honaker, Jim "Hoot" Flynn, and Red Vann. With a close points battle, expect these top five to battle their way to the top.

Completing the Top 10 are Jason Boyd, D.J. Hoelzle, Bryan Campbell, Alan Bruns, and Lee Collins. Collins won the Pro Mod race at Orlando SpeedWorld not long ago and expect Collins to be strong at New Smyrna.

Qualifying for the Pro Mod 50 Lapper will be at 6:30 p.m.

All FASCAR classes will run for double points. David Rogers leads the Super Late Model division with 624 points, a good 128 points ahead of second place B.J. McLeod. McLeod stands at 496 points with Wayne Parker in third with 352 points. Guy Thomas sits fourth with 288 points followed by Joe Fitos with 180.

Rounding out the Top 10 are David Froelich, Brent Hobbs, Mark Vandevender, Mike Finn and Robert Jenkins.

The Late Models return to action with Brian Bellaw leading the points with 472 points. Tim Clark comes in second with 384 points followed by Mark Smith with 288 points, Bobby Orr with 244 and Don Hess with 212. Timmy Todd, Larry Osteen, Chris Lawrence, David Rogers, and Aaron Dreher round out the Top 10.

The regular FASCAR Open Wheel Modifieds will have the night off as the Pro Mods race but when they return it is Bobby Blake with a 104 point lead over second place Mark Vandevender. Both Blake and Vandevender have raced each other hard with that championship in their eye. Expect more close racing when they return on October 25th for their double points night.

Matt Wheeler comes in third with 224 points followed by Brad May with 196. Jim "Hoot" Flynn rounds out the top five with 180 points. Tied in sixth and seventh are Rob Underwood and David Castello who both sit at 160 points each. David Hite, Jerry Symons and Justin Henderson round out the Top 10.

Billy Spade leads the Sportsman division with 608 points. Ron Luky comes in second with 496 points followed by Dale Clouser in third with 468 points. Clouser has been on a roll these past few months and has done a lot of catching up fast. Jim Snyder sits fourth with 340 points followed by John Nusbaum in fifth with 336 points.

Bill Love, Chris Peludat, Mike Trocki, Dusty Downer, and Paul Colgan round out the Top 10 in Sportsman.

Tim "Misalleman" McPhail has taken over the points lead in the Mini Stock division over Ted "Mr Mini Stock" Vulpius. McPhail leads with 696 points over Vulpius's 648 points. Rex Christensen comes in third with 576 points. David Castello, last year's Mini Stock Champion, comes in fourth with 312 points followed by Ben Hutto in fifth with 240 points. Rex, "Boneman" Hollinger, Wayne Clark, Bob Deimastro, Ron Dubeau and Troy Kruse round out the Top 10.

Charlie Collins holds a 4 point lead over second place Ron Whaley in the Super Stock division. With points this tight, it will be a dog fight til the end. Jeff Colburn comes in third with 452 points followed by Josh Wronkowiak with 396 points and Mike Amato in fifth with 316 points.

Butch Pierce, Todd Driscoll, Bob Trombley, Ted Head and Robert Skinner round out the Top 10.

Gates open at 5 p.m. and racing begins at 7:30 p.m. every Saturday night at the track located at the corner of SR. 44 and CR 415, between New Smyrna, DeLand and Daytona.

UCF to face Bobcats

Special to the Herald

Coming off their first Mid-American Conference win of the season, the UCF Golden Knights (2-3, 1-1 MAC) travel to Athens, Ohio to take on the Ohio Bobcats (1-4, 0-2 MAC). Today's (Saturday) game-time is set for 2 p.m. and will be televised on ESPN Gameplan and locally on BrightHouse cable.

The six-station UCF ISP Sports Network will also provide coverage. Locally, the game can be heard on 740 - The Team (WQTM) with Marc Daniels and Gary Parris calling the action and sideline reporter Jerry O'Neill keeping fans up-to-date with the latest information. Pregame coverage begins at noon.

UCF comes off of a 19-10 win at home against Buffalo, while the Bobcats lost a heartbreaker at nationally-ranked Northern Illinois 30-23 in overtime.

SCOUTING OHIO

Head coach Brian Knorr and the Ohio offense primarily run the football. Through five games, the Bobcats average 201.4 yards per game, good for 15th in the nation. Quarterback Fred Ray directs the offense and is the team's leading rusher, averaging over 70 yards per game on the ground. Ray splits the quarterbacking duties with Ryan Hawk. When Ohio passes the ball, it generally goes to wideout Scott Mayle, who has 306 yards receiving and three touchdowns on the year.

Linebacker Dennis Chukwuemeka is the star of the Bobcat defense. Chukwuemeka garnered his second conference player-of-the-week honor of the season last week, when he led the Ohio defense with 13 tackles. Chukwuemeka is also a Butkus award candidate and leads the team with 57 total tackles. Strong safety Rob Stover contributes to the defense as well, recording 42 tackles and four tackles for loss on the season.

SCOUTING UCF

Head coach Mike Kruczek had to change what he likes to do on offense last week against Buffalo. With the absence of long-time starter Ryan Schneider due to injury, Kruczek turned to junior Jon Rivera to run the offense. Rivera, starting for the first time in his career at UCF, responded with a steady game, combining 59 passing yards with 89 rushing yards. The star of the game, however, was tailback Alex Haynes. Haynes enjoyed a career day against Buffalo, gaining 165 yards on 30 carries, both career bests. The receiving unit is led by Tavaris Capers, who as a punt returner last week returned a kick 52 yards for a touchdown and was named MAC Special Teams Player-of-the-Week for his efforts.

Defensively, the Golden Knights turn to linebacker Antoine Poe for plays. Poe, a

Distant Replay

Oct. 6, 2001

Georgia marched downfield with 44 seconds left in the game to retake the lead and defeat Tennessee 26-24 in front of a sold-out Neyland Stadium crowd. With just under a minute left in the game and Georgia clinging to its three-point lead, Vols quarterback Casey Clausen had hit running back Travis Stephens on a screen pass, which Stephens took 82 yards down the sideline and into the end zone, giving Tennessee a 24-20 lead with 44 seconds left.

Title hopes on the line

This is the battle for the Eastern division title, and it's all on the line. The race for the top spot can't get much tighter than this — both teams come into the game with one loss, and second place could prove to be the difference between a spot in the conference championship and just another "good" season. The difference, though, is that the Volunteers are reeling, and the Bulldogs seem to be building momentum. Tennessee dropped a tough game against Auburn. Georgia, on the other hand, threw up 37 points in the first half and put it on cruise control against Alabama.

Both teams can pass, but Tennessee can run, too, and if the Vols remember how to do it, they will control the tempo and keep the crowd whipped into a frenzy. That could prove a big factor against a Bulldogs team whose only loss came in hostile territory at LSU.

Georgia at Tennessee

■ Records: Georgia 4-1 (2-1 SEC); Tennessee 4-1 (2-1 SEC). ■ Series: Tennessee leads 17-13-2. ■ Coaches: Georgia's Mark Richt (25-6); Tennessee's Phillip Fulmer (107-26). ■ Kickoff: 7:45 p.m. EDT. ■ TV: ESPN2.

■ Key for Georgia: Work on fundamentals in the special teams. An easy touchdown on a muffed punt from Gordon Ely-Kelso almost let Alabama back into the game, and the 'Dawgs can't afford to make those kinds of mistakes against an angry Volunteers team.

■ Key for Tennessee: Don't forget what got you to good old Rocky Top. Put the ball back in the hands of playmakers Jabari Davis and Cedric Houston. If they get just 16 carries in this game, the Vols will lose again.

The Rest of the Matchups

Kentucky at South Carolina (Thursday)

■ Records: Kentucky 2-3 (0-2 SEC); South Carolina 3-2 (0-2 SEC). ■ Series: South Carolina leads 7-6-1. ■ Coaches: Kentucky's Rich Brooks (93-112-4); South Carolina's Lou Holtz (241-122-7). ■ Kickoff: 7:30 p.m. EDT. ■ TV: ESPN.

■ Key for Kentucky: It's pretty simple, really: Hand the ball to running back Artiss Beach and just watch him find the end zone. Beach has now scored a rushing touchdown in four straight quarters.

■ Key for South Carolina: Make sure momentum swings only one way. This Gamecocks' defense has held opposing offenses to 3-and-out on 26 of 64 drives this season (40.6 percent), second in the SEC to Arkansas (42.0 percent).

Auburn at Arkansas

■ Records: Auburn 3-2 (2-0 SEC); Arkansas 4-0 (1-0 SEC). ■ Series: Auburn leads, 6-5-1. ■ Coaches: Auburn's Tommy Tuberville (58-41); Arkansas' Houston Nutt (79-43). ■ Kickoff: 11:30 p.m. EDT. ■ TV: Jefferson-Pilot.

■ Key for Auburn: The Tigers need to dominate on the ground to show that last week's victory over Tennessee was no fluke. Keep the ball from Matt Jones and Cedric Cobbs, and keep QB Jason Campbell on his feet and completing passes.

■ Key for Arkansas: Continue to play keep-away. Allowing just five turnovers in four games is as big a part of the Razorbacks' record as are Cedric Cobbs and the ground game.

Memphis at Mississippi State

■ Records: Memphis 3-2 (0-2 C-USA); Mississippi State 1-4 (1-1). ■ Series: Mississippi State leads 31-11. ■ Coaches: Memphis' Tommy West (46-52); Mississippi State's Jackie Sherrill (179-114-4). ■ Kickoff: 1:30 p.m. EDT. ■ TV: None.

■ Key for Memphis: Don't give the game away with silly penalties. In the loss to Alabama-Birmingham, the Tigers had seven penalties for 95 yards, including several personal foul penalties.

■ Key for Mississippi State: Show up the secondary. The Bulldogs allowed too many big pass plays against Vanderbilt, and if it hadn't been for the Commodores' dropping passes in the end zone, it might have cost them the game.

Southern Mississippi at Alabama

■ Records: Southern Mississippi 3-2 (3-0 C-USA); Alabama 2-4 (1-2 SEC). ■ Series: Alabama leads 31-6-2. ■ Coaches: Southern Mississippi's Jeff Bower (83-60-1); Alabama's Mike Shula (2-4). ■ Kickoff: 2 p.m. EDT. ■ TV: None.

■ Key for Southern Mississippi: Dominate on special teams. Last week, the Golden Eagles used a 94-yard kickoff return and three field goals to beat the Bearcats.

■ Key for Alabama: Pass early in the game, to show that you're not afraid just because you're dinged up at quarterback. Plus, Southern Miss will expect to see a lot of running.

Florida at LSU

■ Records: Florida 3-3 (1-2 SEC); LSU 5-0 (2-0 SEC). ■ Series: Florida leads 26-20-3. ■ Coaches: Florida's Ron Zook (11-8); LSU's Nick Saban (74-38-1). ■ Kickoff: 2:30 p.m. EDT. ■ TV: CBS.

■ Key for Florida: The Tigers can pass with the best of them, but the Gators must overcome the loss of linebacker Channing Crowder and stop the run. If Ole Miss can rack up 223 yards on the ground, what will the Tigers do?

■ Key for LSU: Continue to play aggressively in the secondary. The crew already has two interceptions for scores, and if the defense scores in this game, the Gators have no shot of winning.

Arkansas State at Mississippi

■ Records: Arkansas State 3-3 (1-0 Sun Belt); Mississippi 3-2 (2-0 SEC). ■ Series: Mississippi leads 18-1-2. ■ Coaches: Arkansas State's Steve Roberts (58-43-1); Mississippi's David Cutcliffe (33-20). ■ Kickoff: 1 p.m. EDT. ■ TV: None.

■ Key for Arkansas State: Open some holes for tailback Sherman Bracey and let him do the rest. Bracey led his team to victory over Louisiana-Monroe with a career-high 176 yards and two touchdowns last week.

■ Key for Mississippi: Just continue to work on running a balanced offense like last week against the Gators. This isn't much of a test for the Rebels, but they don't want to get caught napping and have to rely on Eli Manning to pull out a late win.

Navy at Vanderbilt

■ Records: Navy 3-2 (Independent); Vanderbilt 1-5 (0-3 SEC). ■ Series: First meeting. ■ Coaches: Navy's Paul Johnson (67-21); Vanderbilt's Bobby Johnson (63-51). ■ Kickoff: 1 p.m. EDT. ■ TV: None.

■ Key for Navy: The Midshipmen need to stop Commodore's quarterback Jay Cutler, who seems to have found a groove in his last few games.

■ Key for Vanderbilt: Stop dropping passes. Twice Vandy receivers dropped touchdowns in the end zone, and several other times they dropped the ball on key third-and-1 situations.

2-MINUTE

DRILL

■ ALABAMA Crimson Tide quarterbacks Brodie Croyle and Spencer Pennington suffered separated shoulders in the loss to Georgia, and that leaves redshirt freshman Brandon Brantley and freshman walk-on Mike Machen as the only healthy QBs when the Tide hosts Southern Mississippi. Alabama coach Mike Shula said it's possible Croyle will be able to play Saturday, but that Pennington "will probably be out a couple of weeks."

■ ARKANSAS The Razorbacks took advantage of a bye week to get healthy. Senior wide receiver George Wilson (ankle sprain), cornerback Lawrence Richardson (ankle sprain) and safety De Mosley (hyperextended knee) are recuperating. The Razorbacks are getting healthy on the defensive line, too, with Arrion Dixon (knee) and Chase Prosser (ankle) on the mend.

■ AUBURN The Tigers have now won four straight as an unranked team against Top 10 opponents. The Tigers have rushed for more than 250 yards in back-to-back games. That's opening things up for Tigers QB Jason Campbell, who has gone 35 of 50 with five touchdowns in the last three games.

■ FLORIDA The Gators were hurt by a lack of depth at linebacker because of recent injuries. Todd McCullough is out for the year, and Dwight Jackson, Channing Crowder and Tarean Charles all missed the game because of injuries. Charles might return this week against LSU, but Crowder, who had arthroscopic surgery on a knee, probably will not be back before the Arkansas game in two weeks.

■ GEORGIA As impressive as the Bulldogs were in the first half against Alabama last week, the second half was another matter. There were silly mistakes like quarterback David Greene's interception returned for a touchdown, and punter Gordon Ely-Kelso botching a snap that was run back for another easy score.

■ KENTUCKY Wildcats sophomore safety Muhammad Abdullah is on pace to break one of the oldest records in team history. Through five games, the 6-foot, 200-pounder leads the SEC with four interceptions. As a senior in 1949, Jerry Claiborne intercepted nine passes, propelling the Wildcats to a 9-3 season. "I walk by that wall every day, and I look at it, and I know I'm getting closer to it," Abdullah said.

■ LSU With a school holiday, the unbeaten Tigers practiced from noon Thursday right through Saturday, taking Sunday off before they began planning for the arrival of the reeling Gators. "We'll look at the next three or four opponents down the road at things we've not seen and work on them a little extra," said Tigers coach Nick Saban.

■ MISSISSIPPI The Rebels blanked Florida in the second half for the second year in a row in the upset victory. Rebels quarterback Eli Manning is now 2-0 against the Gators, making up for his brother, Peyton, who finished his career 0-3 against Florida. "I didn't say anything (to Peyton) after the first win," Eli Manning said. "I might say a little something to him this week."

■ MISS STATE The Bulldogs snapped out of a funk by beating Vanderbilt last week. They had won just six of their last 27 games, and their SEC losing streak was the third-longest in school history.

■ SOUTH CAROLINA The Gamecocks went with a very early practice schedule in preparation for Thursday's game against Kentucky. They hit the practice field at 5:50 a.m. Thursday, to give the coaches a head start on recruiting, and also to give the players Friday and Saturday off.

■ TENNESSEE The Volunteers abandoned the run too early in their loss to Auburn, putting too much pressure on quarterback Casey Clausen and not leaning enough on big-time tailbacks Jabari Davis and Cedric Houston.

■ VANDERBILT Thirteen players, including eight sophomores on the defensive side of the ball, have started every game for the Commodores this season. The offensive unit has had the same consistency, with five players starting in all six games.

OUTSIDE, and are designed for both the new and seasoned waterfowl hunter.

"We all can improve upon our skills as hunters and stewards of our natural resources, and that is the purpose of these workshops," said Bielefeld. "By being aware of all the different aspects of waterfowl hunting, especially the aspects unique to Florida, hunters will be more successful and conservation minded."

The one day workshops will be packed with just about all the information hunters need to get started duck hunting in Florida. They will cover such topics as places to hunt, personal gear, boats, blinds, decoys, calling, duck identification, wing-shooting, hunter ethics, training and using a dog, and cleaning and preparing ducks for the dinner table. "We are confident that hunters who attend a workshop will learn something that will help them be better sportmen and sportswomen," said Bielefeld.

The workshops have been scheduled to give prospective hunters plenty of time to get ready for the 2003-04 waterfowl hunting season. They are also an excellent opportunity to prepare children for the special Youth Waterfowl Days where children under the age of 16, supervised by an adult, may hunt waterfowl, coots and common moorhens.

LAST CALL: UP TO $5,000 IN BOATING SAFETY GRANTS AVAILABLE FROM BOATU.S. FOUNDATION

The BoatU.S. Foundation for Boating Safety and Clean Water has a great way for your local non-profit boating organization to help keep our waterways safe - but time is running out. The Foundation has grants available of up to $5,000 for boating safety projects, but to have a chance at funding, organizations need to apply by the November 1 deadline.

This year, the BoatU.S. Foundation is encouraging groups to give special consideration to project applications focusing on carbon monoxide poisoning. "We want applicants to know that they can apply for funding for any variety of projects they find appealing, but we'll be giving a little extra consideration to those focusing on carbon monoxide poisoning," said Chris Edmonston, director of boating safety. "The U.S. Coast Guard recently indicated that up to 15 percent of all boating related drownings could involve carbon monoxide. We hope that groups within the community will use boating safety grant projects to educate boaters of this dangerous hazard," he added.

Over the past 15 years, the Foundation has awarded over $570,000 to organizations that have developed creative and innovative projects that promote safe boating on local waterways. This year the Foundation is making a total of $45,000 available for this campaign.

To download an application and learn more about Boating Safety Grants, please visit <http://www.boatus.com/foundation> or call 1-800-336-BOAT. Grant applications must be emailed or postmarked on or before November 1, 2003 and grants will be awarded in late January 2004.

The BoatU.S. Foundation for Boating Safety and Clean Water is a national 501(c) (3) non-profit education and research organization funded by the voluntary contributions of 550,000 members of BoatU.S., the nation's largest recreational boat owners association. The mission of the Foundation is to promote safe and environmentally sensitive boating, reduce accidents and fatalities, and increase stewardship of our water resources. The Foundation operates the only NASBLA approved, free online boating safety course; a low-cost EPIRB rental program; a free Kids Life Jacket Loaner program; conducts clean water outreach and awards grants to non-profit groups for boating safety and environmental projects.

Senior Lee Sloan completed 7 of 15 passes for 79 yards and scored the game's only touchdown on a seven-yard run in the third quarter as Oviedo improved to 5-0 with a 7-3 Seminole Athletic Conference victory over Lyman at John Courier Field Thursday night.

 out tonight," said Lyman coach Bill Caughell. "Next week (at co-district leader Winter Springs) is our biggest game of the year. Certainly we want to beat Oviedo and we'd love to win the conference, but we have to protect our bigger plans. We just couldn't get anything going tonight."

Even so, Lyman held a 3-0 lead - courtesy of a 50-yard field goal by junior Mike Benzer at 4:13 of the first quarter - until late in the third quarter. Trailing 7-3 in the fourth quarter, the Greyhounds mounted a 17-play drive that Oviedo finally killed at their 21-yard line. "The kids have worked really hard," said Caughell. "But Oviedo had every aspect of the game going."

Led by senior tailback Will Harrison (111 yards on 20 carries), the Lions outgained the Greyhounds 212-68 while the Oviedo defense limited Lyman to just four first downs (two on the Greyhounds, first possession and two on their final possession).

Even so, the Lions trailed for longer than they led and were thankful to get away with a win.

"Coach Caughell has done a great job and it's starting to pay off," said Oviedo coach Greg Register. "They've been doing it right and they've built a strong program."

"This game was for the possible conference championship but both teams have big district games next week. Plus, this was a weird week. It was a short week, we didn't have school on Monday, we had exams this week, and the only full day of practice we had scheduled was cut short because of rain. But we'll take it. We'll watch the films and learn what we can."

Oviedo finally took the lead when quarterback Lee Sloan rolled right and into the end zone from the 7-yard line to cap an 11-play, 55-yard drive at 3:45 of the third quarter.

Sloan completed 7 of 15 passes for 79 yards. Jason Raulerson had four catches for 55 yards. Brice Patrick had eight carries for 16 yards while Johnny Girard rushed three times for nine yards.

Quarterback Kyle Harris led the Greyhounds with 31 yards rushing on 13 attempts while Nate Beard had 22 yards rushing on eight carries.

Next week, Oviedo (5-0) will be attempting to complete a clean sweep of the SAC portion of its schedule and clinch at least a tie for the 6A-District 2 title when it hosts the Seminole Fighting Seminoles next Friday night. Lyman (4-2) travels to Winter Springs for a SAC and 5A-District 5 clash.

junior, is second on the team with 47 tackles and leads the team with nine tackles for losses. Poe also has two sacks, one forced fumble, one fumble recovery and one blocked kick on the year. The defensive backfield touts Alari Bigby and Peter Sands, who have combined to record 97 tackles on the year. However, UCF must force turnovers to give the offense a short field. The Golden Knights have only created three turnovers, all fumbles, on the season.

On Thursday the team announced its players of the week and the Big Stick Award. Lake Howell graduate Brandon Marshall became the first offensive player in 2003 to earn the Big Stick Award. Steven Moffett was named offensive scout team player of the week while Damani Fagan was the defensive scout team player of the week.

STETSON BASEBALL RECRUITING CLASS RANKED 20TH IN THE NATION

The Stetson University 2003-04 baseball recruiting class is ranked 20th in the nation in Collegiate Baseball newspaper's 21st annual rundown on the top NCAA Division I baseball recruiting classes, released Monday (Sept. 29).

The Hatters have added 16 recruits to the 2003 squad that won over 40 games and advanced to the NCAA Regionals for the fourth straight year. Among the newcomers are 14 freshmen, one junior college transfer and one four-year transfer. Three were selected in the 2003 Major League Baseball draft, and seven were named to their high school or junior college All-State teams.

"By far this is the best recruiting class in my 25 years," Stetson head coach Pete Dunn said. "These 14 freshmen and two transfers will no doubt make an immediate impact."

Stetson's 2003-04 recruiting class includes:

- INF Brian Bocock, Dayton, VA / Turner Ashby HS.
- OF Kevin Burns, Ft. Myers, FL / Bishop Verot HS.
- RHP Stephen Byrd, Jacksonville, FL / Arlington Country Day HS.
- LHP/OF Ryan Colton, Heathrow, FL / Bishop Moore HS.
- UT Raul Delgado, Miami, FL / Miami Killian HS.

 for his 61-yard scamper.

The Hawks got close when Keandra Brown made a diving 1-yard touchdown catch of a J.J. Schoenwetter pass.

But the hosts put the game away with 3:16 left in the third period when Smith, who had a 16-yard td run called back earlier in the drive, scored on his five-yard run, giving the Patriots a 16-6 lead.

Lake Brantley's final score came in the fourth quarter on a 39-yard field goal by Miguel Santos.

The Patriots are now 4-2 on the season and will travel to DeLand to take on the Bulldogs in a huge Class 6A-District 2 contest next Friday at 7:30 p.m.
