Longwood Finances Clouded In Debate

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

Without the bank loan the city would have to give employes a two weeks vacation without pay in mid-December.

LONGWOOD — Councilman B. H. Ferrell, self-proclaimed watchdog of the city treasury and chairman of the finance committee, threw his hands up in despair Monday night and told his colleagues "to do what you want to do" about the city's financial condition.

Cities, County Disagree On Planning Act

By BILL BELLEVILLE Herald Staff Writer

The first monthly report on the efforts of the county's planning department to implement the Seminole County Comprehensive Planning Act was submitted to the county commission today by assistant planner Bill Kercher.

land, water and resources consistent with the public interest. But while the act was designed to "encourage and assure cooperation between and among municipalities and county government" in planning and development, the general reaction of cities in 1977) to prepare and adopt a comprehensive plan. Kercher told The Herald "there are some cities in financial trouble" who may not be enthusiastic about participating in the planning. But, he added, "The quality of the final product will depend upon the amount of resources that will be brought to bear on it."

effort to implement the act is an analysis of the act itself. As a result of last month's analysis, two basic concepts have emerged: — That there is a "great deal of work to be done" and while there is a lot of information already in existence (provided by various agencies), there is a lot more information that does not exist.

Second concept is that "some very important, and complex inter-governmental relationships" now exist in the county. Of these relationships, the task of the comprehensive planning must be divided into three groups: those performed by each entity, such as policy decisions and setting of goals; those done either individually or collectively; and those best executed by county and supplied to the cities, such as data collection.

Agency" be designated within 180 days of Oct. 1. Seminole County has already prepared an ordinance for a public hearing that would make the county planning department its agency on a temporary basis.

At two separate meetings — one of the state legislative delegation Oct. 21, and one of CALMO members, Nov. 13 — the county and the cities were asked to name a technical person to coordinate the more fundamental aspects of the planning. County Planner Roger Neiswender has already been designated as the county head.

Sanford Police Get Cycles, Then Ask Commission's OK

By BOB LLOYD City Editor

Sanford city commissioners have authorized the "emergency purchase" of two new police motorcycles without seeking bids on the $7,032 worth of equipment.

Commissioners didn't pursue the issue or ask why the state bid law was being circumvented.

After Monday night's meeting, Knowles said his "emergency purchase" of two new police motorcycles without seeking bids on the $7,032 worth of equipment.

Commissioner A. A. McClanahan said "There was probably a foul-up in staff communications" but Butler today denied there was a foul-up. Butler refused to comment on whether or not he had asked that bids be sought on the equipment.

Butler said two 1968 model motorcycles are being sold outright and not being traded-in on the new units.

He explained that Harley-Davidson had been on strike and the Orlando dealer "got three in and I wanted two of them while we could get them."

Butler said the third motorcycle budgeted for replacement this year is a three-wheeler for the traffic division estimated to cost $2,400. He said this unit will go out for bids.

Moore said today he didn't push for discussion Monday night because "I got my head kicked in at budget time about motorcycles."

In August, Moore suggested a switch from Harley-Davidson police motorcycles that must be serviced in Orlando to Honda cycles that could be serviced locally.

NATION IN BRIEF

Simon Sees Long Recession

WASHINGTON (AP)—Treasury Secretary William E. Simon says the United States may be facing the longest recession since World War II and does not rule out that it also could be the worst. "It might be longer than any of the recessions we've experienced since World War II, but it's way too early to tell whether it will be more severe," Simon said in an interview. The longest of the five postwar recessions extended for 13 months, from July 1953 to August 1954. The last recession extended 12 months, from November 1969 to November 1970.

Limit On Blacks?

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon's equal opportunity chief says there has been persistent talk at policy levels about limiting the number of blacks in the armed services. H. Minton Francis, deputy assistant secretary of defense, called this talk a "gratuitous insult" to American blacks. He said that talk about restricting black enlistments "has been prevalent" principally in the Army and Marine Corps.

No Agreement On Sugar

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's sugar refiners say they are not to blame for the spiraling cost of sugar, but a government study points to "very large windfall gains" throughout the sugar industry. The differing points of view came at a hearing of the Council on Wage and Price Stability. The council is investigating the causes of the four-fold increase in the price of sugar in the last year.

Mitchell Called 'Fall Guy'

WASHINGTON (AP)—John N. Mitchell is described by his lawyer as a Watergate innocent, a fall guy whose "loyalty and belief in his president" kept him from blowing the whistle on the Nixon White House. The evidence will show clearly the loyalty was not reciprocated, William G. Handley told the Watergate cover-up trial jury in opening the defense case.

Miners Study Contract

WASHINGTON (AP)—Regional leaders of the United Mine Workers gathered to act on a fattened contract proposal at the national coal strike entered its third week today. UMW officials said if the 38-member bargaining council of regional leaders approves the pact, the 84-to-10 day ratification process may be shortened so the miners can be reopened early next month.

Auto Industry Hurling

DETROIT (AP)—Thirteen months into its longest slump since World War II, the auto industry is hurting. Sales are down 15 percent since mid-September and predictions of worse times to come. "I don't see any sign of it getting better," said Ford Motor Co. chairman Henry Ford II as the industry was reporting its second worst performance for a Nov. 11-30 period in 14 years.

Diet Soda May Be Cheaper

NEW YORK (AP)—The soaring price of sugar actually may save money for consumers who prefer diet soda. An Associated Press spot check shows some wholesalers and retailers are abandoning the traditional practice of pricing all soft drinks at the same level—regardless of the sugar content.

Officials Disagree On Land Plan Act

Sanford has named City Manager Pete Knowles. It is hoped that when these representatives meet, "many of the obstacles being confronted will be overcome. These studies are reasonable, but that the ones for 1990 "may need some revisions."

Work on the financial feasibility of implementing the act is not scheduled to begin until January 1975. Meanwhile, information on local expenditures and revenues, and techniques of capital improvement programming are already being collected.

The county staff is already looking at goals and policy statements that exist in resolutions and ordinances passed by the county commission. But those goals and objectives required by "external forces," particularly by

Longwood 'Reads' Ordinance (Sort Of)

LONGWOOD—The city, known in recent years for its rather unique methods of handling governmental problems, found a new way to circumvent the boring and sometimes tedious requirement of reading ordinances Monday night.

A 50-page sewer franchise ordinance was read in its entirety via tape recording, not unusual in itself. But while the tape recording was playing inaudibly on a side table, council went about its regular business.

At the conclusion of the tape recorded reading, council unanimously adopted the ordinance and set a public hearing and final reading for Dec. 16.

The ordinance is directed specifically at Longwood Utilities Inc., a small sewerage company serving a half dozen subdivisions in the E. E. Williamson Road city section.

The ordinance, patterned after a Seminole County law, may also give the city some controls over the Sanlando Utilities Corp. which serves the western section of the city.

In other business, council adopted on second and final reading and added to the pile of ordinances yet unsigned by Mayor Eugene Jaques regulations on signs and billboards and site plan review requirements for commercial, industrial, apartment and mobile home developments.

Public hearing on a new electrical code, patterned after Seminole County's code which excludes the use of aluminum wiring, was also set for Dec. 16.

Council agreed to hold a workshop, but did not set a date, on the planned new 800,000 county medical clinic to be built at the old clinic site on Church at Wilma Street.

Councilman June Lormann presented the clinic plans and reported that the county desires a setback variance and will be paying a parking area behind the police station on the Church Street side.

Mrs. Lormann's announcement that major revisions would have to be made in the proposed solicitors' ordinance before it could vote for its passage, was also set for Dec. 16.

The ordinance, intended to control solicitations by non-residents in the community, became controversial because it included requirements of fingerprinting and picture taking before permits would be given to charitable groups and both adult and children city residents.

SANFORD CHAMBER ELECTS DIRECTORS

The Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce has elected 10 new members to its board of directors for three year terms and one to fill a two-year unexpired term. The list of new directors now goes to the Chamber's nominating committee along with 20 other directors for consideration for new officers.

New directors are: (left to right, standing) John Carl, John A. Spolski, A. K. Shoemaker Jr., Douglas Stresem, Robert Dash, Cliff Edmond, Vernon Mann and (seated) J. S. (Red) Cleveland, Vic Arnett (two year term), Arthur H. Beckwith Jr. and John Krider.

Commissioners adopted on second reading an ordinance annexing approximately 300 acres of industrial property between West 20th Street and Country Club Road and between Southwest Road and the Country Club subdivision. The tract is owned by Seaboard Coast Line Railroad and the Atlantic Land and Improvement Company.

Final action was also taken annexing approximately 47 acres east of S. Sanford Avenue and north of Cornwall Road for Brayley Odham's planned $6 million single-family home development of Sunora planned unit development section three.

In other actions commissioners: — Appointed city zoning and planning commission members Arthur Harris, Kirby Moncrief and Jeff Davis and airport authority members, Dr. Robert Rosemond and Scott Burns to the newly created Airport Zoning Board.

WORLD IN BRIEF

England Would Outlaw IRA

LONDON (AP)—Proposed emergency legislation to deal with Irish terrorism in Britain was attacked Monday by Conservatives, civil libertarians and terrorists themselves. The plan, described as "unprecedented in British history," would outlaw the Irish Republican Army (IRA) and people who support it; increase police powers of search, arrest and interrogation, and provide for expulsion of suspected Irish terrorists. Terrorist bombs exploded Monday in three post boxes in central London, injuring 20 persons.

China Talks Progressing

PEKING, China (AP)—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger today held diplomatic talks with Chinese officials. "We always progress in our relationship with each other," Kissinger told Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-ping across a long table in the Great Hall of the People. Teng responded: "It will be good if one day we can exchange views in Washington." Teng's remark appeared to indicate that the Chinese are willing to send a top-ranked official to the United States for talks.

Zarb Approval Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Interior Committee appears ready to act quickly and favorably on President Ford's nomination of Frank G. Zarb to head the Federal Energy Administration. "We've had good relations up here with Zarb," chairman Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said. "There's no question about his professional ability. The nominee currently is the associate director of the Office of Management and Budget."

Fortune Topples Tanaka

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka today announced he is resigning over "misunderstandings" about the source of his private fortune. He said he would remain as prime minister until the ruling Liberal Democratic party can find a successor. Leading contenders are former Finance Minister Takao Fukuda, 69, Tanaka's chief political foe, and Finance Minister Masayoshi Ohira, 64, a powerful Tanaka supporter.

Waterworks Rate Hike Studied

A requested rate hike for General Waterworks customers that would hike minimum sewer rates from $3 to $10.67, and hike the average water bill from $4.22 to $6.24 will again be considered by the Seminole County Commission tonight.

The continued public hearing, designated as the last item on the lengthy agenda—barring some last minute changes, may not come up to the wee hours of the night. There are 2,500 water customers, and 1,900 sewer customers in the county.

The board continued the hearing so that the firm's representatives could gather more information on the specifics of the operation within Seminole County. Regens Chairman Marshall Criser and Robert Sheen, Eckerd College Board of Trustees chairman, said in a joint announcement Monday that the timing was not right because of operational and legal difficulties and uncertain economic implications. Criser said the Regents will explore alternatives for expanding public higher education in Pinellas County.

DEAR ABBY Stand By With Butterfly Net

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law (I'll call her Mary) hates red hair. I have red hair and so do my mother and my brother. My son, who is married to this red-haired hater, has brownish hair with a slight reddish cast, but Mary insists that he is blond. Mary says she has hated red hair all her life — especially on girls. She is expecting her first child any day now and she says she has had nightmares about having a baby girl with fiery red hair. (She tells me this right to my face, mind you, and when I'm sitting there with red hair on my head.)

DEAR BURNED: She can't be serious. But don't take any chances. Be right there with that butterfly net for Mary in case she gives birth to a red-headed baby girl.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 16-year-old girl who has been going with a guy since I was 12. They hang around my house and take me for a ride to park and make out, but when it comes to school dances and movie dates, they ask another girl.

DEAR ABBY: You are not hopeless. You've already conquered the first two steps in self-improvement. (1) Knowing you need it. (2) Being determined to improve. Now, flatly refuse to park it. If the boy asks, "How come all of a sudden?" tell him that you've changed your way of living.

Students from around the world gather in the classroom to practice English and exchange information

Junior College Is Spiced With International Flavor

By JEAN PATTESON Women's Editor There's nothing like a little bit of foreign flavor to spice up a conversation.

Where're you from? D'you like it here? What brought you here?

These are usually the opening questions, and they lead to a flow of answers, opinions and more questions.

The growing number of foreign students at Seminole Junior College (SJC) does much to liven up classroom and campus life, offering those cross-cultural exchanges which are so valuable to an education. There are so many new things—and fun things—for persons of different nationalities to learn from one another.

Indeed, some classes at the junior college—the course on English as a Second Language, for example—are a veritable small-scale United Nations organizations. In many nationalities are represented. Thai, Persian, Venezuelan, Panamanian, Colombian and Puerto Rican, to name a few who were polishing up their English in Dr. Ann Bosman's class last week (So much enthusiasm has been shown for this class that Dr. Bosman hopes to start evening classes as well.)

These students come from far and wide to study at SJC for a variety of reasons. "I had a friend who was here. He recommended the school. It's a good opportunity for me to learn a second language and get a good job when I go back home," was the explanation offered by Omar Fumin, a handsome Venezuelan whose English after two years here is good, although he retains a heavy (but most attractive) accent.

Almas Keshavarz-Pahar is from Iran; he also came to the college on the recommendation of a friend.

Crosnel Pelaez is a pretty Colombian whose aunt lives in Longwood. Still new to the U.S., she is hesitant about speaking English, although her classmates assure her confidence comes fast as everyone is sympathetic and helpful.

Somkiat Tharathanakul has journeyed all the way from Thailand to study agriculture at SJC. The tropical climate of his homeland is similar to that of Florida, which made this state an obvious destination. He dreams of returning to Thailand after he graduates to help raise the standard of agriculture in that country.

Others in the class include Pedro Pablo Munoz from Colombia, Edgardo Maldonado and Francisco Millou from Puerto Rico and Nayda Smith from Panama, all here to further their education and improve their English.

For Parker-Seal in Berea, Ky. They have three children, Lencia Lee, 11, and Joseph IV, 8, who are students at Model Laboratory School on the University campus.

Shirley M. Alexander, daughter of Mrs. George Walter Morgan of Sanford and the late G. W. Morgan is attending graduate school at Eastern Kentucky University (EKU), working on a master's in Criminal Justice Education.

Mrs. Alexander is presently team teaching at EKU, an honor given to outstanding graduate students. The team teaching "The Juvenile and Police," to undergraduate and graduate students.

A graduate of Seminole High School where she was a cheerleader, Girls State representative and one of six outstanding senior girls, Mrs. Alexander received her A. B. degree in Social Work from EKU.

She is married to Joseph Simmons, Alexander III, of Lyons, Ga., also an EKU graduate presently working on a master's in Criminal Justice. He is a production supervisor at the University campus.

Gov. Rubin Askew has proclaimed Dec. 17, as Florida Strip Week. While most food costs are rising, the price of Florida shrimp is declining because it is plentiful supply.

Some companies that prepare shrimp are overstocked and they want to share their bonanza with the consumer.

Shrimping is always quick and easy to fix. It can be boiled, baked, broiled, sautéed or deep fried. Like all seafood, shrimp is rich in protein and is low in fat. It is also low in cholesterol and is a good source of selenium.

'Champagne' Preparations Bubble Over

The cork's been popped and preparations for Seminole Mutual Concert Association's 1974 Champagne Ball are bubbling over.

The Ball, to be held Dec. 7 at The Forest, Lake Mary, promises an unforgettable evening of gaiety, starting with champagne and hors d'oeuvres from 8 p.m. and then swinging into a night of dancing to the exciting "Sounds Interesting" orchestra from Jacksonville.

The midnight buffet catered by Meiner's of Orlando will surely be a highlight of the evening and send revelers home sober and safe on full tumms and lots of piping hot coffee.

There'll be flavorful Florida orange juice, and fresh fruit bowls for starters, followed by cheese souffle, sausage strada with mushrooms and ham with flaky biscuits. And to complement that good, hot coffee, tasty Danish pastries, coffee cake and muffins, creamy butter mounds, jams and jellies and preserves.

It'll be a feast fit for kings on the right royal occasion of the holiday season's highlight — the Champagne Ball.

But get your reservations in early. Very busy these days are Ball Committee members—Jeri Kirk, Liz Helrich, Frank Mebane, Barbara Jackson, Nancy Kirk, Jack Burney, Jon Lorman and Nellie Coleman. There are seating arrangements to be made, decorations to be constructed, and hors d'oeuvres to prepare.

The Forest can accommodate a maximum of 100 couples. Make reservations by check only, payable to Seminole Mutual Concert Association, P.O. Box 1593, Sanford, before Nov. 29.

One of the busiest committees is headed by Mrs. William P. (Lucy) Layer. Helped by Mrs. Woodrow Clark and Mrs. Frank Mebane, she will take charge of that Champagne Ball specialty, the hors d'oeuvres which feature favorites recipes from all board members. Liz Helrich, we hear, plans a spectacular concoction of shrimp and parsley in the shape of a Christmas tree, an idea she picked up at Celebrity Cooking School. And Annette Wing can't wait to fix her sensational meatballs—beer is the secret ingredient, we hear.

Jeri Kirk has rounded up her artistic helpers and they are making up table centerpieces to evoke the traditional holiday spirit — lots of red candles, fresh greenery and gay colored bunnies.

Bob Deutz, general counsel of the Blazers, said members of the WFL's board of directors with the by-laws and if there are, to amend the by-laws," said Deutz.

He said Deutz ordered his attorneys "to hold up closing procedures on the contract proposed to the franchisee until the situation is clarified."

"I've asked for a meeting of the board of governors within a week to make it clear whether or not there are any problems meant in the papers about not returning, but I never said that."

"We know he's in town, but there haven't been any meetings with team officials so far," a team spokesman said late Monday night. "And right now we can't say what will happen."

Barnes, who has expressed discontent with his contract with the Spirits, failed to show up at a game last Wednesday against the New York Nets, apparently on the advice of agent Marshall Boyar.

Another agent, Irwin Weiner, has apparently been retained by Barnes to negotiate with the team concerning what Barnes has called deficiencies in his contract.

"I hope the people in St. Louis realize that (Barnes) is a young person and didn't want to hurt anyone," Weiner said. "He just got some wrong advice. It isn't in his nature to be a deserter."

Barnes, reached late Monday night, said, "I'm really glad to be back in St. Louis. I never wanted to leave, but I was invited to some of the things that were going on."

"My whole argument is that there are some things I should have in my contract in case I get hurt — not security for me but for my family. They (the Spirits) say they want me for the rest of my career, but they won't give me a no-trade clause. I feel I need some sort of security."

"I like St. Louis. I always have. There were a lot of com-

Unbeaten Forest Jumps To First

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Ocala Forest edged Glades Central out of first place this week in the state's Class AAAA football rankings, while the top-ranked schools in the other three divisions remained the same.

Forest moved into the No. 1 spot following a 30-3 victory over Leesburg, which had held the top AAAA spot for six weeks before dropping to third last week.

The rankings for the four classes compiled by the Florida Sports Writers Association with records in parentheses:

Bradshaw's Runs Lead Steeler Rout

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "If I'd been O.J. Simpson, I'd have scored a couple more," said Pittsburgh quarterback Terry Bradshaw after he led the Steelers to a 26-7 runaway victory over the New Orleans Saints in Monday night's National Football League game.

Simpson, star running back of the Buffalo Bills, has had better rushing — including a touchdown — and 80 yards and two more touchdowns through the air.

The fourth Steeler touchdown came on a 64-yard punt return by Lynn Swann.

"The Saints' coverage was really excellent, but they opened some huge lanes," he said in the noisy, stammy dressing room. "You saw it. You could have run for a hundred yards yourself."

"I would have liked to have thrown the ball a little better, but our running game was going, and I wasn't about to disturb a good thing."

Bradshaw hit eight of 19 with two interceptions. Pittsburgh Coach Chuck Noll wouldn't commit himself to ending the game of musical quarterbacks he's been playing all season, but he did praise Bradshaw's performance.

Bradshaw played a heck of a fine game," Noll said. "Noll has rated quarterback Bobby Scott to rookie tight end Paul Seal.

Scott stepped in late in the first half, after starting quarterback Archie Manning had gone 5-10 in passing. Scott hit eight of 22.

Swann's 64-yard scamper also came in the third period. Between Brown's touchdown and the one by Swann, the Saints notched their single score of the night — a 10-yard pass from reserve quarterback Bobby Scott to rookie tight end Paul Seal.

Prentice Promises Checks At Least Marvin's In Town

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Financier Robert D. Prentice, the new money man behind the Florida Blazers, has promised to pay players and debtors of the World Football League team despite a snag in his purchase agreement, a spokesman says.

Bob Deutz, general counsel of the Blazers, said members of the WFL's board of directors

He said Deutz ordered his attorneys "to hold up closing procedures on the contract proposed to the franchisee until the situation is clarified."

Switzer Surprised With Sooners Offense

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — No one should know more about the Oklahoma Sooners than Barry Switzer, but the Sooners coach says that even he was surprised by his team's offensive output in Saturday's 28-14 victory over Nebraska.

Although the top-ranked Sooners had to score 21 points in the final 20 minutes for the margin of victory, they moved the ball consistently against a fine Nebraska defense, gaining 482 yards on the ground.

The showing kept the mighty Sooners in the No. 1 position in this week's Associated Press rankings, released Monday.

Oklahoma will seek to extend college football's longest winning streak to 20 games this Saturday against arch-rival Oklahoma State. The game will end the season for the Sooners.

Switzer said Monday he thinks the victory over Nebraska, plus Michigan's 14-12 loss to Ohio State, bolsters the Sooners' national title hopes.

"If 50 million people could have seen us play Nebraska, I would feel like they would have to be impressed with our football team," Switzer said. "I was certainly impressed because I have tremendous respect for Nebraska. I know what kind of football team they are."

The Sooners retained their top ranking by garnering 49 first-place votes and 1,134 points to lead Alabama, the other unbeaten and untied major college football team. Alabama got 10 first place votes and 1,057 points.

Ohio State held third with 968 points, Michigan was fifth with 735 and Notre Dame fifth with 641. Southern California, Auburn, Texas A&M, Nebraska and Penn State rounded out the Top Ten.

Switzer said Oklahoma was in a better shape now than last year when it was ranked second at the end of the regular season, but fell to third after the bowl games. Notre Dame won the championship after a Sugar Bowl victory over Alabama.

Texas' Hargrove Top AL Rookie

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Six years ago, the odds probably were greater that Mike Hargrove would be a star in the National Football League or the National Basketball Association than the American League Rookie of the Year.

It wasn't that he was such a promising football or basketball player, but more that his baseball background wasn't in the mold of a major league star. However, it's not surprising that Hargrove was named Monday as the top AL rookie of 1974.

He hit .323 as a first baseman-designated hitter and was a vital member of a Texas Ranger team that jumped from last-place jokes to pennant-contending respectability in one year. "I try to figure out how it happened, but I can't," says Hargrove. "I considered going to TCU on a football scholarship after high school. If I had done that, I probably would be out coaching somewhere now."

Hargrove was a football and basketball standout at Perryton High School in the Texas Panhandle in the 1960s. He might have starred in baseball, too, if the school had fielded a team. "I asked my coach why we didn't play baseball at school and he said it was too cold," says Hargrove. "I've heard talk they might start playing baseball there, but I doubt it."

Hargrove said he had some success in Little League and American Legion baseball, but his experience had been limited to some 20 games a year.

His college baseball performance was good but not eye-opening and he was picked by the Rangers in the 25th round of the 1972 baseball draft after some 500 other players were chosen. "I was a football and basketball player, but more that his baseball background wasn't in the mold of a major league star. However, it's not surprising that Hargrove was named Monday as the top AL rookie of 1974.

Permissive Parents Hurt Kids

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph.D., M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Some four years ago I had a tubal ligation. Because I was only 31 and there was no medical reason for it, I had to go through a lot of red tape and even went to another state to get it done. Since then I have had my 12th living child. The pregnancy was normal, but she was a breech birth and it was very hard on me.

The explanation given me by the doctors was the egg had fertilized around the tissue of the tubes. Now I am anxious to find out what the chances of it happening again are. I should add the pathologist report after birth confirmed the tubes are still cut and tied. I have several friends who have also had this operation and are worried it could happen to them.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Could you tell me what should be done with a 12-year-old boy with one undescended testicle? He weighs 80 pounds and is thin. Seven years ago he had a hernia operation on the same side as the undescended testicle. Could the scar tissue have prevented the testicle from coming down? Is it dangerous to have it untreated?

DEAR READER — If the tubes are cut and tied, there is no way a pregnancy can occur unless an ovum (egg) has already passed through the tube before the operation. That opportunity would be present only about a day after the operation at the most. There is a slight possibility of a tubal pregnancy limited to a couple of days' time.

Otherwise the egg has to pass through the tube to be implanted in the uterus. Some operations fail because the cut and tied tubes literally repair themselves. They reconnect even if the surgery was done perfectly. Remember your body is designed to correct injuries and nature regards such an operation as an injury. This occurs very rarely.

In a Food and Drug Administration study only one woman in 200 got pregnant in a year's time after a tubal ligation. That is about as good or better than you can expect from any birth control procedure. Another reader recently wrote in about tubal ligation and stated she was now pregnant. She was concerned about whether her baby would be normal or not. There is no reason why a baby should have any greater chance of being abnormal when a pregnancy does occur after a tubal ligation.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Could you tell me what should be done with a 12-year-old boy with one undescended testicle? He weighs 80 pounds and is thin. Seven years ago he had a hernia operation on the same side as the undescended testicle. Could the scar tissue have prevented the testicle from coming down? Is it dangerous to have it untreated?

DEAR READER — See a urologist. He should be able to correct this. Most doctors agree that if the problem has not been corrected by 8 or 9 years of age the testicle should be lowered surgically.

If it is done too late, and you are already pushing your luck, the testicle will never be able to produce live sperm. Your son's ability to be a father will depend solely on the one descended testicle. So, if you want to help your son, don't delay any longer.

Many men have only one descended testicle and father children and otherwise have no problems, but it is a risk you need not take. There is some chance that the undescended testicle will later develop a tumor. All factors considered, including the psychological ones, it should be corrected early in life.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 200 got pregnant in a year's time after a tubal ligation. That

Horoscope

For Wednesday, November 27, 1974

By CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening best suited to making long-range plans and establishing goals of a practical nature. Then, put them into effect so that every detail is handled with intelligence. Express more confidence.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study personal affairs well first and then act on them in the right manner so that all will run smoothly. Attend to the social.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get down to practical affairs now and make your life more rewarding. Establish a plan that rids you of tiresome tasks.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have a personal aim that first requires thought before you take steps toward achieving it. Accept an invitation.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Put aside pleasure for now and delve into important business matters. Do nothing of a drastic nature in the evening. Be wise.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Forget dull tasks and concentrate on expanding where vital matters are concerned. Be on the lookout for new opportunities.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Show more consideration for your romantic interest and have greater rapport in the future. Be sure to keep all promises.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to be more diplomatic with associates if you wish to gain your objectives. Show that you are a logical thinker.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Handle the work ahead of you now while you are in a mood to persevere. Listen carefully to what a co-worker has to say.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Plan to relax and have fun during spare time so that present tensions are relieved. Show more kindness to a good friend.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Home affairs require the most concentrated attention now so give them first that and get good results. Strive for harmony.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Get busy early carrying through with routine duties. Be willing to assist those who need help. Show that you are a true friend.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will want to deliberate too much and should be taught early the importance of arriving at decisions quickly. Give as fine an education as you can afford. Anything connected with finance, the arts, science, music are fine in this excellent chart.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Call Blair For All Insurance Needs

Did you know that anyone who owns, operates, maintains or uses a motor vehicle in the State of Florida will be required to show proof of liability insurance in order to pass vehicle inspection?
 Motorcycles must be covered as well as automobiles.
 This new law was passed by the 1972 General Session of the Legislature in order to protect the driving public from the financial disaster that may result from an accident.
 Many people have ignored the Financial Responsibility Law already on the books. Now, it will be necessary for the motorist to show proof of proper insurance at the time of the annual motor vehicle inspection.
 Some motorists have neglected to get this important protection because of the cost. At Blair Agency, after a reasonable down payment, the insurance premium can be financed with low monthly payments.
 The Blair Agency specializes in helping young drivers ages 16 through 25, with good or poor driving records. They can also place those motorists who have had accidents, and needed an SR22 filing to keep their drivers license. They offer competitive rates to those drivers over 25 with clean records.
 The Blair Agency is now located at 202 S. Park Ave., Sanford and has hours to suit you. They are — Monday through Thursday, 9-5, and Friday 9-4. Phone 323-3866 and 323-7710.

No One Thought Much Of TV Movies Except The Living Room Watchers

EDITOR'S NOTE — Nobody gave TV movies much of a chance at the end of the year. Now they're coming of age. Getting involved in important social issues and character studies. But the stars who make cash registers ring in movie theaters have no weight on the television movie.

By JERRY BUCK
 Associated Press Writer
 LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the beginning no one gave it much of a chance. Studios didn't want to be bothered. Stars avoided it. Nobody liked it but the audience. That was the birth of the television movie.

"I don't think any of us envisioned it becoming a new kind of television," said Aaron Spelling, who produced in 1969 the first movie of the week for ABC. He has done 52 more since.

The TV movie has indeed become a new kind of television. At its best, it is thought-provoking, diverse, offering in-depth character study. At its worst, it is cliché-ridden and melodramatic.

Even in its earliest days, some remarkable films emerged: "My Sweet Charlie," "Silent Night Lonely Night," "Duel," "Brian's Song" and "Tribes."

But it has been in the past year that this maturing art form has come of age with such films as "The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman," "The Execution of Private Slovik," and "A Case of Rape."

"I think it's the future of television," said Herbert S. Schlosser, president of NBC. Brandon Stoddard, vice president of the Movie of the Week for ABC, said, "We're just at the beginning of a form that's tremendously exciting."

Producer Chuck Fries said, "I think we're going to have bigger and more expensive movies made for TV. The really big stars will come if you make it attractive enough for them."

Fries is turning out more than half-a-dozen TV movies this season.

Between them, the three networks air about 100 original movies a year. They range from the 90-minute films that appear twice a week on ABC and once weekly on NBC to the two-and-three-hour movies on CBS to such open-ended pictures as the six-hour "QBVII."

Universal Studios made the first TV movie, "Fame Is the Name of the Game," for NBC in 1966, and launched not only the TV movie but a long-running series, "The Name of the Game." From the start, the TV movie and the series pilot have been linked.

Three years later ABC plunged into the movie business in a big way.

The network proposed to air one 90-minute film weekly, with each film costing a little over half the $750,000 price tag for the NBC two-hour movies.

Barry Diller, then an ABC programming executive and now chairman of Paramount Pictures, gave Spelling $450,000 to make a film called "The Ballad of Andy Crocker."

A strong point of the TV movie is that it can hit an important social issue while it is still on everyone's mind. Like "A Case of Rape" last year and this season's "The Gun," which traces the ownership of a pistol and shows how it affects each person's life.

As with any new dramatic form, the TV movie built its own star structure. Spelling recalled, "We had tremendous difficulty getting stars to do them in the early days."

The superstars of the bread-and-butter TV movie drive up the ratings, yet are rarely asked to star in a theatrical film. Elizabeth Montgomery, star of "Bewitched" and "A Case of Rape," is a superstar; Elizabeth Taylor, who flopped in a TV movie, is not.

The people who pack them in at the living room bjo are Miss Montgomery, Karen Valentine, Cloris Leachman, Barbara Eden, Connie Stevens, Martin Sheen, Lloyd Bridges, Hal Holbrook and Darren McGavin.

Producer Quinn Martin, biggest independent producer in television, said he has seen the movies change.

"If you couldn't say what the show was about in two lines, they wouldn't buy it," he said. "The attitude's different now ...

A. Duda & Sons The Mini To The Mighty

ONE OF THE MANY MIGHTY'S AT OVIEDO TRACTOR ... (l to r) Fred Hall and Kerry Sherwood-salesmen will assist you in your selection of farm equipment.

The secrets to being a success Florida as well as in Australia. At the home office in Oviedo you will find fine of the 11 Dudas hard at work. The other two are based in the Belle Glade plant.

The Dudas, a diversified company, began operations in the vegetable business 60 years ago. Since then the second and third generation Dudas consisting of three sons and their eight sons, have expanded operations to include such enterprises as citrus, cattle, vegetable farming, camp grounds, citrus processing plants, canning plants, packing, soil farming and a tractor and auto parts business. A. Duda & Sons are international exporters. Their operations are established all over the state of Florida as well as in Australia.

At the home office in Oviedo you will find fine of the 11 Dudas hard at work. The other two are based in the Belle Glade plant.

Oviedo Tractors, a division of A. Duda & Sons, has been in operation since 1957. It started out with only two employees and now boasts 14.

Oviedo Tractor carries the widest range of farm equipment and machinery in the state. They handle five major lines of tractors, lawn and garden equipment, and three major hay raising equipment lines. New Holland, Gehl and Lely. They have deep tillage tools for all sorts of ground preparation. Rotary mowers from 19 inches to 28 ft. in width.

Farm equipment is a tremendous investment. The farmer has more invested in equipment than any other business in existence for the dollar return.

Harold Hall, General Manager of the Tractor Division is responsible for the smooth flow of the operation. Hall has been with the company since 1942. He is assisted by two very capable and knowledgeable salesmen, Fred Hall and Kerry Sherwood, and by shop foreman Ed Kennedy, a veteran of the company since 1957.

Duda Auto Parts consists of both wholesale and retail operations. They stock a complete line of auto parts and all parts necessary for repairing farm equipment and machinery.

In addition to the above mentioned business, the Oviedo location houses a wholesale 100 acre sod farm.

All territory from Daytona Beach to Palatka and south to the southern tip of the state is serviced by Duda. They also have an operation in Naples. A true story of success — one might say the Duda story is — from the mini to the Mighty. — ADV.

Sanford Rec Vee Has Home Away From Home

Catering to the needs of the multitude of owners of motor homes and travel trailers is the business of Chris and Woody Brown, owners and operators of Sanford Rec Vee, 2311 W. 1st St., Sanford.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown, together with their capable employees, specialize in the sale and servicing of motor homes, travel trailers and accessories. They have worked together in the motor home business for over three years, having run a similar operation in Orlando prior to starting their first firm in Sanford. The Browns can advise you from first-hand knowledge, as they have lived in motor homes for many years, and are presently living in one in 12 Oaks Campgrounds.

Motor home living is home wherever you go. These units are completely self-contained; you need no car to tow them. Most of the better motor homes are warranted for life of the coach on workmanship, with a 5-year guarantee on all important parts and one year on labor. Sanford Rec Vee sells all brands and invites you to inspect them and make your choice based on your needs and desires.

Sanford Rec Vee also rents motor homes, and Woody advises prospective buyers to rent one first, and try it for a while to see how you like it before you buy. That's the best way to take the risk out of buying a motor home, according to Woody.

If you prefer a travel trailer Sanford Rec Vee can supply you with this type of vehicle. Travel trailers are available in lengths from 15 to 30 feet. These units are complete and ready for you to pull away behind your own car. If you need a trailer hitch for your car, Sanford Rec Vee will install it. They specialize in hitches, and recommend the bolt-on type. Don't weld on a hitch to your late model car, because it voids your frame warranty, Woody warns.

Woody now offers the Park models of motor homes, built by Lazy Daze. These are called miniature mobile homes and like all the motor homes sold by Sanford Rec Vee are big enough for permanent homes.

If you are interested in a camper top, Woody now has the Tom Cat Topper, "made to fit anything."

For those who already own a motor home or travel trailer, Sanford Rec Vee carries a full line of accessories to make your vehicles more livable and pleasant. They have redwood signs with name routed out on travel burner effect, along with awnings. There are mini dish washers, dish drainer baskets, clocks, TV stands, mud flaps of all kinds. "You name it, we've got it," says Woody.

Personalized service is the keynote at Sanford Rec Vee. Woody Brown's credo is "we sell them, we service them." His slogan is "we strive to please our customers." Piles of reference books are on hand for ordering parts for different makes of vehicles. They also offer generator service, which is not common with most needs of these vehicles.

The coming of winter need not mean the end to vacation travel. With a recreational vehicle you can "go to the snow" if you are so inclined, or travel around Florida or other parts of the South, Southwest or Pacific coast. So don't be tied down this winter. You can enjoy the pleasures of travel without giving up the comforts of home, if you own a vehicle from Sanford Rec Vee.

So whether it's for the purpose of buying one of these "homes away from home" or modernizing, repairing or updating the one you already have, drop down to Sanford Rec Vee and let Woody Brown take care of your needs. — ADV.
