

'A New National Spirit Of Unity And Trust'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a text of President-elect Carter's inaugural address: For myself and our nation, I want to thank my predecessor for all he has done to heal our land.

In this outward and physical ceremony we attest once again to the inner and spiritual strength of our nation.

As my high school teacher, Miss Julia Coleman, used to say, "We must adjust to changing times and still hold to unchanging principles."

Here before me is the Bible used in the inauguration of our first President in 1789, and I have just taken my own oath of office on the Bible my mother gave me a few years ago, opened to a timeless admonition from the ancient prophet Micah:

"He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God." (Micah 6:8)

This inauguration ceremony marks a new beginning, a new dedication within our government, and a new spirit among us all. A President may

'Let us learn...
laugh...pray

sense and proclaim that new spirit, but only a people can provide it.

Two centuries ago our nation's birth was a milestone in the long quest for freedom, but the bold and brilliant dream which excited the founder of our nation still awaits its consummation. I have no new dream to set forth today, but rather urge a fresh faith in the old dream.

Ours was the first society openly to define itself in terms of both spirituality and of human liberty. It is that unique self-definition which has given us an exceptional appeal — but it also imposes on us a special obligation — to take on those moral duties which, when assumed, seem invariably to be in our own best interests.

You have given me a great responsibility — to stay close to you, to be worthy of you, and to exemplify what you are. Let us create together a new national spirit of unity and trust. Your strength can compensate for my weakness, and your wisdom can help to minimize my mistakes.

Let us learn together and laugh together and work together and pray together, confident that in the end we will triumph together in the right.

The American dream endures. We must once again have full faith in our country — and in one

'We must once again have full faith in our country...'

another. I believe America can be a better. We can be stronger than before.

Let our recent mistakes bring a reurgent commitment to the basic principles of our nation, for we know that if we despise our own government we have no future. We recall in special times when we have stood briefly, but magnificently, united; in those times no prize was beyond our grasp.

But we cannot dwell upon remembered glory. We cannot afford to drift. We reject the prospect of failure or mediocrity or an inferior quality of life for any person.

Our government must at the same time be both competent and compassionate.

We have already found a high degree of personal liberty, and we are now struggling to enhance equality of opportunity. Our commitment to human rights must be absolute, our laws fair, our natural beauty preserved; the powerful must not persecute the weak, and human dignity must be enhanced.

We have learned that "more" is not necessarily "better"; that even our great nation has its recognized limits, and that we can neither answer all questions nor solve all problems. We cannot afford to do everything, nor can we afford to lack

be both competent and compassionate.'

boldness as we meet the future. So together, in a spirit of individual sacrifice for the common good, we must simply do our best.

Our nation can be strong abroad only if it is strong at home, and we know that the best way to enhance freedom in other lands is to demonstrate here that our democratic system is worthy of emulation.

To be true to ourselves, we must be true to others. We will not behave in foreign places so as to violate our rules and standards here at home, for we know that the trust which our nation earns is essential to its strength.

The world itself is now dominated by a new spirit. Peoples more numerous and more politically aware are craving and now demanding their place in the sun — not just for the benefit of their own physical condition, but for basic human rights.

The passion for freedom is on the rise. Tapping this new spirit, there can be no nobler nor more ambitious task for America to undertake on this day of a new beginning than to help shape a just and peaceful world that is truly humane.

We are a strong nation and we will maintain strength so sufficient that it need not be proven in combat — a quiet strength based not merely on the size of an arsenal, but on the nobility of ideas.

We will be ever vigilant and never vulnerable, and we will fight our wars against poverty, ignorance and injustice, for those are the enemies against which our forces can be honorably marshalled.

We are a proud idealistic nation, but let no one confuse our idealism with weakness.

Because we are free we can never be indifferent to the fate of freedom elsewhere. Our moral sense dictates a clearcut preference for those societies which share with us an abiding respect for individual human rights. We do not seek to intimidate, but it is clear that a world which others can dominate with impunity would be inhospitable to decency and a threat to the well-being of all people.

The world is still engaged in a massive armaments race designed to insure continuing equivalent strength among potential adversaries. We pledge perseverance and wisdom in our efforts to limit the world's armaments to those necessary for our nation's own domestic safety. We will move this year a step toward our ultimate goal — the elimination of all nuclear weapons from this earth.

We urge all other people to join us, for success can mean life instead of death.

Within us, the people of the United States, there is evident a serious and purposeful rekindling of confidence, and I join in the hope that when my time as your President has ended, people might say this about our nation:

That we had remembered the words of Micah and renewed our search for humility, mercy and justice; That we had torn down the barriers that separated those of different race and region and religion, and where there had been mistrust, built unity, with a respect for diversity;

That we had found productive work for those able to perform it;

That we had strengthened the American family, which is the basis of our society;

That we had ensured respect for the law, and equal treatment under the law, for the weak and the powerful, the rich and the poor;

And that we had enabled our people to be proud of their own government once again.

I would hope that the nations of the world might say that we had built a lasting peace, based not on weapons of war but on international policies which reflect our own most precious values.

These are not just my goals, but our common hopes. And they will not be my accomplishments, but the affirmation of our nation's continuing moral strength and our belief in an undiminished, ever-expanding American dream.

'There's A Place For Me,' Says Youth Ranch Director

GRANT

By MARLYN TIPTON
Herald Writer

"I know that somewhere between the executive director and the junior there is a place for me where I can help these kids," said Jimmy Grant Thursday in response to recommendations that he be removed as executive director of the Sky King Youth Ranches of America, Inc. The recommendation was one of three made by Charles Hall, program and staff director, Florida Department of Social and Economic Services.

had planned all along to expand," she said. "We'll just have to do it a little sooner."

Grant has asked the state to assist him in reviewing applications for the new director, said Irene Burnett, administrator for Health and Rehabilitation Services.

"There is no way we are going to hire a director and say 'This is who you must have,'" said Mrs. Burnett. "But we have agreed to assist the ranch in considering possible candidates."

The state also has offered technical assistance, said Mrs. Burnett, "to be sure they understand the regulations of the state — if there becomes a question of whether or not they are in compliance with the law, for instance."

Asked why no member of the previous board, who had resigned in protest of administrative procedures at the ranch, and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Holmes, former houseparents, had not been interviewed during the course of the investigation, Mrs. Burnett said:

"Let me explain about that. We did not get involved in the relationship of the board to the staff and that kind of thing. The state, with regard to licensing of a facility of this kind, is interested in the care of children, specifically. The SES offices in Tallahassee had letters from board members. Since the investigation took place out of Tallahassee, I really don't know who may have been talked to."

Holmes, who with his wife, Dottie, had been houseparents at the Oklawaha facility of the ranch, responded to reports that the investigation was ended.

"Absolutely no one from the state talked to me at all. If Corley is not going to be the administrator — if they are going to have someone experienced in the administrative end whose interest is in taking care of the kids they have the funds to care for — I think it could be okay."

"I sure want to make it clear that nobody from the state contacted me. The people who resigned should have been notified or talked to in the investigation to get both sides."

Mike and Mary Ainsley, present houseparents at the ranch facility, expressed relief that the investigation was over.

Draft Evaders Win Pardon

WASHINGTON (AP) — In his first executive order, President Carter today fulfilled his campaign promise and granted a full complete and unconditional pardon to all Vietnam draft evaders who were not involved in any violent act.

Deserters from the military forces were not included, but Carter ordered an immediate study of their cases and also of the possible upgrading of bad conduct or undesirable discharges.

Press Secretary Jody Powell said there are "no good estimates of the number (of persons) that might be affected" by the pardon but that it is probably "well up to the hundreds of thousands, including people who failed to register for the draft." There are an unknown number of persons whose failure to register has never come to official attention.

Draft evaders who are now overseas may return home under Carter's action, Powell said.

Those who have become citizens of another country can come home to visit families "without fear of prosecution," but if they wish to regain American citizenship they will have to apply under the same terms and conditions as any other alien, he said.

Carter's pardon included an order that the government "forever give up its right to prosecute" any of the draft evaders covered, Powell said. He explained that the Carter administration was taking "an abundance of caution" in doing this, so that no future administration or any future attorney general could reinstate prosecution.

Hammock: Green Belt Or $10,000 Payroll

On one acre of lush Spring Hammock, the issue is a $10,000-a-week payroll versus the preservation of nature in the area.

The decision to switch from agricultural to commercial zoning for the rapidly developing second front, the stakes have been upped by conservationists. They plan to ask the county commission to purchase the entire 330-acre Spring Hammock area on U.S. 17-92 north of Gen. Hutchinson Pkwy., toward Five Points.

It all began when commissioners last Dec. 14 overrode their own professional staff's recommendation and rezoned an acre of Spring Hammock land fronting U.S. 17-92.

The decision to switch from agricultural to commercial zoning for the rapidly developing second front, the stakes have been upped by conservationists. They plan to ask the county commission to purchase the entire 330-acre Spring Hammock area on U.S. 17-92 north of Gen. Hutchinson Pkwy., toward Five Points.

Both conservationist groups now are taking their plea to the growing campaign to induce the county commission to buy all of Spring Hammock and prevent any further commercial developments.

Land prices vary in the area. The property assessor's office says that some land fronting U.S. 17-92 is appraised as high as $11,000 per acre, while other Spring Hammock acres are appraised as low as $3,700 an acre. Industrial acreage goes for as high as $13,000 an acre.

Mrs. Pat Martin, a member of the Sierra Club, has started a society for the preservation of Spring Hammock. And club members seeking support will be in parking lots at Public Schools from 5 to 5:30 p.m. in Logwood, Casselberry, Altamonte Springs and Sanford.

Environmentalists want to buy the land because they say it's a "natural green belt buffer between north and south ends of the county with a natural water-filtering system that cleans water that goes into Soldiers Creek."

Conservationists don't want the car lot on U.S. 17-92, and, in a way, Datam Entrepreneur Bill Ray, understands that. But Ray views his one-acre lot as "just using land that is its highest and best use."

Ray, who said construction will begin as soon as the site plans are approved by the commission, said today the commission, if they are going to do anything at all will have to buy about 300 acres.

Ray said Seminole is always screaming about trying to lure light, clean industry to the area. His dealership he says will employ about 50 workers at an average salary of $200 per week for each employee.

Also, he said, about 25 per cent of the acre will be kept as it is in "existing vegetation and trees."

"We plan," he added, "to keep it in as natural a state as we can."

But the most natural state acceptable to conservationists is the state that exists at present, not what Ray envisions.

Conservationists plan to confront the county commission with a petition, requesting revocation of the zoning change. And, even further, they hope to ask the commission to buy the entire area and turn it into parks to retain the area's natural state.

For the most part, the recommendation to rezone, believes it's inevitable that the area fronting U.S. 17-92 will be commercial. Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski, who backed French Dec. 14, believes the entire issue has been blown out of proportion. The third commissioner in favor of the zoning change, John Kimbrough, has been noncommittal.

The two commissioners who opposed the zoning change — Commission Chairman Dick Williams and Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff — are sitting back awaiting further developments. And those developments — which are letting the classical form of environmentalist versus businessman — are on the way.

Midgets, Mini Stocks Crank Up For Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH—The World Series of Midget, TQ Midget and Mini Stock Car Racing at Memorial Stadium has attracted the attention of the major manufacturers in the sport of auto racing.

A total of $6,000 in accessory awards have been allocated for the series in addition to the over $50,000 in prize money that has been posted. Additional awards are expected because of the drop of the first green flag on Sunday night, February 13, at 7 p.m. sharp.

The Stadium World Series will run seven straight nights, ending on Saturday night, Feb. 19, with three 100 lap championship races for the top 33 drivers in the point standings. Due to the fact that there are over 200 entries for all divisions, preliminary qualifying races will be run prior to the 7 p.m. start to qualify the fastest 48 cars into the night's regular action. This will guarantee each of the competitors an equal chance to make the show on each of the first six nights.

Top drivers from all over the country have signified they will be in the action in all divisions for this unique series racing during the February Superweeks. A full cross section of competitors from the country's organizations is represented in this open competition racing event.

The TQ midget ranks also have swelled in the past few weeks as the entries have been arriving from all over the United States.

Time trials have been set for 12 noon on Sunday, Feb. 13, to set the field for the first night of racing. On Monday night, Feb. 14, it's C.B. License holders admitted free of charge on presentation of a current valid C.B. License.

Grimsley's Sports World

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Every Man For Himself

NEW YORK (AP)—Julius "Doctor J" Erving, basketball's millionaire contract-jumping guy, insists it is every man for himself in the present-day wheeling and dealing of big time sports.

"Loyalty doesn't enter into it," the all-star forward of the Philadelphia 76ers said. "That is a term of another era. Today the market value of a player is dictated by what the people are willing to pay."

"The players didn't start this whole ball of wax — the owners did. It started with Will Chamberlain, traded from Philadelphia to Los Angeles. Then it spread, affecting guys like Oscar Robertson and Dan Issel.

"I keep seeing guys come and go. It's a constant cycle. But the player has to be careful that he doesn't get used, abused and cast aside."

The mini viable Dr. J, his lithe 6-foot-7 frame radiantly draped in a white tank top, was in New York Thursday night in a hotel room, talking from the phone of the defunct ABA to a divisional colleague in the NBA and who are currently wallowing in an 11-game losing slump.

"Before that dramatic shift last October — with five more years to go on a $3.5 million, eight-year contract — Erving's career had been marked by controversy growing out of his faculty for going where grass looked greener.

"As a 21-year-old junior out of the University of Massachusetts, he signed a four-year contract with the ABA Virginia Squires in April, 1971. A year later he jumped to the Atlanta Hawks of the ABA but found that the Milwaukee Bucks, who held draft rights, claimed possession of his services.

"Then ensued bitter court fights. The Squires sued, insisting he still was under contract to them. A judge awarded him to the Hawks. The NBA found the Hawks said he belonged to the Bucks. The NBA fined the Hawks. The Hawks sued. Another judge said he still belonged to the Squires. The Bucks sued the Hawks for $3 million.

"It was mind-boggling. Finally, Dr. J. returned his rights to the Squires, who in turn sold him to the Nets who, bowing to Erving's ultimatum, agreed to let him go the 76ers.

"Has the basketball world found happiness in the City of Brotherly Love?"

"Carewfully, I suppose you would say I am contented. There has been a necessary period of adjustment. I have had to find my place on a new team. I am doing it."

Misery Still On For Nets

By The Associated Press

It was going to end for the New York Nets?

The Nets lost their 12th straight National Basketball Association game Thursday night after learning earlier in the day that star guard John Williamson would be sidelined for about three games. Tonight, the Nets face the Washington Bullets.

In the Nets' latest setback, they were routed 123-93 by the Kansas City Kings behind rookie Richard Washington's 26 points and 16 rebounds.

In the other NBA games Thursday night, the Portland Trail Blazers beat the Cleveland Cavaliers 99-91 and the Golden State Warriors topped the Phoenix Suns 107-103.

The Nets' troubles began in preseason when assistant manager Julius Erving was involved in a contract dispute and dealt to Philadelphia. High-scoring Nate Archibald later suffered a broken ankle. Then on Jan. 5, Williamson, their leading scorer, suffered an injured finger on his shooting hand and it was placed in a cast.

Forward Jan van Breda Kolff also is temporarily sidelined with an injury.

Kansas City led by as many as 40 points in the first period before the reserves took over. Bill Robinson and Ron Boone each added 21 points for the Kings. Bibbs Hartman scored 25 points and Al Skinner 19 for New York.

Warriors 197 Suns 103
Rick Barry scored six points in the final 45 seconds, giving Golden State the victory and winning string. Barry, who finished with 31 points, hit a jumper, snapping a 99-99 tie. With 15 seconds left, he sank a field goal and, 11 seconds later, hit on two free throws. Rookie Robert Parish added 18 points for Golden State. Paul Westphal scored 20 points for Phoenix.

Brantley: Another Crack At G-ville

Seminole County girls' defending district basketball champion, Lake Brantley, will take on the only team that beat it in completion last year, the Hurricane Purple Hurricanes, tonight at Lake Brantley.

Brantley coach John Nickman says although the Hurricane team had had several seasons more experience, "they shouldn't have beaten us." Nickman says the Hurricane had a better offense but their defense provided no pressure.

The Patriots coach is optimistic about the game because she says they will be playing under better conditions. Nickman feels her girls would have done better in the tournament against Gainesville, but they had just finished a round of three hard games and were tired.

Tip-off time for the game is 8 p.m.

Other area weekend games are Seminole girls at Spruce Creek Friday night and Oviedo will host Father Lopez on Saturday night. Lake Brantley will take on the Lynn Greysoups for a second time, that game will start at 6.

Temperatures In 30s, Bass Are Cooperating

WELAKA (AP)—Roger Moore of Branson, Mo., with a catch of 25 pounds, 2 ounces, held the lead going into today's final round of the 1977 Florida Invitational Bass tournament on the St. Johns River.

Moore, a 40-year-old full-time professional angler, pulled in four bass at 13 pounds, 7 ounces to jump from fifth place Thursday.

First-round leader H.J. Stevens of El Dorado, Ark., slipped to third with 19.4.

Steve Goodwin of Durham, N.C., held on to second place with 25.4 in the chase for a $14,000 top prize.

The temperatures warmed into the mid 30s Thursday after the opening day's icy fishing. However, the chilly water temperatures and stiff winds made fishing conditions unfavorable.

"I fished my good spot real hard in Dunns Creek," said Moore, who placed third in last year's tournament on the tour sponsored by the BASS Anglers Sporterman Society.

A chrome-colored deep-diving plug on the steeper banks paid off for Moore, who caught a six-pounder in his string.

Stevens, fishing in the same spot, said he had to resort to a plastic worm.

Garry Sperry of Overland Park, Kan., moved into the big-fish lead, with a 18.1 largemouth. It nicked Billy Joe Bowman's 10.9 largemouth bass of the first round.

Thursday's action improved with 214 bass caught weighing 471 pounds 9 ounces.

Still to catch a keeper bass are 97 of the 140 fishermen that were blanked Wednesday. The tournament is the first of six qualifying tournaments for the 1977 BASS Masters Classic in October.

Four Quit At Crooms

Flashing a new starting lineup, Crooms High freshman basketball team dropped a 58-48 verdict to Kussmeier Thursday night.

After starters David Thomas and Gene Sweet were suspended from school, four other members of the Crooms squad decided to quit basketball in protest.

"We are down to nine players, and at least we are down to the nine who are interested in playing basketball," said coach Bob Bray today.

"Those other (who quit) apparently were only interested in the win-lose record."

Crooms now carries a 6-5 overall record and plays again Monday night at Bishop Moore.

Crooms' starters 1-12: Hot 1-6: Moore 3-1-10, Butler 3-3, Totals 14-20.

'Bama, Tennessee Pounding SEC Road

By The Associated Press

Florida to Auburn, Mississippi State to Georgia, Louisiana State to Kentucky and Mississippi to Vanderbilt.

The State-Georgia clash is set for a 4 p.m. EST tipoff and will be televised regionally (NBC).

Alabama, unbeaten in 14 games this season, has rolled past three tough foes on the road in posting a 5-0 SEC basketball mark. Tennessee has a one-half game edge in the race with a 4-0 mark that includes four victories away from home — one at Kentucky, the sixth-ranked team that is favored to win the conference crown.

Alabama visits Tennessee Saturday night in a showdown for the SEC's lead, each hoping to extend their winning streak.

Alabama has won 14 straight since last season's loss to national champion Indiana, and Tennessee, 152 overall, has reeled off 10 straight victories since a December setback by San Francisco, currently ranked No. 1 in the nation.

The Alabama-Tennessee clash is the key game on a full agenda Saturday that also

2 Appointments For Pat Telson

Seminole County School Board member Pat Telson received word Tuesday of her appointment to Gov. Reubin Askew's new Department of Offender Rehabilitation Advisory Council, Region 3.

PAT TELSON

"I'm really pleased the Governor is recognizing women," commented Mrs. Telson.

She said she was interested in the problems of offender rehabilitation and that her current studies of psychology and sociology at Seminole County College would provide her with useful background.

She will serve on this advisory council five years.

Mrs. Telson also received notification that she has been appointed by the Florida Department of Education to the Elementary Reading-State Instructional Material Council. This is a three-year appointment.

Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore learns about the Girl Scout cookies sale from left, Shannon Bennett, Cheryl Feterhoff, Marion Feterhoff and Wanda Jenkins

Cookie Sales Scheduled

By NANCY VERRECCHIO Herald Correspondent

Beginning Jan. 28, there will be three weeks of cookie sales by the 8,700 girls from 6 counties, that make up the Citrus Council of Girl Scouts. Thirty thousand cases of chocolate, vanilla, and lemon cremes, along with five other varieties, in all will be distributed. Maureen Slicer, the Sanford Service Unit chairperson, will distribute cookies to the 4 troops in Sanford. There are 115 girls contained in the twenty-eight junior troops and nine cadette troops in the Seminole area which will be involved in door-to-door sales.

The cookies sell for $1.25 per box, 51 cents of which goes to the original cost of the cookies. The proceeds per box are divided accordingly: 30 cents for incentives for sale, such as pins, patches, and troop bonuses which range from 10 cents to 30 cents per box in relation to how many boxes are sold; 15 cents has in 1975-76 been used for the property development of the Mah-Kab-Wee Program Center near Chalusa, Florida; 17 cents goes for the maintenance of existing properties, Ticochee and Mah-Kab-Wee Program Centers, Celia Lane Little House and Service Center; and finally 12 cents goes for direct services for the troops which includes program and training materials, "Citrus Seeds," and financial assistance to girls for program participation.

Sis Retaliates Blow For Blow

DEAR ABBY: The clan gathered at my sister-in-law's house for a holiday dinner. Everyone was nice and friendly until Sis turned to me and in a very loud voice said, "Boy, what color would your hair really be if you didn't dye it? Gray!"

Taken completely by surprise, I said the first thing that came to mind: "I'll tell you what color my hair really is if you tell me how much you really weigh." (Sis is very fat. She claims she has a thyroid condition, but she eats constantly.)

Well, things got pretty hot around there, and now the whole family—including my husband—is furious with me for insulting the hostess. I don't see why her privacy is any more sacred than mine, but if you think I should apologize, I will.

NOT IRISH FOR NOTHING

DEAR IRISH: Even though struck the first blow, you were struck a lower one. If it will restore peace in the family, apologize.

DEAR ABBY: I have always believed in God, and in His goodness, but I am now having doubts.

There are 365 days in every year, yet on my wedding anniversary, the most joyous day of the year for me, God chose to take my beloved mother from this earth. So now, instead of celebrating my anniversary, it has become a day of sadness and mourning.

Then I had a son. On his 10th birthday, God chose to take my beloved father from me. Again, a happy day was turned into a sad one.

Have you any words of comfort for me, Abby? I feel as though the Lord has punished me, but for what, I do not know. Another thing, People

DEAR ABBY: When letters come to you asking about whether a girl should wear a bra or not, you should take the opportunity to say, "Yes," with a capital "Y," and then explain that girls who have ample bosoms and fail to support them become victims of Cooper's Syndrome.

To further explain: Native African women whose pictures you see in the National Geographic magazine have never known what a bra-strewn was, and consequently their breasts are all stretched out and hang precariously to their waists. They are victims of Cooper's Syndrome . . . or Cooper's drop.

Deltona Festival Of Arts, Crafts

The Deltona Woman's Club annual Fine Arts Festival held Monday and Tuesday brought forth an impressive variety of entries. Since the Florida State Fine Arts Contest will award a grand prize of a cruise for two in the Caribbean, the theme selected for this year's festival was "Caribbean Holiday."

Mrs. Kay Danforth, top right, looks best of show honors for her afghan. She credited Mrs. Cecil Gordon with being her instructor.

Mrs. Marjorie Anderson, bottom right, was awarded third place in crewel work for her flower design.

Mrs. Wynne French, top left, dressed a pair of 33-year-old A.M. dolls. Her husband restored the dolls' cradle.

Other first place winners included Mrs. Ruth Kent for ceramics and Mrs. Ellen Scholtz for needlework.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Saturday, January 22, 1977

ARIES (March 21-April 19) These close to you want to do nice things for you today. Graciously and gracefully accept any and all offerings. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Have fun with your friends today. Resist the intrusion of business. Levity and practicality are unwilling bedfellows. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your judgment is faulty if you feel that allies are necessary to your plans today. All you need is the courage of your convictions. CANCER (June 21-July 21) Although it is difficult for you to see on people, today the only key to getting the job done may be able to do so. Make orders unmistakable. LEO (July 22-Aug. 22) Put it in writing today if the people you're dealing with are unknown quantities. Be doubly sure to expound on all the fine points. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There are easy ways out for you today, but they are not necessarily the right ones. Your course of action requires the most courage and initiative. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You hold more trump cards than you realize today. Don't abdicate your control in financial dealings when others' resources are inferior to yours. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Moneywise, a flimflam artist could take you to the cleaners and you might even thank him! SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) While you might be lethargic about your rights today, you're a veritable tiger if someone threatens the well-being of those close to you. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Friends may make important requests of you today. You'll accede, even though you may doubt their sincerity. Your worries are ill-founded. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Although you prefer to do business with friends of longstanding, today you could be better off dealing with recent acquaintances. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your aim is a bit fuzzy today. When the real test comes, you could miss the bullseye.

SPIDER-MAN

Pancreas Helps Digest Food

DEAR DR. LAMB - I would like to know something about the pancreas and what it controls in the body, if you please. My husband has a calcifying pancreas. He drinks quite a bit of beer. He was told by your doctor that he was not to drink a drop of any kind of alcohol, but I am unable to convince him to stop. I am embarrassed to say that he has loose bowels (very loose). He weighs 140 pounds and is 6 foot tall. He is extremely nervous. I have talked to him nicely and I have scolded him and nothing helps. I told him that I would write to you for information on the hazards involved. DEAR READER - The pancreas is an important organ in our ability to digest food. It is located just behind the stomach and attached to the first part of the small intestine. It is from four to six inches long. The gland in animals is often used for sweeteners. There are two parts of the gland, the tissues that form pancreatic juice (we form from one to three quarts a day) and the small ducts of Langerhans' islets that secrete the enzymes that break down the proteins into amino acids so they can be absorbed through the intestine. And it contains the enzymes that break down fat. So, most of the food we eat must be acted upon by enzymes from the pancreas before it can even be absorbed to us any good. Failure to break down food, particularly the fat, leads to diarrhea and large foul-smelling stools. Part of your husband's problem here may be due to his pancreas.

The Ear

There's a saying EARlings, that politics makes strange bedfellows. And that was never truer than over in Langwood recently when the council refused to refund a $25 bond to newly elected councilman Stephen Barton. Seems Barton had workers leave up a few signs at crucial locations to say "thank you" to citizens who voted him into office. But the signs exceeded the city-imposed deadline, and officials refused to return the $25 bond—even though Barton cried foul. Councilmen said it wouldn't be fair to refund the $25 bond because city workers had to take down the campaign posters. Besides, city officials felt if Barton got the refund—why not refund the $25 to Jerome McCauley, who ran and lost. Some County planning chiefs, The Ear has learned, fear the controversy over the car lot scheduled for construction on U.S. 17-92 near Spring Hammock could strain relations between planners and county commissioners. After all, it's not the easiest job in the world for planners to sell the commission a comprehensive land plan while commissioners and planners are at odds over what effect the dealership might have on the environment at the hammock. County Planner Bill Kercher, however, reports that planners will stay out of the hammock controversy from now on—unless the county commission requests additional information. One minute of blissful silence will now be observed at Longwood council meetings, which is pleasing to The Ear. It replaced the customary prayer after Councilman Lawrence Goldberg complained about prayers offered in "Jesus' name." Goldberg may have done more of a service than he realized. One veteran Longwood observer said the moment of silence will be "the most blissful part of the evening." Keys, or key rings? That is the question, EARlings. Democratic Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski quipped recently that elected officials now may request courthouse key rings from Democratic commissioners. The issue centers on Republican Commissioner John Kimbrough's steadfast refusal to release any courthouse keys requested by elective officials—other than commissioners. Circuit Court Clerk Art. Beckwith Jr. has been hopping mad, as have others, since locks on courthouse doors were changed last June. "If they (officials) want keys, they'll have to see the Democratic commissioners." "But if it's Key Rings they want, they can come see the Democrats." For awhile last Thursday, The Ear wondered who was planting what. Both Commissioner Bill Kirchoff and Bob French showed up at tree-planting ceremonies at the courthouse in Sanford. Just prior to the digging, though, Kirchoff told a county planner he planned to plant French, instead of the tree. Topping it off, Kirchoff said he planned to plant the amiable Democrat in a "square hole." Following the ceremony, however, French managed to get the last word. "He (Kirchoff) stood off to one side and told me how to handle the shovel. . . . Republicans do that, you know. . . ."

'I, Jimmy Carter, President Of The United States, Do Hereby Grant...'

By MARK WEINBERG Herald Staff Writer President Carter's unconditional pardon to all Vietnam draft evaders didn't go over too well with Sanfordites interviewed around town Friday. Nine out of 10 interviewed by The Herald opposed the President's action. Not surprisingly, past Commander Jim Ripley of American Legion Post No. 53, said, "I don't think he ever should have done it. Those (draft evaders) should have gone into the Army the same as I did." The interviews took place at three locations: Harry's Bar on Park Ave., Seminole High School and Seminole Plaza. Patrons at Harry's were unanimously against the pardon. Charley Craig, for instance. He served in the Navy in World War I. "I felt I ought to fight for my country," he said. "If you wouldn't fight for it, you shouldn't live in it." "Did Myrtle Summersill favor the pardon? No, I don't think so. We're all part of this country and we have to stick up for it." "I don't believe in it," said Beulah F. Miller. "They should have given their lives for their country."

Junior Ronny Ryan favored "some kind of a pardon," but felt "he shouldn't have made it a blanket pardon. He should have considered them more individually." At Sanford Plaza, J.H. Messer said, "I wouldn't have done it. It's not good for the country. It might set a precedent for future wars." A tall blonde woman was asked to comment on draft evaders. "I don't think I better," she answered. "I've got too many friends who did that." She didn't elaborate. Only Richard Prescott thought the pardon was "a good idea. It's time we buried the hatchet," he said. "The war's over."

FRIGID FRUIT

This wilted orange tree on SR 46-A (Orange Boulevard) is indicative of the damage this past week's freeze has caused to citrus crops throughout central Florida. So much so that the Florida Citrus Commission has slapped a 10-day shipping embargo on citrus fruit to try to stem an increase in prices and to prevent the sale of damaged fruit. Gov. Askew was expected to make a decision by Monday on whether to ask President Carter to declare Florida a disaster area. United Growers and Shippers Assn. of Orlando reported today that freeze damage in boxes of oranges and juice loss in the freeze could exceed the 71.5 million boxes claimed in the combined freeze seasons of 1962-63 and 1970-71. 4 Fern Park Stores Hit By Burglars

The burglary of four businesses in Fern Park and an attempt to burglarize another on Oxford Road in Fern Park was being investigated today. Sheriff's reports indicate that the businesses involved in the Friday pre-dawn burglaries were the Flower Basket, Shirley's Closet, the Golden Bath Shoppe, and Betty Lee's Styling Salon. The burglars also attempted to enter Better Than Pants in the same complex, but were stymied by a brick wall. A hamster and a tan coat reportedly were abandoned by the frustrated burglars. According to Dep. Randy Pittman, the burglars entered the Flower Basket, then chopped a hole into the rear interior wall of Shirley's Closet. They left that store by chopping another hole in the wall, entering the Golden Bath Shoppe. The yeggs also gained entry to Betty Lee's Styling Salon, and tried to chop a hole through to the Better Than Pants store, but were brought up short by a brick wall. Dep. Pittman reported that some of the stores were ransacked, soft-drink machines and cash registers broken into, and a color television set taken. Total value of missing cash and other items was still undetermined when Pittman made his report.
