Bennett Couple Co On Trial Today In Tennessee Facing Charge Of Slaying Relative

Mrs. Faiman

Man and Wife, Prominent in Georgia and Tennessee Are Charged With Having Killed Woman Ten Years Ago

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Mar. 23.—Answering an indictment charging murder, W. H. Bennett, of Rome, Ga., and his wife Mrs. Mae Bennett, go on trial in criminal court here today.

The indictment was returned last September after Mr. and Mrs. Bennett had been held under joint bond of $75,000 following a preliminary hearing in July.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett and their four children came to Chattanooga from Knoxville in the winter of 1912 and rented a house in a fashionable residential section.

The house was occupied by the Bennetts until June 1917, when Bennett, who held a responsible position with a railway system, was transferred to Rome.

Last summer as workmen were making repairs on the house formerly occupied by the Bennetts, a grave was discovered under the house, from which subsequently removed a portion of a skeleton.

Physicians said the bones represented the body of a woman. The state will attempt to show, it is said, that a number of articles found in the hidden grave were the property of Miss Hoffman.

BIGGEST YEAR PREDICTED FOR LOCAL CELERY

Confidence in Season Success Shown in Article Written For Publication by Frank H. Scruggs, Market Expert

To Gain $750,000 In Gross Receipts Shipments During Past Week Were Greatest in History of Industry, Article Says

Denote damage from worms and a market that, due to the heaviest shipments in the history of the industry, has declined from $2.50 to $2.75 and $1.75 to $2 a crate, the Sanford celery section is assured the most successful season ever known here according to an article prepared for publication in "Crops and Markets" by Frank H. Scruggs, local representative of the United States Department of Agriculture and the Florida Bureau of Markets.

The peak of the movement this season was reached during the week ending Mar. 21 when 600 cars were sent to market; since Mar. 1, when the price began to decline, there has been an average of 70 cars a day shipped. The gross money receipts this year should exceed by $750,000 those of last year, according to Mr. Scruggs' article which follows:

"Recent high prices have slumped due to the heavy movement of celery from the Sanford section. During the month of February the F. O. B. price for 3-4s rose steadily from $2 to $2.50 and $2.75 to the end of the month. During the first 21 days of March the market has steadily declined to $1.75 to $2.00. An average of 70 cars per shipping day has moved from this section since Mar. 1, 600 cars moving the week ending Mar. 21. This was the heaviest movement in the history of the business. This season's crop, which is now in the market, is steadily declining to $1.75 to $2.00. An average of 70 cars per shipping day for the remainder of the season is expected.

"The season's total movement should reach the 5,000 mark as provided for these and several other recent years, but the crop is not damaged more than usual, by late spring diseases and worms. Due to the warm winter and spring the celery now in the field is more liable to the above damage.

"While Sanford section will ship 700 to 800 more cars, the Manatee section will probably ship about 1,000 which is approximately the same as last year. Other light sections are producing less than 5 per cent of the entire Florida crop will ship approximately the same number of cars this year as last.

"The Sanford section seems assured of the most successful season ever known here. The gross money receipts will likely be $750,000 more than last year. The number of cars shipped may be 700 to 800 more thereby reducing the $750,000 gross receipts to $500,000 net above last year. These calculations are made upon $2 per crate as a price base for the remainder of the season. Prices through Mar. 21 show a weighted average of $2.50 a crate (2 1/2 dozen) as compared to $1.75 last year. The Sanford section last year received approximately $2,500,000 as against $1,750,000 last year. The Sanford section will probably have a $1,000,000 celery crop this season.

PAY BOOST CANT BE TURNED DOWN BY CONGRESSMEN

Comptroller Decides That Salons Must Accept Salary Increase Which Was Voted During the Recent Session

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—Comptroller General McCarl, whose rulings so often have lightened government purse strings, now by another rigid construction of law has decided that members of congress must accept the recent boost in pay they voted. In the same ruling, however, the comptroller held there was nothing to preclude representatives and senators from returning any part of their salary as an acquittance to the government if they did not wish to retain it.

Mr. McCarl's opinion in the matter was sought by Mr. Rodgers, sergeant at arms of the house, who asked whether he should do when a member declined to accept the increase. The comptroller advised that the rate of pay fixed by law must be accepted, and that only one check could be issued each "payday." Otherwise, he said, heirs or representatives of any member thus declining a part of his pay could at any time make a claim for it.

Several members of the house have taken the position Mr. Rodgers informed the comptroller that they should be paid at the former rate of $7,500 a year, and asked for checks on that instead of the new $10,000 basis. One member, Mr. Smith, had declined to sign the agreement because the increase was included with money he could not dispose of and he sought a way out of the situation from Mr. McCarl with these questions:

"Can I accept from a member salary certificates calling for an amount less than that provided by law?"

"If a member desires merely to accept the old salary, it is not necessary for us to pay him uniformly with the rest and have him make his own restitution to the treasury?"

G. E. Roderberry and M. M. Newberry, Jacksonville painters, were turned over to the authorities in Volusia county where they are wanted on a charge of larceny. When arrested three days ago, they had a number of surgical instruments alleged to have been stolen from the office of a Dr. Murphy in Daytona.

LOCAL OFFICIALS SURE STATE LOOP WILL BE SUCCESSFUL

League President Confident Of Getting Club To Take Sixth Franchise of Loop; Local Club Buys Uniforms

Though confronted with the possibility that the Florida State League will not effect the reorganization made necessary through withdrawal of the Bradenton club, officials of the Sanford Baseball Club are going forward with preparations for a baseball team here. A telegram from President Al Lang, at St. Petersburg received this morning reflected new hope of getting Clearwater to take the place of Bradenton and indicated concerning conditions in Sanford.

In reply local officials wired that they have practically completed the roster of their club. They have gone as far as is practicable without definite assurance that the league will be organized and that the season will be played this summer. Negotiations now are underway with Otto Barbert, owner of the Milwaukee Brewers, whereby some of the Brewer recruits who fail to make the grade with the Milwaukee team will be released to the Sanford club. Officials of the local club declared Monday to make public the names of the players, stating that negotiations had not progressed far enough.

Sanford club officials have sufficient evidence in the successful reorganization of the league to order baseball uniforms for the club. At home the aggregation will make its first appearance in spotless white uniforms while on the road a gray striped uniform will be worn.

Manager Nick Carter, former major leaguer, who has been signed as player-manager is now in Sanford and expressed with the prospect of Sanford having a winning team even though it be composed of recruits. Carter has completed agreement with four young players whom he says need only another year or so of playing in minor leagues before they will be ready to break into the major leagues. These men and those whom club officials expect to get from the Milwaukee club are certain to give Sanford a winning aggregation, it is declared.

Be True to Yourselves

Everyone eventually comes to his own level; the truth in him will out sometime, and the longer it is hid the greater it will astound people when it comes to light. Those who never try to hide anything, never have any fear or worry of its being disclosed; and free from fear and worry they can accomplish so much more in whatever line they bend their efforts. The only things that people try to hide are the things that they are ashamed of; they do not wish to keep from the world any qualities or acts that they are really proud of.

There are many people who would not hesitate to do many things a little "shady" if they thought they could get by with them, and skillfully cover up their tracks. But they do not take into consideration that they cannot fool their conscience, and that sense of right and wrong (conscience) will not let one live in perfect peace, as long as it is tainted with a sense of guilt. It is a thousand times better to be wrong in the eyes of the world and right in the eyes of your own conscience, than right in the eyes of the world but wrong in the light of your conscience.

Many of our greatest heroes have been wrong in the eyes of the world; but their faith in themselves was so strong and they believed so earnestly way down in their hearts that they were right, that they dared face the opposition and jeer and ridicule of the whole world—and they finally triumphed.

Theodore Roosevelt was a man that always did what he thought was right. One time he was fighting against a seven cent street car fare with all the vim in him when he suddenly became convinced that he was wrong, and in the middle of the fight he switched over to the other side. It takes a MAN to do a thing like that!

But Roosevelt as a boy was a weakling, and Napoleon was thought to be queer and sulky at Military school. Yet in both these men there were great qualities that it only took time to bring to the surface. Some fruit ripens late while other ripens early; but all fruit ripens at sometime unless destroyed before the time of maturity.

THE DREADFUL tornado sweeping through five states, killing 1,000 and injuring other thousands, makes everything else seem trifling and unimportant.

We live at the mercy of Nature's forces, above, below and all around us. A tidal wave from the ocean could wash away the nations biggest city. An earthquake or a tornado could level it.

SYMPATHIZING WITH the unfortunate victims of the great disaster, the nation may well feel grateful for the high average of safety. The earth turns on its axis at the rate of a thousand miles an hour. If it stopped for a second the oceans would be hurled from the great valleys in which they lie, and life on the earth would be washed back to the condition of millions of years ago, with no life left except the lowest forms.

GREAT DISASTERS shock and overwhelm us. The recent great earthquake in Japan and the historic and even more appalling earthquake of Lisbon remind us how feeble and helpless we are living on a whirling globe traveling around the sun at a speed of nearly two million miles a day.

The amazing thing is our safety and secure existence. Assuming that they are worth having we should be deeply grateful.

WHILE WE condole with the victims of our own disaster, we feel deepest sympathy for the unfortunate inhabitants of Tokio, so recently torn by the great earthquake and now with 10,000 made homeless by a dreadful fire.

The cable says casually that the fire swept through "the quarter of small, poor people," but that makes it worse. What they lost was everything they had.

IN THE midst of calamities, following the stock market drop, fires, and a rebellious Senate, the public interest is in Lois Clausen, a New Jersey baby, eight weeks old weighing yesterday only two pounds twelve ounces.

When she was born she weighed one pound and fifteen ounces, and doctors said she could not live.

There is a power in the brain, even in that of a new born baby, able to defy doctors and their scientific predictions.

In that tiny head which you could span with your fingers there existed a determination to live, and the mother still has her baby alive and gaining.

THE OTHER news of the world is about as usual. In Italy Dr. Voronoff, gland grafting expert is at work with local scientists grafting glands on sheep. The practical Italians are not interested in making an old man young, but in causing the sheep to produce more and better wool and meat. If they succeed with sheep they'll experiment on bigger animals.

ENGLAND PLANS a return to the gold basis which would put the pound sterling where it was before the war. Keynes, considered a great authority because he told the nations what fools they were making of themselves with their Versailles treaty, opposes the gold standard. Most of the newspapers and bankers are in favor of it.

WHETHER BRITAIN, suffering in business and industry, will be helped by gold standard resumption, nobody knows. The reason is that nobody knows positively anything about finance or money—except that real gold is a good thing to have. Usually it comes out on top.

The plan, suggested after the war, that Europe should abandon the gold standard, leaving Uncle Sam with a lot of worthless gold on his hands, was not sound.

PEKIN EXPECTS the renewal of war in two or three weeks—Russians on one side, Japanese and British on the other, all interested in China's latent wealth, pull in different directions.

Nobody is able to manage all of the great jelly fish nation at one time. You pick up one piece of it and the rest falls from your hand.

THE RUSSIANS are trying to settle their debts on some half-measure basis that will be satisfactory to the French. The French would like to be friends with Russia even with uncertain so-called proletarian, Bolshevik Russian Russia. The French nightmare is a revival of Germany in military strength, and the French with the Great Russian nation on their side as insurance, would feel safer.

THE DREADFUL tornado sweeping through five states, killing 1,000 and injuring other thousands, makes everything else seem trifling and unimportant.

We live at the mercy of Nature's forces, above, below and all around us. A tidal wave from the ocean could wash away the nations biggest city. An earthquake or a tornado could level it.

Only thing you can tell by watches is what time it isn't.

The "Little Things"

A man's years count very little in determining his age; it is in his heart that his true age is revealed. A man who keeps young at heart will be young all his life, while some children, who have very little of the bright, cheerful sunny side of life, are actually little old men and women.

Cheerfulness and happiness will keep you young for many, many years; while a few short years of sadness and gloom will age you unbelievably. Joy and sunshine do for human lives what sunshine does for plants and flowers. No rose will bloom in a dark cellar.

As a twig is bent so the limb groweth. Habits are easier to form in youth and harder to break in later life. How important is it therefore to cultivate the habit of cheerfulness in the child! The middle-aged generations of today would be infinitely more happy, if they had only formed the habit of being optimistic and cheerful—in youth.

If you have children make them happy now while they are young, and the future will take care of itself. The "little things" play such an important part in a child's life. A nickel's worth of candy will often make a girl of eight happier than a beautiful diamond ring, a girl of eighteen. A sensitive boy will take a harsh word to heart, which an older person can easily laugh off.

Some of our greatest novelists and statesmen can trace their success back to bed-time stories when they were five or six years old, that have left undying impressions upon their imaginations and ambitions.

Teach a child to look on the beautiful and cheerful side of life and help it acquire the art of being happy over little things, and your efforts will not prove in vain, for the influences of early life affect a man forever.

THE ANCIENT HEBREW prophet never saw an automobile, so far as we know, but if he had, could he in much more accurate language have described it than when he said: "The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall jostle one against another in the broad ways; they shall seem like torches, they shall run like the lightning."—Our Dumb Animals.

SANFORD'S FORUM

Sanford, Fla., Mar. 20, 1925.
Editor Sanford Herald,
Sanford, Fla.

Dear Sir:

Believe I voice the thanks of every house-keeper in Sanford, when I thank the person, or persons for their persistency in finding pure soft water.

It is indeed much more pleasure to keep house and easier, since we have soft water.

We have lived in the mountains, and in other cities in Florida, and this is as good pure water as ever drunk.

The possession of pure soft water will do as much or more, for the progress of our city as paved streets and houses and its value cannot be measured by dollars and cents.

Some years ago while on a visit to the mountains of N. C., we heard some folks talking about Florida. They said they thought one of location in Sanford but could not stand the water so moved to Lakeland.

Two years ago we were in Tenn. and heard some parties say that they liked Sanford but could not bear the idea of having to buy the water they drank out of bottles and by the gallon, so they located at Orlando.

Such remarks will be a thing of the past as Sanford can boast of as fine soft water as any other place.

We hope someone with money to invest will see the great need of a modern steam laundry in Sanford. How fine it would be not to be compelled to have to send our laundry out to some other town but be able to have our work done in Sanford.

Mrs. E. M. Carroll.

I AM—?
O. S. MARDEN

I am the vital principle of life—the greatest of all success and happiness assets.

I am that which gives the plus quality to human beings. I put pep, ginger, vim into human effort.

I am the source of physical and mental power. I give the body vigor and buoyancy, the brain vital energy and originality.

I am your best friend—the friend of the high and lowly, the rich and poor alike—but, be he king or beggar, who violates my laws must pay the penalty.

I am often thought in vain by the man who rides in his limousine, but am generally found in the company of the man who walks to his work and takes plenty of exercise.

I am the great multiplier of ability, the buttress of initiative, of courage, of self-confidence, the backbone of enthusiasm, without which nothing worth while was ever accomplished.

I am the greatest constructive power in the life of man. Without me his faith weakens, his ambition sags, his ardor cools out, his courage faints, his self-confidence departs, his accomplishment is nil.

Without me ambition and wealth are but a mockery, a palatial home and luxuries, a bitter disappointment.

Next to life itself, I am the greatest gift God has given to man; the millionaire who has lost me in piling up his fortune would give all his millions to get me back again; but I am beyond the reach of money.

I am that which gives buoyancy to life, which makes you magnetic, joyous, forceful, which brings out your resourcefulness and inventive ness, that which raises efficiency to its maximum and enables you to make the most of your ability.

I increase every one of your forty or fifty mental facilities a hundredfold. I am the leader of them all. When I am present they are up, at their best; when I am absent, they are down, at their worst.

I am the friend of progress, the stimulator of ambition, the encourager of effort, the great essential to efficiency, to success, the promoter of long life and happiness.

I am a joy bringer. Where I go, good cheer goes. Where I am not, depression, the "blues," discouragement are present. My absence means declining powers, often thwarted ambition, blighted hopes, mediocrity, failure, a shortened life.

The wise man guards me as the apple of his eye; the fool often abuses and loses me through ignorance, indifference or neglect.

I am Good Health.

COOLIDGE AND CONGRESS
TAMPA TRIBUNE

As far as the political make-up of this Congress is concerned President Coolidge is in better position than he has been since he succeeded Mr. Harding. He has a new Congress to deal with, a Congress more to his liking but impregnated with uncertain elements dangerous to the policies the Executive hopes to accomplish. This danger applies especially to the Senate.

Mr. Coolidge has the loyal support of the Republican leader of that body, Senator Curtis of Kansas. He is also assured of the cooperation of most of the regular Republican contingent, although some of them have at times in the current Congress failed to respond to his urging. The two outstanding refusals of the regulars to stay in line were the Soldiers' Bonus bill and the bill increasing the salaries of postal employees, both of which Mr. Coolidge vetoed, only to have his disapproval overturned by the bonus measure and an overturn narrowly averted in the Senate on the salary increase bill. He is fortunately situated also in that two of his warmest supporters, both personally and politically, represent his own state of Massachusetts in the new Congress.

One of these is William M. Butler, who managed Mr. Coolidge's contest for the Presidential nomination, and conducted his campaign for election last year. The other is Frederick H. Gillett, former Speaker of the House of Representatives. Mr. Butler is serving as Governor of Massachusetts to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Henry Cabot Lodge. Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Lodge were never on particularly friendly terms and there was an apparent lack of cooperation between them. Mr. Gillett, who took his seat in the Senate on Mar. 4, succeeded as Democratic Senator, David I. Walsh, whom he defeated last November. Senators Butler and Gillett are regarded as personal representatives of the President, with the advantage that relationship implies of being able to make known his attitude to their Republican associates when such a course is necessary to preserve party solidarity on important questions.

In any consideration of the make up of the Senate William E. Borah, of Idaho is always a factor to be reckoned with. As Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations he occupies a conspicuous and influential position. At this time the importance of his relationship to President Coolidge is augmented by the President's keen desire that this Government affiliate with the World Court.

There is a disposition in political circles in Washington to believe that President Coolidge will maintain a closer relationship with Senator Borah as Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations than he did with Senator Lodge when the latter occupied that position. There seems to be a liking between the two men and an inclination on the President's part to consult Senator Borah on important public questions. But how far their apparently mutual friendly feeling will operate with respect to the World Court and other matters of international consequence is extremely uncertain.

Some critics of Mr. Borah are inclined to attribute inconsistency to him in his attitude toward Mr. Coolidge's World Court proposal. When the President in his annual message to Congress last December suggested a new reservation to his proposal that "our country shall not be bound by advisory opinions which may be rendered by the court voluntarily submitted for its judgment," the impression prevailed that he had made this concession to satisfy Mr. Borah and that it insured the latter's acquiescence in the President's plan for American adherence to the League of World Court protocol. But recent events have created the impression that Mr. Borah continues to look askance at any effort to make the United States a party to the tribunal.

SKY SIGNS
MIAMI TRIBUNE

So far in the history of the world the reading of sky signs is much like the blowing of bubbles. No man has been able to tell how or when the earth started on its orbit or how or when it will cease. Professor Moulton, of the University of Chicago, thinks the earth will last a thousand million years yet, or perhaps much longer.

Some day, of course, the world will end, as all good things must end. Some day our sun—which isn't much of a sun at all, according to Dr. Moulton, being a mere still-alarm fire alongside any regular honest-to-goodness conflagration like Betelgeuse—will swing close to one of the million other local suns hereabouts. There will be a flash and a puff and a million years thereafter the eagle-eyed astronomers of some nearby solar system, gazing through their telescopes, will see the flash and know that something unpleasant happened in our vicinity once upon a time.

Meanwhile we may go right along inventing taxes, reforming people, one-half telling the other half how they should live, and enjoying life as much as possible—for doomsday is so far distant that life is but a wink in the dark.

MY FAVORITE STORIES
BY IRVIN S. COBB

Last spring when General Neville, the hero of the defense of Verdun, was making his tour of America he was the guest of honor at a big public reception in one of the Los Angeles hotels. Among those invited to meet the distinguished visitor were the more prominent members of the moving picture colony.

At the doors of General Neville's suite, Will Rogers met Charlie Chaplin, who in private life is a reserved and rather shy little man, was considerably fussed up over the prospect ahead of him.

"I suppose we're expected to say a few words to the general," he confided to Rogers. "But for the life of me I can't think of the best way to start the conversation."

Rogers gave to the problem a moment of earnest consideration.

"Well," he said, "you might ask him if he was in the war, and which side he was on."

THE FOUR MOST SENSIBLE WORDS: "I CAN'T AFFORD IT"

The four most sensible words of to-day are "I can't afford it."

There are folks who spend everything to the last cent in a foolish effort to "keep up with the Joneses" merely because they haven't the courage and the good sense to say "I can't afford it."

Spending money is all right. It is only when it leaves no margin for saving that it is all wrong.

If you are strong enough now to deny yourself a few trifling things, you will be rich enough later on to afford many things far more worthwhile.

Gifted Impersonator to Delight Audience at the Chautauque

Helen Waggoner, gifted dramatic interpreter, who will appear at the opening of the Chautauque here, presents, with discriminating artistry, a panorama of vivid impersonative sketches.

She is exceptionally skillful in these character impersonations. They stand out with startling reality. Varied types of people, recreated by her art, become clear-cut impersonation portraits.

In her program Miss Waggoner will combine a series of short sketches with the complete production of a one-act play. In the play she finds opportunity to cover an entire cycle of the emotions—humor, pathos, anger, love—each presented with the sure skill of a true dramatic artist.

Miss Waggoner's work is characterized by brilliance and dramatic fire. It has been praised, both by the public and the press in every part of the country.

SEMINOLE TEACHERS' CLUB ENJOYS BANQUET AT LONGWOOD HOTEL

Last Friday evening the Orange and Black Hotel at Longwood was the scene of an unusually brilliant and happy gathering, the occasion being the banquet of the Seminole County Teachers' Club. There were about 70 members with their guests present. The lower floor of the hotel was lovely with its decorations of ferns and spring flowers.

At 8 o'clock the doors to the dining room were opened, revealing the beautifully decorated banquet tables. A most delicious six course dinner was served and between the courses the following delightful program was enjoyed.

Introduction of Mr. Walker, Mayor of Longwood, Prof. E. A. Douglas.

Woman's Club

Dear Fellow Club Women:

This should be a very busy week for every one of us. The Rsdpath Chautauque, which will open here on Apr. 1, is under the auspices of the Woman's Club and we should not only patronize it 100 per cent in the purchase of tickets, but in talking for it on every possible occasion. The attractions are all fine, and along those lines of education and community betterment for which we stand.

One of the speakers, Mrs. Olsen of Minnesota, was at one time first vice-president of her state federation, and was the first woman ever nominated for the United States Senate. She is magnetic and delightful in every way. There are to be good musical numbers, a charming play, and other entertainment features. Please do not forget. Mrs. Scott, our finance chairman, who with Mrs. Tolar and Miss Mell Whitner are in charge of the Chautauque, has the right to expect our unflinching support.

On Mar. 30 and 31 our flower show will be put on in the club house. We invite entries from any one who may be interested, and lists are to be obtained at the club house and at the Chamber of Commerce.

On Thursday afternoon a subscription bridge will be given, with Mrs. Archie Betts as hostess. The regular meetings of the week are scheduled in the calendar and in the year book.

This evening, Monday, at 7:30 o'clock, those who will respond to the call for interest and work for the Chautauque are requested to meet at the club house for about 30 minutes.

Very cordially yours,
 Susan B. Wight,
 President Woman's Club.

BREWERS TAKE ON ORIOLES IN CITY MONDAY

Loss to Cincinnati Reds on Local Field Saturday Afternoon; Will Get Return Game in Orlando Tomorrow

Next Local Game Comes On Friday

Orioles Were First Victims of Brewers' Spring Campaign; Have Won 2 Games

The Milwaukee Brewers, who lost 4 and 3, to the Cincinnati Reds on the municipal field Saturday afternoon, will have an opportunity for revenge Tuesday afternoon in a return engagement slated for Orlando, the spring home of the Red Legs. In their appearance on the local field Saturday afternoon the Brewers gave further evidence of being a good club and proved the truth of the maxim "practice adds to efficiency, as it were."

Prior to taking their fling with the Cincinnati Reds for a second game, the Brewers will try out on the local field Monday to put salt on the tails of the Baltimore Orioles. The Brewers about a week ago hauled all over the Orioles, smearing them for a loss by a count of 9 to 2. Borchert's men owe the Orioles a debt of gratitude for being the victims in the first game they have won this season. Since that time, however, the Brewers have evened the score with the Atlanta Southern League Crackers when they came here for a return game on the Brewers' own playground.

The game with the Reds was one that the scribes refer to as spectacular. At the beginning of the ninth inning the score was three all when the Reds came to the bat. Roush and Critz singled at the psychological moment and Bressler coming to bat to find that the psychological moment had lasted long enough for him to get there, pushed out a short hit that scored the winning run.

Harry Clarke sent in Sanders to begin pitching the game. He was followed by Bell and Wheeler. The Brewer moundsman performed noble though they did relax in the first, fourth and fifth innings, enough to allow the Reds to put over a run in each frame. The Brewers likewise were fair fairly well smothered, though they did manage to get enough hits to get over runs in the second, fifth and seventh innings.

There were fielding thrills in abundance, attesting the acclimation of the players and the fact that the spring training is beginning to have its effect. To Reds, upon their return to Orlando for the match with the Brewers Tuesday afternoon will be accorded something of a welcoming celebration and will be given the laurel and bay wreaths to shade their victorious brows.

World Famous Pilots To Drive Fast Automobiles Over Beach At St. Augustine On April 6th

St. Augustine, Mar. 23.—The local beach will be the mecca for speed fans of the southeast on Monday, Apr. 6, when automobile races for professional drivers and cars registered under the International Association will be staged as a feature attraction for the entertainment of delegates to the American Legion convention.

World's records for speedway cars over a straightaway course will be in jeopardy during the speed classic according to R. E. MacWilliams, chairman of the committee in charge of the events. Drivers known internationally on speedways and dirt tracks are listed to start in the five events, bringing to St. Augustine a half score of the fastest gasoline juggernauts in the country.

Heading the list of crack drivers already signed for the competitions is Sig Haugdahl, Norseman, World's speed king by virtue of his three mile a minute record over the sands of Daytona Beach and track championship won over American and Canadian circuits. Haugdahl has been wintering in Daytona and personally visited St. Augustine to assure members of St. John's Post that he would bring the best he has in the way of speed to the Legion meet on Apr. 6. This will include his Miller straight eight and his Reed Special, a new machine which is to be driven for the first time in competition in St. Augustine. It is claimed this car

Tennis Federation Makes Changes In Net Rules For 1926

PARIS, Mar. 23.—A tennis ball of uniform weight, size and resiliency will be compulsory in all international matches played after Jan. 1, 1926, the International Tennis Federation decided Saturday at its annual meeting in which 20 countries were represented.

The federation also adopted the American foot fault rule. It received favorably applications from Australia, Hungary, India, Ireland, Greece and Ecuador who will become full-fledged members in due course. No request for admittance was received from Germany.

Regarding the new uniform tennis ball, the federation decided that no monopoly would be given to any company, but that the ball presented by any manufacturer in order to be accepted must meet the specifications laid down by a committee of four which the federation appointed.

The adoption of the American foot fault rule seems likely to raise havoc among the most prominent French players, the French interpretation having allowed the server to drag the pivot foot across the baseline at the moment of impact,

OXFORD WINNER OVER CAMBRIDGE IN TRACT MEET

Americans Prove Big Help Events at Queens Club Last Saturday, Capturing Three Out of Six First Places

LONDON, Mar. 23.—With ample American aid Oxford defeated Cambridge by six victories to five in their fifty-seventh inter-university track and field competition at Queen's Club Saturday. Three of six firsts scored by the dark blue were won by Americans, R. L. Hyatt, formerly of Harvard, capturing both the pole vault and the weight putting event, while W. E. Stevenson, ex-Princetonian, broke the tape in the quarter mile run three yards ahead of D. G. A. Lowe star of the Cambridge runners.

Several thousand persons witnessed the sports, which were run off in spring-time weather such as England alone can experience, a little snow, a little rain, a little sleet, cold, bitter wind and now and then a dash of cold sunshine. Three inter-university records were broken, but two of these events, the pole vault and the 220 yard hurdles, have been contested by Oxford and Cambridge for only three years so that no great credit is taken by those who won them today because they did better than their predecessors.

But A. E. Porritt, a New Zealander who won the 100 yards dash in 9-9-10, accomplished something that seems to be of consequence in the long record of rivalry between Great Britain's two rival universities. The Dark Blues have raced against the Light Blues over the 100 yard route since 1864, but never until this afternoon has one of them dashed the distance in less than 10 seconds. Even the great Abrahams of Cambridge, who defeated the best sprinters of the world in the 100 yard dash event at the Olympic games in Paris last summer never got below 10 seconds in gaining his four inter-university victories in the country at Queens club from 1920 through 1923.

Porritt had a slight diagonal wind behind this afternoon and he finished with a fine burst of speed, leaving the others well behind him. Stevenson, former Princetonian, greatly impressed the Oxford supporters by his victory in the quarter mile. At that time each side had won four events and Lowe, of Cambridge, was thought likely to defeat the American who obviously was not enjoying the uncomfortable weather. However, he overtook Lowe as they turned into the finish stretch and won with a lead of three yards in 51 seconds.

Monday afternoon the four players representing the Gators will play on the Bradenton course against four players of that city, who are to be named.

Palmetto, Mar. 23.—Peery Adel, Southern amateur champion, and Pete Duran, Palmetto, defeated Mongin Brumby and Bill Beverly, representing the University of Florida, 3 and 1, at the Palmetto Golf and Country club this evening. Adair and Duran best ball was 67 against 70 for the Gator players.

Ben F. Wade, Jr., and Frank Williams, also of the University of Florida, were defeated, 2 and 1, by Cecil L. Baker and H. S. Pollard, local amateurs.

Holbeach Captures Grand Prix Feature 55-1 Shot Sunday

PARIS, Mar. 23.—A 55 to 1 shot won the first big feature of the Metropolitan racing season Sunday when Holbeach, a 9 year old gelding, carried off the grand prix Du Printemps at Autleil.

Holbeach, ridden by an apprentice jockey, Jean Luc, was neglected in the betting.

The gelding, however, showed a clean pair of heels to all the younger horses over the three miles and won handily. The race was worth 60,000 francs to the winner.

The spectators shivered in a snowstorm, the weather man thus scoring a signal victory over the dress makers who long had awaited the grand opening of the racing season. They had to be satisfied with another postponement of a display of their newest modes, for the feminine race-goers took out their fire which they had laid away several days ago when the warm sunshine seemed to denote the arrival of spring. The models had on the latest creations of style, but they were hidden under the great coats.

Policeman's Slayers Returned to Miami

MIAMI, Mar. 23.—William Yalton, 19, alias Fox, and John Naugle, charged with murder in connection with the recent shooting of motorcycle sergeant Weaver, arraigned before Judge W. V. Long in Circuit Court this morning, pleaded not guilty and trial was set next Monday.

Florida Seeks To Break Mercer Jinx

GAINESVILLE, Mar. 23.—The baseball season at the University of Florida will open here next Tuesday with Mercer opposing the Gators in a two-game series. A determined effort will be made by the Gator diamond stars to break the Mercer hoo-doo over Florida. The Macon Baptists were six times conquerors over Florida's team last spring, last fall defeated the powerful Florida football eleven, and only recently chalked another victory in basketball.

IF RHEUMATIC EAT NO SWEETS

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid eating sweets of all kind.

Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus, forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poison.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. —Adv.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood.
 Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders, often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular or passages attended by a sensation of stinging, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. —Adv.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, in a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell because it does it so naturally, so easily. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark and glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. —Adv.

JUNIOR PLAY

"His Uncle's Niece."
 This three act comedy is a laugh all through the plot of this farce centers around a letter received by Francis Felton of Happy Valley Junction, who has always supposed him to be a girl. Uncle Simon has selected a husband for his "niece" and that they are both on their way to visit "her" and make arrangements for the wedding. In desperation, to keep up the deception, started years before by his parents, Francis assumes a female role in order to carry out a provision whereby he is to receive a million dollars from his uncle. The explanations made necessary through this deception keep Francis and his friend Dick, in hot water and the audience in an uproar of laughter. The climax is a surprise that will lift the audience to its feet in applause.
 Given at high school Tuesday,
 March 24 at 8:30. Admission 45c and 50 cents. —Adv.
