Candidates Begin To Qualify Today For Office

Candidates for national, state and county office began qualifying in Florida at noon today to have their names placed on the ballots this year.

In Seminole County, the three School Board seats held by Pat Telson, Bill Kroll and Al Keith, and two county commission offices held by Sandra Glenn and Bob Sturm are up for election this year.

Candidates for these offices begin filing qualifying documents with Seminole Supervisor of Elections Camilla Bruce today. The candidate qualifying period ends at noon, June 20.

At the same time two Seminole-Brevard circuit judges, Kenneth Leffer and C. Vernon Mize Jr., will file for re-election in Tallahassee.

The offices on the statewide election ballot include: one U.S. senator; 19 congressmen, the governor and lieutenant governor and all six members of the Cabinet; 120 members of the state House of Representatives; and 40 members of the Senate.

Locally, candidates for four state House districts and two state senators districts will be on the ballot.

Of the School Board incumbents, Kroll is completing his first term; Mrs. Telson is completing her second term, and Keith's completing his fourth term. In addition, Jean Bryant, who previously served two terms on the board, has announced she will run against Keith.

The annual salary for school board members in Seminole is $12,077. Their salaries set by state law, according to population, will be increased to $13,016, beginning Oct. 1. School Board members are non-partisan.

In the County Commission elections, both Mrs. Glenn and Sturm, completing their first four-year terms in office, are seeking re-election. Both Republicans were expected to qualify today.

Former County Commissioner Bob French, a Democrat, is running against Sturm.

The County commissioners' salary is $23,059 annually. Their pay will be increased to $25,203 on Oct. 1.

The judicial candidates will be elected in the first primary, Sept. 7. Leffer was appointed to the bench in 1975 and was subsequently elected to a six-year term in 1976.

Mize was appointed to the bench by Gov. Bob Graham in January 1981. He is seeking a six-year term.

The offices are non-partisan. The salary of circuit judges is $53,000 annually. Their salaries will go up to $69,550 in September.

Seminole County after the Nov. 2 general election will have one state representative whose district is wholly within the county and three others to be shared with other counties.

State Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, whose legislative district is totally within the county and runs from the south end of the county to the north end, has not said whether he will seek election.

State Rep. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, is running for re-election. His district includes a portion of Seminole and several other counties.

The district of State Rep. Tom Orange,

R-Orlando, includes portions of Southeast Seminole and Orange county. And the district of State Rep. Jason Steele, R-Rockledge includes portions of Seminole and Brevard counties.

Steele, a first term legislator, is running against State Sen. John Vogt, D-Cocoa Beach. Vogt, whose district includes portions of Seminole and Brevard counties, has served in the Senate for 10 years.

The district of state Sen. Dick Langley, R-Clermont, includes portions of Seminole, his home county of Lake and other areas.

The annual salaries of both Senate and House members is $12,000.

Art Grindle, county businessman, and a Republican has announced his candidacy for Hattaway's seat. Winter Springs Mayor Troy Piland, Democrat, and Republicans Carl Selph and Casselberry Councilman Jim Lavigne are running for Steele's former seat.

All of Seminole County is included in the fifth congressional district. First term U.S. Rep. Bill McCollum, R-Altamonte Springs is running for re-election. State Rep. Dick Batchelor, D-Orlando, is running against McCollum.

Seminole County as of May 31 had 71,876 registered voters. Voter registration books are slated to close Aug. 7.

The county has 72 voting precincts.

The first and second primary elections are scheduled for Sept. 7 and Oct. 5 respectively. The general election will be held Nov. 2.

Nicholas Simone Fort was a Fourth of July firecracker for his parents, Minnie and Nathaniel Fort. The infant was the first born in the emergency room of Central Florida Regional Hospital.

Firecrackers Come In All Sizes, Shapes

When you're the sixth-born child, you have to do something pretty spectacular to get the proper attention and that's just what newborn Nicholas Simone Fort did.

Sanford's Central Florida Regional Hospital records show that young Nicholas was born at 7:55 a.m. Monday — the first baby to be born in the new hospital's emergency room.

But records also show that his mother, Minnie, 26, wasn't admitted until 7:58 a.m. "That Fourth of July baby came in with a big bang," hospital spokesperson Kay Batholomew said. "I never saw such a happy family. Mrs. Fort's husband, Nathaniel, was right there the whole time. Everyone was caught up in their excitement."

Mrs. Fort, a Seminole Community College student who lives with her husband, three sons and two daughters at 1017 Bay Ave., says she's looking forward to taking her six-pound, 10-ounce baby boy home soon.

"It was quite a surprise," she said. "He wasn't due until July 22 and I thought it was a false alarm. We just barely made it."

St. Johns Friends To Seek Marsh Funds

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The St. Johns River, Florida's longest and most important waterway, is dying, conservationists insist. The 310-mile waterway is being choked by its increasing pollution level and its continually decreasing flow.

And its future is important to the 2.5 million people, nearly 24 percent of Florida's population, who live within the river's 11,400-square-mile basin.

The way to save the body of water, in the view of the "Friends of the St. Johns" is to provide thousands of acres of wetland.

Excess water can be stored there and be released into the river as needed.

But the purchase of the marshlands will cost money. And the only way to raise the money is by increasing taxes.

The St. Johns River Water Management District was formed by legislative edict some years ago to work on the problems of the river. It is currently levying a tax of 12.1 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation in 19 Florida counties.

The Friends of the St. Johns president, J.T. Turnipseed, and U.S. Army Maj. (retired) Chester Brown, secretary-treasurer, say the St. Johns District should increase those taxes to 37.5 cents per $1,000, and earmark the $6 million additional revenue to buying those marshes to save the river.

Working toward this end Turnipseed, Brown and others in the organization are gathering supporters together for the July 14 meeting of the St. Johns River Water Management District in Palatka.

The group will lobby the water management district members heavily to include in its budget for the 1982-83 fiscal year a higher tax rate and designation of the resulting funds to buy the lands needed.

Michael Gray, Seminole County's representative on the St. Johns River Water Management district board, said today the chances are that the district's tax rate will be raised some to provide money for the purchase of marshlands.

He said the board at its most recent meeting voted to instruct the district's staff to hold down district operating costs, freeze capital outlay to $709,000 (the same level as the current year) and to freeze the district's number of employees at 168.

Gray said the staff is to give the board information on savings from this action and then determine the revenues available from increasing taxes to somewhere between 21.1 cents per thousand and 27.6 cents. He said it is expected that raising the tax rate will bring in between $3.1 million and $5.4 million to acquire marshlands.

In addition, Gray said the district is expecting another $4.3 million in state funding for the purchase of wet lands.

Brown said, "The life-sustaining mechanism of the river is marshland," adding it acts like a kidney for the river, storing water during high-water times and rainfall, and filtering out pollutants while it is stored.

The marshlands also would provide a habitat for fish and fowl and other wildlife and buffer the river from flooding conditions during times of highwater.

Currently, there is no place to naturally store water, to permit increasing the flow of the river

Goat Lady May Leave Jail Today

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County's "Goat Lady" could be released from the county jail today if she rides her Longwood home of goats, as her lawyer has indicated she will do.

Ingeborg Morris, of 2331 Oak Drive, is being held in the county jail today following her arrest at her home Friday on contempt of court charges. Mrs. Morris was arrested after she defied a court order to rid her home of goats as ordered by Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr.

However, Mrs. Morris' lawyer, Richard Mazo, said today his client will comply with the judge's order "in order to appeal the case to the Fifth District Court of Appeals in Daytona Beach."

"The court notified us that they would not rule on Mrs. Morris' appeal as long as she was being held in contempt of court," Mazo said. "So, I am taking the notice of compliance to Mrs. Morris at the jail this morning for her approval, then to Judge Mize and then I am sending it to the appeals court. After that, I'll go back to the jail and pick up Mrs. Morris and take her home."

Mazo added Mrs. Morris' controversial goats "have been or are being removed from the home to the farm or other locations this morning."

Mazo said he is appealing the case to the higher court on Mrs. Morris' behalf "on the basis that we feel there were some errors in judgments as made by Judge Mize. That is the key basis — the wording of the judgments — for our appeal."

Deputy County Attorney Robert McMillan said today he has not received any information concerning Mrs. Morris' intentions to comply with the court order.

"We've sent all of the information on the case up there (Daytona Beach) and are waiting on the ruling but they said they won't rule if she doesn't comply," McMillan said. "We're just waiting now to see what she'll do."

"The court has not indicated when it will make its ruling," Mazo said.

Soccer Fields Approved

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County commissioners approved Tuesday by a 3-1 vote the site plan for the first phase construction of playing fields and a club building at the Seminole Soccer Club on Markham Road.

The proposal has met with considerable opposition from landowners in the area who contend the facility will increase traffic in their residential community and that it goes against the intent of zoning regulations.

Ernest Cowley, a representative of the landowners, asked commissioners to postpone their decision on the facility until a court hearing, scheduled for July 13, is held in Seminole Circuit Court.

Cowley said it was senseless for the board to go ahead with action on the facility since the court could reverse their decisions. "I just feel it's a waste of the commissioners' time until we clear up the other issue," Cowley said.

But County Attorney Nikki Clayton advised commissioners the court case should not deter them from taking action.

"You should continue with the procedure. It's a normal action. Actions of the board are presumed valid until proven otherwise."

"This hearing is premature," Cowley said. "The question of whether the Seminole Soccer Club has been granted an exemption to the land use plan is being challenged."

Commissioner Sandra Glenn moved for acceptance of a six-month extension of a special exemption for the soccer club and for approval of the site plan and operating agreement.

The extension was adopted unanimously, but the site plan and operating agreement were more controversial.

In presenting the site plan to the commission, Bill Kirchner, a representative of the soccer club, said the complaints of residents in the area adjacent to the 40-acre tract at the corner of Longwood-Markham Road and Markham Woods Road had been considered.

Holiday Death Toll Of 17 Was Lower Than Expected

United Press International
Late reports reaching Tallahassee today were expected to add to the July 4th holiday death toll on Florida's highways but still fall short of the 28 the patrol predicted before the weekend began.
When the 78-hour holiday, which began at 6 p.m. EDT Friday, ended at midnight Monday, the patrol had recorded a total of 17 traffic fatalities.

Challenger Arrives OK

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The space shuttle Challenger, a lighter and updated twin to the veteran space traveler Columbia, has arrived at the launch site for its inaugural mission in January.
The Challenger is in far better shape than its predecessor when it was delivered to the Kennedy Space Center three years ago, but officials said it still must undergo months of testing and launch preparations.

Blocking Haitians Release

MIAMI (UPI) — A petition to block the immediate release of 1,900 Haitians from U.S. detention centers is expected to be filed today before the U.S. 11th Circuit Court of Appeals in Atlanta by attorneys for the Immigration and Naturalization Service.
The Haitians were ordered released by Miami U.S. District Judge Eugene Spellman in a decision made public June 29, but government attorneys filed notice of appeal.
Spellman amended his order on Friday to give the government permission to detain Haitians illegally arriving in the United States during the next 90 days. That order was issued to prevent a new wave of "boat people," and will not affect Haitians already detained.

A shaky cease-fire held today following Israeli advances in the most intensive fighting in 10 days and U.S. envoy Philip Habib pressured Israel to lift its total blockade of Palestinian-held west Beirut.
Israeli gunboats and artillery shelled Beirut Monday as Israeli tanks rolled onto the two runways of the capital's international airport.
Israeli forces moved to within 500 yards of Burj Barajneh refugee camp, a key PLO stronghold, under cover of heavy artillery, smoke bombs and mortar fire.

Judge Mize Seeking Election To Bench

Seminole Circuit Judge Vernon Mize has announced his intention to seek election to the post to which he was appointed in Nov. 1980.
Mize was appointed to the circuit bench by Gov. Bob Graham and assumed office on Jan. 1, 1981.
He was graduated from law school at the University of Florida in 1958 and entered private law practice in Sanford in Jan. 1959. Mize was appointed a Seminole County judge in 1960 and served in that position until Jan. 1965 when he returned to private law practice. During his legal career, Mize served as Sanford city attorney from 1973 to 1980.

Over July 4th Weekend

13 Are Charged With DUI

The number 13 certainly proved unlucky for individuals in Seminole County who didn't find much to celebrate over the 4th of July weekend after being booked into Seminole County Jail on DUI charges.
That's the number of drivers the Seminole County Sheriff's Department and local law enforcement officers arrested between Friday and late Monday night.
Police found the majority of those drinking and driving on Sunday, the fourth. A total of five persons were arrested on drunk driving charges that day, two in Casselberry, another two in Longwood and one in Lake Mary.
Four additional DUI arrests took place Saturday as police charged two drivers in Longwood and another two in Lake Mary.
The long holiday weekend came to an abrupt halt for another two drivers in Casselberry and Oviedo who were arrested Friday night on DUI charges.

The 12th arrest came at 2:04 a.m. Monday in Maitland while unlucky Number 13 was picked up late Monday night by the Casselberry Police Department.
Comparatively speaking, the stricter new law seemed to have little impact on sobering up drivers.
According to figures from the Seminole County Sheriff's Department, a total of 13 persons were arrested and booked into the county jail over the same holiday period in 1981.
Under Florida's new DUI law, considered one of the toughest in the nation, first-time offenders are required to perform 50 hours of community service, lose their license for at least six months, attend a substance-abuse course at their own expense and possibly serve up to 90 days in jail, as ordered by a judge.
In addition, a motorist arrested on a second violation of the DUI law will serve a mandatory jail sentence of 10 days and could be jailed for up to six months if the second conviction occurs within three years of the first offense. The person also will pay a minimum fine of $500, attend a substance-abuse course and have his or her license suspended for five years.
Motorists with a third offense will serve a mandatory jail term of 30 days expanding to one year if they are convicted three times within five years of DUI. They also will attend the substance-abuse course, pay the mandatory fine of at least $1,000 and face a license suspension of 10 years.
Violators of the state's new DUI law also will be required to submit to a breath test or urine sample.
The new law went into effect on July 1.

Casselberry Won't Buy Small Shopping Center

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

The idea of leveling a small shopping center at 5 Casselberry Plaza to provide a better view for the city's new municipal owners has spawned some grumbles from the 12 merchants who operate out of the facility. But Casselberry Mayor Owen Sheppard said today concern about the idea is much ado about nothing.
"There's nothing on the planning board," scoffed Sheppard. "It's just an idea up for discussion."
The idea is the possibility of leveling the 12-business plaza and replacing it with grass and trees. The plaza blocks the view of Casselberry's new City Hall which city officials hope to move into by the end of the month or early August.
The city has received three appraisals to purchase the property ranging from $585,000 to $630,000.
The plaza pays a total of $519 in city property taxes annually and another $732.50 in occupational license fees per year. Seminole County's tentative 1982 millage assessment on the property is $325,640.
And while news of the idea is just that, an idea, Sheppard said the possibility of purchasing the property is far fetched at the present time.

"Maybe some day we might hope to acquire it, but at the present time there's no money to purchase something like that," Sheppard said.
Still, just an idea that might chase away the 12 proprietors, rankled shop owners. And the idea of being removed from his present location, even somewhere in the future, isn't one Gordon Gibb relishes.
Gibb, owner of Biggs Golf Center, which has been located in the plaza for the past 13 years, doesn't even like the idea of such a possibility.
"My landlord has been super. You don't find many that are easy to deal with. Moving would no doubt mean a big increase in my rent. I have a lot of machinery here for repair work that takes special wiring and moving that would be another headache."
Although Casselberry has no plans at the present time to purchase the plaza to level it, Gibb said in talking to other merchants in the plaza, any future move by the city to pursue the idea might be met with some type of legal action.
Sheppard added any consideration of the idea was at least five years down the road and that the city was concerned about cleaning up the cluttered appearance of some areas of the city.

during droughts to control flooding.
Turnipseed said this is the time to buy the marshlands, noting they will never be less expensive.
"Lands are available now and should be bought now," Turnipseed said. He suggested the water management district also consider buying properties now and paying for them later.
Brown said if something isn't done to provide natural storage for the river and to provide an increased flow of the waterways during drought times, the St. Johns will be "the longest sewer in the world."
Brown said no federal money is available to buy the marshlands. "The federal government believes the river is a Florida problem and it's up to Floridians to fix it," he said.

"If we wait for federal money in the future, it may be too late for the river," Brown said.
He also pointed to the massive fish kills that have been seen in the river in the past year to 18 months. Brown said the fish kills are an indicator of the river's pollution.
Turnipseed and Brown believe the systematic drainage and diking of much of the 2,000 square mile upper basin area of the river by cattle farmers and citrus growers caused the river's water quality problems.
The agricultural interests respond that they only did what was necessary to protect their investments from flood damage.

Peterson Selects Bergman As New UCF Baseball Coach

The University of Central Florida named Jay Bergman its new baseball coach today, replacing Bill Moon who was assigned to other duties in the athletic department.

Bergman, who built the Seminole Community College baseball team into a state contender during his seven years at Sanford, was introduced by athletic director Bill Peterson at an 11 a.m. press conference Tuesday.

Bergman won the Southeastern Conference championship for the Florida Gators in 1981, but was dismissed from the job for playing eight fall games instead of the allowed six by Athletic Director Bill Carr.

The 42-year-old former Winter Park resident had a career-record 215 wins at Florida before his January dismissal. He lost 113. In the championship year, the Gators were 42-17.

Bergman will make around $20,000.

O-Twins Copy Third Win

ORLANDO — As the Minnesota Twins go, so go the Orlando Twins. With the parent club winning eight of its last 11 the O-Twins have won three straight.

But that's as far as the parallel goes. Minnesota is laboring in the American League Western Division cellar, 22 games off the pace. On the other hand, Orlando is 11-8 in the second half, only two games behind front-running Columbus in the Southern League's West Division.

With all nine players hitting safely at least once, the O-Twins rapped 15 hits en route to a 10-6 thumping of Chattanooga at Tinker Field Monday night.

Bob Veselic, in his first pitching appearance since being demoted from Toledo, picked up the victory and Jack Hobbs notched his third save.

Greg Gagne, Tim Teufel, Mark Funderburk, Mike Sodders and Rick Austin each collected two or more hits for the Twins, who built an 8-0 lead after three innings and coasted to the win.

Anderson Grabs Feature Win

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — Still hot after his second place finish in the Crane Cams 300 ALL PRO national championship on Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway, Dick Anderson drove the Mitton Electric Camaro to victory in the 50-lap Independence Day Championship on Sunday night at the same half-mile oval.

Nineteen-eighty-two World Series thunder car champion Bruce Lawrence who notched a feature win during Friday's ALL PRO show, scored back to back victories by winning Sunday's championship.

Other weekend double winners were Young Jim Crowe who survived the wild street stock action and Danny Pardus in the four cylinder class.

In the half-century grind for late models, Anderson took over first place on lap one from his inside second row starting spot.

Giving chase was LeRoy Porter who drove the pace car during the Crane Cams 300, passing up the event because his race car did not conform to the ALL PRO rules.

Davey Allison, Don Sprouse and Pat Bresnahan were having a tough three-way duel for third when Roger Hallburton brought out the yellow on lap 19. From then on, Porter stayed up with Anderson and applied the pressure until his motor came apart on lap 32.

Sprouse, who ran as high as third, finally burned out his clutch and dropped to fifth at the finish behind Anderson, Pat Bresnahan, young Davey Allison and division's high point man Joe Middleton.

Sub-District At Fort Mellon

By CHRIS FISTER
Herald Sports Writer

"...Buy me some peanuts and cracker jack — you'll need that much to make it through this tournament."

The tournament, hosted by the Sanford Youth Baseball Association, is double elimination and spans over the next eight days. The Little Major League Sub-District gets underway tonight at 6 at Fort Mellon Park when Orlando plays the Leesburg Americans.

The Sanford Nationals begin play Wednesday night against Groveland. John Reagan, coach of Groveland, piloted Clermont to two straight sub-district and district titles the last two years.

The Sanford Americans drew a bye in the sub-districts in a coin flip to find out which Sanford team would host each (sub-district and district 4) Tournament. The winner of the sub-districts will advance to the District 4 Tournament on July 19 at Fort Mellon Park.

The sub-district is a double elimination tournament and the championship will be played July 13 unless a tiebreaking championship game is needed. That game would be played at 7 p.m. on July 14.

Poppa Jay's manager Sylvester "Slick" Franklin will be at the helm of the Sanford Nationals who have quite a few hefty hitters.

Todd Revels, from Sunnland Corporation, led the league in both batting average, .688, and home runs, 11. Leonard Lucas, who played for Rinker Materials, hit at a .569 clip and slugged seven round trippers. Tyrone Lee, Cardinal Industries, posted an impressive .522 average with eight homers. Lee's teammate, Shawn Green, the only female player in the league, hit .435 during the season and smashed four homers.

Willie "Sugar Tex" McCloud posted a 9-0 pitching record and will be looked to for leadership on the mound. Ronald Blake, also from Poppa Jay's, has a 3-0 record and is joined by teammates Jeff Blake, 2-0, George Gordon, 1-0, and Edward Gordon, 1-0. Tim Graham, Sunnland Corporation, has a 3-1 pitching record. Willie Grayson, Rinker Materials, compiled a 6-2 record on the mound.

Some Tragedies Don't Have To Happen

The Fourth of July weekend, a time to relax, celebrate and hit the beaches. Just the kind of weekend that Danny H. loved. But Danny was not around for this Fourth of July. Maybe in spirit, not in person.

Miles and miles away from Sanford his mother sits alone in an isolated spot at a place where tombstones are strewn about an enclosed lawn. She places a flower down and a teardrop rolls down her cheek and onto the worn grass where she had spent so many hours sitting and wondering. Why? The gravestone reads: Danny H. — 1959-1979.

She and everyone else who knew Danny wonders why somebody so full of life is no longer with us. And knowing that it could have been prevented makes it even harder to accept.

Danny was as strong a guy as I had ever known. I wasn't there when it happened but I know every detail of the tragedy. Danny was with two friends at Pine Island, a remote beach on the Gulf of Mexico, he challenged his friends to see who could swim out the farthest.

Danny went out first but his friends decided not to go out, so Danny was alone. He swam out to a very deep point and turned back. On his way back he went down. His friends thought he was fooling around — he went down again. This time he didn't come up. Danny got a cramp when he was swimming back, his friends did not recognize what had happened.

They went out to look for Danny, but it was too late. Danny had drowned. It took a search crew an entire day to drag the area to find his body.

I can't remember how long I cried for Danny and for his devastated family. But, now I am in a position to say something.

Tragedies such as this don't have to happen. And, now that summer is getting into full swing, everyone who goes to the beach, or the river or whatever should be reminded.

Reminded that if you go out in the water take someone along with you. Or swim at a beach that has lifeguards. A lot of people think that it couldn't happen to them because they are good swimmers. Wrong — Danny was the strongest swimmer that I knew.

As the old cliché goes, it's better to be safe than sorry. If you go out alone, make sure someone knows, maybe take a life preserver or something.

A lot of summers can be ruined if you're not careful, even a close call can be damaging. If something can be prevented, why should it happen?

So remember, be on the safe side. And have a happy summer of 1982.

'Show Me' Wallace Captures Crane Cams

Auto Racing

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — Rusty Wallace, who hails from the "Show me" state of Missouri, only showed the rear portion of his Southland Fire Equipment 1982 Camaro as he won the $42,000 Crane Cams 300-lap ALL PRO National Championship race before a full-house crowd on Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway.

Finishing second and also completing 300 laps was Sunshine State's best Dick Anderson who drove a much heavier 1981 Camaro powered by a 305 cu. in. Baker-built small-block Chevy motor owned by Mitton Electric.

Third, two laps down, was close point chase runner-up Randy Couch who drove a new experimental Bopp-built, trick-chassis 1982 Firebird. "These were the fastest-hardest 300 laps I've ever run," said Couch, whose right leg was burned to the bone, at the spot where it touched the red-hot cockpit partition.

Because he couldn't find the right chassis combination, Couch had qualified poorly (20th), but Grand National regular Jody Ridley and his "big" brother Riddle came to the rescue. They went to work on the car and finally found the right set-up. So Couch definitely owed his third place finish to the Ridley clan.

ALL PRO super series high point man Gary Adams was fourth, with Junior Niedecken, Mike Harmon, Davey Allison, Darryl Sage, Harold Lemley and Russell Nelson rounding out the top ten.

Driving Nicky Prejean's 310 cu. in. Prototype-powered, Bopp-chassis world's record holder car, Wallace topped Friday's time trials with a time of 18.620 sec., averaging 96.670 miles per hour for one tour around the big high-banked half-mile of pavement.

But when the green was waved on the 30-car field, it was 1982 World Series champion Dick Trickle in command for the next 113 laps. Trickle was immediately challenged by Wallace, with Anderson and Rick Wilson joining the lead pack.

During the first hundred laps, those four cars fought it out on the high banks, turning near-record speeds while constantly weaving in and out of heavy traffic.

Wilson, who started fifth in a brand new "right off the trailer" Dillon Camaro, seemed to be having problems dodging slower cars. On lap 112, he spun, bringing out the fifth caution of the night.

As the leaders dove in the pits for rubber and fuel, Couch, the ALL PRO Super Series defending champion, in the Ranbek Enterprises Firebird, took over the commanding spot and held on to it for five laps.

Wallace, who ran the whole race on the same left side Goodyear rubber, was back in front on lap 119. Although he was superb in traffic, Wallace could not shake off a determined Anderson.

Not used to these long races, Anderson, who got himself in shape by jogging and staying off the suds for weeks preceding the event, seemed to be getting stronger as the race progressed.

Trying to keep the car straight to save his tires, Anderson, peaking at 8,400 r.p.m., but without brakes since half-way, squeezed inside a surprised Wallace on lap 173 and took the lead.

Thirty-four laps later, Wallace was back in front for good.

By virtue of his fourth place finish, Gary Adams and the Limousines Unlimited Camaro remains on top of the point standings. Third place finisher Couch is less than 50 points behind, with winner Wallace taking over third place in points from young Darryl Sage.

The next ALL PRO National Championship event, the 12th super series race of the 1982 season, will take place at the Birmingham, Alabama (airgrounds on Saturday night, July 17. The 200-lap race, dotted with a $25,000 purse, is being billed as the "Firepower 200 (Nutek-Mackie Ignitions) race.

Antonio's Solar (right) led the way on June 25 in the 10th race at the Super Seminole Greyhound Park. Boy, did he lead the way. And he had some organized followers too. Antonio's Solar, the number 1 dog out of Florando's Kennels, set the pace for a perfect (1 through 8) numerical finish for the eight greyhounds. "It's not the first time it ever happened," said Super Seminole's Jerry Dye. "But it was a 40,000-1 shot that it would. Solar paid $5.80 to win.

2-Run Home Run Stuns Chicago, 5-4

Small-Fry Hubbard Produces Big Win

ATLANTA (UPI) — Glenn Hubbard gets kidded a lot about being the smallest player on his team, but the 5-foot-7 second baseman says he "felt six feet tall" when he hit a two-run homer Monday night to lead the division-leading Atlanta Braves to their sixth straight victory.

The Braves, who are gaining a reputation as a come-from-behind ball club while putting together the best record (49-29) in the major leagues this year, trailed 5-4 after Chicago's Bill Buckner hit a two-run double in the top of the seventh.

But Hubbard, who now has five home runs this season, came up in the bottom of the seventh with Claudell Washington on base and rifled a Lee Smith fast ball over the left field fence and the Braves went on to beat the Cubs, 7-5, for their 22nd victory in their last 31 games.

"I was in a situation where the game was on the line," said Hubbard. "I was just looking for a hit, hoping to keep us going. I didn't expect to hit it out."

America's Team

"Sometimes you get out there and say, 'man, how many times can you do it?'" said Hubbard. "But they keep falling in place for us. We feel if our pitchers can keep it close, we can win the game."

The Braves, leading the National League West by 4 1/2 games, jumped into a 3-0 lead when Bob Horner hit a three-run homer in the first inning. It was Horner's sixth home run in five games and his 17th of the season.

But the Cubs tied it in the second on a two-run homer by Jody Davis and a solo shot by Smith, his first major league hit in two seasons.

"We've come from behind so often of late we didn't know what to do with a three-run lead in the first inning," said Braves manager Joe Torre. "We don't like being behind, but we're not intimidated when we are."

"You can hit some home runs in their ball park," said Cubs manager Lee Ella. "That's what they (the Braves) have been doing."

Padre Comeback Humbles Expos

United Press International. Maybe it's time to start taking the San Diego Padres seriously as National League West pennant contenders.

The Montreal Expos would be the first to agree that these Padres aren't the kind that turn the other cheek.

For the second time in a row at Montreal, the Padres put together a big rally late in a game and whipped the Expos, 8-6, Monday night.

The triumph was yet another example of the kind of championship character San Diego has shown in recent weeks. The Padres did not arrive in Montreal until 6 a.m. EDT after an all-night flight from the west coast, and they looked half asleep for six innings against Expos' righthander Scott Sanderson.

Sanderson was nursing a 6-1 lead when, suddenly, the Padres broke loose for six runs in the seventh inning and went on to score an 8-6 triumph. On their last game at Montreal back on May 16, the Padres staged a seven-run ninth inning and beat the Expos, 8-2.

National League

"It's hard when you have to sleep during the day, then come out and play, but this club has great character and we've shown it by battling back against the Expos," said Padres manager Dick Williams.

The Padres began their comeback when Ruppert Jones led off with a double and scored on a single by Sixto Lezcano. After Terry Kennedy grounded out, Broderick Perkins singled to put runners at first and third.

Luis Salazar's sacrifice fly narrowed the lead to 6-3 and singles by pinch hitter Kurt Bevacqua and Gene Richards loaded the bases. Sanderson walked in Tim Flannery to make it 6-4 before Gary Templeton tied the score with a single to right field.

The Padres, who sent 11 batters to the plate in the inning, then took a 7-6 lead on Jones' single.

Templeton squeezed home Richards in the ninth with the Padres' final run.

"This reminds me of the last time I was here in Montreal," said Templeton, "but I wasn't trying to do anything special at the plate."

Reliever Floyd Chiffer worked two innings to bring his record to 3-1 with Gary Lucas getting the last three outs to record his 12th save.

Gary Carter hit his 18th homer for Montreal.

Astros 6, Pirates 4. At Pittsburgh, Phil Garner hit a three-run homer and Jose Cruz added a two-run shot and an RBI double to pace the Astros' to their sixth victory in seven games.

Cardinals 6, Reds 5. At Cincinnati, Ozzie Smith delivered an RBI single with one out in the 10th inning to help the Cardinals hand the Reds their eighth straight loss.

Porter drew an intentional walk, Smith singled off first baseman Dan Driessen's glove to make a winner of Jim Kaat, 3-1.

McGregor Checks Angels For 12th Straight Time

United Press International. At Anaheim, Scott McGregor can pitch in front of his family and against his "cousins."

"Maybe I am more relaxed here against them," McGregor said Monday night after posting his 12th straight victory over California as the Baltimore Orioles topped the Angels 8-5. "It definitely means a lot to me and getting a lot of runs helps too."

In baseball, a cousin is an opponent against whom you enjoy special success, and in McGregor's case, the Angels certainly qualify. He has not lost to them since Aug. 18, 1978.

Rick Dempsey, Eddie Murray and Floyd Rayford hit two-run homers and Ken Singleton collected two doubles and a single to drive in the other two Baltimore runs.

"I can't explain it," McGregor said of his success against California. "Maybe it's just because we all come in here loose playing before our families."

McGregor, 36, went 8 1-3 innings and was touched for home runs by Doug DeCinces in the second and Reggie Jackson and Fred Lynn, a two-run shot, in the ninth before being replaced by Don Stanhouse. Stanhouse lasted only two batters, giving up singles to both, before giving way to Tim Stoddard, who gave up a ranscoring single to Brian Downing before Tippy Martinez relieved and got the final two outs.

"I was making good pitches up until the ninth inning," McGregor said.

The Angels have now lost six straight, scoring only 10 runs in the process.

The Orioles jumped on loser Ken Forsch, 7-7, for six runs on eight hits in 4 1-3 innings. Baltimore started quickly as Al Bumbry opened with an infield single, took third on Rich Dauer's single to right and scored on Singleton's double to right.

Gary Roenicke opened the second with a walk and Dempsey smashed his fifth homer of the year over the 404-mark in center. Murray's 12th homer of the year capped a three-run fifth. Rayford hit his second major-league homer off Luis Sanchez after Dempsey singled to open the eighth.

Martina Earns Respect

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — No matter the past glory, nor the size of a bankbook, for an athlete there is always something more to prove.

Pride comes before the money, and recognition for a deed well done is the biggest prize of all. These are the compelling emotions that drove Jimmy Connors and Martina Navratilova at Wimbledon, and once they succeeded they weren't shy about covering themselves with glory.

"I felt before I didn't get the recognition and respect I deserved," Navratilova said after taking away the Wimbledon women's crown from Chris Evert Lloyd, 6-1, 3-6, 6-2, Saturday. "Even when I won here before I didn't receive the recognition as being the best. I've worked hard for that respect."

At 25, Navratilova already is the richest woman athlete in history with earnings of almost $4.5 million, including a $500,000 bonus she received by winning three tournaments, including Wimbledon, designated by a women's undergarments manufacturer.

If she can win the U.S. Open at Flushing Meadows in September, Navratilova will pick up another $500,000 bonus, but far more important to her would be the completion of the Grand Slam.

Only two other women, Maureen Connolly in 1953 and Margaret Smith Court in 1970, have held the English, U.S., French and Australian championships at the same time.

They've got some pretty good relief pitching too. They're a whale of a ball club this year. That's all I can say."

Hubbard, who Torre rates as one of the smoothest fielding second basemen in the game today — "He's one of the fastest I've seen turn the double play," says his teammates are on him all the time about his size.

"Like the other night, when we had a bunch of little leaguers on the field before the game," said Hubbard. "They kept telling me I'd better not go out there because I might get lost in the crowd."

"I don't have the power of a Bob Horner or a Dale Murphy, but I can do some things the big guys can't do."

Hubbard said that when he hits a home run — he now has 25 over the past five seasons — it means he's swinging the ball wrong.

"When I hit one out, like I did tonight, it means I'm cutting up on the ball," he said. "I shouldn't do that. I'm more of a line drive hitter."

Smith, so upset over the loss he didn't want to talk, claimed Hubbard hit a curve.

"We feel that if our pitchers can keep it close, we can win the game."

GLEN HUBBARD ... clutch homer

"No," said Hubbard. "It was a fast ball. That's all he throws but he really comes with it. When he does get a curve, he's going to be tough."

And Hubbard said he knew from the time the ball left his bat that it was going out.

"When I hit one (a home run), I usually know it's gone," said Hubbard. "After all, I don't hit that many."

"This reminds me of the last time I was here in Montreal," said Templeton, "but I wasn't trying to do anything special at the plate."

Reliever Floyd Chiffer worked two innings to bring his record to 3-1 with Gary Lucas getting the last three outs to record his 12th save.

Gary Carter hit his 18th homer for Montreal.

Porter drew an intentional walk, Smith singled off first baseman Dan Driessen's glove to make a winner of Jim Kaat, 3-1.

Dodgers 4, Mets 1. At New York, Ron Cey and Mike Marshall hit third-inning home runs to support the five-hit pitching of Bob Welch and lift the Dodgers to victory. Welch, 9-5, struck out eight and walked two in besting Pete Falcone, 4-6. Dave Kingman hit his 19th homer for the Mets.

Giants 3, Phillies 1. At Philadelphia, Chili Davis tripped to touch off a two-run sixth inning that carried the Giants to victory before a regular-season Veteran Stadium record crowd of 63,501. Milt May's run-scoring single delivered Davis with the tiebreaking run and helped Bill Laskey, 7-5, to the victory.

Braves 7, Cubs 5. At Atlanta, Glenn Hubbard hit a two-run homer in the seventh inning to spark the Braves to their sixth straight victory. Bob Horner also homered for the Braves, who have won 22 of their last 31 games. Jody Davis and relief pitcher Lee Smith homered for Chicago.

That led the Rangers over the slumping Blue Jays. Texas has won seven of its last nine while Toronto has dropped nine of 12.

A's 2, Indians 0. At Oakland, Calif., Tom Underwood scattered six hits over 7 2-3 innings and Dan Meyer belted a solo homer to lead the A's. Underwood raised his record to 4-4 by striking out four and walking one before Dave Beard relieved with two out in the eighth to secure his seventh save.

Mariners 5, Yankees 4. At Seattle, Julio Cruz went 3-for-4, stole two bases, scored three runs and drove in two to help the Mariners move into third place in the AL West. Cruz's two steals set up the winning run for Seattle in the seventh inning. Dave Winfield hit his 13th homer for New York.

Red Sox 4-3, Royals 3-4. At Kansas City, Mo., Jim Rice's bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the 11th gave the Red Sox the victory in the opener. Mike Armstrong, 2-2, was the loser while Bob Stanley upped his record to 7-2. Frank White knocked in three runs with a homer and a single in the second game.

Coupon King Plans Biggest Year Ever

OVERLAND PARK, Kan. (UPI) — The coupon-clipping mania infecting many shoppers is getting a boost in small town markets thanks to a Kansas-based firm.

Dennis Garberg, president of The Sunflower Group, said his co-op couponing organization plans this year to buy $5 million in ad space in 978 smaller market papers for coupons offering money off on household products ranging from dog food to soap.

The ads will be seen by as many as 17.9 million subscribers in every state but Alaska and Hawaii, Garberg said.

Newspapers in the largest metropolitan areas get coupon services from older, larger firms, but Garberg's company places advertisements in nearly every small daily in the country.

Sunflower ran its first ad of seven or eight coupons in September, 1979, for papers in Nebraska, Colorado and Kansas. Garberg said he went into business or himself after he failed to sell the coupon concept to his old employer, H & R Block.

In 1981 he had progressed to five ad runs at a cost of about $2 million. He plans 13 runs in 1982 at about $5 million.

"We're growing very fast. We have our own in-house production facility and computer system," said Garber, who just hired his tenth employee.

"The way our business works is that we announce to the manufacturers we are going to run a program on a particular date and we try to sell as much participation as we can," he said.

The total ad size Garberg buys varies from paper to paper from three-quarters of a page to a page and a half.

A typical national run features 150 different combinations of products like Maxwell House Coffee, Gravy Train dog food, Palmolive dishwashing liquid, Log Cabin Syrup, Shield Soap, Post Toasties cereal, McKenzie's frozen vegetables, Daybreak powdered breakfast drink and A-1 steak sauce, Garber said. Not every product will appear in every ad.

The manufacturers change such details as the amount of cents-off and the coupon's expiration date from market to market, Garberg said.

For example, many shoppers in southern states buy their coffee in bags instead of cans so the coupon illustration is changed accordingly, Garberg said.

Manufacturers pay for the changes in addition to a basic cost-per-thousand rate, he said.

"We take the circulation of the papers they want to run in and add it all up and multiply that by a cost-per-thousand rate for the size of the ad and that's what they pay."

Bad Habits Kill Many

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans are killing themselves with bad health habits and the government should help them shape up, the National Academy of Sciences says.

"As much as 50 percent of mortality from the 10 leading causes of death in the United States can be traced to lifestyle," the academy said in a recent report, "Health and Behavior."

In particular, it recommended programs be implemented promoting good health habits among youngsters. And it called for more study of how psychotherapy can fight disease. It cited evidence, for example, that relaxation techniques can reduce hypertension.

The report, based on 2½ years of study, was released late last month and its conclusions are expected to find favor with Health and Human Services Secretary Richard Schweiker.

Schweiker, who says "wellness" — prevention of disease — by a healthy lifestyle — is one of his top priorities. He heads a department task force expected to unveil recommendations this fall.

The task force is studying how the National Institutes of Health can fund research into disease prevention, and how to tell people — by way of government programs ranging from Head Start to Medicare — can cut their risk of disease.

The report by the National Academy of Sciences noted that three out of four Americans die of heart disease, stroke, cancer, accidents or violence — in all of which behavior plays a part.

"Known behavioral risk factors include cigarette smoking, excessive consumption of alcoholic beverages, use of illicit drugs, certain dietary habits, reckless driving, non-adherence to effective medication regimens and maladaptive responses to social pressures," it said.

Cancer Detection Improves

NEW YORK (UPI) — A combination of breast X-rays and physical examination is the most effective method of discovering breast cancer — especially tiny tumors — in women over 50, a five-year American Cancer Society study says.

The society's National Task Force on Breast Cancer Control said Sunday that earlier fears that breast X-rays were the source of many cancers have been overcome through better X-ray techniques that reduced radiation.

"There also is evidence that screening with mammography — breast X-rays — can detect very small, localized breast cancers in women 35 to 49 years old, which in turn suggests the possibility of better survival rates in this age group as well," the study said.

The program involved 280,000 women who signed up for annual exams. It was funded with around $8 million from the ACS and about $7 million from the National Cancer Institute.

It found breast X-rays especially good at pinpointing tiny cancers.

"Nearly 90 percent of the 3,557 breast cancers uncovered by the project were found by mammography," the ACS said in its summary of the report published in the July-August issue of "CA," an ACS journal sent to 400,000 doctors.

Mammography scored especially high in discovery of the smallest cancers — those which respond most favorably to treatment.

"It (mammography) alone accounted for 59 percent of noninvasive cancers which were identified," the ACS said.

A mammogram costs from $85 to $100, but the price may be higher or lower, depending on the radiologist's lifestyle, his overhead and his fee-setting policies.

"Recruitment of women into the project was highly successful, due, in part, to media attention given to the wife of the president of the United States, Mrs. Gerald Ford, and the wife of the vice president, Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller, both of whom were successfully treated for breast cancer," the report said.

Peace Talks At Sensitive State

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — With negotiations in Lebanon entering a "most sensitive stage," President Reagan was being kept informed today as Israel pressed its case to starve out west Beirut.

White House spokesman Larry Speakes, who described the situation as "extremely dangerous," refused to say whether the president has been in direct contact with Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin.

"I just would not want to go into diplomatic exchanges," Speakes told reporters Monday.

"The United States has made clear to all parties the imperatives of the cease-fire," Speakes said. "It is essential that the fighting stop and negotiations proceed in good faith. The negotiations have reached a most sensitive stage. The discussions in Beirut are extremely complex, with many issues and many parties involved."

Israeli tanks and troops battled onto Beirut airport's runways Monday — half a mile from one of the last and largest Palestine Liberation Organization bases.

The fighting, designed to heighten pressure on the PLO in peace talks aimed at forcing its total withdrawal from Lebanon, raged from dawn until late afternoon when a cease-fire was arranged, reportedly by presidential envoy Philip Habib.

Habib's efforts to negotiate an end to the Israeli invasion were hampered by the assaults and Israel's continuing cutoff of all food, medical and power supplies to west Beirut — home to 6,000 PLO guerrillas and an estimated 500,000 civilians.

Reagan, who kept a close watch of the conflict, arrived in Los Angeles Monday night for a two-day stay highlighted by a private celebration with friends tonight of his wife's 50th birthday.

The president had two engagements on his schedule today: a meeting with a group of California mayors, legislators and local officials on his economic recovery program and revised New Federalism proposals, and an off-the-record luncheon session with the editorial board of The Los Angeles Times.

New Mexican Chief Urges National Unity

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — President-elect Miguel de la Madrid urged unity to heal Mexican political wounds but one opposition party responded by demanding new elections in two states where voting was marred by violence.

"Let us all unite for Mexico," said de la Madrid, the overwhelming winner in Sunday's Mexican presidential elections, at a victory rally Monday.

The Federal Electoral Commission said it would release no official results before midweek, but Commission Chairman Enrique Olivares Santana declared de la Madrid the winner by "a wide margin."

De la Madrid's Institutional Revolutionary Party (PRI), which has won every important elected post since 1929, said its candidate captured 19 million votes — 63 percent of the 31.5 million eligible voters.

The conservative National Action Party (PAN) received 2.3 million votes and the Communist-dominated Unified Socialist Party (PSUM) got 1.7 million, the PRI said. No figures were released on four other minor party candidates.

Social Democratic Party leader Luis Sanchez Aguilar told the newspaper Excelsior he will press for new elections in Nuevo Leon and Puebla states because voters and opposition poll watchers were beaten by police.

"Local television transmitted scenes of violent clashes with police and we have photographs of violence that made the city of Monterrey tense," Sanchez told Excelsior.

President Reagan sent de la Madrid a congratulatory message saying he hoped the "excellent relations" between the United States and Mexico could be strengthened, the Mexican government news agency Notimex said.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Silent Attacks Not Uncommon

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB—Please send me some information about silent heart attacks. I was in the hospital last month for an operation. The evening before the operation because I had had a heart attack. I don't remember having any trouble or being sick but now I have to wait six months before they can operate on my fractured right shoulder. I was to have a prosthesis. A friend of mine told me you had a column on silent heart attacks but at that time she didn't know about my having one.

heart disease by symptoms. And of course for some people the first symptom is a heart attack. That is why prevention is so important.

To give you more information I am sending you The Health Letter number 17-10, What You Need to Know About Heart Attacks. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR READER—There isn't much to tell you except that as many as a third, maybe more, heart attacks either cause no symptoms at all or the symptoms are so mild that the true nature of the problem is not suspected. I was very impressed by finding such silent heart attacks in members of the U.S. Air Force flying personnel. We found them by annual electrocardiograms. One year the tracing would be normal and the next year there would be changes that were left from a heart attack that had occurred between examinations.

DEAR DR. LAMB—The latest craze around here is sunflower nuts. We use them in cakes, pies, puddings, salad and eat them by the handful. They are like potato chips, the more you eat the more you crave. Can you please tell us if they have any food value, also protein, fat and cholesterol content?

DEAR READER—Yes, they certainly have food value, because they contain a lot of fat. Dry sunflower seed kernels contain 560 calories per 100 grams, that is 160 calories per ounce.

Silent heart attacks have been documented to occur even in heavy laborers who have continued to work. These were found by examination of hearts after death. Such examinations have shown that lots of people have previously had heart attacks and never knew it.

They contain very little water (4.8 percent) and 47.3 percent of their weight is fat. Sunflower oil is a good cooking oil and is comparable to safflower oil. It contains very little saturated fat and nearly three-fourths of its fat is polyunsaturated. To the extent that you should limit saturated fats and increase polyunsaturated fats, that is good.

These are usually found by electrocardiograms or incidentally at post mortem examinations. And the electrocardiogram may also return to normal in some cases. When I recorded Lyndon Johnson's ECG a few years after his well-publicized attack his record was within normal limits. You had to compare it with previous records to tell that there had been a significant change. So no wonder it is sometimes hard to diagnose Sunflower seeds are about 24 percent protein by weight. So they are a good protein source. And they are about 20 percent carbohydrate. They contain NO cholesterol. Cholesterol is an animal product and is not found in plants or plant products.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Table with 4 columns: NORTH, SOUTH, WEST, EAST. Contains card counts and vulnerable status for a bridge hand.

knew that South held at least five hearts.

The slam is a good one, but as you can see hearts don't break and the club finesse is wrong. However, Pakistani champion Zia Mahmood made it with a little help from East after West opened the 10 of spades.

Zia took his ace and played three rounds of trumps while East chucked a club and a diamond. It would have been better for East to chuck two clubs since that quick diamond discard marked him with five diamonds.

Now Zia cashed the ace and king of diamonds and the king of spades. He was ready to try to cash one good queen. East had indicated five diamonds, so West surely didn't hold another. Zia cashed the spade queen to discard one club and the diamond queen to discard another.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

If West ruffed in he would have to lead a club to South's ace-queen, so West discarded a club. Now South ruffed a spade and West discarded again. Zia just threw West in with his jack of trumps and got that same end play. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)
