By DON WHITEHEAD
WASHINGTON (AP)—At the stroke of midnight, the Republican-controlled 83rd Congress wrote finis to a mixed record of action and inaction in helping the nation's economic recovery.

This first session of the first Congress in two decades to be Republican-controlled while a Republican was in the White House—made a firm start toward ending the depression by the Democratic New Deal and "Fair Deal" philosophies.

But even Republicans conceded it was only a start, and much of it that achieved only with Democratic aid.

But even Republicans conceded it was only a start, and much of it that achieved only with Democratic aid.

Official windup time for the Senate was midnight local time. Actually it ran 30 minutes longer, but the adjournment resolution made midnight the final hour.

But the end didn't come in the House before an angry debate over a resolution to open the way for members of Congress to give their "own" pay raise.

The House approved the resolution 171-128 without a record vote—setting up a commission which would recommend the proper salary level for congressmen and members of the judiciary.

The bill was introduced but not enough to balance the budget. The outlook is that despite the cuts there will be a whopping $2,000,000,000 deficit at the close of the fiscal year.

Nation's Lawmakers Leave Behind Imposing List Of Hot Potatoes To Be Taken Up In January

There was no hint in the letters of any change over his biggest legislative mistake, a plea to boost the statutory debt limit.

A special session in October or November was obviously in prospect. But Eisenhower said in his letters to the members of Congress.

When the Senate Finance Committee killed off the House's approved debt limit proposal, Eisenhower's fiscal leaders had been insistent that the statutory debt limit be raised from 275 billion to 290 billion.

Somertime
Turtle eggs are delicious creamed or in pancakes or made into soup, and they're better still left to grow into turtles. But, according to a story in the Lake Worth Leader, what they do to a car paint job is unprintable. For several successive mornings, a motorist of that city found his car dripping embryonic turtles. Lake Worth police are now on the alert for teen-agers throwing turtle eggs incidentally. It's a nuisance against the law for anybody to disturb a nesting turtle or to have turtle eggs in one's possession.

Puzzle—Invite one of your friends to write down any figure, containing any number of digits—five or seven is a handy size. He's NOT to tell you the number. Now have him add up the digits in the number "crosswise." For example, if he had chosen 22,812, the addition would produce 22. He's got to tell you that number. Instead of asking him to subtract it, secretly from the original 22,812 number, in our example that leaves 52,790. Tell your friend to continue keeping minus. Now ask him to strike out any digit in the result, except a zero. Then have him read aloud to you what is left. Suppose he struck out the seven, leaving 52,790. You add up those digits crosswise and see how much you'd have to add to their sum to make a multiple of nine. In this case, it's seven. The remainder, if you're stymied for the reason watch for the explanation tomorrow.

Thoughts While Shaving—These mornings before we start to scrape the razor across the bristles, we go through the ritual of closely examining our shaving mirror and Terry Somertime are both sporting the splashes of measles and if memory serves us correct, we've never had the measles in this area. Just like six years ago when the Somertime and the kids came down with chickenpox during the Christmas period and we turned out the sports page at home during the period of quarantine. If we were a constructor, we'd turn out three bedroom houses by the dozen knowing there was a ready market for them. The big plea at the Chamber of Commerce and at other spots in the city is for that same home. Families are either getting bigger or people want more room in which to move around.

In case of attack, turn your AM radio dial to 610 or 1230 kilocycles. That was the advice given today by Marion Harman of Radio Station WTHB, The Federal Civil Defense Administration, in removing the classified tag from the plan, recently announced that if an enemy should attack, necessary information to residents will be passed over those two frequencies. The plan is called "Control" which is the short title for "Plan for Control of Electromagnetic Radiation." WTHB, like other stations in the area, monitor station WDBO in Orlando at all times. An automatic alarm system is set up whereby the local and other nearby stations will be notified if there is a radio emergency. Main purpose according to Harman is to see people informed of important civil defense news and instructions without hearing enemy bombers reach their targets. Remember those magic numbers—610 and 1230.

Tommy Leonard, a frequent visitor to the Herald office, was quite impressed with the program put on by the players at Jacksonville Beach last Thursday night. "Just looking at those guys, you'd never know they had so much of the diamond talent," he said. "Tom, preceding the game, a flag was set up in the middle of the infield, the field lights were turned off, and stage lights were thrown on. The hitting practice was provided by the backstop. The Seabirds put on a very interesting musical program that drew players and spectators alike. We should do something like that here," concluded the loop's leading sticker.

Editor Advises Women To Go With Their Traveling Men

By DOROTHY ROE, AP Women's Editor

Note to lonely wives: If your husband is a traveling man, pack your bag and go along.

It's a wonderful way to have a second honeymoon, or even a third or fourth, says Mary Ann, sprightly blonde partner in one of Hollywood's most successful marriages.

Mary's husband is Dana Andrews, handsome, tough star of numerous movie thrillers, now on his way to South Africa for the filming of "Duel in the Jungle." Dana will be away until Christmas, but Mary will be with him until time to start work on the film. They plan a leisurely motor tour of England, France and Italy before Mary goes back to Hollywood in September to start the children off to school.

"When Dana has to go away on location for a movie, we often try to start a week or so early, and I go along. After he starts working I go home, because he's too busy to spend much time in England. I think that's a good plan for most wives. If your husband has to go to a business convention, don't go along for that. When it's a vacation, you'll have a better time. But go ahead if you can have a vacation with him first."

Dana and Mary have been married 14 years, which is in the high brackets for Hollywood. They met at the Pasadena Playhouse, where both were working hard to become actors but when they got married, Mary put aside ambitions for a stage or screen career. She says: "Two careers in the same family just won't work—or at least not often. When a husband and wife are both in pictures, a normal, happy marriage is almost impossible, I believe. The woman who is working in a movie has to get up about 5 a. m. and go to the studio hours before the man, to get her hairdo and makeup.

"It's a long, hard day during the filming of any picture, and when she comes home she's too tired to do anything except collapse. Also, if she happens to get ahead faster than her husband, there's bound to be jealousy and life generally is difficult.

"My husband and children are more important to me than any other career. That's the way it is, and that's the way we like it."

There are four Andrews children: David, 19, Dana's son by his first marriage; Kathy, 15, Stephen, 8, and Susan, 5. When Mary and Dana are away on one of their jaunts, a relative of Mary's takes over the household for a few weeks.

When Mom and Pop Andrews are at home, which is a great deal of the time, they go in for family sailing parties aboard their 35-foot yawl, Says Mary.

"I don't believe in children being raised by a nurse. We both feel that children need their parents' personal care and attention. That's another reason I gave up the stage."

Wise Mother Takes Daughter Shopping

By DOROTHY ROE, Associated Press Fashion Editor

It's a wise mother who takes her school-age daughter along when she goes to shop for the new fall fashions, required equipment for learning the three R's.

Today's young fry have definite ideas about the right style in jeans and Mom might make the serious error of getting a pair without the proper taper, or with the wrong kind of rivets.

Both high school and college girls agree this year to look right, jeans should have a fly front, plenty of copper rivets, front and back pockets and—most important—they must fit tightly through the waist and hips and have slim, tapered, western-style legs. Eight-ounce blue denim is a must for fabric.

Decorations consisted of green and white streamers falling from the chandelier in the center of which was placed a white bell. Pink hibiscus and greenery were also used and on the dining table were a miniature bride and groom.

The ladies enjoyed playing games with prizes awarded to the winners. Refreshments of cake, punch and salted nuts were served after the bride-elect opened her many gifts.

Among those invited were Mrs. R. T. Hunt, "the honoree's" mother, Mrs. W. A. Cagle, Mrs. D. K. McNab, Mrs. Ouida Wilson, Mrs. Donald Knight, Mrs. Gretchen Crowl, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Clyde Robertson and daughter, Cindy, Mrs. Joe Daniels, Mrs. Leland Ruidt, Mrs. Ernest Brothers, Miss Margaret Davis, Mrs. Cecil Sheppard, Mrs. John Cranston and Mrs. Ted Luckett.

Christian Dior Gets Setback In Drive For Shorter Skirts

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Christian Dior offered a setback in his drive for shorter skirts today when the eight winners of the 1953 Miss Universe contest unanimously thumbed down his proposal.

The French designer shocked the fashion world with his new creations, which showed the skirt line as barely below the knee. Elsa Schiaparelli took up the challenge and lengthened her new dresses to 13 inches from the floor, even lower than last year.

Norman Hartnell, designer for Queen Elizabeth II, offered an idea that skirts would stay where they are—mid-calf. Hathe Carnegie sided with Dior.

With the aid of interpreters, I gathered these opinions on the "Battle of Hems" from the eight beauties who win screen contracts in the recent Miss Universe contest. The eight are training for the honor in "Yankee Doodle" at Universal-International.

Miss Universe, Christiane Martel of France—I agree with Mr. Hartnell. The present skirt length is ideal for women. There are few women who have the perfect legs to wear short skirts. If a woman is wide at the hips and you bring up the skirt, it makes her look like a barrel.

Miss Panama, Emilia Arosemena of Panama—The longer skirt is much more elegant. It also makes a woman much more comfortable when she sits down.

Miss Japan, Kinuko Doi—I like the longer skirt much better. It's possible that the women of Japan might go for a slightly shorter skirt because they have short legs.

Miss United States, Myra Hansen of Chicago—I much prefer the skirt length at mid-calf. I like it even better with pencil-slim dresses, particularly the American women go for the new Dior length? They might go for anything.

Miss Uruguay, Alicia Banez—I like the skirt at the middle of the calf makes for a much more graceful silhouette in street wear. But I am in favor of showing more leg and everything in sports wear.

A beautiful body is an artistic thing, and it should be seen.

Miss South Africa, Ingrid Rita Mills—I am in favor of the skirt which is just below the knee. I like the floor. If you have any short or long legs, you are after an art knees are long.

Miss Sweden, Stenove Gullbrandson—I like the skirt where it is and I think other Norwegian women do so because we exercise more so probably have bigger legs than most other women, and that length flatters us most.

Miss Australia, Maxine Morgan—If you haven't got a curved calf, the present skirt is much more flattering than a shorter one. I don't think the hemline should be changed. A girl can't be putting up her skirt and lowering it all the time.

PARIS COUTURIER Christian Dior adjusts the hemline on a model to meet his new just-below-the-knee measurements. Dior's choice of shorter skirts has met great opposition from Paris and London designers, particularly from Norman Hartnell, dressmaker to Queen Elizabeth II. Hartnell, who favors long, full-length skirts, told reporters that "shorter skirts are ugly."

Here Are Some Tips For Teenage Girls Making Debuts In Business

By CYNTHIA LOWRY, AP Newsfeature Writer

The season has arrived during which thousands of hopeful young women are making their formal debuts in the world of business and it is a minute too soon to sound some realistic advice on the complicated business of job-hunting.

The first, most important thing to acquire is a good philosophy about working. At the moment, employment is high, and there are plenty of job opportunities.

But before taking a job, it is a good idea to know exactly where you're going and develop a definite attitude toward work.

Everyone knows that a good employer is hard to find. Therefore, by concentrating to work for any employer, realize that you are giving him a break. After all, in return for a stipulated amount of money, which is never going to be as much as you actually are worth, you are giving up most of your daytime hours, which could just as well be spent watching the television set, or reading the canals of baby-sitting (which pays fabulous fees).

Make the employer appreciate his boon by conferring upon him. A grateful employer is not to be less critical of late arrivals, rarely departures, and leisurely lunch hours. But it's a good idea, in connection with the mid-day break to have him understand thoroughly that time-consuming operations such as shopping and getting permanent waves are legitimate, within the business day. He wants you to look nice, doesn't he? He wants to keep morale high, doesn't he? If the employer threatens to be difficult and maintain an old-fashioned attitude about lunch hours, think twice before accepting his offer. This type of thinking may well permeate the whole business operation, some time he might actually ask you to work overtime.

In selecting an employer, don't be unduly influenced by the amount of money offered. There are other, more important things to consider. As a rule, there are starting people at the bottom of the ladder and forcing them to "work their way up." This is pretty silly. Almost every business is in dire need of people with young ideas. This is known as creative work, and anyone who does creative work can tell you, this is more interesting and easy than for example typing letters, selling a product or getting involved with actual detail of operation.

Women have a harder time finding ideal jobs than men. After all, for young women a job primarily is a means to matrimony. Before making a decision investigate the number of unattached males in the office, plant or shop and be guided accordingly. If the prospects are good, don't pay any attention to the rules about dressing, smoking and unobtrusiveness.

Don't ever fall into the trap of being so efficient that you might be considered indispensable. You'll then give the employer a feeling of security and a standard for performance which could ruin the chances of thousands of future employees who otherwise could stand over in jobs without doing a single day's work the whole time.

But keep a hard eye on the job market. Things might just change so that a number of his gone standards of employment will return. You'll be able to tell definitely when the day comes because your prospective employer will throw you out on your head when you start telling him your requirements. When that happens, you'll just have to stop the holiday and go to work in earnest. Good luck!

A number of funds come packed in glass jars with wide mouths. Shake the jars and use them as refrigerator dishes.

Blues In The News

By BOB ANTHONY

Many men aboard the station are constantly striving to improve their general knowledge by taking correspondence courses from the Naval Correspondence Center in Brooklyn and the United States Armed Forces Institute, in Madison, Wisconsin.

Naval officers' courses are designed to help men study subjects necessary for advancement in their naval rating while USAFI courses from grade school up to and including the second year of college.

Men planning to return to civilian life after their hitch with the Navy take USAFI courses which they intend to submit later for possible credit at their high school or college. This affords men the opportunity to continue their education while at the same time, saving their country as a member of the U. S. Navy.

Each month three are men aboard the station enrolling, studying or completing courses from either Brooklyn or USAFI during the month of duty, and NAAS men completed courses. This does not include the many fleet unit completions or the men who are still studying courses they have enrolled in.

The June NAAS men and the courses they completed in July are: Lowell H. Armstrong, Aviation Electrician's Mate, Av. 11, Avion Y. Douglas, Av. 11, Frank J. Allen, SN, communications man, first class, Avion M. Hicks, BM, Electronics, Mat. Second Class, Watson's Promotion, Av. 11, Electronics, Richard S. Lewis, Av. 11, Electronics, Martin Mosby, SN, Steward's Mate, Second Class, and Ronald A. Fife, Av. 11, Mathematics, Generalist, second class.

Three more NAAS men have received their certificates for their Southard shore duty and have returned to a boat of duty with the fleet. John E. Manning, Telecommunications, first class, Leonard E. Smith, Shore Support, third class, and Raymond L. Ditt, Shore Support, third class, will all be leaving NAAS and the city of Sanford this week.

While aboard the station, the men are placed in the communications Department while Leonard and Ray were department members of the NAVY Supply Department.

The opening of the Southard shore duty of Southard, Fla. is about the time that the E-ASTRON ship from the fleet is due to arrive. The ship will be carrying a crew of 100 men, including the NAAS men who are leaving. The ship will be carrying a crew of 100 men, including the NAAS men who are leaving.

ANTS

There's a new and better way to kill ants. It's called Roach Filma. When applied to any surface with the built-in cap-applier, it leaves a hard, dry, clean, invisible film. The film can't harm or soil any surface; but, when ants touch it, their legs become paralyzed and they die in two hours. A single application remains effective for months. You never see it, but it sure does get rid of ants and roaches! Roach Filma is available at Touchton Drug.

Assessed

Accomplish the successful financing of your proposed water and sewer improvements.
By so doing, you will not only materially improve your financial picture in the eyes of prospective bidders for your contemplated certificate issue, but will help to secure the best possible interest cost at the time the certificates are offered for sale.
"We consider the above recommended increase in assessed valuation as a must in order to consummate a successful sale of your proposed revenue certificate issue."
Mayor Randall Chase, who was absent from the meeting last night, instructed Commissioner John Kader to express his opinion that the full 80 per cent assessment rate should be accepted.
Much argument and discussion preceded the vote on the matter, in which three commissioners voted for the raise and one, Mr. Stempert, against it.
Commissioner Stempert stated, in giving his argument for casting the dissenting vote, "It is contrary to state-wide policy of giving relief to home owners. Our valuation would be greater than most similar Florida towns."
"It means raising taxes on a large number of home owners, who will pay the biggest total of the sewerage tax. The least affected shall be business properties."
City Clerk H. N. Sayer said today that assessed valuations in 1952 totaled $16,287,337, and this year, as submitted by tax assessors after adding improvements from last year, a total of $17,329,030. This means the market value is more than 34 1/2 per cent.
The increase, which amounts actually 30 per cent of the present assessed valuation, would boost the new assessed valuation to approximately $23 1/2 million, Mr. Sayer said, according to present figures.
Under the present set-up, the millage for debt service could be lowered from nine to 6 1/2. The amount of operating millage would necessitate the computing of the number of new tax payers which would be involved. Final levying of rates, if the raise is finally adopted, would be up to the City Commission, acting as a tax equalization board.

He reported that the board had wiped out the eight million dollar cash deficit it inherited from its predecessor and had established a substantial reserve with which it now is able to launch a full-scale road construction program.

O'Neill Must Wonder About Meyer Deal

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

This might be an appropriate time to wonder what Steve O'Neill thinks now that the roundabout winter trade that sent Russ Meyer from Philadelphia to Brooklyn by way of the Braves.

The Phillies' manager pook pooked the idea at the time that Brooklyn had traded itself into the pennant. But with the season two thirds gone, the temperamental right-hander's 11.4 record would look mighty good on the Phil's pitching roster, which seems to consist almost solely of Robin Roberts.

And you can bet your bottom dollar the Braves win every time they remember that they engineered the deal.

Meyer threw his second straight shutout at the Braves last night in Milwaukee, winning 1-0 in eight rain-soaked innings. He's beaten them four times this season against one setback. The victory moved the Dodgers 8 1/2 ahead of second-place Milwaukee in the National League pennant race.

During the winter the Dodgers had designs on Meyer but they weren't able to pry him loose from Philadelphia until Lou Perini and the Braves, then still in Boston, stepped into the trading picture.

In a fast and involved deal the Braves got Meyer in exchange for first baseman Earl Torgeson and cash and then shipped the pitcher to Brooklyn for infielders Jim Pention and Rocky Bridges. Bridges was swapped immediately in Cincinnati as part payment for first baseman Joe Adcock.

Meyer has turned out to be the real prize in the package. His 11 victories loom large in the Brooklyn pennant picture. The Braves got themselves a good first baseman in Adcock but the big fellow is hitting only .269. Torgeson has improved his hitting from last year but still is a good distance short of the best at .277.

Pention has played only briefly in Milwaukee and his hitting, .235, Bridges' current average is .224. Meyer not only pitched a shutout last night, he batted in the winning run with a single in the seventh inning. With a runner on second base and two out the Milwaukee board of strategy ordered an intentional walk for Billy Cox and took their chances with Meyer, who hit a Lew Burdette pitch off second baseman Jack Dillmer's glove to drive in his first run of the season. He gave up four hits, struck out three and walked nobody.

Brooklyn has beaten Milwaukee 11 out of 15 games so far, including all six played in Milwaukee. Meyer didn't own an exclusive rights to good pitching in the majors last night. At Washington Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox gave up just two hits in a 1-0 triumph over Johnny Schmitz and the Senators and at Cincinnati Joe Nuxhall of the Redlegs limited Pittsburgh to five hits in winning 5-0.

In other major league action, the St. Louis Cardinals whipped Philadelphia 8-3 and climbed within half a game of the third-place Phils. The New York Yankees smothered St. Louis' hapless Browns 11-3.

Pierce's shutout was the fourth straight scoreless game in the Washington-Chicago series, which the two clubs split. The winning run scored in the ninth when Tom Wright was hit by a pitch, banged into shortstop Jerry Snyder while running on a sacrifice and continued to third as the prostrate Snyder dropped the ball. He scored after a long fly.

Dick Smith got two of the five hits off Nuxhall, who was given a two-run lead in the first inning and a comfortable margin in the fourth when Andy Seminick homered with one aboard.

The Cardinals outted Jim Kouss with four runs in the first and added three more in the second inning.

White Sox Fain Is Sued By Man

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $50,000 damage suit against Ferris Fain, brought by a man who said Chicago White Sox first baseman struck him and caused him to lose his teeth, is pending here.

The suit was filed in federal district court yesterday, but Fain, who himself had a washed forehead, bruised left hand and scratched cheek, left Washington, reportedly for Philadelphia, before papers were served on him. He did not play in last night's game with Washington.

The plaintiff is James Judge, 28, an employe of the soldiers' home here.

He said the altercation took place shortly before midnight Sunday at a nearby Maryland inn.

James C. Toomey, attorney representing Judge, said the disagreement began when Judge tried to cut in and dance with a woman acquaintance of his, then dancing with Fain.

Later, Toomey said, Fain dared Judge to ask her for a dance "if you've got the guts."

He did so, returned to his table when she refused, and then was struck in the jaw, the attorney contended.

Fain had no immediate comment.

Lloyd Mangrum Is Properly "Cased" For World Pro Tourney At Tam

By JERRY LASKA

CHICAGO (AP)—Pro golfer's top money winner newly crowned All-American Champion Lloyd Mangrum, today appeared properly "cased" for a potential loot of $25,000 in the "World" Pro meet starting Thursday at Tam O'Shanter.

Mangrum, Tam's host pro, yesterday pocketed $3,120 as he won the All-American prologue to the $75,000 "World" Pro with a 12-under-par total of 275, three strokes ahead of Sammy Snead and Ted Kroll.

That moved the debonair Purple Heart veteran of World War II ahead of Ben Hogan, a notable Tam absentee, as the year's leading cash collector with $18,786.

Mangrum will be favored to take the top $25,000 prize in the big "World" purse offered by his boss, George S. May. That would be more than double his earnings to date.

Mangrum yesterday treated Tam just as a home pro should, banging a 3-under-par 67 after rounds of 69, 68 and 71.

His 275 would have been good enough to win last year's "World," which forced a playoff at 276 between Julius Boros and Cary Midgerton. Boros won the showdown with a 68 against Middlecott's 70.

Kroll, who like Mangrum finished with 67, and Snead, stroking a final 68, collected $2,180 apiece. Fourth spot and $1,700 went to the put out another Californian Jack Mac'racken of Torrance, N.J. 6-1.

Second-seeded Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla. today is pitted against Richard Boss of Los Angeles. Mulloy in the first round put out another Californian Jack Foy of Monterey 6-1-2.

Third-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati has a steeper opponent in the second round in Alstair Martin of Glen Head, L. I., than he had yesterday. Trabert was a little pressed in the first round before beating Seth Peterson of San Francisco 6-1-3.

In the foreign seeded bracket, the No. 1 player Ken Rossouw of Australia meets Pablo Elvengberg of Milwaukee. S. J. Roosevelt won his first round match from Chancey Steele of Cambridge 6-1-6-1. Mervyn Rose, the second-seeded Australian player, young Bob Peery of Los Angeles.

Vic Seixas Faces Jacque Grigy

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. (AP)—With half of the men's field of an already eliminated today's second round competition is expected to produce some startling results in the Eastern Grass Court Championships.

Top-seeded Vic Seixas, of Philadelphia, the Wimbledon champion, takes on Jacque Grigy of Alhambra, Calif. Seixas yesterday put out Jacquin B'yes of Mexico 6-1, 6-3, while Grigy outplayed Cal Mac'racken of Torrance, N.J. 6-1, 6-4.

Second-seeded Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla. today is pitted against Richard Boss of Los Angeles. Mulloy in the first round put out another Californian Jack Foy of Monterey 6-1-2.

Third-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati has a steeper opponent in the second round in Alstair Martin of Glen Head, L. I., than he had yesterday. Trabert was a little pressed in the first round before beating Seth Peterson of San Francisco 6-1-3.

White Sox Fain Is Sued By Man

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $50,000 damage suit against Ferris Fain, brought by a man who said Chicago White Sox first baseman struck him and caused him to lose his teeth, is pending here.

The suit was filed in federal district court yesterday, but Fain, who himself had a washed forehead, bruised left hand and scratched cheek, left Washington, reportedly for Philadelphia, before papers were served on him. He did not play in last night's game with Washington.

The plaintiff is James Judge, 28, an employe of the soldiers' home here.

He said the altercation took place shortly before midnight Sunday at a nearby Maryland inn.

James C. Toomey, attorney representing Judge, said the disagreement began when Judge tried to cut in and dance with a woman acquaintance of his, then dancing with Fain.

Later, Toomey said, Fain dared Judge to ask her for a dance "if you've got the guts."

He did so, returned to his table when she refused, and then was struck in the jaw, the attorney contended.

Fain had no immediate comment.

Lloyd Mangrum Is Properly "Cased" For World Pro Tourney At Tam

By JERRY LASKA

CHICAGO (AP)—Pro golfer's top money winner newly crowned All-American Champion Lloyd Mangrum, today appeared properly "cased" for a potential loot of $25,000 in the "World" Pro meet starting Thursday at Tam O'Shanter.

Mangrum, Tam's host pro, yesterday pocketed $3,120 as he won the All-American prologue to the $75,000 "World" Pro with a 12-under-par total of 275, three strokes ahead of Sammy Snead and Ted Kroll.

That moved the debonair Purple Heart veteran of World War II ahead of Ben Hogan, a notable Tam absentee, as the year's leading cash collector with $18,786.

Mangrum will be favored to take the top $25,000 prize in the big "World" purse offered by his boss, George S. May. That would be more than double his earnings to date.

Mangrum yesterday treated Tam just as a home pro should, banging a 3-under-par 67 after rounds of 69, 68 and 71.

His 275 would have been good enough to win last year's "World," which forced a playoff at 276 between Julius Boros and Cary Midgerton. Boros won the showdown with a 68 against Middlecott's 70.

Kroll, who like Mangrum finished with 67, and Snead, stroking a final 68, collected $2,180 apiece. Fourth spot and $1,700 went to the put out another Californian Jack Mac'racken of Torrance, N.J. 6-1.

Second-seeded Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla. today is pitted against Richard Boss of Los Angeles. Mulloy in the first round put out another Californian Jack Foy of Monterey 6-1-2.

Third-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati has a steeper opponent in the second round in Alstair Martin of Glen Head, L. I., than he had yesterday. Trabert was a little pressed in the first round before beating Seth Peterson of San Francisco 6-1-3.

In the foreign seeded bracket, the No. 1 player Ken Rossouw of Australia meets Pablo Elvengberg of Milwaukee. S. J. Roosevelt won his first round match from Chancey Steele of Cambridge 6-1-6-1. Mervyn Rose, the second-seeded Australian player, young Bob Peery of Los Angeles.

Vic Seixas Faces Jacque Grigy

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. (AP)—With half of the men's field of an already eliminated today's second round competition is expected to produce some startling results in the Eastern Grass Court Championships.

Top-seeded Vic Seixas, of Philadelphia, the Wimbledon champion, takes on Jacque Grigy of Alhambra, Calif. Seixas yesterday put out Jacquin B'yes of Mexico 6-1, 6-3, while Grigy outplayed Cal Mac'racken of Torrance, N.J. 6-1, 6-4.

Second-seeded Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla. today is pitted against Richard Boss of Los Angeles. Mulloy in the first round put out another Californian Jack Foy of Monterey 6-1-2.

Third-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati has a steeper opponent in the second round in Alstair Martin of Glen Head, L. I., than he had yesterday. Trabert was a little pressed in the first round before beating Seth Peterson of San Francisco 6-1-3.

In the foreign seeded bracket, the No. 1 player Ken Rossouw of Australia meets Pablo Elvengberg of Milwaukee. S. J. Roosevelt won his first round match from Chancey Steele of Cambridge 6-1-6-1. Mervyn Rose, the second-seeded Australian player, young Bob Peery of Los Angeles.

Associated Press Lease Wire
No. 247

Take it from a former sports editor and official scorer, it certainly seemed good last night to climb the stands to the press box high atop the grandstand at Memorial Stadium to serve as a fill in for Herald Sports Editor Kent Chelmin, who is in Wauchula this week covering the Sanford Legion team. Looking at the play below from a new vantage point, we're reminded of an old thought that fans who sit in the same seat in the stands night after night may be missing a lot. This reporter has found that the action taking place on the field below looks just a little bit different from each vantage point of the grandstand and bleachers. Actually, though, we still can't get used to looking through protective wire in front of the press box and instead usually head for the open bleachers.

Poetry Corner - A reader recently submitted the following poem to this writer as a note to newsy words and entitled "Morning Coffee." According to the clipping, the real title is "Beginning's End" by Beatrice A. D. It goes like this:

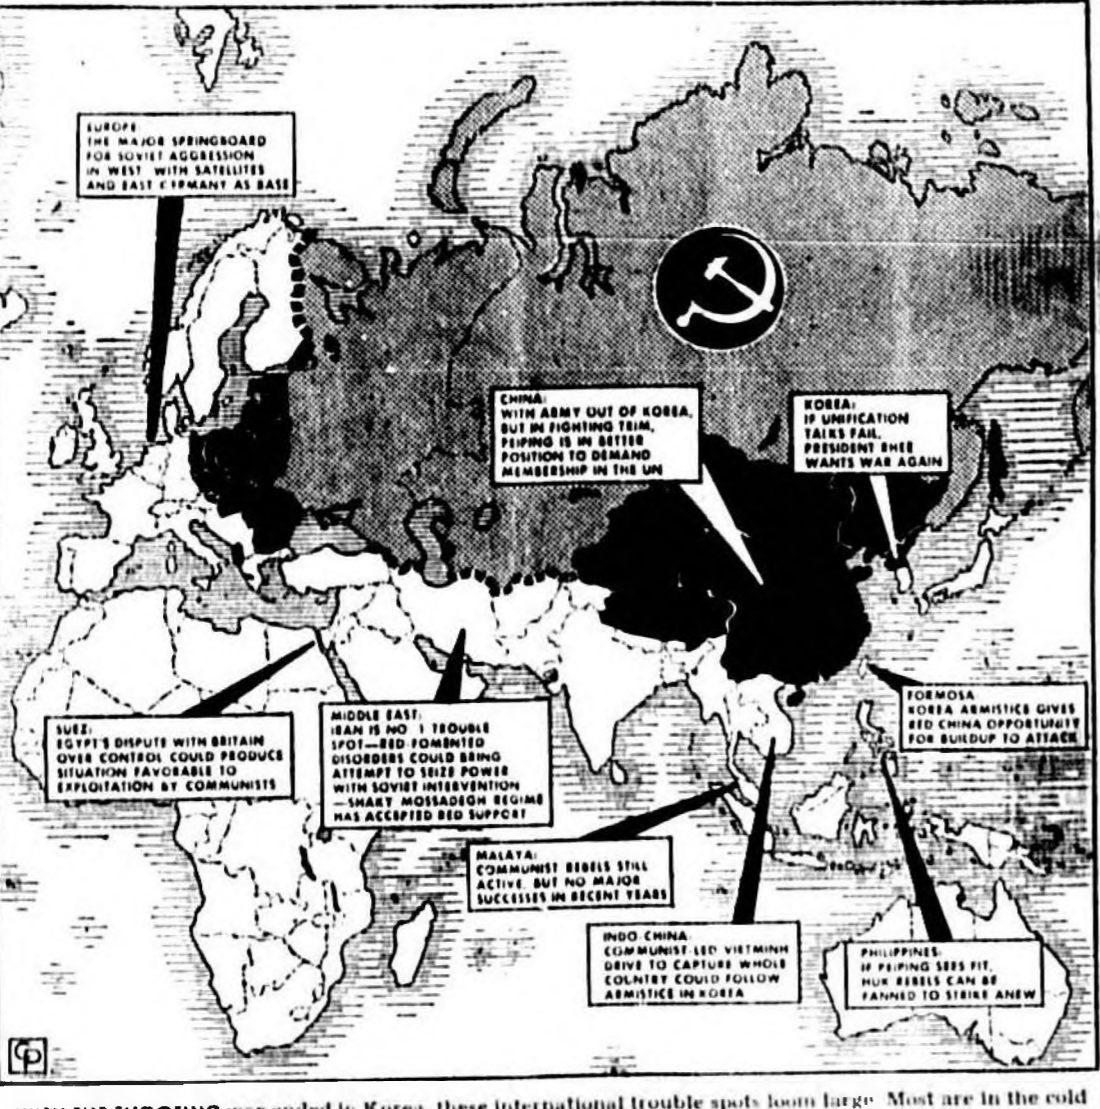

Where did they lose each other?
Where, in the jungle of unpaid bills?
Endless house cleaning business problems?
Where, in a labyrinth of futile quarrels,
Sharp retorts, sudden responses, bluffs?
Where, in the play, the teasing, love-making,
The easy arguments, and recalcitrations?
Where, in the gentle word, the kind thought,
The small, expected sacrifice for the other?
Where did they lose each other?
Where, in a world of seeming nearness,
No place on earth unattainable?
Where, in a maze of complicated networks,
Of auto and train and steamship and airplane?
Where, in the sign of the pointing arrow,
The book of directions or the "turn right" sign?
Where, in the love, the skeleton key,
The padlock that keeps a bitter heart?

Approximate comments of last week concerning the release of the United States all of whom are named Sanford, Fred Perkins, editor and publisher of the Herald who came to this country from Tuscaloosa, Ala., is still having his troubles getting his copy of the Tuscaloosa News. The post office will insist on a return address to Sanford, Ala. Instead of Sanford, Fla.

Puzzle Corner - We noticed a couple of errors in the drawing trying to follow through on our yesterday's puzzle but even though they said they were going to try their best, they couldn't see how the answer was reached. With the answer right here in front of us, we of course could not help but see the solution. The puzzle was a number puzzle. To find what digit was struck, just subtract the sum of the remaining digits from the number. The answer is 9. Drop the 9 from the number. The remainder is a multiple of nine, your friend struck out a nine.

Sanford and Seminole County continue to receive outstanding attention from Sheriff Maguire. In the Aug. 1 issue of the weekly publication, Sheriff Maguire's Powers Diary which is all about a trip which he and Associate Editor Charles Waterman made through Oviedo, Chuluota, Casselberry, Fern Park, Altamonte Springs, Forest City, Lake Wales, and other points in the southern part of the State. We found it interesting reading as others must have also. In our conversations with the two editors, they expressed their very high opinion of Sanford and Seminole County.

Thoughts While Shaving - Yesterday seemed like the hottest day in the year to this as yet "non-acclimated Yankee." If someone has a sure cure for prickly heat, we'd certainly like to hear from them. We're gradually becoming acquainted with most of the personnel on the downtown boat. Chief Roy Williams' charges always look a little amazed when we see the boat open and light on at 1:00 or 2:00 o'clock noon, but they're gradually getting used to the odd hours kept by the "four o'clock" Drop in anytime follows. We're mighty glad to chat with you. Seems odd to be in the office all day long and only on an occasional trip across the street for a cup of coffee. We miss our daily chats with Tom Lemon, Forrest Breckenridge, O. H. Hanson, Chief William Ray Milner, Charlie Dawson, and all of the others along the main street.

WITH THE SHOOTING war ended in Korea, these international trouble spots loom large. Most are in the cold war category, but there is actual warfare in India, China, Indochina, Formosa and the Red China mainland, and fighting threatens across Suez. Shaded area of the map is U.S.S.R. proper, the black is satellite. (Central Press)

Eight Wounded Among Men Exchanged

By ROBERT EUNSON and WILLIAM J. WAUGH

SEVENTY AMERICANS, the horror and boredom of Communist prison camps behind them, savored their first taste of freedom today as they were freed from a North Korean camp. Eight of the most, strapped tightly to stretchers, were flown here aboard four helicopters from Panmunjom where they were freed. There were few tales of torture, death and maiming on the lips of the liberated prisoners who appeared happy but bewildered.
